Morry's Story

BY MORRY ZENOFF

The Vietnam war was brought right into the banquet room for the home folks the other night in Boulder when Brig. Gen. R. G. Taylor, Commander of the Air Force Tactical Weapons Center at Nellis, told of the local area base's day to day duties in the war.

And when he finished his most informative talk that featured the installation of Boulder's new chamber of commerce officers at the Elks club, Sen. Alan Bible introduced Sen. Edmund Muskie (Maine) who also spoke of Vietnam, from a personal tie-in, inasmuch as he was one of President Johnson's designees to observe the national elections held there last year.

Muskie later talked of air and water pollution, that subject being his pet right now because he is the most informed in the congress on it and serves as the champion in proposing legislation to assist in clearing up the debris around the nation's cities and lakes—both in the air and in the water.

General Taylor's talk revealed his weapons school is so close to the actual fighting that if a tactical problem came up yesterday, base fliers and experts worked on it today and have the answer in the Vietnam field tomorrow—to be used by fighter pilots right away.

His talk also featured the point that in the Vietnam war thus far — more than 1,000 fighter pilots from Nellis are in or have been in the war.

He reaffirmed previous official statements concerning Nellis' permanent status by stating that as long as plane weaponry is used there will be need for Nellis, since it is the center of the air force's weaponry training program.

Senator Muskie praised the South Vietnamese for going to the polls and voting, even tho in many instances the polls

Charitable Drives Need City Approval

City Clerk Genevieve Harper issued a reminder this week that all charitable organizations must apply in advance for their charitable drives.

Along with the application submitted by the organization, an affidavit of a financial statement must be submitted from the previous drive.

The Charitable Solicitation's Review Board is requesting that at least one member of the group making the application be present when the application is presented. The meetings are held at the city hall conference room, 243 Water street, the first Thursday of each month at 7:30 p.m. The next meeting will be held Feb. 1.

Royal Neighbors Welcome 3 New Members

Royal Neighbors of America, Harmony Camp, held a short meeting last Friday at Victory Village auditorium.

Three new members were balloted and obligated, then given a hearty welcome by all members present. They are Leo Miller, Gavona Ford and Dianna Heitbrink.

It was announced that a banquet will be held Jan. 26, at Sambos, Las Vegas Blvd. North, at 6:30 p.m. Installation of officers will follow at 8 p.m. at Odd Fellows hall on North 9th St.

This is an open installation, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

After drill practice refreshments were served by Esther Doherty and her daughter, Donna.

Delwin Potter New Pres. Of Kiwanis Club

Delwin Potter, justice of the peace, was installed as president of the Henderson Kiwanis Club in ceremonies held recently at the Swanky Club.

Dr. Stanley Jones was installed vice president; Perry Williams, secretary and Bob Bohan, treasurer.

Special speaker for the event was Fred Gilles, past Lt. Gov. for this district of the Kiwanis clubs.

The local club, which is growing in membership, will sponsor a Boy Scout Troop for the Pittman area. Meetings will be held at the Pittman fire station. Monte Morris was named institutional representative and Potter will be troop committee chairman.

Thornes Visit Relatives, Friends, Here

SP-4 Patrick and Mrs. Thorne spent several days this week visiting relatives and friends in the Henderson area.

Pat, who is a 1963 Basic High School graduate, is on a 30-day leave from the Army prior to leaving for Vietnam. After basic training at Ft. Leonard Wood in Missouri and specialized training at Ft. Gordon, Ga., he was assigned to the 385th Signal Co. which was stationed at Ft. Gordon.

He was married in Reno Dec. 20, 1967, to the former Dixie Spracher, daughter of Jay Spracher of Stockton, Calif.

Winners of the decorating contest were announced with first prize going to Pharmacy and second prize to X-ray department.

Also announced were the winners of the slogan contest. Elizabeth Halmer, R.N., won first prize for "The Name of the Game is Living; Let's Play it Safe." Second prize went to Marsha McCourt, X-ray department for "Safety is No Accident."

Three young children of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Radley, 114 Elm St., were happy again Tuesday after their poodle "Little Joe" was returned to them from Las Vegas.

The HOME NEWS ran a story Tuesday about the loss and were notified by people from Las Vegas that they had picked up the dog in Valley View. The children were going to bathe the dog when it ran away without its collar.

City Gains Money in Co. Shuffle of Room Taxes

RECIPIENT of Special Service Awards is Edith de Montague, R.N., who was presented with a diamond and a wristwatch in recognition of her 20 years of loyal service to Rose de Lima. Presenting the award is Sister M. Georganne, O. P., Administrator.

Henderson, along with other cities in the county, stands to gain financially in the change of distribution in the money collected from room taxes for the Las Vegas Convention Authority, it was learned here.

Boulder City, by prior agreement, will receive $3,500, for the year, as usual. This sum was set, according to the accounting department of the authority, by Boulder City officials and county officials, because on a population basis, it would not be in line for much money.

Approximately $1 million per year is collected for the authority in room taxes by local governments.

Later, the Authority returns ten per cent of the collections to the cities and county as sort of fee for making the collections. In the past, $65,000 was taken off the top and given to Clark County to spend on the recreation area at Lee Canyon. This year the board agreed to change the distribution to $50,000 for Lee Canyon, leaving the rest to be spread among the cities on a population percentage basis.

In the first distribution, the $19,000 taken from Clark County and Lee Canyon will be distributed to Las Vegas, North Las Vegas, Henderson, and Boulder City.

Henderson's share will be 13.6 percent or $5,696.53, as compared to $1,453 as was originally scheduled.

Money collected is paid to the cities quarterly, and this city's share is used for capital improvements in the recreation department.

According to city figures for the calendar year 1967, a total of $25,291 was returned to the city, with $13,000 being a special grant.

Local Woman Sees Soldier Son on TV Show

The Bob Hope Show, showing scenes from the Christmas programs presented to the servicemen overseas, brought more than usual pleasure to Mrs. Nadine Simmons of 116 Hickory St.

Her son, William B. Graham, who is serving with the Army in Vietnam, had warned her to watch for him on a telephone pole in the program, and that is where she saw him. Her neighbor also saw him.

"I almost went out of my chair with excitement," she said. "It was such a thrill." Her son had climbed the pole with climbers which he works with.

"I was glad to see him," she said. "God bless all those boys who are serving their country."

Morry Zenoff Speaker At Breakfast

Morry Zenoff, co-publisher of the Henderson HOME NEWS, will be the guest speaker at the first of the monthly Men's Fellowship breakfasts at the Community Church, United Church of Christ, on Jan. 30 from 6:30 am to 7:30.

The programs in the coming months will center around "Our Church and Our Community." The breakfast, which will be held in Gilbert Hall, will feature bacon, eggs, hotcakes, and the trimmings for 75 cents.

Zenoff will be speaking on "Our Community."

Titanium Makes Gains in 1967 - - - Forecast New Timet Uses This Year

By REX R. LLOYD
Plant Manager
Titanium Metals Corporation of America

The titanium metal industry in 1967 labored with a massive adjustment to the 1966 inventory carryover in fabricators' pipelines. Total mill product shipments in 1967 were about 14,000 tons compared with virtually the same quantity, 14,000 tons, shipped in 1966. These shipment comparisons include imports of mill products which increased somewhat in 1967.

