TOM WAR, BILL MAINOR LEAVE POSITIONS AT B.M.I. PLANTS

Tom War and Bill Mainor, 2 top executives with the BMI Industrial plants, this week announced plans to sever connections with the companies they have been serving.

Tom War, in charge of Administrative Services for American Potash and Chemical Corp has tendered his resignation to become effective on December 1, it was announced by H. S. Curtis, plant manager.

Following the termination of his duty with American Potash, War will become an assistant to Fred Gibson, founder and co-owner of Pacific Engineering and Products Company of Nevada.

Gibson and War worked together in a similar close relationship when both were employed by Western Electrochemical Company which later became a part of American Potash and Chemical Corp.

Bill Mainor, City Councilman and Works Manager for U. S. Lime Products Corporation, has also announced his intention to leave this company.

Councilman Mainor plans a month of vacation at the termination of his duty with U. S. Lime but has not yet revealed what position he plans to accept.

Timing Ass'n. Slates First Drag Nov. 16

The Industrial City Timing Association met recently to make plans for their first drag race on November 16.

Discussion was held on general admission, insurance on spectators and participants, trophies, entrance fees, etc.

The Association decided to hold several small races before the official grand opening, which will be open to racers from surrounding states.

A general discussion of the entire strip followed and it was announced that trophies for the first race have been donated by local merchants, who have been very cooperative in aiding the group.

General admission for the race on November 16 will be 90 cents; pit pass, 50 cents; and entry fee $1. All fees are donations to the drag strip. Time of the race will be announced later.

Present at the meeting were: Gil Silva, Derrell Watson, June Silva, Elwood Swift, Dave Anderson, Leon Evans, Lynn Lane, Dan Westlund, Carl Spickelmeyer, Dave Weir, Dan Thorne and guests: Clay Lynch, Ted Tukegun, J. C. Harrison, Gordon Southern, Glenn Tunheim and W. Van Dusen of Las Vegas.

Civic Leaders Hold Kick-Off Lunch For Rose de Lima Drive

A "kick-off" luncheon for the Rose de Lima Hospital building drive was held Monday at noon in the banquet room of the Royal with a large number of local business men and civic leaders in attendance.

Lou F. LaPorta served as the moderator for the meeting and told the story of the Hospital and the necessity for the construction of additional facilities.

A year or so ago, he said, the Sister of St. Dominick, who operate the hospital, started running into a space problem and at the present time the facilities are inadequate to serve the patients who wish to be treated there. Even the halls are sometimes put into use as rooms for patients as the good Sisters do not wish to turn anyone away who is in need of care.

Since the Sisters of St. Dominick took over the operation of the 60 bed hospital in 1947, they have taken care of 30,000 patients and last year the facilities of the hospital were taxed 50 percent above their normal capacity.

So urgent is the need for the 78 additional beds and operating and maternity room facilities, that are planned in the proposed Rose de Lima building plan, that the United States Government has advanced $400,000 from its special Hill - Burton fund to help the hospital start its building plans.

The total cost of the three story addition is $1,250,000 and if the people of Henderson and Las Vegas can raise the $150,000 that is still needed to finance the building during the month of November, the construction can start on this important installation.

LaPorta pointed out at the kick-off luncheon held at the Royal that this million and a quarter investment in hospital facilities will be an added inducement for industry to establish plants here as facilities of this kind are of vital importance to such companies in choosing future locations for plants.

With the completion of this addition to the hospital, which includes additional facilities for the tumor clinic, it was pointed out that Henderson has a real opportunity to become the medical center of the State of Nevada.

Persons wishing to make contributions to the Rose de Lima building fund will find a pledge blank printed in this newspaper which they may fill out and mail with their remittance to Rose de Lima Hospital, Henderson, Nevada.

Brochures, telling the story of the hospital and its need for additional facilities, may be obtained at the hospital, LaPorta Insurance Agency, the Telephone Office or the Home News Office.

CHAMBER MEETS TODAY AT NOON

The Chamber of Commerce will meet today at noon at the Royal banquet room, it was announced by Bob Olsen, President. This will be a membership luncheon and President Olsen urges all members to be in attendance.

Already well over a half a billion dollars worth of mortgages have been insured by FHA on cooperative housing projects — and not a single foreclosure has there been on these mortgages.

The City has asked its neighbors across the "border" (city boundaries) to consider another time that could be of benefit to the future of the community — and yet not cause BMI any discomfort.

The newest request is that the BMI owned post office property — land and building — be traded or sold to the city so that it could someday become the site for the proposed new city hall.

A request is now in the hands of the Post Office department in Washington to allow for a larger post office here — thus prompting Mayor Bill Byrne and his council to lay the groundwork for the much needed downtown city hall.

BMI inherited the lease on the post office ground and the building when it took over the ownership of the residual assets. The lease with the post office department only has a few years to run.

The plan was suggested to BMI when its directors met with the city officials on the matter of cutting the city's payments on the water lines in half. BMI okayed this request.

CITY SUFFERS NO SERIOUS DAMAGE AS HEAVIEST RAIN SINCE 1955 DELUGES AREA

Altho Mondays deluge was the worst here since the flood of 1955 no serious flood damage was experienced, according to City Administrator Clay Lynch.

Henderson Heights and Victory Village, the two sections which suffered severe damage in 1955, were practically untouched by Mondays runoff, due to drainage which was installed after the first flood.

Dohrenwend Manor and the Pittman area were the areas which suffered most from flood waters, but even in these sections there was no serious damage.

Quick action on the part of the street maintenance department saved houses in Dohrenwend Manor from damage. When water threatened to enter homes on Church Street, a call to City Hall brought street maintenance workers to the scene immediately and a ditch was cut behind the hospital, which carried the water to the highway and protected the homes in that section.

During the rain, Lynch and the City Engineer Robert Cordill went out and made a survey of the streets in Assessment District AD 300 to check the course of the water on the streets in order that proper drainage can be installed with the paving of the streets in this district.

Lynch said the culdesac in the ways, which run down hill off Pacific Street, trap the runoff water and that these should never have been installed.

To protect the homes in Dohrenwend Manor from future flood problems, two ditches will be cut for drainage, one along the edge of the hospital property and one along the edge of Water Street to the highway. A dip will also be installed on Church Street near the place where it joins Water Street.

The streets in Pittman suffered considerable damage from the rain and the water and immediately after the grader finished clearing gravel and debris off the Water Street extension it was sent to start repairing the streets in Pittman.

After surveying the work of the runoff in Pittman, Lynch decided to put the survey crew to work on AD 500 in that section when the work on the present street assessment work is completed, in order that proper streets can be installed in Pittman.

The industrial plants also felt the force of the flood waters which coursed down hill and thru the plant area, littering access roads with rocks, gravel and mud. Crews were busy clearing these roads early yesterday morning.

For 3 Solid Reasons, City Council Champions "Golf" Reservoir

For three solid reasons, this city may officially install new water reservoirs up above the golf course.

As city councilmen worked over the subject Monday night they listened to golf club officials, who answered one of the three reasons with their arguments that more water up there will allow for a multimillion dollar housing expansion along the perimeter of the course as well as in the whole area.

About 45 homes will be started the minute water and sewer facilities are brought in, the spokes man said. These men were Jo McBeath, Hersh Trumbo and Jack Miller.

Another reason is advanced by the fire department which warns that if more pressure in the city's water mains is not soon brought about — there will be higher insurance rates handed out to business houses and homes in the southern half of the city.

