

MORRY'S STORY

By MORRY ZENOFF

Ike Eisenhower for president.
What a wonderful tonic for you and I — Mr. and Mrs. Ordinary Citizen.

It makes no difference whether we are Republican or Democrat. It makes no difference how you will ultimately vote. It makes no difference what the campaign issues will be.

Nothing makes a difference — except that a great American, one of the greatest of all living Americans, has offered to serve the people—if they want him.

Somehow, from somewhere, there comes to us a sudden surge of excitement, a thrill, a moral lift, a peaceful feeling that all is now right with the world. There is a feeling of safety and of assurance that our freedom, our homes, our job of raising children for an unknown future—is now all worthwhile.

The force and drive and spirit that is America, that exemplifies the Yankee who went west as a Pioneer, the American who fought depressions and wars in order to live in our nation of today—the force and drive and spirit is re-charged now with the announcement that Ike will run for president.

Through all the past few years, the tomfoolery of public officials, the graft and the chiseling and the deceit, we have felt ourselves being pulled downward. We have felt the need of ourselves to come along and make us thrilled and excited again. Roosevelt came along and did it in the dark days of 1932. Eisenhower has come along in the dark days of 1952.

For him, I predict, a campaign that will need few words. I predict a nation-wide flare of spirit that will bring young and old out to cheer Ike onward the likes of which this nation has never seen. If you have been as fortunate as I have been, to catch an on-the-scene glimpse of this man and his wonderful smile, you will agree that he is the "IT" man of our generation.

His inexperience in politics will be criticized by the wise ones, yet his inexperience in politics is what you and I commend because the word "politics" has become a sickening word, emblematic of everything bad, significant of nothing good.

The fact that he has been an Able American, the fact that he is willing to serve, the fact that he supplies the "IT" that regenerates our national spirit — is all that is necessary.

The rest, we assume, will work out. He has shown by experience that he believes in picking able assistants, that he believes in peace, that he hates communism, that he is a humanitarian, that he cannot or will not be run by others, that he believes in the rights for the majority.

Then, he is second to none as far as knowing the needs of the people of Europe. His foreign policy will be thought out along the right line.

Yes—the nation has been given a much-needed shot in the arm with the announcement that Ike Eisenhower would be willing to be our president.

— COMBING OUR TOWN

By "Bobby" Combs

We, the people of Henderson, Boulder City and Las Vegas should be very proud of the young boys who attended the Santa Claus Bowl recently at Lakeland, Florida.

The junior gridders represented Southern Nevada and they won the Pop Warner National character championship trophy which is really an honor. I have talked with people from various parts of the United States and they were under the impression that a town where gambling and drinking is wide open is a bad influence on our youngsters, and that they are liable to grow up into rough necks —which is not so, as our boys proved.

Don't forget, Folks the day is drawing near for the American Red Cross bloodmobile which will be here January 23. We should all try and donate if possible as it is for a very worthy cause. Those wishing to donate may do so by phoning Mrs. Lou Sullivan at 887-W or Mrs. Wilmer Wilkerson at 859-J. Volunteers are needed for nurses aids — no nursing experience is needed; typists, receptionists and canteen workers. Volunteers are also needed to drive donors to and from the plant. Volunteers may phone Mrs. N. D. Van Wagenen at 1032-W.

Final Rites Pending for Crash Victim, Forrester G. Weston

Funeral services are pending until the arrival of relatives of Forrester G. Weston, 45, of 147 Magnesium Street, who was killed in a head-on collision one mile north of Bonanza Road on the Tonopah highway on January 6.

Weston has been an employee of the Yellow Cab Co. for the past seven years in Las Vegas. He was born in Fresno, California and was the only brother of Mrs. C. G. Shay of 158 Manganese. He was also a former employee of the BMI plant in Henderson.

He is survived by his wife Emily; daughter Joan; father and mother Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wilkins of Covina, California; a sister, Mrs. C. G. Shay of Henderson; 2 nephews, Kenneth W. Silvers of Los Angeles, and Richard Jay Shay of Fresno, California.

