PRICE 10 CENTS

U.S. LAND OFFICIALS SAY THEY'LL CUT COST OF CITY'S 7,000 ACRES

Uncle Sam's land management experts were down from Reno this week to again meet with city officials about the 7000 acre land sale that is due to be turned over to the city as soon as the price factor is worked out satisfactorily between the two parties.

Granted to the city by congress, the acreage surrounds the town and will be used for expansion of industrial, commercial, housing and city projects.

When owned by the city, it will then be made available for sale to all comers desiring to use the land for development.

Profit from the sale of this acreage and frontage will be used by the city for capital improvements such as city parks, playgrounds, cemetery, airport, museum, fair grounds, golf course, etc.

First meetings with the U. S. officials following congressional action brought out that the price desired by the government approximated $700,000.

Feeling the price was too high, Mayor Bill Byrne asked City Engineer Bob Cordill and City Administrator Clay Lynch to prepare a report as to why the price was too high and how some of the acreage would prove useless. This report was presented by Lynch to the Bureau of Land Management people. (The Home News printed Cordill's report in its entirety in the public interest).

The meeting this week indicated they would take the report under consideration and follow Byrne's request to try and arrive at a lower figure. When they do, they will send it to Washington Department of Interior—chieftains for further study—and then will come the final figure.

Once this is cleared, the city can take portions of the land it needs or can sell—until it is all used.

The mayor praised highly the land officials' cooperative attitude and their effort to be equitable.

SCHOOLS CLOSE FOR CHRISTMAS VACATION

Loyal W. Burkholder, Area School Administrator, has announced that the city's schools will close on Friday, December 19 for Christmas vacation.

Principal, secretary and school custodian will remain on duty except on December 25 and January 1.

Classes will be resumed at their regular time on January 5.

Ambitious Bass Trying To Swallow A Brother Half
His Size Is Caught In Act By Local Angler

Probably the most unusual catch ever to come out of Lake Mead was netted a few days ago by angler Johnny Watkins of 425 Republic, who caught two bass that had gotten themselves into a very unusual situation.

Both were good size fish and the larger of the two had literally bitten off more than he could chew when he tried to swallow the other. The two fish were engaged in a bitter battle at the time they were taken out of the lake.

Realizing he could not swallow a fish of this size, the larger bass was striving to spit out his opponent—the smaller of the two was fighting equally hard to release himself, but his fins were caught in the mouth of the larger fish.

The catch was made when Johnny and his wife Lilly and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Kline Adams of St. George, Utah left the Las Vegas Boat Harbor in their twenty foot cabin cruiser for a day of boating fun.

The fun began much sooner than they expected—just as they were leaving the boat harbor they noticed a large bunch of birds circling low over the shallow water. The water was in a turmoil and this aroused the curiosity of the boating party.

Maneuvering the boat over to the spot they watched closely more than he could manage—he The larger bass had taken on Suddenly the two fish hurled themselves upward and Johnny grabbed his dip net to "rescue"—what he thought was a stringer of fish that someone had lost.

When he brought up the net he discovered that he had a two pound twelve ounce bass that was feeding on a one pound, three ounce bass.

had swallowed half of the smaller bass when it became stuck in his mouth. Both fish were alive and fighting desparately—one for his freedom and the other to finish his meal—or get rid of it.

Quite a bit of excitement was created on the dock when the boating party returned with the two bass and the struggle between them was the only point of interest for some time. A number of spectators photographed the two struggling fish.

Following the return of the party to the Watkins home, a number of the neighbors saw the peculiar catch and were amazed at the size of the bass another and larger fish will try to swallow.

The Adams family packed the fish on ice and took them to St. George in order that their friends there might also see the unusual catch.

1959 DOG LICENSE NOW ON SALE

The City Clerk announces that dog tags for the year 1959 are now on sale in his office at the City all. By ordinance all dogs within the City must be licensed.

The current yearly license fees are $2.50 for a male dog, or spayed female, and $5.00 for a female.

The Poundmaster has been instructed to pick up and impound all unlicensed dogs, or dogs that habitually run loose.

A penalty of $1.00 will be imposed on each license after January 31st.

Pierre Reads Our Paper, Returns To Family Circle

Everyone is happy around the John Ivory home—Pierre, the pet skun of the family—read the Tuesday Home News and realizing how much unhappiness his absence had created, returned to his home in the planter box at the corner of the house.

Marje, taking a disconsolate look at Pierre's vacated habitation on Wednesday morning, was surprised to see a small ball of black and white fur which turned out to be none other than Pierre, curled up against the cold and sound asleep.

Pierre refused to talk and no one has been able to find out where he spent the two days and three nights he was away. We visited him for an interview but he wouldn't talk to us either. Marje, cuddling him against our questioning, said "just as I suspected, the poor little darling has a stuffy nose, he shouldn't have been sleeping without covers." He has promised to give us a full report later.

Stores Open Late To Accomodate Xmas Shoppers

Starting tonight, stores in the downtown shopping area will remain open evenings until 9 o'clock for the benefit of residents who wish to do Christmas shopping during the evening hours.

The announcement was made by Bob Olsen, President of the Chamber of Commerce, following a motion for evening hours from today until December 23, at the last meeting of the Chamber.

Some of the stores have been open evenings all of this week and in addition to the Drug Stores, some merchants have said they plan to remain open this Sunday.

RETURN BOATS THOUGHT STOLEN

Three boats belonging to Roy W. Poudrier, recently reported stolen from behind the Prince building on Army Street, have been returned to their owner, former operator of the Tastee Tavern.

Our People Speak

By Rae Von Dornum

Do you think it would be a good idea to install a traffic light at the Water Street and Pacific Street intersection, or station a traffic officer there during the morning and afternoon rush hours?

(Ed. Note: This question was submitted for use in this column by Bob Woodruff of Woodruff's Basic Photo Shop.)

WALTER MARRON, Taxi Owner and Driver, 74 East Texas.

I have never had any trouble with traffic on this corner, but we do need a traffic light on Water Street and Frontier Highway because it is such a wide intersection.

I think our Police Department is doing a fine job of regulating traffic and should be complimented. I have driven in many places and in this town the traffic is as well regulated as it is anywhere.

MRS. CHARLES BONTRAGER, Cashier, 202 Victory Road.

I've never had any trouble there. We have a four way stop on that corner and after making the stop we are always able to go on. I have never had any particular trouble there that I recall.

MRS. SAM WEIMAN, Marriage Counsellor, 79 Oklahoma Dr.

We should have one or the other, I think. I'm not too well versed in the traffic needs—perhaps, if it is busy all day, they would have a light. It seems the traffic is always great there.

I have seen people fail to stop. Perhaps they are people who are unfamiliar with the town, but I think we need something more than stop signs.

RAYMOND TAYLOR, Civil Service Worker, 80 East Texas.

Yes, I think it would be a very good idea. Especially in the late afternoon with people going home from work and the children going home from school. I think there should be a traffic officer there.

Stop signs are fine if everybody observes them but there are always a few who don't seem to find this necessary. Either a light or an officer stationed there at the rush hours would take care of this.

E. C. SMITH, Research Engineer, 151 Manganese.

No, I don't think so, I feel that stop signs are adequate at that corner.

MRS. JACK H. PARVIN, Office Worker, 11-Lowery Street.

It seems to me that the four way stops are sufficient. These handle the traffic adequately for Henderson, though I am seldom down town during the rush hours. If they did want to do something, because of the school children, I think a traffic officer would be better than going to the expense of installing a traffic light.

MRS. DENNIS E. YOUNG, Housewife, 533 Burton Street.

That is a rather bad corner and it would not be a bad idea to have a light there. The Henderson people are courteous about stopping but the out of town people are not.

MORRY ZENOFF'S... MORRY'S STORY

I've often wondered where Santa Claus came from—how he got started—how old he is.

Today I found out and I pass it on to you. It is the subject of a story written by Benjamin Benson—and Lou LaPorta was nice enough to hand out the information in this area.

It is something we should all know, I believe—so here it is "No wonder Santa Claus' whiskers are white—he's 136 years old! Pretty soon he'll be a sesquicentennial, which is just another way of saying that he'll be 150, or a century and a half.

For the Santa Claus we know was created on Christmas Eve of 1822, when Clement Clarke Moore sat down in the study of his New York City home and wrote the famous little poem, A Visit From St. Nicholas. That's when St. Nick received his American citizenship papers and became the roly-poly gentleman we call Santa Claus.

Before that, during his European wanderings, St. Nickolas was a rather dour old bishop riding around on a white horse. To be sure, he did have a basket of toys for the good children—but he also carried a fistful of birch rods with which to thrash the naughty ones—not at all the happy-go-lucky, tubby old fellow so familiar to us today.

Dr. Moore—who was a doctor of divinity and a professor of theology, not a medical doctor—wrote the ballad for his children and not for publication. Fortunately, a friend who was present when it was read before the fireplace, copied it down and later gave it to the editor of the Troy (New York) Sentinel. Once in print it scampered into every home and heart with just as much facility as the "jolly old elf" with whom it was concerned.

There was nothing dour, or scrawny about the St. Nick Moore described in The Night Before Christmas, which is generally the title given the poem today.

"He had a broad face and a little round belly,
That shook when he laughed, like a bowlful of jelly.
He was chubby and plump, a right jolly old elf,
And I laughed when I saw him, in spite of myself."

