50 Families Given Notice To Leave Victory Village

Approximately 50 families have received notices to move out of Victory Village, the HOME NEWS learned yesterday from James Farndale, Executive Director of the Clark County Housing Authority.

Farndale said apartments in the Housing Authority's projects here are now limited according to the size of families and income.

Those receiving notices to move are tenants whose income is $7500 or more per year, regardless of the size of families. The Executive Director said the Housing Authority has come to the decision that families with this amount of income do not need to live in public housing projects.

Tenants asked to move out of Victory Village were given 60 days notice Farndale said.

Bob Brown, chairman of the board, said that the Clark County housing is established under the State Enabling Act to provide low rent for low-income families, who need temporary help.

A recent survey revealed some incomes over $12,000 a year.

"We have been criticized by people with rentals in Henderson for providing housing for these high income people, and our purpose is not to interfere with private business," Brown said. Some families, although they were not notified are leaving to find other housing because they know they shouldn't be in the project, according to Brown.

A waiting list of 245 families faced the five-member board of directors last month, and it was felt that these low income people will be able to find housing with the elimination of the higher income people. It usually takes three months on the waiting list to gain entrance, Brown said.

Any family with a wife and one or two children, making upwards of $6,500 per year, will not be accepted into the project.

Asked if the housing would cater only to military personnel, Brown said that all types of low-income families would be accepted. He said there are retired people, store clerks, Nellis air men, and others. Each family, however, will be screened before being admitted, and anyone making over the minimum amount will not be given residence.

Chicken Feed Plant Planned For Ind. Park

The city planning commission has set Nov. 21 as the date for a public hearing on an application for a use permit to operate a poultry feed processing plant at Gibson Road, on Boulder Highway, between Sunset Road and Frontier.

The hearing will be held at city hall, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Planning Commission Chairman E. R. Lindblom said a final decision on the use permit would be made at that time. All interested parties are invited to attend.

The request for the permit reads, "To operate a processing plant for poultry feed exclusively."

St. Timothy's Breaks Ground For Expansion

St. Timothy's Episcopal Church, Pacific and Panama streets, will break ground for a new Parish House this Sunday at 11 a.m. it was announced by the Reverend J. Robert Nicholas, Vicar.

The present plans have been evolved through eight months of intensive planning by the Mission Council and congregation, using the skills and abilities of many members of the congregation, Rev. Nicholas said.

The Parish House building will be located directly behind the existing furnace room, providing ready access to the existing church facilities while minimizing any distractions from noise, said the Vicar.

In addition the location will provide the most desirable base for future expansion as well as providing a means for transforming the present, unsightly appearance of the furnace room.

Careful and thoughtful planning has made it possible to erect an attractive, economical multi-purpose unit for recreational and educational activities which play such an important part in helping individuals to discover that they are, in fact, members of God's family as well as their own, Rev. Nicholas said.

200 Hear Civil Defense Talk At St. Peter's Parents' Club

Approximately 200 parents were present at the October meeting of St. Peter's Parents Club to hear Fire Chief Don Richard speak on Civil Defense.

Chief Richard showed an excellent movie entitled, "Thirty Minutes To Survival."

Msgr. R. C. Anderson, Pastor, presented a welfare plan for protection of the parochial school children which met with the approval of all present. Msgr. Anderson said the plan was devised following Civil Defense Director Harold Corbin.

St. Peter's School has almost 400 students enrolled this year. Of these, 99 are from Nellis Air Force Base and 89 are from the Las Vegas and Desert Hills areas.

Local children would probably have time to go home in the event of attack; however, some plan is felt necessary to protect the students attending school here from other areas.

Presiding over the meeting were the newly elected president, Mrs. William Gines, and her staff of officers including, Mrs. James Orr, vice president; Mrs. John Kisan, secretary; and Bill Graham, treasurer.

It was announced that the students at St. Peter's are now selling raffle tickets on cash prizes to be awarded at the Annual Thanksgiving Dance. First prize will be $250; second $50, and eight prizes of $25 each. Winners need not be present in order to win.

All funds raised through the sale of tickets will be used for the Civil Defense program of the school.

AM-POT Chief Speaks Here; Tells Of Making Fuel Here For Astronauts Retro-Rockets

Although we get none of our basic materials from Nevada and we sell very little of our products in the state, the location of an electrochemical industry here is by no means as illogical as you might think Robert B. Coons, a vice-president and board member of American Potash and Chemical Co., told a Henderson audience Tuesday.

Coons, speaking at a Rotary Club luncheon, said the reason a chemical industry developed in Clark County was because it possessed the first essentials of any business — a good labor supply possessed of the necessary skills, and an assured supply of water and electric power.

"Most of the chemical operations are electrochemical in nature and hence are absolutely dependent upon assured supplies of these utilities," he said.

"American Potash," he pointed out, "began operations in Henderson in 1955 after acquiring Western Electrochemical Co. which had moved in at war's end.

"We produce locally four products essential to industry, agriculture and the defense and space programs."

"Our most exotic product," he said, "is ammonium perchlorate which is an oxidizer for solid fuels used in such missile programs as Polaris and Minuteman and in the retro-rockets which make it possible for our astronauts to return their space capsules from orbit."

"About four cents of every sales dollar is plowed back into research and development," Coons said.

He praised Henderson for its recognition of the close relationship between its continued existence and growth and the chemical plants located here.

"An increasing thing, in view of the state's major industry," Coons said at the end of his talk, "is our fine personnel record in the area of turnover, safety, length of service and absenteeism."

LTR BUS WILL TAKE JR. HIGH STUDENTS TO BAND CONCERT

Transportation to and from the Marine Band Concert, at the Convention Center today, posed a problem for some Junior High School students here.

The Evening Optimist Club, sponsoring the concert, announced yesterday that a bus is being donated by the Las Vegas, Tonopah, Reno Stage Line to transport Henderson students to the matinee concert.

The bus, which will accommodate 27 passengers, will pick up students at the Junior High School at 1:30 p.m., take them to the concert and bring them back.

"Despite the fabled lure of the bright lights, plushy shows and 24-hour gambling, our work force at Henderson compares favorably with our work forces in other parts of the country in regards to showing up for work on time, remaining in our employ for protracted periods, performing work safely and efficiently."

MARKETS REPORT

Some Residents Prepare For Emergency; Some Don't

Reports from Henderson food markets indicate that residents in some sections of the city stocked up on food supplies in preparation for an emergency during last week's Cuban crisis while those in other parts of town bought no more than usual.

Foodland showed a definite increase in the amount of canned goods sold, according to Manager Ron Murr; however there was not a great deal of difference and the store didn't run out of any type of merchandise.

There was not too much difference in week-end shopping at Market Town, according to Manager Al Worboys, and although most customers seemed to be picking up a few extra cans of food, no sections were depleted of stock. One noticeable sale was a case of corned beef which one customer purchased.

There was no noticeable difference in buying at Carver Park Food Center. Co-owner Harold Garrish reports that, if anything, sales were off last week-end as they usually are during the hunting season.

Garrish said he had discussed the situation with salesmen for the various wholesalers and had learned that in the Los Angeles area people literally cleaned out the markets.

The Carver Park merchant said he thought perhaps the people here were not so badly frightened as those in Southern California.

The story was different at Safeway and Rancho markets.

Safeway manager Dean Haworth was notified by Safeway's Los Angeles office, immediately after President Kennedy's speech, that supplies were being prorated and rushed directly to the local store from Los Angeles.

The Safeway Transportation system is a part of the Los Angeles Civil Defense and extra supplies were rushed to this area as many Southern California people are expected to come here in an emergency.

The store reports greatly increased sales in canned meats, vegetables, fruits and juices, bottled water and all items which were scarce during World War II.

In spite of the continuous stream of supplies coming into the store, they ran out of some canned meat items.

In line with Safeway's interest in Civil Defense, Haworth said, John Repass, manager of the company's Charleston store, is actively interested in the Civil Defense program in Las Vegas.

Orville Keith, co-owner and manager of Rancho Market reported greatly increased sales in canned meats, fruits, vegetables and juices. In fact, Rancho had to bring in an extra truckload of supplies and still ran out of several items in canned meats.

Keith said it was also noted that many customers asked to have their canned goods packed in boxes which could be used for storage purposes.

Mrs. Keith was recently appointed Civil Defense Chairman for the VFW Basic Post Auxiliary and Keith reports that not only the customers, but he and his wife also, stocked up their emergency CD pantry, which Mrs. Keith has maintained for a long period of time.

Two different words but meaning the same. Caring, affects everything we do and everyone we meet. If we care we do jobs well. But if we don't care enough, we only do enough to get by.

A harsh truth to face, but one I'm afraid most of us have been guilty of at one time or another. If we care about the persons we encounter, even minorly we are nice. If we're self-absorbed, as most of us are sometimes, we aren't so nice.

I realize we can't individually take on the cares of the world, nor even as a unit, there are times when we can't help these cares and causes, but in all probability a unit large enough can most definitely alter them.

This is where voting comes in. The Jaycees are only a

Wolves Tangle With Wildcats Tomorrow Night

By BERT HOFFMAN

The Basic Wolves and the Las Vegas Wildcats tangle tomorrow night on Butcher Field in Vegas.

Last year's one point defeat still rankles with the Hendersonites and they hope to post their first victory in the schools annals against the "Cats."

Basic enters the fray with a three and three season record. The Vegans, after winning their opening encounter, have dropped their last six. Eyre's squad is much stronger than their record indicates. They have not been playing up to their potential as far as this writer feels after watching them in their battle with Escondido of California.

In that contest they blew a 12 point lead and seem to have been going downhill ever since.

The question is, can they halt their slide or will they react as they have done so often when they face the Wolves.

The Wolves, small in numbers and small in stature, nevertheless, are well grounded in the fundamentals and have the breakaway runners to go all the way. A few key blocks in certain situations, a heads up game, spirit and determination and the ability to go forty eight minutes at peak performance may enable the Wolves to post their initial win over the Wildcats.

The Las Vegas team will probably field about fifty men, about twice the number that Coach Cummings will suit up for the Blue and White.

The Wolves want to win this one more than any other game and will be all out. Their defense will have to be sharp to cope with the passes of "Boo" Little, an excellent tosser, and will have to cover closely his receivers. Little may be remembered as the signal caller for the Carson City Senators when Basic overwhelmed the upstarters in the title playoff two years ago in the "AA" category.

Cummings has kept his squad free from heavy contact this week as he desires to send his "little" crew into the game at top physical condition.

