Reserve murals bring African safari to life

Kevin Ferguson News Staff Writer

As guests walk through The Reserve Hotel and Casino on Lake Mead Drive for the first time tonight, the detailed murals depicting African wildlife will take their imagination on a journey into the heart of Africa.

The artwork and architecture, created by renowned casino designer Henry Conversano, the mind behind the themes of The Mirage Hotel-Casino, exquisitely details the natural surroundings of an African sa-

"We wanted to make a statement that was fresh and alive," Conversano said, referring to the art that decorates The Reserve. "The quality of the artwork took the demands of [such art] that would go in a museum."

The wall behind the check-in front desk depicts an imposing, carved-stone image of a herd of African elephants. The wall is called the "Elephant-walk."

"This [wall] is meant for an entertainment experience because checking in is generally plain and boring," Conversano

The artwork throughout the casino, Conversano said, is designed so the patrons "interact" with the notel's wildlife images.

As guests proceed through the casino, they will walk along carpet depicting the footprints of the exotic animals of Africa, such as leopards, giraffes, elephants and chimpanzees.

Murals and statues of the continent's animals are located throughout the casino. Outlines of such animals also are interwoven into the clouds of the domed African skyline.

The cashier's cage is molded into the surrounding stone and inset with massive imitations of elephant tusks and hardwrought golden Conversano said the idea behind the cashier's cage is again to bring a more dynamic experience to something generally considered boring.

Many of the casino walls are purposely rounded with unique rock formations. Conversano said they tried to make everything in the casino represent a real-life African safari experience. "You would have a tough time finding 90 degree angles in nature. That's why we rounded all the walls," he said.

Congo Jack's Café, one of the casino's four signature restaurants, has a statue of a crashed plane in its entryway. Near the plane, Congo Jack is hanging from a parachute with a menu in one hand and a cup of coffee in the other.

"All the art [in the casino] has a reason for being," Conversano said. "As you'll see, even the cup [of coffee] has steam rising from it revealing that it's hot."

City officials celebrate a trophy

While many Henderson residents may be going on a safari at the city's newest hotel/ casino city officials will celebrate the capture of their trophy for the redevelopment area.

The Reserve Hotel and Casino will not only bring more gaming, dining and entertainment to the city, but it will also fuel Henderson's redevelopment efforts in its downtown area.

City officials and property representatives indicate the opening represents a turning point in city redevelopment as revenue generated from the property will more than double Henderson's redevelopment budget - something which will allow the city to pursue beautification projects and other improvements to the immediate area.

"We will be the major source of revenue for the redevelopment area. No more monkey business," said George Garcia, a representative for The Reserve.

Garcia said the addition of the casino will add jobs, money and bring in more people to the city's stagnant downtown area. "This is the major catalyst for redevelopment in the city," he said.

Henderson officials agree, saying since redevelopment efforts. Steve Hanson, city of Henderson Finance Director, said the city will receive $592,549 in property taxes which go directly into the city's redevelopment budget. Last year the redevelopment district collected approximately $445,000 in property taxes. With the property's opening, he said, the city's income for the redevelopment area will approach $1 million per year.

"This is very substantial," Hanson said. "What this does for us is create a cash flow to go out and issue bonds for the area."

These bonds will finance projects to beautify and bring quality development to the area. Though the city does not have firm plans for some of its redevelopment through

Casino tells the story of Congo Jack, Monsoon Mary

Sharon Jackson News Staff Writer

Casinos aren't just casinos anymore.

They are Roman Empires, tropical islands and even African jungles. And the African jungle is coming to Henderson when The Reserve Hotel and Casino opens tonight.

When people enter The Reserve they begin an adventure into the heart of Africa. Lush plants native to the jungle are found throughout the building's interior.

The resort's vivid African theme is based around conceptual designer Henry Conversano's story of Congo Jack and Monsoon Mary — a story that he says just came to him one morning at 2

Conversano said he wanted to select a story line that would give The Reserve's guests something to take home with them.

"When the theme takes on a specific content, it taps into people's imagination," Conversano said.

The story goes like this:

Mary was separated from her American family during a monsoon while on an African safari.

Weeks later, a nomadic tribe found her wandering the plains. The tribe grew attached to her, raised her and gave her a new name, "Monsoon Mary."

Years later, when she becomes a young woman, Mary sets out to explore the mysteries of Africa. After Mary's many exotic adventures, she becomes the owner of Monsoon Mary's, a watering hole frequented by adventurers and explorers.

A tin roof provides shelter for bar patrons from the relentless jungle rainfall. When the hourly "lightning storm" calms, a steady rain is still continually dripping off the roof into a pond.

When Mary was gazing out of the window one afternoon, she spotted a plane blazing through the sky and plummeting to the ground, then heard a thunderous crash.

She rushed to the crash site and found Congo Jack, a fearless pilot known throughout Africa as a daring adventurer.

Although he parachuted to safety after his plane crashed into the jungle at The Reserve, he was still battered and badly bruised.

