Morry's Story

...By MORRY ZENOFF

Far be it from me to tell a lawyer how to run his law business. I had hoped to be able to by getting a law education — but I couldn't measure up to studying for three solid years.

Far be it from me to tell the District Attorney how to run his office, for he must operate it according to the law of the state.

BUT — it seems a crying shame that when the sheriff this week picked up a nest of dope users, many of whom are listed with police records a mile long — it seems a shame that someday, some how these maladjusted people weren't kept under lock and key for the sake of society.

The crum-bums, the delinquents, the men and women who prowl at night breaking into homes, stores, cars and attacking people on the streets — are the dregs of humanity, and to be able to capture a gang of them in one fell swoop is an act worthy of all the medals and honors we can bestow on the men in uniform.

Then — because of some quirk in the law — they go free — it is discouraging and dangerous.

S o m e h o w, somewhere, there must also be a loophole in the legal phraseology whereby these people are kept from society — either by sending them to hospitals for help — or holding them for further checking of crimes where the criminal hasn't been caught.

This, to me, is the job of the district attorney, too, in his need to protect society from the misfits who threaten your home and mine, your life and mine.

The D.A. has a great responsibility to the people — and here was an occasion when it would have been ideal for him to come up with an answer.

BASIC HIGH SCHOOL OUTLINES PLANS FOR SUMMER COURSES

Ben Cowan, assistant principal, announced that summer school at Basic High School will run from June 14, until July 27, with classes from 8 a.m. to 12 noon daily. There will be two periods daily 8 to 9:55 a.m. — 10:05 to 12 noon.

Classes will be offered for both make-up or remedial purposes, and enrichment or self-improvement study. Students may earn credit or acquire a skill that they could not include in the regular day school program, or can fulfill a deficiency credit required for graduation.

The following courses will be offered if sufficient students enroll for the organization of a class, minimum 12 students. Other courses may be offered if there is sufficient demand. Enrichment courses offered are: basic design, crafts, special projects in chemistry, beginning Spanish and driver's education.

Remedial or regular classes are 10th and 11th grade health, American history, American government, world history, beginning typing, 9th, 10th, 11th, and 12th grade English, and basic math.

For grades 9-12, one-half credit toward graduation will be available for each two hour class.

Tuition for each class will be $25; except for driver's education, which will be $38 and Spanish I, which is $50, because this is a four-hour, full year course.

Transportation must be furnished by the student. Fees are payable at the time of registration. In addition to the tuition fee, a book deposit of $3 per book will be required and payable on the first day of summer school. The deposit is refundable upon return in satisfactory condition.

Registration will begin May 10, and continue until June 4, at Basic High School.

Summer School Classes Slated For Elementary School Pupils

Remedial summer school classes for elementary school students here were recently announced by Lyl W. Burkholder, area school administrator.

Classes will be organized for remedial work in reading for grades 1 through 6 and arithmetic for grades 4 through 6.

Children in grades 1 through 6 may register in only one of the remedial summer classes. Classes begin June 14 and end July 23.

To be eligible for admission to summer school classes, pupils must have the approval of their present teacher and principal.

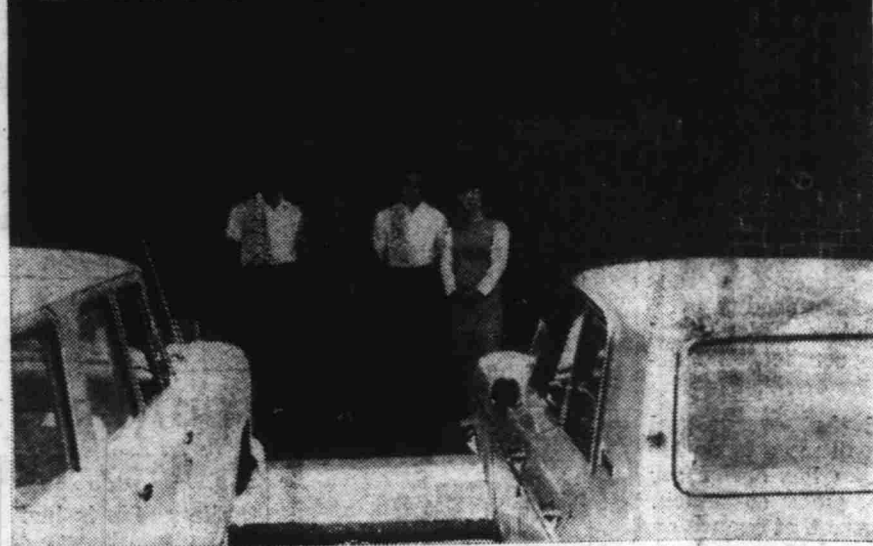

Summer school will not make it possible for children to skip a grade or reduce the number of years spent in the school program, Mr. Burkholder said.

The school district reserves the right to cancel any class which does not have a sufficient number of pupils interested in the subject requested or if a teacher is not available.

Classes will be held at Townsite Elementary School. Tuition for each class is $25, payable at the time of registration. No exceptions and no extensions are possible, Mr. Burkholder stated.

Henderson Included In Gas Tax Hike Set July 1

Henderson, along with the rest of Clark County is scheduled for a one cent raise for gasoline sometime near July 1, with money to go for the development of roads, but whether the item will be discussed by the City Council next Monday night is not known since a special meeting was to have been called after the last regular session of the Council, to discuss the improvement of roads now being compiled by the county, Henderson's only improvement with the funds would be Sunset road from Boulder highway to the Strip.

Henderson's share of the tax collected would be only eight percent as compared to 49 percent for Las Vegas since Las Vegas has 49 percent of the assessed valuation. The county would get 38 percent, North Las Vegas 8 percent, and Boulder City would get 1 percent.

The directive was given by the federal government which gave political entities until July 1 to come up with a program for financing a continuing program in modernizing the roads and highways. The government will pay up to 89.5 percent of the total cost of the program.

The Wilbur Smith road and street report will be upgraded yearly to meet the needs of the expanding population and the federal requirements for current and long-range planning. The tax will go into effect 30 days after the county commissioners adopt an ordinance now being prepared. In addition to the penny tax, the ordinance will provide for a regional street and highway commission composed of representatives from the county and the incorporated cities. Clark County and Las Vegas will have two representatives; North Las Vegas, Henderson and Boulder City will each have one.

All of the gas tax money collected in the county will go into a common pot pledged to 30-year revenue bonds the first issue which is expected to be set at $20 million. The one-cent gas tax raise will make local residents paying 11 cents a gallon for taxes, one of the highest rates in the country, the national average being 10 cents. Several states have 11.

