FIVE MAN BASIC BACKFIELD STOPS DIXIE FLYER ATTACK

By MIKE O'CALLAGHAN

The Dixie Flyers, of St. George, Utah, found their five man backfield too cumbersome to move while the offensive minded backfield from Basic smashed thru their forward wall time and again last Friday night. The victorious Wolves will meet Sparks next Friday at Sparks.

Ed Pitchford, scrappy Basic lineman, played the part of the fifth man as he continually nailed the other four men in the Flyer backfield on the spot they received the ball. Throughout the game Pitchford teamed with Vic Vincent, Cardon Dalley, Dave Weir, and other Basic linemen in stopping the Flyer attack.

Sweeping plays saw Pitchford working defensively with Estes McDoniel, Bob Taylor and Frank Barker as play after play was thrown for a loss.

With the line taking the starch out of the Utah State Champions the Basic backfield under the command of Dennis Rosch turned the gridiron into a race track. Marlow Williams and Estes McDoniel accompanied Rosch as the three of them went over, under, around and thru the Utah team that had not tasted defeat since 1956.

Three thousand fans saw McDoniel and Williams smashing up the menter on a drive that eventually terminated in a flashing 16 yard run around end by Rosch for the first TD of the game.

The second TD came in the following quarter as McDoniel carried it to the 7 yard line and Williams bulldied his way up the gut and crossed the goal line. The Basic kick-off following this touchdown saw Lynn Leany lead the Basic tacklers up the field and place the most vicious tackle of the evening on the St. George receiver.

The Flyers finding little success on the ground tried to live up to their name and took to the air. Williams and Kirby Trumbo dampened the hopes of the visitors as they intercepted two passes and ran them back for long gains.

The second half opened with quarterback Dennis Rosch taking the kick-off on his own ten and returning the ball 90 yards for the most thrilling run of the evening and the score board changed to Basic 18 - Dixie 0. A key block thrown by Don Arkell sent the touchdown bound Rosch on his way as he twisted his way thru the 11 men from Utah.

Marlow Williams found punting against the 45 mile gusts of wind rather difficult. With four minutes remaining in the third quarter a Basic punt was carried by the wind behind their own backfield where it landed near the 1 yard line. From the one yard line, with the help of a recovered fumble, the Flyers made their lone TD. St. George tried for the extra point by running into the Basic forward wall and the score remained 18-6.

The fourth quarter began with St. George attempting to kick and Cardon Dalley rushing thru the line to spoil the kick. Two minutes later Coach Don Smith sent in his untried second team led by Randy Mainor. The going was rough in the line but Mainor made good use of Les Dickens who demonstrated his ability to run no matter how rough the going became. Mainor having the wind to his back called for a quick kick and Marlow Williams returned to the game and set the Flyers back 57 yards with the longest kick of the evening.

With seven minutes remaining in the game, Bob Taylor recovered a St. George fumble caused by his jarring tackle.

Rosch back running the team took to the air and found it effective as he completed a 19 yard pass to end Jim Caldwell. Caldwell carried the ball to the 1 yard line and McDoniel punched it over the fourth Basic TD. With St. George's Holland playing a great game on the offense and McArthur playing as well on defense the Flyers never ceased to fight. The efforts of the St. George team were pushed aside as the now confident Wolves devoured their prey. With less than 3 minutes remaining Marlow Williams concluded his evening as he ripped up the center of the line for a 57 yard touchdown run. Williams now made his first attempt for the extra point only to have it nullified and then missed his second attempt. The score Basic 30, Dixie 6.

LOCAL MEN CHARTER BUS FOR SPARKS GAME

Local residents who are interested in attending Friday's game between the Basic Wolves and the Sparks team will have an opportunity to ride to Sparks on a chartered bus, leaving here early Friday morning and returning on Saturday. Arrangements for the charter are being made by Hershel Trumbo, "Doc" Coleman and Roy Pitchford. The bus will carry 37 passengers at a cost of $12.50 a round trip. Trumbo reports that arrangements for room reservations will also be made for those attending the game, upon request.

Interested persons are asked to call Trumbo at 2-1211.

