Good Voter Turnout For Primary Election

Basic, With New Coach, Takes On B.C. In BIG Game Tomorrow

Morry's Story

by MORRY ZENOFF

The marvelous support given Mike O'Callaghan by this community in the election Tuesday is indicative of what they think of this home-town boy who left the teacher's classroom here and went out and made a name for himself in state and federal service.

Which prompts us to hope that Mike would consider coming home again—this time to help his home town raise itself from a blighted condition—by becoming the new city manager.

Whether Mike would consider it, I do not know, but I do know he's qualified and has the spark and the genius to set this city off like an astronaut missile.

The job would pay approximately $20,000 a year which is just about what Mike earned as head of the state's welfare department and around what he has been earning with the Job Corps national office.

It will take some tall talk to draft this able man back to the home town—but for the sake of the community and because of the need for talent in the city hall—Mike O'Callaghan should be wooed into becoming the new city manager.

When you are a loser in a political race, you know it. Your whole system is affected by it. You've lost your smile. You grit your teeth. You walk around with a puzzled look and when people you know say, "sorry—you didn't make it—but I want you to know I voted for you." . . . you thank sorta half-heartedly and recall the old saying—if all the people who tell you they voted for you were added into a total — there'd be more than enough to have had you win by a landslide.

And then you settle down. You start to figure out why you lost. You figure this and figure that and then scratch them out—and you finally realize why you lost: You lost because better qualified people beat you. You lost because the guy who runs the show—the voter—always has a way of knowing what's right. And the voter figured the other guy was better fitted for the office.

That's why you lost—and you're willing to buy the story—and congratulate the voter and the winner.

There's still a possibility the November general election ballot here will contain four names in the assembly race instead of the top two who qualified Tuesday plus the Republican's one. Because two seats have to be filled, some say there must be a contest for each — thus two running against two. Others say the two from Tuesday — Williams and Espinoza against Hal Smith, with the top two vote getters being the winners. Should there be another name added — it would be Dale Roberts as he ran third Tuesday.

When you look over the results sheet of how Henderson voted Tuesday — you can read some funny ones—such as—Mike O'Callaghan had gotten the votes that our home-townners gave Harmon or Foley and the Northerner Galt — Mike would have been it-governor nominee instead of Foley. Galt got 351 votes and Foley 350 and Harmon 420.

That's what makes a horse-race, they say.

Another oddity — if everyone in Henderson and Boulder had voted for home-towner Ralph Denton — Ralph would have won the nomination over Baring.

Dawson's Name Brought Up As Possible City Mgr.

The name of Don Dawson, former city auditor and now a top finance official with Clark County, was tossed in to the local hat as a city manager applicant last night by councilman Dale Roberts at the council meeting.

Roberts explained that there has been dilly - dallying for too many months and the city needs a manager and an auditor. He proposed it be done right away.

The matter was taken out of public discussion when the council decided to go into a personal meeting which by law grants the council privacy from public coverage by newspapers.

At press time of this newspaper, the meeting hadn't finished so it will be necessary to report in the Tuesday edition of the Home News.

Local Boy Hurt

On Sept. 6, at the intersection of Laswell and Water streets, Jimmy Wayne May, a minor, of 22 Brown Street, swerved his bicycle into the path of an oncoming car driven by Mary Ann Huelman of 171 Copper Street.

The Huelman car had started to go by young May when he made a sharp left turn into the path of the auto.

Approximately 64.5 percent of the Henderson's registered voters cast ballots in the Primary Election with 3553 out of 5585 registered voters going to the polls.

Ralph Lamb was the top vote getter with 2342 votes, followed by Harvey Dickerson with 1778, Loretta Bowman 1664, Grant Sawyer 1652 and Mike O'Callaghan 1625.

Lamb, Dickerson, Sawyer and O'Callaghan carried every precinct; Bowman and James Bilbray won in 22 of the 23 precincts and Art Espinoza, who received the Democratic nomination for State Assembly, carried 21 out of 23. Also nominated in this race was Lorin Williams, former City Councilman.

Fritz Crisler won the Democratic nomination for Constable. He will be opposed in the General Election by Jack F. Uhis, Republican.

We are sorry that time and space will not permit us to print the returns by precincts. Totals in the various races were as follows.

Red Curbs Heat Up City Hall

Arthur (Art) Espinoza, at left, local realtor and businessman, and Lorin Williams, former City Councilman, won the Democratic nomination for Assembly in a field of seven candidates. They will be opposed in the general election by R. (Hal) Smith, Republican, for two seats in the State Assembly.

The heat has really been on for Acting City Manager Bill de Valcourt and it isn't exactly due to the weather.

A lot of curbs in the Townsite area were recently painted red, which eliminated a sizeable number of parking places. . . many of them in front of business houses.

