Our People Speak

With yesterday being the 19th anniversary of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor and the designation of the day as National Civil Defense Day, we thought it fitting to ask residents what they were doing on Dec. 7, 1941.

R. J. Langford, Manager of Cal-Pac. "I was working in the hydro plant for Western States Utilities in Cokeville, Wyo., and heard the news while on Sunday shift."

Mrs. Irma Hardtner, 11 Wyoming St. "I was sitting on the doorstep, drying my hair, and listening to the radio. I felt a great loss."

Mrs. Polly Zile, 101 Cholla. "I was roller skating. When I came home my folks were in a tizzy. I couldn't understand why."

Rona Barton, 140 Fir St. "I was staying with my family in Panguitch, Utah, while my husband was working in Long Beach, Calif. I was waiting for one of my children to recover"

Governor Sawyer To Visit Here Saturday

Governor Grant Sawyer will be Henderson's prize visitor this week as he comes here Saturday to meet friends and followers between 12:30 and 2:30 at the Elks hall.

Lura Winall will serve as hostess for the occasion and invites anyone in the community to take part in the function.

She explained the meeting will not feature any speeches. It will be a get-together sponsored by a group of local democrats, she said, designed to allow the governor to have a relaxation good time with local people.

IT WASN'T AS BAD AS IT SOUNDS—But when Morry Zenoff was in Washington last week he stood in on the press conference where President-Elect Kennedy revealed what happened at a conference with Senator Russell. The editor snapped the shutter on his miniature Minox and the above was the result.

UCLA Professor Talks On Cancer To Rose de Lima Medical Staff

Dr. Richard Ottoman, associate professor at UCLA and head of the radiological department at the University, gave a talk on the management of malignancies to members of the medical staff at Rose de Lima Tuesday night.

Dr. Ottoman discussed certain tumors that respond to deep therapy, cobalt therapy and radio isotope therapy. Also discussed were specific treatments for specific types of carcinomas (all types of cancer).

Dr. Ottoman pointed out the advantages of cobalt treatment over conventional radiation in that with the cobalt method, a stronger and deeper penetration is obtained without the skin reaction and side-scatter of radiation and with fewer pronounced side reactions.

Meanest Man In Town

Nominee for the title "meanest man in town," is the guy who stole a cuddly, gray-and-white kitten that belonged to four heart-broken children.

They are new residents and when they left their home they also had to leave behind their pets. After they were here a couple of days, Daddy brought the kitten home and joy reigned.

Now you could cut the gloom with a knife. Another kiddy has been brought home, but he just doesn't take the place of "Idjit."

Telephone Rates Increased 10-25¢ By State PSC

The State Public Service Commission granted a rate increase of 10 to 25 cents per month to the Henderson Telephone company at a meeting in Carson City Tuesday.

Under the new rates, effective Sunday, private one-party lines will cost an additional 10 cents per month or $5.58, and business telephones will carry a tariff of $9.50 per month, an increase of 25 cents.

At public rate hearings held in September, the company had asked increases ranging from 75 cents to $2.75.

Herschel Trumbo, manager of the company, said Wednesday morning that he hadn't received the official notification of the commission's action.

Mayor Bill Byrne will throw the switch to start pumping water into the 5,500 gallon line and into the 1,500,000 gallon capacity storage tank Wednesday afternoon at 2. The switches are located at the BMI water treatment plant at Ocean and Water Streets.

Morris Weir, city administrator, said the new facilities will mean a better supply of water, especially in the summer, and better pressure in the upper third of town. Weir said the pressure in the line won't be built up immediately, but by degrees to avoid damaging water tanks in homes.

It had been planned to start filling the tank earlier but the state purity tests haven't been received yet and there are some minor cleanup jobs to complete, Weir said.

Approximate cost of the tank and mile-long, 18 inch line was $200,000.

WOLVES CLASH WITH BOULDER CITY FRIDAY, BEAVER SATURDAY NIGHT

The Basic hoopsters face a busy weekend with games scheduled against Boulder City on Friday night and Beaver High of Utah on Saturday. Both contests will be held in the local gym.

After a triumph in the opening game with a last quarter rally, the Hendersonites come to grips with a veteran aggregation from the Damsite school. The Eagles have a veteran squad despite the loss of Shap, Mayes, and Bogenrife. The Boulder City quintet boasts five lettermen, four juniors and one senior, and will be in its initial fray of the 60-61 campaign.

Coach Jim Nelson of the visiting team was in the stands last week and was impressed with the performance of the Wolves. He stated that he likes the spirit and desire of the local basket-ers and their stick-to-it-iveness. As for his squad, he looks for a tough contest with the Blue and White and feels that only after actual combat and competition would he be able to assess the real ability of his quintet. He has a fast moving agile bunch who can go a full thirty-two minutes at top speed.

As for Coach Shelling of the Wolves, he sees another stiff fray in the offing. He believes that the Eagles will be stronger than Dixie and it will be necessary for the Basic crew to get started quickly, eliminate some of the mistakes of the opening game, like the poor passing, and keep on top of the opposition all the time.

Shelling will be without the services of Don Hartle, who has a bad back, Marv Buescher with an infected foot and Larry Evans with a twisted knee. Tom Boggs is ineligible.

On Saturday, Beaver City will bring a really tall quintet down to Henderson. Each of the starting five is well over six feet and the Utahans are rated tops in their conference.

Both games will be preceded by junior varsity contests in which the local jayvees will face Boulder City junior varsity on Friday and Moapa Valley the next evening.

The probable starting lineup for the inter-city game with Boulder follows:

Rose De Lima Hospital Attracting 1.5 Times As Many Patients In New Wing

"We have one and a half times as much business since we moved into the new wing," Sister Helen Margaret commented. The hospital is operating at almost capacity, with all the beds on first and third floors, medical and surgical, filled and only a few beds on the maternity floor still open. Sister Helen Margaret said the present capacity of the hospital is 76 beds but when the old wing is renovated and put back into use, there will be beds for 140 patients. She said workmen are working now on the old wing and the face-lifting job is coming along rapidly. Explaining the moving of patients from the old quarters into the new wing, she said, "We moved 37 patients, some in wheel chairs and some on carts, to the new rooms in one hour without a single mishap." Moving started at 7 a.m. with nurses and hospital personnel making out routing slips for each patient. The slip had the patient's old room number, name and new room number on it. The nurse pinned a routing tag like this on each patient. When the patient was moved, the nurse would stop by the chart room and put his chart on the cart and, at the medical room, she would pick up all medication the patient would need that day. Upon coming into the new wing, the chart would be placed in a new rack in the chart room and the medications in the drug room. Then the patient was taken to his new quarters.

FIRST BABY—Little Gary Eugene Hankins, the one who's crying, netted a bundle of gifts for being the first baby in the new addition at Rose de Lima. His mama, Mrs. Donald Hankins of North Las Vegas, happily holds her new son. Showing Mrs. Hankins a hand-made coverlet is Dean Armstrong, president of the Hospital Auxiliary, while Sister Ellen Stephanie beams at the happy pair.

HOME-MADE PROTECTION—R. J. Taylor of 412 Republic, built this underground shelter under his garage five years ago at a cost of $350. He has stocked it with enough dried food to last four people for a year. When queried about the golf clubs, he grinned and quipped, "If you're smart enough to have a hole to go into if a bomb goes off, you'll be able to play golf when it's all over."

juvenile hoodlums. John talks like an ostrich with his head buried in the sand—if he thinks this matter isn't important enough to be brought out in the open. Apparently he hasn't had to bear the brunt of any attacks as have many of the town's citizenry. We'd rather see him leading the parade in cleaning up the mess. While none of his present high school students are involved—the fact remains many of them were once under his wing—and instead of their being trained to pass the college boards and instilled with the desire to live as good citizens—they have chosen the road to ruin. No one knows better or is better qualified than a high school principal—in handling teenagers. This expertise is now needed here. Refusing to see that a situation exists, it seems to us is strictly playing ostrich—or shows an ignorance in the field we talk about. The Saturday Evening Post thought enough of the problem to have its lead editorial on it this week.

Talking school business a bit more, we feel—and hope others concur—that the state legislature should scrap the county school system and return the schools to each of the townships to run—by its own school board, as before... better supervision, cheaper operation, a warmer touch would be supplied—with home rule. And, too, our tax dollar wouldn't have to pay for the huge school budget needed in other cities—

Among the buildings locally that could be converted into an ideal fallout shelter—according to government engineers—is the Youth Center.

John Rayborn's dad has moved in from California to work at the golf club. A kindly gentleman who hails originally from Missouri, he tells he's proud of his son mostly "because he never gave us any trouble and always stayed out of trouble."

Kiwanis Bullied Into Buying Dates

Local Kiwanis got a taste of their own "strong arm tactics" in selling dates for underprivileged children Tuesday noon when 15 Kiwanis from the Las Vegas Uptown club were guests. The visitors brought two cases of the dates along with them, fully prepared to load up their hosts.

