The Byrne-ing Brand . . .

By Assemblyman William Byrne

The American Medical Association a few days ago adopted a resolution condemning free distribution to the public by voluntary health organizations and government agencies, of Salk polio vaccine!!! In Heaven's name, whatever has happened to the Oath of Hippocrates? The American Medical Association further condemned the distribution of free vaccine as a "violation of the principles of free enterprise and sound medical practice."

Is the dignity of this so highly honorable profession becoming so defiled by the "Trustees" of the American Medical Association that it is no longer dedicated to the alleviation of man's sufferings and ills, and has become strictly a commercial proposition dedicated to the principles of "free enterprise"? I cannot believe this can have happened in the profession itself, because I have many close friends in the healing arts who are gentlemen of the highest integrity and honor, but they, themselves, should rise up and lead the fight against this latest audacity of the powers that be in the American Medical Association.

Hippocrates was the "Father of Medicine." He belonged to the family of priest-physicians during 440 B.C. and 380 B.C., practicing in Thrace, Thesaly, Athens and other parts of Greece. The time-honored "Oath of Hippocrates" is that pledge by which men and women of the medical profession dedicate their God-given talents to healing the sick, as has the great Dr. Salk and his staff of scientists who created the polio vaccine, but the American Medical Association "in the interests of free enterprise"—which means making it a commodity you must purchase to obtain—opposes its free distribution; it's almost unbelievable that greed could ever find even a small place in a matter affecting the very lives of millions of children in the world—but here it is!

Unquestionably, thousands of doctors in the American Medical Association will, themselves, discredit this infamous "resolution" by the AMA, but, as well, the parents of the Nation had better inform their representatives in Congress they will not tolerate this infamy; let Henderson be the focal point of the protest.

This is as good a time as any, I guess, to discuss another matter in which the American Medical Association played a part, during the past Session of our State Legislature. During the early period of the Session, I introduced a Bill which would amend the County Hospital law.

The old law provided that in the management of such public hospitals no discrimination shall be made against practitioners of any regular school of medicine and surgery recognized by the laws of Nevada; this means that only MD's may treat patients in these public hospitals. All others—even though they practice a healing art licensed in the State of Nevada—are excluded.

The amendment to this law, which I introduced in the Legislature, would permit Nevada-licensed Osteopaths to treat patients confined to County hospitals for ailments requiring osteopathic treatment. Osteopathy is a system of healing founded on the principle that bodily disorders are the result of mechanical obstruction to the free circulation of vital fluids and forces. The cures are based on a profound knowledge of human mechanism, and diagnosis is largely through the sense of touch, which is demanded in its highest perfection.

As in the case of doctors of medicine, thousands of hours of education in accredited schools of learning, and examinations by the State Board are required to obtain a license to practice osteopathy in the State of Nevada—as is the case in most other States, as well. Many, many ailments of the human mechanism are acknowledged to be best treated and corrected by osteopathy, but the American Medical Association will not give accreditation to a hospital which permits other than MD's to treat patients in the hospital.

As a matter of fact, I received a letter from our own Clark County Hospital stating that their accreditation—which they believed they were about to receive from the AMA—would be denied that institution if my Bill became law. What happened to the Bill? It was referred to the Assembly Committee on Public Health and Morals, came out of that committee with a "do pass" recommendation, was passed by the State Assembly by a large majority, but "died" in the Public Health committee of the Senate, where "the boys" representing the AMA "took care" of it.

Thank God for the Salk vaccine—"Thank" yourselves if your disinterest permits the greed of the AMA to take it away from millions of kids.

Boulder Camera

With Bill Belknap

Have you ever heard of a place called Gypsum Cave? It's funny how few people around here know about it.

It's one of the world's important archeological sites and lies only sixteen miles as the crow flies from Boulder City. You'll see it on a map about eight miles northwest of Las Vegas Wash harbor. Gypsum Cave was known to scientists throughout the world before anybody ever heard of Hoover Dam or Las Vegas.

Though I blush to admit it, I had never been to Gypsum Cave until last Saturday. Park Naturalist Wally Wallis and I are Advisors for a Post of Explorer Scouts sponsored by the Boulder City Rotary Club. Last weekend, as an Explorer project, we made a trip to the famous hole.

I'd heard that remains of early man had been found there in unmistakable association with prehistoric ground sloths and camels and horses. But I thought it would turn out to be just another shallow rock shelter like dozens of others in Lake Mead back country.

So I could hardly believe my eyes as Wally Wallis led us down the steep entrance and through room after room until we reached an oval chamber 50 by 90 feet. This was called "Room Four" by the archeologists who worked the cave in 1930.

Yellow light from our Coleman lanterns flickered over spectacular gypsum crystals on the walls and ceiling. Wally had brought along a copy of M. R. Harrington's report "Gypsum Cave," and pointed out spots where the important finds were made. It gave us a strange feeling to sit among remains of animals that had lived there in darkness 10,500 years ago.

It was cold outdoors, but deep in the cave we were comfortable without coats. And in "Room Five," which Harrington nicknamed "The Dutch Oven" it was too warm to stay long. Fine dust rolled up in clouds wherever we walked, and made us glad we weren't there to do any excavating.

"How deep would you say this cave is?" Chucker Richey asked.

"Well, let's see," said Wally, thumbing through his book. "Here we are. Overall dimensions are 300 feet by about 120 feet at the widest point. The deepest room is 62 feet below the entrance."

"How could they prove that men lived here before the big hairy sloth and the camels?" Roger Dieleman asked.