University Women To Meet Tonight

Mrs. Robert Woodruff, president of the American Association of University Women, announced that their regular business meeting will be held this evening at 8:00 PM at the home of Mrs. Earl Keenan of 219 Water Street.

Following the business meeting a program of "Folk Music" will be presented by the McCall sisters.

Ronald Hamblin appeared before Judge Charles Dohrenwend's court on January 5th. Hamblin was given a traffic citation for failing to make a boulevard stop and for driving without a license.

Polio Drive Needs Support

E. D. Joyce, chairman of the local infantile paralysis drive, announced that contributions can now be given and will be accepted in the local drive through January. Time on the drive was extended from two weeks to a full month because of last year's excessive strain upon the funds.

The estimated deficit at the end of 1951 was $5,000,000, Joyce said, and the March of Dimes will be mortgaged for this amount before any money may be set aside for scientific research or for contingencies that lie ahead this summer.

Joyce said that one half of the money raised remains in the county for the benefit of those stricken, and the other half of the fund is sent to the national headquarters where it is used for a scientific attack upon polio, the training of experts and financial assistance to those communities whose funds have been depleted by epidemics of the disease.

No community can stand alone against a major outbreak of polio Joyce said, and stated that he hoped Henderson would contribute generously to the fund in order that those already stricken in this county can continue to receive the proper treatment and care.

Power Company Discloses Its Figures Here

Merchants of the Henderson business district met with the officials of the California Pacific Utilities company last Friday afternoon to work out a schedule of rates affecting businesses which do not come under the regular commercial schedule submitted by the utilities company to the state public service commission. The businesses under discussion were those which are under the three phase system not the single phase system.

No formal protests were registered at the hearing by any firm or individuals. The chamber of commerce and individuals requested full explanation as to why the rates were higher for Henderson than for Las Vegas. E. K. Albert and C. W. Bramble, vice presidents of Cal Pacific, submitted their financial report and also a statement of estimates of revenues and expenses for the first year of operations. The company expects to spend $221,000 the first year. This figure includes the cost of the townsite system. The company expects a return of the first year on its investment of $164,200, less $151,200 operating costs, of approximately $13,000.

Included in its plans for the first year is the construction of an office building at a cost of $15,000, operating equipment such as trucks, additional transformers short line extensions to new housing additions and additional meters. The company will negotiate with the Clark county housing authority on a contract for power to be furnished to Carver Park and Victory Village. This matter will be discussed at a later date.

Albert told Robert Allen, public service commission chairman, that the company is considering submitting an application for the establishment of gas lines in the townsite. He commented that at first the lines would be used to transport propane, but should natural gas come into the area at a later date, the system could instantly be converted to natural gas. He pointed out that the gas would relieve the power shortage for space heaters which is facing the new housing development at Henderson.

Asked by Allen if the Federal Homes development company had contacted them regarding electricity for fuel, Albert said that they had had a letter from Bert Nicholas stating that he would call upon them but that he had not done so to date.

Lloyd Compton of the Southern Nevada power company appeared at the hearing and stated that he wished it to be a matter of record that this firm was not protesting the entrance of the Cal Pacific into the power field in Southern Nevada. The CRC was represented by Frank Strong, member, A. J. Shaver, chief engineer, and Julian Moore, project manager. A. T. Newell of the Stauffer Chemical company was present as was Rollin Smith of Titanium Metals corporation. Preston Austin of the chamber of commerce, N. D. Van Wagenen, Jo McBeath the Prime Meats and Poultry market and the Foodland markets were also represented.

Robert Allen told those assembled that a decision would be forthcoming within a short time, possibly in time for the Cal Pacific to take over by February 1 if the application was approved.

Building the Central Pacific

BUILDING THE Central Pacific Railway across Nevada in many respects was comparable to the construction of the Panama Canal and the Pyramids of Egypt.

Surveys had been in progress for many years, but the great barricade of the Sierras was the toughest blockade, unless one counted the effective opposition of business interest in California dependent upon sea trade, and the apathy of the Bay area itself.

