

Our Favorite 'Pan Handler' Leaves Jail Assistant's Post

By Lorna Kesterson

This city's favorite "Pan-Handler," Sam Schepps, assistant jailer for the police department, left his post this week and said he will take a two months trip to Germany. Schepps, 59, has been assistant jailer for the city for 6½ years. His vacant post will be filled after Friday when applications close. Schepps took over cooking at the jail when the city had little money to spend on groceries.

He fed the prisoners with such fabulous costs as from three to five cents a meal. What the city didn't buy, Sam begged, borrowed or scrounged from the local markets. "I always had balanced meals for the prisoners," Sam said. "I even had oranges and fruit." He has become upset recently because the costs of meals skyrocketed with the economy to from 18 to 25 cents per meal. Along with Sam's duties were included the women prisoners. He made sure the prisoners, both male and female, have clean uniforms. He boasts an "A" health card rating in his jail kitchen. Schepps beams as he boasts, "You can't find a cockroach or any dirt anywhere." Prior to coming to Henderson, Sam worked for the City of Hope in Duarte, Calif., an orphanage, as a ghandi dancer, and you name it--Sam has done it. The department had a cake and party for Sam as he left and presented him with a jacket and other gifts. He said he was sorry to leave, he liked the police personnel and Chief Floyd Osborn. He said he will also miss the prisoners. Often as they left jail without money or a place to go, Sam would pull $2 or $3 out of his pocket and present it to them. He did other things to aid the police benevolent group also. "Tell the stores not to be in mourning when I'm gone," Sam said. "I'll be coming back from the old country."

City To Open Bids On $3.6 Million Green Valley

Morry Story

By Morry Zenoff

'Tis a cruel world, indeed, when you learn this: The youngsters from Boulder's Southern Nevada Childrens Home went on a camping trip to Callville Bay. When they returned from a hike, all their sleeping bags and personal clothing and a food cooler were gone. Stolen. The bags even had the imprint of the state home. These children, as you know, are from unfortunate backgrounds and have the good fortune of being taken care of by this fine state institution.

On of the children lost her only jacket—which, of course, is more vital to her than losing camping equipment.

The theft was reported to the National Park service.

My only answer to such vile, inhuman, ignorant incidents is that I have found thru time that God squares accounts with those who do wrong.

He will here--and only the culprits will know how HE squared accounts. But--believe-me--it shall be done.

A most unusual happening is set for Henderson tomorrow morning as the Black Mountain Disposal company starts building a transfer station down behind Ballerina Trailer park. The garbologists, as we call them, are spending $200,000 in setting up this huge enclosed area--where all collecting trucks will empty their garbage--which then will be compacted and within the same day dumped and within the same day exported up to the Sunrise Mountain main site where the stuff is dumped and covered in a land fill operation.

These transfer stations are a new idea around the country--but are working out--saving costs and thus holding rates to customers down, we're told.

We see the government is seeking lifeguards for Lake Mead--going to pay summer students $3.08 an hour. Wow--Lorna Kesterson remembers when she was a life guard down at the beach--buck and a half an hour.

Congrats to Southwest Gas for coming to Boulder via its purchase of Boulder Natural Gas...Bill Laub, Southwest's president, is an aggressive, talented president and will help Boulder in any problem it runs into...he has put Chuck Smith of Vegas as head of the Boulder office, which will be kept open and fully staffed so that local service will approximate the good service Vegas has.

Construction Bids will be opened May 9 for the $3.6 million Green Valley project for phase one which will include streets, water, sewer and underground conduit for power and telephone wires.

Officials of the American Nevada Corp. met with Public Trustees Tues. night to discuss the general calendar for the project.

After a discussion, it was agreed that the American Nevada Corp. will pay a $3,000 filing fee to the Public Trust for the expense incurred by the trust in the bonding procedures. Attorney Urban Schreiner told the group the Internal Revenue Service has issued a favorable ruling for tax exempt bonds. It was brought out that because the Corporation brought the trust into being and had incurred about $20,000 debt with it already, the trust may make considerations to the corporation at a later date.

Edward Burnett, of the San Francisco firm of Birr-Wilson and Co., said his firm will purchase the bonds. Schreiner pointed out that the city is in no way responsible morally or factually for the bonds.

Construction plans for the 8,200 acre project will be presented to the Public Trust on April 16, and the city clerk will publish a notice of intention to adopt the ordinance.

Al Littman, consultant for the American Nevada Corp., and a principal owner in A-N Corp., along with other officials of the company were present at the meeting and told the council their application would be in the mail yesterday.

According to the schedule, the trustees will submit the underwriting of the bonds to the State Board of Finance on April 16, and on April 23 the city council is expected to adopt an ordinance accepting beneficial interest.

On May 9 the trustees will receive construction bids and the city council will approve the award of the construction bids. On May 15 the bonds will be delivered.

Principal stockholders in the American Nevada Corporation are Paul R. Williams, Robert Tatum, H. Greenspun, J. Yablok and A.J. Littman.

The bond money will be used only for the off site improvements in the project of residential, commercial and industrial development. The property is located in the Paradise Valley area of the city.

Chicago Title And Trust Opens New Office Here

Chicago Title and Trust opened its fourth office in this area at 268 Water Street in Henderson to serve the Boulder City and Henderson people.

Dale Puhl, assistant vice president of Chicago Title and Trust and Manager of the Clark County operations, said his company now has over 100 offices operating in 46 states, in the provinces of Canada, Puerto Rico and London, England.

Puhl said Chicago Title and Trust felt the Henderson and Boulder City areas needed an escrow and title insurance service with local representation by a title company. This was the deciding factor in moving the company here.

Marjorie Ellis, who was born in Boulder City and has worked in title and escrow for 11 years, is office manager. She has been with Chicago Title for six years, formerly serving as assistant manager of the Sahara office in Las Vegas.

Phyllis Lefrancois, who is escrow secretary, has lived in Henderson for five years. She has worked at the Bank of Nevada in Henderson in the escrow department for two years.

Puhl has been with Chicago Title and Trust for 17 years in divisional offices in Wisconsin, Michigan and Las Vegas. "We are extremely pleased with the reception we have received by all residents of the business community," Puhl said, "and we look for-

Garbage Rate To Get Study

An ordinance which would provide for the collection of large items by Henderson Disposal Co. from residences in the city at a cost of .43 cents per resident, was read in title Mon. night by the city council. A discussion will be held by a committee of the council on Mon., April 8 at 6 p.m. The ordinance will then go back to the city council for official action.

The ordinance states that the city council has determined upon the basis of beautification commission recommendations and other considerations, that the large item collection is a desirable service and in the best interest of the city as a whole.

Two Pound Baby Born to Bairs

Chris and Linda Bair are the parents of a two-pound 12 ounce baby boy born at Rose de Lima hospital on April 1. The baby named Allen Christopher, was two-and-a-half months premature. He is 15 inches long, and both mother and son are reported in satisfactory condition.

The baby's maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Al

Tobler of 645 National St., and the paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bair of 1912 Merze St.

This is the first child for the Bairs.

Governor Denies Factfinding For City-Firemen Dispute

City officials and Firemen of the city, who have come to an impasse in their negotiations for a new contract at city hall, were notified by Governor Mike O'Callaghan Tues. that he would not order binding factfinding on the issue.

The International Association of Fire Fighters Local 1883, have maintained a clause which calls for pay raises equal to the cost of living increases as determined by the Department of Labor. The city wishes to delete the automatic pay raise clause because of the burden on the budget.

The non-binding fact finding gives each group the opportunity to hire an independent arbitrator. If neither group wants to hire someone they can live under the present contract or seek other ways.

In his letter to the city, O'Callaghan said, "I wish to advise you that I have carefully considered the request of the City of Henderson that I order the findings and recommendations of the factfinder be final and binding as to the issues submitted to me.

"I studied the evidence presented to my representatives, and I am unable to find any evidence that the negotiation process has not worked or will not work in the absence of binding factfinding.

"Accordingly, I am not going to order binding factfinding on the issue presented to me.

"I wish to personally thank each of you and your negotiating units for the thorough and comprehensive presentation by my representatives."

City Manager Don Dawson said they will meet with firemen this week.

Two Semi-Trailers Collide; One Dead, One Critical

One person died and a second was critically injured Tuesday when two semi-trailer units collided at the intersection of U.S. 93 and 95 at Railroad Pass.

Donna Suit, 28, of 3642 Boulder Highway, Las Vegas, was thrown more than 40 feet from the cab of the unit in which she was riding. She was pronounced dead at the accident scene.

Her husband, Roy, was driving the unit at the time of collision. Freed from the wreckage of his cab in which he was pinned, he was rushed to Rose de Lima Hospital where he is reported to be in "Guarded" condition.

Occupants of the second semi-trailer unit, Steve and Vickie Vieth of Hamilton, Montana, were not seriously injured. They were taken to Rose de Lima for examination and treatment but were not admitted.

The accident was reported shortly before 1 p.m. The Suit vehicle was proceeding south on Boulder Highway with a cargo of scrap steel. The Vieth unit was turning left onto Boulder Highway from U.S. 93 with a cargo of lettuce when the collision occurred at the intersection.

Authorities reported that Mrs. Suit was apparently asleep in the sleeping compartment of her husband's rig. The force of the impact of the two units caused the compartment to disintegrate, throwing her across the highway into the oncoming traffic lanes and trapping her husband in the demolished cab.

The wreckage of the two vehicles with their scattered loads of cargo temporarily blocked traffic in both directions. Both the Boulder City Police Department and Fire Department responded to notification of the accident. The Police Chief and three members of the department rushed to the accident scene along with a pumper unit and rescue unit from the Boulder City Fire Department. They remained at the accident location until state and county authorities arrived to assume command.

Authorities stated that the accident is currently under investigation. No citations were issued at the scene.

Council To Discuss Franchise Monday

Only one bid was received by the city council Mon. night for a concession franchise for public parks and other recreational areas held by the City of Henderson.

The bid was made by Food Services, Inc. of Las Vegas.

The council voted to discuss the item at a committee meeting to be held next Mon. at 6 p.m.

Under terms of the agreement, the concessionaire will have the exclusive right to operate food concessions in and upon the public parks and other recreational areas owned by the City of Henderson.

The concessionaire will pay the city ten per cent a month of gross sales and allow inspection of records for purposes of verifying accountings.

Other items set for discussion at the Mon. meeting includes an ordinance to amend the Declaration of Trust, which gives the city council power to remove a trustee of the public trust; an ordinance which would add provisions for minimum frontage of 100 feet on a public street or dedicated easement in areas zoned for ranch estates; and others.

Petition Asks City To Abandon Walkway

A petition for the city to abandon the walkway between Grove and Maple Streets, was presented to the city council Mon. night by Mrs. Dennis (Sonja) Orton of 112 Maple Street.