"See the trench over there?" said Wally. "The archeologists dug that and carefully screened every ounce of stuff they removed. And the amazing thing is that they found old fire pits and dart points deep below this layer of sloth droppings we're standing on. That's pretty strong evidence that man was here before the sloths. Still, stranger is the fact that they were able to analyze the sloth droppings and figure out exactly what plants the brutes lived on. From this the scientists decided that the climate 10,000 years ago was probably quite different from what it is now."

"That's hard to believe," said Mel Rains. "But what gets me is how few people in Boulder and Henderson and Las Vegas know about Gypsum Cave. I've lived here most of my life and had never heard of it until Chucker suggested we make this trip."

"Yes, that's right," said Wally. "In Southern Nevada we live among countless places to explore. And do you know, I've actually had people tell me this is a terrible place to live because there's nothing to do?"

Christian Science Topic For Sunday Is Announced

How safety and strength may be maintained through steadfast trust in God's power will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God the Preserver of Man" is the Golden Text from Exodus (15:2): "The Lord is my strength and song, and he is become my salvation."

A bachelor is a fellow who doesn't think the bonds of matrimony are a good investment. Opportunity isn't often recognized, because it generally goes around disguised as work.

Among the passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be (444:10): "Step by step will those who trust Him find that 'God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble.'" Scriptural selections will include following Psalms (91:1):

Baptist Church Revival Services Open on Dec. 11

DR. B. GRAY ALLISON

Opening Revival services at the new First Baptist church at 850 Avenue B on Dec. 11 will be Dr. B. Gray Allison, evangelist of the New Orleans Baptist Seminary. Services will be held at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. on Sundays and nightly at 8 o'clock continuing through Dec. 18.

Rev. M. K. Wilder, pastor of the First Baptist church of Boulder City, extends a cordial welcome to everyone to hear Dr. Allison, who received his formal education at Louisiana Tech and Louisiana State University and his Doctor of Theology degree from New Orleans Baptist Seminary.

Dec. 11 will mark the opening of the First Baptist church where regular Worship Services will be held each Sunday at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Sunday School will be held at 9:45 a.m. and Training Union at 6:30 p.m. For the past several years the Baptist church has been holding services in the Legion Hall.

VFW Auxiliary State President To Be Honored

Mrs. Virginia Gianotti, president of the department of VFW Auxiliary, will be guest of honor at a banquet Saturday evening to be held at the Boulder Dam Hotel starting at 6 o'clock. All members of VFW Auxiliary to Post 3574 and members of the post are urged to attend by Ruth Moore, president of the Boulder Dam VFW Auxiliary.

Also invited have been members of the Henderson, Overton and Las Vegas VFW Auxiliaries. This is Department President Gianotti's official visit to District 5 and following the banquet, a regular Auxiliary business meeting will be held in the Knights of Pythias Hall on Wyoming street.

The department president now makes her home in Reno, but is a former Boulder City resident and sister of Paul Lytle, now living in Boulder.

Many friends are expected to renew their acquaintance with Mrs. Gianotti at the banquet.

EDUCATION DELEGATE IS ENROUTE HOME

WASHINGTON, D.C.—(CPS)—The Boulder City White House Conference on Education delegate is enroute home with the Eisenhower Administration promise of a "broadened and improved" program of Federal school aid ringing in her ears.

As Boulder City's official participant in the first White House Conference on Education in the history of the United States, Mrs. Leonard P. Davis, Box 24, Boulder City, heard the promise pronounced at the Conference's closing session by Marion B. Folsom, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

Approximately 2,000 other delegates and observer participants from all parts of the country also heard the pledge.

Mrs. Davis participated in parlay deliberations as the Conference recommended expansion of the Federal Office of Education. A conference report urged that the Federal Education Office be given a bigger staff so it can provide more research and advisory service to the Nation's schools from coast to coast.

Earlier the Boulder City delegate participated as the first work report of the Conference called on every level of Government—local, state and national—to share the responsibility of providing free public education irrespective of religion, race or creed. However, the initial report's preamble declared that the "fullest measure" of local initiative and control should be maintained over the schools.

Rev. Cochrane Addresses Artemisia Club Members

Speaking on the subject of Religion in the Home at a recent meeting of the Henderson Artemisia Club was the Rev. Robert Cochrane, pastor of St. Timothy's Episcopal church. The group's business session was conducted by Helen Kenworthy who also gave a report on the Grass Roots Conference on Education, held in Tonopah. Next meeting of the group will be a Christmas party.

Letter To The Editor

Hearty cheers for Mrs. Gerald Beckstead! At least someone has broken into print with a word of encouragement to the Mayor of Henderson.

What a discouraging job he and all the City Council face. Constructive criticism is all very well and can serve a very useful purpose but this everlasting destructive negative griping that goes on over everything they do or do not do isn't getting Henderson anywhere.

Why not sell the hammer and buy a horn, make with positive suggestions and cut out the beeping.

Edith Bigelow

In answer to the letter published in your Henderson Home News, date of Dec. 1, 1955, the suggestion is made that the "smarter people" take over for a month.

I am not smart, but give me or anyone else with equal experience and unbiased outlook, without interference for 30 days, and you will see the damndest exodus of chiefs and the employment of more Indians, also the curtailment of city expenses, than can possibly happen during the next 1 1/2 years.

WECCO CONTINUES TO LEAD LEAGUE

WECCO continues to lead the Henderson Powderpuff Bowling League by one game after splitting with the Wolverettes this week, 2-2. The WECCO record now stands at 33 wins and 19 losses.