Morry' Story

By MORRY ZENOFF

I would start building on a 7,600 hundred home project in Henderson tomorrow if I had 1900 acres of land, like Mark Leff has, a prominent California builder told me yesterday — a builder who now is on his fourth hundred home under construction in Vegas valley.

Low price acreage, he explained, such as Henderson offered is a big factor in holding the price of homes down so that the ordinary $100 and $125 a week wage earner can afford one.

7,600 homes, he added, would be a six or seven year project and he felt they would sell as fast as they were built.

Do you realize that 7,600 homes is twice what we have here now? Which means such a project would give our city a population of 25,000 more people. And then when you add the planned 4,000 home project of the Joe Wells-Del Webb — Jerry Mack — Parry Thomas — Julian Moore combine adjoining Industrial Park — this would put the city in the 50,000 bracket within 10 years.

So what's to be done about it — Mr. Mayor, Mr. Councilman?

Possibly this — not supplying the land the builders want will cause them to by-pass Henderson and move on to Boulder City — where 33 square miles of land is available for popular priced housing. A Californian walked in there the other week and a bought 126 acres with the stipulation that he will start building 400 homes immediately. If he doesn't, he has to give the land back to the city.

Now that Dan Reed, BMI manager, has been appointed president of the chamber of commerce, there stands a good chance that a wedding can be arranged — between plant and city so that the community can obtain the help it once was promised when the city was incorporated. At that time, BMI promised in lieu of tax yearly payments to the city — some $75,000 worth annually — to enable the city to supply better services to the people.

The promise didn't carry forth very long, mostly because the then mayor, Jim French, and the then BMI leaders got into a personality clash. Since then, BMI has shied away from becoming deeply involved in city affairs.

This has been sad — for such involvements would be beneficial. It is commendable that both candidates for assembly — Jim Gibson and Dick Heard are willing to seek legislative help if needed to effect a plant-city wedding.

Dan Reed is in a position to develop a common ground while an astute city council could provide the basic answer by working out an ordinance that would give the plants the independence needed in their operations and yet enable them to pay into the city coffers like the other businesses here do.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mr. Zenoff,
You have kindly opened the columns of your newspapers to candidates and as a candidate for a minor office that is non-partisan and carries no remuneration, I am grateful to you and wish to thank you very much. As you know there were two of us who filed to contest the return to office of the incumbent Regent representing Clark County on the board of directors of our state university. We obviously had good reasons for it takes time money and effort to conduct a campaign. We are both qualified educators and we are very busy people. The basis of my campaign rests on two fundamental items. I believe that Nevada Southern must be developed into a full four-year, degree-granting college without further delay, and that its continued development should be oriented to the service of Clark County and Southern Nevada, specifically.

The people of this area want the college and need it. They want to send their youngsters to college where they reside. They want it to answer the needs of the local teachers as well as business and industry. This college has already become the cultural center of the area and it can be developed into an important agency contributing to many other facets of the community life.

Teachers are inclined to stay in college towns where they have access to professional stimulation and advantages. Industrialists likewise admit without hesitation that they seek locations where educational advantages are available to their employees and families. Obviously this college of ours is an asset and can become a jewel.

My second item is the fact that I am persuaded that Clark County needs a qualified educator on the Board of Regents. One of the reasons I filed originally was the fact that I have been a successful college teacher and administrator, and I have experience that could be useful in the development of Nevada Southern to the status it deserves.

I appreciate the fact that both Boulder City and Henderson stood firmly behind me in the primaries and I am grateful to my supporters. They obviously felt as I do—something must be done!

Our situation will not change if we return the incumbent to office. In his published statements he has pointed with pride to the growth of Nevada Southern University during his tenure of office, but you will notice that he does not claim to have done anything to foster this growth. A search of the minutes from 1958 to 1962 reveals that his contributions and record are absolutely unimpressive. He actually failed to follow thru on the one fundamental resolution that he presented during that period. He had plenty of time.

Clark County needs a regent who knows the score, a person who recognizes that active and substantial support will come from the community only after the Regents have demonstrated their confidence in the potential of the branch of the University they have established at Nevada Southern. This means after the establishment of a degree-granting college of substance and committed to the service of southern Nevada.

I think Clark County needs a change.
Sincerely,
Juanita G. White.

Rosy Picture For Women

A rose may be a rose by any other name, but a snag from its thorn is a hole in a run—or was, until Chaddourn Gotham gave the feminine population "Foreva," the miraculous new hosiery that will never run yet looks as sheer and alluring as the leg of conventional stockings. For the busy, active life of the American woman, they are indeed a boon... to know that you can start the day and end it with no embarrassing run to spoil the evening. And what a joy for the traveler—one pair will do the trip. Take along an extra pair as a thoughtful and welcome gift to your hostess. Additional bonus to its useless feature is the flattering matte finish and the superb fit of "Foreva," which is contour-knit to end forever any bagging or wrinkling at knee or ankle.

State Employment Service

The first training course in Las Vegas under the auspices of the Manpower Development and Training Act of 1962 will commence on November 13, stated L. N. Schoppe, Manager of the Las Vegas office of the Nevada State Employment Service.

The first course in Las Vegas is designed to train applicants in the stenographic field, added Schoppe.

Employers in the Greater Las Vegas area have indicated an increasing need for capable stenographers. At the present time we do not have a sufficient supply of applicants to meet employer needs. All indicators point toward a greater demand for secretaries in the future, stated Schoppe.

Only unemployed applicants are eligible to apply for the training. However, applicants need not have had stenographic training or experience to be eligible for the training. Applicants must possess a clerical aptitude or potential in order to qualify. The stenographic course scheduled to commence November 13 will conclude on May 15. Bruce Barnum, Executive Director, Nevada Employment Security Department, stated that Nevada is the third state in the United States to actually initiate a training course.

The maximum duration of any Manpower Development and Training Course is 52 weeks. The stenographic course currently scheduled is for 24 weeks duration for a total of 600 classroom hours. All classes will be scheduled for five hours per day for five days a week.

Funds for this program were appropriated in August of 1962 by Congress. No matching funds by the state are required.

Nevada's allotment for the fiscal year for retraining is $114,000. The Las Vegas area will receive 60 percent of this amount which is based on the population factor.

Eligible applicants will be able to receive a training allowance of $37 weekly while participating in the course.

Raymond Sturm, Director of Vocational Education, Clark County School System, will direct the educational aspects of the program.

L. N. Schoppe indicated that all interested applicants should request for an interview with Adeline Duenweg in the Las Vegas Office of the Nevada State Employment Service which is located at 135 South 8th Street.

The problems which face the 1963 session of the legislature are some of the most important ever to come before that body, especially as they affect the future of the residents of Clark County. School financing, both operation and building needs, water for our continued growth, financial needs of all sub divisions of government, are some of them. These problems can be met and over come with intelligent consideration and hard work on the part of our representatives. ## Planners Meet Tonight On Master Plan For Land Use

A special meeting of the City Planning Commission will be held at 8 o'clock tonight to further the development of a land use Master Plan for the city.

At the regular meeting of the Commission last week, members discussed the need to complete a master plan for the city that anticipates future development and prepares guides for expanding facilities and services.

Members expressed the opinion that the planning group had been devoting all of its time to day-to-day policy details while neglecting long-range planning.

An amendment to the trailer park subdivision ordinance was approved which if adopted by the City Council will set up two classifications; RT-1, a trailer park subdivision with a minimum of 6000 square feet per lot; and RT-2 a high density trailer residence area with limits and standards set by the regular trailer park ordinance.

It was stipulated that the provisions of the trailer park ordinance pertaining to uniform wiring, plumbing and building codes would apply to the development of trailer park subdivisions.

After a public hearing on the proposed abandonment of Country Club Drive and a portion of Black Mountain Drive, the commission voted to recommend acceptance of the plan by the City Council.

The affirmative vote was cast over objections raised by George Perkins, director of planning, who recommended the city retain all of Black Mountain Drive as a route for future traffic circulation in that area.

A proposed cemetery control ordinance was discussed and referred to Perkins for final preparation.

Members favored a requirement for paved roads within cemeteries, although they agreed standard should be somewhat less than that of city thoroughfares.

Norma M. Weeks Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Allen S. Weeks of Jerome, Idaho have announced the engagement of their daughter, Norma May, to Floyd W. McAlpine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walden McAlpine, Denver, Colorado.

Miss Weeks and her fiancé are both residents of Henderson and employees of The Royal, where she is a change girl and he is a dealer.

The bride-to-be is a graduate of the Jerome, Idaho School and McAlpine is a graduate of North High School in Denver where he was a member of the band.

Miss Weeks has set the wedding date for November 13, at the Little Chapel of the West in Las Vegas. Justice of the Peace George O. Treem will officiate.

Following the wedding, a reception will be held in the banquet room of The Royal.

Toastmistress Meet Features Court Session

A hilarious backward courtroom sequence sparked the recent meeting of Henderson Toastmistress Club with members and guests participating.

President Ellen Shirley presided as Judge and Topicmistress Beverly Charlesworth as prosecuting attorney with the membership serving as jury.

As each member or guest was called before the bar, she was asked to raise her left hand, place her right hand on the Toastmistress handbook and swear she would not tell the truth.

The suspects were charged with such crimes as: wrapping a putter around the golf pro's neck; giving Toastmistress secrets to Toastmasters; selling garbage cans to the Lions Club; leaving a scalpel inside a patient while working as a surgical nurse; teaching the twist in elementary school instead of 'readin, 'ritin' and 'rithmetic; and selling a three-barreled shotgun to an unsuspecting deer hunter.

Penalties were handed out by Judge Shirley in the form of speeches to be made at future meetings.

Guests participating in the meeting were President Violet Bowers and LaJuana Marshall of Las Vegas Toastmistress Club, Susan Palladium and Carol Hamiter.

Barbara Barrett was Toastmistress of the evening; Carolyn O'Callaghan was Lexicologist.

Ellen Shirley received the "bull thrower" trophy for her talk on "Personal Grooming." Verla Purdy gave a speech on

Mrs. Bradstreet Passes Away In Escondido, Cal.

Funeral services for Mrs. Louise Bradstreet, former resident of Henderson, were held Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Alhiser - Wilson Chapel in Escondido, California with John Rehwalt, presiding minister of Jehovah's Witnesses officiating. Interment was at Oak Hill Memorial Park, Escondido.

Mrs. Bradstreet was known locally for her activity in association with the Henderson congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses. She has been actively engaged in Bible educational work with this organization since 1945, and was affectionately known as "Peggy" by her many friends here.