Even the financiers of the Comstock Lode purchased more new railroad stock than all of the great City of San Francisco. Some railroad authorities claim the "coolness of the Bay region" delayed the building of the Central Pacific a full year, and denied San Francisco forever the control of trade in the rich Rocky Mountain states (by allowing the brash Union Pacific Railroad to get there first).

As fast as the Central Pacific hired men they deserted to the booming Nevada mines! In desperation they then engaged thousands of Chinese coolies, stripped the Sierras of trees for ties, strung pipe to desert springs, and flung tracks across the alkali desert wastes. In December 1867 the first locomotive crossed into Nevada, and by June 1868, the railroad was in Lake's Crossing, which it re-named "Reno."

The Central Pacific construction camps had a strong, effective form of prohibition, in contrast to the Union Pacific, and boot-leggers had a way of moving on with panicky speed. Tent cities sprouted all the way up the Humboldt. With the Central Pacific building east, and the Union Pacific Railroad west, the grades soon passed each other in eastern Nevada, the rights-of-way being parallel and close together. The Irish immigrants working on the Union Pacific took independent action and attacked the coolies of the Central, blowing up culverts and men without qualm. Even the Paiutes terrorized the Orientals with tales of huge snakes which loved to eat Chinese.

The coolies soon adapted themselves to the new situation, however, and shortly blew up their Irish tormentors with equal deadliness and enthusiasm. It was a situation which demanded an armistice and peace treaty between the railroad managements. One was quick in coming, resulting in the historic decision to join both railroads at Promontory Point, Utah.

The Central Pacific brought great volumes of travel, effective telegraphic communications, and a civilization itself, to the Humboldt River Valley. Where only a few dusty stage stations had languished, the railroad brought to life Wells, Elko, Carlin, Beowawe, Battle Mountain, Lovelock, Reno, and a host of settlements between. Engineers re-aligned segments of the route, and it became the most important on the Continent. Strangely, it proved to be a poor financial venture the first few years, until the railroad finally created much of its own market to serve.

Postal Rates Increased On January 1, Baldwin Says

Harold Baldwin, postmaster of the Henderson Post Office announced that an increase in postal rates started on January 1st. The increase effecting the majority of the Henderson people will be the charge of two cents for sealed or unsealed matter mailed for local delivery. Herebefore the charge has been one cent an ounce. Post cards and postal cards (those purchased from the government) will require a two cent stamp instead of the one cent stamp. The purchase price of postal cards when purchased in quantities of fifty or more will be increased by ten percent over the regular price of two cents each. Special delivery fees will be increased from fifteen cents to twenty cents on first class matter under two pounds in weight and from twenty-five cents to thirty-five cents on parcel post under two pounds.

Fees for registered mail will be increased; the minimum fee will be thirty cents instead of 25c and return receipts for registered and insured mail will cost seven cents instead of five cents. Baldwin stated that there appears to be some confusion regarding the rates for ordinary mail and air mail. The rates will remain the same; three cents an ounce for first class mail and six cents an ounce for air mail. Rates for parcel post and air mail parcel post will remain unchanged.

Basic Cagers Lose To Moapa 42-26

After being defeated by a score of 42-26 by the Moapa Valley Pirates in the opening basketball game of the season, the Basic Wolves began practicing up for the next contest which was played against Las Vegas last night. In the first quarter, the Wolves fell behind 13-5 and were unable to catch the pirates thereafter. At the half it was 26-13 and at the end of the third quarter, Moapa had Basic by a score of 37-17. High scoring honors went to Lattidge who managed to total six counts to the losers, but Virgil Weese also played a good game. The Moapa Valley Junior Varsity made it a clean sweep by thumping the Basic Jayvees, 41-32 in the preliminary contest. Ron Truman and Allen Lewis made 12 points.