There were 108 names of surrounding property owners on the petition.

Mrs. Orton told the council that the walkway comes to a dead end on both ends of it and that children and persons walking in that area cause much vandalism and property damage to the homes adjoining the walkway.

The council voted to turn the matter over to the city planning commission for recommendation.

The council approved the construction of a billboard sign on Boulder Highway 650 feet south of Everett's Lounge.

The billboard would advertise a travel trailer park in Las Vegas. Mayor Cruz Olague voted in opposition because he said it would conflict with a business being constructed in Henderson.

Amadeus Street

The council approved an order of vacation of Amadeus Street, located in Trailer Estates.

The vacation stipulated that property owners adjoining the vacated portions of the street pay for any costs incurred in the vacation.

Also approved were parcel maps for section 27 for Patrick Cappoli, Frank Argenziano, Stanley J. Glabick, Joann Opat, and Marvin and Sylvia Matthews.

Liquor Application

A liquor application for Harry A. Corey and Donald Ledbetter for Don and Harry's Lounge, was approved.

The lounge is located across the street from Elliott Roofing in Pittman and was formerly Looi's Bar.

Boys' Club Week

In a salute to the millions of good kids across the country who don't steal, use dope, or constantly get into trouble, the Henderson Boys' Club will join more than a million other members in observing the 28th Annual National Boys' Club Week, March 31, through April 6th.

In some 1,100 Boys' Clubs throughout the country, well over a million of these youngsters represent a shining example that the positive approach to combatting juvenile delinquency, does work. It especially works in the Henderson Boys' Club, because there are skilled, professional youth workers, and dedicated volunteers, who do care, and are showing it by the money and hours they contribute to building a new facility for the boys.

Lake Adair Given Formal City OK

An ordinance approving the application for the Lake Adair project financed by mortgage bonds to be issued in conjunction with the City of Henderson public improvement trust, was given final approval by the city council Mon. night.

The financing of acquisition of land and installation of improvements on the land through the issuance of mortgage bonds is expected to cost about $2,200,000.

The underwriter and underwriting commitment must be formally approved by the Board of Finance, State of Nevada, in accordance with the Nevada Revised Statutes.

Lake Adair will be located within the boundaries of the City of Henderson in Las Vegas Wash. A man-made lake is expected to be constructed and J. Carlton Adair, president of the Lake Adair Corp. said construction is expected to get underway this summer on a hotel and motel.

Money from the bond issue will go towards obtaining free title to some of the lands and for the construction of water lines and roads in the area.

A great big help to both towns is the opening of an escrow and title insurance office--in Henderson--as Chicago Title opened its doors this week (see ad on inside pages)--the banks locally have discontinued much of their escrow work in order to give this new company clearer sailing. Bruce Little, former Henderson resident, is the big man with the company.

Street Parking

An ordinance, limiting the parking of a vehicle on the public streets to 48-hours, was tabled for further study by the city council Tues. night.

Mayor Cruz Olague and Councilman Jerry Franklin were appointed as a committee to make the study and a recommendation to the council as a whole.

Over The News Desk

By Lorna Kesterson

This is 'This and that' day. Did you know that the Henderson city council is probably one of the few city councils which offers a prayer at the beginning of the meeting?

Different ministers of the various churches are called on to offer the prayers or if none are available, members of the Council or administration get the honor.

I don't think it hurts to call for help when making laws which affect others lives.

Watching the council sign the budget Mon. night, I saw that Councilman Lorin Williams is a Southpaw. I hadn't noticed that before.

I just want to say a word about Palma.

There's only one thing--I haven't decided on the word yet. Palma Black is the gal who owns and operates Palma's Beauty Salon, and no matter how impossible you look she'll give you a try, and sometimes you look pretty bad-bad-bad.

Boys' Club Director Vic Vincent has asked the city council to consider naming the extension of Kola Street, which does not directly tie in to Kola-Drake Street, in honor of Dennis Drake who helped the Boys' Club so much.

At this time the street is only an unimproved road. The request, which received nodding of the heads of the council, has been sent to the Planning Commission for recommendation.

Dennis was killed in a roll-over of his pickup recently. He had been a good friend to the Boys' Club.

Many large trees around town look like they didn't weather the winter snow this year.

Most of the palm trees around received some damage, it looks like.

There'll be two weddings and receptions of prominent people on the same day in April.

Dr. and Mrs. Harold Miller's daughter Leslie, will marry Jerry David Martin in the Salt Lake LDS temple on April 19 and she will be honored at a reception at her home on April 20.

Leslie graduated from BYU in Dec.

Jerry Dee Harper, son of Mrs. Genevieve Harper, city clerk, will marry Jane Madon on April 19 at the Manti LDS temple, and a reception will be held at the LDS Church on Ocean Street on April 20. Jerry is finishing his schooling at BYU.

CITY OFFICIALS GET PAY HIKE

The city's appointed officers will receive an "across-the-board" raise of $750 a year, according to action taken by the city council in a personnel session Mon. night.

The personnel session was held following the city council meeting Mon.

According to City Manager Don Dawson, those who will receive raises include the Chief of Police, Fire Chief, Parks and Recreation Director, Public Works Director, Planning Director, and the Personnel Director. These people are not covered by the civil service raises made earlier by the council.

Those who did not receive raises included the City Manager, city clerk and city attorney. These officials are appointed by the city council.

Black Mountain Ladies

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

by Nadine Rayborn

Our tournament play Wednesday was for the March Medal of Golf. Dorothy Perry and Fuzzy Wengert tied for Gross Honors with an 89. Elaine Nancy and Annabel Miller tied with a 69 for Net Medal of Golf. A playoff will be necessary to determine the winners of Gross and Net Scores.

Dorothy Wade won the Putting contest with only 12 putts on the odd holes.

Winners of golf balls for "no putt" were Helen Chauncey, Chris Cartwright, Dorothy Wade, Gladys Meyers and Carmen Peterson. Approximately thirty-three ladies boarded a bus on April 3 for a day's play at the Furnace Creek Golf Course in Death Valley, to be followed by dinner at the Furnace Creek Ranch. More about this fun trip later.

The Al Wengerts just returned home after traveling several weeks in Mexico and Southern California. They went to Escondido then to the Escondido area where they played golf on several of the courses near there, then on to Carmel and Monterey. Al spent a day in Salinas where he played in the Salad Bowl Golf Tournament with Pro Pounders and Hershel Trumbo.

Roof Finished At Henderson Boys' Club

Yesterday, sheeting of the Henderson Boys' Club roof was completed through the efforts of Fred Tafoya, Dale Roberts, Fred Smith and their carpenter crews.

The plywood sheeting was donated by Hal Smith, owner of Henderson Builders, L&H Builders, TOTO Purchasing and Supply Co., and a generous contribution by Harry Polk for the 5,000 square ft building.

"The completion of this roof means we are a step closer to having a permanent place for kids to come to. This is the best thing to help these kids become better adults," said Fred Tafoya.

Ever since the inception of a Boys' Club in Henderson, they have been housed in a succession of temporary facilities until now.

The Ole Pro

I'm sorry to have missed you last week.

Hersh Trumbo and I streaked up to Salinas, Calif. to play in the Salad Bowl. There were 85 teams competing and we finished in the top four. Hersh won the Honda Trail Bike. It was a long ride back to Henderson but he made it. Al Wengert and his lovely wife also were in attendance and Al played.

It looks like the entire program at Black Mountain Country Club is "Go." We have had good news from Japan. Some of the Japanese people will arrive in April-not in force, but enough to make their presence felt, we hope.

The course is in better shape this year than last year, improving each week-plus the price is right. $4 on weekends and $2.50 on week days.

Senior citizens may play on Tues. and Thurs for $1 all day. Come out Seniors, it's a real fine deal.

The range poles are going up. It will be lighted soon. "Wow", a night-lighted range in Henderson overlooking the strip. Should create a little excitement. Where are my benches. Jaycees, remember? It looks like Black Mountain is doing a lot for Henderson. Maybe the City Fathers could take a little vote and put up a sign on the Boulder Highway at Horizon Drive, telling the visitors who are going to use their $50,000 park where a million dollar golf course is located.

Think positive fellows. You get a 200 acre park on top of this mountain. Better help promote it or someday you'll be sorry.

This Sat. at 5:30 we are having a scramble with Boulder City at Boulder. Men only. Sign up in the Pro Shop, 565-7933.

Larry Hagewood and his friends flew out last week and stopped off to see me. Larry is from Omaha, Neb. He was very impressed by the potential here. Thanks for dropping in and we hope you return soon.

Monica Martinez Attends Youth Confab

Monica Martinez of Henderson, was among the estimated 100 delegates from 47 States, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and the Indian Nations, who participated in a National Youth Conference on Highway Safety over the weekend in Scottsdale, Arizona.

The young people, all between the ages of 15 and 24, were seeking new ways to improve youth involvement in traffic safety programs on a State and community level that would effectively reduce highway deaths and injuries.

Miss Martinez, who lives at 2 Washington Way, is a high school junior.

The March 29-31 meeting was sponsored by the U.S. Department of Transportation's National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) and the Youths Highway Safety Advisory Committee, a 15-member group formed in late 1970. The committee consults with the NHTSA on programs to attract young people in a national effort to combat highway deaths and injuries.

Dr. James B. Gregory, the Federal safety administrator who keynoted the conference, said he believes the young people of this Nation "can help us find solutions to the highway safety problem," and that "they can exert a positive influence on the driving habits of other young people."

In recent years, motor vehicle crashes have claimed a disproportionately larger number of lives in the 15-24-year-old age group than any other driver group. Drivers under 25 make up an estimated 22 percent of the motoring population but account for almost a third of the traffic fatalities annually recorded in this country.

OLDFIELD TO BE INSTALLED—George Oldfield was recently elected Exalted Ruler of the Henderson Elks Lodge No. 1956. He and his officers will be installed at 6:30 p.m. April 6 at the Lodge on Lake Mead Drive. Dinner will be served immediately following the installation at 8 p.m.

Boulder Kids Attend Pizza Hut Tournament

Seventy residents and 10 staff members of the Southern Nevada Children's Home in Boulder City attended the Monday night Third annual Pizza Hut Basketball Classic as guests of Boulder City attorney Ralph Denton.

Denton, presented the tickets to Jay Gardner superintendent of the home, during a recent tour of the facility.

"I am impressed with what I saw," Denton, a Democratic candidate for governor, declared. "Every effort has been made to provide a home-like atmosphere for the children and the facilities are excellent."

The Boulder City facility was started about four years ago with two cottages, housing ten children each, but has been expanded to seven, each managed by a cot-nage parent team. It is an extension of the State Children's Home in Carson City.

