MORRY ZENOFF'S
Morry's Story—

I can think of no greater thrill than the one I shall have at 11 o'clock this morning — when I will witness the swearing in of my brother, David, as Judge of District Court One, Clark County Nevada.

It is a rare honor that comes to a family, and the only additional wish that I would ask at this moment is that my father and my mother had lived to see their baby son be sworn in by Judge Henderson.

Naturally, I'm prejudiced as I speak of David. But I do feel he will make an excellent jurist. I am glad that others feel the same way, and this was evidenced the past few days as just about everyone stopped me and extended congratulations on his appointment. Each added the fine words, "he will do a fine job. He will wear his robes well."

At 43 he becomes the youngest judge on record. Yet, for his age, he has had a world of experience other than law to enable him to use his judgement on cases dealing with the human side of life.

As a marine, he fought in the rough battles of the Pacific and won a bronze star for bravery one night when the Japs landed at his air field and attempted to clean out the Yanks.

As a student at the University of Wisconsin, he earned his way thru as a sports writer for a Milwaukee newspaper and he was constantly being praised for his courageous writings during the regime of a coach who was not fit to be in the job (he ultimately was fired).

As a president of the Jewish congregation in Las Vegas, he was instrumental in having a new temple built and in attracting many new members to the church.

As a father of two wonderful children, and a husband to a fine wife, he has accepted his responsibilities successfully.

As a lawyer he worked long hours on his cases, worrying thru them and with each client as if the world depended upon their result.

As a brother, he has given me constant advice — especially when I become involved in hot local issues. Here he would insist that I open my columns to the opposing view — so that the reader could get both sides of the issue.

The mistakes I have made down through the years in most cases were made because I didn't counsel with him first — and I have had to pay the consequences.

He is very happy that he was selected to serve and I know he will apply himself to the extent of his ability.

Inasmuch as I have been his best non-paying client, I today lose my lawyer — but gain a brother whom I shall be so proud to call "Judge."

Congratulations Judge David Zenoff!

Losses Run Into Thousands As Burglars Strip Park Village School, Rob And Vandalize Salvage Co. Out Of Business

AN EDITORIAL

ROBBING A SCHOOL IS LIKE ROBBING A CHURCH

We hope the criminals who robbed the Park Village School do not live in Henderson.

For, if they do, they shouldn't be living here — in such a fine community that is seeking to make its way in the league of new American cities.

This community has no desire to house thieves and thugs and burns and delinquents.

This community will ferret them out wherever they are and make them pay for this disrespect, and make them suffer with the extent of the penalties of the law.

Robbing a school is like robbing a church — a foul, dirty, scummy low-down trick.

For the school is paid for by the taxpayers. Every citizen will have to pay for the robbery.

Police of our city are urged to work doubly hard to snare these criminals . . . and bring them to justice. The citizenry is alarmed at these out-breaks of violence.

Parents should double-check on the activities of their children — for there is a law in this state that makes the parents as liable as their children for all damages done.

Yes, we hope this horrible piece of thievery was not done by Hendersonians — for it would be a blight upon our fair city.

Just you wait — you fellers who are out shooting B-B guns at people's windows.

I've scented the word out to my brethren in the desert — and wait'll they get their aim on you — they'll make you wish you had stood in bed.

They've taken my scent-sender away from me — so that I can live among you and be friendly — but my pals are loading up for you — and once they get you — no one will be coming close to you for a long time. You don't deserve better, believe me.

Both the Elks and Eagles Lodges will hold dances at their respective lodge halls and the American Legion will sponsor a dance in the Victory Village market building.

A teenage dance will be held at the recreation center and the Third and Fourth Wards MIA will sponsor a dance at the LDS recreation center.

For those who prefer to celebrate the coming of the New Year with the public at large, 3 local places are sponsoring parties, with no cover charge and no minimum charge.

The Henderson Bowl Cocktail Lounge will feature a free buffet dinner with dancing and favors for all in attendance.

The Ryal offers a free chicken dinner to all adult celebrants with plenty of fun, favors and noise makers.

Railroad Pass Casino will feature dancing to live music and will also provide free favors and noise makers for all in attendance. All of the other clubs in our area are also planning for a big evening.

Our police department have expressed their appreciation to everyone for the wonderful safety record on our streets and the highways during the Christmas weekend and ask that everyone drive — with safety for themselves and the other fellow in mind — during the New Year weekend, in order that we may all remain proud of our safety record during the year which is ending.

Burglars, sometime Sunday night, stripped the Park Village School of cash, office equipment and audio visual equipment and stole and destroyed so much equipment at Cohen Salvage Co. that the company has had to temporarily close its doors to business.