That fitted the American scene and delighted American kiddies much more than a gant and bearded old saint wearing black robes and carrying a handful of birch switches.

He traded away his old white horse, too, for "eight tiny reindeer," surely much livelier and more romantic steeds, and the poet even provided them with names that captured the imagination and made them come alive.

"Now Dasher! now, Dancer! now Prancer and Vixen!
On, Comet! on, Cupid! on Donder and Blitzen!"

What could suggest speed and excitement more vividly than a comet streaking across the sky, or thunder and lightning (Donder and Blitzen)!

Strange as it may seem, Dr. Moore did not at all enjoy having his name linked with the little Christmas poem that had come so spontaneously from his pen.

He even denied having written it for some years. He was a scholar, the author of such dignified works as A Compendious Lexicon of the Hebrew Language, and also a biography of King Casiroit of Albania. He did not wish to have his name associated with anything so frivolous as a mythical gentleman whose sole aim in life was to make youngsters happy. But when he saw how warmly people accepted his poem, and how greatly they enjoyed it. He relented and enjoyed being the author.

Santa Claus is not mentioned by that name in A Visit From St. Nicholas. That came later. Nicholas was just too long a name to last very long in a land that loves brevity. So it became Kalas, and then the one-syllable Claus. Santa took the place of Saint and Dr. Moore's "jolly old elf" was all ready for Americans—Santa Claus.

During the latter part of his life Moore lived in Newport Rhode Island, and of late years this city has been the scene of a celebration honoring the poet each Christmas Eve.

Clement Clarke Moore deserves to be so remembered and honored, for he gave us all—big and small and rich and poor—the vivid, rollicking pen portrait of jolly old St. Nick which makes him our very own Santa Claus."

COMMUNITY TREE—California-Pacific Utilities Company's crew is shown putting the lights on the community Christmas tree, after putting it in place on Water Street, near the post office. The tree, under which Santa Claus will pass out treats to the children of the city was cut and brought here from Mt. Charleston by members of the City Maintenance Department, who had considerable trouble getting the tall, stately tree out of the forest.

HOME NEWS Looks Like Xmas Tree Lane As Scouts Sell Trees

The grounds around the Home News office at 6 Pacific Street took on the appearance of Christmas Tree Lane on Tuesday afternoon when Scoutmaster James R. Horner of Scout Troop 34 set up a big load of Nevada and Arizona Christmas trees on our premises where they are presently holding their annual sale of trees.

The trees are all freshly cut and each proudly displays a Forest Service tag marked with the date it left the forest. Prices range from $1.50 for small trees to $6 for those eight feet tall.

A free ticket on the doll raffle, being sponsored by the Fire Department, Police Department and City Employees, for the benefit of the City Ambulance Fund, is given with the purchase of each tree.

A portion of the profit from the sale of each tree will go toward the City Ambulance Fund and the remainder will go toward the troop's fund for the purchase of a truck.

Free delivery of trees will be made for purchasers desiring this service. Branches for centerpieces are also available.

On behalf of all the members of Troop 34, Scoutmaster Horner expressed his appreciation to all of our residents who have aided the troop in the past and made possible the nine day trip the boys enjoyed last summer.

The boys traveled 1,008 miles, visiting Cedar Brake, Zion National Park and Kanab, Utah, as well as other points of interest.

The trip was made in a bus, formerly owned by the Scout troop. This bus has been sold and the boys are now working toward the purchase of a truck in which to make another trip during the next summer vacation.

RATES DROP 18%

Nevada's Insurance Commissioner, Paul A. Hammel, announces that the annual revision of the automobile insurance rates will bring good news to most Nevada citizens.

Effective January 7th, 1959, the cost of automobile liability and property damage insurance will be cut an average of 18.7% on private passenger cars. Also, collision insurance and allied coverages will decrease on private passenger cars anywhere from 6 to 19 percent.

On commercial vehicles, there will be an average increase of 12% on public liability and property damage and a decrease of approximately 10% on collision and allied coverages.

Meetings of the local Chess Club have been suspended until January 8, at which time a new qualification tournament will start, it was announced by Darrell Totten.

WOLVES RAP RICHFIELD 64-41; HIGGASON SCORES 18 COUNTERS

By Mike O'Callaghan

The Wolves turned on the heat last Friday evening and sent their second Utah team away licking its wounds. Richfield, Utah, featuring rangy Stan Ashby, towered over the local lads. The Wolves were not impressed with their opponents and proceeded to give them a sound thrashing.

Mike Casey, of Richfield, opened the scoring with a clean shot from the corner. Basic's Rick Patton tied up the game with a hook-shot only to have the Richfield center, Ashby, tip in a rebound for a two-point lead.

After Ashby's tip-in the roof fell in as Dennis Froom scored rapidly with three nice one-handed shots when in the air. When Froom's smoke till hung heavy in the air the score read 8-4 in favor of Basic and the visitors from Utah failed to see daylight the remainder of the game.

Wayne Higgason kept up his scoring pace by hitting six times from the field and an equal amount of times from the free-throw line. Froom scored four times from the field and four times from the free-throw line. Both lads cored the same amount of points they had two nights previous when playing against the Dixie Flyers from St. George, Utah.

The big difference displayed Friday night, as compared to the previous night, was the proper functioning of the full court press on defense. The visitors were rattled to the point that the referee tired himself by climbing up on the gym stage to retrieve the ball after wild passes.

Ten Basic players contributed points to the scoring column and the reserves outscored the visitors during the final stanza of the game. Coach Lunt cleaned the bench in the fourth quarter and every player saw action before the evening had ended. Marlow Williams entered the game during the final quarter and showed excellent timing as he stole the ball from the visitors seven times in four minutes.

Paul Hornyak and Rick Patton scored in every quarter they played. Patton started the Basic scoring by dropping in a field goal at the beginning of the first three quarters.

Kirby Trumbo started the game, but was removed during the first quarter as he chalked up three personal fouls in the first five minutes. A full court press invites fouls and Trumbo carried the game to his opponents. Larry Wade relieved Trumbo and finished the scoring in the first quarter with a nine one-hander.

The Wolves hit twenty-two times from the field and clicked twenty times from the free-throw line. Richfield hit sixteen times from the field and dropped in nine of their twenty free-throw attempts. A blistering 44 per cent from the court during the second half told the story for the Wolves. Leading by quarter scores of 13-9, 15-11, 21-11, and 15-10, the Wolves built up a final lead of 23 points.

Stan Ashby, Richfield's 6-5 center, lead the visitors with 15 points as he hit six times under the basket and thrice from the free-throw line. Begody, a reserve guard, kept the Utah team in the game during the final quarter as he hit three nice set shots from out on the court.

Hilda Bradwell, Herschel Perryman Married In Baptist Church Rites

Miss Hilda Fay Bradwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Bradwell, and Herschel Larry Perryman, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel L. Perryman, pioneer residents of Pittman, were married on Friday evening, December 5, at the Southern Baptist Church in Victory Village. The Reverend Virgil F. Clubb officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father before an altar decorated with autumn flowers and candelabra holding lighted tapers.

She was dressed in a ballerina length gown of lace over satin with full skirt, fitted bodice and cap sleeves. Her shoulder length veil was held in place by a band of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of pink rose buds surrounded by white carnations and tied with white satin streamers.

Attending the bride, as matron of honor, was Yvonne Wilson, sister of the bride. She was dressed in a ballerina length gown of blue lace over satin with matching accessories and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and silver leaves. Steve Sendlein, lifetime friend of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Mrs. Bradwell chose a black dinner dress with pink accessories for her daughter's wedding and wore a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Perryman, mother of the bridegroom, wore a black and white dinner dress with white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the Pittman Community Center with approximately 75 guests in attendance.

The serving table was covered with a white damask cloth and centered with a two tiered colonnaded wedding cake. The room was decorated with pink and white pompons which spelled out the name of the bride and bridegroom.

Mrs. I. W. Cramer, grandmother of the groom, presided at the serving table and Mrs. Bradwell was in charge of the guest book.

Out-of-town guests attending were Mrs. I. W. Cramer, grandmother of the bridegroom from Rangley, Colorado, and James Yoeman, nephew of the bridegroom from San Jose, California.

Following a honeymoon of secret destination the young couple will make their home in Pittman.

The bride is a Junior student at Basic High School. Her husband also attended Basic High School and was graduated with the class of 1958. He is presently employed as a plumber in Las Timely Campus Quiz Is Guide For Gift Watch Purchases . . .

Nine out of ten high school and college students proudly displaying new watches on the campus this Fall will have received them as gifts. But for parents and others who want to present the teen-ager with this timely symbol of maturity and success, the choice is not easy. The campus crowd has distinct watch tastes in such diverse areas as style, design and functionalism. And, as can be expected, there is a complete meeting of male and female minds in only a few areas.

Choosing a watch that is most likely to succeed with one of the diploma set, is no game of chance, according to Miss Bettye Miller, Fashion Promotion Manager of the Hamilton Watch Company.

Hamilton recently completed a nationwide survey to determine watch preferences among students of 17 years and older. The young people interviewed, incidentally, were all school leaders whose interests included athletics, student government, editorial work, as well as club and committee work.

