CITY LIFTS WATER RESTRICTIONS AS TANKS FILL

POLL TAKEN TO SAMPLE OPINION ON EAGLETON

One of the "hottest" items in the news over the past days has been the disclosure that Senator Thomas F. Eagleton had been hospitalized three times between 1960 and 1966 for treatment of exhaustion and depression.

Although a decision by McGovern regarding Eagleton's retention as his running mate may have already been made by the time the HOME NEWS reaches your doorstep, a random sampling of people's feelings on the issue was conducted and is presented below.

Most of those interviewed seemed to have a definite opinion on the matter, but the majority asked that their names not be used in connection with their comments.

The question asked was, "What action do you feel Senator McGovern should take regarding the keeping of his running partner, Senator Thomas Eagleton?"

A young lady on Basic Road — who admitted to being just old enough to vote — said, "I think the whole business of the mental health thing and the drunk driving charges is ridiculous. It's really too much — digging and twisting things out of proportion just to smear someone. It makes me mad. Unless there are things that I don't know about, I say McGovern should keep him on."

An Arkansas woman stated, "I feel that if he was good enough to be chosen in the first place, then he should be allowed to run. I agree with the statement he (Eagleton) made last night — that he doesn't have a skeleton in his closet."

Another woman, who also preferred to remain anonymous, stated, "If the public had all the true facts behind the charges, we'd be able to arrive at a better decision. I don't feel that we have all of the facts — I feel nobody has the true facts. As for the mental treatment, mental health is much better understood today — and it no longer carries the stigma that it once did. I don't feel it should be an issue."

A Magnesium St. resident said, "I have mixed feelings about it. I feel McGovern will probably drop him — if it was up to me, I'd probably keep him — but I don't feel it will really do the Party much good if he is kept on."

A phone call to a Hunter St. gentleman brought forth the response that "I feel far too much is being made about something way back in the past. Many people go through trying periods in their lives and seek help. I believe that it's what he (Eagleton) is like now that's important — not what happened years ago."

A couple on Arizona Way both stated that they really had no strong feelings one way or the other on the matter — that neither of them were "exactly enthralled" with either of the men.

A man on Carson Way was most emphatic and quick to express his feelings. "Drop him. It (the office of the presidency) requires a strong man at the helm. Eagleton's past has raised questions in people's minds that will never be answered away. We can't take the chance. I don't see that McGovern has any other choice if he wants to win."

It so happened that the vacationing HOME NEWS editor called in during the day and the question was put to him. His reply is as follows:

"I think that McGovern should drop Eagleton because the American people at this time, cannot stand any more trouble. If McGovern should win and by some chance Eagleton as Vice President would have to take over — people would worry about his making the wrong decision, for example in our dealings with Russia, the Vietnam situation and countless other decisions a man in such high office has to make. It could well happen, it has happened.

FIGHT LEADS TO ARREST OF TWO

A Las Vegas man was taken into custody early Saturday morning as a result of an altercation at the Shanty Shanty Bar on Boulder Highway.

As police attempted to take Leonard R. Hollingback of Las Vegas to the station for booking, a woman rushed to Hollingback's aid and allegedly heaped such abuse on the officers that she, too, was taken into custody.

Authorities stated that Officer S. Maljurek of the Henderson Police Department was on routine patrol along the highway at approximately 1 a.m. Saturday when he noticed an apparent fight taking place in front of the bar.

The presence of the patrol car as it pulled into the lot caused the fracas to abruptly terminate, with most of the crowd immediately dispersing. Officer Maljurek reported that he observed a man with blood on his shirt and questioned him as to what had happened.

The man — later identified as Hollingback — is said to have replied that there was no problem, just a "simple misunderstanding."

Hollingback went back into the bar and the officer returned to the patrol car.

Suddenly a crowd of people rushed from the bar to report that a fight was again in progress. Officer Maljurek radioed for assistance and then went inside.

His report of the incident stated that Hollingback was involved in a fight with another male patron. The officer separated the two with some difficulty and placed Hollingback under arrest for disorderly conduct.

