Morry's Story

... by MORRY ZENOFF

Each day more people are filing for the many offices to be filled at the fall elections. Who they are, what they have to offer, what they have as background, how well will they serve the public interest — should be on everyone's mind the minute the news is announced of a new candidate.

Being an office-holder is a responsible job and it takes a lot of talent to fill the bill. Too often we get popular candidates but with no talent.

As the years go by and education becomes more universal, the talent will be better and better. The day will come when ideal candidates will be in the running — candidates with education, know-how, leadership and dedication.

Right now, we should be hopeful that only the best candidates decide to run. Right now we should study them as they pass — ask them key questions and then ask them some more. Make them show they are qualified — or forget them, find someone else.

Government on all levels should be the very best.

Our votes should go to candidates who we know will serve well and offer much — rather than those who happen to be good friends or able to do you a good turn.

Welcome candidates into the field of competitors — encourage them to get out and spread their gospel of what they stand for — yes — treat the candidates with respect and gratefulness — for they are offering to be your public servant. Whether they win or lose, they deserve thanks for offering — at least.

From now on thru the primary and the general elections — you can bet you'll be next to a candidate for some office — just about any time you turn around. Don't run — stand there and welcome him (or her) into public life — but make the candidate work for his vote — make him talk and discuss and educate and expound. If he can't — then find yourself another candidate... even if you have to file — yourself.

Boys Club In Stamp Drive

The Henderson Boys Club collected approximately 24 books of trading stamps from the Valley View and Carver Park areas on June 11, in the initial week of their drive to obtain the 500 books needed to purchase new equipment for the club. The boys received about nine of the books from receptacles in various merchant's establishments.

On June 18 collections will be made in Manganese Park, Trailer Haven, Victory Village and the area near the hospital. Any amount, large or small, of trading stamps will be welcomed by the boys.

Boys who participate in stamp collecting will go on a three-day camp session in Cedar Mountains in Utah. This outing will be provided by the Clark County Boy's Club in North Las Vegas. There is room for six other boys to go on this outing; to be eligible they must help to collect stamps. Any boys interested are asked to appear at the Henderson Boys Club on Saturday, June 18, at 1 p.m. The camp session is free, including transportation.

VAN VALEY'S NOW AT NEW LOCATION

Van Valey's Shoes and Menswear, one of Henderson's oldest business establishments on Market street, announces they are now open at their new location, 117 Water Street, with a grand opening set for the near future. Hours at the new store will be 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily through Saturday.

Van Valey came into the business picture of Henderson some 17 years ago, when he began operating the shop on Market street. At that time, the old Henderson Department store space was broken up to allow small businesses to gain a foothold. Up to then, the department store was in reality a 'general store' where the Townsite residents could buy anything and just about everything.

In celebration of the grand opening a men's wardrobe and a ladies shoe wardrobe, also a Valentine Shoe and Bag set will be given away on a drawing, date to be announced.

The new store will be operated by Bob Morris, as manager, while Karl Leavitt, Janine Meadows, Mike Stearman, Bob Hune and James Tennant will cater to your every need in the sales department.

THANK YOU CAL-PAC

A power outage on press-day could be serious for us here at the HOME NEWS. The presses suddenly ceased functioning and the lights went out yesterday around noon. A scant 15 minutes later, with the efficient service of Cal-Pac in an emergency the power was on again.

We learned later that lightning had struck a power pole near the Polar Queen and broke the insulators, also struck a pole near the old Vegas Village store, and further trouble was found in the vicinity of Black Mountain.

However, the trouble was declared to be minor by Ron Langford, division manager, and all in a day's work.

Trophies and ribbons will be awarded.

Safety in the handling of rifles will be taught by Sherman the first half-hour of every shoot. Ron Hubel, recreation director, announced.

The rules and regulations to be observed at all shoots are as follows:

1. When you ENTER shooting grounds rifles must be placed on rail.
 2. No pointing guns in the direction of any person.
 3. No shooting at anything but paper targets.
 4. No shooting in city.
 5. No weapon in hand unless on the firing line.
- Any violations of the foregoing rules and regulations will result in suspension from the club.

Following a family tradition, the baby was named Andy Ruckman III, and was born on his father's birthday. Ruckman was former editor of the Boulder City News where his wife also worked. Woodruffs have one other grandson, the son of their daughter Anne.

County Continues Study Of Air Pollution Here

The county air pollution control officer, Dr. V. H. Ueckert, said yesterday that the county is continuing its investigation into the recent leaf-dropping incident in Henderson.

Citizens here became alarmed when large numbers of trees within the Townsite area of the city, dropped their leaves although they were still green. It was discovered that the leaves had received an over-dose of chlorine, but they are now budding out again and are probably not hurt.

A more complete report on the continuing air pollution monitoring being conducted by the county, will be printed by this newspaper next Thursday.

A report from the industrial plants in this area on their activities during the week of the leaf-dropping incident is expected by the county tomorrow.

Ueckert said that leaves in the Las Vegas valley have been collected including in the Pittman area, and are now in Riverside at the University of California research center, where they are being analyzed. It will be determined what a contents of chlorine and other chemicals a normal tree of this area has, and a vegetative monitoring of the air can also be made.

TOWNSITE TALES

GROWING — Dick Pryor, president of the Chamber of Commerce, gave encouraging figures at the last meeting of the group to show that Henderson's sagging population figures are at last beginning to climb. He estimated that at least 50 new families have moved into the city, and said that based on this, it is estimated that there are 17,032 citizens here.

LAKE MEAD GATEWAY—Charles Richey, superintendent of the Lake Mead National Recreation Area, came in for some good natured ribbing from State Highway Engineer Jack Parvin, when he criticized the approach to Lake Mead from Henderson.

Richey called on all of the citizens, and the city, to do something about the approach which he said is littered with trash and does not make an attractive entrance.

Parvin reminded Richey that the State Highway Department had recently completed a four-lane highway to within miles of the Park boundary, and said that most of the approach is within the park itself.

Someone from the audience wanted to know if the city and the highway completed the four-lane free-way to the park boundary if the Park Service would complete the attractive freeway around the rest of the drive.

Richey hastened to inform the group that the Park already has a beautiful highway there.

After leaving the city, if you have ever taken a good look at the countryside as an entrance to the lake, it does leave something to be desired. First you pass the city dump which somewhat dims the beauty of the mountains at the north of it. Then you come onto the picked-over remains of Manganese, Inc. If the operation at Manganese had remained intact it probably would have maintained a soft spot in everyone's heart as shades of the past in mining in Henderson, but with what is left, it makes a gigantic eyesore.

This, of course, is not the responsibility of the city, state park service or the people of Henderson. The only eyesore we share with others who travel this highway is the litter along the roadway.