Fourong Jewelers, in second place with a mark of 32-20, split with the Swanky Club 2-2. Other results found Tally-Ho and KBMI also splitting 2-2 and Dutch's Typewriter Service winning over Team No. 7 by a 3-1 margin.

Following WECCO and Fourong Jewelers in the standings are: Wolverettes and Dutch's Typewriter Service, both with records of 30-22; KBMI, 27-25; Tally-Ho and Swanky Club, deadlocked at 20-32; and Team No. 7, 16-36.

GUEST SPEAKER

Guest speaker at the Monday night's Henderson Lions Club meeting was Bill Gillis, editor of the Henderson Home News, who spoke on his personal military experiences at Pearl Harbor the day World War II started on Dec. 7, 1941.

Scholarships Offered Basic, Boulder Students

High school students in Boulder and Henderson interested in making a career of journalism have the opportunity of competing for scholarships, recently offered by the two Las Vegas dailies and formally approved and accepted by the University of Nevada Board of Regents last week.

The Las Vegas Sun Scholarship in Journalism has been donated by Publisher H. M. Greenspun and can go to any Clark county student. It provides $2,000 for a four year course to be paid to the recipient at the rate of $250 per semester.

The second group of journalism scholarships are being offered by Donald W. Reynolds, publisher of the Las Vegas Review-Journal. Arrangements for the Reynolds program were completed by Managing Director A. E. Cahlan.

The Reynolds scholarships are for one student at each of eight Clark county high schools, including Boulder and Basic. They provide for $250 a year for the eight recipients.

Services, Unlimited Gains Second Place

In Sunday Night Mixed Commercial League bowling, Services, Unlimited gained second place by rolling a high series of 2877 and winning 2½-½ over Team No. 8. House of Price edged Cal-Pacific Utilities, 2-1, while Ham's Grocery defeated Central Market and Swank O-Tel nudged Ranch Market, also by scores of 2-1.

High individual series was rolled by Bud Bilderback with games of 213 and 203 and a total of 559.

One never realizes how the human voice can change until a woman stops scolding her husband to answer the telephone.

Pennsylvanians At Hotel Sahara

FRED WARING

Appearing at the Hotel Sahara until Dec. 26 will be Fred Waring and his 52 Pennsylvanians who will present two performances nightly in the Congo Room, one at 8:15 and the other at midnight.

Highlight of every evening performance will be 15 minutes of special Christmas music, in addition to the regular show.

Waring and his Pennsylvanians were featured entertainers at the Sahara in January of this year and more recently the group has been on a national tour.

The Pennsylvanians opened their current engagement at the Sahara Tuesday.

Mad About Dogs

There's a difference between a kennel kitchen and a kitchen kennel—and I'm afraid ours is going to be a kitchen-kennel. When you arrange to have a litter of short-haired puppies arrive at your house in the winter, you've just tied up a portion of your living quarters. The bathroom's too small, the bedrooms are carpeted, so is the dining room and the living room, so, the logical place seems to be in the kitchen.

Some will shudder and others will make derogatory remarks—but Mitzi, the brindle Boston, will be happy to bunk her brood under the breakfast table. Chances are, the rest of the family will breakfast in the dining room, but old man MAD will be breakfasting pretty close to the baby Bostons, come December 17th.

I've constructed several whelping boxes and I've told others how to make suitable contrivances for such occasions, but I had to call in my maestro mechanic, McCullough, to assist me in assembling Mitzi's maternity motel. The design of a dog's delivery bed isn't so important, so long as it embodies certain convenience characteristics, plus proper protection for the pups. Firstly, if you make the box the size of your local newspaper (fully opened), you can put a three or four inch layer of papers in the bottom. This pad of paper provides excellent insulation against temperature changes and permits easy and frequent cleaning of the bed. Simply roll up the soiled sheet, place the puppies on the next sheet, all clean and fresh.

The bed should be closed on three sides and with a "drag-off" board across the entrance.

The "drag-off" board should be high enough to drag the puppies from their mother's breast as she emerges from the box. There are several advantages in having the top covered. First, it prevents a down-draft when air is being circulated, but more important, it keeps out direct light that may have a tendency to prolong the period for the opening of the puppies' eyes, thereby causing permanent eye weakness. (Wild canines are usually born in a dark cave and not exposed to direct light until they venture out to play).

The top, or cover, though permanently fixed, should be hinged to permit easy access to the puppies for frequent check-ups and for cleaning up the bed. There's nothing like laziness to promote ideas that facilitate easy choring, and I'm lazy.

Mitzi is now sleeping in her newly-made delivery room—maternity ward, just waiting for a brood of baby Bostons. If they're as nice as either of their parents, they'll be pretty popular pets, and, in keeping with the advice of the experts, they'll be ready for delivery after the holiday excitement has subsided. If you plan to get a puppy, get him long enough before Christmas to permit him to get accustomed to the family—or wait until the holiday excitement has dwindled—the puppy will fare better.

LLOYD GUFFREYS

MOVE TO BOULDER

Moving to Boulder from Reno recently were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Guffrey who will live at 677 Avenue M. The couple has one daughter, Toby Ann, 14, a high school freshman.

Mr. Guffrey was recently appointed to the safety division for the Nevada Industrial Commission and will work out of the NIC office in Las Vegas.

A native Nevadan, he was born in Sparks, graduated from the high school there and later attended the University of Nevada.

LAKE MEAD AREA TO BE FEATURED ON TV, IN PAPER

The multitude of recreational possibilities within the Lake Mead National Recreation Area will be the subject of a full page Motorogue feature in the Los Angeles Examiner on Dec. 11 and of the half-hour Wanderlust Program on Los Angeles TV Channel No. 7, Dec. 12, at 10 p.m.