After working all day yesterday in an attempt to inventory the stolen and damaged property, Cohen aid, they still have no idea the amount of the loss that will run into thousands of dollars.

The burglary at Park Village School was discovered early yesterday morning by Mr. Zimmerman, custodian of the school.

The burglars had pried open a door of the school house with a wrecking bar and used an acetylene torch to open the safe from which they took $50.15 in cash.

Equipment, thus far known to have been stolen amounts to another $3455 with the total loss estimated at approximately $3,505.15, according to Area Administrator Loyal Burkholder.

The audio visual department was stripped of its equipment, including: two 16mm movie projectors, two 35mm slide projectors, one tape recorder, two record players and one opaque projector and an audiometer. Also stolen were three typewriters and an adding machine.

Police believe this to be the work of adults as such things as typewriters and adding machines would have no appeal for teenage vandals, unless they had a ready market for such goods.

At the Cohen Salvage Company, the amount of goods stolen is still undetermined, but Cohen reports that the thieves wrecked everything they did not steal.

The new offices of the company were completely wrecked, the vandals taking wrecking bars and literally tearing the walls down. Office equipment, which was not stolen, received the same treatment, and ink was strewn over the wreckage of the office.

Equipment in the yard was also wrecked — truck tires were slashed — gas tanks were filled with sand — and ignition wires were cut. In addition to the company's trucks, cranes and other equipment was vandalized in the same manner and the big scales were also wrecked.

So extensive was the damage that the company was put out of business until an inventory of missing and damaged equipment can be made and repairs can be made.

Police felt this might have been "spite" work, but Cohen says there is no reason for anyone to steal and destroy his property and he thinks the person or persons responsible are mentally affected.

The Sheriff's office reported that a similar amount of vandalism was done at the new convention hall and it is believed by our police department to be the work of the same men.

Two other burglaries and a car clout were reported here a few days earlier when burglars stole a six drawer tool box and tools, valued at more than $300 from the Sand and Gravel Co. plant and the Hancock Service Station at Water and Pacific St. lost a case and a half of pop and $4 in cash when burglars broke open the coin operated pop box.

An automobile belonging to Dave Whitmer of 14-B Victory Village was robbed by thieves on December 23 with Christmas toys and mechanical tools stolen while the car was parked in the lot at Rose de Lima Hospital.

All of these crimes are being checked out by the police department and the officers, who have been working around the clock, are wondering just when the season of "peace on earth and good will toward men" is supposed to start.

Mainor Announces Nursery Opening

City Councilman Bill Mainor recently announced the opening of a nursery on Frontier Highway, across from Rose de Lima Hospital. The opening is set for February 15.

The new nursery will handle all types of plants, fertilizers, and will specialize in potted plants for the convenience of visitors to the hospital.

Mainor is a pioneer resident of our city and until recently has been employed as works manager at the U. S. Lime Products plant here.

PRINCIPALS WORK WHILE KIDS PLAY

Christmas Vacation is not such a wonderful time for school Principals, secretaries and school custodians as it is for the students.

While school students enjoy their vacation period, school maintenance tasks, that can best be accomplished when the schools are not in session take up the time of these non-vacationers.

Floors are resurfaced, where needed; some interior walls are redecorated, doors are repainted, gym floors are varnished and many other items that contribute to the beauty and sanitation of the school plant are taken care of.

School supplies and textbooks for the second semester, beginning January 26, also arrived during Christmas vacation and these will be inventoried and prepared during the time school is out for issuance to pupils at the beginning of the second semester.

There wouldn't be much wrong with little white lies if the teller didn't sooner or later become color blind.

Peter Colefax, American Potash President Predicts Rise In Sales During Next Year

By DONALD B. REEVE

Sales of American Potash & Chemical Corporation should rise more than eight per cent in 1959 over 1958 "assuming that general business conditions are satisfactory," according to Peter Colefax, company president.

The chemical company president pointed out that American Potash & Chemical Corporation sales have risen from $18,000,000 in 1952 to more than $48,000,000 this year, while products marketed under the company's Trona trademark have increased from less than 20 to more than 100. At the same time, AP & CC manufacturing facilities have grown from one plant at Trona, Calif., to eight ranging from coast to coast, and research laboratories have increased from one to five.

"During this period our activities have created an unusual amount of interest for a company of our size," Colefax said, "and we plan to justify this interest by continuing our growth."

American Potash & Chemical Corporation sales break down into six product groups representing about 95 per cent of the company's business, Colefax reported. These groups include boron products; lithium chemicals; thorium, yttrium and rare earth compounds; electrochemicals; sodium chemicals, and agricultural chemicals including potash and others.