The department also tells of the dangers of a city operating its water department on electric pumps rather than on the gravity which would come with the new reservoir. Any power outage could put the city in trouble, they point out.

The third reason is simple, the city councilmen and mayor report — simply that there is not adequate pressure in the lines to provide first rate water service to every home in town.

Every citizen is entitled to that, they state.

The money to better the city's water problems has been okayed by the people at the time of the water bond election. There still remains about $200,000 that can be appropriated toward installing the new reservoirs.

The golf club officials were told to complete their plans on paper and let the city engineer coincide them with city mapping now going on.

FRANCIS HUTCHINS CELEBRATES B-DAY

Francis Hutchins celebrated his seventh birthday with a gala party Saturday evening.

Lawn games were played and each guest received a toy favor.

Refreshments of cake and ice cream, apples, popcorn and orange drink was served to the following guests: Alan and Denise Crane, Howard Palmer, Michel and Billy Gines, James Stubblefield, Johnnie Honey-cutt, Kenneth Burt, Denise and Steve Parry, David, Linda, Jimmie and Mariann Hutchins.

Floyd Weir Gets Buck While Enjoying After Dinner Coffee

Floyd Weir, Master Mechanic for the City, is the season's luckiest deer hunter, having bagged a 140 pound buck while having his after dinner coffee—in camp.

The deer appeared on the scene just at dusk as Weir and his companions had finished their evening meal and were enjoying another cup of coffee.

After the deer had been shot the cup was nowhere to be found — Weir having flung it away in his excitement at getting a deer. It was found the following morning and no shortage of dishes marred the perfect hunting trip for him and his companions.

Other hunters who accompanied him were M. H. Stewart, street superintendent; Art Foremaster, Equipment operator; Jim Robertson, who was out for his first deer hunting trip and Bob Barquist.

Each of the hunters came home with a fine buck and all of them were of approximately the same size, weighing about 140 pounds each. Ken Foremaster of Alamo, who joined the group there, had equally good luck.

The men hunted at Mt. Baldy, about 80 miles west of Alamo, going out on Friday evening and returning on Monday morning with their deer.

Weir reports the weather was very cold with the hunters camping at about 7500 feet elevation. There was no snow on Mt. Baldy but the weather was cold and cloudy and the deer had come down from the mountain top.

Art Foremaster, who was entered in the deer hunting contest at both the El Cortez and Golden Nugget, got a buck with a 33 inch spread, which Weir described as a real beauty, tho it was a little too small to put him in the winners circle.

HAPPY HUNTERS — Shown are four lucky hunters who went to Mt. Baldy in Lincoln County last Friday evening and returned on Monday, each with a buck weighing approximately 140 lbs. The hunters, left to right are Floyd Weir, Jim Robertson, who got a buck on his first hunt; H. M. Stewart and Art Foremaster. The latter had the buck with the finest spread, measuring 33 inches. Aubrey Pagan Objects To City Pay Raises, To Be Decided Monday; City Now Operating On Lower Budget

All city employees are due to get a raise in salary, retroactive to November 1, if the city council in meeting next Monday nite can scare up a majority vote to pass it.

The increase will average about eight per cent and will be paid for, according to official figures by economics being made in city operations. Latest figures released by Director of Finance Don Dawson show that current economies have saved about 13 per cent of what was planned to be spent in the city budget.

It is not a cinch that the wage increase item will win approval Monday. The councilmen got together the past Monday night to chin over a few of the current problems, and when this matter came up, amidst the ayes was the big "naye" of Aubrey Pagan, who objected on the grounds that the city employees are being paid enough and are in line with current conditions, plus the fact that the city is trying to cut down on expenditures—not adding them.

Bob Kesterson was absent Monday so it is not known whether he will join Pagan in opposing the raise inasmuch as it is Kesterson's idea to curb the city budget in order to make up the deficit that exists. Gail Armstrong's position also may decide the vote — as both Lou LaPorta and Bill Mainor are in favor of the raise.

City employees will also come under the state unemployment act starting July 1, the council decided.

DEAR MARCIE

By Marcella Duncan

Dear Marcie:
What are your views on kissing? I mean, most girls have to argue against promiscuous kissing, or kissing at all until she really knows and likes a boy. But my case is different!

I've been going with a boy for almost a year — neither of us dates any one else — we are both 16. He hasn't kissed me yet, nor has he even tried to! Could there be something wrong with me? What should I do about this?

Sweet 16.

Dear 16
Nothing! Just sit this one out. The very fact that you and the boy have dated for almost a year is proof in itself that you are very fond of one another. And the fact that he's postponing kissing you probably means he thinks so much of you he is delaying the first kiss until he is ready to ask you to go steady, or become engaged. This is a promising lad — don't lose him!

I am about to face the problem that befalls thousands of women annually, but I would like to ask you how best to cope with it. When all the youngsters are married, or off on lives of their own, how can a mother best face her early "retirement?"

Frightened.
Dear Frightened:
To begin with, let me emphasize that you have absolutely nothing to be frightened of! The fortyish matron of today is just

I wish to express my great appreciation for the vote of confidence given me by my friends and neighbors on November 4th.

I pledge my utmost efforts to fulfill the mandates of the great trust bestowed upon me. In the future, as in the past, I shall endeavor to be a fair and impartial judge for all the people all the time.

Gratefully and Sincerely
RYLAND G. TAYLOR
District Judge, Dept. No.3

I am sincerely grateful to all the people of Nevada who have made it possible for me to serve as Governor of Nevada. My deepest and most sincere thanks to those loyal supporters who worked on my campaign throughout the state during the Primary and General Elections. The victory is yours and I will do my utmost to justify the faith that you have placed in me.

GRANT SAWYER

hitting her stride, and if she really cares to, a woman can be more attractive and needed as she reaches Act II of her life.

Your course, of course, will depend a great deal on the kind of a wife and mother you have been. If you've been the clever gal I think you are, you haven't been living exclusively for your family.

Hobbies that you were too busy to give much time to before, can now be explored. Of course, keeping busy is good, but it is not the only answer to a full and happy retirement. It's a law of life that in giving, we receive. There are community services, hospital auxiliaries and innumerable agencies that cry for two, three or four hours weekly from women such as yourself.

Soon you'll find that you will get far more from a stint such as this than you will ever give! Yet the giving is so important! At any rate, with the world "so full of a number of things," as Stevenson wrote, there is no reason why you, or any other candidate should dread her "retirement era."

Prepare for it now and you'll find that when the time comes it will be an easier, happier time than you ever imagined it could be.

Oh, you'll miss your children and their former dependence on you, but you'll also be glad for them because they are happy in their lives. What else do we want for our children?

Personal to Chloe:
We must always walk before we can run — remember?

Do you have a problem? Marcella Duncan will be happy to help you if you will write to her in care of this newspaper. A stamped, self-addressed envelope will bring a personal reply.

STAUFFER DIVISION PLANS EXPANSION

Plans have been completed to expand both the manufacturing and laboratory facilities of the Anderson Chemical Company, Division of Stauffer Chemical Company at Weston, Michigan.

The project, which will represent an investment of about $200,000 will be handled by Stauffer's Engineering Department. Construction of the first phase is scheduled to begin at once.

Anderson Chemical, which became a Division of Stauffer Chemical six months ago, manufactures about 200 chemicals, including a broad range of metallo-organics. Many of the company's products are custom-made specialty chemicals.

The expansion will involve enlargement of the main production plant, a mini-plant and a pilot plant. More extensive laboratory, office and warehouse facilities will also be built.