However, since our city is the gateway, we should take pride and perhaps even have a planted center area of the highway similar to that of the Pittman entrance.

Art Espinoza Files For State Assembly Seat

Art Espinoza, one of this city's pioneer residents, this week filed for one of the two seats allocated from this area in the assembly branch of the state legislature. The assemblyman who has filled the seat until now is Jim Gibson. Gibson has indicated he will file for the state senate seat allocated to this area under the reapportionment.

In filing, Espinoza told the Home News that his reason for running was that "I would like to follow up with the good work that has been accomplished by our previous assemblymen from Henderson". Espinoza has served the community officially as a planning commissioner for four years, as a director of the Valley Water District for six years, and currently as chairman of the Clark County Housing Authority, and as a member of the county grand jury.

He has lived in this city 23 years during which time he operated the Ideal Appliance store for eight years, then became sole owner of Security Mortgage and Security Realty which has sold in excess of three million dollars in local properties.

Espinoza is also a director of the Bank of Las Vegas, Henderson Branch.

DR. WHITE POINTS WITH PRIDE TO ACCOMPLISHMENTS 1ST TERM

Dr. Juanita Greer White of Boulder City who has filed for re-election to the Board of Regents of the University of Nevada, campaigned in 1962 on the platform that Nevada Southern should be developed into a full four-year, degree granting college, basing her proposal on the existence of a fully qualified faculty with far better credentials than the average and a large and rapidly expanding student body. Before and after her election she pursued this goal vigorously and her objective became a reality in 1963 with the first degrees being granted in June 1964.

BLM Auctions 160 Acres Near Elko.

One-hundred and sixty acres in Elko County 17 miles south of Elko, Nevada will be offered for sale at public auction, 1:30 p.m., June 23, in the Bureau of Land Management's Reno office.

BLM is selling the tract, isolated by private lands, because it is more suited to private use. The land is situated on a level bench at 6,000 feet. A gravelled county road, two miles from a paved highway is located within 50 feet of the tract. Some portions of the tract are suitable for cropland although the availability of the ground water is questionable. The minimum acceptable bid will be $1920.00 plus $67.15 publication cost.

Sealed bids may be mailed to BLM before the oral auction. The bid and cost of publication must be a guaranteed remittance (cashier's check, money order, etc.) for the full amount made payable to the Bureau of Land Management. They need not be separate remittances, but for the bid to be acceptable, one must distinguish between the amount being bid and the publication cost.

The land should be identified on the envelope as follows: "Public Sale Bid, Parcel 1, June 23, 160 acres."

Clark County United Fund New Appointees

Paul Titus, General manager of R. C. Hamm & Associates, was today appointed as a Section Chairman handling direct mail for the forthcoming fall campaign of the United Fund of Clark County, William V. Wright, chairman of the United Fund Public Relations Committee, announced. Another appointment made was that of Jules Mayhew, as a member of the Public Relations Committee. Mayhew will be a consultant to all of the committees, assisting in creating and designing of campaign materials. Active in local advertising and printing educational and personnel policies. She has maintained a continuing interest in curriculum development for Nevada Southern as well as the University at Reno and gave full support to the establishment of a program of four proposals for Master's level curricula at Nevada Southern University which was elevated to university status during her tenure. She has responded to all scheduled and emergency meetings requiring her presence on behalf of the two divisions of the University of Nevada and has worked assiduously for the improvement of curricula available to Nevada teachers.

In January 1965, Governor Grant Sawyer appointed Dr. White to membership in the Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education, and reappointed her as a full term commissioner in 1966. Dr. White became a member of the executive committee of WICHE in August, 1965 and was delegated an observer to represent the State of Nevada at the meeting of the states belonging to the National Compact for Education meeting in Chicago this week.

She is a former educator and department chairman who moved to Nevada 11 years ago. She is listed in American Men of Science, Who's Who of American Women, and is appearing in forthcoming volumes of Who's Who in the West and The International Dictionary of Biography. She is immediate past president of the Nevada State Division of AAUW, and is a member of the Nevada Education Commission, the Nevada Governor's Commission on Status of Women, the Board of Directors of the Nevada TB and Health Association, the Clark County Advisory Board to the Youth Opportunity Center, among other interests.

In 1964 Dr. White was honored with International Honorary Membership in Beta Sigma Phi in recognition of her contributions to education and in particular to education for women, and she has been invited to become Honorary Member of Delta Kappa Gamma. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and of Sigma Xi, honor societies, and is at present serving on the Awards Committee for International Fellowships, AAUW Educational Foundation, which awards about 40 grants per year averaging $4,000 per grant.

Dr. White says she is very proud of the tremendous development of the two campuses of the university since she has been a member of the Board of Regents and to have been a part of this program. She believes that they are merely a foretaste of what will come if we continue to provide stimulating and imaginative leadership in higher education.

The economy of the country and the financial condition of the various governments would be in immensely better condition if there weren't so many people living who can't afford to do so.

circles since 1962, Mayhew is director of Art and Production for Kovell, Inc. Advertising Agency, and owner of A & P-Las Vegas, Graphic Arts Agency.

Romney, mentioned as a possible 1968 presidential hopeful, lauded a new concept which will be used for the Laxalt fund-raising event.

"A morning breakfast which all citizens can afford is a refreshing approach," Romney said in accepting Laxalt's invitation.

Erwin D. Canham Elected New Christian Science Head

Erwin D. Canham became the new president of the Christian Science Church on June 6, as members from around the world convened in Boston, Mass., for their Centennial-Year annual meeting.

Simultaneously, construction workers one block away were beginning land clearance for the religion's dramatic new expansion of its headquarters area, known as The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

These were the climactic events in this year's observance of the 100th anniversary of the beginning of Christian Science under the leadership of Mary Baker Eddy in 1866.

To the annual meeting, it brought the biggest attendance in the church's history, flowing over into the adjacent Civic Auditorium and a nearby theater, where the proceedings were carried on closed-circuit television. An estimated 15,000 people were on hand.

Canham is a well-known journalist and editor-in-chief of The Christian Science Monitor. He will serve as president for one year, while continuing his Monitor duties. He came to the meeting directly from a major world speaking tour, which he will resume next September in Europe.

Several new steps to improve the church organization and prepare it for "the challenges which lie ahead" were noted by the directors. Two of the most important innovations mentioned were a new international department and a new youth division for better coordination of the church's growing operations in these areas. Similar changes have already added four stories to the proposed height of the new church administration building announced last year as part of the expanded 15-acre "church center" now under construction.

