Townsite Nears Dawn of New Era As Special Committee Gets Set To Whip Final Plans into Shape

As the result of last week's meeting here of the Colorado River commission, it appears that many changes are destined to take place in Henderson in the very near future. Public interest is becoming more and more intense as recent developments indicate that it won't be long until final details of the townsite purchase proposal are ironed out and the long awaited transaction becomes reality.

More than 50 residents crowded into a 400 square foot room last Friday morning to observe the CRC's reaction to a proposal submitted by the plant lessees and to voice their interest in the proposition. Others, including a preponderance of housewives, aligned themselves along the hallway outside the jammed conference room and made their presence known by spasmodic outbursts of applause whenever they heard their friends and neighbors applauding inside the chamber.

On hand to tell the commission about his organization's attitude was Ralph Alsop, secretary of the Metal Trades Council. Representing the Henderson Tenants' Council were Earl Keenan, Bill Byrne and Jim McKay.

Special Committee
 When it became apparent that the proposal of Basic Management Incorporated did not meet fully with the approval of Alsop and others, it was agreed that a special committee would confer within a few days in an effort to straighten out the items in question. The committee would be composed of three members each of the CRC, BMI, the Tenants' Council and the Union, as well as John Mueller of the General Services Administration, if possible. It was expected that this group would meet sometime this week, but the meeting was later postponed until sometime next week. Governor Charles Russell, serving as chairman of the meeting, stressed the importance of early approval of the townsite purchase order that the property can be placed on the tax rolls of the state of Nevada without undue delay.

Changeover date for the townsite power system was set for April 16, at which time California Pacific Utilities Company will take over operation of these facilities.

Sales Okayed
 Approval was given for the purchase by Western Electrochemical Company of their facilities, as well as a similar purchase by Stauffer Chemical Company of Nevada. Other organizations involved in miscellaneous transactions include United States Lime Products Company, Combined Reduction Company, National Lead, Molybdenum Corporation, Hercules Powder Company and Federal Homes Development Co. Total credits on the full purchase price come to $19,478,296, leaving a balance of $4,545,126 to be paid by Basic Management Incorporated for remaining assets in the proposal. After all individual plant sales have been consummated, BMI is slated to take over the remaining assets.

When all transactions have been completed, the Colorado River Commission is scheduled to withdraw from the operational setup here and resume its former sole duty as the state's representative in the handling of water and electrical energy allocated to the State of Nevada from the Colorado River and other sources.

Other Matters
 Other items considered at last week's CRC session included:

Granting of acreage to Las Vegas Educational District Two as a site for the proposed new Basic High School structure;

A request by St. Peter's church for school and playground land parcels;

An application for purchase of Basic Amusement Center by the occupant, Joe Barilleaux;

The need for a new American Legion baseball diamond to replace the present one, on which a restaurant and motel will be erected at Vegas Wash road and Boulder Highway;

A controversy about acreage described as placer claims by Archie Ryan, who requested power and water for the operation of a gravel plant, and was informed that, it appears that the state holds title to this property;

Possible payment from the state school emergency contingency fund of interest on a $78,000 emergency loan previously obtained by the school board;

An offer from Frank Morrell to purchase property on Water St. for erection of a flower shop.

Officials Present
 Also in attendance were members of the State Board of Control; Louis Ferrari, state surveyor general; John Kooztz, secretary of state; Dan Franks, state treasurer; Pete Meriardo, state controller; and Ralph Thomas, secretary to the governor and clerk of the board.

Stauffer Chemical Company was the second of the individual plant lessees to submit a purchase plan. Prior to the Stauffer offer, Wecco had offered more than $4 million for its facilities.

Sale of Stauffer Facilities To Company Okayed by State Board

Sale of Stauffer Chemical Company's facilities, effective the last day of March, was given the green light by the State of Nevada Board of Control here late Saturday afternoon. Together with the proposal to purchase, the Colorado River Commission had received a check from the Stauffer company for $391,000. Subject to audit, the sale price was set at $4,258,000.

Approval of the transaction by the Board of Control gave the final go-ahead signal to the proposal.

A Recapitulation

Exactly one month ago, I became a member of the staff of the Henderson HOME NEWS. At that time, I wrote a piece that stressed my enthusiasm about Henderson, its people, and its potentialities. It seems appropriate now to view the past thirty-one days in retrospect, consider the things I've learned about this community during that period, and analyze my reaction to them.

This I have done. The result is gratifying.

Suffice it to say that the wonders that surround us here are far too numerous to mention in this editorial. A few of them are subjects of news stories in this very issue of your community newspaper. It will continue to be my pleasant privilege to chronicle other such events for future editions of the HOME NEWS.

A month after I wrote my first column about Henderson, I find today that I am EVEN MORE ENTHUSIASTIC! Our town is rapidly becoming more and more important. It is perhaps destined to become even greater than its citizens can now envision in their most rosy dreams!

—W. N.

