

Councilman Blames Administration For Police Problems Here

City Councilman Carlton Lawrence, who with Councilman Phil Stout conducted an investigation into the city police department for the Henderson city council, said the investigation shows there is a lack of supervision from the police chief and up to the city manager.

Lawrence said the six policy determinations put out by the city council, are only the first steps toward alleviating the problem.

"It's obvious that the policy changed mandated by the city council are not broad policy changes," Lawrence said. "In effect they point out the basic problem is in the administration of the department and supervision of personnel."

Lawrence said he felt the problem and the investigation of police problems were forced on the council by the lack of direction from the police chief and the city manager.

He further stated that he believed any policewoman should receive the same academy training as a policeman. "If we have police officers on the department then they should be trained." He also said if one dispatcher is a policewoman, then he felt they all should be.

Policy determinations made by the council and announced this week included the policy that all vehicles, except those used in the detective bureau, should be equipped as patrol units. Others included the schedule of work hours for policemen and put the dispatchers under a lieutenant or the captain of operations to schedule shifts. The policy determinations also provide for a procedure for any police personnel to have audience with the city manager. The police chief has been designated, under the policy changes, to develop strong communications with his total staff.

With apologies to my friends who are in the insurance business—I think the public is getting ripped off.

Insurance of all types are required ... health insurance, car insurance, life insurance, house insurance, boat insurance, hand insurance (in case you are Liberace), etc.

The law requires insurance on many things, and if you are financing anything you are required, and it is good judgment, to have insurance.

But in case you are an insuree, please don't file a claim or you will be cancelled out.

Like for instance, a gal in our office has had her house insured with the same insurance company for ten years. Who knows how much she has paid in premiums?

They had a power mower stolen from the rear of their home when they had always kept the mower -- inside their fence. They filed a claim and received $60 for the mower. They also received a letter that their insurance was being cancelled because they are a "poor risk."

Now, with the brand of being a "poor risk", they have to seek insurance elsewhere.

Does that seem like justice?

I can understand a company may get a little itchy about the Clark County School District and its losses, but any company that takes on a public utility such as that knows the risks when they take on the insurance premiums which are always high.

There are lots of people who are upset with the "storage fee" tacked on to their utility bill which is already high.

For many years we got along without a "storage fee" and I'm wondering how all at once it became necessary.

A local doctor said maybe he should start charging a "sitting room fee." Or maybe the service stations will tack on a "storage fee" for their gasoline -- or maybe I'd better not make any suggestions.

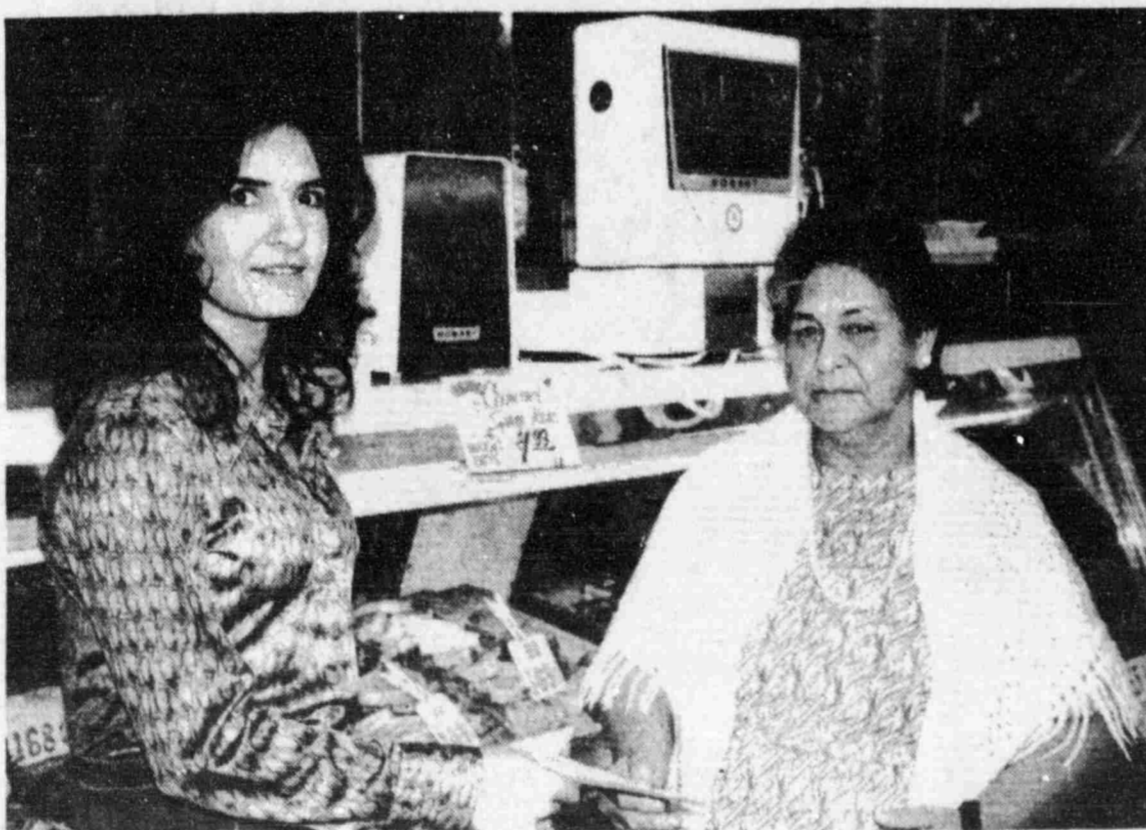

Butch Nauenberg was injured with burns on his hands in a fire which started in his trailer home Sunday while he was putting paneling on the wall.