While the chairman of the guest group was explaining in some detail just how they were going to sell the local Kiwanis, and trying to get the money in advance, someone misappropriated the dates. After a bit of pleading and a few miscellaneous threats, the dates came to light and were sold.

Dr. John Connolly of the Henderson Clinic was the guest speaker and showed a ten-minute film on cancer. He gave a short talk on progress toward celeration, cure and control of the disease.

Interest ran so high that a question and answer period after the film had to be cut short to allow members to get back to work.

Dr. Connolly is the doctor at all Basic High school football and basketball games. He also travels with the team on out-of-town contests.

Mayor Signs Pact For Construction VV Fallout Shelter

Mayor Bill Byrne recently signed a contract with the Office of Civil Defense Mobilization for the construction of a mass fallout shelter to be built in Victory Village.

Arrangements for the shelter were made with the Clark County Housing Authority of which the Mayor is a director. It will be large enough to house 150 people.

Attendance at Open House of three fallout shelters already built in the city was slight. The occasion was formulated for Civil Defense Day, yesterday, the day picked because it is the anniversary of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor which triggered World War II.

Mayor Byrne also announced plans for forming a Women's Civil Defense Council here. Women who were interested in serving on such a council and in participating in future Civil Defense plans for the city were asked to leave their names at the shelters when they visited. With Mayor Byrne out of town, the HOME NEWS was unable to contact anyone who could give an accurate count of the number signed up.

State PSC Okays Gas Price Raise

The State Public Service Commission, meeting in Carson City, granted a price raise of 2 1/2 cents per thousand cubic feet for natural gas to Cal-Pac Utilities Company.

R. J. Langford, division manager for Cal-Pac, said gas bills to local consumers from Dec. 1, last Thursday, will include the higher rate. "Cal-Pac has had to pay a higher rate to the Nevada Natural Gas company, the pipeline company, and to hold our own, we have had to pass on this increase to the customer," Langford said. "Public utilities companies are allowed a certain percent of profit and we are well under that figure as the result of absorbing several prior increases. With this latest raise, we could no longer show a reasonable profit on our investment without raising the price of gas to the ultimate user," he explained.

He estimated the increase to the average domestic user would add up to about 14 cents per month or $1.70 per year. "This is the amount necessary to offset the increased purchase cost of gas from the pipeline company."

The State PSC wasn't the presiding authority in the increase, but rather the Federal Power Commission. The commission granted the increase to the pipeline company and wholesale buyers were forced to pass along the raise to their customers.

The pipeline company in turn may be blameless as an increase in price of gas at the field would force them to go higher in order to show a profit and satisfy their stockholders.

This is part of a vicious cycle. The original producer is faced with increasing costs for some reason and raises his price to bulk buyers. These buyers in turn increase their prices to the wholesale purchaser, he raises it to the consumer and this poor guy, with no one to pass the increase on to, ends up by losing part of his paycheck through the higher prices he is forced to pay for necessities.

"When this raise in prices went through, I raised my own gas bill as I pay the same price as anyone else," Langford said ruefully.

Home of the Week

By Elizabeth Totten

Eighteenth Century furniture, combined with meaningful antiques, plus the graciousness of a devoted homemaker, combine to make the Hugh R. Campbell home at 601 Karen Way the true home it is in every sense of the word. Mrs. Campbell has devoted her married life to her home and the results reveal her talent and love.

"I do love making a comfortable home," she said. "I don't know of another place I would rather be," she added as she relaxed in one of her comfortable chairs.

We, who live in "stuccos" should note how the Campbells have treated the interior of theirs. Can you imagine a 12 by 34 foot living room in your house without adding onto the exterior? The original living room (facetiously called by some wag, an elongated, widened hallway) has been combined with the original hallway and the center-bedroom of a three-bedroom house, to create this expansive living room.

Campbell is in the construction business, so he did all the work. "I was out shopping one day and when I returned I found he was having a good time for himself by taking out the walls," she said, laughingly.

Mrs. Campbell said that they spend most of their time in this end of the living room. Here they have a large sectional, one of those new "built for two" lounges, both done in warm shades of green. A tapestry-covered small, cozy rocker is in here, too. In front of the curved sectional is an attractive half-circle drop-leaf, leather-covered coffee table.

Mrs. Campbell's mother lives on in this room where four of her paintings are grouped together depicting the Four Seasons. They are deftly and delicately done in oils. Another group of four pictures selected by Mrs. Campbell while on a vacation trip portray desert scenes. Above the sectional is a picture in a wide gilt frame. On the west wall is an arrangement of boxed shelves which holds figurines painted by her mother... lots of fragile miladies and milords, enhancing the Eighteenth Century theme.

The living room walls are a warm shade of rose-beige. The ceiling is white. The carpeting is a neutral shade of beige sculptured acrilan. Harmonizing draperies add to this room's charm.

The original part of the living room has a handsome sofa that converts into a bed. It is done in a tweed effect of brown and white. Above this sofa is another oil, also framed in a wide gilt frame.

She also loves to collect brass; there are two heavy brass lamps with gold shades atop period end tables on either side of the sofa.

Demanding more than an admiring glance in this part of the room is a dark mahogany, 18th Century china cabinet. This is filled with silver serving pieces, including many choice antiques, many from her mother's collection. This is a display for antique lovers. There is an attractive glass plate with the old familiar raised grape cluster; old silver from her mother's and grand-mother's homes; and a coffee service in a unique, puritan plain design. Here, too, are several pieces of sandwich glass.

"This the children gave us on our silver wedding anniversary," Mrs. Campbell said, as she pointed to a gleaming, beautifully-designed gadroon-bordered coffee and tea service.

It would take more than a newspaper page to tell all of the interesting things in this home. "I like unique, but useful antiques," she said.

Next we went into the master bedroom. This is the "pink room"; pink carpet; pink coverlet over pink ruffle on the highly polished mahogany bed. The walls are pastel pink. This room is accented with the dark mahogany furniture.

Entering the kitchen, the left wall partition has been removed, adding to the expansiveness of both the living room and the kitchen. The outer wall of the kitchen is in the same rose-beige as the living room, giving continuity and free flow of design that is very pleasing. Her kitchen is a gay, pleasing yellow with heavy yellow draperies. Over white cabinets she has a fabulous collection of colored glassware, some blue, some red, providing the color accent in this room.

The cozy guest room has twin beds with heirloom-type bedspreads. Here are more antiques. A kerosene lamp of luscious light blue is a family heirloom. An antique expanding magazine rack is hung over an old chest of drawers. When you push up the expanding part that holds the magazines, it becomes a lovely oil painting.

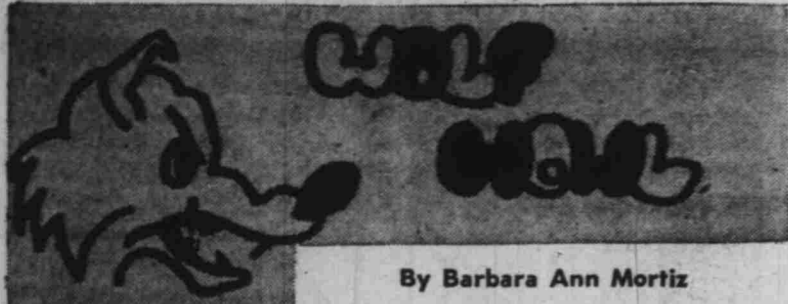

Wonderful World by Waldman

In Nigeria—which became independent on October 1, 1960—a touch of the pioneering spirit of early America can be found in the community development program of the Eastern Region. When there's a public works project to be done—bridge, school or hospital construction—all the villagers pitch in till it's completed.

Nigeria's 40 million people represent about 15% of Africa's total population—the largest single nation on the continent. In an area larger than England, France and half of Italy combined... members of the Islamic and Christian faiths cooperate in one federation.

Even more important to the Nigerian pioneers than home building... or land development... is the education of the children. More than 2 1/2 million youngsters attend primary schools; 88,000 are in secondary. Nigeria has 4,000 college grads—more than any other African nation and a University of Nigeria has just been opened by the Eastern Region.

The first routine was done to the "Thanksgiving Day March," with the added specialty of pom poms.

Next was the drill routine which was a combination of continually moving "X" with pivots between.

Do-Si-Don'ts Frolic On Snowy Weekend

Do-Si-Don'ts Square Dancers and their children spent a snowy weekend recently at the County Recreation Camp in Lee's Canyon. The group held their evening square dance in front of the fireplace.

Breakfast was cooked by Shirley and Larry Gove and Phyllis and Claude Fenwick, and the morning dance followed.

"Folly," a six month fawn belonging to the camp caretaker was quite an attraction to the children. She was as tame as a dog, and the children were able to pet her and take her picture.

Attending were the A. Langs, R. Burks, L. Goves, C. Fenwicks, K. Becks, P. Haywards, L. Bakers, D. Paquettes, N. Stouts, H. Scatchards, F. Smiths, L. Briggs and B. Smiths. The group hopes to make this an annual affair.