DAVE HOWARD VISITS PARENTS

David Howard is spending his leave from the Navy with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Howard of 131 Constitution st. in Valley View. He is stationed at Long Beach, California and assigned to the SS Bremerton. Recently he returned from a cruise which included New Zealand, Singapore, Japan, China and Pearl Harbor. He reports that Auckland New Zealand was most impressive and the people were especially kind. David was graduated with the Basic High class of 1957.

An Open Letter . . . Pagan to Byrne

September 15, 1958

Mr. W. B. Byrne
Mayor of Henderson
Henderson, Nevada

Dear Bill:

I disagree with your open letter to the people of Henderson that I owe you an explanation for not attending the Council meeting which you called for September 8th.

I am an elected official, just as you are, and my first duty is to the people who elected me. I challenge you to work as sincerely and conscientiously as I do and let's let the people who elected us decide who is entitled to their support.

There were matters on the agenda of such consequential nature to the City of Henderson that I don't think they should be brought up except when all members of the City Council have a chance to be present. This is only fair because all members of the council have to share the responsibility for acts of the Council. It is also only fair to the people of Henderson because the people of Henderson elected all the Councilmen and are entitled to be governed by no less than the majority of the council.

I trust this clearly answers the letter which you addressed to me but mailed or delivered it to the Henderson Home News.

Yours very truly,
AUBREY PAGAN
Councilman, Ward No. 2
Henderson, Nevada

Lou Richardson Seriously Ill

Lou Richardson, co-owner of Carver Park Market, is hospitalized at Rose de Lima in serious condition.

Four weeks ago Lou was admitted to the hospital for an appendectomy and was recuperating nicely — when he had to return to the hospital for surgery on an ulcer. After surgery on the ulcer was performed he was stricken with a heart attack.

At this time he cannot receive any visitors. Mrs. Richardson's mother, Mrs. John Duren of Borger, Texas has arrived to help the family during these crucial times.

Art Whittaker, Former Lucky Star Co-Owner, Killed In Plane Crash

KILLED IN AIR CRASH — Art Whittaker, one of the original owners of the Lucky Star was killed Sunday night when the plane he was piloting from Ash Meadows to Las Vegas crashed into Spring Mountain. Three companions flying with him in the four-place plane also lost their lives. Whittaker is shown here at the time the Lucky Star held its grand opening on New Year's Eve, 1956.

Art Whittaker, co-owner of the Lucky Star, was killed on Sunday night when the four-place plane he was piloting from Ash Meadows to Las Vegas crashed into the rugged northwest slope of Spring Mountain, about 40 miles from Las Vegas. Three passengers in Whittaker's plane also died in the crash.

Eight sheriff's deputies, members of the Sheriff's Jeep Posse brought the bodies of the four men out of the remote canyon where the plane crashed to the jeeps parked on the Pahrump highway.

The bodies of Whittaker and James Valdiva, 42, a nuclear instrumentation engineer for Edgerton, Germeshausen and Grier at the Nevada Test Site, were identified yesterday afternoon.

The two other men who died in the accident were tentatively identified as Herb Sturmer, an employee of Reynolds Electrical Engineering Company and Jack Rencher, a neighbor of Whittaker and a dealer at the Sahara hotel.

Whittaker visited here on Saturday evening and enjoyed a buffet dinner at the Lucky Star. Several local men have also been flying companions of Whittaker, during the time he was actively engaged in operating the local club.

He is survived by his wife, Mickey, and two sons, Terry 19, and David 16, now living in San Fernando Valley, California.

Whittaker, 40, who once operated Steele's Jewelry store on Fremont Street, resided at 500 Shadow Lane. At the time of his death he was operating a loan shop in Las Vegas.

Herb Ward Killed In Auto Crash

The body of Herbert Eugene Ward was taken from the wreckage of his overturned car early yesterday morning by Lake Mead Rangers.

The accident occurred about three and one half miles North West of the Boulder Beach Ranger Station on the Lake Shore Road.

It is believed the accident occurred about 4:30 a.m. Monday.

Ward was a resident of Pittman and was employed by Country Cousins.

Judge Charles Peterson was coroner and the body was turned over to Bunker Brothers Mortuary for arrangements.