The merchants are a bit color conscious, especially concerning the curbs in front of their stores. Customer parking is considered a valuable asset to any business and complaints poured into city hall. In fact, de Valcourt's ears both rang and were bent as the merchants talked about the red paint in and out of city hall.

Much of the heat has dissipated with de Valcourt's explanation of the ordinance under which the painting was done.

The City Parking Ordinance, passed in December of 1959, specifies that there will be no parking for 15 feet on each side of a fire plug, so each fire plug calls for 30 feet of red paint.

The ordinance also stipulates that there shall be no parking for 20 feet on each side of a cross walk. Cross walks are ten feet wide. Add 20 feet on each side and you have 50 feet of red paint.

It is further stipulated in the ordinance that there shall be no parking for 20 feet back of a stop sign, so you will find 20 feet of red paint as you approach each stop sign and this continues around the corner for the width of the sidewalk.

When you add all of this up, you come up with a sizeable amount of red curb footage; however, the situation has been alleviated in some instances by moving the crosswalks to the street corners where fire plugs or stop signs are located, thus the red curbing serves a dual purpose.

De Valcourt believes that there are several cross walks which could be eliminated, without inconvenience to pedestrians, which would allow for expanded parking space at the curbs on one or both sides of the street.

To complete the specifications of the Parking Ordinance, certain areas of the Townsite district will be posted for limited parking. This will vary from one to two hours according to the needs of the business places concerned.

Chief of Police George Crisler says the Parking Ordinance will be enforced and those parking for more than the specified time will receive citations.

There are some areas where cross walks have been moved and the red curbs have been repainted with black. These, de Valcourt said, are legal parking areas.

The Acting City Manager also stated that it is permissible for a car to park momentarily at a red curb to unload passengers; however, this stop must be only momentary.

De Valcourt believes that once the painting is completed and the signs posted, both shoppers and merchants will find the new parking rules will add to their convenience.

It will be necessary for those who work in the business area and park at the curb all day to move their cars to the parking lots or side streets, leaving the parking spaces in front of their various business places available for customer parking.

Raymond Hayden Attends Aviation School in Tenn.

Marine Private First Class, Raymond E. Hayden, son of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Hayden of 228 Hopie Lane, has completed the Aviation Mechanic Hydraulics School at the Naval Air Technical Training Center in Memphis, Tenn.

The school covers basic hydraulic system operations, troubleshooting and maintenance, as well as stability and control of aircraft, safety precautions and inspection of landing gear.

Before attending this school, Pvt. Hayden completed the two-week Aviation Familiarization and four-week Mechanical Fundamentals courses at Memphis.

Boulder City vs. Henderson

The BIG game — which is so colorful and hard fought to the point where it should become the annual Thanksgiving Day feature—is going to be played tomorrow night.

Yes — the football season opens tomorrow night at 8 and both teams are ready—Boulder with its usual speed and classy attack — Henderson with its hopes high and with a new coach — Joe Keegan— anxious to see what kind of play they have in these parts. Keegan will have Dennis Rosch as his chief assistant.

The coach found 65 boys coming out for practice when he took over this fall and five of them were veteran backs and eight veteran linemen.

Keegan realizes his ball club hasn't won a league game in four years and naturally would like to crack that one. Boulder's very able Coach Ken Andree often shows up with a team that tosses passes like the pros and runs from formations few high school teams are able to learn.

Tomorrow's game looks like a battle between Boulder's speed and air strength as against Basic's rugged defense.

Last year's graduation ceremonies took nearly all of the depth off of Al Callahan's last team, including superb tackles Joe Tram and Jim Campbell. Tram is attending the University of Arizona at Tucson and Campbell went to Arizona Western, Yuma.

In all 13 lettermen returned from last year's team, but Keegan feels they are limited in experience.

Top line prospects this season are 195-pound tackle Rocky Tope and Mike Galbraith, who were also defensive standouts last year. Basic boasts one of the heaviest linemen in the state in 235-pound tackle Bob O'Dell, who with Tope and Galbraith will add to their convenience.

It will be necessary for those who work in the business area and park at the curb all day to move their cars to the parking lots or side streets, leaving the parking spaces in front of their various business places available for customer parking.

Henderson Deal With Henderson All Botched Up; May Go to Court

The city council last night was awakened to a possible series of legal entanglements with Jim Henderson's sand & gravel company as a result of misunderstandings which both sides of a contract claim.

It seems the city wants Henderson's sand and gravel company to agree to two important items in a contract now being drawn for the sale of some prize city land at a low, low price of $400 an acre. In exchange for getting the land in its entirety instead of asking for a lease on that certain portion of land unusable because of power lines.

City Attorney Harry Reid, whose job it has been to carry on the paper work with Henderson and his attorney Bruce Beckley, claims Henderson will not now agree to the previous promises and may instead demand performance by the city of the contract as now written. Councilman Dale Roberts was adamant in his demand that the city's rights be protected and that there be no backing down by the once again make Basic's defense one of the best in the south.