$100 House Damage Caused By Vandals; School Burglarized

Vandals broke out 40-50 panes of glass, kicked down the front door and damaged molding in a house at 1845 Evelyn Drive, Pittman, sometime during the night Monday, police reports show.

Mrs. Ruth Corn, owner of the house, called in the complaint, saying that she found quite a few large rocks inside the house so she didn't think small juveniles could have done the vandalism. Damage was estimated at $75 to $100.

The cafeteria at Townsite elementary school was entered sometime between 9 and 10 p.m. Monday night while basketball practice was going on. All that could be found missing was 30 cents.

A minor traffic collision was reported to police at 9:55 a.m. Tuesday. Mrs. Vilate T. Homer, 100 Grove, turned into an alley in Victory Village and, looking for an address, sideswiped a car belonging to Mrs. Toulouse Dixon, 111-D, Victory Village.

No "bankers' hours" here

As you know, we're open hours after most other stores are closed. This makes it convenient for you to pick up many nondrug items. But think how often it's evening when you discover you need a thermometer... or a hot-water bottle... or aspirin... not to mention prescription medication. This is the important reason for our extra hours. It's a traditional service we provide because illness doesn't keep bankers' hours either.

Youth Center Dance Honors Basic Alums

By CATHY WENTZ

A long Thanksgiving weekend was highlighted by the Youth Center's Teenage dance, given for all the alumnae home for the four day vacation. Dalby Shirley, Recreation Director, was well pleased with the turnout of students in high school and of the alumnae.

Seen around town were many graduates from Basic. Betty Edmondson and Novella Hargatt, 1956 graduates and both teachers in Northern Nevada, came home for the weekend.

From the University of Nevada in Reno were Don Arkell, Dennis Rausch, Linda Phillips, Eddie Pitchford, Penny Kruger, Frank Barker, Cathy Wentz, Chuck Slavin and Dick Baughman.

Bartis Nordloh, a senior at the University of Nevada, was not able to come home for the weekend. All Residence Assistants had to remain at school, because some students didn't go home for Thanksgiving.

A wedding took place Saturday evening between two former students of Basic High School. Sally Watson, from the Class of 1960 and Vic Canada, from the Class of 1959, exchanged vows at the New Church in Valley View. My sincere congratulations to them both.

Ernie Lomphey, now in the United States Marines, ended his leave with the Thanksgiving vacation. He was here from Washington, D. C.

Ernie's brother, Jimmy, spent his Thanksgiving overseas with the United States Navy. Jimmy will also spend Christmas over there; season's greetings to you, Jimmy, and I hope you can spend next Thanksgiving and Christmas at home.

Alan Stanz, also in the Navy, is spending his Thanksgiving and Christmas in Japan. Holiday wishes are also sent to him from his family and friends. Alan will be married to a lovely girl from Tennessee in April.

Louie Shupe, outstanding student and winner of three scholarships, spent his Thanksgiving holidays in California at Stanford. Louie is playing first string on the Stanford freshman basketball team and remained there for the practices. He will be home for the Christmas recess.

Pat Love, 1959 graduate, had a pleasant surprise from her parents during the Thanksgiving recess. They traveled back to Colorado to visit her.

Foster Church, now studying at the University of San Francisco, spent Thanksgiving at his new home with his mother in Reno. Diane Dietrich, also unable to spend Thanksgiving at home, stayed at Colinga Junior College in California.

Football scholarship winner, Kirby Trumbo, was home for the Thanksgiving recess from Colorado. Randy Mainor came from Dixie College in Utah to spend a few days with his family and friends.

POT LUCK SUPPER TO HONOR

RT. REV. WILLIAM WRIGHT
The Rt. Rev. William Wright, Bishop of the Missionary District of Nevada, will be honored at a potluck supper in St. Timothy's Episcopal Church parish house Sunday evening at 5:30. The Rev. J. R. Nicholas, vicar, reminded members of the congregation to bring their own table service to the meal.

This City Stands Unique In Nation For Lack Of Extremes In Residents

In addition to being a fine place in which to live, this town is unique among cities in that there are no poor people and no rich people. That is, there is no abject poverty or squalor and no "money bags."

A study of the Clark county tax rolls for this year reveals a very narrow margin between the lowest assessed value and the highest in the city for homes.

It must be noted that the assessed value of a home isn't a true picture of its actual worth. A rule of thumb is that the real value, or selling value, of a home is three times its assessed price. In instances, the real value might go far beyond that, according to location and market conditions.

The lowest assessed value on the rolls is $1,395 for an unimproved Townsite house. This is broken into $400 for land, $1095 for improvements and $100 for real property contained therein. Sometime try building any kind of house for $1,095! If you succeed, try to fill it with furniture, etc for $100. This will give you a rough idea of the ratio between the assessed value and the real value of the home.

An improved Townsite home is carried on the rolls at $1,838. This would be one of the homes that has had a facelift and modernizing.

Going a little higher up the scale, we find an unimproved stucco in a Tract area valued by the tax assessor at $2,740. This is a three bedroom house. A two bedroom house in the same area and in the same condition carries a tax tag of $2,445.

With the rapid expansion of the city and growth of families, some larger and more expensive homes are being built. One of them, the highest valuation

Fifty-five youngsters attended the V.F.W. Junior Girls' pre teen dance last Friday in the V.F.W. clubrooms. Mr. and Mrs. Homer Englestead donated the use of a hi-fi record player for the dancing.

Chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Lester DePeal, Mr. and Mrs. Clare White, Delores Darrah, Delores Westfall, and Mary Margaret Chastain.

carried on the tax rolls, is valued at $4,980.

This is $3,585 more than the lowest valuation on the rolls, the improved Townsite home at $1,395.

In the average city, values will vary as much as $10,000 to $15,000, which shows the remarkable degree of closeness of valuation of local property.

In industrial towns there are always large areas which are composed of homes in the same income group. These grow up largely because the people travel in the same strata of society and have many of the same interests. This induces them to build in close proximity.

Another feature of this town that strikes a newcomer is the lack of unkempt homes. True, there are some places that have more extensive landscaping and sharper exteriors but there are no shacks with hordes of uncared-for children swarming about and junk or other debris strewn over the premises.

The merchants report the same picture as the tax roll shows. People aren't price conscious, they don't buy shoddy merchandise on price alone, but neither do they go for the ostentatious goods. The bulk of retail sales is in the bracket where price and quality meet. Instead of buying a suit for $30 or $150, the average local man buys one midway—a good suit but not an expensive one.

Youth is the keynote here. The average age is one of the lowest in the nation. Estimates range from 26 to 30. People in this age bracket are just getting started in raising a family so the number of children is large in proportion to the overall population.

To sum up the picture of our town that is portrayed by studying the financial aspects and evaluating the facts readily available, this is a young town, with people who are full of drive and ambition. They are all in nearly the same income scale and social scale and have a lot of the same interests.

These are the ingredients for success and growth — youth, vigor, ambition and congeniality!

Frame Construction: After your plans have been approved and permit issued, you can start construction; Dig a trench 12 inches wide 10 inches deep, place two bars of ½ inch reinforcing steel horizontally in trench. For a wood floor you are required to build a stem wall eighteen (18) inches above grade. Stem walls are tied into the footing with vertical steel at thirty-two (32) inches O.C.; these can

By ELIZABETH TOTTON

How would you like to have a reserve of talent stashed away for an emergency? Several of you have, we know, but one gal in particular strikes us as being quite clever. She is Donetta Leany who lives on Karen Way. With husband, Arvan, going to school evenings and two little boys, Jeffrey and Gregory, age 2 and 3, anticipating Christmas, Donetta wanted some extra shopping money. She got out her paints and brushes and sold several of the local businesses on the idea of decorating their windows for Christmas.

If you want to see some of her work, notice the windows at Foodland, Ideal Appliance, Lou La Porta Insurance (side windows), the Swanky Club and the drug store.

Donetta is very modest about her great talent. We have been in her home and seen the artistic mural she has created for their living room. It is a huge branch of driftwood (or dead wood) with a lone bluebird perched on one of the branches. Many of us are clever with the bucket and brush, but she is talented with the palette and brush.

A CITY SPEAKS
How shall I stand with neighbors who Expect justice, yet find me Not judging, but anxious to Defend what my people do, Even tho they malign me, Regarding my laws as just, Should I defend those whose acts Only convince me I must— Neglecting my sacred trust— Stand in judgment before facts? Shall I point out who is to blame? How did I fail? When? Why? Where? Am I to add to my shame, Mentioning, by sordid name, Each fault all my people share?
—Dale A. Thomas
From "It Could Be Verse"

Our town seems to have been well represented at the Community Concert last Monday evening. We saw several people from here; the audience was large so we could not pretend to have seen everyone. We noticed Mrs. Jane Pitchford with her little daughter, Tanya. Young Stephen Bigelow was there with his mother, Edith. We noticed John Dooley during the intermission. Margaret Ann Allsebrook was there with her mother, Charlotte Allsebrook. Doris Reed was noted visiting with friends. Anna Marie and Bob Webb add to the list of the music lovers we noticed from here.