BASIC ELEMENTARY PTA MEETING TONIGHT

The initial meeting of the Basic Elementary PTA will take place tonight at 8 p.m.

Residents of the area are cordially invited to attend this gathering to meet the new teachers and become reacquainted with returning teachers.

Refreshments will be served by the Basic Elementary P.T.A. Executive Board.

Construction On Red Brick Homes Starts Tomorrow

Harry Stewart, representative for Henderson Brick Homes, announced yesterday that paper work on the first ten brick homes to be constructed in block seven, Sierra Vista Addition, will be closed today.

Construction on the first ten homes, according to Richard Nonis, general contractor, is expected to start tomorrow morning.

The model home on Boulder Highway in Pittman will be formally opened for inspection and open house will be held this coming weekend, Stewart said.

PLAYTIME ACCIDENT CAUSES EYE INJURY

Nancy Gines has been released from Rose de Lima hospital, where she underwent surgery for a severely damaged eye.

The eye was accidentally injured while playing with a steel rod.

Nancy and her physician put up a valiant fight to repair the damage. The bandages have been removed and Nancy reports that she does have vision.

She was hospitalized for ten days and is recuperating at her home.

She wishes to extend her many thanks to her friends for the lovely cards she received and prayers said for her recovery.

Nancy is enrolled in the sixth grade class at St. Peters school and is the daughter of Mary Ann and Bill Gines of 15 Utah Way.

SEABEES VISIT MRS. W. O. HAYNES

Three members of the U. S. Navy Seabees, Mobile Construction Battalion 11, spent their last liberty before sailing for Guam at the home of Mrs. W. O. Haynes, 26 Manganese Street, this past weekend.

The visitors were Don Roberts — the nephew of Mrs. Haynes and a graduate of Basic High School, class of '57, Ruben Rodriguez, 2830 Reynolds Street, Las Vegas, and Ken Pankow of Decorah, Iowa.

This was unexpected liberty, and on reaching Las Vegas Rodriguez found that his parents were out of town. Pankow has relatives living here whom he hoped to see, but found no one at home. However, they made the most of their time, with the local boys showing the Iowan such places as Hoover Dam, Lake Mead recreational area and the unusual city of Las Vegas.

MSGR. P. V. MORAN ATTENDS RETREAT

Msgr. Moran, Pastor of St. Peter's will attend the annual retreat for diocesan clergy to be held at Lake Tahoe during the week commencing September 21st.

The storm that was brewing over, in and around the city council the past week broke loose last night just as the weatherman predicted — then it just as quickly subsided and this morning there are clear skies again — with no more gales expected at least until the return of Gail Armstrong (pun intended).

In other words — the city council had a quorum present last night, thus held a meeting and took up among other matters the controversial Ralph Purdy Sporting Goods Store request to sell a can of beer or two to fishermen, golfers, et al.

The crowded hall then witnessed what was expected — a cross-fire between the two council factions — the anti-liquor Councilmen Bob Kesterson and Aubrey Pagan and the pro-liquor Councilmen Lou LaPorta and Bill Mainor.

As soon as Mayor Bill Byrne announced the item was on the floor for action, Pagan jumped to his feet and moved that it be tabled until there would be a full council in attendance. (Armstrong is away in a national guard camp.)

The opposition forces answered the volleys with LaPorta saying, "I'm insulted. I feel we're adult enough to vote on this problem and any other problem."

Pagan countered with, "It's not good to sell liquor where a man sells guns and ammunition."

Kesterson seconded Pagan's motion.

A poll of the votes showed two to two. The mayor then cast the deciding vote (the first time this has happened in the history of the city.) He voted NO — which made way for action on the original item — Purdy's application.

Kesterson opened the discussion by asking Mainor if he owned the property where Purdy's store is located.

Mainor said:

"Yes, I own that property and other property around town where I build buildings and rent them. In this case, I am being fair and am not trying to do any favors for anyone, that I wouldn't do for anyone of you who might be in the same situation. Purdy is a nice fellow and has been kicked around long enough by this council."

Kesterson said:

"I think you should disqualify yourself from voting on this because the state law provides that you should."