Consumption of titanium mill products has been rising on a 10 percent yearly growth trend line since 1967 and the pacing of programs indicates a continuance of this trend line through the next decade. Production, however, has varied from this trend line as peak demands are accommodated and customer inventories are accumulated and liquidated.

Jet engine requirements remained a major source of demand in 1967, accounting for about 5 PCT of the total market. Airframes again were second with 34 PCT (26 PCT military, 8 PCT civilian), space and missiles 6 PCT non-aerospace another 6 PCT. This pattern of market distribution will likely continue for the next several years, followed thereafter by an increasing proportion in the airframe category.

There was abundant domestic capacity to supply the demand for all titanium mill products throughout the year as new capacity, pointed toward the long-term, added to that already existing.

There are two major domestic producers of sponge titanium, the relatively pure raw material from which mill products are made. A third producer, Oregon Metallurgical Corporation established itself as a regular producer in 1967. Domestic sponge production in 1967 is estimated at 16,000 tons, several hundred tons greater than 1966 production.

Imports of sponge climbed to a record 7,500 tons in 1967, compared to 5,000 tons in 1966. The 1967 total includes over 1,000 tons from a relative newcomer, the USSR.

In late 1966 a variety of expansion programs were announced by domestic producers. It is reported that these expansions are proceeding on schedule. By 1970 domestic sponge capacity will approximate 30,000 tons, with ingot melting and mill product capacity proportional. Regular commercial sale of very high purity sponge, produced by a unique and proprietary electrolytic process, was established in 1967 by Titanium Metals Corporation of America.

The year 1967 was tangible beginnings to several major aerospace programs important to titanium. Metal orders were initiated for the giant Lockheed C-5A military transport, and for the 450-passenger Boeing 747 commercial airliner. Although essentially aluminum aircraft, each plane built will require the purchase of some 45 tons of titanium mill products for engine components, fasteners, and certain critical airframe parts. The power plant for the C-5A is the General Electric TF-39 engine; for the 747, the Pratt and Whitney JT9. Both require more titanium than any jet engines ever put into production.

Prime contractors for the 90 percent titanium supersonic transport were announced early in the year—the Boeing Company for the airframe and General Electric Company for the engines. Development of the plane, including the two prototypes to be built in the next three years, have started a modest flow of metal from the titanium industry.

The relative amount of titanium designed into virtually all aircraft grows at a very satisfactory rate. The Boeing 727 used more metal than the earlier 707 and 720; and the short-medium range 737 uses more titanium than the much larger 727. The McDonnell-Douglas "stretched" DC 8 series 60 transport began commonly to appear at airline terminals in 1967; it utilizes some six tons of titanium mill products. Most of the titanium weight in all these aircraft lies in their Pratt and Whitney engines.

On the military side, peak production of the McDonnell-Douglas F-4 Phantom has passed, and orders for the ton and a half of titanium metal going into each ship has begun to taper off. On the other hand, the General Dynamics F-111, using some ten tons of titanium, is in its ascendancy. The level of business here, for the Lockheed F-12, and for many other programs significant to the titanium industry will very much depend upon the availability of funding.

Doubtless old Ho Chi Minh wants to talk peace. He's hurting and sorely needs what would amount to a longer truce in which to build up and prepare for new offenses. He can be trusted about half as far as a grasshopper could kick Stone Mountain.

A new concept in helicopters was demonstrated in Lockheed's AH-56A "Cheyenne" in 1967. This is a heavily armed winged helicopter capable of high speeds as well as a hover support. Its main, very large rotor hub is fabricated from four titanium forgings. Other helicopters such as the Boeing-Vertol "Chinook", the Bell "Huey", and especially the Sikorski CH-53, and CH-54 required varying amounts of titanium mill products in their structures, for armor and for engines.

The test firing of Saturn V late in the year tested titaum as well, since the entire fin and faring control surface assembly adjacent to the nozzles is made from titanium. But aside from this a matter of interest, and a small amount of metal destined for Apollo tankage, lem structures, and incidentals, there was little to report about titanium in the missile and space field in 1967. Stretch-outs, curtailment of programs, and absence of funding particularly affected titanium since earlier large sources of business such as Gemini and Minuteman programs were either completed or suspended.

Non-aerospace applications for titanium grew in number and diversity, despite a pause in the new construction rate for chemical processing where titanium's largest requirements lie. Sales in 1967 were somewhat higher than in 1966. Competition from foreign mill products became more discernible, especially in price-sensitive, low technical-input markets. Titanium armor became increasingly attractive for ordnance as well as for aerospace applications, while hydrospace, marine, and electronics usage changed little from the preceding year. Many problems associated with copper and nickel alloys promise renewed possibilities for titanium to compete, especially for condenser and evaporator tubing to handle brines, saline, brackish and contaminated water. While not promising of

"volume" market, it might be noted that "Intrepid", America's Cup Yacht contender, won handsily for the United States under its alloy titanium mast, boom and fittings.

Teens Are Tops in March of Dimes Fight to Conquer Birth Defects

"Taps Are Tops" is the motto of the Teen Age Program of the March of Dimes—and these teens are "tops" with the thousands of children who are helped by TAP support of the March of Dimes campaign against birth defects.

Young people today want to be involved in what's happening and The National Foundation-March of Dimes offers them involvement in the battle against one of mankind's oldest enemies. Since nearly half the babies in this country go to the altar before they are 21 years old, teenagers have a very real stake in the birth defects campaign.

For TAP volunteers the March of Dimes has special meaning. This is the first generation of children to grow up free from fear of polio, thanks to vaccines developed with March of Dimes funds. After the conquest of polio, the voluntary health organization turned its attention to birth defects.

For the last decade, the March of Dimes has led the fight against defects which occur in a quarter of a million newborn babies annually in the United States. To do this, it supports 100 birth defects centers throughout the country, as well as large-scale research and education programs.

Whether they are sponsoring a fund-raising auction in Alabama or holding a young adults conference on birth defects in Minnesota, TAP members are anything but youthful amateurs in what they do and how they do it. They are frequently honor students, class officers and good athletes as well as hard-working volunteers for the March of Dimes.

National TAP chairman, actress Kathy Garver, is a teen-age example. The pretty 19-year-old who plays "Stacy" on the CBS-TV series, "Family Affair," also is a full-time student at the University of California at Los Angeles. Her career has included featured roles in television, radio, motion pictures and on the stage. She is enthusiastic about her new role as TAP chairman because of all the March of Dimes is doing for children burdened by severe birth defects. "As teenagers and future parents," Kathy says, "we hope our efforts will help others to be spared."

Young volunteers in the Teen Age Program (TAP) for the March of Dimes visit a birth defects center to see firsthand how their efforts help children born with serious defects.

TAP members work year-round on projects to make society aware of the responsibilities all face when a child is born with a serious handicap. Susan Haines, 18-year-old TAP chairman for South Dakota last year, arranged a series of community lectures on birth defects by members of district medical societies.

Simon Reems, 18, of New Orleans, 1967 TAP chairman for Louisiana, worked more than 700 hours for the March of Dimes while keeping up in varsity sports and acting as sports editor for the school paper.