Regarding the first group — boron — American Potash and Chemical Corporation is the second largest producer of boron chemicals in the world, supplying approximately 35 per cent of the refined boron products manufactured in the United States.

Regarding lithium products, American Potash & Chemical Corporation is the nation's largest producer of lithium carbonate, at its Trona plant and is a major manufacturer of lithium hydroxide at the San Antonio, Texas, plant of its subsidiary, American Lithium Chemicals, Inc.

The carbonate goes mainly into ceramic glazes and porcelain enamels. The hydroxide is purchased by the Atomic Energy Commission and commercial users. The company repurchases from the AEC lithium hydroxide depleted in isotope-6 for sale to industry, with grease manufacturing providing the major market.

"There is ample supply of lithium chemicals at present and this has been termed by some as an oversupply," Colefax said. "However, we believe that a reliable source of supply offers considerable encouragement for the development of significant new uses."

Some possible large scale uses currently under study include lithium compounds in aluminum and magnesium alloys.

American Potash and Chemical Corporation entered the thorium, yttrium and rare earths field in May of 1958 with the acquisition of Lindsay Chemical Company of West Chicago, Ill. In recent years, there has been a substantial increase in the use of thorium in alloy with magnesium, Colefax said, while a potential outlet is its possible use in atomic breeder - type reactors.

The rare earths, too, may find application in the atomic energy field as poisons in control rods, he said, as well as in glass manufacturing and other production processes.

American Potash & Chemical Corporation's fourth product group — electrochemicals — is manufactured at its Henderson, Nevada, plant. The most outstanding of these is ammonium perchlorate which is utilized as the oxidizer — or source of oxygen — in solid propellants.

Henderson operates the only large - scale ammonium perchlorate plant in the United States, also two others currently are under construction.

Colefax predicted the use of ammonium perchlorate will rise substantially in 1959 over 1958.

"Inasmuch as our ammonium perchlorate facility now is operating at about 40 per cent of capacity," Colefax said, "we believe we will continue to represent a very substantial portion of this market for some years to come."

In addition, he said the company has plans to produce ammonium perchlorate "when the need arises" at a new sodium chlorate plant at Aberdeen, Miss.

The company also manufactures sodium chlorate at Henderson, and the combined output of the product at the two plants will be approximately 40,000 tons per year, about 45 per cent of total U. S. production capacity — thus making American Potash & Chemical Corporation the largest single manufacturer.

The two remaining product groups — sodium chemicals and agricultural chemicals — represent a sizeable share of AP & CC total sales.

Colefax pointed out that American Potash & Chemical Corp. output of agricultural chemicals has increased during recent years but the ratio of industrial sales to agricultural sales has increased much faster so that "today only about 15 per cent of our products go to agriculture, while 85 per cent go to industry."

Colefax said, "much of our activity in recent years" has been in research, with major emphasis in the field of boron, alkali metals such as lithium, rubidium and cesium, and in manganese and its compounds.

"Since 1955 our research budget, excluding government sponsored work, has risen from 3.5 per cent of annual net sales to more than four per cent in 1958," Colefax said.

Colefax said much of the company's research has been in the boron field. He said the company has introduced a number of boron-based chemicals which are currently being screened for use in such area as agriculture, plastics, petroleum additives, rubber, chemicals and pharmaceuticals.

"We expect net sales for 1958 to be about $48,000,000 with earnings of about $4,300,000," Colefax said. "Next year we hope for sales between $51,000,000 and $53,000,000."

Those winning were: E. A. O'Brien, 510 National; Ervin Balk, 119 Dogwood; James Graham, 571 National; Gene Lattin, 203 Water St.; I. S. Richardson Jr., 315 Atlantic; Phillip MacNeil, 35 Arkansas; R. Memorial Rites Conducted For G. A. Wittern

George August Wittern, 81, a 12-year resident here and a veteran of the Spanish American War, was laid to rest at Mountain View Gardens of Memory on Monday, December 22. Memorial services were conducted at Bunker Bros. Chapel with the Rev. Ford Gilbert officiating.

Wittern passed away on Dec. 18, at Boulder City Hospital following major surgery from which he was making a satisfactory recovery until taken with a setback.

He was born in New York City, Feb. 1, 1877, and spent the major portion of his life in Sioux City, Iowa. Wittern and his wife came here 12 years ago and he was employed as a security guard at Stauffer Chemical Company until his retirement about three years ago.

