Ronda,

So you're working on the paper again next year, too? You must be some kind of nut. Maybe it'll be better then, though. (Let's hope)

Have fun next summer.

Valeri
Humphrey

Hi!

Nice to know you.
We'll have a blast
next year working on the newspaper.
Good LUCK!?

Dedication

Ever since Basic High School was founded, over twenty years ago, it has been an integral part of the city of Henderson. The school's activities—athletic contests, musical productions, fund-raising drives, and others—have been met with enthusiasm and support by the people of Henderson. Local merchants have always been very kind to El Lobo, the Lobo News and the Pep Club. Private citizens have given fullest co-operation in allowing use of residential streets for pep rallies and dances. Contributions from citizens and merchants sent the band to Carson City for the Centennial parade. Henderson has certainly put a great investment of energy and interest into its high school. In turn Basic renders a great service to the town in providing an excellent education to the youth of Henderson. Many of our graduates have remained or returned to contribute more to the development of our community, largely applying the background gained from Basic itself. Henderson and Basic High School are an interdependent team that profits both partners. It is therefore that we dedicate this book to the further progress of Henderson and the role that Basic will play in it.

Mr. Dooley

Principal's Message

To the Class of 1965:

The theme of your yearbook, Power Through Knowledge, implies that you have identified education as the true source of power. When power is concerned with the relationship between man and nature—as in natural science—the role of education is easily recognized and accepted.

When power is related to human affairs, the role of education is too often shunted aside. I hope that your concept of power in this regard provides for the recognition and preservation of the dignity of the individual along with his rights and beliefs. Further, in relation to individual rights—yours and others—I would hope that you recognize that rights are directly related to and protected by responsibilities.

As for education, I would suggest that the foundation of your concept should be that it is an ever-continuing process.

May God bless and guide each one of you in your search for true Power Through Education.

Respectfully yours,

John A Dooley,
Principal

To the Class of 1965:

Congratulations, you have completed the requirements for graduation from high school. You have acquired a body of knowledge and a set of values.

Now you will make a choice. Some of you will continue your formal education, some of you will join the work force and some of you will serve your country in the Armed Forces. All will enlarge your body of knowledge and improve your set of values.

It has been said that a little bit of knowledge can be dangerous. Power too can be dangerous, without a good system of values.

Build on your body of knowledge, learn all you can, be a leader, help build a powerful country, but do these things within the frame of a good system of values.

Respectfully yours,

Ben W. Cowan
Assistant Principal

Mr. Cowan

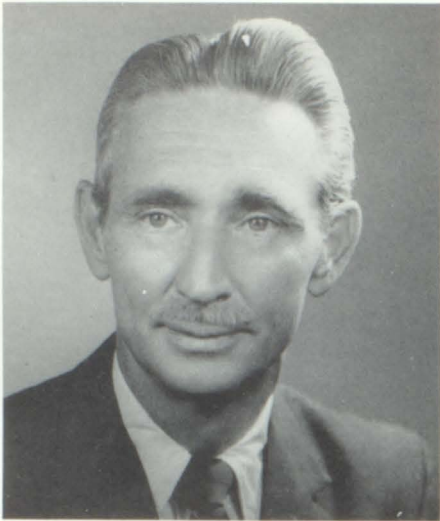

Mr. McDoniel

To the Class of 1965:

The motto of your school is "Power Through Knowledge". Our country, through its economic and scientific advances, has reached a high position of worldly power. The future of our country as a world leader depends on the attainment and application of knowledge in all fields of endeavor. The Class of 1965 can and must contribute its share of "Power Through Knowledge".

Respectfully yours,

E. M. McDoniel
Assistant Principal

Mr. Burkholder

Mrs. Fuller
Secretary

Since the day of his origin on this earth, it has been the fundamental quest of man to gain Power through Knowledge. This power man seeks is directed to the end that he may understand, manage and control all of the natural, physical and mental or spiritual forces that have, from the days of its creation, been at work bringing about changes in the universe in which we live. Changes in things that have their origin in living matter he classifies as organic changes; changes involving things that originate from non-life matter he identifies as an inorganic. Change is brought about as a result of the application of force; power is a measure of the quantity and rate of application of a force.

Power through Knowledge is gained successively through the observation of change; the understanding of the forces that bring about the change; the measurement of the force and the change it produces and finally the management and control of the force and the change. Until man understands the forces that bring about a particular change, he explains this change by myth, legend and imagination.