Jon Cieslak, also 18, helped set up a Young Adults Leadership Conference at the University of Minnesota and held other workshops dealing with birth defects problems while he was TAP chairman of the Greater Minneapolis area. Now at Princeton University on a full scholarship, Jon belonged to the National Honor Society in high school and also covered school sports for a local newspaper.

Increasingly, TAP leaders from public, private and parochial schools, as well as youth organizations and church groups, are holding highly successful forums which treat every aspect of birth defects problems. Of special interest to these future parents is information about preconceptual and prenatal care—ways they can help give their children a healthy start in life.

The conferences, which include prominent medical speakers, educational and community leaders, often are co-sponsored by local colleges and universities. Films and information kits are also available from The National Foundation-March of Dimes for use in public education projects in schools and community organizations.

New Voter's Handbook Ready For Publication at U of N

A new edition of the Nevada Voter's Handbook is being published by the University of Nevada's Bureau of Governmental Research.

In addition to reporting changes in the election laws since 1966, the booklet explains how a president is nominated, how voters can initiate legislation, how the legislature is apportioned and numerous other facts voters should know.

The publication urges attendance at Republican and Democratic precinct meetings, noting a recent change in the law specifically states voters registered as members of a party may participate fully in precinct meetings of their party.

Among other changes in the election laws noted in the booklet:

Voters who change precincts within a county no longer need to register to keep from being dropped as registered voters; all they have to do is send a letter to the county clerk asking that their names be switched to their new precinct.

Voters moving within the state after the close of registration may still vote in their former precinct, although they must register or have their precinct changed after the election to keep from being dropped from the rolls.

Voters hospitalized as late as election day may cast an absentee ballot by having another person obtain a ballot from the county clerk's office upon presentation of a written statement from the hospital.

The Voter's Handbook is available without charge by writing the Bureau of Governmental Research on the University's Reno campus or the League of Women Voters at 227 Hill St. in Reno.

'Vietnam Profile,' to be Shown At 1st Baptist Church Sun. in Hend.

"Viet Nam Profile," just-completed film production by Dr. Bob Pierce for World Vision, Inc., will be presented at the First Baptist Church, Kansas and Atlantic Avenues, this Sunday at 6:30 p.m.

Eighty minutes in length, the sound-color documentary film takes the viewer through-out war-torn Viet Nam, portraying "the drama of God at work in the midst of war."

Dr. Pierce, president of World Vision, Inc., has spent the major part of the last two years in Viet Nam filming and directing production of "Viet Nam Profile," while also establishing his organization's vast relief program there.

"Viet Nam Profile" portrays the people of the war-torn little country, including colorful aboriginal mountain tribespeople as well as the Vietnamese people themselves. It takes the viewer into scenes of actual combat, follows missionaries and Vietnamese Christians in their faithful and often heroic labors for Christ, and depicts the ministries of a typical U.S. chaplain.

The narration and most of the filming were done by Dr. Pierce personally, assisted by cameraman Nguyen van Duc of Viet Nam and Y. B. Tang of Hong Kong. Original music was composed and directed for the film by Ralph Carmichael.

World Vision, with its international headquarters in Monrovia, Calif., cares for over 20,600 orphans in 20 countries. It has launched an all-out aid program in Viet Nam, building refugee centers, providing hundreds of crutches and wheelchairs for war amputees, distributing countless thousands of relief packets and supporting war widows as well as blind students, orphans and other needy children.

Wolves Howl

By LAURIE SPENCER

Hello. I'm Laurie Spencer, a sophomore at Basic and I'll be writing "Wolves Howl" from now on.

Every week a student from Basic will be introduced in this column. I'll start at the bottom, with a freshman—Rosemary Wilhelm.

Rosemary is very active and enthusiastic in her first year of high school. She is on "The Lone Wolf Staff," and a member of the German, Pep and Drama clubs.

Besides these activities, she also finds time to "try to become a gymnast," to earn straight A's, and to bother the BMOCS.

The bad thing is, Rosemary will soon be leaving Basic. After living in Henderson off and on for four and a half years, her family is moving to West Virginia.

Everyone at Basic will miss her, and she says, "I really wish I didn't have to leave; I love it here."

The junior class is busy making plans for the Junior Slave Sale, Junior Carnival and the Junior Prom.

Daring freshmen are signing up now to be slaves in the annual sale.

Affluent juniors and seniors will buy the slaves in an assembly Friday, Feb. 2. Junior class president, Jay Hopkins, will be the auctioneer and Neil Riley will help him.

The "masters" will be able to order their slaves to do any kind of funny, embarrassing or impossible tasks imaginable during the rest of the assembly and at the Junior Carnival.

The carnival will be the next night, Saturday, Feb. 3. The juniors will sponsor booths such as a marriage court and a jail. Other booths will be sponsored by various Basic organizations.

The Junior Prom will be held in the Gold Room of the Convention Center on March 16.

Jeanie Hughes has been chosen for the queen. Her attendants will be Chris Englestead, Marsha Irons, Coween Wilson and Cathy Williams.

Seniors Candy Purcell and Vicki Barton had a chance to lie to a lie detector last week neering from Reno.

Out of state students enrolled at ISU total 432 or 8.6 per cent.

Idaho State University is a fully-accredited university with students enrolled in five undergraduate colleges, a graduate school and a school of trade and technical education.

Nazarenes Set Revival Week Jan. 30—Feb. 4

The Henderson Nazarene Church will hold a revival beginning Jan. 30-Feb. 4, with D. Shelby Corlett, DD author and churchman from Duarte, Calif., as the speaker.

Services will be held in the church at 416 Perlite Way at 7:30 each evening during the week, and at 7 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. There will be special features each evening.

Dr. Corlett has spent a number of years as a pastor, administrator, and editor in the Church of the Nazarene, an international denomination with headquarters in Kansas City, Mo.

Dr. Corlett was the first general secretary of the Nazarene international youth organization, and served in this capacity for 12 years. During this time he instituted and edited the "Young People's Journal," which was a monthly program magazine for the youth society, and the "Standard," a story paper.

Following this, for 12 years, he edited the "Herald of Holiness," official organ of the church. He is the author of 16 widely-read books or booklets.

In 1948 Dr. Corlett resigned the editor's position and in 1949 accepted the pastorate in Anaheim, Calif. He was instructor at the Dept. of Religion at Northwest Nazarene College of Nampa, Idaho, for five years, and recently has been associate minister of Breese Ave. Church of the Nazarene in Pasadena, Calif.

Saturday evening the feature will be a "Deeper Life Hour," and Sunday is "Youth for Christ," Sunday, with a special children's choir singing in the morning worship.

Everyone is welcome to attend, according to Roland M. Becker, pastor.

Most of the doves and hawks evidently have considerable blood of a certain small owl, as they do a lot of hooting.

Sheila Ragozzine Home From Uruguay, Now Attending BYU

A local girl, Sheila Ragozzine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Ragozzine, 100 Dogwood St., who spent two years in Uruguay as a missionary for the LDS Church, has returned to studies at Brigham Young University.

She plans to continue her studies in music and office management, and hopes to complete her education in a little over a year.

Miss Ragozzine left in Aug. of 1965, and studied Spanish for three months at BYU prior to leaving in November for Uruguay. She enjoyed her stay there and liked the people, although she said the country is now experiencing problems of inflation and a continuous fight against Communism.