Mrs. Bradstreet, 52, was born in Nova Scotia, Canada, March 13, 1910. She and her husband, James, had moved to Escondido, Calif. just two weeks prior to her death after residing for ten years in Las Vegas and Henderson.

In addition to her husband, James, survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Philip (Judy) Mikkelsen of Boulder City; Mrs. Howard Boehm and Mrs. David Avery, both of Escondido, and one grandchild.

Also surviving are three brothers and three sisters, all of Canada.

WHEN YOU WERE ASKED, YOU FAILED US ---- HEARD TO GIBSON

I'm certainly glad to read that Mr. Gibson finally says he agrees with me—one week before election—that the plant properties should be included in the city, but where has he been for the past four years? Would he have ever made that statement voluntarily? Of course not.

I ask Mr. Gibson to stop trying to fool the people of Henderson with his safe choice of words when he says he'd "introduce" a bill to include the plants properties. Would he try to get it passed? Of course not.

Let's look at the record of Mr. Gibson's achievements of "introducing" Henderson legislation last year.

THE RECORD

A.B. 252—Gibson, Feb. 17.

Summary—Allows city councils of cities of the second class incorporated under general law to provide for election of councilmen at large. (BDR 21—719)

Feb. 17—Read first time. Referred to Committee on State, County and City Affairs. To printer.

Feb. 20—From printer. To committee.

The Henderson city council

ON FEBRUARY 6, 1961 by RESOLUTION NO. 84 petitioned the State Legislature to amend the election law to provide that City councilmen shall file for office from their Wards but be voted on by all the electors of the city. Councilmen Mendive, Morrell, Pagan & Stevens voted "yes" on the resolution. Councilman Kesterson voted "no".

This RESOLUTION was sent to Mr. Gibson as "Hendersons" representative in the assembly. Nothing happened. Councilman Pete Mendive & Mayor Bill Byrne went to Carson City and while there they had Mr. Gibson dig the bill out of his desk. On Feb. 17, 1961, Mr. Gibson sure did "introduce" the bill as Assembly Bill 252. He then took good care to be sure it WOULD NOT PASS by having it referred to the committee on State, County and City Affairs, WHERE MR. GIBSON LET IT STAY UNTIL THE 1961 SESSION OF THE STATE LEGISLATURE WAS OVER. The Bill never saw the light of day again. Great co-operation, Mr. Gibson.

Mr. Gibson says "I will positively co-operate with our city officials, as I have in the past." Well, Mr. Gibson, PLEASE DON'T. THAT kind of co-operation we can better do without. And PLEASE don't try to take credit for things like the cigarette tax measure, Mr. Gibson. You know and WE know THAT Bill originated with the Nevada Municipal Association. What you DID do, though, was to cut down the cities' share of the increase and give the bulk of it to the STATE General Fund, didn't you, Mr. Gibson?

Nicholsons Re-Establish Family Ties In Iceland

By ELIZABETH TOTTEN
 Around Christmas - time last year, John Nicholson checked the weight of the sugar bowl on the cupboard shelf and said to his wife, Lucia: "Well, I guess we have it made... our trip to Iceland, that is."

Because they planned ahead and saved their pennies they enjoyed the unique privilege of going to his ancestral home, re-establishing family relationships and acquainting themselves first-hand with Icelandic culture.

Nicholson's heritage is Icelandic. His grandfather, Gunnlaugur Petursson migrated to this country, from Iceland, in 1873 and later was to help found the town of Minneota, Minn. John remembers this grandfather well and recalls the stories and sagas of the old country which were told him in Icelandic. (The present language of Iceland is approximately the same as Norse of 1000 years ago.)

Against this background, John longed to visit the homes of his ancestors. The dream became a reality July 4th of this year when the Nicholsons flew from Las Vegas to New York where they boarded Icelandic Airways for Reykjavik, the capitol of Iceland.

Prior to leaving, John had written to the Pan-American Airway agent in Reykjavik telling him of his desire to visit Iceland and to find relatives. He gave him his paternal grandparents' names and the name of the farm from which they came, namely, Hakonarstodum.

The agent responded in English and told him that this farm was in Eastern Iceland, in the Jokulsa Valley. The agent also said that he had turned his letter over to a genealogist, Benedikt Gislason. Mr. Gislason sent John his paternal genealogy dating back to 1592 and also located and notified relatives. These relatives sent John and Lucia cordial invitations to come and visit them.

The Nicholsons spent three never-to-be-forgotten weeks in Iceland. They were met at the airport by Kristjan and Anna Petursson, the daughter, Gudny, and son, Adalsteinn. Kristjan's grandmother was a sister to John's grandfather.

Mr. Petursson is a building contractor near Reykjavik.

Because of pictures exchanged prior to their meeting, both families recognized each other on sight. After a tour of downtown Reykjavik the Peturssons took them to their home for a "snack." Anna, culinary trained in Copenhagen, had baked three different kinds of cake - chocolate, jelly roll and a fruit cake also she served five different kinds of cookies, various hors d'oeuvres consisting of half slices of bread spread with tiny shrimp, cheese and smoked salmon, plus "very good coffee," according to Nicholson.

The foregoing illustrates the hospitality of the Icelanders. After being in the country for more than a week it occurred to John that he had that nice feeling of not being a stranger. He felt so at home, thanks to gracious and solicitous hosts.

They visited the old farm, Hakonarstodum. It is still in the family and operated by John's relatives. This was the home of John's paternal grandmother. They were shown the outlines of the foundation of the turf house in which she had been born in 1835.

From the farm, the Nicholsons took a bus around the entire northern and eastern parts of the island, returning to Reykjavik.

According to a travel folder put out by the Iceland Tourist Bureau, the name "Iceland" is misleading; they say that the coldest thing about the country is the name, and "there is no need to shiver when pronouncing it." This country is located on the edge of the Arctic Circle, about mid-way between Norway and Greenland. A warm Gulf Stream encircles the island and there are no extremes in climate.

The Vikings found this little island in the middle of the 9th Century. As the country was being settled by Norsemen, some Celtic blood came in from Ireland. In the year 930, the Althing (Parliament) was founded at Thingvellir, on the Oxara River. This was the beginning of it being a Republic.

"Here the representatives sat out on the grass and conducted their government," said Nicholson. "A far cry from the comforts the lawmakers have today! This was uncomfortable, so they transacted the government business in a hurry & had it over with." In one of the accompanying photos you will notice the Nicholsons and their host with Thingvellir in the background.

After years of intermittently being a Republic, then successively under Norse and Danish crowns, in 1944 Iceland became an independent republic, again, on historic Thingvellir.

"Iceland is a poor country," says Nicholson. "So much has to be imported. There isn't a tree on the island; well, that should be amended; they are starting tree farms now and in a few years they will have lumber."

Fishing is the biggest industry, 97 per cent of their exports is fish. There are quite a few sheep on the island and some wool is exported. Farming is on a small diversified scale. Some hand-crafts are exported.

Iceland is a volcanic and glacial island and the center is mostly untillable and uninhabitable. Active volcanoes spew forth hot water; in fact, most of the homes are heated by this steam, municipally. There are many waterfalls; a typical one is noted in the accompanying photo.

Coastal Iceland has a pastoral beauty, inspiration for artists and poets. Around the coast and inland for a few miles, lush greenery forms a background for gleaming white buildings with green, red or slate roofs. Waterfalls abound; roads are winding and picturesque. While out riding one day, Lucia and John and their party had the unusual experience of seeing a falcon swoop down & grasp a raven which was being watched by them as it skittered over the tall grass by the wayside.

The population of the entire island is less than that of Clark Co. It is the home of Haldor Laxness, Nobel-prize winner. The Icelanders place a very high importance on mental ability, consequently value their culture very highly. The chess board is as commonplace in their home as a set of checkers is in the U.S.A.

"Speaking of Haldor Laxness - How upset the Icelanders were over his book, "Independent People." Why, it's like using "Tobacco Road" to explain to the world what we are like" said Nicholson.

The Icelanders are not affluent, but they live well. They described the homes where they visited and said they were good or better than the average American home: the rugs were wall-to-wall, good Danish furniture, oil paintings fine china and fine silver. It is supposed that they buy the fine and enduring and it is loved and appreciated and they do not have the yearning to replace it every couple of years. "When they buy an auto it is intended to last for many years, so they take excellent care of it. The Peturssons had a '55 Chevy."

When asked what made the strongest impression on them, they both said it was the relatives who made them feel so much at home, so much a part of the family. One charming relative explained, in a pretty little speech, that in the years between 1870 and 1880, one-third of their people emigrated to the United States and Canada and they grieved over that loss. Now when any of the descendants return they are welcomed with open arms as being a son of Iceland.

John and Lucia left one young girl dreaming of the United States: Gudny, the adorable 12 year-old daughter of their cousin (and host) has a trip to the U.S.A. assured. They deposited in the Bank of Iceland the price of a trip for her to visit the Nicholsons when she is seventeen years old.

Gratitude... and the Nicholsons hearts are filled with it... will likely pay off so handsomely that the Nicholsons will be able to visit the home of his ancestors again.

This is one of the multitudinous waterfalls in Iceland, land of glaciers.

Here the Nicholsons are posed with Kristjan Petursson, John's cousin and his two children, Gudny and Adalsteinn, with Thingvellir and the Oxara River in the background.

The son of Iceland and Lucia are shown with their hostess, Anna Petursson and the children as they picnicked in a rocky glenn. (Being a private, family affair, one of the party always had to be the photographer).

The "How-To" of Hollandaise Sauce

Every woman who loves to cook should know how to make a good, smooth Hollandaise sauce that will enhance a variety of foods. Hollandaise sauce is especially delicious with fresh asparagus in the Spring, but it is equally compatible with other vegetables, and with eggs and fish. The goodness of this Hollandaise recipe comes from the zesty flavoring of Tabasco, the liquid red pepper spice.

Many women steer away from making their own Hollandaise, but by following directions, you can whip up a gourmet sauce you'll be proud of. Tabasco gives it that mouth-watering touch, and since it is a liquid red pepper, it blends in easily with the other ingredients, leaving no unsightly specks to mar the sauce's smooth perfection.

