Neighborhood Chatter

In recruiting leaders for the Girl Scouts one of the favorite points of leaders, is the fact that scouting gives as much to the adult leaders as the leaders give to the girls. Maybe it is not just today, tomorrow or the next day but throughout your entire career in scouting it is there in the friends you make, the warm and happy feeling you get when children's faces gladden when they see you on the street, and the interest it cultivates in the particular outdoor locality in which you are presently residing.

Once in awhile there comes to my ears some particular illustration which truly demonstrates what is meant by all this talk. Mrs. John Sahaid has been very ill since the birth of her third baby a few months ago. Friday she necessitated an operation. The mothers of her Girl Scouts are taking care of Jeanette's girls while she is hospitalized.

Good luck and a speedy recovery, Jeanette Sahaid! Thanks mothers!

Winners in the Henderson Duplicate Bridge Tournament, held Wednesday night in the Carver Park auditorium were Georgia Friez and her mother, Ida Miller, in first place, Joe Schreck and her partner, Minnie Miller, in second place and Pat Routh and her motehr, Edith Gardner, third place winners.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sherman were directors of the session in the absence of Ernie Botfield regular director.

Members of the Women's Home League met Wednesday afternoon to finish their basketry, textile paint and learn to make shell-craft jewelry.

Helen Bickerstaff, program chairman, announced that Mary Mellor would take over the meeting while Helen was vacationing in California and Mexico.

Those attending were Marjory Walters, Billie Osborne, Lorna Decius, Bubbie Maez, Lillian Slocum, Jenny Picotte, Denise Balk, Mary Mellor, Gladys Peterson, a guest Mrs. Hellenberg of the Las Vegas League and the hostesses for the day Helen Bickerstaff and First Lieutenant Harland Hall of Las Vegas.

Members of St. Anne's Guild of St. Timothy's Episcopal Church are meeting weekly now to chat while making articles for their coming bazar on October 9.

Last week members met at the home of Betty Ray, this Wednesday any interested members are invited to sew and chat Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Howard Giles, 548 Burton.

Co-chairmen of the bazaar, Betty Ray and Pat Barnhill urge all members to start turning in their articles as they complete them.

Get-well greetings to Eldora McConaghy, 9-year-old daughter of Mrs. Maxine Paulson, 430 Burton Street, who slipped while playing and broke her ankle.