She said that although the prices are going up, the wages of the people are not keeping pace. Foreign imports have been closed off and the country is not manufacturing items which would be imported.

"The people are friendly, tranquil and good-hearted," she said. "I remember I said a couple of times I'd like something, and the people made it possible for me to have them." Although living conditions are quite nice, she said, the very poor live in tin houses made of tin cans and with dirt floors. Such things as refrigerators are not of much use since the electricity may only be on eight hours in a couple of days. Labor is cheap and there are not too many extremely rich people. The people do little commercial farming although the soil is good, and tend to prefer such vocations as teachers, laborers, policemen, nurses and doctors.

The educational system starts with junior high for students in the first to sixth grades, four years of high school and two years of college preparatory school for those who wish it. All students learn two or three languages. When she first got to Uruguay, another Henderson girl, Carol Harper, was there. She has also returned home.

Miss Ragozzine's brother Tony also served a mission for the LDS church in the Northern California mission. They have another brother, Alan, a freshman at Basic high school.

New Service Club Officers To Be Installed Today at Luncheon

Newly elected officers of the Henderson Service Club will be installed in ceremonies today at noon at the home of Mrs. Barbara Garvey, 639 Burton.

Outlining the year's activities and contributions to the community of the club, Mrs. Zorio stated that as a fund raising project the club held a "Tasting Tea" last April. They sponsored the July 4 celebration for the community, donated money for the purchase of helmets for the reserve police officers of the city, and donated money for the Barbara Moritz Scholarship fund.

A $300 donation was made to the city recreation department for the park near the swimming pool, and food was given to a needy family for Christmas.

Another fund raising event was a rummage sale, and the club is helping in the Vincent Memorial Fund dance. A Dime-a-Dip dinner, held last Saturday at the St. Peter's hall, was declared a success, and club members are looking forward to another year of activities to aid worthy projects for the city.

BOULDER FACILITY

Medicare Accounts for 20% Of Hospital Patients — Report

"Medicare had a very noticeable impact on Boulder City Hospital in 1967," Cathryn Akers, administrator, reported to the board of trustees at the annual meeting Monday night.

She stated that approximately 20 per cent of the patients admitted came under the program and more elderly people were admitted than ever before in the history of the hospital.

Mrs. Akers pointed out that accounting, auditing and utilization requirements of the federal government have added a tremendous work load to the office, medical records and nursing department as well as the medical staff.

"It is difficult to say whether Medicare has added to the financial security of the hospital because the amount of reimbursement for these patients is only the actual cost of the service given and no actual margin of profit over operating expense that will be needed for future expansion, but neither are there uncollectable accounts. Payments, have been current in almost all cases," she commented.

It was announced that future facilities will be built on the present site as adjacent property becomes available. The hospital purchased the Robert Welsh home last June.

The community facility received a quit claim deed in October 1964 for approximately 26 acres in the Buchanan Blvd. area for a sum of $1 but it was with the stipulation that the land could not be used for anything other than a hospital or it would revert back to the city.

Mrs. Akers reported that with the help of community projects, the ambulance fund totaled $6,400 toward a $8,971 vehicle which is expected to be delivered about Feb. 15.

The medical staff consists of Dr. James B. French, chief; Dr. Robert A. Oster, secretary; Dr. Thomas S. White, Dr. A. A. Washer, Dr. Elmer Lee and Dr. James Y. Clarke.

Courtesy is extended to 24 other members of the medical profession.

The board of trustees includes: Byron L. Miller, president; Warren V. Turner, vice president; Analetha Wilson, treasurer; Eloise Blue, secretary; Isabel Austin, Lucile Burt, Charlene Connolly, Frank Jensen, Luth Jensen, Alice Koontz, Rola Richey, Douglas Robinson, Jr., Kenneth Swallow and O. W. Clark.

The above officers were re-elected for another term Monday night.

Statistics for 1967 reveal there were 159 births and 41 deaths. Percentage of occupancy was 51 with an average daily census of 24. Payroll for the year was $249,975.93 for 61 employees.

Betty La Comb is the first woman to ever be selected to the board of directors for the club.

Democratic Club Chartered By Central Committee of Demos

A two-year battle over recognition as the official Democratic Club of Henderson, was ended Monday night when Curley Price, Democratic Central Committee chairman, presented Jack Hallahan, president of the original Henderson Democratic Club, with a charter.

Hallahan announced that there will be an open meeting of all Democrats in Henderson Tuesday, Jan. 30, the place to be announced later.

In presenting the charter, Price announced that he had previously decided that he would not present a charter to either club until they dissolved their differences. In December the central committee met with both clubs and both clubs agreed to disorganize and combine by electing a new slate of officers.

"The one club did not keep its word," Price said, "that is why I decided to charter this club."

Attending the meeting with Price was Jean Hardy, vice chairman of the central committee, who Price credited with being one of the outstanding Democrats in Henderson, along with her husband Wilbur, prior to his employment with the federal government.

Also attending the meeting with Price was Ed Kovacks, of the central committee. Price stressed the fact that the Democrats must unite for the coming election. He stated that "there is a division, that is how we lose elections."

Officers of the chartered Democratic Club are Hallahan, president; Joe Charbonneau, vice president; Lorna Kesterson, secretary; Leon Sullivan, treasurer; and members of the board are Helen Klann, Lorin Williams, Neil Twitchell, J. T. Blazzard, Jean Hardy, James I. Gibson, and Fritz Crisler.

The form is required by the government for any federal aid programs sought by the city, including funds applied for water expansion programs.

The form is also required for the housing program which will be entered into by the Clark County Housing Authority in the construction of public housing.

The council, last Monday night, gave tentative approval to an agreement with the Clark County Housing for tax exempt housing with provisions for a portion of the rent to be paid to the city for services.

Bob Downing of the Housing Authority, left Wednesday for San Francisco where he will meet with officials of the Housing and Urban Development program on the new construction program.

Letters to the Editor

Hi,
Here I sit, doing nothing. When I pick up a magazine and read a letter from a G.I. stationed in Vietnam, he writes about riots, LSD, and anti-war. He also writes about his girl that sent him a letter telling him about her date with so-and-so, how she hated school, and all her friends were on LSD and smoking "pot."

In case you're wondering, I am in the navy stationed in Spain. I am writing to let you know that over here, and I know men in Vietnam, can forget why he is serving his country if his country's people forget him. I am lucky I have a lot of people that send Christmas cards and letters that I did not even know and you people from the Henderson Rotary Club. Many don't have that luck, so for them and myself, I want to thank you for your letters and cards.

I am sorry to say that I am not from Henderson, I am from Boulder City, but from your letter, I would be proud to say I did come from there. I, for one, am not ashamed of the uniform I wear and hope that people will learn that times have changed. It is difficult for us to decide exactly what is right or wrong. That is why we are fighting, for our freedom, so that we can decide. In your letter you said, "we are not embarrassed to sing 'God Bless America,' and we still get a little choked up when we see our flag being paraded down Water street." Over here in Spain, we cannot fly the US flag on the station.