According to firemen, the glue vapors ignited from pilot lights on the stove. The fire was confined to the kitchen and the fire was put out with a garden hose and other ways.

Two youths were credited with helping, Mike Abrams

A study which will ultimately determine whether the City of Henderson should acquire and operate California - Pacific Utilities Co. in Henderson, was authorized by the city council Mon. night.

Rex A. Tynes, consulting engineer and former Nevada Power Co. official, was authorized to begin the first phase of the three - phase study at a cost to the city of $2,400. The money for the study will come from the land fund.

The second phase of the study, which would begin at the end of the first phase, would cost $6,800.

The second phase would give a report on discussions with possible power suppliers and economic evaluations, with 2 - year, 5 - year and 14 - year time frames. This will consider possible power purchases by Henderson for use by the City itself. This will include Colorado River Resources, U.S. Bureau of Reclamation, Nevada Power Co, Southern California Edison Co, Department of Water and Power - Los Angeles, Kaiparowits Power plant, Intermountain power project, and Rural Electrification Administration.

The third phase of the study, costing an estimated $8,200, would be a feasibility study of the possibility of the City of Henderson acquiring and operating California - Pacific Utilities Co. in Henderson. This study will be based on several of the more probably and economical power sources from phase 2 and will include an economic review of the physical system, necessary rehabilitation and probably growth and necessary additions and added investment. It will include cost of operating the system, depreciation, amortization and power supply.

Phase one will be completed within 60 days and phase two within 90 days and phase three within 90 days after authorization to commence work on that phase.

Personnel includes besides Tynes, Harold P. Leary, P.E.; George W. Dwyer, P.E.; Albert B. Gemoets, and necessary draftsmen, clerical and stenographic personnel.

The first phase of the study, which will begin immediately, will be an analysis of present and probably future usage and retail residential and commercial rates (2 - year, 5 - year and 10 - year frame) of Calif. - Pacific Utilities Company with comparisons with Nevada Power, City of Boulder City, Valley Electric

Association and national averages and trends.

EOB Wins $4,800 From City Council

A request from the Economic Opportunity Board for $14,000 from the City of Henderson failed to get approval from the City Council Mon. night and a total of $4,800 was approved instead.

Citing tight money situations within the City as a reason for the failure to approve the whole amount, councilmen agreed on $2,400 to be given to the EOB now and $2,400 after the fiscal year begins in July.

In other actions the council --

- Deferred action on a civil service ordinance until a recessed meeting of the council next Tuesday night.
- Approved a request for a street name change from Aurora Street to Serene.
- Approved action to return parking on Atomic Street to its previous condition. Councilman Carlton Lawrence voted No.

--Approved a request by Eckankar to have a $50 use permit fee refunded.

Deferred action on the vacation of Amadeus Street to a committee meeting next Tuesday, Feb. 24.

--Approved two regional street and highway commission requests.

--Referred a claim of $25 for a sewer backup to the insurance carrier from Ray Martinez.

--Approved use of a room in the civic center by the Jaycees for a study of the city's electrical rates without payment of the rental fee.

--Appointed Leo Hernandez to the city recreation board.

--Don Grau and Larry Tabony were appointed to the citizen's advisory board to the traffic commission. Bill Close was also appointed.

Nevada Rock Wins Bid On City Street Project

Nevada Rock and Sand, Inc. was awarded the bid for a gigantic street resurfacing program for the City of Henderson by the city council Mon. night.

The low bid was $421,964.46, and City Manager Don Dawson said the money will be paid from the land fund.

The council at the same time awarded a bid to the First National Bank for an and his friend Billy, who were not far away when they saw the smoke coming from the trailer.

emergency loan of $860,000 to pay for the street project. The bank offered the interest rate of 6.60 per cent while the Bank of Nevada bid was 6.74.

Dawson told the council he hoped to add an additional $105,000 to the project in additional street projects since the bids had come in so much lower than anticipated. One of the projects he named was Palo Verde Street which joins Basic High School with Boulder highway.

"This was not put in the originally planned street project," Dawson said, "but I feel it is imperative that it be improved."

A payment of $160,000 from the land fund to repay the loan is anticipated in the coming budget and another payment has been planned for next year.

Engineering is expected to cost $63,000, $50,000 for contingencies, and $20,000 for the city crews to raise or lower man holes and other such projects. The project is expected to get under way within 30 days.

