The dog race bill is now on the floor of the Nevada state assembly.

Having already passed the state senate, the bill needs only an okay by the 40 member assembly to move forward on its way to the governor's signature, which makes it become the law of the state.

Governor Paul Laxalt has told Henderson's mayor, Bob Hampton, that if and when the bill reaches his desk, he would

The bill came out of the commerce committee yesterday after nearly a month of political maneuvering, featuring attempts of anti-dog adherents in the committee to stall out this session of the legislature by watering it down with amendments and delaying tactics.

The log-jam was broken yesterday morning when Henderson's Art Espinoza won over Don Mello and with it came the necessary fourth out of seven votes to bring it to the assembly floor.

Cheered by the committee's action yesterday morning, the Henderson contingent was cast into gloom toward last nightfall as the word came to them that the big gaming interests fighting the bill had now reached deeper into its bag of tricks in preparing for the floor fight scheduled for either today or tomorrow

What the tricks were that came out of that bag could not be ascertained, but whatever it was it swung some of the pro votes to no votes, and whether the Henderson side can get the necessary 21 votes to pass. As of press time, the unofficial count showed the original 20 commitments had dropped to 16, but there were still ten on the maybe list. From this maybe list must be won the votes to win. This list includes Henderson's own Harry Reid and Boulder City's own Bryan Hafen, of all things! And what's more -

Woodrow Wilson!
A plane load of interested and influential Henderson citizens were due to take off this morning to lend whatever help they can to Hersh Trumbo, Sam Boyd, Art Espinoza and Hal Smith—as this last ditch fight for a new industry takes on the biggest guns imaginable of the Howard Hughes-Bill Harrah — Harold's Club

At this writing, it looks to this writer that it's time for all of us to cross-our fingers, or pray, or start a grand jury investigation of big gaming's role in fighting the bill.

The inspection by Bilbray and Byrne came as a result of owners of lots and homes in Fairview Estates complaining that a nearby federal using project nearing completion had already depreciated the value of their residential property and would continue to depreciate it further.

Already a number of owners had put up their lots for sale and had dropped their offering price of $3,500 to $2,800 with no takers. Owners of eight homes constructed or under construction-homes in the $30,000-$50,000 class - expressed resigned bitterness that they were "stuck" - this inasmuch as they would suffer a considerable loss if they placed their property on the sales market.

POTASH VISITORS — The fifth grade class of the Park Village School visited American Potash & Chemical Corporation's Hendesron plant. As one of their school projects the teacher (Mrs. Ensign) requested each student to write a letter to the plants in Henderson regarding air pollution. Henry S. Curtis, plant manager for AP&CC, felt this was such a worthwhile project that, when he received these letters, he invited the class to make a tour of the plant and let them see what American Potash is doing to help prevent air pollution. The plant will conduct plant tours for the general public during the hours from 10 a.m. until noon on April 26th.

Rebekah Officer Another Henderson Pretty Visits Lodge

By ESTHER SHIPP

When you join a Rebekah Lodge, you take an obligation to serve others, it was emphasized in the talk given by district deputy president Melba Caesar, when she mde her official visit to Cactus Rebekah Lodge No. 40, IOOF.

She explained why she chose each thing in her program of the year. Working hands reflect our lives and what we are doing with them. The carnation was her deceased husband's favorite flower. Pink reminds her of the loveliness of a small child and blue represents constancy, such as that of a true-blue friend. She selected "How Great Thou Art" because life would be dark without the promise of God's love, and 'No Man is an Island" because we cannot retreat from life without disturbing the plan of creation. She closed by reading the Prayer of St. Francis, and reciting the secret work.

Mrs. Caesar's hymn was sung by Linda Cooper and Ruth Gates, accompanied by Betty Hammer at the piano. A short skit was directed by Mary Lou Harper. Dolores Gatlin was the Wizard of Odd, and Linda Cooper was her silly assistant, who "found" and delivered a gift to the district deputy.

Other Rebekah Assembly officers from District 7 were honored and given a small remembrance. There were cers present. Surprise visitors were Alice Smiddy, president of the Rebekahs Assembly and her husband William, Grand Herald.

Others introduced were past grand masters Neil H. Holmes and John H. Shipp, who are also trustees of the Grand Enpast commander and adjut-ant of the Department Coun-cil Patriarchs Militant of Arizona; Helen Leonard, marshal of the Rebekah Assembly; Letha Weaver, grand musi cian; Mildred Kine, joint youth committee; Leola Scott, Assembly soloist; Mary Lou Hopper, press correspondent and deputy marshal; Carol Hodge, Melba Caesar and Carol Doolin, Assembly aides.

The coin drill was given to Mrs. Caesar, toward her project of furnishing a room at the Sierra Home. It was also announced that a third District 7 dinner to raise money for the project will be held at 6 permanent metal grave markp.m., Saturday, April 19, in ers for use in the Boulder the IOOF hall in Las Vegas. Delegates elected to attend the Assembly in June were Helen Holmes, Mary Lou Hopper, Lola Jensen, Agnes Johnson, Mildred Foresman and Lorine McDougall resigned as card chairman, and Linda Cooper volunteered to take her place. Bernadene Zimmerman resigned from the decoration committee because of prospective eye surgry.

Before the meeting, a potluck supper was held, with several husbands as guests. The tables were decorated with flower arrangements,