A few months ago I had my Scout Troop fly the U.S. Flag and I can say I was choked up and I think the boys were too, for after we got done, no one said anything for a few minutes. So when you don't have it, that is the time you miss it the most.
So thanks again for your letter and could you thank the Boulder City News and Henderson Home News for me?

P.S. I was going to send this letter to the Rotary club of Henderson, but I think it would be nicer for other people to see what they are doing for the people in uniform. Also for the people that don't even know they send letters and cards at Xmas time. Also I should like to thank your newspaper for help.

Dear Sirs:
I am 2nd Lt. James Lampson, a 1963 graduate of Basic High School.

My grandparents send me your articles on home-town boys in the service. I think this is a very good series, as servicemen that are stationed far away from home are very pleased to receive letters or cards from their friends who might not know the addresses. I hope you keep the series going because it is great for morale. Could you possibly send me the addresses of Paul Sloan and Jason Springate, both of whom are in the Navy, I believe.

Sincerely,
2nd Lt. James Lampson

Dear Sirs:
I'm writing this letter of appreciation to everyone at the Home News who had a hand in sending me that wonderful Christmas present. The selection of dehydrated drinks is excellent—and what a brilliant gift idea for a soldier. I have already had several chances to use your 'drinks.' I'm in a signal unit, so we spend numerous days in the field practicing our communications. What a pleasant change from the daily rations of "C's," to be able to fix oneself a cup of tea, etc.

My APO address doesn't give one a clue as to my whereabouts, so I'll just add that I am stationed in Alaska, near Anchorage. This is an exciting state and I've given serious thought to the idea of living here after my army hitch. However there is still my education to consider. I had finished 2 1/2 years at Indiana University when they drafted me. I'll either return to Bloomington, Ind. or transfer to UC, Berkeley for my last year and one half.

Well, I must close now. Thanks again for the Christmas gift.
Sincerely,
Ladd Coates

WOLVES BEAT EAGLES IN MAT MATCH

By MIKE PALMIRA

Boulder City wrestlers have had a tough time so far and hope to snap their losing streak tonight against Rancho High.

On the 11th B.C. faced Clark High of Las Vegas and lost 53-8. Clark is the strongest team in Las Vegas this year.

It placed third in the Southern Zone Conference last year, and won this year's Christmas Invitational. The only two winning members for Boulder Jan. 11 were the Walter brothers, Brian and Burke.

On Jan. 13 the Eagles traveled to Clark once again—this time to participate in a quadrangular meet with Basic, Gorman and Clark. The Basic Wolves handed Boulder a 36-14 loss. Winners of the match were Steve Madrigal with a pin and Tom Blake, Brian and Burke Walter decisioning their opponents.

On the same day the Gorman Gaels defeated Boulder 43-16 with the same members winning for B.C. again.

Jan. 18 the Basic Wolves invaded Boulder City and walk away with a 47-13 win. It was Boulder's first home match. Once again the Walter brothers showed their class by winning for B.C. Madrigal had a decision and Hamilton Moore, a tie.

Basic mat results—

105 lbs. Glover (b) pinned Blake (BC) 1:25 of 1st period.
114 lbs. Madrigal (BC) decision Call (B) 11-3.

Happy Friends Blue Birds
The Happy Friends Blue Bird group has had a busy fall. The first meeting was held the first Thursday after school started. A new member, Karen Opher, joined the group.

They had a cook-out at the city park, visited the office of the Henderson HOME NEWS, and visited Julie's Magic Wand for Dolls, and she gave each girl a small gift.

They also attended the Blue Bird Songfest at Basic Elementary School. They made scrubbers for their Mothers and pencil holders for the Fathers as Christmas gifts. The Christmas party was held Dec. 21, gifts were exchanged and they made Cheerio Christmas trees to take home. The last meeting they made paper sack puppets and acted out different Fairy Tales.

Those attending the meeting were: Karen Opher, Jana Struthers, Theresa Gonzales, Susan Henderson, Lori Colston, Jamie Frecke, Vickie Dames, Corry Herman, Aletha Snowden, Cathy Wilkenson, Leader, Mrs. Sandra Herman and assistant leader, Mrs. Covia Struthers.

Gay Blue Birds
Leader: Mary Lou Jacobs
The newly elected officers of this group opened the meeting with everyone present. A game of ball was enjoyed by the girls with refreshments served following the game.

The Blue Bird pin was found by one of the Joyful Blue Birds, and was returned to the group. They expressed their appreciation.
Blue Bird Shelly Heavin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary P. Bowers, 103 Ocotillo, was injured last Tuesday afternoon. She is in Rose de Lima, Room 305, and would love hearing from her friends. Her Camp Fire friends wish her a quick recovery.

Those present at the meeting were Marlene Ackerman, Sharon Frazier, Anita Gattions, Shelly Heavin, Linda Henderson, Shelly Jacobs, Eva Jones, Cindy Schultz, Chris Moss, Kathleen Smith, Belinda Wheelock, Angela Wilkinson, Tamara Wilkinson.

Pi-da-ki-ya Camp Fire Girls
Pi-da-ki-ya is the name chosen by Group 54 (fourth graders of Basic Elementary). This name means "to make glad", and to give service, the slogan of the Camp Fire Girls, Inc., is to make others glad.

Also during the Jan. 18 meeting, each girl wrote to Shelly Heavin, a Blue Bird that was injured two days before. A copy of the Indian Symbol story that each girl has been writing in Camp Fire was bound together and given to Shelly.

During the first and third meetings in January, the girls have concentrated upon the recording of their honor beads and gathering newspaper clippings and receipts for their notebooks.

High School Journalism Directory Set

A directory of Nevada high school journalism has been published by the Department of Journalism at the University of Nevada. The directory lists the high school newspapers and yearbooks in the state, with considerable data about each.

Included in the listings are names of advisors and editors, circulation figures and mechanical specifications.

The directory is issued each year by the department as a public service. Business firms and other interested organizations may obtain a copy at no charge by contacting Mrs. Rhoda Anderson, department secretary, Department of Journalism, University of Nevada, Reno.

On Jan. 4, scribe, Julie Quadlin, read the minutes of the meetings in December which were approved by the group. The girls were taught a few principles of how to conduct a business meeting.

On Jan. 11, the treasurer, Letitia Medina, brought the group up-to-date about the group funds. This meeting was ably conducted by the president, Tina LeBlanc. The girls also set their goals of boxes of candy to be sold during the coming candy sale Feb. 2-26. They decided that the group's profit will aid as many girls as possible to attend residence camp this summer.

control specialists at grades GS-6, 8 and 10. A special provision of the examination is a training agreement allowing for promotion from grade GS-6 to GS-8 after only six months of service. Excellent promotional opportunities exist at the GS-8 and GS-10 levels also. A GS-6 earns $6,137 per year, a GS-8—$7,384, and a GS-10—$8,821.

Carl A. Bonstead, executive office of the Interagency Board of U.S. Civil Service Examiners for Nevada, said that all applicants will be required to participate in a written test. In addition, those who pass the written test must show that they possess sufficient experience and/or training to be able to perform the duties of the position. To find out more about these fine opportunities, you should contact your federal job information center at the federal building, 300 Booth Street in Reno.

Residents of other areas may obtain information at most post offices and the larger federal agencies.