The material for this featured presentation was secured by the newspapers Automobile Editor Slim Barnard and the Wanderlust T.V. Cameraman Reed Bingham during a recent boat-camping tour on Lake Mead.

Boating, fishing, camping, quail hunting, sight-seeing, motor touring, swimming, and photography are among the varied activities which will be shown.

"Since this feature and TV program will reach a vast western reading and viewing audience, it will create a great of interest in the Lake Mead and Southern Nevada region." Supt. Charles A. Richey said.

Desert Dwellers

By WALLY WALLIS

Naturalist Lake Mead National Recreation Area

Human desert dwellers may have lived in this region over 23,800 years ago! This startling possibility has rocked the archeological world.

"In long-past geologic ages the Great Basin was a region of lakes and lush forests—and so it was when man entered the scene, we have learned through scattered excavations in caves and near old lake terraces.

"Now Carbon 14 dating at Tule Spring, Nevada, reveals the earliest evidence of human occupation in the New World—more than 23,800 years old!" reveals the National Geographic's recently released book, "Indians of the Americas.

Additional sketchy details appear in Thomas R. Henry's "Ice Age Man, the First American" article in the December issue of the National Geographic. He not only mentions the significance and importance of the Tule Springs site but also discusses the Gypsum Cave discoveries.

Both of the sites are located nearby. Tule Springs is situated just a few miles of Las Vegas. Gypsum Cave is found on the east side of Frenchman Mountain.

In Gypsum Cave, "long triangular-shaped blades... appear in strata of the cave floor containing remains of extinct animals. Radiocarbon measurement on sloth dung from the same level give an average age of approximately 10,500 years," Henry writes.

The location of the 22 most significant campsites and relics of Ice Age Nomads in North and South America is pointed out on accompanying map.

That the Tule Springs and the Gypsum Cave Sites are illustrated among this select 22 attests to the importance of these local findings.

Under the direction of veteran archeologist Mark Raymond Harrington of the Southwest Museum, many of the secrets of Gypsum Cave were brought to light during rather extensive excavations in 1930 and 1931.

In this cave the bones of the prehistoric giant ground sloth, camel, horse and condor and a scientific wealth of Indian artifacts were discovered.

Scientists who analyzed the plant remains contained in the age old fibrous sloth dung tell us that this animal lived on vegetation which does not grow at present in the vicinity of Gypsum Cave. In fact this type of vegetation is not found any closer than 45 miles on the slopes of the Charleston Mountains, today.

This fact indicates that the climatic and moisture conditions have changed somewhat over the past 10,000 years!

All of these findings were of great interest but the most revolutionary was the discovery of human evidences in direct association with these remains of

Control, Leaching Still Top League

Still sharing the Monday Titanium League lead are Control and Leaching with identical records of 35 wins and 13 losses. The two teams defeated Melting and Development, respectively, by 3-1 scores while Melting and Casting won a 3-1 victory from Reduction and Engineers and Metallurgical split, 2-2.

In last week's play, Dave Heineman had the high of 213 and high series of 550. Tom Mullen posted a 510 series and Stew Mahaffey won the weekly award from Strong's Associated Service with a 611 handicap series.

Following Control and Leaching in the standings are: Melting and Casting, 31-17; Development, 24-24; Melting, 23-25; Metallurgical, 16-32; and Reduction and Engineers, 14-34.

prehistoric animals. Gypsum Cave was one of the first sites in this country where this association was uncovered. In 1932, the discovery in the Tule Springs area of an obsidian flake used by early man in a fire-hearth containing bones of prehistoric mammals indicated the direct association between these ancient men and animals. Now dating of ash from this hearth indicates an age of this human occupancy of over 23,800 years!

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

Better Appetite
When it comes to evasive action... especially at mealtime, some children put on a "stall and spin" act that would leave a jet ace green with envy.

These dinnertime donnybrooks do more than just put mom in a tizzy. The loss of appetite that they often symbolize, according to nutritionists, can send even the best-conditioned youngster into a physical and academic decline from which he may be a long time recovering.

Physicians refer to this condition as "simple growth failure." Yet this ailment really isn't simple at all—it's insidious and operates by stealth. For apart from lack of normal growth, children struck by it show no readily discernible signs of nutritional deficiency. Often the only clue to give it away is lasting loss of appetite.

Yet once it spots a nutritional deficiency like "simple growth failure," medical science can quickly put it to rout. Studies by Dr. Norman C. Wetzel, a pioneer in growth and development research, indicate that dietary supplements, particularly vitamin B-12, not only help to stimulate growth but can consequently help to improve a child's scholastic work, behavior and attitude as well.

Dr. Gino Frontali, professor of pediatrics at the University of Rome, has also conducted a series of exhaustive tests on the growth potential of vitamin B-12. During two separate seven-month periods, he administered 20 micrograms of the vitamin to selected groups of children in two different schools. At the end of the test period, all of them gained appreciably more weight than control classmates who didn't get the supplement.

From these and other studies, scientists have learned that B-12 does more than help piece out what otherwise might be an inadequate diet. By stimulating the appetite, it can also help turn a finicky eater into a trencherman of at least average ambition.

Thus, medical specialists of the J. B. Roerig Co. recently devised, especially for children, a combination of B-complex vitamins, vitamin C and the amino acid lysine. Called Stimavite, the tablets are designed to perk up appetite, stimulate growth and help put an end to mealtime malingering.

