How did the Wage-Price Freeze affect you - good and bad?
Asked at City Hall

RECEIVED

by Don Hunter

NEVADA STATE LIBRARY
CITY, NEVADA 89701

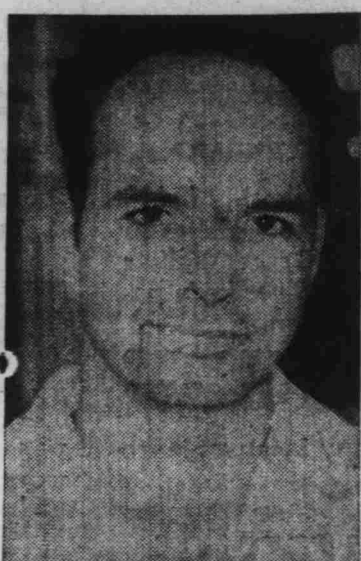

Sud Bondurant
License Inspector

"It should have been done two or three years ago, in stead of now. It has not affected me because I did not have a raise due. Are we sure all the prices are frozen? It has not affected me financially, through it could in the future if it keeps up."

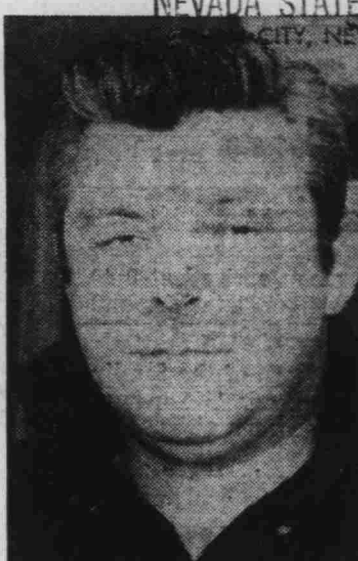

Lee Dickinson
Electrical Helper

"I think it was a good thing, they should have done it a long time ago. They should freeze the profits of the large companies now, and it would probably do a lot of good. It has not affected me personally, but I think it will do a lot of good for the country in the long run."

Alex Callahan
Director of Parks and Recreation

"I do not think it has adversely affected me, overall I think it has been good for the nation. However, I wish they would find a ceiling on that which is the greatest expenditure of all, food prices! Perhaps it should have been done much earlier than it was."

Janice Wiese
Administrative Secretary

"I feel the wage - price freeze is a device to stop inflation within the country and I would support any action taken by the government like this, in order to keep our basic freedom of rights. The price freeze is going to help the entire country, and they have got to do something to stop the constant inflation, whether it be by means of a price freeze, or other method."

Morry's Story

BY MORRY ZENOFF

All season long we've sung the praises of one of the greatest football athletes to come along Basic High School's path — Gerhardt Hoentsch.

He, last year, as a first year man won top rating from his own team - mates when they selected him their most outstanding player. Usually a senior is awarded such an honor.

This year — he played 60 minutes of football in most games — playing both offense and defense. In addition, he handled the kicking duties, and he was one of the kickoff receivers.

The result — he gained more than a 1,000 yards. And to sweeten the story — he still has another year of high school ball to go.

Today — just to make sure — we hasten to also report that Hoentsch would have gained zero ground — would not have been so outstanding if he didn't have some 30 other men paving the way for him. Some were blockers, some were tacklers, some were just on the sidelines cheering or being ready to substitute when coach Joe Blockovich put out his call.

Each Basic player, then, was as much a part of this winning season as the other. Together they formed a tough squad that brought fame to Hoentsch, fortune to Henderson.

We hear two new lathes, big ones, costing about $100,000 each, have been moved into a local plant — to take care of a new phase of development which might lead to more employment.

We'll check it out for next week's headline.

We urge both the R-J and the Sun to discontinue sending prurient advertising into Henderson and Boulder City. The R-J is the major offender the Sun a minor offender.

Prurient advertising is material that evokes deviant responses, unleashing uncultured primitive sexual urges which are not in the best interest of the society of which the reader is a part. Prurient advertising is material that has for its purpose shameful, abnormal, morbid, primitive, sensual lusts.

We're trying to see that is cut out from delivery to this community at any cost — hopefully, with your help and cooperation so that children are not confronted with it.

Henderson Cab Company Answers Gripes Over Cabs At Sahara Golf Tourney By Getting Okays For Vegas Companies

Fortune plays tricks at times — and it did the past weekend for the Henderson Yellow Cab Taxi Company.

The Sahara Pro golf tournament at Paradise Country Club prompted a great need for taxis of people desiring to get back into Las Vegas during and after the matches, especially on the busy days—Saturday and Sunday.

The Country Club, being outside the city limits of Henderson, cannot by law be served by taxicabs from the outside, except where cabs take customers to the club. Going from the club, passengers must use Henderson taxicabs.

There being hundreds of requests for cabs during Saturday and Sunday and because the Henderson company has only two cabs, there naturally developed a problem of service.

Mrs. Walter Marin and her husband, who own the Henderson cab firm, tried desperately to handle the mess — by seeking to find Taxicab Authority executives. Mrs. Marin wished to advise them to allow Vegas cabs to handle the calls.

Finally, she accomplished her good will mission by reaching R. J. Collet, head of the Authority, who in turn notified Vegas companies they could service the country club.

Collet was happy Mrs. Marin proved to be so cooperative, especially since the Authority proved not so cooperative a month ago in handling Mrs. Marin's request for permission to buy some new cabs for use in expanding service to the airport and other county tourist areas. Collet's agency refused the Marin request, instead granting the company the right to service a 12 square mile area Mrs. Marin insists are uninhabited save for jackrabbits and coyotes.

"We could have done a land office business if we had many cabs," Mrs. Marin told the Home News yesterday, "but, at least, we did some public service and won probably some points with the Authority by releasing our rights to others."

Add Onto House Without A Permit? 30 Days To Come Clean --- Or Else!

Did you ever at any time add on to your home without getting a building permit? By decision of the Council Tuesday night, you have 30 days, starting Wednesday, Nov. 3, to come clean and tell the Building Department about it. During the 30 days moratorium, there will be no penalties for violations reported.

On the other hand, if you don't take advantage of this grace period, and the Building Inspector uncovers a violation, you will have to tear it down, and no arguments about it.

In essence, that is what the council decided at the regular meeting Tuesday night. It was requested that the above fact be advertised in the local paper, apart from the news story written on it, and City Manager Don Dawson said that such advertising would be placed.

Internal alterations which involve electrical or plumbing work are also covered.

The above decision was reached during the cases of Coombes and Kline, who had requested variances on additions to their houses, which encroached on setback lines. Under the above 30 day moratorium, these alterations were permitted, provided both people submit plans to the city on their alterations.

Present new housing starts are excluded from the above regulation.

Coombes in addressing the Council felt that he had been treated unfairly on account of all the publicity he had received over this affair, but it was pointed out to him that his case would be covered by the 30 day moratorium.

Coombes had constructed an addition onto his house without a permit, and the addition was in violation of the side yard setback. Kline had a violation of the front yard setback, by adding support members to a porch, and had a violation of a side yard setback, by addition of a room.

CITY, GREENSPUN TO DISCUSS LAND SALE CONTRACT TONIGHT

Tonight at 7 pm the council will meet with Hank Greenspun to go over the amendments in the land sale contract for the 4720 acres of land, that were suggested at the previous meeting on Tuesday, November 2.

The amendments are mainly to protect the city, and consist mostly of clarifications of points.

When these amendments are ironed out, the historic contract will be ready for signing.

Building Value Ahead Of 1970

Building valuation for the month of October surged ahead of that last year, with a total of $166,165, compared to $95,361 for October 1970.

Total for 1971 to date is also well ahead of the same period in 1970, being $10,042,762, compared to $6,614,010 for 1970.

During October there were 5 permits issued for new dwellings, totaling $114,860; 9 alterations and additions, $17,946; 17 fences and walls, $10,403; 10 concrete jobs, $4,495; 5 patios, $3,741, and one garage, at $3,360. There were 58 building permits issued, 22 electrical permits, 11 plumbing, and 8 air conditioning permits.

During October the building department made 1197 inspections; of these, 527 were building inspections, 192 electrical, 102 plumbing, 83 air conditioning, 246 clean-up, and 47 final inspections.

The city has 22 junked cars less too.

There were 80 clean-up violations, and compliances were obtained in 63 cases.

Commodities Nov. 11 and 12

Jack Fagg, director of Clark County Social Service Dept., announces the following change in the food service for the month of November:

Henderson's opening and closing hours will be changed to 10 am to 2 pm the second Thursday and Friday. Several commodities are available.

A representative from Clark County's General Assistance Service will be at the Administration building in Carver Park, Thursday, Oct. 4, from 9 am to 2:30 pm. Persons living in that area needing county assistance may apply for aid then.

