On the Scene — We couldn't go to San Francisco to cover the Republican convention this week, so we did the best thing we telephoned.

Our conversant at the other end of the line at the Sheraton Palace was Paul Mason, director of the Department of Motor Vehicles for the State of California and California Governor Goodwin Knight's legislative secretary.

We talked on Tuesday night. By the time subscribers read this, Richard Nixon will undoubtedly have been elected as President Eisenhower's running mate for a second term.

Being somewhat of a staunch admirer for our neighboring state's liberal governor (Knight), we posed this question to Mason, a soft-spoken individual.

"Does 'Goodie' have a chance for the second spot on the ticket?"

Mason was forthright about the whole affair and extremely communicative.

"Only if President Eisenhower says he doesn't want Nixon as his running mate which is extremely unlikely."

To that we agreed wholeheartedly.

But Mason made one startling statement and whether it was for publication or not, we'll still quote him.

Said Mason: "If Nixon is Eisenhower's running mate, it's my opinion the GOP will lose California in November."

And Mason continued: "If Goodwin Knight was the vice presidential nominee along with Eisenhower California's 32 electoral votes would be in the GOP column without a doubt." End of an extremely informative interview.

We'll check the results Nov. 7.

Third Largest City? — When County Clerk Helen Reed released the registration figures the past week, it came as no particular surprise that (1) Clark county has more registered voters now than ever before and (2) Democrats outnumber the Republicans about 3-1.

Number of voters registered for the Sept. 4 primary election in Clark county totals 42,713 or

Back to School 'Theater Ball' Friday Evening

In appreciation for their cooperation while attending the shows, Victory Theatre Manager Earl Brothers is throwing the theater open Friday night at 9-15 for a big free "Back to School Theater Ball" for all Basic high school students.

It will be a night of fun the 700 high school students will not forget, said Brothers.

First of all, the movie, a comedy, will be a surprise but a first run show.

Then too, Brothers has enlisted the cooperation of numerous merchants and valuable prizes will be offered throughout the evening.

Prizes will be awarded to winners of a magic screen game.

In addition to the feature, Brothers said several cartoons and a musical short will be shown.

The Theater Ball will last until about midnight, he added.

Plan Agriculture Development In the Vicinity of Vegas Wash

The Henderson and Boulder City area stood on the threshold of a new industry—agriculture—following a meeting held Monday in Las Vegas and called by state sanitary officials.

Main purpose of the meeting was to dispel reports that sewage is being dumped into Lake Mead in the vicinity of Vegas Wash.

Attending the meeting from Boulder City were Bureau of Reclamation Region 3 Director Wade Taylor, City Manager Harold Corbin and Charles Richey, superintendent of the Lake Mead Recreation area. Representing Henderson were Mayor James French's administrative assistant, N. D. Van Wagenan, and Rick Vandenberg, of the city engineer's department.

State sanitation officials are generally in accord that Lake Mead is definitely not being polluted by the effluent and say the water under certain circumstances is pure and not dangerous to drink, it was reported.

However, it was pointed out that the effluent has a strong odor giving visitors the impression pollution is being channelled into the lake.

The effluent does not pose a serious problem — despite the odor—but if it were disposed of before reaching Lake Mead, the pollution stigma could be erased.

That's where agricultural development of the Vegas Wash

It has been estimated that between three and four million gallons of effluent are produced daily in the Las Vegas-Pittman area and it was reported at the meeting the figure might go as high as 19,000,000 gallons per day within two years.

An agricultural development in the Vegas Wash area would serve as a buffer for the effluent and stem the flow before it reached the lake. Also, the millions of gallons daily could be used for irrigation.

While the effluent is seeping into Lake Mead, which is governed by the National Park Service and Bureau of Reclamation, the problem of controlling the flow and determining that the lake is not being polluted is up to the State of Nevada.

Another meeting of city, county, state and government officials is to be called by County Engineer George Monahan within the near future, it was learned.

Mortuary Hearing Set for Tonight

In what may well be a stormy session, a public hearing will be held at the city hall this evening to discuss the application made by Bunker Brothers to erect a mortuary and chapel across the street from Rose de Lima Hospital. Chairman Frank Morrell of the City Planning Commission will preside at the session which starts at 7:30.

Following the hearing, the commission will either approve or reject the application tonight.

REPUBLICAN STANDARD BEARERS — Meeting in San Francisco yesterday, delegates to the national GOP convention unanimously named President Dwight Eisenhower and Vice President Richard Nixon to again lead the party in the November general elections. Only opposition to either nomination resulted when Terry Carpenter, 66 year-old Scottsbluff, Neb. resident, nominated just plain old "Joe Smith" for vice president. Carpenter later relented and cast his ballot for Nixon.

New Eagles Hall Officially Dedicated; Judge Charles Dohrenwend Cuts Ribbon

With representatives of Eagles lodges from three states in attendance, the new Henderson Eagles hall at 310 West Pacific was officially dedicated last Saturday night. In addition to Nevada, other areas represented were Kingman and Sunnyslope in Arizona and Livermore and Needles in California.

In Henderson for the hall dedication was Charles Frascio of Livermore, grand area representative, and Mrs. Frascio.

Presiding as master of ceremonies for the occasion was Tommy Jones of Las Vegas, past state president.

Present for the occasion and introduced by Jones was Judge Charles Dohrenwend, first junior past president when the lodge was instituted in 1947.

Also on hand was Charles Aplin of Las Vegas, father of the lodge.

Frascio was introduced by Harold B. Miller, past Nevada state president, and the grand area representative introduced officers who served the organization the first year including John Hietbrink, Lawrence Brickhiesen, John Yeager and Harold Miller.

Also recognized were present officers of the lodge, Charles Ruliffson, junior past president, Charles Fisher, president; Andy Anderson, vice president; Jerry Watts, chaplain; C. J. Gresenauer conductor, Howard Decker,

Morry Zenoff's

Morry's Story

And now comes the Republican Convention. Here we know we have a cinch nomination—in like for president.

But, despite the fact that it looks in the bag for Nixon, don't bet the family jewels on it until the last dog is dead.

The Republicans are not too happy over the team the Demos came up with.

As I see it, the Democratic team of Adlai and Estes can be adjudged like this as campaigners:

Adlai is a brilliant orator, the likes of which the Republicans can't come up with.

Adlai is unshackled now, with no ties with the Truman or anti-Trumans, thus stands as the leader of the party; not as a tool of some one crowd.

The Democratic platform offers appeal to the farmers, to labor, to the Negro vote.

Kefauver lends voting magic to the Demos. For some uncanny reason, this man can win votes and influence people. His plainness, his simple routine, his having fought as an under-dog has won him appeal. Now, for the first time in a long time, the Demos have a man with magic to equal the magic of Ike's smile.

Yes, the Democrats have come up with a team that can cause the Republicans concern. It won't be a walkaway for the Republicans, like was the last election.

One of the shining points coming out of the Democratic convention to impress me was the introduction of the great amount of new and impressive young leaders in our country. Young and aggressive governors and senators made themselves known. All clean, well mannered, able speakers . . . and working as a team for the benefit of a common cause, yet none unwilling to speak out on his own if necessary.

