EXPERTS HERE TO STUDY CITY'S WATER, STREET, SEWER PROBLEMS

The People Speak

DO YOU THINK 18-YEAR-OLDS SHOULD BE GIVEN THE RIGHT TO VOTE?

MRS. EMIL BELIN, Postmaster, Pittman
Yes, I think they should — I think most 18-year-olds have finished or are just finishing high school and understand the problems of government well enough to voice their opinions on these problems of government.

NORMAN SEMMLER, Sales Representative Cal-Pac Utilities, 104 Ash Street

Most 18-year-olds are mature enough, although there are a few of them who make you wonder if they should be given this right. When they are old enough to go into our Armed Forces and fight for our country they should be old enough to be given all the privileges of citizenship.

GEORGE STAFFORD, Printer, 46 Basic Road.

I don't think so. If they are old enough to vote, they are also old enough to drink and assume all the obligations of being adults. This, in my opinion would contribute to delinquency. I don't feel that an 18-year-old is ready to assume the obligations of an adult.

MRS. LAMAR BRIGGS, housewife, 628 Burton Street.

No, I don't think they are old enough at 18. I think that at this age they are too immature for sound judgement.

MRS. ALAN HABERMAN, Housewife, 127 Victory Road

That depends — some kids are grown up at 18 and some aren't. The kids of today are more mature than when I was 18. If they take them in service at 18, they should be able to vote. I also think that when girls under 18 are married, they should be able to get their drivers license without having their husbands sign for them till they are 18.

MRS. J. E. CRISP, Housewife, 298 West Basic Road.

Yes I do, really. I think if they are old enough to be in the Army they are old enough to vote.

MRS. GLEN EDWARDS, housewife, 106 Continental

This question has been discussed at great length in our home, between my husband, my 18 year old daughter and myself. I have heard so many of the pros and cons on whether or not the 18 year old should vote, that I hardly know whether I am capable of it myself.

FRANK DENTON, Owner of Denton Pharmacy, Pacific St.

I think 18 year olds should be given the right to vote. There is no doubt that they are much more informed now, with TV, newspapers, picture shows, etc.

Committees Plan Changes For Next Industrial Days

Lyal Burkholder, Co-Chairman of the General Committee for Industrial Days, told the Chamber of Commerce of the changes planned for next year's celebration, at the meeting of Thursday May 8.

Chairman Burkholder said he attributes the great success of this year's celebration to the fireball leadership of Chamber President James Van Valey and Dr. Melvin Bagley, General Committee Co-Chairman; and the enthusiastic work of the committee chairman.

Changes for next year's celebration, Burkholder said, were suggested at a meeting of all committee chairman, following the celebration. Suggested changes were announced as follows:

1—The Governor's Ball will be held prior to the celebration as a "kick-off" event and will be known as the Industrial Days Ball.

2—The parade route will be permanently set for Water St.

3—Fireworks will be held on the opening night, whether donated or provided by the Chamber of Commerce.

4—Carnival activities will end on the final night of the celebration and will not be carried over to Sunday.

5—The town should present a more festive appearance, with banners and other decorations to show that a celebration is in progress. Plans for banners for 1959 Industrial Days are already being made.

6—The hall, in which the beauty contest is held, should be decorated in a "glittering fashion" to add beauty and glamour to this occasion.

7—All awards, except for the beauty contest, to be presented at the carnival grounds on Sat. night.

8—Any entry in the parade will be eligible for the sweepstakes prize.

9—A minimum of decoration will be established for parade entries.

10—Consideration will be given to a suitable carnival area for next year, as this year's site may not be available.

11—The committee will try to obtain a more attractive basis with the carnival for those operating booths as it is felt the former 20 percent is too small for those working the booths.

12—Carnival personnel will be obligated to instruct operating the booths on how to run the various games, as on previous occasions the operators have had to spend the first night of the carnival learning the operation and in the opinion of the committee, "have taken a beating."

13—The Desert Gardeniers will be in charge of the Industrial Days flower show — The Painters and Potters will be in charge of art exhibits and some women's organization will be asked to take over the cocktail party, to extend courtesies to visitors and act as Hostesses for the Industrial Days Committee.