Students May Have Income Tax Refund

Students, who worked part-time or during the summer may have a refund coming on their 1967 Federal income tax returns, Warren A. Bates, District Director of Internal Revenue said today.

Students are required to file a tax return if they earned $600 or more. If they earned less than $600 and taxes were withheld from wages by their employers, they should file a return in order to obtain a refund of the tax withheld from their wages.

Unmarried students who earn less than $900 will not owe any Federal income tax. They are entitled to claim the usual $600 personal exemption, plus a $300 minimum standard deduction.

Students are entitled to claim their own personal exemption when filing a tax return, Bates said. Parents who furnish more than one-half the cost of support for their child who is a full-time stu-

BOSS MAN — Gerald A. Samson has been named construction engineer for the first stage of the $81 million So. Nev. Water Project. Samson, a native of Colorado, has worked 36 years for the federal government as an engineer. First stage construction, costing an estimated $46,650,000, will begin next April with the awarding of the first contract for a 4.3 mile-long, 10 foot diameter tunnel, a part of the aqueduct system that will carry Colorado River water from Lake Mead thru River Mountains to the Las Vegas Valley.

Minimum Wage Act in Effect Feb. 1, Labor Dept. Warns

Business firms were reminded today that the minimum wages set by the Fair Labor Standards Act go up on Feb. 1.

The reminder came from Milton K. Hedberg, regional director of the Western office of the U.S. Labor Department's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions.

Hedberg pointed out that the minimum for most covered workers advances to $1.60 an hour from $1.40. The remaining covered employees will be entitled to $1.15 an hour minimum, instead of the present $1.

Workers who will be due the $1.60 minimum are those engaged in employment which was covered before the Act was amended in 1966. Included are employees individually engaged in interstate commerce or in the production of goods for interstate commerce, or employed in certain large enterprises. They are also due time and one-half their regular rate after 40 hours a week.

The $1.15 minimum will apply to workers made subject to the Act by the 1966 amendments. Hedberg said these include employees or large ho-

HOW'S YOUR SENSE OF SCENT?

Would you wear an evening gown to the office? Lower that incredulous eyebrow, young lady, you may be guilty right this moment of wearing nighttime "attire" to your daytime job!

Madame Rochas, President of Parfums Marcel Rochas in Paris, reports that some women have trouble distinguishing between daytime and nighttime scents. She compares exotically scented nighttime perfumes to martinis—"never, never before 6 P.M."

The best for nine-to-five wear are colognes and toilet waters, worn, if possible, in the same type of fragrance as you wear at night in perfume. Or if you've made home-making your career, perfume can play an important role in keeping the honeymoon in your marriage, if you heed Madame Rochas' suggestions.

Don't wear a perfume your husband doesn't like. If he expresses a dislike for a scent, it's not for you. Display bottles of your favorite scents on your dressing table. Let him know your perfume habits, and holidays and other special occasions will keep you well supplied. Don't overdo a good thing. Madame Rochas compares applying an exotic perfume on an apron hem or a daytime dress to serving a vintage champagne at breakfast, lunch and dinner. Don't let the multitude of exotic names fool you. Every scent falls into one of seven basic categories. The trick is to figure out which type—floral, woody, spicy, etc.—is best for you. Experiment with other scents. Perfume habits can be lifetime things, and you may be missing out on perfumes that may be custom-made for your personality and looks. For a sparkling, vivacious beauty, "Madame Rochas" is completely gay and provocative. "Femme"—a fruit-and-floral scent is for the woman who's knowing enough to combine an earthy worldliness with supreme graciousness. For the lady in a ballgown mood, there's "La Rose," a single-floral aura. Take advantage of your favorite scent. "A drop here and there on pillow cases and bed sheets; a subtle spray directed at the hem of your nightie, even a touch in your hair," says Madame Rochas, "will imbue the master bedroom with you, you, you!"

DEPARTMENT NEWS:
Three more Henderson firemen, including myself, will be attending Fire Service courses at NSU this semester. My advisors must have read some of my articles, they said I should take Class "A" (dumb) English this semester also. Our basketball team has been improving each week and will soon be in shape for competition. Of course we are always ready to beat the PD in a game of basketball. Our Scout Troop held a car wash last Saturday. The boys wish to thank everyone for their help, especially Joe Zack's Texaco for their assistance. Also, we still need more boys to join this new troop; so come on boys, it's lots of fun to be a scout.

Our second line of defense, the 1941 Mack Fire Truck, is back in service at the Pittman station following repairs from the accident last November. A fire safety lecture, "Make your homes safe from fires" was presented to the Henderson Cadet Drill Team last week. They were a very impressive group of boys and girls. We distributed "March-of-Dimes" coin containers over town, and I hope we'll need a bigger truck to handle the extra weight load when they are picked up.

FIRE SERVICE NEWS: At last, the fire service is beginning to receive recognition on the many problems that confront the nation's firefighters. A major bill, passed by Congress last year, called the Fire Research and Safety Act, will provide support for: 1. Investigations of fires as to their causes, frequency of occurrence, nature and severity.

RUMMAGE SALE SET SATURDAY
A rummage sale, sponsored by the Calvary Assembly of God Church in Victory Village, next door to the HOME NEWS office, will be held Saturday, Jan. 27, from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. A large variety of items will be offered for sale.

MARRIED 60 YEARS — Mr. and Mrs. Bert R. Gillaspies are shown on their 60th wedding anniversary on Jan. 6 which was celebrated quietly with a dinner at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Roy Blue.

Bert R. Gillaspies Celebrate 60 Years of Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Bert R. Gillaspies, 6 Montana Way, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary on Jan. 6, at a quiet dinner at the home of their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Blue. Also present for the celebration were their granddaughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Press. The Gillaspies, who have lived in Henderson since 1942, were married in Atwood, Kans. They lived in Trenton, Neb. They came to Henderson to work at Basic Magnesium Inc., where Gillaspies was a guard. He later worked at WECCO before he retired.

An earlier celebration was held to honor the Gillaspies during the Christmas holidays when a son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gillaspies, came to visit them. Gillaspies is a professor at Indiana State University and had to come during the Xmas holidays. Another son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gillaspies of New Mexico, will pay their visit later. He is head metallurgist in the U.S. Smelting and Refinery Co. out of Salt Lake City. Other sons are Gerald Gillaspies, captain in the fire department in Las Vegas, and Leonard Gillaspies of Sparks. The elder Gillaspies and his twin brother, Burl, celebrated their 79th birthdays on Aug. 21. They gave their parents a portable television set for their anniversary, so Gillaspies can keep up with his favorite sport, baseball.

WHO'S PROTECTED?
What does the standard automobile policy say about persons insured under their liability provisions? It states that coverage applies to the named insured, his spouse if resident of the household, and any other person using the automobile with permission of the named insured. Now what will the policy do for these people? It will defend damage suits brought against them resulting from the use of the automobile and pay all legally obligated amounts up to the policy limits. What will the policy NOT do? It will not give coverage to a car thief (this does not constitute "permissive use"), nor will the liability policy seek to recover damages in behalf of the insured from a third party who may have been at fault. court report

Dogs stole the show in municipal court Tuesday as 14 masters were cited to appear on charges of leaving them at large, and five had no licenses. Edward A. House, 34, pleaded not guilty to driving under the influence, and Judge Milton Sant set trial for Feb. 29. Lucio F. Baca, 36, was fined $125 on a DUI charge. Two youths, Wendle K. Greenhail, 18, and Russell Hildebrand, 19, were dismissed on charges of being minors in possession of alcohol when they presented certified papers that they were reporting for military service. Robert W. Cameron, 19, pleaded not guilty to being a minor in possession and trial was set for Feb. 29. The March of Dimes, fighting birth defects, says a quarter-million babies are born in the U.S. every year with significant defects.