The nominating board met last week and the following persons were chosen: President, Marjorie De Wolf, First Vice President, Ruth Compton; Second Vice President, June Ross; Third Vice President, Mrs. Frank Brancfield; Secretary, Claudia Jaine; Treasurer, John Winlow; Parliamentarian, Joe Schreck; Historian, Bob Taylor. Election will be from the floor this evening.

Plan to Contact Commissioners

Plans for contacting the County Commissioners relative to achieving better control of dogs here was discussed at Tuesday's luncheon meeting of the Henderson Chamber of Commerce board of directors at the Swanky club.

Local leases and a county ordinance provide that all dogs be kept on their own premises or on a leash while off the premises, but it was pointed out that this regulation has not been rigidly observed in the Townsite, Victory Village and Carver Park.

Plans were also completed at the meet for the Tenth Anniversary celebration, to be held April 17-20.

Benefit Dance Here Tonight

Ben Banning and Roy Hughes will be the callers at a square dance to be given by the Ho' Downers at Titanium Administration building tonight at eight. There will be a donation of one dollar per couple, with proceeds slated to benefit the current high school band uniform fund drive.

Musicians from Boulder City will furnish the orchestral music, and both square dancing and modern dancing will be featured. Refreshments will be served.

As their contribution to the community-wide Tenth Anniversary celebration, Ho' Downers will conduct a mammoth street dance on Saturday, April 19.

Lily Parade

The pretty girl who pins an Easter lily on your coat lapel Saturday will be dispensing the true spirit of Easter, it is pointed out by members of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority who are sponsoring the annual event.

The tiny lilies, they state, are a symbol of hope for happy, useful lives for nearly three hundred crippled kiddies in Nevada.

Purpose of the Easter lily parade is to raise funds for the Nevada Society for Crippled Children's physical therapy program. Chairmen of the local project are Elizabeth Dandy, Betty Price and Mrs. Gordon McCaw.

Rotary Club Organized Here; R. W. Lottridge Elected Prexy

A provisional Rotary Club for this Community, which will meet hereafter at noon Fridays at the Swanky Club, was organized on Monday. The initial regular meeting will take place tomorrow.

Heading the new organization will be R. W. Lottridge, president; F. A. McGonigle, vice president; Don Ashbaugh, secretary; Tom War, treasurer; and Robert F. Shurtz, sergeant at arms. Completing the board of directors will be Frank Trotter, Jo McBeath and J. Ray Coulter.

The group will function as a provisional unit until chartered by Rotary International. Charter night is tentatively slated for May 2, with the time and place still to be chosen.

Henderson Rotary Club was sponsored jointly by the clubs in Las Vegas and Boulder City. Preliminary organizational work was done by A. J. Shaver, a member of Las Vegas Rotary Club, who had been appointed a special district deputy by Carl Miller, district governor. Shaver was assisted by Don Ashbaugh.

Shaver stated that a number of key men here had been interviewed and a survey indicated that Rotary has an excellent chance of taking an important place in this fast-growing community.

Honor AAUW President At Last Frontier

Mrs. Paul Coates and Mrs. Robert Woodruff, of the Henderson branch of the American Association of Uni. Women, attended a dinner honoring Dr. Susan Riley, national president of AAUW, in the Trophy Room of the Last Frontier on Tuesday evening.

A number of members of the Henderson group later heard a talk by Dr. Riley at the Silver Slipper Ballroom.

Next meeting of the Henderson AAUW is slated for next Thursday at 8 p. m. at the home of Miss Rodenhamel in Boulder City.

Masonic Club Election Slated

The Masonic Club of Henderson will hold its annual election of officers next Monday at 8 p. m. in Lounge Number Two, Basic Apartments.

Refreshments will be furnished by Paul Dickover of Pittman.

DAVID RUST DIES

David Rust of Water Street passed away at Clark County hospital yesterday morning, as the result of burns suffered a couple of months ago while he was working on a Las Vegas construction job. The Henderson man is survived by his wife, Zenna, and their children, Cheri, Mary, Patsy and David.

Chuck Truworthy To Head New Organization of Citizens Here

Officers were elected and concrete plans were laid at a meeting of the board of directors of the newly-organized United Citizens for Better Government for the Henderson District, which was held Tuesday night at the high school.

Elected to head the group was Chuck Truworthy. Bob Woodruff will serve as vice chairman. Mrs. John Ivary, treasurer; and Larry Trumbull, secretary.

Others on the board are Rev. Ford Gilbert, Miss Lou Sullivan, Jim Lambert, Bob Maxey, Bill Mathewson, Lyl Burkholder, Gordon McCaw, Darrell Pitts, John Dooley, Mrs. Aksel Barka and B. U. Hillis.

Amotion was unanimously adopted where it was set forth that the board would be set up to function as a temporary town board; a politically-impartial group to be of service to the best interests of Henderson wherever and whenever needed.

It was decided that open forums will be conducted for the public, at which qualified speakers will discuss topics of vital importance to the entire community.

A sub-committee was appointed to draft certain rules for future procedure. These suggested regulations will be submitted to the members of the board at their next get-together on April 14.

