Morry's Story

This is the weekend when people will enjoy the start of regular golf play here.

The Black Mountain Country club course is completed — and except for some patchy spots — the course is equal to any course of less than six months old. Grass covers the fairway and greens — and the holes are cut in the greens and the numbering flags are flying proudly.

While this is a private club, there are still many memberships open — so that until the roster is filled to about 300 members — there is equal opportunity for all to join.

The new development has enhanced the city's worth — and also will provide for a new housing area — surrounding the course. Club members are planning to buy available lots and to build under FHA encouragement.

Johnny Cantrell, one of the county's better golfers, has turned pro and is at work daily getting ready for the start of play. He will give instructions and will run the fine practice range adjoining the club house.

The club house has a knotted pine bar, big windows overlooking the course and a pro shop where Cantrell will sell you anything from clubs to tees.

Golfers will be walking the 9-hole morning, noon and evening from now on — providing a rare thrill in the middle of the desert . . . that few had ever dreamed of.

But — thanks to the modern pioneer spirit of this city's leading 100 men and women — this project, like others — is another milestone in the life of this city of destiny.

Prospective buyers of the all brick two and three bedroom homes to be built in Pittman shortly — are already making their plans known to those who will handle the sale of the 200 following.

The council is still tussling with ideas — as to how to cut the budget some $3000 a month to cut out a $71,000 deficit. The personnel at the new fire station in Pittman accounts for about $25,000 of this. Yet, in the long run, the citizens get more than that back by savings on fire insurance premiums. Premiums are lowered as fire prevention points are perfected.

They'll probably have the solution by Monday's council meeting. Here's hoping they don't chop men from the police or fire depts. The main service a city gives to its citizens is protection of person and property.

OFFICERS HELPS SAVE LIFT OF HOSP. ESCAPEE

Police Officer Larry Tabony answered a call from Rose de Lima Hospital on Mon. night, when an active TB patient was reported to have run away from the hospital.

After searching the hospital grounds on foot, to no avail, he methodically began a search of the surrounding areas and located the sick man lying in the back seat of a parked car at the Chevron Station near the intersection of Vegas Wash Road and Boulder Highway.

When found, the victim, Robert A. Milam, 40 years of age, was hemorrhaging very badly. Officer Tabony immediately returned the man to the hospital where he was admitted and given medical attention.

The quick action on the part of the policeman aided in saving Milam's life as he would have soon bled to death had he not been located.

TRAILER MUST HAVE LICENSE, POLICE WARN

Chief of Police George Crisler stated today that many people are operating boat trailers without having license plates or tail lights displayed upon them.

A boat trailer, or any trailer, attached to a moving motor vehicle is in itself declared a vehicle, according to law, and it must have valid license plates attached thereon.

Tail lights are also required on the rear of any trailer. Chief Crisler said that the Police Officers are citing these people into court for the above violations and urges all who own trailers to be sure they are licensed and properly lighted before operated upon the streets or highways.

BIBBY NABS SUSPECT 5 MINUTES AFTER CALL

The alertness of Officer George Bibby resulted in the arrest last Tuesday of two men wanted by Boulder City authorities for larceny.

At 12:30 pm Bibby received a radio call to be on the lookout for two male Negroes who had stolen a 16 gauge shotgun from a Boulder City sporting goods store.

Five minutes later at 12:35 pm, Bibby spotted the two men in a vehicle on Boulder Highway, arrested them and recovered the stolen shotgun.

The two suspects were identified as Al Joe Hogan and Fred Douglas Davis, both of Las Vegas. Both subjects and the recovered property were turned over to the Boulder City Police, while the Detective Bureau is checking to see if there are other "wants" for the two men.

HOUSE TO HOUSE VAGRANT ARRESTED

Police Officer Bob Cleveland on Tuesday, arrested Gordon C. Crowley, 49, for gross intoxication. Reports received from complainants stated that Crowley, who has no local address, was going from house to house begging food. He stated to the police that he had been drinking for the past 15 days.

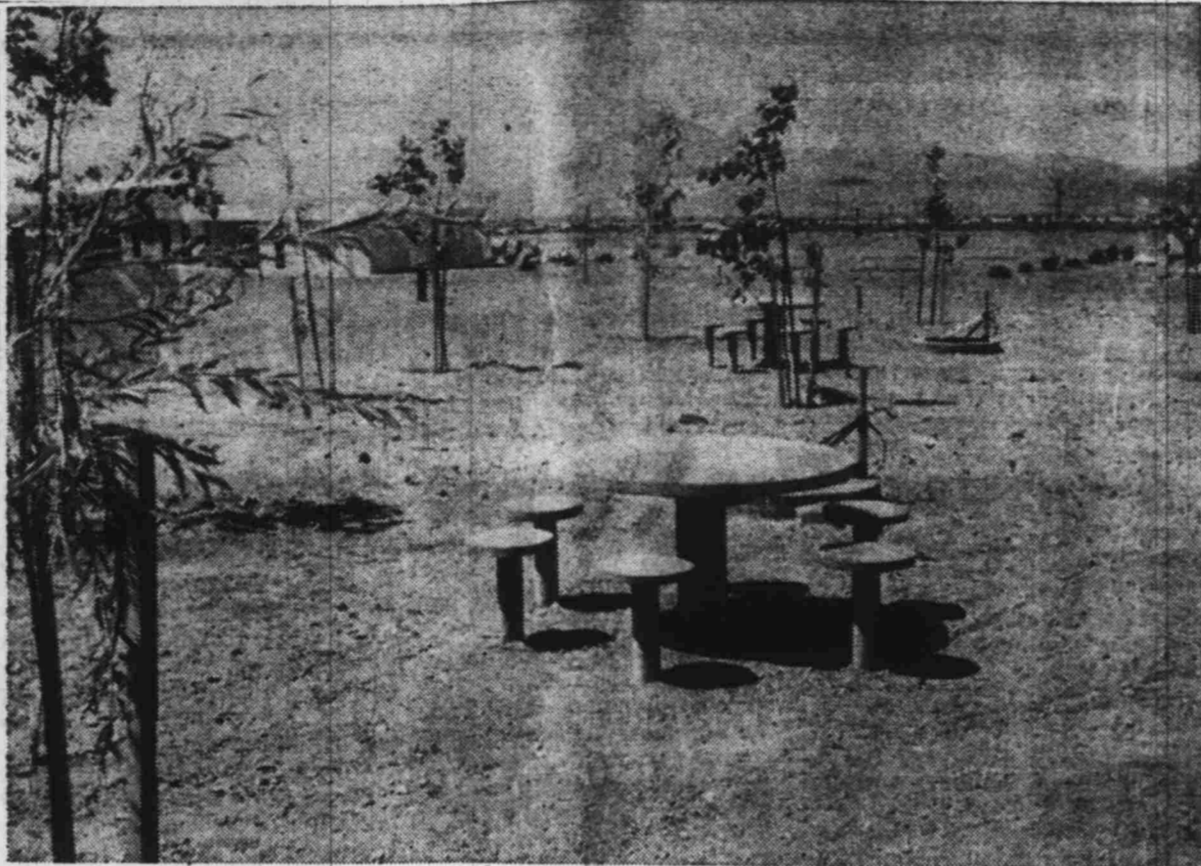

Police Chief George Crisler urges all citizens to notify the police department if they are bothered by vagrants begging food or money.

Due to the unemployment throughout the United States, this type offense has taken a sharp rise and is usually coupled with many house burglaries the Chief said.

All valid solicitors in the city carry a license issued by City Hall and residents should ask to see this license when confronted by any solicitor at their home.

CONRAD'S MOVE TO NEW HOME

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Conrad recently moved into their newly purchased home on Beverly St. Mrs. Conrad is delighted with her new home and is especially fond of the beautiful view from this section of the city.

THE DESERT BLOOMS — Shown above is the new City Park, adjacent to Victory Village. In this area, where only a few weeks ago there was nothing but barren desert, trees are thriving, tables and benches are in place in the picnic area, the watering system for lawn has been installed, and playground and game equipment are being put in place, creating a beautiful recreational area for both children and adults of our community. — Woodruff Photo

Break Ground For Expansion Of Lumber Co. Retail Sales Bldg.