Other events included the publication of a 100-year report, titled, "A Century of Christian Science Healing"; and a recent ceremony at the Smithsonian Institution accepting a privately-donated marble bust of Mary Baker Eddy into the National Portrait Gallery.

APRIL 1966 COLORADO BUREAU FORECAST CLIMBS SLIGHTLY

The Bureau of Reclamation's forecast for runoff from the Colorado River watershed April through July increased slightly during May but is still less than half of the long-time average for this period. Regional Director A. B. West of Region 3 announced today.

A forecast of 3.9 million acre-feet of runoff for April through July based on June 1 water supply over the watershed is 4.6 million acre-feet below the long-time average and 7.9 million acre-feet below last year's bumper water yield. The June 1 forecast is 400,000 acre-feet higher than that of May 1.

The record low runoff for this period was 2.2 million acre-feet in 1934 or 1.7 million acre-feet below this year's June 1 forecast, and 6.3 million acre-feet below the long time average.

Based on the June 1 forecast, a runoff of 8.7 million acre-feet for the water year ending next September 30 is indicated. This would amount to about two-thirds the long-time average water year runoff of 12,400,000 acre-feet.

The below-average runoff this year, however, augmented by last year's water yield from the watershed, will assure maintenance of all major Bureau of Reclamation reservoirs on the Colorado River system at operational levels, Director West said.

Reservoirs on the Colorado River system at present have a combined storage of 30.7 million acre-feet, 82 percent of which is held in the stream's largest lakes — Mead, behind Hoover Dam, and Powell, back of Glen Canyon Dam.

Lake Mead is at elevation 1133 feet above mean sea level or 10 feet above its rated operating head. The reservoir contains 15.6 million acre-feet of water or 57 percent of its capacity. The reservoir will be held at or above its rated operating head.

Lake Powell, filling since 1963, is at elevation 3545 feet above mean sea level and contains 9.5 million acre-feet of storage.

Lake Mead and Lake Powell are 23 feet and 53 feet higher, respectively than at this time last year.

Seek Non-Government Rural Electric Money

Senator Howard W. Cannon of Nevada has co-sponsored legislation that would bring non-government money to the rural electrification program for the first time.

The bill (S. 3337) would create a bank for the nearly 1,000 rural electric systems across the nation, with money being supplied jointly by the Federal Government, rural electric systems, and private investors. As the bank grows in maturity, Government stock would become completely repaid, and ownership and control turned over to the rural electric systems.

The proposed legislation would not, however, affect the present Rural Electrification Administration low-cost loan program, but merely supplement it. Rural electric systems unable to pay the higher interest rates of the bank would remain eligible for the conventional REA loans, according to the proposal.

Two interest rates are being considered for the bank. The first would reflect the cost of money to the Government, while the second would be a rate related to the open money market. The REA administrator would determine which rural electric systems are eligible to borrow from the bank, and the appropriate interest rate.

The proposed bank would assure the rural electric systems an adequate source of growth capital and, at the same time, eventual independence from total reliance on the Federal Government. Approximately 20 million Americans are served by these systems.

'Head Start' Program Grant

A $103,000 grant to Clark County to finance an eight-week summer Head Start Program was announced today by Senators Alan Bible and Howard Cannon.

The Nevada Senators said the Economic Opportunity Act funds would provide preschool training for 350 disadvantaged children who will be entering regular school in the fall.

Bible and Cannon said the Clark County School District and the Economic Opportunity Board of Clark County will use the services of 36 professional and 44 non-professional employees who are volunteers from the target area to be served.

Each child will receive full medical and dental examinations and any required treatment, the senators said. Nutritional, educational and social services as well as special sessions for parent education will also be provided.

Due to limited funds for the Clark County School District, local students in grades 7 through 12, will "hoof it" up to four miles instead of the previous two, according to a release by Loyal W. Burkholder, director of the area zone schools, to parents and students of the Henderson attendance area.

The walking distance for elementary grades, 1 through 6 will remain at the presently established two-mile limit. The increased walking distance means:

- That school bus transportation will not be available to students in grades 7 through 12, who live within four miles of the school of assignment.
- That school bus transportation will not be provided to students in elementary grades 1-6, who reside within two miles of their school of assignment.
- That kindergarten children may continue to ride a school bus under the same regulations that apply to grades 1-6 provided seating on the bus is available.

In the Henderson attendance area school bus transportation will be provided only to students residing in East Las Vegas who attend Henderson Junior High School or Basic High School; students residing in Pittman, grades K-6, will be transported to Valley View School; and special education students will be transported to Henderson Junior High School campus.

RENTAL ON SWIM CAPS RAISED

Rental on bathing caps at the city pool will rise to 20 cents starting Monday, according to Alex Callahan, city recreation director.

Callahan said that bathing caps are required in any public pool by law, and they have been provided by the recreation department for ten cents. However, he said that at least two a day are taken home by young women, and it is becoming an expense to the city to replace them.

The rental set at 20 cents is the initial cost, when the hat is turned back in at the ticket window, ten cents of that cost will be returned to the person returning the cap.

TEE TALK

With

VIVIAN PHILLIPS

We are proud of those who played on the Black Mountain team in the Lucky Cup tournament last week end and won third place for the club. They were: Gene Clark, John Fry, Ralph Carlson, Jack Shankland, Bill Phillips, Chris Torres, Bob Taylor, H. T. Greenhaw, Al Wengert, and O. L. Raney. If the trophy could have been given for Sunday play, Black Mountain would have won, but the team got a slow start on Saturday. Prizes were given on low net scoring as well as high point scoring. Points were given as follows: 1 for a bogey, 2 for a par, 3 for a birdie, 4 for an eagle, and 5 for a double eagle. Since point scoring was new to many of the players, it was a little confusing. Thank goodness Gene Clark is an honorable man and trusted because he had to figure the scores.

Black Mountain two-man teams in the winning circle were Bob Taylor and Chris Torres for the high net points; Gene Clark and H. T. Greenhaw for high gross points. H. T. Greenhaw shot a 66 on Sunday with 8 birdies. The course record is Bill Lauer's 65.

It is the last tournament Gene Clark will be here to run. He did an excellent job and we hate to have him leave us.

The Lucky Cup tournament is sponsored by the General Brewing Company, makers of Lucky Lager and Lucky Draft beer, and the Eldorado Club. It will be a yearly event, so next year Black Mountain plans to win the revolving trophy from the Dunes, this year's winner.

Thirty-six golf balls were given by the Ladies' Association to successful players who gambled 50 cents on themselves to place their tee shots within a circle drawn around the flags on holes 3 and 15.

Laura Carrado and Elaine Raney, the new Ways and Means chairmen for the La-

Association, did an excellent job of setting up refreshment stands on No. 8 and No. 14 tees.

