The Mailbag—From William Sullivan of Los Angeles (per he is) comes some interesting information we thought to be passed along to our readers. On Sullivan's postcard choice little item: deduction—Unless someone is done soon to stop the Chinese birth rate, in a year or two we are going to be in a war trying to stop over running all of it. It is quite certain what residents of Boulder City and Carson can do to halt the birth rate. I just thought you might be interested.

Support the Drive—Henderson Community Chest drive today and Chairman Curry is hopeful that the next five days a total of $7,000 can be raised. An average of $1,400 per day. Presently, the Community Chest has a bankroll of exactly $10,000 according to Curry, so it is difficult to understand that there is no surplus on hand. Originally, said Curry, the goal had been set at $10,000 but was reduced when the Boy Scouts withdrew from the Community Chest. All money collected during the next five days will aid worthy causes as the Henderson Welfare, Veterans Welfare, Henderson Youth Activities and to purchase Christmas Thanksgiving baskets for the less fortunate. Curry said money for Henderson Youth is spent for functions for children too young to participate in the Youth Center.

Today, you can expect to see a lot of people at the bazaar. Tomorrow, it was announced by President Wanda Mann also announced that the Relief Society will present a program in the next Sunday at 2:30 with music by the Singing Choir.

Third Ward LDS Relief Society will hold a bazaar at the Community Center tomorrow, it was announced by President Wanda Mann. Mrs. Mann also announced that the Relief Society will present a program in the next Sunday at 2:30 with music by the Singing Choir.

This Is Our City

James French Says . . .
I have an interesting situation in ward 5 of Henderson. In the incorporation of Henderson, the people of ward 5 were made certain by the incorporating committee that they now feel they are obligated to the City Council. Since the incorporating committee had no authority to incorporate the ward, they could make no deal. The City Council will, I know, whatever is in the best interest of the City in their opinion, guided by the wishes of the respective wards that they represent. If any group has any doubts I am sure that they will be given an opportunity to be heard.

Neighbors Hold Garage Sale Friday
A Juvenile Camp of Royal Purple of America will hold a garage sale in Carver Park today starting at 9:30 a.m. The sale will be held on the grounds raised through the efforts of the baton twirling club. The sale will be under the direction of adult leaders of the camp, Dolores Simons and Edna Baum.

BOOK WEEK
In conjunction with the Las Vegas Public Library, the Henderson District Public Library is observing National Book Week. Local residents are invited to visit their library during the national observance which ends Saturday.

COUNCIL MEETING PROMISES TO BE LENGTHY, HEATED
The City Council meeting Monday night promises to be lengthy and heated. Definitely on the agenda are two important hearings, one involving Sam Pearlstein's denial by the planning commission for a use permit and the other a show cause action delivered to Walter Bell ordering him to appear to show cause why his Jackpot Club license in Pittman should not be revoked.

While not definite, another possibility is the appearance of a Pittman group to present secession petitions. If the petitions are presented, the council probably will take no action Monday but will set a date for a hearing.

St. Peter's School Holds Open House Sunday Afternoon

St. Peter's Parochial School will hold open house on Sunday, Nov. 20 from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. Parents and friends are invited to attend and view the work of the students and interview the teachers of their children.

Henderson schools have been holding open house for parents and interested residents during Education Week. Townsite Elementary School and Basic High School were open to visitors on Monday evening and classrooms reported that in some instances they entertained more than 100 guests. Approximately 30 members of Mrs. Billie Danley's Future Homemakers of America acted as guides, showing the visitors around the school. Elementary School Principal Gordon McCaw expressed appreciation of school administrators for the assistance of the room mothers, FHA members, and others who assisted with the open house.

Open house at Park-Village and Basic Elementary schools was held on Wednesday evening.

Morry's Story

I may be wrong—but in my opinion—I believe Pittman should not secede from Henderson. Out here in this pioneer west where growth is fast and things happen overnight sometimes, it is always possible that little matters crop up that make some people unhappy and other people feel they're being treated unfairly.

But, in the overall picture, time goes by and proves out that if people will be patient with their governing boards—all those hurting matters become ironed out and the community is thereby bettered in the long run. Pittman ward, in my opinion, if it will be patient, stands to gain very much by being a part of Henderson. Water and sewerage in itself is well worth the wait, for it means modernization healthwise, protection-wise and business-wise. Property values will increase overnight, for sure. Fire protection will be 100 per cent when water lines are brought in, as are planned. City street lights are soon to be installed, which will turn Pittman into a beautiful front door for the city of Henderson.

City building codes require that all new structures be built along the lines of safety and modern design, rather than allowing shacks and false front type of developments. And the people themselves should want this one thing—if nothing else—the chance to vote for their councilmen and mayor—the chance to have a voice in community affairs. For too long a time Henderson and Pittman people have had to go along without this voice in local affairs. Incorporation brought this about. Democracy such as this is too valuable to overlook. As far as the city's desire to have right-of-ways widened along the Boulder hi-way, I feel certain those right-of-ways will be worked out to the satisfaction of the merchants. The state highway department will have to comply with the wishes of the merchants and the city officials also will follow these wishes, as long as these wishes follow modern and practical planning ideas.

I own property in Pittman and I am willing to go along with whatever the city of Henderson votes to do alongside my property. And I am not one to sit by and see my money wasted. I sure hope the people of Pittman will turn down the efforts of those who are trying to pull away from Henderson. To do so would be a damaging blow to the future of Henderson, in my opinion. If Pittman people have gripes, the way to get results is to pound fists on the city council chamber. Results will come best that way. That's how I feel and I've tried to weigh this opinion well before writing it to you. It is one man's opinion. You are entitled to yours. I hope yours and mine coincide—to become the majority, for in this great land of ours—thank God—majority rules.

MIGHTY MITES MEET BOB CATS FOR TITLE

The Mighty Mites of Henderson and St. Peter's Bob Cats will clash at Butcher Memorial Field the afternoon of Thanksgiving in a championship tilt. Admission is free and the game starts at 1:30.

The contest is sponsored by the Youth Activities Committee of the Community Chest in cooperation with the Henderson Recreation Department.

White Elephant Sale

The Emera Club of the Order of Eastern Star will meet tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock at Mt. Moriah Temple. A white elephant sale will be featured and all members are asked to bring an item for sale.