FRANCES LEAVITT NAMED TO HEAD EMBLEM CLUB

New president of the Henderson Emblem Club is Frances Leavitt. She was named to head the organization for the coming year at a meeting held last Thursday night at St. Peter's Hall.

Announced at the meeting was that a practice session will be held at 8 p. m. Thursday night, also at the hall, and all officers and officers-elect are urged to attend. Next regular meeting of the group will be a Christmas party to be held Dec. 15.

Other officers of the Emblem Club elected last week included: Nancy Watson, vice president; Gerrie Mahaffey, financial secretary; Nancy Clay, treasurer; Bee Keenan, corresponding secretary; Billie Flowers, recording secretary; Ann Elysea, marshal; Peggy Bradham, first as-

EXTRA DIVIDEND

An extra dividend of 50 cents per share on common stock payable Jan. 16, to stockholders of record Jan. 3, has been declared by the board of directors of Stauffer Chemical Co. Chairman Christian De Guigne reported the extra dividend was declared in anticipation of estimated earnings of at least $4 per share for 1955.

Assistant marshal; Shirley Isom second assistant marshal; Rose Mary Rose, chaplain; Margaret Empey, organist; Ethel Marron, historian; Esther Englestead, press; Sue Butler, one year trustee; Edyth Hilsinger, two year trustee; Donna Davis, three year trustee; Tillie Fourong, first guard; and Mary Dooley, second guard.

Initiated as a new member of the group at the last meeting was Mrs. Glen Hollingsworth.

ABOUT HENDERSON

By WENDI LOWMAN

Loreace Sanders daughter of Mrs. Roy Clark of 101 Joshua, celebrated her fifteenth birthday Saturday, Dec. 5. Her guests were Carolyn Myers, Rosalea Spoon, Arletta Edwards, Vicki Richard, Lola Sanders, Mrs. Don Richard, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Clark. Cake and ice cream were served.

Thanksgiving guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Baker, 110 Ocotillo St. were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Jensen, of Long Beach. Mr. and Mrs. Jensen teach school in Long Beach.

A birthday party was held for Butch Baker, 4, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Baker of 110 Ocotillo St. Nov. 29. Guests were Pat and Pete Murphy, Tia Bennet, Jimmy and Janet May, Gary Watson, Jackie Walker, Leslie Miller, Debbie and Buster Bigelow, Joy and Faye Rhea, and Wendy Darling. Mothers attending the party were Mrs. Bill Walker, Mrs. Donald May, Mrs. Bill Bigelow, Mrs. Gene Watson, and Mrs. Thora Darling. A navy theme was carried out by sailor hats and boats as nut cups.

The Ed Lowman family of 105 Ocotillo St. has recently received word that Mr. Lowman's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Lovett, are returning to the United States after a lengthy stay in Ethiopia, where Mr. Lovett was an engineer on a construction job. They have left Addis Abbaba, Ethiopia and flown to Singapore where they will board the President lines and land in San Francisco. It is not known what the arrival date will be, as the Lovetts are planning on staying in Japan for several days. They will reside in Tucson, Ariz.

Everett McMahan, vice president of the Las Vegas Service Freightways, formerly known as the Osbourn Trucking Co., has gone to Los Angeles on a business trip. The McMahans are former residents of 103 Ocotillo St. in Manganese Park and now reside at 6 Brown St. in Henderson.

Mrs. Roy Clark of 101 Joshua, has recently returned from Albuquerque, N. M. where she attended the funeral of her brother Fred F. Hanks, 35. He was killed in the air plane crash on Mt. Charleston a few weeks ago.

Students from Basic high who went to Mike Steele's Campus Party last Saturday were Bernard Fumagalli and Loreace Sanders. Also from Henderson was Arlene Coleman, who represented Nevada Southern. Loreace and Bernard won second prize in a popcorn eating contest.

17 New Families Move To Carver Park Units

Seventeen families moved into Carver Park units during the month of November, according to James Farndale, executive director for the Housing Authority in Henderson.

The new Carver Park residents are the families of: B. J. Thomas, D. A. Sullivan, E. D. Reber, R. L. Tackett, L. M. Hornbeck, J. J. McClosky, R. C. Goodnow, W. Turpin, C. A. Ingraham, J. D. Clark, D. Davis, J. V. Greigo, T. J. Bartolotta, B. Panchon, M. Salazar, T. R. Cook and J. D. Saltzavar.

Marion Chandler, Norma Shaw Join Junior VFW Girls

Marion Chandler and Norma Shaw were admitted to membership when the Junior VFW Girls met last Friday in the VFW club rooms. At the meeting it was decided that a Christmas party would be held on Dec. 17 and that Christmas trees would be sold the week before Christmas at the home of Mrs. Chandler, located at 327 West Basic Road. Social portion of the meeting was the celebration of Clara Stevens' birthday with cake, ice cream and punch being served.

Cub Scouts Win Bob Cat Awards

Bob cat awards were issued to David Elkins, James Blake, Richard Stapleton, Carl Golden, James Christensen, John Belzer, David Jenkins, John De Forest and Hermar Hagen when the Cub Scout Pack No. 36 meeting was held Nov. 28. This is a newly formed pack of the Boulder Dam Area and is sponsored by St. Timothy's church, under the direction of the Rev. Robert Cochrane.

Cub master is Bill Close; John DeForest is the assistant cub master; and I. S. Richardson, Sr. the institutional represen-

Den 1 and Den 2 under the direction of their den mothers, Mrs. Gail Harzy and Mrs. Leon Elkins, presented short skits and songs in keeping with the theme, "America The Beautiful."

