SCHOOLS OPEN, BANKS CLOSED ADMISSION DAY

The State of Nevada celebrates its 91st birthday Monday and while Oct. 31 is officially designated as Admission Day, it doesn't mean a thing as far as Henderson and Boulder City schools are concerned. It's no holiday from books, and classes will convene on schedule.

Businessmen, however are reminded that the Bank of Nevada, both in Henderson and Boulder City, will be closed Monday.

To compensate for the holiday, banks will be open Saturday from 10 a.m. until noon. Normally, banks are closed Saturdays.

This is Our City

Mayor James French Says ...

(Mayor James French and family are currently enjoying a vacation, somewhere in California. The following was written by his able secretary Mrs. Jacquie Williamson).

Whenever I have found myself confronted with writing this column, I have been very careful to stay away from any subject which might cause any comment or involve me in any battles. However, I notice that Ruthie Deskin does not necessarily follow this routine. Ruthie is an old friend of mine, although I haven't seen her since she moved from Henderson to Las Vegas some time ago, so I'm taking the cue from her and mentioning something that made my blood boil.

It was my own personal blood that boiled, not the city administration's or anyone else connected with the City. As a matter of fact I never even mentioned it to anyone I work with or for. There was an article in one of the Las Vegas newspapers on Oct. 3 which reported on a Rotary Club meeting in Henderson. The tone of the article indicated that the city administration was something to be laughed at—that some of the remarks were "unquotable" was stated in the article.

I got sore, mainly because I work with these men every day. I see their untiring efforts against what seem to be at times unsurmountable obstacles. I know what is behind some of the action that is taken—and I know that the action is motivated by a sincere desire to do what is best for Henderson. These men were moved to Henderson from Boulder City, where he was employed by the government. Both are experienced in the retail meat business. They reside at 133 Elm St. with their three children, Carole, Michele and Roy.

In addition to weekend specials, the Blue Ribbon market will feature special week day buys. A wide variety of meat will be kept in stock in order to give each customer exactly the cut desired. Papworth says the market will feature good buys and good meat and each customer will receive personal service.

Poultry will also be available and the market will be open from 9 a.m. until 7 p.m. each day except Sunday when it will be closed. A grand opening is being planned with the date to be announced later.

FINAL RITES CONDUCTED FOR HENDERSON INFANT

LDS funeral services were conducted on Sunday in Hatch, Utah for 13 month-old Lane Barnhurst of Henderson who drowned in a foot wide irrigation ditch Oct. 21.

The child's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Barnhurst of 115 Magnesium St., had gone to Hatch the day before to visit Mr. Barnhurst's parents and hunt deer.

The little boy disappeared while playing around the house and had been dead for about ten minutes before the tiny body was found in the ditch. Artificial respiration failed to revive him.

The couple has three other children, two girls, ages 5 and 4, and a son, 3.

enced, and would have "goofed" plenty. It seems to me that these men have sought expert advice when it was needed—have come up with the right answers after a trial and error experience (anyone would have had to do the same thing).

I didn't attend the meeting in question. I only know what I read in the papers. I don't know if the meeting was in poor taste and without dignity or if the newspaper article was in poor taste and without dignity or both. However, I do know that Henderson could not have a more sincere group of people working to put it on its feet so that future administrations will have an easier job.

New Meat Market Officially Opens In Henderson

The new Blue Ribbon Meat Market at 152 Market St. will be officially opened at 9 a.m. today and will operate under the slogan of "Meat at Workingmen's Prices."

Ron and Gerry Papworth and Hugh and Buelah Morris, owners, will operate the new meat market. The Papworths are well known in this area, having formerly been employed in the meat department of the Ranch Market in Boulder City. Before moving to Boulder City they owned and operated Papworth Market in Portland, Ore. They have one daughter, Gail, who is a student in the Boulder City elementary school.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris recently moved to Henderson from Boulder City, where he was employed by the government. Both are experienced in the retail meat business. They reside at 133 Elm St. with their three children, Carole, Michele and Roy.

In addition to weekend specials, the Blue Ribbon market will feature special week day buys. A wide variety of meat will be kept in stock in order to give each customer exactly the cut desired. Papworth says the market will feature good buys and good meat and each customer will receive personal service.

