Henderson, Nevada

ONE MAN'S VIEW

MIKE O'CALLAGHAN

"I know just the place for you to teach. You'll get along very well in Henderson," were the words of the gentleman sitting across a desk from me in the Dean's office at the University of Idaho.

That was 41 years ago last spring, when I then asked the man, "Where is Henderson?" I knew where Las Vegas, Boulder City, Tonopah, Reno, Winnemucca and Elko are located but not Henderson. "It's between Las Vegas and Boulder City," he told me.

I had some friends in Las Vegas and Tonopah and relatives in Hawthorne but that was about it. Then the slender gentleman with bright eyes and expressive hands told me, "It's a working man's town and the people there want their children to receive a good education." He went on to tell of the fine faculty and administrators already in the Henderson schools. Also, my personal habit of smoking, at that time in my life, certainly didn't hinder our exchange.

Then, before I could ask any more questions, he reached into his pocket and pulled out a contract with my name already typed across the front. It was for $4,800 a year. This was $1,200 a year more than the job of vice principal would have paid me in Twin Falls, Idaho.

Nevadan J. Harold Brinley smiled as we shook hands and parted. I had liked him the moment we first met and during the coming years, my love and respect for Mr. Brinley grew. He was always a special person in my life and when he died in an airplane crash several years later, it was a terrible loss for me and Nevada. He was an outstanding educator and administrator. Yes, he was also an excellent recruiter and had helped me make a good personal decision.

Fifteen years later, as governor of Nevada, many nights were spent in my office working until past midnight or

Cheers rang out and smiles on the audience member's faces welcomed Henderson's new mayor, Jim Gibson, and elected officials into office Tuesday as a crowd packed City Council Chambers.

Elected officials were sworn in Tuesday during the City Council committee meeting, marking the beginning of new terms for the mayor and other elected officials.

Jack Clark, Ward 3 Councilman; Ken Proctor, Municipal Court Judge, Dept. 1; and John Provost, Municipal Court Judge, Dept. 2, were sworn in following the mayor during the committee meeting.

Somewhat awkwardly, Gibson gave his first direction to Council saying, "My cohort [pointing to Jack Clark] advised me I don't need a second [on accepting elected officials]. Do we need to vote on it?"

Reserve work under way again

Workers are bustling as plans have once again begun to roll for The Reserve Hotel and Casino.

While construction of the facility at Lake Mead Dr. and Interstate-515 has been on hold for several months, Greg Schatzman, vice president and general manager, said designers have been busy behind the scenes to make the project more grand than initially planned.

"What we've done is drastically increased our ability to produce food," he said regarding expansion of the project.

The casino was given the go-ahead by the Nevada State Gaming and Control board to continue construction on the facility following a settlement with a former project partner.

Schatzman said an additional 40,000 square feet of "back-shop" space is planned for the expansion. The area will allow for more office and increased warehousing for food items. Additional room was needed to accommodate for a large buffet and more restaurant space in the new plans, he said.

"We've finalized our design and are hopefully shooting for an end-of-the-year opening," he said.

The Reserve is the first major hotel/casino to open in Henderson along Lake Mead Drive. Following an African jungle safari theme, The Reserve will feature several bronze statues of monkeys, hippos, elephants, giraffes and other wildlife.

Even though much of the activity will be at the expansion area in the rear of the building, workers will also begin constructing the inside design, he said.

Plans of continuing an extensive safari theme mural around the facility are not completed. However, he said, the resort may seek city approval to continue the design.

RESERVED LOOK — Work continues on The Reserve Hotel and Casino on Lake Mead Drive. Project officials said they hope the resort will be open by the end of the year.

Several restaurants including Italian and Mexican cuisine, 24-hour establishments and several bars are featured in the new designs, Schatzman said.

"It would have been nice to open last October," he said. But now the resort will open with more amenities which patrons will appreciate.

A merger of the property with Ameristar Casino's accelerated building plans for the project. The original developer, Gem Gaming, had prepared to open a 225-room hotel with 1,000 slot machines, 35 table games and several restaurants and retail stores.

With Ameristar as the primary shareholder in the casino, the company decided to expand the project to open with more to offer patrons. In addition to expanding the project, much of the interior design was redone.

When the casino opens, a total of 225 hotel rooms, 1,400 slot machines, 75 table games, several restaurants, meeting and convention facilities and other recreational amenities will be included in the project. Room for further expansion to 1,500 hotel rooms and more casino space are also planned.

Behavioral Health Center to become new surgical unit

Sharon Jackson
News Staff Writer

Henderson residents in need of in-patient mental health services will have a little farther to travel starting Aug. 31 because St. Rose Dominican Hospital is turning its in-patient unit into a medical surgical unit.

The Behavior Health and Awareness Center treats people who are chemically dependent on drugs and alcohol. The Center also treats various mental health disorders such as depression.

Program manager Dr. Ric Le Blanc said the reasons for turning the Center's in-patient unit into an orthopedic surgery unit are not fiscally motivated but are based on community needs and following current health care trends.

Le Blanc explained St. Rose will continue to offer mental health care on an out-patient basis and is moving an out-patient facility into St. Rose's Medical Arts Building located across the street from the hospital.

He added Henderson is becoming a large retirement area, and the unused physical space being taken by the in-patient mental health facility will be better served for the growing senior population.

Licensed clinical social worker

Marly Henry said she disagrees with the decision and thinks St. Rose is making a mistake by closing down the BHAC unit.

"It's the only [in-patient] facility we have in the area. ... I think it's a service the community definitely needs and will need more of in the future," Henry said.

She added that the Las Vegas valley has 24-hour drinking and gambling, in addition to a high suicide rate — reasons the valley needs these in-patient services.

Henry cited that in the past

St. Rose to mark 50 years in city

St. Rose Dominican Hospital will celebrate 50 years in Henderson with a several special events tomorrow.

At 4 p.m., a time capsule will be buried at the east entrance of the hospital. The capsule will be re-opened in 25 years on June 27, 2022.

Bishop Daniel Walsh will celebrate Mass at St. Peter's Catholic Church at 5 p.m.

A birthday celebration with food, music and games will start at 6:30 p.m. at Timet Field. Sister Robert Joseph Bailey, at St. Rose since 1951, will preside over the cake-cutting ceremony at 7 p.m. The 50th anniversary cake, sponsored in part by Caesars Palace, is made in the likeness of the hospital and will be on display.

A fireworks display at Timet Field is scheduled for 9:30 p.m. Blankets and lawn chairs are encouraged.

The public is invited to all of the events. Call 564-4507 for more information.

early morning. During my first legislative session, it took but a few weeks to learn that one legislator, the late Sen. Jim Gibson of Henderson, had his hand on the budget. He knew my budget proposals and understood my financial philosophy. Although my opponents had painted me as a big spender during the 1970 campaign, he evaluated my budget and knew that wasn't an accurate picture.

Late night and early morning calls to awaken Jim Gibson became routine during legislative sessions. Jim, not a party hound, usually went from dinner to his room and reviewed the work for the next day before sleeping. My phone calls at any and all hours of the night didn't seem to bother him. "Jim, this is Mike. Page 232, line 10 is giving me problems with some of your colleagues. Could you spend some time in the morning and set them straight on it?" would have been a familiar request and he always gave me an affirmative answer.

After my first legislative session, I had no doubt about Gibson's valuable legislative prestige and financial knowledge. He wasn't a great orator and he seldom raised his voice even to stress a point. The content of his remarks were always pertinent and loaded with valuable information. This encouraged intelligent fellow legislators to lower their voices and listen to Gibson.

During the preparation of the executive budgets for the 1973-75-78 legislative sessions, I felt completely at ease discussing my plans with the senator prior to presenting them publicly. I also sought his input on sticky issues and more often than not, took his advice.

Sen. Jim Gibson and I didn't always agree on every issue. It's doubtful if any governor could always agree with any legislator if both people were doing the jobs the voters expected them to do. Also, I doubt if, during an eight-year period, either the legislator or the chief executive could win or lose every disagreement. This is true when considering my two terms working with Gibson.

When leaving the governor's office in January 1979, there was no doubt in my mind that the senator from Henderson was one of the most competent elected public officials I've ever worked with or observed. After 18 years of working as a newspaper writer and governmental observer, there is no reason for me to change this view of that quiet mental giant who served Nevada for so many years.

These were some of the thoughts going through my mind Tuesday evening as I watched young Jim Gibson sworn in as the mayor of Henderson. You see, J. Harold Brinley was his maternal grandfather and his late father was the man who set the high standards every state legislator should strive to achieve. Henderson has a good man at the helm and as he showed Tuesday evening, he also has a pleasant sense of humor. Let's hope this is the beginning of another sparkling career of public service.

City Manager Phil Speight joked the city had already voted on their officials and the mayor and the other elected officials are officially in office.

A brief reception for members of the community to meet their newly elected officials gave the new mayor a break from the action. Following the gathering with food and friends, the Council dove back into business.

Election issues didn't cease once the meeting started, however.

Former Mayoral candidate Kenny Rogers approached the Council during citizens concerns to discuss possible changes to the city's policy regarding campaign reform and appointment of representatives for board assignments.

Following Rogers' comments, City Attorney Shauna Hughes was directed by Council members to investigate ways the city can consider changing its charter, making elections less costly. She was also directed to investigate changing the city's board appointment policy for Council discussion during a special meeting Monday.

"Jack's ward should have elected him," Rogers said adding the city ought to consider amending its charter to allow for Council members to seek election in their ward only.

Rogers said that costs of running a campaign are skyrocketing due to the cost of each candidate running at-large throughout the city. By allowing a candidate to target voters in one ward only, costs of campaigning can be reduced.

Such a change would make it more likely for community members to participate by running in an election by reducing costs, he said.

Council members agreed. "The cost of running a campaign is astronomical. If we're going to have a citizens government, we have to come up with ways to make it affordable," Clark said.

Gibson added that while some changes should be considered, there are many benefits to having at-large election. He said the matter should be discussed at a later meeting after further investigation of the pros and cons of amending the city's charter. Amendment to the charter would require legislative action, Gibson added.

In other news, Council members:

- Approved a use permit for a University Medical Center Quick Care Center south of Sunset Road on Marks Street, in the Whitney Ranch planning area. The facility will be located on a parcel adjacent to the Sunset Station Hotel and Casino.

- Approved a $29,900 award for school flashing beacons along Warm Springs Road between La Mesa Drive and Heavenly View Drive. Flashing signals are being installed to assure better safety for students at Mack Elementary School.

- Approved a zone change, use permit and architectural review for Powell Bleach Plant at 850 W. Lake Mead Dr., in the Gibson Springs planning area. Plans approved will allow the plant to install more modern equipment which will reduce the likelihood of accidental chlorine spills. An extensive landscaped berm will also be built surrounding much of the facility to shield the plant from nearby roadways.

- Authorized the purchase of 250 "No Trespassing" signs for placement in city drainage channels.

she has had patients who have been in out-patient programs but that wasn't enough. She added that if a person is suicidal or is detoxing from alcohol or drugs, that can be potentially life-threatening and those people need to be in a hospital setting to become well.

"I think the bottom line is money, we weren't making the kind of money they wanted and they can certainly make more money turning this unit into an orthopedic surgery unit," Henry said.

Sister Vicki Dalesandro of St. Rose Dominican Hospital said the unit is important in providing quality and holistic mental health services but added that the 18-bed unit only averaged around seven people a day while the rest of the hospital would be full and would have to turn people away.

She explained a recent census showed mental health sustained a decline of 72% while the need for surgical beds increased by 76% in the last two years. Space was needed in other high-rate areas, she said.

Vice president of finance Charlie Harrison said just a couple years ago patients would stay in the hospital for two to three weeks, now the average length of stay had decreased.

He added the BHAC unit is built for 18 beds and has an average of five to six patients a day, leaving 12 empty beds. He explained St. Rose traditionally has an occupancy rate of 85% throughout the year and to have a unit that is only 35% occupied is not a good usage of space.

Dalesandro added that St. Rose will offer out-patient mental health care services and will be partnering with Community Health Center of Southern Nevada to help carry out its mission of care.

Council to decide on assignments

A special meeting of the Henderson City Council will be held at 5:30 p.m. Monday to determine board and commission appointments.

In addition to appointing or reappointing representatives to the Planning Commission and Citizens Advisory Committee, Council members will choose which boards and committees on which they will sit.

Mayoral appointments on the Planning Commission which are up for renewal include George Bochanis, Bob Unger and Colleen Bell. Jack Clark's Ward 3 appointment of Chat Chatterton is also up for renewal.

The Citizens Advisory Committee also has a number of members who are up for renewal. Mayoral appointments which are to be renewed include Glen Schroder, Gary Johnson and Guy Van Wyck. Ward 3 appointments of Jeffrey Quillen, Richard Crandall and Julia McCullum are also up for renewal.

A chairman and vice-chairman for the Citizens Advisory Committee will be appointed by Mayor Jim Gibson from the existing appointed representatives.

A separate item on discussion and possible action on the Council's board appointment policy will also be addressed. Council members are considering amending the policy to allow for a representative outside a Council members ward to be appointed to a position.

Boards such as the Planning Commission would likely be exempt from non-ward appointments to assure proper representation.

Gibson addresses Development Association

D.B. Marciniak
News Staff Writer

Jim Gibson, who was sworn in as mayor later in the day, started Tuesday morning with a breakfast for champions as he met members of the Henderson Development Association.

Gibson outlined how Development Association and Chamber members can help the city champion challenges by becoming more involved with the city.

Like a general rallying his troops, Gibson, who has long been involved with the Henderson Chamber of Commerce, called on members to reach out into the community and forge a partnership with the city to shape the future of Henderson.

His term as mayor, he views, can be a term of positive change for the Chamber.

"I think it's time for this Chamber to consider the influence it can have on this city," he said.

Members need to determine what's in the best interest of business and take a stand for what they believe is right, he said.

"I pledge in my part to work with you," Gibson said adding Chamber members need to become involved in city boards to have more input into city decisions.

Henderson's Chamber can be much like the Las Vegas Chamber, he said, helping to shape policies and give more input about the city's business interests.

As he entered the first day of his term as mayor, he said, he hopes to put more decision-making power in the hands of the city's boards. He hopes this will get government closer to the people by encouraging more resident involvement.

During the speech, he outlined ways the city can reach out to help the community more. With increased lobbying by board officials, the city can work to stabilize school system problems such as overcrowding, solve traffic congestion and pollution and work to better manage Henderson's growth, he added.

"I spoke about growth and I talked about infrastructure and the need for all of us to join arms and march together [to solve problems related to growth]," Gibson said. But, he added, the city needs growth or it will end up like Boulder City, searching for ways to increase capital.

"Quality growth" is the word Gibson referred to as solving problems associated with the area's explosive expansion.

"People are just besides themselves about the streets, the traffic and everything," he said.

The problem is not up to one municipality, he said. All areas of the valley — Henderson, Las Vegas, North Las Vegas and Clark County areas — are contributors to growth problems.

Due to all municipalities contributing to the area's problems, he said, the city needs to become increasingly active by paying attention to other municipalities projects and how they may affect Henderson.

One way to help better manage Henderson's growth, he said, is by strictly adhering to the city's comprehensive plan. The plan, which was completed late last year, acts as a blueprint for further development in Henderson.

More neighborhood involvement is featured in the document which allows residents to make their own decisions on projects in an area. Chamber members can become more active in their government through helping to implement provisions of the plan in their neighborhoods, he said.

From redevelopment of Henderson's downtown area to influencing how neighborhood projects appear through the Planning Department, Gibson said the time is now for Chamber members to become more involved.

"I think this is the most exciting time in the history of the city," Gibson said.

First synagogue to be built in city

The Green Valley Ranch master planned community may soon be home to the first Jewish house of worship ever built in Henderson, according to representatives of American Nevada Corp., and Midbar Kodesh Temple, the newest affiliate of the United Synagogue of Conservative Judaism in Nevada.

Alan Perlmutter, chief operating officer for commercial development for American Nevada Corp., announced recently that the company has entered into an agreement with Midbar Kodesh Temple for just over three acres in Green Valley Ranch on the north side of Paseo Verde Parkway at Homestead Ranch Boulevard, between Green Valley Parkway and Valle Verde Drive.

Perlmutter said the land site could accommodate the construction of an initial building of approximately 10,000 to 12,000 square feet, with ample space for expansion and parking.

American Nevada Corp. is a Greenspun company and primary developer of Green Valley and Green Valley Ranch, and is a partner and development manager of Seven Hills.

"We're happy to welcome Midbar Kodesh as our first house of worship in Green Valley Ranch, and we were excited to learn it will be the first synagogue built in Henderson," said Perlmutter.

Perlmutter noted that in its design, Green Valley Ranch is a balanced community, reflecting diversity in terms of housing choices, commercial facilities and recreational opportunities.

"By the same token, Green Valley Ranch reflects a diverse blend of age groups, lifestyles and religions," he said, adding that three other sites have been designated for houses of worship in the 1,310-acre development.

According to Barry Fieldman, president of Midbar Kodesh, donations and volunteer services are being sought to help raise the estimated $1 million needed to build the new synagogue. He said plans for the first phase of the building include a chapel, social hall, clergy offices and a banquet-sized, kosher kitchen for catered events. The facility will eventually accommodate approximately 500 families.