Mary found Jack attempting to free himself from the coils of his parachute. She nursed him back to health and in the process, an unspoken and almost instant electrical attraction developed between the two people. Congo Jack was uncertain what the future would hold for him. He was also captivated by Mary and the beauty of the mysterious untamed wilderness, so he opened "Congo Jack's Cafe" at the site of his crashed plane.

He and Mary built a life together and have lived together in continual bliss since the day they met.

To authenticate the story, there is an actual Beech aircraft partially covered in broken limbs and leaves crashed into the cafe. The plane's windshield is broken from the crash and it has skid marks on its underside.

Congo Jack is seen at the cafe's entrance, appearing as if he had just bailed out of the plane before impact.

"The story makes it a complete experience — that's what I think the next move is in casinos," Conversano said. "People come to Las Vegas for the experience, as designers we have an obligation to make that experience a fun-filled theatrical one."

Two arrested on numerous charges

Two men were arrested on numerous charges including robbery and kidnapping after a resident was tied-up in his home during a robbery at an apartment complex, 740 Warm Springs Road, about 12:45 p.m.

The victim told the officers that a black male knocked on his door. When he opened the door, the suspect pointed a handgun at the victim and forced his way into the apartment. He ordered the victim to the ground, tied his hands, then fled with the victim's property.

The investigation led officers to apartment 1726 at 1100 N. Center St.

The suspects were identified as Tyrone Tony 27, and Gerald Brookins, 18. Both were booked on numerous charges including robbery and kidnapping.

A female was taken into custody for obstruction of justice, according to a department spokesperson.

Henderson Sgt. Gary Smith said another search warrant was served Sunday after police obtained information that the gun used in Friday's robbery was in a residence at 358 Twilight Lane.

Twilight Lane.

Police recovered a large amount of cocaine and the gun, which had a defaced serial number. A 26-year old black male, Charles D. Clark, who is a transient, was arrested for trafficking in a controlled substance and altering a serial number on a weapon.

Anyone with information about this incident is urged to call the Henderson Police Department at 565-2009, or Secret Witness, 385-5555.

the Water Street area, studies are nearing completion to indicate the future look of the city.

In 1995, the city classified a redevelopment zone to begin the process for building up the area and making it more attractive for businesses and visitors. Covering areas along Lake Mead Drive between Boulder Highway and Interstate 515 and stretching along Water Street, the city hopes to make the area a thriving and successful part of the city.

"The impact will be..., I don't want to say immediate, but it looks that way," said Brad Percell, Henderson Redevelopment Officer.

Several projects are already in the works and with the funding the city now has the opportunity to follow through on its plans, he said.

"I've been preaching it for awhile," Percell said of the revenues which will fuel the redevelopment area.

When the area was created property taxes were frozen for all land holders in the area. Those taxes, rather than be dis-boundaries.

"The Reserve will add a good increment in tax value [for the redevelopment area]," said Assistant City Manager Terry Zerkle. "It was once vacant and now we're collecting taxes on it."

Besides property taxes, the other direct benefit the area will experience is through an expected increase in traffic and visitors. As people visit the casino they will travel down the road to do shopping on Water Street and Boulder Highway, Zerkle said.

Additionally, he said, the city will see indirect benefits through having an additional 1,300 employees in the area and other revenues. The city anticipates collecting $75,000 per quarter in licensing fees for The Reserve and approximately $328,000 per year in room taxes.

Retired Pepcon hero dies

Sharon Jackson News Staff Writer

Retired Henderson police officer, Benedict "Dick" Trettel died Monday Feb. 2, in Cloquet, Minn. He was 50 years old.

Trettel died after a short battle with cancer.

Born July 1, 1947, in Cloquet, Trettel was with the Henderson Police Department for 23 years before he retired as an investigator in 1996.

During Trettel's tenure with the police department, he was named officer of the year in 1988 and 1994.

He earned a medal for his involvement in the 1988 Pepcon explosion.

"He[Trettel] was off-duty when he saw the explosion. Instead of driving away from it he drove to it, and assisted in evacuating people," Henderson Capt. Monty Sparks said. "Because of his actions, others are still here today."

"He was a hard-working police officer. He did a day's work for a day's pay, and was well-loved by all who worked with him," Sparks

Henderson Police Chief Tommy Burns said Trettel was a wellrespected police officer, an integral part of the investigation division and was missed when he retired in May 1996.

Sparks, a long-time friend of Trettel, said he was an avid hunter and fisherman and introduced the other officers to something they had never seen-ice fishing.

Trettel also earned a Bronze Star in Vietnam.

An 11-member honor guard flew to Minnesota for the funeral, to present the flag to the family, and to perform a 21-gun salute.

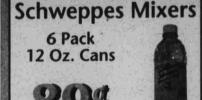

Trettel is survived by his son Orion Trettel, sister Darlene Burkstrand, and his parents, Ben and Anna Trettel.

"I grew up playing athletics," Sloan said. "I love the kids ... Llove everything with athletics." Sloan's passion for athletics is a perfect match at Silverado.

"She is probably one of the key people in terms of making sure things happen in the athletic department," said Ray Mathis, Silverado's athletic administrator. "She sets up physicals and makes sure athletes are eligible grade-wise. She is the middle person between the coaches and administration."