All real pleasures in life come only to those who participate actively in everyday living.

New Beauty Shop License Opposed

A request by operators of four Henderson beauty operators that the City Council not grant the Magic Mirror a license has been referred to the city attorney. The request in the form of the letter was signed by Sallie Savoie for the Savoie Beauty Salon, Jean Burton for the Basic Beauty Shop, Isabelle Pearson for Isabelle's Beauty Salon and Marjorie Chambers for Margie's Beauty Box and presented to councilmen Monday night.

The letter noted that "the city with its present population is not large enough to support an additional beauty shop without necessitating the closing of at least one shop now in operation."

According to City Clerk Harry Parsons, as of Tuesday, the Magic Mirror had not officially filed for a business license.

Bond Ordinance Passed

Passed at the City Council meeting Monday was an ordinance calling for the sale of $90,000 worth of general obligation bonds, the money to be used for preliminary engineering projects in the city. The state has already notified the council it will purchase the bonds at an interest rate of 3 1/2 per cent.

Temple Baptist Church Launches Building Drive

Temple Baptist church in Victory Village has launched a progressive forward advance. Nov. 13, was Victory Day, concluding the Church Loyalty Week, as the church followed the plan of God to accept the Bible teaching of tithing. The Financial Program for operating the church budget of $250 the church endorsed the agreement to tithing.

On Nov. 16, the church, in regular business meeting, accepted a plan to issue $30,000 in Baptist Building Bonds. These bonds will be bought by members of the church or anyone who desires to earn 5 per cent interest, payable semi-annually at the Bank of Nevada, Henderson Branch. The money received from the sale of these bonds which will be issued in $50, $100, $250, and $500 bonds, is to be used for the building and equipping of the first permanent unit of the church plant.

High School PTA Drive Underway

Being solicited this week to join the PTA are parents of Basic high school students. The annual membership drive opened Tuesday and will continue through next week.

Dues are 50 cents per member and the class having the highest percentage of parents belonging to the PTA will receive a prize.

The high school PTA was organized only last year and prior to that was coordinated with elementary schools.

Captains for the drive include Mr. and Mrs. John Winlow, Mrs. Frank Love, Mrs. Gene Baird, Mrs. J. Henderson, Mrs. P. D. Harris, Mrs. William Coleman, Mrs. Harry Herman, Mrs. James Lopeman, Mrs. L. V. Edmundson, Mrs. J. L. Jeffries, Mrs. John Pantuso, Mrs. Robert Mories, Mrs. Lola Burton, Mrs. Mary Foster and Mrs. Nina Brenner.

First Class Establishment Expected Of Pearlstein, Otherwise No Licenses

Sam Pearlstein, granted a use permit on Nov. 21 by the City Council for a combination bar and restaurant with slot machines on Market street, was served notice this week that he is expected to operate a first class establishment, otherwise he would jeopardize the issuance of his licenses.

A letter mailed Dec. 1 by Mayor James B. French read in part:

"This is to impress you very strongly that the Council approved a good, first class restaurant and will merely tolerate a bar and slot machines to accomplish a primary purpose i.e. to establish a centrally-located restaurant for Henderson families that will be a credit to our city.

"It is expected that you will meet the standards established by the City Council in this respect and thereby avoid jeopardizing the issuance of your license."

DRIVE A LITTLE AND SAVE A LOT

By Gillis

the present system whereby the city attorney, or assistant, conduct their practices in Las Vegas and only rarely are in Henderson.

At the Monday night council session, several legal questions arose, yet councilmen were unable to obtain an opinion in behalf of the city because neither City Attorney Harry Claiborne or his assistant, Charles Deaner, were present.

Tuesday morning, several important trials were heard in Judge Charles Dohrenwend's Municipal Court chambers, yet still on the missing list were Claiborne and Deaner.

The judge was then placed in the position of presenting the case against each defendant and then pronouncing sentence.

Also the complaints are being prepared for presentation to the court by the police department, another duty of the city attorney.

The city attorney's salary is $4,000 per year. Henderson just hasn't been getting its money's worth of late.

Personalities certainly do not enter into this item. I wouldn't know City Attorney Harry Claiborne if he walked into the Henderson Home News office, yet I've been in attendance at every council session the last six times councilmen have convened. Inversely, Claiborne, wouldn't know me.

Representing Claiborne at most—not all—the city council meetings recently, has been Deaner.

Admittedly, Claiborne's failure to attend has not been intentional since he's been on the ailing list.

But the city is entitled to some type of legal counsel for $4,000 per year.

The council didn't hire Deaner (Claiborne did) and his salary isn't paid by the city but by Claiborne.

If the present city attorney, Claiborne, will be unable to attend future council meetings indefinitely, maybe the council should make another appointment.

And maybe at some future date, councilmen also might amend an existing or approve a new ordinance whereby the city attorney would be required to maintain offices in Henderson at least half a day.

Welcome Addition — Of extreme interest to Henderson and Boulder bowling addicts Wednesday was the opening of the Las Vegas Bowl, located at Main and South Fifth streets in Las Vegas. The 24 lane Bowl offers several innovations including continuous operation 24 hours per day and automatic pinsetters. General manager of the quarter of a million dollar plant will be H. C. "Dusty" Springston and owners include M. B. Dalitz, S. A. Tucker, I. Alderman, P. Alliat, E. Murphy, J. A. Donnelly, E. Boyer, D. Berman and Springston. Whose first in the charmed "300" circle?