The Henderson Lumber Co. will break ground this week for a new addition to the present building, marking the third expansion by the company in two years of operation.

Owners, Jack MacDonald and Jack Miller, announced the business expansion yesterday. Designs for the new building will be by Jack Miller with Toller and Oliver of Boulder City as general contractors in charge of construction.

Manager Jack MacDonald said

W. G. PICO NEW BANK OF NEV. ASST. CASHIER

W. GERALD PICO

President S. L. Butterfield of the Bank of Nevada announced yesterday the appointment of W. Gerald Pico as Assistant Cashier of the local Bank where he will serve under John C. Rayborn, manager of the bank office.

Pico began his banking career as a teller at the local bank in May 1955, later transferring to the Fifth and Carson office in Las Vegas where he remained until his current appointment.

Pico is the son of Dr. Walter Pico of Las Vegas and came to Nevada with his family in 1929 residing here ever since. He is a graduate of the Las Vegas High School and attended the University of Nevada at Reno for three years.

The new assistant cashier is married and has one son, Greg. The family resides at 355 Nebraska Street.

the business will open as usual during construction; however, customers will be inconvenienced through the use of a temporary entrance, during the building period.

The new addition will provide an additional 3,000 feet of floor space where modern service yourself counters will be installed to facilitate customer shopping. Present lines of merchandise will be enlarged and new color selections in paints will be added to the present lines. A complete line of builder's hardware will also be available.

In announcing the expansion program, MacDonald and Miller expressed their appreciation to local residents for the support given the local lumber company during the past two years, which has made the larger, more modern building possible.

In order to make way for construction, a clearance sale is being held this weekend and we suggest that all readers, needing building supplies, check the Henderson Lumber Company advertisement in this issue of the Home NEWS and take advantage of the bargain prices offered.

Our People Speak

WHAT CAN 15,000 PEOPLE DO TO STOP INFLATION OF OUR HARD EARNED DOLLARS? (This question was proposed in this column last week by Mrs. Gus Constantine, 590 Karen Way. We requested that answers be forwarded to us by mail, those received are printed below.)

MRS. PAULL BECKER, Owner Services Unlimited Employment Service, 466 Hazel Way

I believe that if we are to do anything to help stop inflation our work must start right here at home.

Most of us realize that inflation is like a disease or — in this instance — a plague that is sweeping the nation. The prices we pay at the local markets are the symptoms of this disease — which to cure, we must find the cause.

Since the symptoms are all we have to start with — I suggest that a group of vitally interested women should organize — call on our merchants, especially grocers and butchers, for advice, and to find out where to go for our next step in the search for the source of our present day, extremely high prices. If the wholesaler is at fault — call on the wholesaler — the packing house — anywhere the trail leads that will eventually uncover the "germ" of this plague.

When we find out where the fault lies — and I sincerely believe we can — I think our local merchants, in their own interests, might be willing to help defray the expenses to send a delegation to Washington D. C. to demand that this disease be cured.

MRS. GERALD D. BECKSTEAD Avon Distributor, 141 Elm St.

Yes, I believe there is a solution somewhere to Mrs. Constantine's question, but personally I don't think 15,000 people can solve the problem.

It's true all things must start somewhere, and I believe the people of Henderson can get it started, but — the President of the United States is the one person to start the ball rolling — by going back six months or a year with prices, and putting on price controls.

I think the meat situation is terrible but I don't blame the farmers or the merchants — I think the middle-man is to blame.

My husband thinks if all the wives would get together and simply refuse to buy meat for about a week — the prices on meat would come down FAST.

This has been tried on the West Coast and — got good results.

So — he says' — if all the women in Southern Nevada alone, did this — it would help a lot, because other cities would follow.

I realize the question wasn't strictly about meat, but this is a big item on everyone's list and it would be a good thing to start with.

MOVE HERE FROM LOS ANGELES, CALIF.

Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Rhoades, former residents of Los Angeles are enjoying life here after the hustle and bustle of the big town. The couple and their infant daughter, Jeri, are presently residing in Carver Park, and are seriously considering making our town their permanent residence.

Brigadier General Watson of the Salvation Army visited the Henderson Boys Club last week and was loud in his praise of the men in charge of the club and what they are doing for the youth of the city.

As a result of Brig. Gen. Watson's visit, the Salvation Army will help defray the costs of equipping the club and have pledged $3,000 for the current year's budget. Salvation Army funds are contributed thru the United Fund drive.

George Campbell, President of the Boys Club, said Watson indicated that if the club continues its present progress, the Salvation Army contribution for next year will be sufficient to employ a full time director — which is badly needed for the club.

The Boys Club was started 5 years ago in the former recreation center, now occupied by the Lucky Star, under the direction of Pat Winters and Sam Paternostro. Both these men have remained with the club for the ensuing five years as have Mayor Byrne and Chief of Police Crisler and William "Red" Choate.

Activities were speeded up when the club was given permission to move into the former Pre-Teen Center in Victory Village thru the cooperation of James Farndale, executive director, and the Clark County Housing Authority.

At the present time the Boys Club has 89 active members and four were entered in the last Golden Gloves boxing competition.

There are eight baseball teams now in action and 20 of the boys are learning boxing. A wrestling program is also under way and a trampoline has been installed with a group learning tumbling.

The club is now organizing a summer bowling league. There are no membership dues and the club welcomes boys from age 4 years up.

Recent donations to the club have been made by the Rotary Club, BPO Elks, the Lucky Star, and Howard Adams of the Royal. Some changes are necessary on the inside of the building and Titanium Metals Corporation of America and a number of its employees have volunteered to do this work. The American Legion, Basic Post 40, donated the baseball equipment and the use of the Legion Ball Field.

President George Campbell was recently elected to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of former President "Hop" Adams. Other officers are: Jack Conlon, vice president; George Crisler, secretary-treasurer and members of the board of directors: Pat Winters, Sam Paternostro, William Melton, William B. Byrne, William Compton, Lester Burgwardt, Mike O'Callaghan, Henry Jones, Howard Adams, Ralph Purdy, Frank Pearson and William "Red" Choate.

President Campbell reports that the services of a few more fathers could be used in coaching the various teams; however, he says it is very rewarding to see the number of men who turn out to help these boys, including professional boxers and wrestlers from Las Vegas, who come out to give the boys pointers in the manly art of self defense.

The club is open every evening and interested boys and fathers are invited to attend.

FORMER RESIDENTS RETURN FROM CALIFORNIA

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Darrah, former residents, returned recently from California and are making their home on Mallory Street. Darrah is a construction worker and he and his family are always happy when the job calls them back to Henderson as they consider our city their home town.

The Darrahs have three children, Lee who is 7 years old, Sandy 5, and Debbie 4.

MRS. JOE REAM IS BASIC GRAD

Mrs. Joe Ream went back to high school after a ten year absence, and is graduating with the class of 1958.

Mrs. Ream, nee Frances Ostrander, will graduate with the former classmates of her young brother, Chuck, while he, having moved away six years ago, will graduate on June 12 in Detroit, Michigan.

She attended high school last semester only, but took a full year of high school the last semester only, starting in Jan., but took a full year of bookkeeping, plus four other subjects.

The first six weeks she received good grades, but did not sign up for the honor roll — however the second six weeks, she received all A's! The third six weeks grades were not available for this writing.

Not ready to quit, Mrs. Ream is preparing to enter summer school next week, and hopes to attend Nevada Southern and become a high school teacher!

Having lived here thirteen years, Mrs. Ream first entered high school with the class of 1945. She quit school in 1948, married and is the mother of Mary Jo and Trudy, aged seven and nine. The girls were very helpful while their mother attended school, and they are hoping that she may be their teacher in high school.