Chism's Report To The People Of Henderson DID YOU SEE IT?

Last Thursday — the airplane — flying low over the South 40 (our 40 acres south of Black Mountain Golf Course where we hope to build your new home). We were doing the aerial topography work. (We can get it within 1/10 of a foot—1 1/4 inches.) All of this means we are moving rapidly ahead with our land planning and we also have our house plans in the preliminary stages. We named the subdivision "Highland Hills," which seems appropriate and we hope you like it. There is a great deal of paperwork and processing to change a mountain side into a well-designed and beautiful area of attractive homes. Please bear with us. You will not regret it when you see what we will have to offer. Call us in the meantime. We would like to hear from interested prospects. HANK CHISM 612 D North Highland Drive Las Vegas, Nevada 384-3278

Plans of mice 'n men often git messed up.

My plans wuz to have a column on the new proposed traffic code but after thumbin' through the first 25 sheets of that 57 page mess I'm gonna need a little more time to see if our city fathers are serious or if it's just another mistake.

I'll tell you, everythin' is covered in this traffic code from a gal sittin' on the driver's lap to a traffic engineer. Now the law agin a gal sittin' on the driver's lap is fine—I think it's dangerous.

Thirty years ago I wudden't agree with it, but today I will. Now fer the traffic engineer, that's nice fer a big city but doncha think our 5th and 6th grade skool kids are doin' a fine job with our traffic problems?

I understand a whole bunch of these new rules in the traffic code are fer the future. It's kinda like President Johnson signin' a bill raisin' the price of stamps—that's fine—but he ain't got no stamps to sell—yet it's a law.

I jest ain't able to figger L.B.J. out. While watchin' him on tv he gits to talkin' in the billions of dollars an' I be dad blame if he didn't let somebody louse up a six cent stamp sale.

It seems like the pore feller can't do nothin' right.

Every time he lets lil Hubert off the leash he comes back with red paint and over-ripe tomatoes all over him.

I wudden't worry near so much if Hubert wud just stay on the White House lawn an' play with L.B.J.'s beagles.

Speakin' of the President, I'm uppa stump tryin' to figger out who wud make a good candidate come votin' time.

Since Guvner Romney got a good brain washin' a spell back he can't figger out which side of the fence to get on

(And I'm serious).

Richard Nixon might toss caution to the wind as well as his hat in the ring but size seven and three eights jest ain't big enuf fer the voters.

Guvner Rockefeller has got some thinkin' to do. He's kinda like one of our councilmen, defeat of any kind wud bring on a nervous breakdown.

Guvner Reagan of California can't leave his heart in one place and his sweet talkin' in another. The White House and Hollywood are too far apart. On them bases I don't figger on him runnin'.

Now, as fer as I'm concerned there ain't nobody left but L.B.J.

The way I got it figgered, he had better get Lady Bird busy cleanin' a path home fer our boys in Vietnam or back to his ranch fer good.

Wot's wrong with Twiggly fer president? At least she----- (censored)

Good Nite.

'Everything's Going To Be Real Good, Says Montrose Burn Victim

By LORNA KESTERSON

Just four months after 21-year-old Cleo Sharrock was burned over 75-per cent of his body from an explosion of the Benzene tanks at Montrose Chemical Co. in the Stauffer plant, he was welcomed home by his wife Carlene and son Michael, 18 months old.

The four months is just half as long as he had worked at the plant prior to the explosion, which killed one man and injured another besides Sharrock.

The long road back to recovery isn't completed yet, and the visit home is on a trial basis, but Sharrock is glad to be there. He still faces a series of operations of skin grafting which will allow him to raise his arms and close his hands, and plastic surgery on his ears.

It didn't take Michael any time at all to recognize his dad, but it is hard for him to understand why he doesn't bounce him on his knees and play with him like before. Mrs. Sharrock has visited her husband every day since the accident at Southern Nevada Memorial Hospital, leaving the baby with Mrs. Gordon Oscar, wife of a fellow plant worker of Sharrock's, but she is glad the worst is over.

Explosion

Speaking about the explosion, which happened in the evening of Sept. 15, 1967, Sharrock said, "all I know is that I was standing in the middle of the plant and the place lit up like day-light and then blew up. I hollared 'fire,' and there were two men who didn't know which way to run. I followed the fire showers and when I got outside a couple of fellows grabbed me and put the fire out on my clothes."

"John Shupback, the man who died, was farther back in the plant and caught all the flames. An ambulance took him to the hospital, but David Allsebrook and I were taken in cars. I was conscious all the time."

Sharrock, who weighed 210 pounds at the time of the accident, dropped down to 150 pounds and started deteriorating. Dr. Gerow, a specialist was flown in from Houston, Texas, advised that he should receive 6,000 calories of food a day. He has now worked his weight back up to 180 pounds.

After the initial treatment at Rose de Lima Hospital, which probably saved his life, he was transferred to Southern Nevada Memorial Hospital where he was kept in isolation for three months.

Courage

Bob Malarky, who has been Sharrock's constant nurse through the ordeal, gives Sharrock credit for his survival because of his young age and healthy body prior to the accident, his desire to get home to his wife and baby, and his good sense of humor. Sharrock gives credit to Malarky for his part in his recovery. "The reason I had a good sense of humor was because Malarky had one and I couldn't let him get ahead of me," he said. "He's been wonderful."

Malarky discussed the "bad times" they had. He said they almost shook their heads when they would take his temperature and find it 106 degrees. Another time he got a blood-clot in his left leg and thought he would lose it.

Mr. and Mrs. Sharrock were both endless in their praise for the people who have helped them during their long ordeal. Sharrock was sincerely grateful for Plant Manager Hal Wurzer who he said called or visited him almost every day. The plant gave him a color television set and his fellow workers took up a collection and donated the money to him and his family. Mrs. Dennis Hafen did all of their ironing while Mrs. Sharrock visited her husband, and there were many others who showed their friendship by assisting.

Sharrock said he hopes to have full use of his arms, hands and feet. "Everything's going to be real good," he said. The family resides at 28 D Victory Village.

Tournament Winners
Last Sunday the Monthly Tournament for members of Black Mountain Country Club was held. It was a Mixed Scotch event. Winning individual prizes were Marge Pitts and Dalby Shirley. Ann Stebbins and Cliff Pitts, Dorothy Wade and Al Wengert and the team of Do Stiver and John Fry. Congratulations you lucky (?), skilled (?) people! There was a large turn-out of golfers so they had lots of competition. Following the tournament Dan Furse served a delicious buffet with the new keep-hot equipment.

Large Participation
Last week-end the Black Mountain Club was jumping. So many people took part in the Sunday Tournament and the Saturday night steak dinner with games after dinner. Many winners went home Saturday night happy with their prize winnings. Never a dull week at Black Mountain!