It is recommended that organizations should participate more fully in the event and those planning to enter floats should start working on them six months before Industrial Days — about November or the month of December.

Gold Strike Inn Opens Today On Road To Dam

Starting at 4:30 today this area will be served with another brand new business — different, yet so typically Nevadan, that it will be a pleasure to spend time in the multi-service place.

It is named the Gold Strike Inn, and it sits right on the main road to the dam, between the dam itself and the cut-off road to Lake Mead Lodge.

Tourists coming from the East will get their first taste of Nevada and the Western tempo at the Gold Strike Inn. It's entire motif is the Old West.

All the way from mining cars and gold-tainted rock on the outside to deer, sheep and Elk heads hanging on the walls inside.

One section of the Inn is a cocktail bar. Another section is a snack bar and still another section is a souvenir store.

Slot machines are also on hand to give tourists the first chance to try their luck as they come into the state.

The old-fashioned flavor is carried out, too, in the lettering of the signs, the overhang on the porch and the wooded walls inside.

The many animal heads are from the prized collection of the late Tutor Sherer. The white goat's head and hooves are the centerpiece over the bar is a gift to the proud owners by Boulder's veteran hunter — Dr. Jack Ahlstrom. In fact, they're already naming the drinking room the Old Goat's Den.

Owners are Don Belding and O. L. Roney, popular Boulderites who also own the Boulder Laundry, and Jack Richardson of Las Vegas.

The trio acquired title of this unique stretch standing square in the middle of government land — by patent rights some 5 years ago. Their gradual development into today's enterprise took much work in carving a flat piece out of rock and soil.

Water is trucked in and power is provided by two huge alternating Diesel generators.

The entire building is refrigerated air conditioned.

Richardson will serve as operating manager.

Dr. Greenblatt said of chest X-Rays: "It is a very wise precaution for all adults over 18 years old to have an annual checkup as a sort of health insurance. Although the primary facility of the Mobile Unit is checking for TB, we also check for heart disease and lung cancer."

Cost of the chest X-Ray is $1 and the following schedules have been announced for the Mobile Unit, which is sponsored by the Nevada TB and Health Association and Clark County Health Department.

Experts are making a study of our city's problems in the fields of high ground water; street installations and repair; and sewer installations, and these studies are expected to result in more economical and efficient installations, it was reported yesterday by City Administrator Clay Lynch and R. Julian Moore of Basic Management Incorporated.

Dr. George B. Maxey, head of the Division of Ground Water Geology and Geophysical Exploration for the State Geological Survey of Illinois, and a professor at the University of Illinois at Urbana, has been retained by Basic Management Inc. to supervise a survey which is being made of the high ground water in the Pittman area.

"This," Moore said, "is a continuing step in Basic Management's study of this problem in Pittman."

Dr. Maxey was here on Tuesday and went over the data already collected by the City Engineering Department and B.M. I. At a meeting with City Administrator Clay Lynch, he asked that a summary of findings to date be prepared for him in order that all possible causes and cures of the problem might be explored.

City Engineer Robert Cordill and Lynch took Dr. Maxey on a tour of inspection in the Pittman area and discussed the flow of water in the trenches now being dug for the sewer lines and the French drains which the City plans to have installed.

Dr. Maxey is one of the foremost authorities in the nation on this type of problem. He is familiar with this area and has prepared a book on a ground water resources survey of Las Vegas Valley. He also appeared as an expert witness for the Colorado River Commission, representing the State of Nevada in the recent Supreme Court case in San Francisco.

Dr. Maxey will make periodic trips here while the survey is being conducted. Julian Moore said.

Also arriving on Tuesday was Thomas Moore of Phoenix, Arizona, Field Engineer of the Housing and Home Finance Agency who will represent the Government agency during the construction of the sewer, making inspection trips here every two weeks.

Moore will also be required to okay progress payments for the contractors after they are approved by the City. He also held a conference with City Administrator Lynch, regarding the amount of underdrain being installed under the sewer collection lines and Lynch advises us that the plans may have to be modified and drains made deeper in some places. Additional installation of perforated tile may also be required in certain areas.