Baha'i Pioneers Participate In People's March

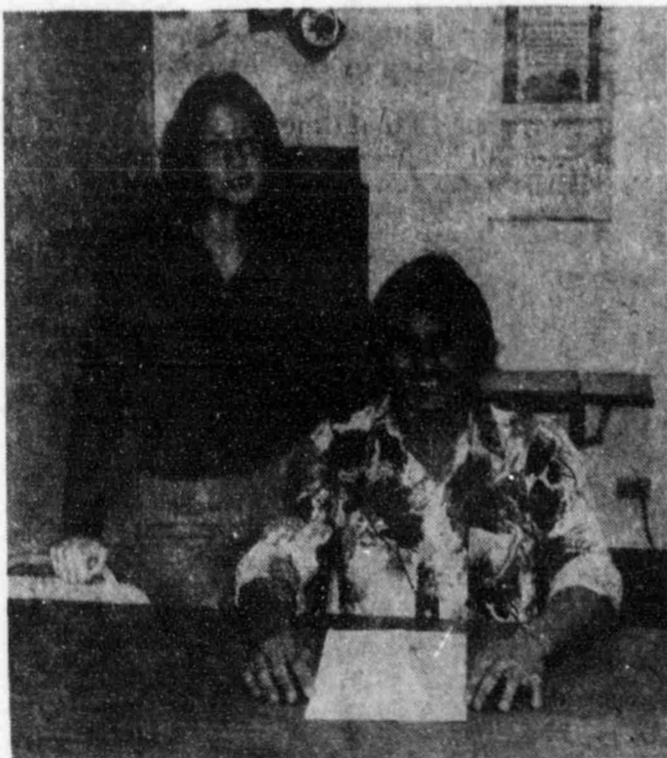

Baha'is, Black and White, join hands in a people's march in Africa. Four Basic High School graduates, Michael and Nanci Bagstad, their son Richard, and Danny and Donna Wertsbaugh along with other American Baha'i pioneers, took part with their African friends in the Defile (day-fe-lay) in Bangui, the capital city of the Republic of Central Africa, on the first day of December 1975. President Jean B. Bohassa fixed his eyes on the Baha'is as they approached, stood and saluted as they passed and watched as they departed while the crowds along the way chanted "La Foi Baha'i" and "Baha'u'llah" (names of the prophet founder of the faith). This is an important day for the African people as all groups, religious, governmental and commercial march as the President sits in review. The white Baha'is join hands with the black Baha'is in this celebration unlike the white European community which stands aloof. The Baha'i group was the only group in which White mixed with Black freely. While the Europeans saw in the Defile nothing that interested them, the Baha'is saw an excellent opportunity to demonstrate the unity that exists within the Baha'i Faith and the unity that must characterize all of the world in the years to come.

Letter To The Editor:

Dear Editor: We hope the person or persons who shot our pet dog of nine years this week can rest easy knowing he hit vital organs & following extensive surgery at this point we do not know if the dog will survive or not. Why didn't you aim better & do a real slick permanent job & kill the dog & really get personal satisfaction. It would have caused the dog less pain & certainly spared our family heart break and expense. Hope you are very proud of yourself! We are! We've lived in Henderson 25 years, have a closed back yard out an open front. I have had hundreds of dogs on our lawn at various times over the years. We're proud to say NO one in our family has ever thought to shoot at one or even throw rocks. When a harsh "get home" works just as effectively.

If he hadn't been a friendly and obedient dog, fenced in and roamed the streets day and night as perhaps some dogs do - it might be a different story. Didn't you think perhaps he could be someone's pet & friend, always enclosed and just happened to have gotten out unknowingly to us? It is true - the end of the world is coming - no respect for people, other people's property. We certainly are getting further & further away from God. Sad to think you had to feel you had the right to kill someone's pet or cripple it. Next thing you'll be doing is shooting pellets at children who happen to loiter on your side walk on their way to school. Thanks! For nothing. Hope your conscience lets you rest - or maybe you don't have one

If

If you can keep your head when all about you are losing theirs and blaming it on you, If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you, But make allowance for their doubting too; If you can wait and not be tired by waiting, Or being lied about, don't deal in lies, Or being hated don't give way to hating, And yet don't look too good, nor talk too wise: If you can dream, and not make dreams your master; If you can think, and not make thoughts your aim, If you can meet with Triumph and Disaster And treat those two imposters just the same; If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools, Or watch the things you give your life to, broken, And stoop and build'em up with worn-out tools: If you can make one heap of all your winnings; And risk it on one turn of pitch-and-toss, And lose, and start again at your beginnings And never breathe a word about your loss; If you can force your heart and nerve and sinew To serve your turn long after they are gone, And so hold on when there is nothing in you Except the Will which says to them: "Hold on!" If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue, Or walk with Kings-nor lose the common touch, If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you, If all men count with you, but none too much; If you can fill the unforgiving minute With sixty seconds' worth of distance run, Yours is the Earth and everything that's in it, And which is more-you'll be a Man my son!

SPORTS SPOTLIGHT JOYS OF SKIING

There is more than one way to ski a mountain. Downhill skiing is familiar to most of us, yet there are other, more innovative ways to ski.

For instance: SKIJORING is when the skier is towed by an aircraft. Speeds as high as 109.23 mph have been recorded! (Average downhill racing speeds reach only 55 mph.)

SKI PARACHUTING is skiing from a cliff with the aid of a parachute. The greatest vertical distance was recorded in Yosemite Valley,

TONY ROYAL

California at 2,300 feet.

No matter how you choose to tackle the ski slopes, warm up with a SKIERS' SIPPER. Pass a basket of assorted crackers to go along.

SKIERS' SIPPER

Stir 1 can (11 1/2 ounces) Campbell's Green Pea Soup in saucepan. Gradually blend in 1 soup can water and 2 tablespoons bourbon. Heat, stir occasionally. Makes about 2 1/2 cups, or 2 servings.

MARDI GRAS GOLF TOURNEY -- The annual benefit golf tournament for the Mardi Gras to aid St. Rose de Lima Hospital, will be held Saturday at Black Mountain Country Club. From left are Martha Smith, Hershel Trumbo and Lois Foster, displaying a poster advertising the event.

Mardi Gras Golf Tournament -

The staff of Black Mountain Golf and Country Club has everything in readiness for the Mardi Gras golf tournament to be held Sunday, February 22, 1976. Entries will be accepted through Friday, February 20. Pairings will be made and tee times will be from 11:00 a.m. until 1:00 p.m. If a specific time is needed by a participant, they should advise the pro shop when they sign up for the tournament. The tournament is a scramble with four people on each team. Prizes for the tournament will be tickets to the Mardi Gras at Caesar's Palace on Saturday, February 28, 1976. Entry fee for the tournament is a donation of $5.00 per person with all proceeds going to the St. Rose de Lima Hospital. Tickets to the Mardi Gras not only include a dinner and entertainment but also will give the winner a chance to win a trip to San Francisco or a beautiful turquoise squash blossom necklace. Also scheduled for the Mardi Gras will be various door prizes.