Seeing this made us realize our country will not fall backward as these new men appear to carry us forward. We undoubtedly will find the same to be the case as we watch the Republican convention.

Another impressive point from the Democratic convention harkened back to what we screamed about four years ago upon returning from a visit to the two conventions—concerning the vice presidency and the way the candidate was picked.

This year, the candidate was picked by an open convention. Importance was given to the job for the first time. The position of vice president was being looked upon like the position of president . . . for it very well may be the man may wind up in the job before four years go by. It has worked that way seven times in American history.

Formerly, the veep was selected behind closed doors by the newly nominated candidate for president and his cronies—and then the choice would be steam-rolled thru the convention without opposition.

I hope the Republicans learned something by this fine democratic way of life. I hope we see it happen at San Francisco this week. Ike indicated as much when he refused to okay Nixon openly a month ago — when Stassen brought the thing to a head. Hurray for Stassen for having the strength to take it on the chin by fronting for this issue.

This past week I was visited by some Citizens for Eisenhower leaders from Washington. They believed Nixon was a cinch. I told them the Republicans would be making a great mistake with its "cinch." What looked like a "cinch" win for Ike may be close justlikethis.

Free Barbecue to Feature Democratic Rally Set for Saturday in Henderson

Local residents have been extended an invitation to attend a Democratic rally, scheduled to be held Saturday evening at the Lake Motors Building in Henderson starting at 8:30. All Democratic candidates have also been issued an invitation to attend and they will be introduced during the evening, but there will be no speeches.

Highlighting the festivities will be a free barbecue and free dancing to a live orchestra. Refreshments will be available, but will not be free.

The event is being sponsored by the Henderson Democrat Club in cooperation with the Clark County Democratic Central Committee. Officials of the two groups are expecting a crowd in excess of 1,500.

High party officials expected to be present are C. D. Baker, state Democratic chairman; Charles Catt, Clark county chairman; and Van Englestead, chairman of the Henderson Democratic Club and representative for District 3 on the central committee.

Also on hand to be introduced will be several members of the party who attended the Democratic convention in Chicago last week.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS OFFICERS INSTALLED

With State Deputy Eddie Pinjov of Las Vegas presiding, officers of the Rosary Council of the Knights of Columbus were recently installed at a meeting held at the St. Peter's parish hall.

Taking over as grand knight was Bernie Cantwell and others installed were Jim Wheatley, recorder; Joe Phillips, advocate; Al Smith, inside guard; Bill Olds, outside guard; Russ Wetlin, lecturer; Hank Patterson, trustee; Bob Olsen, deputy grand knight; Bob Allen, chancellor; and Tom Mulroy, trustee.

New officers will serve until June 30 next year.

CHAMBER TO ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Convening for a regular session Sept. 18, members of the Henderson Chamber of Commerce will elect a nominating committee to name prospective officers for the coming year.

Elections will be held at the October meeting at which time ballots will be counted. All members in good standing will be eligible to vote whether or not they attend the October meeting. President Bob Woodruff explained.

This Is Our City

Mayor James French Says . . .

As far as I am concerned, there can be no excuse for the sale of alcoholic drinks to minors. There could be some argument that if a person is considered old enough to join the armed defense of his country, he is old enough to have enough judgment insofar as the use of alcoholic beverages is concerned. They certainly should be considered old enough to vote for whom they desire in any election.

Not so far back in the history of this country when a man reached the age of 18 he was considered an adult and was expected to take his place in a man's world and to accept his responsibilities insofar as family support, etc. was concerned.

I personally feel that anyone who is considered man enough to fight for his home and to be able to be taught to kill for his home is certainly responsible enough to be able to decide such things as his selection for governmental officials and whether beverages are for his good or not.

This personal opinion is certainly in variance with the laws of this state which are the most explicit in making it illegal to sell alcohol to minors.

For one who is in the Legislature that made the laws, who has lived in this town for some 14 years and watched the children grow up through a customer relationship, to violate this law seems to me to be much less excusable than for anyone else. The cry in the press that this was a "frame" needs almost no comment.

I am sure that if one wanted to do so, it would have been done in a more certain manner with the use of more than one case, pictures, witnesses, etc.

As soon as the bond money becomes available we can proceed with the line to Ward 5 and the loop in the business district to increase these pressures. The metering can then also be finished and the water bills sent out on a more equitable basis where one pays for what he uses instead of on a flat rate as we are doing now.

The assessment district work toward paving of the streets in the business district is progressing as rapidly as possible. The engineering is now about 85 per cent finished.

The next thing we will need is an easement from the property owners of five feet for sidewalk which the city will put in under the assessment program.

I feel that a survey of our industrial potential is one of the most important things that we can do in order to help the city grow and attract industry into the area. The survey made for the Eldorado Valley rather ignored the Henderson area where there is available land and some utilities.

It will take a selling program and a lot of promotion in order for us to make the best use of the land we will obtain from the government.

BOY SCOUT BOULDER DAM AREA COUNCIL DIRECTOR ANNOUNCES ACQUISITION OF 640 ACRES OF LAND

Clark county is destined to have one of the finest Boy Scout areas in the world.

Word received this week by Jim Moss, Director of the Boulder Dam Area Council, confirmed the acquisition of 640 acres near Mt. Springs on the Arden (Blue Diamond) road.

News that the Department of Interior had issued the patent (title) to the scouts here was contained in a telegram from Congressman Cliff Young's Washington headquarters office.

Young, who sponsored the Scout land application cooperatively with Director Moss, Scoutmaster Bill First and the Southern Nevada Home-Sitters, said that 5,038 boys and 1,610 adults in southern Nevada and a part of Arizona would benefit and that "plans are already being worked out to make this full section of what was once the "public domain" a happy hunting and camping ground for the scouts."

The 640 acre parcel, located near the old Potosi mine, was sold outright to the scouts for $288—or 45 cents an acre.

The new site has an average elevation of over 5,000 feet, is wooded, contains an abundant variety of plant growth and rugged terrain.

Young noted that it took almost "one year to the day" to acquire title to the land, but that the wait was well worth it. He called it "an ideal example of how we should dispose of our Nevada lands which are still in federal ownership," and one of the biggest land bargains in Nevada history.

Director Moss announced that the entire area will be "engineered out" by the national Scout organization to insure proper development.

Young suggested that the parents of the Scouts could do the community a service by writing short notes of appreciation to Secretary of Interior Fred Seaton and Director of the Bureau of Land Management Edward Woolzley, in Washington, D. C. He said this would help the Scouts when they make application for additional land in the same area and also those organizations which may wish to apply for federal land in the future.

As an example, Young pointed to the now-pending application of the Girl Scouts here for 80 acres of land in the Red Rock Canyon area which they will receive for a total of $240.

An Egotist Is Most Dangerous Driver And One Apt to Cause the Accidents

(The following is the second in a "safe driving" series furnished the News by Henderson Chief of Police George Crisler).

The most dangerous of all drivers, perhaps, is the chap who is so sure of himself that it never occurs to him that he could have an accident.

Who feels he is right and all the other drivers are wrong!