According to this campus test, young men have a uniformly marked penchant for round-faced watches that are somewhat dressy, rather than severe and tailored. The distaff side, on the other hand, is more individualistic. No one watch style is a favorite. Their choices run the gamut from most casual to most sophisticated models — however, all agree that a small, feminine-looking watch is preferred at all times.

Another major factor to consider when selecting a gift watch is the attachment. Here again, young people showed conclusive tastes. If the honor student on your list is male, then by all means choose a watch with an expansion bracelet. For over 69% of those tested preferred them. Another 28%, incidentally, chose a coordinated strap. If you leave it to the girls, either an attractive band or expansion bracelet will be acceptable: for 30.2% selected the former, and 39.6% the latter.

Let color-consciousness be your guide in picking a watch for a young person. The Hamilton Watch findings showed that most young men wanted a yellow gold model. Stainless steel is second choice, ahead of white gold. For young women, white gold watches wind up first, closely followed by yellow gold. Stainless steel isn't even "in the running."

The inner workings of a watch also are of interest to graduates. Both sexes, for instance, emphatically prefer a shock-resistant, waterproof model that will stand up to wear and tear. And men find a self-winding watch with a sweep-second hand most to their liking. A sure choice is one of Hamilton's exclusive electric watches, states Miss Miller.

ODDLY ENOUGH by WALDMAN

Cyrus, king of all Persia, found his chariots were faster and quieter when animal fat was put on the axles. He also had sharp scythes fitted to the axles to clip off the legs of the enemy when riding in battle.

For years the natives of India refused to grease the axles of their carts because the animal fat they used was contrary to their religious principles. Of course, the dry hubs created a terrible noise whenever the cart was in use.

Just recently a revolutionary new concept in lubricants was introduced to U.S. motorists. Moly Grease when applied to the chassis of cars, produces dramatic reduction in wear of parts, shimmying, and squeaky noises — makes for easier steering, too.

ALL ABOUT BIRDS by WALDMAN

THE DOVE

The dove has come to symbolize peace because it was the bird sent out by Noah to see whether the flood had subsided. When it returned, bearing an olive leaf, Noah knew that land had once again appeared on the face of the earth.

Aphrodite, the Greek Goddess of Love, held the dove sacred. Hence, to this day, the identification of the dove with love and our phrase, "billing and cooing."

The modern woman knows that a dove stands for beauty, for it's the symbol on every gold and blue box of Dove, the new sculptured beauty bar that contains one-quarter cleansing cream.

Chemical Film In Lake Mead Would
Save 800,000 Acre-Feet Of Water
Lost Annually Thru Evaporation

Each year 800,000 or more acre-feet of water — or enough to supply 4-million people, is lost by evaporation from the 250 square mile surface of Lake Mead.

It is quite possible that within a few years, a film one-millionth of an inch thick, of an oily substance known as hexadecanol will be floated on the surface of the lake to save this water which is so badly needed in our hot, dry southwestern area.

The long western drought of 1951-57 gave impetus to the study of preventing evaporation. Southwest Research Institute of San Antonio, Texas, made some pilot studies which were picked up and expanded by public agencies.

Among those now participating, either as principals or co-operators, are the Bureau of Reclamation, the Geological Survey, the Public Health Service, the State and City of Oklahoma, the city of Denver and the U.S. Air Force.

Grant Bloodgood, assistant United States commissioner of reclamation and chief engineer of the bureau's big center at Denver, is chairman of an inter-agency committee which is reviewing the three years of experiments.

These began in the bureau's Denver laboratories, were conducted through 1957 and early 1958 on irrigation leaks in Colorado and on Denver's Ralston Reservoir, and finally moved to Lake Hefner, the 2,500-acre water-supply reservoir and recreation lake of Oklahoma City.

Lake Hefner was chosen because it has been studied for a long time and its "water budget" or inflow and outflow has been determined so well that savings through evaporation control could be closely measured.

This is the largest body of water to be covered consistently with the "hexy" film. Participants noted some amazing effects. If filming becomes general, all motorboat records may go by the boards. The Oklahoma boaters made unheard-of speeds. The film smooths out the little waves and creates a glassy surface, ideal for speed.

Onlookers noted fish looking up at the light in a puzzled way. The film changes the refraction index at the surface, and also the reflection. In fact, about the only way he can "see" this invisibly thin film is by reflection.

How can so thin a film, less than a millionth of an inch thick, do anything to prevent evaporation, especially as the Chief of Police Geo. Crisler is not selling insurance, but he is selling motorists on the idea that the best insurance against a traffic accident under hazardous winter driving conditions is reduced speed. Slippery streets increase stopping distances, even for cars equipped with good tires. No matter how well equipped a car may be, it is not protected from a collision if the driver is speeding.

Modern Aids to Better Health
by George Friedman M.D.

Why Your Children Need Vitamins
New York — Parents often wonder whether vitamin supplements for their children are really necessary. In my opinion, the answer is definitely "yes." Many children do not like the taste of most leafy green vegetables, yellow vegetables, or fish. Others refuse to eat eggs, cheese or dried fruit. Still others do not eat enough to supply the needs of an active, growing body.

Where then can the growing child obtain these essential elements that are necessary for healthy bone and tissue growth? The answer is in his daily dose of vitamins. Vitamins are needed by the body to regulate the use of starches, fats and proteins and help convert them into sound tissue and energy. Minerals, such as those found in meat, poultry, fish and dairy products form the essential elements of bony structure, cell constituents and act as regulators of the acid-alkaline balance of the body. Diet Not Enough

Too often, even if all the necessary foods are available, the vitamin-mineral content of them may be lost or altered by over-cooking, faulty methods of preparation and storage. Good health is largely dependent upon what we eat. While it is true that diseases caused by severe vitamin deficiency such as scurvy, beriberi, or rickets are comparatively rare in our country today, the symptoms of low-grade or early vitamin deficiency are not infrequent. A daily dose of vitamins is one good way to make sure that your entire family, especially the youngsters, are fully protected. Most infants, those ranging in age from birth to two years, have no difficulty taking the drops or liquids prescribed by their pediatrician. It is only when the youngster gets a little older, say about 2, and begins to make his objections loud and strenuous that the administration of his daily vitamin dose becomes a problem. And it remains a problem until he is 5 or 6 and is able to swallow tablets without choking.

THINGS ARE LOOKING UP for this little Miss, a post-polio patient at a Sister Elizabeth Kenny foundation treatment and rehabilitation center. Thousands of boys, girls and adults, too, are leading normal, useful, happy lives after having received Kenny treatment for polio. The same Kenny treatment which helped polio patients is being found beneficial in the treatment and rehabilitation of those with other neuromuscular disabilities. Kenny treatment and rehabilitation are made possible as result of generous public contributions to Kenny fund appeals.

The Kenny foundation provides the full Kenny Treatment, under medical supervision. Since Kenny medical and treatment techniques, used for polio cases, have proven beneficial in the treatment and rehabilitation for other crippling disorders, the Kenny foundation is continuing and expanding its services to include thousands of unfortunate victims of other neuromuscular diseases and disorders.

Traffic Board Ideas Bring Safety Installations, St. Improvements

Many improvements to our streets will be inaugurated as a result of the City Council's vote to approve recommendations of the Traffic Advisory Board at Monday's meeting.

The existing service on Vegas Wash Road will be continued between Carver Park and Manganese Park and will connect with the service road in front of the Standard Service station, making it possible for residents of this area to visit Market Town without traveling on Boulder Highway. Streets in Manganese Park will be marked with stop signs where they enter the access road.

All present school crossings on Vegas Wash Road will be eliminated with only one crossing at Cholla Street. This crossing will be appropriately marked by the State Highway Department.

Pedestrian crossings on Vegas Wash Road will be established at Ivy Street and at the entrance to Victory Village.

Twenty mile speed limit signs will be placed on the access road in front of Manganese Park and Carver Park.

The long school zone on Boulder Highway in front of St. Peter's Parochial School will be eliminated and school crossings, such as those in Whitney will be installed at two different points. These will be rigidly controlled.

The crossing at Minor Street will be moved to Major Avenue and this will be properly lighted. Major Avenue will be continued along the B.M.L. water line easement which follows the section line of section four. It will cross Vegas Wash Road and continue into the desert.

The Park Village School road will be extended to connect with the Major Avenue extension and will pass Park Village School on both sides and also pass the new City Park on each side.

All of these improvements have already received the approval of the State Highway Department and it is expected that work will soon be underway on all except the Major Avenue extension.

This work awaits a field survey which will be done as soon as one of the city survey crews can be released from work on Assessment District A.D. 300, which is now 80 percent completed.

The Polk Construction Company has been at work for the past six weeks reactivating the gravel pit behind Valley View. This company will also install a ready-mix plant and hot mix plant and as the Major Avenue extension is of primary interest to them for access to their plant, company officials have agreed to rough in the road and possibly pave it if the city will lay out the survey.

There's Something New In The Air

The air around us — hardly noticed for the most part as we move through our daily rounds — has achieved new status.

This paragraph was not written about the air in Henderson, Nevada — but about Washington, D. C. — although our air has also achieved something new, though we'd hardly call it "status."

Have you noticed this new element? To some it is reminiscent of spoiled cabbage — others liken it to over-ripe garlic — and yet others hurry into the house to see what kind of food is burning.