Poultry will also be available and the market will be open from 9 a.m. until 7 p.m. each day except Sunday when it will be closed. A grand opening is being planned with the date to be announced later.

Morry Zenoff's Morry Story

Back home again after a couple of weeks on the coast taking care of some overdue problems ... and we copy the following notes off our cuff:

Saw the SC-Wis. game with the Dr. Henry Reinnings ... spoke between halves over a 27 station Wisconsin network as an old grad ... and was given a Parker 21 pen and pencil set by the sports program sponsor—Employers Mutual of Wausau ... talked tv equipment with seven different manufacturers and I'm happy to report channel 13 will have the finest in projectors, color and transmission lines ... rushed on up to Stanford to visit my son, David, now a happy enthusiastic frosh ... saw the UCLA-Stanford game and that second half was a gem with Stanford needing about 10 more minutes and they'd have won the game.

Visited the press club in San Fran getting ideas for furnishing our new one to be installed at the new Fremont in Vegas ... talked to two old news chums from Milwaukee now working on Frisco papers ... both planning to come here soon ... answered Dolores constant cry for a dog to replace her ol pals—Buster and Moxie—whom we had to farm out months ago because they couldn't get used to the new routine.

So—ran into a dandy buy of a Great Dane puppy—black and due to weigh 175 pounds at full growth ... named it Cjark after its ancestors who date back to Denmark ... and Dolores is a new gal now ... and you should try to wade thru our kitchen ... its knee deep in Cjark.

Then learning via phoning that our new editor—Bill Gillis—has taken Boulder and Henderson by storm with his sure-fire, experienced hand ... come in and meet him, he's the answer to all we need ... help him along until he gets acquainted, huh!

Saw the Bluebird try over TV and was sick at the tough luck the wonderful Briton ran into—but loved the crowd that turned out—ask Charles Ritchey what I predicted a week before the run ... he guessed there would be 10,000 people—I said he had better prepare for 40,000 ... which he had.

Sounds funny but it's true—the Los Angeles Examiner is so impressed with the type faces our linotype machine turns out—it, too, will soon blossom forth with same.

Understand that Chet Tyree is to get his elbow fixed with the latest in plastic surgery ... that Earl Brothers shot a moose, an Elk, an antelope and a deer on his recent hunting trek to Wyoming ... which tops all—how about a bear?

And Jim French had just the opposite luck—an auto accident while hunting ... so just grabbed another car and continued hunting ... we will give a prize to the best hunting stories sent this column about local fellows ... an auto firm is dickering with Lake Motors to take over that huge and beautiful outlet ... hats off to the new Butcher Shop On Downtown Henderson's main drag—lots of luck fellows ... and to Community Chevrolet for its new emporium on Boulder's hi-way ... new housing development of 105 homes due to open in Henderson shortly ... that's besides the Federal Homes planned 300 set for the future.

DIPLOMACY—oh, what sins commonly called "double-talk"

are committed in my name. DIPLOMACY vs. HONESTY—

How often we do hear the observation that a thing is undoubtedly a truth or a fact which should be made public, but that it "would be UNDIPLOMATIC to say it openly." How often a person in public office is advised by well-meaning friends that a truth which, in the best interests of the people, merits being revealed, should be silenced in the interests of "Diplomacy." That it will "get you in bad" with certain people. Ah, wilderness—Should such a philosophy prevail, two unholy conclusions must follow—One, that it is not advantageous for public officials to indulge in frank, straightforward expression, and—Two, that the public at large do not appreciate it. We do not, nor will we ever, accept that that is true.

Originally "diplomacy" meant a cultured, gentle manner of solving problems between nations. The need for well-trained and well-informed individuals with a suitable disposition for this type of public life gave rise to a specific profession—all well and good—'til this field of endeavor attracted a surplus of fourflushers who in the course of time brought about the deprivation of a once noble calling—and public office in general has been affected by this "diplomatic" trend to the point that there is a grave need for a return to HONESTY of expression—courage of expression of TRUTH, without the buttering that leaves it unrecognizable. Yes, let us believe that right makes might, and in that belief let us DARE to do our duty. Too often the "diplomacy" of public officials is no more than outright deceit masqueraded in ambiguous language, more

I don't think anyone in the State Legislature opposed more than I did the plan to establish

CAL-PACIFIC REPORT FEATURES HENDERSON

Henderson has been chosen as the city to be featured in the annual report of the California-Pacific Utilities Co., and a crew arrived last week to take pictures and gather material for use in the booklet, which will be issued at the end of the year and will go to stockholders of the company.