Members of the hospital auxiliary will be on hand at the tournament to act as hostesses and participate in other ways. They will have tickets available for the Mardi Gras for anyone who wishes to purchase them. Also available will be tickets for the car which has been donated by Hank and Barbara Greenspun. Also participating in the festivities of the tournament will be the Sisters from St. Rose de Lima.

Immediately following the tournament the awards will be made and a no-host buffet will be served at a cost of $2.75 per person. The buffet is planned as a family affair and golfers are urged to bring their children to join in this. Reservations are a must for the buffet.

Rancho, Hagedorn Rip Basic

Rancho - with sophomore Bobby Hagedorn leading the way, handed Basic its 12th straight defeat Friday night, 89-68.

Hagedorn, in his first game as a varsity player, led all scorers with 16 points and 10 rebounds in a contest marred by 69 fouls. Basic had 38 fouls and seven technicals.

Friday night's victory at Rancho improves the Rams' conference record to 5-4, while the Wolves remain winless in the league with an 0-9 mark. Rancho is 10-9 for the season and Basic is 1-19.

Basic, behind Phil Nelson's nine points, moved out in front quickly and led 19-17 at the end of the first period.

But Rancho came back and took a 43-33 lead as the first half ended. Hagedorn, who entered the game in the second period, scored six points and hauled down six points and hauled down rebounds at both ends of the court.

The Rams came out strong again in the third period and increased their advantage to 20 points going into the final quarter.

Basic's troubles continued in the final period when six of the Wolves went to the bench with their fifth personal foul.

Black Mountain Invitational Set

A field of 100 golfers from Nevada and adjoining states are anticipated for the 1976 Black Mountain Ladies' Invitational Golf Tournament next Wednesday, February 25, at our local course.

The tournament will feature Team Play: Best Two Balls of the Four-some, with Black Mountain Pro Shop scheduling pairings of an A, B, C and D player on each team.

Tournament Chairman Martha Smith noted that seventeen ladies' groups have been invited to participate in this year's Invitational, and early entries indicate we may top last year's total of 103 entries.

Black Mountain always attracts a large turnout from neighboring courses in Clark County plus a good number of players from more distant areas.

Eleven golfers from Bullhead City, seven from Victorville, and four from Lake Havasu signed up during the first week of registration.

The entry fee of $15.00 per person includes green and cart fees, plus the awards luncheon and a free chance for door prizes.

Early donors of door prizes include Vernay's and J & K Pharmacy of Henderson, and our friends at Nevada Bob's in Las Vegas donated a golf bag for the drawing.

Dave Jamison has arranged for Greyhound Global Van Lines to provide free golf balls, while Perry's Men's Shop will supply tees and pens as favors to each entrant.

A spirited '76 decor is being fashioned by Social Co-chairmen Blanche Kuchel and Eileen Shelton to welcome visiting golfers; these ladies are also coordinating the awards luncheon to follow tournament play.

All lady golfers, high to low-handicappers, should enjoy the best ball play and are welcome to enter the Invitational. You may register and pay your entry fee to Martha Smith or the Black Mountain Pro Shop before Saturday morning.

Black Mountain Ladies

by Stella Kemp

The Ladies' Day Tournament on Feb. 11 (Best 9 holes minus 1/2 handicap) was won by Helen Bowser, Best Nine 42-9 1/2-Net 32 1/2 Helen's 18-hole total was a commendable 87-19-Net 68.

Hi-Low grass tufts made wobbly putters out of some golfers but did not handicap Rosemary Chandler, Alice Hewitt, Mary Jo Sheehan and Dorothy Wade, who earned Low Putt Honors with 32 each last Wednesday.

A good number of our golfers will be entered in the Black Mountain Ladies' Invitational next Wednesday, Feb. 25, not only to act as hostesses on the course to our many visitors but to give them a run for top honors. The Best-Two-Balls format, with A,B, C and D players on each team, should induce some of our "shy" gals to join in the fun.

There is still plenty of room for men, women and junior golfers who want to play in the Mardi Gras golf scramble to benefit St. Rose de Lima Hospital, at BMCC this Sunday, February 22. Sign up and pay your $5.00 donation before Sunday morning.

Vo - Tech Rumbles By Basic

Lindsey Wattree sparked a fourth - quarter surge that carried Vo - Tech once and for all away from Basic and on to an 81-59 victory over the Wolves Tuesday night.

The victory, fourth against six losses in Southern AAA Conference play, lifted the Roadrunners out of the cellar in the Sunset Division, breaking a tie with Gorman, which fell to Clark Tuesday night.

Vo - Tech improved its overall record to 8 - 13, while Basic, winless and in the cellar of the Sunrise Division after 10 league games, lost its 20th of the season against just one win.

It was the 13th straight loss for the Wolves while the Roadrunners broke a five - game, especially with several driving layups, poured in 26 points in the final quarter while holding the hosts to 14. Wattree hit eight points in that final eight minutes.

Sewing Sense With Sue

By Sue Blair

How many of you are aware of the history of the sewing machine?

The sewing machine was patented by Elias Howe of Boston in 1846. While numerous patterns of machines have been invented since, all double-threaded machines are constructed on the principle invented by Howe. The Singer machine, which soon followed the Howe, had an improved plan for operating the needle and for moving the cloth along as it was sewed.

This machine also used the treadle as motive power whereas previously, all sewing machines were operated by a hand crank.

The use of small electric motors resulted in power attachments that have largely displaced the tire-some treadle.

We consider How the inventor of the sewing machine because he was the first to get a practical machine on the market; but others had made the attempt at an earlier date.

The first known attempt was that of Thomas Saint, an Englishman, in 1790, but his machine was not practical. In 1830 a machine was made in France which was successfully used in making clothes for the army.