NEW ORE BODY DISCOVERED AT MANGANESE INC. MINE

A high grade ore body of 30 percent manganese ore has been uncovered recently at Manganese Incorporated, according to a report by general manager W. L. Kendricks. This new discovery will keep the company in operation for several months, according to the report.

Governor Russell Tells Reactions

CARSON CITY — Remarking that he had "no regrets" at losing the November election, Gov. Charles H. Russell declared that "I consider myself highly fortunate for having had the opportunity of serving the people of Nevada for two terms as their governor."

In a prepared statement, Gov. Russell said:

"I wish to thank my many friends throughout Nevada for their many acts of kindness extended me during my terms as governor of this great state.

"It has been a privilege to serve for two terms as the chief executive of my native state and I want to thank all concerned for making that possible.

"I have offered Governor-Elect Grant Sawyer every consideration and cooperation in making it easier for him to assume the reins of state government in January.

"I will place at his disposal by December 1 the budgets of the departments so that he can familiarize himself with the many details connected and associated with this office.

"I hope that in doing so, it will get him off to a start which will be beneficial to all those people of this state who look to the governor's office for guidance and leadership.

"I have no regrets at losing the November election; instead I consider myself highly fortunate for having had the opportunity of serving the people of Nevada for two terms as their governor."

Previously mined ore at the "Three Kids" mine has averaged between 18 and 30 percent manganese. The recently uncovered ore has been undergoing tests and analysis for the past several weeks it was reported.

The 1958 theme is "Consider the Blessings of Freedom," and "Know Your America Week" for 1958 will be observed beginning Sunday, November 23rd through Saturday, Nov. 29th. The American Legion Auxiliary has participated in and

An interesting and inspiring evening of education and entertainment has been programmed by Mrs. LaVie. Musical numbers will be rendered by Mrs. Virginia Carpenter and a well known speaker will give the main address of the evening.

Our American Legion Auxiliary also urges all citizens to fly the American flag during this week and to participate in this program. The religious organizations have also been invited to present this message of the "Know Your America" program during church services.

I COVER THE DESERT

By MERT INGHAM

Fall is here — not only calendar-wise, but weatherwise as well. On the lower desert, fall does not come as suddenly as it does at higher elevations and in northern climates.

There, a sudden "first frost" announces the coming of autumn. Frost and ice appear along the edges of puddles, ponds and lakes in the early morning. The leaves in the forests turn to their brilliant yellows and red, and eventually to brown. The crunch, crunch of dead leaves is a friendly, familiar sound as one walks in the field or along suburban streets. Suddenly, many familiar song-birds are gone, and the honking of southward migrating geese and the quacking of ducks add to the "feeling of fall."

In the desert, the arrival of fall is less pronounced. Leaves of only a few desert plants die. Mesquite is one of the few common ones. Creosote bush is green all winter. Only is the coming fall particularly noticeable where man has brought in "foreign" or "exotic" plants, around our cities and towns. These elms and cottonwoods also lose their leaves.

To the desert wanderer, perhaps the most obvious indication of fall is that many of the desert animals have disappeared. The lizards, the snakes and the turtles are no longer to be seen.

These are cold blooded animals, and their activity depends

When it cools off enough, he goes into a deep sleep we call "hibernation."

It is well that desert animals hibernate, for it is during this period the insects disappear and seeds become scarce, so many of them would starve if they did not do this.

Nature has marvelous ways of caring for her own.

Some of the rodents become less active, too, and we even have a bird called the poor-will which hibernates.

This is also the time of year to release our wild, desert animal pets, so they can become accustomed to cool weather before winter really sets in. In order to live through the winter they must become accustomed to the cooler weather and also locate or build a suitable hibernation den.

NEWS Starts Series Of Articles...Guide For City Charter Commissions

BOULDER CITY

(Editor's Note—In view of the importance at this time of bringing to the attention of the people of this community all the various ideas on city government, we today start this series of articles—taken from the official publication of the National Municipal League—A Guide for Charter Commissions—Your readership of these articles will help direct you in your future thinking and actions. This newspaper, in the hope that a public service can be rendered, herewith sets the series on its way.)

NO. ONE OF A SERIES INTRODUCTION THE AMERICAN CITY IN THE TWENTIETH CENTURY

This has been a century of astounding changes, and a multitude of signs and voices tells us that even greater things are yet to come. Science, technology, industry and agriculture simply will not stand still.

Social, economic and political changes still lag behind but they have been speeded up tremendously in recent decades. This has become an age of international-mindedness and of striving for a new international order through institutions to maintain the peace and promote human welfare. It is also an age of large national states and big governments. At their centers these modern giant states have developed tremendous energy and programs of intense activity.

There are many who bemoan the centralization of functions that has taken place and the increased scale of central government activities.

Is there any place left in this modern scheme of things for local governments? Have American cities any important functions left in the face of the national and state centralization that has already taken place and the internationalization of public functions that is coming so rapidly? Why bother at all with cities and their governments in an age when a single bomb can wipe out a large-sized city?

To get the answers to these questions requires nothing more than that we keep our heads cool and our minds receptive to the facts of life about us. It may be that the human race will go berserk one of these days and in effect destroy most of itself and of modern civilization; but this has not happened yet and there is good reason to believe it will never happen. In the meantime here are some facts:

1. Two-thirds of the people in the United States live, work and play in urban places; and the percentage of city dwellers is likely to go much higher.

2. Local governments today provide more services for the American people and raise and spend more money on public functions, in total and per capita, than they ever did before. Their usefulness is steadily increasing.

3. Local governments of all kinds are being called upon constantly to cooperate with national and state governments in the performance of functions the nation or state wishes to have performed. No sooner is a power or function centralized at the national or state level than the central administrators find they cannot do everything from the center. In one way or another the administration of most functions must be localized.

4. It is in cities, towns and villages that the people have to learn the practice of democratic, responsible self-government. It is there we find a training ground for democratic leadership for state and nation. Many persons of recognized wisdom believe sincerely that with out self-government in our communities popular government on a national scale cannot succeed. Therefore local government needs to be made and kept as effective and as democratic as knowledge and intelligence will permit, to the end that citizens will learn at home the best available principles and practices of democratic government in general.

Good local government is, then, not only an end in itself because of the better service it can achieve but also an educational process of tremendous importance to the nation and to all nations. New generations are forever coming upon the scene and the leaders of each generation need to learn over again, by precept and experience, what the previous ones had come to accept as true. And always there are dissenters who scoff at the old wisdom and a few inventors who find ways to make genuine improvements.

How can better local government be achieved in the United States today? There is no royal road to the desired goal. Many things must be done and done continuously and well.

Among the methods of maintaining and raising the standards of government are: education in schools and colleges; the informational services of press, radio and television; widespread participation in elections and in unremitting effort to elect better men and women to office; investigations by citizens groups, experts in public administration, bureaus of governmental research, and even by grand juries and prosecutors into the conduct of governments and their officers.

The improvement activity to which this is devoted is the making of better charters. At one time even informed persons thought it sufficient, when the local government was corrupt, wasteful or ineffective, to "turn the rascals out" and install better men in office. This is and probably always will be a useful thing to do.

On the other hand investigations in many places reveal that even the best of men in office are handicapped or frustrated in their endeavors to improve the public services by ill-advised or out-of-date provisions of the charter and laws. Until such provisions are eliminated or improved little can be done. Furthermore, when better charter provisions are established even the less competent public officials can achieve a better result than before, while the spoils-seeking official is prevented from plying his trade to the limit at public expense. Good men are reluctant to accept office in an unworkable system and are attracted to one which is well organized and effective. For these reasons the National Municipal League began in 1897 to formulate and to publish the principles of sound municipal government in the form of a Municipal Program which later became the Model City Charter.