Her athletic success in Henderson dates back to the 1970s when she was three-sport star at Basic High School. Sloan played varsity softball, volleyball and basketball for the

Her greatest moment was winning a state volleyball title in 1976.

After her playing days with the Wolves, Sloan continued her athletic career at La Verne College in LaVerne, Calif. In college, she played softball and volleyball for four years and basketball for two years.

Now that her playing days are over, Sloan has turned to coaching to get her athletic rush.

She has been with the Clark County School District for 12 years. She got her start at Western High School coaching girls' basketball and volleyball.

Then, she transferred to Valley High School where she coached girls' and boys' volleyball for five years.

She is quick to point out that everything is a team effort.

Business restrictions before planners

D.B. Marciniak News Staff Writer

* Sweeping changes which will determine which businesses will be attracted to Henderson's downtown area will be discussed by the Henderson Planning Commission Thursday.

The zoning amendments and other items will be discussed at 7 p.m. in City Council Chambers, 240 S. Water St.

The city is requesting a special definition in its codes for bail bond brokers and other clarifications for animal sales and services, pawn shops and other commercial uses in its downtown area.

According to language in city documents, all bail bond brokers presently operating in areas such as Boulder Highway or Water Street will be forced to relocate to limited industrial areas. It is the city's intention to have all bail bond brokers move to limited industrial areas within the next five years.

Two items outline what the city proposes for appropriate areas for the businesses. The first proposal deals with bail bond brokers with a second item relating to other commercial uses.

Documents cite that since bail bond brokers are not commonly associated with general retail or recreation planned for children and families, they ought to be discouraged from Henderson's downtown areas. These businesses do not present the upbeat image desired for a lively sucessful town center, staff's report states.

The zone amendments are being recommended as a way to shape the image of the city's redevelopment district. Downtown commercial areas are intended to enhance redevelopment efforts and encourage cross-traffic between retail, office, entertainment proval of the item.

Last Wednesday, 55 professionals - from printers to elected officials - were replaced by high school students in the Henderson Chamber of Commerce's 'Boss for a Day' program.

The program was created to bring high school students into the business world and give them a realistic view of what they should expect after graduation.

Founded 34 years ago the program was originally reased for the students of Basic High School, which at the time was the city's only high school.

In recent years, other schools have been invited to participate - Green Valley in 1992 and Lake Mead Christian Academy in 1997 - and next year the chamber plans to include Silverado High School.

The 'Boss for a Day' program allows businesses to open their doors to high school students and provide the opportunity to show the youth the mechanics of the companies' respective lines of work.

Students gain valuable experience

Last Wednesday, 170 high school students had the opportunity to experience what it would be like to become a boss for a day as the Henderson Chamber of Commerce held its 34th annual 'Boss for a Day' program._

The students from Basic, Green Valley and Lake Mead Christian Academy participated in the event which started off at Green Valley High School-with special comments from Henderson Mayor Jim Gibson, Clark County School District superintendent Dr. Brian Cram, 'Boss for a Day' chairman John Holman and the chamber's executive director Alice Martz.

Principals Horrace Smith from Basic, Betty Sabo from Green Valley and Sue Blakeley from LMCA added a few words to start off the morning.

Antoinette Duran, a senior from Basic, had the opportunity to be the boss for Senator Richard Bryan.

"I feel very important," said Duran at the opening presentation. "This is a great opportunity for me to meet different people and to help me in my future plans with law school. I'm not too sure how my day is going to go, but I know it will be full of surprises."

Green-Valley's Jason McNair had the opportunity to spend the day with the Henderson Chamber of Commerce.

Roberts ES courtyard is cooperative project

Janice Stromberg Principal, Roberts ES

The students, faculty and staff at Aggie Roberts Elementary School, 227 Charter Oak St., in Henderson, will soon have an improved courtyard area to enjoy, thanks to a cooperative community and school project.

In early October, the Beautification Committee at the school initiated a three-phase project to enhance the existing courtyard compound.

The first phase of the proposed plan called for more plants, shrubs and flowers to be added to the established courtyard area, resulting in a more colorful vear-round foliage effect.

The second phase will be the purchase of several pieces of outdoor patio furniture, creating a garden-like atmosphere that can be used by the faculty and students alike. The final phase will be the completion of two figure sculptures, similar to the ones seen in the Green Valley area, to be constructed by the school art club.

Art specialist Dean Dartman, along with Star Nursery sales representative Angela Williams, submitted plans and sketches for the for the courtyard renovations. Final confirmation was given in early December by the committee and administration, and plans were made to begin the first phase on Dec. 30.

Prior to the planting date, Williams told Dartman that Star Nursery would donate the entire cost of the project, as their part in working with the school for a better community environment.

Williams said, "We decided to donate the cost of the project not only as an example pf a community and school working together on a partnership project, but also because of the school's namesake, Aggie Robert. Aggie has always been instrumental in the horticultural welfare of Las Vegas and surrounding communities."

Bill Edwards, another Star Nursery sales representative, said, "Aggie Roberts has provided the community with priceless and valuable knowledge of the plant world here in Southern Nevada. This is just a little thank you for all of her contributions over the years."