One thousand people met recently in our nation's capital to talk about air and how to make or keep it clean and as a result of this meeting we may find the answer to our own "smog and smell" problem.

The nation-wide conference called by the United States Public Health Service has been useful in bringing together those individuals and institutions best able to shed light on the problem of air pollution.

One of the immediate results of the conference should be to broaden public support of what local and regional bodies are doing in this field and a sharpening of the public image of the roles to be played by the government at the federal and other levels, and by civic and industrial groups interested in a more habitable atmosphere.

Automobile makers recognize the fact that automobile exhaust fumes contribute largely to air pollution in cities and they are spending a million dollars a year

EAGLES AUX. QUILT RAFFLE

A very pretty handmade quilt in an "All State Flower" design will be raffled by the F.O.E. Auxiliary at a public drawing on December 22nd at 6 p.m. Members of the Auxiliary co-operated in making the quilt which is now on display at the A and C Merchandise Mart.

Donations are 25c each or five for $1 — and tickets may be obtained from Kathy Weese, 18 Nevada Way, ph. 4-3594, Jane Yeager, 14 E. Texas, ph. 4-5973, or any Auxiliary member.

in research for ways to reduce the nuisance.

A question, however, was raised at the conference as to whether the industry is doing its full share. City officials, having done what they can to curb other types of fumes are looking to Detroit for more vigorous action.

Continued action by local governments and Washington is also needed. The Air Pollution and Control Act, under which the government is spending $25,000,000 for research will expire in 1960.

Consideration should also be given at local and regional levels as to whether, on the basis of what is now known, more can be done to set up reasonable controls and firmly enforce them.

XMAS PARTY TOMORROW

The Emera Club will hold its annual Christmas gift exchange party in conjunction with the regular business meeting tomorrow night at 8 p.m.

Members are asked to bring their White Christmas food gifts to the meeting. All Eastern Stars are cordially invited to attend. The value of gifts for the exchange is limited to $1.

JUDGE TREEM RESIGNS POST AS COUNTY LAND APPRAISER

Municipal Judge George Treem has resigned his position as Chief Land Appraiser for Clark County and after the first of the year will devote his entire time to the duties of Municipal Judge and Justice of the Peace.

Judge Treem has been employed by Clark County since resigning his post as Administrative Officer for the City of Henderson, and has worked under County Assessor James Bilbray. His resignation became effective on Monday, December 15.

In his position as Municipal Judge, Treem also serves as Coroner and Aubrey Pagan, who was appointed Deputy Coroner by the late Judge Charles Dohrenwend, has continued to serve with Treem, who was appointed to serve during Judge Dohrenwend's uncompleted term of office.

Mayor Bill Byrne reports that after the first of January, Treem will have the privilege of appointing another deputy, if he so desires, or retaining Pagan in this capacity.

Judge Treem told the HOME NEWS that he has not yet decided whether he will retain Pagan as deputy or appoint another person for this duty.

HAS ANYONE HERE SEEN FELECIA

Missing since Sunday from the Gerald Oakley household at 66 Magnesium is a black and white part spaniel, female puppy. The puppy, four months old and described as "real cute" answers to the name "Felicia."

She was last seen about 8:30 Sunday morning when a neighbor noticed her on the streets, and all efforts to trace her, including enquiry at the Pound, have so far been unsuccessful.

Felicia is sadly missed by both the Oakley children, Debbie and Keith; Debbie, aged 2½, is particularly distressed over the missing pet, asks about her constantly and goes out to search for her at every opportunity. So if anyone knows anything as to the whereabouts of the animal, please contact the owners at the above address, phone 4-7253, and help give two tots the Christmas gift they want most.

Frank Barrett To Enjoy Xmas Reunion In Iowa

Chief Sanitarian Frank Barrett will leave by plane on December 24, for Dunlap, Iowa, where he will spend the first Christmas in five years with his mother, Mrs. Margaret Barrett.

A family reunion will be held to celebrate the occasion with all of Mrs. Barrett's children planning to attend.

A son, Robert, and a daughter, Ruth, reside with their mother in Dunlap.

Others who will be present at the reunion are Mortimer Barrett of Tulsa, Oklahoma; Rose Barrett of Pomona, California; and Mrs. Phyllis Grady of Washington, D.C.

Frank Barrett plans to spend two weeks in Iowa while enjoying his annual vacation from City Hall.

MRS. CHAS WARD WINS RAINBOW GIRLS DRAWING

Mrs. Charles Ward of 42 Magnesium Street was the winner of an electric blanket on which tickets were sold as a project of the Rainbow Girls.

The drawing was held at the regular meeting of the group on Tuesday evening.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Morry:

What is Henderson coming to? Now it is a public nuisance to cater to kids. Aren't the kids supposed to have a place where they are welcome?

Most every other city has a place where kids congregate. There wasn't a public place in Henderson where the kids were welcome to congregate—inside—where they could sit down, before the Wolves' Den. This was the main reason for starting it.

Is it better to have them inside, under bright lights where some adult can keep an eye on them, or in parked, dark cars—on street corners and in alleys? I KNOW how this place is operated—if the kids misbehave, they are ordered out of the place and not allowed back in until they promise to behave.

There is no swearing. No cigarettes are sold. I've had kids tell me that having a place to hang out has kept them OUT of trouble.

To run a place like 'his takes lots of patience, hard work, and understanding of kids.

Street Design Reaches Halfway Mark, Work To Start In June

Work on the construction of streets in Assessment District A. D. 300 will probably start in June, the HOME NEWS learned yesterday.

Bob Wilkerson, secretary treasurer of Koebig and Koebig and Hugh Stites, project engineer who are working on our paving project in A.D. 300, have been in the city for the past two days to meet with the city staff and coordinate the efforts on the project.

Koebig, and Koebig who are designing the streets have now passed the halfway mark, in this phase of the work, and the field survey, which is being made by the City's Engineering Department is reported to be 80 percent completed.

As the field survey on each of the streets in the assessment district is completed, the field notes are sent to Koebig, and Koebig and from these the firm prepares the design for the streets.

Wilkerson yesterday told the HOME NEWS that, judging from results to date, the design for the streets should be completed on or before March 15.

Following the completion of the engineering designs and their approval by the City Council, 60 days will be required for advertising and getting in bids for the work before actual work on the streets can be started, which will probably be sometime in May.

It is not known exactly how much time will be required for the construction of the streets, but due to having to keep the streets open for traffic, the work will be somewhat slower than it would in a new subdivision and may require an entire year.

Around The World In 80 Seconds

Far be it from me to tell you what to read, how to read, when to read—but may we lead this column be a sort of a check list for you in helping you keep up with what's going on in the outside world.

The events of the world are too great, too important, too interesting for you and I to let pass by. At the least it makes the most fascinating reading.

So—may I present the following summaries of important world stories—and we'll do this from time to time until the daily papers realize it is their job to do that and our job to bring you the community news.

Let's call it—"Around the World in 80 Seconds" (reading time that is).

England
Sir William Roote, chairman of Britain's Dollar Export Council, has announced plans for a British trade exhibition in New York in June, 1960.

He said it would be the first comprehensive all-British exhibition ever held in the United States.

Geneva
It is welcome news that agreement has been reached on the first big section of an atomic testing ban treaty. The word from Geneva comes after a month of stalemate among British, Russian, and American negotiators.

Iraq
The situation in Iraq becomes daily more disturbing. The revolutionary regime of Brigadier Abdel Karim Kassem seems to be depending increasingly on internal Communist support—though nobody suggests that Premier Kassem is either Communist or even pro-Communist.

New York
A possibility that electric power could replace the internal combustion engine in automobiles is cited by Lockheed Aircraft Corporation in its disclosure of the development of a fuel cell that converts chemical energy directly into electrical energy.

The development, reported by Business Week magazine, states that time after time the cell has produced electricity with an energy conversion factor of almost 70 per cent, with a fuel utilization of 100 per cent. This high conversion factor compares with a mere 35 per cent for steam engines, and even less for internal combustion engines, the magazine notes.

The Soviet Union is taking gigantic strides in civil aviation. If the pace of the past two years continues, it will become the biggest aviation nation in the world within five years at the outside.

Three years ago it was easy to assess Soviet civil aviation as being 20 years behind that of the West. At that time I flew 4,000 miles on Soviet airplanes in the Soviet Union and its satellites.

The number of pupils in American schools studying any foreign language is a small fraction of the comparable figure for the Soviet Union.

Recent Soviet statistics say that in the U.S.S.R. during the school year 1956-57 about 12 million students in grades 5 through 10 were enrolled in foreign language classes.

Indonesia
Communism in Indonesia today is meeting with toughened resistance, especially from the Indonesian Army, now exercising an unprecedented degree of control in administrative affairs since the country is under martial law, with a miniature civil war still uncompleted.

Washington
A couple of political gauntlets have been thrown into the arena here.

The Eisenhower administration tossed the gage of economy in front of the victorious Democrats and is daring them to pick it up.

Simultaneously the Democratic majority has thrown down the gauntlet to southern segregationists and is daring them to bolt the party.