Students and teachers were very pleasant to Mrs. Ream when she entered school feeling a bit shy because she did not know anyone. She especially praises Mrs. Lopeman, the bookkeeping teacher who was a particular help, and in Mrs. Ream's opinion is an outstanding teacher.

I Cover The Desert

By MERT INGHAM

Where are all the animals? This is the question asked so frequently by newcomers to the desert.

To withstand the desert's summer heat, its residents have adopted various ways of living to help them thru the period of heat and scant moisture.

With the exception of lizards, most desert dwellers are active only during the cooler nighttime hours. In this way not only do they avoid being roasted alive, but they also conserve their moisture. Consequently the average person does not see the small mice, rats and other rodents who scamper about the desert wastelands leaving fine tracks as evidence of their passing.

It's fun to get a good book on animal tracks, such as will be on sale soon by the Lake Mead National History Association at National Park Service headquarters, and wander out early in the morning to see what animals ran thru the loose sands.

The predators, such as the coyote, kit fox, grey fox, and badger are active at this time also, for this is when their food supply of rodents and small snakes are away from the protective cover of their holes and burrows.

As we mentioned before, most desert animals cannot stand the direct rays of the sun. During the day they stay in burrows deep beneath the ground where the temperature is much lower than on the surface.

There are many records of animals dying after just a few minutes exposure to the desert sun. I was photographing a sidewinder one day, and just 4 minutes after he was placed in the sun, he died.

Directly contrary to this, many lizards appear to be much more tolerant of heat and sun. Oftentimes you will see them resting on rocks which are so hot they would burn your hand if you touched them.

The problem of moisture in the desert is one with which desert creatures must cope, or die. On a hot day a man needs several gallons of water to exist, yet many small rodents, including the Kangaroo Rat do not need to drink water. From eating absolutely dry plant foods their bodies can chemically produce enough water that they can carry on all their normal bodily functions.

The Kit fox and other desert predators receive most of their moisture from the animals that they eat.

Strange is the desert.

MARY DOOLEY GETS XMAS WISH

In our issue of the day before Christmas, 1957, in the column "Our People Speak," we asked the question: What would you most like to receive for Christmas?

One of our telephone calls was to Mary Dole, wife of Basic High School Principal John Dooley. Mary said she would be glad to accept something nice, and new, and expensive for herself, but what she really did want was a fellowship to Harvard for her husband.

Santa Claus doesn't always fulfill our wishes with the greatest of exactness — especially in June — Mary's wish was for her husband to go to Harvard and they are presently packing for the trip — he's going. Santa got a wire crossed and its a scholarship instead of a fellowship, but the gleams in the Dooley's eyes indicate that this slight change is of no importance at all.

Beekeeper Speaks To Covillea Club

Floyd Head, whose hundreds of hives of bees pollinate flowers and crops throughout Southern Nevada, was the guest speaker at the recent meeting of the Covillea Club, held at the home of Mrs. Art Hebert.

Anticipating an interesting talk, many of the members brought their children, who were delighted with the working bees, queen bee and drone, which Head brought to the meeting in a glass enclosed section of honeycomb.

The bees were used to demonstrate the discussion on the life, habits and work of the bee. Mr. Head also explained how the various phases of a bee's life take place.

In the talk, members of the club discussed future plans for projects and fund raising events.

It was reported that the Covillea Club has received a citation "For dedicated service on behalf of a better community, as a participant in the 1956-58 Community Achievement Contest, sponsored by The General Federation of Women's Clubs and the Sears-Roebuck Foundation of Women's Clubs and James C. Worthy, President of the Sears-Roebuck Foundation.

The project of the Covillea Club, for which the citation was presented was the purchasing of books for the Townsite Elementary School Library and sewing for the hospital.

A social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served to Mesdames: Harry Rosenberg, Harry Cottingham, Clarence Boyd, Roger Peebles, Howard Hooper, Gil Fichmond, Paul Norton, Mil Goble, Cecil Martin, Robert Webb, Robert Sherwood and the hostess Mrs. Hebert.

PARTIES HONOR SOFT BALL TEAMS

The girls of the fifth and the sixth grade softball team were treated to a swimming party at Boulder Beach by their coaches Jean Plamondon and Betty Childs one afternoon last week.

Later in the week Tommie Wheatley gave a weiner roast and dancing party for the 7th and 8th grade team and their guests. The dancing was held on the patio in the rear of the Wheatley home at 11 Sturm Street. Guests were served hot dogs and cold drinks.

Among those attending the party were: Joanna Filipini, Linda Sawyer, Toni Watson, Patty Higby, Barbara Shearin, Becky Lomprey, Lydia Aragon and Mary Wheatley. Guests of the team were: Billy Daileda, Herman McDonald, Danny Manion, Ronald Bates, John Hinkell, Stubby DuBravac, George Miller, Gary Bates, Kit Watson.

The seventh and eighth grade team were the champions in the CYO Girls League. This marks the first year that local parochial school has entered teams in league competition.

RESERVE OFFICERS RAISED IN RANK

Kelvin Meeks and Leo Smith of the local Police Reserve have recently received promotions to the rank of Sergeants. The promotion of the two officers was announced by Lt. Henry O'Whene of the Police Department, an official for the Reserve Unit.

Chamber Distributes Police Dept. Bulletin On Bogus Check Artists

The Police Department, thru the corporation of the Chamber of Commerce, has issued a bulletin, dealing with bogus checks and methods used in passing them, to afford better protection against the various frauds which are instigated against merchants and to assist business houses and their employees in eliminating them.

FBI records show that the bad check passer has less difficulty in cashing checks than the bona-fide citizen. To a bad check artist, this is an occupation. He is usually well equipped with a typewriter, check protector, rubber stamps, pens and pencils, and in many cases obsolete or stolen payroll checks and some times, even a portable printing press.

The traveler is the most difficult type of check passer to apprehend, seldom staying in one locality more than two weeks. The time required for an out of state check to clear gives him a margin of safety.

"Remember," the Police Dept. says, "when you cash a check you are paying your money for nothing in return but a piece of paper which you may not be able to redeem."

The following suggestions are offered in the Police Bulletin, as a protection against cashing bogus checks.

1. Carelessness in checking credentials of a person cashing a check is the main weakness. Educate your employees to be observant of the person so an accurate description can be given when needed.

2. When checking identification — do not be afraid to write down information and be especially alert when recently obtained drivers license, social security card or lodge papers are offered as identification.

3. Allow as few persons as possible to OK checks and ask them to initial checks in the event a police interview may become necessary.

4. Demand positive identification and be extra alert on the weekends during rush hours.

Over-eagerness to make a sale may cause one to drop defenses and instead of a sale you may give away both merchandise and money.

5. On local banks, require that the bank be called to verify account. Never cash any personal, business or firm check from out of state unless you know the person or are able to verify the check.

6. A small inexpensive camera is very good to use if you must cash a check about which you are in doubt. Notices should be posted in stores outlining check cashing policies.

7. Send all checks received in sales to the bank as quickly as possible. By keeping checks, you are assisting in keeping the check passer from being apprehended.

"By following the above procedure," the Police Department says, "you will help eliminate the profit from crime and will be protecting the most important merchant in town—YOU!"

The Little Theatre has selected as its next play, "My Three Angels." The play, to be presented in the month of August, will be remembered as the delightful schen comedy, "We're No Angels," starring Humphrey Bogart and Aldo Ray.

WILLIAM BIGELOW WINS TRIP TO CATALINA AT HOME SHOW

William Bigelow of 14 Arkansas Street, won the grand prize at the Home Show, and was awarded a weekend trip to Los Angeles and Catalina Island, with a box seat at one of the Dodger games.

This seems to be the year for Mr. and Mrs. Bigelow to take each other on vacation trips. — They only recently returned from Fort Lauderdale, Florida — with Mr. Bigelow accompanying his wife, Elayn, who competed in the Mrs. America Contest as Mrs. Nevada.

Through the southern California trip will be of shorter duration, it will allow Bigelow to balance the score as his wife will accompany him on his prize vacation weekend.