A photographer and writer, sent by the company from San Francisco, have been visiting various points throughout the city where usage of gas and power facilities is adaptable to the story they wish to present. Each year one of the cities served by Cal-Pacific is featured in the annual report. Last year it was Colusa, Calif.

R. P. Feist, local manager, has been accompanying the crew as they collect their material.

automatically recorded. If this were possible in this area, the order would be at least tolerable. This drastic cut in service without notice (or even with notice) is unfair and unwarranted. As Mayor of the City of Henderson, I am entering a strong protest against this move of the Southern Nevada Telephone Company.

As President of the Clark County Medical Society, I consider this measure as a flagrant disregard of public safety. A person attempting to reach a physician may find it necessary to place several calls, and having to wait several minutes between each call to reach the operator could not only be dangerous, but may be disastrous. Since physicians in Clark County practice in the hospitals located in all three cities—Henderson, Boulder City, and Las Vegas—long distance calls to reach a doctor are commonplace; are the rule, rather than the exception.

This action of the Southern Nevada Telephone Company,

Mad About Dogs

Most folks have no conception of dog shows — their objectives, accomplishments or purposes. Actually, it's a major undertaking that requires the untiring effort of ambitious individuals, who seek to set a goal for enthusiastic fanciers, as an aid to their struggle in maintaining and improving breed standards and physical soundness.

The one single service that has aided materially in this struggle, is the work performed by the American Kennel Club. This organization has compiled a book by collecting countless fragments of dog history from the literature of the world and published it under the title, "The Complete Dog Book."

There is a fuller appreciation of the dog and his importance to social and economic existence in the world, today, than ever before.

Man and dog have grown apace through countless generations, cementing a partnership that has endured through every degree of success and failure and has persisted when cataclysmic disaster shook the world. This factor has caught the attention of our greatest philosophers.

Men and women, penning the histories of more breeds than are recognized by any other nation in the universe, have done a thorough job of research to furnish us with authentic data on the origin and development of the animal that has attained the title—Man's Best Friend.

From some 40 Biblical references to the dog, we learn that there were many breeds and types, even in the earliest parts of the Old Testament. The most definite, basic lore of ancient dogs has been bequeathed to civilization of today, by records and paintings left to us by the early Egyptians and Assyrians. Certainly, the earliest picture, so far as modern knowledge reveals, is one that portrays a particular type of dog; it is found on the Tomb of Amten, in Egypt, which dates to the 4th Dynasty—somewhere between three and four thousand years Before Christ.

And so, today, we find enthusiastic fanciers, applying a modern touch to an ancient sport. Taking time from our stepped-up schedule of the now, to carry on in the tradition of forgotten kings. Using a yardstick that has been hewn by thousands of generations, we now have definite standards by which to judge every recognized breed according to his physical being, his general conformation and his ability to carry out the assignments prescribed by his human companion.

This great institution, the dog show, is being revived in Las Vegas by the Silver State Kennel Club. A rather informal show is being staged by the S.S.K.C. in the Las Vegas City Park, November 6th, as a prelude to an A.K.C. sanctioned show, and later, an official, All-breed show, if license is granted, to place Las Vegas in the category of metropolitan significance. Your patronage to this exhibition will serve as recognition of the club's efforts and will teach you some of the important facts concerning these popular pets.

At this show, in addition to Obedience trials, there will be some classes, the like of which you won't find at a sanctioned show nor a licensed A.K.C. show. Separated into age groups of: 3 to 6 months, 6 to 9 months, 9 to 12 months, and 1 year or over—they are further classified into the established groups, according to their innate characteristics. These are: Sporting Dogs, Hounds, Working Dogs, Terriers, Toys and Non-Sporting Dogs.