Normally after an election a temporary honeymoon interval occurs in which there is a relaxation of political tension. Just the reverse seems to be true to

Cordill Saves Byrne 1000 Jolts On Eldorado Inspection Tour

Bob Cordill, our City Engineer, had an interesting trip on Tuesday in a Dodge Power Wagon, in which he was conducted on a tour of Eldorado Valley. Some rather rough terrain was negotiated and Cordill, who was pinch hitting for Mayor Byrne has estimated on his slide rule that he probably saved the Mayor 1000 jolts (not volts) by taking his place.

The purpose of the tour, which was conducted by representatives of the Eldorado Valley Project and the Bureau of Land Management, was to delete from the proposed industrial development area, set aside by Congress, lands that are mountainous and occupied by mining claims and generally unsuitable for industrial purposes.

There are some 21 sections of land involved, two sections in the northwesterly part of the area and 19 in the Nelson Mts., in the southeasterly portion. It was the opinion of the group present that the recommendations of the Bureau engineers should be followed and formally adopted.

Eldorado Valley Committee Have Map Of Proposed Project

At a recent meeting of the Eldorado Valley Advisory Group it was announced that a supply of 8½x11 colored maps of the proposed project had been printed and are available to anyone desiring them.

Secretary of the Group, Mr. A. T. Newell, announced that the Bureau of Land Management now has two representatives doing field checking on mining claims in the valley area and that there appear to be several claims and prospects not on record.

These claims will be further examined by the Bureau of Land Management and members of the Advisory Group to see if there is any infringement on the proposed valley area or if deletions can be made without adversely affecting the value of the proposed area.

It was announced by the Advisory Group that the Colorado River Commission is proceeding with the further study of the valley area and had requested our Washington delegation for assistance on some points involved.

ROSCH RECEIVES TWO TITLES; CLEMENTS AND WEIR HONORED AT ANNUAL FOOTBALL BANQUET

The large crowd at the Football and Cheerleader Banquet witnessed Dennis Rosch receiving the Outstanding Back Award and being named co-captain for the past season. Rosch, Southern Nevada's leading passer and quarterback for the Wolves, was pointed out as a leader and field general of the highest calibre.

Ordinarily the Wolves select one captain for the season they have completed as each game has co-captains selected for their performance in previous games. This year the team selected Dave Weir and Rosch as co-captains for the 1958 club. Weir, an inspiration in the line, was outstanding throughout the season.

John Clements was selected as the Outstanding Lineman for the 1958 season. Clements held down the tackle position for the Wolves during the past season.

The Banquet, sponsored by the Elks and Does of Lodge 1956, was opened with a prayer by Monsignor Moran. MC Bill Mainor and Lloyd Fields organized the banquet and it's success will result in it becoming an annual affair.

John Dooley, Basic High School principal, spoke on the day.

Bombay
The Soviet Union's economic offensive in India, which recently has been overshadowed by the Western world's massive new aid programs, is shifting emphasis now from aid to trade.

A month after the announcement that four Western nations and Japan would advance 350 million dollars toward the completion of this country's Second Five-Year Plan—to be followed by more when needed—Moscow announced the signing of a five-year trade pact, giving India most-favored-nation treatment and establishing a clearing procedure which will make unnecessary the conversion of Indian rupees, the currency in which all payment is to be made.

SAFeway HOLDS FREE DRAWING TODAY TOMORROW AND SAT.

Safeway Store on Boulder Highway will hold a free drawing today, tomorrow and Saturday.

Prizes will be your choice of turkeys, assorted fruit baskets, fruit cakes and candy. Tickets will be given at each of the check stands by the cashier.

The drawing for Thursday winners will be posted in the store on Friday; Friday winners will be posted on Saturday, winners will be posted on Sunday. After each day's drawing, tickets for that day will be destroyed and new tickets will be given out on the following day.

AAUW MONEY TREE — Members of the American Association of University Women are shown adding to the decorations on a money tree which is being used to raise funds for the national building project. Shown, left to right, at the annual Christmas meeting of the local branch are Mrs. Gilbert Allsebrook, Mrs. Edward Moore and State AAUW President Mrs. Wm. Darling, Jr. — Woodruff Photo.

MR. AND MRS. ROY L. HUGHES are shown following their December 1, wedding at the Little Church of the West. The bride is the former Patricia Anderson. The young couple, both graduates of Basic High School, will make their home at Moore's Trailer Park in Boulder City.

FOUR SQUARE CHURCH
The 4 Square Neighborhood Church will hold a special Christmas service on Sunday evening at 7:30. A Christmas program, entitled "The Meaning of Christmas," will be presented. The program will be under the direction of Mrs. James Tuckness. Treats for the children will be distributed and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Pastor of the church is the Reverend James Tuckness.

Kenny Foundation Co-Sponsors Live Polio Vaccine Test

Minneapolis, Minn.—Financed in part by a grant from the Sister Elizabeth Kenny foundation, a test of "tamed" live virus polio vaccine, administered orally in capsule form or in infants' formula, is currently being conducted by the state of Minnesota, according to Dr. E. J. Huenekens, national medical director.

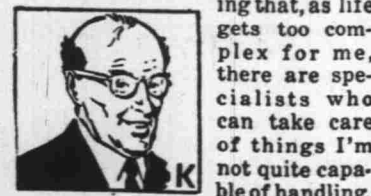

Participants in the test, results of which will be evaluated in 1959, include a majority of 1,400 residents of University of Minnesota village, near the campus here. Co-sponsor of the project is Lederle Laboratories, Pearl River, N. Y.

The Pan-American Sanitary bureau, a branch of the World Health Organization, also is using the oral polio vaccine in tests in Central and South America. A severe polio outbreak in Columbia last spring resulted in a program of oral vaccine administration to both children and adults throughout that stricken South American country.

Dr. Mauricio da Silva, formerly on the Elizabeth Kenny institute staff in Minneapolis and University of Minnesota assistant professor of pediatrics, now a special polio consultant with the Pan-American Sanitary bureau, helped plan the Latin American vaccine trials and is medical supervisor of the study. The oral vaccine against each of the three types of polio is given at three-week intervals. It is considered capable of conferring long-lasting immunity against polio without booster doses. Grownups take the vaccine in capsule form. For infants and small children, the capsule is opened and the contents stirred into a spoonful of jam or liquid.

HORSEPOWER HORSE SENSE
by DUDLEY WILKENS

Does it ever seem to you that life's becoming too complicated? Well, it sometimes seems that way to me—but I always comfort myself by thinking that, as life gets too complex for me, there are specialists who can take care of things I'm not quite capable of handling.

My automobile, for example. Time was when a man could lift the hood of any car, tinker with it, kick it and coax it, and have it run perfectly. But the modern auto is complicated—and requires a specialist to take care of it.

How many people would even attempt to correct the kinks in an automatic transmission, or reline the power brakes? Or take up the excessive play in the power steering mechanism?

Not many, I'll bet. But the comforting thought is that, as your car has become more complex, your auto mechanic has become a real professional—a kind of a "doctor" of autos.

He can not only correct your automobile's faults, he can prevent trouble from happening. This takes real training and study on his part. There's more to what he does than just aptitude; what he has to learn is every bit as complicated as your automobile.

Give him credit; he's a specialist... a true "pro". And you can rely on him to take care of your car just as you rely on your doctor to soothe the kinks in your body.

Betty Wagner Elected President At B.P.O. Does Christmas Meeting

At the annual election of officers, held by the B.P.O. Does, Drove 135, on December 4, Betty Wagner, who has served as secretary of the Drove since its organization in 1956, was elected president.

Prior to the organization of the local Drove, Mrs. Wagner was a member of Boulder City Drove 34, where she also served as secretary for two years, dimitting here when the local Drove was organized.

Officers who were elected to serve with Mrs. Wagner were: Kay Dawson, First Counselor; Dorothy Drennen, Senior Counselor; Louise Knepper, Junior Counselor; Margie Forshee, Secretary; Ruth Chiddix, Treasurer; Helen Pantuso, Conductor; Sally Vanhorne, inner guard and Alice Bates, outer guard.

Appointive officers, selected by the new president to serve during 1959, are: Assistant Conductor, Toni Carter; Chaplain, Madolyn Harris; musician, Ethel Jilbert; historian, Mary Dooley; parliamentarian, Laxon Fields; color bearers, Gladys Bouska, Jean Plamond, Nelli Kinsley and Leslie McDonald; attendants, Melba Elliott, Beulah Peck, Flossie Norris and Ann Peak.

Following the meeting, a Christmas party was held. President Elayne Mitzel presented her officers with gifts and each member brought a gift for one of the eleven needy children who have been "adopted" by the

DEAR MARCIE

By Marcella Duncan
 Dear Marcie:
 I failed in my first attempt to balance our budget. But doesn't everyone get a second chance?
 My husband says if I failed once I'll fail a second time too. What kind of logic is this?
Dear Logical:
 To begin with, there's nothing "logical" about a husband who likes to play "Mr. Big." Even the federal government (with all its experts who cannot balance the budget) gets a second chance — and many more too!
 Have you explained to your husband that costs of everything keep rising, while his salary undoubtedly remains status quo?
 On second thought, don't bother him for a second chance. Let him balance the budget — or try to — for one month! He thinks he'll be more than happy to "eat crow," and "humble pie" too, not to speak of giving you your old job back again, as handler of the "ex-chequer."
Dear Marcie:
 What do you do with a wife who won't cook meals on time, or not at all if she can help it? She is a good wife most of the time otherwise. She agrees it's wrong, but she won't change.