The Bigelows will be allowed to choose their own date for the trip and will stay at the Statler Hotel in Los Angeles and enjoy watching a Dodger game. They will then take a steamship to Catalina where for two days they will be guests at the St. Catherine's Hotel. At Catalina they will be able to enjoy fishing and swimming in the crystal waters of Avalon Bay, and can also ride in the famous glass bottomed boat and enjoy watching the flying fish which have helped to make this island a vacation wonderland.

Elayn reports she is completely overwhelmed at the prospect of another vacation trip after the wonderful time they recently had in Florida.

State Officers Visit Meeting Of Emblem Club

The Emblem Club was hostess to four visiting officers of the California-Nevada State Association at the meeting of Wednesday, June 5. Visiting officers were president Thelma Fendrick of Bakersfield, Cal., Marshal Bernice Bowler of Ventura, Calif., corresponding secretary Evelyn Watkins of Bakersfield; and organist Peggie Morrison of Las Vegas.

On Sunday, when her husband won the grand prize, Elayne spent the day handing out her favorite recipes to the crowd at the Home Show at her sponsor's booth. The couple remained until closing time when a roasted turkey — cooked with gas, of course — was also given as one of the prizes.

President Kay Murphy of the local Emblem Club was appointed to the Scholarship Committee of the State Association by President Thelma Fendrick.

This committee is in charge of a $1,000 scholarship, which is awarded every second year to a qualified accredited teacher to further his or her education, to enable teaching of the hard of hearing.

During the meeting, the visiting officials served at initiation rites for Barbara Lawton, a new member. Supreme vice president Bunny Harris of the Las Vegas club acted as chaplain.

A social hour was enjoyed after the meeting with Helen Sherwood, Nancy Walker and Betty Butkovitch serving as hostesses.

by Rae Von Dornum

At long last we have good news for all those wives who have been dubbed by their husbands "Back-Seat Drivers," and hope all such will see to it that their "better half" reads this column.

I, for one am delighted that my exceptional abilities in this field have at least been recognized and that — when I manage to get my husband behind the wheel — I can be considered a sort of CO-PILOT. All husbands and wives seem to haggle over driving — in the case of my spouse and me, we are somewhat the reverse of the usual couple — each of us prefers the other's driving — this is a continual source of amusement to our friends and relatives.

Most husbands feel very superior to their wives when it comes to engineering the family vehicle. I first learned the value of a co-pilot on a night drive to Phoenix, some 15 years ago. I accepted an invitation to drive for a neighbor who was, at that time, unable to drive because of a heart condition, and visited my family while he took care of his business in Arizona.

As we drove along, Lew read all the highway markers aloud and made such remarks as: "I've always liked this long straight stretch of road, you can make really good time here without any danger at all" — "I never made this drive that I don't wonder why they don't mark this right angle turn ahead so people would be looking for it — its such a dangerous place" — and other such remarks, all of which helped me with the driving and made the trip more pleasant.

The following article is by the National Safety Council and was printed in the May issue of Stauffer's CHEMICAL REACT-IONS.

SAFETY ON THE ROAD

Want to live longer???? Here's one method: Become buddies with that person fidgeting in the back seat of your car — or right there besides you, for that matter.

"Two heads are better than one when they're behind the wheel of a car," the National Safety Council says. It believes that the so-called back-seat driver may hold the solution to the traffic accident problem.

"We're in favor of motorists combining their driving knowledge and skill with the help of other passengers in the car can give," the Council says.

It agrees that the term "back-seat driver" has a bad connotation. The motorist who's been subjected to nagging "advice" from the rear understandably takes a dim view of interference with his driving.

"But with the proper spirit on both sides, back-seat drivers can be a real help," the Council reports.

HOW????

1. Let your wife, for example, who used to set with nothing to do on a trip, be your co-pilot. Her observations — a car sneaking out from a side street, a quick turn in the road

DuBravacs Host Hobo Party For Teenage Group

Thursday June 5 the grounds of the DuBravac home at 155 Basic were gayly lighted and a group of teenagers were hosted to a hobo party. Dancing was held on the patio. The group was served a late dinner of hot dogs, cold drinks, and punch, with Mr. and Mrs. DuBravac presiding over the barbecue grill.

The group came colorfully clad in gunny sacks, overalls, old straw hats and various tattered garments. Stubby DuBravac hosted the affair and his guests included: Lydia Aragon, Marvin Buescher, Barbara Shearin, Bernard Crutcher, Joanna Filipini, Darryl Monahan, Karen Crutcher, Danny Manion, Patty Higby, John Hinkell, Patty Espinoza, Larry Elliott, Toni Watson, George Miller, Becky Lomprey, Gary Bates, Linda Sawyer, Roger Lane, Barbara Hardtner, Ronald Bates, Rosan Phillips, Dennis Delong, Herman McDonald and Billy Daileida.

HOME SERVICE DEPT. INCREASED BY V. F. W.

The local VFW Post 3848 enlarged on their home services program last week with the purchase of a complete set of oxygen equipment. This equipment includes mask, gauges, valves and tank.

For a number of years the home services department of the local organization has had available for public use a rather extensive list of items that include: two wheel chairs, crutches, canes, hospital bed and several other items.

With the addition of the new equipment it is now able to give aid to chronic and emergency needs for oxygen administration.

Special Services Officer, Homer Englestead stresses that this Community Service is made possible by the Buddy Poppy Sales that are held every year.

Rev. Busk Returns From Church Meet

The Reverend Emil Busk of the Pittman Bible Chapel has returned from Greenville, S. C. where he attended the American Council of Christian churches.

The meeting was held at the Poinsett Hotel with approximately 350 ministers in attendance. The Council represents 15 different denominational churches.

Following the convention, the Reverend visited for a week at Laurens, South Carolina, with his friend Reverend John R. Waters, who has been guest speaker at the Pittman Chapel on a number of occasions.

One of the highlights of the meeting, Rev. Busk said, was a talk by the Reverend John R. Rice, editor of Baptist publication "Sword Of The Lord."

Rev. Busk came home by the northern route, visiting friends and relatives in New York state. He journeyed to Lisbon, Iowa where he visited with Delmar Kohl, formerly stationed at the Lake Mead base of the U. S. Marines and a member of Rev. Busk's congregation. Kohl, who assisted with the building of the parsonage here, is now married and the owner of a farm in Iowa.

Picture That

Bob Woodruff

Father's Day makes a wonderful excuse to get something the whole family has been wanting — a movie camera, or the projector to go with the camera you already have. That camera both you and Dad have been planning to get for the vacation trip, anyway, so why not come in and start buying it? We have them from $29.95.

For those of you who have movies, but haven't bought your projector yet, we have about the cutest little projector you will see for a long time, and it's made by Argus, too, so you know the performance is good.

The nice thing about buying camera equipment from us is that you don't need to spend your vacation savings to get the camera for the vacation trip. All you need is to drop in and let us give you the camera (or other equipment) for 10% down, and the balance on bank terms thru our own Henderson Bank.

A lot of you have been in looking at Polaroid cameras that you see on the Perry Como and Steve Allen shows. Those, too, are available for as little as $10.00 down and you can start getting pictures-in-a-minute right away. We have that new film for polaroid cameras that many of you have been using for quite a while.

In response to many requests, we now have a selection of Walt Disney movies for you to use with your own movies for birthday parties or just hot summer afternoons when the kids are looking for something different to do and see.

And don't forget Viewmaster. The Viewmaster viewers and picture reels let you get a pre-view of your vacation or let you see where you have been after the vacation is all over. We have a fine selection of Viewmaster picture reels and we have the new viewer that has just been announced by Viewmaster.

Brownies Of Troop 107 See How Mexican Children Enjoy Xmas Gifts When Slides Shown Here

By RAE VON DORNUM

Brownies of Troop 107 were delighted at a recent meeting held at the Community Church, when colored slides from Durango, Mexico were shown by Mrs. Mabel McKenzie of the "Wings of Mercy Mission," showing Mexican children in Durango opening Christmas gifts sent to them by the members of the Troop. Children of the Community Church Sunday School also enjoyed viewing the slides.