Black Mountain winners on National Golf Day, May 30, were Helen Bowser, Don Smith, and Bill Phillips. They will receive a certificate from PGA. You will recall, Dave Marr and Gary Player played a match and golfers all over the country could play against the winner of that match by paying a $1 entry fee and posting their scores. Winners had to beat Dave Marr's 70. The $1 entry fee goes to golf charities.

Tom Steele has returned from Pakistan a better golfer than before. Not only because of the golf he played while in Lahore, but because he belongs to Black Mountain Country Club.

On a day off, he went to a private country club in Lahore and informed them that he was a member of Black Mountain Country Club. They graciously invited him to play the 18-hole, flat course with dome shaped greens.

He hired a caddy and some clubs, which happened to be Patty Bergs, and started off. When he looked up after teeing off on No. 1, he saw a boy running around some 200 (or maybe 300) yards down the fairway. He was puzzled—uncaddy, 10 cents for the forecaddy as well as a caddy. His costs were 20 cents for the forecaddy, and $1 for the green fee.

Tom touched the world of the pros, so watch out!

Dove season is not yet open, but Dan Furse got himself one anyway. A few days ago on No. 4, his second shot hit a dove in mid-air and killed it.

Dolores Zenoff is looking for an avid golfer of medium power who has a bad slice. Golf balls recently have been landing in the dog run on the "17th tee" side of her house. Apparently they don't hurt Joe and Dali, but they love to eat them and then won't eat their dog food. Since Dolores is concerned about the lack of vitamins in "golf ball crunchies", will the guilty golfer please move his right hand further over the top of his club, and take the short cut down No. 17.

Ross and Velma Cooke solved a disturbing mystery last week. The Cookes recently moved to Black Mountain Estates and haven't had time to learn much about the game of golf. Each morning they have watched golfers putt No. 15 green, and it has appeared the hole was in a different place. But a hole can't move around. Velma, not wanting to concern Ross about a possible unstable mental condition, didn't say anything.

Ross, not wanting to admit to hallucinations, didn't say anything either.

One evening, while relaxing with golfing neighbors, they discovered, with relief, that with proper equipment a hole can move around, and that it is part of the game that the hole be moved often to different positions on the green.

The recipes sound exciting for the Inau Saturday night. Remember it is free for all club members. There will also be dancing.

American Potash Announces Prices to Rise Next Month

American Potash & Chemical Corporation, the world's second largest producer of boron compounds, announced today that, effective July 1, it will raise the price of various of its borax products and increase the present differentials for bagged material over bulk. This will be the first increase in borax pricing since July 1, 1959 and has been necessitated by increased labor and fuel costs in the intervening years.

Decahydrate borax, formerly sold at $43.50 per ton in bulk, will be raised by $3.25 per ton to $46.75. Refined pentahydrate borax, formerly sold for $58.00 per ton in bulk, will be raised by $4.25 to $62.25 per ton. Dehydrated borax, formerly sold for $83.00 per ton in bulk, will be raised $5.00 to $88.00 per ton. Standard bagging differentials were increased by amounts ranging from $0.50 per ton to $1.00 per ton and surcharge of $2.00 per ton for special screen cuts was instituted. There will be no change in the price of bor-

A reception was held in the evening at the LDS Ocean Street Church in Henderson, and the chapel decorations were by Mrs. Elvis Gill, Anna Lee Smith, and Judy Gill. Organist was Hugh Robinson, and soloist was Hugh Robertson. Wayne Robertson was master of ceremonies.

Presiding at the serving table were Mrs. John Duffin, Mrs. Larkin Smith, Mrs. Garold Charles, and Miss Carol Harper. Mona Rae Hall and Shirley Crooms were at the guest book. A. L. Higginbotham Granted Emeritus Status at U of Nev.

Emeritus status was granted to seven faculty members at the University of Nevada at commencement exercises in Reno, Saturday, June 11.

As approved by the board of regents, Dr. Meryl Deming, professor of chemistry; John T. Ryan, shop superintendent in the engineering department; Otto R. Schuiz, extension agronomist; Joana Gotardi, professor of foreign languages; Dr. Reynold Clayton Mason, distinguished visiting professor in chemistry; Neilon Hickman, associate professor of music; and Professor A. L. Higginbotham, chairman of the journalism department, will be listed as emeritus faculty.

Professor A. L. Higginbotham has been a faculty member at the U. of N. e v a d a for more than 43 years.

He has been chairman of the journalism department for 20 years and in charge of journalism education at Nevada for 15 years before that.

In the summer of 1965, the regents of the university named the department of journalism the Alred L. Higginbotham Department of Journalism.

He is the founder and charter secretary of the American Society of Journalism School Administrators, largest organization of journalism schools in the country.

Higginbotham has been vice president and president of Kappa Tau Alpha, national society honoring scholarship in journalism and member of the national council of Kappa Tau Alpha for 30 years.

He was national vice president for campus affairs for Sigma Delta Chi, national society of journalists, for two terms. During this time, he helped install about ten campus and professional chapters of Sigma Delta Chi.

Forty years ago, he assisted in the founding of the Nevada State Press Association, statewide organization of newspapers, and was the first elected president of NSPA, one of the few educators ever to be elected head of a state press association in the United States.

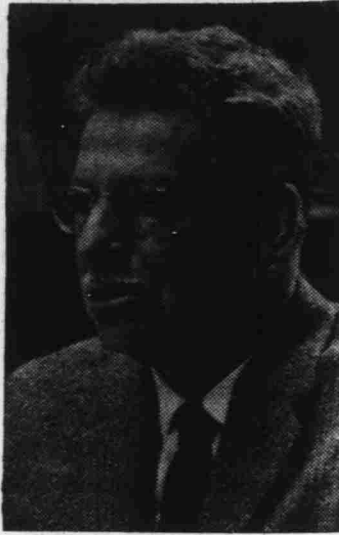

Higginbotham is the author

BASQUES, BORAX AND BOTANY GIVE SPARKLE TO NEV. BOOK

Basques, borax and the state's botanist figure in the latest issue of Nevada Magazine.

Lead article in the issue is a paced and humorous story of a group of Basque sheepherders turned cowboys. The story was written by Mory Magee who lives on a ranch in central Nevada, and is accompanied by a series of colorful illustrations by Craig Sheppard, prominent Reno artist and head of the art department at the university.

Borax, the mineral that captured the nation's imagination a century ago, is the subject of a definitive article by Lilian N. Minnis of Reno. Mrs. Minnis examines the history of borax, tracing its beginnings from the marshes of central Nevada through the 20-mule team era in Death Valley. Color photos with the story were taken by the prominent West-coast photographer David Muench.