On Dec. 30, a work crew of several Star Nursery employees, Clark County Schools landscape and grounds service coordinator Alan Paulson, along with Dartman and Roberts ES head custodian Danny Pease, spent the day planting and replanting the courtyard.

In addition to all the vegetation, the nursery also donated four 28-inch ceramic pots and saucers planted with a variety of flowers and ferns. The nursery indicated that significant changes would become more visible in the spring when the majority of the plants would start to bloom and flower.

We would like to thank Star Nursery for their wonderful donation of plants, trees and flowers. The courtyard looks beautiful.

I feel confident that because of Star's generosity, this very important area of our school will become a popular place for students, teachers and visitors to frequent. It is a pleasure to work with community businesses and individuals who support local schools and want the best possible environment for our children.

CCHS seniors prepare to enter the business world

Kevin Ferguson News Staff Writer

As the spring semester winds down often faster than expected for high school seniors, students at Henderson's Community College High School are already compiling portfolios to present to potential employers.

Through the school's Smart Grad program, the seniors are learning how to develop and organize resumes that will stand out among competitors in the business community.

All high school English departments in Clark County offer the Smart Grad program which movement to better prepare skills on a resume.

graduating seniors for the work force. But, the CCHS program takes the student-to-employee preparation several steps further.

"Our students preparing portfolios and a resume to offer to employers is just one aspect," school counselor Mary Catherine Bliss said. "It will include a transcript, two letters of recommendation and a writing sample, as well as the resume."

Corporate sales manager Stacey Callom of Alexis Park Resort and Spain Las Vegas recently spoke to a group of CCHS seniors. She spoke about what today's employers are looking for from job applicants, and the best way for began a few years ago as a federal the candidates to present their Callom said employers look for descriptive key words on a resume, such as motivated, responsible, flexible, adaptable, organized and good time management skills. Candidates should give examples of situations where they have demonstrated such skills.

"I learned how to better represent the things I've accomplished in my fire training, so when I apply for a job, I will stand out," Manzo said.

Callom stressed job candidates should be creative when pointing out certain skills. "If you tutor someone like a brother or a friend in a certain subject, put that on your resume because it shows that you are responsible," she told the audience.

Other information Callom suggested for a resume, includes computer skills, volunteer work, spoken and/or written foreign languages skills and hobbies.

"Hobbies should be included because if you have a similar hobby as the person interviewing you, it will make you stick in their mind as they review the resumes for follow-up interviews," Callom

Bartlett ES struggles with traffic

Bartlett Elementary School recently announced new drop-off and pick-up policies and traffic restrictions to cope with overcrowding and traffic congestion before and after school.

Responding to parent and teacher concerns about children darting into traffic, a special parent advisory committee was established to review several op-

A plan was developed that changed traffic flow patterns, limited access to certain driveways and parking areas, and prohibited parking in drop-off zones. Pedestrian access through the park or across the access road was also rerouted to increase child safety.

"Our school was built for 660 students," said principal Dr. Brad Reitz. "Our current enrollment is 850 and the driveway cannot accommodate the daily traffic. Children were darting between cars and creating unsafe conditions."

All children who attend Bartlett live within two miles of the school so no bus service is provided under district regulation. As a result, about 90% of parents drive their children to school, which creates significant traffic congestion.

The new plan was presented to students in special assemblies and detailed to parents in several school bulletins. Several parents volunteered to help enforce the new restrictions and gave pencils to students who complied.

"Voluntary compliance has been excellent," said traffic coordinator Julie Winkler. "It is clear the students benefited from a traffic safety campaign following the winter break."

USA Cafe gives local bands a chance

D.J. Allen

News Contributing Writer

All bands dream of making the big time.

USA Cafe is giving them a chance to start reaching for that

Located in the Lucky shopping center on the corner of Green Valley Parkway and Sunset Road, the cafe offers up-and-coming bands a chance to play in front of live audiences.

"If there are young kids in the band, it gives them a chance to play in a nightclub atmosphere," owner Jerry Laidman said. "They can't get that experience at too many other places."

On Thursdays and Sundays for the past two years, USA Cafe has opened its restaurant portion of the establishment to people of all ages. USA Cafe acts as a normal 21-and-over club on Fridays and Saturdays.

"It gives us some business on usual off-nights," said Laidman, a father of two, about younger bands performing on Thursdays and Sundays. "It gives kids some place to go other than being out on the streets."

For the four-month-old group "Buffalo & Them Guys" - a fiveman band which includes four Basic High graduates — Laidman and general manager Dave Butera are giving the band a chance to improve as well as make a few extra dollars on the side.

"People take us a little more seriously when they know we are doing it as a job and getting paid for it," said Rod Dietrich, one of the group's guitarists. "Playing at the USA Cafe lets us share our the younger groups.

Painting workshop announced

The Henderson Parks and Recreation Department will sponsor a workshop, "Bob Ross Painting with Ease," from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 28, at the Silver Springs Recreation Center, 1951 Silver Springs Parkway. Participants will complete paintings during the one-day workshop.