It was destroyed by a mob because the tailors thought that its use would take away their employment. Two years later, Hunt of New York made a number of machines similar in principle to the successful machines of the present day, but he failed to take out a patent.

I was reading in interesting book about sewing that had a chapter about patterns from other countries. Did you know that a Russian pattern cost about $8.

It has 15 garments in one pattern. Not just one for a woman but some for children and a jacket for Dad as well.

It is actually 15 different patterns placed one atop another on two sides of a 33 1/2 X 22 1/2 sheet of paper.

You trace the one you are going to make onto a piece of tissue by following a dotted or dot-dash line.

The only problem with the patterns seem there are no marking on the pattern pieces, such as place on fold or darts or back and front. Now that is what I, call a challenge!

The pattern is a bargain and I would like to have one, so if you know anyone in Russia please let me know and I will order one.

Did you know??? If you wind embroidery thread on a plastic permanent curler and snap it shut, the thread will not unwind. Now you can organize your embroidery notions.

Before cutting material that will fray easily, make a wide mark around the pattern with a wax crayon. Cut on this line and the material will not ravel.

A nice gift for people who sew can be made by loosening the top of an ordinary coat hanger with pliers and straightening it out. Wrap the wire with ribbon, catching it at the ends with a few stitches. String spools of many colored threads on the wire and put it back in shape. Decorate handle with ribbons, ending with a small strawberry or heart pin cushion. When thread is needed, it can be pulled from the spool without removing it from the wire.

Thought for the week... Many of us are living our lives as though it is a trial run for a second chance.

Happy sewing... See you next week.

'Coronation Luncheon'

Jane Gilmer was crowned Sweetheart Queen by Torrie Anderson at our Coronation Luncheon on Valentine's Day. Jane was given a beautiful necklace and flowers from the Chapter. Her mother, Jane Lang and sister, Marilyn Buescher, sat at her table, along with the last 2 years queens, Torrie Anderson and Cindy Park.

The tables were decorated beautifully with pink and red carnations as center pieces. Behind Jane was a huge Valentine heart.

After the crowning and a brief story about one of Jane's experiences when she was younger, we all enjoyed lunch and cocktails.

Those present were: Donna Anderson, Torrie Anderson, LuAnn Askew, Ramona Baughman, Mr. B., Pat Chandler, Jaquita Davis, Lu England, Jane Gilmer, Cindy Park, Pat Rawson, Darlene Trueworthy, Linda Wieder, Jerry Lomprey, Terry Smith, and Susan Knopp.

The facts of life.

Swimming's a barrel of fun.

It can also be a barrel of danger, if you don't know the fundamentals—if you don't know how to take care of yourself in the water.

That's why Red Cross swimming, lifesaving and water safety courses are offered all over the country.

We want everybody—even little kids—to know The Facts of Life in the water. Since we began to teach swimming, we've issued a grand total of 55,216,000 swimming certificates. Millions upon millions of people have learned to swim with us. Or learned to swim better.

If you've ever wondered where Red Cross money goes, consider just this one fact: nearly every life-guard serving in America is Red Cross trained and accredited.

Isn't Red Cross a good idea? Belong.

Red Cross. The Good Neighbor.

RIB TICKLERS

"The word 'reviver' spells the same backwards and forwards," said the frivolous man. "Can you think of another?"

The serious man scowled, "Tut-tut!" he cried contemptuously.

And they rode on in silence.

"So your wife entertained her club yesterday afternoon, eh?"

"That was the supposition, but when I sneaked in the back door the women were all talking at once, so I imagine each was entertaining herself."

HE—"Do you believe kissing is unhealthy?"

SHE—"I couldn't say—I've never..."

HE—"You've never been kissed?"

SHE—"I've never been sick."

A few years ago a gentleman who had lost his nose was invited out to tea.

"My dear," said the old lady of the house to her little daughter, "I want you to be very particular and make no remarks about Mr. Jenkins' nose."

Gathered around the table, everything was going well; the child peeped about, looking rather puzzled, and at last startled the table:

"Ma, why did you tell me to say nothing about Mr. Jenkins' nose? He hasn't got any."

"Mummy, do give me another piece of sugar," said little Helen.

"But you've had three already," her mother pointed out.

"Just one more, Mummy."

"Well, this must be the last."

"Thank you, Mummy—but I must say you've got no will power."

FOOD IDEAS HELPFUL TIPS

HOMEMAKER'S VERSATILE HELPER

Now you can make a wide variety of delicious dishes—superb stroganoffs, smooth souffles, fruit desserts—that taste rich and creamy yet save you the price of cream.

By using the nation's most popular frozen non-dairy coffee creamer, Coffee Rich, you can enhance the flavor and consistency of recipes calling for cream. Many gourmet cooks say it tastes better than cream.

Soups, sauces and gravies can easily be made smoother and more flavorful, for less money. What's more, Coffee Rich, which has outstanding uniformity, resists breaking down under cooking temperatures. And it can be stored indefinitely in a frozen state and for up to three weeks in a refrigerator.

Test kitchen directors and home economists at Rich Products Corporation in Buffalo, N. Y., have come up with a wide variety of new applications of this versatile cooking helper for everyday at-home use, including unbaked cookies, casseroles, cocktail meat balls, strawberry punch, vegetable entrees, egg and cheese top-of-the-range dishes, custards, omelets and oven sauteed chicken.

In all its applications, Rich's non-dairy creamer blends instantly and completely. Because of its non-dairy aspects and lack of butterfat, it is compatible with many special diets. Happily, it has only 20 calories per average serving.

It was a medieval saint, St. Bernard (NOT the one the dogs are named after), who first used the expression "love me, love my dog." It occurred in his first sermon.