Street installations in the new assessment district will also be made under the advice of an expert in this field. Carl Lind, the West Coast Regional Director for the Asphalt Institute arrived by plane last night and today will go over plans for street construction with our City Administrator and Engineering Department.

The Asphalt Institute is an independent organization, paid for by the producers and users of asphalt paving of America, to do research work, such as Lind will do here.

After studying the tentative plans for the new assessment district work, Lynch will take him on an inspection tour of all of the city's streets. After studying the installations to be made, Lind will recommend how the work can be done in the most economical and efficient manner, using the latest methods. In addition to the assessment district work, he will recommend methods for patch paving and street rehabilitation work on the streets where this type treatment is needed, Lynch said.

DEAR MARCIE

By MARCELLA DUNCAN

Dear Marcie: What do you think of a husband who brings his friends home, sometimes for dinner, unannounced? He just walks in, says "Honey will you put three more places on the table?" and I'm supposed to be filled with happiness. SHOULD I be?

A Wife

Dear Wife: Yes and No! In the first place, you should be happy that your ever-lovin' has so much faith in your ability as a homemaker and cook that he CAN walk in with unannounced guests and be proud of you and his home. (Believe me, there are very few men who CAN, or WOULD chance this sort of unexpected surprise on their wives.)

On the other hand, your husband should realize that these little "surprises" of his might one day catch you unaware — it could be a day you had lunch in town with the girls, followed by a shopping spree or a mat-nee, or, you could be home with a sick headache.

Flattering though it is to you, your husband SHOULD give you a little warning, say, a telephone call ten minutes before they descend upon you!

Dear Marcie:

We are two teenaged sisters, 14 and 16. Our father has always been very good to our mother and to us. But we now know he has been seeing another woman. Mother doesn't know of this and it would break her heart if she did. Do we sit back and do nothing, tell Daddy we know, or what? Please help us!

Two Loving Daughters

Dear Loving Daughters: First of all, don't be too sure that your mother doesn't know about the other woman. There's an old saying that goes "The wife is always the last to know" that is just so much poppycock in my book! It stands to reason, doesn't it, that a wife who loves her husband would recognize any change in him instantly?

Your mother is probably playing a "waiting game", not wanting to bring this heartache out into the open if she doesn't have to. And she's probably praying the meanwhile that your father's little caper will be of short duration.

But I do think you girls are old enough and love your parents enough to have a "heart to heart" with your Daddy. Let him know that you know and that your hearts are breaking for both of your parents. The chances are his wanting to be back in your good graces again will bring him around — and fast! Good luck, girls.

Dear Marcie:

We're a group of teenagers—boys and girls—who want to meet twice in a week in each other's homes, to talk, gossip, dance, and see if we can't do some good for our community.

On all sides, from ALL parents, we are met with a great big NO! Anyone'd think we are

AIME Hears Talk On Russian Life

Dr. Walter R. Hibbard, President of the Metallurgical Society of the American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical and Petroleum Engineers presented a very vivid account of the life and times in Russia at the May 7 meeting of the local section, which was held in the Palomino Room of the Hacienda Hotel.

Dr. Hibbard, who was one of several American scientists and engineers making a three-week tour of Russia late in 1957, showed a large number of colored slides of life behind the Iron Curtain. Of particular interest was his comments on the great proportion of professional women in Russia; such as doctors, lawyers, and engineers. Dr. Hibbard also related that nearly all women in Russia are gainfully employed as a result of the serious shortage of manpower.

Although such items as the automobile, washing machines, and other appliances are expensive and scarce, the people declare that they could get these items if they so desired and, therefore, do not feel that their living standards are low just because they don't happen to have a washing machine or an automobile.

As a result of his visit, Dr. Hibbard's general impression of the Soviet Union was that they have made tremendous technological progress since World War II and that the Russians feel confident they can surpass the U. S. scientifically as well as economically. The large number of students enrolled in science and engineering would indicate that

DAVID LYON
TO U. S. ACADEMIES
Congressman Walter Baring announced the names of those appointees whom he had nominated to U. S. Military Academies for the class of 1958 who have qualified for entrance.