PERSONAL TO BETTY DUTY: We called that number, FR 4-3923, to satisfy your curiosity and ours. Who should answer, but our good friend, Edith Bigelow. (This is what we love about a small town! . . . honestly we do). You recall that you were so intrigued by the ad that was in the HOME NEWS a couple of weeks ago? The ad offered, free, 2 kittens and 3 baby mice. You chortled over this for a few days, then called us to see if we knew what the story was . . . such sure-fire cannibalism.

Betty, the story is simply that Edith bought some mice for her little boys last summer when she was returning from a trip to Canada. The mice are just about as prolific as guppies, and she is over-stocked with the little things. The mice are originally from England, we will have you to know. They are adorable pets for the child who loves animals. We guess that includes all little boys. She says her boy takes them out of their cages and they run up and down his arm and are very endearing.

There is only one drawback . . . and you better give this a thought before you, or any of the listeners, call her immediately and say that you will be right over to get those she has to give away now. You must have the right kind of cage for them. They are tiny things . . . smaller than the laboratory mice. They need a cage that has very small wire mesh. It takes small spacing, something like screen wire. So, very likely they would have to have a cage especially built for them.

Don't be afraid, mamas . . . they can be kept in the cage. Edith says they are real cute . . . grey and brown.

So that is the story, Betty. Maybe we will be the means thru which some little boy will have a mouse to stir around for Christmas. (By the way, the kittens have already found their new homes).

We met Marcella and Joe Kielb at a local restaurant last Friday evening. If all the world were like them, what a grand world this would be. She told us their son and their daughter and son-in-law, Ardell and Doug Griffis, surprised them with a visit Thanksgiving. What a happy reunion it must have been. The grandchildren were along, too, of course . . . Trudy and Alan Griffis. They are all living in Reno now, so it was quite a trek down here. Marcella says that they will be back for New Years.

We know somewhere else they visited, too . . . Doug's dad and mom, Bill and Mae Griffis. The Kielbs and the Griffiss live in Trailer Haven, the cozy neighborhood which is continuing its growth in step with the area.

OBSERVATIONS: We received our first Christmas card toward the end of November . . . from Norway. Apparently the Europeans take their "Mail Early" campaign more seriously than we do . . . Wonder who will live in this fallout shelter for two weeks . . . We see the "friendly social smoke," as Whittier said, circling from neighbors' fireplaces and long for the same on these brisk nights.

Only fifteen more shopping days until Christmas. December 25th is not very far away.

Dobberstein's Move Here To Make Home

After three years in Norfolk, Va., Herb Dobberstein, who recently retired from the U. S. Navy with a chief's rating, proudly moved his family into their sparkling new home at 111 Hickory, fulfilling a dream, and a promise he had made to his wife, Ruth and their ten-year-old daughter, Cynthia.

Although Cynthia can no longer look forward to stamps from far away places to add to her collection, contributed from her father during his years of traveling, Herb is quite content to be back at Nellis Air Force Base . . . as a civilian.

Wisconsin-born Dobberstein bagged his first deer in this area several years ago. According to

OPEN LETTER

TO A TEENAGER

The following was clipped from the editorial page of the Laramie Boomerang. Really it is somewhat different from the items we often see in newspapers and magazines, it attacks the teenage question from a somewhat different angle than lecturers and commentators treat it.

We publish it here in the hope that it will be read. It will likely provoke thought.

—Publishers

Philip B. Gilliam, Denver, Colo. Juvenile Court Judge has written an "Open Letter to a Teenager" in a new booklet prepared by the Denver Juvenile Court.

The message is hard hitting and brutally frank and possibly some people will not agree with it, but we feel that it certainly deserves consideration and serious thought.

Always we hear the plaintive cry of the teenagers: What can we do? Where can we go? The answer is GO HOME!

Hang the storm windows, paint the woodwork. Rake the leaves, mow the lawn, shovel the walk. Wash the car, learn to cook, scrub some floors. Repair the sink, build a boat, get a job.

Help the minister, priest or rabbi, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army. Visit the sick, assist the poor, study your lessons. And then when you are thru—and not too tired—read a book.

Your parents do not owe you entertainment. Your city or village does not owe you recreational facilities. The world does not owe you a living . . . You owe the world something. You owe it your time and energy and your talents so that no one will be at war or in poverty or sick or lonely again.

In plain, simple words, GROW UP; quit being a crybaby. Get out of your dream world and develop a backbone, not a wishbone, and start acting like a man or a lady.

You're supposed to be mature enough to accept some of the responsibility your parents have carried for years. They have nursed, protected, helped, appealed, begged, excused, tolerated and denied themselves needed comforts so that you could have every benefit. This they have done gladly, for you are their dearest treasure but now, you have no right to expect them to bow to every whim and fancy just because selfish ego instead of common sense dominates your personality, thinking and requests.

In Heaven's name, GROW UP and GO HOME!

NEVADA LAW in the news

A PUBLIC SERVICE of the STATE BAR of NEVADA

INJUNCTIONS

Your newspaper often carries stories about court orders—"injunctions"—which, as a rule, prevent some person from doing some harm.

In one week recently your newspapers told how courts had issued injunctions in a dispute over operations of a dairy business, to prevent enforcement of a city ordinance as to motel outdoor price signs, by Federal Court in a damage action for infringement of a patent for sun-tan lotion, and in a pending divorce action to prevent removal of minor children from the state

An injunction is an "extraordinary" remedy like writs of mandamus, habeas corpus, and the like. It got its name because the English king or his chancellor used to issue such orders when the run-of-the-mill court actions could not solve the problem at hand.

As a rule you get a "temporary" injunction to keep someone from doing something, say, until you can get a law suit underway.

Sometimes, though, you get permanent injunctions which would stop someone from doing some harmful thing—like using irrigation water to which you are entitled, or from dumping pollutants in a stream you use.

Usually, if you want an injunction, your lawyer will take sworn statements into court to

TOASTMISTRESS GROUP TO GET CHARTER TODAY

The Lake Mead Toastmistress Club will have their Charter Banquet at the Colonial Inn tonight at 7:30 p.m. All Toastmistress and Toastmaster clubs of the area are invited with their guests, as well as the public. For reservations call Ann Boos at 305-M. Tickets may also be purchased at the door for $3.25.

The club met last Thursday and Dr. Fae Ahlstrom, club representative, gave a most interesting report on her trip to China Lake where the fall conference was held.

Larry Kautz, topicmistress, selected comments on Christmas for the theme of the evening's speeches. General evaluator was Joann Andree and timekeeper was Nancy Shermerhorn. The area speech contest was discussed and it was disclosed that the Henderson Toastmistress Club will be in charge, closing date to be February 28.

The meeting was then adjourned and the final arrangements were made for the Charter Banquet.

Cal Keele Is Honored By VFW Chief

Ted C. Connell of Killeen, Texas, Commander-in-Chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, has announced that Cal Keele, 516 Arizona St., B. C., has been appointed Special Aide-de-Camp to Senior Vice Commander-in-Chief Robert E. Hansen, South St. Paul, Minn.

In making his announcement of the appointment Commander-in-Chief Connell said: "It is a real pleasure for me to be able to appoint Keele as an aide-de-camp in our organization. In this capacity he will serve as a personal representative of Mr. Hansen and I know by his past achievements that he will continue to stand up for progress and achievement not only in the V.F.W. but also in his community, state and nation. Because of his past efforts the Veterans of Foreign Wars is today a better organization."

A stamp-saving game that American children get paid for playing

Today, thousands of American youngsters are buying U. S. Savings Bonds by saving 10¢ and 25¢ Savings Stamps each week. Stamps are sold at many schools, through the Treasury's School Savings Program and at most Post Offices. And as the stamp books are filled, they can be exchanged for full-fledged Bonds.

Here's how an eight-year school savings program works:

If they save this much each week	Bonds collected	Total Saved	Value at maturity
25¢	4	$75.00	$100.00
50¢	8	$150.00	$200.00

For further information write to your Savings Bonds State Director, or to the Savings Bond Division, U. S. Treasury Department, Washington 25, D. C.

... and a special note to grownups about U. S. Savings Bonds:

- You can save automatically with the Payroll Savings Plan.
- You now earn 3 1/4% interest to maturity.
- You invest without risk under a U. S. Government guarantee.
- Your money can't be lost or stolen.
- You can get your money, with interest, any time you want it.
- You save more than money—you help your Government pay for peace.
- Buy Bonds where you work or bank.