Who says: "I've never been in an accident that was my fault; I know ho-o-w to drive a car; I don't have to be shown by anyone!"

He—the egotist—usually is a high-speed driver and when "his mishap" comes—as it surely shall—the result is almost sure to be fatal. Be grateful if you are not he!

The one who has ever said: "Why, I have done plenty of cutting in and out; plenty of passing on curves and grades, without endangering anyone—because I always see what is coming and I am a good judge of speed and distances—"

Should bend his knees in the dust and express thanks because the o-t-h-e-r driver—so far—has been kind to him.

Ninety-nine times out of a hundred, the "close shaves" are such only because the other driver recognizes a "foolish one" coming toward him—and slows down his own car.

Most persons who drive are "safe drivers." They recognize the hazards of the road and are constantly alert to forestall accidents—else our national shambles would be even more awful.

Slow up—just for a moment; take stock of your road-habits!

If this does not apply to you—e-x-c-e-l-l-e-n-t!

If it applies to some friend or relative, read it to him; tell him what you know about safe driving; tell him about your desire to help save a life.

Royal Ambassador Group Formed Here

Devotionals, games and articles and stories of missionaries taken from the magazine, "Ambassador Life," are included at the meetings and outside activities are handicraft work, swimming, hiking and camping.

Boys between the ages of 9 and 21 desiring to join the Royal Ambassadors are requested to telephone the Rev. Mr. Wilder at 335-M or 661, or Counselor Mockman at 568-J.

POLITICAL POTPOURRI

CLIFTON YOUNG

Nevada Congressman Cliff Young will probably briefly visit the Republican National Convention today, his office revealed today.

The GOP Senatorial candidate was invited by party officials to address the convention.

Young planned to fly from Reno to the Bay area, appear at the session, and return to Reno late today.

The remainder of this week Young will be in the Reno-Sparks area where he is scheduled to make more than a dozen speeches reporting on legislation enacted by the recently adjourned 34th Congress.

The Nevada Representative just completed a two-week tour of the entire state during which time he conducted "Congressional Clinics" in nearly every county.

He will remain in western Nevada until this weekend when he is scheduled to return to Southern Nevada for a five-day schedule of campaign activities.

WALTER COX

Visiting the Henderson-Boulder City area this week was Walter Cox, publisher and owner of the Mason Valley News in Yearlington one of four GOP candidates for the House of Representatives.

Born in Virginia City in 1900, Cox attended and graduated from the University of Nevada. He served in the state senate for four terms and the assembly for one term.

Cox reported he voted and helped pass legislation which allots 20 per cent of the Boulder Dam revenue to Clark county and was author of the occupational disease act and recodification of individual trials.

He is a member of the topographical union.

SCHOOL AID

Many of our children will attend half day school sessions this fall.

Nevada WOULD receive only $153,000 in Federal Aid. This is tragic since the education of our youth is at stake.

The majority of land in Nevada is owned by the Federal Government thereby depriving us of tax revenue. It is appropriate, therefore, that Nevada receive substantial and immediate help for school construction.

MAHLON BROWN
There are three points which I hope you will consider carefully in the coming primary election before you vote for United States Senator.

First — it is time for southern Nevada to send a Senator to Washington. In a state with two widely separated population centers, such as ours, it is only fair and reasonable that there should be a United States Senator for each area. A united southern Nevada can achieve this.

Second — admitting the first point, southern Nevada must have a qualified man to submit to the rest of the state for this office. I believe that my six years' experience as State Senator from Clark county and my accomplishments for southern Nevada and the whole state qualify me to serve you as your United States Senator. I know that I can win respect for the State of Nevada nationally as I have for southern Nevada in the State Senate.

Third — you want and deserve a United States Senator who is actively and enthusiastically seeking the office. He will do a better job for you if he wants the job. A man who feels that he is making a personal sacrifice to run for this high office cannot be expected to serve you and his nation wholeheartedly. I have deliberately chosen a political career because I like politics, because I like people, and because I consider it an honor to be allowed to represent you. I want to be your United States Senator, and shall be grateful for any help you can give me.

Nominate and elect a qualified southern Nevada man who wants the job, and will do it well.

DR. FRED ANDERSON
One of the most intensive campaigns in current electioneering for the September Primary is being waged by Dr. Fred M. Anderson, seeking one of the two posts on the University of Nevada's Board of Regents.

A graduate of the University and a native of Nevada who has lived in Elko, White Pine, Ormsby and Washoe Counties, the candidate is well versed in the numerous and knotty problems which confront the State University's governing board.

His unique campaign theme is based upon "Prescription for a Healthier University of Nevada." Long interested in University affairs, he has been extremely active in the last ten years, serving as regional secretary of the Rhodes Scholarship Committee for that length of time, as well as being a member of the University's Alumni Executive Committee for the past six years.

Born in Elko County, and a graduate of White Pine County High School in Ely, Dr. Anderson received his degree from the University of Nevada in 1929, and for a while served as a graduate instructor there before being awarded a Rhodes Scholarship, which took him to England for graduate study and a degree at Oxford. He then attended and graduated from Harvard Medical School, and after four years of postgraduate training, entered medical practice in Carson City. He served with the Medical Corps of the United States Army from 1941 to 1946, returning to Reno, where he is currently practicing medicine.

Christian Science Topic Announced

The healing power of divine Love will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christ Jesus."

Jesus' assurance to his disciples of their ability to heal the sick by means of prayer will be included in the Scriptural reading (John 14:12): "Verily, verily, I say unto you, he that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father."

Selections read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (243:4): "The divine Love, which made harmless the poisonous viper, which delivered men from the boiling oil, from the fiery furnace, from the jaws of the lion, can heal the sick in every age and triumph over sin and death."

Clark County Trails
Clark county trailed Washoe in sales of Series E and H savings bonds during July, according to an announcement this week by V. A. Ninnis, state director. Sales in Clark totaled $136,443 and in Washoe $174,205.

Rotisserie-Barbecued Lamb With Butter-Broiled Long White Potatoes

"Come and get it" — your serving of rotisserie-barbecued lamb and butter-broiled potatoes! M-m-m... here is good eating indeed.

For this meal, have your meat dealer prepare for you on order a boned and rolled shoulder or leg of lamb. Additional lamb can be rolled into the boned cut to provide for more servings. You'll need to allow 1/4 to 1/2 pound boned roast per serving. Be sure to get the weight of the finished roll. The boned and rolled lamb makes for perfect broiling on and easy handling by the spit, and is a joy for the carver.

As a partner for the lamb, choose the Long White Potatoes coming into our markets from California, recognized by their slender shapes and clean white skins. Cook the potatoes in their jackets in the morning. For the barbecue meal, skin them, split lengthwise, dip in melted butter, and toast to a golden brown. Serve at once, with a sprinkling of salt, pepper, and Parmesan cheese.

Rotisserie-Barbecued Lamb
To Prepare: Insert slivers of garlic in tiny gashes cut at various spots in the roast. Brush with lemon juice and sprinkle liberally with salt and pepper. Or, after inserting garlic, rub thoroughly into the surface and ends of the lamb roast a mixture of 1/4 cup granulated sugar, 1/4 teaspoon each of ground cloves and powdered ginger, 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Sprinkle with salt and pepper.