The Monday night basketball classic in the Las Vegas Convention Center matched outstanding players from Eastern Colleges and universities against a like contingent from the West. The players were chosen in a nationwide popular balloting with stars like Bill Walton and Keith Wilkes of UCLA and Kevin Restani of USF leading the western list.

The Southern Nevada Independent Youth Athletic Association was the ticket agent for the Pizza Hut Classic. Also known as the "Potoesky League" after its founder and current director John Potoesky, the SNIYAA will use proceeds from the classic to help build a gymnasium for its basketball program, which currently consists of 80 teams and 900 boys. An even larger summer program of baseball provides activity for 60 teams with approximately 2,000 players. More than 200 volunteer coaches also participate. League officers and directors also have been active in building equipping and lighting baseball fields and local government officials estimate this effort has saved the city of Las Vegas and county of Clark close to $200,000 for recreational facilities. New athletic facilities, including the gymnasium, is now under construction on county-owned land in southwest Las Vegas which was leased by the Potoesky League. The founder established the league 10 years ago to provide an outlet for boys who couldn't participate in other organized leagues because of age or lack of ability.

"I certainly want to highly compliment Mr. John Potoesky, Director and Mr. William Flanagan, Commissioner, as well as the rest of the staff for the fantastic job they are doing for the youth of Southern Nevada, as well as the tremendous prestige Nevada received for bringing this nationally televised event to Las Vegas," Denton said.

Digger Phelps, the youthful coach of Notre Dame's nationally-ranked basketball team, headed the East squad in the Pizza Hut Classic. Ned Wulk of Arizona State was the coach of the West squad.

BASKETBALL FANS...The young residents of the Southern Nevada Children's Home in Boulder City attended the Pizza Hut Classic Basketball Tournament on April 1 as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Denton. John Gardner (center) Superintendent of the SNCH and a group of youngsters accepted the tickets from Mr. and Mrs. Denton (left) at a recent luncheon. Before the tournament, the Children's Home residents joined the Denton's for dinner at the Pizza Hut at Maryland Parkway and Vegas Valley Drive.

QUEENS COURT HELD AT FIRST SOUTHERN CHURCH

The First Southern Baptist Church of Henderson, Nevada held a Queens Court in honor of their Acteens who had earned their Queens Crowns. Acteens is a Mission Arm of the Womens Missionary Organization of the church for teenage girls in grades 7-12. The program was held Sunday evening March 31, 1974 at 7 p.m.

The church was beautifully decorated with yellow and white daisies and yellow and blue ribbons and candles. The theme for the evening was "This is our day". This is also the Acteens song which was sung by the girls and their leader. The girls made posters depicting a day in their lives to go along with the theme.

The girls were presented by herald, Mike Holliday, as they were escorted down the aisles of the church. Queens were: Miss Teresa Holliday, Miss Betsy Patterson, Miss Cheryl Holliday and Miss Cindy Schultz. Their escorts were: Douglas and John Porter, Billy and Hank Clackum.

Mrs. Sally Munoz, the Acteens leader, questioned the girls about the Mission Actions they had participated in as steps required to receive their Queens crowns. Mr. Dick Patterson, father of Betsy, crowned the girls. Mrs. Bea Roche, the Acteens Director for Lake Mead Southern Baptist Association, challenged each girl as she was crowned to continue to work toward the other levels in their Queenly Quest. These levels are: Queen Regent, 1st Queen with Scepter, Queen Regent in Service, & Service Aid.

Each girl was given a corsage and a charm bracelet with the

Frontier Radio To Provide Scramblers

Frontier Radio was awarded the bid on radio scrambler units for the police department at a bid of $7,914.30, by the city council Mon.

The bid was the only one received by the city and was $1,000 more than the estimated cost, according to Floyd E. Osborn, chief of police. "As a result of the difference in cost, we have received permission from the State Crime Commission to adjust our grant application for an additional $1,000 in federal money to compensate for the increase," Osborn said.

The city's portion of the cost will be about $2,000.

City Councilmen approved a request for '701' planning assistance from the federal government for $10,000.

City Manager Don Dawson said the money, totalling about $15,000 with the city's share, would be used to update the city's master plan.

It was brought out that the county areas will receive $85,000 and $10,000 was approved by the regional planning council for Henderson's share.

FROM THE PEW

By Dolores White

SCRIPTURE FOR THE WEEK: Romans 8:37-39.

There is a strange theology abroad today in which people believe that God has destined his people to constantly be defeated. They just seem to sit down in their defeated life and fold their hands and say, "It must be God's will for my life to be this way." That may be good fatalism, but it is poor Christianity. God wants your Christian life to be victorious. You don't have to be the victim of life when you can be the victor over life. We are not to be conquered, but are to be more than conquerors through Christ. Our Pastor often says, "The Christian should never be (under the circumstances)." Maybe he doesn't say it in just those words but that's about what it amounts to.

In the days of Charles the second of England, there was great persecution against the Church of Scotland, known today as the Presbyterian Church. Their Churches were closed and they were forbidden to have services and were forced to attend the State Church. Many faithful Christians refused to obey the edict and continued to have services in secret. They became known as covenanters.

Many were arrested and some even died for their faith. One 18 year old girl I read of, named Margarit Wilson, was arrested and when she refused to recant her faith and swear allegiance to the State Church, she was sentenced to execution. She was tied to stakes and placed in the path of the incoming tide to drown slowly. Thinking that Margarit Wilson would recant rather than suffer drowning, an older woman was placed so the tide would reach her first. But the sight of her stalwart faith only strengthened Margarit to be faithful unto death. As the water moved higher on her body she began to sing aloud the 25th Psalm with such waves of glory that the soldiers finally quietened her. As the water reached her chin and then began to reach her mouth she began to quote these words again and again, "For I am persuaded that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor

JAYCEES ANNOUNCE EGG HUNT

The Henderson Jaycees have announced the date and time of their annual Easter Egg Hunt.

This year the Egg Hunt will be held Saturday, April 13th, 10:00 a.m., at the City Park. The event is held for Henderson children from toddlers to 11 years of age.

The Jaycees have requested that parents do not allow their children to come to the park before 9:30 a.m. or they will be sent home.

The children should provide their own basket or bag to collect eggs.

The Easter Bunny has promised the Jaycees to provide over 5000 eggs this year. The Henderson merchants are helping the Jaycees by providing many fantastic prizes for the event.

any other creature, shall be able to separate me from the love of my God, which is in Christ Jesus, My Lord." Margarit Wilson died with those words on her lips.

There is no need for any Christian to live a defeated life when our God has promised us strength beyond all measure. Think on these things.

QUOTATION FOR THE WEEK: If it ever again becomes illegal to be a Christian, would there be enough evidence to convict YOU!

New Courses at BCHS

by Elinor Bean

In order to give students opportunity to find or to develop special interests and talents, the Boulder City High School curriculum for 1974-75 is being enriched with new courses. This reporter on the high school newspaper looked particularly into those added to three departments and interviewed the teachers involved.

I learned the teachers are very enthusiastic about the new classes that will be offered next year. Mesdames Miriam Hardy and Phyllis Langlois of the home ec. department, Miss Lou Ray of the art department and Ray Thurston of the shop department are all instigating numerous and varied extensions to the present curriculum.

Mrs. Hardy pointed out some of the classes for the next fall include full year basic and intermediate courses for students in the ninth and tenth grades. A course in advanced food and clothing, lasting a semester each, will be offered for the tenth through twelfth grade students and consumer education and interior design courses are to be offered but only to eleventh and twelfth grade students. A special one year class on child development will be offered for all interested seniors who want it.

clear, indefinite as they may seem, Boulder City's possibilities are nonetheless potent and worthwhile."

Boulder City not a Boom Town

"Boulder City is not in any sense a boomtown. The government officials in charge are guarding against crowding and booming. Boulder City will make a strong bid for the attention of the world and for tourist trade. The city of Niagara Falls, New York, is full of shops where novelties are sold, and there is much catering to tourists. The great Niagara Falls built the town.

Boulder City Could Draw More Tourists Than Niagara Falls

Cheap power from turbines at Niagara Falls have built up a population center in that vicinity. Hoover Dam should draw more tourist travel than Niagara Falls in the future. She can produce twice as much cheap power as Niagara, enough to pay for the dam in 50 years. What will this power do in transformation of the desert? Or for a potential community of chemical and non-metallic mineral industries? Only time will tell.

When tourists learn that Boulder City is completely prepared to give hotel and other necessary services, the traffic will increase greatly, and Boulder City will profit accordingly. Meantime, while hotel projects are being planned, analysis shows a surprising completeness of a modern community, considering the bare one-year existence of the town." Unquote from an E.G. prediction, 1932.

What Has Happened That E.G. Predicted

The Bureau of Mines, the development of the U.S. Park Service, the record-breaking year in specialized courses are to be offered. Design I and II, three dimensional design, Painting I and II, oil and acrylic, print making, and photography, are open to students interested in those fields. Studio art, and individual program, will be available to those who are talented in that field. Such a program will enable them to work on their own particular interest and at their own rate.

These changes may necessitate a small lab fee, but as Miss Ray pointed out, "Many larger schools have had one for years."

Miss Ray says that the program is "terrific" and that she is "really excited about it because it will give students who are really interested a chance to work in depth."

Among the new shop classes to be offered is an auto mechanics class, a course for drivers who want to learn only how to take proper care of their cars. Auto Mechanics I and II will offer a more in-depth, technical study for those who want to learn more about cars than the beginning course covers.

Home maintenance will involve maintenance and repair jobs that can be done with equipment found in homes.

Thurston said he is pleased that a course to help students express their ideas on paper, such as industrial arts, touching on many different areas, metal shops, and welding will be added.

"Cabinet making will train interested students in the manufacture of fine furniture; he pointed out.

"Another program which has been proposed is a student teaching class whereby students will receive credit for hours spent as teacher's aides at both the high and elementary schools.

Elton, and all business people are fully aware that a vital part of our economy is the tourist trade. Business depends upon tourism.

With all our objections to a possible "boom town" it never happened. Our city officials have guided us wisely. Elton is more knowledgeable about the way we should go than any other citizen. We hope soon to get a statement from E.G. which will prove valuable. It has been 42 years since the foregoing, and he has not been proven wrong.

Elton as a real-estate Broker

When J.H. Rodebach (Edith Traasdaahl's father) opened a Real-estate office just down from our postoffice, he had with him a young salesman named Elton Garrett. Another first for E.G. Later he opened his present Garrett Realty but had an association with the Collins Realty that lasted for many happy years.

VARSITY QUIZ TEAM LOSES TO GARDEN GROVE

by Elinor Jo Bean

BCHS's varsity quiz team suffered a narrow defeat March 28 by Garden Grove High School in a game played at Savannah High School in Anaheim, Calif. In six years of competitions between the Clark and Orange County champions, this the first year that Clark County has failed to take the trophy.