Don Richard Takes Office As Lt. Governor Of Kiwanis Club

Henderson's fire chief Don Richard was installed as Lieutenant Governor of Division 28 of the California, Nevada, Hawaii District of Kiwanis Clubs, in recent ceremonies held at the Elks Club in Henderson.

Master of Ceremonies for the event was Stuart Leslie, and the invocation was offered by Henderson Club President Maurice DeCaw. The outgoing lieutenant governor, Elmer Worley, was introduced by Governor Reed Harris who also installed Richard.

The Lt. Governor's banner was presented to Henderson by President Warren T. Phinney of the Victorville club. It was accepted by DeCaw.

The Henderson officers headed by DeCaw, were installed by Richard.

Installed as vice president was Austin Sellers; Perry Williams, secretary; and treasurer, Dave Sandin. Board of Directors include Bob Bohen, chairman, Joe Rodriguez, Bud Woods, Lloyd Stieger, Dale Starr, Edward Kurland, Paul Houghland, and Monte Morris.

HUD Officials Inspect Housing, Park, Pool Sites

Personnel from HUD were in Henderson last Thursday afternoon, to inspect the various sites in Henderson proposed for public housing, and also to look at the various sites that were proposed for parks, and the site of the Olympic pool.

Wheel Casino Now Open

The long closed casino on the Boulder Highway is now re-opening, under the name of the Wheel. The bar opened last Friday afternoon, and it is hoped that the restaurant will be operating by this week end.

At this time no gaming facilities are open, but starting the first of next year the Wheel will feature slots, 21, and pinball machines. An electronic 21 game is also planned.

Owners of the Wheel are Jim McKuin, from Idaho; Ron Chiodini, of Las Vegas; and Ted Polichnowsky of Chicago.

The Wheel intends to hold a grand opening night at a date in the future still to be set. They will have live music on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, beginning at 9 p.m.

Southern Nevada Water Project Now Complete

The Southern Nevada Water Project is now in its closing weeks. Staff at the leased building is now down to ten, and by the end of the year the Henderson Office will be closed.

The project has now been turned over to the Colorado River Commission for operation.

Construction of the SNWP started in 1963, and was completed last month. At the peak of the operation there were a hundred people working in the Henderson Office, and reduction of the work force was accomplished through transfer, retirement, and layoff.

Henderson has been allocated 7,000 acre-feet as its share of the water. Presently Henderson is not drawing water from this source, but as indicated in Tuesday's paper, the City is arranging to purchase land from Black Mountain Country Club for a reservoir site. This will be hooked up to the Henderson lateral of the SNWP.

Henderson presently draws water from Lake Mead through a pipeline built by BMI during the second world war. With growth of the town this line is now reaching capacity of use, especially during the summer, and extra supplies are needed. Henderson now uses 6,500 acre feet per year, so the SNWP allocation would double the supply available, to 13,500 acre feet.

To cope with the demand in summer Henderson now pumps water all night, to fill the reservoirs, which are then drawn down during the day. Individual home owners who now experience low pressure during the summer can help by switching to a timer system, by which watering of lawns can be carried out in the early morning hours when pressure is higher.

PLANNING COMM. APPROVES REZONING OF LAND IN HILLCREST FOR APARTMENTS

The City Planning Commission last night voted to recommend to the council to rezone land in Hillcrest, on Bismark Way, from R-1 (Single residence) to R-4 (Apartments), with the provision that additional access roads be provided to handle the traffic that the development would create.

A petition requesting additional access roads, signed by 49 Hillcrest residents, was read at the meeting. It was the heavy traffic on the limited roads that disturbed most of the people there.

Albany Way is projected to run through the area as an 80 ft. road, according to City Planner Bob Dietrich, and connect up with State Highway 41 (Lake Mead Drive).

The apartments planned for Hillcrest for which the zoning change was recommended are not for low income housing, developer Harry Basset told the Planning Commission.

Pantry Pride To Round Up Its Shopping Carts

Henderson sometimes appears to be a graveyard for lost, stolen and strayed grocery shopping carts. However Cruz Olague, of Pantry Pride, informed this newspaper that he hired a man to go around with a pickup truck to round up all those from Pantry Pride and bring them back.

Favorite resting places for grocery carts appear to be Victory Village and Carver Park areas. This is because the people living there do not have transportation, and use the carts to haul their groceries home. But the cart rarely gets taken back again.

Basic High canoe club runs rapids on Snake River . . .

BY DOROTHY OSTROM
"Hang tight - up and over and down we go." Well, perhaps if they were lucky to have accurate enough judgment and canoeing ability, that is the way it was through the rapids on the 20-mile canoe trip on the Snake and Salmon rivers. If not, anything could happen not to mention getting wet. These were the big days of the 31-day final event of the year that took the Basic High School Canoe Club a total of 3,255 miles this August.

A Functioning Club
The club, perhaps the smallest on the Basic High campus, meets twice a month throughout the school year. Mr. Jon Shannon is its advisor. It is a self-supporting club through 25-cent per meeting dues and special fund raising projects.

The first activity of a new member is to carve his own five-foot paddle. When school was out last spring, the club's secretary-treasurer Key Payne, Quartermaster Ron Holmes and Paul Bateman were all set to go. Mr. Shannon denied the request of a couple other boys to go as he didn't feel they were qualified for such a strenuous trip.

However, in the summer Bateman decided he could not go and nine-year old Mark Jimenez was chosen to replace him. Mark had been trained by Shannon and, for his size, handles a canoe well and uses good judgment. Besides he is not only the life of the party but also a pleasure to have on a trip.

In Route to Big Water
The crew of four left here 6 am August 1 to travel in Nevada, Oregon, Idaho, Washington and Montana a total of 3,255 miles. They canoed 250 miles on the Snake and Salmon Rivers in two 18-foot aluminum canoes.

In a four-wheel drive pickup, the canoers went into Idaho by route of Ely, Twin Falls, and Boise. They spent two days shooting rapids on the Payette River at Smiths Ferry near Boise. There they met two 1970 Basic graduates who are working for a logging company.

From Council, Idaho, they crossed to Hell's Canyon Dam via a 65 mile dirt road which was about a foot wider than their vehicle. This road went over the Seven Devil's Mountain area and nine miles of dropping 5,500 feet, which in itself was an event.

They camped for three days in the Idaho Power campgrounds in the bottom of the canyon. This time was actually spent climatizing themselves to that type of heat and humidity. They caught the eye of V. H. McConnell, Chief Controller for the Hell's Canyon Dam, by their thorough cleaning of the unmaintained campgrounds. In return McConnell provided firewood and cold water plus a thorough tour of the Hell's Canyon Dam. One day he pointed out historic and geologic places in the canyon. He ended up taking Shannon's truck to Asotin, Washington.

Here also the crew took a jet boat ride with Ralph Page. They watched a 33-foot pontoon raft go over the rapids and they immediately determined that this was one rapid they would not run in the canoe. Because of the velocity of the water, they lined this first rapid - that is, leading the canoe through the water with guide ropes from shore.

Shannon, with Mark, generally rode the lead canoe as it was his responsibility to brave out the chosen route first and give signals of directions to the other canoe accordingly. Depending upon his foresight and signals, the second canoe stayed from 250 feet to 250 yards behind the lead. The incident which happened to them at Bernard Falls was a very good lesson why this was necessary to have this distance.

The Mighty Snake
In the Canoe Club it is taboo to be referred to as chicken when judgment is used against running a rapid. And at this first rapid, Bruch Creek, Ron and Ken used their judgment against running it. Shannon and Mark rode the first canoe through just fine even though the haystacks were high enough it was like riding a roller coaster. The film taken from the jet boat shows how ever that Shannon and Ron had a more strenuous time with taking the second canoe through as they went to the center of the rapid.

Reactions need to be fast but actions cautious and corrections show as would a safe driver in a car on ice. Page, with his 37 years of experience on this water, said that "He had never seen anything to through water that rough and still come up on top" as they did on that second trip. He assured the crew that they would be able to continue the Hell's Canyon area safely.

There were five times on the Snake River run that they did portage however. This is taking the gear and the canoes out of the water and carrying them around the vicious place. To base their judgment as to when to run it, they would gather information and maps and personal information from guides on the river but the final judgment was each man's.

The Wild Sheep rapids has a 25-30 foot drop into seething foam at a rate of 13,600 cubic feet of water per second. That is 4,000 tons of water per second to pass a given spot. That is enough to 'crush men and canoe like a flyswatter on a fly' says Shannon. But this was also the roughest portage of all. It took three hours to go 200-250 yards over small-car size, extremely hot, black stones carrying the 55-pound steel boxes of clothes, sleeping bags etc. On this portage it was a four-man job to carry each canoe.

At the Granite Creek Rapids they did what they did several times - walked up about 200 yards above and investigated the waters before making judgment of running it. Throwing sticks into the line of current where was possible passage would give a good indication what would be expected of the canoe. This rapid was run well with both canoes.