"We started Midbar Kodesh Temple in 1994 with six families and we are now at 110 families and growing rapidly," said Fieldman.

Among the many programs offered at Midbar Kodesh's present location are education and enrichment for ages 2-12 through Bar/Bat Mitzvah and Confirmation. The congregation is an affiliate of Las Vegas Hebrew High (grades 8-12). Youth activities include United Synagogue Youth (USY), Katan, Kadima, Junior and Senior USY. Adult education offers Torah study and Hebrew classes.

Fieldman said plans for the synagogue were recently finalized and are ready for submission to the Green Valley Ranch Architectural Review Committee. He hopes to see ground broken for the two-phase project within the next 18 to 24 months. Larry Robbins, a nationally renowned designer of synagogues, is serving as architect.

Mark Goldstein, past president of Midbar Kodesh and chairman of the building committee said the synagogue espouses a Conservative philosophy combined with "the feel of a friendly, neighborhood congregation."

"Our family includes newborns to grandparents, pre-schoolers to college students and diverse occupations and views," Goldstein said.

Rabbi Isaac Soncino is the congregation's first rabbi, and will officially begin his duties Aug. 1. Soncino received his rabbinical education in Israel and served for several years as an educator at Temple Beth Shalom in Las Vegas. He will join Cantor Robert Fisher, who has been affiliated with the congregation since 1994.

"We are very excited about building a new house of worship in Green Valley Ranch," said Soncino. "It is like a miracle for us to have such a wonderful location, where so many children and adults will be within walking distance of their own synagogue."

Soncino pointed out that Midbar Kodesh, in Hebrew, means Holy Desert.

"Our scripture tells us that God gave the Torah to man in the desert because the desert is free—it belongs to everyone—and whatever you find there is yours and cannot be taken away from you," Soncino said with a smile.

Fieldman said those interested in making a donation toward the synagogue or helping with fund-raising activities should contact the current meeting place of Midbar Kodesh Temple, 6000 S. Eastern Avenue, Suite 3-B, Las Vegas, NV 89119. For more information, call 798-4510.

There are now 20 new neighborhoods and more than 70 furnished and decorated model homes open at Green Valley Ranch. The 1,310-acre, master-planned community is located on the south side of Lake Mead Drive between Pecos Road and Arroyo Grande Drive.

The master plan is comprised of approximately 775 acres for residential neighborhoods, 225 acres for open land areas, houses of worship and potential school sites; and 310 acres designated for commercial development including office, retail, resort hotels, gaming, conference centers and medical buildings.

New neighborhoods currently under development are Monument Pointe by Spectrum Construction; Richmond Heights by Richmond American Homes; Stag's Leap by Nigro Associates; Reflections, The Enclave and Premiere by Pulte Homes; Mountain Pointe II Townhomes and Carriage Club by US Home; Sentosa by Kaufman and Broad of Nevada; Shadow Ridge by Beazer Homes; Crystal Springs and Fountain Hills and Fontana d'or by Coleman Homes; Pavilion Pointe by Concordia Homes; Pacific Images and Pacific Trace by Pacific Homes; Regency Hills and Copper Ridge by Pardee; Altezza Estates by Capital Pacific Homes, and The Estates at Green Valley Ranch by American Nevada Corp.

The Green Valley Ranch Information Center is located on Green Valley Parkway, just south of Lake Mead Drive and is open daily from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Auto Nation opens

Paul Dodge
Contributing News Writer

Many people are familiar with the frustration that buying a used or even new car can bring. Somewhere in between, yet a world apart, lies the experience of buying a "Reconditioned-to-Perform-Like-New" car.

The AutoNation USA megastore recently filled its 39,000-square-foot facility with more than 1,000 such automobiles for the grand opening of its first Nevada location. The used car dealership is not trying to change the experience of buying a used car, it is striving to revolutionize it.

"The whole concept is revolutionary for our industry," said Athia Hardt, a spokesperson for AutoNation USA, "It is the wave of the future for the used car business."

The location at the corner of Gibson and Warm Springs Roads is the 13th of the 14 stores across the South and Southwest. There are plans to have 25 stores by 1998, and 100 nationwide by the year 2000.

"We're excited to be unveiling AutoNation USA in the valley, where there is significant demand for high-quality used cars at competitive prices," said Larry Rich, president of AutoNation USA.

The megastore offers a large selection of what it calls "Reconditioned-to-Perform-Like-New" cars which have been repainted, cleaned and overhauled in the interior. They have also been put through a rigorous 165-point safety inspection, tested, fitted with new parts and checked in virtually every aspect in order to insure that they perform like new as well as look like new.

Also, there are user-friendly computers for perusing auto information, 125 sales and service representatives, a service center, an accessories shop and a children's center. The accessories shop allows customers to add more than 2,000 extras or features to their car, installed upon purchase.

The ChildPlay Center features child-sized cars and roads, as well as supervision and an innovative child-parent arm band safety system.

In addition to these features, the large building also houses a community group room available for reservation by non-profit civic organizations.

Hardt feels that the most unusual aspect of the AutoNation USA sales pitch is the no-pressure environment.

"Buying used cars can be a painful situation for many people. AutoNation wants to differentiate itself from that image and make itself synonymous with trust," Hardt said.

The company claims to have low prices which are fixed and non-negotiable, creating a pressure-free "no haggling" environment. In addition, all sales representatives are salaried, not commissioned.

Water conservation tips for the summer and all year round

The Southern Nevada Water Authority recently released water conservation tips for students to learn during the 1997-1998 school year. Although the tips are designed to be taught by grade level, all students and adults can benefit by learning how to save one of our most precious resources — water.

Kindergarten: Turn off water when brushing your teeth.

First grade: Take shorter showers. Limit showers to five minutes or less.

Second grade: When washing dishes by hand, be sure you don't leave the water running.

Third grade: Keep a jug of water in the refrigerator instead of letting the water run from the tap to get cold.

Fourth grade: Use a broom to clean the driveway and sidewalks, not a hose.

Fifth grade: Make sure the dishwasher is fully loaded before you turn it on.

Sixth grade: Wash only full loads of laundry.

Seventh grade: Avoid watering the lawn on windy days when there's too much evaporation.

Eighth grade: Make sure your sprinklers are watering the lawn and not the sidewalk, driveway or street.

Ninth grade: When washing the car, use a bucket and a hose with a shut-off nozzle.

Tenth grade: During hot temperatures, make sure you don't water in the heat of the day as it can cause burn damage to your lawn.

Eleventh grade: Install flow restricting devices in your shower to reduce water flow.

Smoke and mirrors?

WASHINGTON — Something is missing from the cigarette settlement. I feel this strongly, possibly irrationally and not at all, many will insist, realistically. Still, I feel that at the very least all of us—especially those of us who ever smoked—should get an apology from Big Tobacco, a humble and most humbling "I'm Sorry" accompanied by some pretty fair groveling. I want contrition.

I find nothing like that in the proposed agreement. I do not find an admission of guilt, a confession of greed, an acknowledgment that they always knew the evils of smoking but, hey, they wanted to make a buck. I want the tobacco biggies, the guys who make millions of dollars, to say they were wrong—sluts for a dollar—and now they will devote the rest of their lives to a worthwhile cause.

Remorse. That has been the word du jour of late. Timothy McVeigh has to die because, among other things, he doesn't show remorse. (What if he did? I wonder.) But what about the people who have been making and selling cigarettes all these years—especially the ones who chose to work in the industry after it was known that cigarettes contribute to some 400,000 deaths a year? What about these people? Where is their remorse?

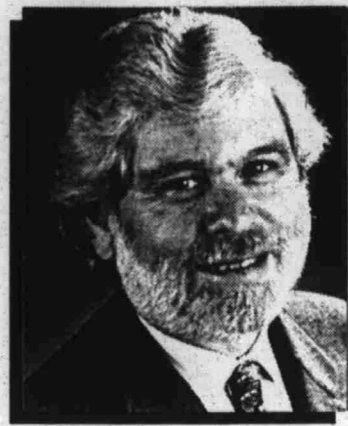

There is none. Instead, this foul business will, after paying a fine and abiding by some rules, be allowed to continue doing what it has always done—manufacture and sell cigarettes. That, of course, is the basis for the agreement. The industry will pay the costs of the settlement by hiking its prices. In other words, the costs of the cigarette agreement will be paid by smokers. Why not? They already pay in so many other ways.

As for overseas, American companies will be free to operate as usual. Why? Aren't the Chinese—the largest potential market—people, too? Don't they have lungs that can get cancer and hearts that can stop before their time? Don't they feel pain when diseased and sad when death approaches too soon? These questions are waved aside, God, what a market! A billion potential smokers! Let the tobacco industry in. Let the funeral industry follow.

When my Uncle Mike died, I took a sign from his house: "Warning. Oxygen In Use." He had emphysema, the paycheck from the gazillion Chesterfields he smoked over the years. I took the sign, and stared at it whenever I lit up. I thought it would make me quit, but it didn't. I could smoke in the very face of the consequences—such is the addiction. Finally I quit, but I fear that someday all those cigarettes will catch up with me. I started at 14. My decision, I know. Still, I hadn't even heard of emphysema.

President Clinton, forever in loco parentis, is intent on stopping kids from smoking. He's right, of course. But what is the lesson for kids (or anyone else, for that matter) when people sell something awful, something whose mere use constitutes abuse, and get away with it? They are not asked to apologize. Their names are not posted on some wall so that they can be shamed. They are not punished and, indeed, have arranged matters so that the punishment to their companies is limited—no class action lawsuits, for instance. Some years ago, my friend "C" worked on the cigarette account at an advertising agency. He felt he had to. It was his job. But he was ashamed anyway and he seemed pained whenever anyone hit up. He always rebuked me. I smoked Camels back then.

Convicts smoke Camels, he told me. They have nothing to live for.

Lawyers—not ministers or ethicists—have structured this agreement and they have done what lawyers do. It could not, I know, be otherwise. The result, though, is morally preposterous—a reduction of smoking by children from one level to another level until in 10 years it falls 60%. What about the others? Please, be reasonable, I hear voices tell me. This is the best that could be done.

I'd like the cigarette executives to be like my friend "C." I'd like them to admit guilt, confess shame, acknowledge agreed. I'd like them all to perform some public act of penance, maybe volunteer work in a hospice where their customers go to die. I'd like kids to learn that profits do not counterbalance immoral behavior and you cannot yell "free will!" when, as it happens, you are selling a sweet poison.

I want contrition. What I'm getting, though, is more smoke.

GOP's worst enemy

The Republican Party can't take "yes" for an answer. Its core center-right policies clearly have broad public support, but the party continually trips itself up on extreme partisan moves. The Democrats survive by taking advantage of GOP overreach and counterpunching with kinder, gentler versions of the Republicans' own programs. It happened in '96 with the government shutdown over the budget. It's happening again today. Will the GOP ever learn?

Take the disaster surrounding the disaster relief bill. Conservatives loaded up a much-needed bill to help communities in the Midwest recover from heavy flooding with two marginal provisions opposed by President Clinton. One would have forbidden government shutdowns during budget disagreements. The other would have prohibited the Census Bureau from using standard sampling techniques in the 2000 census for fear that the Democrats would somehow manipulate them to their advantage. The bill was delayed for weeks as Clinton refused to budge. And for what? The public didn't care a whit for the intramural partisan politics. People simply wanted the flood-aid bill passed and blamed the GOP for dodging it.

The Republicans are in danger of shooting themselves in the foot again with the tax bill. They're offering a $500-per-child tax credit but not to the poorest working families, who need it most. The reason? The poor already receive an Earned Income Tax Credit or a Child Care Tax Credit. Conservatives figure these families get enough government money and want to give the credit to higher-income families—who need it less. Once again, the Republicans open themselves to accusations of being mean-spirited to the poor.

Ditto for the inheritance tax. There's a good argument to be made for raising the tax exclusion from $600,000 to $1 million for small farmers and business people whose estates are up in value thanks to inflation and higher real estate prices. But bumping up the exclusion on the inheritance tax will affect only about 30,000 estates annually, or less than 1% of all deaths in a nation of 270 million. Of those hit with taxes, 1,500 are farmers and 2,000 are small business people. All the rest are actually well-off investors with assets in stocks, bonds, and mutual funds. Their estates already get one tax break, because capital gains are wiped out at death. Their heirs also have generation-skipping trusts, charitable foundations, and other gimmicks to avoid paying inheritance taxes.

If the GOP wants to help the estates of 3,500 small farms and businesses that get hit every year, it

BILL HANLON

Greek to me

Should students learn a foreign language in school? Having attended a Catholic high school, I had to take two years of Latin, two years of Spanish and two years of Italian. They were elective courses in the sense I got to choose which courses would overlap in the 10th and 11th grades.

Some kids think English is foreign enough. After all, how many languages have people driving on parkways and parking on driveways. Latin was once regarded as the universal language; its remnants can still be seen today in English. Many young adults are more familiar with commonly used Latin abbreviations, words or phrases than they think. If not, let's rectify that for them today, and you can check your own knowledge at the same time.

As you read these, you may mistakenly think these were just English words or phrases. We have adopted many and use them without realizing we are using a foreign language.

Let's begin with ad hoc, with respect to this. You normally hear this expression when a board wants to form an ad hoc committee to deal with a specific item. Ad infinitum, to infinity. Someone likes to talk ad infinitum. Ad libitum, abbreviated as ad lib, means at one's pleasure. You get to ad lib when giving a speech. Ad volentem, according to the value. This is used when speaking about taxes. Alias, otherwise called. We hear about aliases being used all the time, often a street name.

Alibi, in another place. When someone is said to have an alibi, it means they could not have committed the crime because they were in another place. Alma mater, foster mother. A school is often referred to as an alma mater. Bona fide, in good faith. Caveat emptor, let the buyer beware, rarely heeded consumer warning. Corpus delicti, body or substance of the offense. De facto, from the fact. Et cetera, and so forth. Ex officio, by virtue of office. Ex post facto, retroactively, grandfathered in. Habeas corpus, have the body.

I bet you didn't know you knew so much Latin. Many words we use today are actually Latin derivatives. For example, material in English is materiel in Latin.

Id est, that is. We often see it abbreviated as i.e. In absentia, in or during absence. In loco parentis, in place of a parent. Teachers act in loco parentis. Ipso facto, from the very fact. Magna cum laude, with great praise. Mea culpa, by my fault. Modus operandi, manner of doing things, often abbreviated as someone's m.o. Per diem, by the day. Per se, by itself. Post hoc, after this. Prima facie, at first view. Pro bono publico, the public good. Pro bono work is often done by attorneys for nothing. In court, you might hear about prima facie evidence. Persona non grata, a person who is not acceptable.

Quasi, as if, as it were. Quid pro quo, something for something. Quod erat demonstrandum, to be demonstrated. Often abbreviated after mathematical proofs, QED. Reductio ad absurdum, reduction to an absurdity.

The phrase made popular by the U.S. Marines—semper fidelis—means always faithful. Sine die is used in the legislature, without a day or a day has not been identified. Status quo, the state in which anything was or is. Summa cum laude, with the highest praise. Verbatim, word for word.

The Periodic Table in chemistry uses Latin abbreviations. Iron is Fe, because iron in Latin is ferrum, as mercury is hydrargyrum, or Hg.

You may have noticed the abbreviation for pound is lb. Again that comes from the Latin libra. Nota bene, written as N.B., means to take notice.

The obituary column comes from the Latin obit, meaning he or she died. How many times have you used a P.S. at the end of letter: that comes from postscriptum.

There are more we are familiar with. A.D. anno Domini, in the year of our Lord. We tell time with Latin abbreviations. Ante meridiem, a.m., means before noon, while post meridiem, p.m., is afternoon.

In churches we see I.N.R.I., Iesus Nazarenus, Rex Iudaeorum, or Jesus of Nazareth, King of the Jews; or I.H.S., Iesus Hominum Salvator, or Jesus, the Saviour of Men.

The English language is filled with Latin cognates. In fact, the romantic languages of Spanish and Italian are closely related to Latin. If you know one of those languages, it is not hard to learn the other.

Hanlon, a Las Vegas resident who writes a column about English education, sits on the State Board of Education, is the administrator for the Clark County School District's Math/Science Institute and is a part-time instructor at UNLV.

Travesty of Little League

Editor:

Another season of the Henderson Little League has drawn to a close and once again, the same politics were in play... An organization driven by coaches, parents and big sponsorship, rather than what should be important—the kids.

Our family has been involved with the Henderson Little League since 1993 and over the years have witnessed the travesty of management destroy the hopes and dreams of many dedicated and skilled young people, through what we believe to be nothing more than the "Good Old Boy" syndrome, involved parents and kids are being systematically excluded from the day to day affairs of this organization.

Please allow me to give a basic example of the problems that have been occurring for years. Imagine if you will, two promising little leaguers, "Billy" and "Tommy." Billy shows up for every practice, hits well, fields and plays like a team player, but isn't getting the support or respect he needs from the coaching staff. Tommy on the other hand has had a few seasons in the league and has been with his coach for most of those seasons. He also has excellent skills, but maybe does not have the same level of team spirit because he has a commitment to another team and his heart is really there. Even so, you can bet your life that his Little League coach has a position fully secured for his arrival.