Surviving are: his wife, Anna, of 235 Atlantic Ave.; four daughters, Ella K. Kelly, St. Louis, Missouri; Helen Jean Miller, Redlands, California; Hazel Rita Miller, a local resident and Dorothy K. Kent, Sioux City, Iowa; three sons, Robert M. Wittern, 18 Arkansas St., Jack F. Wittern, South Sioux City, Nebraska, and William A. Wittern, Huntington, West Virginia.

Also surviving are 17 grandchildren and five great grandchildren; two brothers, William A. Wittern, Los Angeles, Calif., and John Wittern of Little Rock, Iowa; and one sister, Molly Sikes, of Detroit, Michigan.

Two daughters and sons-in-law and two sons, coming here for the funeral services were involved in an accident at Amarillo, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Kelly of St. Louis, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Kent of Sioux City, Iowa, Jack F. Wittern of South Sioux City, Nebraska and William A. Wittern of Huntington, West Virginia were traveling west in two cars when they collided with each other when they came to a sudden stop at a stop sign placed on the "blind side" of a sharp curve in the road just outside of Amarillo.

Both cars were damaged and all of the passengers received back and neck injuries for which they were treated in the hospital in Amarillo, where one of the cars was put into good enough condition to continue the journey here — where the remainder of the necessary automotive work was done.

All of the passengers came here from Amarillo in the one car and received further treatment for their injuries while here. These treatments will be continued when they reach their homes.

It was believed the other car might be repaired for their return trip when they reached Amarillo on their way home.

Mrs. Wittern is presently in Redlands, California, having accompanied her daughter, Mrs. Helen Miller, there for an indefinite stay.

50 BASIC HIGH ALUMNI ATTEND BETA ALPHA OMEGA XMAS PARTY

A Christmas party which made possible the reunion of some 50 alumni of Basic High School with their teachers and friends from this year's senior class was held last Monday evening at room ten of the high school.

This reunion was made possible through the work of a fine arts group, Beta Alpha Omega, which was organized about a month ago by John Beatty, a Basic High School English teacher for the past six years. A brief translation of the name indicates that this is the first Greek letter organization for seniors of Basic High School.

Weekly meetings are held on Mondays at 7 p.m. Semi-formal dress is a must for the meetings, and the pass word for entrance is in the form of a quotation or poetry. Guests at the meetings give book reviews or other forms of cultural entertainment. Qualifications are a B average, senior status, and membership in English 4 classes.

President of the organization is Johanna Winlow, with Paula Neighbors as Vice President and Penny Kruger as Secretary-Treasurer. Group sponsor, John Beatty, announces that entertainment in January will be based around the theme of Music; in February, Art; in March, Drama; in April, Travel; and in May, parents will be invited to view and listen to the accomplishments of the members.

Guests at the Christmas party last Monday evening were Mr. and Mrs. John Dooley, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Burkholder, Mr. and Mrs. Estes McDoniel, and some fifty Basic High School alumni.

WONDERFUL WORLD by WALDMAN

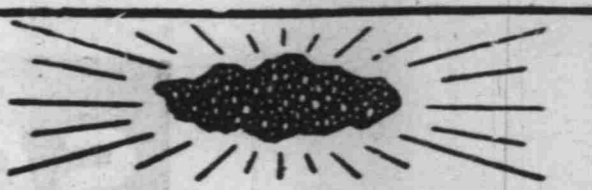

Huge celebrations were held, incantations chanted by the people of Crete in 1500 B.C. to bring luck to the hardware used in new ships. It was the hardware that actually held the ship together.

Today rugged, attractive hardware items are made from zinc die castings by the millions. These handsome die cast zinc fixtures are useful, artful and economical.

Local Librarians Attend Southern Section Meeting

The Southern Section of the Nevada Library Association held its regular meeting recently in the library of Nevada Southern. Mr. Jerry Dye, librarian at Nevada Southern, and Chairman of the Southern Section of the Nevada Library Association, welcomed all the members and thanked them for coming.

Mrs. Ruby McCloud, Library Consultant for the State Library, gave a resume of what her office hopes to accomplish in Southern Nevada. Mrs. Lydia Malcolm, Librarian at the Henderson District Public Library, gave a report on the Convention of the Nevada Library Association held at Elko.

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. Clarabelle Decker, County Supervisor of School Libraries, who was moderator for the panel discussion that followed. School library problems were the main theme of the panel discussion. The panel was entirely made up of school librarians.

Some of the problems discussed were: use of the library for study hall purposes all day long which prevents the full use of the library as such; the librarians have no free time at all to do library work; a lack of understanding on the part of school administrators of the place of the library in the school; not enough books; and meetings of clubs and entire classes in the library.

The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served to the fourteen members present, including local members, Mrs. Glenn Robertson, Mrs. Lydia Malcolm and Mrs. Helen Van Wagenen.