Firemen Rescue Man Caught In Gears Of Washing Machine

Pittman firemen, in a 15-minute rescue operation, released Richard Ambery, 1505 Palm St., from a washing machine gear Monday after his finger was caught in the gear and he couldn't release himself.

Acting fire Lt. Rosequist said that apparently the motor was running and Ambery got his finger caught in the gears. Although the flesh was removed from the finger, in some places clear to the bone, it was not believed to be broken. It took firemen 15 minutes to get him released from the complicated situation. Rosequist said he did not know how long Ambery had been imprisoned before firemen were called.

BERT D. HARDEN FUNERAL HELD FOR EARLY BMI ENGINEER

Funeral services for one of the original Basic Magnesium Inc. engineers, Bert D. Harden, were held Wednesday at Palm Mortuary in Las Vegas, following his death Monday.

Harden was with the first 16 engineers who went to England in 1941 to study the plant there for the construction of the Basic Magnesium Plant. Fred Gibson, Sr., president of Pacific Engineering and Construction Co., is the only one of the 16 left in this area.

After returning to Henderson, Harden became second in command at the Henderson plant in the Reduction department.

After the BMI plant closed down, Harden and his partner built a magnesium plant in Norway where he and his family lived for several years. He later went to work for Armour Institute in Burma on the construction of a non-ferrous reduction plant.

Harden also worked in Africa, Kenya, Ghana, and Nigeria and was well-known in the mining fraternity all over the world. He moved his family back to Las Vegas around a year ago.

In Henderson, where he leaves many friends, Harden and his wife were well-known for their work in the community, and Mrs. Harden was active in the Catholic Church here.

Gibson said of Harden that he contributed a great deal to the magnesium plant here and brought a lot to the community in its beginning. "He was one of my best friends," Gibson added.

Harden is survived by his widow, Ellen, a daughter Nora Jane, of 809 Griffith, Las Vegas; a sister, Mrs. W. B. Lewis, Marysville, Calif.; three brothers, W. R. of Palm Springs, Calif.; Edward D., of San Jose, and Conrad D. of San Francisco, Calif.

He was a member of the Elks Lodge 1518 of Nevada City, California; Professional Engineers, AMIME.

The Elks Lodge 1468 of Las Vegas officiated at the services, and entombment was at Palm Mausoleum.

Social Security Field Officer To Visit Here

A social security field representative will visit Henderson and Boulder City on Wednesday, May 19, according to Ed Cocks, Social Security Administration District manager.

The field representative will be at the city hall in Boulder City from 10 to 10:30 a.m., and at the Henderson city hall from 1 to 1:30 p.m.

Cocks said that anyone wishing to apply for social security benefits, to apply for a number, or to take care of any social security matter, may contact the field representative at the times and places shown above.