Wright Again Explains Highway Freeway Project
Appearing at the council meeting Monday night to explain the state highway department's proposed freeway project on the Boulder Highway was Otis Wright, division engineer for the state highway department. Wright had previously appeared at Boulder Highway Citizens' Association meeting on Nov. 15 and had covered the same material at that time.

ALL DYNAMITE IS RECOVERED

The dynamite mystery has been solved and parents may now breathe easier.

Last week, Boulder police recovered a large quantity of dynamite sticks in the west end of town, hidden in the sagebrush. A check by local law authorities failed to reveal that any dynamite had been reported stolen.

Chief Floyd Jenne said Wednesday that the dynamite was stolen some time within the last two weeks from Ivan McDonald's salvage yard. The dynamite was found less than a mile away.

All sticks have been recovered said the chief and no caps were stolen when the dynamite was taken.

Chamber to Elect Directors Dec. 16

With 20 candidates already selected and four still to be named, Boulder Chamber of Commerce members will ballot on Dec. 16 to name 12 directors who will serve during 1956. Following the election of the directors, the board will then name the organization's president, vice president for retailers, vice president for tourist trade and secretary-treasurer.

Director candidates include Leonard Atkison, Ian Briggs, Earl Brothers, Bruce Bulloch, Herb Biddulph, Bob Ferguson, O'Henry Alcorn, Al Franklin, A. Frank Masterson, James Porter, C. D. Potts, Jim Savage, Bob Georgeson, George Haynes, Sol Felig, Hal Whitehouse, Joe Manix, Bob Broadbent, Lawrence Battey and Elton M. Garrett, the chamber president this year.

POSTPONED

Dec. 12 is the date set for arraignment in Municipal Court of Rolly Cook, owner of the Dixie Club who was arrested last Sunday morning and charged with selling liquor to minors. Arraignment had been set for Tuesday but was postponed at the request of Cook for medical reasons. The Dixie Club owner currently is free after posting $299 bail.

NO DECISION YET

City officials have not yet completed checking the list of petitioners who desire not to secede from Henderson against the last assessment rolls and results probably will not be announced until next week, Mayor James French said Wednesday. The anti-secession petitions were presented to the council Monday night.

Westinghouse Official Addresses AIEE Friday

Topic of J. W. Savage's talk when he addresses the Boulder City Subsection of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers Friday night will be "Protective Relays." Wright is affiliated with the Westinghouse Electric Corp. and his talk will be illustrated.

The meeting will be held in the Department of Water and Power Hall at 600 Nevada Highway, starting at 7:30.

Circle B Twirlers

New members of the Circle B Twirlers are Linda Lou Carter and Larry Burcham. The group meets each week on Tuesday at 7:30 at the FSB Studio in Pittman for square dancing.

Holiday Mail Rules Listed by Postmaster

Biggest volume of Christmas mail in history is expected to be handled at the local post office this year and to accommodate local residents, the post office will remain open on Saturday afternoons starting Dec. 10 and continuing through Dec. 24. Normally, the post office closes Saturdays at noon.

In making the announcement this week, Postmaster Harold S. Baldwin said business handled at the post office here is already up 17 per cent for the year compared with 1954 and the trend is expected to continue through the Christmas holidays.

On an average day in the year, approximately 3,000 pieces of mail are cancelled at the Henderson post office but the figure will jump to at least 17,500 daily between now and Christmas.

The postmaster issued an oft-heard timely warning to post Christmas mail early to insure delivery before Dec. 25, especially parcels, and he also urged patrons to observe a few simple rules which will expedite

Building Plan Approved

The City Council has approved a recommendation made by the planning commission for the Eagles Lodge to build a hall service. Christmas cards to local residents should be tied in one bundle and can be handed through the window to clerks, if too large for the drops.

All stamps should be placed on the right hand upper corner of the envelope which makes cancellation considerably easier.

Parcels should be carefully and tightly wrapped in good solid containers or boxes.

And above all, addresses should be correct. Countless numbers of Christmas cards wind up in the dead letter office if addresses are incorrect and no return address is listed.

To cope with the Christmas rush, the postmaster reported additional clerks and carriers will be added to his staff during the holiday season. Some of the temporary employees to be hired are university students or school teachers who have previously worked at the post office during rush seasons, he said.

And here's a gratifying note from the postmaster.

If you're expecting a package from friends or relatives and it hasn't arrived by Dec. 24, it still may be delivered to you Christmas day.

The postmaster said parcels will be delivered to homes the morning of Christmas, even though it's Sunday.

Winner of the TV set given away recently by Henderson Prime Meats was Charles Trueworthy, long-time resident of the city and employed by Stauffer Chemical Co.

La Boheme Opera To Be Presented

At a benefit performance for the LDS church building fund, the music of the opera, La Boheme, will be sung by a cooperative group at the Boulder Little Theater Monday, Dec. 19 at 8 p.m.

Virginia Bradley Carpenter of Boulder City and Matthew Moore of Las Vegas sing the romantic leads of Mimi and Rodolpho and George and Greta Blair, long time leading thespians with the Little Theater, are making their first operatic appearance in the roles of Marcello and Musetta.

Schaunard's role will be sung by Glenn Blakeslee and the two roles of Benoit and Alcindoro by Leon Potter, young baritone.

Piano accompaniment will be played by Miss Susan Stice, Boulder high school student, while Ben Wright, who sings Colline in the opera, is in charge of designing scenery.

BOULDER LITTLE THEATER GROUP OFFERS 'BELL, BOOK AND CANDLE'; FIRST PERFORMANCE TONIGHT AT 8

First of three performances of "Bell, Book and Candle" will be presented by the Boulder Little Theater group this evening with curtain time at 8 o'clock. The Little Theater is located on 8th street between Avenues C and H.