The "push button" is today's final representation of man's mastery of forces and changes; the final expression of Power through Knowledge. The push button rings the electric doorbell; it explodes the cobalt bomb; it sends the space ship to the moon; it sets in motion the engine of the family car; it x-rays the human body; it arrests the uncontrolled growth and development of living cells in a cancerous growth.

Of the infinite number of forces at work in our universe bringing about changes in our bodies and the universe around us, man has gained understanding and control mastery in only an infinitesimal quantity. In his quest for Power through Knowledge, man has scarcely progressed beyond the early pioneer stage. Myth, legend and fairytale remain the bulwark of man's defense against those natural forces and changes that continue beyond his realm of understanding and control. The common cold; a trip to Mars or Venus; the ocean floor; the interior of the earth; the origin of life; teleportation; the workings of the human brain; these challenges will guide man's quest for Power through Knowledge for eons in the future of time.

Guler celebrates her birthday at a German Club meeting.

To the students:

First I would like to extend my gratitude to the American Field Service for allowing me to come to the United States.

I feel that I am the luckiest AFS student. I have lived with a wonderful family and I have met many nice people.

I hope that I have presented a good example of the Turkish people. If you have learned but one thing about my people and our life in Turkey, I'll be very happy.

Basic has shown me the American way of life and for that I shall be ever grateful to you the students and the teachers.

I would like to thank everyone for all the help they have given me, especially the Rotary Club.

I'll never be able to forget this nice year that I have spent in the United States.

Thank you.

Sincerely yours,
Güler Aksoy

Ask almost any adult, and he will tell you that a senior is at the stage where he need not worry; that he is carefree, not responsible to anyone. Ask a senior, and he will tell you that this is not true.

It is at this point that we are deciding what sort of life we are going to make for ourselves, whether we will go to work, continue our formal education, enlist in the armed forces or get married. The preparation for putting these decisions into effect is exhausting and nerve-racking, especially for those of us planning to go ahead into college. The entrance examinations leave us mentally worn-out, and waiting for the results does nothing for our nerves. The climax of anxiety comes with the arrival of the letter of acceptance or rejection from our chosen university. Even those of us not going on to college find the last year of high school a tiring experience. The term paper in English, the government reports, our jobs, and just having gone through twelve years of school mount up to make us more than willing for a change.

We, the class of 1965 can be proud of our accomplishments in building the spirit of Basic High School and adding to its academic poise.

We have chosen the white rose as our flower pink and orchid our colors.

No matter what fields we choose to enter, the education we received at Basic High School will serve as a strong basis. It was here that we gained so much of the knowledge that will enable us to build our power as a nation and as individuals. We feel that the theme of our yearbook, POWER THROUGH KNOWLEDGE, is very apropos to our class.

IN MEMORIAM

William Martinez

Tho, lost to sight, to memory dear
Thou ever wilt remain;
One hope my heart can cheer,
The hope to meet again.

—Linley

School History

Basic High School was founded at the present site of Henderson Junior High School in 1942. The class of '43 was the first to graduate from Basic, thus making the Class of 1965 Basic's twenty-second graduating class. Since its founding, Basic has grown. It has grown in size — 10 in the class of '43, 230 in '65; it has grown from Townsite to its present site; and, as the school motto indicates, it has grown in Power Through Knowledge, having one of the finest curriculums in the West.

The Class of '65, in its three years at Basic, has seen its school add a new office and two new wings. It has seen the school's spirit rise steadily. And the class itself has grown in cultural stature and ability to cope with the future. It has inherited a proud tradition that has passed from twenty-one classes before and will go to untold future classes.

The traditions of Basic High School vary widely. There are the old athletic rivalries with Vegas High and Boulder High. There is the pre-basketball game ceremony. And, of course, there is the time-honored initiation of painting the "B" on Black Mountain. There are new traditions beginning also. Homecoming 1964 marked the first time that we had a Homecoming parade. We hope that the future classes of Basic High will preserve the old traditions as well as add their own.

School colors: Royal Blue and Silver

Motto: Power Through Knowledge

ALMA MATER

Hail Basic High School,
Hats off to you.
Ever you'll find us
Loyal and true.
Firm and undaunted
Always we'll be.
Hail to the school we love,
Here's a toast to thee.

SCHOOL SONG

The Blue and White forever
Shout for victory
For our school and our team
One for all are we
And we will make the golden school days
A glorious success.
Three cheers for our school,
Dear old B.H.S.
Rah! Rah! Rah!