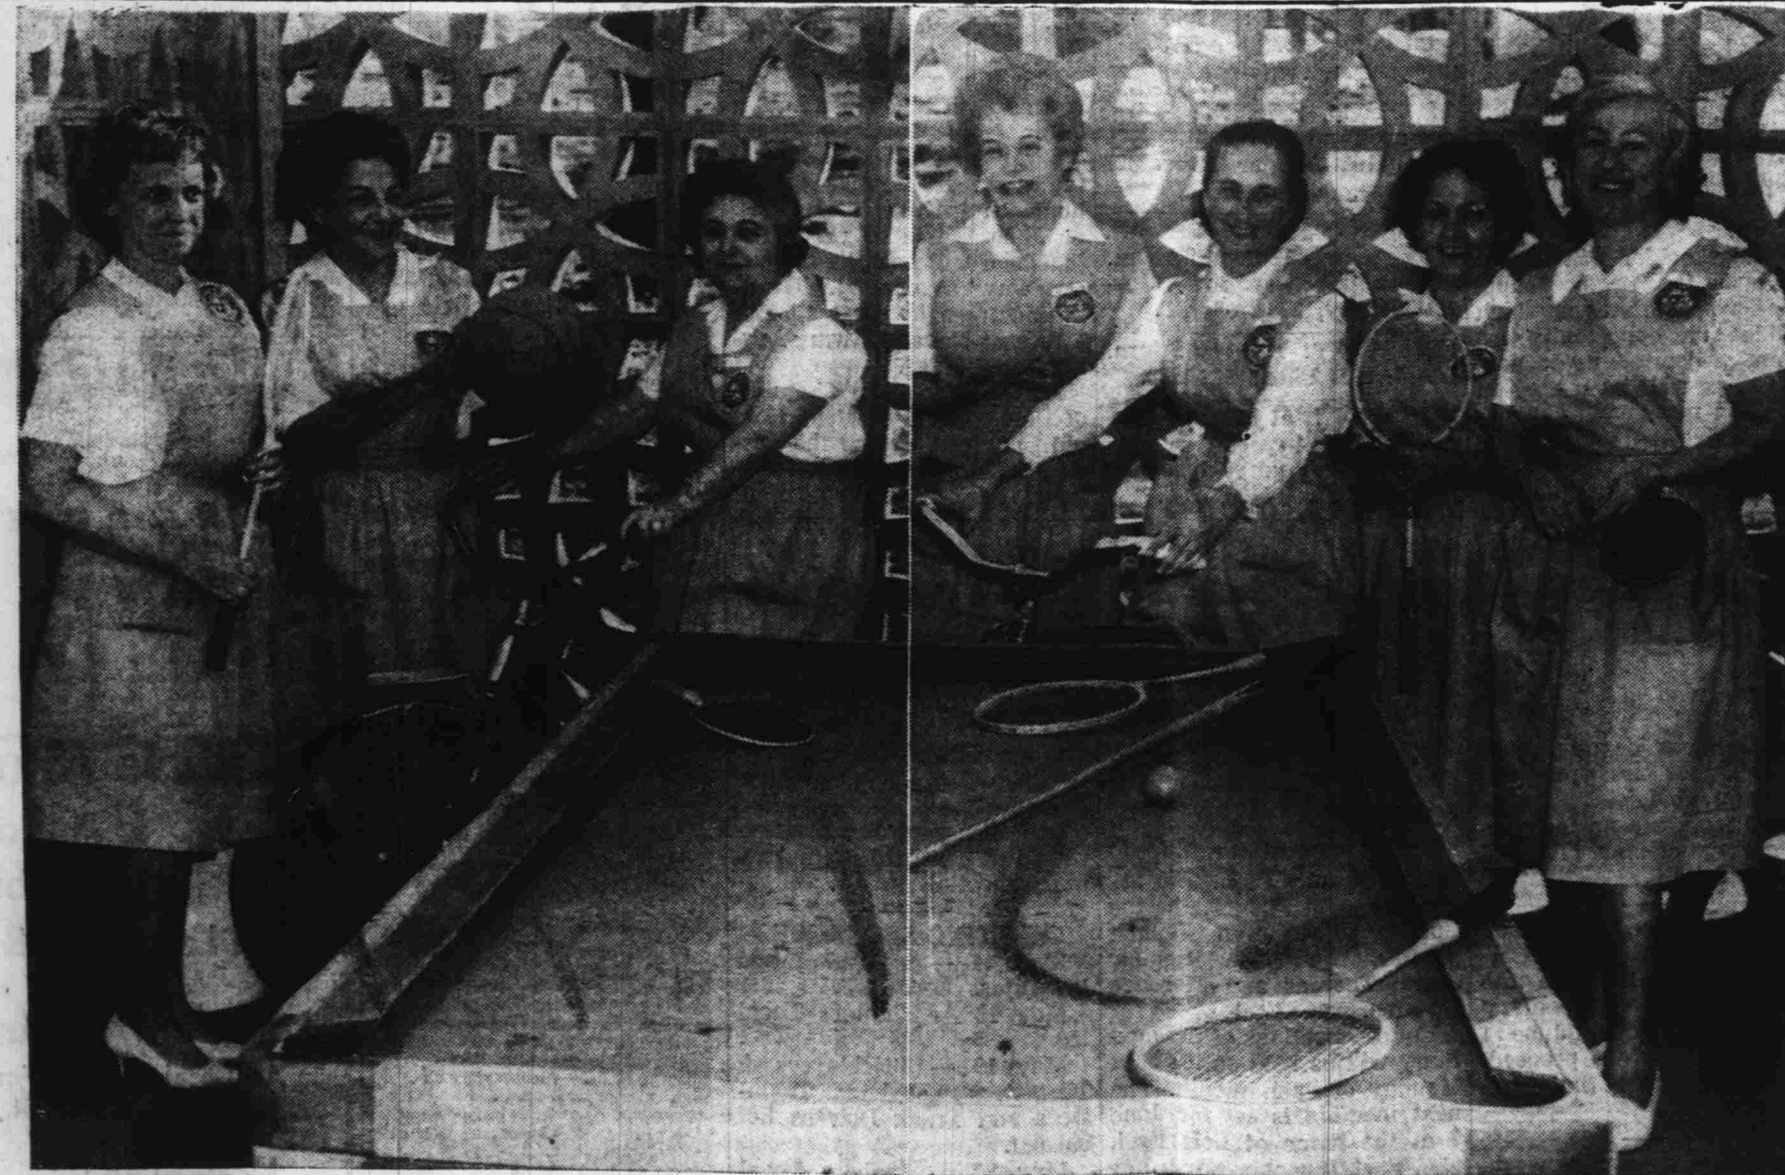

Students who plan to work this summer should get social security cards now, according to Cocks. All employers require that you have a social security card before they will put you on their payroll, he said.

Employers must have these numbers for their quarterly social security returns.

Any student who has never had an account number card or who has lost his card should contact a social security representative. The Social Security Administration makes no charge for a new card or a replacement for a lost card.

My Two Cents Worth

By RAE VON DORNUM

Mrs. Madalyn Murray, the dedicated atheist whose legal tangles with religion resulted in the Supreme Court ban on prayers and Bible reading in the schools has started making demands on the Federal Communications Commission.

Now living in Honolulu, Mrs. Murray has complained to the FCC that none of Honolulu's 15 broadcasting stations would give her regularly scheduled time to discuss "free thought."

Church groups, she says, get their air time free or at special low rates.

The FCC has ruled against atheists' demands for time in the past on the grounds that the "fairness doctrine" (that both sides are entitled to a hearing) applies only when the subject is a matter of general public controversy. Atheism, says the FCC, isn't. But Mrs. Murray's persistence has moved mountains before and the FCC staff is reportedly handling her complaint gingerly.

In a speech before the attorney General's Statewide Conference on Crime, May 8, in Carson City, George J. Reed, chief of the division of parole and probation for the state of Nevada, said:

"Juvenile delinquency and youth crime is causing grave concern, not only amongst parents, but by all officials who are charged with the responsibility of administering criminal justice.

"National statistics show that crime is increasing amongst our youth at five times the increase of our so called 'population explosion.' This is such an alarming fact that it has caused our leading educators, ministers, sociologists and researchers to examine the problem and attempt to better define the causative factors behind this spread of lawlessness amongst our younger generation."

Is there the slightest possible connection between Mrs. Murray's success with the Supreme Court and the statement of the Parole and Probation Chief? Let's think about this.

During the week before Easter, the Rev. David Wilkerson, founder of the Teen Challenge Centers, . . . the only program in the U.S. where teenagers who have reverted to crime and dope are being cured of addiction and rehabilitated. . . held a three-day crusade at the Convention Center.

The crusade was advertised in a door-to-door drive by 172 college students who spent their Easter vacation helping to advertise Wilkerson's crusade among Southern Nevada teenagers.

It was reported that although hundreds of teenagers did attend the crusade, Wilkerson was somewhat disappointed with the results of his visit. It is this reporter's opinion that the Supreme Court's ban on prayers and Bible reading in school had a direct bearing on the fact that so many local teenagers stayed away from the crusade. Did they all know about it?

Among the pieces of publicity that were brought to the HOME NEWS was a big poster advertising Wilkerson's talks for teenagers.

Few youngsters had an opportunity to see this publicity in the newspaper office and a friend from Basic High School was asked if it would be possible to display it at the high school.

"I wouldn't dream of taking it up there," was the reply. "you can't display anything religious in the schools!"

This is certainly a fine kettle of fish. . . and let us remember that it definitely is not the fault of our educators.

It is not this writer's opinion that the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court should be impeached, although this is being advocated by at least one well known national organization. The Chief Justice is only one member of the court and undoubtedly the members of the Supreme Court thought their decision was correct.

But we can do something about this ridiculous situation which seems to be growing worse instead of better.

Congressman Walter S. Baring of Nevada has introduced legislation in Congress to amend the Constitution of the United States to correct this decision of the Supreme Court.

This Nation was founded for religious freedom which should mean that anyone and everyone can pray when, where and if they please.

If you approve this action by Congressman Baring, write to him in Washington, D.C. and let him know that you do. If you don't have time to write, clip this column, sign it and mail it to him. Right now!

"BUDDY POPPY" DAYS IN HENDERSON MAY 21, 22, 23

"Wear a Buddy Poppy. It gives one that good feeling which comes from a small contribution to a worthy cause."

This appeal was voiced by Commander Gil Martins of V.F.W. Post No. 3848 in announcing the annual sale of V.F.W. Buddy Poppies which will be held on the streets of Henderson on May 21, 22 and 23.