What is a city charter? It is the basic law that defines the organization, powers, functions and essential procedures of the city government. It is comparable to the state constitution and to the constitution of the United States. The charter is, therefore, the most important single law of any city. Through change in the charter almost any desired change can be achieved in governmental organization, powers, functions and procedures. All the efforts of a new charter may not be felt immediately but in the long run a charter has important effects, for better or for worse, on everything that the government does. Faulty governmental machinery is responsible for more municipal ills than most people suspect. Other things being equal, the better the charter the better the government.

It is in states that authorize home rule charters that charter commissions are most common. Every state has control over the local governments within its limits. Originally there were practically no restrictions on the state legislature's power to create, abolish, organize and reorganize the governments of local units. It was the early legislative practice to organize each city separately by passing a special or local law which became the charter of the municipality. By subsequent legislation applicable to the particular place the legislature would change the municipal organization, enlarge or decrease the city's area, change its powers and its functions and make other alteration. Each place as treated as a special case and each city accumulated a body of special legislation applicable to it alone, which, taken as a whole, was the charter of that city. By the same token, every city had a charter different from that of every other.

Many legislative abuses developed in connection with this special and local legislation. Partisanship frequently prevailed over principle. A legislature dominated by one party would impose unwanted boards, officers and expenses on a city ruled by another party. Special interests, obtained franchises in city streets that the city government would not have authorized. Much of this type of legislation was passed at the state capital without notice or hearing by the citizens and officials of the city concerned. The very principal of local self-government in local affairs was flouted and violated time and time again.

IMPORTANCE OF THE CHARTER

Leaders in cities began to demand amendments to the state constitution to put an end to this regime of special legislation. A movement for such prohibitions began a century ago and soon New York, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan, to mention a few, had put into their constitutions various restrictions upon or prohibitions against special and local laws. This movement spread until about three-fourths of the state constitutions now contain clauses that in one way or another attempt to limit or prohibit the evil of special legislation. A strong argument for all such prohibitions was the right of local self-government.

Unfortunately, a prohibition against special state legislation on local matters is not equivalent to granting local home rule. As already stated, each city had a separate and distinctive local charter. It also had peculiar circumstances to some extent and its people and leaders had their own ideas as to how to satisfy local needs. Cities were growing, their needs were changing and their old special charters were constantly getting out of date and out of step with the times. But when the legislature had been forbidden to pass local or special laws for cities, the legislative road to change was at least partially closed. Furthermore, the legislature could not meet all local needs and wishes by blanket general laws; these simply could not be made to fit all local circumstances. How then could particular cities get their charters modernized?

In 1875 the Missouri constitutional convention adopted provisions for St. Louis and future cities of over 100,000 population that proved in practice to be a very satisfactory answer in many states. It was simply this: Permit cities, within the limits of state laws, to frame, adopt and amend their own charters. This arrangement embedded in the state constitution, is known as "constitutional municipal home rule." Coupled with a constitutional provision that prohibits the legislature from enacting special and local laws for cities, it has the effect of transferring the power to make special or local laws from the legislature to the people of the city concerned.

The Missouri idea spread until approximately half the states had constitutional provisions permitting one or more cities (up to "all cities and villages" as in Minnesota) to frame, adopt and amend their charters. In a number of non-home rule states local charter-drafting bodies prepare special charters that must be approved by the legislature. In New Jersey charter commissions determine which of several ready-made optional charters provided by law should be submitted to the voters. Citizens participation in charter-making is, therefore, a significant feature of local democracy in a substantial majority of the states.

Clothes Line Thieves Add Insult To Injury, Steal Cop's Clothes

Sgt. Ben Kennedy of the Police Department is really irate over clothes line thefts in Victory Village and Carver Park. Not only do these outdoor burglars take the neighbors' clothes, but they have made raids on Kennedy's clothes lines also.

All residents of Victory Village are asked to take their clothes off the line before dark even if they are not dry.

This, Kennedy believes, is the only solution to the problem, especially since this area has no canine population and there is not a dog in the entire section to even bark at the thieves. Anyone in either of these housing projects, who even thinks he sees an after dark prowler, is urged to contact the police department at once.

Sgt. Kennedy reports that clothes line thefts usually occur in this section, "along about this time of year, when people begin to stock up for the winter."

The prowlers are warned to steer clear of 86B Victory Village because the Sergeant is red hot and may have the place staked out.

City Changes Specifications For Sidewalks

In accordance with the recommendations of the Portland Cement Company, the City has revised the concrete specifications for sidewalks which will result in approximately $10 in savings to property owners on a standard 60 foot lot it was announced by Clay Lynch, City Administrator.

Former specifications called for six sacks of cement to each cubic yard using three quarter inch aggregate and testing 3000 pounds.

Recently a number of contractors have visited City Hall to voice their dissatisfaction with the specifications. The Portland Cement Company was contacted and has recommended a five sack mix using one and one-half inch aggregate and a maximum of 7 and a half gallons of water per cubic yard of concrete. This mix, the cement company assures, will give satisfactory results in our climate and soil.

Rae Von Dornum, president. Again an invitation is given to interested local women to attend. Home-makers seeking a new out let or the opportunity to make new acquaintances will find ample portions of both.

Career women from varied fields are gaining poise and confidence from their associations in Toastmistress.

Dues will be kept to a minimum to encourage everyone to join regardless of income, if they feel a need for improvement in speech, overcoming timidity, etc. Meetings are held twice a month, the second and fourth Thursdays, at the Royal.

Malone Thanks State's People

By GEORGE W. MALONE

I wish to express my deep appreciation to the people of my State of Nevada for my 12 years in the Senate of the United States and for their support in the election just passed.

I have been extremely fortunate to have had the opportunity to work for the development of my State and for national and international policies affecting the nation throughout my engineering career which included the offices of State Engineer, Colorado River Commissioner and Engineer Member of the Public Service Commission from 1927 to 1935 and as United States Senator from 1947 to 1959.

In each capacity I have watched my State develop and increase in population from 75,000 to approximately 300,000 and I feel that it is only the beginning if the water, power and industrial projects underway are carried through to completion.

I congratulate my successor and offer my full cooperation and wish him the best of luck.

State President Catherine Brown Speaks At Covillea Club Meeting

Mrs. Catherine Brown, President of the Nevada Federation of Women's Clubs, was guest speaker at the recent meeting of the Covillea Club, held at the home of Cecil Cottingham.

Mrs. Brown gave a report on the National Convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, which she attended in Detroit, Michigan.

CARE, which is one of the projects of the Covillea Club, is also a project of the General Federation. Fourteen countries have been selected for aid thru the Federation's program of Self Help thru CARE. India has been assigned to the Federated Clubs in Nevada.

India has unbelievable problems of over-population, starvation, disease, poverty, ignorance and a divided people due to religion and caste.

Great strides are reported in India under its "five year plan" which covers agriculture, industry and education.

The Self-Help program, in which the Covillea Club will participate includes food, plows and shovels, to aid in agriculture; technical books for training badly needed teachers, engineers, agronomists, nurses and doctors.

In contributing to this program the Covillea Club is sending money to purchase school kits for children. Such supplies are very scarce in India and in some areas, teachers write their lessons in the dirt. For many of the children, these school kits will be their only personal possessions.

The Covillea Club would like to give everyone in our city a chance to participate in this program and anyone wishing to make a contribution — in any amount — may do so by contacting Mrs. Milford Goble, 43 Arkansas, FR 4-4031; or Mrs. Paul Norton, 119 West Basic Rd. FR 2-5421.