Mis-Treated
 P.S. She won't sew on buttons or mend my clothes either unless I remind her two or three times.
Dear Mis-Treated:
 Learn to cook in self-defense! You'll not only feel better, calorically speaking, but you'll also be surprised to find that it's a most interesting hobby. Teach yourself to sew too — in other words, be a "do-it-yourself" man. This will undoubtedly shame the little woman into doing things for you on time again!
Dear Marcie:
 What do you do with a husband who is constantly using vulgar and unfit language around his family, and who is familiar with his wife in public? I was brought up in a home where vulgar language and angry slaps were hurled and I know what a damaging effect it can have on children. I can't permit my family to go through the same thing. He knows it's wrong, but still he does it. Otherwise, he is a wonderful husband in every way. I want to help him stop this if I can.
Unnerved
Dear Unnerved:
 If everything else has failed, try using the same language — but only in front of him, of course! (This may sound a bit drastic, and be against your religious principles, but it'll work — so it may be worth it for a week or so.) The sound of his wife using unfit language will make him change but pronto!
 As for familiarity in public, this is first and foremost the worst kind of social horror. There is a time and place for everything! Tell the "little boy" that his immaturity is showing. That'll get him!
 Do you have a problem? Marcella Duncan will be happy to help you if you will write to her in care of this paper. A stamped, self-addressed envelope will bring a personal reply.

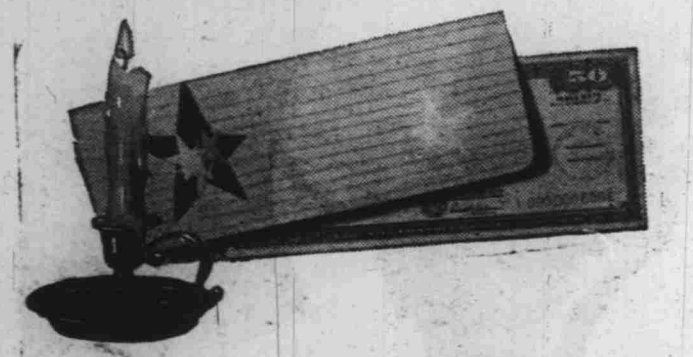

I COVER THE DESERT

By MERT INGHAM
 During this Christmas period, what animals do we think of first? Generally, the burro, or ass as he was called in the Old World, that carried Mary to the site of Jesus' birth, and the camels which brought the wise men to the manger.
 The camel pictured above is not like the ones we see in pictures of the nativity scene or in the zoo, for he lived some ten million years before the birth of Christ.
 Where did he live? He lived right here in the great basin region of North America. Palaeontologists, those who study ancient animals from their bones and fossils, have reconstructed the animal for us. At that time this was apparently a region of lakes. Many camels left their footprints and bones in the muds around the edge of the lakes. This mud has now turned to stone and the footprints and bones are being uncovered by erosion of the land.
 Much later, climates changed and the camel disappeared from North America. In Asia the camel gradually changed into what we know him as today.
 During the 1850's, Secretary of the Army Jefferson Davis was studying the transportation problem in our deserts. He came across the idea of the camel, and thirty-three were imported into this country. In 1857 Lt. Beale began a trek from Fort Defiance, New Mexico, to Fort Mohave, just downstream from Katherine, in what is now the Lake Mead National Recreation Area. Although the camels apparently had little difficulty, the project was not popular and it was dropped, so that today in the United States we find camels only in zoos.

Give a gift of Peace this Christmas —

Of course, you can't just walk into a store and ask for a package of peace, gift-wrapped. But you can buy Bonds, gift-wrapped, here at our bank. And they help pay for peace.
 Peace costs money. Money for industrial and military strength to keep the peace. Money for science and education to help make peace lasting. And money saved by individuals to help make our economy strong.
 Every U. S. Savings Bond you give this Christmas will help strengthen America's Peace Power. Think it over. You couldn't give a better gift!
 P.S. And while you're "Shopping" at our bank, ask about our other services too — Christmas and vacation clubs . . . checking and savings accounts . . . safety deposit boxes and many more.

Vallier and Ketchum Dance Studios Present Nutcracker Suite Ballet

An array of talented youngsters will be introduced on December 23, when dance students of the aVllier Dance Studio aided by the students of Margaret E. Ketchum from Las Vegas and Boulder City present the Nutcracker Suite Ballet by Tchaikovsky, in the Basic High School Multipurpose Room at 7:30 p.m.
 Choreography by Margaret E. Ketchum, designed to accommodate the limited talents of the tiniest dancer and yet maintain the dignity and beauty of the classical ballet through the extensive talents of the man advanced students participating, gives promise of an evening of fine entertainment for the entire family.
 This tender Christmas story. Ballet portrays the heartbreak of a little girl when her favorite toy is deliberately smashed by a thoughtless playmate. However, all is righted when the Nutcracker Prince arrives and escorts the little girl to the land of the Sugar Plum fairy where she is royally entertained by the dances of visitors from many lands.
 Niki Felker graces the role of the little girl, and Bebra Winingham dances the intricate part of the playmate. Vernon Reid stars as the Nutcracker Prince.
 Patricia Espinoza dances the leading role of the hostess at the Christmas party of the first act; Terry uKtcher and La Rae Pinkerton perform difficult toe solos as the Chinese dancer and the Arabian dancer respectively.

Pfeiffer, Becky Linck, Kathy Hunter, Judy Allen, Charlene Williams, Bonnie Astroff, Dameron Stoddard, Gaye Batty, Janice Larson, Ann eKpic, Ronatta Strahan, Janice Hanweck, Beverly Jane Twers, Ruth Ann Schroeder, Mardee Clark, Cheryl Cline, Linda Ray, Carmen Alvarez, Susan Nicholson, Leslie Gay Starten, Connie Lee Bryan, Gregory Starten, Peggy Farmer and Maria McKenna.
 There will be no admission charge, and a cordial invitation to attend is extended to the many persons interested in student dance productions.
 Any one of the four deck-edge elevators on the Navy's newest aircraft carrier USS Independence, could hold two suburban lots complete with homes

Patricia Anderson, R. L. Hugues Wed At Little Church Of West

Tall, slender, white tapers in branched candelabra and baskets of autumn-hued chrysanthemums provided the setting as Patricia Anderson and Roy Lee Hugues recited double-ring marriage vows, December 1, in the Little Church of the West, before the Reverend Thomas Daly of the Lutheran Church of Las Vegas.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ira E. Anderson of 106 Cholla Street, Manganese Park, while the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Garner of 5208 East Bonanza Road of Las Vegas.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a ballerina length gown of Chantilly lace for her wedding. It was fashioned with a full skirt cascading over candlelight taffeta and net. The fitted bodice featured long tapered sleeves and a Peter Pan collar.

A coronet of lace held her shoulder length veil of bridal illusion edged with embroidered lace. She carried an old-fashioned nosegay of white carnations and talisman roses centered with a blue bird of happiness and tied with white satin streamers.

Mail of honor, Miss Patricia Raduziner, 461 East Griffith Street, Las Vegas, and friend of the bride, chose a ming-blue and sea green floral chiffon ballerina length gown. She carried a half-moon shaped corsage of white carnations with gold net and satin streamers.

The mother of the bride chose her daughter's wedding, a charcoal suit with pink and black accessories accented by a corsage of pink carnations, ribbon, net and touched by seed-pearl butterflies.

The bridegroom's mother chose a winter-white suit with pink accessories and complimented with a corsage identical to that of the bride's mother.

Gary Wilson, Carver Park in Henderson, cousin to the bride, served as best man.

The reception immediately following the ceremony was held in the Henderson home of the bride's parents. It was attended by eighty guests.

In traditional manner, the newly-weds cut the three-tiered wedding cake which was baked and decorated by Mrs. Albert Carter of Caldwell, Idaho. Mrs. Lewis McGinley, Mrs. Howard Hurst and Miss Gaynor Hurst presided at the serving table.

The bride attended Basic High School for two and one-half years and was a two-year member of the Desertaires.

The groom graduated from Basic High School in 1956, was a member of the Lettermen's Club, the Track Club, and a four-year member of the National Guard. He is presently employed at Worthen's Service Station at Las Vegas.

After a brief honeymoon the couple will be at home to friends in Moore's Trailer Park, Boulder City.

Out-of-town wedding guests were Mrs. Albert Carter and son Jack, friends of the couple from Caldwell, Idaho.

BPO ELKS ANNOUNCE NEW YEAR'S EVE BALL

The B.P.O. Elks Lodge 1956 will welcome 1959 with a New Year's Eve ball which will be held at the Elks Lodge from 9:30 p.m. December 31 till 2 a.m. January 1, 1959.

The ball will feature live music and traditional New Year's Eve favors. Refreshments will also be available.

The public is cordially invited to attend. Admission will be $2 per couple.

60 Service Men Visit Our City On "Get Acquainted" Area Tour

Sixty members of the Armed Forces, recently stationed at Nellis Air Force Base, Indian Springs, Angel's Peak and Lake Mead Base, visited our city recently as guests of the Southern Nevada Community Armed Services Council.

During their visit here, they were welcomed by a number of the officials of our community. City Administrator Clay Lynch spoke to them on the city; Dalby Shirley, recreation director, gave a resume of recreation facilities and the city's recreation program.