Teresa Stacy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Stacy, 237 Carson Way, was married Jan. 17 in ceremonies in Las Vegas to Michael Montoya of Las Vegas.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Montoya, 77070 New York, Palm Springs, Calif.

The maid of honor was a friend of the bride's, Vicki Taylor, and the best man was Steven Jensen, a friend of the bridegroom's from Las Vegas.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents at 237 Carson Way with approximately 60 persons attending. The serving table was centered with a three-layer cake, decorated with white and blue with the traditional wedding bells. Adding to the setting were white and blue mums floral arrangements by Mrs. Stacy.

The bride's gown was of antique white trimmed in dark royal blue, an antique white flophat with blue trim. Her flowers were red rose, white carnations, and baby breath with antique white lace in a cascade bouquet.

The maid of honor chose a burgandy gown with flowers similar to the bride.

The bride is a graduate of Basic High School in 1975. She was a cheerleader, student body secretary, senior prom attendant and belonged to the FHA, prep club, and was Sweetheart reverse queen.

The bridegroom graduated from North View High School in 1973 where he participated in basketball, baseball, letterman's club, art club, key club. He attended Saddleback College in Laguna Beach for two years, majoring in business and real estate. He is assistant manager at Leed's Qualicraft.

Following a honeymoon trip to California, the young couple will live at 4995 Maryland Parkway No. 110, Las Vegas.

A Neil Simon Comedy Opens At B.H.S. Tonight

For many years, Neil Simon has been one of the foremost comedy writers on Broadway. His plays promise the audience many laughs and a light-hearted look at some aspect of today's society.

The Star-Spangled Girl, opening at the B.H.S. Little Theater tonight, follows the Neil Simon format to the last delightful detail. When "Miss Hometown-Patriotic-USA" meets two protest writers, the fireworks are inevitable -- and so are the laughs.

All aspects of this play have been the interpretation of the Advanced Drama class at the high school. Class members who do not appear in the cast have worked hard at designing and constructing the set, working out proper sound effects and lighting, and covering all other phases of production from casting to ticket sales.

The cast, as usual, is smaller than the backstage crew: Wayne Bartlett will appear as Andy Hobart, the dedicated writer; David Meschnark will portray Norman Cornell, the love-sick, star-struck, sometimes writer; and Debbie Smith is Sophie Rauschmeyer, the star-spangled girl who made it all happen.

The hard-working backstage crew who keeps everything running smoothly includes: Roy Tillery, stage manager; Kenny Richardson, lighting director; Monte Horne, sound director; Virginia Nicholas and Jennilee Thayer, properties personnel; and Lynn Ouellet and Vicki Honeywell, rehearsal assistants.

The Star-Spangled Girl will be presented on Thursday, February 19 and Friday, February 20, at the B.H.S. Little Theater. Curtaintime is 7:30 p.m. and all seats are only $1. Tickets are available at the door and senior citizens are cordially invited to present their Gold Card.

CPA's Review The Big Tax Reducers: Deductions

Third in a series of articles on 1975 income taxes

Digging up evidence of all the deductible expenses incurred during the year can be the most time-consuming part of income tax preparation, but it's unavoidable -- unless you use the standard deduction of 16 percent of adjusted gross income up to $2,300. And even if you decide to go with the standard deduction, you'll probably have to add up all your available deductions, anyway -- to find out which method of filing is more profitable.

That's why it's wise, whether you use the long-form return or the short, whether you prepare your own return or have it done for you, to make a thorough search of your records first.

When you do, here are the types of deductible expenses to look for:

- Medical and dental
- Taxes Paid
- Contributions
- Interest Paid
- Casualty or theft losses
- Child care and disabled dependent care
- Alimony
- Unreimbursed business expenses

Deductible medical and dental expenses include more than doctor, dentist and hospital bills. They take in prosthetic devices such as eyeglasses, dentures and hearing aids; special equipment such as wheelchairs; medical travel; special foods that may be required; and many other costs.

Put aside all receipts or canceled checks that may relate to health care and thus may be medical deductions, then refer to the tax instruction booklet or ask your tax preparer about them.

Drugs and medicines are deductible only to the extent that they exceed one percent of adjusted gross income. After subtracting the one percent, add drug and medicine costs to other medical bills, which then are subject to another exclusion of three percent of adjusted gross income. The only health expense not subject to the three percent exclusion is one half of medical insurance premiums, up to $150.

Deductions for taxes are limited to those paid to local, state and foreign governments, and include taxes on income, real estate, personal property, sales and gasoline. If you expect a refund of any there taxes later, don't worry about it; take the tax as a deduction in the year paid and include it in income when you get the refund.

Do not deduct taxes paid to the federal government, custom duties, motor vehicle or drivers' license fees or taxes on alcohol or tobacco. Also leave out assessments for local improvements and transfer taxes on the sale of your home; they're not deductible, either.

Contributions are deductible only if made to qualified organizations, of which Internal Revenue maintains a current list in all its offices. Almost all of the better-known charitable, religious, educational and service organizations are on the list.

If you claim a deduction a non-cash gift worth more than $200, you must attach a statement to your return describing the item, telling how you acquired it, stating the fair market value and the terms under which you contributed it, and giving certain other information.

When computing the deduction for interest you have paid, don't overlook the interest charged on credit card accounts and time payment plans, or the "points" paid when buying a house. Also include any penalty imposed for repayment of a mortgage. Interest charged for an income tax deficiency is another deductible item.

Personal property casualty losses -- from storms, fires, floods, etc. -- and those caused by theft, are deductible only to the extent that they exceed insurance compensation plus $100 per loss.

The amount of loss can be figured either as the difference in value of the property before and after the event, or as the cost of restoring it to its previous condition.

If the loss was caused by theft, be able to show that the item wasn't lost or misplaced by obtaining a theft report from the police department.