Hollandaise Tabasco

- 2 egg yolks
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 3/4 teaspoon dry mustard
- 3/4 teaspoon sugar
- 3/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon Tabasco
- 1/2 cup butter

Put egg yolks, lemon juice, mustard, sugar, salt and Tabasco into small heavy earthenware mixing bowl; mix well. Divide butter into 3 equal portions. Add one portion of butter to the egg mixture and place the bowl in a saucepan of hot water. Place over low heat and stir constantly until butter is melted. Add second portion of butter, and when this is melted, repeat with third portion, stirring constantly as butter melts and sauce thickens. Remove from heat. Yield: 3/4 cup.

ACROSS the DESK

IDEAS FROM OTHER EDITORS

From The South Pasadena Review, South Pasadena, California: In 1947 the United States exported about 250,000 cars annually and imports were about 10,000 cars annually.

In 1958 our Exports are a shade over 100,000 cars and imports have risen to almost 700,000 cars - a long ways from the 10,000 cars in 1947, 12 years.

With the Imports - our miners did not mine the iron ore - nor the copper or lead. Neither did we produce or grow the rest of the materials in these 700,000 cars. The job time on producing these cars was also imported. This is proof of Ruether's statement that 425,000 United Workers who paid dues before the last strike are not paying dues now. In the Auto Workers Union if you are not working in the auto business you do not pay dues.

From The Independent, Fuquay Springs, North Carolina: Protests against the over-emphasis is on school athletics which are certain to rise again as high school basketball seasons roar toward glamorous state-tournament conclusions. The primary purpose of schools is to educate, but at the high school and college levels this goal often seems to become secondary to the spectacular appeal of forward passes and jump shots.

Dr. James B. Conant is among the more articulate and influential spokesmen for the idea that sports should be played down more. He regards as disgraceful the disproportionate emphasis placed on athletics, "a disease that has spread from the college campus to the high school and junior high school."

Conant's indictment is based on studies of schools throughout the country. His report on the nation's high schools is a best seller. More recently he has been focusing on junior high schools. He and his staff have visited 125 schools and 60 communities in 17 states since last fall. The extensiveness of his survey adds to the importance of his comments.

At a time when federal aid to education is a congressional issue, when school construction, teacher shortages and improvement in methods and curriculum are of great public interest, Conant's views deserve thoughtful assessment. A more rational attitude toward school athletics is plainly overdue.

HENDERSON ASSEMBLY CANDIDATE SAYS "KEEP TAXING AUTHORITY IN COUNTIES!"

DICK HEARD, candidate for State Assemblyman from Henderson, took issue with Assemblyman James Gibson's remark made at a Rotary meeting the other day that legislation should be enacted by the State Legislature to give the State Tax Commission authority to set the assessment rate on real and personal property of taxpayers.

HEARD said, "The only result of such a law would be to put the authority of assessment in the hands of an appointed commission instead of an elected official, the County Assessor, who does it now." He stated further, "We in Clark County elect a County Assessor by our own vote. He is in a far better position to evaluate the situation in our Clark County than a Commission sitting in Carson City."

In referring to the Zubrow Report which Gibson mentioned in his speech, HEARD said "The Zubrow Report referred to in Gibson's remarks recommends that the State should reduce its share of the property taxes, so why would it be logical to transfer the authority to set the property tax assessment rate to an appointive State agency? Isn't Mr. Gibson aware that of every $5 tax rate, the State's share in these taxes is 28 cents and that the balance of $4.72 remains here to the schools, school bonds, libraries, townships, cities and the various departments of the county?"

"I think," said HEARD, "that a far better and more adequate solution of Clark County's tax revenue problems would be to get the State out of its 28 cents share of the property tax; take the State out of its share of the County and Cities gaming-tax it now receives, and give the cities and counties a larger share of the additional cigarette and liquor taxes levied at the past session of the Legislature." If this were done and, if elected, I would support such legislation, the State general fund would still enjoy substantial surpluses over and above that required to meet its operational needs.

"I say again, leave the assessing authority with the local elected County Assessors. We want MORE 'Home Rule,' not less."

2500 WATCH DRAG RACES

Some 2,500 fans, largest turnout of the season, watched the California-based Demarest & Reed "A" fuel dragster clock 174 miles per hour here Sunday to post a Top Eliminator sweep in the semi-monthly drag races at Thunderbird Speedway.

The brand-new competition machine, heading an eight-car team from the Foothill Speed Center of Monrovia, Calif., thus recorded the fastest quarter-mile speed in the two months of competition during the 1962-63 season.

All totaled, the Monrovia racing team garnered seven class awards in addition to the Top Eliminator prize. Victories for the visitors came in the dragster, stock, compact stock, sports car, gas coupe and sedan and fuel competition coupe and Sedan classifications. Three record-holding machines were included in the highly-respected team.

A spectacular thrill, luckily one without serious injury, came to the huge crowd when the class-winning Phillips-Knight "B" fuel dragster went out of control at 160 m.p.h. The driver escaped unscathed and minor damage was reported done to the expensive auto.

Even with the stiff Golden State competition, local drivers posted solid victories in the majority of the classes.

WOLF HOWLS

By Carrie Macneil

Tomorrow evening, is our big game of the year. Basic Wolves take on the Wildcats of Las Vegas at Butcher Memorial Field. Tension is building up as the day draws near. Several members of the team feel that "this is our year to beat Vegas."

We have never been able to score a victory over them in all our years of competition, even though we have tied the games before. The Wolves have a 3-3 record so far this year, but the Cats won't be able to break even as far as this season goes! Everyone should try to get out and cheer our team on to victory!

BETA ALPHA OMEGA Basic High School's club of fine arts, Beta Alpha Omega, had its formal installation of the year. Members installed were Marilyn Mendive, Sharon Fisher, JoAnn Rayborn, Press-Walker "B" gas dragster nailed down Junior Eliminator laurels with a speed of 130.81 m.p.h. and the ever-present Hunter Brothers pushed their 1927 Ford, sporting a fuel-burning Chrysler powerplant, to a sweep in the Middle Eliminator battle.

Former world record holders, Tobler - Evans, piloted their unusual "straight-eight" Buick - powered 1932 Ford roadster to Little Eliminator at 114.79 m.p.h.

The club plans to attend several concerts and plays during the year.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY The play chosen for the senior class this year is Guy Bolton's "Three Blind Mice," which is a comedy in three acts.

The play takes place at a very expensive and exclusive Miami Beach hotel. It is a very entertaining play, and everyone is working extremely hard for a successful production.

here n there Pat, Linda, and Andy seemed to have headed off in the wrong direction. M. has only 21 days and 21 letters left until Terry comes home. Who has the nickname of "Johnny Lobster"? Barbara B. and Len S. have been seen together. Karen Cowen and Diane Weller both had birthday parties last Saturday night. Who is the "flame" in the third period Government?

Ask Mary Denim about Little R. Do you always get appointed to jobs, or do you just have a willing type of face, Mike E? Helen M. and Mike R. have been seeing a lot of each other. A few girls seem to have a weekly attraction in Las Vegas on Saturday nights. Sheila Kenworthy has a daring new haircut. Do you always have similar rashes at the same time, Nancy and Johnny? I like your original name spelling, Steph! What's with all of the "End of the World" parties? Well Pat, looks like you will have to eat your own words now that you are in the same shape! Is the ring for keeps or just for fun, Sharon and Gary? The party guests seem to have a swinging party planned. Dave sure can pick the cards, just ask Marilyn! How does it feel to be a play-boy, Denton??

Vehicle Tax Vote Question Is Reviewed

The Nevada Constitution requires that all personal property be valued and taxed the same. Therefore, motor vehicles must be valued and taxed the same as other personal property.

each vehicle must be individually valued by referring to the retail value shown in the Kelly Blue Book, and must be taxed according to the rate applying in the district in which it is located. This requires the State Motor Vehicle Department, by a laborious hand process, to value individually some 250,000 vehicles. The tax due must then be determined by applying one of over a hundred different tax rates, depending on where the owner lives.

QUESTION NUMBER ONE on the November ballot proposes to amend the Constitution to permit the State Legislature, if it so desires, to set up simplified and uniform methods of valuing and taxing motor vehicles.

Such legislation would: (1) Establish a system whereby the initial cost of the vehicle would be reduced a fixed percentage each year, and where a state-wide uniform tax rate would apply. This would eliminate the need for individually handling each vehicle and would save thousands of man hours of work each year. Except as to county, the costly system of keeping track of the owners residence would also be eliminated.

(2) Provide for returning the taxes collected on motor vehicles "in lieu" of personal property taxes back to the counties, cities, school districts, and other agencies in approximately the same amounts as now received from the personal property tax on such motor vehicles. Thus, local agencies would receive the same tax revenue they do today.

The uniform tax rate could not exceed the $5.00 per hundred rate presently applying on motor vehicles, and should be well below this figure, inasmuch as the aim of the legislature would probably be to set a rate which would produce the same amount of revenue now received from the personal property tax. Thus, the taxpayers would pay approximately the same as now.

The present system is unmanageable. Anticipated growth in vehicle registrations in the next ten years, which will double the work load, will require even more office space and more people doing an unnecessary job. Help eliminate this waste and inefficiency. Protect your tax dollars.

FEDERAL EMPLOYEES FETE CONGRESSIONAL DELEGATION FRIDAY

Nevada's entire Congressional delegation, Senators Alan Bible and Howard Cannon and Congressman Walter Baring, will be the honored guests at an Appreciation Dinner given by the Federal employees of Clark County on Friday night, October 26, at the Hacienda Hotel.

This announcement was made today by Kenneth Hayes, President of Local Branch 2502, National Association of Letter Carriers, and Lee Hopkins, Business Representative of the American Federation of Government Employees, Local 1199.

"Our Congressional delegation over the years has been keenly alert to the needs and desires of Federal workers on every level," Hayes and Hopkins said. "This Appreciation Dinner will be an effort by the several thousand Clark County Federal employees to say thank you and express our gratitude."

The dinner will be held in the Palomino Room of the Hacienda Hotel. A dinner program is now being arranged and tickets are on sale through Hayes and Hopkins.

Denver Bureau Engineer Given Slot In B.C.

Cecil E. McClaren has been named Area Engineer in charge of the Bureau of Reclamation's newly established Boulder City Development Office, Regional Director A. B. West of Reclamation's Region 3 announced today.

McClaren has transferred to Boulder City from Denver, Colorado, where he served on the Bureau of Reclamation's engineering staff in the Assistant Commissioner and Chief Engineer's office for the past 16 1/2 years.

A native of Mullinville, Kansas, McClaren received his bachelor of science degree in civil engineering at Kansas State College in 1938 and later did extension graduate work at the University of Colorado. He began his career in August 1938 as a junior engineer on the Kansas State Highway Department staff at Topeka, Kansas.