Don Cameron, student counselor at Basic High School, gave a comprehensive report on our schools, including the adult vocational courses available.

The availability and costs of housing was reported by Frank Morrell, of Gordon and Morrell Realty and the traffic situation in our city, the Boys Club and the recently opened drag strip were reviewed by Chief of Police George Crisler.

The visit to our city was a part of an area tour to introduce these young men to the area in which they will be living. The tour included Boulder Dam, Boulder City, Lake Mead, Las Vegas and North Las Vegas.

More than 1000 men of the Armed Forces have visited here during the past year and as a result, many have decided to reside here.

TREEM KIN VISIT

This coming Saturday will see Mr. Bill Shepard and his wife Norma arrive from San Francisco for a pre-holiday visit with his mother, Mrs. Harriet Treem.

They plan to remain here a few days and then go on to Palm Springs and spend Christmas with Norma's parents, who maintain a home there. Bill, like his mother, chose teaching as his profession, graduating from the University of Nevada with a degree in education, as did his wife. Both now pursue their teaching careers in San Francisco, Bill having received his Masters degree last spring.

FALLON VISITOR

Lyster Farrington came down from Fallon last week and spent a few days in town in connection with his business interests, and also took the opportunity to renew acquaintance with old friends. Farrington lived here for approximately ten years, then moved to Fallon two years ago where he operates as a distributor of farm machinery and equipment, feed, etc.

BROTHER TO VISIT

Eagerly awaited at the Rose household, 601 Burton, these days is Michel Power, brother of Mrs. Rose, who plans to spend Christmas with them; this is his usual custom and everyone has a good time, especially his young nephews and nieces. Power, who now lives in L.A., made many friends in town when he spent some months here in 1957.

Like his sister, he was associated with the Little Theater Group which is currently working on a play for children scheduled for production on December 27th.

Tentative plans are being made to stage it in the Victory Theater and everything possible is being done to ensure a thoroughly enjoyable time for the youthful audience and as a token of the Group's appreciation of the support extended them in the past. Rosemary is, of course, active in the project, her main interest being in the make-up department.

Bartis Nordloh Receives Her Nurse's Cap

Miss Bartis Nordloh was one of eight sophomore students of the University of Nevada's Orvis School of Nursing who was honored on Sunday, December 14, during an impressive convocation which has become traditional with student nurses throughout the world.

The procession, with the students carrying the symbolic lamp, began at 4 p.m. in the reception room of the Home Economics building. The student nurses gave the Florence Nightingale pledge, after which they exchanged their lamps for their caps.

"The nursing convocation marks the completion of the pre-clinical course of study," Dean Helen Gilkey said. "Combined with the religious import, it is a dedication of self."

The Navy's newest aircraft carrier USS Independence, has seven air conditioning plants (sufficient to completely air condition two Empire State Buildings.)

State President Thora Darling Speaks At AAUW Christmas Meet

Mrs. Thora Darling, State President of the American Association of University Women, was guest speaker at the AAUW meeting on Wednesday, December 10, at the home of Mrs. Gilbert Allsebrook, 19 Arizona Way, which featured the annual Christmas party of the local branch.

Mrs. Darling told of her experiences at the AAUW State Presidents' conference which she recently attended and also spoke of the need for expansion of the national headquarters.

The State President showed colored slides, illustrating the circumstances under which national business must presently be conducted, and also explained some of the activities of the AAUW leaders among congressional representatives and ways in which the organization's lobbyists promote legislation desirable for our nation.

The building fund committee displayed a Christmas tree trimmed with donations of dollar bills for the building fund. Tickets were sold for the drawing which takes place at each meeting to raise local contributions for this fund.

Members expressed regret at the prospect of losing Mrs. Helen Tao, a faithful and active member of the group for a number of years. Mrs. Tao attended for the last time as her husband has been appointed to the staff of the Chemical Engineering Department at the University of Nebraska.

The members regret her departure but wish her and her family success and progress in their new home.

Present were Meses: Robert Arkell, Jordan Brown, Rosemary Coates, Dexter McCabe, Clare McCallum, Edward X. Moore, Lyle Miller, John Nicholson, Thomas Petrie, Doris Reed, A. L. Moore, C. H. Shank, James Smalley, L. C. Tao, Robert Woodruff, and Leonard Gallowsay and Misses: Breckon, Helen Smith and Charlotte Osborn; State President Mrs. Darling and hostess Mrs. Allsebrook.

ODD ITEMS TAKEN IN 2 BURGLARIES

H 1-freak ODD ITEMS TAKEN
Two recent burglaries have occurred here recently with a rather peculiar selection of items taken.

The first of these burglaries occurred at the home of Mrs. Marge Leone, 129 Continental Street, whose house was entered while she was out of the city.

The only thing that appealed to the burglar was a cuckoo clock. Nothing else was reported missing.

In the second break-in, at McConnell Furniture Company on Boulder Highway, the burglar pried open a tool room and made off with a soldering iron, drill, tool box and old and new wrenches of various sizes.

COMMUNITY CHURCH CHRISTMAS CANTATA

The Community Church choir, under the direction of Douglas Haag, will present a Christmas Cantata at the 11 a.m. service on Sunday, Dec. 21. The Reverend Douglas Weeden will deliver his last sermon at this service.

A candle light service will be held at 7 p.m. on Christmas Eve, with Rev. Weeden officiating.

This will be a communion service and will feature special Christmas music including selections by the choir, solos and instrumental music. The public is cordially invited to attend.

On Sunday, December 28, the Reverend Ford Gilbert will return to the pulpit with the new minister, Reverend Clayton Gill, expected to assume his duties the first Sunday in January.

BASIC HIGH SCHOOL CHRISTMAS CONCERT SLATED FOR THURSDAY

The Basic High School Music Department will present their annual Christmas concert Thursday, December 18, at 8:15 p.m. in the high school gymnasium. Featured on the program will be the Girls Glee Club, Mixed Chorus, and Concert Band, in a presentation of music in keeping with the Yuletide season.

The choral portion of the annual event will feature some students in soloist capacity. Marilyn Watkins and Colleen Brooks will sing a duet. "Sing Gloria," and Sherri Lloyd will be the soprano soloist in "The Christmas Story" and both numbers will be accompanied by the mixed chorus.

The singers will also do several Christmas numbers as an ensemble. The Girls Glee Club, which numbers approximately twenty girls, and the mixed chorus, made up of about forty-five boys and girls, are under the direction of George Christian.

The concert band, directed by Walter L. Ford, will play several selections directly associated with the Christmas season, and will also include a recent band composition by Clare Grundman, "Holiday." "White Christmas," a perennial favorite in a new and interesting setting, and the traditional "Jingle Bells Rhapsody," will add appeal to the program.

To top off the evening of musical delicacies, all the high school musicians will combine for the finale, "Christmas Fantasy," an arrangement of several of the familiar and best-loved Christmas carols. Student conductors will take over the direction of the finale number.

Each link of the two anchor chains on the Navy's newest aircraft carrier USS Independence, weighs 360 pounds (total weight 246 tons) and the chains could sustain the weight of four of the largest locomotives.

ALICE ANN WHEATLEY BREAKS ARM IN FALL

Alice Ann Wheatley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wheatley, 11 Sturm Street, broke her left arm last week when she fell off a teeter-totter at St. Peter's Parochial School.

Alice Ann, a third grade student, was rushed to Rose de Lima Hospital where the arm was set and put in splints. She returned to school the following day as she does not want to spoil her perfect attendance record.

Here's a message from Police Chief Geo. Crisler for all motorists: Is it more important that you get where you're going a few seconds or moments earlier, or is it more important that you simply get there safely? Take your time, especially when roads are slippery. Your good health and your life are certainly more important than a few moments of your time.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Mrs. Pauline O. Williams, 134 Fir Street, was named Girl Scout Leader of the Week. It was announced by Mrs. Claudia Maquire, District chairman.

Mrs. Williams leads 16 second grade girls in troop 100, which is the first year Brownies. She has two children, Lamar Jr., (Corky) who is 15 years old, and Kathleen, who is seven.

She was born in Springfield, Mo., but received most of her education in Riverside, California. She graduated from Riverside Polytechnic high school.

The Williams have lived here four years. She is active as a room mother, takes part in PTA and has bowling as a hobby. She thinks scouting is wonderful and believes that it is very beneficial to leaders and co-leaders as well as to the girls.

Troop 101

President of troop 101 is Carol Empey; Terry Rubbeck, secretary; Mary Lou Banks, treasurer; and Janet Dazey, scribe. The leaders are Mrs. Empey and Mrs. Hill. During the meetings the girls have made trick or treat bags and leaf designs and are learning folk dances.

Troop 112

Rosann Phillips was elected chairman of the troop. The girls decided to stop bringing refreshments for a little while. A bake sale was held at Foodland Market from 10 a.m. on December 6. Money made will be for the hospital fund. Mary Salamy is scribe of the troop.

Troop 119

Fly up preparations were discussed by the troop.