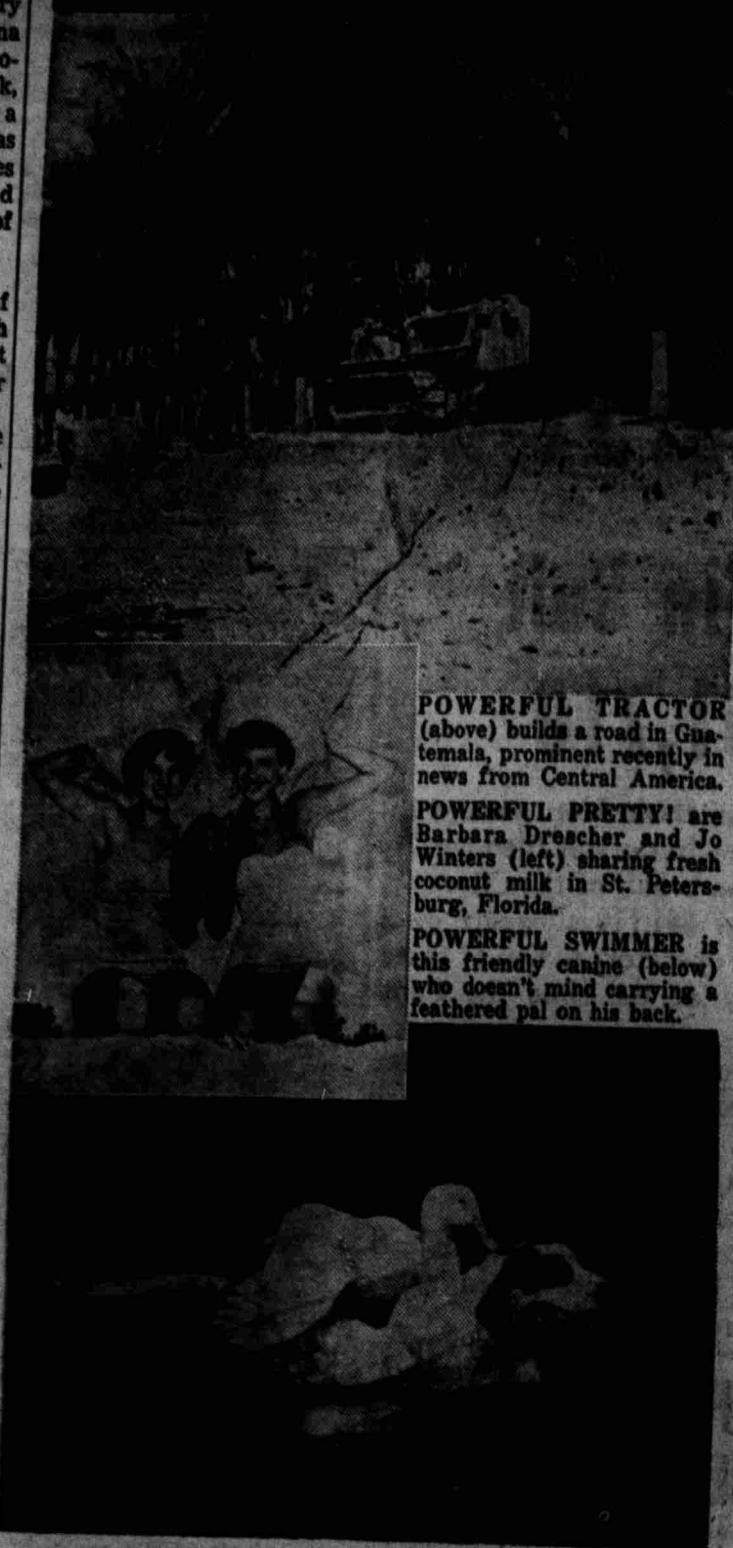

Welcome to Mr. and Mrs. R. Fausel, 580 Burton Street, new Hendersonians from Michigan.

BROWNE CO-LEADER

Mrs. Harry Cartwright, 197 Yucca street, will be a co-leader with Mrs. Crosley, for the Brownies of Girl Scout Troop 121 this year. Her daughter, Jacqueline, is a member of the Brownie troop for the third year. At present, Mrs. Cartwright is helping to complete and put into use the new Girl Scout house on Pacific street, which has been made available for use as the local headquarters. Volunteer workers are re-doing the interior of the house to suit it to needs of the combined troops.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Morry,
Nothing makes me happier than to get over a mad and get glad again.

I'm glad for all the people of Henderson because of your very generous contribution to our Youth Center.

During my long public career, I have never seen such spontaneous enthusiasm as this community project has aroused from all quarters.

I hope the youth of our city, as well as their parents, will appreciate the efforts and sacrifices of so many who are helping to make this recreation center a reality.

FAY B. HAMMOND

Dear Editor:
The suggestion of Mayor [unclear] to beautify our city was a idea.

I wish to inform him we have a lawn and flowers in our city where there are no lawns or flowers.

My enthusiasm of our new home was soon due to this situation.

If all the money that is spent here on fences and dogs, was used to beautify our city, we could all speak of our new home with pride.

Yours truly,
GLADYS [unclear]

Pittman Party Line

Three hundred people enjoyed an evening of gaiety at Whitney's Night of Fun last Saturday at the ranch home of Helen Herr.

Jim Murchison's trio entertained throughout the event with music and songs. They were employed for the occasion by former governor Vail Pittman who was present and spoke to the people, complimenting them on the starting of a community center for the town.

A poker game, under the direction of Henry DeCarlo, drew a large group of players throughout the evening as did the horse shoe games which were manag- ed by Ira Carter.

Bill Payton was master of ceremonies and also manager of the bar concession, assisted by Ray Sheffer of the Las Vegas police department, and Bob Best.

Assisting Mrs. Herr with food, game, and ticket sales were Bernice Riggs, Blanche Jenkins, Daisy Burns, Virginia Payton, Gerry Bauer, Ann DeCarlo, Norma Best and Madeline Phillips.

Margo Wallen proved a very able cocktail waitress, keeping all guests happy as she moved about the spacious lawn where they were seated.

Music for dancing in the patio was supplied by Paul Cayton with his steel guitar.

Doc Jenkins proved to be the most fortunate of men, winning first prize of a contour lawn chair. When the second ticket was drawn, it also bore Doc's name, but he decided one prize was enough and asked that another ticket be chosen and the table radio went to Stella Fleming, Las Vegas social worker, and third prize of a smoking stand and electric lighter was won by Art Klingler of Railroad Pass.

Dick Ham was announced winner of the bean guessing contest but it turned out later that Assemblyman Bill Byrne had beaten him by five beans and the two men tossed a coin to determine the winner.