In just fifteen minutes of canoeing they were at Cash Creek, which was another three-hour portage about the same as Wild Sheep Rapids. But that day did not end until they had run Saddle Creek Rapids.

Camouflage Danger
Bernard Creek Falls is particularly dangerous at this time of the year as one cannot see or hear it. It is a S-turn which is always challenging plus you are upon the seven-foot drop off of water without any warning it is there. Suddenly the sign of a cable across the river and by instinct Shannon and Mark went over the falls safely, missing a razor-like rock by two inches. The canoe stayed upright but was full of water.

Before going over, Shannon realized that the second canoe was as close as 75 feet. He gave the emergency cut-off signal and somehow Ron and Ken pulled their canoe to shore and came running to assist the lead.

The next day Shannon decided to take the falls with the other canoe in a different spot and rally swamped it. It was here that the worst body injury of the whole trip occurred - Jon got a cut over an eye.

Ron and Ken used their judgments against running the Twin Creek Rapids which was a two-blind curve which is extremely tricky. They portaged equipment. Mark and Mr. Shannon ran both canoes successfully.

But at Watersput Rapids they successfully shot one but rolled the second canoe. The 'lifeline technique' had to be used - that is where rope is anchored on shore and at signal the woven-hand ropes are thrown to the canoe and fastened and towed to shore while its crew generally can swim to safety.

They had to line the Sluice Creek Rapids - which is keeping the lines on the canoes from the shore while the canoes go it alone. One canoe tipped and Ron's camera box which was not fastened securely went downstream. Ron was more shook up about the $10 in the box than the camera therein.

They camped and portaged all at one at Rush Creek Rapid. The next morning Norm Riddle came into their camp by jet boat up from Lewis. Some one had found and turned in the camera box. Riddle recognized the colored markings on the box and was sure the crew had had a bad mishap and had expected to see more than the camera box strewn along the river. (Each crewmember has his own color markings on the equipment boxes. The number of stripes indicated the contents therein.)

By canoe they had traveled nineteen miles in six days and by Willow Creek Lodge they could see that they would not be in Astin at the specified time to pick up the truck left there by McConnell. At this guide tour lodge however they used the radio-phone to notify them of the change. From here on, the trip on the Snake became more fun because of less dangerous periods.

Color To The Trip
About here Ron and Ken realized that the colored rock on the cliffs about a couple of hundred yards before coming to each wicked water must mean something. In studying these, the yellow ones seemed to indicate that there was rough water ahead; the orange indicated to be prepared for a rough ride; and the red gave the warning that there was real killer water ahead. But what if they missed seeing one of the markings!

Pittsburg landing is a flat farmland area along the river but the river is most trying because of a trick S-turn. This time they walked 400 yards to investigate. The depth of the water varies greatly from the inside to the outer turn of the turn and, to stay in the safe part, a canoe has to cross the current in the middle of the S. But at no time must the side of the canoe be to the force of the rapid or there is tragedy.

On the Imnaha River-Snake River junction Ron was deceived by a rattler and nearly bitten. Ron, who is very fond of animals, received the word that from here on he was to keep hands off ANY animal.

One of the interesting things to see was the petroglyphs on rock on the Idaho Side just past the Oregon-Washington boundary.

Later the same day they got into the black reflecting rock again and into, as Mr. Shannon puts it 'what isn't straight up, is straight down.' The closer to Asotin and Lewiston they came, the more power boats they met even in rapids, the illogic, the less brain power - more horsepower, and the rest that goes with it. One power boat owner got so upset that he could not get gas from them (of course, no gas - just paddle power). These same people also were not carrying life jackets.

The Captain Lewis Rapids was the last challenge on the Snake. It was one big haystack or rather lots of big rollers with a big stone in the center of the rapid and a tremendous eddy behind it.

Individual Patterns
Just before the confluence of the Salmon River the boys caught a good mess of fish. It was about here that Mr. Shannon says that it became apparent the individual patterns of thinking, judgment and actions of each boy.

Ron and Mark have lots of initiative with the work to be done. Ron was the camp's best cook. Mark was a good cook too but would often get side-tracked and would have to scrub a burnt kettle. Mark is the fastest in getting a fire-place set up. Ken's specialty is pudding and chicken ala King. Mr. Shannon helped when needed which was often on the five and six-course meals.

All of their food was freedried except a couple cans of 'wet' bacon. Naturally they carried only light packaging because of the volume of food needed for four people for 31 days.

There were eight different dinner menus which they alternated four times and five different breakfasts served six times. The lunch break was something light like soup and crackers - can't very well make a swim for it after swamping a canoe if filled with a heavy meal. The evening meal was something like beef stroganoff or chicken ala king and creamed corn, pudding or upside down cake. They always planned for six or eight servings. Not only was it possible for a guest to drop into camp, but after a hard day, extra bites could easily be consumed.

Because of the limited amount of clothing which Shannon asks the boys to carry with them, the washing becomes necessary often. One can be in and out of water frequently during the day yet find the clothing very dirty when it comes to wash time. They filled a steel box with a cup of soap and water and beat the clothes with a stick to get them clean. I would not dare tell here any related incidents which happened during these clothes - washing times!

Across The Land
After eleven days on the Snake River, the crew camped at a campground in Asotin Washington, for a few days of needed rest. Thereafter they spent four days looking over the Nex Perces Indian War area around White Bird. They found arrowheads, toured abandoned cabins, etc. Earlier on the trip they crossed where Chief Joseph crossed the Snake June, 1877, with tepees etc., which is still one of the marvels of the nineteenth century. A couple days were spent retracing Lewis and Clark Canoe camp.

From Lowell, Idaho, to Conner, Montana, they drove 200 miles of dirt road. From Conner they took U.S. 93 south to Clayton, Idaho, where they started the other canoe journey. A friend in Clayton took the truck to Salmon, Idaho, to meet them there.

The party went into the towns of Salmon, Challis and Gettysburg and through the museum before making some of the challenges of the Salmon River.

Uneventful Salmon River
The Salmon River is uneventful compared to the Snake however. Both the Salmon and the Snake are supposed to be impossible to canoe - but it can be done as this club did - but just barely though. Mr. Shannon says 'Certainly do not recommend novices and the untrained or the fainthearted' for this trip. These rivers must be approached cautiously and respectfully.

The Salmon River is 6,000 foot elevation at this upper part. And much temperature change from the Snake - the water is also always cold! The Snake would be in the excess of 100 degrees in the day and 72-75 at night. As soon as the sun goes down it cools off on the Salmon. Around Clayton and Challis, it was 27 degrees at night even though the days were nice. The Salmon is Canyon country but not deep like the Hell's Canyon area. There are wild animals along the Salmon - elk, deer, moose. Outside of the town of Salmon, Mark was the first to spot a bighorn sheep within 50 feet of them.

One night a bear went through their camp but because they always kept a clean camp, he did not smell or see anything that interested him. In fact the boys slept so hard that Shannon is not sure if any of them really knew he was there. It was just so-so fishing on the Salmon.

Shannon does not like mosquitoes any better than I and there were groves of them awaiting them right out of Challis. Also near there, many trees had dropped in the river from flooding and another S turn to complicate a good run.

After 250 miles of canoeing they decided not to canoe the Upper Salmon all the way to the Snake, and shored at Salmon.

Driving south again from Salmon through Clayton, they visited ghost towns of Bonanza and Custer in the Challis National Forest. They looked through a graveyard with headmarkers of 1860 dates. Some read like 'killed by bandit in street' - many were of children under four years of age. After looking at the remains of houses, they had no wonder why.

They fished (in vain) and did some lake canoeing on the Red Fish Lake which is a little lake sitting in the Challis Sawtooth Range. The snow capped mountains are 'as pretty as a postcard picture' reflection on the lake.

Preparations
This trip was planned since February when the club met with the parents with ideas of a couple rivers and what they could do. It was not a helter-skelter thing - it involved a lot of planning of menus and finance. It was estimated that the trip would cost approximately $2.50 per person per day for the trip, and for a 30-day duration they would need approximately $75 per person. This came out to be one penny per day per person too much. The boys financed the trip on their own from dues money, picking up a gigantic amount of beer bottles and cans, holding a coke sale which was well received by their friends on campus. They ended up with money in the bank after this trip and the jet boat ride for which they had not originally planned.

In the Canoe Club, Shannon has the boys do their own writing of necessary agencies to plan the trips like this. There is no meaning to the boys when the advisor has done all the preparation for them - its just a free ride. By earning the trip by their own sweat and toil, it means something. Shannon got the parents' permission in writing and secured ample insurance protection.

In practicing throughout the year, the boys were exposed to just about every kind of real hazard they could. They have been dumped and turned over in the middle of the lake, they have had to swim their canoe ashore; they have had to bail them out, they have had to contend to power and motor launches, and they have had extremes in wind and weather.