To qualify for the maximum deduction of up to $400 a month for child-care costs, you must have incurred those costs so that you could hold a full-time job. Payments for the care of a child under 15 or a invalid dependent or spouse must have gone to someone other than a relative. If your income plus that of your spouse exceeded $18,000, part of the deduction is lost, and when joint income reaches $27,000, it is entirely lost. (If you are in the over-$18,000 category -- or could be if you were to take a job -- look into the new, more generous provisions of the law for 1976.) Use IRS form 2441.

Alimony is a tax deduction to the payer and taxable income to the receiver. Child support is neither. If, after a divorce becomes final, the payer of alimony decides to be more generous, increases not ordered by the court are not deductible.

Major deductions for an employee's job-related expenses for travel, transportation, gifts and entertainment are taken as adjustments to income.

But costs of many other income-producing activities can be calimed as ordinary deductions; for example:

Employment agency fees and other job-seeking costs, now deductible even if they fail to

Many bemoan the fact there is nothing for young people to do in So. Nevada, but for a small army of people involved in the So. Nevada Youth Fair the response is "nuts!"

Since 1969 the Youth Fair has been dedicated to changing this belief, and after seven years there is plenty to do.

The 1976 Youth Fair is scheduled for the Convention Center on Apr. 8-11, and if young people can't find a way to enter or enjoy the Fair they will never be pleased.

For example if you produce a new job.

Topics for Taxpayers

By ERNEST L. NEWTON, Secretary
Nevada Taxpayers Association

Look At Those Plans Files Next Friday

On February 20 the cities, counties and school districts of the state will file for public inspection their proposed spending and taxing plans for the fiscal year beginning July. It is a safe bet that every one of them will propose greater spending than in the past year; at least greater spending per capita. And consequently, the tax bite will be increased, too.

Six years ago John Peirce, former finance director of California, stated the principal problem. It is the same today. He said:

"I believe that the weakest link in the federal, state and local money chain is the apathy of the average citizen. When public officeholders hear only lobbyists representing special interest groups, they hear only part of the story. (Those lobbyists, representing public employees, teachers, senior citizens, youth groups, indigents or whatever, are all looking for increased government spending.) When they hear noisy minorities who want something at someone else's expense, they hear more loud voices that do not represent the general public.

"Yet the average citizen shoulders the overall tax bill. The average citizen should speak up, first by voting candidates for public office whose thinking conform with his own thinking, and second, by writing letters to elected representatives.

"Lawmakers try to feel the public pulse but they may not always get the right reading. In speaking up, Mr. Average citizen should tell officeholders how much government he wants and how much government he is willing to pay for."

The county clerk has for your use, a copy of the spending and taxing plan for every local government entity in your county. Every citizen has an opportunity to read that plan, study it, and decide what activities of government he wants to pay for. Then every citizen has an opportunity to make his voice heard when the governing board holds the required public hearing on the budget in March. Continued apathy can prove to be expensive.

Baseball Clinic Planned By UNLV

A baseball clinic for boys age eight to 13 will begin Feb. 23 at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas.

The classes, to be conducted from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday until March 5, are sponsored by the department of physical education as part of UNLV's continuing education program.

UNLV physical education professor Robert Doering, who coached the UNLV baseball team from 1967 to 1973, will instruct the boys in the educational goals of the game.

They will be taught the various aspects of individual position and team play, defensive and offensive strategy, base coaching and signals as well as batting, catching and fielding techniques.

Boys interested in the clinic should provide a baseball cap, glove and bat.

For further information on this limited enrollment class, contact the Division of Continuing Education.

PIXIE BULLETIN BOARD

There's all kinds of interesting things going on at the Pixie Bakery at 14 West Pacific in Henderson.

Inside the Bakery there is a big bay window in front of the baking area. You can sit, drink your coffee and nibble on those delectable sweet rolls while you watch owner, Don Snyder, the Master Baker, decorate cakes.

Don is very proud of his spacious kitchen - Did you know that he has a machine that will make any size rolls you want?

This super machine is called a Molder and Sheeter. It will make a grinder roll from 6 to 8 ounces and french bread 12 to 21 inches long.

The machine saves on kneading and can make twelve items in comparison to one by hand.

Sweet rolls come out on a gigantic sheet ready for egg wash and glaze. There's no need for a rolling pin, even the pie dough is a perfect thickness.

The Molder and Sheeter can adjust to many heights and takes out all the air bubbles.

Watch for more news items at Pixie's in the coming weeks, and be sure and stop by to treat yourself to an outstanding selection of breads, cakes, cookies and assorted rolls.

Colorado River Water Level Bulletin Available

Availability of a Bureau of Reclamation water level bulletin describing the discharge patterns of the lower Colorado River was announced today by Lower Colorado Regional Director Manuel Lopez, Jr.

The bulletin contains graphs showing variations in the water levels at eight typical locations between Davis Dam and Imperial Dam. The graphs give the high and low water elevation under both summer and winter conditions on the river. They also indicate the time of day when high water and low water may be expected.

Lopez explained that the bulletin was prepared for use by community planners, developers, and riparian owners in planning river development such as docks, beaches, and marinas. It should also be a helpful guide for boaters and other recreationists in planning their activities, he said.

Copies may be obtained by writing to the Regional Director, Attn: LC - 230, Lower Colorado Region, Bureau of Reclamation, P.O. Box 427, Boulder City, Nevada 89005.

States Get Fish And Wildlife Federal Aid

Over $35 million in Federal Aid funds for sport fish and wildlife restoration and hunter safety programs was apportioned for distribution in December 1975 by Secretary of the Interior Thomas S. Kleppe, bringing to $78.8 million the amount made available to the states in fiscal year 1976 by the Federal Government. In fiscal year 1975 a total of 170.3 million was made available to the states.