TROUT PLANT

Five hundred pounds of Rainbow Trout or an estimated 6,000 fish were planted at Willow Beach on Nov. 14 by U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service officials from the Springville, Utah Hatchery. The catchables all measured between six and eight inches.

DRAFT REMINDER

Young men in the Henderson-Boulder City area have been issued a reminder they are required to register with their Local Draft Board on their 18th birthday or not later than five days thereafter. Failure to register within the prescribed time may subject the individual to immediate induction as a delinquent registrant.

Wright Explains Highway Plan To Large Crowd

By RAE VON DORNUM
Otis Wright, Division Engineer for the State Highway Department spoke before Tuesday's meeting of the newly organized Boulder Highway Citizens' Association, explaining the views of the Highway Department on the widening and fencing of Boulder Highway. Wright said 87 1/2 per cent of the cost of the road will be paid by the government and the Bureau of Public Roads will not allocate any money for this highway unless the plan includes access roads. He assured the people that it is not the intention or desire of the department to harm the people who have invested in business and property along the highway and said he is certain the plan will prove of ultimate benefit to the residents of the area.

In Whitney, the proposed freeway will wipe out most of the business places, with no possibility of rebuilding on the remaining portion of the property. Wright was unable to explain how the road would benefit the present owners of this business frontage, but said the State plans to compensate them for their loss. Wright cited examples in certain parts of California where property values had raised after freeways and access roads were installed but was unable to explain why no business has been established in Whitney on the (Turn to Back Page)

DELINQUENT WATER BILLS

Final notice this week is being served on approximately 500 residents that their water will be disconnected unless they pay delinquent bills. Donald M. Dawson, director of finance, reported that about $1,900 is owed the city by water users who are at least three months delinquent. Dawson said that individuals may pay their bills by mail, at the Police Station or the City Hall.

ELKS CHARITY BALL TO BE HELD FRIDAY

The first annual Charity Ball, sponsored by the Henderson Elks Lodge 1956, will be held tomorrow evening in the former Henderson Recreation Building on Market St. The semi-formal dance will start at 9:30 p.m. and Tommy Nelson's orchestra will provide the music. Darrell Pitts is chairman of the ball which is given to raise funds for charity. Pitts said the dance is for adults only and admission for guests is $2.50.

Secession Meeting Spirited!

Henderson ain't done well by her stepchild—Pittman—if all remarks made at the Pittman Progressive Association meeting Tuesday night are true. Charges against the city were heatedly hurled by many of the men and women present and when you add them all up, the refrain comes out something like this: "All we ever got from Henderson was a run around and a bad time," a direct quote from two of the Pittman residents present. There were other charges, some more specific, some more general and the Henderson Police and Fire Departments didn't come out first best. Pittman residents generally are in agreement they're over-policed, too much protection. And concerning the fire department, one irate resident commented: "I don't know if the Henderson Fire Department ever put out a fire." The City Council didn't verbally escape unscathed, either. It was the contention of the majority taking the floor that the council had not kept faith with Pittman or Ward 5 as it is politically tilted. Main disgruntlement appeared to center around a sewage system, or lack of it. "We've got a better chance to obtain a sewage system from the county if we secede from Henderson," said one. And most were in agreement. But not Frank Price, one of the biggest property owners in Pittman. Price qualified his remarks with the statement "I'm neutral," but then he went on to comment that the city council had promised Pittman a sewage system within a short time "and I believe them." Price had an ally in the personage of Charles Barbour. It's Barbour's contention that the area doesn't have sufficient funds for a sewage system if Pittman secedes, and further property will devalue, probably as much as 50 per cent. While the majority present were for immediate secession, it should be reported that not all property owners were represented, including some who oppose secession. Two are Bob Pfluger, Swanky Club owner, and the Henderson Mayor, Dr. James French. Both have previously stated they are against it. Neither were Henderson Police or Fire Department representatives or City Council members present to refute some statements made. Following the meeting, held at the Alibi Club, N. R. Higgins, one of the leaders of the secession movement, said he wasn't certain if the City Council would be presented with secession petitions at the Monday night meeting or not. But during the meeting, he reported to the group that a majority of the property owners had signed the petitions. He did not announce the percentage. (By Bill Gillis)

Daring Don Campbell and the Bluebird wrote their names more indelibly in the speed boat record book shortly before 11 o'clock Wednesday morning when they averaged an amazing 216.2 miles per hour for two runs on Lake Mead. What was all the more amazing about the Briton's time trial was his first run, an almost unbelievable 239.5 miles per hour. Time for his second run was only 192 plus miles per hour or he might have established a mark that would never have been approached. Campbell held the old record of 202.32 miles, set on July 23 at Lake Ullswater, England, also with the Bluebird. It was an amazing comeback for the doughty Briton and the Bluebird. On the afternoon of Oct. 16—a month before to the day—the two and one-half ton $100,000 jet-propelled water rocket had sunk in 50 feet of water following a record run on Lake Mead. Immediately following his record run Wednesday, Campbell told Natural Park Service Superintendent Charles Richey "he was through for the season." Previously, Campbell had said he had come to the Lake Mead Recreational area to set a new world mark—and that's just exactly what he did. For the next two weeks, Campbell will remain at the Sahara in Las Vegas where his headquarters have been since he came to southern Nevada. During that time, the Bluebird will be on display in the hotel's pool area. Campbell's record run came Wednesday morning after five days of inactivity. Not since last Thursday afternoon had the Bluebird been in Lake Mead because of the high winds and inclement weather. Plans Wednesday called for Campbell to make his two runs at about dawn but he was delayed until shortly after 10:30. But when the time came, Campbell was ready and the Bluebird was able. It was unfortunate that water conditions changed between the first and second run or the average would have been considerably higher. Despite the lapsed time between the runs of only a few minutes, time enough to refuel, the changing water and wind conditions forced Campbell to employ all his daring and skill in maneuvering the final run without serious injury. But for the fact shoulder straps held him firmly behind the wheel, he might have been tossed into the water—the change of conditions was that great. Campbell, after finishing the run, complained of having sore shoulders, caused by the straps. Preliminary examination revealed the Bluebird to be in excellent shape. While thousands of persons have lined Lake Mead's shores to view one of Campbell's previous record attempts, outside of the press, radio and TV and Park Service officials, Wednesday morning's runs were witnessed in comparative secrecy. Appreciation has been expressed to all those who have so patiently aided Campbell and his assistants in making the record attempts possible during the last four weeks.