Junior Class Officers

The junior year of high school may very well be the happiest, despite the fact that it is generally rougher than the preceding years. By the time a student is a junior, he is a bit tired of being the underdog and becoming an upperclassman is a great pleasure. It is a year of great activity. The junior carnival, with its accompanying slave sale, is always a campus highlight. It is also the class's biggest single money-making project, in preparation for the Junior Prom and the activities the class will pursue as seniors. But the best part of being a junior is being able to look forward to yet another year of comparative leisure before confronting the problems that follow: graduation, college, the service, employment, and all the other pressing responsibilities of incipient adulthood.

Sophomore Class

Officers: Leslie Plamondon, Secretary; Tom Alred, Treasurer; Rick Heitert, President; Pam Phillips, Vice-President.

A sophomore is at a turning point of his career. He is leaving the naiveté of the freshman, but he still has not reached the maturity of the upperclassmen. He is just beginning to sample the responsibilities of adulthood, but can still express his youthful exuberance by such typically teen-age activities as dances, ball games, pep assemblies, and school projects. It was the sophomore class of '65 that was initiated in the traditional painting of the "B" shown below. They staged a successful reverse on the theme of "Ebb Tide." Now they find that they are just sampling life in high school and are eager to move on to the position of leadership they can enjoy as upperclassmen.

Freshman Class

Officers: Ricky Guinn, Vice-President; Gail Duckworth, Secretary; Don Erickson, President; Cynthia Pagen, Treasurer.

Just what is a freshman? There is no set answer. A freshman can be almost anything; he fits into no particular mold. But there are certain things you can count on his being. For one thing, he is enthusiastic; he's willing to try anything . . . Well, maybe homework . . . He is sure to be somewhat overawed by what he finds going on around him; he looks up at the seniors, wondering how it is to have term papers due, colleges to apply to, and worlds to conquer; and he's grateful that he has at least a couple of years of contentment left to him. But most of all, the freshman is the little man on campus, happy to be where he is and not really caring too much about anything.

Up until about ten years ago, there was only one joint club at Basic for foreign languages. With the growth of the curriculum, new clubs branched out. But the Latin Club, probably the oldest, has a rich tradition. Its members strive to recapture the flavor of ancient Rome. They hear speakers on Roman life and, when possible, observe artifacts brought from the Old World. In an effort to retain the Roman flavor, the officers bear typical Roman names: Pontifex Maximus (high priest), Consul, Quaestor, Praetor, and Aedile. The club's largest activity is the initiation banquet.

Future

Nurses

of America

The F.N.A. Club consists of high school girls who are generally interested in the field of Medicine as a career. Interest is stimulated by guest speakers who are employed in the various Medical fields.

Officers: L-R: Carol Sessions; Verlynn Sanders; Joanne Nichols; Leanna Allred.

Future Teachers of America

A teacher is Truth with chalk dust

Biology Club

Biology Club consists of students who have a general interest in Biology. At meetings, field trips and other points of interest are discussed.

Steve Bernsten, Jerry Blair, Sandy Dodd, Robert Guilford.

Camera Club

Few people realize that there's more to photography than pressing a button on a little black, weirdly complicated case. There is also a knowledge of chemistry and the principle of light involved. And when it comes to printing for the yearbook, there is also an element of time — a very significant element at that. Our thanks go to Mr. Crisler and his camera club for all their help.

Electronics Club

Gary Broadway, Veep; Jerry Blair, Pres.; Dennis Hall, Dead Ohm; Greg Gerstner, Pic Forad; Ron Pugh, Treasurer; Rodney Miller, Milli Henry; Robert Guilford, shock hazard; Scott Bennion, Grand Worthy Erg; Clark Neilson, Chief Technician; Drake Smith, secretary; David Ramstead, chief engineer.

Drafting Club

The purpose of the Drafting Club is to study drafting and architecture. At their monthly meetings, the members hear from guest speakers who discuss the application of the science of drafting in modern architecture.