McClaren moved to a position with a petroleum company in Bartlesville, Oklahoma, in 1939 & returned to the Kansas State Highway Department in Topeka the following year.

McClaren began his Government service in March 1941 as a structural engineer with the U. S. Corps of Engineers at Los Angeles. He entered the U. S. Navy in June 1942, and served as a Lieutenant with the Navy's Civil Engineers Corps in a construction battalion in the Pacific Theater until January 1946.

A month following his discharge from the Navy, McClaren began his career with the Bureau of Reclamation as a civil engineer in the canals branch of the Chief Engineer's office in Denver. A series of promotions moved him to the position of supervisory engineer which he held at the time of his transfer to Boulder City.

The Boulder City Development Office, with a present staff of ten employees, is a field office of the Region 3 headquarters here. Regional Director West said. The office has been assigned field project planning responsibility within the southern Nevada area lying in the Lahontan Basin and lower Colorado River Basin and within that area of southern Utah lying in the lower Colorado River Basin. Investigations of the Southern Nevada Water Supply Project will be the office's main current activity. Other responsibilities involve servicing a feasibility report on the Dixie Project in southern Utah, and performing other planning which may develop in connection with reconnaissance investigations in the southern Nevada and southern Utah areas.

HENDERSON HOME NEWS, Henderson, Nevada
Thursday, November 1, 1962

If you'll pay cash for groceries, your medical bills will probably be smaller.

The "complexion" of an orange doesn't affect either its juiciness or its flavor. While all oranges on the market are fully mature when picked, regardless of color, some fruit may have considerable greenish tinge, others a russeted look. Quality is not influenced one way or the other. Some oranges are glamorized by the addition of a harmless coloring. Such oranges must be stamped "color added."

When cooking okra, always wash pods first, then cut off tip ends. Drop into boiling water or hot fat. Cook quickly; avoid overcooking. Tender young pods, dipped in seasoned batter, then deep-fat-fried are delicious appetizers.

Oh, For An Air-Conditioned Kennel!

This dejected dog doesn't need words to convey his misery. One well-pointed pout does the trick. But his lament is no laughing matter. He's obviously a victim of those vicious dog days, and the ice cap is little consolation because his master has turned him out in the sun during the heat of the day. Sympathetic canine authorities at the Purina Dog Care Center say, "Have a heart. When the weather's over-warm, let Rover rest quietly in the shade... romp only in the cool, cool, cool of the evening."

Local Library Announces New Books

New books at the Henderson District Public Library, announced by Librarian Lydia Malcolm, include the following interesting volumes, GENIUS by Patrick Dennis, the story is set in Mexico City. It's hero (the word is used loosely) is Leander Starr, one of the world's most famous directors and the world's most famous dead-beat. Mr. Dennis' story takes on the uninhibited speed of a Keystone Kops Chase with ex-wives, Internal Revenue man, exotic natives and others.

THE TIME BEFORE THIS by Nicholas Monsarrat. Setting is in Canada bordering the Hudson Strait where thrusting industrial exploration, rough and raw, meets the towering blue ice of Baffinland. One could run away from war - but never - not even with the rags of honor - from the prospect of peace. This is the message conveyed by the author.

LORD GEOFFREY'S FANCY by Alfred Duggan. This novel is set in 13th century Greece after the 4th Crusade. A novel describing the full pageantry of the exotic society of knights living their fantastic Gothic lives against the classical background of Hellas.

THE HOUSE AT SUNSET by Norah Lofts. Completing the trilogy which began with "Town House", Norah Lofts tells the moving story of a house and the people who were born, lived and died in it over the centuries.

THE YOUNG MAN FROM DENVER by Will Fowler. A candid and affectionate biography of Gene Fowler by his son.

ELEGANT WITS AND GRAND HORIZONTALS by Cornelia Otis Skinner. Paris in the nineties. Like good champagne, Miss Skinner's new book leaves a delicious taste. Her vivacious pen brings back to life the blue blooded dandies, spectacular courtesans, men of letters, society leaders, actors and actresses, and monarchs who mingled in the great salons. KILL AND OVERKILL by Ralph E. Lapp. The strategy of annihilation. This is a book about the great game of nuclear strategy - the most fateful game in which mankind has ever engaged.

AN ANSWER FROM LIMBO by Brian Moore. This is the story of a young writer and the ruthless dedication with which he pursues literary success - success purchased at a terrible human expense.

THE COMMISSIONER by Richard Dougherty. Built around the tensions and tragedies of a three-day man-hunt, this major novel ranges deeply into the public and private life of the Commissioner himself and into the lives of a handful of his key men.

THE MOUSE ON THE MOON by Leonard Wibberley. Over again, the tiny Duchy of Fenwick was confounding the world and proving that the shortest route from here to there can sometimes be the most outrageously delightful one.

The darker the green of vegetable leaves, the greater their food value. The deeper colored outer leaves of crisp head lettuce, for instance, have more vitamins A and C than do the blanched inner leaves.

The truth is the shortest distance between optimum points, but many a person has a poor sense of direction.

A moderate drinker is what many an alcoholic once was.

Raw spinach, with its dark green leaves, looks and tastes good in a tossed green salad. As an attractive garnish, dip the edges of slightly moistened whole leaves into paprika sprinkled over waxed paper.

Does Change-of-Life Make You Feel Older Than You Are?

In doctor's tests, special medicine relieved those hot flashes, weakness, nervousness for woman after woman... then they could enjoy a happier middle-age!

Does change of life leave you so weak, irritable you feel older than you really are? Suffocated by hot flashes constantly tense, so you can't be the affectionate wife of old? Don't despair! LYDIA PINKHAM'S COMPOUND can relieve that physical distress and tension both... in doctor's tests using Pinkham's Compound, woman after woman got glorious relief without costly shots! Hot flashes quickly subsided. That awful nervousness was calmed. Then most women found they could go "smiling through" the trying years of change-of-life without that dreadful misery! If change-of-life is making you feel older than you are, ask for LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND at drug stores. Do it today. War Mothers

Lulu Erickson was hostess to the recent meeting of the American War Mothers at the home of her son, Richard Erickson, in Valley View.

Orrel Lindsey opened the meeting with a prayer. President Ann Parker presided at the meeting, welcoming Helen Bray as a new member of the chapter.

Installation of new officers was held with Irma Struthers, past state president officiating with the assistance of Oliva Lamborn, Sergeant-at-arms. Mrs. Lamborn is a national board member.

New officers installed were, Doris Pritchard, president; Orrel Lindsey, vice-president; Nora McGrath, recording secretary; Lulu Erickson, chaplain; Ann Parker, treasurer; Gladys Hamiter, historian; Irma Struthers, corresponding secretary.

The Sergeant-at-arms and committee chairmen will be installed at the next regular meeting.

Lulu Erickson, State Chairman of Gold and Silver Star, presented a gold star pin to Bernice Peterson as a gift of the chapter.

It was announced that the next meeting, November 13, at 7 p.m. will be held at the home of Orrel Lindsey in Pittman.

Could you guess

what's good about a headache?

If you happen to have one right now, probably all you need is an aspirin. But the fact is: a headache sometimes is a signal. It may be telling you something is wrong . . . perhaps something quite remote from the pain. In this event it's a symptom—valuable information for your physician. So if you have a persistent or recurring headache and don't know why, see your doctor. Don't take a chance. Your physician can probably clear up your problem in short order. Of course, he may say all you need is aspirin—but even that's worth knowing.

Lions Sale On Trash Cans Still Booming

Garbage Can sales are going along at a steady pace as the Henderson Lions Club continues its drive to raise money for the Sight Conservation Fund.

The Lions are selling the receptacles, which normally are priced at $6.25 and upward, for $5.50, or two for $10.

Providing the trash cans ties in with the recent city ordinance and campaign to eliminate trash and litter in the city's streets and alleys. The garbage collection company is authorized to "red-tag" any containers that fall short of meeting the new specifications of the ordinance.

The Lions purchased 1,000, 30-gallon U.S. Steel heavy duty cans with covers. The cans will be delivered during the evening hours. Orders may be placed by calling FR 2-3671 or FR 2-7627.

KEG ACTION

A. Schmidt rolled high game and series in the Ten Pin Scratch Trio October 24, with scores of 209-680.

Isabelle's team is leading the league with 16 wins, 4 losses, followed by Waigreen Drug 11-9, Dante's and Fashion Corner are tied for third place with 10-10 each; Bill's Texaco 8-12 and Frontier Nursery 5-15.

New potatoes make the very best potato salad. Let them cool completely before slicing or dicing. Fresh dill, chives, fresh parsley, cucumber, celery, green pepper, grated fresh carrots are delicious and colorful additions.

Master Point Game Slated By Duplicate Club

The Duplicate Bridge Club will hold a Master Point game tomorrow night at the Elks Lodge on Vegas Wash Road. Play will begin at 7:30 p.m. All bridge players are welcome.

In regular play last Friday night at The Royal, Mr. and Mrs. Al Hamilton were first place winners in the North-South position with Helen Ostroski and Helen Irving, second; Helen Witte and Miriam Giles, third.

Rae Gill and Bob Taylor were first in East-West play, followed by Pat Routh and Maude Coddling, second; Mr. and Mrs. William Harwood, third.

NELLIS REPORTS ONE-A-DAY TAC REINLISTMENT

The Reenlistment Office at Tactical Air Command's Nellis AFB released this week that six more Nellis men have taken the pledge and oath for continuing service with the Air Force.

The men, ranking from airman second class to technical sergeant, are helping to maintain the already well-established one-man-per-day reenlistment rate.

Those signing for another hitch with the Air Force are: TSgt. Edwin M. Copeland, 4524th Combat Crew Training Sq., TSgt. Barry E. Parmer, 4529th Organizational Maintenance Sq.; SSgt. Lee Vaden Jr., 4520th Transportation Sq., A1C Richard C. Philpitt, 4520th Air Base Group; and two men from the Air Base Squadron at Indian Springs AFB, A1C Monroe C. Harrison and A2C Robert M. Howell Jr.

Ripe Olives Glamorize Casserole

Hearty ripe olives extend other foods like magic and they certainly help make a pound of ground beef go a long way glamorously in "Mexicali Casserole." This inexpensive, nutritious and colorful main dish with its zestful south-of-the-border ingredients coupled with the luscious flavor of ripe olives is indeed a satisfying meal accompanied by French bread, a green salad and fruit for dessert.