Mainor said:

"The state law doesn't say it. Show me. The state law says a person can't vote if he is directly interested in a license. I am in no way interested in this . . . Purdy is renting from me. This is fair and square and I move we grant the license."

Pagan then said:

"We should wait for a full council."

Mainor answered:

"Think for yourself. Stand on your own feet and voice what we think. I move for Purdy!"

A voice from the audience was granted the floor — stating he was a constituent from Pagan's ward — and favored granting the license.

The mayor asked for a poll of the votes. Kesterson and Pagan voted no. LaPorta and Mainor voted yes.

Again the mayor was called upon by City Clerk Van Wagenen to cast the deciding ballot.

He did — in favor of Purdy.

A round of applause from the audience — and then the councilmen went on to the next order of business.

A few minutes later all was calm — there were occasional laughs — and by meeting's end the four men and the mayor were interchanging conversation on other subjects as if nothing happened.

Earlier in the evening, at the very start of the evening's agenda — Kesterson asked for the floor, then stood up and faced the audience and blamed this newspaper for building the incidents of the past week far out of proportion.

"The men who wrote the letters (Dave Jamison, Hershel Trumbo and Keith Lopeman) should have come to me to see why I did it," Kesterson said, "instead they went right to the paper. Mr. Zenoff is interested in selling papers. I consulted with my attorney and found it wouldn't be a legal meeting in the first place because the meeting should have been held the day after labor day, I feel I have done right. I do my work honestly and to help the community. I have nothing to gain personally."

The remainder of Kesterson's complete statement is on file in the wire recorder section of the city clerk's office.

Pagan then stood up and read a letter to the mayor. He had previously come over to this writer's chair and given us a copy and asked that we give it as much prominence as we did the other letters last week. The letter is printed today on this page in as prominent a place as we can find.

At the close of the agenda, Kesterson's attorney, George Franklin asked for the floor and said, "the publicity given to this will prove of good benefit to the whole council. For now you will enact an ordinance to set up council procedures. There is not now one on the books of the city that provides for meeting nights."

Franklin also explained some other points pertinent to council meetings, special meetings, etc., and maintained last week's gathering had it been held would have been illegal. The mayor took issue with him — but the matter was dropped.

Franklin did state that last night's meeting was legal and that now Purdy's license was official and properly arrived at. (Editor's Note — This writer and this paper made no effort to ask for the floor to refute Kesterson's charge that the matter was played up beyond its importance.)

The fact that Kesterson and Pagan were present last night to do their duty as city councilmen following this paper's disclosure of their absence last week seems to this writer to be answer enough of whether a newspaper has a duty to perform by sounding an alarm bell to awaken the community to any unusual action.

This paper is not printing city government stories "to sell papers." It is printing city government stories because the citizenry must be kept informed — and it is the newspaper's job to do just that.

This paper is not involved in pro or anti-liquor questions. We care not which way the town would go — as long as the majority opinion is served . . . End Editor's Note.)

retreat for diocesan clergy to be held at Lake Tahoe during the week commencing September 21st.

He also plans to make a side trip to visit his elder brother, Msgr. Patrick Moran, in Susanville, California.

American Potash Opens Sodium Chlorate Plant At Aberdeen, Miss.

The new sodium chlorate production late this year according to schedule. The new plant, being constructed to supply chemicals to the rapidly growing southern pulp and paper industry is located on a 770 acre site on the Tombigbee River ten miles to the south of Aberdeen.

Initial production capacity will be at the rate of 15,000 tons of sodium chlorate per year, with provisions for possible future expansion as might be required. One such possibility would be the production of perchlorate chemicals for high energy fuel applications.

Construction of the Aberdeen plant marks AP&CC's second venture into the Southern states. The first was at San Antonio, Texas where the company manufactures lithium hydroxide and cesium and rubidium compounds.

American Potash & Chemical Corporation already is a major producer of sodium chlorate, having entered the field in 1955 with the acquisition of Western Electrochemical Company at Henderson, Nev., which was renamed the Henderson Plant of AP&CC.