Peck's 90-Yard Run Highlights Contest But Basic Loses, 20-13

"Mistakes, both offensive and defensive, beat us." Coach Charles Razmic's statement pretty much sums up his team's loss to Boulder City last Friday night by a score of 20-13. Despite the loss, it remained for Quarterback Bob Peck to send the fans home talking—that's if they saw his spectacular 90 yard runback of a Boulder kickoff with about a minute remaining in the game. It was certainly one of the longest, if not the longest kickoff returns of the season in the state, and Basic's longest scoring play of the year. Bob Barker made the key block to spring diminutive Peck loose. As brilliant and spectacular as the run, it was "too little, too late." Boulder only seconds before had wrapped up the game for all intents and purposes when John Sharp churned over for the Eagles' third touchdown of the evening. Previously, the Boulder eleven had scored on two identical pass plays from Roger Barnson to Fred Heineman.

When Frank Porter converted, the Wolves were back in the game. Midway in the final period after an exchange of kicks, Basic took over the ball and again moved menacingly in the direction of the Boulder goal on the ground. With a second and 15 situation, Peck dropped back to pass, Sharp intercepted, the Basic threat was over and a few plays later, the Eagles scored their winning six pointer. Peck, who had been hot with his aerial game recently, was definitely "off" against Boulder completing only one in ten shots, and that for only seven (Continued on Page 13)

UNANNOUNCED GUEST STOPS THE TV SHOW

Harry Miller of 110 Magnesium St., paid an unexpected call on his neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith, 3 Victory Road, Sunday evening when his car went out of control and crashed into the Smith's living room where the family were enjoying a television show. Miller was unable to account for the cause of the freak accident which caused extensive damage to the house and car. Mr. and Mrs. Smith and their children, Rodney, 2 1/2, Ronda, 7, and Karen, a teen-ager, were watching the climax of a dramatic police film to which the car crashing through the wall and into the room added a too realistic end. No one was injured and young Rodney, who was sitting directly in the path of the car as it crashed, was pushed out of the way by the impact, unharmed. In a similar accident on the same day, a customer crashed through the wall of the Texaco Station at Bond Road and Boulder Highway when he drove into the station and his brakes failed to hold. Both the car and the station office were badly damaged but no one was injured.

MORE GIRL SCOUT LEADERS NEEDED

Girl Scout leaders are urgently needed in the Park-Village area, according to Mrs. Marjorie Woloshen who is in charge of the sector. Four organized troops of Brownies and Girl Scouts in Park-Village are presently inactive because they have no leaders. Women in this section of the city, willing to serve as leaders, are requested to contact Mrs. Woloshen at FR 4-9053.

HENDERSON ROTARY CLUB TO HOST DISTRICT GOVERNOR G. L. PAYNE

The Rotary Club of Henderson tomorrow will host to G. L. "Tige" Payne, Governor of District 160-C of Rotary International, who is making his annual official visit to each of the 33 Rotary Clubs in this area. He will address the Club and confer with President Harve Perry, Secretary Dick Feist and committee chairmen on Rotary administration and service activities.

Mr. Payne is a partner of Ingham, Coates and Payne, Insurance Brokers, in Pasadena and is a member and Past President of the Rotary Club of Pasadena. He has been quite active in the civic affairs of Pasadena, holding offices in the YMCA and Community Chest, and in 1950 he received the Pasadena Outstanding Young Man Award, "Tige," as he is known throughout this District, was elected District Governor of Rotary International for the 1955-56 fiscal year at Rotary's Golden Anniversary Convention in Chicago last June. He is one of the 238 District Governors supervising the activities of some 8,700 Rotary Clubs which have a membership of 414,000 business and professional executives in 92 countries and geographical regions throughout the world.

Wherever Rotary Clubs are located, President Harve Perry asserted in discussing the Governor's visit, their activities are similar to those of the Rotary Club of Henderson because they are based on the same general objectives — developing better understanding and fellowship among business and professional men, promoting community-betterment undertakings, raising the standards of business and professions, and fostering the advancement of good will, understanding and peace among all the peoples of the world.

Each year, this world-wide service organization continues to grow in numbers and in strength. During the past fiscal year, 416 new Rotary Clubs organized in 50 countries of North, South and Central America, Europe, Asia, Africa and the Islands of the Pacific.

The Henderson Rotary Club has been active in raising funds for the Henderson Youth Center through Club participation in operating a booth at the Community Fair, the proceeds of which were donated to the Youth Center. Max Welling was the spark plug on this project and did a wonderful job. The club is sponsor to Troop No. 23 Boy Scouts of America, the Club is also active in other community projects.

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

Olympian Yankee
Because Oliver Wendell Holmes has long been one of America's best-loved poet-essayists, we sometimes overlook the fact that he was also a scientist of extraordinary perception. Living in an era of gross superstition and quackery, Holmes' thirst for scientific truth made him a sharp critic of contemporary medical blunderings.

As a youth Holmes incensed his colleagues by suggesting that they were carrying infection from one patient to another. His paper on the subject, greeted at first with round condemnation, has since won applause as one of medicine's greatest boons.

Holmes' whiplash attacks helped root medical charlatany and set the stage for an era of true scientific progress. In one intuitive flash, he even foreshadowed the concept of neurosis. About 1870 Holmes wrote: "There are thoughts that never emerge into consciousness, which yet make their influence felt among the perceptible mental currents. Old prejudices, that are ashamed to confess themselves, nudge our talking thought to utter their magisterial veto. In hours of languor... the beliefs and fancies of obsolete conditions are apt to take advantage of us."

Should the patient be told? Holmes expressed well-defined views on this subject. "Your patient has no more right to all the truth you know than he has to all the medicine in your saddlebags. . . . He should get only just as much as is good for him. . . . It is a terrible thing to take away hope, even earthly hope, from a fellow creature."

In 1847 Holmes joined the staff of the Massachusetts General Hospital and the Harvard Medical School. There he taught anatomy, physiology, and many other subjects, helping to train a generation of medical men whose devotion to truth would be as strong as his own.