Whitney News

By Lucille Carter
There's been quite a bit of excitement around since the oil rigger got here. They are drilling for oil about a mile north of Whitney. Wouldn't it be something if they have good luck and run into some of that greasy stuff!
Miss Dorothy Gunn returned home last Wednesday after visiting an aunt and uncle in Glendora California. She went down soon after Christmas. Her father, Harry Gunn drove down to Barstow to meet her and bring her the rest of the way home. Dorothy said she spent all her time watching television while she was there

They had quite a Christmas at the Gunn's home. All the family were there including the father Mr. F. F. Gunn of Ogden, Utah. There were 18 of them to eat on 40 pounds of Christmas turkey with all the trimmings.
Bill Burns has been very ill at his home with a cold. Had to be in bed for several days. Bill Mathison has had quite a cold also and had to take to the bed for awhile. Right now I'm boss at my house as papa is in bed with a cold and my son has been ill for over a week.

After missing two Sundays, because of illness, Mrs. Carpenter and son Kurtz are up and came out Sunday with the Reverend Carpenter.

There's mumps in town. Linda Mack had them, about six in the Cox family had them at one time. Loha Brenner got them and now Ruth Payne has them.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Benson and their new car went back to Culver City, California, where Harold is employed at the present time. Mary thinks there isn't any place like Whitney and comes home every chance she has. Mrs. Maxine Shumaker had some tough luck. She thought she would make a trip but she went to her doctor for a check-up and he ordered her to go home and go to bed on account of her blood pressure.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Gunn of Maywood, Calif., spent the weekend in Whitney with brother Harry.

Mr. Herbert Dunn has gone to Morgan, Utah to reside.

The parents and children of the Whitney schools wish to express their thanks to the friends and merchants of Whitney, who contributed so generously to the Christmas fund for treats for the children. The children made their own posters about the Christmas program. It's regretted that many of the younger children misunderstood about the evening program and thought it wasn't for them. A special note of thanks should go to Mr. DeMontague who played Santa Claus. He had a treat for all the children in the community. Several of the mothers assisted Mr. Dunn in preparing the program. Thanks are also sent to the parents that contributed the tree and decorations. The children had drawn names and before the program they exchanged gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Riggs entertained with a New Year's party. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Scott and daughter Phyllis Mr. and Mrs. Roy Peterson and son, Dana, and Mr. and Mrs. Lois Brenner. The evening was spent playing cards. At midnight a traditional Dutch dinner of pork and sauerkraut with blackeyed peas were served to insure good luck and prosperity during the New Year.

The Fossettes entertained 15 guests at a New Year's party.

Mrs. Bill Burns, her mother, Mrs. Ida Mathison of Sherman Oaks, Calif., and her son "Bud" Sutton, left Sunday for ten days vacation. They are visiting friends in Phoenix, Ariz., and Albuquerque. New Mex. Bud is home on leave from the U. S. Navy.

The executive board of the Whitney P-TA held its monthly meeting at the Brenner home last Friday evening. The committee chairmen are busy selecting members for their committees and making plans for the year. Anyone wishing to volunteer their services, please contact Mrs. Nina Brenner or Mrs. Bernice Riggs, president and vice-president of the club.

Our annual town board election will be held Monday evening January 14 at the school house at 8 P.M. Anyone of voting age, that has lived in the state for six months, the county for 30 days and in Whitney for ten days is eligible to vote.

Hoe Downers
Roy Hughes announced that the Hoe Downers will hold their square dances Fri. evening at 8 PM at the high school in room 9 and 10. Everyone is welcome.

Arthur Fumagalli Has Birthday

Arthur Fumagalli, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fumagalli, of 290 Basic Road celebrated his 12th birthday recently with a party. Bingo games were played and each guest won a prize. Vernon Edmondson won the prize in the big bingo game. Each guest received a favor and the traditional birthday cake was served with ice cream.

Honoring Arthur were: Ernie Lomprey, Vernon Edmondson, Stanley Fumagalli, James McIntyre, Jack White, Marlow Williams, Lois Korhous, Theresa Perin, Pamela Prishrey, Patty Van horne and Linda Pantuso.