Each child in the village received a gift made by the Brownies. Girls received small plaques, which were made, using metal lids from cottage cheese cartons and birght colored pictures from Christmas Cards.

Each boy received a small package filled with marbles and candy. These were made with empty toilet tissue rollers, sealed at both ends and gaily wrapped and tied.

Mrs. McKenzie says the plaques and containers now decorate the walls in each home in the village. These gifts were the only ones these youngsters received, except for clothing and necessities. The entire population assembled for the opening of the gifts, which were picked up at the border and brought to Durango thru a raging storm with many of the roads flooded. The people of the village said it was the most wonderful Christmas they ever had.

Mrs. McKenzie is a former resident here and prior to her call to do missionary work in Mexico, she operated a children's home at 80 East Texas St. She took care of ten youngsters ranging in age from 4 to 6 years.

She became an interdenominational missionary last year and joined the Reverend W. D. Witt and his family at the Wings of Mercy Mission in Durango.

At the Wings of Mercy, Mrs. McKenzie is in charge of the children's shelter. At the present six children live there, 2 are new born babies and the other four are under 12 years of age. These children do not know their exact ages as all are orphans. The children are raised as they would be in their own home and in addition are educated in school and church work.

Mrs. McKenzie has found the language somewhat of a barrier and is studying under a private tutor. Two separate curriculums are necessary at the mission. The Mexican children are taught along the lines of schools in their own country and in their native language and the two Witt children, Karen, 13, and Timmy, 11, are taught as they would be in the United States. Jerry Witt, 15, attends high school in San Antonio, Tex.

The function of the Wings of Mercy Mission, Mrs. McKenzie said, is two-fold: In addition to the regular services at the Mission Chapel, the gospel is taken to the people in the sections which are difficult, or almost impossible to reach by plane.

The Gospel according to John is printed in pamphlet form and dropped from a plane in these outlying districts. Each of the pamphlets carries a form which may be mailed in for a free course of 24 Bible lessons.

In Mexico, Mrs. McKenzie says, the people are either very rich or tragically poor. In the last few years the government has started schools to educate the peons and every word of reading material is eagerly accepted.

Native workers are sent by the Mission to aid those who are studying the correspondence Bible courses.

The Mission is also attempting to teach the people of Durango the necessity of sanitation and its relation to health, and Mrs. McKenzie is teaching the women of the village how to preserve foods through canning. These people have never known of any way to keep food for any length of time, living from day to day and selling what they could not eat.

The Mission also maintains a commissary where both food and clothing are given to all comers. This has proven a boon to the people and a great help to the missionaries in making friends with the natives, many of whom have been converted.

Members of Mrs. McKenzie's family collect clothes to be given to these Mexican people, thru the Wings of Mercy commissary. Her daughter, Mrs. Henry Rubeck of 242 Tungsten Street, has many friends here who contribute clothing to the Mission, and other contributions are taken by relatives who live in California.

Kids Steal Perry Sign Letter By Letter

The beautiful, modernistic sign put up at Harve Perry's Men's Shop when he moved into the bank building, was some thing that added a touch of elegance to Pacific Street and the new bank building.

The letters in gold and white told one and all that this was Perry's new location. A stranger could look across the street today and not know what business occupies this location. The big gold letters that spelled out HARVE have been reduced to HA VE. Have what? erry's N, of course if you believe in higns. That's how it reads.

Someone apparently found the P at the beginning of the script letters spelling the name Perry's, could not be removed—it could be broken, and it was. That leaves you with erry's.

Of the white block letters that formerly said Men's Shop—only the N remains. That leaves "HAVE erry's N". The business can only be identified by the shirts displayed in the window.

What's the matter kids? Nobody interested whose name starts with N? Use a nick name—Nasty—Naughty—Nefarious—Neer-do-well—or even—Nipper. All would be suitable to each person who stole one of the letters.

Lajuana Matheson, Bert Gillis Married In LDS Temple Rites

By ONA MAE EDWARDS
Miss Lajuana Matheson and Bert Gillis were united in marriage on May 31, at the St. George, Utah LDS Temple. President Snow performed the double ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Matheson of 427 Roseway. Her bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Gillis of Monroe, Utah. A reception was held on May 31 at the LDS Chapel in Henderson. Approximately 125 guests attended.

Fore the occasion, the attractive bride chose a ballerina length gown with a full skirt, fashioned of white embroidered nylon over white acetate taffeta. The formal gown of white nylon featured a fitted bodice fashioned with re-embroidered lace and rolled collar with accents of pearl buttons down the front of the gown. The full length sleeves ended in lily points with tiny pearl buttons at the shank. A fluted crown with seed pearls held her finger tip veil.

The bridal bouquet was of white carnations and pink cascading pink rose buds. For her daughter's reception Mrs. Matheson chose a pale lavender linen sheath dress trimmed in nylon. A corsage of pink carnations complemented her ensemble. The bridegroom's mother Mrs. Gillis chose a blue linen dress accented with a lace bodice. A corsage of pink carnations complemented her ensemble. Matron of honor was Barbara Rhoads. Her attendants were Colleen Nash, Gwen Prisbrey, Roma Bartholomew, Deana Gould. Earl Gillis served as best man.

White bells and white satin ribbon were used to trim the serving table which was covered with an ecru table linen. The four tiered wedding cake was trimmed in pink and white rose buds and white swans. When the couple return from their honeymoon they will make their home in Cedar City, Utah.

O'BRIENS ARE NEW V.V. RESIDENTS

A-3c and Mrs. Larry O'Brien recently established their residence in Victory Village. The O'Briens are former residents of Detroit, Michigan and he expects to be stationed here for some time to come.

Helen Leonard Moves To Sparks

Mrs. Helen Leonard, Basic High Desertaire leader and P. E. teacher, will leave soon to make her home in Sparks or Reno, so that her husband will be able to attend the University of Nevada.

Mrs. Leonard was hired specifically to form a drill team. Tryouts were held a year ago in September 1956 and the chosen students began their first practices. They soon became noticeable as they appeared in parades and at ball games. Desertaire was chosen for their name, as suggested by principal John Doolley.

In order for a greater number of girls to participate, 36 regular members and six alternates form the team. This number is also easily divisible, making routines easier to arrange. The girls now have 3 costumes, the newest of cotton gingham, for coolness in the hot weather.

The Desertaire earned money for their costumes through bake sales, car washes, and the latest All School Show, which drew a capacity crowd both nights.

The Leonards lived at 202 Tungsten, and Leonard attended Nevada Southern. Comparative newly-weds, they were married a year ago in April.

Mrs. Leonard expresses regret at leaving Henderson. She wishes to thank everyone for supporting and encouraging the Desertaire, and especially her thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Zenoff

Judith Elkie, Eugene Wall Wed In Double Ring Chapel Ceremony

Judith Ann Elkie and Eugene Robert Wall were united in marriage in a beautiful double ring ceremony, solemnized in Haynes Memorial Chapel of the Community Church at 7:30 pm May 23, with family members and close friends in attendance. The Rev. Douglas Weeden officiated.

The altar was decorated with bouquets of pink and white gladiolus and traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Nina Newell.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a ballerina length gown of white lace over taffeta with bouffant skirt, and her tulle veil was held by a band of pink and white rosebuds. She carried an old fashioned nosegay of pink rosebuds and white carnations with pink and white streamers, and wore matching white lace gloves.

Attending the bride as maid of honor, was her sister, Miss Doris Elkie. Bridesmaids were Carol Elkie, sister of the bride, and Mary Ann Shepherd. They wore princess style gowns of pastel shades and wore white accessories. Each carried a nosegay of white carnations.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was Richard L. Derrick. Usher duties were performed by Pershing Stroud and by Donald Durham.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Elkie chose an ice blue sheath with white accessories and pink carnation corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held on the lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Derrick, close friends of the bridegroom.

Presiding at the serving table centered by a double tiered wedding cake, decorated with white roses and holding a traditional bride and groom were Mrs. John Taylor and Mrs. Robert Lee.