Candidates introduced, in addition to Vail Pittman, included Walter Baring who is seeking his third term in congress; George Harmon, Dick Ham, Bill Byrne, and Ted Dotson, candidates for assembly; Helen McDonald and John Mendoza, candidates for justice of the peace, Bud Albright, county commissioner; Butch Leypoldt and Chuck Morrison, who will oppose each other for the office of sheriff, and Jimmy Bilbray, who is seeking the office to county assessor.

Many donations of material, labor, and cash have already been received for the new center. George Harmon donated a restaurant size refrigerator, coolers, cabinet work, and building materials have also been pledged.

The total amount raised at the Night of Fun was $900.00, this when added to the pledges is expected to bring the amount already donated to $2,000.

BROWNS ENJOY OUTING

Jim and Gloria Brown and their three children, Butch, Susie, and Kathy Ann, enjoyed an outing at Mt. Charleston last weekend.

REV. BUSK ENTERTAINS

Recent guests who enjoyed dinner with the Reverend Emil Busk, his niece Beulah McQuarrie, and grandniece Susan McQuarrie were Delmar Kohl, Robert Woodard, Joe Johnson, Bill Ryther, Harold L. Jolley, Thomas D. Waly, and James A. Stokley. All of these men are stationed at the Lake Mead Marine Base and enjoy helping with the work around the chapel and grounds during their off hours.

Rev. Busk now has a complete line of Christmas cards and all occasion cards, with or without name imprinted. Interested persons are invited to drop in and look them over. There are also a large number of books and fine Bibles on sale at the chapel.

ANNOUNCE GRANDSON

Mr. and Mrs. Worth Howard have announced the birth of a grandson, Monte Gene, born August 28, to their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Sparks of Klamath Falls, Oregon.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Sparks of 335 Tungsten Street.

Mrs. Louetta Martin, a sister of Mr. Sparks, left Saturday evening for Klamath Falls to visit her great-nephew and his parents.

GOOD THOUGHT FOR TODAY

The reason small towns have more gossip is because it's more fun to watch the game when you know the players.

SON WEEK-ENDS HERE

Home for the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Walker, 108 Ocotillo street, was Norman Walker, who is attending Dixie Junior College in St. George, Utah. Norman was here for the St. George-Basic football game. He was a graduate of Basic high school last year.

MANGANESE PARK PARADE

TEXAS VACATION

Mr. and Mrs. Everett F. McMahan and son, Mickey, 103 Ocotillo Street, made a vacation trip to Texas last week, stopping en route to see various points of interest. They visited with an aunt and husband of McMahan who live on a ranch near Hereford, and also enjoyed seeing the Petrified Forest and the Grand Canyon, going from there to Southern Utah and then home.

NEW MEXICO VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Waldie and son, Norman, 108 Joshua St. welcomed as their week end guests Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hank of Carlsbad, New Mexico. The Hanks have been friends of the Waldie family for many years, dating from their time that they lived in New Mexico, and they had not seen each other since 1946. After enjoying the sights of the area with their host and hostess, and stopping in Las Vegas to see Mr. and Mrs. Warren Fortnier, who are friends of both families, they went on Monday morning to Seattle to visit a sister of Hank's.

UTAH FAMILY HERE

Coming here from Summit, Utah, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Madsen and sons, Dick and Pudge, and daughters, LaDonna and Colleen, have located at 119 Yucca Street. Madsen is employed by Isbell Construction Co., at the Manganese, Inc., mine, and the older son, Dick, works for Manganese. The Madsens were pleasantly surprised upon their arrival here to find that a number of the residents of Manganese Park and vicinity were former friends and acquaintances in Utah.

TRIP TO L. A.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Richardson, 103 Yucca Street, drove to Los Angeles last week for a three-day visit with the former's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lutz, and son, Louis Richardson, Jr.

JOINT BIRTHDAY DINNER

A joint birthday dinner was given last evening at the Don Richard home, 102 Joshua street, at which time Mrs. Richard honored her husband, and a friend, Mrs. Laura Lindborg of Las Vegas, whose birthdays were yesterday and today, respectively. Joining in the affair were the Richardson and daughter, Dennis and Vicki, and Mrs. Lindborg's daughter, Kristina.

TAKE DAUGHTER TO SCHOOL

Mr. and Mrs. James McKay, 100 Cholla street, drove to Salt Lake City over the Labor Day week-end to enroll their daughter, Marie, in school at St. Mary of the Wasatch Marie, who is entering the eighth grade, has been attending St. Peter's school prior to this time.