The format for the game was quite different from the one used in Nevada. Three rounds were played, each consisting of two 4 minute periods. The first team to win 2 rounds was declared the victor.

In the first round, Garden Grove squeezed by BCHS 60-58. Boulder pulled out in the second round to a 51-24 lead. The final round was a different story, however, and Boulder's Eagles slipped behind to a 58-28 loss.

Leading BCHS in a closely fought game were Steve Nelson, Randy Hastings and Mitch Snow. Others participating were Elinor Bean, Peter de Beauchamp, Cindy Deitchmann, Diane Hastings, Carl Woods and Kathleen Wood, all coached by Don Windham. Also attending was Vance Pace of the Clark County School District, coordinator of varsity quiz games in Nevada.

This inter-state competition, of which Boulder City was champion last year, is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club which paid all expenses for the 9 Eagles and their coach to travel to Anaheim to compete.

Basic Defeats Boulder, 206-232

The BCHS golfers met those from Basic High School in a match last Thurs. at 3 p.m. on the Boulder City Municipal golf course.

As the game opened, it appeared to be a very close match but as it came to an end the Basic golfers won over Boulder, 206-232.

Boulder's final scores were Bill Toney, 47, Richard Wagner, 42, Mark Rua 48, Roger Olsen 45, and Todd Bleak 50.

The score stood as Basic's Tracy Haag 43, Bill Taylor 37, Mike Seillian 38, and Keith Horward 42.

Elton Garrett Predicts Future of Boulder City in 1932

Teddy Fenton, narrator

New comers to our town often meet Elton Garrett before they even eat a meal. His Garrett Realty answers many inquiries about our community because Elton watched the little model city of Boulder City from the day the first grader pushed sand for the road that would become a permanent highway. In 1936 Elton began the "Boulder City Challenge" which was our first community newspaper and anyone who collected them can now consider themselves very fortunate for they were truly historically accurate.

Elton came to Las Vegas even before the Boulder Dam Bill passed in 1928. There he worked for the Las Vegas Age and later for the Las Vegas Review Journal. He saw the desert area where naught but coyotes and lizards existed, where the flora and fauna grew wildly beautiful, the townsite of Boulder was around the corner. Zane Grey had earlier ridden across the vast spaces (later Zane was to write "Boulder Dam") and he recalled those early peeks at the sullen red river, the rambling Colorado which was to be tamed by man after flowing unabated for 15 million years.

The First Newspaper in Boulder City

In 1931 the BC. Review Journal was established in a small room in the Six Companies Dept. Store. The managing-editor, E.G. piled cartons on the counter each night for a screen and slept behind the counter on a cot. His reports covered every facet of the townsite and his features went by the names "Nuggets" and "Dam Rumor". He began a book (unfinished at this writing). His collection of historical material is being saved for a Boulder City Cultural Center.

Elton on the Task Force

Space does not allow for an in depth report. Suffice to say E.G. has worked with the committee every step of the way. His advice and guidance is invaluable.

E.G. as Editor of The Boulder City News

For 6 years our NEWS carried the colorful yarns of Elton Garrett. Never has a town been guided so carefully through the real love that was held for it by our esteemed "first citizen". As a "historian" and as a builder of projects that stretched completely across Clark County and even into Washington D.C. there has been no other one individual do so much. We have written of E.G. Before (beginning a book as it were) and a moment of reward came when Jan Mac Eachern (Mrs. Angus) complimented the series, saying it was her favorite reading in the NEWS.

Elton on Growth...B.C. Journal 1932

When Boulder City was one year old March 11, 1932, Elton put out a special issue. He invited guest columnists, A.H. Cahlon and the honorable Walker R. Young to prophecise the future of Boulder City. In particular he asked for a possible population guess once the project had been completed. Here is the way Elton himself foretold the future.

Whence Boulder City

Boulder City is destined to live. What better time to pause and sum up Boulder City's past and future than on her first anniversary?

That first year has been remarkable in the extreme. What of the next four years or five? And what of a period beyond that? No one can tell.

Nothing, however, is to prevent conjecture as to her future. Time alone will tell how many of the various possibilities for the community will materialize. Yet it is interesting, especially to Boulder City residents to weigh their future in terms of Boulder City's future prospects.

"After completion of the dam, 125 to 150 men will be employed to care for the dam, power plant and lake. This assures a population of more than half a thousand, according to opinions based upon reliable facts. Men employed on transportation, railroad, boats, and other phases of the commercial network of the vicinity, counting also their families, will comprise another 200, for there will be considerable tourist traffic as a constant source of activity and revenue.

To serve this community of 800 persons, another 120 men for other enterprises will be needed. They, with their families, will bring the total in all probability up to around 1500. With no electro-chemical or other industries whatever, there should remain a town of one to two thousand population after the dam is completed. But add to that the assured population with the possible growth of light industries which cheap power will undoubtedly draw to the vicinity, add to that the population that will be brought if a great United States Veteran's Hospital should be established in Boulder, and it becomes

'Scarcely A Gamble' Stauffer Featured In Magazine Story Of DuPont

The neon oasis of Las Vegas is just a scant ten miles up the highway from this southern Nevada community. But the gambling spirit of the high rollers and baccarat players in casinos there must evaporate in the desert sun along that brief stretch of Interstate 15. If the behavior of one corporate citizen here is any measure, the allure of long odds doesn't hold much sway in Henderson.

Henderson Chemical Company operates a chlorine and caustic soda plant here. And in matters of maintaining an efficient and environmentally acceptable production process, Stauffer shows no inclination to take a gamble. Indeed, the company's insistence on going with a "sure thing" is evident in a move made ten years ago.

In June 1963, Stauffer installed a 7,000-foot pipeline to circulate chlorine - saturated water through a chlorine gas absorber and on to direct cooling water towers. It was a foresighted environmental move by the company undertaken before Clark County authorities enacted a demanding air pollution ordinance. Stauffer had taken note of the rapid population growth in the Greater Las Vegas area. Moreover, the company wanted to preserve an image of a good industrial neighbor. By installing the chlorine gas absorption system, Stauffer hoped to prevent fouling the atmosphere with even a nuisance odor of the pungent chlorine gas.

In order to seal the lined steel pipeline securely against gas leaks, Stauffer was in need of several hundred pipe gaskets. And the company wasn't about to gamble on the performance reliability of these critical flange seals. The gaskets had to be of a material that would provide years of dependable sealing despite continuous exposure to hot chlorine water. An extensive pre-testing program was initiated to identify the most promising gasket material.

The accumulated findings of that test program led to Stauffer's selection of flange seals of "Viton" fluorocopolymer.

Along with its own test results, Stauffer reviewed performance data compiled during the five years "Viton" had been commercially available from Du Pont. Introduced in 1957, "Viton" had emerged from a research effort aimed at filling a specific requirement of industry. In the chemical processing, petroleum, automotive and aerospace industries particularly, there was a vital need for a sealing material with extraordinary resistance to oils, lubricants, chemicals, and exotic space-age fuels in extreme temperature environments.

Responding to that need, Du Pont research chemists, working in the field of fluorine chemistry, found the base elements that enabled them to construct a copolymer with the sought-for properties. The product of that chemical construction was "Viton". And by that time Stauffer Chemical began its search for a pipe gasket material, "Viton" already had begun to run up an impressive success record in a wide variety of industrial assignments.

Because its ability to withstand heat and fluids surpassed the limitations of ordinary rubber materials, "Viton" was pressed quickly into service in aircraft and missile components. The auto industry adopted the new Du Pont fluorocopolymer for the multiple under-the-hood sealing assignments. In the petrochemicals field, "Viton" provided a hose-lining medium resistance to the deteriorating influences of benzene, cyclohexene, toluene and other aromatic products. And in refineries, O-rings of "Viton" delivered extended performance in the corrosive presence of acids and solvents.

Considering these credentials of proved performance, Stauffer concluded that flange seals of "Viton" might well be the "sure thing" it wanted for its Henderson plant pipeline. H.C. Hooper, then production superintendent at the plant, exuded quiet confidence a few months after the pipe gaskets of "Viton" made by A.S.H. Molded Products Division of Envirotech Corp. were installed. "Based on our evaluations of the chlorine water pipeline since start-ups last June," commented Hooper, "these seals of 'Viton' should last for a very long time. My guess would be five years—maybe ten."

That was ten years ago; a decade of around-the-clock exposure to a chlorine water flow rate of 130-240 gpm with internal pressure as high as 75 psig and temperature of the fluid stream varying between 60 degrees F. and 150 degrees F. A recent inspection of the pipeline at the Henderson plant reveals that the company's optimism regarding "Viton" fluorocopolymer wasn't misplaced. "The original flange seals installed in 1963 still are performing to satisfaction," reports James F. Orr, plant manager. "Not a single one of these seals has been replaced. In fact, no maintenance has been necessary in ten years except to tighten the flange bolts from time to time."

For Stauffer Chemical, this ten-year case history has performed caution into confidence. "As a result of the performance of 'Viton' in the chlorine pipeline," says Orr, "The Dupont fluorocopolymer was selected about nine years ago as the gasket material for a two-inch, steel pipeline handling spent sulfuric acid service. And since then, a number of other assignments at the plant have been turned over to 'Viton'. In each case, the choice of 'Viton' has resulted in maintenance savings. As far as we're concerned, 'Viton' is no gamble at all."

Agency Officials Meet

Officials from several government agencies met recently at Lake Mead National Recreation Area to discuss how they can best serve the boating public during the coming summer season.

Representatives of the National Park Service, Nevada and Arizona Fish and Game Departments, Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife and the U.S. Coast Guard planned to coordinate boat patrols on Lake Mead, Lake Mohave, and the Colorado River beginning with the Easter holiday period.

"During the Easter season," said William J. Briggie, Superintendent of the Lake Mead National Recreation Area, "personnel from all agencies will be working double shifts to provide for maximum public safety."

The group agreed that pre-season inspection of fuel systems could prevent boat accidents. A new boat was totally destroyed by a fuel explosion and fire at Lake Mead Marina last week.

Kerr-McGee Income Up Over Last Year

Consolidated net income for Kerr-McGee Corporation was $62,827,813, an increase of 24.2 percent over 1972 income of $50,599,374, according to the company's 1973 annual report now being distributed. In addition, earnings per common share, sales, total assets and stockholders' equity exceeded those for any previous year. Fully diluted earnings per common share amounted to $2.51 in 1973 and $2.04 in 1972.

In their letter to stockholders, D.A. McGee, chairman and chief executive officer, and James J. Kelly, president and chief operating officer, attributed the increased income primarily to improved earnings from petroleum and chemical operations.

The officers stated that capital expenditures exceeded $100 million for the first time in the company's history in 1973, amounting to $113 million, an increase of approximately $37 million over those in 1972. A major part of the increase in capital expenditures was invested in the acquisition of additional offshore leases in the Gulf of Mexico. Capital expenditures in 1974 are expected to exceed the 1973 total.