The questions being raised here are simple: What are the real motives of these coaches? What lessons are being taught to our children? And of no less importance, what about "Billy"? Doesn't he deserve the chance to learn and improve even at the cost of a few errors? Shouldn't he and every child regardless of the sport learn the valuable lessons of good sportsmanship and hard work? Should he have to endure the mental and physical abuse of a tyrannical coach just to win or should he be out there to have fun? We, as well as many other parents believe it should be the latter.

It is time the Henderson Little League and the "Good Old Boys" were held accountable for their actions. If all the parents and players were kept informed of the meetings, elections and general business, maybe something could be accomplished, but unfortunately most parents are not among the "select few" and their opinions, feelings and criticisms are meaningless.

We truly encourage other parents to educate themselves about the issues addressed here and put a stop to the power and ego driven individuals that are taking the fun out of an organization designed for kids. Every child in this community should at least have a chance to try without the ridiculous pressure of constantly being expected to win at their expense.

AUDRY BONDURANT

Thanks to Symphony

Editor:

I want to personally thank the Nevada Chamber Symphony for its outstanding "Starlight Pops Concert" at the Henderson Civic Center Amphitheatre, on Friday, June 20. As my daughter would say, it was "awesome."

We had the privilege of listening to those outstanding musicians in addition to hearing some truly incredible sounds which can only come from such talent. One could close their eyes and picture the movement from the Broadway shows.

And the grand finale with American Marches by John Philip Sousa left one wanting to march in time with the music, and more important, proud to be an American.

Conductor Rodolfo Fernandez was brilliant in drawing the fine soft sounds of "Pink Panther" to the drama rising from "Phantom of the Opera." Bravo!

I applaud the NCS for their dedication to bringing "music" to the masses and allowing us to experience the sounds and sights of music, true beautiful music. Thank you.

We intend to come to as many of your performances as possible.

Editor:

On June 19-20, the Journey of Hope cross-country cycling team made a stop in Las Vegas, en route to Washington D.C. On behalf of PUSH America and all 33 members of the team, we would like to thank the tremendous kindness and support that the people of Las Vegas showed during our stay. We would especially like to thank our sponsors: the Saturn of West Sahara, the Saturn of Henderson, the Las Vegas Stars, the City of Las Vegas Adaptive Recreation and the Wet n' Wild. The food, lodging and events were most appreciated, especially after a long day of riding!

This year is the 10th summer of the Journey of Hope, a program of PUSH America, the national outreach organization of Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity. Our mission is to raise funds and public awareness on behalf of people with disabilities.

This special trip would still only be an idea if it wasn't for the volunteers that sponsor the team. With the continued support from cities like Las Vegas, we will be able to expand our Journey of Hope and continue to make a difference.

Thank you, and we look forward to seeing you again next summer!

should simply raise the exclusion rate for them. If it really wants to help the millions of small businesses in America that must operate under onerous burdens, it should lower payroll taxes. This bad behavior on the inheritance tax issue is yet another example of why, for the GOP, the positive message of lowering taxes gets lost in the issue of fairness. Instead of being a supporter of the middle class, the GOP opens itself up to being mean to the poor and helpful to the rich—all over again.

The plain fact is that on the issues of lowering taxes, balancing the budget, and reforming entitlements, the country is center-right and squarely behind the GOP. But when the GOP veers to the fringe or caters to tiny slivers of well-to-do constituents, it loses that backing and makes itself vulnerable. Similar behavior is typical of the Democrats. Better to stick to the middle ground, sheath the partisan knives, and battle for the public's vote in 2000 on core issues.

Casinos must prevent another murder

The people responsible for the tragic death of 7-year-old Sherrice Iverson in a Southern Nevada casino this month are the sorry teen-age predator who allegedly killed her and the indifferent father who has been accused of leaving her defenseless in the middle of the night.

Among the many stories we've heard over the years of parents who felt the urge to gamble stronger than the urge to protect their offspring, this is by far the worst. Among the far-too-many stories of murdered children we've seen, this is one of the saddest.

Surely this was one of the most easily prevented, too. The predator's friend knew something bad was going on in that rest room, and did nothing. A casino security camera recorded a man entering a woman's rest room but no one noticed. Security personnel warned the father not to leave the child alone, but nothing was done to force him to take his responsibilities seriously. If someone, anyone, had done something, anything, that young girl might still be alive.

So, despite the fact that the casino is not to blame for the tragedy, the murder of a young child nevertheless portrays Nevada's most important industry in a very poor light.

Potential tourists are going to wonder whether they want to visit a state where children are left alone in the middle of the night and predators are able to molest, or even kill, them while no one notices. The industry must act quickly to reassure the public that it is taking every possible measure to prevent a similar tragedy. Some very simple measures, in place already in some northern Nevada casinos, make sense:

• Children under the age of 10 should not be anywhere in the casino, including arcades, without an adult.

Despite all the talk about family-friendly resorts, a casino is an adult environment that by its nature is dangerous for a child. If a parent must be warned more than once to look after his or her child, it's time to call in a law enforcement agency.

• Arcades should be off-limits to anyone under the age of 21 between midnight and 6 a.m. If they're too young to gamble, they don't belong there.

• Rest-room entrances and other areas of casinos where security is looser because of privacy issues should be monitored much more closely, particularly at night. The sight of a man entering a women's rest room certainly should be a cause for immediate action.

Another youngster simply cannot be allowed to die in a Nevada casino... ever.

Reno Gazette-Journal

Get him out of here

Families of the U.S. Marine embassy security guards who were shot to death 12 years ago by communist rebels at a San Salvador sidewalk cafe have every reason to feel betrayed by their government.

Imagine having to learn—primarily through news accounts—that the terrorist leader who signed the communique taking credit for that callous massacre is living in the U.S.. Imagine too, that the reported mastermind of what has come to be known as "the Zona Rosa slayings"—Pedro Antonio Andrade—and his family were brought to this country years ago at U.S. taxpayer expense. This, however, isn't fantasy: As a Senate intelligence hearing disclosed last month, the murders occurred, a man linked to the murders is in America, and justice has not been served.

Two questions have been left unanswered, but not for long, we hope. Who should be held accountable for Pedro Andrade's presence in the U.S.? How long will it take to deport him back to El Salvador? One thing is clear: He is no illegal immigrant in the usual sense. His entry was made possible through a special "humanitarian" parole process that permits foreigners to come here if their lives are in jeopardy from having cooperated with U.S. officials in their home country. The Senate intelligence committee hearing was called to learn how Andrade was allowed to enter the U.S. "despite all the evidence linking him to the killings," according to committee Chairman Richard Shelby. It's a fair question that cries out for an answer. Instead, the committee was treated to a bureaucratic fingerpointing exercise in which the State Department and the CIA blamed each other for initiating the idea. It was a sorry spectacle.

The State Department admitted generating the proposal, but William Walker, who was U.S. ambassador to El Salvador when Andrade got the green light, said the CIA—having benefited richly from Andrade's informing on his former rebel colleagues—came up with the idea and the funds. Not so, said the CIA's general counsel Michael O'Neill. The agency and the Justice Department opposed letting him in, O'Neill said, because of information that pointed to Andrade as the mastermind.

So who initiated the action that landed him here almost seven years ago? At the end of the hearing, no one seemed to know—or at least would own up to knowing. The probe continues. One matter should be brought to a conclusion, however. Andrade reportedly is in detention, facing deportation back to El Salvador. He should be sent on his way.

Consumer tip

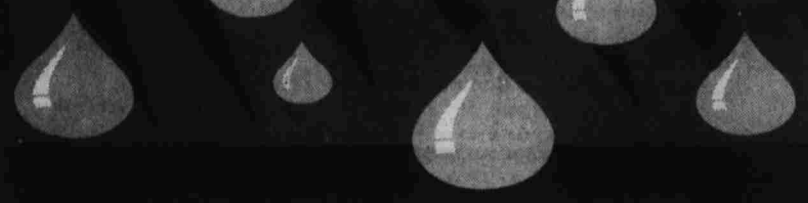

The Nevada Attorney General's office provides the following consumer information: Every day, consumers — especially senior citizens — face a barrage of claims about health-related products and services. Often it is very difficult to tell the difference between fact or fiction when it comes to selecting a health care product or service. A new booklet by the Federal Trade Commission and the Office of the Attorney General can help consumers ask the right questions about products and services.

The new booklet, "Who Cares: Sources of Information About Health Care Products and Services," offers information to help consumers know how to avoid deceptive claims and who to contact about claims for alternative medicines or prescription drugs, complaints about nursing care facilities and much more.

To get your free copy of the booklet, call the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division, toll free, at 1 (800) 472-2600.

White MS students honored for their achievements

White Middle School honors students

Each quarter throughout the school year, White Middle School students achieving a 3.0 GPA or better are honored at grade level honor roll assemblies.

Students receive Honor Roll certificates, Honor Card, bumper stickers, coupons from neighborhood merchants and participate on a field trip.

Contributors have included Mountasia, Scandia, Las Vegas Thunder, Burger King, McDonald's, Taco Bell, and Pepsi.

The students went to UNLV accompanied by their principal and guidance counselors, treated to an all-you-can-eat gourmet breakfast, and a tour of the campus by UNLV student ambassadors.

Businesses which would like to recognize outstanding students for their accomplishments, should call Mrs. Mallo, 799-0777 ext. 309, after Aug. 4.

Breakfast of champions
White MS students showing marked improvement throughout the 1996-97 school year were honored at an end-of-year Breakfast of Champions.

Students and parents were invited to attend a continental breakfast and view excerpts from the film, "Rudy."

Henderson resident Rudy Ruettiger spoke on the students' achievements. Students received certificates and coupons from local merchants in recognition of their improved motivation and success.

COLLEGE NEWS BRIEFS

Elizabeth Correia of Henderson was named to the Dean's List at Westminster College for the 1997 spring semester.

To earn a place on the Dean's List, Correia, an early childhood education major, maintained a 3.50 grade point average or better during the spring semester.

"Inclusion on the Dean's List is a mark of substantial academic achievement and is a real cause for pride," said Dr. Stephen R. Braar, vice president for academic affairs.

Westminster College is a liberal arts institution located in Salt Lake City and was founded in 1875.

Anthony T. Candella and Michael B. Malixi of Henderson received degrees from Boston University this spring.

Candella earned a law degree and Malixi a bachelor of arts degree in philosophy and psychology, cum laude. The students were among 4,103 others receiving degrees from the university.

Boston University is the third largest independent university in the U.S., with 30,000 students in its 15 schools and colleges.

Karli Greene of Henderson recently received the $500 Ruth Thompson Scholarship from the College of Veterinary Medicine at Oregon State University.

A freshman, Greene was among several hundred leading students at the university to receive more $83,000 in scholarships and awards.

Firefighters to serve Saturday brunch

SENIOR CENTER HIGHLIGHTS

27 E. TEXAS ST.
565-6990

The center is open for all activities from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday to Friday; from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturdays; and from 6 to 10 p.m., Monday to Thursday.

Brunch, lunch volunteers
Henderson Police Chief Tommy Burns, department volunteers and their families will serve a made-to-order brunch Saturday at the center.

Burns and his burners will start early in the morning to ready the biscuits, pancakes and gravy for hungry seniors attending the brunch. Brunch will be served for $1.25 from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Saturday, June 28.

The Senior Center thanks Terry Perkins for the hard work she puts in organizing department volunteers and gathering extra goodies to be served.

Seniors new to Henderson are invited to attend the Saturday Brunch to meet the volunteers from the police department and learn about the many programs offered at the Senior Center.

Sunday lunch

The Sunday lunches served by RSVP volunteers have been very successful, thanks to the special efforts of Betty Dukes, Nona Perryman, Jean Sadler and Marie Arey with assistance from George and Clara Hanson. The delicious lunches are served for $1, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Congratulations, St. Rose!

St. Rose staff visited the center to extend an invitation to join in its 50th anniversary celebration, at 7 p.m. Friday, June 27, at Timet Field, at the corner of Lake Mead and Water Street.

The celebration will include food booths, entertainment, games and anniversary cake. Fireworks will begin at 9:30 p.m. Bring a blanket and chair and join the festivities.

Summer crafts

RSVP volunteer Kathy Shively is working on summer crafts. Seniors get together at 9 a.m. on the second and third Fridays of each month to work on special projects.

Those with craft items to donate are asked to drop them off at the center. Items especially needed include material, lace and trim of all kinds.

Reminders

Citizens Area Transit has a new application procedure for seniors in need of transportation for the handicapped. Call CAT Paratransit at 228-4800 for information.

A representative from Senior Law is available by appointment at the center once a month. Some services provided include simple wills, living wills, power of attorney, long-term health care planning, consumer disputes and small claims instructions, landlord/tenant disputes, home-steads, intervention in elder abuse matters and more. Call 229-6596 for more information or to schedule an appointment.

Full Social Security services are available twice each month at the center from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Wednesdays, July 2 and July 16.

The Nevada State Department of Motor Vehicles provides driver's license and photo ID services to seniors at the center on the first Thursday of each month. Representatives will be available from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Thursday, July 5.

Some organizations and services are dark in summer. Check with the club organizer or agency representative for changes in meeting times.

Activities

The Henderson Senior Center has activities ranging from art to Scrabble, concerts, health seminars, recreation and social activities.

To receive the Henderson Senior Center Newsletter by mail, send several stamped, self-addressed business-sized envelopes to: 27 E. Texas St., Henderson, NV 89015. The center will mail a newsletter each month.

Lake Las Vegas promotes O'Boyle

Officials of Lake Las Vegas Resort, the $4 billion international residential and resort destination in Henderson, have announced the promotion of Sherri O'Boyle from director of marketing to vice president of marketing.

She joined the resort in January 1994, and oversees all marketing, advertising and public relations efforts for the world-class development.

"Lake Las Vegas Resort's growth in the national and international arenas has placed immense demands on our marketing efforts," said Ronald F. Boeddeker, chairman of Transcontinental Corp. and president of the resort. "Sherri has proven to possess the expertise and creativity needed to meet these demands and to help move our project to the next level."

Her experience will play a key role in marketing several new neighborhoods for SouthShore, the private residential community. Bella Vivente, a gated enclave of 41 courtyard villas priced from the mid-$500,000 recently debuted, and a community of waterfront condominiums is scheduled to begin selling later this year.

Also planned for this year is an exclusive neighborhood of acre-estate homesites priced from $1 million. Currently more than 70% of custom homesites in SouthShore have been purchased.

The resort also includes MonteLago, the resort development on the north shore of the lake. Sodding is underway on Nevada's first Jack Nicklaus-designed resort golf course and grading is continuing on sites slated for the 500-room Hyatt Regency, the Grand Bay Resort and The Village at MonteLago, an upscale entertainment retail plaza.

The MonteLago masterplan calls for up to six hotel/resorts, three championship resort golf courses, European-style gaming and an aquatic amphitheater.

During her 20-year professional career, O'Boyle has worked for or consulted with real estate developments and financial institutions in California, Nevada, Arizona, Virginia, South Carolina and Florida.

A member of the Las Vegas Executives Association, the National Hotel and Motel Marketing and Sales Association, the American Resort & Residential Development Association and the Urban Land Institute, O'Boyle attended the University of Florida and earned a bachelor's degree in journalism with a broadcast specialization.

Lake Las Vegas Resort is being developed by Transcontinental Properties, Inc., a subsidiary of Transcontinental Corp. as developer, with entities owned by Sid and Lee Bass, of Fort Worth, Texas.

Money management workshop planned

Henderson Parks and Recreation Department will offer a two-part financial workshop, "How to Keep Uncle Sam Out of Your Pockets," from 7 to 8:30 p.m. on July 8 and 10 at the Silver Springs Recreation Center, 1951 Silver Springs Parkway.

The cost is $5. The workshop will focus on pre-retirement and financial planning and instruct participants how to manage money and maximize tax savings. Attendees will learn basic tax information relating to funding retirement vehicles and passing assets to heirs.

The philosophy behind many money management programs regarding retirement is illustrated in a study conducted by Drs. Paul A. Shoemaker and Michael K. Shaub, of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

It suggests experience, not age, is the key factor in understanding taxes. Findings suggest those considering retirement should learn about tax laws before they retire. The workshop offers basic tax information and provides a foundation to plan retirement.

"Fewer than half of Americans put money aside for retirement because they think they can rely on Social Security alone," said recreation coordinator Kurt Williams. "The truth is that while Social Security may exist when they are ready to retire, it will not provide enough money to support the lifestyle they are accustomed to."

Investment experts stress retirees need approximately 70% of pre-retirement income after taxes to maintain their standard of living. Social Security pays the average retiree roughly 40% of pre-retirement earnings, only half what is needed to maintain a comparable lifestyle.

"Rather than relying solely on Social Security, people should take advantage of retirement plans offered by their employer or, even better, execute their own," said Williams. "There are more retirement and investment opportunities in the U.S. than ever before and many provide effective ways to supplement a retirement income."

Water walking workshops set

Henderson Parks and Recreation Department will sponsor three water walking workshops in recognition of July's National Water Week.

The free workshops will be held from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m. on July 8 at the Black Mountain Aquatic Complex, 599 Greenway Road; noon to 1 p.m. on July 9 at the Williams Indoor Pool, 500 N. Palo Verde Dr.; and from 7 to 8 p.m. on July 10 at the Wells Outdoor Pool, 1629 Moser Dr.