FREEDOM FIGHTERS

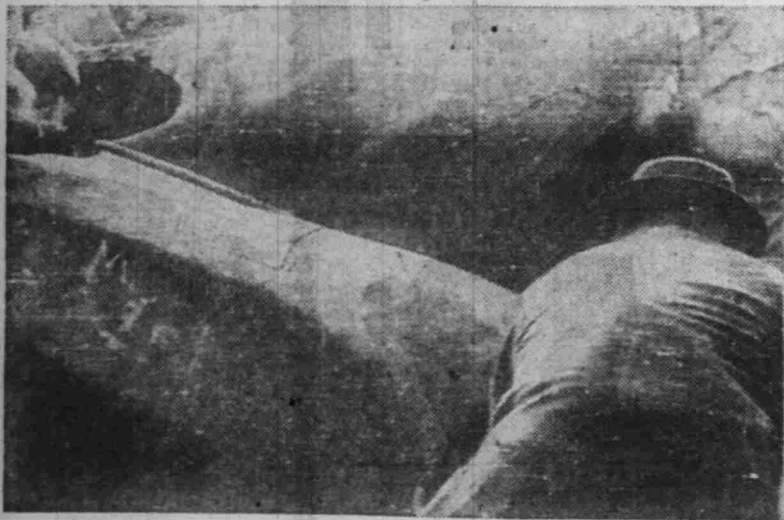

A SYMBOL DESTROYED — On this spot, in happier years, stood a Catholic Church in Budapest. The Reds had razed the building and erected a huge statue of Stalin on the spot. In one day, October 3, 1956, the Hungarian people, enlivened by a taste of freedom, tore down the bronze edifice to Communism and left only the boots of the dictator in the center of the pedestal. The Hungarian flag is seen draped over the right corner of the remnant of the statue.

EVEN THE RUSSIANS — The Freedom Fighter was an interpreter in the crew of this tank when the fighting broke out. He said part of the Russian crew went along with the Hungarians to show them how to operate the tank against still more Russians!

THE SPIRIT OF BRAVE YOUTH — This wrecked armored car gives mute testimony to the bravery of a 15-year-old boy who destroyed it single-handed and then with a bit of chalk mocked his rulers. He blew up the tank with a molotov cocktail, a bottle filled with gasoline, and then wrote "ready for repair" on the side. On a forward portion of the vehicle, he wrote "MEO I" which means, "Do a No. 1 job." The feat becomes even more ironic when you realize the Russians were the first to use the cocktails during their defense of Stalingrad in World War II.

SOUVENIRS — A Hungarian is seen busily cutting off a portion of the statue of Stalin for a memento of the short-lived uprising. One short week, from October 23 to 30, 1956, the Hungarians were free from domination by the Russians. Then the Russian army moved in and an orgy of reprisal began. The Freedom Fighter who brought these pictures in to the HOME NEWS asked that the paper refrain from listing any clue to his identity because he is afraid the Russians will take revenge on his relatives who still live in Hungary.

HOME NEWS EXCLUSIVE

A Hungarian Freedom Fighter, who escaped from his homeland after the ill-fated uprising October 23, 1956, told the HOME NEWS of the fight for freedom by Hungarians of all ages and stations in life in an exclusive interview.

Emery X (he must remain anonymous to protect friends and relatives still in Hungary) is also an amateur photographer and some of the photos he took during the rebellion are printed on this page. (The condition of the pictures is readily understandable when you realize he took them under fire in most cases. Ed.)

A mob of thousands of people tearing apart armored cars, tanks and heavily armed soldiers with their bare hands following the brutal slaying of an old woman, courageous teen-agers going blithely to their death under the mouths of Soviet cannon, Russian soldiers, caught up in the surge of humanity, fighting against their own commissars—these and many more tales of bravery and pathos were told by the young exile.

He said he can't give names and places for publication because, "There are a lot of Communists in this country. When the Hungarian government outlawed the Communist Party (pre-World War II. Ed.) a lot of them came to the United States. They are citizens now but still Communists and they could cause my relatives and friends a lot of trouble if they knew who I am."

Emery took advantage of the confusion following the aborted rebellion to escape to West Germany and from there made his way to the United States. He declined to give particulars of his escape. "A lot of people are still using the same means to get out of Hungary and to tell would close another avenue of travel to freedom."

Thousands of words have been written about the heroic fight of the oppressed Hungarians for freedom and their eventual enslavement by the iron-fisted Russian army, but this is the first time local people have had a chance to see with their own eyes this tragic tale of a people driven beyond caution or caring.

It is the policy of the HOME NEWS to print only news that is fresh and we believe the story of the continual fight for freedom throughout the world is the biggest news story of our time.

It is also fitting that this story be told and these pictures shown on the fourth anniversary of the Hungarian Rebellion.

A BUNCH OF DUMMIES — Even the non-combatants got in the act. People who couldn't carry arms or who were unable to find arms set up this dummy made of discarded Russian army equipment. Their feeling was that the Reds would look like a bunch of dummies when the world learned of the uprising in Budapest.

HONORED DEAD—Bodies of three Freedom Fighters lie on the street during the fighting. The wreathes at the upper right were put there by proud, sorrowing countrymen. Emery X said a large number of the fighters were teenagers and these are three of the youngsters who laid down their lives rather than live in bondage.

THE MIGHT OF THE PEOPLE — These tanks and armored cars with a full complement of heavily-armed Russian troops were deployed on one of the main boulevards in Budapest. An old woman, bent and decrepit with age, went up to the Russian captain commanding and spat in his face. In a sudden rage the Red shot her on the spot. Thousands of Hungarians were gathered on the street and when they saw the brutal slaying, they went berserk. Like a mighty tidal wave they swept over the soldiers, slaying them with bare hands and destroying the equipment.

2 Marine Academy Openings

Senator Alan Bible announced this week that he is accepting requests for nominations for appointment to the U. S. Merchant Marine Academy.

The Academy, located at Kings Point, Long Island, N. Y., offers a four-year course leading to a license as an officer in the U. S. Merchant Marine, a commission as Ensign in the U. S. Naval Reserve and the Bachelor of Science degree. The sophomore year is spent as a cadet on merchant vessels of the Merchant Marine.

Tuition, room and board, required uniform and textbooks, as well as medical and dental care are furnished by the government, Senator Bible said.

A candidate must be single, meet physical standards similar to those of midshipmen at the U. S. Naval Academy, must have reached his 17th but not his 22nd birthday by July 1, 1961, be a high school graduate or now in his senior year.

Two vacancies will be filled by the Nevada congressional delegation. Senator Bible will nominate 10 candidates, who will be eligible to take the examinations next March. After written tests, the two Nevada boys receiving the highest grades and passing physical examinations will receive the appointment.

"I urge all qualified young men who are interested in a worthwhile profession to write to me for details," Senator Bible stated.

DAM TOUR RECORD
During November, 26,150 visitors took the guided tour thru Hoover Dam and Powerplant. This was the second highest November recorded in the history of the guide service, exceeded only by November of 1954, when 27,376 visitors toured the dam. Daily average for the month is 872 persons. This year's total to date is 432,855 visitors.

Notable visitors included Otis Peterson, Assistant to Commissioner, United States Bureau of Reclamation, Washington, D. C., and Congressman Edgar Chenoweth of Colorado.

A Guide to HI-FI

by CLIFF EDWARDS

Tips For Kitbuilders

More and more music lovers are discovering the fun of assembling their own components. Here are 7 tips for the hi-fi do-it-yourselfer.

1. Familiarize yourself with parts: resistors, capacitors, coils, 2. Supply yourself with a 5-inch, small pocket-size and Phillips screwdriver. Side cutting pliers, long nose pliers, wire strippers and socket wrenches are also handy.

3. The Heath Company of Benton Harbor, Michigan, world's largest producer of do-it-yourself kits, stresses following instructions to the letter. Their kits come with easy-to-follow illustrations and diagrams.

4. Make sure connections are secure; cut and dress leads and components as shown in instructions.

5. Pick the solder tool (iron, gun, pencil) easiest for you to handle. Pencil is best for the beginner.

6. Faulty soldering is the most frequent cause of kit failure. Warranties become void if acid-core solder is used. Practice techniques first.

7. Re-check wiring, then test completed kit.

A Stillness at Appamatox

When Bruce Catton wrote his best seller a few years back about the meeting between Generals Grant and Lee which ended the war between the states, he recreated the formality and manliness of a scene almost one hundred years ago.

The readers of this column may well wonder what the title of this essay has to do with sports. Let me add that I am borrowing this phrase since it may well be applied to a few moments in a game of football that took place this past weekend over the border from Virginia in the city of Baltimore.

There have been many thrilling conflicts on the gridiron in which one team snatched victory from defeat in the last few seconds. But seldom if ever was there such a turnaround as occurred at Memorial Stadium between the Colts and the Detroit Lions.

We have come to expect these giants of the football scene to produce one thrill after another. We have seen Johnny Unitas earlier this fall throw a long touchdown pass to his wingback, Lenny Moore, on the last play of the fray and defeat the Chicago Bears. And so, as the Colts put the ball in play on their own 20 yard line with one minute and nineteen seconds to play and trailing 13-8, we wondered if another miracle would unfold.