A white elephant sale will be held at the next meeting to raise money for the project and Carol Peebles has volunteered to hold a coffee at her home.

A committee for planning the Christmas party was chosen with Harriet Boyd chairman and Carol Peebles, Jerry Rosenberg, and Yvonne Brashiers assisting her.

Jerry Rosenberg was elected a member of the club and Dorothy Dietrich was voted an honorary member in recognition of her work in the savings stamps program in the local schools, which is a Covillea Club project.

Present were Mes: Roger Peebles, Harry Rosenberg, Paul Norton, Art Hebert and her mother-in-law Mrs. Hebert, Cecil

Our People Speak

By Rae Von Dornum

Do you think a language other than English should be taught in our elementary schools, and if so, what language would you prefer — Spanish, French or Russian?

Ed. Note: In observance of American Education Week, today's question was suggested for this column by Lyl W. Burkholder, Area School Administrator.

MRS. JOSEPH L. BARTON, Housewife, 140 Fir Street.

I've always thought it would be something very special to learn to speak a foreign language, but while growing up I didn't have an opportunity to do so.

I have tried to interest my daughter in taking a foreign language at high school, but she doesn't seem too interested.

I think if they started teaching this at an early age it might be easier as I have heard that children who go to other lands pick the language up very quickly.

With the world situation as it is, this seems very important. The Russians, I understand, teach English in their schools and it might be wise to teach our children Russian.

My brother is on a mission in France and he says it is amazing what a difference it made because he had two years of French while attending B.Y.U. MRS. JOHN HALSAY, Housewife, 418 National.

Our son had a smattering of Spanish while in the California schools and I don't think it hurt him any, in fact, learning Spanish seemed to improve his English and I believe he learned it a little easier.

I believe any kind of learning helps children and think I would prefer to see Spanish taught in the elementary grades.

MRS. R. D. FULLBRIGHT, Housewife, 211 West Basic.

I think I would prefer to see Spanish taught. When my children were in school they didn't teach foreign languages, of course, that has been a good many years ago.

ELMER MARTIN, Operator, 123 East Pacific.

Yes, I think French or Spanish. We have two children in eighth grade and both of them think foreign languages should be taught in the elementary schools. One would like to learn Spanish and the other would prefer French.

Both are of the opinion that if they could learn a foreign language in the elementary grades it would be of benefit to them in their high school work.

MRS. GERALD KIZZIA, Housewife, 405 Zirconium Way.

I definitely think they should teach foreign languages in the elementary schools and think French would be good as it is a basic language. I think one of our weaknesses, even in high school is — that not enough languages are taught.

I believe this is somewhat of a barrier with college students when they go into other fields, because they do not speak enough foreign languages.

I would like to see my child be able to learn another language at an early age and am sorry we don't speak one at home so we could teach her.

MRS. NORMAN SEMMLER, Housewife, 104 Ash Street.

I think elementary school children are a little young for that, but I think it should be taught in Junior High School rather than waiting till Senior High School. Probably French would be best as it is a popular language now and more universal than most others.

MRS. WILLIAM H. POGUE, Housewife, 310 Kansas.

Yes, I believe younger children learn another language faster and think they would learn it more thoroughly and completely. The way world affairs look, perhaps Russian would be the wisest.

We have friends who are of French descent and they have a little girl, two, that they are teaching to speak French, right along with English, and she is doing a beautiful job.

ROGER PEEBLES, Process Engineer, 103 Beech.

I think definitely yes, a child can learn to speak a foreign language much easier as a young child than at any other time. I think Spanish would be best, since we live in the Southwest.

MRS. ROBERT H. WALDIE, Housewife, 108 Joshua Street.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Sunny Lee Jackson

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. R. Jackson, 158 Magnesium Street, have announced the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Sunny Lee, to Charles R. Palsgrove.

The bride-to-be attended grade school, through the fifth grade, at Wallace, Idaho, prior to the family moving here in August, 1951.

She was graduated from Basic High School as Valedictorian of the class of 1958. She was a Phi Beta "A" honor student throughout high school and was a majorette with the high school band for four years, two of which she acted as head majorette.

Miss Jackson was a member of the F.H.A. and participated in the Sun Youth Forum in her senior year. Since her graduation, she has been employed by Miller Plumbing and Heating Company of Las Vegas.

Her future bridegroom is the son of a pioneer Nevada family, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Palsgrove, Jr., of 249 Major Avenue. He received his education in the local schools and was graduated from Basic High School with the class of 1955.

He has been a member of the local unit of Nevada National Guard since 1954. He is currently employed by the Atomic Energy Commission at Mercury, Nevada.

The young couple plans to make their home here.

The James Struthers Run Out Gas On Lake Mead, Spend Nite Ashore

A miscalculation on the amount of gas needed to tow a boat from Temple Bar to Las Vegas Wash on Lake Mead resulted in an uncomfortable nite on the lake shore for two Henderson residents.

Mr. and Mrs. James Struthers of 34 West Basic, had had difficulty with their cabin cruiser and left it at Temple Bar. Sunday they rented a 16 foot outboard motorboat from the Las Vegas Bay Marina, west of Temple Bar and in the afternoon started back to Las Vegas Bay with their boat in tow.

Yes, I think it should. I think the younger a child is, the more adaptable he is to a foreign language. It might be a good idea to teach Russian, anything we can learn about a potential enemy would be to our advantage.

MRS. PETER BRENNAN, Housewife, 311 Karen Way.

Smaller children can learn a language much faster than an older person and that is the reason they should be taught earlier to learn a language other than English.

We are going to have to live in this world with the Russians and if we learn their language, I think we will have a much better chance to understand them and get along with them as we will be able to understand their thoughts.

In the meantime, Phil Crawford, an employee of the Las Vegas Bay Marina, started up the lake to meet them. He met the party and took the cabin cruiser into tow. The Struthers went on ahead by themselves. When the Struthers reached the open water of the Lower Basin of Lake Mead it was dark, and they ran out of gas. The boat drifted helplessly into Swallow Cove, on the Lower Basin.

Crawford reached Las Vegas Bay late Sunday night. When he found the Struthers had not yet arrived, he set out to search, but rough waters and darkness forced him back.

Early Monday morning, Park Rangers Sellers and Tidwell in the National Park Service boat "Tretaba" located the Struthers and brought them in. The Struthers were cold, but otherwise unharmed by their experience.

Spanish, French Classes Start For Children

A "dream has come true" for the parent-teachers association, this week, with the starting of two conversational foreign language classes under P. T. A. sponsorship.

Students of the 5th and 6th grades were invited to take Spanish and French lessons, at the small fee of 50 cents per lesson. Enough children were interested in the project so that classes began Monday. Permission was granted by the County School board to use the elementary school library, at present.

Mrs. Jacquie Mongeot teaches the French, and Mr. Fenton Whelan is teacher for the Spanish. There are two classes a week, for each subject — Monday and Wednesday, Tuesday and Thursday, outside of school hours.

Educators in many sections of the United States have been advocating the teaching of a 2nd language to elementary school children, as is done in most of the foreign countries. It has been tried with success in other places, and the P. T. A. is confident that the project will also be successful in Boulder City.

VFW Jr. Girls Hold First Fall Meeting

The Junior Girls of the V. F. W. Auxiliary Basic Post 3848 held their first regular fall meeting on November 7 at the V.F.W. club room. Gail Pfeiffer presided in the absence of President Clara Stephens.