He pointed out that one cent from the sale of each Buddy Poppy goes to support the V.F.W. National Home for Orphans and Widows of Veterans at Eaton Rapids, Michigan. This unique child village has attained a worldwide reputation as an example of providing hundreds of orphan children the kind of homes all of us enjoy as good Americans. More than 200 orphans of veterans are leading happy lives there at the present time.

Another important use of Buddy Poppy funds is the V.F.W. Rehabilitation Service through which V.F.W. service officers assist veterans in adjudication of claims for compensation, pension and other benefits from the Veterans' Administration, Commander Martinez pointed out.

"Our service officers are familiar with government benefits for veterans and their dependent. They furnish expert advice and counsel free of charge when given power of attorney. Unsmiling of insurance claims, helping survivors obtain terminal leave pay when the veteran dies, and all other cases of veterans rights have increased tremendously since World War II and the Korean conflict," he declared.

"We feel that every loyal American will want to do his part to make life easier for those who gave so much. They will have that chance on May 21, 22 and 23 when Buddy Poppies go on sale here in Henderson."

Purple Sage Desert Gardeniers Hear Talk On Area Shade Trees

Members of Purple Sage Unit, Desert Gardeniers, enjoyed a garden tour conducted by Mrs. E. C. Hummer, hostess to the May meeting, at her home, 1000 Magnolia St., Las Vegas. Members reported that they greatly enjoyed seeing Mrs. Hummer's beautiful yard.

Guest speaker for the evening was Joe Mast, whose main topic was tried and tested shade trees which do well in this area but are not generally grown.

He recommended the planting of English walnut, pecan, silk tree, sunburst locust, Modesto and Arizona ash, golden rain tree, Brazilian pepper, true Chinese elm (not the elm commonly grown under this name), and a new hybrid columnar Catalina cherry.

All of these trees have proven to be excellent shade trees for Vegas Valley, Mast told the club members.

The speaker stressed the careful placement of trees. A shade tree planted in the wrong place can be a disappointment to the home owner.

he said, and is expensive to move.

The same careful planning holds true with basic shrubs and permanent foundation planting, he said. Thought should be given to their ultimate size at the time of planting, not when they have become overgrown and crowded.

Following his discourse, Mast answered questions on ground cover, organic and chemical sprays for garden pests, fertilizers, ground conditioners, watering methods and other gardening problems.

During the business session, the members discussed a supper to be held June 6, at the Henderson City Park as a fund raising event. Complete details will be announced.

Members present were Mmes. Barbara Brown, Jimi Craft, Edith Craford, Barbara Fry, Marj Ivary, Betty Malory, Thelma Oldfield, Marion Shunk, Edna Wycoff, Maxine Yeoman and hostess, Mrs. Hummer. Guests were Jean Corbridge and Katherine Lyon.

The World's Largest Pipe Collection...

By ESTHER SHIPP
When naturalist Lyle Linch retires from the National Service in 1966, he could rightfully call his home a private museum and charge admission! In the meantime, if you contact him at Park Service, he will not only let you have a free look at his treasures, but give you a free sample!

To start with, he has the largest known collection of Indian peace pipes in the world, including the second largest calumet ever made. He thinks he has approximately 400, but has given 153 of them away. In fact, the amount has varied up to 700, as he accumulated many of them from Indians who needed emergency funds, then returned them during the tourist season.

Linch has been in Boulder City since Oct. 1, 1964, coming here from Chalmette, New Orleans. He began his work with the N.P.S. at the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D.C., then was in Natchez Trace, Miss. for five years. From there he was transferred to the Rocky Mountain National Park, Colorado; was superintendent of the Badlands at Black Hills, S.D.; then for six years was superintendent of Pipestone National Monument in Minnesota, before going to Louisiana.

During this time he has collected a houseful of interesting artifacts, an intriguing library, and so many things that this article can touch on tribes in other locations want pipes, they must barter for them. Peace pipes are still smoked when tribes get together, not for pleasure but as a ritual.

In times of both war and peace, smoking a peace pipe is equivalent to giving one's word of honor. The Indians sit in a circle, on the ground, with legs crossed. The pipe of the braves is heavy, and one end rests on the ground. (The squaw's pipe is lighter and smaller.) The chief takes a puff, then passes it around the circle. White men have had to have strong stomachs and will power to join in, as the pipes are filled with a mixture of dry dung, bark, and roots of willow trees.

His oldest pipe, decorated with a claw, was obtained by trade. It was found in a burial mound. None of the pipes are under 15 years old. Most were made by the Chippewas and Sioux. One of the most attractive, decorated with a buffalo and worth about $100, was given to him as a going away present when he left Pipestone.

Even pipe has a small band woven of beads, each color with a different meaning—red, bravery; green, youth; brown, maturity; blue, constancy; yellow, cowardice.

According to Indian legend, at the time of the great flood, Indians climbed to a high cliff. They all drowned but one girl, who was saved when a bird took her to a higher mountain. The flesh and blood of the dead Indians turned into pipestone. The stone used to be solid red, but when white people came over to this land, it began to get speckled. The official name is catlinite, named after George Catlin, a painter who was the first man to describe pipestone.

An item of interest to genealogists, is the appearance of an ankh—the sign of eternal life—on the ledge where the Indians are supposed to have died. This ankh is found on the Egyptian pyramids, so may have been brought over by one of the lost tribes. It is an inverted V, representing a mountain, with a line across it for the horizon, and a circle "sun" on top. Linch has a collection of stone ankhs, which he had carved for members of the Ankh Club (junior guides), Scouts, etc.

Also carved of stone is a large collection of "turtles", which are supposed to be rubbed only a few.

The pipestone is found in only three places in the United States, according to Linch, and at present most pipes are made by two families. When bed with beeswax and baked. The Indians claim that a squaw who keeps a turtle (fertility totem) in her teepee will have a son within 14 months!

Linch is "a rock hound, for sure" and has all types of equipment to prepare his many "finds". He has drawers of sorted rocks and gem stones, and natural rock slides which he cut, polished and framed to be shown on a projector. He has a patch of tears, gold nuggets, shells from Alaska, mastodon tusk, walrus hair, etc. in the drawers.

One of his lighter hobbies, for which he has won ribbons in hobby shows, is mounting pieces of wood which have interesting shapes and amusing titles.

Linch says that "the best thing" he ever did was to form the Little Colonels Club, while superintendent of the Chalmette Historical Park. The interesting booklet about the group says, "The superintendent, faced with the impossible task of providing adequate interpretive service with the available funds and official personnel," experimented with assorted volunteers. He personally hired a local high school junior for several week-ends. From that grew the Little Colonels club of high school girls dressed as southern belles.