Striking Industrial Displays To Be Among Features of Big Tenth Anniversary Celebration

A display by Stauffer Chemical Company of its operations will be one of the features of the Tenth Anniversary celebration this month, it has been announced by N. D. Van Wagenen, general chairman. A series of trucks in the parade on Saturday, April 19, will illustrate the processes involved, with salt on the first vehicle, a chlorine cell on the second truck, and so forth.

Wecco and United States Lime Products have indicated that they will enter vehicles in a similar vein, and other industrial organizations here are now making plans for participation in the parade.

All companies at the plant are planning exhibits to be open to the public at Basic High School Auditorium on April 18 and 19.

All Henderson churches will hold special anniversary services on Sunday, April 20.

Three bands have definitely been entered in the parade: the high school musical aggregations from Henderson, Boulder City and Las Vegas.

A ceramics display will be on view at Henderson Home Gardens, and other activities elsewhere in the townsite will include an art show headed by Mrs. Coates a hobby show and a flower show.

Old-timers who took up residence here prior to January 1, 1944 are urged to get in touch with Mrs. O. R. Lindesmith at 1026-W or Mrs. Grace Byrne at 1040. They are requested to register their names, addresses and dates of arrival in Henderson.

Widespread interest is being manifested in the special Tenth Anniversary Souvenir Edition of the Henderson HOME NEWS, which will be published on April 17. Deadline for advertising copy is April 10, but interested parties are asked to submit their needs as early as possible, due to the magnitude of this particular enterprise. Readers wishing to offer suggestions or to obtain information about this special edition may do so by calling 888 or writing to Post Office Box 43.

Many local organizations are preparing to operate booths during the community-wide event. Appropriate motion pictures, loaned by Frank Case, will be unreeled continuously on the day of the parade.

The parade, which will begin at 3:30 p. m. on April 19, will form at Ocean Avenue and Water Street, proceed along Water Street to Atlantic Avenue, to Market Street, to Pacific Avenue, and along Water Street again to the Community Church where it will disband.

Other anniversary events will include a minstrel show presented by the Elders' Quorum of the Church of Latter-Day Saints on April 17, a concert at St. Timothy's Church on April 18, and two street dances on April 19 given by the P-TA and the Ho' Downers.

A jet air show by planes from Nellis Air Force Base, and a beauty contest in which "Miss Henderson" will be selected, are other features of the gala celebration.

Erection of Retail Center Here Awaits Approval by CRC

Construction of an ultra-modern mercantile center at an estimated cost of $180,000 to $180,000 — looms as a probability for Henderson as the result of an application for purchase of land submitted last week to the Colorado River Commission.

If the CRC okayes the application offered by a group represented by Louis Wiener of Las Vegas, two new one-story concrete-block structures will be erected on Water Street and Market Street within the near future. The buildings would be designed to accommodate 16 stores, with the possibility of a partial second-story for office quarters.

It was indicated by the applicant that 14 firms are already vitally interested in obtaining space in the retail center.

The CRC requested that Wiener provide them with plans and specifications within a few days, in order that the Southern Nevada Committee could scrutinize them at their meeting this week.

Coupon for Parade Entrants

All organizations and individuals wishing to participate in the mammoth Tenth Anniversary celebration parade on Saturday, April 19, are requested to signify their intention of entering by filling out the following coupon and mailing it, at their earliest convenience, to Lyl Burkholder, Parade Chairman, Post Office Box 8, Henderson, Nevada.

Boys Practice For Big Marble Tournament

Local boys are developing their shooting eyes and thumbs these Spring days in preparation for the marble tournament to be held here on Saturday, April 26, under the auspices of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

State Chairman Hugh Moran has revealed that the state tourney will also be conducted in Henderson, on Saturday, May 3.

Winner of the Clark County meet will be presented with a shiny new bicycle and will be entered in the state competition. Winner of the state tourney will be given a $100 United States Savings Bond.

Runners-up will receive bonds of lesser denominations, and there will also be merchandise prizes for participants who emerge in the upper brackets.

Preliminary meet will be held in grammar schools with eliminations being conducted later by each VFW post in Henderson, Boulder City, Las Vegas and Overton.

Routine regulations to be observed include ten-foot diameter rings with marbles arranged in the form of a cross, three inches apart.

All boys with passing grades in private or public elementary schools up to and including the eighth grade are eligible to enter the prelims.

Card Party Tomorrow At Auditorium

A canasta-pinochle card party will be held at 8 PM tomorrow at Basic High School Auditorium under the joint sponsorship of Basic Eagles Aerie 2672 and the Eagles Auxiliary.

The event is one of a series of special activities in behalf of the Eagles Memorial Foundation, according to Joe Leming, secretary and publicity chairman of the Henderson order. Proceeds of the public affair, which will include other forms of entertainment, will go to the foundation as an "Eagles Do Care" contribution.

The foundation was created in 1944 for the purpose of providing hospital, dental, surgical and complete medical care, as well as educational opportunities, for the sons and daughters of Eagles who lost their lives in World War II, and in subsequent military activity.