That might have been the end of the incident. It wasn't.

A woman identified by authorities as Juanita M. Desormeaux, also of Las Vegas, rushed to Hollingback's side and began hurling obscene oaths at the officer as well as refusing to allow Hollingback to be escorted to the patrol car.

The police report indicated that after repeated warnings were given the woman by officers — all of which she reportedly ignored — it was necessary to take her into custody along with Hollingback. She was charged with interfering with police.

Both Hollingback and Desormeaux were taken to the police station and booked, according to authorities.

GOING, GOING, GONE!—That could well have been the cry during last Saturday's food distribution at the Citizens For Community Action Building. The truck carried enough food for 100 families, according to Mr. Knight, (shown in center), and was completely emptied by noon. The local distribution is provided on the second and fourth Friday of each month by the Clark County Social Services Administration.

FROM THE POLICE BLOTTER

A loud healthy scream frightened away a pair of would-be prowlers from the home of a Kola St. resident early Saturday morning and prevented the possible theft or acts of vandalism to her vehicle.

Awakened shortly after 1 a.m. by noises from outside her window, the intended victim got out of bed and peered through the curtains to seek the source of the mysterious noises. She saw two unidentified men sitting in her car which was parked beside the house, according to authorities who later investigated the incident.

Deciding that immediate — and strong — action was necessary, the woman let forth an earsplitting scream which undoubtedly was magnified by the otherwise calm stillness of the night.

It worked. The anonymous duo promptly abandoned the vehicle and hightailed it through the victim's yard, vaulting a rear fence in their haste to get away.

Police were notified and promptly searched the area but were unable to locate the two suspects. An examination of the auto revealed no apparent damage, police stated.

Persons unknown attempted an unsuccessful entry into the Rasco Department Store on Boulder Highway during the night hours last Thursday.

Police reported that they received a call from Stanley Parker, store manager, on Friday morning reporting the incident.

Investigation revealed that access to the store had been sought by the potential thieves through a trap door located on the roof of the building. Fortunately, a chain used to secure the door from the inside prevented the unidentified prowlers from making good in their attempt.

According to the police report, the roof door was opened some three or four inches when Parker opened the store for business on Friday morning.

GUN ACCIDENT CAUSES INJURY

A Henderson resident was shot Saturday when a 12 gauge shotgun accidentally discharged at the Wheel Casino on Boulder Highway.

Barbara Ann Weaver was struck in the middle forehead and upper body by pellets and was taken to Rose de Lima Hospital where authorities reported she was treated for her injuries and released.

According to police, the incident occurred as an employee, Alice V. Nailen, passed through the door from the kitchen leading into the dining area. A double barreled shotgun on the dividing wall in the kitchen somehow was dislodged and fell from its location near the ice machine. It discharged and spewed pellets through the partially open doorway into the dining area.

Reports indicated that Ms. Nailen was also struck by the blast, sustaining

An apparently abandoned bicycle was spotted in front of the 7-11 store on Water St. on Friday, July 28, and was impounded by police until claimed by its owner.

According to authorities, the boy's green Schwinn 26 inch bicycle had been observed in front of the store for several days. When no one claimed it after a period of time, it was reported to authorities.

A records check by police failed to turn up any reports of missing bicycles matching the description of the wayward Schwinn.

It is currently being stored by police and may be claimed there by suitably identifying it.

A burglary of a local residence was reported to the Henderson Police Department on Saturday by Daner B. Durham, 7-D Lincoln, who told authorities that his home had been entered by unknown persons while he was away.

The thieves apparently entered the residence sometime between the evening of the 27th and noon on Saturday, according to police, who reported that entry was made through a front window.

Durham reported the disappearance of a portable TV, a portable radio, two watches and a 22 cal. rifle.

An investigation is being conducted by authorities.

The theft of a bicycle from a local residence was reported to local police over the weekend.

The missing bike was described as a boy's Schwinn 20 inch Stingray, green in color, with a white seat and high rise handlebars.