Entries have been limited to "Pure-bred" specimens, but, if I had a dog that looked like any of the recognized breeds, I'd apply the name of that breed and, with my head held high, I'd take him in and let the judges decide how he'd stack up against the other entries. Or—like Minnie Ashbaugh, Frostie Hatfield, and a lot of other accidents that have produced some interesting results, from two pure-bred individuals of different breeds, a dog that is from pedigreed parents of different denominations. What difference would it make, when they sought to find the longest ears, or nose, or tail, or the biggest dog, or the largest eyes, or any of the opposite extremes, or—the best handled dog? No, with those qualifications, I don't think bloodlines will have much bearing.

Regardless of the established classes, it's a good idea to don't have a dog, go in and what the other half is doing. Entry blanks are available at Marwood's Pet Service at 5 p.m. weekdays or on Saturdays and Sunday.

Enrollment Still Open in Basic Women's Carpentry Class

Enrollment is still open in the adult women's carpentry class at Basic High School, according to instructor, Al Kennedy, teacher of woodworking and vocational carpentry at Basic High School.

The classes are held on Monday and Wednesday from 7 to 9 p.m. and are designed to inform women in how to help themselves around the house.

The proper use of household tools will be followed by construction of small articles for the home such as corner shelves, picture frames, shadow boxes, and other useful items.

The classes, Kennedy says, will be informal and, in addition to the proper use of common tools, for hobby work and home repairs, the women will be taught such things as how to find the proper place for hanging pictures on walls finished with plaster and various types of insulating board, without damaging the walls of their homes.

The lessons will prepare the students for woodworking as a hobby, and will aid them in

Desert Dwellers

By WALLY WALLIS

Naturalist Lake Mead National Recreation Area

When a phone call came in from the Railway Express office the other day, I was surprised to hear: "We've got a turtle for you down here. He just arrived via Air Express!"

"WHAT do you mean?" I exclaimed. "Just what I said before. You've gotta turtle down here and he doesn't look any different from the common tortoise we have all around here!" came the reply.

Now my curiosity was aroused. Surely no one would send us a common tortoise—especially by Air Express. That would be just like taking coal to Newcastle!

Nevertheless, I hastened to the Station to meet and greet this unexpected arrival.

And there was! A full grown, male, 10-pound tortoise. It apparently was none the worse for its turtle-shaking experience.

The snug box was equipped with newspaper packing and an adequate supply of fresh green lettuce.

The label on the package indicated that it had been shipped from Oregon. Transportation fees totaling $4.87, which fortunately had been prepaid, were shown on the receiving slip.

But the mystery remained unsolved.

Eventually a letter arrived. From it I quote:

"When we came through Boulder City in May we picked up a desert tortoise on the highway . . . near the Boulder Beach camping site.

"He has lived with us comfortably during our dry summer, but doesn't like our fall rains very well. I have read that these tortoises are getting scarce. Much as we like him, I guess we'd better send him back to his native habitat.

"So—by air express you will soon receive one desert tortoise, Boulder by name. Will you add one more to your long list of good offices and turn him loose again near his home.

"Thank you most sincerely. Robert Cooley, Leaburg, Oregon."

To this, note, he added, "And for your pleasure — we found this camping area the most attractive of all the ones we used through to New England and back again."

Yes, Bob, "your" desert tortoise, "Boulder" by name, will be returned to his home among the other desert dwellers. "Boulder" still has time to settle down from his lofty experiences before it is time for tortoises to seek out their hibernation dens for the winter ahead.

Cast Selected for Junior Class
Play 'The Whole Town's Talking'

The cast for the Basic High School Junior Class Play, "The Whole Town's Talking," was announced by director John R. Beatty after tryouts were held last week.

The play, a comedy in three acts, by Anita Loos and John Emerson, tells the story of Mr. Simmons who is trying to marry his daughter to his junior business partner, Chester Binney, an ineligible bachelor no girl wants. Mrs. Simmons fitting description of Chester is "He is such a blank that every time he comes in, it seems that someone has gone out."

In line with his theory, that every woman wants a man that every other woman wants, Mr. Simmons decides to invent a few love affairs for the unromantic Chester. He selects at random some photographs of glamorous women, one of whom turns out to be Letty Lythe, a movie star. The story is circulated that Chester is a "close" friend of the actress and in no time at all the whole town is talking and all the girls are falling for Chester.