Slowly and surely the Colts drove toward the Lion goal line, eating up yardage and watching the clock. Then with fourteen seconds left, the cool Colt quarterback unleashed a forward pass into the corner of the end zone that Moore dove for and grabbed before it hit the sod. This put Baltimore in the van. The crowd that encircled the playing area swarmed over the gridiron, hugged the home team players and the roar that continued held up the completion of this memorable battle.

It was minutes before the field could be cleared of the spectators. A capacity gathering of more than 57,000 was on hand for the Baltimore team's final home game. They were the champions for the past two years and they were after an unprecedented third successive crown.

But there were about ten seconds left to play and it takes an exceptionally fast sprinter in football to travel the length of the field in that time. And so to all, it seemed that this game would go into the record books as a Colt victory.

The Lions took the kickoff on the two and returned it to the 35 yard line. There was only a second or two left as Earl Morrell took the snap from center and threw a pass down the middle that Jim Gibbon snared on the Colt forty and took into the end zone for the winning score as the game ended. The roar of the crowd was deafened by a stillness at Baltimore that could be heard throughout the United States as we who were privileged to be arm chair spectators, watched a scene that was more unbelievable than fiction, except that we were there. And so the Stillness at Appamatox has a counterpart in the Stillness at Baltimore as this turnaround may well be the defeat of a champion and be the beginning of the end of the dominance of the Colts in the professional football league.

AUDIT OF 1959-60 FISCAL YEAR ANALYZED BY CITY FINANCE OFFICER

The following study of the audit report covering the 1959-60 fiscal year and conclusions drawn from it was prepared for the HOME NEWS by Don Dawson, City Auditor. (Ed.)

The City of Henderson has recently received an audit report on all funds of the municipality for the fiscal period July 1, 1959 through June 30, 1960. This audit was performed by the audit firm, Conway, Moe and Hibbs of Las Vegas, Nevada.

It is certainly a pleasure to report to the citizens of this community the audit reflects the financial position of our City has increased approximately $75,000.00 since the prior audit one year ago, and is now represented by an unappropriated surplus value of $162,243.85.

The financial position reflected within the audit as unappropriated surplus does not mean a cash availability, but largely indicates the reduction of liabilities against the fixed and cash assets of the City. The consistent reduction in the bonded debt of the municipality continues to increase the financial position as well as a reduction of vouchers payable at the close of a fiscal period, would increase the financial position.

The audit report certifies the cash in bank and further advises securities are on deposit by the Bank of Nevada with the First Western Bank and Trust Company of San Francisco, to secure the deposits within the treasury of the City of Henderson.

A statement of the General Bonded Debt was prepared which reflects no default has occurred and also shows the reduction of Bonded Debt as well as the current outstanding Bonded Debt.

(This statement is printed elsewhere in this issue of the HOME NEWS. Ed.)

The General Fund of the City operated under the appropriated budget by $107,064.52, and the Municipal Utilities did operate under its appropriated budget by $21,345.47. These facts are certainly a credit to those officials, officers and administrative supervisors in performance of duty.

I believe certain comment is due the general public on recommendations made by the audit firm so there can be no misunderstanding of intent or action of this firm.

Upon completion of an extensive audit as performed by this group, it is only natural they would note improvements that may be made, whether they be for current or future benefit. It was certainly noteworthy, the modernizing of the accounting system and at present the City's Finance Department has under study a complete machine accounting system and the economic feasibility of such installation. The audit firm also advised a monthly audit be made of the bail and recreation trust funds, rather than an annual audit, this being purely a protective measure for the Municipal Judge.

Also, it is recognized as the City continues to grow and maintenance materials are stored for emergency repairs, an inventory control will be affected and stock control records will be established within the accounting system.

I certainly hope this brief will assist the general public to understand a little more of their governmental operation, its bonded debt and the present financial position.

Sidewalk Problem Tabled For Opinion Of City Attorney

Uncompleted sidewalks all over the city, an estimated 20,000 lineal feet, will cost about $50,000 to complete, the city council was told Monday night.

Considerable discussion was held on how assessment districts were to be set up and how the mutual and extra costs were to be divided. An example of these mutual or extra costs would occur when the man in a corner house had installed sidewalks as per a city recommendation a few years back. Now that some of his neighbors, who haven't installed sidewalks, are to be putting in theirs, how is the cost of the extra footage on the corner house to be paid? Or in the case of a man in the center of the street who has built a sidewalk and paid for it, is he going to have to pay his proportionate share of the mutual footage on the corner lot?

The council decided to postpone action on this knotty problem until next meeting for opinion from city attorney John Manzone.

42 Clarks Gather At Lake Mead For Reunion Dinner

Friday Municipal Court Cases Told

Derald Dewayne Martin was fined $50 by Municipal Judge George Treem in court Friday on charges of disorderly conduct and being involved in a fight. Martin said he started the braggadocio, which blew up into a full-fledged battle with fists, chains, wrenches and miscellaneous materials, because either James Cavins or Leland W. Young, servicemen at Nellis, made an "obscene gesture" at him.

A companion of Martin, Alf Birkby, was dismissed after one of the airmen and police officer Ray Carter testified he didn't become involved in the actual hostilities.

A guilty plea to contributing to the delinquency of a minor brought a $75 fine for Lawrence Wieder, 26. He was accused after police found him in the company of a 16-year-old near the Lucky Club at 2:30 in the morning. This was the second time the offense had happened. He was released by police after the first time with a warning.

Clayton Miracle changed his plea from innocent to guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct and was fined $50. Miracle was charged in connection with an incident in Pittman at the home of William Pugh on Halloween night. He had since obtained employment in California and had to travel back for his day in court. In earlier appearances the case was put off for one reason and another, forcing him to make the long trek again.

Another Halloween case, this one for allegedly mixing rabbit droppings with candy given youthful trick-or-treaters by Mrs. Jannie Thomas of the 7-11 Trailer Court, was dropped for lack of sufficient evidence. An exhibit of candy given a youngster by Mrs. Thomas was shown and found to include some of the foreign substance; there was but no evidence that she had introduced the droppings into the candy.

Walter L. Porter "guessed" he was guilty of gross intoxication and reluctantly pleaded guilty to vagrancy to "save the court time." He was fined $25 on the first count and $10 on the second case.

Marvin Wilbur Burton pled guilty to driving on expired California license plates and driving on a revoked operator's license. He was fined $25 on the first count and $50 on the second.

FLORIDA TRIP PLANNED

Cathy Cutright, 466 National, is leaving today for St. Petersburg, Florida, for a five month visit with relatives. She will stop in Dallas enroute to visit with Bernice Lambert, former nurse at Rose de Lima hospital. She will be at home at 1820 44th Street So., St. Petersburg, Fla.

DILKES DIGGIN'S

by gene dilkes

If you would like to see a few good reasons for helping out with the Boys Club, ask Police Chief George Crisler to show you a couple of case cards on juveniles.

A few of them have been run in the HOME NEWS so you probably have a good idea what they contain. It sure opened our eyes.

One of those boys started to get into trouble with the police in 1953 by getting into mischief and graduated by degrees thru the next seven years until he was on the hook for just about everything in the book.

He and others like him are beyond helping, but if someone had been around in 1952 to say, "why go out and mess around? Come on over to the Boys Club and have some fun," this lad would probably have channeled his energy and talents in more constructive activities.

Someone a lot smarter than we once said, a man shouldn't regret mistakes, but rather be thankful for them and learn.

Now is a good time for the citizens of this town to take that to heart. We can't help the boys who are currently making headlines, giving other kids a bad name and raising a stink in the town, but we can help a lot of boys who will be in the same fix five or six years from now if they don't get help.

There's another reason aside from your moral and civic obligation. Every time a juvenile is picked up, questioned and then either released or punished, it costs a lot of taxpayers' money. People always squawk about taxes, us included.