The disappearance was reported by Dorlene Werber, 413 Republic, who told police that the bicycle had actually been removed earlier in the week but that she had waited before reporting it as missing in the hopes that it would turn up.

CONTRACT SIGNED

Pacific Engineering and Production Company signed a new three year contract with the Steelworkers Local 4856 on Friday, July 28.

A company spokesman said that the settlement included a pay increase of 25 cents the first year and additional increases of 20 cents for the second and third year of the agreement.

In addition, the new contract provides for an additional paid holiday—boosting the total to nine—and an improvement of the vacation schedule.

The new vacation plan will provide a third week of vacation for employees after eight years of service.

All four water pumps are once again operating in a normal manner and the water restrictions have been lifted, according to Henderson Public Works Director Robert Whitney.

The malfunctioning motor which failed to operate properly when it was first returned from its overhaul in Las Vegas last Wednesday checked out O. K. on Friday after a second trip to Las Vegas for further work.

The motor was put into operation on Friday afternoon, giving the city four operating pumps once again with which to replenish the dwindling supply of water in the storage tanks.

Whitney said that a temporary setback occurred on Sunday when two of the pumps shut off because of the extremely high ambient air temperature. However, the malfunction was soon spotted and the pumps were quickly turned on again.

Although all units are now functioning normally and the water situation is once again under control, Whitney advised that the city will be on the lookout for any excessive use and wasting of water.

"Wasting of water is a violation of a city ordinance," Whitney stated. "We shall be checking for cases where people are over-watering and allowing water to run down the street in the gutters and the like.

"Citations will be issued to those who are in obvious violation of the ordinance prohibiting the wasting of water," he added.

The local water crisis began with a hefty "one-two" punch on July 19 when a pressure regulator valve failed, allowing water to drain out of the lines throughout much of the city. The situation was brought under temporary control by the establishing of a 24 hour manual operation of the vital valve while replacement parts were being obtained.

The second punch struck up over the weekend of July 22 when a 100 horsepower motor used in driving one of the pumps in the city's water system failed, leaving the city but three pumps with which to maintain the water level in the storage tanks.

At other times of the year, the loss of one pump would not present a problem. During the winter, for example, one pump is usually sufficient to maintain an adequate level in the storage facilities.

However, the current failure occurred in the middle of Henderson's peak season of water use and presented a critical situation for the city. Severe water restrictions were immediately imposed while the useless motor was rushed to Las Vegas for repairs.

One of the more vital problems faced by the city during the water crisis was that of maintaining enough water to provide a 10 hour flow from each reservoir for firefighting purposes should the need arise.

The situation began to improve on July 25 when the parts for the pressure regulating valve were received and installed. This was done with a minimum of inconvenience to residents during the nighttime hours. Businesses, that operate on a 24 hour basis were notified of the necessary water shutdown — which lasted for less than two hours — and the repaired valve operated smoothly when it was cut back into the system.

The motor problem was not solved as easily. It was returned from Las Vegas on July 26 and installed but it failed "to act quite right" according to Whitney who ordered it returned once again to Las Vegas for further repairs.

Finally on Friday, July 28, the motor again returned to Henderson and was once more connected to the idle pump. This time it performed satisfactorily and, with all four pumps again in operation, the city began the task of replenishing its water reserves.

City officials praised the cooperation of local residents in obeying the water restrictions during the critical period that they were necessary. Water consumption dropped by more than 30 percent and allowed what water remained within the system to be shared by all.

CANDIDATE FOR REGENT

Rose Marie Richardson, 30, a research assistant with the University of Nevada System, is a candidate for the position of University Regent from District "D."

She is a member of the Department of Anthropology and Sociology in the capacity of student representative; a member of Phi Kappa Phi, National Honor Society; the American Sociological Association, and associated with the Community Concert Association.

"My family has been in Clark County since 1916," she said as she expressed the feelings that prompted her to file her candidacy. "I, too, was born, raised and educated here."

I think we have a very good system now," she added, "but we must always keep an eye towards the future. What is done today determines what happens tomorrow."

"I would work to insure that the University remains responsive to the needs of the area residents—that it provides what the community needs—and would suggest the possible inclusion of new areas of education to meet these needs."

