

Carlton Lawrence Appointed to City Council

By Lorna Kesterson

Carlton Lawrence, who has resided in Henderson for 13 years, was sworn into office as this city's new councilman last night, by City Clerk Genevieve Harper.

Lawrence was selected by councilmen Sat., to replace Councilman Jerry Franklin who left last week to make his home in Oregon. Shop Superintendent at the Las Vegas Convention Services, Lawrence taught at Basic high school from 1961 to 1966 as the vocational teacher. He was an administrator in Clark County schools for five years, serving as assistant principal at Roy Martin junior high; dean of students at Vo-Tech, and assistant principal of Jim Bridger school. He resigned from the school district and went into business for himself in Henderson at Marine Sales and Service. He has worked at the Convention Center services for six months.

Mrs. Lawrence is a third grade teacher at C.T. Sewell Elementary school, and their oldest son, Russell Lawrence, 27, was valedictorian of his class when he graduated from Basic high school. He is a graduate of the University of the Pacific and is presently a surveyor in Las Vegas.

Another son, Richard, also a graduate of Basic high school, is now a welder in Denver, Colo. A daughter, Carla, attended Basic high school and graduated from Vo-Tech in the computer program. She is presently employed in New York City.

Lawrence has been a member of Henderson's

Improvement Public Trust as treasurer and will submit his resignation to that group tonight.

Lawrence is a graduate of North Texas State College in Denton, Texas and has a master's degree from New Mexico Highland University in Las Vegas, New Mexico. He has done post master's work at UNLV, University of Nevada Reno and Colorado State. He taught vocational education eight years in New Mexico and served four years in the Marines during World War 2.

When asked about his council appointment, which will expire next spring at the municipal election, Lawrence issued the following statement.

"When I was asked by the city council to serve out Jerry

Franklin's unexpired term, it came as a complete surprise, however, there was very little hesitancy on my part in accepting the offer.

"As a member of the Henderson's Improvement Trust, I have been well aware of the tremendous strides forward that this city has taken in the past few years under former Mayor McDoniel, our present Mayor Cruz Olague, and the members of the city council.

"I deem it a privilege to be a part of such a group. My only regret is that the acceptance of this position will necessitate my resignation from the improvement trust, but since the council will be working very closely with members of the trust, as they have in the past, we will still be involved in one of the most important movements that has taken place in our city since it became one.

"I would like to express my appreciation to the council for selecting me for this important position. I would also like to thank the people of Henderson for being the type of community that is willing to progress and achieve. Without the guiddance and support of the total Henderson community, very little of real worth could be accomplished. I want to also assure the people of Henderson that I will, to the best of my ability, help in making decisions that will reflect the well-being of the people of Henderson above all other considerations."

Hospital May Have To Close Emergency Room

Morry's Story

By Morry Zenoff

I think I got to the heart of the man whose recent decision made political history recently -- the heart of Mike O'Callaghan -- governor of the great state of Nevada.

He was standing in the balcony of the new Loren Williams indoor swimming pool, leaning on the railing, watching Diane Tomlinson's great group of singers from Basic High -- The Totality group --. They were singing as part of the program honoring departing councilman, Jerry Franklin, held last Thursday evening.

The governor and I had had heart to heart talks long ago -- this when he was a Basic high school teacher was also covering our sports for this newspaper. We then talked of community problems, of sports events past, present and future. None of our conversations, as I recall were earth-shaking, but they did involve people -- kids or teachers or programs -- or stories or pictures, etc.

Now -- as governor -- when you talk to Mike -- you're talking of more complex matters.

But I wanted to talk about Mike, the man himself -- Mike O'Callaghan -- who has any political future he would choose --. In Nevada no one has been so strong since Pat McCarran.

With the United States Senate his but for the routine of just filing and running an ordinary race -- O'Callaghan announced he wants to stay on as governor.

Some of his reasons came from his heart in our few minutes together Thursday night.

"I don't want to die in Washington. To go back there and get strong enough to be counted, it takes years, many years -- more years than I want to spend there. I'm all shot up with shrapnel and how it is difficult to talk of a long life.

"Here I can do things now. I have much to live for in Nevada personally speaking. My son at UNLV, for instance. He'll be playing football this fall. I'll be right there at all nine games. My other children -- I want to see them grow up

Carnival Tickets Cheaper From Merchants

The Henderson Industrial Days carnival, the Capell Brothers Shows, will be open Wed. afternoon at 3 p.m. at the Community Center, as the next event in the annual Industrial Days celebration.

The carnival will be open through Sunday and there is a discount on tickets if purchased in books from local merchants prior to going to the carnival. There are five rides for $1.