The successful candidates from the Southern Nevada area are William Scott Wood, Jr., and David C. Lyon, both of Boulder City. Through competitive examination Wood earned a principalship and Lyon earned an alternateship to the Air Force Academy.

these are their intentions. Dr. Hibbard is manager of the Alloy Studies Section of the General Electric Research Laboratory in Schenectady, New York, and is recognized as one of America's leading metallurgists. He was very well received by local AIME members, their wives, and guests at this outstanding southern Nevada meeting.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

My Dear Morry:
As a newspaper publisher and radio station owner, you are vitally interested in advertising. Therefore, you are well qualified to give your opinion on the following.

Sometime ago I had somewhat acrimonious discussions with the managers of two radio stations on the subject of the value or non-value of "teen age listeners. They both claimed that this age group roughly 13 to 17 spent no money and, therefore, should not be catered to by playing the type of juvenile music they like.

I don't know whether or not either of these gentlemen have "teen age children at home, but from their attitude it would seem that they haven't. My son and his friends have just passed into their young twenties, but they hung around my home for enough years for me to learn that although the parents put up the money they have very little to say about what is bought and where! Style is of extreme importance to these kids, and they'd rather die than wear anything that was picked out by the old "square" of a mother or a father who just don't dig what's being worn by the crowd.

Therefore, I claimed that although most adults detest Rock-and-Roll music, the high school crowd love it and will consistently listen to a radio station that features the Elvis Presley type of stuff. Personally, I hate it, but I stated that with the terrific competition among radio stations in this area, any one that could command a steady audience in any age group would have no difficulty selling time to merchants who had stuff to sell to that segment of the population, whether it be hearing aids for the elderly or Ivy League jackets for the high school Beau Brummel. There is at least one Las Vegas radio station that got fat by playing the kind of music the young folks like,—which should prove something.

In any event, I'd like your opinion and, if possible, your readers' ideas on the subject. It should prove interesting.

Sincerely,
Bert Havens

EARL KEENAN TOPS POT GAME BOWLERS

Earl Keenan of Henderson became the first bowler this year to win the novel "Break The Bank Pot Game" featured at the Henderson Bowl.

Keenan shot a magnificent 256 game last week and was awarded $201.40 for his efforts. A score of 254 for men, and 224 for women is required to "break the bank" which grows daily.

Actually, Keenan started something. The game hadn't been won in two months, but following on the heels of Keenan came two women "sharpies" who also broke the "bank" in the same week. Dot Bray of Henderson won $16.60 with a score of 226, and Elaine, Wyoming, won $28.75 with a game of 224.

The "Break The Bank Pot Games," brainchild of Bowling Manager Rick Richardson, who got the idea from California houses, is bowled at 11:30 every night. The "bank" increases 15 cents with each line bowled, which is added to a $10 starter put up by the house. Rick advised that the games are open to anyone and that on week-ends two extra games are rolled at 2 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Teachers Honored By VFW Auxiliary

Women teachers and cafeteria workers received corsages and men teachers and maintenance workers received boutonnières made of Buddy poppies.

The committee visited every school in the city, including St. Peter's Parochial School, in their annual observance of Teachers Day and included cafeteria workers and maintenance men because of their close cooperation.

Using the loud speaker systems in the various schools, members of the committee spoke to the teachers on the presentation of the flowers which are symbolic of the young child, who grows to full flower under their guidance.

"It is a very small way in which we can show recognition for the important job our teachers are doing," they said, "and we appreciate the contribution they are making to the future welfare and security of the nation. In the hands of our teachers, as much as in the hands of the parents, rests the future strength of body, mind and spirit of these young people who will be our leaders of tomorrow."

Flowers for the presentations were made by the members of the Auxiliary and presented by a committee composed of Mesdames: Walt Walters, Robert Lee, Oscar Sims, Henry Pfeiffer, John Clark, Gail Armstrong, Charles Elkie and Royal Wood.

Business Area Gets Additional Parking Space

A complete survey of parking in the business area was conducted last week under the direction of City Administrator Clay Lynch and Maintenance Superintendent Clyde Jenkins, resulting in additional parking being made available in several locations.