Each class will provide an overview of health benefits associated with a variety of water exercises, but will focus on water walking as an excellent exercise alternative.

Participants will learn basic water walking skills, including proper warm-up and cool down techniques, to help prevent injuries related to muscle strain. The instructor will advise beginners how to use specialized equipment to increase the intensity of the exercise.

"The workshops can be tailored to fit personal programs regardless of age or physical fitness," said aquatics coordinator Alexa Pritchard. "We hope that more people will realize how important water exercise can be to any existing exercise program.

Although frequently overlooked, water exercises such as water walking have been proven to improve cardiovascular fitness and aerobic capacity. According to Pritchard, all water exercises can also help strengthen and tone muscles because the body's buoyancy and resistance to water provides a workout similar to isometrics.

Workshop participation is limited and pre-registration is required. For registration and additional information, call 565-2123.

Independence Day celebration set for Sun City MacDonald Ranch

The Del Webb Corp. will celebrate Independence Day with a free fireworks display Friday, July 4, at the company's Sun City MacDonald Ranch community in Henderson.

The celebration begins at 7 p.m. on the driving range of the Desert Willow Golf Course, 2020 W. Horizon Ridge Pkwy.

The event will include a free performance by the 32-piece

Nevada Symphonic Wind Ensemble, playing patriotic melodies, as well as Tchaikovsky's "1812 Overture."

Following the music program, a choreographed fireworks display will take to the air to the music of America, featuring songs by Neil Diamond, Lee Greenwood, Frank Sinatra and others.

Salt Lake City-based Lantis

Productions, Inc., will handle the display.

"Del Webb is a very patriotic company and the residents of Sun City MacDonald Ranch are very patriotic, so a fireworks display is a part of the lifestyle," said Sean Patrick, manager of public and community relations for Del Webb's Sun Cities. "It's going to be an All-American show."

Cafferty and band to perform July 18

East coast rockers John Cafferty and the Beaver Brown Band take the stage at 7 and 9 p.m. July 18, at Sunset Station's Club Madrid.

Tickets start at $10 and are available at all Ticketmaster locations or at the hotel's promotion center.

Cafferty and company emerged from the beachside joints of Rhode Island to nationwide acclaim over a span of 15 years. Their hard rocking and sensitive songwriting have culminated in an acclaimed release, "Roadhouse."

In the early '80s, Cafferty and the band wrote and performed the music for the hit film, "Eddie and the Cruisers," an album that sold more than 2 million copies. Since then, they have issued albums and songs reflecting the roots of American music with hard core rock 'n roll, blues, gospel-tinged and Tex-Mex stylings.

"I wanted to have a sense of continuity," said Cafferty. "We're still trying to write songs that ring true to life. That's what's important."

The shows will highlight the band's extensive experience in intimate venues, which will rock Sunset Station with fluent and hard-driving guitar stylings, tempestuous sax playing and good old rock 'n roll.

Wagner attends VFW state convention

President Alice Wagner and members of the Ladies Auxiliary of VFW Basic Post 3848 attended the State Convention held June 12-14, in Las Vegas.

Hard work and perseverance paid off as the auxiliary captured numerous awards.

First place awards in Division Two were taken in American-ism, cancer aid and research, legislative, national home, PAC, publicity, rehabilitation, safety and youth activity.

A second place award was received for Buddy Poppy.

Other awards included: a $15 check for Overall State Winner in cancer aid and research and PAC; a $25 check for best program for cancer aid and research; and a $10 check for signing up the most new/reinstated members before the third week of April.

Congratulations to Greg Bringle who wrote the winning essay "What Makes America Great." Greg won the local contest as well as the District and State contests.

RATING KEY

GLOVER AND PESCI

GONE FISHIN'

Joe Pesci and Danny Glover sink to the bottom as disaster-prone fishing buddies in this soggy comedy that gets off to a poor start and ends in a similar manner. While seeking relaxation in the Florida Everglades, they get tangled up with a murderer. Among the slapstick escapades, the guys set a gas station and resort on fire, get struck by lightning and encounter aggressive alligators. These misadventures miss the target by a mile. Rosanna Arquette, Lynn Whitfield and Willie Nelson have supporting roles. (PG)

ROUGH MAGIC

Muddled, weird concoction involving the supernatural, hard-boiled film noir and romantic comedy. Bridget Fonda stars as a magician's assistant who flees to Mexico where she gets involved with mystical powers and intrigue. The odd-ball film is loaded with howlers: a villain is turned into a sausage that is eaten by a dog who begins to speak. Russell Crowe co-stars as a Bogart-like reporter assigned to tail the strange femme fatale. (PG-13)

COMING ATTRACTIONS

Oscar-winner Geoffrey Rush will be seen alongside Uma Thurman and Liam Neeson in Mandalay Entertainment's "Les Miserables" directed by Bille August.

Nick Nolte will star in "A Soldier's Daughter Never Cries" for the team of producer Ismail Merchant and director James Ivory. The story is based on an autobiographical novel by Kaylie Jones.

Chinese superstar Bai Ling will star opposite Richard Gere in MGM's thriller "The Red Corner." John Avnet will direct the story of a lawyer accused of murder while in China.

Sandra Bullock will star in "Hope Floats" about a mother returning to her family home after a divorce. Forrest Whitaker directs the Twentieth Century Fox release.

MICHAEL RICHARDS

TRIAL AND ERROR

Nifty, breezy comedy starring Michael Richards of TV's "Seinfeld" as a second-rate actor who poses as a courtroom lawyer in a class action fraud case. The clever concept produces solid amusing situations as the would-be mouthpiece gets deeper into the ruse. The inspired film also carries a serious reference about honesty and some appealing romantic subplots. See strong supporting work from Jeff Daniels, Charlize Theron and Rip Torn. Directed with style by Jonathan Lynn who also helmed the similar-situated "My Cousin Vinny." (PG-13)

NICOLAS CAGE

CON AIR

Vicious, deranged convicts, en route to a super-max prison, skyjack their transport plane. A nice-guy prisoner on the threshold of freedom (Nicolas Cage) and a U.S. Marshal (John Cusack) must foil their escape. This noisy, bloated actioner takes awhile to get airborne and the overblown mix of vulgarity and sentimentality leaves little room for suspense. While action sequences are spectacular, the preposterous script is inconsistent, and Cage's heavy Alabama accent is distracting. The exuberant supporting cast includes Ving Rhames and Steven Buscemi. Star Skippers qualify for Junior Olympics

Winners of the first Amateur Athletic Union Jump Rope Tournament in Southern Nevada May 31, qualified for the prestigious AAU Junior Olympics to be held Aug. 6-9, in Charlotte, N.C.

The Southwest Regional championships were held at the Black Mountain Recreation Center and Aquatics Complex. Representatives of four of the nine eligible states competed.

Of the 10 local competitors on the local Star Skippers team, seven qualified for the Junior Olympics. The team and parents celebrated with a trip to the San Diego Zoo at the invitation of the San Diego Sand Skippers team.

Youths who qualified were Caitlin Perry, 7, Natalie Scott, 8, Kristin Bollinger, 9, Christina Gandia, 11, Ashlie Jones, 11, Christopher Scott, 11, and Natalee Simmons, 15.

Simmons was a gold medalist, Christopher Scott and Perry were bronze medalists.

Mother, daughter harpists to perform

Local musicians Caryn and Michelle Gott will perform at 7:30 p.m. July 13, in The Orleans Showroom. Tickets are $50 plus tax and are available at The Orleans Box Office, 365-7075, or at any Ticketmaster outlet.

Caryn and Michelle Gott are making musical history as the first professional mother/daughter duo on the revolutionary Lyon & Healy electric harp.

Michelle, 12, is considered the youngest professional harpist. The two are planning a U.S. and international tour and will perform Oct. 8, at Carnegie Hall.

"Michelle and I will bring this revolutionary instrument to the public. The electric harp gives all pieces a unique twist, especially modern works, taking the harp to new territories such as rock, alternative music and beyond," said Caryn Gott.

"For our tour, we are concentrating the repertoire on the standards, pop and rock tunes, although we do have a selection of brilliant classical works as well. The amplification of the instrument will amaze audiences and win over fans who think the harp is just for lullabys," Gott said.

Caryn Gott, a native of Upper St. Clair, Pa. lives with her family in Las Vegas, has performed with numerous orchestras, including the Nevada Symphony Orchestra. She has performed a wide variety of music and is a sought after performer for society events.

Caryn and Michelle Gott

She recently recorded two albums. "Stairway to Heaven," a compilation of standards, pop and rock tunes. The other is "Golden Reveries," a compilation of duets with flutist Bernard Goldberg.

Michelle began playing the piano at 2 1/2 years, and the harp at age 4.

"I played the small harp first but wanted to play the 'big' (traditional) harp like my mom, but the pedals were too far away," she said. "One day I made special pedal extensions for my feet and began playing solos with my mom. I don't need them anymore, though. Touring will be really cool. I've performed with symphonies before and I'm not afraid. I'll be with my mom."

Chamber of Commerce offers programs to promote city, business

Alice Martz
Executive Director

Since 1945, the Henderson Chamber of Commerce has played a vital role in the growth and development of our community. Yet, many Henderson residents are not aware of Chamber programs.

The Henderson Chamber of Commerce is a private, non-profit voluntary organization, dedicated to the continuing progress of our area. The members of the Chamber work hand in hand with the city to promote civic, commercial and industrial development.

We are financed primarily by the investment of our members, as well as through fund-raising activities.

A five-person administrative staff oversees day-to-day operations, while policies are set by the Board of Directors, an elected body representing Henderson's business and professional leadership. A committee system is our preferred method for consensus-building, by harnessing the energies and abilities of the volunteer workers.

Specifically, the Chamber has a number of clear-cut objectives destined to enhance the business climate and quality of life in Henderson, including:

- To promote a better understanding of our free enterprise system
- To coordinate the efforts of commerce, industry and the professions in maintaining a healthy business climate
- To sponsor aggressive work programs, and stimulate activities which will provide full development of our human and economic resources.
- To provide creative business leadership and effective coordination of all interested parties in solving community problems, and in initiating constructive action.
- To develop broad understanding and appreciation of the great opportunities in the Henderson area, and to promote the advantages and assets of our community.

These objectives are accomplished through four distinct Chamber programs:

Business Development

Programs are designed to enhance the general business climate, and are implemented by the Henderson Development Association, the Legislative Action Committee and the Small Business Council. The HDA is a special division of the Chamber, with its own budget and officers. Its function is to attract primary job producing companies to the Henderson area. Success stories include Levi Strauss, Good Humor-Breyer's, Berry Plastics, Poly Products and Valence Technology. The HDA is also available to assist existing businesses with their expansion plans.

Community Development Programs enhance Henderson's overall quality of life. The Government Affairs and Issues Committees are responsible for these programs.

Community Booster Programs develop a positive sense of community, through city-wide events like Henderson Heritage Days, City Development Bus Tour, Boss For a Day. Business

Expo and the Christmas Parade.

Chamber Development Programs raise the Chamber's level of service by expanding membership and administering internal support systems. The programs are implemented by the Membership Committee, the Marketing Committee and the Ambassador Corps.

'Dive In movies' set

Henderson Parks and Recreation Department has scheduled "Dive In Movies" for Friday and Saturday, June 27-28.

For $1.50, including popcorn, area residents can relax poolside and watch a family feature film, "Flipper."

The film will be shown Friday at the BMI Outdoor Pool, 105 W. Basic Road, and Saturday at the Silver Springs Outdoor Pool, 1951 Silver Springs Parkway.

Both showings will begin at dusk and participants are invited to bring inflatable rafts or floats to watch the film from the water.

The film is based on the movies and TV series first aired in 1964. A boy (Elijah Wood) befriends a dolphin, and they become involved in an adventure as they try to stop a ruthless group from harming dolphins and polluting the ocean.

Paul Hogan, known for his role as "Crocodile Dundee," stars as the boy's uncle.

The original series aired for four years in the 1960s on NBC. Family oriented, the series was NBC's attempt to integrate environmental concerns reflective of an emerging culture.

The audience will be limited to the first 150 moviegoers at the gate prior to opening credits. Soft drinks will be available.

HPRD offers other family-oriented events and programs. For more information about the movies or other aquatic-related activities, call 565-2123.

Million-dollar dream

Joe Tubiolo brings hole-in-one contest to Green Valley Golf Range

Bill Bowman
News Sports Editor

Many people only dream of making money by playing golf.

Joe Tubiolo can help make those dreams become a reality.

Well, maybe. But your golf swing has to be on the mark. Tubiolo, owner of the National Hole-In-One Golf Complexes of America, is bringing his contest to the Green Valley Golf Range, 1351 Warm Springs.

"It's a good time and you can win money," Tubiolo said.

The contest is sponsored by Sunset Station. Additional sponsors include Budweiser and Saturn.

And it's quite a contest. How about a $1 million top prize?

That's the grand prize for the contests, which will run year-round and are scheduled to start this Saturday at 10 a.m.

Tubiolo started his sports promotion career in 1954. Some of his accomplishments include negotiating over 1,200 contracts for sports celebrities and managing the business affairs for over 300 pro baseball, football, hockey and basketball players.

And he doesn't stop at sports. He has managed investments in such diverse industries as sports attractions, oil and gas in Texas, real estate in Texas and Maryland and fast food companies [McDonald's and Arby's].

But, it's the Hole-In-One contest that has his attention at the moment.

Here's how Tubiolo's contest works. Contestants purchase golf balls — cost is $1 per ball or 30 for $25 — and fire away during the qualifying for the weekly shootouts. A ball must be within a 10-foot circle on the 75-yard green to move on to Round One.

A hole-in-one during any of the qualifying or Weekly Shoot-Out automatically qualifies the golfer for the end of the month 'Super Shoot-Out.'

Next is Round One, the 'Weekly Shoot-Out.' Qualifiers are given one golf ball for each time they qualified and will again shoot at the 75-yard green. The 10 closest to the hole qualify for Round Two.

In Round Two, qualifiers are again given one golf ball for each time they qualified and will shoot at the 150-yard green. The five closest to the hole will qualify for the end of the month 'Super Shoot-Out' and proceed to Round 3 of the 'Weekly Shoot-Out.'

It's then on to Round Three.

The finalists will take aim at the 150-yard green. Anyone making a hole-in-one will have his or her choice of any sponsor's car or truck on the site.

Then comes the 'Super Shoot-Out.' Qualifiers will be given one ball for each time they qualified to shoot at the 150-yard green. The three closest to the hole move on to the final round and will shoot at the seven holes on the 150-yard green.