Because of the growing consumption of sodium chlorate by the kraft paper producers in the Southern states, it became apparent that a new plant located in this area could better serve the expanding markets. Accordingly, site selection studies and preliminary engineering were initiated in the Fall of 1956 and the Aberdeen site finally was selected in February of 1957.

Important uses for this well-known electrochemical have been developed in recent years, the largest being for pulp and paper bleaching. The sodium chlorate is converted to chlorine dioxide, which in turn is used to bleach the pulp.

A second major use of sodium chlorate is an intermediate in manufacturing oxidizers — or the source of oxygen — for solid fuels for rockets and missiles. Ammonium perchlorate lithium perchlorate are two

Science Explorer Troop To Study Rocketry Fuels

The Science Explorers, a Scout Troop sponsored by American Potash and Chemical Co. will start the fall season with a course in rocketry propulsion under the direction of Dr. Cole Major, Research Chemist for AP&CC.

Dr. Major is an expert in rocket propulsion, solid fuels and satellites. He has talked on this subject before many groups in our area.

Members of the Science Explorers group will have actual practice with solid fuels as American Potash has recently purchased a small jet engine, made in England to be used in class study.

Using this small jet engine, the Explorers will actually experiment with the same solid fuel used in rockets which put satellites in orbit.

Troop meetings are held at the American Potash plant, where a room has been set aside for the use of the Explorers.

They have recently completed a course in electricity which included a trip thru the power house at Boulder Dam where they learned how the big generators work.

Sodium chlorate also is used in weed killers and cotton defoliants.

The raw material for sodium chlorate is common salt. Electric energy is used to convert the salt to chlorate in an electrolytic cell of special design.

Substantial quantities of cooling water are required for cell-cooling purposes.

Labor requirements are low, as is usually the case with modern highly automated chemical plants. Relatively small quantities of a number of other chemicals are used in the process, and the fuel requirements are low. The product is shipped by rail to the consumer usually in car-load quantities.

Engineering has been under the direction of the construction engineers, C. F. Braun and Company of Alhambra, Calif., near AP&CC headquarters at Los Angeles.

Construction was begun last February on the Aberdeen plant administration building and two other auxiliary structures, and these now are essentially completed. Work on the production plant itself is proceeding according to schedule.

The plant's rated capacity is 15,000 tons per year, but provisions have been made to permit extensive and rapid expansion of production facilities to meet any needs in the foreseeable future.

Although the conventional chlorate process — electrolysis of brine solution and recovery of chlorate by crystallization and drying — will be used, engineering studies have resulted in numerous developments in equipment design and in process technology and control. New techniques for several processing steps were developed at the company's Nevada plant and are being incorporated in the Aberdeen facility.

When the new facility begins production, it is believed it will make AP&CC the largest producer of chlorates in the free world.

LOVES' VACATION ENDS
IN WHIRL OF ACTIVITY
Pamela Love enjoyed a two weeks visit with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. C. Connely at Chula Vista, California, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R.
Love and her sister Lilean making the trip to Chula Vista to bring her home.

Enroute they visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cotsis in Glendale, California to renew acquaintance with Johnny Cotsis who spent six months with the Love's during his infancy.

Following Pamela's return,
Mrs. Love's son, Larry Caulkins spent a 13 day leave from the U. S. Navy here with the family.
A seaman first class, Larry has just returned from a cruise that took him to the Phillipine Islands, Korea and Japan, aboard

the USS Phillipine Sea.
Larry's enlistment will end on December 4, and until that time he will be stationed at Long Beach, California. His wife, the former Liz Winters, who has resided with her mother Mrs. Violet Winters of Boulder City, during the time he has been at sea, joined him on his return trip to Long Beach and will remain there until his service with the Navy is completed.

Pamela, whose birthday falls on August 28, and Larry who will be 21 on September 17, celebrated their birthdays together on September 3. The birthday dinner was served at the Love home. Those gathered around the table for the occasion were Larry and Liz, Pamela,
Mrs. Winters, Dave Caulkins,
Bonnie Jory, Mr. and Mrs. Love and Lilean Love.

Governor Russell Reports on NEVADA'S HIGHWAYS

"Good highways are the key to the growth of any state. And, because the biggest part of Nevada's economy is based on intra-state industry, agriculture, mining and tourism, I have constantly worked for the betterment of our state highway system.