With the moving of the bus stop for Las Vegas, Tonopah, Reno Stage Lines from Army Street to Market Street, five additional parking spaces were made available on Army Street and three removed from Market. The no parking area for the bus stop will again be moved and will start at the cross walk and run toward Navy Street. This, Lynch pointed out, will make it easier for the driver to manipulate the bus in and out of the parking space.

The mail box on the post office corner is not placed according to city ordinance. This will be moved and will provide an additional parking space in front of the post office, and the red zone used by the post office trucks on the Market side of the building will be shortened to give an additional space there.

The red space on Market, next to the Bank of Nevada, will also be shortened as it has been determined that safety at this corner can be maintained with a shorter space left for vision, and the red space back of the bank will be shortened, making available one parking space in each instance.

Also being planned is the moving of the fire plug in the front of the Coronet store. By moving the fire plug to a space next to the cross walk, a part of the area required to be left open in case of fire will be taken up by the walk making additional room available for parking two or possibly three more cars. The cost for moving the plug must be paid by the merchant.

He has held many fellowships enabling him to study at the University of Cal. and in the countries of England, Germany, Holland, Russia and Japan. This authority has received such awards as the Langmuir Award, the Phi Lambda Upsilon Jubilee Plaque, the Nicholas Medal and the Iowa Medal of the American Chemical Society. Dr. Spedding was appointed to the National Academy of Sciences in 1953.

Interested mainly in rare earths, Dr. Spedding will discuss their availability, uses, methods of separation and methods for making the pure metals.

During the course of his lecture, he will also speak on some of the more interesting properties of the metals and their solutions.

The contest, which will include three divisions, will provide 1st and 2nd place trophies for the National Division, Nevada State Champion Division and Clark County Championship Division. Contestants may use their own equipment and the guns can be of any caliber, but all guns must be single action frontier type pistols. Saturday morning will see the elimination shooting in all divisions with the finals held on Sunday. The National Champion will be selected at a scheduled time during the rodeo Sunday night.

Registration must be accomplished at the Nevada Title Insurance office at 118 S. Fourth Street, where each contestant can obtain a full set of rules, sign a release form and pay entrance fees to defray cost of the ammunition, blanks will be used. This is the 24th annual Las Vegas Elks sponsored Helldorado and Rodeo and will feature many outstanding events including:

CRISLERS ENTERTAIN MINNESOTA VISITORS

Police Chief and Mrs. George Crisler have as their house guests, Chief Crisler's brother and sister-in-law, Marlow and Cornelia Crisler from St. Paul and lifetime friends, Edward and Dorothy Crepeau, also of St. Paul.

Crepeau and Chief Crisler are having a wonderful time reminiscing as they have been fishing hunting and bowling partners for a great many years. All of the visitors, Chief Crisler says, are completely sold on Henderson and also have been enjoying excursions to the resort hotels.

The Chief's brother and sister-in-law will stay until after Helldorado, with a quick visit to Los Angeles before the celebration starts. Crepeau, who has been a printed for Curtis Publishing Company for the past 37 years, doesn't know whether the company will extend his vacation to take in Helldorado but he is hoping to remain.

License Plates Go On Sale June 1st

The 1958 Nevada license plates go on sale June 1st, at the county assessor's offices in each of Nevada's 17 County seats.

This announcement comes from the department of Motor Vehicles, Registration Division at Carson City, Nevada.

Plates this year will have a cobalt blue background with silver numbers.

Sale of plates will last for sixty days and a $3.00 penalty will be charged August 1st for delinquent registration.

As the 1957 Nevada Certificate of Registration must be surrendered to the Assessor before issuance of 1958 plate, the Division urges that application for 1957 duplicates registration should be made as soon as possible if the original certificate of registration has been lost.

Duplicates can be secured by writing Department of Motor Vehicles, Registration Division, Carson City Nevada and submitting $1.00 fee with application.

"Spare and have is better than spend and crave" said Benjamin Franklin two centuries ago. Today we believe in a judicious mixture of spending and saving. To save and have, invest your savings in U. S. Savings Bonds.