Bank of Nevada
Christmas Checks
In Mail Nov. 18

Retail trade in Southern Nevada will this week be given a "shot in the arm" to stimulate early Christmas shopping, according to S. L. Butterfield, President of the Bank of Nevada.

"Friday, Nov. 18, we are mailing out Christmas Club checks totaling $200,000 to approximately 1900 residents of Las Vegas, Boulder City, Henderson and vicinity," states Butterfield. "This is extra cash for the holidays, representing additional business for local merchants."

"This is only the second year Bank of Nevada has made a Christmas Club distribution, and we feel that we have made an excellent showing. Experience elsewhere indicates that Christmas Club is cumulative. A very large percentage of the members re-enroll in the Club, after receiving their holiday checks and experiencing the satisfaction of an extra-generous Christmas without budget strain or post-Christmas debts." Simultaneously with distribution of these checks, ear-

Carver Park and Victory Village
Units Are Now Using Natural Gas

By JAMES FARNDAL
The Housing Authority of Clark county has completed its program of converting all its dwelling units at Victory Village and Carver Park to the use of natural gas. The final contracts for the installation were completed last week by Larkin Plumbing Co. of Henderson, and Coroneo Plumbing Co. of Pittman. During the early part of the installation, the Jones Construction was given a general contract but the same two plumbing firms did the actual plumbing installation throughout.

In order to accomplish the work with a minimum of discomfort to families occupying the apartments, the fullest cooperation of all concerned was needed. The California-Pacific Utilities Company furnished and installed all of the meters. It was also the Utility's job to contact each tenant and arrange for service, and to turn on the fuel whenever a unit was ready. Each unit had to be approved by the Henderson City building inspection department. The contractor had to notify each family ahead of time when the work would be started. No unit was started which could not be finished the same day. The installing crew would move in after the family breakfast was finished, the utility would turn the gas into the appliances in time for the family to enjoy a dinner cooked on the new appliances. At no time was any family left without cooking facilities overnight, nor did any family find it necessary to move out during the installation operation. The highest praise is due to those who participated in this work including the families living in the dwellings.

The Nevada Hardware furnished the Coleman Space Heaters, the Standard Wholesale furnished the Day and Nite Water Heaters, and all of the metalbestos venting materials, while Rheem Manufacturing Co. furnished the Wedgewood ranges. Installed were 836 each space heaters, water heaters and ranges or a total of 2608 separate appliances, and 8,360 pieces of venting material. More than 12,000 feet of gas pipe was used not to mention all of the fittings and water pipe and fittings which were needed in the work. The first contract was started in July of 1954. It was expected at that time the work would take about two years to complete since it had to be done by the use of excess revenues from rentals. At the same time, many other improvements to the projects were being carried on which the Authority did not wish to curtail.

St. Peter's School
Parents Hear Gould

City Recreation Director Dr. Carl Gould was guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Parents Club of St. Peter's Archdiocesan School. Dr. Gould discussed the recreation program now being carried out and pointed out the need for a hantop area for volley ball, basketball, and other such sports.

A drive for playground equipment is now underway and Mrs. A. Swift reported that the pledge program is proceeding satisfactorily. A complete playground program has been mapped out by the Parents Club and work will proceed as fast as the necessary funds are made available through the present fund drive.

The club also voted to give substantial assistance in furnishing the convent for the Sisters and a large, fund raising social event was suggested to aid this project.

Sister Jane de Chantal gave an outline of the ideals of the sisters and responsibilities of the parents and welcomed the teachers of the school.

Officers for the coming year were elected at the conclusion of the meeting. Robert Allen was chosen as president; Mrs. Arlyne Miller, vice president; Mrs. R. A. Swift, secretary; and Mrs. Von Stout, treasurer.

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

Cold Facts
In the next few months to come, nothing will be so common as the common cold. The tiny viral mauler thought to cause this costly ailment is as ubiquitous as it is elusive.

Thus far, scientists have found no sure way of preventing the cold. In fact, in a switch on the old saw "Physician Heal Thyself" many researchers probing the cause and cure of the cold will be sniffing right along with the rest of us before the winter's out.

Ultimately, their work may pan out; to date it has not been entirely unencouraging. Dr. Christopher Andrewes, for instance, has spent almost a decade studying the ailment at the Common Cold Foundation in Salisbury, England. One of the cold's most baffling aspects, he has found, is that it doesn't behave like most other contagious diseases.

It may be easy to "catch" socially, but it's very difficult to "give" scientifically, Dr. Andrewes' experiments indicate. Attempts to transmit the ailment to volunteers artificially at the Common Cold Center were unsuccessful in 50 per cent of the cases.

Far more successful has been work aimed at finding effective ways to reduce much of the cold sufferer's misery.

The recently-developed medication, Tyzine, for example, has proven highly successful in relieving one of the cold's worst symptoms—a stuffed-up nose. In clinical tests on 203 patients, ranging from 18 months to 81 years, Tyzine gave "excellent relief" in 92 per cent of the cases, according to a report in the New York State Journal of Medicine. Relief lasted about four hours and the solution didn't lose any effectiveness even when used for prolonged periods.

For combatting other cold symptoms, many sufferers prefer home grown remedies like rock candy. But there is one bit of advice on which doctors stand unanimous: Don't "fight" your cold. Take to your bed and hope for the best.

Retail Merchants Declines Invite

The Retail Merchants Association has voted to remain an independent organization, it was announced by George Campbell, president.

Bob Woodruff, president of the Chamber of Commerce, invited the association to become part of the Chamber and commented that he thought the city too small to support two separate organizations of the same type and that one large organization could accomplish more than two smaller ones. Woodruff suggested that the Retail Merchants group become a division of the Chamber of Commerce.

Campbell said members of the merchants association preferred to join the chamber as individuals and retain their own separate group.

Henderson DeMolays Attend L.A. Workshop

A delegation of members of the Frank E. Sturm chapter of the Order of DeMolay last week attended the Western Regional DeMolay workshop conducted by the Supreme Council staff from Kansas City, Mo., in Los Angeles.