A project of making scrap books for hospitalized children was discussed and the girls agreed to bring suitable pictures for pasting in these books to the next meeting. Scrap books and other supplies will be available at that time.

A short commentary on the "Meaning of Armistice Day" was given by Mrs. Joel Zander, Auxiliary Treasurer and member of the Jr. Girls Advisory Council. Mrs. Walt Walters, president of the Advisory Council, supervised the order of business.

A social hour was enjoyed, following the meeting, and refreshments of cookies and apple cider were served.

The sunshine gift, a beaded and sequined brush, was won by Betsy Walters. Other members present were: Sandra MacEachern, LuWen Kenworthy, Rebekah Kenworthy, Nancy DePeal Judita Willis, and Pamela Love. Guests during the social hour were Roby Jane Kutch and Lydia Diaz. Mrs. Ruby Brown of the V. F. W. Auxiliary was also a welcome visitor.

Connor Attends Safety Council

Charles L. Connor of 143 West Basic Road has returned from Chicago where he attended the National Safety Council meeting held October 20 thru 24.

An official of U. S. Lime Products Corporation, Connor represented the company's Los Angeles, Nevada and Arizona plants and was especially interested in safety pointers for the industrial field.

A man of integrity will never listen to any plea against conscience.

BIRTHDAYS

White Christmas Drive Underway By Eagles Lodge

The red chimneys which are making an appearance in our local markets and stores, have been placed there by members of the Eagles Lodge, 2672 to solicit our residents aid in bringing a "White Christmas" to needy families in our community this year.

If you have gifts of canned goods or toys which you would like to contribute to this wonderful cause, you are invited to drop them in any of these chimneys, which are posted with signs asking you to "Help A Needy Family at Christmas."

The gifts will be picked up at frequent intervals and will be distributed by the Eagles on Christmas Eve.

Some of the bargains to be found in these markets and stores on weekends would be a very acceptable gift of food for these holiday baskets. You are asked to keep this in mind while shopping and do your good deed shopping early.

BY MIKE O'CALLAGHAN

Professional coaches make mistakes like anybody else in their evaluation of their opponents. Sunday I watched the San Francisco 49'ers set their defense to stop Jon Arnett, the rushing Ram, and they were swamped 56-7 when quarterback Bill Wade took to the air.

The 49'ers did not stop Arnett but they did make themselves inviting for an aerial attack and Bill Wade passed for 256 yards and four T.D.'s.

Wade completed his day by speeding 17 yards for a touchdown of his own before leaving the field for a short rest.

Frankie Albert is a good coach and does not underestimate his opponents, but found there was little that could be done to stop the Rams last Sunday. A few years ago the 49'ers had a million dollar backfield and a ten cent line. Today they have a ten cent line and a backfield that was worth a million dollars five years ago.

The San Francisco club needs a blood transfusion in the form of new players fresh from the college ranks. The Green Bay Packers and the Detroit Lions received such a transfusion last year and the results of new life has taken effect this fall.

Unless immediate steps are taken to secure young players both a fine young coach and a wonderful group of Bay City fans are going to be hurt in the seasons to come.

This writer has his doubts about the work of the officials during the Boulder-Basic game last Friday evening in Boulder City. Most of the calls against Basic were deserved by the Wolves and can be seen much better from the official's position on the field than the press box.

It appeared that the official called the clipping penalty against Basic, after Williams made it to the 3 yard line, when not actually seeing the initial contact of the blocker and the man he blocked.

The Basic lineman making the block drove his head into his opponent's stomach in the first contact, but finished the block behind his opponent who was on his back. There is no possibility of clipping taking place when such initial contact is by the blocker.

It is very possible to make an error when calling such a hotly contested game and such errors are part of our human nature. How so many errors could be overlooked on the part of the Eagles makes way for doubting the ability of the officials.

The movies of the game show violations that should have been called on the Eagles. On the Boulder TD play the guard tackled the Basic linebacker, Kirby Trumbo was pushed out of the way with a "blockers" hands, and the Basic end was thrown off balance with hands.

All of these actions call for 15 yard penalties and should not have been overlooked by the officials who were all evidently following the ball and not the action.

The poor work of the officials should not detract from the Boulder team that played the ball game tough from beginning to end. The Eagles wanted to win and they were not to be denied their victory.

Boulder City has a little high school that should be complimented on their fine spirit and their desire to win.

The Rancho Rams played Las Vegas off their feet Tuesday and deserved a victory. The breaks were against the Rams and they had to settle for a tie. The lads from Rancho had to score the hard way and their opponents received breaks for both of their scores.

The Rams played control ball the first quarter and the Wildcats were limited to 6 plays during the entire quarter. As the game progressed the Rams were penalized when it really hurt and were denied at least two TD'S as a result of the flag.

The Rancho club never quit fighting and Lou Rosgen showed the crowd of almost 8,000 that a good little man is better than a poor big man and in some cases is better than a good big man. Lou took a pass out of the hands of two Vegas players trying for an interception during the second quarter.

Rosgen pressed the point when when he wen up for the final touchdown pass with two defenders that stood several inches taller and again came down with the ball. This reception by the 140 pounder turned a lost ball game into a tie game with seconds remaining to be played.

Complete domination of football by the Las Vegas high school in Southern Nevada came to an end this week. The crowd that saw the game will never forget the scrap and ability shown by Lou Rosgen who helped end a poor situation for sports in our area.

Masonic Rites Held Mon. For Ernest L. Carey

Masonic funeral services were conducted at 12:30 p.m. on Monday for Ernest Lifton Carey, 59, who died on Friday, November 6 at Rose de Lima Hospital. Masons of Mt. Moriah Lodge conducted the rites which were held at the Bunker Brothers Chapel. Interment was at Mountain View Gardens of Memory.

Carey who was employed as an electrician by the Union Pacific Railroad, was a resident of Henderson for the past six years and two months ago moved to 1001 North Main Street, Las Vegas.

The cause of death is unknown. Carey became ill three weeks ago and entered Rose de Lima Hospital ten days before his death. All efforts to find the cause of his illness failed and he fell into a coma and passed away on Friday.

His death came as a great shock to his family as a medical check up only six weeks before his untimely passing had revealed that he was in perfect health. The Carey family is widely known here. Mrs. Carey was employed by the HOME NEWS for a number of years. The family resided at the Golden Rule Trailer Court in Pittman for several years and Ernie, the Carey's youngest son was employed at Country Cousins Market after his graduation from Basic High School.

In addition to his wife, Mabel I. Carey, and son Ernie, he is survived by another son, Jack, presently serving with the U.S. Army in Germany, while Ernie is serving with the U. S. Air Force at Keesler Field, Miss. Both sons were able to return home for their fathers funeral services.

Other survivors are: a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Kilday of Las Vegas, also a former resident here; his mother, Mrs. Anna Van Wie of Colton, California; one brother, John Van Vie of Highland, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. A. Perkins of Riverside, Calif. and Mrs. C. Avery of Reseda, Calif. and three grandchildren.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

On October 4, 1958 at 7 o'clock I attended a C.A.P. Rocket meeting. There were 38 Rockets, age ranging from 10-14.

The meeting started with the pledge of allegiance to the flag, followed by a prayer given by the Rockets Chaplain, Lt. Clara Jo Klann.

Following the prayer, the new members were introduced. They are the following: Merwin Coleman, Blanch Coleman, Cheryl Barnum, Tami Flack, Judy Fisher, Jo Ann Harwood, Pauline Myers. The dues were then collected.