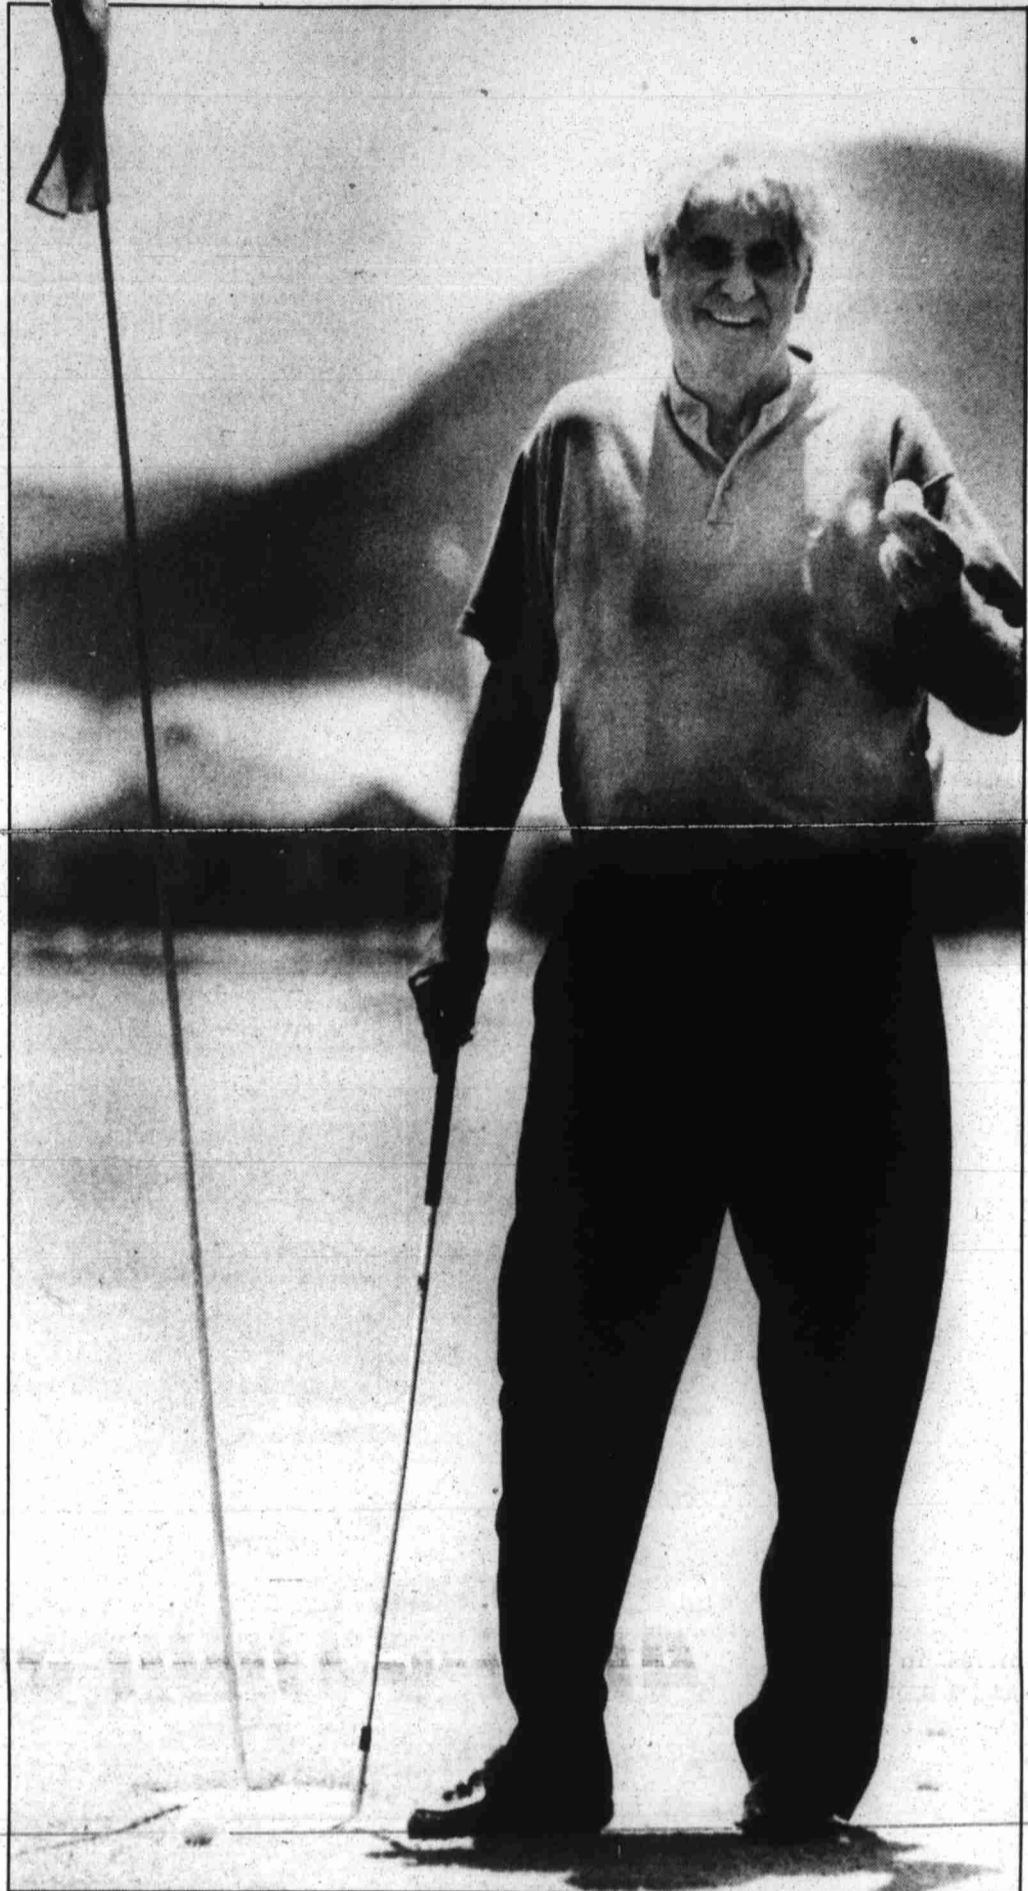

- Those seven prizes will include:
- $1,000,000 [paid over 20 years].
 - $100,000 cash.
 - $50,000 cash.
 - $20,000 cash.
 - $20,000 cash.
 - $20,000 cash.
 - A new car.

Tubiolo said the Green Valley Golf Range, particularly owner Harris Rittoff, "have been real supporters. They have been very good to me."

Weekly 'Shoot-Outs' are scheduled to be held for each Saturday at 9 a.m. while 'Super Shoot-Outs' will be held the last Sunday of each month, also at 9 a.m.

The complex at Green Valley Golf Range is the first of what Tubiolo hopes is many more complexes. Two more are set to open in California in July.

For more information, call the National Hole-In-One Golf Complexes at 564-9909.

Hawks breeze to win over Eldorado

Bill Bowman
News Sports Editor

Joe Wickman pounded out three hits and drove in four runs in leading the Las Vegas Hawks to an 11-1 victory over Eldorado in Legion baseball action Tuesday night at Arroyo Grande.

The Hawks, made up of Silverado High School baseball players, improved to 11-6 overall and 7-5 in league.

"We hit real well," manager Art Besser said of the Hawks' attack.

The Hawks pounded out 12 hits in the victory, but it was the pitching of Jason Vita that most impressed Besser.

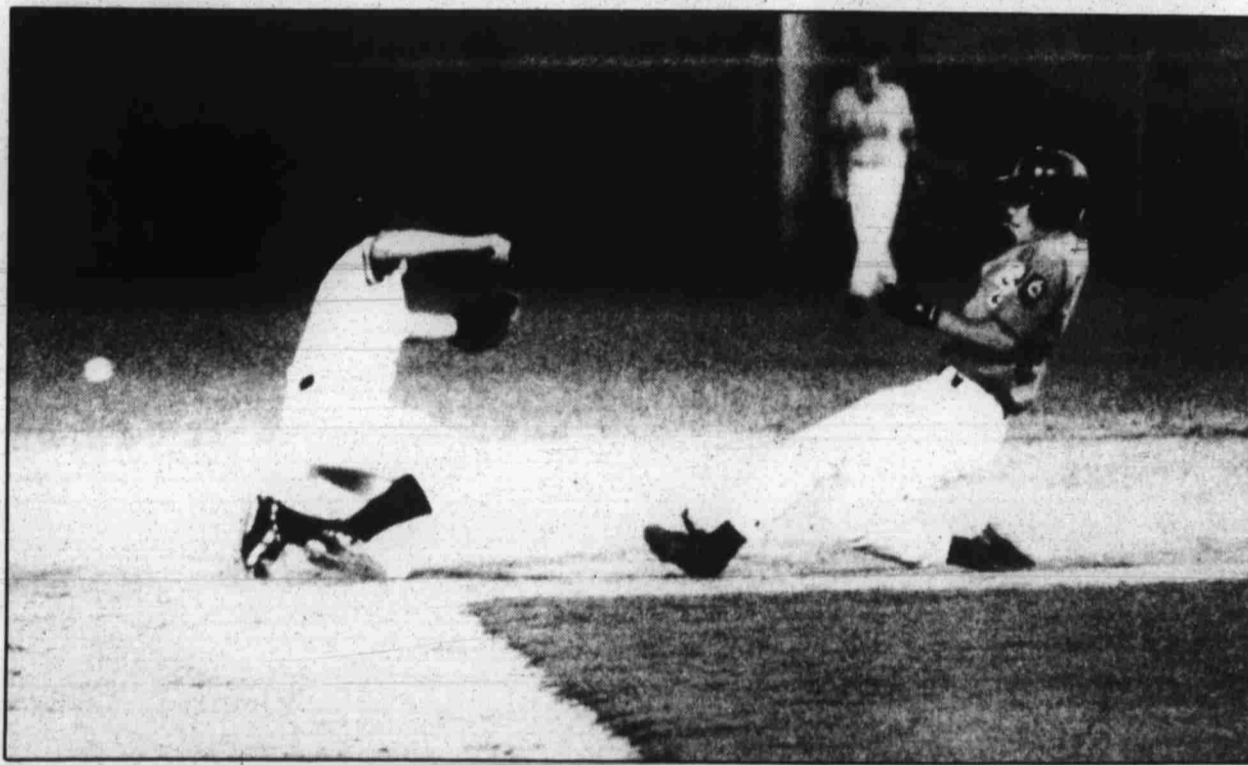

"We brought him up from the JV team," Besser said. "He got a victory in Denver [in the Hawks' tournament trip] and he pitched a complete game tonight. He did a great job."

Vita limited Eldorado to two hits over the five innings and gave up one unearned run.

"The pitching is starting to step it up," Besser said. "And that's what we need. The hitting is there and the defense has done a good job."

Tuesday night, Joe Wickman laced a two-run, two-out single in the first and that would be more than enough for Vita.

The Skyhawks added a run in the second, four in the third, one in the fourth and two in the fifth to round out the scoring.

Joe Wickman ended the scoring with a two-run triple in the fifth that ended the game by the 10-run rule.

"We're starting to play well," Wickman said. "We're getting good pitching and timely hitting."

Wickman admitted he hasn't been hitting up to his standards. "I wasn't really hitting that well [recently]," he said. "It's nice to start hitting again."

Steve Lester, Gianmarco Ungaro and Nate Bazzell each added two hits to the Hawks' attack.

"We need to step it up," Besser said. "Eight teams go to the state and we're about in the middle [of the 15-team league]. We need to keep playing like we have been the last few games."

Green Valley wins baseball showdown with Durango, 4-3

Ray Brewer
News Staff Writer

Green Valley dominated the Sunrise Division this past prep baseball season, only losing one conference game en route to its fifth consecutive state championship.

While the Gators were kings on the east side of town, Durango owned the Sunset Division and the west side of town.

After the Trailblazers were upset by Chaparral and Silverado in the Zone Tournament, the debate of who had the stronger team — Green Valley or Durango — was still up in the air.

The Gators, behind an 11 strikeout performance from Ian Jones, defeated Durango 4-3 Tuesday night, answering the question of who was Southern Nevada's best team for the 1997 season.

So far. "I looked back to the regular season and know that this should have been the state championship," Jones, who recently signed a national letter-of-intent with the University of Hawaii, said. "That is how we were taking this game."

Jones came out shaky in the first inning, as his two walks and four wild pitches gave the Trailblazers an early 1-0 advantage. Despite his control problems in the first frame, Jones managed to strike out the side.

"We had a heck of a pitching performance from Ian Jones," Green Valley coach Nick Garritano said. "After the first inning I told him to just relax and don't get carried away in the hoopla. Throw the baseball like he knows how."

Green Valley manufactured all of its four runs. In the third inning, shortstop Jason Keiser walked and stole second with two outs, eventually scoring on a David Jensen single. Jensen proceeded to steal second and scored on a Russ Schmitt single to give the Gators a 2-1 lead.

After Durango tied the game at two, the Gators' Gerry Alesia beat out an infield grounder with the bases loaded and two outs to give Green Valley a 3-2 lead.

In the seventh inning, Green Valley added a much-needed insurance run as Ben Rosenthal dived head first into first base to beat out a grounder that the Durango second baseman mishandled to score Jensen, who earlier doubled.

Durango had a chance to get back into game, but the strong Green Valley pitching held its ground.

Timet crushes Western to stay red-hot

By the News Staff

On Monday, the Timet Legion team defeated Western 12-6 for its seventh win in eight games.

"It was a team effort," coach Kent Bitsko said. "Everybody had one or two hits."

Keith Holsey fueled the offense with a 4-for-4 performance including two runs scored and four RBI. Chris Duesler went 2-for-3.

Jess Prisbrey picked up the win for the Wolves, as he allowed one run and three hits in five innings pitched. Prisbrey, who is recovering from a foot injury, struck out seven and didn't give up a hit until the fourth inning.

"We are on a roll, hopefully we can carry it over into the tournament," Bitsko said.

The coach added the Wolves' winning streak can be credited to several things.

"We are winning because our attitude is better," Bitsko said. "They are believing that they can win."

Bitsko added, "the younger players are coming up with the big hit. Instead of leaving a runner in scoring position, we are getting the timely hit."

Henderson players part of title team

Green Valley junior-to-be Kathy Waddilove and Silverado junior-to-be Laura Connors helped the Las Vegas Rage Under-16 ASA softball team capture the 1997 Nevada ASA Junior Olympic State Tournament this past weekend at the Cheyenne Sports Complex.

The Rage defeated the Pony Express from Reno 2-1 in the championship game with Waddilove singling in the winning run in the bottom of the sixth.

The Rage became only the second team from Southern Nevada to capture the Under-16 title.

After losing on Saturday in the 15-team double elimination format, the Rage won five straight games on Sunday to capture the title.

Henderson resident Bill Barth, a former University of Arizona softball assistant, coached the team.

With the victory, the Rage qualifies for Regional competition.

Firework sales to benefit Basic football

The Basic High School football program will be selling Red Devil Fireworks starting Saturday at 6 p.m. to benefit the program.

The sales will run through July 4 at 1 p.m. and will be sold at the corner of Basic Road and Boulder Highway in front of Chief Auto Parts.

The varsity and junior varsity players will be staffing the booth and all profits will go toward the needs of the football program.

Competition to aid Henderson Boys & Girls Club

The Henderson Home News and O'Callaghan Print & Copy Shoppes have teamed up with the Las Vegas Stars to present the Inaugural "Who's Got Skills?" Youth Baseball Competition this Saturday at the Henderson Boys & Girls Club.

All proceeds from the competition will go to the club.

The competition is open to all area youth baseball and T-ball players, ages six to 12 (as of July 1, 1997). The 6-8 year-old T-ball division will begin at 8 a.m., the 9-10 year-old division will begin at 9:30 a.m. and the 11-12 year-old division will begin at 11 a.m.

Players will compete in three events — a home run derby, a throwing accuracy drill from centerfield and a baserunning drill. Lengths of the home run fences and throws and the set time for baserunning will vary for each division. Points will be awarded: 15 per home run, 10 per accurate throw and 5 per every 1/10 of a second under a set time.

The winners of each division will be honored before the June 30 Las Vegas Stars/Albuquerque Dukes game. All participants in the competition will receive a two-for-one coupon to the game where they can enter to win a chance to take infield at Cashman Field.

Pre-registration is $5 through June 27 at Artie's Pizza, located at 4401 E. Sunset.

Day of event registration is $10. A waiver signed by a parent/guardian is required to participate.

For more information about signing up for the "Who's Got Skills?" Youth Baseball Competition call 435-7761.

GREEN VALLEY

In the sixth inning, the Trailblazers loaded the bases with three consecutive singles, but Jones responded by getting a strikeout and forcing a grounder to end the threat.

Then in the seventh inning, Durango had runners on the corners with two out and one run in before Taylor Smith recorded a strikeout to end the game and preserve the fine performance from Jones.

"Our pitching has been real strong," Jones said. "That has to stay the same (for us to be successful)."

Garritano added, "we are looking to play solid baseball and if we do that, hopefully come out on the right end."

HAWKS FINISH SECOND

— The Hawks wound up second in the Cherry Creek Classic, falling to Centaurus High School from Broomfield, Colo., 5-2 in Sunday's 'B' title game.

The Hawks had six hits including two by Ryan Ruiz who also drove in a run.

The Hawks wound up with a 4-1 record in the tournament.

TOURNAMENT ACTION—

The Hawks are taking part in this week's Durango Invitational at Durango High School.

A total of six teams, including the Hawks, Durango and Bonanza are entered. Out of state teams will include Oklahoma City, a team from Texas and Cedar City, Utah.

The Hawks opened tournament play Wednesday with a doubleheader, playing Bonanza and Durango. Results were not available as the News went to press.

Today they will play Oklahoma City at 2 p.m.

Six-year-old Edward Dannatt throws a circular life-saver to lifeguard Eric Johnson in a mock rescue attempt.

Keeping your Cool Safely this summer

Ray Brewer
News Staff Writer

It's official: Summer is here. And, as every summer, Southern Nevada is experiencing hot temperatures which have locals searching for a way to escape the dreaded heat.

To combat the high temperatures, residents head to area swimming pools to cool down.

But as Alexa Pritchard, aquatics coordinator for the Henderson Parks and Recreation, explains, you can never be too safe around the water — especially children.

"I think the biggest thing is to educate patrons about pool rules and how to be safe around the water," Pritchard said.

Parents need to be extra responsible when taking their children to the pool for a day of fun and relaxation.

"One of the things parents need to realize is that the lifeguard ratio is one to 35," said Pritchard. "It is not easy to catch a problem before it happens."

On June 7, the American Red Cross hosted the third annual Drowning Prevention Awareness Day at Wells Pool that taught children and their parents the proper way to have fun and stay safe around the water.

Here are some tips given at the event:

- Learn to swim. The best thing anyone can do to stay safe in and around the water is to learn to swim.

- Always swim with a buddy. Never swim alone.

- Swim in supervised areas only.

- Watch out for the "dangerous too's", too tired, too cold, too far from safety, too much sun, too much strenuous activity.

- Never leave your child unobserved around the water. Your eyes must be on the child at all times.

- Do not chew gum or eat when you swim, you can easily choke.

These basic rules apply to all water areas — the lake or a pool at your home or a public facility.

If you have a pool at your house, additional safety practices must be followed to insure the safety of naive children.

- First, and most important, enclose your pool completely with a self-locking fence with vertical bars. Openings in the fence should be no more than four inches wide. If the house is part of the barrier, the doors leading from the house to the pool should remain locked and be protected with an alarm that produces sound when the door is opened.

- Never leave furniture near the fence that would enable a child to climb over the fence.

- Keep toys away from the pool. Toys attract children into the pool.

- Always keep basic lifesaving equipment by the pool and know how to use it. Pole, rope and personal floatation are recommended.