Quarterback Steve Hurd, a 150-pound junior, started several games last season, and will be backed up by newcomer Eddie Wilhelm, a 160-pound senior transfer.

Halfbacks Jim Ness and Bill Cox are also starters from last year's team along with fullbacks Bob Wagner and Denny Ballew. Cox is the heaviest of the four at 165 pounds, followed by Wagner and Ballew at 160, Ness tips the scales at 155 pounds. All are seniors.

Also after halfback spots are Jim Wiggins, a 160-pound senior, and Danny Hill, a 132-pound senior. Wilhelm is the only newcomer to the backfield.

Top incoming linemen are guards Andy Black, 160-pound senior, and Wes Church, a 152 pound junior; and end Ricky Heidert, a 145-pound senior.

Did you know that Safeway Stores was the first company to provide free parking lots adjacent to their food stores for the convenience of customers shopping by automobile?

There will be an effort made to meet with Henderson in the near future to see if the matter can be ironed out to all sides satisfaction.

What makes this Henderson matter so botched up is that the city - manager - less city has gone ahead and taken Henderson's $50,000 down payment and sent it in to the government to pay for the land. The $50,000 check was sent on its way without council approval, it seems, but apparently upon the decision of the mayor and his temporary city manager — Bill deValcourt.

No one at a late hour last night could think of a way to dig the city out of its jackpot.

NEIGHBORHOOD CENTER NEWS

At the Clark County Economic Opportunity Board meeting this past Wednesday 31 August, Nevada Council Welfare was officially acknowledged as the delegate agency for the Neighborhood Councils in North Las Vegas and Henderson. This action prevented legal entanglements and controversy concerning this matter.

During the meeting, Mrs. Laura Lomprey of 20-D Lincoln, Henderson, was officially acknowledged and seated as the board member to represent the Henderson Neighborhood Council on the Board.

It was quite interesting to observe that of the four Neighborhood Council representatives in the only one challenged and substantiating material had to be produced to seat her.

Dudley Evans, the counselor and organizer of the Henderson Neighborhood Service Center and Council, took advantage of the long Labor Day weekend to make a trip to the Los Angeles area to investigate and compare some aspects of the War on Poverty programs in that area with those of Clark County.

The trip also enabled him to visit some close relatives and relatives seated she was the Los Angeles metropolitan complex. Home News subscribers may find it interesting that he wrote this in a newspaper from Southern California and that his trip was most productive. It even supplied him with a coin.

Oh well, things that happen to us could happen to anyone anywhere, and at times we wish that they could.

Don't forget the next Neighborhood Council meeting is on Tuesday 13 September at 7:30 p.m.

See you next issue.

Spring Mt. Camp Invites Public

An open invitation is extended to the people of Clark County to visit Spring Mountain Youth Camp on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 11.

The camp will be open to the public from 1 to 4 p.m.

Many changes have been made in the past year and a half. It is the feeling of the staff and officials that Spring Mountain Youth Camp is an organization in which the people of Clark County can take pride.

THANK YOU

I wish to thank everyone who assisted in my campaign and who voted for me. I wish also to congratulate the winners.

CLOTHES CARE NEWS

HOW SPECIAL CARE MAKES CLOTHES LAST LONGER

Old habits are the hardest to break. With reference to sportswear, a habit as hoary and old as hunting itself is this: PUTTING SOILED SPORTS OUTFITS AWAY TILL THE NEXT TIME THEY'RE NEEDED.

Perspiration, grime, grass, blood, grease, chemicals—and who knows what all else appears more often and in greater amounts on sports clothes than on probably any other category of apparel except, perhaps, work clothes.

To put it more plainly, sports clothes take on the worst beatings of ANY category of clothing.

We've been telling you that grime destroys. That aged stains not only impair the strength of the fabric, but often become permanently fixed. That a CLEAN garment cannot deteriorate if properly protected. That SIZING repels stains, delays soiling.

We therefore make you these two suggestions:

1. Clean all your sportswear NOW. And in the future, clean all clothing soon after use. DON'T PUT THEM AWAY SOILED.
2. Let us size them for you. You'll shed rain better, and any stains that you do get on your sports clothes will at least be partially repelled.

Practice these two simple little suggestions, and you'll get more wear out of sports clothes that look like new longer. And of course,—

First Baptist Church Dedicates New Building Sunday Afternoon

The First Baptist Church, Kansas and Atlantic streets, will dedicate its new building and Worship Center at 3 p.m. this Sunday, it was announced by the Rev. John Osko, pastor. Guest speaker will be Dr. Russell Orr, former minister of the Nevada-Sierra Baptist Convention. Special music will be presented by the choir.