To Roast: Run the spit through the exact center of the rolled lamb roast. Place in the roast a short roast meat thermometer specially designed for rotisserie. Arrange spit on rotisserie, as suggested in manufacturer's directions. Start motor for revolving spit.
Time and Temperature: In general it is well to allow around 25 minutes per pound for lamb roast just taken from the refrigerator, but the best guide is the roast meat thermometer. The accepted internal temperature is 180 to 182 degrees F. which is well-done but, for real enjoyment, do stop the cooking process just under 170 degrees F. The lamb has a delicate pink tinge on the inside and is tender and juicy.

Most motored revolving spits are timed in speed so that they are self-basting. However, while cooking, the lamb may be brushed, with a favorite barbecue sauce.

To Serve: Always serve lamb piping hot. The accompaniments can be of your choice — so many things go with Lamb, you know.

Elegance For Fall

THE SOFTEST and most luxurious cashmere in the world by O'Donnell, makes the background for this elegant fall coat designed by Franklin Leto.

Secrets of a Model

I've always had a secret urge to model something glamorous and custom made for me. But I do most of my modeling in a household, demonstrating household appliances.

Although Hank said today's job was an exciting one, I doubted it. "After all," I told my photographer-husband, "appliances are pretty standardized." Hank just smiled.

Now I know why. This afternoon I discovered a range can be just as individual as a Dior creation. I posed with an RCA Whirlpool built-in oven—installed to fit my height. When a gal's as tall as I am, baking usually means bending. But this new oven is designed for "stand-up" use. The controls are at eye-level too!

Between pictures, I examined the oven clock control that starts and stops cooking automatically at the times you select. I had visions of putting dinner in the oven before we left for a job—and coming home to a piping-hot, ready to eat meal.

One of the Whirlpool-Seeger executives who was on the set told me that the oven and the separate surface cooking unit are available in both gas and electric models. He said they are finished in stainless steel, antique copper or white porcelain enamel. He added that the units can be installed almost anywhere a housewife wants them.

Then he nudged Hank. Said a model housewife like me really deserved a model kitchen. But Hank was already sold. "Bet you could cook a meal for 30 men in that oven," he murmured. "Maybe I could, but I'll start with a small roast for two."

Boulder City Team Loses Two Games

Luke Whalen's intermediate baseball team recently participated in the annual baseball tournament sponsored by the IOOF at Hawthorne on the Odd Fellows' field. The Boulder City boys lost 7-2 to Hawthorne and 4-3 to Weed Heights.

Claude Rees, noble grand of the local Odd Fellows lodge which sponsored the trip, reports that the boys played fine baseball in both games. The Hawthorne team won first place in the tournament and also best sportsmanship trophy. Second and third place winners were Fallon and Gardnerville.

Adults making the trek with the boys were Luke Whalen, coach-manager, Laura Smale and Rees. While in Hawthorne, the team slept in the barracks of the Navy base.

"Morons make excellent drivers," says a traffic engineer. Let's get more of them out on the road.

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

Kiddies and Cars
"Daddy, stop the car!" Usually this urgent command means time out to nurse a youngster in the back seat who's in the clutches of nausea.

Medical researchers say motion sickness strikes four out of five children. Up and down movements (elevators) disturb them most, side to side movements least, fore and aft motions moderately. Surprisingly, car and train riding upsets them more than trips in planes and ships.

Statistics are all well and good, parents agree, but the children are not. What can be done for them?
Medical science has a good answer these days. Recently-developed drugs have clinched the battle against nausea on land, sea or in the air.

All drug stores now carry these drugs. One, called Bonadettes, provides all day protection in a single fruit-flavored tablet which children can chew without water. The medicinal in the tablets, tested on 17,000 Armed Forces personnel proved over 90 per cent effective.

If it's too late for preventive medicine, Dr. I. Newton Kugel-mass, consulting pediatrician of the New York City Health Department, has some therapeutic suggestions.

Combat a mild attack of car or train sickness "by keeping the head in a steady fixed position, flat in the horizontal position or backward in the sitting position, always exposed to fresh air," prescribes the doctor.

"The pillow should be adjusted to reduce to a minimum any side-to-side motion of the head. The child's eyes should be kept closed." Take it easy on fluids for the first few hours—then give just small sips, "gradually replaced by fresh fruit juices or tea and supplemented by lollypops or hard candies to maintain blood sugar and hydration." Stay away from solid foods for awhile.

Eugenia Clair Smith says . . .

Many things important to people come out of the ground. In the State of Nevada, mineral wealth and water wealth go hand in hand. You cannot get the minerals out, except in rare cases, without an abundant supply of water on hand. It goes either into the processing or the mineral or into the people who work the mines.

In Las Vegas water is so important—I did not say scarce—that it is being metered. The first metered water bills will probably be sent out after the election. I am sure the City Hall crowd knows these bills are going to come as a shock to the people who have had meters clamped on their water mains and they do not want anything to hurt the chances of their boy, Howard Cannon. Flat rate bills could be the order of the day until after the deadline of election day.

There are, thank goodness, no meters on the water supply of most mines. The shocker here is that there should be more mines, more miners at work, more people looking for the minerals that are waiting under the arid surface of Nevada—but nobody seems to be doing anything about getting this done.

In my platform I have come out for a hard and fast embargo on the importation of minerals that can be found in commercial and usable quantities in the United States.

EUGENIA CLAIR SMITH

I have been asked by persons connected with certain do-gooder groups how this embargo would effect the people in other countries who mine the minerals which are sent here to the United States.

I replied it would not effect them at all, if the mineral they mined could not be found in quantity in the United States, but that in any event the American miner was the one we should thank about. An American starves at the same rate as a foreigner and needs spending money just as bad.

The do-gooders argued that minerals cost less when mined in a foreign country! They said that products milled from metals mined here were more expensive!

Yea Bo! You'd be surprised at the people who are out to keep the mining industry in this country at a low ebb—or are just plain ignorant of the facts.

The heart and soul of American mining is not just the mineral itself, but the development of better and cheaper methods for their processing so that the customer does not have to pay through the nose—so that more mines are opened—so that more miners are employed at decent wage rates. A hard and fast embargo on the output of competitive foreign mines is just the right prescription for Nevada's mining industry.

Let's dig the minerals we are now walking over!

FAIR AND RECREATION BOARD

County Court House
Las Vegas, Nevada

Dear Taxpayer:

Because certain statements are being made by one candidate, which are in fact untrue, in an effort to confuse and influence you in regards to the financing of the proposed Convention Hall, The Clark County Fair and Recreation Board wishes to re-affirm its previous statement: "This Board, and each member thereof, gives a firm and solid pledge to the voters of the County, that after the Convention Hall Bonds have been voted, none will be sold until there has been developed and adopted a schedule of special Convention Hall charges which, in the opinion of the Board, will be fair and equitable in proportion to the benefit received and the total of which charges each year will be not less than the amounts needed to retire the full principal and interest on both Bond Issues."