Reflections Back
They did everything they went up to do. Of course the boys wished they had caught more fish. The rivers are good rivers - they were good runs. They used good judgment all the way.

Let me quote Mr. Shannon at this point: "I think the trip was good for the boys in that it gave them the chance to express themselves in a way that I doubt if they ever had a chance to before and possibly will never have the opportunity again. Here was a chance to meet a challenge and to meet it head on. No room for sissies; once you start down that river, that is it. You are dependent on yourself and your partner and the rest of the people who make up the team as a whole. Any problems that come up you have to resolve yourself - you cannot go running home to mother to patch trousers. There was a time or two that we got nicks and scrapes in the hide and you take care of these yourself. If there is an upset or a chance of someone being hurt you already know if you are hurt or not, check your partner first and then your equipment and then worry about yourself after that."

Shannon also spoke of the interdependence, of getting along with others not for a day or two but for an entire month. This is a real valuable lesson in growing up. "Every boy should have the opportunity to get out where he will be responsible for his own actions not only to himself but to his partner and to the rest of the crew."

Shannon adds that it was grand experience for him to see boys working together. Mark being a nine-year old in an age group of 14-15 year olds could have been a difficult situation but it was not. Mark handles the canoe very well particularly for his age. He also handles himself well and carries his own.

"The things that the boys earned and the things that they did, I'm sure the interest created in this community is something they will think or talk about for a long time," states John Shannon.

Boulder Welcomes

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hunt
Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hunt of 1307 Arabian Lane, moved to Boulder City about Aug. 1 from Las Vegas where they have resided for two and a half years. Prior to that they lived in the State of Washington.

The Hunts said they selected Boulder because Las Vegas is too big and in Boulder City everyone is friendly. Hunt works in Las Vegas and the couple spend their free hours bowling in the mixed league.

The William Blackburns
Mr. and Mrs. William Blackburn and their three children moved here from Provo, Utah just two months ago. Blackburn is a CPA in Las Vegas, and they moved here because of the weather and climate. They moved to Boulder City because both of them liked a small town.

Mrs. Blackburn is starting the Adelle Blackburn Dance Studio, is active in the LDS church and likes to sew and swim.

Boulder City Time Capsule

BY THE NARRATOR

Teddy Fenton, Columnist
Just this once I want to explain the caption on this gathering of news items. The lives and events of the citizens of our town are an ever-changing pageant, and all life is a narration.

Muri Emery, well known for his contribution to the history of this town and state, has been named the winner of the antique newspaper contest.

His entry was "The Searchlight," which was actually published for the first time in 1902. Now we learn that Muri won first prize $100, for a 1903 paper and second prize, $50 for a 1904 paper.

One entry was the old Boulder City Review Journal which was edited by the late, great Al Cahlan.

Luanna Emery of Las Vegas was first place winner of the B.C. Art Festival in 1971. She is married to Horace Emery who is a brother of Muri. She is also the daughter of Bernice Fenlon and the late Dr. Robert Fenlon.

LuAnna is a student of Stephen Lesnick, and she took her first lesson in 1966. By 1967 she had three pictures sold at the art festival and won third place blue ribbon. She is writing a suggestion to the B.C. hospital auxiliary that the show has become so professional that three judges might be needed. Did you see where Mr. Lesnick wrote that our art festival is more professional than those he entered in Las Vegas? Lesnick has a column of advice to the artists in the Sunday Scene Magazine. It began the week following our art festival.

Ed Scovill, Boulder City photographer, was recently in The Nevada by Ray Cheson, Boulder City's roving reporter. The article was titled "Man with a Camera." Up until 1969, Ed was with the Nevada Fish and Game but now devotes his full time to photography. He has written for "RangeFinder," a national publication in the photography field. The March, 1972, issue of Nevada Highways and Parks will feature his color shots of wildlife in the Nevada desert.

Barbara, Ed's wife, is a Nevada by birth. Her grandfather drove the first stagecoach into Tonahpah and her great grandfather was editor of a newspaper in Belmont. She is a communications operator supervisor for the Nevada Highway Patrol in Las Vegas.

A close friend of the Ed Scovill's is Sessions "Buck" Wheeler, who is well known by early Boulderites for he acted as executive director of the Nevada Fish and Game Commission for three years when the agency reorganized under a new state law.

Ed Scovill was a state game warden, as was the late Steve Fenton with Buck acting as Boss. Buck has published three books, the latest, "The Nevada Desert" and also "Paiute", a historical novel, and a non-fiction book, the "Desert Lake" tells the story of Nevada's Pyramid Lake.

Of interest to our town is that Wheeler was executive director of the Fleischmann's Foundation when the first generous grant was allotted to the Boulder City Hospital.

Pauline Spargo, of 668 Ave. F first saw the B.C. Art Festival in 1963. She then started taking art lessons and entered the show in 1965. She has steadily sold or given as gifts nearly 100 paintings. She takes photographs of each painting before it goes to a new owner and she said it is always a wrench to part with them.

Mrs. Spargo keeps a catalog of where each painting is sold and who received it. The various lucky owners live in 13 states and some have even gone over-seas. No one encourages new talent or brags about the local art classes more than she does, and in 1971 all her paintings sold at the art festival.

Gem Festival
Henderson's Gem Festival — co-sponsored by the Southern Nevada Museum and the Henderson Chamber of Commerce was a financial and cultural success. Boulderites and townspeople are really happy to hear that another show is being planned for 1972. Congratulations to the four local gem clubs and Roy Purcell, curator of the museum for their combined assistance to the chamber of commerce. We all benefitted.

If you become a member of the Boulder City Gem Club (which meets at the teenage club the second Wednesday of each month) you will be a recipient of the pamphlet, "Nodule Knockers" edited and printed by Al Vowels.

He calls it Fun, Gems, Nonsense, Humor, Pleasure and Education. He asked, "Did you hear that scientists have discovered the cause of the recent earthquakes in Los Angeles? Mother Nature forgot to take her Earth Control Pills?"

Phone 293-1716 if you or your neighbors have made our world a better place because of an accomplishment. It is said that our town has a 40 per cent college educated citizenry.

TEE TALK

BY THE OLE PRO

A lot of local golfers are taking advantage of the nice days and getting in some practice at Black Mountain Country Club these days. Nice to see the course so busy. Nice to see the progress on the new wall around the club house.

Last Wednesday was such a terrible day that most of the ladies gave up after just a few holes and retired to the fireside in the club house for cards, and I didn't get any reports of the winners in that category. The regular weekly tournament was postponed for a week.

The annual Dick Stewart Invitational was held last week, and some fine scores posted. The weather fortunately was delightful, for a change without the usual wind that has harried the golfers in this tournament in past years.

In the first flight, Bob Taylor won first low gross with a 146. Jerry Deane was second with 148.

First flight net winners were: Mike Crabtree - 136, Bud Palmer - 137, Ralph Bailey - 139.

Wait Ables with a 155 was low gross winner in second flight, with Tom Steele runner up with a 67.

The net winners in this group were Darrell Farren - 133, Bill Harvey - 142, and a tie at 145 for third between Bowie Ness and Red Lansford.

Low gross winners in third flight were Roger Petorella with 160, and runner-up Billy Taylor with 168.

Net winners were Hank Jones - 134, Frankie Carr - 136, Sam Blazek - 141.

In fourth flight gross division there was a three way tie for first, with Freddy Stewart, Bob Scott and Ben Heffner.

No one won the car for a but Red Lansford won the consolation prize for being closest to the hole.

Several special prizes were awarded:

Longest Drive on No. 1 — John Ritsko; Shortest drive on No. 1 — Bill Scott; Closest to hole on No. 8 — Mike Crabtree; Longest putt on No. 8 — John Ritsko; First out of bounds on 12 — Dick Stewart Jr.

Sorry to report that Dick Stewart, the genial sponsor of this tourney was not able to participate this year, and he was missed. Dick, this year was battling Asthma instead of par. Hope he is feeling better soon, and out on the course again.

It was nice seeing Red and Lil Lansford around again. They may live in California, but I think their hearts are still with Black Mountain. They can be counted on to appear for most of the big club functions, and we're always happy to have two such darned nice people around.

Saw a lot of our members out watching the Sahara Invitational on Saturday and Sunday. A few of our girls were official scorekeepers for the players and enjoyed that. I'm wondering if any of them learned anything to improve their games. All I learned watching the fellows tee off is that it is easy for them and impossible for me.

Victory of Faith Sunday Sermon

"The Victory of Faith" is the announced sermon title of Rev. Bob Wagner for the congregation of Faith Baptist Church at 11 am Nov. 7.

John Nading, Minister of Music, has music selections planned for both the morning and the 7:30 evening services. Special musical numbers are part of his regular program. Bonnie Bagg, who recently moved here from Nashville, Tennessee, is pianist.

Visitors are always welcome to these services at the church at 421 South Pacific on the edge of the Black Mountain Golf Course.