Hero of another article is the state's first botanist, Dr. Charles L. Anderson who arrived in Carson City in 1862

—two years before Nevada achieved statehood. Dr. Anderson, a proper and conservative city man, was often shocked by the unrestrained way of life in the raw, young town and described his misgivings in a series of letters written to the wife he left behind. These letters, recently unearthed by Olga Neumann, vividly reflect the excitement and action of early Nevada.

Among other articles in this issue of the magazine are features on the Geriaca area and a movie-making project in Las Vegas called "The Professionals." The film was made in the Valley of Fire State Park.

The publication will be released next week throughout the nation.

It is wondered who is frightened more by increasing talk of raising taxes — the Democrat congressman who will run for reelection this year, or Old Gus Taxpayer.

U. N. Regent in Chicago

Dr. Juanita White has been in Chicago to represent Nevada at the meeting of the states participating in the National Compact for Education. Thirty-three of the 50 states have joined the Compact either by legislative action or by decree of the Governor and Administration. The State of Nevada has not yet declared in favor of membership in the National Compact but has sent representatives to each of the conferences held so far.

Nevada joined the Compact of the Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education in 1959, by legislative action and now have students attending the medical, dental and veterinary medical schools of other compacting states in WICHE where they enjoy the status of "residents" and pay in-state tuition only. The State of Nevada provides the basic subsidy.

REALISTIC LAND POLICIES FAVORED BY SEN. BIBLE

Senator Alan Bible, in a speech prepared for the Mountain States Chambers of Commerce banquet on Monday, June 6, declared he would oppose transferring all federal public domain lands to state governments.

The Senator, a member of the U.S. Public Land Law Review Commission, said a few of his past statements had been interpreted by some to mean he supported relinquishing federal lands to the states. "Even if the states wanted all this vast acreage —which I don't think they do—such a terrific title transfer would not be feasible," Bible said.

He stressed that it was equally shortsighted to continue policies that tie up federal lands to the extent that they curtail Western expansion. "All levels of government together with agriculture, business and industry must have reasonable access to public lands," he said.

Bible predicted the work of the review commission, which is intended to result in a major overhaul of federal land laws and policies, will become a prime factor in the growth of Western states in general and the mountain states in particular.

In addition to more realistic multiple-use policies, Bible said he would push for laws designed to provide adequate land for community growth and to ease the local tax pinch created by acreage that remains in federal ownership.

"I remember the dear, dead days of the early 1900's," said Old Sorehead, "when the world wasn't even half nuts."

LaMar LeFevre Appointed Nevada Education Coordinator

Byron F. Stetler, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, announces that LaMar LeFevre has been appointed Nevada coordinator for an Eight States Project. This "Designing Education for the Future" is financed by funds provided under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (Title V, Section 205, P. L. 89-10). Arizona, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming are the eight states that are participating in and conducting this study, which was initiated because the state superintendents and other nationally prominent educators believed that many of the problems confronting education in these states were common to each. It was further believed that many of these perplexing problems could be solved by intensive study, wide-spread discussion and careful consideration. The project is under the direct administration of the "Policy Board" which consists of the eight chief state school officers. The central office for the project is located in Denver in an office supplied by the Colorado State Department of Education. The central staff consists of the project director, Dr. Edgar A. Morphet; the associate director, Dr. Charles O. Ryan, clerical help and such other assistants as may be necessary.

There has been appointed in each state a coordinator who works directly under the state superintendent and in cooperation with the personnel in the central office. LeFevre will collaborate with State Department of Education staff members, University of Nevada personnel, county school district trustees and administrators, lay individuals and groups. It is his responsibility to prepare an historical document which will indicate the major educational changes that have occurred in Nevada and also give in detail the different educational programs presently in operation in Nevada school districts. He will have appointed a state advisory committee which will consider and evaluate findings and other documentation that may come from a study of the educational programs in the state and make recommendations for the implementation of such changes as may be considered advisable and in the best interests of the children of the state.

The coordinator will organize, direct and/or initiate research into any areas relating to educational programs that demand such study. He will secure from other state agencies, universities, industrial, manufacturing and agricultural groups pertinent information on present and future trends and projects that have implications for education in the state. He will arrange for conferences, where people will become involved in discussions that will relate to the development of proposals for effective changes for the improvement of educational programs of the future.

He will devise such reports and such procedures upon which such group evaluations may be made and will use many types of media in presenting his findings. The coordinator's activities will be statewide in scope and will be concerned with education problems in any or all of the county school districts.

In order to accept this position LeFevre resigned as principal of the Elementary School in Hawthorne which position he has held for 10 years. For the past three years he has served as president of the Nevada Congress of Parents and Teachers. He earned his B.S. degree at the Utah State University in 1950 and his M.S. degree in the University of Nevada in 1958.

LeFevre is married to Ethel Clarke and they are the parents of four children, Lynn, 20, serving in the U.S. Air

Highway Beautification

Encouraged by active White House interest, the public is showing a rising interest in preserving and enhancing our country's beauty.

A constructive step in the movement to protect the nation's natural beauty was the passing in 1965 of the Highway Beautification Act. This act provides measures for control of billboards and junkyards and for scenic enhancement of federal-aid highways. The legislation provides for improving the appearances of the highways themselves and the view from these highways.

If this program is to be a real success we must have the combined efforts of many people engaged in imaginative action.

Highway engineers have long been concerned with highway beauty, along with safety and utility.

In Nevada several projects are under way as the beginning of a long-range program to beautify the roads and surroundings.

On Interstate 80 from a few miles east of the California line to a few miles west of the Churchill-Pershing line three safety rest areas and two scenic viewpoints will be constructed. Other rest areas will follow later.

In Reno, East Plumb Lane median strips will be landscaped, with work to start this spring.

In Ormsby County landscaping is planned on U.S. 50 from Rook Street in Carson City to 1 mile west of the Lyon County line.

In Las Vegas, Sahara Avenue landscaping was advertised in June.

A roadside development is planned north of Hawthorne. A Desert Research Institute study in which literature on state plant life has been compiled is being published by the Highway Department. An inventory of the state's junkyards and billboards has been completed.

Under the scenic enhancement program the Highway Department has programmed preliminary right-of-way work for acquisition of a parcel of property at Lake Tahoe south of Cave Rock, and for five parcels on Interstate 80 between the state line and Hanson Road Interchange.

Preliminary engineering has been programmed for design of landscaping along Stewart Street in Carson City from the junction with U.S. 395 to the north edge of the highway property at headquarters.

Also planned along the entire Nevada lengths of both Interstate routes is a project for reshaping and cleanup of borrow pits near highways. In this work some planting will be done on Interstate 80, but no planting is planned in the southern route because of scarcity of water.