J. A. Yeager, worthy president of the local aerie, has announced the appointment of C. C. Fumagalli as chairman for the series of events.

"There are at present," Fumagalli stated, "more than 1300 children in our foundation 'family' and the Korean action is steadily adding to this number. The Eagles were the first fraternal group to realize the need for helping the widows and orphans, and we are anxious to assure the proper care is available at all times."

Guests included Lewis Wayne Banning, who also celebrated his birthday the same day; Susan Mission, Verna Humphrey, Marilyn Rae Barton, Leslie Barton, Butchie Compton, Don Kenworthy, Gerald Guinn, Peggy Guinn, Richie Frei, Mike Cunningham and Arnie Cunningham.

Assisting Mrs. Stapleton with the serving of refreshments were the honoree's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Foster Eapman and Mrs. J. M. Pinkerton and Mrs. E. Cunningham.

the Manchester newspaper. The tipoff on the real meaning comes from the Taft Manchester manager, Richard Jordan, who on the day following the primary requested Senator Taft to withdraw from the presidential race in favor of Gen. Eisenhower. Jordan saw nothing significant except that Taft was soundly whipped.

First Shot Fired By Ike's HQ

For a considerable period prior to any election, publishers all over the country are customarily bombarded with tons of publicity about various candidates. This newspaper does not usually print these mimeographed releases unless they contain information specifically of interest to the residents of this community.

Here's one that caught our eye, though, for it's the very first dispatch received here from Washington headquarters for Eisenhower for President. The nation's political battleground promises to be the scene of feverish activity from now on.

Taft forces in an effort to pull something, anything, significant of success out of the New Hampshire debacle have tried to make capital out of the Manchester city vote which Taft won by something over 1000 votes.

Their claim has been that the Manchester Taft vote was the "labor vote" and it indicates the laboring man prefers Taft to Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The facts of the New Hampshire vote shoot this claim full of holes.

Manchester is a Democratic city by a two to one margin. Therefore, since the labor vote is normally a Democratic vote, there were probably few labor representatives voting in the Republican primary.

Facts out of Manchester show that the Republican vote there is primarily in the "silk stocking" wards. It is only reasonable to expect that, being outnumbered, Republicans in Manchester are continually on the defensive and, as a result, take refuge in becoming a more conservative and rock-ribbed type of party member.

The score of labor areas in New Hampshire is eleven to one for Eisenhower, which cuts further ground out from under the Taft claim that labor voted for Taft. Eisenhower carried the eleven other New Hampshire industrial cities.

Factors which contributed to the Taft vote in Manchester include a good local Taft organization and the 100% backing of

'Round The Village

By A. L.
AH, SPRING... a daily ballet around the village, performed to the rhythmic clash of skates; gay with tropical colors of the shorts worn by gals of all ages; appreciated by an audience of one (me) ... a spectator who feels a strange reluctance to leave an outdoor ringside seat and get down to indoor work. Ahhh... Spring!

FROM GUAM TO CALIFORNIA... with Victory Village a stop-over. Mr. Paul Richardsin, recently discharged from the Navy after 25 months on Guam, has been visiting his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bryce Neilson, 45-A. Last weekend, the Neilsons drove Paul to San Bernardino, where the rest of the family waited to welcome him. Civilians, Paul reminds us, need to make a special effort to make things home-like for the returned veteran. He, in the states after so many months away from everything we take for granted, finds adjustment difficult. Home is wonderful... but disturbing!

VISITORS FROM BISBEE... Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Suter, 52-B, are entertaining her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Close, and brother Johnny, who reside in Bisbee, Arizona. Do you know Bisbee? The biggest little baseball town in the west!

SANTA ANA BOUND... Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Pectol, 91-A, are moving to Santa Ana, California. Mr. Pectol, who has been with McKetrick's, has accepted a position in the coast.

YOU HAVE A LOT OF POCKET-SIZE BOOKS you've read, and will never look at again. They're just taking up space on your shelves, gathering dust, and doing no one any good. Our local Military Order of Cooties can get rid of them for you... and make a benefactor of you into the bargain. In just about every nearby grocery store, you'll see a box waiting for those pocket-size books. What's going to happen to them? The M.O.S. boys are going to take them to disabled veterans at the Whipple Hospital, Prescott, Arizona. THOSE BOOKS HELP when a man is handicapped, confined to inactivity in a hospital for weeks... months... sometimes years... even for life. Every bit of interesting reading material is a window opening onto the world which, he can't help feeling, has left him behind. Yes, you can spare that one... and that one... even that very last little book you bought! And contribute yours soon... the "Cooties" ant to get them to our... yes, OUR... veteran-brothers by the 26th of April.

HE'S NOT A BACHELOR NOW... Jimmy Hullum, project manager, I mean. Mrs. Hullum came home last weekend, after an extended visit with relatives in Los Angeles. Mr. Hullum didn't tell me at first; one of the girls did. I accused Jimmy of holding out on me. Said he, "I told you Dolores was away; you didn't seem to think it was news." Says I, "No, you didn't!" "Well," declared Jimmy, "last time you asked me for news, I told you I was a bachelor!" After letting that sink in, I told Jimmy I was very subtle... after this, I'll demand details clarifying every remark he makes!