In the midst of Mr. Binney's Lythe comes to town, accompanied by her fiancé who happens to be a prize fighter. Trouble starts for poor Chester, but he comes out on both feet in a most hilarious manner.

Tom Wood plays the conniving Mr. Simmons with Andrea Sewell as his distraught wife. Donna Hill is Ethel Simmons, their daughter, who has designs, but not on Chester. Pat Keenan is cast in the role of the glamorous Letty Lythe, with Ben Guthrie as poor, befuddled Chester. Other members of the cast are Sandra Neighbors, Patsy Lopeman, Doreen Starr, Jim Pitts, Janet Reck, and Joyce Daily. Bartis Nordloh and Linda Mack will assist Mr. Beatty as student directors.

The play will be given on Monday, November 14, and members of the Junior Class predict that it will leave the whole town talking.

Marriage Unites
Grace Lee Fuller,
David E. Guyette

Miss Grace Lee Fuller and David E. Guyette were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony held in Grace Community Church of Boulder City on Oct. 15, with the Rev. Earl S. Fox officiating.

The bride wore a white waltz length gown of nylon tulle with swoop neckline bodice of Chantilly lace. She wore a fingertip veil of net held in place by a pearl coronet and carried a bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis.

Miss Fuller was given in marriage by her father, Harry C. Fuller of Salt Lake City, Utah. Virginia Barquist sang "I Love Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Elton Garrett at the organ.

Miss Glen Smith, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a gown of orchid nylon tulle with matching bouquet.

Miss Mary Lou Guyette, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Mary Beth Fuller, sister of the bride, were bridesmaids. They were attired in nylon tulle gowns with matching bouquets. Miss Guyette was in blue and Miss Fuller in pink.

Robert L. Guyette, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man and Rex Tomlinson, Alex Coroneos, Sidney Pickard, and Neil Larson were ushers.

Mrs. Fuller chose a navy blue faille dress with rose accessories and matching corsage for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Guyette wore a gray dress with black accessories and a rose corsage.

A reception was held in the social hall of the church where the new Mr. and Mrs. Guyette cut the beautiful three-tiered wedding cake which centered the refreshment table flanked by pink roses and candelabra.

The bride is a graduate of the Boulder City High School where she was a member of the National Honor Society. She also attended the University of Redlands and the University of California at Riverside. She is employed at Titanium Metals Corporation.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Guyette of 78 East Texas St. and is a graduate of Basic high school. He was a three year letterman in football and was elected the most valuable player in his senior year. He attended the University of Nevada and served for two years in the U.S. Army. He is also an employee of Titanium Metals. The newlyweds recently turned on a honeymoon to San Francisco and are home at 107 Constitution the County as the School District instead of the community. I can still hear the pleadings that if I didn't withdraw my objection to limiting school districts to ONE to a County, it could kill the entire school Bill. Our present school financing dilemma which is requiring a Special Session is the result of just that very thing—County districts instead of community districts in the larger counties. Oh, well, some folks have to have it happen to them before they'll believe it can. Just like those few who've been continuously screaming to keep the central business district here "closed." It got so "closed" it seemed like it had a tall fence around it, as far as new business was concerned. But, then, better late than never. But it's nice to know there's at least ONE business in town doing well. Where do the customers come in, thru the back door?

About the Sales Tax—the opportunity for you to vote to kick it out or retain it will be on the Ballot at the next General Election one year from this coming November—so be sure to register to vote so YOU can be the ones to get rid of it.

Intended to write about drag-racing, etc. this week, but decided to wait 'til a bit later on. I've been listening to, and reading, so much double-talk from some public officials (no, not all in Henderson) that I felt that subject was a bit more important at the moment.

City Officials Plan Meeting With Subdividers

While final approval has not been granted by City of Henderson officials, grading and leveling of a site where 108 homes are eventually to be constructed is in progress this week. The site, to be known as Hillcrest Manor, is located near Basic high school.

City Engineer L. R. Douglass reported that a meeting will be held, possibly within the next ten days, when subdividers and city officials will discuss the various phases of the contemplated subdivision.

It was reported that Palmer and Kirsell of Los Angeles are the architects; Henry Eckard and Wayne Ireland of Las Vegas the general contractors; Broken Engineering Co. in charge of the engineering work;