The original church was built in 1909 and will be used for Sunday School rooms and will also house the youth department. A spacious study for the pastor and an area for the church office and a cradle roll for babies have also been added.

The new Worship Center is fully carpeted, as are the other departments of the church. A beautiful eight-foot cross adorns the front of the sanctuary. It is suspended from a center-split block wall with concealed lighting. The sanctuary is also fully equipped with new pews.

The building project has taken three years of planning and work and has been under the direction of Chester Smith, chairman of the building committee.

The new addition, which features central heating and refrigerated cooling, was built at a cost of $46,000, including a paved parking lot and painting of the old building to blend with the new. The church is painted Sequoia green and trimmed with copper verde (a very dark green.)

The next project of the church will be a basic landscaping theme to beautify the grounds and enhance the beauty of the new structure.

The Rev. John G. Hargrave was the founding pastor of the First Baptist Church. He was succeeded by the Rev. George Rothery and the Rev. David Hudson. Rev. Osko has been pastor of the church since 1959.

Local Youths In Car Accident

Two Henderson young men, Fred Gerard, 21, of 173 Lake Mead Dr., and Ralph Gallegos, 19, of 580 Federal St., were injured last Sunday evening when the car in which they were riding ran off the right side of the roadway at Lake Mead Drive near Ballerina.

The pair were treated at Rose de Lima Hospital for abrasions about the face and head.

Gerard, the driver of the 1957 Chevrolet, told police that the steering mechanism on his car failed. After running off the side of the road, the vehicle struck a speed limit sign, careened off a light pole and stopped in a drainage ditch. The car sustained major damage.

ELECTION DAY — The parking lot at the Youth Center is the busiest place in town on Election Day. Twelve precincts vote here and, as shown, the grounds are artfully decorated with posters and candidates and their work-spend the day out in the hot sun to pass out cards and give voters a last minute smile or handshake. Campaigners and signs are kept at a legal distance from the polls.

COMMUNISM..... Is It Just A Word To You?

By KAY HAVENS
Communism... is it just a word to you? Or is it the creeping menace to your liberty, which, in fact, it is? The general apathy of a free people towards communism is one of its greatest weapons.

Those of us who are still able to make a choice, to elect officials by secret ballot, and to unseat them by referendum if their acts are overt, have no real knowledge of government by "persuasion" or downright force. Only those countries which have come under the domination of the communist regime can attest that awakening to the true aims and purposes of communism came to them as a rude shock, and a little too late.

The Communist party does nothing in the open. The cells meet furtively, one 'comrade' spies on another; and freedom, as we know it, is just another word in the dictionary.

What makes some men and women susceptible to this line of reasoning? That's a good question. Perhaps the answer lies within the individual himself. Or perhaps it is a sort of mass hypnotism, with promises of personal reward and prestige for faithful adherence to the party line.

It is only human to seek reward and prestige. These are status symbols on every level of society, and the Communist party is well aware of that.

There is one drawback; the Communist party machine does not hesitate to 'plow under' anyone who deviates even a little bit. No individual thinking is permitted. The party does the thinking and the members do the listening.

Politically, the Communist Party has been fighting for recognition in the United States for years. Public recognition and acceptance, that is. It has been boring 'from within' all the while.

Utopia has been the sought-after state since man pulled himself upright from the bogs of antiquity, and evolution and education made him a 'thinking' man. Along with this came the desire to be 'his own man.' Being one's 'own man' within the framework of a civilized society is a worthy aim; being one's 'own man' to the exclusion of all other men's rights is something else again.

And communism with its avowed purpose to divide and conquer is no Utopia.

In June of this year, the Communist party held its 18th national convention in New York City. The east coast paper, the Worker proclaimed "Resurgent CP Convention Looks to Future." A Worker feature writer opened her story, "The eyes of the world were on the 18th convention of the Communist Party..."

This event, the first national convention since 1959, is a significant landmark in the assault of the international communist conspiracy against the free institutions of this country, according to J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Hoover said it reflected the optimism of a resurgent Communist party, completely loyal to the Soviet Union, and buoyed by the feeling that it has broken out of its political isolation.

As Gus Hall, general secretary of the party, said in his keynote address, "The party has fought its way out of political isolation, and has started to grow both in membership and influence. We are a factor in the left stream of each of the mass currents in the country. The overall policies and tactical lines projected by the party have been sound."

How sound these policies and tactical lines have been, only the future can determine. Their leaders, including Khrushchev, on his visit here, constantly proclaim that our grandchildren will live under communist rule. And if we do not awaken to this threat in time, their words could well be prophetic.

Sound tactical strategy is never to under-estimate your adversary. Many battles have been lost by failing to heed this admonition; and it cannot be stressed too strongly. Freedom loving nations must be constantly on guard to protect that freedom from those whose avowed purpose is to destroy it.