Following a honeymoon trip to Zion National Park, the new Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wall will be at home at 309 West Basic Road.

SPORTS MIKE

By MIKE O'CALLAGHAN

The Fast-Draw has come of age in the Las Vegas area and will probably spread rapidly as a sport. The way the contest is held in Las Vegas it is a safe sport with little chance of injury. About the only danger is the example that it puts before the eyes of the younger generation.

The other day a couple of teen age lads came to me and told of their increased speed when relieving their holster of a .38 pistol. After a little questioning I found out that they judged their speed by facing each other and trying to beat each other to the draw.

This has proven to be a dangerous game on several occasions in the past and for it to prove fatal in our city would certainly add nothing but sorrow to the boys and families involved.

During several years in the service this writer has seen the results of fast-draw contests held by men who were bored with their guard duty and tried to liven things up. One young man in Great Falls, Montana Air Force Base shot himself in the leg as he jerked his .45 from the holster. This man is limping today as he goes about his business as a guard at a state prison.

One of the most exciting fast draw contest that took place was between two guards out on the Aleutian Islands. They would turn their backs on each other and at a certain count would wheel and fire at each others feet. This contest took place for several weeks until they both made their mistake at the same time. That was the corner's report.

One young man was recognized as the outstanding man on a certain military post where I served. He was from Grants Pass Oregon and was one of the nicest fellows on the base. This writer always looked forward to the night that he would have duty with this fellow who was always so good natured and so happy. The speed of this mans draw was well known on the base as well as on every base he had ever served. As well as being fast on the draw he was deadly accurate with his military .45 colt which is an accomplishment in itself.

One night the lad I am discussing was on guard duty by himself over approximately a million dollars as the following day was pay day for the military. The room, where the safe containing the money was situated, had several entrances and the guard had his back to one entrance at almost all times. This evening a joker came through a door behind the guard and jokingly called, "Raise your hands!" When the smoke cleared the joker was dead on the floor of the room with three .45 slugs in his chest and belly. The lad who did the shooting was no longer the cheerful happy man everybody liked to work with on patrol.

The glitter and happiness had left his eyes and had not returned fully six years later when I saw him at Nellis Air Force Base. The man he shot no longer felt pain but he would live for several years with this blot on his memory always wishing it hadn't happened.

If you have a young lad around the house who wants to enter the fast-draw action next year make sure that he is well supervised or else talk him out of such foolishness. This is not a sport that should allow one moment of carelessness as the "empty gun" still reaps a large crop of careless men and boys every year.

I am happy that I didn't put my predictions of the Martinez s. Akins bout in print. I thought that the bout would go the limit with Martinez getting the nod as he is a classy fighter. Class doesn't seem to have much effect when bombs like Akins threw come crashing in on your chin and ribs.

Jay Fulmer learned a great deal about the art of boxing the other night and his manager, Marv Jensen, should have picked up a few pointers about overmatching his fighters. I really doubt if Jensen did learn anything about matching the other night as this has become a common practice for him as he pushes his fighters into the line of fire as fast as he can get them a little publicity.

Not only does Jensen push his fighters too fast he also appears to do little in the line of improving their style as they progress from year to year. Jensen has had some great potential in the men he has handled in the past, but none of them have become famous for improvement from one fight to the next. When they get up with the big boys they must learn to change their style for almost every fight and especially for return matches for men like Robinson. No matter how tough and clean living a man is, he needs help when he starts to compete with the big boys in any sport.

There is a great deal of difference between training and matching fighters and raising mink.

When this article is being read I should be on my way to Washington, D. C. for a fine summer of study. Hope to see you all next fall.

Residents Cooperating On Fund For New Ambulance, City Denies Rumor Of Used Vehicle Purchase

Residents throughout the city are being requested by Mayor Byrne to donate $2 per family in order that the city can purchase a new ambulance, as city finances at this time will not allow for the purchase of this vitally needed equipment.

Director of Finance Don Dawson reports that the response from the people is indeed heartwarming and that many have written very nice letters — thanking the city for bringing this problem to the attention of the residents, and allowing an opportunity to be of help, as none of us know what day or hour we may be in need of the service of an ambulance.

There is, however, Dawson said, a vicious rumor being circulated around town that the city has purchased a used ambulance, while at the same time trying to raise enough money to pay for a new one.

This rumor is completely untrue and unfounded, Dawson said, the city has not, nor does it intend to purchase a used ambulance.

The probable source of the rumor lies in the fact that the Sun Motor Company of Las Vegas has an agency for Volkswagon ambulances. Having used one in stock, they have loaned it to the City of Henderson, in hopes it would be found suitable for use here and the City might later purchase a new vehicle of this type.

According to law — nothing costing more than $1,000 can be purchased by the city without being advertised for public bids. This will be done when enough money has been raised to buy an ambulance, and both Don Dawson and Mayor Byrne have every confidence that the people here will be happy to donate $2 per family for this fund.

In his letter to our residents Mayor Byrne points out the fact that the life of an ambulance is approximately at 10 years, making the donation from each family 20 cents per year for this much needed equipment, which would be maintained and operated by the city.

In donating for this commun-

Chamber Hears Plan For Bogus Check Detection

Chamber of Commerce members became acquainted with the new setup to be put into operation immediately, thru the cooperation of the local Police department, as a protection against bogus check passers.

President James Van Valey outlined the procedure to be used and illustrated his talk by the use of a large chart. The program has taken two months to work out, it was reported, and in the meantime some of our merchants have found themselves holding 'bad checks.'

It is believed that the putting of this cooperative program into effect will cut bad check passing to a minimum and it is hoped that it will eventually eliminate this practice here.

Frank Morrell displayed a sign for the viewing of those present. The sign — outside Ravenna, Ohio — reads: "I mile to Business District — RAVENNA, OHIO — 10,000 Friendly People — (and a few sore heads under control)

Although no vote was taken, those present appeared to favor such a sign advertising Henderson. The exact wording would not be used — but a similar idea to gain the tourist's attention.

Dr. Melvin Bagley was named chairman of the Christmas lighting program. President Van Valey complimented Bagley for the good work he did during Industrial Days and predicted the Doctor would light the town so brightly that everyone would have to buy colored glasses.

A meeting of the Retail Merchants was set for Thursday, June 19, at 7:30 pm at the Royal.

Mrs. Gus Constantine spoke in behalf of the Bantam League Bowlers and the Chamber promised to give all the support possible.

The trophy received for the float in the Helldorado beauty parade was displayed and Van Valey offered the loan of a "world" in very good shape to anyone having use for it. A letter was received from Judy Hunsaker, winner of the I. D. beauty contest, thanking the Chamber.

ity cause, residents are requested to send it with sewer or water payments, enclosing a note that the extra $2 is for the "Ambulance Fund."

Gleason, Lowman Nuptials Held

In temple rites held at the LDS Temple at St. George Utah, Pauline Gleason became the bride of Branson Dale Lowman, on May 10th. Stake President Harold B. Snow performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Mann of 111A Victory Village and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed B. Lowman of 105 Ocotilla Street, Manganese Park.

Following the ceremony the wedding party returned to Henderson where the reception was held at the local LDS Church.

The brides dress was a full length slipper satin with back pleats and a chapel train, a high neck and three quarter length sleeves. Her veil was finger-tip length, applied with a rose motif. She carried a bouquet of pink rose buds tied with a satin ribbon. Her jewelry consisted of a single strand of pearls and an heirloom watch from the groom's mother. Her gown was designed and made by her mother, Mrs. Mann. She wore a blue wedding garter made by her sister, Shirley Gault.

The bride's mother wore an aqua embroidered organza over taffeta sheath with back pleats. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

The groom's mother was attired in a cream-colored brocade faille. She also wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Robert Barker, wore a pale pink lace and chiffon dress over pale grey. Her flowers were a nosegay of pink carnations.