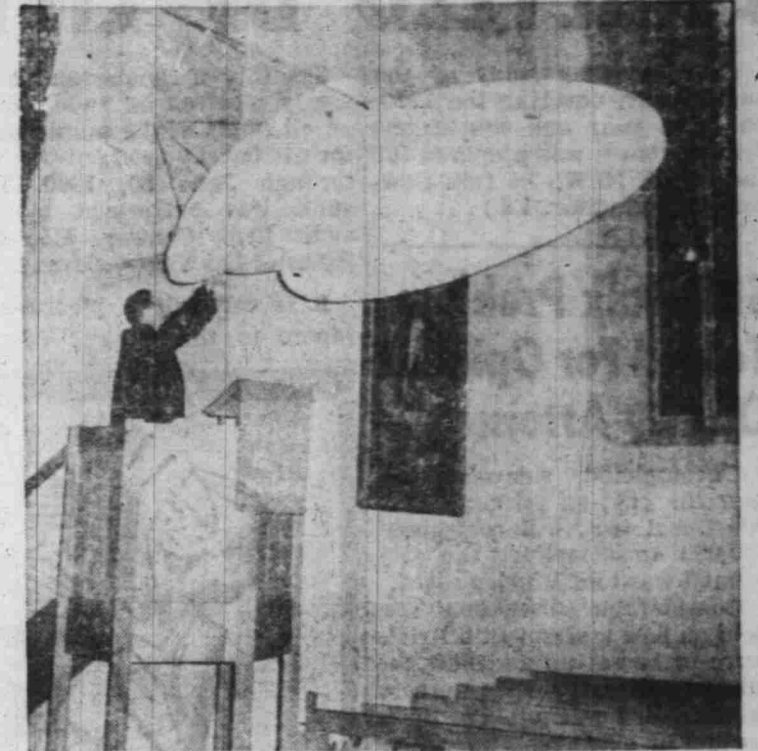

Now's your chance to do something about it. A meeting will be held in the Boys Club building in Victory Village Thursday night at 8 to formulate plans for the coming month. If enough people show up, an expanded program can be initiated and more boys can be reached. The way things stand now there just aren't enough people to supervise. You don't have to be an expert in anything, just be willing to be there for a couple of hours.

Surprisingly, it isn't work, but pleasure. After keeping your nose glued to the grindstone all day long, trying to beat out a living it's relief to let down and have fun.

Take our word for it, that's what you'll have—a whale of a lot of fun.

Three common beliefs are that bats snarl themselves in women's hair, falling cats always land on their feet, and elephants are afraid of mice. All are untrue.

All Ears

ANSBACH, WEST GERMANY — Shaped like a pair of huge ears, these plastic sounding boards are a giant hearing aid for the entire congregation of St. Johannes Church. The boards were erected to correct the poor acoustics of the church. Now everyone can hear the sermon.

Everyone Paints In R. L. Smith Family Except Vae Don; He Sings

The Raymond Larkin Family of 50 East Atlantic St. is probably the busiest in town. In addition to working very actively in the LDS church, going to school, making a living, raising kids, etc., the whole family paints!

Not on houses or barns but on canvas.

Mrs. Larkin said they have about 20 unfinished pictures around the house, a flock they have completed and have given away scads more.

The string of artists started in the 1930's in Utah. Mrs. Larkin started painting in grade school and high school at St. George and continued on into college at Dixie Junior College. In 1939-40 she won an award as an "outstanding artist" in competition with high school and college students. She was a senior in high school at the time.

A few years back Larkin got started in the brush and canvas bit. Rather, he backed into it. He says he started criticizing his wife's work and ended up painting in self defense. Now he is the most prolific of the bunch, turning out two or three canvasses for each of theirs. During layoffs from his job, he is a construction electrician, he works on his home and paints.

Vae Don, 18, the oldest of the eight children, is also an artist, but he uses his voice instead of paints.

Danne, 15; Annale, 17; and Penny, 14, are all budding artists that show a lot of talent. They have all won many art contests and are active in doing artwork for school and church dances. They all had a hand in decorating for the Gold and Green ball of the LDS First Ward.

Annale and Penny show an affinity for portrait work while their dad leans to scenery. Mom and Danne aren't particular, they just paint.

All of the girls plan to pursue their art careers through college. They have taken some modern and abstract art in school, but Danne is the only one that has any liking for it.

Mrs. Smith has been responsible for establishing a visual aid library in three stakes in the LDS church, Lake Mead, Moapa and Las Vegas.

In addition to all the other activities, the girls make their own clothes. They say they have never bought a dress, but rather would make their own. They do confess to purchasing skirts, blouses and formals, but they "re-do" the latter. "You can make them look a lot nicer," Danne grins.

Some day, the family plans to hold a showing of their paintings. Right now it's just a pipe-dream but if they put the same energy and talent into planning one, you can bet your bottom dollar they'll have a humdinger!

Dorothy Belger President of Does

Dorothy Belger was elected president of the B.P.O. Does, Henderson Drove 135, a meeting held recently to elect 1961 officers. Installation ceremonies are scheduled for January 7, at the Elks Lodge. Betty Wagner was elected Deputy Supreme President to install the new slate of officers, and Elayne Mitzel will be Deputy Conductor.

Elected to serve in 1961 with Mrs. Belger are the following: Ann Peak, First Counselor; Evelyn Gates, Senior Counselor; Jean Plamondon, Junior Counselor; Ruth Chiddix, Conductor; Leslie McDonald, Secretary; Helen Pantuso, Treasurer; Betty Childs, Inner Guard, and June Paramore, Outer Guard. Kay Herron is three-year Trustee, serving with Betty Wagner and Elayne Mitzel as two-and-one-year Trustees, respectively.

Following the meeting, a special Christmas party was held by the members. Each officer was presented with a gift from outgoing president Kay Herron. Instead of exchanging gifts, the Does gifted the Elks kitchen with dish towels and supplied food for the Elks needy baskets.

ON THE DISTAFF SIDE

By SHARON DILKES

If you're in the neighborhood of 557 Burton on a warm day, and a loud wolf whistle comes sailing through the breeze, don't get sore. It's not only Andy, and really he's not responsible . . . you see he's a mynah bird.

I was talking with his owner, Mrs. John (Ursula) Schlindler last week when I first heard the wolf whistle. We went into the den to see him, and he was also coaxed into saying "hello." Mrs. Schlindler laughed and said that the wolf whistle had caused lots of comment during the five years they have lived here.

Party Stopper
One lady who came to visit them perked up considerably when she heard the whistle during a party. Must have been quite a let down when she realized it was only a bird! Andy had to be kept at the temperature of 55 degrees or above and if he gets a little chilled, he is given a drink of liquor, preferably whisky, in his water. He loves this, and has been known to repeat "call the man about the television" over and over again following his warming up procedure.

The Schlindler family, John,

Ursula and their daughter, Ingrid, came to the United States seven years ago from Germany. Mrs. Schlindler said they were sponsored by friends in Connecticut where they stayed for 1 1/2 years. Work was difficult to find since it was necessary to wait 5 years to become citizens. Friends told them about the west, and eventually they found their way here.

"There is much similarity between Europe and the East," Mrs. Schlindler commented, "It wasn't until we came to the west, and Nevada, particularly, that the United States became as we had pictured it. We enjoy the space, it is so different."

Came to U. S. With $2
When the family left Germany they sold their belongings and gave the money to her mother. They were unable to bring any money into this country with them. "When your quota is called, you go. We had waited four years and arrived with $2.00."

John and Ursula decided to come to this country following the unhappy war years to give their daughter a chance to grow up as a United States citizen. "Times have not always been pleasant for us, but Ingrid's life is ahead of her," her mother said.

Mrs. Schlindler's mother is still in Berlin, in the Russian Zone. Outgoing mail is censored so it is difficult to know too much about her life. She sometimes is able to get a pass into West Berlin where she is able to attend a movie and have a good cup of coffee.

Ingrid is an attractive teenager, now attending her junior year at Basic High School where she is listed as an "A" student. Her mother says she is very conscientious and helpful at home. She is active in the French and Latin clubs; GAA, and Student Council. Ingrid came to our schools in the end of her third year, speaking no English. "We spoke only English that summer, and by the time she made some friends she picked the language up quickly," her mother commented. "She doesn't speak with an accent, even now."

Family of Linguists

Ursula and John learned English in High School. Language is stressed in Germany and most high school students learn four or five languages, with 2 to 3 being compulsory. Physics and chemistry are also required in the German high schools. Ursula speaks German and French now, and still has the basics of Latin, Spanish and Italian. The students who do not wish to go on to high school go into vocational school, and work as apprentices with small wage. This system kept the teenagers busy, and the rate of delinquency was practically nil.

Loves Parties
Ursula and John met at a party in Germany and were married within a year at the conclusion of the war. She laughed and added, "That must be why I love to give parties."

Mrs. Schlindler said, "Most German people felt badly about the war, it was a gloomy day. When the U. S. entered the war, we knew it was lost. Only two percent of the people in Germany were party members, and with the exception of a few diehards, people were relieved to see the end of the whole crazy undertaking."

"We hoped that the U. S. would occupy all of Germany. They were bad years, but it is fortunate that people have the ability to forget easily. We enjoy the fun here and rarely watches over a dress shop on the strip.

Yardful of Buried Cookies

Ingrid's pet, a Siberian sled dog or Samoyed, Wolfie, is well known around the neighborhood for loving to ride in cars. Every one has laughed about the time he got out, and was involved in a multiple dog fight in a woman's yard. The poundmaster was dutifully called and when he arrived all the dogs scattered. All but one, that is, Wolfie, without any invitation, climbed into the panel truck. He wanted a ride. Wolfie sleeps in Ingrid's room on a couch—with a pillow. And if the pillow isn't there he starts looking until he finds one and takes it into his couch. He buries anything he doesn't want to eat at the moment, and Ursula laughed and said "The back yard is probably full of cookies, as well as socks and other items we're missing."