Linch has written newspaper columns (Tepee Smoke, and Acorns), and plays the organ. He can give a lecture on the history of the American flag, with real banners.

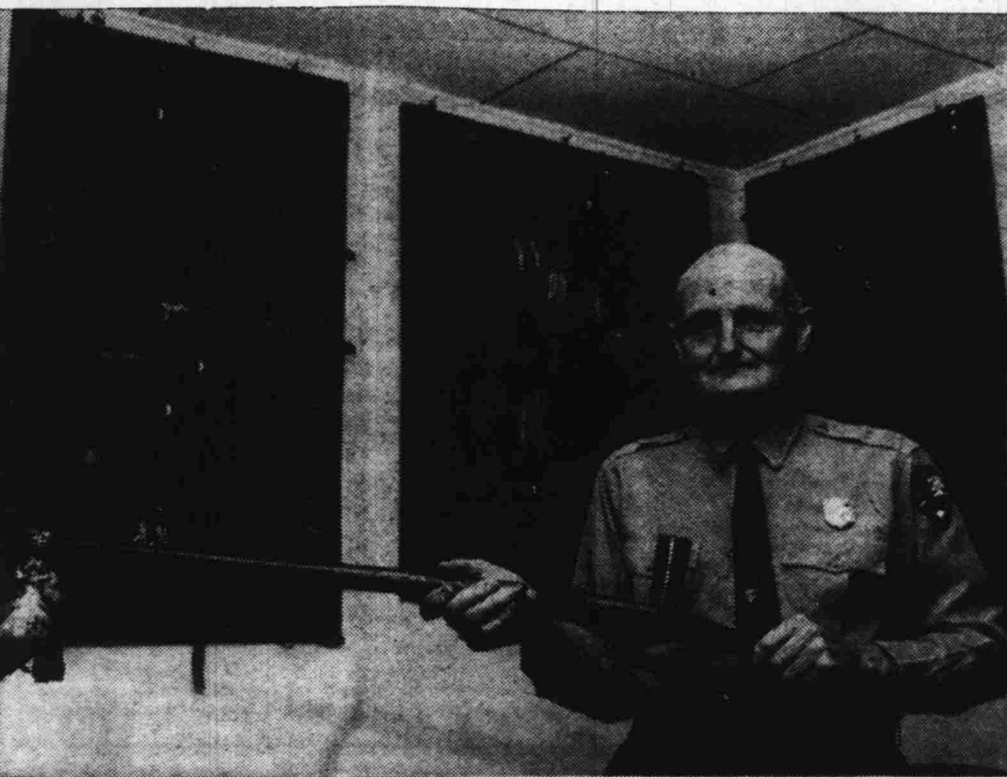

His daughter Judith Ann is a rock hound, and a silver worker. A sophomore at Northwestern State, Natchitoches, La., she will be here with her father when college closes. He has a son John R., a senior at Ames, Iowa; and a daughter Lela Kay, who teaches school in Sturgeon Bay, Wis.

Linch says that his ambition is to "get on a tramp steamer for two months, with two suitcases full of books" and nothing else to do!

It will never happen, but the only way to keep fools from driving cars too fast is to make cars that can't be driven too fast.

How the Savings Bonds you buy ... our State grow

— a message from our Governor

Chances are you live a little better because of the U. S. Savings Bonds program—because so many people in our State buy Bonds and eventually redeem them to buy things for which they have saved.

During the last 24 years, many billions of dollars have flowed back into the economy of the State and the Nation in this way. These dollars have benefited our merchants, manufacturers and builders. And in so doing have created jobs and improved earnings for countless workers—in our cities and farming communities alike.

The people of our State and America today hold a record total of over $48 billion in Series E and H Bonds . . . money that will someday be spent in worthwhile ways and help us grow further.

I urge every one of you to help your future and the future of our State by investing regularly in U. S. Savings Bonds.

NEVADA DELEGATION BREAKS 48-YEAR CONVENTION RECORD

Norris Fined $150 By Judge Davis

Bernard Eugene Norris, 26, was fined $150 in municipal court Tuesday morning by Judge Earl Davis for reckless driving and resisting arrest. He pleaded guilty to both charges.
Frank Howard Cecil, 30, and Claude Ray Davison, 39, were dismissed on charges of assault and battery when the citizens who filed the complaints failed to sign them.
Pleading guilty to charges of driving under the influence were J. D. Crosnoe, 34, and Walter Sterling Colson, 28, who were each fined $175.
Fines of $100 were assessed to Larry Robert Bush, 21, and Bill Lindner, 39. Both pleaded guilty to reckless driving charges.

"You can't make plans for yesterday," says Billy Graham. And even if you could, you might have considerable difficulty in carrying them into effect.

The Nevada delegation, shown above, broke the attendance record at the Women's International Bowling Congress convention in Portland, Ore. as the first state in the 48-year history of the WIBC ever to have its full delegation present at a convention.

Officers and directors, seated are: Ruth Bonham, director, Lovelock; Mickey Webb, director, Reno; Lou Lyons, director, Las Vegas; Maxine Holberg, third vice president, Henderson; Maxine Ruggeroli, president, Las Vegas; Joyce Deitch, secretary, Las Vegas; Edith Peterson, treasurer, Elko; Nellie Beasley, Sgt.-at-arms, Reno; Kay Dellmonica, director, Reno.

A workshop for presidents and secretaries was conducted Sunday, May 2. The convention was called to order by WIBC President Alberta Crowe at 9 a.m. Monday, May 3, for work on 53 amendments to the constitution, bylaws and rules.

New officers were elected, a memorial service was held and San Antonio, Texas was selected as the convention site for 1968. The 1966 convention will be held in New Orleans. The convention was adjourned at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 5. The Henderson delegate opined, "... Boy, that's a lot of sitting!"

The Nevada delegation traveled to convention by chartered bus, starting in Las Vegas and picking up delegates along the way with overnight stops, coming and going, at Reno.

Delegates report that it rained every day, the mountain passes were full of snow and fog. They encountered snow and cold weather during both their stops in Reno.

Baring Bill To Repeal 'War Emergency' Taxes

Congressman Walter S. Baring has introduced legislation proposing the repeal of retailers excise taxes as well as repeal of the excise tax on amounts paid for communications service.

Congressman Baring, in a speech on the floor of the House, stated that he was in complete agreement with President Johnson in regard to a cut in excise taxes, which President Johnson made reference to in his State of the Union message.

Retailers excise taxes were adopted in 1941 as an emergency tax during World War II. To continue this tax, Baring believes, inflicts irreparable damage to many small retailers and manufacturers.

The present retail excise tax structure is incongruous with our national tax philosophy. The levies are regressive, working the greatest hardship on those least able to pay — those in the low income brackets.