Oil and gas exploration and development activities during 1973 were concentrated primarily in the Gulf of Mexico, the Anadarko Basin in western Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle and the Permian Basin in west Texas, the letter said.

McGee and Kelly noted that limited supplies of crude oil necessitated the allocation of gasoline and distillates to Kerr-McGee branded retail outlets and wholesale distributors. They added that the new Texas crude oil pipeline in which Kerr-McGee owns a 12-percent interest, will add materially to the long range stability of crude oil supply for the company's Wynnewood, Oklahoma, refinery. The pipeline, scheduled for completion early in 1975, will extend from near Nederland, Texas, to Cushing, Oklahoma.

Increased demand for contract drilling services resulted in more than 90 percent utilization of drilling units owned by the Transworld companies, wholly owned subsidiaries of Kerr-McGee. The officers said in their letter. Two new offshore drilling units, Transworld Rig 62 and Transworld Rig 63, are being added to the company's fleet. Transworld also is developing a new subsea production, gathering and storage system for completing and servicing oil and gas wells in water depths up to 1,500 feet.

Commenting on the potential of nuclear energy, the two men reported that nuclear fuels will have a rapidly expanding role in the generation of electricity to help make our nation once again self-sufficient in energy; and, in response to this possibility of an improved market, the company increased its uranium exploration expenditures and activities substantially during 1973 and will further increase them in 1974. During the year, Kerr-McGee announced the signing of a uranium sales contract in excess of $150 million, bringing the company's backlog of uranium concentrate and uranium hexafluoride conversion commitments to $518 million at the end of 1973.

The officers stated that increased sales and profits from agricultural chemical operations of Kerr-McGee Chemical Corp. reflected the world-wide strength of agricultural markets. Sales of industrial chemicals reached record levels during 1973 with the company's manufacturing plants operating at or near capacity. Major expansions were completed at three Kerr-McGee Chemical Corp. facilities and product inventories were decreased in an effort to meet customer demand.

In discussing the company's coal operations, McGee and Kelly said that during 1973 the company entered into long term contracts with three electric utility companies to supply up to 250 million tons of low-sulfur coal from Kerr-McGee's extensive reserves in the Powder River Basin of Wyoming.

Concluding their letter, the officers emphasized that "the domestic oil and gas supply shortage did not develop suddenly nor is it a temporary condition. Only a real and continuing sense of national purpose will make possible the long-range attainment of adequate supplies of energy from domestic sources. Adequate economic incentives and reasonable regulation are essential if the petroleum industry is to meet the challenge of overcoming the current shortage and future growth in demand." They added that Kerr-McGee, active in all four primary sources of energy—oil, gas, uranium and coal—will devote a major portion of its 1974 capital expenditures to accelerating its energy development activities.

4-H Cooking Class Meets

Mrs. Powell's cooking class met on March 4 after school to cook macaroni and cheese. Some girls cooked the macaroni and cut the cheese while others set the table and served the food. French bread, pears, peaches, and brownies were also served. Each girl received a new cook book of foods from around the world.

James Kelly Files For Recorder Job

North Las Vegas Justice of the Peace James B. Kelly today announced he would seek election as Clark County Recorder this fall as a democrat.

Kelly said the Legislature charges the recorder's office with the responsibility to "maintain in a very precise manner records of all deeds, subdivisions, liens, mortgages, deeds of trust, trustee sales, and other important documents." He said the only source of information concerning title to lands is from the records in the recorder's office and he stressed the importance of all documents being recorded according to law and being indexed in a logical, meaningful and legal manner.

A founder and director of the Nevada Judges Association, Kelly points to his background as administrative officer for many years with local financial institutions as well as his experience and training in computers as key qualifications in the operation of the recorder's department. Additionally, he has extensive experience in the preservation of records by use of microfilm systems, also utilized in the office of the County Recorder.

Kelly is a former city councilman and mayor pro-tem in North Las Vegas, a former treasurer and director of the Las Vegas Convention Authority, and formerly vice-chairman of the Clark County Board of Equalization. He is a member of the county, state and national bar associations and the American Judges Association.

For many years Kelly has been active in civic, social and church affairs. He is a Bishop in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon) and is former President of the Nevada Chamber of Commerce Association.

The Judge is married to the former Devera Eileen Rutowsky and the couple resides with their two children in North Las Vegas.

Titanium Operations

Demand for titanium metal products improved further in 1973, and Titanium Metals Corporation of America (TMCA), reported near record sales and substantially improved earnings for the year.

Sales and earnings of TMCA are reported in summary below. The improved operations reflect not only higher demand for titanium metals, but successful operations of the Standard Steel Division, acquired in 1972. At its plant in Burnham, Pa., Standard Steel produces machined steel-rolled wheels and axles for the railway and car building industries, industrial and ordnance forgings, and components for jet engines, missiles, pipelines and nuclear power plants. Demand for these products was at record high levels in 1973, and the backlog at year-end was double that of the preceding year. The current level of orders will require capacity operation into 1975. During 1973, the Division received its first commercial order for a new AcoustaFlex wheel, a special noise abatement wheel for metropolitan mass transit systems. Also in 1973, a special pipe flange was developed for use in extreme cold areas such as those crossed by the Alaskan pipeline.

Industry-wide shipments of titanium in 1973 were approximately 29,000,000 pounds, an increase of 15 per cent over 1972, and the industry's record year for shipments, when 31,900,000 pounds of titanium metal was shipped.

Approximately 80 per cent of titanium shipments go into aircraft and space applications, with commercial aircraft accounting about 35 per cent of that and military aircraft, missiles and helicopters taking about 45 per cent. The remaining 20 per cent—a growing portion—goes into a wide variety of industrial and commercial products, including chemical processing equipment, nuclear power generation, metals processing and other applications.

The titanium industry has succeeded in capturing wider industrial and commercial markets to reduce dependence on military aircraft procurement and in improving processing in order to further reduce the price of the metal and make it more competitive in many applications.

As larger and more intricate plants for chemical processing are designed, titanium becomes more of a "must" because of its ability to withstand highly corrosive atmospheres, reducing costly down-time and replacement expense.

Because of its light weight, strength, and corrosion resistance, titanium is indispensable to aerospace and other markets which it serves. It is finding interesting application in surgical implants, to strengthen or replace segments of human bones and joints, and in heart pacers.

With an increasing growth rate forecast for the immediate future, TMCA and the titanium industry face a long-range challenge to expand physical plants enough to satisfy this greatly increased demand.

Clark County Treasurer, W.W. "Bill" Galloway, prominent Southern Nevada Democrat, filed today for reelection to the Office of County Treasurer.

World Conference Offers Keys To Happiness, Strength For Families

How to meet the challenges of life today and prepare for eternal joy in the world to come will be explained during the 144th Annual General Conference of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, April 5-7, 1974, in Salt Lake City, Utah.

World conference provides an opportunity for consideration of the stabilizing power of living in obedience to the commandments of God.

"There are depths in the sea which the storms that lash the surface into fury never reach. They who reach down into depths of life where, in the stillness, the voice of God is heard, have the stabilizing power which carries them poised and serene through the hurricane of difficulties," declares President Spencer W. Kimball, new world leader of the Church.

President Kimball will direct the conference and deliver the keynote address. It will be his first conference since becoming the twelfth President of the Church on December 30, 1973, following the unexpected death of President Harold B. Lee.

Timet Reports Near Record Sales In 1973

Titanium Metals Corp. of America, jointly owned by Allegheny Ludlum and NL Industries, reported near record sales of Titanium and substantially improved earnings for 1973 in its TIMET division, which continues to seek broader markets for Titanium outside of its primary market, the Aerospace field.

The Standard Steel Division of TMCA produces machined steel wheels and axles for railway and car building industries; industrial and ordinance forgings, and components for jet engines, missiles, pipelines and nuclear power plants. Demand for these products was at record high levels in 1973 and Standard Steel's backlog at year end was double that of the preceding year.

Allegheny Ludlum Steel proved to have had the "right products at the right time in 1973," the Report stated, "with newly expanded capacity for its leading product lines available when most needed. Other contributing factors were active and vigorous pursuit of cost reduction programs; some easing of pressures from unrestricted imports of specialty steels in part because of generally good worldwide markets; and more selective selling."

"The 1973 performance was attained in the face of difficult challenges," the Report stated, adding "Among the most pressing of these were rising costs of scrap, other critical raw materials, and many other key supply items, and governmental price controls discriminatory to the specialty steel industry, which hindered the steel divisions from recouping their rapidly increasing costs.

Special attention was directed toward energy conservation in all forms. Active pursuit of cost reduction programs helped offset the effect of spiraling prices of raw materials, labor, spare parts, and many mill supply items."

He has also used revenue bonds wisely in financing improvements, thereby lessening the tax burden carried by County taxpayers.

PNG Club

The Past Noble Grands Club will meet at 7:30 o'clock, tonight, at 648 Ave. M, home of Florence Courtney, president. All past noble grands are invited to attend. There will be election of officers.

Louise and Marion Beall filled their car with friends for a short trip, this past week-end. John Shipp shared the front seat with the Bealls. Esther Shipp held her dog, Twinkletoes, on the back seat with Rob and Lorine McDougall! We left early Saturday morning for Needles, Calif., where we joined Nevadans Helen and Neil Holmes, Faith and Ed Richter. The five men were busy all day helping lodge brothers from California and Arizona with degree work for the Odd Fellows. The visiting women walked around town in the morning - were customers of the flea market - and then had lunch in the lodge hall. In the afternoon, Lori decided to take a nap, while the three other women - plus Norene Wells of Chloride (noble Grand of the Kingman Rebekah Lodge), gathered in Esther's room to play finagle. Later, Hiram Hunt of Boulder Lodge No. 50 brought his wife Lois and their two children, from Las Vegas. The banquet at the lodge hall was followed by the re-institution of Needles Lodge No. 485, I.O.O.F. and Installation of officers. The ones from Kingman and Las Vegas returned home. It was early enough for the Bealls and Shipp to play pinochle!

Sunday morning, the four Boulder City couples were both shocked and relieved to find out that we had been luckier than our motel neighbors, because three rooms had been robbed - including the one next door (and I am a light sleeper). The expert thief walked along the carpeted porchway, looking for open windows. Then he used a special tool to quietly remove the screens, reach his hand in to turn the door knob and walk in! The empty purses, wallets and pants were left in the refrigerator at the end of the porch! This has happened before at the same motel, during the visit of a different lodge group, so the police think the thief reads the papers.