Math Club

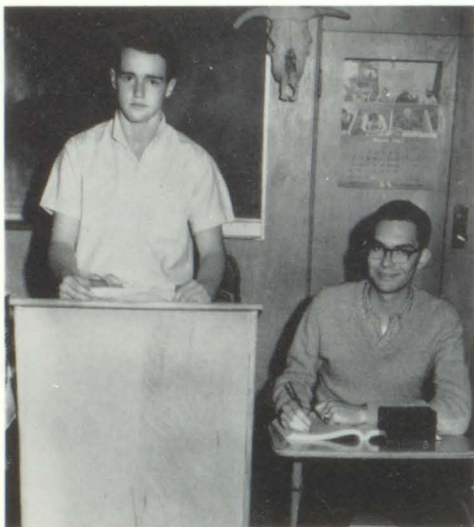

L-R: Bill Purcell; Robert Gillford; Kathy Compton; Craig Heki; Roger Peeples.

Debate Club

Mr. Parsons and debaters discuss a point at one of their meetings.

Russell Lawrence and Gary Hargett.

This was the second year of debate at Basic High School. Each year there is a different topic of debate for the entire nation. The topic for this year was: Resolved: that nuclear weapons should be controlled by an international organization. This year's teams, under the guidance of Mr. Parsons, attended debate contests in Utah, Sparks, Las Vegas, and Reno. Debate, along with the other forensics activities, is one of the school's up-and-coming activities.

Distributive

Education

The purpose of D.E.C.A. is to acquaint the students with retailing. The Basic High School Chapter has been very active in the State, as well as the County. The DE Club has charge of the Student Store and has taken many interesting field trips throughout the year.

Officers: Row 1: L-R: Debbie Coronus; Kathy Graham; Sherri Trumble; Dorothy O'Neil; Row 2: Mr. Botts; David Torres; Larry Cardwell; Ed Langen.

The Trade and Industry Club. The spirit of the club is shown in its emblem, Progress and Service. The members work for progress and service to Basic, as shown through the work on the benches and the painting of the refreshment stand on the home side of the football field.

Governor's Safety Council

Left to Right: Pete Arkell, Debbie Winningham, Governor Sawyer, Tina Bachman, and Jim Campbell.

The Governor's Safety Convention, held in Hawthorne, Nevada, this year, was the prelude to high school safety programs throughout the State. The student safety program works with Governor Sawyer and the National Safety Council. This student branch of the Nevada Safety Council promotes safety in communities and member high schools.

El Lobo

Putting a yearbook together is hard work. The 64-65 El Lobo staff has put in a lot of hours planning pages, hunting ads, doing layouts, and generally developing frayed nerves. But all the effort is worthwhile. The staff chose "Power Through Knowledge" as this book's theme because it feels that incorporating the school motto is a fitting salute to Basic. We have tried to present a book that will always show what the 64-65 school year was really like.

During the week after school was out in June of 1964, Gary Hargett and Pam Love, editor and business manager, attended a journalism clinic at Utah State University. Classes lasted all day. With Mrs. Purcell, the sponsor, the students from Basic learned photography technics, did layouts, and got a good sampling of university life. Gary and Pam were awarded pen sets for being the most outstanding students at the clinic.

Pam Love, business manager, and Phyllis Stewart, assistant, were in charge of the book's finances.

These are pretty good odds. Unfortunately, the work was not always this pleasant.

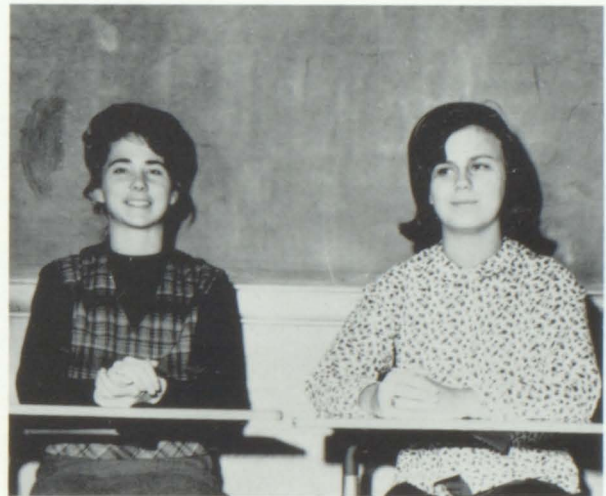

Ellen Volway and Karol Hopkins, staff in charge of administration, government, and seniors.

Marsha Ross, editor of undergraduates.

Linda Townsend and Sharon Wick, organizations staff.

Debbie Winningham and Debbie Corneos, staff for sports and activities.

Earl Green and Bonnie Heard, art staff.