The Christmas party plans were discussed and it was decided to exchange gifts. Plans were also made for a hike. Mrs. Hawley read about Juliet Lowe. Those attending the meeting were Susan Struthers, Janice Hawkins, Roxanne Rose, Anita Martinez, Cathy Hawley, Sheila Cantwell, Cheryl Henderson, Elaine Sellers, and Mary Ellen Sparks.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

The First Baptist Church at the corner of Kansas and Atlantic Avenue will hold its Christmas program at 7:30 p.m. this Sunday, it was announced by the Reverend David Hudson. All departments of the church will be represented in the program, which is under the direction of Mrs. Fred Pennington. There will also be treats after the program.

Christmas music by the choir will also be featured prior to the morning message at the 11 a.m. worship service. The choir is under the direction of Mrs. Paul Crumm, Sr., and Mrs. Chuck Davis.

The public is cordially invited to attend both the worship service and the Christmas program.

Chamber Thanks Contributors To Xmas Decorating

The Chamber of Commerce expressed appreciation to all local and Las Vegas merchants, industries and organizations who contributed for the Christmas decorating program and to those who aided in getting the decorations in place on our streets.

Robert Woodruff, chairman of the decorations committee, announced at Thursday's meeting that the braces were put in place by crews of California-Pacific Utilities Company and the brackets and garlands were put in place by the Telephone Company. The garlands were cut into the proper length strips by members of the Fire Department.

Local business places who have made financial donations to the Christmas decorating program to date are: Cardy's Radio and TV, Manganese, Inc., Veterans of Foreign Wars, Bob Olsen Insurance, Cake Box, La Porta Insurance.

Pacific Engineering and Production Company, Henderson Clinic, Budget Finance, Henderson Home News, Harry Cottingham, C.P.A., Byrne's Grocery, Bank of Nevada, Family Finance Corporation.

Denton Pharmacy, Wilgar Bros. Glass Co., Higgins Motel, Pittman, Market Town, Basic Management, Inc., Housing Authority of Clark County, Pepsi Cola Bottling Plant.

Henderson Telephone Company, Gunville's Appliance and Furniture, The Royal, Polar Queen, Basic Beauty Shop, Safety Stores, Inc., Titanium Metals Corporation of America, Lucy's Children's Shop, Western Auto Supply, Cornet Stores, Ideal Appliances, Desertwear, Henderson Rexall Drugs, and American Potash and Chemical Corp.

Las Vegas contributors to date are: Sutton Vending Service Inc., W.M.K. Transit Mix, Inc., Bunker Bros. Mortuary, Young Electric Sign Co. of Nevada, Roach Distributing Co., Las Vegas Tonopah Reno Stage Lines, Nevada Outdoor, American Linen Supply Co., and Pat Clark Pontiac.

The Chamber of Commerce also expressed appreciation to Helen Lunzman of Ma's Materials for making the Santa's suit. No charge was made for this work, the Chamber being charged only for the actual cost of the materials used. The belt for Santa's suit was contributed by Peck's Upholstery.

Guests present at the meeting were Ivan Annenberg, general manager of the Las Vegas Sun, who was introduced by Isabelle Mack, local Sun editor; and Bart and reindeer, are numerous other decorations including a star, a huge Christmas wreath decorating outside of the fireplace. Decorations at the door, outdoor lights, window decorations, etc. The home is attractive the year around with the improvements made by the Yosts, but is a joy to the youngsters at Christmas-time.

GOLDENS VACATION

Mr. and Mrs. Don Golden and sons, Carl and Dennis, plan to spend Christmas with their parents, grandparents, uncles, sunts, and cousins, in Utah. Golden is taking a vacation during the holidays.

ROTHS VISIT CALIF.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Roth, 307 Regina, and son Dennis, plan to make a trip to San Jose, California, for Christmas. Roth's brother and the Roths' daughter live there. Mrs. Roth will take advantage of the school holidays since she is a teacher at the Kit Carson school in Las Vegas.

HAVE REINDEER — WILL TRAVEL

Santa had just arrived at Market Town one afternoon and the youngsters in the store quickly formed a line to talk to the jolly old gentleman. A girl about eight stood in the line when she spoke to her companion, confidentially, not too softly, with these words: "You know what, that is not the REAL Santa."

Santa has a fancy set-up at Market Town. He sits inside a small house which has a glass window where the children may see him as he talks to them by telephone.

Does anyone know where there is a REAL Santa that is rich? The lists this year are quite long!

Treem Gets Even With Painless Dentist

Judge George Treem recently had some painless dentistry performed in Boulder City and at one of last week's municipal court sessions met his dentist again—in city court.

His dentist, Dr. Buell Morton, pleaded guilty to going 35 miles per hour in a 25 mile zone and had to pay a minimum fine of

HENDERSON HOME NEWS THURSDAY, DEC. 18, 1958

$10. Judge Treem assured Dr. Morton that this had nothing to do with the fact he had recently pulled one of the judge's teeth; however, we predict Judge Treem will probably be scouting around for a new dentist as he may be fearful that Dr. Morton's tooth pulling may not be quite so "painless" when he makes another sojourn in his dental chair.

Letters For Academic Achievement Suggested By Chamber Speaker

A letter, to be worn by "A" students, was suggested in a talk by Donal "Mike" O'Callaghan before Thursday's meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

O'Callaghan, Basic High School Government and History teacher and a sports writer for the HOME NEWS, believes, he said, students are as deserving of press notices and banquets for academic achievement as for their performance in sports as each plays an equal part in our educational system.

"We should remember," he said, "that a sport is but one of five or six subjects carried by the student and should not deserve any greater amount of time than the other subjects. This statement can be applied to all activities including band, school plays, dances, and student council."

He quoted Bud Wilkinson as saying, "I am not in college coaching to produce professional ball players. The athlete's education is of primary importance."

"More people in our society should give this statement some thought," O'Callaghan said, "and then they could better understand the purpose of all schools and colleges."

He brought out the fact that society has put both the athlete and the athletic teacher, (the coach) on the spot because of ignorance. The losing coach immediately comes under public fire while the classroom teacher may continue to stumble along teaching nothing for several years.

On the other hand, the good work of a classroom teacher may not be recognized over a period of years and the winning coach has the town at his feet.

"This situation," he said, "is not fair to either the teacher of academic courses nor to the coach."

Athletes, O'Callaghan said, have been stereotyped by the American people, who are prone to stereotype people and professions because of the narrow world to which they confine their minds and observations.

The (absent-minded professor) and the (ragging politician) are but two of many common stereotypes loudly proclaimed by the public, he said.

One common mold that has done more damage than all others combined, the speaker pointed out, is (the big-dumb athlete).

"We cannot comprehend the damage this has done, both to education and the world of sports," he said. "There is not any basis for this classification, in fact it is exactly opposite of the actual truth. The truth is that our good athletes are also our good students, or at least they have the mental ability to be good students when they apply their talents."

"The big 285 pound tackle you see on the football field of a good college," he continued, "would very likely be wearing a Phi Beta Kappa key, should you meet him on the street."

In suggesting letters for "A" students, O'Callaghan said these letters should be decorated with a lamp of learning rather than with a football or basketball and "glorious would be the young man who could wear both the lamp of learning and the ball on his letter, for this letter would be of greater value than any given in our schools today."

Royal Neighbors Hold Election Plan Xmas Events

Harmony Camp of the Royal Neighbor of America elected Mabel Newton Oracle for the coming year at a meeting held recently at the Victory Village auditorium.

Officers elected to serve with Mrs. Newton were: Vice Oracle, Frances Webb; Chancellor, Zelma Choate; Marshal, Alice Smid; Inner Sentinel, Irene Hinman; Outer Sentinel, Lucille Virden; Physicians, Dr. Geo. Miners and Dr. Karl Hazeltine; and three year manager, Irma DeJong.

Plans were made for the annual Christmas party which will feature a turkey dinner and gift exchange. Turkey and beverages will be furnished by the lodge and each family will bring a covered dish and their own table service.

Each person attending will also bring a Christmas gift to be exchanged with someone of the same age and sex. Adult gifts are not to exceed $1 in value and children's gifts from 35 to 50 cents.

Santa Claus will be present to distribute the gifts and treats for the youngsters.

Members have been selling chances on a "bride" doll and the drawing will be held during the Christmas party.

A candy sale was also planned to be held at Foodland this Saturday starting at 10 a.m. Various types of homemade candy will be on sale. Anyone wishing to order candy in advance may do so by contacting Mabel Newton at FR 4-7062.

JR. HOSP. AUXILIARY CHRISTMAS PARTY

An excellent turnout of members enjoyed the Rose de Lima Junior Auxiliary Christmas party which was held at the home of Mrs. Floyd Watson, Moderator, on Sunday, December 14th. Gifts were exchanged and each girl received a tsatuette and letter of appreciation and commendation from Sister Felecia, Hospital Administrator.

The Senior Auxiliary donated the sum of $10 — as a surprise door prize and this was won by Selina Aragon. A pin marking fifty hours' service was presented to Johanna Winlow.

SENIOR STUDENTS VISIT BANK OF NEVADA

A group of High School seniors who are currently in the Banking phase of their commercial bookkeeping course recently made avisitation to the local Bank of Nevada, according to John Rayborn, bank manager.

Those in attendance were: Roberts Hildebrand, Colleen Oseiki, Diane Pfeiffer, Kay Orr, Virginia Park, Carolyn Schneider, Dorothy Meurer and Judy Simpson.

The class was personally conducted through the bank by Mrs. Betty Gillis of the bank staff who also briefed them on "Operations." A general question and answer period followed the visitation.