In the case of the excise tax on long distance telephone calls in 1932, we levied our first national excise tax on communications. It was extended and increased during World War II when such taxation served the purpose of producing revenue and reducing the load on our heavily burdened communications network.

Thirty-five years ago, the telephone was perhaps a "luxury". In most areas of our nation, those were the days of the party line. Quite obviously, this is no longer true. Consumer savings on phone bills would pour new money into our economy.

No other utility services in American homes are taxed in this manner by the government. It is time we recognized that the telephone is not a luxury and should no longer be treated that way, Baring said.

NPS REPORTS ALL RAMPS OPERATING

Boating and fishing enthusiasts enjoyed mild temperatures on the lakes at the beginning of the week with some gusty southwest winds making their appearance later in the week reducing somewhat the boating activities.

Fishing reports from most resort areas indicate good catches of bass, trout, and catfish.

The lake levels continue to reflect a good seasonal runoff. Lake Mead's water depth on Friday, May 7, was 1096.30 feet above sea level, indicating a rise of 2.71 feet in one week. On April 1, Lake Mohave's depth was 641.7 feet, and on April 30 it was 643.5.

All boat ramps are in operation. A new ramp is in use at Overton Landing; Echo Bay and Las Vegas Wash report good gravel ramps; Temple Bar and Cottonwood Cove ramp conditions are generally good; Boulder Beach, Eldorado Canyon, Willow Beach, and Katherine report excellent ramp conditions available to boaters.

National Park Service regulations state several of the following Rules of the Road: "1. Rules of the road — The statutory rules of the road, supra, which have been enacted by the Congress to prevent collision of vessels, must be observed by operators of vessels which are subject to the regulations in this part. The following subparagraphs outline specific requirements set forth in these rules:

"(1) In narrow channels, when it is safe and practicable, every vessel shall keep to the right of the middle of the channel.

"(2) When vessels are approaching each other head on, or nearly so, each shall be operated to pass the other on the port (left) side at a distance and speed so that the wake of each will not endanger the other.

"(3) When a vessel desires to pass another traveling in the same direction, the overtaking vessel shall keep clear of the overtaken vessel and shall not pass until it is safe to do so, and then at such speed and distance so as not to endanger the overtaken vessel. The overtaken vessel shall maintain its course and speed until the overtaking vessel has safely passed. An overtaking situation shall exist whenever a vessel approaches another from any direction more than two point abaft the beam of the other vessel."

Vegas Firm Low School Bidder

Alfred Brown Construction Co. of Las Vegas was low bidder for construction of the Southern Nevada Vocational-Technical Center on the Whitney Mesa near Henderson.

The bid of $3,120,000 was one of six submitted for construction of the modern vocational school which were opened at a special meeting of the Clark County School District Board of Trustees.

Other low bidders were T.G.K. Construction of Phoenix with a bid of $3,136,000 and Helgeson Construction Co. of Las Vegas, $3,154,000.

How To Have A Fun Picnic

Almost everyone enjoys a picnic... one of America's favorite family activities. Having a delightful outing is easy if you make a list of things to carry along, say the makers of Bayer Aspirin. Also consider these timely tips:

Site: Select a spot that will interest all, young and old. Privacy is important, but so is the view. So is absence of poison ivy plants.

Food: Remember it's a picnic and not a dinner party; prepare plenty, but keep it simple. And keep age groups in mind. Prepare many old favorites, but also try something new... just for fun!

Clean up: Paper plates can be burned if there is a facility; if not, place in a bag and carry home. But by all means, clean up the area before you leave!

Equipment: Paper or plastic utensils are a must. And a cooler for the beverages; coffee and tea can be carried in vacuum bottles. Don't forget games, books, radio.

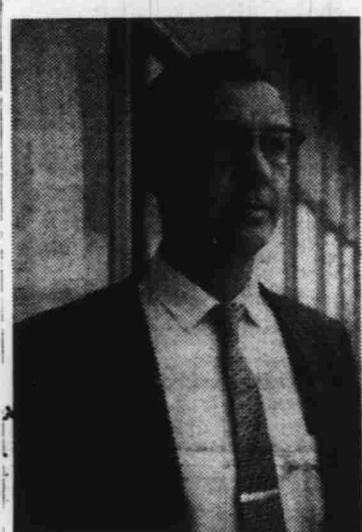

Emergency kit: No picnic should be without one. Should contain soap, sterile pads and adhesive, topical antiseptic, aspirin (both adult and children's sizes), medicated skin cream.

A final word: Don't overload a boat or car; don't over-exert yourself. Plan this as a leisurely outing, fun for all. And it will be fun if your attitude is right.

Public Health Chemist Speaks At Chemical Society Meeting

Earl L. Whittaker

Earl L. Whittaker, of the U.S. Public Health Service's Southwestern Radiological Health Laboratory at Las Vegas, will speak at a meeting of the Boulder Dam Section of the American Chemical Society on the subject of "Neutron Activation Analysis."

This new method of chemical analysis will be described and its limitations, advantages, and applications discussed.

Whittaker received a BS degree in 1949 and later the equivalent of a BS degree in chemistry from Northwestern University. He has been associated with Allied Mills Inc., Miner Laboratories (later a division of Arthur D. Little, Inc.), Nuclear Chicago Corp., Isotope Chemical Co. and the Health Department of Minnesota.

He spent two years at NTS with Reynolds Electrical and Engineering Co. supervising radiochemical and bioassay activities.

He has been with the Southwestern Radiological Health Laboratory since June 1961 and is presently conducting research in the field of air sampling and neutron activation analysis.

The meeting will be at 6 p.m. Thursday, May 13, 1965 in room 102 of the Science Tech building, Nevada Southern University. Dinner will be at 6:30 p.m. at the Thunderbird Hotel. All interested persons are invited.

Nevada story, and then follows the earliest explorer and trailblazers from European civilization across the Great Basin and sketches in the ordeals of the emigrants.

The story traces Nevada's growth into statehood; its boom towns; extravagant political era; and its periods of depression and frustration are all described.

Two Books Published By University Press

"The Nevada Adventure, A History," and "Biographies of Nevada Botanists," have just been published by the University of Nevada Press.

These are the first major hardback publications released by the Press.

"The Nevada Adventure," written by Dr. James W. Hulise, assistant professor of history at the University of Nevada, traces man's experiences and experiments in the rugged mountain-and-desert region from prehistory to the atomic age.