Pitted ripe olives are a boon to busy homemakers, but if they aren't readily available, it's easy to cut unpitted olives into wedges for casseroles, salads, vegetable specialties and meat and fish sauces. For out-of-hand eating at parties and picnics, roll ripe olives in olive or salad oil to enhance their natural sheen—and don't forget to tuck some into lunch boxes to give a mellow flavor lift to the meal.

Mexicali Casserole

- 1 lb. ground beef
- 1/2 cup yellow corn meal
- 1 tablespoon salad oil
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1/2 cup instant minced onion
- 2 teaspoons chili powder
- 1 can (1 lb. 1 oz.) whole kernel corn
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire
- 1 can (1 lb.) stewed tomatoes
- 1 cup pitted ripe olives, drained
- 1 cup Grated Cheddar cheese

Brown beef in oil. Using a fork, break up beef into crumbly consistency. Add onion, corn with liquid and tomatoes. Slowly stir in corn meal, salt, chili powder and Worcestershire. Cook and stir over low heat 10 minutes. Stir in olives. Turn into 1 1/2-quart casserole and sprinkle with cheese. Bake in 350-degree (moderate) oven about 45 minutes. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Reifsnyder Heirlooms Are Antiques Of Rare Beauty

By Elizabeth Totten
The "distelfink" bird, in Pennsylvania Dutch country, is the symbol of happiness and good luck. It has done very well for Mrs. Rae Reifsnyder. She has the good fortune to possess and enjoy a fine collection of priceless heirloom glass, plus many other antiques of quality and beauty.

"Oh, if I just had all my antiques here!" she said.

Mrs. Reifsnyder is from famous Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, (New Holland) home of the Amish and the famed, colorful Pennsylvania Dutch designs. There are many mass-produced reproductions of this country art, but she is the proud possessor of 2 sadirons, a well-used dripping pan and a small coal shovel, all of which have seen many years of use, but are now retired to be useful as beautifully decorated art objects in her home. In these items the happy "distelfink" bird is prominently used. "This small coal shovel is especially prized," she said. "When we were back in Pennsylvania this summer I learned that the handle on this shovel is longer than the ones usually seen. A friend of mine told me that if I had a shovel with a handle longer than the one which she had, then it is more valuable than the average ones you see."

"Most of the things you see here are heirlooms from my family's home," she explained. Showing a pair of footed, fluted bon-bon dishes of purple taffeta colored glass, she said:

"Every Christmas and on holiday dinners I can still see my mother filling these with nuts and candies and one dish was placed on each end of the table." These are especially beautiful, in a purple, green and gold blending.

Mrs. Reifsnyder has an enviable collection of blown glass vases and pitchers. A tall green vase, with white decorations deftly done, is lovely. A tall, dignified, slender crystal water pitcher is of blown glass and a thing of beauty, with an etched design to add to the charm.

Several pieces of sandwich glass are in her collection: a plate, a vase for small flowers (likely) and a miniature of a barrel, with alternate staves being of sandwich glass.

Her pieces of cut glass conjure memories of family dinners and celebrations, with light from chandeliers and candles refracting the prismatic designs, instilling in all who gaze upon them the warm glow of family felicity and nostalgia. One authority on cut glass says that most of the cut glass we see today was made between 1880 and 1905, so this dates Mrs. Reifsnyder collection.

She has an outstandingly beautiful console set of antique milk glass. It is composed of two candle holders and a fruit bowl. The candle holders are of the famed and antique dolphin design.

"Mother used these when we had company," she said. Here is an excellent example of real milk glass; it looks so different from the imitations that are now being made. It has a certain milkiness which cannot be duplicated.

Her antique coffee grinder is an unusual piece; the bowl on top, which holds the coffee beans, is made of pewter. This practical piece has been used for many years, but it still is in very fine condition.

An old school bell is a prize. It has a solid brass bell with a black wood handle and a muted, resonant tone. Now it rings memories in lieu of school children.

In her kitchen cupboard are berry sets of sandwich glass, compotes of cut glass; there is a nice collection of ironstone china: gravy boat, pitchers. They are useful as well as ornamental.

A choice piece in her collection is a small amber kerosene lamp. It is only about 10 inches high, but the light amber bowl and the dark amber collar at the base of the chimney give it a unique appearance. The collar is either cut or pressed glass, but no matter, it is a genuine conversation piece. (The inch-high scalloped collar around the base of the chimney gives the lamp indirect lighting.)

"We have so many things back in Pennsylvania which we haven't been able to bring out here... so many things," said Mrs. Reifsnyder. "The homes in Lancaster County are filled with antiques. Now with Early American decorating so popular, New Yorkers are pouring into that place and paying fabulous prices for this sort of items," she related.

Some of these nostalgic items are attractively displayed in a background of Early American furniture where they are right at home.

Mrs. Reifsnyder lives at 624 National Street with her daughter, Mrs. Pauline Foster and her two grandchildren, Cathy and Dale, twin kindergartners of Mrs. Foster.

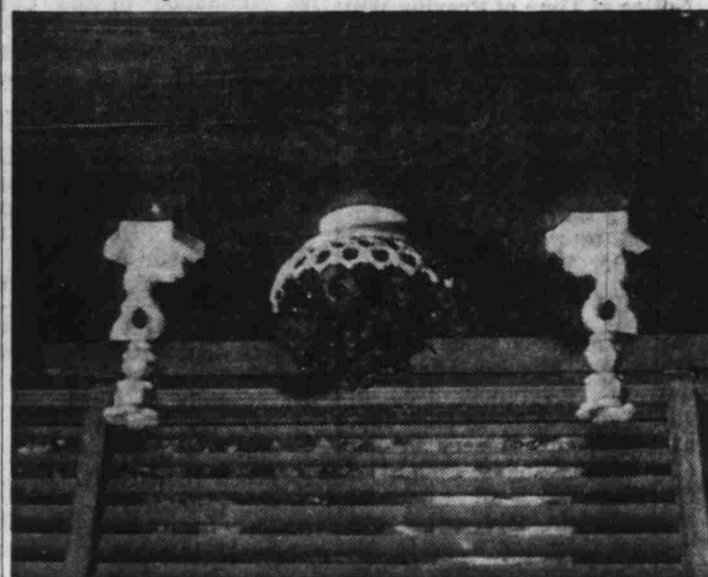

The "distelfink" bird has found a good home to roost with this lovely lady. May it continue her good fortune by helping her accumulate many more antiques of her heart's desire. Antiques symbolize love and graciousness and Mrs. Reifsnyder symbolizes these same qualities.

LOST ART—These tall vases and pitchers are blown glass with the familiar round blown identification mark on the bottom. These, plus the other pieces shown here are only a small part of the Reifsnyder collection.

IT WORKS—Here is shown the antique coffee grinder which has the pewter bowl for holding the coffee beans. After many, many years of use, this piece is still in excellent condition. Note the glass collar on the kerosene lamp, providing indirect lighting. The brass bell is shown here, too.

RARE PIECES—Prized among collectors is the dolphin design in antique glassware. The above shows candle holders of milk glass. The fruit bowl is a family heirloom of fine milk glass.

In answer to numerous requests, we have stocked batteries for transistor radios. When our first order came in we found that the Cuban crisis had taken most of the stock of our wholesaler. Everybody wanted a stock of fresh batteries for their flashlights and radios. If your batteries have been around for some time, better drop in and get fresh batteries.

Last week I spoke of our tape recorders. Since then I have had a chance to put the new Wollensak stereo recorder through many demonstrations and have received enthusiastic reports every time. See display ad elsewhere in this paper. I also have heard parts of the tapes that Coach Cummings is receiving from his scouts after games with teams Basic has yet to play. They are made on the Craig transistor tape recorder and are quite clear and exciting—even if you saw the game played—and they are a big help to him in planning Basic's strategy against future enemies. Come in to Vegas Friday night and you will see just how a tape recorder helps our boys play a good football game.

For you Polaroid owners we have a new gadget that will do either of two things. It will give you stereo pictures with your camera, or it will double your pictures at the same time for a 3-dimension, stereo, effect, or you can take two different pictures before you pull the tab. These outfits come complete with viewers and complete instructions, and are made for all Polaroid cameras.

J. EDGAR HOOVER SAYS:

The Work Of Every True American Is Needed To Defeat Communism

In his keynote address before the American Legion convention in Las Vegas, J. Edgar Hoover devoted approximately half of his speech to Communism and what we, as individual American Citizens can do to keep our country free from Communist tyranny.

The following is the portion of Mr. Hoover's speech devoted to this topic:

The Communist Party, USA is an alien force, an agency of a foreign — the Soviet Russian government. Today, it is engaged in an intensive campaign to openly defy the law and destroy public confidence in our entire system of justice.

Throughout the past year, the Party has deliberately and flagrantly refused to comply with a United States Supreme Court ruling which requires it to register with the Attorney General as an agent of the Soviet Union.

In furtherance of this campaign, front groups have been formed, propaganda leaflets circulated, agitational meetings held — all for the purpose of attacking American laws and undermining faith in our democratic institutions. We must be aware of these tactics to sabotage our basic heritage of freedom.

The communists, their myriad fronts and collaborationists do not fade away. Communist Party today may be smaller in the United States, but it is a hard-core group of fanatics operating a massive and impressive propaganda machine. The danger and wiles of communism cannot be measured solely by shrunken rolls of actual Party membership in this country.

Communists continue with impunity, to breathe out hate, particularly against the United States.

There is not an avenue to the heart and mind of Americans that is not used to implant their false ideology.

The communists are experts in the practice of treachery and deceit. They have used this program of blatant defiance as an offensive weapon to rally the support of misguided, ill-informed and naive individuals.

Foremost among their targets have been America's young people, for the aim of communism is world youth and the capture and corruption of that youth.

We have but to look at the shameful riots in San Francisco in 1960 when college youth in that area, encouraged by communists, acted like common hoodlums in demonstrating against a committee of the United States Congress engaged in public business.

We have but to look at the communists' success in stimulating the interest and participation of some of America's young people in the communist-inspired and communist-dominated World Youth Festival which was held at Helsinki last summer.

We have but to look at the Party's campus speech program which has seen communist functionaries appear before student groups at colleges and universities from New York to California. On one campus alone, a crowd of nearly 12,000 turned out to hear the Party's General Secretary, ex-convict Gus Hall, declare that the Communist Party, USA, is a legitimate political organization on the American scene and deny its subservience to Moscow, from which it has been established that it actually receives orders and financial support.