Boron Fuels Ends Knocks In Auto Engines, Adds Power

Scientists believe that the natural, high-energy element Boron, the fifth lightest element in the atomic scale, will ultimately be used in combination with carbon and hydrogen to power rockets and missiles to astronomical heights and at speeds greater than man has ever known.

Boron used as an additive can raise the Btu value in jet and rocket fuels, researchers have found, to give them up to 40 per cent more thrust.

Already Boron has demonstrated its remarkable qualities in a completely new-type motor fuel for automobiles. Engineers have proved that this new Boron pre-ignition fuel is like a spear and stabs its way into the latest high-compression car motors. It provides a smooth, high-octane power in all speed ranges.

Boron gasoline provides this immediate improvement because it prevents pre-ignition inside a car's combustion chamber by quenching red-hot deposits that

Storms Major Hazard In Lake Mead Boating, Park Service Survey Shows

Storm conditions constitute the major hazard to visiting boating enthusiasts at the Lake Mead National Recreation Area according to statistics released today by Park Superintendent Charles A. Richey.

A study of the records of the boating emergencies during the ten year period 1948 to 1957, inclusive, has recently been completed by the ranger division.

This study was made to determine the major causes of boating accidents, the trends during the years, and the seasonal variation of accident frequency.

During the ten year period 424 rescue missions were performed by National Park Rangers to assist persons involved in boating accidents or emergencies on Lake Mead and Lake Mohave. The cause of a major portion, 187, of these emergencies was that of windstorms and other storm conditions.

Other causes of accidents in order of decreasing frequency during the period included motor trouble, 50; miscellaneous overdue parties, 42, capsized 11, boat in poor condition, 10, out of fuel, 8; investigation of distress signal, miscellaneous, 5; faulty mooring lines, 5; water ski accidents, 4; fires in boats, 4; explosions, 3, lost persons, 3; swimming off boats in open water, 3.

Superintendent Richey pointed out that during the past three years with greatly increased boating use there has been a steady decrease in the number of boating accidents; there being a total of 67 emergencies in 1955, 49 in 1956, and 44 in 1957. He attributes this encouraging fact to two things, a system of disseminating weather information by means of radio to all ranger stations and boat harbors twice each day and a concentrated effort by the Ranger Division to get safe boating information to the public by all means possible. This is done by Park Rangers at their duty stations, by cooperating concession operators of the boat landings, by the newspapers, by radio and TV, and by local boating organizations including the Lake Mead Yach Club and Flotilla 73 of the U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary.

Richey also pointed out that the results of this study indicate clearly the greatest hazard to boating and where special emphasis should be placed in accident prevention programs. It indicates the importance of all boatmen embarking on the lakes getting the latest weather forecast and thus avoiding being caught on the lakes by high winds. People should keep their boat motors in first-class condition. The study indicates that motor failure constituted the second greatest number of the total emergencies.

Superintendent Richey mentioned that boating accidents occur at a higher rate during the Spring months of February, March, April and May.

He emphasized the fact that the latest information is available at all District Ranger Stations and boat landings on the two lakes. Also, available is an ample supply of U. S. Coast Guard pamphlets on the recommended standards for safe boats.

AAUW Art Exhibit Featured At Parent-Teacher Installation

The Art Exhibit sponsored by the AAUW proved to be very popular at the Townsite PTA meeting last Thursday. Mrs. Jo McBeath received the gavel from Mrs. James Arkell.

Impressive candlelight services were used in installing the president, Mrs. McBeath; Mrs. Arkell as parliamentarian; Mrs. Lloyd Sager, treasurer; Halvor Bension, secretary; Mrs. Charles Connor, historian; Mrs. Ben Church was unable to be present for installation as vice-president. Mrs. Ruth Compton was the installing officer.

Due to illness, Mrs. Clare McCallum resigned as the newly elected membership chairman.

Warren Frank, Henderson Art Supervisor, introduced Walter Jacobson. With the help of puppets, operated by students, Jacobson described the work done in the arts and crafts classes of which he is the instructor.

A humorous diploma awarded to Miss Inis Jennings as the "champion needle-puller" was a recognition of the many hours that she has donated to the health program.