Pritchard also notes there should be no running around the pool area and no big horse play inside or outside of the pool.

HPRD offers free lessons exploring water safety through fun and games. The program targets personal water safety and emergency water techniques.

Entitled "Wacky Whale Water Safety," this program is open to children ages 6-10 and their parents.

Here are the upcoming dates of the program:

- Black Mountain Aquatic Center from 10 to 11 a.m. Saturday, July 19, and Saturday,

Capri sure to become a favorite

THE NEWS COVERS YOUR COMMUNITY

The Capri Italian restaurant at Sunset Station is sure to become a local favorite for those who enjoy high standards for gourmet Italian cuisine.

We recently visited Capri and found the garden courtyard ambience to be quite inviting.

Appetizers of all kinds started the menu, including grilled fennel, tasty buffalo mozzarella served on yellow and red tomatoes, grilled shrimp, calamari and Manila clams were some of the offerings priced from about $6-8.

Other appetizers included specialty salads such as Caesar salad, arugula salad and even smoked salmon with white bean relish.

Wood-fired pizzas, with toppings of vegetables, grilled shrimp, spicy chicken, pepperoni and smoked mozzarella, to name only a few, are priced from $7-10. They were quite large and had a thin delicious crust.

Standard pasta dishes, from $9-12, included linguini with tomatoes, basil and garlic, pasta with red peppers and langostinos, lasagna, seafood risotto and pasta with red chilies.

Meals are served with a basket of freshly baked breads, and the chicken, veal and seafood dinners are also served with a house salad topped with marinated mushrooms and artichoke hearts.

Chicken Angelo and chicken Parmigiana, veal Marsala, veal Picata and shrimp scampi were some of the entrees available. Dinners range from $10-20.

At our table that evening, we tried the grilled shrimp pizza, ravioli, veal marsala, sauteed salmon and lobster Fra Diavolo. While our forks were busy checking out each other's dinners, we all agreed everything was excellent. There is no child's menu, but pizzas can be easily shared and there are enough familiar pastas so that most children will heartily enjoy a visit as well.

For a treat, try to save room for some fabulous desserts. Priced at $4.99, rich desserts include a large tiramisu, ricotta cheesecake, a nougatine basket filled with hazelnut mousse and shaved chocolate, and various gelati or ice cream.

A restaurant well worth a return visit!

Goldstein, an attorney who lives in Henderson, writes about his dining experiences with his wife Julie, and young children, Marcie and Matthew.

'Nora's Stars,' dreaming of jam

In "Nora's Stars," by Satomi Ichika (1994, ages 3-7), a little girl goes on a summertime visit to her grandmother's house, which sits on a hill in a place where the sun is always shining. There are plum trees, flowers, and lots of neat places to explore.

Dreaming of the plum jam she'll have in the morning, and exhausted from her journey, Nora decides to go to bed early.

She had just tucked herself in with her favorite doll and teddy bear when she heard a noise in her room. It was coming from a trunk in the corner.

Suddenly, all the toys in the trunk began jumping out.

One of the toys, a brown bear, wanted to play outside ... so all the dolls and other animals went out on the balcony.

Gazing up at the sky, Nora tells the toys how much she loves the stars. No problem, the toys fly right up in the sky and get every star they can find to bring back to Nora.

But when the sky turns black and it begins to rain, Nora wonders if the sky is sad without the stars, and should we give the stars back?

This is a great bedtime book that caters to children's imagination.

"Cinder-Elly," by Frances Minters (ages 5 and up), is a modern rap version of an urban Cinderella told in rhyme.

"Once upon a time, or so they tell me, there was a girl called

LET ME TELL YOU A STORY

ALEXANDRA SPOTTI

Cinder-Elly. Elly was good and she was pretty. She lived with her folks in New York City."

But it is not a grand ball Cinder-Elly wants to attend. It is a basketball game. Her prince charming is a basketball player, and her glass shoe is a sneaker. Her fairy godmother is grandma. "She waved her cane and said, 'Kerplike!' The garbage can became a bike!"

"Cinder-Elly" presents a funny twist to a favorite old fairy tale. Happy reading!

Spotti, a long-time Henderson resident who is a librarian at Fyfe Elementary School in Las Vegas, makes recommendations on children's literature.

INSIGHT TO EYESIGHT

THIN & LIGHT

Thin and light is a perfect way to describe today's lens options. Most of the newest lenses introduced recently have been, and will be, thin and light, or high-index materials. As a result, some industry observers are predicting the demise of glass and conventional plastic lenses. Industry production figures indicate a trend away from these "standard" lens materials.

High index lenses, on the other hand, have already captured almost a third of all lenses sold in this country. What makes these the lenses of choice for most prescriptions is the comfort and appearance. Being thinner means less lens and less weight. Being lighter means less stress on the nose and ears for more comfortable wearing time. So not only do they look better, they will feel better also.

There are many types of lens materials to choose from, so let us explain them to you. Stop by our optical shop, so we may be of help to you. The Eye Institute of Nevada is located at 108 E. Lake Mead Dr., Suite 303, Henderson, or call for an appointment at 564-2539.

Consumer tip

The Nevada Attorney General's office provides the following consumer information:

Too many consumers in America are at dangerous levels of credit use. Some creditors are taking drastic action. A bank in the Midwest actually dropped some cardholders after a review indicated potential trouble. An Oregon bank ran television ads encouraging consumers to cut back their use of credit.

What is a dangerous level? Your total credit debt — excluding your home mortgage — should not exceed 20% of your monthly income after taxes. For example, if you bring home $3,000 monthly, your loans and credit card payments should not exceed $600. If you are above this level, it's time to take a closer look at your finances — and take action to get out of debt.

OUTDOORS

A special gift for the great outdoors

Floating around on a pond or reservoir in Nevada while tube-fishing can be very relaxing. At least until a fish decides to take your fly—at which point, it becomes nothing less than incredible.

It's been awhile since I first experienced tube-fishing. I've been lucky enough to get away from work on several occasions, borrow a tube, some fins and go tube-fishing with my fishing buddy, JR Hanson.

JR is well-known in Southern Nevada for his dedication and devotion to the LV Fly Fishing Club. In my opinion, he's also one of the best Southern Nevada fly-fisherman.

After each trip, my husband would listen to me share stories about tube-fishing and my desire to go fishing with him using this technique.

For Mother's Day, my husband surprised me with fins and a tube of my own. In fact, the gift also included a new fly-fishing rod and reel.

OUTDOORS WITH BARB

There was absolutely nothing wrong with my other rod, but I'm not complaining. In fact, it seems impossible to me that anyone could own too much fishing gear.

If you ever decide to try tube-fishing, be safe, wear a lifejacket and never go out when the weather is windy.

It's always a good idea to go the first few times with someone with both experience and knowledge. This allows an opportunity to be properly introduced into the sport and it also works to your advantage, prior to spending money on equipment.

I'll always be forever thankful to JR for the memories, and extremely thankful to my husband for not buying me new cooking utensils.

OUTDOOR RECREATION INFORMATION

St. Jude's seeks volunteers

St. Jude's Ranch for Children, in the hills above Lake Mead in Boulder City, is in need of volunteers.

Father Herbert A. Ward, president/CEO for 27 years, said, "As we continue to serve more and more children indeed, our resources are stretched to the limit. We depend on volunteers to do many of the tasks involved to keep the ranch running smoothly."

The ranch is a safe haven of hope for children who have been abused, abandoned and neglected. Currently 46 children are in residence, six of whom live with a set of married cottage parents in an individual cottage. The children receive intense therapy and counseling to address the emotional trauma the children have experienced.

Volunteers are needed from 8 a.m. to 4:30 a.m. Monday to Friday, to work in the mailroom opening thousands of packages containing used greeting cards for the "Born Again" card project, which recycles them into new cards, which children learn to earn.

Volunteers are also needed for summer recreational craft projects. "Keeping 48 children busy and happy during the summer vacation is a huge task," said interim campus director Father Tom Gimple. "We are looking for activities to stimulate the children's minds and things that are a lot of fun," Gimple said.

Additionally, data entry help is needed in the donor processing department and a clerical helper is needed in the expressive arts department.

Volunteers over the age of 18, especially retirees and senior citizens, are asked to call Milli Clark, 294-7138, for more information.

Henderson is Outdoor Editor of the News.

Wait to trim trees

If homeowners can do so, the NDOW encourages them to wait until fall to trim their trees.

Every spring, thousands of active bird nests are destroyed when trees are trimmed throughout the valley.

"Spring is nesting time and the trees are filled with baby birds at all stages of development. When trees are trimmed in the spring, many nests are destroyed. Adult birds can move to another location, but baby birds cannot make that adjustment, and simply die," said NDOW spokesman Doug Nielsen.

If homeowners cannot wait to trim trees, they are encouraged to work around existing nests. It will not be long before the birds are mature enough to leave home.

Iris sale June 28-29

The Las Vegas Iris Society will hold its ninth annual Iris Sale from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, June 28, and from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday, June 29, at Plant World Nurseries.

The locations are 1250 E. Tropicana Ave. and 5301 W. Charleston Blvd. and Dan's Plant World at 9040 S. Eastern.

Members of the Iris Society will be present to answer questions about growing irises in the valley. The garden club meets the first Monday of the month except from June to August.

For more information, call 658-8622 or 255-1263.

Junior Ranger programs begin

Summer Junior Ranger programs are again being offered for youth ages 7 to 12, at Katherine Landing on Lake Mohave in Lake Mead National Recreation Area.

The National Park Service will hold two programs, from 9 to 11:30 a.m. Monday to Friday July 7-11, and from July 21-25.

On Thursdays, July 10 and 24, the program will be extended to 2:30 p.m. so students can learn about water safety and navigation while boating on the lake.

All youngsters, who must have completed first grade, are encouraged to register. Priority will be given to children who have not previously participated. Past participants will be placed on a waiting list and selected on a space-available basis before the program begins.

Junior Ranger certificates will be given to those who complete the week.

Programs are limited to 20 participants each week. To reserve a place for either week, call Laura Seager or Robin White, (520)754-3272, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.; or write, the National Park Service, Katherine Ranger Station, Bullhead City, AZ 86429.

Safe boating week should last all year

Many of us who use the lake—either full-time or just once in awhile—don't always think about boat safety or the rules and regulations of operating a boat.

Seldom do we discuss or remember what constitutes the "right of way" when two boats approach each other; or think about wearing a PFD, until we read about an accident or see a group of boaters wearing vests.

We have memory lapses or we just disregard safe boating operations altogether.

How many of you skippers knew we just had a National Safe Boating Week from May 18-24, sponsored by the U.S. Coast Guard? The week was set aside to help boaters focus on safe boating through education. Were you involved?

As a boating column writer, I do get many publications announcing the annual vent, but I wonder if you were aware of the many local radio, TV and newspaper ads here in the valley that mentioned the importance of boat safety and urged you to be careful.

BOATING WITH RAY

One announcement addressed PWC skippers about wearing PFDs. "You're sunk if you don't wear a PFD," was the simple message. Another cautioned skippers about drinking and operating a boat.

Heavy fines and jail time are possible if you are caught and fail the sobriety test.

While taking to fellow skippers, they tell there has been, and will continue to be, much "on the water" checking this year. Take this advice seriously. Think before you drink!

A safe boating week is a great promotion, but is not intended for only one week. Like Mother's Day and Father's Day — meant to honor parents on a specific day — it is assumed you will do that every day of the year. The same applies to safe boating week.

The National Park Service publishes statistics on a regular basis as to the number of boating accidents, arrests and fatalities on Lake Mead. Over the recent Memorial Day weekend, there were eight boating accidents—eight that were reported, to be more exact. I for one do not want to be included in such a report. How about you?

This summer, and from now on, avoid excessive use of alcohol. Act your age when driving a boat. Make certain passengers are wearing flotation vests. Have a great time on the lake, but do it in a safe way. There are more than 30,000 boats registered in Southern Nevada, but the lake is big enough for all of us if we are courteous and obey the rules.

The 4th of July is coming up, and I have always felt boaters could show a little patriotism by flying the American flag from mast or staff. What it would be if every boat would show the colors. Not just for the holiday, but every time the boats are out. It just might remind you what a great country we live in and what a great lake we have to use any time we want. The freedom to enjoy the best lake in the country. Take pride in flying the flag and be a responsible skipper.

The Las Vegas Power Squadron has scheduled a safe boating class for September, date and location will appear in a future column.

Until next time, keep your bilge dry. And practice safe boating all year.

Eicher, a long-time valley resident, considers himself a part-time boater and fisherman.

Brian Head: Mountain bike paradise

Brian Head, Utah, is one of the nation's premier mountain biking destinations with more than 100 miles of single-track trails, forest roads, pioneer trails and chair-lift services.

At a 9,600-foot elevation, it is nestled in the shadow of Brian Head Peak (11,307 feet), surrounded by the Dixie National Forest. Brian Head, Cedar Breaks and Panguitch Lake are part of the Markagunt Plateau, stretching from Zion National park to the northern Tushar Mountains.

The biking season generally runs from the second week of June to October, and varies according to elevation. It is a good idea to call ahead to determine seasonal conditions, according to Stephen Lane, Brian Head Resorts community director, as heavy snow is a factor.

Conditions at lower elevations near Parowan, Cedar City and Panguitch are often rideable from early spring until late fall.

Average highs for July and August are about 70 degrees, while September starts to cool down slightly with Aspen trees turning gold at the end of the month.

October can bring Indian summer, extending the season, or it can bring a snowstorm and early skiing.

Lane said the topography is gentle. Brian Head sits on the plateau with large expanses of flat and rolling terrain. There is no need to do uphill riding if using the shuttle service. Riders can take bikes with them on a lift for some incredible down hill runs, according to Lane.

Rock cliffs around Brian Head were formed by intense volcanic activities 30 million years ago. Many trails run close enough to the plateau's edge for riders to enjoy endless views.

The area provides beautiful scenery, massive redrock cliffs and canyons, colorful sculptured rock formations, flower-filled meadows, and lush forests.

The best time for wildflowers is from late June to early August. The area's autumn colors are spectacular, said Lane.

Brian Head offers more than 3,500 beds and low summer rates. Other activities include cook-offs, music festivals, fireworks displays, horseback riding and an Octoberfest.

Be prepared when heading outdoors

The Nevada Division of Wildlife reminds those enjoying the outdoors to follow the Boy Scout motto and be prepared whenever they head out, especially during period of extreme summer heat. While heat can affect anyone, newcomers to the desert may be especially vulnerable.

NDOW offers the following safety guidelines for those planning even a short day trip to the desert:

•Bring plenty of water, enough for several days in case of an emergency. Don't count on finding water in the desert.

•File a trip plan with a responsible adult before leaving town. Tell the person when you are leaving and when you plan to return. Include a list of who will be traveling with you—it's not a good idea to go alone. Leave a map showing the area in which you will be—just in case.

•Take along a good survival kit. When putting the kit together, think in terms of shelter building, fire building and signaling for help. Don't forget a first aid kit.

•Always take along extra food. True, you can live without it. But why?

•Four-wheel drive vehicles give people a false sense of security. If you have doubts, don't go. If a road looks rough, and you're not sure you should go, then don't. For those times when you don't follow your own advice, don't forget your shovel.

Bicyclists raise money for people with disabilities

Members of the Pi Kappa Phi fraternity, representing colleges and universities nationwide, recently passed through the Las Vegas valley on their combined 7,200-mile cross-country bicycle journey.

The 66 college students involved in the trek make up the Journey of Hope team, all of whom are participating in an effort to raise funds and awareness for people with disabilities.

The Journey of Hope will reach 22 states in 63 days. After the first week of cycling together, the team divided in two; half headed north and half headed south. They will reunite just outside of Washington, D.C. on Aug. 9 to finish their journey together.

The team will cycle an average of 75 miles per day, after which the members will join forces with local allied organizations to provide educational and awareness programs to the communities they visit. In addition to donating their entire summer for the journey, each team member must raise $4,000 to officially qualify for the team.

The Journey of Hope program is part of PUSH America, the national outreach project of Pi Kappa Phi.

Concert to help Cancer Society

Local musicians will kick off "Think it Over," a concert series to benefit the American Cancer Society at 8 p.m. Friday, June 27, at Nite Owls.

The evening will feature the sounds of the VooDoo Lounge, a band that pays tribute to the renowned Rolling Stones. The band impersonates many music legends, including Rod Stewart, David Bowie, Elton John, Little Richard, Grace Slick and others.

Tickets are $10 and are available at the American Cancer Society, Vesely Music

Company and SWAG Body Piercing.

Chris Bartoli of Bartoli Brothers Production is coordinating this second year event. He started the series after his uncle was diagnosed with terminal melanoma.

All series proceeds will benefit the American Cancer Society with research, education and patient services. Eight additional concerts in the series are anticipated over the next few months.

For more information, call 798-6877.

Zen Center retreat Saturday

The Mojave Desert Zen Center will hold a one-day meditation retreat from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, June 28, at 226 Alpine Way, at Mount Charleston.

The retreat includes meditation, discussion, formal interviews and a hosted vegetarian lunch, led by Zen Master Ji Bong (Dr. Robert Moore), professor of music at the University of Southern California and formerly of Yale University.

The cost, including the meals, is $40 for non-members of the Kwan Um School of Zen, $30 for members.