Other events of the church scheduled is its monthly business meeting on Nov. 9, Women in Action at 10:30 am, Nov 9 and three visitation groups. Friends and family members are invited to bring a dish of food and come to the church at 6:30 p.m. November 10 for a potluck.

The Hour of Power service follows the potluck.

Recently John Nading announced the commencing of a folk rock gospel group for senior high students of Henderson. Their first session is scheduled for 4 p.m. Nov. 14.

OLD DOLLS NEEDED FOR REPAIR

Mrs. Vernon B. Southern of 402 Ilmenite, needs old dolls to re-do for Christmas, and give to other children. She also will take doll furniture.

Maxon will discuss ecology, and a dessert will be served.

Dirt Riders Complete Track

The Boulder City Dirt Riders Motorcycle Club turned out en masse over the weekend to work on what is now Nevada's finest motocross track.

Motocross racing is conducted on a closed course up to a mile or so in length consisting of very rugged terrain. Jumps, mud holes, ruts and steep hillsides make motocross racing one of the most physically demanding sports. The sport is relatively new to this country and at the present time is completely dominated by Europeans in International competition. Interest is growing however and with tracks similar to Boulder City's springing up around the country European supremacy may end.

The track is located about one half mile east of the rifle range on the rifle range road. The track is about one mile in length and contains several spectacular jumps. Earl Walker, with a bulldozer supplied by Wells Cargo carved out the course with the entire club helping remove individual rocks and picking away some troublesome rock ledges. Chris Christiansen manned a water truck supplied by C. M. Brown Construction and the track presently is very compact and dust free.

The first race is currently scheduled for Nov. 21, and should bring a turnout of over 100 area motorcycle racers. Boulder City residents unfamiliar with the sport are invited to visit the track over the coming weekend. Work sessions are scheduled for both days however practice laps will be run throughout the weekend by local riders.

Eagles To Play On Astroturf

BY RANDY SHEA

As Eagle fans know the BC-HS Eagles again this year have qualified to play in the state "AA" football championship game.

This year, just as last, Boulder will play Manogue of Reno and the teams will play on the newly installed astroturf in the recently opened Las Vegas Stadium.

Neither team has ever played on astroturf before but Boulder has the edge by having been practicing on it.

KILA-FM SEEKING TO LOCATE IN HENDERSON

A radio station which broadcasts only religious music is seeking to locate in Henderson.

This station, KILA-FM, would be non-commercial and hoped to start broadcasting in January next year. Permanent location of the radio station would be in the proposed Industrial Park in Section 32, and the transmitter would be located atop Black Mountain.

Councilman Olague said he was familiar with the type of program to be broadcast, and endorsed the project. Apparently a similar type of station drew a high listening audience in Redding, Calif.

KILA would require a temporary location at this time, until their permanent location was built. They expected to lease land from the city on a 30 year lease for the permanent site, and would then at the expiration of the 30 years, either purchase the land, or negotiate a further 20 year lease on it.

FRED SMITH V.P. - FINANCE

John M. Ciborski, president Titanium Metals Corporation of America, announced today that Fred B. Smith has been elected Vice President - Finance, effective immediately.

Fred joined National Lead Company as an Auditor in May, 1952, and in September, 1954, transferred to TIMET as Plant Accountant at the Henderson, Nevada plant. In September, 1957, he was promoted to Assistant Controller and in November, 1963, he became Controller and Assistant Secretary for the Corporation. Fred received a B.S. Degree in Accounting from New York University in 1950, and in 1969 he completed the Management Development Program at Northeastern University in Boston. He is an Army Infantry Veteran.

WATER DEPARTMENT

DROWNING IN RED INK

Financially, the city is in pretty good shape. That is, if you exclude the Water Department, which is going down for the third time in red ink.

That in essence was what the Audit Report of the fiscal period 1970-71 said. Receipts to the general fund were high, and expenses were lower than expected, during that period. The city has $448,500 to come out of land sold already, and has invested about $500,000 to make more money, so in that respect is in a good position.

Fixed assets were determined to be worth $6,428,957.

For the water, income was $426,341; expenses, $572,246, which produced a deficit of $145,904.

Kathy Merrill - Daniel Young Rites

Kathy Merrill became the bride of Daniel Young in summer rites at First Baptist Church in Perrine, Florida.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Harris of Henderson. Daniel is the son of Mrs. Gloria Young of Miami, Florida.

Kathy was given in marriage by Rocky Adkins, the director of the Agape' Players gospel group with which the young couple travel. Mr. and Mrs. Harris were unable to attend the wedding.

Miss Linda Martinez was Maid of honor. Michael Womac was best man. Both of these and other attendants at the wedding are members of the Agape' Players.

The groom's mother made the beautiful gown of white imported lace and the illusion veil.

Kathy graduated from Basic High School in 1967 and was a student at Bob Jones University in Greenville, S. Carolina for three years. She has been with the Agape' Players for two years.

The groom graduated from high school and attended college in Miami, Florida. He plays the drums as well as sings with the group.

The Agape' Players are a group of young people from various parts of the United States who travel throughout the United States. They use vocal numbers, instrument, and dramatics to give the audiences the gospel. The group performed here last December and scheduled to return in February, 1972.

St. Vincent's Shop Has New Hours, More Floor Space Now

St. Vincent de Paul's Thrift shop announced this week that it has expanded both the hours of operation, and also the sales area.

The store is located at 136 Market Street, behind the Eldorado Club, and is now open Monday thru Saturday from 9 am to 5 pm. Double the previous sales area permits the store to offer large items of furniture, in addition to its previous complete line of clothing and houseware.

St. Vincent's is a participating store in the 'Shower of Dollars' promotion of the Henderson Chamber of Commerce.

JANET CAMPBELL TO WED GORDON CLARK

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Campbell of 339 Kansas Ave., announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter Janet Lee, to Gordon L. Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alma Clark, Burley, Idaho.

The bride-elect is a 1970 graduate of Basic High School and a 1971 graduate of Stevens Henager Business College and is now employed by the Bureau of Reclamation in Boulder City, Nevada.

Her fiancé is a 1968 graduate of Burley High School. He fulfilled a two year mission in the Eastern Central States for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints and is now employed in Burley, Idaho.

The marriage will be solemnized in the Logan Temple, Logan, Utah, December 2, 1971.

Boulder To Sell Scrap Copper, Steel Nov. 15

Boulder City will sell one lot of scrap copper wire of approximately 750 pounds, and one lot of scrap steel and case iron, estimated at 12,000 pounds.

The sale will be by actual pound weight.

The bids will be open at the council chambers, 900 Arizona street, Boulder City, at 10 am Monday, Nov. 15, according to James E. Heald, finance director.

A case for Silver Bowl...

BY TEDDY FENTON
Several years ago Mrs. submitted the name of Casino Center to a Las Vegas committee and won the contest. She accepted the award from Wayne Newton.

Now Grayce has entered another contest — that to get the name Silver Bowl, to the Las Vegas stadium. Her suggested name has caught on with everyone, newspapers and all, except the powers that be.

Ken Andree and Bob Broadbent will not give up easily, and the NEWS calls it by "Silver Bowl." We believe the name is graceful, imaginative and the perfect announcement that our state is based on the silver which is used by silversmiths throughout the world.

Silver History
California's "San Simeon"

the California - owned (now a state monument) castle, was built by William Randolph Hearst whose father, George Hearst owned stock or served as president of mines all thru Nevada, but the base of his gilded fortune was the silver strike at the Comstock Lode which produced five million dollars in silver. Mrs. George Hearst took advantage of her husband's "silver" fortune, and with young Randolph in tow she trekked all over Europe and the taste for art which later culminated into "San Simeon" was begun by an essay which showed that heavy black sand the miners had been cursing and throwing away was nearly solid silver.

In Nevada history, John MacKay offered his wife, Louise, "the whole world on a silver platter" and 5 years of silver, the heart of the Comstock Lode.

The Boulder City library has several shelves of excellent Nevada history books, noteworthy is "Nevada's Turbulent History" by the late editor of the B. C. News, Don Ashbaugh, and a book that covered the amusements of Nevada's mining frontier is there and is named the Silver Theatre and was written by Margaret Watson. Based on the years 1850 to 1864, it lists Silver in every chapter, as Silver gifts, silver lotteries, silver costumes, silver bricks, Silver City Artillery, Silver City Guard, Silver Mountain to mention a few. She describes a parade in which "No. 4 fire company promised to wear their massive solid silver shields and silver - mounted belts of Virginia - mined silver weighing collectively no less than 45 pounds." In another episode in the book "Young American Engine No.

1" staged a parade and a lavish dinner at which Governor Nye was presented with a magnificent wine pitcher and six goblets made of Washoe silver and the book was filled with rousing songs and dances and famous actors all singing "HiHo Silver."