After breakfast, Helen and Neil drove over to Havasu City and London Bridge before coming back to Boulder City. Bealls took us on our first trip to the old mining town of Oatman, Ariz., which has many newer, modern homes. We did not stay for the usual entertainment (music, dancing, gun-fights), but went on over to Kingman for lunch. At Carter's Cafe, we met Beryle Begley, whose sister (and sister-in-law) Jewel Begley is a Boulderite. The weather was wonderful, the cactus has started to bloom, and there were many types of wild flowers in the lower elevations. We all had a fine time except for Lori's allergies, which made her so uncomfortable we women thought for awhile that her partial "strip tease" might lead to the first "s-treaking" in Needles!

Cities to Remain Task Force Recommends

Southern Nevada will keep its four cities and a county, the Urban Action Committee decided Thursday, scrapping any plans for merging cities. "We agreed to keep five governments. We officially recognized that we're not going to merge governments," said Dr. Albert Johns, Urban Action chairman. Other plans for Southern Nevada government are being formulated by five task forces of the Urban Action Committee. The reports are to be turned in April 30. Johns said the task force studying police probably will recommend that the "police department be given back to Las Vegas, that the Metro police commission be abolished." Members of the Urban Action Committee agreed unanimously with the idea but they will let the task force make the recommendation.

Curtis Speaks....

By Henry Curtis

While in Mexico City recently we stayed at the Shirley Courts on Sullivan Street. The Courts were almost across the street from the Toluca Bus station. That roused with the fact that we had heard a great deal about the Friday Market at Toluca lead us to taking the bus one Friday morning. A guide book that we had had this to say about the Toluca market.

Toluca is a clean, busy commercial city without too many architectural or historical attractions. Its Friday market, however, is noted as one of the largest and most important traditional market gatherings in the country. Mountains of produce, the handicrafts and popular arts of the region flood into the teeming tianguis for just this one day. There are vivid displays of baskets, hats, heavy hand-knitted sweaters, serapes, hats, rebozos, pottery from Metepec and Valle del Bravo, Villa Victory embroidery, woolen cotorinas and chalecos. Pickpockets are also very active. "The reed baskets, petates, and reed-woven toys made in and about Toluca are among the most colorful and best made in Mexico. Toluca baskets come in all shapes, sizes and styles: round, oblong, square, cylindrical, etc. They are brilliantly colored with relatively fast dyes. The best quality are the sturdy, thick-walled baskets made of tulle rushes woven with the coil and cigar wrap technique."

As we approached the bus terminal we saw that it was starting to pull out into the street - my good wife hailed it down and I will be darned if he didn't wait for us to get on. I have a feeling that not many bus drivers in the U.S. would do that. I paid him the huge fare of $1.21 for the two of us to Toluca and we were on our way. The bus was comfortable and clean. In getting out of the City we drove through a portion of Chapultepec Park. This is a gorgeous park of many hundreds of acres - heavily wooded. Beautiful. Then we started climbing up - the western hills out of the city. The higher we got the better view of the City we could get back to the east. The smog over Mexico City was the worst that I have seen over any city in this continent. It was really terrible. I expected it from our experiences in the City. There are many thousands of cars going up and down the streets of the town constantly. Even though they have many public buses as well as other forms of commercial low cost transport.

We passed much housing construction on the way from town. We finally crossed a high divide and started down the other side into the Toluca valley. The country side was very interesting. As we got down from the heights into the valley we began to see what appeared to be corn or cane fields. They were not planted yet. Spring was not yet there. Further on as we neared Toluca we passed a great deal of industry. Ford, Chrysler, and other American Subsidiaries. They were nice looking plants. Well built and well kept.

It turned out that the Toluca Bus station was just across the street from the Market. So we had no problem finding it. We wandered around the market for an hour or two soaking up - the sights. Everything that the guide book said seemed to be true. One woman followed us for it seemed hours trying to sell us very colorful baskets. Quite reasonable as I recall it. However, we did not want a basket. There were gorgeous blankets in the street stalls - they started by asking about thirty dollars for them. Again we were not interested so we did not try to dicker. I am sure that they could be had for considerably less. There were various birds in cages at one point. Live turkeys at another, live goats at still another as well as pigs, etc. This was a fascinating market and I recommend to anyone spending any time in the Mexico City area that they take the bus over and visit it on a Friday. After a time we felt that we had seen about everything in that market so I tried to ask a man in front of the station how to get to the center of town. He tried to tell us a couple of times but finally decided the best thing to do was to take us there in a cab. We thought at first he was going to get a cab for us but it turned out he not only was going with us but he would not let us pay for the cab - then he took us into the downtown market and found a man who could talk a fair amount of english and then left us to tend to his own business. That was real hospitality - but not rare in the Mexico City area we found. However, it was the most outgoing that we encountered. That was appar-

Wrecked Car Warns Motorists At Lake Mead

Mangled beyond repair, the wrecked hulk of a car has reached its final "rusting" place. It is not, however one of a thousand other cars in an automobile "graveyard." It sits alone entirely the old market. It had features that made it somewhat different than the first one we had seen so that we enjoyed it equally as well. I broke down and bought my son an onyx chess set. They seemed to be the most reasonable that we had found in the area. After wandering around that area for a time we hailed a cab and returned to the bus station and took the bus back to Mexico City without problems alongside Lake Mead Boulevard just inside the boundary of Lake Mead National Recreation Area.

"WILL YOU BE NEXT?" reads the sign beside the vehicle.

"Four people escaped serious injury or death when this car was wrecked a month ago near Callville Bay," said William J. Briggie, Recreation Area Superintendent, "but they were lucky."