Our Board, together with our fiscal agent, Lauren Gibbs and our attorney, Robert Jones, have worked hard and diligently in order to work out a fair and equitable formula of charges—none of which will be paid by you, the taxpayer, on personal property and real-estate and we will soon call for public hearing on same.

Furthermore not one cent has been spent on "abandoned plans or pleasure trips" nor has the Board sold or offered for sale any bonds, therefore, no interest is being paid daily on these bonds as stated in a recent advertisement.

Yours very truly,

Infected Ears

Ear infection is a year-round hazard. Swimming and diving in summer and wet feet or chilly drafts in winter are often blamed. Infected ears have long been difficult to treat because as many as five different germs—fungi as well as bacteria—often strike at the same time. But fortunately, today's physician has drugs deadly to all of them.

A natural choice is a broad-range antibiotic like Terramycin, effective against more than a hundred human disease germs. This powerful antibiotic, combined with another called polymyxin, routs the group of bacteria that are common culprits in ear and nose infections.

In one recent study in Winston-Salem, N. C., Dr. John R. Ausband, found 23 infected ears with this A total of 37 different germs were found in these ears, but the antibiotic combination cleared all but six of the ears. Four of the six were middle ear infections, which rarely respond to local treatment. The other two were long-established, stubborn cases.

Such treatment can ease much of the pain and distress of ear infections, but a few simple rules of personal hygiene can often avert trouble entirely. Wash the ears gently, thoroughly and often. Don't poke inside with makeshift instruments. Doctors often advise patients to use ear plugs if swimming bothers them. And take care of a sore throat or common cold to avoid complications.

If you do come down with an earache, a hot-water bottle or an ice-pack may soothe the pain, but it's wise to let the doctor prescribe the treatment.

Naturalist Lake Mead National Recreation Area

By WALLY WALLIS

An archeologist frequently thinks that it is necessary for him to journey to far off Egypt or distant Mexico in quest of startling discoveries of earlier man.

Certainly it is unusual when one finds evidences of prehistoric man right at his door step but that is literally what happened to National Park Service Archeologist Dick Shutler, Jr. Always inquisitive, Dick was "just looking around" in the region adjacent to his home in the National Park Service housing area down along the shore of Lake Mead when he made his "find." With him was his wife, Bettie, an anthropologist, also.

In a small and obscure rockshelter on the lakeward side of a small knoll in his front yard, they discovered several fragments of crude pottery made by Southern Paiute Indians. A well worn grinding stone, known as a metate, was found on the surface nearby.

These evidences indicated that Paiute Indians had lived in this rockshelter for limited periods while on traveling or hunting expeditions.

To determine the depth of the cultural material at the site, Dick put down a test pit. At the two foot level, a large piece of pottery known as "Aquarius Orange" was uncovered. This pottery was made by Indians who lived on the opposite bank of the Colorado River.

From these preliminary findings, Dick and Bettie determined that this inconspicuous shelter was occupied by at least two different people, the Paiutes and, earlier, by the makers of the Aquarius Orange pottery, and has seen intermittent occupation by man for several hundred years.

Other revealing material may be discovered when this site is completely excavated.

Dick is a graduate student working on the Lost City archeological material and a climatic study of the Southwest. During the summer he has been on my staff as a Ranger-Naturalist. As such he has been conducting regular interpretive services such as talks and boat trips as well as continuing his research projects.

If you find yourself traveling around in the desert and you come across a Bighorn Sheep with a bell around its neck or a red plastic streamer hanging from one ear, don't think that you are in immediate need of a mental examination. Such Bighorn Sheep are actually roaming around!

During the current study of the Bighorn Sheep of Southern Nevada, Biologist Warren Kelley, Nevada Fish and Game Commission, is live trapping, tagging, and releasing the sheep. By this technique he hopes to determine more about the habits, travels and activities of these animals.

Warren tells me that these operations have no lasting effects on the animals. He requests that information relating to the observation of a Bighorn Sheep with a bell or a red streamer or a metal ear tag be given to a Park Ranger, to Nevada Conservation Agent Norman Woods (Boulder City phone 447-M) or to a Park Naturalist. Such information as the sex of the animal and the location of the observation are important.

Holiday Article Features Vegas And Lake Mead

Las Vegas—a "brash, beautiful" city—is featured in an article by Sean O'Faolain in the September issue of Holiday.

You don't have to gamble to have fun in Las Vegas, O'Faolain asserts. You can turn your back on the green tables and go for a swim, for example, or drive over to Lake Mead or spend a day at Grand Canyon.

"It's not the fault of Las Vegas if most people run it ragged," he says, adding, however, that "for most people there is no escaping the lure" of the gaming rooms.

Many a man has let himself be taken to Las Vegas against his better judgment, O'Faolain suggests, loudly protesting "O.K! I'll go with you—but I'm not going to gamble." He strolls into the crowd, the author continues. "With a cynical smile he drops an idle coin into a slot machine... He will still be there a half hour later, caught in the web, going through the same motions as everybody else."

An array of color photographs accompanies the article.

"Many human ills and troubles could be avoided by hard work," asserts a psychologist. Maybe so, but most of us prefer to remain in the frying pan.

CAMERON, BARNSON PICOTTE RELEASED FROM THE AIR CORPS

Three of 79 Nevadans released from the Armed Forces during the last five weeks were Robert L. Picotte of 358 Nebraska, Henderson, and Larry H. Barnson, 607 Avenue C, and James W. Cameron, 1200 5th St., Boulder City.

The announcement was made this week by Major General James A. May in Carson City who reported all three men had served in the Air Force. Cameron is a Korean War veteran and has been transferred to the Reserve as has Barnson.

I've always had a secret urge to model something glamorous and custom made for me. But I do most of my modeling in a house-dress, demonstrating household appliances.

Although Hank said today's job was an exciting one, I doubted it. "After all," I told my photographer-husband, "appliances are pretty standardized." Hank just smiled.

Now I know why. This afternoon I discovered a range can be just as individual as a Dior creation. I posed with an RCA Whirlpool built-in oven—installed to fit my height. When a gal's as tall as I am, baking usually means bending. But this new oven is designed for "stand-up" use. The controls are at eye-level too!

Between pictures, I examined the oven clock control that starts and stops cooking automatically at the times you select. I had visions of putting dinner in the oven before we left for a job—and coming home to a piping-hot, ready to eat meal.

One of the Whirlpool-Seeger executives who was on the set told me that the oven and the separate surface cooking unit are available in both gas and electric models. He said they are finished in stainless steel, antique copper or white porcelain enamel. He added that the units can be installed almost any place a housewife wants them. Then he nudged Hank. Said a model housewife like me really deserved a model kitchen. But Hank was already sold.

"Bet you could cook a meal for 30 men in that oven," he murmured. "Maybe I could, but I'll start with a small roast for two."

CANDIDATE FOR THE ASSEMBLY 2nd DISTRICT

Member of ASSEMBLY, DIST. NO. 2

It is my contention that we must amend the constitution of Nevada before we can get honest tax relief.

Vote for not more than six

Under the Nevada constitution it is against the law to earmark any moneys raised by taxation. Moneys raised must go into the general fund.