General admission for the three act play is $1 and tickets may be obtained at the box office. The play, directed by James McManus, lasts approximately one hour and a half.

Second performance will be presented Friday night and the final one Saturday, also starting at 8 o'clock both evenings.

Margaret Scott will be seen in the role of a beautiful Twentieth Century sorceress who falls in love with a debonaire, unsuspecting publisher.

The part of the young publisher who becomes so infatuated with the seductive witch that he forgets his fiancée, will be taken by Johnny Good. The two roles are those created on the Broadway stage by Rex Harrison and Lilli Palmer.

As relatives of the Manhattan witch, Russ Farnsworth will portray a "warlock," a male witch who shocks the family by getting a job instead of witching for his livelihood, and Frances Tyree, a fluttery aunt who lives in a witches' hostel where the ladies do their "brewing" in a communal kitchen.

In pursuit of these broomsticks being played by Pat Carlyle who tracks down their New York haunts and hopes to expose them to an unbelieving public. An actor with a "creep-on" role is Tsam, a gifted Siamese cat who has been assigned the role of Pyewacket, the "familiar," a pet, of the comedy's leading witch.

"Bell, Book and Candle" from the prolific pen of John Van Druten, author of "The Voice of the Turtle," "I Remember Mama" and many other Broadway hits. Van Druten comedy about modern-day wizards was one of the major successes of the 1950-51 season in New York, chalking up a run of 233 performances.

Girl Scout Drive
Contributions to the Henderson Girl Scout drive now totaling $1,220.94, campaign officials reported Tuesday.

The older a person becomes the more his imagination and memory become mixed.

Civic Party to Honor Eagles

Honoring members of the Boulder City high school varsity grid team which this season won the Nevada State Championship in the Double A division, a gigantic civic celebration has been planned for the evening of Dec. 21 in the new high school gymnasium. The event is separate from the annual Elks banquet which will also honor the team.

All residents of the community are invited to attend the celebration which is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock.

Opening the program will be special entertainment and it is hoped that several Las Vegas Strip hotel performers will be available and agree to attend.

Highlight of the evening will be the presentation of state championship jackets to all members of the squad and the coaches. It was emphasized the jackets for the squad and coaches have been purchased by parents of the players in conforming with high school regulations. Master of ceremonies will be Earl Brothers, who will make the official presentation of jackets in behalf of the parents.

Following the presentation, a dance will be held and local musicians, including Tommy Nelson, Clark Higgins and Dee Town have already volunteered their services. Also appearing in Boulder to play for the dance will be Bob Calkins of Las Vegas, southern Nevada football referee.

Light refreshments will be served during the evening under the direction of Mrs. Bill Kendrick. Other mothers of football players will assist.

Responsible for the idea for the community celebration honoring the championship Boulder gridgers was Skippy Barnson and he and Brothers are responsible for completing arrangements. High school authorities also are cooperating.

Brothers reported that several donations have already been received to finance the event but that more contributions are needed and will be welcomed and can be personally given to him or Barnson, or mailed to the Visitors Bureau.

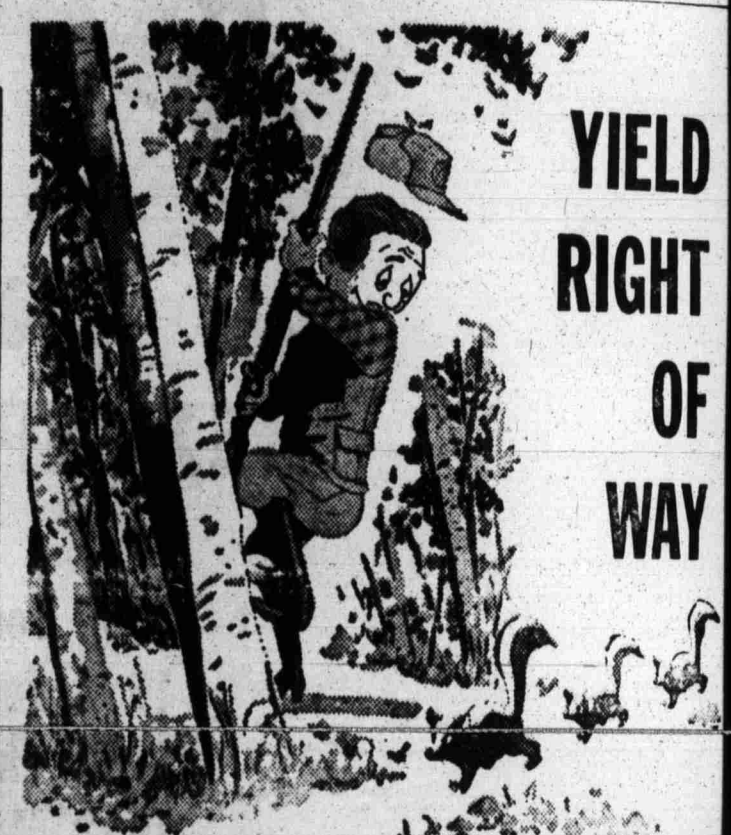

Barnson and Brothers are hopefully predicting at least 1,000 residents and students will attend.

"It's not often that a town the size of Boulder can boast of a state championship football team and this is one opportunity for all residents of the community to express their appreciation by attending," Brothers said.

The Boulder Eagles, coached by Gene Schultz, went through the season undefeated in ten games and climaxed the year by winning over Elko in the state playoff.