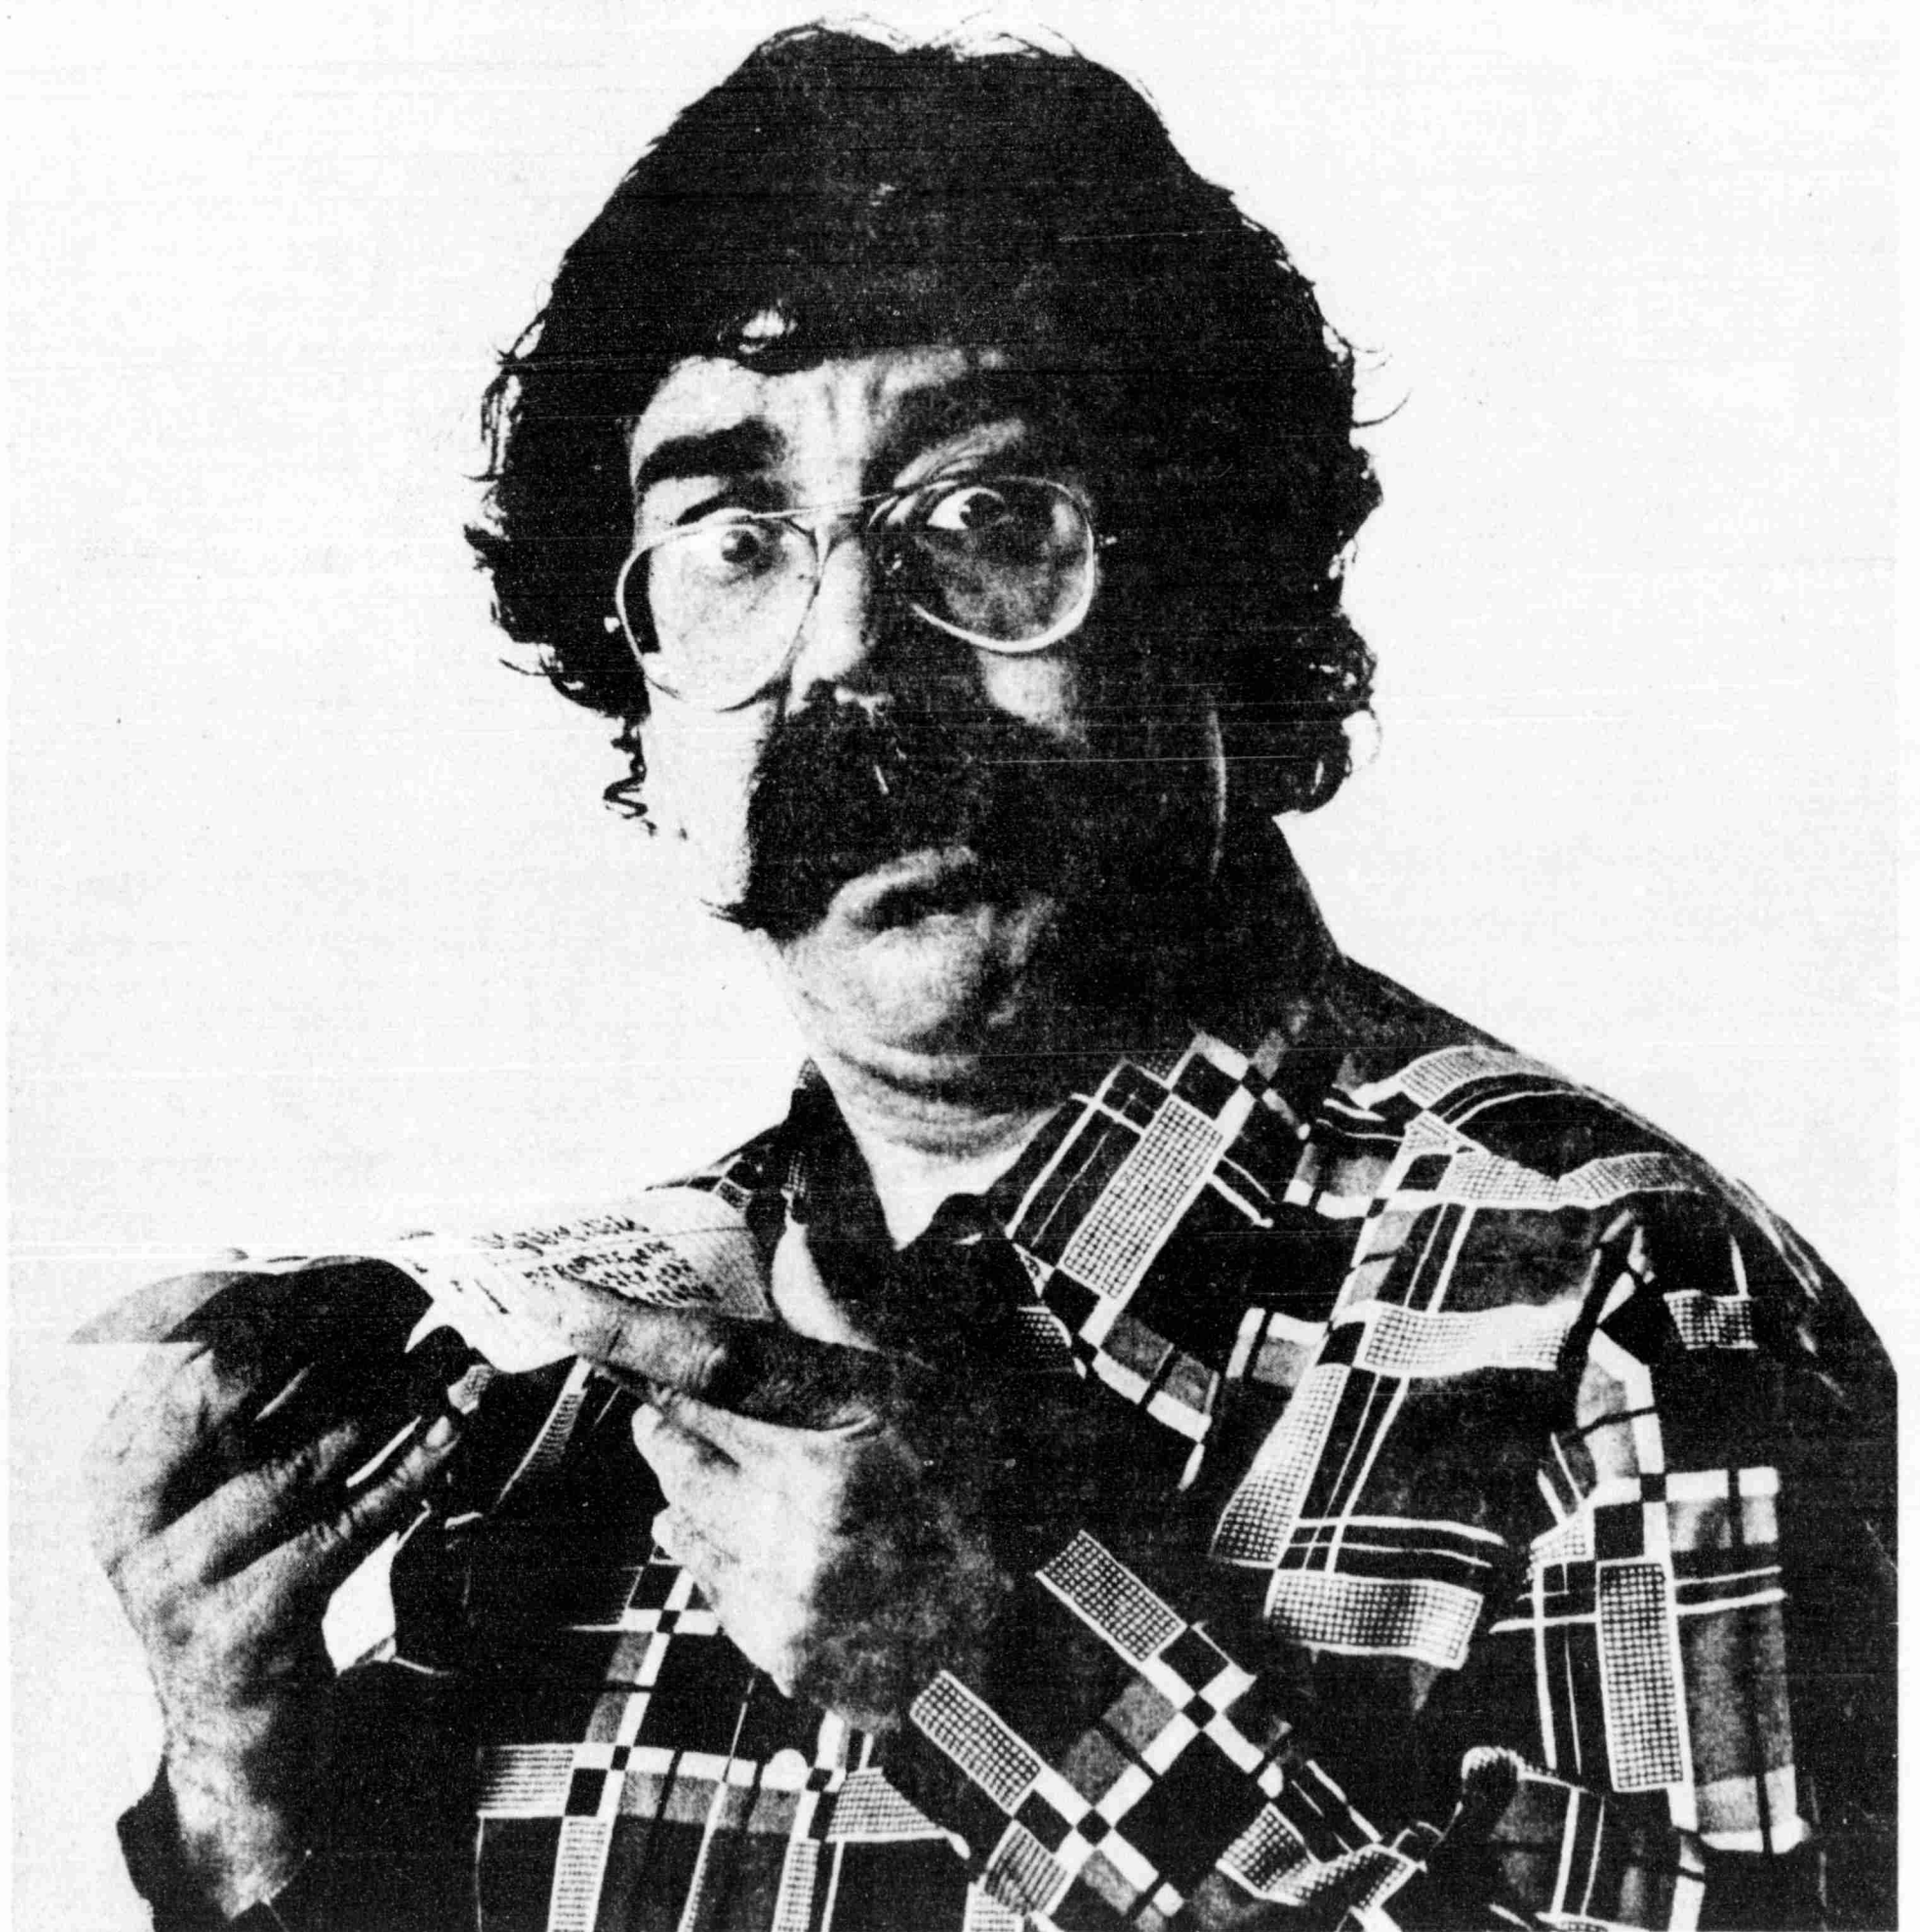

Others have not been so lucky. Thirteen people were killed and 174 injured in motor vehicle accidents at Lake Mead NRA in the past two years. With Easter vacation close at hand and large crowds expected to visit Lake Mead, our objective is to reduce accidents.

"Hopefully," Briggie said, "this car will serve as an example by reminding visitors of the dangers of high speed and reckless driving."

WHO'S NEXT?--This car with the chilling question on its sign sits at the entrance to the Lake Mead National Recreation Area on Lake Mead Boulevard...reminding motorists to be careful in their driving and live to enjoy the memories of their visit to the lake.

INSURACHAT

Nearly 80% of all personal insurance written in the world is bought by Americans. Canada is No. 2, after the U.S.

Rule No. 1 in planning insurance: buy coverage with deductibles whenever possible. Insurance is designed to take care of catastrophes; minor annoyances you can cover yourself. Question: what's minor to whom?

You usually save by paying premiums annually, or less often. Convenient monthly payments are not convenient for the company, usually cost more.

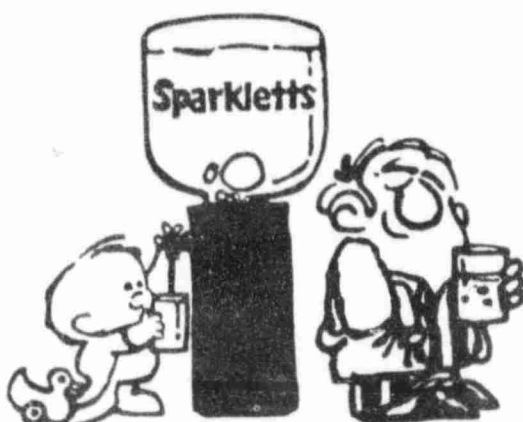

A package deal on home insurance is usually the best buy, assuming you need all the coverage included. The saving on a homeowner's policy is about 20%.

In a recent opinion study of consumer attitudes, insurance companies and agents were found to be highly regarded. Four out of five policyholders said they wanted to have an agent personally review their insurance programs every year.

Let's look over your insurance program together. Come to La Porta Insurance Agency, Inc., 129 Water St., 565-1911 for personal attention to your protection needs.

costs just pennies a day

Sparkletts drinking water

LISTED IN THE WHITE PAGES OF YOUR PHONE BOOK

Here's an example. You have $4,000 in your savings account. But withdraw $3,500 to take care of a medical bill.

Then, three days later, you deposit an insurance check for $3,500.

For that entire quarter you'll get interest on just $500. In other words, you'll lose about forty bucks interest.

That's how it is at most banks. They figure interest on your lowest balance for each quarter.

At Bank of Nevada, you earn interest every day, compounded quarterly. In the example above, you'd get interest on $4,000 for all but the three days of the quarter when your balance was $500.

And another nice thing about Bank of Nevada's daily interest. If you make a deposit after the 10th, you don't lose a whole month's interest. You earn interest from the day you make your deposit.

So why take a chance on getting clobbered? Start earning interest every day starting today at Bank of Nevada.

Francis M. Warnick, Assistant Regional Director of the Bureau of Reclamation's Lower Colorado Region for the past 3 1/2 years, will retire April 5 with nearly 36 years of Federal service. Regional Director Edward A. Lundberg announced today.

Warnick transferred to Vernal, Utah in 1943 to head a field office devoted to planning water resource projects in the Uintah Basin. During 1945-46 he was stationed at Gunnison, Colorado, where he supervised planning activities involving an inventory of potential projects in the Gunnison River Basin.

Assigned to the Salt Lake Area Planning Office in Salt Lake City, Utah in 1947, he served as Office Engineer and later headed that office which formulated plans for development of the Upper Colorado River and the Weber River Basins.

Following authorization of the Weber Basin Project in 1949, Warnick moved to Ogden, Utah, to supervise the Project's preconstruction planning and served as a Division Chief and Assistant Project Manager during construction.

Warnick was selected by the Commissioner of Reclamation in 1964 to head a team of consultants to Taiwan for the U.S. Department of State. The team evaluated water resource development plans in southern Taiwan for Nationalist China and made recommendations for the construction of the Tsengwen Project. Upon his return to the United States later that year, he was assigned to the Pacific Northwest Regional office at Boise, Idaho, as Assistant Regional Planning Officer and a year later was promoted to Regional Planning Officer.

In October 1970 Warnick moved to Boulder City to accept an appointment by the Commissioner of Reclamation to his position.