TO WELCOME PARENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Guymon, 115 Yucca street, are looking forward to avist this week-end from Guymon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Guymon of Parowan, Utah. The younger Guymons have just recently located here from Parowan, and they hope to show his parents the points of interest offered in the area.

TAKES SON HOME

Mrs. James B. Shaffer and infant son, Jay Duane, are now at their home, 105 Ocotillo street, from the Rose deLima hospital, where the child was born on September 9. At birth, the child weighed 5 lbs. 11 oz.

Lynching at Genoa

OLDTIMERS around Genoa will tell you the Lynching Tree on Frey's Lane has been the scene of evil and bad luck ever since the night in 1896 when they hanged Adam Uber. Many an accident has taken place beneath its branches and some folks avoid the place even in modern times.

show of mercy, the mob mounted their horses, fired pistols and guns over their heads, and galloped off down the dark street. The half naked Uber was dragged along the ground at the end of the lasso rope. Some witnesses believe he was dragged to death before they reached the foot of the great tree on Frey's Lane. Others claim he was alive but unconscious. At any rate, the rope was moved to his neck, one end tossed over a limb and tied to a saddle horn. The wind was howling and screaming down from the Sierras, carrying a flurry of dry and cold powdered snow. It was below freezing and a big storm was in the making.

It all started in a bar in Millerville (near Gardnerville) when tipsy Hans Anderson demanded that Adam Uber drink with him. Uber soberly refused, and Anderson dashed whiskey in his face. Uber, in a terrible rage, killed Anderson on the spot, and was arrested and jailed at the courthouse in Genoa. Uber had many friends and popular feeling was on his side. It was generally believed that he would soon be released from jail and not punished for the killing.

However, Anderson had many friends in the Valley and they secretly vowed that Uber would be punished. They carefully organized, worked out a plan, and on a dark and furiously stormy night, descended on the sheriff's office in force. They easily surprised and overpowered the peace officers. Then they awakened the sleeping prisoner, threw a lasso rope around his body, and dragged him from his cot to the floor, along the floor and out of the building to the hard frozen ground of the street.

The horse was whipped and dashed away, yanking Uber's body high into the air. As it rose into the dark, almost every man present fired a volley of bullets into its spinning shape. Any doubt as to the death of the victim was ended.

It was a freezing winter night and the ground was hard and rough as iron. Without the slightest

Attempts were later made to bring the lynchers to justice but nothing was actually accomplished. One of the two leaders of the mob had an accident with a runaway team at the same spot in later years and lost a leg and almost his life in the incident. Other members of the mob were said to avoid the tree whenever possible as long as they lived, and lesser accidents have since been reported in its vicinity. Gradually the area has become known to be an evil spot and associated with "bad luck."

Score of Women Sign Up as New Girl Scout Leaders.

Chairmen of the Girl Scout "You Are Needed" campaign, that is being conducted during September, announce that 20 new leaders have signed up for the 1954-55 season in Henderson.

Twenty-eight leaders are necessary to re-register all the Brownie, Intermediate and Senior troops in the town and it is hoped that by the end of this week eight more women will offer to aid 500 Henderson children to participate in the scouting program.

The 20 new leader recruits have enabled the formation of a new wBrownie troop in the Townsite neighborhood under the direction of Mrs. Lucille Kubic and two in the Basic neighborhood under Mrs. Claudia Maguire. It is the hope of Mrs. Denise Balk, in the Park-Village neighborhood, that some mothers will come forward to start a second grade troop in Carver Park.

The first basic training class will be held Tuesday morning at 9:30 in the Girl Scout house on Pacific Avenue. Other training class dates will be set to convenience those taking the course.

Mrs. L. Gilliland, of Pittman, has offered to start the first Pittman Girl Scout troop. It is hoped this will set a precedent for at least one more Pittman troop. It will also be necessary to have three committee workers.

Women who have signed up to aid in Girl Scouting this year in Henderson are Mrs. L. Gilliland of Pittman, Mrs. E. Walker, Mrs. C. H. Hurst, Mrs. Allen Lyon, Mrs. H. W. Cartwright and Mrs. D. C. Beaman of the Park-Village Neighborhood. In the Basic and Townsite neighborhoods, Miss Eleanor Coxe, physical education teacher; Mesdames D. Martin, Richard Felker, W. Harwood, Joseph Hopkins, A. L. Anderson, R. W. Burke, P. H. LeJune, Fred Bray, W. Merrell, James Weertz, C. Bowles, F. Morrell, and R. Swift.