From the general fund it is doled out by the political group in power, and may NEVER BE SPENT FOR THE PURPOSE FOR WHICH IT WAS INTENDED.

You good citizens have therefore given the Governing group a blank check on your tax dollars.

I shall, if elected introduce a bill putting in motion the proper procedure to amend the constitution which is the first step to insure our tax dollar reaching the intended destination.

If elected I shall introduce a bill whereby, it is punishable by law for any elected office holder, to acquire lands or any commodity of value for himself, his family, or business associates.

This I believe is necessary legislation to remove the temptation of an office holder getting rich at the tax payers expense.

A PLACE IN THE SUN

THE Sands

Dear Editor:
Most good things in a community the size of Henderson are taken for granted. The people of Henderson are very fortunate to have a hospital and clinic combination where the citizens of this community have an opportunity to be cared for in time of illness.
They are also fortunate to have a hospital that is managed and operated by such an excellent staff of tireless workers. A hospital is also a place where highly trained personnel try to make a patient's stay as pleasant as possible.
The Rose de Lima Hospital has beautiful lawns and trees which are well kept at a great expense so that the patients, when they look out the window, can see a thing of beauty.
But, do the people of Henderson know that there are outside interests planning to build a mortuary almost on the hospital grounds?
The people of Henderson should stop and think: You or someone close to you may, at any time, be confined to a hospital bed. How would you like to be in a hospital getting ready to undergo serious surgery or be moved to a hospital and confined to bed with a serious illness and look out of the window and see a mortuary?

We all know that a mortuary is an essential operation, but why does it have to be placed where it can be seen by sick people who are trying to get well. There are vast amounts of open ground available to build an establishment of this kind where patients do not have to watch and think that they may be next.
Doctors and nurses can do only so much. The high morale of the patient is also very essential to sick or injured persons.
Sincerely,
Charles Thompson

Dear Morry:
Your presence has been noticeable by your absence of late but we know the reason and you are excused. However, Morry, you should be here to meet the new people.
It is so nice to walk down the street, most any street in Henderson, to find these new people, veritable angels no less.
Probably better known to you as politicians, these folks, mostly originating from Las Vegas, have suddenly discovered Henderson—and will (if elected) make our town into a Shangri-la.
Seems funny, but we sort of classify these characters with the locust. They come every fourth year, make a lot of fuss and noise and then crawl back into their holes.
Sincerely,
George Campbell

AAUW Announces Year's Project

Study of the gifted child is the project members of the AAUW have selected for the coming year. The decision was made at a recent board meeting held at the home of Mrs. Dexter McCabe at 430 Burton St.
Members noted that it has been a source of concern to educators throughout the country that America is giving a good average education to all children but perhaps has overlooked the source of the nation's potential leaders.
Members of the Henderson AAUW are interested in the study of what factors contribute to the make-up and welfare of the gifted child and in what way they can insure they can reach the highest potential.
Present at the board meeting were Mrs. Doris Reed, president; Mrs. Billie Danley, vice president; Mrs. Fred A. Ryser, Jr., secretary; Mrs. McCabe, hostess and treasurer; Mrs. Rosemary Coates, membership chairman; Mrs. James Smalley, legislative chairman; and Mrs. James Butler, art chairman.

MARWOOD A. DOUD'S

Mad About Dogs

(The following was contributed by Florence McMillan in behalf of MAD who is enjoying a vacation to California. Editor's note.)

Marwood thought you readers would like to hear about our recent experience with a couple of reproducing Siamese cats.

When I was winding up a three-month stay in the East, Don was putting things in order preparatory to my return—and at the same time, trying to keep an eye on our family of four cats. Only the two Siamese take part in this episode, they are Tina and her daughter, Miss Poo.

Miss Poo was the first to show departure from normal behavior, and was immediately confined to "quarters." Five days later she returned to normal and her liberty was restored. Mama Tina then got the same fever—and was still in solitary, when I arrived home.

Constantly trying to convince ourselves that watchful eyes had saved the day, none-the-less, some doubt remained to haunt our tranquility. Only time could dispell these doubts—but it didn't.

Tina's appearance never betrayed her condition. The only symptom that was slightly suggestive of "things to come," was her more-than-usual affection for me. This was blamed on her delayed recognition of me after returning from my 90 day absence. Consequently, Miss Poo received most of the expendable attention.

Miss Poo's misplaced bulges betrayed her condition, but to complicate matters, her temperature went up and she lost her appetite. Assailed by fears and increased doubts, we called Marwood for advice, presenting a somewhat bewildered and anxious-appearing cat for examination.

"Yes," Marwood confirmed our suspicions—there were extra heartbeats—but now, what about the temperature and appetite?

Hair-balls couldn't be ruled out, but what about treatment for hairballs during pregnancy? Marwood resolved the problem by a phone consultation with a qualified veterinarian.

Hair-ball treatment was prescribed and administered, then home we went with a thoroughly oily Siamese, leaving Marwood to clean up an equally oily lab. A few days after the treatment, bulgy Miss Poo's appetite and temperature were back to normal, but the matronly proportions were definitely developing.

One memorable morning, Mama Tina persistently pursued me, talking urgently and loudly, trying desperately to advise me of a situation. I offered her food—no sale. She must have thought me pretty dumb, but the message just didn't get through.

Preoccupation with routine duties took her out of my mind temporarily, but suddenly, I missed her. Now I realized that her vociferous appeal had been more important than I had assumed. I silently wagered that her family of kittens was making its appearance. I called and searched. Finally, from atop the bathroom shelf, her purring acknowledged my calling. Our storage shelf had become maternity quarters for the Siamese.

There on the shelf were two black kittens. To Tina, they were just as important as the pure-bred kittens of a previous litter. I apologized for my lack of

Kiwanians Hear About K-SHO-TV

Guest speaker at the Uptown Kiwanis Club in Las Vegas Aug. 10 was Bob Gardner who heads the sales department for Morry Zenoff's television station, K-SHO-TV.

Gardner explained the 24 hour operation of Clark county's newest television station. He emphasized the economic operation which allows television time to be sold at low rates to business men in the area who have never been able to previously afford TV advertising.

President of the Uptown Kiwanis Club, which meets each Thursday at noon at the Fremont Hotel for lunch, is Dan Smith. Gardner was introduced by Charles Deaner, program chairman.

understanding and took my leave. I needed time and aloneness to adjust to the shock, which was now two-fold.

Tina was somewhat later than Miss Foo in her romantic indulgence. This placed Miss Poo at least seven days past due. A visit to the vet revealed nothing out of the ordinary. Symptoms normal. It was then that I learned that this particular breed of feline sometimes took 81 days to parturate, instead of the normal nine weeks period allotted to other varieties.

The Miss Poo incident occurred on the 77th day, with Mama Tina acting as O.B. nurse. This interesting episode will appear in this column next week to complete MAD's vacation.

(A supply of vitamin minerals for dogs and cats arrived just before Columnist Marwood Doud left on vacation and he reported they could be obtained at the Ranch Market in Boulder City).