Until the final gavel fell on June 26, 213 delegates, 42 alternate delegates, and 422 "observers" (most of whom were party members or close sympathizers especially invited by the party) kept up a constant harangue and criticism of the United States. The delegates represented every party district in this country.

The irony of this situation is that party members here want to share in the freedom granted by the Constitution of the United States, along with the general prosperity and high standard of living, while doing their best to make the country a part of a world-wide plan to subjugate the populace. This is a case of "eating one's cake and having it too." And that theory has never worked in practice.

Additionally, at the convention, 14 fraternal delegates, representing communist parties in Canada, Puerto Rico, Mexico, India and Chile, were present. In fact, the evening of June 25 was devoted to "international solidarity and culture," in which these foreign delegates praised communism and denounced our Government.

Hailed as an 'open' convention, the proceedings were under strict party security regulations. Only the opening session, addressed by Hall, was open to representatives of the mass media. The press was told to photograph only individuals on the platform. Comrades were admonished not to speak to the press or television representatives without first clearing with the party's press and public relations committee.

Periodic "briefings" however, were given to the mass media on convention happenings. The party wanted publicity—but only its version. This is freedom?...

Despite its outward spontaneity, the convention was adroitly controlled by the party clique—centering in Gus Hall, the ex-criminal, Moscow-trained functionary, guerrilla tactician, who since 1957 has ruled the Communist Party, U.S.A. Hall was convicted in Minneapolis, Minn., in 1934, in connection with a riot there. He testified that he "would prefer America with a Soviet government."

Asked if he would be willing to take up arms to overthrow the constituted authorities, he replied, "When the time comes, yes."

The convention proceedings reflected new faces and voices, showing the party was experiencing a "youth accent," and that younger members were gaining influence and leadership. Prominent among them were Bettina Aptheker, probably the most notorious young communist in the United States, and Tim Wheeler, youth editor of the Worker.

The convention revealed the party as a unified, hard-hitting, well organized conspiracy, completely loyal to Moscow, and committed to the overthrow of our democratic institutions.

Hall, in his keynote speech, bitterly denounced American participation in the Vietnam war. He compared the United States actions in Vietnam to the savagery of Hitler's Germany. On the other hand, he praised the Soviet Union lavishly.

In returning a North Vietnamese greeting, the convention made it clear that a prime aim of the party in this country was the withdrawal of American troops from Vietnam.

One of the basic points which should be highlighted is that the convention represented a "thrust for legality" by the party. A determined effort to be accepted by the American people as a legitimate element of our society, to falsely represent itself as a political party loyal to our democratic traditions.

Under a recent Supreme decision invaluating portions of the Internal Security Act of 1950, the communists feel they have been given the green light to become more active in mass agitation. They also sense a new mood of radicalism in America, especially stemming from the so-called "new left."

Speakers emphasized that the party must stride boldly into the area of political action, run candidates for public office, participate in community decisions, and meet and influence non-communists. Perhaps the best demonstration of this new mood was the election of Henry Winston as national chairman and Hall as general secretary, with public identification by party title.

The convention laid the foundations for an aggressive, extensive, and massive party campaign to infiltrate American life in many fields, the Negro struggle and civil rights; although the communist party is acutely embarrassed by its failure to adequately recruit among Negroes.

Close attention will be given to making contact with other groups, such as pacifists, church organizations, and students.

The political, economic and social conditions within the country were analyzed, and Hall called for the creation of a "people's party." He saw peace as the prime issue of the 1968 presidential campaign, advocated an independent candidate for President, and pledged communist candidates for future elections.

We can expect strong communist participation in electoral campaigns this fall, and attempts to field party candidates, especially under "nonpartisan" or "independent" labels.

Among the resolutions adopted were, calling attention to the intervention of the United States in Latin-American affairs; supporting Puerto Rican demands for independence, formation of a party national cultural commission, and a resolution calling for a party national minorities commission to deal with the struggles of the American Indian.

The setting up of commissions in various fields reflects the party is organizationally preparing for increased mass agitation work.

The convention made a special attempt, through its youth program, to establish the party as the catalyst of the so-called "New Left" in this country, hoping to form coalitions with all elements of that movement.

While endeavoring to publicly represent the party as "legal" with an active program aimed at mass acceptance, the convention took steps to strengthen itself internally as a disciplined, hard-core, Marxist-Leninist revolutionary organization.

A national board was not elected. Hall preferred to leave the selections of this smaller, inner group, where party power really lies, to a later date. This is an illegal situation since the party's constitution provides that a new national board should have been elected at the national convention.

The framework of party organization was tightened. The convention amended Article 6 of the party's constitution, which Hall had long opposed. This article increased the right of dissent. Hall called it an expression of "bourgeois liberalism." As amended, Article 6 clearly emphasizes democratic centralism (a party term meaning total control of the membership by the leadership clique).