Grace Honey
Grace Honey of 285 South Texas Street has returned home after spending the Christmas holidays with her family in San Diego, California. While in San Diego a picture was taken of five generations on her side of the family. Grace wishes to announce that her leather classes opened again on January 7th.

Some Hangovers Aren't What They Seem, Says MacKay

I said, "Lucie, maybe I'm getting old, but I think it's silly to go out tonight and knock ourselves out just because it's New Year's Eve. Let's stay home, make some popcorn, drink a couple of beers and save ourselves a few bucks — to say nothing of a hangover." So that's what we did. Spent a very enjoyable evening trying to make conversation and finally wound up in bed at ten o'clock.

I crawled out of the sack at 8 A.M. feeling as fit as a new girdle and why not? No hangover, no sour stomach, no strange lipstick on my nylon shirt to start an argument and nothing to do but enjoy the first day of the New Year —

I thought.

I heard the news just as I was starting to relax in the new easy chair I received for Christmas. Lucie said, "Dear, as long as you are not working today I think it would be a good time to take down the Christmas Tree." I said, "You mean I wasn't working up to now. But OK. Let's get at it and get it over with." So we undressed the tree and after twenty trips up and down a ladder and sixteen trips to the garage, I had the lights and ornaments stored away. Dumped the tree in the alley, returned to the house and started to collapse in my new chair.

I almost had my feet of the floor when Lucie said, "Dear, I don't think I like your chair in that corner." I said, "Probably be OK but the sideboard (800 pounds loaded) is in that corner." Lucie said, "I know. But we can move that over in the northwest corner."

I didn't bother to mention that the solid oak china cabinet (749 pounds, no china) was already located in THAT corner and would have to be moved to the southeast corner. Or that the southeast corner was slightly occupied by a fifty pound book case and three hundred pounds of books.

No Sir; I saved my breath and went to work. Figured I could have the job done in an hour, but after I got started, trouble reared up with its ugly puss. For instance, after moving the sideboard we discovered that it covered up the only light plug in the northeast corner. So I had to rattle the thing over into the southwest corner.

The piano looked swell in its new location, but we forgot that it had previously covered up a bleached spot in the rug — trademark of our Scotty pup at an early age — I tried covering the spot with both the book case and the china cabinet, but neither had the proper build or bulk to hide it. Finally compromised by parking a floor lamp on it.

There was one moment when I thought we had a proper combination and I headed for the kitchen and a drink of water. That was when I suggested moving the china cabinet to the patio, on account of we couldn't get the kitchen door open — Slight overlap.

Five hours and fifty thousand foot pounds of work later, I had the job licked, or rather it had me licked. I staggered in from the garage where I had stacked eighty pounds of old magazines and fell apart in my new chair. "The room looks nice, don't you think?" I asked Lucie. She said, "Yeeees, but I think maybe we ought to reverse the rug. It's beginning to show a little wear over there by the front door." I said, "Yeeees, I think you are right. However, right now I have to see a man up town. Be back in a minute."

I drug myself up on a bar stool and ordered a boilermaker and helper. Les said, "Boy, you must have had a large New Year's Eve to be hung over like that." I said, "Whadayou mean, hungover, I haven't had a drink for a week. Matter of fact I was in bed at ten o'clock last night." Les reached for the Old Father-in-law. "Maybe so, but you are the first patient I've ever had who could walk and lace his shoes at the same time."

Engineers Hear Douglass

The Southern Nevada Chapter of the Nevada Society of Professional Engineers, held their monthly dinner meeting in the Trophy Room of the Hotel Last Frontier Friday, January 4.

A. T. Newell, Board Member, presided over the meeting in the absence of President Ray Coulter and Vice-President "Weary" Wilson.

Phil Partridge, the Society's representative to the Clark County Civic Service Federation reported on the action taken by the Federation at its last meeting. Discussion of this report resulted in the unanimous passage of a Resolution supporting the petitions, of the Chamber of Commerce and the Las Vegas City Board of Commissioners, requesting the granting of Franchise to United and TWA Airlines for passenger service between Las Vegas and Los Angeles by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The speaker of the evening was L. R. Douglass, Bureau of Reclamation. Mr. Douglass told about his investigation of reclamation work in Japan at the request of American Occupation Authorities. Jim Shaver, program chairman introduced the speaker.