No experience or artistic talent is required, but participants must be aged 16 or older. The cost is $45.

The Bob Ross style of painting originated with the popular PBS television show "The Joy of Painting," which introduced millions of aspiring artists to practice the wet-on-wet' technique. Ross developed the technique to help many more people quickly master painting but still maintain a finely crafted finished product.

His technique proved effective in achieving its goals. Since its first airing in 1983, "The Joy of Painting" has aired continuously on PBS, outlasting its creator, Ross, who died in 1995.

"The best part about wet-on-wet painting is the fact that a finished landscape can be produced in a very short time," said recreation coordinator Kurt Williams. "In fact, Ross produced a completed work in every one of his shows in just thirty minutes."

Individualized instruction will be available during this workshop as needed. A supply list will be available at registration, and participants may purchase necessary tools and paints from the instructor for $20. Advanced registration is recommended.

Youth Valentine social Feb. 13

The Kesterson Valley View Recreation Center, 500 Harris St., will host a Valentine's Day Social from 4 to 6:30 p.m. Feb. 13. The event is open to children in grades 3-5 and costs $1 per child.

Sponsored by the Henderson Parks and Recreation Department, the social will include games, activities, group dance instruction and door prizes. All activities will be supervised by HPRD staff.

According to some historians, Valentine's Day stems from an ancient Roman legend about Lupercus, a Roman god with the legs, feet and ears of a goat. Originally known as Faunus, he is also known as Lupercus and Pan.

According to the legend, the rustic god roamed the countryside playing pipes and acting as Roman shepherds' protection against ravaging wolves. Also considered a fertility god, he was thought to bring fertility to the fields. The Romans celebrated Lupercalia, a festival honoring the god on Feb. 15.

"Valentine's Day, as celebrated today, can be traced to the Feast of Lupercalia," said recreation coordinator Paul Widman. "In those days, young men would draw the name of a woman and they would share these festivities together."

The name "St. Valentine's Day" was later adopted from a priest named Valentine who lived in Rome about 270 A.D. According to the legend, he was imprisoned for defying the laws of the Roman emperor. Before he was executed, he restored the sight of the jailer's blind daughter and handed her a note signed "From your

'Living Genealogy' workshop set

Henderson Parks and Recreation Department will sponsor an introductory workshop, "The Basics of Living Genealogy," from 1 to 4 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 21, at the Silver Springs Recreation Center, 1951 Silver Springs Parkway Participation is open to those aged 11 or older. The cost is $7.

Unlike genealogy, which is the study of tracing family roots into the past, living genealogy focuses on locating and communicating with living relatives. This workshop will provide tools and resources to help locate living relatives in the U.S. and throughout the world. Some resources are available at no charge.

"Researching living genealogy is an opportunity to learn about your family history and the culture and customs of your ancestors," said recreation coordinator Kurt Williams. "With the information provided in this workshop, as well as resources like the Green Valley Library, you can quickly begin to locate relatives in the U.S."

Skyhawks win Sunrise wrestling title

Gary Thiessen News Staff Writer

Silverado remained undefeated in league wrestling competition with a 38-24 victory over Las Vegas High School on Thursday, giving the Skyhawks the Sunrise

Silverado wound up with a 7-0 conference mark.

In another match, Green Valley traveled to Basic and defeated the Wolves 56-18. The Gators wound up second to the Skyhawks with a 6-1 mark.

Here's a look at the action.

GREEN VALLEY AT BASIC

Once again Basic coach Jim Duschen's squad was forced to forfeit the first six matches to Green Valley as the result of injuries to several wrestlers.

The forfeit handed the Gators a huge lead and they breezed.

"We need to step up our intensity and take control of our own destiny from both a physical and amental toughness point of view," Green Valley coach Jimmy May said. "Wrestle smart ... be prepared and don't let anyone take control of the match except yourself."

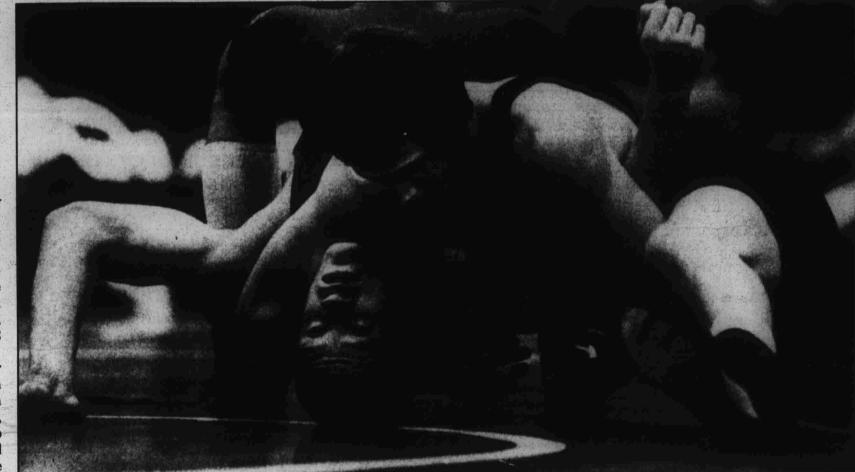

After the forfeited matches,

Jack Hay (140-pounds) scored a third-period pin over Dan Stansberry to extend the Gators' lead. Basic countered with a 7-6 victory by Ray Gonzales over Dustin Doyle at 145. Green Valley's Luke Lichtenstein continued his string of pin victories by scoring a second-period pin over Basic's Chris Sackett at 160.