Traveling—Family Hobby

Traveling is listed as the family hobby. They visited Canada last summer and saw the Olympics in Squaw Valley. They take Wolfie along with them on their trips, and when they go out for an evening, he goes into the closet to sleep until they return.

Good Omen

Ursula said "As a child about ten I collected cactus plants. I had so many at one time my father said to get rid of them. My mother came to my rescue and we put them on a planter which held several rows of the stickier plants. She told me that since I was so crazy about them, I should live in a place where think back."

"We have decorated our home and added a screened in porch with a bar. We hope someday to have a larger home. We are still working on replacing the things we left in Germany."

Mrs. Schlindler has been employed as a bookkeeper at KLRJ TV, Channel 2 for six years. During her spare moments she

Comptons Honored At Cocktail Party

District Judge and Mrs. Bill Compton were honored and wished good luck by many of their friends at a cocktail party hosted by Mr. and Mrs. John Schlindler in their home, 577 Burton St., on November 27.

Among the guests proposing toasts for good luck were Mr. and Mrs. Joe McBeath, Dr. and Mrs. William Dubovik, Mr. and Mrs. William Reardon, Mr. and Mrs. Morry Zenoff, Judge and Mrs. David Zenoff, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Price, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hillis, Mr. and Mrs. J. Layton, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Sage, Mr. and Mrs. John Gilbert, Mrs. Ann Dohrenwend, Mrs. Chuck Griffin and Mrs. John Gaitler. The Comptons' daughter, Marcia, and Schlindlers' daughter, Ingrid, were also present.

they grew. I wonder if it was an omen."

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Armstrong, 122 Beech St., entertained Mrs. Armstrong's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Meyer of Culver City, Calif., over the Thanksgiving Holidays.

Christmas shopping, lunches at the hotels and some occasional gambling were the highlights of the visit—and of course, the grandchildren, Eric, 6, and Thor, 5.

Cubs, Scouts At Vegas Pow Wow

Local Cub Scout Leaders attended a pow wow at Roy Martin Jr. High School last Saturday. Four separate sessions, covering nearly all phases of scouting were emphasized.

Pack Administration, handicrafts, ceremonies, and games were torn apart, investigated and put back together by the scouts. Sessions ran from 12:15 p.m. until 5:00 p.m.

Local leaders attending were Ilene Green, Barbara Nicholas, Ruby Winton, Virginia Sampson, and A. L. Anderson, Jr. from Pack 37; Alice Beaumont and Mary Lou Wilcock from Pack 8; Edith Sevey, Vilate Homer and Blaine Sevey from Pack 33.

Reva Golden, den mother from Pack 22, sponsored by the LDS First Ward, helped with the themcraft exhibition.

In a separate meeting, Boy Scouts who serve as Den Chiefs attended the Den Chief Conference Saturday morning. This meeting was held for boys who are serving now, or for those who plan to serve. Kent Stewart, District Commissioner for Paradise District was Chariman of the event. Local boys attending were Eddy Dilkes, James Green and Stephen Baker of Troop 37. Floyd Green assisted with the sessions and the boys barbecued their lunch in the park.

BREAKINS REPORTED

A break-in and an attempted break-in were investigated by police recently.

The office of Dr. Robert Mortensen, 26 Water St., was visited by a person or persons with intent on gaining entry sometime during the night of Dec. 1. Police said the door around the lock was "hacked and chipped" but that the would-be burglars were frightened away before they could gain entrance.

Virginia Stewart, 24-B, Victory Village, reported to police at 3 a.m. Saturday that someone had kicked in a panel on her door. She said a cursory search of the apartment didn't turn up anything missing, but that she would make a more thorough inventory and report if anything was taken.

Personnel at the Telephone Company reported Nevada license plate No. C1-3474 was

Basic High School Teacher Studies On Scholarship

By ANNA MARIE WEBB

Larry Lochridge, one of our local high school teachers, is attending the University of Southern California in Los Angeles. He has been awarded a scholarship to attend the Counseling and Guidance Institute there.

Of the twenty-seven students in the class, twenty-three are men. The class is composed mainly of teachers from the western part of the United States. Some of the states represented are Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Utah, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, Oklahoma, Mississippi, California, Nevada, and Hawaii. Mr. Lochridge is the only teacher attending from Nevada.

The scholarship is available only to experienced teachers interested in counseling and these teachers must meet the entrance requirements of the graduate school.

Class work consists of fifteen semester units with primary emphasis on counseling. Among the areas of counseling studied are vocational counseling and counseling gifted students. Courses in psychology are also taken.

The Institute's program is designed for beginning counselors only, and these are selected from experienced teachers.

The Counseling and Guidance Institute is provided for by the National Defense Education Act of 1958. This act came about because of the alarm created by the success of the Russian "Sputnik" project. In hopes of bettering our schools, former Harvard president James Bryan Conant made a study of our education system. The National Defense Education Act of 1958 was put into effect as a result of his report. Under this act, summer schools for teachers are set up and grants of money are presented to colleges from the federal government to select teachers for training in student guidance and counseling.

Mr. Conant has also made a survey of the nation's schools on the junior high level. This report will soon be published.

When asked why he was awarded this scholarship, Lochridge said that John A. Dooley, principal of Basic High School, brought the opportunity to his attention last year, and during the summer both Lochridge and Dr. R. Guild Gray, Clark County School Superintendent, wrote to the University of Southern California concerning the application.

The group of teachers attending these classes is a self-contained group, staying together in all classes. The classes are not open to anyone who is not a member of the selected group. Outside of this fact, the classes are conducted like any other university class. In addition to their normal assignments, the teachers also have various outside reading assignments.

The instructor of the psychology classes is Dr. Lewis S. Thorpe, who is one of the best men in his field. He is able to give the class illustrative cases from his wealth of experience and background. From him the class learns about psychological testing, mental hygiene, the different types of personalities and other areas of psychology necessary to the field of guidance and counseling.

Dr. Earl F. Carnes is the head of the Institute of Guidance and Counseling. He makes the necessary arrangements, sets up the classes and acts as an advisor to the group. He also teaches Psychological Tests and Measurements and Principles in Organization of Guidance Services.

The teachers also take a subject of their own choosing and write a paper leading up to their thesis or project studies. Lochridge is working on a study entitled "Evaluation of the Cumulative Record." Two aspects of this large study are the study of the family background and the standardization of records.

The teachers also spend six hours a week in one of the Los Angeles city high schools, putting the information they learn in their courses to practical use. This field work is supervised by practicing psychologists who are working on their doctorates. Lochridge has been assigned to Fairfax high school in West Hollywood. After they became oriented in the school, the teachers work toward their ultimate object of doing vocational counseling in the school. Counselors give the high school students a variety of tests to determine interest, personality, IQ, and Achievement; then a study of the cumulative record with the results of the tests is made to select the vocation best utilizing the student's capabilities. The objective is to find realistic goals for high school students.

After completing this year's studies in the Counseling and Guidance Institute, Lochridge will lack only three units toward his Master of Science Degree in Education. The course also is set up to fulfill requirements for a counselor's certificate in California, Nevada, and other states.

Lochridge says that the course of study is very interesting, and everyone is kept busy. The group of teachers attending the classes has a wide variety of experience and knowledge and this adds a great deal to class discussion.

At present Mr. Lochridge is on a year's leave of absence from the Clark County School System. At Basic high school for the last four years he has taught drafting and has been assistant football coach. He received his degree from Nebraska State Teachers College at Chadron in 1953. His wife, Barbara is teaching kindergarten at Park Village Elementary School. They have two children in Basic Elementary School, David in the second grade and Janet Lee in kindergarten.

Originally from Nebraska, they have lived here for four and one-half years. They now live at 524 Burton. The family is active in the Community Church and participates in other community affairs.

Want A Pooch?

Poundmaster Terry Larkin announced the listing of four dogs for adoption today.

Topping the list is a nice female police dog about nine months old.

For those who want a smaller dog, a two-year-old male cocker is looking for a home.

The easy way to make your kids think you're a second Santa Claus would be to bring home one of the two cute, cuddly female pups in the pound. They are both "Heinz" breeding—i.e. 57 different varieties. One is three months old and the other is a month older.

Harold Sniders Come Back From Hawaii Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Snider, 123 Cholla St., returned recently from a two week visit to Honolulu, Hawaii. While there they visited their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Krinke and her niece and her family. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Farrell. Krinke is stationed with the Air Force there and Farrell is in the Army working in an Army hospital.

The Sniders flew by Pan American from Los Angeles in approximately 5 1/2 hours. While they were there the "Aloha Week" celebration was being held. During this time the ladies wear mums, street celebrations are held, and there is dancing every night with all kinds of dancers performing. "It was similar to a fair," Mrs. Snider commented. They were able to drive around most of the island, omitting only a portion in the northwest part where they found bad road.

Mrs. Snider brought back four mums. She laughed "And I'm going to wear them next summer. They are so much cooler. Some one asked me to describe them... as close as I can come is they are like another mother hubbard."