Nevada Health

Being a little chilly indoors during the cold snaps is a lot better than suffocating, the state department of health advises in a second installment of winter survival tips.

All habitations from sheep wagons to mansions, and closed cars as well, must be ventilated, no matter how low the mercury may drop, because the hazard of carbon monoxide poisoning still takes its toll.

Oil and gas heaters not equipped with vents leading outdoors still cause many deaths, usually when installed on a temporary basis, the records show. Water heaters frequently cause such tragedies.

Other winter hazards indoors are found in the use of cleaning fluids containing carbon tetrachlorides, which should be used only outdoors. Fire extinguishers employing this same chemical also are dangerous indoors, for when applied to a hot flame it creates the deadly gas called phosgene. Extinguishers employing the foam blanket, carbon dioxide, or soda-acid types of ingredients are safe for indoor use, but should be tested each season to make sure they are in workable condition.

Coast Guard Academy

Last call for applicants to the Coast Guard Academy, the Coast Guard announced today. The deadline for applications has been extended to January 15, 1952, from the date previously set at Jan. 1. Appointment to the Academy is by competitive examination only. Coast Guard officials stated. High school graduates between 17 and 23 who pass the Academy entrance examination and its physical tests become eligible for the four-year tuition-free Academy course. Graduates receive an engineering degree and a Coast Guard officer's commission. Entrance examination will be held in 100 cities throughout the United States, including Los Angeles, Phoenix and Tucson, on February 18 and 19, but application should be made in writing immediately to Coast Guard Headquarters, Washington, D. C.

The schedule of study at the Academy, located at New London Conn., consists of science, mathematics, engineering, social studies and English as well as practical training in nautical skills. A full program of athletic and social events is provided, and every summer a group of cadets takes a training cruise to foreign countries aboard the Eagle, the Academy's three-masted full-rigged sailing vessel. Information on the Academy, requirements for admission and application forms may be obtained by writing to the U. S. Coast Guard, Times Building, Long Beach Calif., or the Commandant, U. S. Coast Guard, Washington, D. C.

Dogs Will Kill The Deer

An appeal to dog owners in many areas to keep dogs at home during the winter months was made recently by the State Fish and Game Commission. Game officials said that a growing number of reports regarding dogs chasing and killing deer have been received following the recent storms and deep snows. The game men pointed out that deer often fall easy prey to marauding dogs when the deer flounder and break through the drifts while the dogs run along the top without breaking through and attack the stranded animal. Exhaustion and freezing were also listed as another cause of deer death by game officials, who said that a long chase could cause death even if the deer were not pulled down. Washoe county was listed as one of the major trouble spots. Conservation officers have been busy answering citizen complaints since the last storm and report several deer killed.

BOB WOODRUFF

Let's talk about flashbulbs now that so many of us are taking flash pictures. A good idea before you put the bulb in your flash unit is to rub the tip over something rough and dry, preferably a file or a nail file. (The sole of your shoe if it is dry), or a belt buckle. If you forget to do this or get the bulb in tight, or forget your batteries, or if for some reason the bulb doesn't flash. Try the picture right over again without changing the film number. Ninety percent of the time the repeat picture will be just right. The only times it will not work will be if there is a light or a lighted window behind the person in the picture, or if you are using flash outside in daylight to break up shadows.

Another thing to remember about flash pictures is that distance from camera to subject and size and color of room make a difference. If you are taking pictures of the children, or others in the bathtub, move the camera a little further away. The distance will balance the light being bounced around by the white tub and white walls.

If, on the other hand, you are taking pictures in the living room with dark walls, or outside at night, get the camera as close to the subject as the camera and size of the subject will permit.

If you forget all this and just take snaps by flash you will still get pictures because taking pictures by flash is as simple as taking snaps by sunlight.

BASIC PHOTO again has a complete stock of flashbulbs - let us help you.