Georgia and Larry Collum Big Winners
When Beth and George Stewart were transferred east they generously offered their full membership at Black Mountain and their electric golf cart to be used in a raffle. The lucky winners were announced after the drawing last Saturday night. Congratulations to Georgia and Larry Collum of Boulder City. They joined us at the club Sunday for the buffet and everyone was right there expressing their happiness that they are now one of us.

Ladies Golf Meet
Last week the golfing members of the Black Mountain Ladies Association held their monthly breakfast meeting preceding the weekly tournament. Winning this ABCD event was the team of Laura Carrado, Elaine Raney, Martha Chase and Phyllis Maguire.

Other winners of weekly tournaments announced were Ann Stebbins, Dorothy Wade, Annabel Miller, Margaret Jamison and Katie Shankland.

For the month of November Helen Bowser won both Golfer of the Month and Medal of Golf. The latter brought her a silver engraved tray and the former, a trophy.

The month of December saw Phyllis Maguire winning the silver tray for Medal of Golf and Laura Carrado winning the trophy for Golfer of the Month. Nice golfing gals!

How About Dan Drew As a Golfer!
Dan Drew, a member of Black Mountain, with his handicap subtracted, had a net zero on the No. 5 hole last week! Holing out with a 5 iron on his second shot from about 150 yards he had an eagle. With his two strokes on the hole this made a flat nothing on the hole. Some fun!

Glen Muchow Recuperates
We are all happy to see Glen out on the course again after his severe bout with pneumonia. He was stricken while visiting daughter, Glenna, in Greenburg, Kans. and was in the hospital there for 12 days. You are looking good again, Glen. Take care of yourself!

Rocky Mountain PGA
Next Monday, the 29th, the Las Vegas area of the Rocky Mountain PGA will hold a Pro-Am at Black Mountain Country Club. We hope that we can announce next week that our pro, Bill Farkas, and his team of three amateurs have won.

Let's Support Invitational
Next Sunday the Black Mountain Country Club is having its special Mixed Best Ball Invitational, which will see teams of men and women vying for prizes. This is unique in our area. Entree fee includes a practice round on Saturday plus dinner that night, followed by Special Events. It is anticipated that many in the Las Vegas area will want to enter this one.

Wednesday Buffets
So many of our gal golfers who play on Wednesdays join in the card games afterward and want their husbands to join them for dinner at the club. Danny is now prepared to offer a buffet dinner on Ladies Day evenings. The buffet will be served about 5:30. This is a genuine Ladies Day when they don't have to go home and cook dinner.

Big Social Event Coming
The Annual Installation Banquet at Black Mountain is one of the biggest social events on our calendar. This is to remind you that it is coming up on Saturday, Feb. 3. How about getting your reservations in now?

club, Danny is now prepared to offer a buffet dinner on Ladies Day evenings. The buffet will be served about 5:30. This is a genuine Ladies Day when they don't have to go home and cook dinner.

WORLD APPALOOSA CHAMP TO BE CHOSEN IN NOV.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Oldham, of Boulder City, have been appointed by Roy Young, manager of the World Championship Appaloosa Performance Show, to work with the national Appaloosa Horse Club Inc. on plans preparatory to holding the championship event at the Stardust Horseman's Park, on the grounds of the Stardust Hotel, Nov. 5, 6 and 7. Oldham will work directly with Young in making personal contacts and serving as assistant when Young, whose home base is Independence, La., is out of town. Mrs. Oldham will work on publicity of the program serving as assistant to Fred McKenna, public relations director of the Stardust Hotel, the sponsoring unit for the national event; and with Don Walker, public relations director and editor of the Appaloosa News for the national Appaloosa Horse Club, with headquarters at Moscow, Idaho. For the past several years Mrs. Oldham has been a contributor to the Appaloosa News having two feature stories in this past year in the April and September issues of the publication. The Oldhams are members of the Appaloosa Horse Club, Inc., and the Las Vegas Appaloosa Club, Inc. and currently have a band of Appaloosas at their Boulder City Horsemen's Association corral including their stallion Handfull, Jr. Grand Champion, Sahwave Regional Appaloosa Club 1964 - Fallon; and Kansas Twister, Grand and Reserve Champion-mare. A third Grand Champion mare was recently sold to Mrs. Alan Ladd.

Through encouraging remarks by Bill Belknap, internationally known photographer now on the State Park Recreation Commission and a local resident, the Oldhams in 1964, after securing their first pair of Appaloosas, set in motion the activities that resulted in the establishment of the Las Vegas Appaloosa Horse Club which has a membership covering all communities in Southern Nevada from Tonopah south.

Mark Swain, former Boulderite, and his wife Joanne were instrumental in securing the national event for Nevada including among other activities they planned for entertainment of the Appaloosa National Board of Directors in their recent meeting here, a cocktail party at their home in Desert Inn Estates. The Swains were charter members of the Las Vegas Appaloosa Club.

Dressing The Part

At one time, a hostess wore very understated clothes so that she wouldn't upstage her guests, but today the entertaining woman can appear in a marvelous variety of beautiful outfits.

I'm all for the hostess dressing the part - and today's elegant lounging ensembles, hostess pyjamas, and really smart catfuns, allow her to be glamorously "stage center" at her own party. One of my favorite outfits is a black jersey leotard which I wear under a swirling black chiffon skirt bordered by swinging frout-frout at the hem. I'm very down on the mannish little pantsuits that Paris pundits have been promoting; they may be nice for le sport, but I feel they're taboo for any kind of party, no matter how informal the setup.

The clothes a hostess chooses depends on the type of party she's giving, the weather, and very important, the climate of opinion in her area. Gold lamé pyjamas might be right for a California "do" or an after-theatre party in Chicago, but if it's going to cause morning-after talk in the hostess' home town, it's not appropriate. For a hostess, like an actress, looking the part isn't enough; it's the performance that really counts. She has to circulate, pick wall-flowers out of corners, replenish canape trays, check that food and drink are not running out, see to it that non-drinkers in the crowd have chilled Pepsi-Cola or fruit punches. In short, the hostess has to be the director of her production - everywhere at once. Pre-planning is the real key to any party's success. A smart hostess outfit, no matter how striking, can't compensate for too few ice cubes!

Manpower Dev. Training Projects Approved for Vo-Tech Center

Manpower Development and Training Act projects have been approved for Clark, Washoe and Elko counties in Nevada, Senators Alan Bible and Howard Cannon announced today.

Bible and Cannon said the projects will provide up to 52 weeks of training for 122 unemployed workers in auto mechanics, farming, typing, stenography, and computer programming.

Three Clark County projects in auto mechanics and programming, conducted at the Southern Nevada Vocational - Technical Training Center in Las Vegas, will cost a total of $159,483. Of this the federal MDTA contribution will be $154,212, Bible and Cannon said.

Training will be in auto mechanics and programming.

Two Washoe County projects in typing and stenography, conducted at Wooster High School, will cost a total of $66,561, of which $4,590 will be the Federal contribution, the Nevada senators reported.

Bible and Cannon said the Elko County project in farming, to be conducted at Elko High School, will cost $33,636 with a Federal contribution of $32,754.

Funds cover training costs and allowances to trainees and are approved jointly by the Department of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare.