SERVING US ALL WITH GREATER EFFICIENCY... That's our own Thriftee Market. You all know about the new fixtures, the increased variety of fresh and frozen foods, which makes daily shopping easier for village housewives. But there's more to come! By the time you read this, the new meat department may be in operation... complete with the finest meats Bill and Lewis can find, and a competent, friendly butcher you probably already know and trust... "Sugar Loaf!" (Sorry, Sugar Loaf! I'm not sure of your surname!)

EVERY WEEKLY TOUR of our village, I'm told of some event in the lives of my neighbors... but it happened last month, perhaps. Or a couple of weeks ago. So, when YOU have news which should be included in local events... and I think everything that's not routine is NEWS... let me know! Drop a note in the box outside 119-C. Or mail it to A. L., Box 491, Henderson.

BRAVO, BOYS!... Makes you feel pretty good about the up-and-coming generation when you hear of 2 boys as honest as THESE teen-agers. A few days ago, the pair (about 14 or 15 years old) went to the Administration Office of their own free will to report that they'd broken a neighbor's window while playing catch. They were broke, they said, but wanted to pay for the window as soon as they received their allowances. How easily they could have played innocent, and left the neighbor to shoulder that bill... but they didn't! I don't know you, boys, but you're going to make the kind of citizens we'll ALL be glad to know!

INTENDED to have another recipe for you this time... something unusual and provocative... but Spring's got me! When Natures' brewing such delectable concoctions of sounds and scents and sights and sunshine, Why... anything I might mix would be an anti-climax!

Meet you out sunning, neighbor!

Announcement

Because of the distinctive type of surprising merchandise now on display in Ronzone's windows we are using this rather unusual method of describing it to you, instead of the usual display ad. Martex "Chalk Stripe" towels are creating excitement in the decorating world. You will use them in your bathroom with the confidence that you have chosen an up-to-the-minute fashion . . . sturdy, time-tested quality . . . the look of luxury at a moderate price. Use them alone — in combination of colors — or as a perfect fill-in with solid colors. However used, their deep, springy pile terry, combined with their luscious frosty colorings, will create an air of elegance in your bathroom. Choose white with Bud Pink, Nutmeg, Aqua Mist Nile Green or Sunflower Yellow. The bath towel is two dollars and thirty-nine cents, the face towel a dollar ten cents, and the wash cloth thirty-nine cents.

Equally exciting and completely unusual is the Martex Kitchen Ensemble, our Christmas sell-out, the famous-for-quality "Dry-Me-Dry" towels now shown in seven vibrant solid colors: Azure Blue, Bud Pink, Red, Spring Green, Nutmeg, Bottle Green and Sunflower Yellow, all the very same colors of the three matching terry items. Combine these with stripes or checks and you'll have a fashion-coordinated kitchen. Dish towels are forty-five and fifty cents, kitchen hand towels are seventy-five and seventy-nine cents, utility cloth twenty-six cents and pot-holders twenty-five cents.

Come in as fast as you can. Past history shows these sell out as fast as we can get them in!

Cars Damaged In Two Mishaps

The top of a 1946 Buick four door sedan was demolished and the doors, trunk, windows and windshield were damaged when the vehicle left the highway in front of Cactus Bar in Pittman on March 23 and turned over an undetermined number of times. The driver, Edward Phillips of Las Vegas, reported the accident to the Henderson sheriff's sub-station, but refused immediate medical treatment.

At 5:20 on Saturday, March 23, a 1946 Chevrolet driven by Clifford H. Click of Boulder City left the road approximately two and one half miles east of Henderson overturned and landed in a ditch. The mishap was attributed to the fact that an automobile in front of Click's car made a sudden left turn without a signal. The vehicle was severely damaged, but no injuries were reported.

Home News Has Souvenir Books

Copies of "Pioneer Nevada" a beautiful souvenir book that has been selling like hotcakes, are available at the office of the Henderson HOME NEWS at two dollars each.

The 206-page volume consists of reprints of a series of newspaper advertisements based on Nevada's exciting pioneer lore. Published by Harold's Club of Reno, the collection is an ideal gift for local residents or for "the folks back home."

INSTALL DOHRENWEND

Judge Charles H. Dohrenwend of 88 Magnesium was installed on Tuesday as three-year trustee of the Boulder City Elks lodge.

To Prepare New Ordinances

As a result of the visit of two Henderson men to the Board of County Commissioners, it has been revealed that the board is considering a county business license ordinance which may be adopted in the near future.

The visit was made on behalf of the Henderson Retail Merchants' Committee of the Chamber of Commerce by Bill Engle and Bob Woodruff, chairman. They had been delegated to request adequate control of peddlers and roadside stands in this vicinity.

A peddler control ordinance for Las Vegas is now being readied jointly by that city's Chamber of Commerce and City Council. The commissioners stated that they are waiting until that ordinance is prepared, in order that the city and county regulations may coincide.