Gorman A. McBride, supreme council activities director was in charge. Roy E. Fitzgerald, assistant to Frank S. Land, secretary general of the Order, also spoke. The meetings were conducted in the Scottish Rite Cathedral at 929 South Hope St. Representing the local chapter were George Hammond, Roy McGough, Max Bosse, Tom Eggers, Bob Taylor, Jerry Leland, and Douglas Lottridge.

Chapter functions and activities and ways and means of expanding and developing DeMolay were discussed during the sessions. This was the last of eight workshops conducted throughout the United States. Arizona, California, Colorado, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah, and Hawaii.

With Bill Belknap

Have you ever bought one of the brightly painted Indian kachina dolls sold in practically every curio shop in the West?

Until the gay little figures caught the fancy of the American public a few years ago they were made strictly as playthings for Hopi Indian children. But they were playthings with a purpose, to teach youngsters the symbolism of the sacred kachinas in a way they'd never forget.

High on the wind-swept mesa 75 miles north of Winslow, Arizona, the Hopi Indians live in pueblo villages much as they have for hundreds of years. Their main stays of life are the sheep and corn they raise on the arid land. Hopi religion is based on one thing — lack of water. Every prayer includes a request for rain or snow.

They believe that when a person dies he goes back to the underworld, where all Hopis come from when they're born. The entrance to this realm is said to be in the depths of the Grand Canyon near the mouth of the Little Colorado River. The Hopi underworld is in no sense like our legendary hell; it's a pleasant place where one joins all Hopis who have ever lived. But in it people lose their identity and become kachina spirits who have great influence over the forces of nature. When you realize this, it's easy to understand why a Hopi "church" is a kiva, or underground chamber. A kiva is symbolic of the underworld and an appropriate place for the most sacred ceremonies.

In order to transmit the prayers of living Hopis to the powerful ancestors of the underworld, a number of kachina dances are held each year between January and late July. In these dances, men of the villages costume and mask themselves to represent legendary kachina spirits. The masks are sacred, handed down from one generation to the next. And when an authorized Hopi man wears one in a ceremony he becomes a kachina spirit and is thus able to communicate prayers to the kachinas of the underworld.

Until they are old enough to be initiated into the kachina clan, Hopi youngsters are taught that the dancers are real kachinas who have come from the underworld to receive prayers. During some of the dances the kachinas bring presents for the children — rattles, bows and arrows, food — but mainly kachina dolls. Hopi youngsters play with these wooden figures and hang them on their walls. The living kachinas are like our Santa Claus, but in a far more serious way.

How many kachinas are there? Nobody really knows. A good guess would be 250. But there are probably not more than 90 being used in ceremonies today. Some are so ancient that the Hopis themselves have forgotten their origin or meaning.

If you have the good fortune to visit a Hopi village when a dance is going on, you'll see from 20 to 40 men taking part, all costumed as the same kachina. Or you might catch one of the rare "mixed dances" and see 50 different kachinas the same day. The Hopis don't subject to visitors at the dances if they're quiet and sincerely interested in what's going on.

A genuine kachina doll, Hopi-made and painted with true symbolism, now costs from $10 to $30. And finding a good one isn't easy. One that you see in souvenir shops for less than $5 are machine-made and gaudily painted with designs even a Hopi couldn't recognize. But dealers from the East buy them in vast quantities.

Collecting real kachina dolls is a fascinating project. But it takes lots of research and advice from the Hopis themselves or white people who've studied the subject.

Bids for Tugboat Sought by Bureau

The Bureau of Reclamation will open bids at 10 a.m. Jan. 4 here for the manufacture and launching of a heavy duty steel hull tugboat which will be used for maneuvering and towing the dredge, "The Colorado," and other items of floating equipment in the Colorado River.

The tugboat will be of steel all-welded construction throughout with an overall length of 60 feet width of 20 feet, and depth of 6 feet and 9 inches. It will be propelled by two diesel engines, each developing 400 shp. Copies of specifications no. 300-C-81, describing the design and construction of the craft, are available in the Bureau's regional office in Boulder City and the Colorado River Front Work and Levee System office at Needles.

City Employees, Guests Enjoy Venison Barbecue

More than 100 city employees and guests enjoyed a recent venison barbecue served on picnic tables set up at the city yard.

Venison for the feast was provided by Police Chief George Crisler and was prepared by Curtis Compton, chef de cuisine of the Police Department. A barbecue for preparing the meat was also set up in the city yards.

In addition to the venison, baked beans, potato salad, and lettuce and tomato salad were served. A tape recorder and amplifier provided music entertainment.

Chief Crisler, who bagged the deer while on a hunting trip with Mayor James French, James McKay, Fritz Crisler, and Frank Toscarino of Los Angeles, also feted city employees and guests at a venison barbecue after his 1954 hunting trip. Last year's affair was held at the Cactus Club in Pittman.

INYO MINING CLAIMS PURCHASED BY VEGANS

Purchase of the Archurus and Rusty Pike claims in Inyo county in California for $750,000 has been announced by a spokesman for the Apache Uranium Corporation and the King Solomon Mining Co. Inc. of Las Vegas.

The properties, which lie approximately 50 miles northwest of Baker, Calif. are in the Ibez mining district and were purchased from Lucian Gaskins, a Los Angeles prospector who has done considerable exploration in this area.

Henderson Man Enrolls In Engineering Course

Dickie L. McEwen son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace McEwen, 35 E. Basic Rd., Henderson, has been accepted by Northrop Aeronautical Institute, Inglewood, Calif. for enrollment in the Maintenance Engineering Course. Desert Dwellers . . .
 By WALLY WALLIS
 Naturalist Lake Mead National Recreation Area

I discovered some most peculiar seed pods at the Indian Gardens, down in the depths of Meriwitica Canyon, the other day, while on an expedition with Photographer Bill Belknap and a group of explorer scouts from Boulder City's Post No. 5.

My curiosity was aroused. I had never happened to find any such oddly shaped pods.

The seed capsules were dark brown to black in coloration. From one end, two long incurved and sharply pointed claws extended. Between the two was a thin beaklike projection which ran backward to form a crest or comb on the upper part of the pod.

Total length of the capsules was 5 to 8 inches. When on the ground, the pods lie with the two extensions pointing upward. These points can catch onto ones clothing quite readily. The opening between the two is wide enough for a shoe to slip between.

When the claws are pulled apart, out drop a number of hard, dark-colored seeds which look all the world like small bits of charcoal or small stones.