Fifty pairs of majorette boots, worn by the Stepperettes, were purchased by the PTA. Other funds bought equipment for the science classes, pins for GAA, and numerous small articles. Six hundred dollars was given to the school for similar projects in the new school year. 2,000, 815 dollars was donated to the Townsite school since 1952 and that does not include the current six hundred dollars. This money purchased musical instruments, films, records, tape recorder, rock specimens, film projector, science kit, and etc.

PAUL HANSELLS WELCOME NEW SON

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hansell are counting the days until they will be able to cuddle Peter Michael Hansell who is spending his time sleeping in the Rose de Lima hospital nursery. Little Peter was born prematurely, weighed only 3 pounds, one ounce at birth. Although his family is anxious about his condition, he seems to be doing well, and is now passing the four pound mark in weight.

Born April 7, he was placed in the incubator, given oxygen for several weeks and fed thru a tube. His weight dropped to an estimated 2 lbs. 10 oz. He will need to weigh at least 5 pounds before he is released from the hospital, where naturally he has become quite a favorite with the nurses. Possibly in two more weeks he will be able to go home.

Little Peter has two brothers and two sisters. Linda, Barbara, Paul Jr., Robert Joe. Two sets of grandparents reside here. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Swift of Mallory, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hansell of Lead Street.

Hansell is a Lieutenant at the Pittman fire station. He chose the name for the new baby by choosing one name which is that of Mrs. Hansell's grandfather, and one from his great grandfather. The Hansells live at 116 Continental Street.

Pittman Street Names Changed House Numbering Expected To Be Completed In Next 60 Days

By RAE VON DORNUM

Name changes for Pittman streets, as recommended by the committee for the Ward 5 Improvement Association, received a favorable vote from the City Planning Board at Thursday's meeting, with the exception of the words drive, lane and road, which the Board felt should be Street or Avenue.

Numbered streets, First thru Sevents, will be renamed, as numbering will start at Vegas Wash Road and these would be incorrect. Beverly and Yucca will also be changed as there are streets in other sections of the city having these names.

Since many of the streets in the Pittman area already bear the names of old time residents who contributed to building up the community, the committee decided to continue this trend and the new street names will be those of people who have contributed to the community's welfare.

If the City Council approves the committees recommendations: First Street will be changed to Foster in honor of the City's oldest residents, Karl and Mary Foster, who have resided in Pittman for more than 25 years. They came here during construction of Boulder Dam and established their first home in a tent in Pittman (then known as Jericho Heights.)

Second Street will be changed to Coogan, in tribute to Doctor Joseph Coogan and the years of effort he has spent in trying to make Pittman a better place to live.

Third Street will become Corn Street, named for the late John Corn, Pittman's first postmaster and his wife Ruth who is still an active community builder and worker.

Barrett is the name chosen to replace Fourth Street, in honor of Frank Barrett who for many years has been a property owner in the community and active worker for progress in Pittman.

Fifth Street will be renamed Rolly Street, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Rolly Cook, owners of the Dixie Bar for their continuing interest in the community, especially their contribution to the Pittman Community Center thru the library established at their place of business for the improvement of this center known as "Cooks Books." The name Rolly was chosen instead of Cook because of its musical sound.

Sixth Street will be named Wells, in tribute to the late T. Alonzo Wells and his wife Maude wells of Paradise Valley, for their generous contributions to the welfare of the community thru donations of land for the churches and the Pittman Community Center. T. A. Wells was one of the original land owners and subdividers in Pittman and in early days farmed some of the land in that area in order to obtain a Government patent on it. He also drilled five wells in this area and installed the first water system in the community.

Honoring Frank T. Price and his wife, Claire, the name of 7th St. will be renamed Price Street. Frank Price came to Pittman during the plant construction days and established a tire business, since that time he has continued to help build up the community, both through business construction and active participation in civic affairs.

Beverly Drive will be named Ward Street, in recognition of the contribution made to the community, by Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ward. A Clark County pioneer, Ward also pioneered in Pittman, coming here during the construction of the plant. Thru the generosity of Gene Ward, many people have been able to establish homes in this community and for many years Ward's Hall in the former (Midway Casino) building was used freely for all public meetings and election and recreational activities in the community.