Prizes Won At Breakfast

Ladies of the Elizabeth Circle of the Community Church enjoyed a "Come As You Are Breakfast" on Tuesday of last week at the home of Mrs. H. B. Erisman, 22 Water Street.

Mrs. J. B. Melton won a prize as best-dressed, and Mrs. Aksel Barka was adjudged the winner in the least-dressed category. Others present included Mrs. Taylor Combs, Mrs. D. R. Johnson, Mrs. D. Erickson, Mrs. Clyde Hasha, Mrs. E. D. Swift and Mrs. H. M. Wood.

Little Miss Cowan Mr. and Mrs. Belton Cowan of 27 East Basic Road are the parents of a baby girl, born March 21 at Rose de Lima Hospital.

Scouts Enjoy Nibbles, Smores

Eighteen members of Scout Troop 109, sponsored by Mrs. John Winlow, Katy Butcher and Mrs. May Worth, enjoyed a desert cookout last Wednesday afternoon.

A beautiful and original table decoration was made of wicker, rocks, and flowers. The dinner was campfire stew, biscuits in foil, bunny nibbles and smores. Bunny nibbles are carrot and celery sticks, and smores is a sandwich cracker with a marshmallow and one half of a chocolate bar melted over.

Although the wind was blowing, the amount of sand consumed was kept at a minimum. After everything was cleared away they looked at the stars and had a lesson in astronomy.

COORDINATING COUNCIL

At a recent meeting of the Henderson Coordinating Council, Bob Woodruff, E. D. Hickman and Mrs. Ruth Ball were named to the nominating committee. They will submit their selections at the next meeting which will be held in the lounge room at the high school Thursday, April 17.

Extra Copies Available

We're getting the few kinks ironed out of our delivery set-up and, to the best of our knowledge, all residents of this area are now receiving their Henderson HOME NEWS every Thursday morning. This includes everybody in Basic Townsite, Carver Park, Victory Village, Whitney and Pittman.

Many thanks to those among you who called up and let us know that you had not received a copy of your community newspaper. Your phone calls made it possible for us to correct the few flaws in our circulation arrangement.

For the convenience of our readers, extra copies of the HOME NEWS are available each week at the Townsite Drug Store, Byrne's Grocery and the Henderson Department Store, as well as at our office — 147 Water Street.

Pioneers Return

Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Bushong and five children have returned from Idaho. They first arrived in the Las Vegas area in 1940 and, from 1944 to 1948, resided in Henderson.

Bushong was one of the pioneers who worked on the construction of Carver Park and Victory Village. The young "old-timers" are looking forward to this month's Tenth Anniversary celebration.

Average Age Follows Pattern

Nevada's average age at death for 1951 was 54.1 years, so nearly identical with that of the preceding year as to leave no room for bragging, according to the state department of health.

As usual, the first year of life saw the lowest survival rate in the state last year, and the first month of life proved the most crucial of all.

"If our 146 infant deaths last year could have been prevented through full parental care, care at birth and during the early weeks of the babies' lives, Nevada's average age at death would be four years greater," said Dr. Daniel J. Hurley, state health officer.

"Our senseless auto accident toll—151 deaths last year in traffic accidents—contributed heavily toward shortening the average lifespan of those who died last year," he cited.

The most tragic feature of the motor vehicle toll each year is the youth of the victims, Dr. Hurley points out. The great majority of crash victims last year were in or near their twenties.

Name Chosen For Rinker Infant

James George Rinker, Jr. is the name of a baby boy born at Rose de Lima Hospital last month, the first child of Staff Sergeant and Mrs. James G. Rinker.

Sergeant Rinker has been stationed at Nellis Air Force Base for the past two years, and Mrs. Rinker has been night nurse at the hospital since taking up residence in Nevada.

The child's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Willard Rinker of Henderson and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gilly Coplay, Penna.

Snow Removal Expense Soars

Highway snow removal costs may reach one-half million dollars this year.

Highway Department officials predict that the 1952 winter and spring snow removal operation may reach reach the $500,000 mark within the next six weeks. Figures released by the department show the 1949 "big snow" cost a total of $346,596, whereas to date as of March 4, 1952, labor and equipment costs have totaled $376,061.

The emergency was declared recently roads were so blocked with snow that it became necessary to supplement Highway Department vehicles Army and other rented equipment. It is estimated that the next few weeks of road-clearing operations may cost in the neighborhood of $125,000.

Highway spokesmen point out that the figures given for the 1952 storm include labor and equipment costs, but do not include purchases of some items and will become the final cost.

Deputies Nab Fugitive Here

A man who has been a fugitive from justice for some time was taken into custody last week by deputies from the Henderson sheriff's sub-station, when they apprehended him as he was driving 80 miles per hour in a 30 mph zone.

The man, Seth Watson of Las Vegas, was wanted by authorities in Idaho Falls, Idaho, for failure to provide for his family.

Watson was charged with drunk and reckless driving and imprisoned on an Idaho warrant.