The success of these and other programs which the communists have directed against American young people can be measured by the enthusiasm of top Party officials who predicted several weeks ago that 1,000 youths could be recruited as party members before the end of the year.

Colleges should bear in mind that communist speakers are not bound by any obligation to tell the truth.

The fact is that the Party in this country functions as a valuable auxiliary of the Soviet-bloc espionage network! From their areas of influence, American communists have produced a Julius Rosenberg, a Morton Sobell, and others both willing and able to betray vital secrets to the Soviet Union.

Today, there are 925 Soviet and satellite official personnel in the United States. The vast majority of them represent a cunning and dangerous espionage threat.

From the immunity of their diplomatic assignments, representatives of communist-bloc nations have directed intelligence networks within the United States. From 1950 through 1960, twenty-one officials of the Soviet Union alone were declared persona non grata or otherwise asked to leave the United States because of flagrant activities detrimental to this country.

One Soviet defector, a former intelligence officer, has estimated that between 70 and 80 per cent of the Soviet officials in the United States have espionage assignments. Years of personal experience qualify this man to speak with authority concerning the duplicity, the deception and the deceit which are inherent in every phase of the international communist conspiracy.

During the last 30 years, the United States has participated in hundreds of meetings with the communists — Teheran, Yalta, Potsdam, Panmunjom and Geneva. These meetings led to many agreements, almost all of which have been broken by Soviet Russia.

We are at war with this sinister conspiracy! Every communist today must be considered an enemy, wherever he may be, at home or abroad!

A "soft" approach toward the menace of communism can lead only to national disaster!

Much has been done by the Government's internal security programs; by investigation; arrest and prosecution of Party functionaries; and by widespread intelligent public opposition to the Marxist philosophy to thwart the Communist Party's efforts in this country.

However, communism remains an intense subversive threat. Our Nation's efforts to deal effectively with this menace are not enhanced by those of the extreme right who tend to affix the communist label without intelligent analysis, or by those of the extreme left who endeavor to minimize the real danger of communism.

This latter group includes grossly irresponsible elements — a shocking number of whom have depended, for their very existence, upon tax-exempt funds. We have heard them shout "sententious poppycock" at well-founded and documented warnings against the capacity of the communists to pervert our thinking and which form the foundation of our freedom.

Inane statements such as these add nothing to the American people's understanding of the true menace of communism, at home and abroad. They are a rank disservice to the cause of freedom.

I repeat, a "soft" attitude toward communism can destroy us! We should unite as a people, around an intelligent, rational, sensible but very hard attitude against communism everywhere.

In the battle against communism, as in all previous encounters with godless tyranny, the United States must win and we will win! Let Krushchev, Castro and Mao-Tse-tung recognize there is no force more powerful than the determination of a free and righteous people.

Let us not forget that whenever we have stood firm, communism has retreated.

HENDERSON HOME NEWS, Henderson, Nevada
Thursday, November 1, 1962

From the moment the American Republic was conceived, our country has achieved its proudest moments in the face of adversity. Valley Forge; Belleau Wood; Guadalcanal; Pusan, Korea — these are proud names in the Nation's history, places where our fighting men have risen to heroic heights to overcome deadly enemies. Challenge, not compromise — victory, not defeat — these are words which have real meaning for true Americans!

We must assemble our strength — the moral strength endowed upon us by our Creator, the Author of Liberty. We must reaffirm our determination — the God-inspired determination to protect our freedoms and safeguard our democratic heritage at all costs.

In the heat of an all-out struggle with an alien godless ideology, this Nation needs all the prayers it can get. Prayer and devotion to our Creator are basic to American strength and courage.

There is a vast difference between Americanism and communism. One teaches morality; the other expediency. One follows the Law of God; the other, no law. One is founded upon spiritual values; the other is complete secularism. One is characterized by the deep religious conviction; the other, by ruthless, atheistic materialism. The communist world is a world of walls, searchlights, and guards — a prison for the heart, mind and soul.

The United States is second to no nation in material wealth.

From our free economy has emerged a standard of living beyond the reach of any communist-controlled people in the world. But, in luxury there is the danger of physical weakening and moral softness. Self-indulgence can prove fatal. It can accomplish from within what our most deadly enemies have been unable to do from without.

We cannot defeat communism with socialism, nor with secularism, nor with pacifism, nor with appeasement or accommodation. We can only defeat communism with true Americanism.

The fight against crime and communism can be won, and it will be won with, but only with, the help of every decent American citizen. No individual in this great land of ours should underestimate the importance of his or her role.

Let us all work that there may be a rebirth of freedom under God in our Nation.

As Astronaut John H. Glenn, Jr., said, "Freedom, devotion to God and country are not things of the past. They will never become old-fashioned."

Every strong nation in history has lived by an ideal and has died when its ideals were dissipated. We can be destroyed only by our own gullibility. If we are ready, we shall neither be Dead nor Red!

It is what a nation has in its heart, rather than what it has in its hand, that makes it strong. The nation which honors God is protected and strengthened by Him.

To foster the cause of Liberty and Justice — this is the goal of America and the goal of every Legionnaire. This communism and crime. Am- lence and we must and will meet it successfully.

We are a God-loving people. This is our greatest strength. Let our national motto always be, "In God we trust."

"You'd eat a polecat if you were extremely hungry," says a physician. No, we wouldn't, because we couldn't. If we had gone without food long enough to be hungry enough to eat a polecat, we'd be too weak to eat it.

U. Of N. Offers Adult Evening Electronic Technology Program

The University of Nevada Statewide Services, cooperating with the State Department of Vocational and Adult Education is currently offering a program in electronic technology. The program offers many courses designed to meet the needs of persons preparing for employment as technicians in the electronic and electrical industries. It also provides opportunities for those persons already engaged in these technical occupations to obtain further training or retraining that will help them to advance in their employment.

The courses that will be offered in this program include: Electrical Math I and II; slide rule and logarithms, DC fundamentals — AC fundamentals, Magnetism and meters, Vacuum tube characteristics, A.F., amplifiers, Power amplifiers and detection, R. F. oscillators, Transmitter fundamentals, Antennas and transmission lines and FM circuits.

The entrance requirements are graduation from an accredited high school or the evaluation of previous education, work experience and appropriate testing.

Shrinks Hemorrhoids Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain — without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all — results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

SCIENCE SERVICE

Man's God-given ability to depart from evil and do good will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday.

A number of experiences of Jacob are included in the readings from the Bible and from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. "Everlasting Punishment" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon.

This citation will be read from Science and Health (p. 393): "Rise in the strength of Spirit to resist all that is unlike good. God has made man capable of this, and nothing can vitiate the ability and power divinely bestowed on man."

The Golden Test is from Galatians: "Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."

Everyone Urged To Get Flu Inoculations

Warning that an influenza epidemic is expected this winter, health officers Tuesday advised all persons, especially pregnant women and those with chronic diseases, to get inoculations at once.

Public health authorities have real concern that a widespread outbreak of Asian influenza may be expected late this year or early next year.

Health officers, said that persons with chronic disorders of the heart, blood vessels or chest as well as diabetics and victims of Addison's disease and pregnant women are especially vulnerable to flu.

They also strongly advised that all persons over 45 get shots.

Dr. J. J. Quilligan, director of the virus laboratory at General Hospital, Los Angeles discounted the popular notion that flu shots can cause the disease.

They may cause a soreness in the arm and an occasional person may be incubating a virus at the time he gets the shot and come down with flu afterwards, but the flu shot does not cause the illness, Dr. Quilligan said.

It has been reported that

SCHOOL EXAMS FOR TEACHERS SET SATURDAY

Superintendent of Public Instruction, Byron F. Statler, has announced that teachers examinations in Nevada School Law, Nevada Constitution and the U.S. Constitution will be held Saturday morning at 9 a.m. Clark County teachers and those from the Alamo and Beatty areas will meet at Las Vegas High School.

Nevada State Law requires that all teachers have a thorough knowledge of the school law, constitution and U. S. constitution as a part of their professional preparation. These courses are usually a part of the teacher education curriculum at the University of Nevada and teachers who come to Nevada from other states are given a year in which to meet these provisions.

Examinations are given at two intervals during the school year, the first Saturday in November and the first Saturday in May. Local school districts conduct in-service training programs as preparation for the examinations in the above subjects.

at least one of the industrial plants in Henderson is planning for mass flu inoculation of its workers because of the epidemic threat.

These Wonderful People

Let 'em have it kids! There won't be much more of this, so have fun.

Over much of the United States this year there were a number of heavy snows and it was an opportunity for families to have a lot of fun together. It's at such times that families develop a deep sense of unity, as well as enjoyment. In our community activities we should also develop this sense of unity. If we do we will find our projects being completed quickly, efficiently and harmoniously. Join in your community activities, support our local merchants and institutions and organizations. Your fellow citizens need you.

Cramer Tells Unitarians About Sensible Inexpensive Funerals

B&H 2-24-2 Cramer tells mg
A talk on "Dignified Funerals at Sensible Prices" delivered recently by Ralph Cramer of Henderson at a meeting of the Unitarian Fellowship in Paradise Valley was considered extremely successful as practically all of the 25 persons in attendance expressed a desire to join a local Funera Society when one is established in Southern Nevada.

Cramer told his listeners of the recently established societies in Southern California, one of which has grown to include three counties in a very short period of time.

The Memorial - Funeral Society, he said, is not to be confused with burial insurance plans. It is a non-profit co-operative organization and is democratically controlled by its members with its work supervised by a board of directors elected at an annual membership meeting.

There are no annual dues. Membership is $10 per family or $5 for individuals. Funds are used only for secretarial costs with members donating the work necessary to operate the society.

The association compiles information on the costs of morticians' services and makes agreements with Funeral Directors. This information is available to members of the association. Reciprocal membership arrangements are made with other funeral societies in an ever-expanding number of cities throughout the nation.

Through the formation of such societies or associations in California it has been possible for members to cut the cost of funerals to a bare minimum and specify the exact type of funeral they desire.

Morticians services in Southern California, Cramer said, ordinarily cost from $400 to $1000 and frequently as much as $2000. The associations, however have arrangements with morticians for simpler funerals costing from $150 to $395.

Cramer made it very plain that he has no quarrel with the morticians; in fact, he said we need and want their help and sincerely hope we will find at least one here who is willing to cooperate, if enough people are interested for the formation of an association in Clark County.

Cramer was accompanied by Rae Von Dornum, a staff writer and editor for the Henderson Home News, who also answered questions following Cramer's talk.