Yucca Street will be renamed Haren Street in honor of the late Sylvester Haren and his wife Louise. The Harnes came to Pittman in 1941 and were active in helping to build the Community, building on Boulder Highway. Mrs. Haren still calls Pittman home and is still an active booster for the community. She divides her time between her home here and visits with her two sons.

The reason for eliminating the words drive, lane and road were explained by Pat Doherty, the Building Inspector. Drive usually refers to a winding street; Lane applies to narrow, alley like street; and Road is used to indicate a suburban street.

These names are used on other existing streets in the Pittman area and will also be changed to Street or Avenue.

Inspector Doherty, has the house numbering system for the area well underway and expects to be able to put it in operation within the next 60 days.

COOL ME, MADAM

Old women once held curative powers—or so folks believed. Their wrinkled hands laid on feverish brows were thought to cool the fever. Now, in this golden era of modern medicine, we have more reliable methods of reducing temperatures. But, remember, a temperature is only a symptom . . . not an illness in itself. Fevers have many causes . . . some minor . . . some serious. So, be sensible. When you or a member of your family is ill, let your doctor do the diagnosing and prescribing. Then, if medication is necessary, let us fill his prescription promptly and accurately.

THIS DAY WILL PASS

Re: "PLEASE DON'T EAT THE DAISES" — Your columnist can fully appreciate how Jean Kerr came up with that title for her best selling novel, for my 17 months old son just finished not only eating a carnation cented piece but drank the WATER!

Human life at this age must have iron cast stomachs, the agility of cats, the mentality of Einstein and a dynamo that makes Boulder Dam look weak to generate all of that energy.

The finest thing this little guy found on our recent trip was an old sprouted onion under my sisters sink — bet it was taken away from him more than a dozen time — Mary Lou insisted she was going to send it home with him — it was almost a surprise to not find it cached away in a suitcase.

His favorite perch is atop a chest of drawers in the middle bedroom — we finally put away the scarf and leave it bare. Paper napkins don't toast too well but it took the tax collectors namesake o prove it — the mapkins se on one self of the utility table and the toaster on the next. The only thing he hasn't mastered is how to force his bed out of the bedroom by ramming it against the doorway — someone will probably lay down a screwdriver tomorrow though and then it will come out a piece at a time.

Sweetie Weller was by this week and had her share of the above story to tell — her young grandson Dusty decided that the pale turquoise of her living room furniture was much too tame, so he proceeded to change it to a bright red — with nail polish!

Rosemary Rose relates how her five-year old daughter Robbie was questioning her father on the amount of his allowance recently, and when he said that he got $1.00 per week, she said "My your underpaid."

Jean DuBravac reminisces about Stubby answering her query as to whether an inner tube would hold her in the water out at the lake with: "Well it ought to, mother, it held up a truck!"

Then there is the one about the surprise stork shower that we once gave for Bert Shearin. Our eldest asked if he could stay home from school after lunch. When asked why, he

SON ARRIVES FOR R. J. C. CLAUSENS

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. C. Clausen of Victory Village are the proud parents of a son, Robert James Jr, who arrived on April 3.

Robert is the first child for the happy couple and is the pride and joy of his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Eddy of 222 Tungsten St.

sadi: "I want to watch you bathe Bert's baby."

GREAT DISCOVERY

Several months Kenney Smith and Robert Block enlisted in the army together, under the "buddy system" hoping to stay together. Hardly had they gotten their physicals than they were shipped to different camps. You can imagine how pleased they must have been when Robert strolled into the mess hall at Ford Ord one day a couple of weeks ago and found Kenney eating lunch. Kenny says he almost rammed his fork down his throat when he looked up and saw Bob's redhead coming at him.

Both boys plan to be home for short visits before too long. Mrs. Ted Smith of 609 Burton. Robert is the son of Mrs. Isabel Block of Federal Street and Kenny is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent on the recent loss of her mother.

We wish to thank our many friends for their help and sympathy during the recent loss of our daughter Marion Viner.