In other states highway engineers are endeavoring to conserve beauty on the roadways. In Nebraska, another chain of lakes is being developed along Interstate 80. A 14-year-old boy in New Mexico began work this year on a project to develop a new way of beautifying junkyards. His father operates an auto salvage yard. The boy is experi-

New Report Describes Analysis Of Minerals By X-Ray

A report describing a rapid x-ray technique for analyzing quartz and other felsic minerals, has been published by the U.S. Geological Survey in cooperation with the Nevada Bureau of Mines, University of Nevada, according to Dr. Vernon E. Scheid, director of the Nevada mineral agency.

The report is based on studies of felsic rock powders submitted to calibration tests under different X-ray intensities. Determination of mineral content is made by comparing relationships of diffraction, absorption, and fluorescence with a little care, shield the yard from public view.

The studies were made by D. B. Tatlock of the U.S. Geological Survey as part of a program supported cooperatively by the Nevada Bureau of Mines. The program, established in 1961 by Dr. Scheid, is designed to provide information on the geology and the mineral resources of Nevada.

Entitled "Rapid Modal Analysis of Some Felsic Rocks From Calibrated X-ray Diffraction Patterns," the report (USGS Bulletin 1209), is available from the Geological Survey, Federal Center, Denver, Colo., or may be seen at the library of the Mackay School of Mines, University of Nevada, Reno.

NEW CHANGES IN SOCIAL SECURITY DISABILITY PAYMENTS

Important changes have been made in the social security disability program. Ed Cocks, Las Vegas Social Security district manager, announced today.

Under the old law, a person could receive disability benefits only if his impairment was expected to continue for a long and indefinite time—or in affect, was "permanent."

The 1965 Social Security Amendments, Cocks said, changed this. Now a person could have a period of disability established if he had an impairment severe enough to keep him from substantial work for at least 12 months. Payments could be made to such a person and his family, beginning with the seventh month of his disability, and would continue until he was able to return to work.

Cocks pointed out that the change is only in the length of time a person is expected to be disabled. There has been no change in the severity of the impairment necessary to be considered disabling. Under the new law, as under the old, a person is considered disabled only if medical evidence can show that his condition would prevent him from doing any substantial work for which he may be qualified by age, experience, or education.

This is an important change, Cocks said, since it affects many people who could not have qualified under the old law. People who have previously filed claims for benefits and were denied because their impairments were not permanent may now be eligible for benefits under the new law.

A further change provides that people who are receiving retirement or survivors benefits could later receive a disability benefit (while under age 65) if they are qualified. This was not possible under the old law.

If anyone has further questions, Cocks stated, they should contact the Social Security representative at the City Hall Council Chambers in Boulder City between 9:30 a.m. and 10 a.m., Wednesday, June 15, and at the Henderson Council Chambers between 1 and 1:30 p.m., Wednesday, June 15.

Dickerson Files For Re-election

Harvey Dickerson, Attorney General of Nevada, recently filed his Declaration of Candidacy for re-election to that position with secretary of State John Koontz.

Dickerson pointed out that during his term of office he had drafted and proposed to the Legislature an act to protect those who reveal child beating cases, a full disclosure act on conditional sales contracts, an act to prevent false advertising, a fraudulent land sales prevention act, the organization of a criminal identification and investigative bureau in the Attorney General's Office, and a police standard and training act.

David Legler Given Eagle Scout Award

David Legler was honored at a ceremony May 24, in which he received his Eagle badge of achievement. To earn this award a scout must have earned a minimum of 21 merit badges since becoming a first class scout.

Eagle scouts participating in the ceremony were Jim Wagner, Martin Wagner, Tim Howard, Hamilton Moore, Dennis and Michael Stewart. Representing the sponsoring institution, Grace Community Church, Robert Austin presided.

Henry Curtis, member of the board of directors of Boulder Dam Area Council of Boy Scouts of America, was chairman of the Eagle Court of honor.

Mayor Bob Hampton, district chairman of Lake Mead District of BSA, was guest speaker, and made the Eagle presentation.

An impressive candlelighting ceremony included the Eagle Scout candidate David Legler, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Legler, scoutmasters, troop committeemen, and merit badge counselors.

Presentments were served to participants and friends following the adjournment of the Honor Court of honor.

Other awards were merit badges for seamanship, rowing and motorboating, to Dennis and Michael Stewart, and David Legler. To Legler also went a Bronze Health badge. Recipients of the Tenderfoot badge were Tony Durrer, Gary Gear and David Wentebarger. Tenderfoot is the first rank on the road toward being an Eagle Scout.

The Attorney General has served in that capacity since January 1963, and was formerly Attorney General from 1954 through 1958. The growth of the state is reflected in the growth of his office staff from four deputies in 1954 to 20 at the present time, four located in Reno and four in Las Vegas.

"If re-elected," Dickerson said, "I will continue to faithfully, conscientiously and courageously serve the people of Nevada with fairness and impartiality and without submission to political or private pressure. I sincerely believe the people of Nevada have faith in my integrity and in my ability."

Dickerson was born in Ely, Nevada, attended the public schools in Carson City, and the University of Nevada at Reno. He secured his law degree in Washington, D.C. while serving as an administrative assistant to Senator Pat McCarran.

Willow Beach Fish Hatchery Has New Mgr.

Oliver B. Hawkins has been selected as the new Hatchery manager for the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife's Willow Beach National Fish Hatchery, it was announced today by regional Director John C. Gatun of the Department of the Interior Wildlife Agency.

A native of Nebraska, the 56-year old Hawkins comes to Willow Beach from the position of Assistant regional Supervisor of Fish Hatcheries in the Minneapolis regional Office of the Bureau.

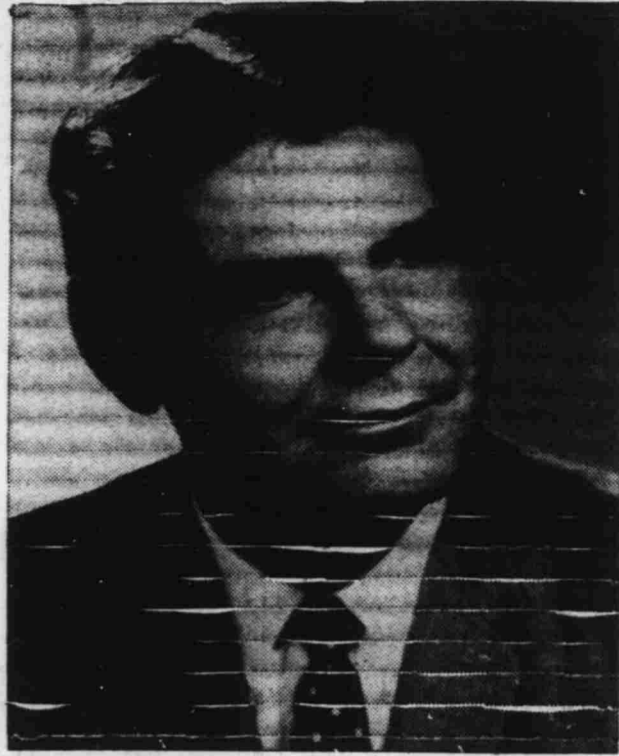

A veteran of 20 years' experience in the division of fish hatcheries, Hawkins began his career as a fish culturist in the Bureau's Crawford, Nebraska hatchery, and served in positions of increasing responsibility there and at Spearfish, South Dakota, before being promoted to the Minneapolis office in 1962.