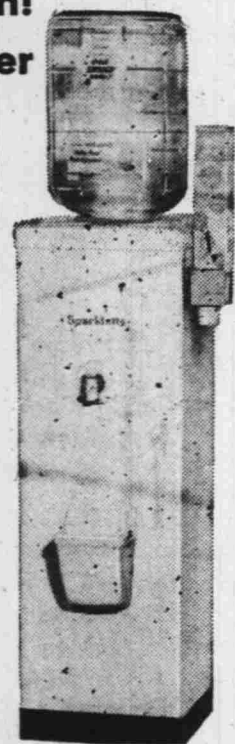

"Biographies of Nevada Botanists," written by Olga A. W. Reifschneider, long time Reno resident, is actually a history of the development of botany in Nevada. It describes the little-known collecting and study of desert vegetation by early explorers.

Author James Hulise first describes the setting of the Question Kids For Painting Church Fence

Several youngsters between the ages of 8 and 10 were questioned by police in the painting with crayon on the Community Church fence.

Gary Beason of the Community Church reported to police that someone had taken red, blue, yellow and violet crayon and written names on the fence around the front, and side of the church. There were also markings on the church annex and sidewalks adjacent to the church.

John D. Nicholson

NICHOLSON RETIRES — Mr. and Mrs. John D. Nicholson of 618 Federal Street are shown at a testimonial dinner given upon Mr. Nicholson's retirement from Titanium Metals Corporation. Nicholson is the second salaried employee to stay with the company until retirement.

Some 90 persons attended the dinner, given May 30 at the Elks hall by Titanium Metals Corporation, in honor of John D. Nicholson who has been a project engineer there for 10 years and one month. Nicholson is the second of Titanium's salaried employees to serve with the company until retirement. Lyle Gnawok retired some time ago.

Master of ceremonies for the evening was Leo Toupin. Fitting tributes were given by Plant Manager Rex Lloyd, Project Engineering Department Supervisor A. M. Neumann and Senior Project Engineer L. E. Anderson.

Harold D. Bailey, general manager of Mountain Pass Mine, (a subsidiary of Molybdenum, Incorporated) who has known Nicholson since 1928 also spoke. Others coming from Stibnite, Idaho for the dinner were Mill Superintendent Chris Lee and Mrs. Lee and Mr. and Mrs. Willis Wood.

A star sapphire tie pin was presented to Nicholson, also a transistor radio and a casting rod with spinning reel. The final gift was the bunch of carrots which the company claims it has been holding beyond the noses of older employees who (jackass-like) sometimes need coaxing to make it to the goal of retirement!

Nicholson vows that, now he has retired, he will still rise at the usual hour in the morning but now he intends to sit there and think it over. "I won't put on my shoes until nine o'clock," he says, "and I'll lace 'em up about 10!"

Many plans are already made for those more leisurely days of retirement.

One-Stop Investing

Just as there are many people who prefer the new modern shopping plazas for the convenience of one-stop shopping, there are many investors who prefer mutual funds for the convenience of one-stop investing.

Like the shopping plaza, with its complex of bakeries, banks, stores and beauty salons, mutual funds offer, in one package, a variety of services designed to fulfill the investor's many needs.

When you purchase shares in a mutual fund you are buying continuous professional management and broad diversification, for your money is pooled with the funds of others like yourself and invested in the stocks and bonds of many companies. At the same time, a growing list of services are available to you which make the ownership of mutual fund shares adaptable for almost any purpose you may have in mind.

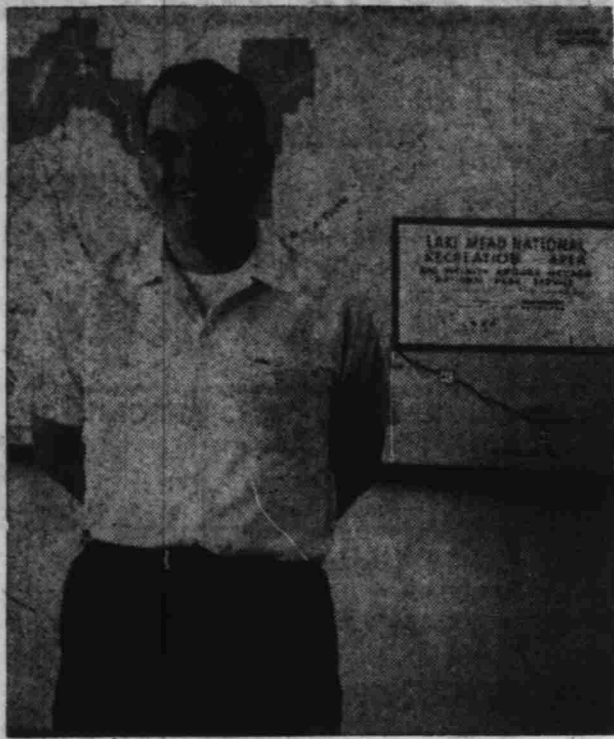

One of the more popular and rewarding of these services is the so-called reinvestment feature, under which you may put back into additional shares the dividends and profits realized for you by the fund, and thus enhance the future earning power of your investment.

Cash benefits from investments in mutual funds are paid in two ways: through dividends or, over the long term, from realized capital gains. In both cases, the mutual fund shareholder may either take his profits in cash or reinvest the money and buy more shares in the fund. All reinvestments are made automatically, thus avoiding a lot of bookkeeping on the part of the investor.

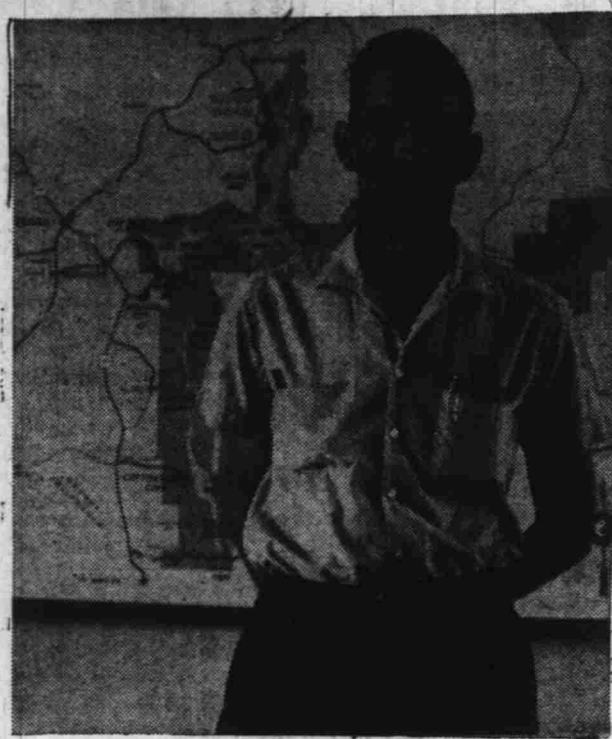

Does change-of-life leave you so weak, irritable you feel older than you really are? Suffocated by hot flashes constantly tense, so you can't be the affectionate wife of old? Don't despair! LYNN PINKHAM'S Compound can relieve that physical distress and tension before in doctor's tests using Pinkham's Compound, woman after woman got glorious relief without costly shots! Hot flashes quickly subsided. That awful nervousness was calmed. That awful weariness found they could go "smiling through" the trying years of change-of-life without that dreadful misery!