In "Inside U.S.A. by the late John Gunther, there appears a chapter titled 'Ghosts and Silver in Nevada' and in it Gunther wrote 'Silver has dominated Nevada. Politics from the beginning, nobody not accepted to the great mining interests could possibly be elected.' This was a long time ago and an actual 'Silver Party' existed for awhile and the house of Representatives once had a 'Silver Member.' Then William Jennings Bryan came out for the free (and unlimited) coinage of silver in his celebrated Cross of Gold speech in 1896 and the silverites became Democratic.

Apply For Naval Academy Now

Young men between the ages 16-21 who are interested in applying to the U.S. Naval Academy for the class entering in June 1972 should take their College Entrance Examination Board (CEEB) or American College Testing Program (ACT) tests prior to January 15 1972. The last ACT test date is December 11, 1971 and in the case of the CEEB, January 8, 1972.

Any young man in his senior year of high school who is interested in an appointment to the Academy should write Senators Alan Bible and Howard Cannon and Congressman Walter Baring as soon as possible to request a nomination to Annapolis. For immediate information on the types of nominations available or formajors are available answers to questions about admission to the Naval Academy, write or call Captain Zel Lowman, USNR at 878-2802.

Highly rated academically among the country's colleges and universities the U.S. Naval Academy offers a student a well-rounded educational program leading to a Bachelor of Science degree and commission in the U.S. Navy or Marine Corps.

A wide range of engineering fields including aerospace, electric, marine, systems and chemical engineering are augmented by degree programs in such areas as oceanography operations analysis, languages, economics and history. A total of 26 academic nominations available or formajors are available

Adam & Fallen Man, Topic Of Sermon

"Depart from evil, and do good; seek peace and pursue it."

This verse from Psalms will be among those read at Christian Science church services Sunday. The Bible Lesson-Sermon is entitled "Adam and Fallen Man."

Christian Science Society at 1419 Fifth Street, holds Sunday services at 11 a.m. All are welcome.

Rebekahs

Drape Altar

The altar was draped in memory of the late Mamie Dunn, outside guardian of the Rebekah Assembly, at the meeting of Cactus Rebekah Lodge No. 40, IOOF, held Wednesday night. Taking part in the ceremony prepared by Lola Jensen were Florence Courtney, Thelma Wood and Estella Gifford. Linda Cooper sang "Sweet Hour of Prayer" accompanied by Wilma Cooper.

Introduced and given the honors were Iona Slater, newly elected president of the department association of Ladies Auxiliaries of the Patriarch Militant IOOF of Ariz.; and Helen Leonard, vice president of the Rebekah Assembly of Nevada. Also visiting was Christine Blackall, of Mesa, Calif., who recently received her 50 year membership jewel.

Clara Turner reported that, in line with the president's request to have only one banquet in each District, the 3 Lodges in Dist. No. 7 have decided to hold the dinner on Tuesday, Dec. 7, at the Swankey Club, when Amy Robinson makes her official visit to Sunshine R. L. No. 41 in Henderson. Mrs. Robinson will visit Oasis R. L. No. 31 of Las Vegas on Wednesday, November 17.

The Noble Grand announced that Wilma Cooper, treasurer will be installed at the meeting of Nov. 10, which is Past Noble Grand's night. Tuesday Nov. 23, was chosen as the date to hold a bake sale at Central Market, with Thanksgiving pies, etc., to be a specialty.

The annual roll call of all members was held, with letters read from our out-town members. Mildred Foresman was appointed chairman to be in charge of tickets on a beautiful white acrylic shawl crocheted by Thelma Wood. It was decided that the drawing would be held December 7.

Ruth Gates, Vice grand, who moved to Oklahoma a few days ago, was presented with a gift of remembrance from the lodge.

The refreshment committee of Nellie Chamberlin, Estella Gifford and Esther Shipp used a Hallowe'en theme for decorations of the table.

On the Tee

BY ANN STEBBINS

Saw quite a few of our local golfers out at the Sahara invitational last weekend. I did not go out Friday or Saturday. To be quite frank, I really do not consider golf a good spectator sport. In years past I've gone out and followed my favorites around the course, but in bad weather that is not for me. Sunday I stayed mostly around the 18th green and watched the players finishing up. One thing I noted. Some of those boys out there playing their hearts out looked a bit lonesome. The only gallery they had was their caddy and the scorekeeper. Most of the folks follow the bit stars. Some of the so-called 'rabbits' play a fine game and make some tremendous shots, and there's no one to applaud except the caddy.

Isn't that Lee Trevino really something? Imagine earning a quarter of a million dollars a year doing something that is as much fun as golf. I'm one of these people who generally root for the underdog but in Lee's case, I'm all for him, because he is such a nice guy. He is friendly with everyone, plays his game without complaining and never throws a club. And he doesn't complain about the course when he goes. I won't mention names, but several of the pros were heard to blame poor shots on the 'terrible condition' of the course and greens, and this doesn't make them popular with anyone. Anyway, that one is in the books for now, and the folks at Paradise can relax a few days, and then start planning for next year.

I was given to understand last year that a repeat of the LPGA Senly tournament was questionable, but learned Sunday that it definitely is set for the next May on the Desert Inn Course. Ken Ewert about whom I wrote a couple of weeks ago, is set to do the scoring, and the Hughes Sports Network will be doing the television coverage. Now that one, I'm looking forward to and planning.

Speaking of planning, hope all members of the Municipal Golf Association are planning to attend the meeting on Nov. 30. Time is 7:30 p.m. and place will be announced later. Please try to be there for the election of officers, and to hear what out plans are.

We welcome this week Glenn and Vi Muchow, Wilbur and Mildred Nickell, Emerson and Mildred Rhoades and Lance and Wanda Lansford. Hope more of our local fold will join us and get in on the fun.

Beginners

The Beginners class officially ended last night with the final test. Will have the results next week. I've enjoyed taking some of the 'students' out for their first round. Hope to get a chance to play with all of them soon. I've been hearing of more people who want to learn and all I can say is that I'm delighted with the enthusiasm.

This is one of those lovely crisp windless days that are so ideal for golf. I resolved last night that I would stay home today and get some of my work done, unless one of my students called to go out, but I just got a call that some friends need one more player for a foursome, so, see you later. I'm off to join the girls On The Tee.

ma women (Society of Women Educators) gathered at the home of Mrs. Max Bosse. Here it was the coldest, windiest evening of the fall. The feature of the evening was "Seward's Icebox" — a slide presentation of Bosse's trip by camper in Canada and then the flight to the Arctic Circle seeing the icebergs and all. The dessert served was decorated with miniature Alaskan flags.

BRAD STRAYER

Mr. and Mrs. Brad Strayer enjoyed two weeks in Southern California. During the week with grandson, Dick and Dee Shorter and family at Blue Jay it snowed — beautifully laid on the evergreens etc. but an earlier snow than ever before.

Strayers also enjoyed a week with their son Frank and Phyllis Strayer and girls in West Covina.

BOB LAMPSON

Bob Lampson's brother and sister-in-law Jim and Bach Lampson of Carlsbad California visited Bob and Ruth and son Robby this last weekend.

The week before Bob's mother visited here from Carlsbad and the local family went with her to Lake Havasu for cousin's wedding. The cousin is in the service and immediately following the wedding the newlyweds flew to Hawaii where he will be stationed for two years.

LEON CRITZ

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Critz was buzzing October 21 with the wedding of Judy's brother — Georgia and Don Fox of Weedsheights near Yerington California. Rev. Bob Wagner performed the ceremony.

The date of the wedding was set when two of Don's friends could attend enroute from duty in Viet Nam: Raul Ortiz enroute to Arizona and Ralph Stokely enroute to Ft. Riley, Kansas.

Visiting for the wedding also was Judy and Don's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Fox of Indian Springs aunt and Uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Arvada, Colorado, and long-time friends of the Fox family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill McMains of West Covina, California.

LYLE DEAL

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Deal of Oakview, California, visited his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Deal, here during the Veteran's Day weekend.

First Baptist Church To Show Film

A Sunday School goal at Faith Baptist Church was achieved and consequent record attendance was established last Sunday.

After a six-week People-to-People campaign the Sunday School recorded 101 persons attending their nine Sunday School classes on October 31. The average attendance for the five-Sunday month of October was 82, one short of the record single-day attendance recorded by the church prior to October 1 of this year, states Sunday School Superintendent Paul Ostrom. Pastor Bob Wagner told the congregation during the morning service that it is entirely possible for the Sunday School to be averaging 100 in the near future.

There are classes in the Sunday School to teach biblical lessons to every member of the family. Most of these use fun means of object lessons and class participation.

The church extends an invitation to other unchurched people of our community to visit the Sunday School classes of their ages at 9:45 a.m. on Sunday. Faith Baptist

Game Violations Increase

Nearly four times as many citations were issued during September as in the previous months according to a spokesman for Nevada Department of Fish and Game. A usual occurrence, the number of Fish and Game violations increase significantly each year during opening of hunting seasons.