The retreat is suitable for both beginners and experienced practitioners.

Moore received inga, the seal of the Zen Master's approval and authorization to lead retreats and teach koan practice in 1986. In April, he received dharma transmission and became Zen Master Ji Bong.

While a professor at Yale, he co-founded the New Haven Zen Center in Connecticut. He has been at USC since 1979, where he is chair of the graduate music department, and the guiding teacher for six West Coast Zen centers, including the Mojave Desert Zen Center.

MDZC is part of the international Kwan Um School of Zen, founded by Korean Zen Master Seung Sahn. The school has affiliated centers in Asia, Africa, Australia, Europe, North America and South America.

The retreat will be characterized by periods of sitting meditation and formal Zen-style interviews. An afternoon dharma speech by Zen Master Ji Bong will be followed by questions and answers.

The Mojave Desert Zen Center holds weekly practice meetings at the new center from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Wednesdays, 9:15 to 11 a.m. Sundays.

For more information about the retreat or other activities, call Thom Pastor, 293-4222.

Summer dance camp begins

The Academy of Nevada Dance Theatre has begun registration for its regular summer session and has adding a dance camp to summer activities.

The camp is designed for students ages 4 to 9, and runs from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. Campers will learn ballet, jazz, and tap, character dancing, children's theater acting, singing, theatrical make-up, costuming, cheerleading, country line dancing, and Irish tap.

Two remaining camp sessions will take place July 7-July 18, for campers aged 4 to 6; and July 21-Aug. 8, for campers aged 7 to 9.

ANDT will also offer its regular summer class session for students ages 3 to adult and professional, June 16-Aug. 8. Classes are offered in creative dance, pre-ballet, beginning ballet, pointe, technique, mat Pilates, modern, character, primary ballet, several levels of jazz, and several levels of tap.

The summer session will also feature "Gingersnap" and "Party Scene" classes. Students may register to learn and rehearse various roles for children from "The Nutcracker." The classes will be helpful for children interested in auditioning for Nevada Dance Theatre's annual production.

Teens and self-esteem

At the beginning of family life, there were children and adults. Then there were teenagers. As we developed from tribesman to modern man, our knowledge of how we develop has experienced phenomenal growth. Life is full of changes and these changes are felt so strongly during teen years. A child on the way to becoming an adult is challenged by a barrage of expectations, demands and directions from authority figures. How do the kids ever make it through this challenging and difficult passage?

The influence of home, parents, beliefs, peers and school play a pivotal role in years prior to adult life. As parents, we can provide a good listening ear, a warm and safe place where our teens will know they can be heard honestly without the fear of being challenged, judged or put down. When a teen realizes that parents are the best support system with whom they can share questions or problems, the teen is on the way to establishing a positive self-concept and good feelings. You may wonder how discipline works if all you provide is a warm and wonderful life. We strongly recommend positive discipline tempered with much love that shows our children we respect them. Teach your teen that when they make appropriate choices, they will get positive results. Inappropriate choices or breaking of agreements will result in negative consequences.

If your daughter breaks curfew, she suffers the consequences. Teens should have a voice in making family rules and guidelines, but parents must have the final word.

Being a teen is tough in many ways. Being liked and accepted by yourself and others can be a sensitive issue. Most teens experience some anxiety and insecurity about how peers perceive them.

Conformity during early stages of adolescence is normal. What everyone else is doing or wearing is of importance to young teens. Why such a concern with being like everyone else? The answer lies primarily in the emerging inner conflict we struggle with during this stage: the pull of the need to belong and the need to develop an individual identity.

During early adolescence, the need to belong wins.

Many parents alienate teens by forcing issues arising as independence grows. Yet, in reminiscing, parents will share a similar experience as a teen. They acknowledge that they too were once rebellious. Perhaps it would be a good idea to remind yourself of your own teen years. This might give you greater empathy and understanding of your teen's journey to adulthood.

Here are some skills and values we believe contribute to the development of successful adults. We encourage you to teach your teen these things by example:

- Being involved in cooperative team work
- Communicating effectively by listening well and sharing one's feelings and position clearly with others
- The importance of making clear agreements and honoring them

- Focusing on solutions rather than problems

We believe parents have an opportunity to be positive role models teens can admire and learn from. As parents, our part in their growth is critical. We need to be properly prepared to aid teens in developing a strong sense of self-esteem. We can do this by choosing to invest time and energy in our own personal growth as well as using the many resources available to help us with the important responsibility of parenting.

Three receive Eagle Scouts

Three Henderson young men recently earned Eagle Scout status in recognition of their hard work and volunteer service.

Tyson Claggett from Durango High School was chartered by Trinity United Methodist Church. He is involved in the Rock Paper Scissors Club and the Spirit Club, and his hobbies include tennis, golf, and bowling. Claggett also played ice hockey for six years on the Las Vegas Mustangs in the Midget Tier II league. He plans to attend Northern Arizona University and major in engineering.

Michael S. Fontano was chartered by the Legacy Ward of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, and further involved himself through On My Honor and Duty to God. A junior at Green Valley High School, he enjoys basketball and ESPN "Sportscenter." Fontano aspires to be a ESPN sports commentator or an UPS delivery man.

Tyler D. Windholz, a sophomore at Basic High School, was chartered by the Arrowhead Ward of the LDS Church. He is a varsity team captain, a Teacher's President, a Den Chief and he also likes to camp, fish, go biking, and cook. Windholz plans to attend college after going on a mission for his church, which is his goal.

Jones named 1997 Good Scout

Herb M. Jones will receive the 1997 Good Scout Award, presented by the Boulder Dam Area Council/Boy Scouts of America on Wednesday, June 25, in the Miranda Room, at the Rio Hotel & Casino.

More than 400 guests will be on hand for this special community recognition event.

Jones will also receive a Senatorial Recognition Award from Sen. Richard H. Bryan, D-Nev., for his many years of service on the Boulder Dam Area Council board.

Jones, a business and community leader in the valley area for many years, opened his first law practice in 1949.

He has served as deputy district attorney, deputy attorney general, board of directors of Valley Bank of Nevada, and as presidents of the Clark County Bar and State Bar Associations. He was president of his own firm for over 25 years and is now chairman emeritus of the board of directors.

Active in many community organizations, he has been a Lion and Rotarian, and served on the boards of the YMCA, Salvation Army, Red Cross and United Way.

SW Gas offers bills in Braille

Southwest Gas recently announced two new services designed to assist visually impaired and blind customers.

To receive a gas company bill in Braille, customer should call the local office, 365-1555, and request the special service.

The Braille bill summarizes key information the customer needs to know. A copy of the standard bill accompanies the Braille bill.

The Blind Center of Las Vegas produces and mails bills after the company electronically transfers billing information to the center.

This month, the company also began printing certain billing information in large print on all customer bills. The amount due and due date are printed in large type to assist the visually impaired.

"These are just two more services we provide for our customers with vision problems," said Warren Rustad, Southern Nevada Division vice president. "The company also places raised markings on appliances and thermostats upon request as a free service."

Southwest Gas is the first utility in the western U.S. to offer the Braille service.

Harter contract approved

The University and Community College System of Nevada Board of Regents, unanimously approved a second three year contract for Dr. Carol Harter, president of the University of Nevada, Las Vegas.

The new contract will run from July 1, 1998 to June 30, 2001.

UCCSN Chancellor Richard Jarvis said, "Dr. Harter has been a tremendous leader for UNLV, refocusing the university's mission on academics and student achievement. She has provided solid leadership to the campus, garnered very considerable private-sector financial support and launched critical new initiatives such as the Law School. I am proud of her accomplishments."

Harter is the seventh president of UNLV, one of Nevada's two comprehensive universities. Previously, she was president of the State University of New York at Geneseo from 1989 to 1995.

In both her presidencies, she has focused on strategic planning, increasing enrollment and retention of a diverse student body. She has been successful in establishing quality programs responding to community needs, in enhancing research opportunities and external funding, and in increasing public and private financial support.

Prior to her presidency at Geneseo, Harter was a faculty member in English and an administrator at Ohio University, where she held positions of ombudsman, vice president and dean of students and vice president for administration.

Harter holds three degrees from SUNY Binghamton: a bachelor's with honors in English, 1964; a master's, 1967; and a doctorate in English and American Literature, 1970.

She is the co-author of two books and has served on the boards of several national, state and local organizations dedicated to artistic, scientific, economic and social issues.

She is a member of the NCAA Presidents' Commission and the Western Athletic Conference representative to the newly formed NCAA Board of Directors.

Boating course offered

The Las Vegas Power Squadron will offer a public boating course for sail and power boaters from 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesdays, from Sept. 3 to Oct. 22, at Cashman Junior High School, 4622 W. Desert Inn Road.

The course will be useful to all boaters, from a fisherman in an outboard to a skipper of a family cruiser or a sailing yacht. The format includes self-study and classroom discussion.

Topics include boat handling, rules of the road, docking and anchoring, plotting a course on a chart and finding a position, using a compass, trailering, weather and engine troubleshooting.

The class is free, but a nominal charge for course materials can be shared by family members taking the class.

Many insurance companies give a discount to those who successfully complete the course.

To register or for more information, call Clint Moore, 255-3590.

Sports Authority to host gun safety days

All three Las Vegas Sports Authority locations will host Smith and Wesson Days, from 1 to 8 p.m. Friday, June 27, and from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday, June 28.

Experts will be on hand to discuss safe gun handling including tips on how to safely store and carry guns.

Each store will hold a drawing for a free Smith and Wesson handgun at 3 p.m. Saturday, June 28. All laws, rules and regulations pertaining to handguns must be followed.

Smith and Wesson experts will be available to answer all handgun questions, including how to choose the right handgun, what type of features are best. The event is free and open to the public.

The local Sports Authority address is 1431 W. Sunset Road.

1917 dual Independence Day recalled

The citizens of Virginia City celebrated a double holiday, the 141st anniversary of America's independence and the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Virginia Miners' Union on July 3-4, 1917.

Planning for the festivities had begun in May and a total of $1,053.50 had been raised through a subscription by the first week in June.

District Judge Charles E. Mack of Reno, a 40-year union member, had agreed to serve as Orator of the Day. Captain Harry Gosse, a Reno hotelman and a former Comstock national guard officer, was recruited to be Grand Master of the parade.

Special rates to the Comstock on the Virginia & Truckee Railroad were arranged by its general manager, S.C. Bigelow, and a number of special features were lined up.

The 25-piece Carson City Band was hired for July 4 and the 16-piece Stewart Indian School Band was hired to play both days. Members of several baseball teams, including that of the Nevada State Prison, were making contacts with the arrangements committee. Editors and civic leaders in Carson City, Sparks and Reno were boosting for the celebration.

Among the many entrants for the July 4 parade were current and retired members of the miners' union—one of whom, Maurice P. Flynn, was the only charter member still living in Virginia City.

Members of the Women's Relief Corps of Carson City, the Rebecca Lodge from Colfax,

THIS WAS NEVADA

PHILLIP I. EARL

California and the drum corps of the Thomas Berry Camp, United Spanish War Veterans, also contacted the parade committee, as did a group of local Indians who planned to appear in full war regalia.

Teachers were to join their students, the girls carrying Japanese parasols and the boys sporting Yankee Doodle crushed hats. Each child was to carry a flag of the allied nations involved in the First World War going on in Europe.

A children's race day was scheduled for July 3, but the members of the planning committee decided to go along with Gov. Emmet D. Boyle's request that there be no fireworks. President Woodrow Wilson had suggested that fireworks would be a "needless use" of explosive materials otherwise required for the war effort.

Young boys who had already secured firecrackers and rockets went ahead with their own informal celebration of the nation's natal day, however.

The children's racers began on C Street at 1 p.m. July 3, and the Stewart Indian School Band put on a concert early in the evening and later played for a Red Cross benefit dance at National Hall. A six-piece Virginia City orchestra also played for the dance.

The baseball team from the Southern Pacific shops in Sparks defeated a prison team by a score of 21 to 6 and a two-reel movie, "Wild Animals at Large, or When the Menagerie Broke Loose," was shown at Pipers' Opera House for children whose parents were at the dance.

Visitors by the hundreds began to arrive by automobile and on the V & T on the morning of July 3 and the parade the next day was the best ever staged on the Comstock.

Led by Sheriff Thomas W. O'Connor of Storey County and Gov. Boyle and his staff, the procession was divided into three sections.

Members of fraternal and sororital organizations rode in automobiles decorated with flags and patriotic bunting and members of the Virginia City Miners' Union, the Gold Hill Miners' Union and the Silver City Miners' Union marched.

Colfax's Rebecca Lodge entered a float, as did the local Red Cross chapter, the Girls' Friendly Society, the Comstock Aerie of Eagles and the Virginia City St. Patrick's Club. The firemen of the Comstock and their motorized equipment were also represented.

Local Paiutes, stripped to the waist, painted up and carrying a large American flag also impressed the crowd.

Following the parade, formal exercises were held at Piper's. Charles L. Murphy, President of the Virginia Miners Union, opened the proceedings with an account of the history of the union. A song, "My Own United States," by Beth Mahoney and a reading of the Declaration of Independence by Thomas Williamson followed.

Judge Mack took the podium, speaking of the benefits afforded union miners and the good relations between labor and capital on the Comstock.

A union-sponsored banquet was held at National Hall after the exercises at Piper's. Some 2,000 locals and guests turned out and the baseball game between a team from the Southern Pacific shops and a prison team was well attended. That night, the Grand Anniversary Ball at Piper's capped the celebration.

Camp Mariposa set next month

The Lee Canyon Youth Camp at Mt. Charleston will host Camp Mariposa July 25-27, with special activities for children who have experienced the death of a loved one.

For children ages 6 to 12, the camp features arts and crafts, nature walks and a memorial campfire. Guided by a professional staff, the children are encouraged to participate in the fun but are allowed the option to discuss fears and grief.

The cost for the camp is $75 per child, and "camperships" have been made available through local sponsors in order to assist financial difficulties.

For information and registration, call Dee King at Nathan Adelson Hospice, 796-3140.

Amateur Radio Field Day Saturday at Sunset Park

The Frontier Amateur Radio Society and the Las Vegas Radio Amateur Club are combining resources to hold Field Day in Section F of Sunset Park Saturday.

The event is part of a nationwide exercise in which amateur radio operators set up radio stations and antennae and operate for 24 hours independent of commercial power. The activities are to prepare volunteers who help to provide communications in the first few critical days of an emergency such as a flood.

In the many floods throughout the nation this year, amateur radio operators have been on the scene assisting emergency crews when communication lines are down. Visitors are welcome to observe the exercises, and non-member operators are invited to participate.

For more information, contact Leona Wallace, 247-6450.

While you're away, thieves will play

The weather's nice, the kids are out of school and you've got a little extra money in the bank — sounds like a good time for a vacation. Before you throw on your shorts, pack the suntan lotion and head out the door, be sure your house and valuables will be safe while you are gone. Burglaries increase during summer months because millions of houses are left empty while occupants are on vacation. The Western Insurance Information Service offers tips on ways to make your home vacation-safe while you are away.

phone ringers and answering machines;

- Lock all windows and doors;
- Stop mail and newspaper delivery or have a neighbor pick them up daily and;
- Leave a car parked in the driveway.

As a general rule, bushes around the house should be small and trimmed to eliminate any possible hiding places for thieves. Also, have a porch or driveway light timed to turn on automatically each night.

It is a good idea to leave vacation information with neighbors, including: departure and return dates, where you can be reached while away, names of anyone with keys who may come to your home and an emergency contact.

Music, fireworks at Hills Park

A star-spangled celebration of music and fireworks will highlight a performance by the Nevada Symphony Orchestra at 7:30 p.m. Friday, July 4, at the Hills Park in Summerlin. Gates will open at 5 p.m.

Conducted by Boris Brott, the concert will feature a fireworks celebration at 9 p.m. choreographed to a patriotic Pops program. It is held in association with the Las Vegas Firefighters, Summerlin and Columbia Sunrise Mountain View Hospital. Tina Walsh of EFX will be guest soloist.

Tickets are available at all Ticketmaster locations and at the gate the day of the performance.

Prices are $15 for general admission lawn seating, and $45 for cabaret reserved seats, including a buffet dinner and beverage. Specialty foods will be available for purchase by all concertgoers.

Childcare will be available for children ages 3-8 at Li'l Scholar Child Care, across from the park. Advance registration for childcare is required, and limited space is available. To reserve space, call 256-5300.

Upcoming concerts by the Nevada Symphony Orchestra will include "The Music of Andrew Lloyd Webber and Friends" on Aug. 2, and "Gershwin!" on Sept. 5, also at Hills Park.

St. Jude's volunteers sought

St. Jude's Ranch for Children, in Boulder City, is in need of volunteers.

Father Herbert A. Ward, Jr., president/CEO of St. Jude's for 27 years, said "as we continue to serve more and more children in need, our resources are stretched to the limit. We depend on volunteers to do many of the tasks involved to keep the Ranch running smoothly."

St. Jude's Ranch for Children is a safe haven of hope for children who have been abused, abandoned and neglected. Currently, 48 children live there. Six children live with a set of married cottage parents in an individual cottage.

Children receive intense therapy and counseling to address the emotional trauma they have experienced.