Both Mr. Cramer and Mrs. Von Dornum expressed their willingness to speak on this subject for other interested groups. Cramer can be reached at 110 Dogwood Street, Henderson; Mrs. Von Dornum may be reached at the Home News office.

Anyone interested in becoming a member of a funeral association, when one is formed here, is invited to contact either of the above persons.

Post Office Braces Itself
For Annual Yule Mail Volume

Although Christmas Day is two months away, it's not too early to begin thinking about the mailing of gifts and cards which add to the pleasure of the happy observance, Raymond R. Holmquist, regional director of the Post Office Department, said here today.

Holmquist said the Post Office Department is geared to handle an all-time record amount of mail during the busy Yule season but it will require an assist from the patrons.

"We believe we will handle more Christmas mail better than ever before and with less manpower," Holmquist said. "However, we will need the cooperation of our patrons in meeting mail-early deadlines."

The postal official said plans for the speedy and efficient movement of the 1962 Christmas mail have been in the making since the first of the year. Postmasters have been holding conferences with supervisors and other employees for the past several weeks in working out local problems to aid the Department's "push," Holmquist added.

Meetings of post office transportation experts have been held on national and regional levels and dispatch schedules worked out to assure the smooth flow of the gigantic volume of mail expected to hit the individual offices during late November and the first three weeks of December, the regional director said.

Holmquist pointed out that patrons can assist the postal workers in delivering the Christmas mail by observing the following deadlines:

Mailing of gift parcels for distant states during the first week of December; mailing of gift parcels for local and nearby areas by December 12.

Mailing of greeting cards for distant states by December 10 and mailing of cards destined for local and nearby points by December 15.

Holmquist said if the deadlines are met, patrons can expect delivery of the parcels and cards not later than Christmas Day. Surface mail for Alaska and Hawaii not prepaid at the first-class rate should be mailed not later than December 1.

"I would like to remind postal patrons that there will be no delivery on December 25," Holmquist emphasized. "Greeting cards carrying first class postage may be sealed and contain written messages. These are priority items and will be forwarded without additional charge or will be returned to the sender, also without additional charge, provided the return address is shown on the envelope."

The Post Office Department has announced that window service hours, for the sale of stamps and acceptance of parcel post, may be extended beginning December 10, providing mail volume justifies. Window service for sale of stamps and acceptance of parcel post will be maintained all day on Saturday on December 15 and December 22 also if the need is justified.

"In offices where no Sunday window service is normally provided," Holmquist said, "postmasters may at their discretion provide window service on Sunday, December 16. Such action would serve to avoid lobby congestion on the following Monday. Only necessary window service will be provided on Sunday, December 23 and none at all on Christmas Day."

Holmquist said carrier delivery schedules may be arranged in some offices to provide necessary service on Sunday, December 23. "The Department assures

CARSON CITY PICKS
MAN TO MANAGE
CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Bob Dill, currently director of public relations and advertising of the Holiday Hotel in Reno, has accepted the position of manager of the Carson City Chamber of Commerce, announced William Woerner, president of the capitol city's chamber.

"The end of last June, we of the Carson City Chamber of Commerce launched an all out drive to give our city a professional chamber operation," stated Woerner. "With this membership drive we included a questionnaire, asking the members to offer suggestions for future projects and activities. Mr. Dill will work towards the advancement of these proposals and the organization of our Chamber of Commerce."

Bob Dill, originally of San Diego, California, has been a resident of Nevada for more than twelve years. Most people who sally forth to clean up the world couldn't "sweep around their own doors" if they tried, as the pile of debris is too large to be moved with a broom.

SENATOR BIBLE LOOKS AHEAD!

In the years ahead, our state of Nevada faces many new challenges.

To keep pace with our astounding population increase, we must provide many things: more classrooms for our school children, more highways for our farmers, miners, businessmen, construction workers, and others, more reclamation and low cost power projects, more parks and recreation areas, and many other things that our growing state badly needs.

These are matters in which our Federal Government can, and must, play a vital part.

During the last 8 years as your United States Senator, I have done my best to see that the Federal Government has met its responsibility in this field. I am proud of the record we have made because that record will show that Nevada has received more Federal funds per capita than any state in the Union.

We have been ever mindful of fiscal responsibility, yet the country's fastest growing state must have Federal help to continue our march ahead.

On the basis of this record, I ask you to return me to the United States Senate on November 6th. Together we can keep building a better and more prosperous Nevada.

Thank you so very much.

TEN STEPS TO A BETTER NEVADA...

1. Tax and land incentives to attract stable, high-wage new industries.
2. A progressive and dignified program for our senior citizens.
3. A forthright approach to Nevada gambling, aimed at broader understanding and federal recognition.
4. Remedy unemployment through technical school programs and retraining of displaced workers.
5. Strengthen the State Personnel Act by eliminating political favoritism.
6. A scholarship program for our two University campuses in Reno and Las Vegas, financed jointly by state and private sources.
7. Rehabilitation facilities short of reform school for Nevada's wayward youngsters.
8. An impartial legislative study to separate fact from fiction in civil rights.
9. Promotion of in-state tourism to aid Nevada's depressed counties.
10. Payment of court costs by N. I. C. instead of by injured workmen.

OFFICIAL RETIREMENT COMES TO PERLIE MORRIS; BUILT SPLENDID RECORD AS WESTERN LAWMAN

PERLIE MORRIS

Retirement came this week to one of this state's oldest in point of service of law enforcement officers - Perlie Morris.

Official retirement date was yesterday to the lawman who recently completed his final assignment in public service -- as Boulder City's first chief of police.

Retirement is automatic at age of 65, according to the city charter.

A unique factor in the history of law enforcement officers is when one can claim the distinction of having served on the township, city, county, state and federal levels of his profession. Such is the case that surrounds Perlie Morris, a man of working law enforcement whose exploits are respected throughout the West and wherever he has served in the public interest.

Morris, now 65, can look back over the years and count 38 of them that were spent either as a constable, policeman, U.S. Deputy Marshal, U.S. Ranger, Arizona range detective, or deputy sheriff.

Born in Arizona, Morris, an enthusiastic member of the Nevada Constables Association, started adult life as a cowboy and rodeo rider, but changed his way of life in 1924 when he started his long career as a peace officer and a policeman on the Prescott, Ariz., police force.

Since then, with only one break-that of cattle ranching on the Arizona strip, Morris has worn a badge with great distinction.

His Nevada law enforcement experience began in 1938 when he left the Mohave County sheriff's office to become a ranger for the Bureau of Reclamation at Boulder City and Page, Ariz., and served under the late C.F. Peterson until 1958.

Morris became a captain of the Boulder City police department after leaving the rangers and later became chief, while the city was still a "government" town.

When the city was given its autonomy, Morris retired from government service, and was named chief of police by the new city council on Jan. 4, 1960.

Under his leadership, Morris built up a highly efficient police force that kept Boulder City one of the safest cities in Nevada.

BLM CONSIDERS FAA FACILITY
NEAR NELSON

Two hundred acres of land in southern Clark County were described in an application for withdrawal recently submitted to the Bureau of Land Management by the Federal Aviation Agency.

The agency proposes to use the land for a VHF-UHF Air-Ground communication facility, according to BLM's Reno Land Office Manager, H. Curt Hammit. The installation commonly called a RCAG facility, is vital to the continued safe operation of aircraft in the area, FAA officials stated in their application for the withdrawal.

If it is approved, the withdrawal will remove the lands involved from application under the public land laws, mining location, mineral leasing, and disposals of materials, Hammit said. FAA officials expect to need the land for a term of 20 years. The land is located on a hilltop in the Eldorado Mountains, about four miles west of the community of Nelson and four miles east of U.S. Route 95.

The BLM's published notice of the proposed withdrawal allows 30 days for interested parties to submit comments, suggestions, or objections in writing to Mr. Hammit, Post Office Box 1551, Reno. If the nature of the comments received seems to justify a public hearing, one will be scheduled before a final determination is made by the BLM.

A new way to reduce: Read the recently published book, "Silent Spring," and you'll be afraid to eat lest you be poisoned by insecticides used on food-producing crops.

ADOPTING A STRAY DOG

By Bob Bartos
Manager, Friskies Research Kennels

If you're in the market for a new four-footed friend or a strange dog appears on your doorstep, don't immediately tag him as a likely candidate for adoption. He may be a canine tramp who spends his days roaming and his nights at home. Or he may be a cruiser dog, one who sets himself a regular schedule and visits the same spots every day in search of hand-outs.

Check the license number on the dog's collar with your local licensing bureau to determine the dog's owner if he's not wearing an identification tag. Then call the owner and inform him of his pet's whereabouts.

If the dog is collarless, try to locate the owner by following much the same procedure as you would if trying to find your dog. Check the pounds in your area, the police department and the lost and found column of your local newspaper.

If all efforts fail to turn up the rightful owner and you want to keep the dog, it's advisable to have your veterinarian give him a complete physical check-up.

Proper Fertilization Key To Vigorous, Healthy Lawn

Nine out of ten newly seeded lawns in Clark County are in a poor state of vigour only 60 days after being sown, Jerry Schuh, horticulturist, reported for the Clark County Co-operative Service.

Many of these lawns have reached the throes of death, yet gardeners rush to purchase insecticides and fungicides, when the young grass seedlings are actually starving to death. Schuh asks, how would you like to be starving to death and have medicine shoved down your throat?

This is exactly what is happening in the country, he reports, and after the chemicals failed to do what the unsuspecting gardener anticipated, they give up in disgust, consoling themselves with thoughts of putting in green colored concrete.

Most all lawns are established in blowsand, a soil medium void in the necessary plant food nutrients needed by young grass plants. Nitrogen and phosphorus fertilizers, in particular the fertilizer called ammonium phosphate, should be applied when new grass seedlings reach the height of one and one-half inches. The ammonium phosphate fertilizer should be applied at the rate of ten pounds per 1000 square feet at this time of the year for new grass seedlings. "Water the lawn immediately after the fertilizer is applied," Schuh says, "and keep watering as if trying to extinguish a fire, not as if dampening clothes to be ironed."

Seldom is an insecticide or fungicide warranted in keeping a seedling lawn in a vigorous and healthy condition. Fertilizers will give grass seedlings the stamina needed to help combat its natural enemies.

Steer manure, Schuh points out, often mistakenly used as a fertilizer, has little food value for grass seedlings, or older grass plants. Steer manure is used as a mulch by the landscapers putting in lawns, not as a fertilizer, so often mistaken by the observing gardener. Steer manure, used other than a mulch on new lawns is wasted time and money, Schuh said.