Senior Class Play One Senior M Is Big Success

"Hey, did you hear who got the part of Tammy?" "Guess who got a part in the Senior Class Play?" Those were the general topics of conversation going around Basic last month, as Mrs. Louise Steed announced who the roles would be played by. And now things would get under way!

In the early weeks many seniors spent nights in the gym, learning and practicing their lines. Most of the people in the play will tell you that these were the best nights, when EVERYTHING from politics to homecoming to "What are you going to wear in the play?" were soon straightened out and important matters, such as where to study and who would go down to get the cokes, were no longer problems. Everyone

Senior Class Play One Senior M

There were 172 students in the senior class last year, who made the honor roll for the first six weeks. Russell Lawrence, who acquired straight A's, was the only student to receive an "A" honor roll.

On the "AB" honor roll in the senior class are Darrin, Myrna Andersen, Blair, Bonnie Bray, Aleta Caldwell, Rusty Gary Hargett, Dale Darcy Johnson, Pam Verne Miller, Freda Marilyn Schultz, Pam Johnny Yeager, Doy head and Carol Woot

Juniors on the "A" roll are Jim Blinn Buchanan, Terrill Cloeck, Robin Ellis, Valner, Rosie Grady, Kinns, Stephen Lutz, and Debbie Winningham

LONG TRIP

Leaving after school is out in spring, those students going the long trip to Mexico City, arrive in El Paso by chartered bus, cross the border in a private pullman car, spend two days on the train. During the eight days in which the students are in Mexico City, they will take a series of tours.

From Las Vegas Sun Youth Forum

Peter LaPorta was chosen as a finalist in the Sun Youth Forum held in Las Vegas on November 19. His discussion group was on the subject of Juvenile Affairs.

Eighty juniors and seniors represented Basic High School at the Sun Youth Forum. The annual event of the Youth Forum, sponsored by the Sun newspaper, was held at the Las Vegas Convention Center. The forum consisted of students of students from various high schools in the Las Vegas area. The students were chosen through U.S. History and Government classes by the teachers. The students discussed various topics in groups. The topics and groups chosen for this year were as follows:

bright, Jim DeMint, Dewey Getz, Kathy Hogen, Jim Pack, Trudy Ream, Carol Rikard, Sharon Wick and Linda Townsend.

Education; Sue Green—group leader, Eddie Beeman, Terrill Clove, Wendy Dietrich, Della Leon, Sam Musgrave, Freda Salamy, Phyllis Stewart, Clarence Swinny and Phil Taylor.

Man in Our Society; Pam Love—group leader, Lloyd Beadle, Denise Griggs, Gary Hargett, Richard Lindblom, Ferrel Peterson, Marsha Ross, Greg Sullivan and Kathy Thomas.

The Basic High School chorus, under the direction of Mr. Chapman Wooten, is one of the most active groups on campus. Its two main projects during the year are the annual Christmas concert, presented in conjunction with the band, and operetta in the spring. Within the framework of the chorus are the Girl's Glee Club and the Madrigals, both of which perform in addition to the regular chorus at musical presentations.

Miss Guler Aksoy's attendance at Basic this year qualified our school for the Americans Abroad program under the American Field Service. Candidates must meet rigorous standards of character and adaptability in order to represent our country well while overseas. The candidate who is chosen is placed in an unusual position because he often has only a short time to prepare for the trip and may find himself in a country of whose language he is totally ignorant. Two of Basic's candidates, Rusty Dodd and Debbie Winningham, have been chosen for at least the semifinals. It is a wonderful experience, profitable to both country and the individual.

Homecoming Parade

This was the first time that Basic had a parade in honor of the alumni at Homecoming. This is a new tradition to be continued by future classes. The parade was the highlight of a weekend set off in an assembly in which the alumni presented a skit and past student body presidents from Basic, Sandra Weber, Dennis Rosch, and Ray Martinez made speeches about Basic's traditions

National Merit Scholarship Program

Each year in the spring, the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test is given to high school juniors. This test is designed to give outstanding students a chance for substantial scholarships under the program. Because of his scores on this and other tests, Russell Lawrence was given an opportunity to compete as a finalist and perhaps receive a large scholarship at the Michigan State University.

National Science Foundation

The Summer Science Training Program in Mathematics accepts only a limited number of students for its program for future scientists and mathematicians. Jerry Blair was fortunate enough to be chosen to attend the mathematics program at San Diego State College in the summer of 1964. At the program, students working under the supervision of college professors were given a thorough introduction to higher mathematics.