"Mr. Warnick is one of the Bureau of Reclamation's deans in water resource planning and development," Lundberg said. "His distinguished career has been highlighted numerous times by his creative expertise which has been reflected in the excellence of the projects which he helped plan."

Warnick and his wife, Loal B., have resided at 1119 Comanche Way in Boulder City and have been active in the Boulder City Second Ward of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. They will make their retirement home in Ogden, Utah.

The Warnicks have three daughters, Mrs. David Badger, Nampa, Idaho; Mrs. James Ficklin, Las Cruces, New Mexico; and Christine, a student at the University of Wisconsin at Madison. A son, Ray B., is deceased.

March 18 by Alice Pink of Las Vegas using a silver bomber lure.

According to Overton Beach Resort for the week ending March 24, crappie and bass fishing have been excellent. Crappie catches have averaged between six and eight per angler with four catches of 32 to 80 fish reported. Crappies are running from one and one-half to two and one-quarter pounds with jigging and still fishing minnows listed as the most productive angling methods. Best catches are being made from both shore and boat in brushy areas near the mouth of the Muddy River. Overton Beach also reports bass angling as excellent and lists catches ranging from 13 to 39 fish, one and one-half to four pounds, per boat.

Eldorado Canyon Resort reports catches in their area as excellent and split about half and half for trout and bass.

NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF FISH AND GAME
So. Nevada Fishing Report

Fishing success has picked up so much this past week that many anglers are comparing it to the good old days of the 1950's. Department creel checks at both lakes bear out this good news and show excellent catches of both largemouth bass and trout in practically all areas.

On the lower basin of Lake Mead, DFG's Joanne Rosasco found largemouth bass from 12 to 19 inches in length, making up the majority of the catch, with rainbow and cutthroat trout in a strong second place. The lower end of Las Vegas Wash, Black Island, Swallow Bay, Callville Bay and the Gyp beds all produced good catches of bass with a wide variety of lures credited with success. Many anglers appear to be favoring yellow as the primary color of successful lures in use.

Both rainbow and cutthroat trout fishing has picked up again with a number of fish this past week tipping the scales at six pounds. Anglers enjoyed the highest trout success in the canyon areas trolling silver or gold flatfish and fishbacks, crocodile and daredevil spoons and rapala and rebel type lures.

Creel census reports from Lake Mohave also indicate angling success to be excellent for both trout and bass. Largest trout at Willow Beach this past weekend sealed seven and one-half pounds and was taken by Cliff Barnson of Las Vegas trolling upstream from the resort.

Fair numbers of trout from 12 to 21 inches have been recorded by anglers trolling the lower basin of Lake Mohave. Largemouth bass, however, is the biggest item in the angler's creel with excellent catches using waterdogs and rapala and bomber type lures. One bass, about seven pounds in weight, was checked in to Cottonwood Cove Sunday, but the biggest of the 1974 season in this area, nine pounds three ounces, was caught

1000' Strings Of Oil Pipe

Cameron, La. (AP)—A giant barge-mounted spool recently played a significant role in extending a pipeline network which transports crude oil from platforms in the Gulf of Mexico to refineries on the mainland. The unconventional pipeline installation began some 100 miles offshore in the newly developed and promising East Cameron field. The pipe was welded in thousand-foot strings entirely onshore and then 59,000 feet of the eight-inch pipe was wound on the giant floating spool. Three spools of pipe were required to construct the 317 miles of line at depths ranging to 225 feet. The line will connect into an existing common carrier pipeline system.

Deadline Wed. For I-Day's Beauty Queen

This year the Henderson Industrial Days Beauty Pageant will be held Wednesday, April 17 at 7:30 P.M. in the Burkholder Junior High on Van Wagenen Street.

The Pageant is held in conjunction with Industrial Days and is staged and directed by the Henderson Kiwanis Club. Pageant director is Mrs. Jackie Wooldridge. She has arranged for a practice session for the girls with Sandy Trumbo, a professional model. The Pageant is open to all girls between the ages of 15 and 18. The girls are sponsored by community minded businesses in Henderson and Las Vegas and will ride on floats or decorated cars in the parade, Saturday, April 27. The queen will reign over the entire 11 day period in her royal capacity and she will be the highlight of the Parade. The growing list of prizes are becoming more impressive every day with a trip to San Francisco donated by Western Airlines and a beautiful ring donated by Mullen's Jewellery being two of the main gifts. The ring is a gold modern design consisting of 4 genuine fire opals totaling 1/2 carat surrounded by 3 diamonds totaling 1/4 carat. The ring is valued at over $300.00. Entry blanks are available at the Henderson Chamber of Commerce. Deadline for applications are April 10.

"Robin Hood" Represents Disney's Twenty-First Animated Feature

Walt Disney Productions will cap its "50 Happy Years of Family Entertainment" celebration with the release in December of the studio's twenty-first animated cartoon feature, "Robin Hood." In this version of the English legend, all the characters are animals. Providing the principal talents are Peter Ustinov, Phil Harris, Brian Bedford, Terry-Thomas, Andy Devine, Pat Buttram and Roger Miller.

The picture, that made movie history as the first of its kind was "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" in 1937; "Pinocchio" and the innovative "Fantasia" were released in 1940.

"Dumbo" arrived in 1941 and "Bambi" the following year.

"Saludos Amigos," which is made up of four shorts tied together with scenes from Walt Disney's trip to South America, was released in 1943. "The Three Caballeros" came along in 1945. It, too, had four stories interspersed with live-action native dancing and Latin American song exploitation.

"Make Mine Music" incorporates ten shorts and it came out in 1946. "Fun and Fancy Free," the 1947 feature, has two stories, Dinah Shore narrates one and Edgar Bergen the other. "Melody Time" in 1948, has seven sequences with a live-action ending. "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow" and "The Wind in the Willows" were released as "The Adventures of Ichabod and Mr. Toad" in 1949.

Five full story animated features appeared in the '50's: "Cinderella," (1950), "Alice in Wonderland" (1951), "Peter Pan" (1953), "Lady and the Tramp" (1955), and "Sleeping Beauty" (1959).

The '60's saw three additional cartoon movies: "101 Dalmatians" (1961), "The Sword in the Stone" (1963) and "The Jungle Book" (1967).

"The Aristocats" was released late in 1970.

There are six other films that have animated sequences, but they are principally live-action features: "The Reluctant Dragon" (1941), "Victory Through Air Power" (1943), "Song of the South" (1946), "So Dear To My Heart" (1949), "Mary Poppins" (1964) and "Bedknobs and Broomsticks" (1971).

In color by Technicolor, "Robin Hood" was produced and directed by Wolfgang Peterman. Vocal talents are contributed by Peter Ustinov, Brian Bedford, Phil Harris, Terry-Thomas, Andy Devine, Pat Buttram, George Lindsey, Ken Curtis, Monica Evans, Carole Shelley, Barbara Luddy and John Fiedler. The story is by Larry Clemmons, based on character and story conceptions by Ken Anderson. Story sequences are by Ken Anderson, Vance Gerry, Frank Thomas, Eric Cleworth, Julius Svendsen and Dave Michener. Buena Vista releases.

MADELEINE JOHNSEN

Have you been making a game out of Low Calorie Cooking? If boredom has sneaked into your diet, is it your fault? It is of no value to collect recipes if you do not put them to use, just like collecting diets will never make you thin. Get busy and before long you will realize that the shape you save, may be your own. Stop hungering for something that can be yours, a slim attractive You. This is one job that you cannot hire anyone to do, but is it that important to you? The following parody to "Thanks for the Memories" was submitted by someone who thought it was worth the effort.

ENERGY CRISIS AND THE SPORTS FISHERMAN

The current energy and gasoline crisis is bound to affect the angler, not only in the way he fishes, but also in the distances he travels. Planning for a fishing trip is an essential part of the fun of "going." Here are some suggestions from the American Fishing Tackle Manufacturer's Association to help make the trip successful while conserving gasoline Form a group with neighbors or friends. Four can drive on the same amount of fuel as one.

Think about where you are going fishing. Plot the lake or stream to result in the least use of the motor

Check out the possibility of renting on location rather than hauling your own boat and trailer. You will get better gas mileage from the car

Plan fishing trips to utilize more time at the fishing location. For example - take fewer trips. Fish more days skinned and all visible fat removed. Place in pot and cover with water and par-boil for 20 minutes. Drain. Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Place chicken in teflon baking pan. Combine the following ingredients: 1/4 cup water; 1/4 cup wine vinegar; 1 tsp. veg. oil; 4 oz. tomato sauce; 3 tbs. worcestershire; 1 tsp. dry mustard; 1/2 tsp. salt; 1/2 tsp. pepper; 2 oz. chopped onion, sliced green pepper, very thin; 4-6 thinly sliced mushrooms.

Pour half sauce on chicken and cook for 15 min. Pour remaining sauce and cook til tender about 15 minutes more. Equals dinner for two (meat) and 2 oz. of limited vegetable each.

For free advice, info & recipes call 451-4247 or 382-6957 The Diet Hot Line when on location

- Fish closer to home. Look for good fishing spots that you may not have considered before, and which require less travel

- Drift fish where practical rather than troll
- Use the smallest practical boat and motor to meet your needs.

- Match your motor to the boat, and keep the motor tuned and in proper operating condition to save on fuel.

- Throttle back. A 25 percent reduction in power results in approximately a 50 percent saving on gasoline.

- Make sure the motor is properly mounted and the propeller in good shape

- A clean boat bottom - free of algae - will also reduce fuel consumption.

- Check your instructions for the proper oil mix on your motor, or check with the dealer about alternatives that might be available

- Don't idle motor unnecessarily.
- Have the boat properly balanced, and keep weight to a minimum.

- Pour your fuel carefully; don't waste any, or pollute waters.

- Use an electric motor where practical to do the job.

- Do not overload boat beyond capacity - even to save gasoline

STUMPF LEAVES MEAD FOR DENVER

W. Alan Stumpf, Environmental Management Specialist at Lake Mead National Recreation Area, has accepted a transfer to the new National Park Service Rocky Mountain Regional Office in Denver, Colorado, where he will serve in a similar position. He will be leaving for his new assignment on March 30.

"Al has completed a fantastic volume of work on Environmental Impact Statements relating to Lake Mead National Recreation Area," said Superintendent William J. Briggie. "His expertise and knowledge of the area have been invaluable to us."

Stumpf's new duties will involve review of E.I.S.'s from other agencies that will have an effect on National Park Service areas in the Rocky Mountain Region.

He joined the National Park Service in 1967 at Lake Mead NRA and served as a park ranger at Katherine's Landing on Lake Mohave for five years. He transferred to Area Headquarters in Boulder City in 1972.

Stumpf taught natural history and Southwest Indian arts and crafts courses for the Continuing Education Program at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas, and served on the Las Vegas Wash Development Committee.