"Anything that I advocate would be in line with the current limits of funding."

One of her stated objectives would be "to look into present programs to see if the allocated funds are being used to the maximum benefit of Nevada communities and the residents and students attending these schools."

"I would like to see a program of continued progress, using available funds, which would expand or institute programs needed by Nevada residents. For example, there appears to be a need for a program for two year associate degrees in engineering (UNLV) and physical (respiratory) therapy as well as in TV and radio."

"I would work for the establishment of a degree granting program in architecture at UNLV. There is a nationwide need for architects and such a program here would help our local residents in obtaining career positions as well as an education."

The field of Veterinary Medicine has also caught her attention. "There appears to be a need for more schools of Veterinary Medicine, particularly in the western U.S.," she stated.

She also expressed a desire to see All classes at UNLV open to senior citizens. She stated that such was not the case at the present time.

"I would orient the Las

Kerr-McGee Earnings Increase

Kerr-McGee Corporation's consolidated net income and earnings per common share for both the second quarter and first half of 1972 were substantially higher than those for any comparable period in the company's history," D.A. McGee, chairman and chief executive officer, announced today. The chairman said that all divisions of the company contributed to the record income.

McGee said that net income for the second quarter of 1972 amounted to $15,620,790, an increase of 26.2 percent over income of $12,380,832 for the same period of 1971.

"Earnings per common share for the second quarter of 1972," McGee said, "amounted to 69 cents, as compared to per common share earnings of 54 cents for the same quarter of 1971 as restated to reflect the three-for-one split of the company's stock on July 21, 1971." Fully diluted earnings per share assuming conversion of the 3-4 percent convertible subordinated debentures would be 64 cents and 52 cents for the second quarters of 1972 and 1971 respectively.

McGee said that consolidated net income for the first half of 1972 amounted to $25,499,679, an increase of 18 percent over income of $21,614,302 for the same period of 1971.

Earnings per common share for the first six months of 1972 amounted to $1.12, as compared to per common share earnings of 95 cents for the like period of the prior year as restated to reflect the three-for-one stock split.

On a fully diluted basis earnings per share would amount to $1.06 and 90 cents for the first six months of 1972 and 1971 respectively.

Sales for the second quarter and first half of 1972 also reached all-time highs. Sales for the second quarter of the current year were $191,111,861, an increase of 16 percent over sales of $164,805,451 for the same quarter of 1971. Sales for the first half of 1972 amounted to $353,621,415, an increase of 13 percent over sales of $312,933,068 for the first six months of 1971.

Vegas Community College towards UNLV and Elko Community College towards UNR to assure that those community college students who wished to continue their education would find themselves fully qualified to do so."

Summing up, she stated that her interests along these lines were oriented toward the entire area of District "D."

"I would work to represent the interests and needs of all the residents of District "D," she concluded.

Local Chamber Active In Attracting Industry

While the city continues to hold its breath awaiting a decision on a site selection from Winnebago Industries, Inc., mention must be made of the role of the Henderson Chamber of Commerce in "selling" the city to the Winnebago officials.

Ellen Shirley, executive director of the Chamber, pointed out under questioning that the initial contact between the city and the huge motor home manufacturer was through the Chamber office.

"The initial inquiry letter came to our office," Ellen commented. "We responded by sending them a packet containing material which explained the many benefits to be found here."

"It was only a couple of week later that they (the company officials) visited our city," she continued.

Answering inquiries from prospective companies is an all important function of the Chamber.

To remain in a constant state of readiness requires much digging and compiling of statistics which are used to update the "vitals" sheets which are most necessary to any business contemplating Henderson as its new home.

These "Vitals" sheets contain such information as tax structures, availability and cost of utilities and the type of land with or without buildings that would be suitable for industrial purposes.

Statistics on the local labor market are included, both as to numbers of people in the area and the current prevailing wages paid for many different job categories.

Still another sheet lists the basic information of the city itself—population, number of schools, churches, hospitals, housing, other industries and transportation facilities.