The activity then started. The Rocket Drill Team performed a short drill for the complete Rocket Sq. The drill team is composed of nine members, under the direction of Mr. C. A. Friedrichs. The drill team is scheduled for a television appearance some time this month. It is the desire of every Rocket to become a member of the outstanding Drill Team.

One group practiced basic drilling commands given by Bob Anderson. One group worked on the Rocket scrapbook, another group on the Rocket files, while still another studied ground rescue signals.

This was by far one of the best and most interesting meetings for children I have ever attended. If more adults like Mr. and Mrs. Friedrichs and Carl Friedrichs would take such an interest in their children as well as others, there would be less so-called juvenile delinquency. The meeting was closed with everyone repeating the Lord's Prayer together.

Sue Friedrichs,
Editor of the Lobo News.

Dear Mr. Zenoff:

Your paper has been kind enough to publish the progress on the local drag strip, which is now completed, keeping the people informed on what is being accomplished.

I would like to take this opportunity to publicly make a clarification on an article previously published.

It has been stated in previous articles that a sum of $3,000 was raised between two local hot rod clubs, being the "Charioteers" and "Rakers," through various fund raising projects and activities.

Through no fault of your paper — this statement is false.

The $3,000 was a loan secured from the Bank of Nevada in Henderson through the efforts of Mr. Colvin S. "Buss" Smith. We feel very indebted and grateful to him, for had it not been for his faith in us and our drag strip project, the strip itself would probably be no reality today.

Also I would like to express from both clubs our deepest appreciation to everyone who took the time and patience to help us and to support our drag strip project.

I wish I could list all the names of those people who have given so freely of their time without a moment's hesitation to back us all the way, and believe we won't forget it!

Respectfully yours,
Charioteers of Southern Nevada,
Gil Silva, President.

Your Neighbors and Mine

By One/Mae Edwards

DESERT BLOSSOMS

Four years ago at this time the houses in Valley View had been given their finishing touch and were ready for occupancy. Moving vans, trailers and cars loaded with furniture and personals was the scene at practically every house. Each resident was wondering who his neighbor was going to be. For days he was in a rush and he insisted that every one else make haste — The carpets and appliance had to be installed and utilities turned on. From that day on, the once desert land began to blossom. Every family apparently thinks continually about doing something to improve the home and it has been the question with every neighbor — To add — or not to add, to their house. The first patio and driveway was poured at 114 Continental just before the Peterson family moved there on November 1. Other neighbors followed with their choice of improvements. Several homes have added more living space. Some of these additions are finished while others are still under construction. Many yards are now landscaped to create a spot for real outdoor living with green lawns high-lighted with a variety of shrubs and flowers. Trees have grown large enough to make a shade. Practically all the sidewalks have been installed for pedestrian travel. In four years Valley View has grown gracefully and has become more beautiful with the passing of each season.

Mrs. Bower plans to live with her parents who reside in St. George, Utah, while her husband is in Japan.

HUNTING TRIP

We wonder — Could it be that some people have all the luck — or — When they aim at a target, they don't miss. Perhaps the Medina's at 121 Ocotillo could tell us. We just learned that — Mr. and Mrs. Benny Medina and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Thomas of Paradise Valley have returned from a seven day hunting trip at Ruby Valley and near Elko. They bagged eight deer. They reported — hunting was good and the weather was cold but not uncomfortable.

HIGH SCHOOL RECEIVES GIFT OF 40 SCIENTIFIC BOOKS

Lyal Burkholder, Area School Administrator has announced that the science section of the Basic High School Library has been significantly enriched as a result of a gift of forty books from the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

These forty scientific volumes constitute the most recent scientific books published for readership understanding on the secondary school level.

Among the titles included such as "Wonders of Modern Medicine" by Steven Spencer, "The Miracle Drugs" by Boris Sokoloff, "Louis Pasteur Free Lance of Science" by Rene Dubos, "Microbe Hunters" by Paul De Kruif, "The Story of Blood" by John Glynn, "Sourcebook of Atomic Energy" by Samuel Glasstone are representative of the value of the entire collection.

During the school year 1957-58 the Basic High School Library was included in a select list of high schools nationally for participation in the national traveling science library sponsored by the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Under this program the school received a shipment of 100 books on science for use during each six weeks period. As a result of this service, Basic High School students were accorded the privilege of studying 600 of the most valuable works in all areas of science.

It was because of the high readership interest displayed by Basic High School students in the use of this revolving library that Basic High was selected as the participant.

The gift letter from the American Association for the Advancement of Science directed to Mrs. Martha Millick, Basic High School Librarian, included the following statement:

"Since your school participated so enthusiastically in the Traveling High School Science Library Program in a prior year, we hope that these additions to your permanent collection will

Accelerated Classes Proving Very Successful At Basic High School

Accelerated classes at Basic High School are proving to be successful from the standpoint of the teachers of the classes and the students enrolled it was announced this week by John A. Dooley, Principal.

The major function of the accelerated program at Basic is not merely to go faster, he said but also to go deeper into a subject and to encourage willing students to work at the highest standards of intellectual attainments, which are commensurate with their personal abilities.

It is a fundamental principal of education that in order for learning to take place with a high degree of efficiency it is necessary that the student be motivated within himself by a desire for the outcome of learning.

The selection of students for the accelerated classes is based upon this principle, rather than on a selection based upon an I. Q. score. Any student who is willing to do the extra research and study required by the accelerated program is permitted to enter one or more of the classes.

Under Basic's system of grouping, a student may be in an accelerated English class and in a normal mathematics class, or vice versa. "It is our philosophy," Dooley said, "that accelerated students should have some experience in ungrouped classes."

Most higher mathematics and advanced science classes at Basic are accelerated. Physics and chemistry are taught by John Shaw. Advanced algebra and trigonometry are taught by George Crisler.

Other subjects in which there are one or more accelerated classes are algebra I, which is taught by Mrs. Josephine Strong and English I, taught by Mrs. Patricia Geuder.

English III, taught by Mrs. Marian Cummings; English IV, taught by John Beatty, world history, taught by Lawrence Williams; and United States history, taught by Donal O'Callaghan.

Weekly seminars, devoted to the development of critical thinking, are conducted in the accelerated English classes by principal John Dooley.

In the development of the accelerated program, students in normal progress classes have not been ignored. The entire curriculum of Basic High School has been greatly enriched as a result of the fact that so many of the teachers have attended training classes in the better colleges during their summer vacation, Dooley said.

James Barnhart attended the Montana State College; John Beatty, Elmira, New York City College; Lester Burgward, University of Montana; George Christian, University of Indiana; George Crisler, University of Minnesota.

Joe Cummings, Utah State; Mrs. Gertrude Cunningham, University of Idaho; Miss Beverly Devey, B. Y. U.; Walter Ford, University of Nevada; Mrs. Patricia Geuder University of Nevada; Robert Lunt, Utah State; Cecil Martin, San Jose State; Norris Matson, B. Y. U.

Samuel Meighan, Idaho State; Mrs. Martha Millick, University of Nevada; Donald O'Callaghan, Georgetown University; Mrs. Dorothy Robinson, University of Nevada; Richard Satterlee, University of Southern California.

John Shaw, University of Cal.; Edward Shelling, University of Nevada; Donald Smith, University of Nevada; Mrs. Josephine Strong, Michigan State University;

Marlan Walker, B. Y. U.; Ray Wilke, University of Idaho; Lawrence Williams, University of Nevada; Estes McDoniel, Utah State; and John Dooley, at Harvard University.