One hundred forty-four citations were issued statewide for infractions of fish game and boating laws with nearly $5600 in fine monies deposited in the State School Fund.

Clark County residents paid a total of $2280 in fines for the following offenses.

Fishing, no license: Artis Clary, Louis Kennedy Jr., Andrew B. Laub, Ralph G. Smith all of Las Vegas, Charles D. Rash and Marilyn M. Barbour of North Las Vegas.

Fishing, prohibited methods: James L. Mosley, Scott Conway Sr., and Lessie Brown of Las Vegas.

Littering: Ralph D. Levda of North Las Vegas and Merel F. Rowland of Las Vegas.

Hunting, protected species: James E. Arnold, Carl L. Hambv, Wayne A. Hayden, Richard A. Loway, Garcia Bonifacio, Anthony O. Kennedy and John D. Pitoniak of Las Vegas, James C. Howard and Wayne J. Hober of North Las Vegas.

Excess limit of game or fish: Dennis G. Campton, Don L. Cristensen, Jack L. Edwards and Ronald T. Edwards of Las Vegas.

Hunting migratory birds with unlicensed shotgun: Ronald P. Oldham of Las Vegas.

Loaded shotgun or rifle in vehicle: Norman H. Case Jr., Herbert J. Mattingly, Paul W. Rowe and Gary L. Winslow of Las Vegas, and Thomas Witt of North Las Vegas.

Insurachat

The annual cost of home accidents is a startling $1.7 billion—and is still rising.

The council on Family Health, an organization sponsored by the pharmaceutical industry, suggests ten basic rules for home safety:

Don't keep dangerous, toxic products in easily reached places — under the kitchen sink, for example, or on the lower shelves of closets.

Throw away half-filled containers of highly caustic substances — carbon tetrachloride, muriatic acid, etc.

Prevent carbon monoxide poisoning with proper ventilation in home and garage.

Keep all potentially dangerous gardening products labeled and away from children.

Keep all medicines on the highest shelf of your medicine cabinet.

Never compare medicine with candy in front of children.

Read the label and instructions on medicine containers at least twice.

Don't leave your purse open and accessible if you carry medicine in it.

Never leave children alone even for a short period.

Flush leftover drugs down the toilet.

HAVE YOU GOT YOUR QUOTA?

The News has been asked to reprint this verse of Tom Lehrer as a warning to hunters on how not to do it, 'People ask me how I do it And I say there's nothing to it; I simply stand there looking cute

And when something moves — just shoot;

And I've ten stuffed heads in my trophy room right now —

Four hunters, three game wardens, two horses, and a cow.'

Hunter's targets

by Don Hunter

If ever a town needed somebody to rescue it from the twin clutches of unemployment and depression, that town is Henderson — right now.

And if ever a person looked likely to accomplish both miracles, its Hank Greenspun — right now.

I sat in on all those land sale proposals, and there was never any question in my mind that of the proposals to purchase all of the land for sale Hank Greenspun's was the best.

The only question I had was whether Hank would, or could, bring Water Wonderland in with him. Most happily, as you read last week, that question has been resolved. Happily too for about half the people in Henderson who seem to have called me up about it, urging me to push for it.

Even now its hard for the average person to realize the tremendous potential of Water Wonderland. It would create an estimated 2000 permanent jobs to run the project after construction is complete.

And just think of the tourist trade it will generate!

My advice to anyone who has any money lying around is to start right now buying land or property in Henderson. Within a few years the prices will be so high that the smart ones will make fortunes by buying now.

Another question was also laid to rest last week as to whether Water Wonderland would have to sell stock to raise money. After all the stock promotions round here in the last few years, which never got any place, any future ones will produce a sour smell for the public.

This will not be necessary.
Water Wonderland says it has the money to do the job—it will cost over $50 million—and will be open all year, with an estimated 4 million visitors.

PROGRAM ON TREE PRUNING TO BE GIVEN

The Nevada TurfGrass and Landscape Council will present an educational program meeting at the University of Nevada Las Vegas, social science building, lecture room No. 116, on Tuesday, November 9, 1971, at 7 p.m.

A panel discourse will be presented on "Pruning, Trees and Ornamentals."

The panel is composed of professionals from the Clark County area: Mr. Jack
"Dick" Walpole, superintendent of North Las Vegas

Parks Department; Mr. Spizzucco, North Las Vegas tree surgeon; and Mr. Nanvu Tomivasu Las Vegas landscape contractor. A question and answer period will follow.

Organized to provide all interested Nevadans with educational, scientific, and research information in ornamental horticulture the Nevada TurfGrass and Landscape Council presents this program free and open to the general public.

Gross receipts are figured at roughly $33 million of which $7 million at least should be profit.

In five years' time you may not recognize our little ole town!

One of the oddest sights in Boulder City last week was those myriad sacks of fertilizer lying around to be dumped onto the grass.

Apparently to keep the town green, it has to be turned brown once in a while. Do they really need ALL that stuff? I would have thought that they could have got by with a lot less.

That operation at Railroad Pass is picking up steam and they have at last got rid of that broken sign out front, which must have scared away
a few tourists.

One of these days I must take another look in there, and see how it has progressed in the last six months.

One thing that always puzzles me, as I visit various houses is the number of them that need minor maintenance.
Holes in walls, broken screen doors, door bells that don't work — the list could go on for ever.

For the improvement it creates, just to fix those minor things, you would think that people would do it. But they just let things go. It sure beats me. Only if the money isn't available, then that is a good reason.

I don't think many families are getting by on less than I am at present, and yet
I manage to keep things up.
And if I can do it, so can others.

And while we are thinking along this line one reason which may be contributing to the high unemployment rate in this area in the attitude of some of the local concerns.
How come they will bring people in from out of state, while there are plenty of well qualified locals available?

Some of it is undoubtedly prejudice against older people. It is simply amazing how many organizations have no openings for such people, yet when recent graduates apply, openings somehow become available!

Now if I were hiring somebody my main consideration would be evidence that the person in question could produce on the job. And for that I would look at his record at his previous place of employment. I would call them up, and find out. In particular I would ask them "Would you employ this person again?"
and listen carefully to what the answer was and how enthusiastic it was.

In my time I have known some companies that got stuck with human lemons, simply because they did not bother to check. I have known people who got jobs on the strength of qualifications they did not have, and on the basis of experience at companies they never worked for.

But as Jimmy Hoffa used to say they'll do it every time!
Or should that be "Fail to do it every time?"

As you have seen recently in both Boulder City and Henderson I have been asking

Fashion Jamboree Set Tomorrow At Elementary School

A free fashion jamboree sponsored by several national companies, will be held Friday, Nov. 5 beginning at 9 a.m. at the elementary school in Boulder City according to Mrs. Blanche Uehling of Fashion Yardage.

Representatives of Union
Zinner Co., Vogue, Butterick patterns, Crown Textiles, and Betty Anderson Lingerie Co., will be in attendance.
New and worthwhile information on new sewing techniques and style will be given. Questions are encouraged and there is no charge. Each demonstrator will give a one-hour demonstration.

Further information may be obtained from the Cooperative Extension service in Las Vegas or Fashion Yardage in Boulder City.

Women of Henderson and Boulder City are cordially invited to attend.

28-Pound Carp Wins Fish Award

A carp weighing over 28 pounds, won largest fish award for Dick Hurlbut, Las Vegas, during the tenth annual Las Vegas Silver Fishers spear fishing contest held at Willow Beach Area of Lake Mohave.

Don Stevenson Las Vegas took top honors for taking the most fish in the singles event.
His fish totaled 734 points.

In the junior division Jim Summers, Las Vegas, took first place with fish totaling 157 points.

Trophies for the women's event went unawarded due to failure of all women participants to spear any carp.

On Sunday the Eldorado Canvon White Stag sponsored team won with a combined total of 1163 points.

people how the wage-price
freeze has affected them.
Most people think it should have been put into effect before, and I agree with them.

However I beg to differ with my old Toastmaster buddy Emory Lockette who wanted to know why Federal employees had to bear the brunt of it. Its people like me who are really suffering for the Government's failure to do something before now.

It isn't people like me who put in for fat wage increases with companies that are barely breaking even or losing money, and who threaten to strike if they don't get what they want.

If ever this country is going to lick inflation this type of collective temper tantrum has got to be dealt with permanently. Or the unemployment rate will stay over 6 per cent.

The days of 3 and 4 per cent unemployment rates are gone for the rest of this decade at least. I doubt if the rate will fall below 5 per cent in the next few years. And the more big wage demands there are, the higher level unemployment will reach as companies seek to cut labor costs.

The only good thing that might come out of it is that companies will start to pay more attention to the quality of people they hire. They will demand performance not promises—like they did when I first started working.