Nazarene Young Peoples Group Attend Rally

The Young Peoples Society of the Nazarene church representing Boulder City was winner of the banner, offered for the best attendance at a rally held Aug. 14. The Henderson young people's group had won the banner when it was first offered at an earlier rally this year.

In addition to the Henderson and Boulder City groups, also represented at the rally was Las Vegas. According to Don Stukas, president of the Lake Mead zone for the Young Peoples Society of the Church of the Nazarene, about 100 attended.

President Stukas said the young people are planning an all-day picnic and the date has been tentatively set for Monday, Sept. 3, probably in a Las Vegas park. Breakfast, as well as dinner, will be served, he reported.

Next Church of Nazarene rally for the Young Peoples Society will be held in Boulder City Sept. 11.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane

You played on your summer vacation, but the chances are your car worked hard. Now's the time to give it a post-vacation checkup to ensure its continued efficient operation.

You've probably driven it harder and longer than usual. Have it lubricated and the oil drained and replaced. (This is especially important if you've been forced to use several different brands of oil in your state-to-state motoring.)

Have the air cleaner checked. Driving near the sandy shore or on dusty roads can clog it up.

If you've been at the shore, chances are salt has covered the car's finish. Have it thoroughly washed, then given a complete re-waxing job.

Have the radiator checked. Insects picked up during summer driving can clog air passages around the radiator, force it to boil over.

Have the car's generator and entire electrical system tested, too. A minor adjustment now can save trouble later on.

You've probably put a lot of mileage on the car. The tires may need to be switched. First, have them all checked for cuts, bruises. If you have tubeless tires, see that the sealing fluid is still in good condition. Then have the wheels aligned.

If you've used the car's emergency flashlight very often, throw out the old batteries and get new ones. I hope you never have to use it, but it's best to be prepared.

Children going back to school this fall will go more safely—if adults help.

How can you help? Driving safely is one way. Promoting traffic safety is another. In communities throughout the U. S. parents have worked out top notch programs for insuring traffic safety for children.

Here are some examples—from winners of recent Carol Lane Traffic Safety Awards.

Mrs. Robert R. Eckart, Jr., New Orleans, observed that youngsters were unsupervised during bus rides and that motorists ignored school bus laws. She recruited 37 mothers to act as bus guards, chauffeurs for the guards and bus captains. These guards reported unsafe conditions and violations to Mrs. Eckart who worked with school board and safety officials to correct them.

Mrs. Glen Rabl, principal of the W. J. Wheeler Elementary School in Commerce, Texas, encouraged children to participate in safety clubs, patrols, slogan and poster contests, bicycle rodeos, safety parades, and safety skits presented in other schools. Results: a more safety-conscious, safer community.

The Women's Division, Greater Minneapolis Safety Council, honored teenage motorists for accident-free driving. Each student who drove six months with no accident received a "NO ACS" (for "no accidents") reflective car bumper emblem. This positive approach to teen-age driving was extended to all Minneapolis public schools.

How about your community? Would a program like one of these make your children safer?

Miss Joan Mergens and Sidney Pickard Married in Las Vegas Catholic Church

With 40 relatives and friends looking on, Miss Joan Mergens of Las Vegas became the bride of Sidney Pickard of 6 East Texas St., Henderson, at a double ring ceremony held Aug. 11 at St. Bridget's Catholic Church in Las Vegas. The Rev. Donald F. Carmody performed the ceremony.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Mergens, was given in marriage by her father, and a close friend, Ellen Delazzari of Las Vegas, was the maid of honor.

Aaron Morris of Henderson served as the best man for the groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Pickard of Henderson. The bride wore a white eye-let ruffled street length gown, white nylon tulle hat and gloves. Her attendant wore a blue gown and hat and gloves.

Mrs. Mergens, mother of the bride, was attired in a white linen dress, blue accessories and wore a double gardenia corsage.

The mother of the groom, Mrs. Pickard, wore a beige dress, brown accessories and also a double gardenia corsage.

Organist was Mrs. G. C. Barilleaux of Henderson and vocalist Miss Katie Zakers of Las Vegas rendered the selection "Ave Maria."

Following the solemn rites, a reception was held at St. Bridget's church, a three tiered wedding cake, punch and coffee were served.

Presiding at the serving table were Miss Frances Bassick and Miss Mercedes Filipiski while Miss Zakers was in charge of the guest book.

Following a honeymoon to the Grand Canyon, the couple will make their home at 2600 East Bonanza in Las Vegas.

The new Mrs. Pickard graduated from Mt. St. Marys College in Los Angeles last year. The groom graduated from Basic high school in 1951.

The richest man in the old home town at the turn of the century would be classified with the underprivileged now.

Three Day Girls Softball Tourney Opens in Henderson on Friday Night

It will be Henderson against the field as five teams from three states compete in a girls softball tournament which opens tomorrow night and continues through Sunday. All games will be played on the Titanium Field.
Admission each night will be 50 cents for adults for children or a $1 ticket can be purchased by adults, good for all three nights.

Tentatively, the lineup will include teams representing St.
George and Cedar City, Utah,
Flagstaff and Kingman, Ariz.,
North Las Vegas Chix and Nevada Hardware of Henderson.
There was a possibility that the Flagstaff team might not be able to compete in the tournament and another Utah team will be substituted.

Each of the six teams will play once all three nights and the tournament will not be an elimination affair. Games will start at 8, 9 and 10 each evening.

Finals are set for Sunday night following which team and individual trophies will be awarded.

Team trophies for the first three winners are being donated by Rexall Drug, Lou La Porta
Insurance and Perry's Mens Store. In addition, the Bank of Nevada is donating a trophy to the girl designated as the outstanding player in the three day event.

Manager Ross Salter of the Henderson Nevada Hardware announced this week the starting lineup for the local team probably will be Pat Gandrud, catcher; Betty Peisker, pitcher;
Carmelia Hughes, first base;

Jackie Raiser, second base; Donna Webb, third base; Betty Edmondson, short stop; Marti Corderman, left field; Pat Reese, center field; Clara Williams, right field; and Kate Warner, substitute.

Managers and coaches of the six teams are scheduled to meet at the Royal Friday to draw the pairings for the tourney.

James I. Gibson Named Lake Mead Stake President

James I. Gibson, prominent Henderson resident, has been named president of the newly formed Lake Mead stake. The announcement followed a regular stake conference held in Las Vegas Sunday.

According to Elders George
Q. Morris and Delbert L. Stapley, members of the Council of Twelve of Salt Lake City who were in southern Nevada for the conference, the new stake will include Henderson, Boulder City, Davis Dam, Kingman and Needles.

Gibson, who has served as bishop of the Henderson third ward, has named Richard Taylor, city councilman, to be his first counselor, R. Owen Gibson the second counselor and James T. Blazzard, clerk.

Owen S. Bunker of 139 Elm St. has been named bishop of the third ward to replace the new stake president.

Serving as first counselor under Bunker will be Keith Pendleton and Delmar Davis will be second counselor. Ward clerks are Robert Keeton, assisted by Ted Mann and Ralph Cramer.

Naming of Gibson to the new stake presidency climaxed an extremely active weekend for members of the Church of Latter Day Saints in southern Nevada.