Since I took office in 1951, the State of Nevada has awarded 260 contracts for Nevada highway construction at a cost of over 76 million dollars. This means that 2,145 miles of modern highways have been completed in the state since 1951. It also means that jobs have been created for thousands of construction workers, which in turn furthers the economy of the entire state.

I feel it is my responsibility, as your governor, to continue my efforts for a highway system that serves your county, and the state, as an ultimate means of bringing more and more business into our growing Nevada."

Governor Charles H. Russell.

Your Hometown Newspaper

A survey of Texas housewives by a private research company shows that ninety per cent of the women in Texas consider advertising a desirable feature in newspapers.

A much lower percentage of Texas women regard advertising in other media with favor. More than fifty per cent said they would prefer TV without advertising.

Reasons for liking newspaper advertising, according to the survey, were: the value of newspaper ads as a shopping guide; the convenience of having a printed record for reference; and the fact that newspaper advertising is understandable and believable. The study indicated that women accept newspaper advertising with more faith than advertising in any major medium.

Of all the reasons given, faith is probably the most important. Other advantages of advertising can exist only when the public has faith in a medium and in the claims of the individual advertisers.

Everyone has heard criticism of misleading advertising. Yet such criticism has never been extended to retail advertising in newspapers. Your newspaper can not afford to print questionable advertising. For confidence is the most important commodity the newspaper sells.

Similarly, the local merchant can not afford to use misleading advertising or an unreliable medium. He may be too quickly called to account. Honest information presented in a reliable medium is a necessary formula for good retail advertising.

This combination of faith in the honesty of local merchants and belief in the local newspaper, more than anything else, is responsible for the public's high regard for newspaper advertising.

Humanitarianism consists in never sacrificing a human being to a purpose.

Gardeniers Visit Bernkrant Home

Following a brief business session at the home of Mrs. Iona Hinds, 231 W. Basic Road, the Desert Gardeniers recently motored to Las Vegas where they were guests at the home and garden of Dr. and Mrs. Louis Bernkrant.

The members were entertained in the beautifully planted patio and each received a gift of a potted plant from Dr. and Mrs. Bernkrant.

Assisting Mrs. Bernkrant with the refreshments were co-hostesses, Mrs. Iona Hinds and Mrs. Leonard Galloway. The sunshine gift was won by Mrs. Clarence Holberg.

Members attending were Mesdames: Iona Hinds, Clarence Holberg, Tony Ragozine, Darrel Totten, John Farnsworth, John Nicholson, Henry O'Whene, Walter Leschig, Ken Hougen, Leonard Galloway, L. C. Tao, Jack Perkins, Gilbert Alsebrook, David Heher. Guests were Mrs. D. C. Davenport, Mrs. James Bagnell, Mrs. Ernest Lompfrey, Mrs. Flossie Woodward, Mrs. Warren Frank, Mrs. Jack Norris and Henry O'Whene.

PARK SERVICE RAFTS ON MEAD TO HELP SKIERS

A program to improve water skiing facilities on Lake Mead, in the Lake Mead National Recreation Area, has been announced by National Park Service Supt. Charles Richey.

High waters on Lake Mead this year inundated most of the areas in which water skiers formerly concentrated. As the skiers moved toward the harbors and swimming beaches to find launching sites, an extremely dangerous situation developed. Many near-accidents occurred as power boats towing skiers came too close to swimmers.

As a result, the National Park Service has constructed two large rafts, and located them below Lakeview Point.

55,000 SWARM MEAD AREA FOR LABOR DAY

Over fifty-five thousand visitors swarmed into the Lake Mead National Recreation Area over the three-day weekend, the National Park Service Supt. Charles A. Richey reported today.

The great majority of the visitors were involved in water sports. "There were approximately 3,550 boats on Lake Mead and Mohave over the weekend," Richey said. "Our new seventy-five feet wide loading ramps served admirably under the heavy use, and allowed the boaters to load and unload their boats without undue difficulty or delay," he continued.

"The most noticeable increase in a single water sport was water skiing. Over 7,500 persons criss-crossed the lakes on their skis," Richey concluded.