These flattish, black seeds have a rough granular surface.

A little research revealed that these oddly shaped pods belong to a plant appropriately named Unicorn Plant or Devil's Claw. It is rather widely distributed throughout Arizona and frequently seen along the roadways.

The ugly appearance of the pods gives no indication of the profuse and showy blossoms which this large leaved plant possesses when it is flowering. These blooms may be reddish purple, copper-colored or russet yellow and red-spotted. The coloration may be greatly varied.

Young pods are sometimes eaten as a vegetable. The split pods provides certain Arizona Indians, including the Pima Indians, with material to weave the black design in their baskets.

In the domestic sheep ranges, the plant is considered as a pest because the hooked beaks of the pod become entangled in the animals' fleece.

Here is another fascinating desert dweller to look for in your travels around the Lake Mead National Recreation Area.

Mad About Dogs

In spite of my assurance to the contrary, Dog ticks can impair the Rocky Mountain tick to people. Dr. Arthur A. Case, Professor of Veterinary Medicine and Surgery at the University of Missouri, says that ticks from the domestic dogs have been found to possess the germ that is responsible for the dreaded fever.

Most dogs are immune to the fever, and it is thought that ticks have been propagated on an immune animal, do not produce the bacteria that sponsors the fever.

Dr. Case recommends the use of a residual dip for all dogs within an area known to be contaminated. MAD didn't know that there were any areas in which the tick didn't exist, but of one thing he is certain, there are plenty of ticks around here. I could refer you to 20 or 30 dog owners who are constantly fighting the pests.

Boulder City's pest control expert, Doc Edgar Armstrong, has been employed on numerous occasions, to give the necessary treatment to homes, where the ticks have taken up their abode in the rugs, carpets and crevices. This is the ideal time of the year for that treatment because, those that have been living on outdoor vegetation will become quite inactive during the cold months ahead. If you can get the pets freed from the pests, and have all of the ticks in the house eliminated, next year's control will be much easier.

Certain vermin-killers, especially those containing DDT, can cause internal poisoning by absorption or, more quickly, by being licked off. It is best to tie the mouth shut or to watch the animal carefully until the germicidal or disinfectant has had time to dry.

There are many proven tick cures on the market that are not harmful to dogs—if used in moderation. The trouble is, that when grounds or quarters are infested, control becomes difficult. The tiny seed-tick may lie dormant for a long time, but soon comes to life when the warmth of an animal's body offers promise of sustenance. Nature has provided this menace to livestock with the ability to fasten itself to a prospective host on short notice, once it has made contact.

I picked up an aerosol dispenser of tick spray and repellent last August, which is available at the Pet Service Shop in the alley, just back of our house. I haven't tried it on the rugs and woodwork, to see what effect it would have on the surface, but it has done a fair job of keeping the bugs off of the dogs, when used according to directions.

If it hadn't been for one case, where I suspected tick fever, I would probably wandered off onto some other subject for today's pest-prattle, but seriously, there is one dog that has really been on the sick list from what I suspect of being tick-fever.

Third Son
 Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Barker, 54 Wyoming Street, welcomed their third son on Wednesday evening, November 9th, at the Southern Nevada Memorial Hospital. The child weighed 8 lbs. 12 oz. and he and his mother returned home Saturday afternoon, to be greeted by his two brothers, Jimmy and Clyde. Barker is chef for Fortune Club and Nevada Club in Las Vegas, which operate under combined restaurant managements.

Return from L.A. Trip
 Mr. and Mrs. C. N. May, 51 Wyoming Street, made a five-day business trip to Los Angeles and Whittier, returning on Wednesday of last week. While there they were house-guests of Mrs. Tom Crumley of Whittier, friend of the Mays for a number of years. The late Tom Crumley and May were both patients in 1945 at the Veterans Hospital in Brigham City, Utah, and they and their wives, who were in Brigham City to be near them, became close friends at that time.

Quail Hunters
 Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Murphy and children, Pete, Pat and Coleen, 111 Joshua Street, accompanied by Murphy's brother, Lawrence, and Charles Baldwin and Red Porter, all of Henderson, drove to Overton Sunday for quail hunting. Mrs. Murphy and children remained at the Clyde Perkins home, while Perkins joined the local men for the day's hunting in the Overton valley. They report fair luck in their efforts to reach their quota of birds.

New Home Owners
 Settled recently in their newly-purchased home at 103 Ocotillo Street are Mr. and Mrs. George Heil and son, Roger, and daughters, Janet and Lois, who have been residents of Manganese Park for the past several months, residing first at 112 Cholla Street. The Heils moved to Henderson from San Bernardino, Calif., and he is employed by the Southern Nevada Telephone Co. in Las Vegas.
 Visit Former Neighbor Mrs. Don May, and children,

Janet, Jimmy and Donnie, 109 Joshua Street, flew to Los Angeles for a five-day visit with the Mays' former neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. George Kearney of Hawthorne, Calif. The trip was an especial thrill for the children, although they are all veteran flyers, their father being a pilot for Bonanza Air Lines.

Rev. Emil Busk Sends Greetings from Denmark

The Rev. Emil Busk, pastor of the Pittman Bible Chapel, sends postcard greetings to his many friends in Henderson from Copenhagen, Denmark where he is presently visiting. The Rev. True H. Maxfield, lifelong friend of Rev. Busk spoke at the Wednesday evening and Sunday services at the Pittman Chapel recently.

Friends wishing to correspond with Rev. Busk may address him in care of Mr. Erik Bager, Vesterbrogade 192, Copenhagen, Denmark. It is expected that he will be there for approximately another month.

Boulder Highway Property Owners Organize to Protest Fencing Freeway

Thirty-five people, owning property on, or adjacent to, Boulder Highway, met recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Price in Pittman and formed an organization to protest the proposed widening and fencing of the four lane thoroughfare by the Nevada State Highway Department.

N. R. Higgins, owner of the Higgins Motel in Pittman, was elected president of the group and accepted the chair from Dr. J. H. Coogan who called the meeting.

Those present unanimously approved a resolution protesting any further encroachment on private property by the State Highway Department and also to protest the erection of fences on the highway.