Merchants where tickets can be purchased include the Chamber of Commerce, Valley Bank of Nevada, Rainbow Club, Olson Realty, Crosby Enterprises, Market Basket, California Pacific Utilities, Bank of Nevada, Basic Photo, Perry's Men's Shop, Frontier Nursery, Eldorado Club, Van Valeys, Tops Market, Rasco, Safeway, Albertson's, Lyons Hardware, J&K Pharmacy, and all three Henderson 7-11 Stores.

On Friday there will be the art show and hobby and craft show at the Youth Center from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Saturday the events will include the golf tournament, art show, hobby and craft show, carnival, pony express relay, parade, Governor's Dance and trophy presentation.

Woman Found Guilty Of Keeping Kids From School

Glenna Sue Forbes, 37, charged with contributory dependency, was found guilty in municipal court Wed., and sentencing was set for tomorrow at 6 p.m.

A second charge of contributory dependency against Mrs. Forbes, and two charges against her husband, Andrew Eugene Forbes, 44, were postponed by Judge Jensen.

Mr. and Mrs. Forbes were charged with not sending their children to school. One child was reported absent for 39 days and another 55 days between Oct. 18 and Feb. 1.

No Movie Set For Saturday

The movies will resume next Saturday, Davison said.

There will be no movie Saturday at the city recreation department due to the Industrial Days Parade, according to Willie Davison,

PARADE TO END AT NEW LOCATION

The Industrial Days Parade this year will utilize a different route than in past years, according to Police Chief Floyd Osborn.

The only difference will be in the area at the end of the parade, which will be on Victory Road between Atlantic and Water Streets. This will allow parade units to use Atlantic Street if they wish to return to the area of the start of the parade, or park their trailers, buses or cars in the dirt area of Lake Mead Drive and Atlantic. Titanium Metals has given permission to park in this area as long as it does not block their main gate access to their plants. Police officers will be stationed in this area to assist parade participants in crossing Lake Mead Drive.

St. Rose de Lima hospital may have to close its 24-hour a day, seven days a week emergency room service because people are not paying for the service, according to William Stultz, administrator.

"Many people are using the service," Stultz said, "but they do not pay." He said the emergency room handled over 59 persons over the past week-end and 355 so far this month. Five of those treated were admitted.

The cost of the emergency room is estimated at $200,000 a year, $165,000 of that is for the doctors alone.

"We don't want to raise the rates," Stultz said, "We're trying to keep fees down, but many people do not realize that insurance usually does not cover the cost of illnesses and they simply do not pay." He said a $5400 cost of a gunshot wound and a $7400 self inflicted wound were just two examples of costs the hospital must absorb.

"We have no subsidy from anyone," Stultz said. He said the hospital treats anyone at the emergency room. Some complaints that some people have to wait in the emergency room are founded, Stultz said, because if doctors are involved in a greater emergency, such as a cardiac arrest, then the lesser emergency must wait until the doctors are free.

St. Rose de Lima is one of the three prime emergency rooms in Southern Nevada. The other two are Southern Nevada Memorial hospital and Sunrise hospital.

"We'd hate to close it down but we must have the cooperation of the people who use the emergency room," Stultz said. "If the people would pay at the time the service is rendered, it would help -- and then we could bill the insurance."

Over The News Desk

By Lorna Kesterson

Twenty some years ago when I first started working for this organization, I was promised by the publisher and editor that as soon as I had some experience, and as soon as the newspaper "got fat," I would get fat also.

Fat -- I've got, however, I don't think it is in the way that Morry meant at that time.

Experience -- I've had, but I can assure our readers, that a new experience every week apparently does not qualify one for a raise around here. If you added up all of the weeks I've worked here, and added only one experience for each week, I'd still have a pile of experience.

Every week as the paper comes out, we breathe a sigh and think that whatever panic we experienced that week will not be new to us again. But every week is a new panic and the former ones forgotten.

We've even gone so far as to print the want ad page backwards and upside down, and to read it you had to get a mirror. But let's forget that and all the others -- we had a new one last week.

Rae Von Dornum has been taking stories out of the past issues of the Henderson Home News for the Industrial Days edition of the paper to be released Thurs.

To keep the stories from seeping into the paper before time, we have a special box to put the stories in -- separate from the ones we use every day. Deadline time around here is something else with the small staff we have. Someone -- and we'll never tell who, dipped into the forbidden box and found a story which just fit into a spot last Thursday. It was printed as if it happened yesterday, although it happened in Sept. in the early 1950's.

Horrors!

Imagine my surprise when someone called and asked where in -- did we get that story.

I read the story, and it told about a surprise bridal shower held for a young lady Sept. 14. Well, that date did sound a little slow, even for us, so as I checked it out, it came to me that it was a story from the Industrial Days section,