SLEEP 8 HOURS — WAKE UP Tired! When due to simple iron-deficiency anemia, take Pinkham Tablets. Rich in iron, they start to strengthen your blood within one day! Thus help restore your vitality.

Police Adopt 'Wait And See' Attitude On Parole Bill

A "wait and see" attitude will be adopted by the local police department along with other law enforcement agencies concerning the new parole bill which was adopted by the last state Legislature, according to Police Chief George Crisler.

Crisler, who returned home this week-end from Carson

City where he attended the first meeting on Crime suppression, said that Governor Grant Sawyer explained the bill to the law enforcement officers.

The local police department joined other law enforcement agencies throughout the state in opposing the bill by sending in a petition against it to the State Assembly.

The conference, which was called by Attorney General Harvey Dickerson, was originally for district attorneys, but later was expanded to include virtually all of the criminal law administrators in the state.

Prince Dusty Wheat To Reign At Shrine Club's Charity Ball

Dusty Wheat, 12-year-old lo-perfectly normal boy. cal student, will be crowned as Prince at the Lake Mead Shrine Club's annual Charity Ball and will reign for the ensuing year.

Each year a prince or princess is crowned at the Shrine Club's Charity Ball and Dusty is the first boy to be so honored by the local club.

Always before a crippled girl from this area, who has been helped by the Shrine Hospitals, has been crowned princess. The Shriners state that the crowning of this handsome Prince will in no way detract from the beauty of the occasion.

Dusty started his career as a cast wearer at the age of eight months and has been in and out of Shrine hospitals and casts ever since. After three sessions of bone surgery, he is now able to play Little League baseball and is well on his way to being a

As if confusion weren't already rife and constantly getting riper, people in many areas have again switched to daylight saving time.

Two more trips to the Los Angeles Shrine Crippled Children's Hospital have been scheduled for Dusty to complete the correction of his condition before he is released from treatment.

Prince Dusty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wheat, 137 Lake Mead Drive, who started life as a cripple, will soon be a normal American boy, thanks to his exceptional parents and one of the greatest philanthropies in the world today — the Shrine Crippled Children's hospitals.

Tickets to the annual Charity Ball can be purchased from any Shriner in the area and everyone is encouraged to contribute the price of a ticket whether they can attend or not.

Every dollar raised through the sale of tickets goes to the Shrine Crippled Children's hospitals. The cost of the Ball is paid by the members of the Lake Mead Shrine Club.

The Ball will be held Saturday, May 22, at St. Peter's auditorium on Boulder highway.

WIN AWARDS — Mrs. Hazel Walker and Raymond L. Smith, were the recent recipients of some of the highest awards of the LDS Church. Mrs. Walker received an Honorary Gleaner, and Smith an Honorary M. Man award. They were selected by the young people of the Stake.

ERIK eyeglass frames and a high-necked boating shirt reflect the Scandinavian trend in men's fashions this year. The simple lines and strong masculine look of this influence is captured by the ERIK, designed by Universal Optical Company.

INTERIOR PLANS CONCESSION IN CALLVILLE BAY BY 1967

The Department of the Interior announces that the National Park Service has issued a prospectus inviting offers for the construction and operation of a concession development to be established in the Callville Bay area of Lake Mead National Recreation Area, Nevada-Arizona. The Callville area is the Nevada portion of the 3,000-square-mile recreation area.

The National Park Service said that a concession contract will be negotiated with the applicant submitting the best offer. Offers will be evaluated primarily on the basis of financial strength and ability and managerial competence. The object is to identify the applicant qualified to render the most satisfactory service to the public at reasonable rates.

By law the Secretary of the Interior is authorized to negotiate concession contracts for public accommodations and services in areas administered by the National Park Service without advertising or competitive bidding. The offers submitted are not subject to the standard Government competitive bid procedures.

The prospectus states that the successful applicant must be prepared to finance an initial construction program to provide new facilities estimated at $375,000, a substantial portion of which must be equity capital.

The Park Service does not want the bulk or majority of the concession construction to be undertaken until January 1967, the target date for the completion of power, water and sewer utilities at the development site, although limited facilities for gassing and servicing boats could be installed earlier. Any temporary utilities necessary to operate such limited facilities are to be provided by the concessioner at his own expense.

During the first three years after January 1967, the concessioner will be required to provide a 50-slip boat dock with sales facilities for gasoline for boats; marine and fishing supplies; rental boats; a 24-unit motel; a 50-unit trailer village with electricity, water, sewer and laundry facilities; a general store-type building with a dining room, kitchen and office; a fenced-in boat storage area; and a shower-laundry facility for campground visitors.

Those interested in submitting an offer on the concession contract should write the Superintendent, Lake Mead National Recreation Area, 601 Nevada Highway, Boulder City, Nevada, 89005, for a copy of the prospectus. Offers will be evaluated promptly after July 30, 1965.

RIVER RUNOFF FORECAST GOOD

The 10 percent better than average precipitation over the Upper Colorado River Basin improved the May 1 forecast for spring runoff to 11 million acre-feet, as compared to the 10.8 million acre-foot forecast of April 1, the Bureau of Reclamation reported today.

The month of April was generally cool with good precipitation, particularly in the San Juan and Green River drainage areas of the Upper Colorado River. April precipitation occurred mainly as mountain snows. With most of the spring precipitation already received, there is a 50 percent chance that the April through July runoff may be no lower than about 10.4 million acre-feet, or higher than 11.6 million acre-feet.

The 11 million acre-foot runoff compares with last year's runoff of 5.54 million acre-feet actually received for the April through July 1965 period.

Of the 11 million acre-foot forecast amount, 1,540,000

38,255 TOUR DAM IN APRIL

A total of 38,255 visitors took the guided tour through Hoover Dam and powerplant during April. This is an increase of 9,005 persons over the number of visitors for April of 1964. The daily average for the month is 1,275 persons. This year's total to date is 120,558, as compared to last year's 126,588 visitors. Special tours were arranged for nine foreign visitors from the following countries: Afghanistan, Germany, Iran and Mexico.

In addition, special courtesies were arranged for 21 troops; 13 church groups; The Burbank Daily Review Newspaper Carriers, Burbank, Calif.; and, The Progress Bulletin Newspaper Carriers, Pomona, Calif.