The group was unanimous in its belief that the present right-of-way is wide enough for the installation of two more lanes of traffic in the median strip and an additional lane on either side, if the Highway Department feels more lanes of traffic are necessary.

Dr. Coogan reported on a meeting with Otis Wright, Division Engineer of the State Highway Department. He said Wright told him the width of the median strip was necessary to accommodate people moving here with trailers who would find it difficult to cross from one side of the road to the other without the width of the unpaved strip between the traffic lanes. Dr. Coogan feels it is impractical to be forced to demolish his new buildings for this reason and said he sees no more than three or four trailers on the road during the year, in his trips on this highway.

Again Dr. Coogan pointed out the number of people maimed and killed by the open concrete culverts in the central strip of the highway which he called "death traps," and the open ends of culverts at the edge of the pavement which he said are in the same category. Paving the median strip, he said, would eliminate the necessity of disrupting business along the highway and add to the safety of the traffic.

Mayor James B. French was present and said the city favors the limited access road which officials believe will benefit the city in the future. Property owners present seemed of the opinion that their future would be rather bleak if their life savings, invested in Boulder Highway property, is to be lost through improving what they consider an adequate highway. Councilmen Paul Dickover and Lou F. LaPorta were also present and LaPorta congratulated the property owners on their formation of an organization to work out their mutual problems. Property owners present were from Pittman, Henderson and Las Vegas.

Drive A Little and Save A Lot

By Gillis

pect a visit from one of the unpaid volunteer workers who are donating their time to make the drive a success. There will be no payroll deduction plan, but it will be possible to mail donations and they should be addressed to:
Bob Olsen, Treasurer
Henderson Community Chest
33 Water St.
When the drive is ended, money collected will be administered by a group composed of Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Richardson, Mrs. Mary Jo Todd, Aubrey Pagan and D. U. Hillis. Mr. Richardson is president of the Henderson Community Chest this year.
Any of the group is also available and should be contacted for Community Chest funds when emergencies arise.
Chairman Curry emphasized that the goal this year is realistic and certainly not out of reach for a growing community the size of Henderson.
"I'm positive we can realize the goal this year," he added.
We hope he does and believe he will—with financial cooperation on the part of the residents of Henderson.
Still Pouchin—One admirable trait about Otis Wright, the superintendent of highways for the southern part of the state—he doesn't rile easy. Tuesday night he was the main speaker at a Boulder highway property owner's meeting, held at the Alibi Club, and he spent considerable time answering mostly hostile questions. Obviously, highway property owners and businessmen are opposed to any setback plan which would deprive them of even a foot of land. Wright bore the brunt of the attack for higher state officials but as far as we could determine, Wright answered all questions to the best of his ability and was still on his feet when the verbal bout ended.

Wolves Lose

yards.
The Basic quarterback had been criticized following the game for his choice of plays—particularly passing when Basic was moving on the ground—but Coach Razmic stoutly defended Peck in a post game statement.
"That fourth quarter pass play was a good call, the best of the game and we'd have wound up with no worse than a tie if it had worked. It was just unfortunate that it was intercepted," he said.
And he added, "I definitely do not blame Peck for losing the game."
The Wolves had the opportunity to participate in the CIF playoffs as representative of the Tri-State League where they finished runnerup to Blythe but Coach Razmic nixed that with the comment:
"We don't want to go as the second place team."

Highway

side where the access road was installed with openings at every block. Access roads on Boulder Highway, he said, will be one mile apart.
The plan for the limited access highway, Wright said, was suggested by the City Planning Board and City officials of Henderson.
Following a trip to Southern California, to study the results of freeways there, Wright will meet with the Boulder Highway Association on Tuesday, Nov. 29, to report on his trip as he said it would be impossible to give a report at next Tuesday's meeting.
A letter to Pete Kelly of the Department of Economic Development in Carson City, written by Henry Bridgeman, chairman of the Highway 66 Association and representative at large of the Boulder Highway group, was read by chairman Lee Glen. The letter requests that the State Highway Department abandon the present plan for Boulder Highway and adopt something more to the liking of the people and less injurious to highway business.

ST. PETER'S SPONSORS THANKSGIVING DANCE

An eight piece orchestra, composed of members of Benny Short's orchestra, will play at the annual Thanksgiving dance at St. Peter's church hall Saturday night.
Grand prize to be given at the dance is a complete set of Funk and Wagnall Encyclopedias. A varied list of prizes will also be featured at the traditional turkey pull.
The dance is open to the public and proceeds will go for the furnishing of the new convent for the teaching Sisters of St. Peter's School.

Basic Coach Receives Lions Club Medal

Charles Razmic, coach of the Basic high school varsity football team, was honored by the Henderson Lions Club at a regular meeting Monday night.
The Lions aided in sponsoring the Basic-Blythe game recently and voted to present a medal to the outstanding Basic player in the game. Squad members voted that the medal should go to their coach.
President Pat Heher made the presentation to Coach Razmic Monday night and was in charge of the meeting.

Mag Recovery Bowlers Take All Four Games

In the Friday Night Titanium Bowling League, Mag Recovery continued their winning ways by taking all four games from Transportation. Purification Department defeated Chlorides 3-1; Reduction split 2-2 with Sponge; and Technical won 3-1 from Melting.
None of the season's high scores were threatened; J. C. Priscue won the lube job with a 513 series while Phil Maddex picked off the 6-7-10 split.

Midget Gridders Win Final Game

In their last game of the season, the Boulder City Midget A football team recently defeated the Henderson A team by a score of 7-6.
After David Shay intercepted a pass, Pepper Combs carried the ball over for a touchdown on a quarterback sneak and the conversion try was good on a pass from Combs to Marvin Mays for what proved to be the winning point. Henderson scored its six points on a long run by Major but failed to convert. Bob Mitchell played an outstanding game on defense and also performing well for Boulder were Cooper, Barker, Cottingham and Olsen.
In the B game, Henderson was the winner by a score of 18-0. Tyree and Steeves did some excellent tackling and blocking for Boulder while Tommy Berry made a good passing and receiving combination.
Coaches of the respective teams who have faithfully worked with the youngsters throughout the season include Bob Cottingham, A team; Nolan Berry, B team; and Bob Sparks, C team. They have been assisted by Garland Barneby for the A's and Richard Bell for the B's.
Joe Manix was in charge of the organization and the Recreation commission furnished the red and white game jerseys.