A brief biography of the several manufacturers already in the area is included as well.

Along with these data sheets, a copy of the official and colorful "Henderson-Southern Nevada's Home Town" brochure is tucked into the packet to complete the "selling" package.

The packet is accompanied by a cover letter from the Chamber Director which answers specific questions and points out items of interest to the particular company seeking the information.

The slides of the area which were shown to Winnebago officials when they visited here on July 14 were also prepared by the Henderson Chamber. Showing the area at its colorful best and running the gamut from homes and public buildings to aerial views of the entire area, the slides allowed the visitors to travel through the entire area quickly and efficiently, without ever leaving a comfortable chair.

The visiting team from Winnebago was apparently quite impressed with what they saw here during their red carpet tour provided as a team effort by City, County and State officials.

The decision is expected to be forthcoming after a meeting of the company's Board of Directors which is scheduled within the next 60 days.

Henderson Family Glad To Be Home Once More

by Dorothy E. See

Fifteen years ago in October of 1957, the Blake family drove away from their home on Utah Way to begin a journey that would take them to many parts of the globe. At that time the family consisted of Robert Blake, a Navy Chief who had been stationed at Lake Mead Naval Base, his wife Dolly who had been a telephone operator in Henderson and their daughters, Nancy Lynn and Charlene and their infant son Robert Jr. who had been born that June.

On May 2, 1972, the Blake family with two new members, Richard and Stacey and minus Nancy and Lynn, returned to Henderson. Dolly says, fervently, "We wanted to come back to God's Country." During their long absence, the house had been rented to tenants who were good, bad or merely indifferent and the house was in need of extensive renovation. One of the original townsite houses, it had had two bedrooms, one bathroom, living room and eat-in kitchen. In addition to the necessary repairs the long carport has been made into a living room and dining room. A former door from kitchen to carport is now a broad opening between kitchen and dining room that will one day contain a breakfast bar. New kitchen cabinets have been installed and the floor has bright new tile.

The Blakes brought back many richly colored Italian paintings from their tour of duty in Italy. Dolly says that the paintings were purchased in the art store owned by Lucky Luciano who was a close neighbor in Naples. These paintings are sharply contrasted against the stark white walls of the living room and dining area. The floor is carpeted with a three toned green shag rug. The original living room is now a master bedroom and hallway to the other bedrooms. A second bathroom is going to be added soon. The shrubbery and trees suffered from lack of care during the Blakes absence so they are planning to do a lot of landscaping soon.

"We've missed Henderson ever since we left." Dolly said. "Henderson is in our hearts." The Blake family lived in Naples, Italy for three years. Dolly says that she "Loved it." She said that they enjoyed the people and made a lot of friends. "It's true. In Italy you do get pinched," she added.

One of the Neopolitan customs is that, on New Years Day, unwanted household objects are tossed off of the balconies so that the New Year starts off fresh. Street cleaners go through the streets and clean it all up later. Dolly said that the Italians have fireworks on every and any occasion.

A highlight of their stay in Italy was a trip to the Vatican and St. Peter's. "I think that the paintings in the Sistine Chapel are beautiful." Dolly remarked, adding "Rome is the Eternal City." The Blakes tossed coins into the Fountain of Trevi of "Three Coins in the Fountain" Fame and visited Pompeii. Dolly rode around the Isle of Capri in a horse drawn carriage.

When the Blakes returned to the United States Bob was stationed in Jackson, Michigan at the Naval Training Center. He retired in 1962 and the Blake family moved to McLean, Virginia, where Bob was employed by the C.I.A. The Blakes stayed in Virginia for ten years.

Nancy was married while the family lived there and remained in Langley, Virginia, where she works for the government. Lynn lives in New York City, pursuing a career as a model. Her proud mother predicts; "You'll see that girl on television someday." The rest of the family are enjoying Henderson and Dolly says, "Henderson is a good place to raise children. You know where they are at night."