In view of its actions, the party has for its basic purpose, revolutionary action based on the "scientific laws" laid down by Marx and Engels. So in the months ahead we can expect intensified party ideological training, particularly for youth members.

In 1965, for example, the party held two secret train-schools for key youth leaders, one in New Jersey and the other in Indiana.

The task of the party today is to ideologically digest its growing youth elements.

The Communist Party, U.S.A., is undoubtedly in a much stronger position as a result of the 18th national convention. Completely loyal to a foreign power, the Soviet Union, it remains a serious threat to our national security.

This is the situation today. It is real, and it is earnest, and most important, it is serious. If we are to escape the fate of lesser nations which have fallen under the communist yoke, we must act now to prevent them from gaining a foothold in any phase of American life.

We must reject them, privately and publicly; we must discredit them, and we must show them up for what they really are; an ever-growing horde of inhuman locusts bent only on the destruction of the rights of man, and the propagating of world power in the hands of the few.

The United States of America bought her independence early under the able leadership of George Washington. This is OUR country; let's keep it that way.

Tour Of Homes Slated At Black Mountain Golf Club

The first annual Tour of Homes sponsored by the Ladies Association of the Black Mountain Golf and Country Club will be held September 15 from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. Ten homes on the perimeter of the golf course will be open to the public.

The Dolores Zenoff home, 534 Fairway Road, offers a magnificent view across the 17th fairway, Las Vegas and the Vegas Valley with the distant mountains as a backdrop. The view is not through an ordinary window but through glass extending the length of the A-Frame structure.

Guests are welcomed to the Hal Corbin home, 629 Fairway through a Japanese garden, complete with waterfall, a Japanese statue admiring the water and the little lighted bug sitting atop the falls.

The sunken fireplace in the living room of the Malvin Bagleys, 601 Fairway, greet their guests with much warmth and cheerfulness as they enter their home.

The Jack Miller home, 540 Fairway boasts of many paintings of a variety of types by their son Jim. Especially interesting is a group of 16 pictures, each depicting a different version of a variety of apples.

The family room, on the second floor of the Bob Hunsakers home, 620 Country Club Dr. is approached by a circular stairway from the center of the house.

Contemporary with a touch of Oriental is the motif of the M. L. Chaucey home, 510 Fairway Rd.

The trophy room of the ranch type home of the Herschel Trumbos displays pictures, trophies and ribbons of all of their horses that have entered the Winner's Circle.

Chinese modern furniture in Teak adds to the decor, built around articles from French Morocco brought back by Connie Malcolm, which are the conversation pieces in the David Malcolm home, 531 Fairway Rd.

Refreshments, to be served at the club house at the close of the tour, are included in the tickets which are available now or can be purchased on the day of the tour from hostesses in each home. The committee in charge includes Laura Carrado, chairman, Elaine Raney, Vivian Phillips and Betty Vordahl.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mr. Zenoff: The majority of you who attended Dr. James Mason's first press conference on August 12 agreed that it would be most beneficial to have these scheduled on a regular monthly basis, preferably on a day following a meeting of our Board of School Trustees.

With this in mind, we would like to have these conferences regularly the second Friday afternoon of each month. The September meeting is scheduled for the 9th from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. This does not mean that the Superintendent of Schools or any administrative officer of the District will be available only at that time or date; please feel free to contact Dr. Mason or anyone at the Education Center as the need arises.

State Health Officer Lists Rules for Processing Game

The Nevada State Division of Health warns all slaughterhouse operators and meat processors that during the coming hunting season they must abide by the regulations set forth in the "Food Establishment Act" and the "Sanitation of Food Establishments" in the Nevada State Health Laws.

These responsibilities, in brief, are as follows:
1. Game and similar uninspected products are not to be stored prior to processing, or processed with inspected meat products;
2. These uninspected products are to be handled and processed separately from other meats and foods.

The above items simply state that game carcasses must not be stored until cleaned and skinned; or stored during any aging period with inspected meat.

When wild game processing does take place, there must be a cessation of the processing of domestic, inspected meat followed by a complete clean-up of equipment.

Then before the return to inspected meat processing, a clean-up must intervene.

The reason behind this separation of game from inspected meats is because many game animals, when brought in for processing, are diseased, parasitized, and filthy from improper handling by the hunters.

Under the existing regulations, failure to comply makes the individual operators subject to prosecution.

Cannon Speaks Out For 'The Forgotten American'

Nevada Sen. Howard W. Cannon said that one of the most significant amendments to the Minimum Wage Bill is one that bans arbitrary discrimination in employment because of age.

The amendment, adopted by the Senate during the closing minutes of debate on the Minimum Wage Bill, is similar to a bill introduced by Cannon earlier this year.

In a Senate floor statement urging passage of the amendment, Cannon referred to the older American worker as "the forgotten American."