Bob Barker Presents Theme

Bob Barker gave the theme of the year at the LDS Mutual Improvement Association program on Tuesday evening of last week, at which the first-year Beehive Girls were in charge. The program was entitled "Table Mannerisms."

Review of the book "Jesus the Christ" was continued by the special interest class under the guidance of Mrs. Faye Cobbley. A discussion by Mrs. Zella Wendle, Beehive keeper, and June Huntington, Beehive leader, was heard by the Gatherers.

Second-year Beehive Girls, under the leadership of Jeannette Nielson, studied "Right Spirit."

Junior Gleaner Girls studied arts and crafts, and "Dependability and Trustworthiness" was the topic for the MIA-Maids, led by Mrs. Shelly Bunker.

I'm REDDY KILOWATT
Your Electric Servant

You've never seen me before because I only recently arrived in town. You will usually find me at home inside the REDDYBOX, your electric outlet. Right now I'm stepping out so we can get better acquainted.

I'm the symbol of good electric service... YOUR servant that runs everything electrical.

I'm not like anyone you've ever seen before. My body is made of lightning flashes—my nose a light bulb—my ears are outlets—and those two things sticking out of my head are wisps of curly hair. I move silently in my rubber shoes. I move swiftly, too, at the speed of 186 thousand miles per second... I'm the fastest thing on earth.

I'm your economical and willing servant who works long hours at low wages. Whenever you want me I'll be waiting in your nearest REDDYBOX—electric outlet. Remember, just... "PLUG IN,—I'M REDDY".

EXCERPTS FROM OUR CIRCULAR FILE CABINET

This pillar last week was devoted to a discussion of "fillers"—those inch-long nuggets of wisdom submitted by publicity-hungry press agents. What follows this week is based upon another type of publicity release habitually received by hapless editors.

These, too, might be considered as fillers, although some run into pages and pages of tiresome communications for they often seemingly serve no other purpose than to fill up space.

Miracles do happen, though, and an editor will occasionally recognize something newsworthy in one of these releases and, with a gleam of discovery in his eyes, pounce upon it with trembling hands.

Most of these "literary masterpieces," however, are relegated to the ignominy of the circular filing cabinet—more conventionally designated as the waste basket.

Conscientious journalist will not publish anything that is not of real interest to his readers.

We're conscientious as heck, but just to give you some idea of what you're missing this week, let's reach down into File Number Thirteen (that selfsame waste-basket) and see what happens."

Contrary to common belief, alcohol does not speed up bodily reactions; it slows them down.

The factory of the future—where machines will perform most of the jobs now done by men and women, and people will be used only for making decisions—is, in effect already in operation—piecemeal.

Every mother knows that her youngster's health depends on the food he eats.

If this nation is to spend the next decade or two in a state of armed resistance against the spread of communism in the Congress must maintain a close and effective check on all military spending.

And so it goes, ad infinitum, ad nauseum.

The above bits of miscellaneous information were extracted from bulletins that would have filled up more than nine full counts in the HOME NEWS, if we had printed them in their entirety.

One day's mail, chosen at random, contained about 400 column-inches (the equivalent of nearly three complete pages in this newspaper) of this sort of stuff. It came to us from an agency of a foreign government, national manufacturers, a grocery chain, a tourist bureau, a radio network, several branches of the United States Government, a nightclub, an insurance company, two railroads, several politicians, a bicycle organization, three magazines and a host of others.

Shall we therefore stop reading our mail? Not on your life!

We open every envelope and scrutinize the contents carefully. Maybe YOU wrote to us—and we want to hear from you, the regular readers of this weekly paper!

Maybe we'll even find an item of local interest in this batch of heterogeneous stuff. We sometimes do!

Chet Shelley Gives Tips on Municipal Government to UCBG

Chet Shelley, city manager of Las Vegas, was guest speaker at a public meeting sponsored by the United Citizens for Better Government for the Henderson District at the high school last Thursday evening.

Shelley, who was introduced by Bob Woodruff, told the forty-

Represents AAUW

Mrs. O. R. Lindesmith represented the Henderson branch of the American Association of University Women at a luncheon and boat trip on Lake Mead on Tuesday, at which Dr. Susan Riley of Tennessee was welcomed to the area.

Dr. Riley, the national president of the AAUW, was accompanied by Mrs. Rand Smith, regional vice president of the South Pacific Region. Mrs. Lindesmith is treasurer of the Henderson group, as well as state educational chairman.

NOTE OF THANKS

Members of the Henderson Eagles Auxiliary wish to express their heartfelt appreciation to all local residents and Boulderites who so generously performed in the talent show at Basic High School last Saturday evening. The unselfish participation of all, from the youngest to the oldest, insured the success of the occasion.

five persons present that he has had 22 years of experience in municipal government affairs, and was pleased to pass on any information that might prove helpful.

He said that, when the time arrives to set up a municipal government here, it would be well to have as few elective positions as possible, perhaps just a mayor and city council.