When the Blakes returned to Henderson, they found the house in need of extensive renovation. One of the original townsite houses, it had had two bedrooms, one bathroom, living room and eat-in kitchen. In addition to the necessary repairs the long carport has been made into a living room and dining room. A former door from kitchen to carport is now a broad opening between kitchen and dining room that will one day contain a breakfast bar. New kitchen cabinets have been installed and the floor has bright new tile.

BICENTENNIAL MEETING AUG. 7

The first public session of the Nevada American Revolution Bicentennial Commission held in the southern part of the state will be from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. Aug. 7, in Room One of the Las Vegas Convention Center.

John F. Cahlan, vice chairman, invited interested persons to attend to learn the plans for the 200th celebration of the birth of this nation. "The Congress laid down guidelines in 1966 for the bicentennial observance and every state in the Union is keying the observance to the theme, "A Past to Remember, A Future to Mold." Nevada's participation will be unique because our Commission wants to involve every resident in some facet of this year-long festivity," Cahlan said.

An office has been opened in Carson City under the direction of Vicki Nash, who was recently named by the Commission to organize Nevada for the 1976 celebration.

Mrs. Nash said an introduction to the bicentennial will be made, with provision for audience participation in a discussion period.

"Suggestions from individuals and organizations are welcome. The program cannot be imposed from Washington, D.C. or Carson City, but there will be financial help and cooperation for community projects available," she added.

The commission, composed of Mrs. Florence Cahlan, Mrs. Pauline Foutz, Sister Margaret McCarran, Dr. Albert Potter and Maj. Gordon Sampson (Ret) will hear a report on the five-state tour completed by Frederick C. Gale, chairman and state archivist. Gale met with Bicentennial Commission representatives in California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Utah.

FAT ISN'T FUNNY

Would you believe only five more months to New Year's Eve? Do you think that it is time to take stock of ourselves and see what we can accomplish diet-wise in these next months? If you have been putting off getting down to the work at hand, and waiting until September, why not start now? You will never receive praise for what you are going to do next week, it is what you are doing now that you will be praised for.

Now, stand in front of a mirror, but do not suck in your stomach and stick out your chest. The world does not see you this way and this is not the way you look. Ladies take off that tight girdle before looking in the mirror, or you can look at yourself with the girdle on. Does the excess bulge over the waistband? and between the top your stocking and your thigh? Do you think it is time to do something about it? Very seldom things that are wonderful happens to be who waits. After you have taken stock of the things that you do not like, let us proceed to dispose of them. This will be the basis for a new weigh of life. Take a good look at your present eating habits as compared with what you should be eating (anything wrong?). Keep track of your improvement and you will be in for some pleasant surprises. Recipe of the week: PUDDING 1-3 cup powdered milk; 1 egg; 2-3 cup water; 1 slice white bread; 1 tsp extract (strawberry, banana, raspberry, lemon or orange); 1/2 tsp vanilla. Combine all ingredients in a blender and mix until smooth. Place mixture in saucepan & heat until thick consistency. Serve warm or chilled. (can be served with the following syrup). Syrup: 1 can diet cream soda; 1 tsp butter flavoring; 1 tsp extract (maple, rum, cherry, strawberry); sweetener to equal 2 tps sugar. Bring all of these things to a boil. Thought for this week: Don't let losing weight throw you. You will be a winner when you reach your goal.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The AMVETS and the DAV have asked all the leaders for help in placing some of our own doctors on the staff of the out patient clinic at Rose de Lima Hospital Henderson in the V.A. clinic. Dr. Beals from the University of Southern Nevada has treated the veterans that have epilepsy. He also studied M.S. nerves.

This doctor has given many hours to the Nevada veterans FREE. We the AMVETS & the D A V. think we should have some community doctors in this V.A. clinic. We have letters to Senator Bible & Cannon Congressman Baring, Mr. Johnson head of the V.A. Washington D.C. Mr. Murel Allen, Reno admin. Dr. Musser, Washington D.C.

We also have asked these same men to help place Mr. Al Viller. He too has treated many veterans free for diabetes. We also think with doctors that have skill in this field should be here with us, the Nevada veterans. Maybe we can get a better shake out of the box from