As manager of the Willow Beach Hatchery, located on the Arizona bank of the Colorado River below Boulder City, he will be in charge of operations for one of the largest and most modern national fish hatcheries in the west.

Using outflow waters of Boulder Dam, the Willow Beach Hatchery produces more than 100 tons of stocking-sized rainbow trout each year. Its production is distributed primarily in the Colorado River, in accordance with plans worked out cooperatively with the states of Arizona, Nevada, and California.

Hawkins will take over his new duties tomorrow.

B. Mahlon Brown Files For Clark County Senator At Large

Clark County Senator B. Mahlon Brown, who has been the county's only representative in the upper house of the legislature since 1950, has filed as a candidate for the fifth four-year term. A Democrat, elected under the reapportionment Act to represent the county at large.

In the November election, seven other Senators will be elected in Clark County by districts. The office Brown seeks will be the only one in which all of Clark County will vote.

Senator Brown has long held top seniority in the upper house since 1955, having served for six regular sessions as Minority Leader when Republicans were in the majority. He became Majority Leader two years ago when, for the first time in three decades, Democrats took over the majority role.

Brown regards as his most difficult accomplishment as Clark County's only upper house representative, the legislation which created Nevada Southern University over strenuous northern opposition. During several legislative sessions, the late Assemblyman Maude Frazier was the sparkplug for NSU in the Assembly, and it became Brown's chore to persuade reluctant Senators that a University must be established in populous Clark County.

He has served on the Legislative Commission for fourteen years, and was chairman on two occasions.

A Las Vegas resident since childhood, Brown was graduated from Las Vegas High School and obtained pre-legal education at UCLA. He received his legal education at National University in Washington, D.C.

Prior to World War II, Brown served as Las Vegas Justice of the Peace. During the war years, he served in the Navy. After the end of hostilities, he returned to law practice in Las Vegas and successfully sought election to the State Senate in 1950, a post which he has held ever since.

Senator Brown and his wife, Lucille, are the parents of two sons, Mahlon III and Stephen. They also are the grandparents of a boy and a girl.

During the 1964 Presidential campaign, Senator Brown served as Nevada campaign coordinator for the Johnson-Humphrey ticket.

Howard Gloeckle, Las Vegas Elected Lt. Governor Zone 14, Optimist Clubs of America

Howard Gloeckle, an eight-year resident of Las Vegas, was elected Lt. Governor of Zone 14, Optimist Clubs of America, during the Zone's annual convention May 16-17 at Anaheim, Calif.

For two years Gloeckle has served as Lt. Governor's aide for Zone 14, and he is also a past president of the Thunderbird Optimist Club of Las Vegas, serving as chairman or co-chairman of numerous committees within the club. He has also been active in Junior Achievement sponsored by the local club. A member of Masonic Lodge 44, he also serves as operation officer of the search and rescue team of the Coast Guard Auxiliary.

The newly elected Lt. Governor resides at 1217 Wilshire, Las Vegas, with his wife, Claretta and children Leslie Ann and Thomas.

Letters To The Editor

The Hon. Senator Alan Bible, The Office Building of the Senate of the United States, Washington, D.C.
Dear Senator:

Our Boulder City News of today reports that you have joined in sponsorship the resolution to scrap the Electoral College system and joined others in providing the people of the United States with a direct VOTING SYSTEM for US President and Vice President.

Like many others here in our Nevada community I am greatly pleased and thankful that you have joined this long overdue progressive movement and sincerely hope that other voters and states will promptly join you in promptly weaning them from the present antiquated guardianship that ill becomes today our intigent citizenship.

Altho I have been a resident of Clark County, Nevada since 1938, and have voted republican since 1900 where ever I lived, I have always watched your able representation of our fine State of Nevada with approval and interest.

Sincerely,
(s) Adolf Edwin Place
Consulting Mining Engineer

Dear Morry:
As you know, it is with a great deal of reluctance that I accept your resignation as a member of the Nevada Girls Training Center Advisory Board. Your service on this important board has been invaluable and it would not be possible for me to truly express my appreciation.

The development of the Girls Training Center has been one of the most gratifying aspects of my administration. I know that your statement is correct and this center rates second to none in the Nation for the assistance given to individuals by helping to provide solutions to their problems that they may contently become a part of our society. My fondest hope is that your generous and intelligent efforts for the benefit of these girls may redound in every blessing to you and your family.

Your offer for possible future service as a member of another board is a splendid one and do not be surprised if you hear from me on this.

kindest personal regards,
Grant Sawyer
Governor

of 1964 was estimated at 20,000,000. The cripple loss averaged 26 percent of the bag. (Not very humane, is it?)

There were many more millions killed off wires with singshots, with BB guns, and by little men with small rifles as target shots, and never picked up. By men "who know not of nature's valleys, or the beauty of one wild rose."

Indeed, it is a sad state of affairs when man can only measure beauty down the barrel of a shotgun, or live through the sights of a high-powered rifle.

The questions are still asked, how long can "the flowers appear on the earth: the time of singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle (mourning dove) is heard in our land?" How long can our children know by sight "the wings of a dove covered with silver, its pinions of green gold?"

With 70 percent of all mourning doves killed off each year, the dove will soon join the long list of vanished life, and again man will find himself much poorer in living beauty. But the just to kill, the greed, the sneering of blood, the lack of pity and mercy, and the perversion in the thoughts of man must be satisfied. Thank you.

(s) Howard H. Caudle.

Dear Morry:

Just a note to express my admiration and congratulations on the recent Community Service Award presented to the Home News by the Nevada State Press Association.

The fact that this highest award was won by the Home News for the third consecutive year must be a source of well-deserved pride for you and your excellent staff.

I know you will maintain the Home News' reputation for excellence in the months and years ahead, and I look forward to extending my congratulations personally in the not-too-distant future.