"Elections are oftentimes merely popularity contests," he remarked, "and do not always assure the placing of qualified people in responsible positions." Such berths as city clerk and city treasurer, for example, should be filled by appointment, Shelley stated. "Individuals who help run a city," he said, "should be obtained on the basis of what they know — not who they know!"

The speaker emphasized the need for a centralized administration, to be operated by a chief administrative officer. It would be the duty of such officer (often known as city manager, solely to administer. He would not make policies or participate in adopting legislation.

"Taxes from real property and personal property alone will not suffice to support the cost of operating a city," he warned. "Other forms of revenue will be required."

He suggested that drafting of a lengthy charter be avoided. "When the time comes to have a charter," he said, "keep it short.

Ordinances can later be adopted to augment the charter as the need arises."

"Above all," Shelley concluded, "teamwork is important. Remember — you can accomplish anything you set out to do — with the proper teamwork!"

Larry Trumbull, serving as acting chairman of the embryonic group, conducted last week's meeting of the UCBG. He explained that no board of directors had yet been elected, and no definite objectives had therefore yet been set forth. "Primarily, though," he said, "it must be remembered that better government can be achieved only through active interest by registered voters. The vote is the shining sword of democracy."

He said it appears that the new group would probably consider such matters as the power rate, citizens' support of a Henderson home government, Henderson home ownership and obtaining honest government through honest representation.

Nominations were invited from the floor at the meeting, and the following were elected to the board of directors: Chuck Trueworthy, B. U. Hillis, Larry Trumbull, Bob Woodruff, Bob Maxey, Sylvia Barka, Mrs. John Ivory, Loyal Burkholder, Bill Mathewson, Rev. Ford Gilbert, James Lambert, Gordon McCaw, John Dooley, Lou Sullivan, and Darryl Pitts.

Another speaker at the meeting was Earl Keenan, head of the Tenants' Council, who urged the public to attend the CRC meeting slated for the following morning.

La Porta Speaks

Lou La Porta, well known Henderson insurance man, was guest speaker last Thursday evening at a meeting of the study group of the Henderson American Association of University Women. He told the history of insurance, explained the various types of insurance companies, and answered questions in an open forum.

Mrs. Paul Coates, chairman of the study group, was moderator. The session, the group's final one in the current series, was held at the Julius Ibhik residence at 131 Basic Road.

During the past year, the organization has devoted its attention to consumer problems. In addition to insurance, other matters studied have included banks and banking, inflation, purchasing of clothing, food buying, home ownership and budgeting.

ADDRESSES "HAMS"

N. D. Van Wagenen was guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Southern Nevada Amateur Radio Operators Club. Following the short talk by Van Wagenen, who is general chairman for Henderson's tenth Anniversary celebration, the members voted to take part in the observance.

Tule Eater's Funeral

INDIAN LEGEND, supported by modern research, has it that many generations ago, a foreign tribe was driven up into western Nevada by the Paiutes of the south. The strangers were in two huge bands and settled on the shores of the Humboldt Lake (Sink) and Pyramid Lake. Here they were a constant source of trouble and irritation to the local Paiute tribes, who found their hunting grounds being cleaned out, their fisheries preempted, and lone tribesman ambushed and slain for food by the new-comers who were cannibals!

The Paiute wars against these new-comers evidently spread over a considerable period of time, and continued down almost to the arrival of the white men. Scientists have interviewed Paiute tribal elders who actually took part in the final attacks on the strangers from the south, who were known as the Tule Eaters, or the Sai-duka. Originally the Tule Eaters occupied large parts of the west 3,000 years ago, but were gradually driven from place to place by stronger tribes. They were reputed to be fine weavers of baskets and makers of rush sandals, clothing and tule rafts. They trapped the birds of the tule swamps, and lived on lake shores. Perhaps the Washoes gained some of their basket weaving skill from them, as well as the Paiutes. Before the coming of the white men, the latter wore tule rush garments, cloaks of duck-down and feathers, and trapped swamp birds much like the

Tule Eaters, who may have been "tribal cousins."

The war of survival between the crowded Paiutes and the Tule Eaters finally reduced the Humboldt Lake band to a very small number. To save themselves, in desperation, they took to the lake itself, living on tule rafts. The Paiutes carried the war a step further, and began the systematic burning of the vast tule beds all around the Humboldt Sink. For weeks, the skies were black with huge clouds of smoke, as the hunting grounds and food sources of the Tule Eaters were exterminated. They finally took to living in caves around the lake shore. It was finally, in one of these shelters, that the last little band of Tule Eaters was caught and roasted to death by the Paiutes, shortly before the first white trappers came down the Humboldt River.

With their lives centered around the lakes, the Tule Eaters' ceremonies and funerals took a not unusual form. A dead warrior was placed on a special raft, loaded with his finest possessions. With long ceremonial chants and cries, the raft was solemnly towed out in the lake. There it was piled with rocks until it and its load finally sank beneath the waves. Generations of the dying tribe were thus buried in the Humboldt Lake. And in recent years, scientists and arrow-head hunters have found many mounds of dried bones, rocks, and artifacts, on the now dry lake bottom. These are the last relics of the vanished Tule Eaters.