The attendants were Connie Gleason, sister of the bride, who wore a full skirted ballerina-length dress; Vicki Lowman, sister of the groom, attired in a pastel cotton, ballerina-length, pleated skirt gown, as were the other two attendants, Ann Peterson and Mary Childs. All of the attendants carried nosegays of pink carnations that were later pinned to their dresses as corsages.

The best man was Dick Madson.

Approximately two hundred guests attended the reception. The two refreshment tables were topped with lace table cloths, crocheted by the groom's mother and decorated with bouquets of pink carnations. Hostesses were Irene Hatch and Lorraine Loose with the guest book presided over by Vianna Lowman, the groom's sister. At the other tables were: Wilma Reno, the brides aunt at the punch table, Janet Murphy and Edith Traasahl in charge of the gifts, Ann Jones at the cake table. The beautiful four-tiered wedding cake was hand decorated by Ann Peterson.

Mrs. Palma Black was mistress of ceremonies for a short program during the reception. Almeda Deen was organist for the affair.

After a short honeymoon to Malabou Beach and Santa Barbara, California the newly married couple are now at home at 14½ B East Washington, Carver Park.

BRIDGE PARTY AIDS CANCER SOCIETY

Final plans for the bridge party, sponsored by the Henderson Duplicate Bridge Unit, with proceeds going to the Cancer Society, were made at Friday night's meet. The party will be held next Friday night, June 13, beginning at 7:30 pm at the Elks hall.

Everyone is invited to attend the master point night and light refreshments will be served.

Four tables of couples played at the last meeting with Mr. and Mrs. Ross Salter winning first place. Second place winners were Helen Witte and Hattie O'Hara; Pat Routh and Dora Murphy were third. Others who played were Al Wells, John Wilson, LaRae Gill, Miriam Giles and Shirley Cike, Twila Marrs, Beverly Grosscurth, Virginia Smith, and Mrs. R. Ray Gardner.

Members of the local club were asked to bring card tables to the party next Friday.

Colton Visitors Reunited With Friends After 35 Years Separation

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Jermain of Colton, California were visitors here last week, marking a reunion with local friends after a separation of 35 years.

Jermain and his wife, Lois, were houseguests at the home of his step-father and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Chan Vay of North Las Vegas and visited here with the members of Nay's family — Mrs. Ellen Palsgrove, Mrs. Ora V. Benson, and Mrs. Rae Von Dornum, whom he had not seen for approximately 35 years.

Bob and his brother Jack attended elementary school in Las Vegas in the early 1920s and later both families moved to So. Cal. The only flaw in the visit to this area, for Bob, was the fact he could not recall the name of his teacher at that time as he has very fond memories of her and would have enjoyed renewing acquaintance if possible.

The Jermaines were enroute home after a vacation trip thru Arizona, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Texas, Missouri, Illinois, Kansas, Colorado and Utah.

In addition to visiting points of interest in each of the states thru which they traveled, the Jermaines were guests at the home of Lois' uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hays in Appleton, Missouri and her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Louis DeWeese, in Grand Junction, Colorado.

Both Bob and his brother Jack are now residents of Colton and both are employed by the Kaiser Steel Corporation where Bob is an electrician and Jack a water treatment technician.

ing the program as an instructor, or for the adults who might like to learn teaching techniques in order to give lessons to their own children.

This summer for the first time the adults will have the opportunity to take lessons during the morning hours; also for those who have to work, lessons will be offered in the evening.

It is possible for a child to take lessons the first session and then continue advancing by repeating thru the sessions during the summer, in this way they are not limited to just one session a summer, but may take lessons all summer if they so desire.

Miss Betty Edmondson will direct the summer program, and Miss Ann Peterson will assist.

For further information or questions contact the director at FR 4-3784.

Divers Search For Body Of Isaac Cox, Drowned In Lake On Monday

Divers yesterday evening ended their second day of searching the depths of Lake Mead, still failing to find the body of Isaac E. Cox, 46, who reportedly lost his life by drowning on Monday afternoon according to Chief Ranger S. J. Keefe of the Park Ranger Station.

Cox, who had gone to Boulder Beach with a friend G. R. Nordlund, swam out beyond the roped off swimming area, as Nordlund sat in his car watching. Nordlund turned his head for a moment and when he again looked at the lake, his friend had disappeared.

Nordlund called the life guard, Diane Towne of Boulder City, and she immediately notified the park rangers.

Chief Ranger Keefe, accompanied by Rangers Dean Dazey, Francis Jacot and Bud Roland went out in the park service boat and started dragging operations in the spot where Cox was last seen, working until dark with no results.

Divers joined in the search, which continued all day Tuesday and yesterday and will continue this morning.

Cox and Nordlund were both residing in the Townsite Apartments, where the deceased occupied apartment 227 for the past two and a half years.

A war veteran, Cox served as an X-ray technician in the U. S. Army for 20 years, and at the time of his discharge was stationed in Hawaii. Since coming here he had been employed as a chemical worker, but was unemployed at the time of his death.

Surviving in this area are two brothers, Marion Cox of 127 Elm Street and Kenneth Cox of 112 Elm Street.

Other survivors include his father, William Edgar of Glendale, Utah; two brothers, Neldon of Glendale; and Mervin of Cal. seven sisters; Mrs. Harold Porter and Fern Cox, both of Cal, and Mrs. Floyd Johnson, Delta, Utah; Mrs. Don Semper of Salt Lake City; Mrs. Horace Maxwell, Mrs. Howard Spencer and Vivian Cox, all of Glendale, Utah.

Jack T. Norris was elected president of the Henderson Democrat Club at a meeting held on Tuesday evening at the United Steel Workers hall at 47 Water Street. The election was conducted by retiring president Van Englestead, with Stuart Mahaffey serving as temporary secretary.

Officers elected to serve with Norris were: Harriett Treem, as vice president; Rae Von Dornum secretary; and Robert French, treasurer. Elected to the board of directors were: Sam Weiman, William "Red" Choate, Ed Callow, Mike O'Callaghan and Stuart Mahaffey.

Following the election, the new president was seated, and the following members were appointed to the membership committee: Mrs. Wayne Davis, Al Romero, James B. Butterfield, Rae Smalley and Mike O'Callaghan.

Meeting dates were set for 8 p.m. on the first and third Thursdays of each month, with the next meeting to be held on June 19, at 8 pm. All local Democrats are urged to attend.

The primary work of the Democrat Club will be precinct work and registration of voters. All Democratic candidates for office will be welcomed at any meeting of the Club; however, the group will not endorse any specific candidates.

to join in the observance of Flag Day, June 14, in a display of unity honoring "Old Glory."

The Boulder City Elks will participate in the short public service to be held at the Henderson Elks Hall Saturday evening at 8 pm. The BPO Does and the Emblem Club will also participate in the ceremonies.

Exalted Ruler George urges all patriotic citizens to display the Flag at their homes and business establishments on Flag Day, celebrating the 181st anniversary of the adoption of the Stars and Strips by the Continental Congress on June 14, 1777. Elks lodges throughout the nation will pay similar tribute to the Flag, as they have since 1907.

The public is also invited to a dance to be held at the Elks Hall on Saturday evening, following the Flag Day ceremonies.

Music will be furnished by the Boulder City Elks Orchestra.

DEAR MARCIE

By MARCELLA DUNCAN

Dear Marcie:
Is there any answer for the "other woman"? I am one, and in the final analysis the man in the case went running home to mama and the kids. I gave him seven years of my life — what's for me now?

Other Woman

Dear Other Woman:
...What's for you? Just the chance to live a self-respecting life for the first time in 7 years, that's all.

If you were to tell the truth to yourself you'd admit that you knew from the very beginning of the "seven year alliance" that you wouldn't be the winner. The wife and children have RIGHT on their side, that's why. If and when the "Other Woman" does infrequently win the man — this is a MAN? — nine times out of ten he's wandering off with some "Other Woman" before the ink is dry on the marriage license! The cards are always stacked . . . a man who would lie and cheat on his wife would do no less to the "Other Woman."

Happiness is NEVER built on someone else's unhappiness, my dear, and now you've the opportunity to really build a good and happy life for yourself . . . and perhaps for someone else too. Good Luck.