"While our technologically sophisticated society is extending the human life span," Cannon said, "this same society is also making it difficult for people in the prime of life, from age 45 to 65, to find jobs."

"These people who are too young to retire are thus deprived of the self-respect that is earned by providing a decent standard of living for themselves and their families. In addition, the nation as a whole is wasting one million man-hours of productive time each year because of unemployment of workers over 45." Cannon cited Labor Department studies which revealed that in states not having laws prohibiting employment discrimination because of age, more than half the employers used an arbitrary age ceiling for hiring, usually from 45 to 55. About 50 per cent of the jobs in these states, he stated, were closed to applicants over

Cannon said the amendment "means that the Senate is truly concerned about the plight of persons who are able, willing and qualified to work, but find themselves the victims of arbitrary discrimination based solely on age."

Nevada's 17 man Fish and Game Commission met Friday and Saturday in Reno to approve and correlate dates for the 1966 Upland Game and Waterfowl seasons, according to Gene McDowell, Department Public Information officer. Many interested sportsmen attended the weekend session to offer comment regarding the many agenda items considered by the body of Commissioners. Department Fish and Game Agents and Game Chief, Joe Greenley presented survey findings on the states upland game populations and offered recommendations to the Commission for the fall bird seasons.

After considering department data and range conditions, noting particularly the scarcity of water in most areas, the Commission adopted upland seasons as follows:

Chukar (statewide, except Clark County) Oct. 22-Jan. 31, limit 5 daily and 10 in possession.

Sage grouse (closed in Clark County) Sept. 25 - 2 birds, Douglas, open north of Highway 3, Eureka, Lyon, open north of Highway 3 and Alt. 95, Nye, Storey, Ormsby and Washoe Counties.

All other areas Sept. 24 & 25, 2 daily, 4 in possession.

Blue grouse - closed in Clark, Churchill and Nye Counties. Sept. 17 - Oct. 9, 3 daily, 3 in possession.

Cottontail and Pygmy rabbit - Sept. 24 - Jan. 31, 8 daily, 16 in possession.

Quail - the general opening for quail was set for October 22, however, seasons in fenced and cultivated areas will generally coincide with pheasant seasons in early November.

1966 seasons for waterfowl will open Oct. 15 and continue through Dec. 28. for ducks and through Jan. 8 for geese.

Daily bag limits for ducks is 6 daily and 12 in possession with no restrictions on species except that only 2 wood ducks may be included in the daily or 4 in possession limit. Daily bag limit for geese is 6 daily and 6 in possession, provided that not more than three are of the dark species, that is the common Canada and subspecies, Tule, Emperor and White-fronted. Seasonal limit for Canada geese is 15. Goose tags are not required for the 1966-67 season. Hours for hunting all migratory birds is one half hour before sunrise to sunset.

On Sept. 1, John M. Shaw, 25 Richardson, reported the loss of his 1962 Dodge Lancer from the Basic High School parking lot. The car was later discovered by police on a dirt road 500 feet south of Corral. The vehicle was not in running condition, due to a burned out clutch.

Jared Porter, Jr., 149 Ivy Street, was bitten by a black terrier dog while riding a bicycle on walkway between Kola and Linden Street. The victim sustained an injury on the left leg. The dog's owner, a Mr. Davis, said he had given the dog away, but it always returned. The victim received treatment at the Henderson Clinic by Dr. Miller. Dog's owner promised to keep dog inside until known if Porter has any ill effects.

On Sept. 2, Robert Andrew Smith, Jr., 8-C Victory Village, was arrested for being under the influence. He was found sitting on the sidewalk outside the Eldorado Club. Was transported to city jail, booked and incarcerated.

During the dark hours of Sept. 2-3, Martha A. Davis, 331 Water St., was a victim of vandalism. The outside lights from street to front door of her Beauty Shop had been broken, also beer bottles were thrown on the lawn. No known suspects.

On Sept. 2, Daniel Byron Thomas Leeds, 214 No. 10th St., Las Vegas, was arrested for operating a car under the influence, and no operator's license in possession. He was taken to city hall, booked and incarcerated.

On Aug. 26, Dick Stewart Motors reported the theft of the following: 1 Black and Decker auto buffer, new, valued at $60, and 1 Binks spray gun, head and attachments, new, valued at $60.

On Sept. 3, Samuel Octavio Valdez, 122 Ocotillo St., was arrested for DUI in accident, and failure to report an accident. According to police department records, Valdez has been arrested previously on a DUI charge, also driving while license revoked and an arrest in Las Vegas for DUI.

With him on Sept. 3, was Jose F. Medina, 34 Church St., who was also arrested on a charge of being under the influence. Both men taken to the police station, booked and incarcerated.