Last Sunday evening, with an estimated 1,000 in attendance, the new $200,000 Henderson
LDS church was dedicated.

The featured addresses were delivered by Elders Morris and Stapley. Bishop Marlan Walker of the first ward presided. The opening prayer was delivered by J. Howe Loveland, second ward bishop.

The choir, under the direction of W. Champman rendered three numbers, "The Lord's Prayer,"
"King of Glory" and "Sanctus."

Another number, "Thy Blessing on the House, Dear Lord," was sung by the Singing Mothers.
Accompanists for the evening were Shirley Cannon Johnson and Maurine Jackson Smith.

Also present for the dedication rites was T. Gay Myers, president of the Las Vegas stake.

Chambers Defers Action to Impose Additional Dues

Temporarily at least, Henderson Chamber of Commerce members have deferred action on imposing a special assessment to raise funds to lift the organization "out of the red."

Meeting Tuesday noon at the Swanky Club, 21 members heard a report by President Robert Woodruff the chamber now has about a $250 deficit. A suggestion to assess all 70 members $5 for the current year was tabled.

Members present did hear a suggestion by the president that the dues scale, as prescribed in the by-laws, be followed.

At the current time, associate members are assessed $10, business organizations with three members of less $15, and business enterprises with more than three $25.

According to the by-laws,
business firms with three employees or less should be paying $25 and businesses with more than three employees $50.

Dues for the 1956-57 year will be payable Oct. 15 and the consensus was the dues scale in the by-laws should be followed at that time.

It was also suggested that

BOULDER EAGLES OPEN GRID DRILLS MONDAY; PLAY AT HOME ON SEPT. 14

(From the Boulder City News)
Bent on repeating his all-winning season of 1955, Boulder City high school varsity football Coach Gene Schultz opens two-day drills Monday on the local gridiron. The Boulder City Eagles were undefeated last season winning 10 straight including the Nevada "A" title. This week, seniors were issued uniforms Tuesday, juniors were handed their equipment yesterday and this morning between 9 and noon, sophomores will check out their uniforms. Freshmen will report to the gymnasium at 1 o'clock this afternoon for their equipment.

An organization meeting for all grid aspirants is scheduled for 9 o'clock Saturday morning and Dr. Ivan Kazan will be at the gymnasium at 3 o'clock in the afternoon for physical examinations.

The first regular practice is scheduled for Monday morning between 9 and 10:30 and again in the evening from 7 to 9. Chalk talks will be held daily from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m.

The same schedule will prevail, said Coach Schultz, Monday through Saturday until the opening of school, Sept. 4. There's a possibility practice will be held Labor Day, Sept. 3, depending on the number of players who will be out of town and the physical shape of the squad members.

The Eagles open the 1956 at home Friday night, Sept. 14 at home against Gorman.

As he was last year, Coach Schultz will be assisted this semester by Coach Ken Andree. Don Straussberg will handle the jayvees.

Despite only losing six lettermen through graduation, the Boulder City head coach is not exactly optimistic about this season's prospects.

But then he cried the blues all last season and wound up as the winning coach in 10 straight contests.

Gone from the state championship squad of last year are John Sharp, Fred Heineman, Lloyd Gieck, Frank Scussel, Dave Mulligan and Martin Bush.

But on the brighter side, returning lettermen include Ronny Lansford, Harold Stubbs, Jack Quinn, Charlie Patton, Stanley Bush, Pete Davis, Kenneth Tracht, Al Hamdorf, Henry Davis, Dick Dieleman, Myron Welsh, Bill McCullough, Roger Barnson, Richard Roper, Bill Kendrick, Larry Lansford and Leonard Resler.

slightly more than 4,000 registered for the general election two years ago.

Democrats registered number 30, 184 while 10,737 GOP registrants are listed on the county voting rolls. Also listed are 1,792 non-partisans.

The Henderson figure remained fairly constant with the figure this year 5,059 registered voters compared with 5,007 in 1954. Broken down, the Demos outnumber the Republicans 3,764 to 1,159 in the Industrial city.

Significant is the fact that North Las Vegas, following a recent census, claims the distinction of being the third largest city in Nevada—yet the NLV total registration figure is less than Henderson, only 4,914.

It's possible, of course, that North Las Vegas might have more non-registered eligible voters than Henderson.

Still on the basis of the primary registration, Henderson can still claim the third-largest city-in-the-state honors.

Probably more significant to this end of the county was the radical decrease of registered voters in Boulder City.

Two years ago, registered voters in the City by the Dam was 3,095. Today that figure has dropped to only 2,101, or about a 30 per cent loss. Democrats in Boulder have it over the GOP by about a 2-1 majority, 1,332 to 691.

Only fact to be gleaned from the current Boulder City registration figure is that the population is considerably less now than two years ago—or the present residents have considerably less interest in politics.

Second the Motion—Since becoming editor of the Henderson Home News, this columnist has sat in on every regular city council meeting and listened to a few million words pass across the table.

Probably the most sensible suggestion offered to date was made by Mayor James B. French at the Aug. 20 meeting when he made a personal recommendation that a larger room be located for the semi-monthly sessions.

Some suggestions included the new Elks lodge, Community church or a school room.

With few exceptions, it's a Standing Room Only crowd that attends each meeting.

The sooner a larger hall is located, the better.

Sitting on the floor at some of the meetings doesn't get the job done.

Free Publicity—Featured prominently in the Nevada News Letter for August, published by the Department of Economic Development in Carson City, are both Henderson and Boulder City.

The entire news letter, published by Director Pete Kelley and crew actually is all devoted to Clark county. Pictures include an aerial view of Henderson, Hoover Dam, water ski shot taken on Lake Mead and another depicting happy fishermen displaying a catch of bass taken on Lake Mead.

The news letters are distributed nationally and at no direct cost to either Henderson or Boulder City.

Golden Knights Will Perform Here Tuesday

(From Boulder City News)

The Golden Knights, national drum and bugle corps junior champions for 1954-'55, will perform for Boulder City residents Tuesday evening, Aug. 28 at the community baseball field at 7 o'clock and the public is invited to attend. There will be no admission charge.

The appearance of the Golden Knights here is being sponsored by the Blessed Sacrament Catholic Organization. The group is composed of 62 teen age boys and is en route to Los Angeles for the national competitive meet.

The Golden Knights, accompanied by 12 adults, will arrive by bus and will be welcomed by members of the American Legion at the Black Canyon Motel, where they will spend the night.

Arrangements for refreshments afterward for the "Knights" party have been made by the Altar Society of St. Andrew's Catholic church, under direction of Mrs. Ray McCoy, president, and Mrs. Luke Whalen, vice president. This will be at the Teen-Age club's "Polka Dot Haven."

The boys will enjoy a trip through the dam and a showing of the movies of the dam construction at the Visitors' Bureau before leaving for Los Angeles.

The Rev. Robert F. Garner is moderator for the group, which hails from Newark, N.J. A previous national champion "Golden Knights" group gave Boulder a similar treat a few years ago at Peterson Field.

COMMUNITY CHEST
The Henderson Community Chest will meet Wednesday, Aug. 29, 8 p.m. in the Victory Village auditorium.