Dear Marcie:

What can I do with a husband who invites his mother for a two or three week visit every six months? I'll admit MY mother visits us just as frequently, and he's nice to her — but HIS mother snoops and criticizes.

Dear Daughter-in-law:
... "HIS mother snoops and criticizes" . . . yours doesn't? Chances are YOUR mother snoops and criticizes every bit as much as you THINK your mother-in-law does. But your husband loves you enough to let it roll off his back — of you love your husband, can you do less?

Grow up, daughter-in-law and look for all of the fine qualities your mother-in-law possesses.

You'll be surprised how quickly you will find them, and in doing so you'll actually forget she ever snooped or criticized.

The relationship I enjoyed with my mother-in-law was one of the highlights of my life. She passed away fifteen years ago today, but her memory will always be enshrined in my heart. I can only wish that you will have such a fond memory some day.

Dear Marcie:

My husband takes the prize! He insists he loves me, yet he galavants around with any gal who looks at him twice. What's the answer?

Wondersing

Dear Wondering:
... Your husband MAY love you, but SELF-love is the overpowering emotion in this character's life! Aside from the love he has for himself, he is a spoiled and self-willed brat who never matured emotionally. To top it off, he possesses enough egotism for forty men.

Your only chance with a "mental midget" of this calibre is to give him an ultimatum . . . and mean it when you say it! Tell him he can't have his cake and eat it, too. Tell him if he's going to be married to YOU he is going to love, honor and cherish the vows of matrimony. But if he wants to galavant around the country with every Jean, Jane and Mary, you can arrange that too!

And stick to your guns!!! If, nat you'll only be saving yourself further heartache by having a legal separation, until your "little boy" becomes a man.

Dear Marcie:

We have neighbors who are wonderful in every respect but one — they always burn refuse at the wrong time, either when I have just hung out a wash, or I'm watering the lawn, or trimming rose bushes. What's the answer to this one?

Really Hot.

Dear "Hot":

Before you get "to hot to handle", simmer down to a slow burn and think a minute.

You say your neighbors are wonderful in every respect but one — well then, just march yourself over there and talk the problem over. It's as simple as that. Good neighbors always want to remain good neighbors and you'll find them ready, willing and able to confine their incinerator activities to a more opportune time. Try them and see.

Dear Marcie:

I say "Hurray" for the mother who turned in her own two daughters to the police recently.

Wondering.

Dear Wondering:
I say I think she's WONERFUL, and if more parents would take the time to nip their offspring's discrepancies in the bud (instead of "covering up" for them) there'd be fewer juvenile delinquents in the courts and reform schools today.

My hat's off to this courageous young mother and all mothers like her.

It isn't likely that her two daughters will get into trouble soon again — if ever.

Dear Marcie:

Now my husband is dictating what books I may or may not read! He says the ones I've been

MAKWOOD A. DOUD'S

Mad About Dogs

(Comments concerning questions re cocker - canines' copious ketosis).

Spaniels and hounds with long ears more than most other breeds of dogs, are apt to develop an orodiferous condition as a result of "sour" ears. This is because the pendant ears prevent the circulation of air and reading don't improve my mind sufficiently.

Well, I don't like HIS high brow selection of reading material.

A Low Brow.

Dear Low Brow:

Just because you don't like to read the classics doesn't make you a "low-brow".

Improving the mind is one thing! But, when your husband "springs" this hi' falutin' palaver all of a sudden it smacks of "fadism" or "impressionism" to me.

Has he met some new faces lately?

Tel your husband to be himself and to let you pick your own reading material (provided you're not ashamed of it).

Otherwise, let him have it! ALL the worms are not found in the library! — There — I said it and I'm glad!

Do You Have A Problem?

Marcella Duncan will be happy to help you with it if you will write to her in care of this paper. A self-addressed, stamped envelope will bring you a personal reply.

permit bacteria and or mites to propagate in a protected pocket. Frequent examination of the inside of the ears will indicate the necessity for treatment.

All dogs and cats are susceptible to the ear-mite which may, and usually does, cause ear-canker. Gentle swabbing with Campho Phenique will clear up the mild cases. Severe conditions should be treated by your veterinarian. B F I or Campho Phenique powder will serve as a preventative.

Another common cause of "doggy odor" stems from the other end of the animal, from anal gland stoppage. Usually affecting older dogs, this can be a very painful disorder for the dog and plenty obnoxious to those nearby. Your veterinarian can empty the anal glands quickly and easily during early stoppage, but as the condition develops, the wall breaks down and serious trouble ensues.

Chlorophyl tablets are available at most pet supply stores. They will eliminate the odor but may eliminate a symptom that could result in the neglect of a condition until it got out of hand.

To clip or not to clip — is a question to be resolved with the individual dog and his owner. Most long-haired dogs have two coats; the outer one consists of long, coarse hair while the inner coat is fine and close. Under normal conditions (and this includes proper diet), good grooming will remove the under coat in the spring and the outer coat — or guard hairs will serve to protect the animal from strong sunrays.

Since the vast majority of present-day dogs are protected from prolonged exposure to summer sun, clipping is beneficial and labor saving. Just observe the one simple precaution or keeping the closely clipped animal out of the sun until the hair grows long enough to cover the skin.

The chore of grooming is made much easier, especially with cocker spaniels, poodles and the like, if most of the hair is removed. I usually take off more than would be if he were preparing a dog for a show. Insect control is simplified when the hair is short and bathing is much easier. All in all, the dog is more comfortable and cooler when he is trimmed and the owner's work is lessened to a marked degree.

Their first stop was in Overton where they fished in Lake Mead and enjoyed an open fire meal. After their departure from Overton they toured the sights in Grand Canyon and in Zion National Park taking advantage of the picnic grounds and relaxing in the shade.

Around Town

By HELEN LUNZMANN

TO MEXICO

Cathy Gunn, 297 West Basic Road, a member of the high school Spanish Club, will be leaving for Old Mexico this coming Sunday evening, June 8th, along with the rest of the Spanish Club, to tour part of the neighboring country. It will be a pleasure trip during their stay they will visit Hermasillo, Mexico. The class plans to spend about a week away from home.

HERE FROM TEXAS

Mrs. Emily Smith of Le Fors, Texas, sister of W. C. Baggett, 215 Zinc, has been visiting her brother for the past two weeks. She left Monday to return to her Texas home, after a pleasant stay here.

NEW GRAND SON

Mrs. Sally F. Patton of 215 Zinc Street, was a recent visitor at the home of her son and her daughter in law, Mr. and Mrs. Mark G. Patton of Glendale, Cal. Her primary purpose for the trip was to see her new grandson, Gilford Mark, eight months. While there she celebrated her birthday with a family dinner in Chinatown.

HENDERSON HOME NEWS
THURSDAY, JUNE 12, 1958

During the ten day stay, they motored to Mount Wilson Observatory, and found it very interesting. Mrs. Patton cares for her aged father at their home at the Zinc residence. Since last year Mr. Baggett has been an invalid and has required special attention.

A couple of weeks ago when Sally Patton was entertaining their company they dropped around to see us and one of the ladies was carrying a pretty umbrella which we remarked on. Come to find out it was more or less of an antique as it was more than twenty year old and had been hand decorated by Mrs. Patton's mother. It was still in excellent condition and very colorful, and practical too. The point of this story is, if the younger generation is going to revert to the past as far as the clothes are concerned why wouldn't it be a grand idea to have the young ladies of the town start carrying parasols again? This was quite a pretty custom.

NEWELL'S ENTERTAIN

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Newell of Valley View have been entertaining guests the past week. Mrs. Carrie Newell, Alonzo's mother, and Miss Ethel Young, his aunt, both from Lubbock, Texas, are here, and all plan to leave for California this week end to see family and friends there.

Joy Circle

During the afternoon, a work session to make toys for the Country Store was held at the home of Coraleen Morton. There will be another afternoon work session July 18, at the home of Eloise Blue.