Volunteers are needed on a daily basis, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Monday through Friday, to work in the mailroom opening thousands of packages containing used greeting cards for the "Born Again" card project, which are recycled into new cards by the children.

Volunteers are also needed for summer recreational craft projects. "Keeping 48 children busy and happy during the summer vacation is a huge task," said Father Tom Gimple, interim campus director. "We are looking for activities to stimulate the children's minds and things that are a lot of fun," Gimple said.

Data entry help is needed in the donor processing department and a clerical helper is needed in the expressive arts department.

Volunteers over age 18 and retirees/senior citizens, should call Milli Clark, 294-7138, for more information.

Hot tips for cool summer

Staying cool at home is a challenge during Henderson's long hot summers. So is dealing with high electric bills.

Ron Bishop, president of Bishop Air Service in Henderson, suggests these cool habits for summer comfort and energy savings:

• Bring the outside in. On nice breezy evenings, turn the cooling system off. Open doors and windows on the opposite sides of the home for cross-ventilation with fresh (and free) air.

• Don't let a cooler evaporate your money. Proper maintenance is especially important for evaporative coolers and precoolers. Clean and replace cooling pads frequently.

• FANTastic breeze. An ordinary fan will keep air moving and uses less energy than central air conditioning. Use a properly-sized room unit to suit needs and lifestyles by cooling only where and when needed.

• Cooling equipment detail. It's important to replace filters, clean dirt and debris from outside condensers, and to have a trained service person perform an annual check-up just before the cooling season begins. This reduces operating costs and prolongs the life of equipment. If neglected, a gradual lowering of efficiency adds to operating costs.

• Block the sun with drapes and shades to keep the sun's heat out of any room to be cooled. The use of sun screens or window shades can make a big difference in utility bills.

• Beat the heat. When outdoor temperatures are especially high, reduce activities that generate heat and humidity such as cooking, bathing, laundering, and dishwashing.

'Love and War' lethargic WWI romance

Mini-reviews of major movies on videocassette available now or coming soon to video stores.

NEW RELEASES In Love and War

This lethargic World War I romance of the teen-age Ernest Hemingway and a much older nurse is far removed from the two-fisted, gripping spirit of the celebrated author.

Chris O'Donnell and Sandra Bullock, as the two adventurous lovebirds, often seem to be acting in something akin to "Pillow Talk." There's no real chemistry here.

Director Richard Attenborough, whose specialty is historical epics, manages to show some spectacular scenery. (PG-13) FAIR ROMANTIC DRAMA. DIR-Richard Attenborough. LEAD-Chris O'Don-

Director Wes Craven, king of teen horror movies, now parodies the genre. Yet, this outing is just another killer-on-the-loose tale traveling in familiar territory.

The typical setting: a small California town. A masked killer attacks various young victims after taunting them with slasher movie trivia games. Performances are merely routine.

With Neve Campbell, David Arquette and Henry Winkler (as a high school principal).

Turbulence
"Airplane!" that innovative parody of airplane-in-trouble pictures, didn't quite kill the genre. This airborne disaster outing demonstrates the subject is still active, mining more laughs (mostly unintentional) than thrills.

A pair of criminals, on a nearly empty 747 from New York to L.A., breaks loose from their guards. The pilots die and a stalwart flight attendant (Lauren Holly) must land the plane safely, all the while dealing with a rapist/killer (Ray Liotta) on board.

Despite some initial suspense, the film stalls in midair.

Pumped-up disaster melodrama, set in a collapsed Hudson River tunnel, that's long on dazzling special effects and short on character development.

Sylvester Stallone portrays the dauntless hero who leads trapped motorists through hellish conditions toward safety.

A constant stream of cave-ins, explosions and leaks keeps the tension at high volume. But viewers face an exhausting ordeal with so much catastrophe set in a waterlogged, confined and dark atmosphere.

Amy Brenneman, Viggo Mortensen and Dan Hedaya are among the supporting players.

Finding the right tools

(NAPS)—For the grass to be greener on your side of the fence, it may be time to take a look at the latest lawn tools. Some of the newest fulfill the needs for power efficiency, and ease of use for successful lawn and garden care.

Here's a rundown of some of the highest-rated lawn and garden products available today.

Total garden systems

Power garden systems use multiple attachments to perform a variety of tasks. Ryobi's

TrimmerPlus sets the standard in this category. Available in gas or electric models, TrimmerPlus has nine attachments to perform year-round landscaping jobs—manicuring lawn edges, trimming hedges and cultivating garden beds. In the fall, the trimmer can be used to vacuum up leaves. In the winter it can help avoid snow shoveling.

Gardening experts have called the all-season system the most advanced and versatile tool on the market.

Attachments

The add-on hedge trimmer features a 16-inch dual action replaceable blade. It can rotate 90-degrees for horizontal and vertical trimming.

The add-on mulching blower-features a unique design that converts the vacuum to a blower.

The add-on blower is a dedicated blower that creates 150 mph velocity airflow. It has a flare nozzle for clearing large areas and a tapered circular nozzle for concentrated airflow.

The click-link makes it easier to change attachments.

4-Cycle engine

Most trimmers use smokey 2-cycle engines, but top-of-the-line Ryobi trimmers use one-of-a-kind 4-cycle engines. It is the only one of its kind, outperforming ordinary trimmer engines in nearly every respect. Environmental groups have taken an active interest in the Ryobi 4-cycle trimmer because it already meets 21st century exhaust emission standards.

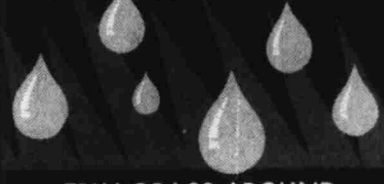

The trimmer also uses 30% less fuel than current models and does not require oil and gas mixing. Popular Science called it one of the best new products of the year.

'Grease' opens July 1

The official Broadway production of "Grease!" will run from July 1-6, at the Aladdin Theater for the Performing Arts.

Starring Adrian Zmed as Danny Zuko, Mackenzie Phillips as Rizzo, Sally Struthers as Miss Lynch and Jeff Conaway as Vince Fontaine, the show takes a hilarious, tuneful look at what it was like growing up in the super-cool '50s with the funniest gang of high school students you'll ever meet.

At a time when hot-rod-loving boys in black-leather jackets chased boy-crazy girls in white bobby socks and skin-tight pedal pushers, the production is complete with drive-in passion pits, sock hops, pajama parties, hubcap stealing and sneaking cigarettes at the senior prom.

One of Broadway's longest running musicals, it brings back the classic rock'n'roll sounds of the '50s with songs including, "We Go Together," "Since I don't Have You," "Beauty School Dropout" and "It's Raining on Prom Night."

The story is that of Danny Zuko, king of the Burger Palace

Cast of 'Grease'

Boys, and wholesome, naive transfer student Sandy Dumbrowski, whose life changes after meeting the tough yet vulnerable Rizzo, leader of the Pink Ladies.

Director/choreographer Jeff Calhoun's explosive, Tony-nominated dances to such numbers as "Born to Hand Jive," "Greased Lightnin'," "Shakin' at the High School Hop" and "Rock N'Roll Party Queen."

Written by Warren Casey and Jim Jacobs, the show is produced by the Tony Award-winning team of Barry and Fran Weissler.

Show times are at 8 p.m. Tuesday to Friday, at 5 and 9 p.m. Saturday, and at 2 and 7:30 p.m. Sunday. Tickets are available through Ticketmaster, 474-4000, and Aladdin Theater for the Performing Arts box office, 736-0240.

Schafer to speak at drama workshop

Jerry Schafer, local award-winning producer/director of various feature films, television specials and documentaries, will speak at Joe Behar's Community Drama Workshop at its regular meeting at 8 p.m. Monday, June 30, in Room A of the Bowling Center at Sam's Town.

His topic will be, "How to Make the Correct Career Decisions." The meeting is open to the public. Admission is free.

Schafer is currently involved in the final preparations of producing and directing a new feature film to be shot in Southern Nevada.

Tabackin Trio to perform

The Lew Tabackin Trio, on tour from New York, will be the featured group at the third free "Jazz in the Park" concert at 8 p.m. Saturday, June 28, at the Clark County Government Center Amphitheatre, 500 S. Grand Central Parkway, in Las Vegas.

Sponsored by Clark County Parks and Recreation, the series is hosted by TV-3's Nathan Tannenbaum, and is in its eighth year.

Tabackin is acclaimed for virtuosity both on the flute and the tenor saxophone. In his newest Concord label release, "Tenority," he concentrates on the tenor sax. Larry Birnbaum of Down Beat, in an April 1997 review said, "His modern mainstream sound, spanning the stylistic gamut from Ben Webster to John Coltrane, is right on the cutting edge of today's retro-bop movement."

Since 1990 he has had four releases on Concord, and is in the process of carving out a new identity as leader of his own group, rather than as a sideman or soloist with a big band.

His interest in music began in Philadelphia, where he majored in flute at the Philadelphia Conservatory of Music. In 1965, after two years in the army, he moved to New York City and pursued his musical career.

Appearing with Tabackin are long-time colleague Mark Taylor on drums and Phillip Aretas on bass.

The concert is co-sponsored by KNPR 89.5 FM.

Concert-goers are invited to bring a picnic or purchase food from vendors.

Saving water.
It's as easy as channel surfing.

Saving water doesn't require a lot of backbreaking labor. In fact, using your hand to turn sprinkler heads so they water the lawn, not the sidewalk takes about the same effort as using a TV remote control.

To find out more ridiculously easy ways to save water this summer, call the Water Conservation Hotline at 258-3102 and ask for your FREE Lawn Watering Guide.

Saving water. It's a grass roots effort that begins with all of us.

SAVING WATER

HOROSCOPE

LINDA BLACK

Weekly Tip: It's a good time to sell things. Group fundraisers should go very well, while the moon's in Taurus. Advertise while the Moon's in Gemini.

Aries (March 21-April 19). If you do your shopping now, you'll get a better deal. Have the fireworks at your place; you love that stuff. Your house is full of people.

Taurus (April 20-May 20). You're smart, but not too lucky—especially with an older intellectual. Don't bother to argue. Money comes in. It goes out almost as fast on work-related items. Figure up the damages to see whether you won or lost.

Gemini (May 21-June 21). You're trapped by past commitments. Study money and increase your income. Finish the stuff on your lists. If you're smart, which you are, you can make some money. Shop for a good deal and learn from a knowledgeable person.

Cancer (June 22-July 22). Gather your team to make a big decision. If money's a problem, brainstorm in private. You and your confidant can come up with some good ideas.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22). You're lucky in love. Although you have obligations, you also have the support of good friends. Somebody's talking about you.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Make plans to travel with friends. If you can't leave now, at least start studying the language. Your boss will seem rather schizophrenic today. He or she wants you to do two things at the same time.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). You're in an action phase. A lack of funds slows you down. You'd be off like a rocket, if you didn't have to go to work. Postpone whatever you had planned.

Scorpio (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Study a foreign language with a native speaker and you could wind up with a partner for life. You two are quite different, yet have a lot in common.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). A new idea may fall flat, so take care. The competition's fierce. Just do your best and you'll be fine. Reach a compromise so you can do a joint venture.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). If you have to choose between love and money, choose love. You can work harder and make more money. Don't start anything new, it won't work out.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). Go straight home; you'll need the rest. Amazingly enough, you should schedule your big dates now. Try not to do anything too strenuous, though.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20). Do the work so you can make a wise decision. Your house is in an uproar. You may have to go somewhere else to hear yourself think.

If You're Having a Birthday This Week: Friends are the key to your success. One will cost you money, but others will help you make more. Finish up old work. This will make a huge difference in your life.

DEAR DEBBIE

DEBORAH WHITE

Dear Debbie: I'm only 16 and I'm in love with a man who's 21. We've been together for two years while he's been living with his baby's mother who's 35. I know she can't afford to take care of the bills and her other child.

But I can't put it out of my head that they're sleeping together. He says they're not, but he lets her drive his new car to college and work. And they do things that don't concern his child.

He says she's only there because I'm still a minor and he'll marry me when I'm 18.

I don't know if I should break up with him.

SHARING

Dear Sharing: He's using you for sex and stringing you along. Two years from now he'll still be a predator who uses young girls for sex. His baby's mother will always be in his life because they have a child together.

This guy could be prosecuted for statutory rape if you've been sleeping with him since you were 14.

Where was your family?

It's important to keep janitors on A-list

I admire doctors. They spend years studying for their profession. By the time they graduate and begin taking care of sick people, they are exhausted.

Then they have to spend their days listening to patients—who don't know a stethoscope from a bedpan—diagnose their own illnesses.

It stands to reason that after years of living among fallopian tubes, alimentary canals and the like, the following scenario often takes place when they see a real patient.

Patient: Doctor, I have a broken arm.

Doctor: Hmmm. What makes you think so?

Patient: I heard a loud crack when the car ran over my arm and there is a bone sticking out through the skin.

Doctor: Hmmm. Have

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY

CAROLYN DRENNAN BISHOP

you had a complete endocrinological workup, a bronchoscopy, a gynecological exam and a psychiatric evaluation? Tell me, do you smoke, drink or walk in your sleep?

Patient: No.
Doctor: I'm recommending a full batter of tests. You'll get the results in about three weeks. In the meantime, take two aspirin and cut down on the fat in your diet.

These same doctors are very busy studying the latest medical literature and doing regular maintenance—oiling and tightening screws, etc.—on important technical machines. I mention this because it will make you feel better when you call your doctor's office and you end up talking to the janitor who jots your name in an appointment book.

If you are really ill, and the janitor happens to know you, he might personally plead your plight with the doctor. At this time, you may be invited to visit the waiting room. If this happens, bring your lunch, a good book and an electric heating pad.

Take heart! By the time you've finished your 785-page novel, it's your turn to be ushered into a frigid little room where you will be asked to remove your clothes and put on a drafty paper gown.

Here is where the electric heating pad comes in handy. Frankly, I prefer sitting on mine. It beats perching on the teensy square of waxed paper that adorns every examining table.

If you've survived this far and the doctor doesn't have to rush out to a class reunion, he will prod you with a few instruments and utter various exclamations such as "Hmmm," "Oh-oh," and "Ah-hah." These can be loosely translated as "Gee, I wish I had paid more attention in Anatomy 101," "This patient may not live to greet another daw," and "I can cure this with a $159 prescription."

I'm only telling you this for your own good. In the meantime, if you happen to know any janitors, make sure they remain on your A-list.

Words of Wisdom

The only reward in having money is being able to use it wisely.

If you're looking for a lifetime achievement, make your mark on someone's life.

A bad temper can get you in hot water, but only stubborn pride will keep you there.

When anxiety strikes, ask yourself: Will I be worried about this a year from now? The answer almost always is no.

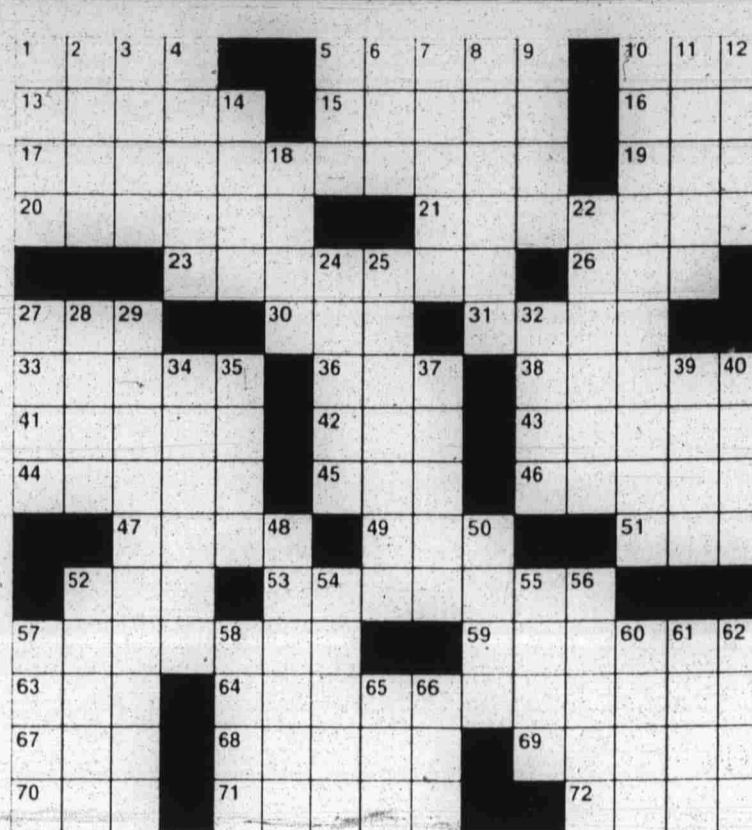

OFF THE WALL

OURS IS A WORLD WHERE PEOPLE DON'T KNOW WHAT THEY WANT AND ARE WILLING TO GO THROUGH HELL TO GET IT.

MAGICWORD

HOW TO PLAY: Read the list of words. Look at the puzzle. You'll find these words in all directions—horizontally, vertically, diagonally, backwards. Draw a circle around each letter of a word found in the puzzle, then strike it off the list. Circling it will show a letter has been used but will leave it visible should it also form part of another word. Find the big words first. When letters of all listed words are circled, you'll have the given number of letters left over. They'll spell out your MAGICWORD.