With best wishes, I am
Sincerely,
Howard W. Cannon.

County Taxes Due & Payable

Clark County property taxes for the current fiscal year are now due and payable at the office of the County Treasurer in the County Courthouse, Treasurer Bill Galloway reminded yesterday.

He said the year's taxes may be paid all at once, or may be paid in four installments. The first quarterly installment will be delinquent after the first Monday in July, and two per cent penalty will be applied after that, which will increase if not paid by the first Monday in October.

Galloway urged that taxes be paid early to avoid standing in line at a later date.

"I strongly suggest that the taxpayers examine their tax bills carefully to see that there are no errors and that the bills cover all the property which they own, the Treasurer said.

He said persons having purchased property since last September may not receive a tax notice because the statements would be sent to the former owner. Those in this category should contact the Treasurer's office for information concerning such taxes, or obtain the tax bill from the former owner.

He said persons receiving a tax statement covering property which has been sold should return the tax notice to the Treasurer's office or forward it to the buyer.

LIFESAVERS NECESSARY

Having a lifesaving device for every person aboard a pleasure boat is required by law. Keeping them where they can be reached quickly in an emergency and knowing how to use them are required by common sense.

The Committee for National Safe Boating Week, July 3 through 9, urges all boatmen to make sure that their lifesaving devices are Coast Guard approved; all life vests, cushions and ring buoys are in good condition; stored where they can be reached if the need arises and every passenger is instructed in how to use them.

Does it really work?

Can reading speed REALLY be increased without sacrificing comprehension? We just let the facts speak for themselves: 50 perceptual reading students INCREASED THEIR SPEED from an average of 305 words a minute to 741 wpm.

Summer, 1961, Boulder City, speed reading students all improved comprehension — even at the new speed (in fact, many considered this to be the most important benefit gained). They read 15—20 books apiece. (One girl reported reading 100!)

WILL IT REALLY WORK FOR ME TOO?

Our Mississippi Friends...

Editor's Note: Marcella Freed, long-time Henderson resident, now residing at 320 8th St., Apt. 1, Columbus, Miss., was asked by this newspaper to keep us informed of people from Henderson who are living there. This is her report.

By MARCELLA FREED

Greetings from the friendly city of Columbus, Miss! If my news seems sketchy, it might be better if I give you a little information, as to just where we are located.

Columbus is a town of approximately 31,000 people. We are 125 miles from Birmingham, Ala., 250 mile from Memphis, Tenn., and 300 miles from New Orleans, La. Would you believe—we have three theaters? Or would you believe two theaters and one drive-in, and this is the extent of our entertainment.

The altitude is 211 feet above sea level, and the average rainfall annually is 51.75 inches. But in the two years I have been here it has done a real good job of doubling this.

The American Potash and Chemical Co. plant is located about 15 miles north, at Hamilton, Miss., and the men really have some bad storms to drive through at times, going or coming from work.

Now that you have a fair picture of where we are, I think you can see why my news items will be a little on the slim side.

Hope Henderson welcomed Mr. and Mrs. Dick Owens and family back. They are really missed here, but know they are happy to be home.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Gran and daughters are wending their way toward Henderson for a month's vacation. We here, wish them a pleasant trip and wish we could be with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Gran have just recently finished a beautiful new home, as have Mr. and Mrs. Carl Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Leavitt.

Mrs. Mel Gran and Mrs.

Carl Martin chaperoned a group of Girl Scouts to Jackson, Miss. last week, where they visited the capitol and other historical sites.

It was a real pleasure to have Mr. and Mrs. Rip Collins of Trona, California stop by and say "hi" on their busy vacation.

Mrs. Carl Martin entertained Mrs. Frank McLaughlin,

MARRIED IN UTAH — Barbara LeFevre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon LeFevre, 258 Navajo, is shown in her recent marriage to John Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Carter of St. Joseph, Utah. They were married in Monroe, Utah, and plan to attend school in Cedar City this fall.

Jaycees Hold Membership Meeting Wed.

The membership drive for the Junior Chamber of Commerce got off to a start last night at the regular meeting. Two teams of members will compete against each other in bringing in new members. The team that recruits the most members will be guests of honor of the losing team to a steak barbecue which will also host wives and girl friends.

Jerry Franklin is in charge of the membership drive.

The membership voted to change the meeting dates to every Wednesday night at 8 p.m., and a board of directors meeting will be held on the first and third Wednesdays of each month at 7 p.m.

Ron Martin, a former officer in the local chapter, has returned from Reno where he has been attending an appliance school.

If you would like to attend and join in Satan's Square Dance on June 25, go to Hell — to Hell, Michigan, that is.

Mrs. Pat Rooney, and Mrs. Pat Leer at bridge and luncheon last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Leavitt were very happy to have Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williamson of Henderson as house guests while they were vacationing in the Southland. They spent a fun-filled week-end in New Orleans where Mrs. Leavitt and Mrs. Williamson bowled as double partners in the national tournament. Upon return to Columbus, on the last evening of their stay there, the Leavitts served a beautiful buffet supper celebrating Mrs. Williamson's birthday. Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Martin, the Freed, and Max, Grans, Leers and Johnsons.

Don't get to see much of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Waldman, but understand they are real busy with their golfing.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolfe Chase are kept busy in Girl Scouting.

Now to tell you what the Freed are doing. We have just taken over as resident managers of the Outrigger apartments. There are 22 apartments and they filled with ground air force couples. They are great kids.

We want you to know we miss Henderson deeply, and I guess it will be home to us no matter how far we roam.

LOMPREYS RELEASED HOSPITAL

A two-train collision that occurred during the early hours of last Monday morning near Carroll, Iowa, resulted in the hospitalization of 22 persons. Among the injured were Ernest Lomprey and his wife, Margaret, of 601 Federal Street. The Lompreys were enroute to Manitowoc, Wisconsin when the accident occurred. Mrs. Lomprey was confined to the hospital until last Thursday; her husband was released after two days but he remained at her side until she was able to continue the journey to her parents' home in Manitowoc. Both were in a state of shock at the time of the accident, but Margaret suffered painful bruises and contusions, according to Cecile Becker, sister of Mr. Lomprey.

Mrs. Paul Marshall, chairman of the affair, said that children of these ages should be at the city park at 7 p.m. on June 25, and a drawing will be held to see who will rule over the celebration. Miss Liberty and Uncle Sam will also ride on the float in the parade, sponsored by the service club.

The children's parade, which has grown from year to year, will begin at 9 a.m. on Major street extension, and will proceed to the city park. The parade line-up begins at 8:30 a.m.

Mrs. Marshall said that there will be a freckle contest, and last year's winner will crown the new winner. There will be games, foot races, and prizes.