The Wolves hung in and won the next three matches on a Jason Blakely pin at 171 over RR Wolf and a Kevin Lochner second-period pin over Ryan Oakley in the 189-pound class. Jordan Gunderson then posted a 7-6 decision over Mike Gardineer in the 215-pound class and Green Valley's David Lehrner, at 275, closed out the scoring with a 6-2 decision over Jason Burt.

"This will be a good test for some of our kids," Basic coach Jim Duschen said. "We will have a tough time competing as a team, but it's time for our wrestlers to peak for the zone tournament and an opportunity to go to the state finals. This is what the kids have been working for all season."

Several area athletes have signed national letters-of-intent to play sports in college. Here's a look at a few of those athletes.

GREEN VALLEY GIRLS VOLLEYBALL

At Green Valley, the Gators had Christina Attebery sign to play volleyball at Western Carolina University while Alicia Erickson has signed with Washington State University.

Attebery, a 5-8 outside hitter, "is a solid, all-around player," Gators' coach Erin Hill said. "She had a great high school career and I think she will do very well."

"I took a trip to both [Western Carolina and Coastal Carolina] and I liked the coach at Western Carolina better," she said. "The coach [Michelle Hansen] is my height and she played me position." She also has very definite goals for herself.

"I want to start as a freshman," she said. "They are trying to get the program going in the right direction and I want to be a part of that."

Erickson, a 6-5 middle blocker, "has great potential," Hill said. "We only had her for one year. We would have loved to have had her for all four years. I think she will have a great future at WSU. I know she will do a fine job for them."

Erickson also has lofty goals.

"I want to become good enough that I can pursue a volleyball career after college," she said. "I also hope to help the team make it to the Final Four while I'm up there."

GREEN VALLEY SOCCER

Green Valley's Kelly McCall signed a national letter-of-intent or. Wednesday to play soccer with the University of San Francisco Lady Dons.

McCall, who has a 4.1 grade point average, will be majoring in "I'm really excited," she said. "It's been a life long dream and now

For the night, the Skyhawks scored almost 50% of their points in the first quarter (24 of 50) while the Wolves accounted for over 50% of their offense in the fourth quarter (21 of 40 points).

McCraney led the Skyhawks with 16 points while Andy Saggiomo added 11.

Terrance Radford topped Basic with 15 points while Norris chipped in seven.

It's only a formality.

If everything goes as expected, the Basic soccer team will become the first-ever Wolves' girls soccer squad to make the post-season.

Basic is currently is third place of the Sunrise Division with a 7-5-3 record. Silverado is currently in fourth place with a 7-6-3 record while Rancho, which Basic plays today, is in fifth place at 6-5-4 overall. Silverado's played its last regular game on Thursday, a 1-1 tie against Las Vegas.

five games as the Wolves' goalie.

The Wolves only had three shots in the games, but was able to find the back of the net on two of them.

"We just keep knocking on the door," Basic coach Debra Jamison said. "They were pumped. They wanted this one ... they knew this was the game and they were ready."

Rachel Ritchie scored her first goal of the season in the first half on an assist from Crystal Chadwick to give Basic a 1-0 lead.

Salena Franco scored the insurance goal in the second half on a pass from senior Aubrey Henderson.

This year's Basic squad worked hard to reach its accomplishment.

"They wanted to learn soccer," Jamison said. "My husband is our trainer and the kids were so thirsty for knowledge. Some of the practice sessions, they just worked their hearts outs."

SILVERADO

Silverado finished up the regular season with a 1-1 tie to Las Vegas. Shawna Park scored the Skyhawks' goal.

Silverado needs some help in today's Basic Rancho game to make the playoffs.

"If we have to crank it up in practice on Wednesday, we will," Silverado coach Kirk Grimm said. "If not I wish the best to Basic and Rancho."

SILVERADO ROLLS

Kevin Riordan (119) opened the scoring for the Skyhawks with a 10-2 decision and Silverado never looked back.

Yonas Waldu (125) scored a 22-7 technical fall decision to give Silverado a 15-4 lead. Waldu's victory was the fifth consecutive league match that he has scored in excess of 19 points.

Brock LaFosto (135) scored a 7-1 decision followed by Mario Paladino's major decision of 18-6 in the 140-pound division. The Lafosto and Paladino victories moved the Skyhawks' lead to 22-10.

Mike Bartholow (152) scored an 11-1 major decision and then Las Vegas started to fight back with a technical decision and a decision to narrow the gap to 26-21.

Silverado then put the match away with a Tom Cass secondperiod pin at 189 followed by a Joel Menendez first-period pin at 275 to seal the league title for the Skyhawks.