LaPorta Contributes Waiting Room For Expectant Fathers In Rose de Lima Bldg. Drive

Councilman Lou F. LaPorta has earmarked his contribution to the Rose de Lima Hospital building fund drive, to be used for the purchase of the waiting room for expectant fathers.

This room, equipped with comfortable chairs, a reading lamp and table and a television set, is designed to keep the expecting fathers out of the way of hospital personnel and LaPorta is convinced it may be instrumental in saving some of these worried men from future embarrassment.

The reason for specifying this use for his donation, was caused at the time his son, Peter, was born.

Lou had been pacing the halls for hours and apparently was a bit much in the way. According to his story, someone finally showed him into a room and said, "get in there and rest for a while."

The bed looked comfortable, so Lou rested for quite a while; in fact, he fell asleep and stayed all night.

At 6:30 the following morning someone came in and woke him up and said, "you had better get up now." Just as he was about to comply, a nurse stepped in and thinking him a patient, told him not to leave the room under any condition. Lou was dumb-founded, never having been told that expectant fathers were put to bed during this period of waiting.

He finally made his escape and believes the waiting room he is contributing to the new hospital addition will be a real boon to all waiting fathers-to-be.

Organizations Join Forces To Entertain Kids On Halloween

Several hundred children enjoyed a Halloween party at the Pittman Community Center which was jointly sponsored by the Rebekahs, Pittman Womens Club, Ward Five Improvement Association and the Odd Fellows. The party was open to all the children in the city.

A party for children up to 12 years of age was held from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. with a ballroom dance and games, prizes and treats, with prizes also awarded for the best costumes.

From 9 p.m. to 11 p.m. a dance was held for the teenage group, which also featured games and treats, and also prizes.

The sponsoring organizations wish to thank all of the merchants who donated toward the party for the young people, especially Mr. and Mrs. Rolly Cook of the Dixie Bar who furnished a large portion of the treats, which included hot dogs, candied apples, pop corn balls, soft drinks and candy. Mr. and Mrs. Cook have a large container in which they have saved all the pennies that were taken in at the Dixie Bar since last Halloween and these were given to purchase supplies for the party.

Other contributors were Mr. and Mrs. McMurray, Perry's Men's Shop, Van Valey's Shoes and Men's Wear, Country Cousins Market, Coroneos Plumbing, Peterson's Auto Body, Byrne's Grocery, Henderson Cleaners, Prime Meats Supermarket, Foodland, Cake Box, Prince Barber Shop, Basic Beauty Shop.

MASTER POINT NITE

Helen Irving and Frank Delaplaine were North-South winners and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Salter, East-West winners in the recent master point night play of the Duplicate Bridge Unit.

Other North-South winners were: Althea Shelton and Jack Perry, second; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hamilton, third; and Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Mason, fourth.

Gwen Harwood and Miriam Giles were second in the East-West position; Ilene Connors and Lavonna Lisk, third; and Twila Marrs and Beryl Wheeler, fourth.

Other players were Hattie O'Hara, John Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Zerfoss, Ann Heywood, Jessie McCormick, Mrs. Cliff Jones, Leo McCarty, Joe Caproni, Helen Witte, Jack Linck, Jack Heywood, Jerry Wheeler, Dick Suess, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gardner, Earl Turner, Beverly Grosscurth and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hedgecock.

If you make a right turn from a left lane, you are probably just careless and reckless and not what the fellow behind you called you.

PASTOR RETURNS

Members of the congregation of the First Baptist Church are happy to welcome back their pastor, Rev. Virgil F. Clubb. The Rev. Clubb, who was hospitalized for four weeks at Nellis Hospital after suffering a heart attack has made such a good recovery that he is now able to resume church services.

GOOD HUNTING

Mr. and Mrs. Francis C. West, 115 Dogwood, spent the weekend on a hunting trip to the Pioche area and when they returned home on Monday brought two deer as a testimonial to their prowess with the rifle. This was the more gratifying since a previous expedition had proven fruitless.

DOUBLE CELEBRATION

When Steven Pogue, 310 Kansas, marked his fifth birthday recently, he shared honors with Janet Kirk, who lives at 318 Kansas and is also five.

The party was held at the home of Steven's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Pogue, and helping to celebrate the occasion were: Jane Barnhill, Otto and Lassiter Drakin, Karen and Johnny Kirk, Pepa, Paul and Bobby Montoya, and Melissa Wagner. Cake, ice cream and party favors were provided and a real good time was had by all.

SON VISITS

Last weekend was made more pleasurable for Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Rhees, 684 Blackmore, by the visit of their son, Kent, who is a freshman at Woodbury College, L.A. Kent, a graduate of Basic High School with the class of 1958, is majoring in Business Management and Accounting.

RECUPERATING

Mrs. Bowman, whose home is in Los Angeles, is presently staying with her daughter, Mrs. Orin D. Ormsby, 104 Elm, and recuperating after undergoing major head surgery in an L.A. hospital. This indomitable lady, now upwards of 70 years old, has amazed not only her friends but her doctors as well, by being up and about, a mere three weeks after such a critical operation.

Rotarians Hear Talks By Three Foreign Students

The Henderson Rotary Club had as their speakers on Tuesday the three foreign students that have enrolled for the present school year at Las Vegas High School. The three students, Michele Ruby of France, Emmanuel "Manos" Tikoulakis from Greece and Claes Anderson of Sweden, each spoke to the club in their own language.

"Manos" Tikoulakis and Claes Andersson spoke briefly to the club each giving their own views of this country and a little background of themselves. "Manos" told the club the way in which the student is chosen to make the trip to the United States.

It seems that the sponsoring family goes thru the same examination that the student does so that the family and the student will have a near similar background of ideas and ideals.

This makes the relationship of the student and family much easier for the period of the year in which the student is here studying.

Program chairman Jack Stevens introduced Miss Newton, Assistant Principal of the Las Vegas High School who in turn introduced the visiting foreign students.

PACK 8 CUB SCOUTS HOLD OCT MEETING

Monday October 27, Pack 8 met at the Community Church. The Halloween motif was carried out. Refreshments of cider, popcorn balls, and do-nuts were enjoyed.

Flag presentation was held by Den 4, Johnny Dickenson, Warren Daisy, Bobby Francoise, Nathan Stout, Gerald Latz and Kenney McCallum.

Den 9 presented a skit of the Legend of Sleepy Hollow. Those taking part were Stewart Barquist, Eddie, Larry and Roy Chandler, David Wheat, Gregory Maines and John Muelheisen.

Den 3 had an exhibit of Paul Bunion's Blue Ox standing in blue snow and displayed jack-o-lanterns. Boys in costume were Gary Eighmy, Ricky Garvey, Leslie Charles and Pat Crosley. Webelars Scott Meachem and Rickey Oneil led all in a game.

Don Richard, firechief showed two movies and gave a talk on fire prevention in observance of Fire Prevention Month. Awards were presented to Stewart Barquist and Roy Chandler.

DON CARTES LEAVE FOR GREAT FALLS

Mr. and Mrs. Don Carte of 32D Victory Village, left on Monday for Great Falls, Montana, where Carte, a meteorologist for the Atomic Energy Commission, has been transferred. The Cartes have been residents here for the past year and a half.

During their last week in Victory Village, the Cartes entertained Mrs. Edythe Cartes and daughter Mrs. Barbara Tucker and sons, Michael and Jerry who were visitors here from Great Falls.

After enjoying our pleasant weather for a week and visiting the resort area, the guests returned to Great Falls with Mr. and Mrs. Don Carte, who made the trip to Montana in a station wagon.