ST. TIMOTHY'S PLANS 'STIR UP' SERVICES

A 'Stir up' Sunday service of family worship and re-dedication for all members and friends of St. Timothy's Episcopal church will be held this coming Sunday at 11 a.m., according to the Rev. Robert H. Cochrane, Vicar. Concerning this service, Father Cochrane reports that "in the official calendar of the Episcopal Church Sunday, Nov. 20, is known as 'The Sunday next before Advent.'"
"To observe 'Stir up' Sunday and to help begin the new Church year, we are planning a great family service for every member of every family in the parish."
"It is our hope that on this 'Stir up' Sunday those of us who have gotten out of the habit of church-going may use this opportunity to begin this excellent habit again," the Rev. Cochrane said.

Sunday School will be held as usual on Sunday at 9:30 but the children have been asked to remain afterwards and wait for their parents in order that all may attend the 11 o'clock service. A nursery will be provided for the younger children.

Enjoying Visit

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Call and family of 99-A Victory Village are enjoying a visit and pre-Thanksgiving celebration with Mrs. Call's parents in Hurricane, Utah. The Calls will go to Tucson, Ari. to enjoy Thanksgiving with Mr. Call's brother before returning to Henderson.

Our City

lead. I am a property owner in Pittman and have not been contacted about this secession.
From the standpoint of a property owner, it is possible that a secession move might be properly employed if it is used as a move to re-incorporate including BMI in this city limits. Since the looting of Henderson by this group of businesses has left the City in a bad financial situation and since they have not carried out their letter of intent, which was issued as a promise if we would incorporate leaving them out, I feel that if the only way to expect BMI to assume their obligations to this area is by force of inclusion the move has some merit.
As to expectation from the County government I feel that this is hopeless judging from previous behavior. As Mayor of Henderson, it would relieve the City of considerable expense in streets, utilities, and the advantage would of course be ours. We own the water system and would gain the profit from this without having to provide the additional services of police, fire, health protection etc., that we are now obligated to perform.
I feel that it is time for this ward to make up their minds and either become a part of Henderson or go ahead and apply for secession. Naturally I would hate to see a breakup of the good beginning that we have made so far but it is also tiring to hear a few so-called leaders start ranting about grand jury investigation, which we would welcome, any time they do not get their way or are called upon to conform to the same ordinances that the rest of the town has to.
There is a lot of merit in cooperation but every time that there is the least problem which is still in the discussion state (as is the highway) the only answer seems to be a threat to secede and call for an investigation. People with personal axes to grind such as Mr. Bell who is not a citizen of ours and who is not operating satisfactorily to any type of government are prone to attempt to stir up the people with fanciful stories and rumor in order to attempt to coerce the Council into poor government and planning.
Insofar as any investigation is concerned the City will welcome anyone including Mr. Bell to come up and investigate until he tires of it—we have nothing to hide or fear from anyone digging as deep as he cares to. I know that there are people who live in this ward that are able to think for themselves and will not be stamped by loud shouting and unfounded facts into a move that will permit some to gain personal advantages they believe will be had under county government.
Since this whole ruckus started by the state hiway to plan for the future and since no decisions have been made yet in this regard I fail to see anything else than an attempt by one or two persons to include an entire ward in their own personal animosities and desires.
Those who are called upon should think for themselves and accept fact instead of stories put out by those with this axe to grind against the City.
We plan an open meeting in the near future to study with the state hiway dept. the plans for their proposed expansion. Until we know what the plans are how can we decide we do not want to cooperate?

Girl Scouts Withdraw From Community Chest

Members of the Frontier Girl Scout Council have withdrawn from the Henderson Community Chest and will hold their own fund raising campaign Dec. 1, and 2, 1955.
Dissatisfaction with the results of the combined campaign were given as the reason for the action according to Lucy Deaner, Secretary.
In a letter to the local Community Chest, Mrs. Deaner said: "At the Sept. 27, 1955 Girl Scout Board of Directors Meeting, it was unanimously voted to withdraw from the Henderson Community Chest, and conduct a separate drive in Henderson for 1956 Girl Scout funds."
"Your advance Community Chest, publicity has been brought to our attention, however, we wish to reiterate our original intention to withdraw from your Henderson Community Chest, and we trust you will now remove the name of Girl Scouts from your publicity.

VFW Auxiliary Presents Caps To Junior Girls

Two new members, Susan Stephens and Carolyn Snyder were admitted to the group. Senior Vice President Pauline Stephens presided at the meeting in the absence of President Susan Pherigo. Prize winners were Susan Raduziner and Carolyn Snyder.

Guests present were Eilene MacEachern, Betty Raduziner, Phyllis Weller, Ethel Pfeiffer, Mary Alice Lunsford, District President Ellen Ireland, Auxiliary President Jean West, and Louella Chandler, director of the Junior Girls unit.
Members present were Rebekah Kenworthy, Susan Raduziner, Luwen Kenworthy, Elizabeth Romanoski, Pamela Romanoski, Gayle Pfeiffer, Judith West, Cheryl Jean West, Judy Lunsford, Rheba Chandler, Sandra MacEachern, Clara Stephens and Pauline Stephens.

Refreshments of cake, coffee, and cold drinks were served during the social hour that followed the meeting.

Family Reunion Honors Cannons

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Cannon met with all of their children for the first time in a number of years at a family reunion held Nov. 13 at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Rulon Robinson at 648 Sixth St., Boulder City.
Clark Fawcett, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Cannon, who recently returned from an LDS mission to the Hawaiian Islands, entertained the family with slides and comments of the Islands.
Mr. and Mrs. Cannon, 68 and 67 year-old respectively, have been married for 48 years. They were wed in the LDS Temple in Salt Lake City, Utah in 1907. The couple have eight children: Bernard Cannon, Willard Cannon, Richard Cannon, Lester Cannon, Ann Peas, Ruby Larson, Nora Fawcett and Jessie Robinson; 37 grandchildren and 15 great grandchildren.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Cannon were born in St. George, Utah and still have their home there. In order to be near their children, they spend a part of their time at the home of their son, Barney Cannon, at 7 Brown St., Henderson.

No matter how fearful a person may be of the future, he hopes to live to see a lot more of it.