AMERICAN WAR MOTHERS MEET

Henderson Chapter 2 of the American War Mothers held their first meeting of the year 1971-72 Rolla (Smiles) Cunningham, vice president, conducting. Cordelia Nomeland president, was absent due to the illness of her mother, who resides in Texas.

Meeting was called to order, sergeant at arms Doris Pritchard posting the colors. Eleven members answered to roll call, Nov. 1.

A letter was read by corresponding secretary Irma Struthers from one of our members Lula Erickson, now residing in California. She was past state president, past chapter president and our only charter member. Also a letter was read from National president Bertha Peck, appointing Irma Struthers as national memory tree and memorial chairman.

Special recognition was given to Orrel Perolio, our state president of the American War Mothers.

Ways and means discussed a rummage sale, possibly Nov. 19.

Day time meeting was voted to be on the first Tuesday of each month, starting at noon.

Rehabilitation and Welfare chairman Rhea Johnson said a young girl and baby had been given aid recently. Four boys in the service can be made cheerful at Christmas Time. She asked us to remember a family or two for Christmas.

Four members of the Henderson chapter attended Veterans Day parade Oct. 25th. They were Orrel Perolia, Irma Struthers, Vera Draken and Rolla (Smiles) Cunningham.

Fourteen members attended the state convention in Las Vegas. Irma Struthers, chairman, Doris Pritchard, installing officer and Elenore Larsen sang a duet at Memorial services. Leola Scott, state chaplain conducting. Ruth Emery was pianist.

Also in memorial services were: Ann Parker, sergeant at arms, Wilma Anfield and Rolla Cunningham. This ceremony was beautiful.

Delegates were: Ann Parker and Doris Pritchard. Alternates were: Wilma Anfield and Rhea Johnson. Members attending other than those mentioned above were: Thelma Stokes, Wau-nita, Scruggs, Lois Skillman, Sally De Voige, Olive Melton and Kathy Weese.

The afghan made by state president Letha Weaver was won by Rilda Dattge, former past state president.

Next meeting will be the annual Christmas party at the home of Ruth Emery, pot luck dinner and exchange of gifts. Hostesses at this meeting will be Olive Melton and Kathy Weese.

LUPE Party

Latins United for Progressive Equality celebrated Halloween with a costume party Saturday evening. Members had much fun guessing the identities of those attending. Gilbert Martinez and Bea Baldez won prizes for the most original. Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy Dolls as portrayed by Emma and Manuel Sanchez Jr. were the winners for best couple. There were bandits, gypsies, clowns, a lovely Chinese lady, many hobos and pretty señoritas present.

The hall was decorated by members Dee Salazar, Gilbert Martinez, Jenny and Fred Pilon, Lena and Joe Alire and Sarah and Ray Trujillo. They had pumpkins, skeletons, black cats and a high stuffed witch as the main theme. There was a buffet set up with many delicious dishes including tamales, ham, dips and assorted cheese and meat.

Members were entertained by very talented members Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rodriguez and Henry and Jessie Reyes. They played guitars and sang. All enjoyed dancing and community singing. This was another highlight in L.U.P.E. social functions.

The next business meeting will be held Thursday evening the 4th of November at 7 pm at Victory Village Auditorium. All members are urged to attend as further plans for the New Years Eve Dance at the Armory will be discussed.

Parents Visit School Despite High Winds On Parents' Night

BY PAM SCHOONOVER
Even with the wind and the evening cold, many parents attended the Parent's Visitation Night at BCHS, Oct. 28, from 7 until 8:30 p.m.

The parents, who were given the schedules of their teenagers, went to each class for ten minutes.

Some of the classes this reporter visited were: Mrs. Eleanor Phoenix's ninth grade English. She told parents what the pupils have done so far and that in the future they will read Romeo and Juliet, poetry, biography, and autobiographies and will concentrate on paragraphs and compositions.

Dick Kranz, the biology teacher told what his pupils are doing in biology and said that the first exposure for the students to dissect will be the crayfish. There will also be sessions at 8 a.m. if the student wants to dissect for extra credit. Man will be studied last.

Mrs. Miriam Hardy, the home ec. and chorus teacher, showed parents a display of dresses, aprons, skirts, and blouses the girls had made.

Fenton Whelan, Spanish teacher, discussed how he taught his class and commented about interesting places and things in Mexico, Spain, and Spanish speaking countries.

Mrs. Gene Segerglom, American government and world problems teacher, showed parents an outline that the students will follow: western and eastern Europe, the USSR, the Chinese People's Republic, Asian countries, India Pakistan, the Middle East, Africa, Latin American countries, and Canada as well as American government. Pupils will discuss politics, government systems, civil rights, and operation, and the presidency.

Barney Schulteis, US history teacher, explained that he gives his classes a three-week assignment packet, containing all the information students need, and for an A or B. They can do the quest projects and inquiry questions. After the first nine weeks, the A-B students use college books involving more reading that somewhat prepares the student for college history.

John Milburn, who teaches co-ed PE, told the parents he had a real good bunch of kids. He continued, "So many want to sign up, and I ask them what they want to do and they make suggestions. So far the co-ed PE class has gone swimming at the lake, ridden bicycles, and played softball and volleyball. Now they are playing bridge."

Ron Resler, general science teacher, explained about the required notebooks which must have all notes, tests, and worksheets in them. One third of the student's grade is based on the notebook.

Mrs. Mabel Mitchell, English teacher, told what she does in her classes. Walking from classroom to FTA members who ushered parents to classrooms. Some of the FTA members were Kathy Katzenbach, Mike Wheeler, Kevin Smith, Colleen Gibson, Kathy Titmus, Laurette Pendleton, Bill Cooke, Bob Chubbs, and Cheryl Hinds.

I think the homemaking club has done a beautiful job of serving the refreshments under the direction of Karen Burke," commented Mrs. Hardy. The girls who served were Pat Morley, Julie Brothers, Sally Sanders, Dawn Metcalf, and Pola Walters.

Also wandering the corridors besides FTA members and parents were janitors Darwin Knight and Jack Harris. People in the corridors were serenaded by the voice of the student body president Kevin Smith, part of the time. "I really enjoyed meeting the teacher," stated more than one parent.

Pictures were taken by Pam Schoonover of the Pebbles staff with the assistance of Jim Ryerson. After talking to several teachers and parents it was apparent that the night turned out to be nice despite the cold weather.

Park Village Wins Safety Contest

Park Village School came out on top as the winner of this year's Junior Fire Marshal Contest.

The Junior Fire Marshal program is presented annually to our local school children to teach them the importance of fire safety, and what to do when a fire breaks out in their own home.

This program is sponsored by Lou LaPorta's Insurance Agency thru the cooperation of the Hartford Insurance group and has been very successful in promoting fire and home safety to our local children.

Marvin Rose, as the representative of LaPorta's Insurance Agency, provided the trophy and fire prevention materials, and the program was presented by Engineer Bob Blankenship of the Henderson Fire Department.

Kathy Ackerman Becomes The Bride Of Roy Taylor

Katherine Ackerman and Roy D. Taylor were united in marriage by Rev. John Osko. Seventy five attended the 3 p.m. ceremony on September 19 at First Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex G. Ackerman of Henderson. Roy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Shards of Rosemead, Calif.

An arch and two baskets of daisies, gladiolas and baby breath decorated the church altar. Mrs. John Osko was the organist playing traditional wedding music.

Rex G. Ackerman gave his daughter in this double-ring ceremony.

Jeanne Ackerman was maid of honor for her sister, Diane Zach of Henderson and Mrs. Gary Jacobsen (nee Michele Finch) of Las Vegas, both friends of the bride, were bridal attendants.

Wayne Taylor of Spokane, Washington, was best man to his brother. Ushers were Roger Taylor of Rosemead and Steve Campbell of Henderson.

The white bridal gown was of chantilly lace. The empire waist was accented by a satin band. The long puffed lace sleeves ended in a wide cuff. The fingertip veil of bridal illusion was held by a headpiece of white satin flowers. She carried a bridal bouquet of white daisies, pink rosebuds and baby breath and tied with white satin streamers.

All three of the bride's attendants wore floor-length gowns made of crepe each in a shade of purple ranging from very pale to dark. Their nosebags were miniature carnations variegated with purple baby breath.

Mrs. Ackerman dressed in a pink crepe street-length dress with white accessories and a white carnation corsage. Mrs. Shards wore a beige street-length dress with pink accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

Fifty attended the reception held at the Swanky Club. The three-tier bridal cake was decorated in the three shades of lavender. Miss Linda Ackerman, sister of the bride, was in charge of the best book.

The newlyweds are making their home in Henderson. The groom is an expeditor at State Stove Manufacturing Company here. They are both Basic High graduates.

The out-of-town guest to the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Shards, parents of the groom, and Roger Taylor, brother of the groom, all from Rosemead, Calif. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Taylor, brother of the groom, from Spokane Washington; and Mr. and Mrs. Phil Bardon, aunt and uncle of the groom, from Seattle Washington.