"We are together as a team and each wrestler understands the importance of individual effort and how it contributes to the team," Silverado coach Bob Clements said. "We are becoming more focused for the zone tournament and our kids are anxious to participate in the upcoming finals. We hope to have them prepared to do their best."

back to take a 14-11 lead in the second quarter.

Connors and McGrew each had a basket before halftime to give the Skyhawks a 15-14 lead heading into the locker room.

In the third quarter, Kline had another three-pointer and two free throws to help Basic gain control, 21-19.

That was the last lead the Wolves had, as Hanson scored four points to close out the quarter and give her team a 27-24 advantage.

Basic coach Jan Van Tuyl was happy with the way his team played.

"The kids played a good game," he said. "Overall, we did some good things that we wanted to do."

Van Tuyl saw the improvement his team made from the first time the two teams played.

"If you look realistically at the scoring, we were down three points in the fourth quarter," Van Tuyl said. "Last time, at their place, we were down 11 to start the fourth quarter. Is that not an improvement?"

One bright spot for the Wolves was the play of senior reserve Melissa Steele, who played a few minutes in the second and fourth

"She got on the court, and I told her, 'if you make any mistakes, I'm going to take you out," Van Tuyl said. "She let the first pass go by her and after that it was fine. She did a really nice job tonight."

Steele entered the game late in the second with the Wolves down one. She managed to come up with a steal underneath Basic's basket that lead to a Kline field goal.

"I just tried to do what coach told me," said Steele, whose only point came on a free throw in the fourth. "To help the team out and show leadership out there." Fife finished with nine for Silverado and Connors had eight. Kline led the Wolves with 14

With the win, Silverado is currently in first place of the Sunrise with a 13-1 division record. The Wolves drop to 9-5 in conference and in fourth place.

WEDNESDAY

The Green Valley girls basketball team either runs real cold or real hot.

But, beware: When the Gators are hot, there is no stopping them. Just ask Silverado.

The Skyhawks' undefeated Sunrise Division record was shattered on Wednesday at Silverado High School, as GV's hot shooting and aggressive style of basketball led to a 66-49 Gator victory.

Green Valley shot 22-of-26 from the charity stripe, including 14of-16 in the final two minutes to overwhelm Silverado.

In addition, Silverado couldn't buy a bucket and Green Valley couldn't miss.

That holds especially true for Green Valley senior forward Nyla Moujaes who finished with gamehigh 24 points.

"I was feeling hot," Moujaes said. "I wasn't afraid to shot the ball ... I had confidence tonight."

Moujaes scored 11 straight points for the Gators in the second half to key the victory.

"This, really pumps us up," Moujaes said. "Sitting in second place we are getting our momentum going. We just peaked this season."

GV's solid free throw shooting came in handy.

With Silverado down by 10 points and close to two minutes remaining in the game, the Skyhawks were forced to foul.

But Jenna Hortizuela went 6of-6, Moujaes went 2-of-2 and both Christine Ozuna and Lupe Trejo went 3-of-4 to seal the win.

"Sometimes we are running hot and sometimes we are running cold." Green Valley coach Alma Randolph said. "But, I don't see us peaking. I don't look at it as confidence, I look at is as teamwork and staying focused in what we our doing.'

Silverado struggled to find its touch.

"Our floor percentage was Silverado's

From the end of the third quarter to the beginning of the fourth, she had 11 straight points. Her efforts gave GV a 10 point led in the fourth.

That's when Silverado sent Green Valley to the foul line.

A Rich Heritage • A Bright Future

TIMET Signs Long-Term Contract With Boeing

In November, the world's largest manufacturer of titanium signed a 10-year contract with Boeing Co., supplying the commercial airline group and its suppliers with titanium products.

The contract calls for TIMET to provide a minimum of 70% of Boeing's annual titanium needs, depending on Boeing's requirements each year. Shipments have already begun, but are not expected to reach planned volume levels until 1999.

"Timet has worked diligently to earn the trust and respect Boeing has is receptive to the idea of long-term

Timet's plant manager. "This a great thing for TIMET, our employees, and the community-at-large. We are up to the challenge."

After analyzing the world-wide titanium supply and the titanium market's ever-changing prices, Boeing sought a new way of doing business. Over time, the long-term contract with TIMET should stabilize and reduce the cost of titanium and help Boeing to better manage its own costs and operations.

According to Sanderson, TIMET given us," said John Sanderson, contracts with other companies in the aerospace industry, as well. As the world's largest supplier of titanium metal products, TIMET is currently working on hundreds of aerospace, industrial and emerging applications.

"We're confident TIMET can continue to deliver the superior product and service for which we have been known." Sanderson said. "The agreement we have with Boeing is hopefully, just the tip of the iceberg."

McCaw School of Mines and BMI: Working Together to Educate Students

The McCaw School of Mines is a result of a huge collaborative effort between the community, corporations, and the students, parents, faculty, and administration of Gordon McCaw Elementary School. The BMI companies are very proud to be associated with this project whose goal is to educate students about Nevada's second largest industry

Celebrating its first successful year, the McCaw School of Mines recently invited Basic Management to prepare a display room to be included in Phase II of the school. The room will feature BMI's mining and mineral related companies in Henderson.