On Sept. 3, Raymond Anthony Gutierrez, 41 Laswell, was arrested for drawing a deadly weapon. The arrest followed an incident in which Gregory Sullivan asked for police protection by Highway Patrolman Louis Steelman and Henderson Police Sergeant Loren Ogle. He told officers Gutierrez had earlier said he would kill him, and had sent for him to come to the parking lot of the Polar Queen. The officers accompanied Sullivan to the meeting place and observed Gutierrez throw away a large knife at their approach. Gutierrez was then arrested, and the weapon and defendant were taken to the Henderson police station.

On Sept. 4, Frank Andrew Carter, 5240 Wilkinson, North Hollywood, Calif., was arrested for soliciting without a city license. He was taken to the police station and booked.

A Time for Fresh Plums!

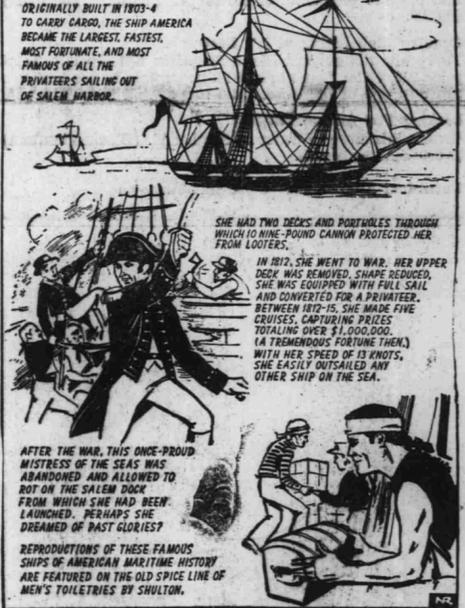

Like old-fashioned fairy-tale princesses, the California plums now coming to market are as good as they are beautiful. Some 58 varieties of plums—most of them the so-called Japanese type—extend the fresh plum season from now through mid-August. Large, heart-shaped and of crimson or golden color, these tempting fruits are not only delicious eaten out of hand, but are good in all kinds of desserts, such as this Frosty Fresh Plum Sundae or Stewed Fresh Plums.

FROSTY FRESH PLUM SUNDAY
2 cups crushed unpeeled fresh plums
1 cup sugar or sugar to taste
1/4 cup fresh orange juice
1/2 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
Vanilla ice cream
Chopped nuts or peppermint candy crushed

Combine plums, sugar and orange juice in a saucepan. Mix well. Bring to a rapid boil and simmer, uncovered, 12 to 15 minutes or until sauce has thickened. Cool and stir in vanilla extract. Arrange alternate layers of vanilla ice cream and the Fresh Plum Sauce in parfait glasses, beginning with ice cream and ending with sauce. YIELD: Approximately 6 servings or 1 1/2 cups sauce.

STEWED FRESH PLUMS
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup water
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
1/16 teaspoon salt
1 two-inch cinnamon stick
1 pound fresh ripe plums
Combine sugar, water, lemon juice and salt in a saucepan. Add cinnamon stick and bring to boiling point, stirring constantly. Meanwhile, cut plums in half, remove pits and place in boiling syrup. Boil until tender, 3 to 5 minutes. Remove from heat and chill. Serve as dessert or as a meat accompaniment. YIELD: 4 servings.

Telephone Out? Someone Pulled Main Switch

The telephone outage on Monday was caused by a person or persons unknown who turned off the main power switch in the alley behind the maintenance department of the Henderson Telephone Company.

The standby generator failed to kick-in, and the equipment, operating on low voltage, overheated and burned, according to Jerry Campbell, test boardman, there. Several circuits were burned because of the low voltage.

Most telephones are now back in service, and the maintenance department is working to restore full service to the city.

In recent years the majority of Supreme Court Justices seem to have taken the position that many heretofore unquestioned laws and legal precepts became un-Warren-ted.

UNIVERSITY THANKS CHAMBER FOR HELP AND COOPERATION

Chamber of Commerce President Dick Pryor recently received a letter from Charles J. Armstrong, president of the University of Nevada, thanking the local Chamber for help and cooperation in acquiring Stead Air Force Base for expansion of the University.

The local Chamber of Commerce passed a resolution May 20, 1966, approving the University's application for the former Technical Education Center for the Air Force and asking that the application be given preference and priority over any other university or institution.

President Armstrong said in his letter that the University has been given the official go-ahead to enter Stead Air Force Base.

The Nevada Technical Institute, as well as the Physical Education Department moved equipment and supplies into the buildings prior to September registration and the swimming pool was in operation for the second session of summer school. Research and Continuing Education will move in on a gradual basis with some research work to begin in October.

It is estimated that up to 25,000 persons each year will use the base for Continuing Education, and there should be about 50 to 100 graduate students doing research there this year, President Armstrong said.

The base will also provide low-cost housing for both married and single students attending classes in Reno and on the Stead campus.