"We are pleased and honored to have received this invitation," said Dan Stewart, BMI president. "BMI will continue to be a great supporter of the school. We believe it is important to generate interest in mining and showcase opportunities available in the mining industry.

Since its beginning, BMI has been a major benefactor of the McCaw School of Mines. Chemical Lime Company, formerly Chemstar, was among the first companies to donate cash and lime for its construction.

Kerr-McGee was also a contributor and donated mining equipment from its Bristol Mine and Castleton Mine near Pioche, Nevada. The company also provided a crane to move the equipment it donated, and unloaded and moved other equipment as needed. In addition, Kerr-McGee has long been a supporter of the Gordon McCaw PTA, funding various projects.

When the school celebrates its fortieth birthday, TIMET will provide a titanium time capsule to house a variety of memorabilia from the school's archives. The company also arranged transportation of equipment to the school and provided a forklift for unloading and moving equipment throughout the mine yard. One of TIMET's most impressive contributions involved transporting 1.7 million marbles via rail. The marbles were sold to benefit the school.

Alkali assisted the McCaw fourth grade economics unit with the Kids Kard Kompany. They interviewed students who applied to be "plant managers" at the Christmas Card factories in each fourth grade classroom. This project received recognition from the Nevada State Social Studies Teachers Association.

Both TIMET and Pioneer Chlor Alkali are currently providing displays at McCaw.

"We are eager to have a display room at McCaw dedicated exclusively to highlighting mining companies in Henderson," said Janet Dobry,

Henderson Alerting System Nearing Completion

Members of the Henderson Industrial Citizens Advisory Panel (HICAP) are continuing to facilitate progress of an alerting system designed to alert dispatchers of routine, non-routine and emergency incidences which occur within the BMI complex. The system inclues a large display board which willenhance communications between the BMI plants and the City of Henderson's 911 dispatch office.

According to Craig Wilkinson, TIMET plant safety manager, the board features a detailed map of 45 locations throughout the BMI plants - each one indicated by a numbered light. Three different colors of lights will be used to identify routine and scheduled maintenance releases, non-scheduled but nonemergency releases and releases which may pose a health and/or safety threat.

"Dispatchers will now instantly be able to accurately identify the nature and location of an incident at the BMI complex," said Wilkinson. "This will not only expedite the arrival of emergency response vehicles and personnel, it will also help dispatchers to distinguish between real and non-emergencies, helping to allay public concern."

Scheduled to be installed during March, the $70,000 alerting system is being funded by Pioneer Chlor Alakali, Co., TIMET and Kerr-McGee Chemical Corporation. A meteorological station which will provide emergency personnel with detailed weather information specific to the BMI complex is also part of the system.

"The meteorological station will provide continuous information on the exact wind speed and direction, humidity levels, temperature, and other weather factors present at the BMI complex," said Wilkinson. "In the case of an emergency, this information can prove to be very valuable and significant in determining how to handle the situation."

The ground was ceremonially broken with an old-fashioned plow and a little help from Opportunity Village client Mark Nevin.

More than five years ago, Basic Management, Inc. donated a 1.6acre piece of property to Opportunity Village for a new Henderson campus. Just a few months ago, BMI again played a major role in helping to launch the facility by hosting a ceremonial groundbreaking for a 22,000-square-foot building to be named for the Bill Walters family.

A highly regarded non-profit organization dedicated to providing work opportunities and life enrichment for the mentally disabled, Opportunity Village is eager to expand its reach with a second campus in the southeastern valley.

BMI Plays Big Role in Launching Opportunity

According to Opportunity Village executive director Ed Guthrie, the Walters Family Campus of Opportunity Village will help to meet the needs of a growing handicapped population.

"One of every ten Henderson families includes a person with mental retardation," said Guthrie. "At the same time, the needs of the Henderson business community are growing, as well. At Opportunity Village, we provide local businesses with affordable packaging, bulkmailing and task-oriented services while giving those with mental retardation a purpose to their existence by providing work opportunities."

Construction on the $3 million campus is expected to begin in March, with completion scheduled for early 1999.

"Although we had already made a significant donation to Opportunity Village years earlier, it made a lot of sense for BMI, as Henderson's oldest neighbor, to welcome the city's newest neighbor," said Dan Stewart, BMI president. "We were extremely pleased to be able to increase the visibility of Opportunity Village and what the organization brings to our community - especially in terms of improving the lives of the mentally disabled."

Dan Stewart, BMI president, welcomes Opportunity Village to Henderson.

- Kerr-McGee recently achieved two million man-hours without a Kerr-McGee received a commendation from the City of Henderson for this achievement.
- TIMET reached 989,710 man-hours without a lost-time incident from December 7, 1996 through August 4, 1997- just short of the company's 1 million-hour goal.
- In July 1997, TIMET reconditioned an off-gas scrubbing unit and purchased and installed a $160,000 back-up power generation stem which will help to prevent potential chlorine releases during electrical power failures.
- TIMET is currently engineering a complex chemical monitoring am which is planned for installation surrounding the plant. pon its operation, the system will provide factual and specific information in case of a chlorine or hydrochloric acid release.