Federal Aid funds are made available to the states in two apportionments annually as tax receipts become available at the Treasury Department. This year a preliminary apportionment of approximately $43 million was made on July 1 for fiscal year 1976. The second apportionment, announced today, represents an additional $35 million.

Funds for wildlife restoration and hunter safety programs come from an 11 percent excise tax on sporting arms and ammunition and a 10 percent tax on pistols and revolvers. Distribution of wildlife restoration funds is based on a formula which takes into account the number of hunting license holders and the area of each state. These funds may be used on approved state wildlife projects, such as the acquisition of land suitable for habitat, development and management of habitat and research to aid in managing same species.

Distribution of hunter safety funds is based on the relative population of each state and may be used for state hunter education programs, including construction, operation, and maintenance of public target ranges. The states, however, may also use these funds for wildlife restoration projects.

Fish restoration funds come from a 10 per cent excise tax on fishing rods, reels, creels, and artificial baits, lures and flies. Distribution of the funds is made according to a formula based on the number of fishing license holders and the area of each state, including coastal and Great Lakes waters. Activities performed by the states include the purchase of land and water area, construction and rehabilitation of lakes, development of access sites and facilities for fishermen, and research to aid in management of port fisheries.

Nevada's apportionment for fiscal years 1975 - 76 will amount to $1,398,904. The Federal Aid to Wildlife Restoration Programs will have available $1,022,066 fisheries restoration $317,538 and hunter safety education $59,300.

A preliminary apportionment of 1976 fiscal year funds was made available to Nevada on July 1, 1975 and has already been applied to the Nevada DFG's current work program. The balance of the apportionment will be available for the remainder of fiscal year 1976 and for fiscal year 1977.

"Even though we have been allotted the aforementioned Federal Aid Funds for our restoration and hunter safety programs, we must still have the capability to provide matching monies with state dollars," said DFG Director Glen Griffith.

"For every state dollar we can apply to an approved project we receive three dollars from the Federal Aid apportionments," he added.

"Thirty to 35 per cent of total funds expended by the Department in any one year are derived from the Federal Aid to Fisheries and Wildlife Restoration Acts," Griffith concluded.

Tool Protection

Prevent your shiny, new garden tools from rusting by dissolving two ounces of paraffin in a pint of carbon tetrachloride. Dip tools in this or paint over them.

Take Care in Using Weed Killers

Here are some pointers for using selective weed killers on your lawn:

DON'T mix stronger solutions than the manufacturer's directions suggest.

DON'T flood the lawn with the material; merely dampening the leaves is enough.

He who plants a tree, loves others besides himself.

- English proverb

No occupation is so delightful to me as the culture of the earth, and no culture comparable to that of the garden... though an old man, I am but a young gardener.

- Thomas Jefferson

DON'T let weed killers come in contact with your ornamentals.

Leaves and dandelions are good in salads and can be cooked as well. Some people prefer them to spinach, and they're just as rich in vitamins and minerals.

a word to the wise gardener:

- Don't crowd plants... they need room to grow!
- Plant in a bucket sunk into the ground, if you have bad soil.
- Have your soil analyzed, for guidance in adding fertilizer.
- Avoid small lawn areas that require hand trimming.
- Plant shrubs informally; a symmetrical arrangement is ruined if one plant dies.
- When spacing rows, take into consideration the type of cultivating equipment you'll be using and allow room.
- Use rotary tilling to save time and labor.
- Be sure and provide access to plants in the back of a flower bed, to avoid trampling those in front.
- Keep your hand tools together in a caddy of sorts for easy access when needed.
- Put your tools away clean - they'll last longer.
- Put away tools when finished with them, for safety's sake.
- Protect your tools from the weather with some form of drv storage.

A Garden Calendar

January	February	March	April
Now's the time to order seed... ordering early will assure that you receive seed in time for favorable planting. Watch cold frames carefully; ventilate gradually as frost begins to melt on glass. Don't let temperature inside frames get too high on sunny days.	While tree branches are bare is best time to prune. Now is also a good time to take inventory of your garden tools, making any needed repairs. Enjoy a preview of spring by bringing in a few branches for forcing into bloom. And keep an eye on cold frames!	Start seeding lettuce now, even if snow is still on the ground, over soil prepared in the fall. You may have a salad early, with any luck. Pull out any weeds in your cold frames; this may be done on a warm day, when removing sash will not harm plants.	It's time to feed your lawn when trees begin to bud. Air plants in cold frames whenever weather is favorable. Hardy plants can be planted out, before transplanting, keep glass sash covering off them for about a week. Keep an eye on cold frames.
May	June	July	August
Most tender plants can be put outdoors during this month. Enjoy the flowers new in bloom, making a note of results attained. It's a good idea to keep a notebook on what has proved successful for yourself and for other gardeners.	Pay special attention to watering this month. Water should go down about 2 feet to encourage deep rooting. Now is also the time for frequent shallow cultivation of vegetable gardens, cut flower gardens, flower beds borders. Look for pests, diseases.	Because this is often a hot and dry month, watch for signs of drought. When you water, soak the ground deeply, then wait until plants need water to keep from wilting, before watering again. It's a good idea to let grass grow longer than usual to shade roots.	Pay particular attention to regular spraying and dusting of roses this month, and keep a sharp eye out for pests or disease on other plants as well. Now's the time to order bulbs for planting in the fall, and it's a good time to divide phlox, iris and day-lilies as well.
September	October	November	December
If you're planning to bring plants indoors, be sure you give them a dose of bug-spray beforehand! It's a good time to start a new lawn or improve an existing one by sowing seed, in cool climates. Plant your trees and shrubs now, harvest fruits, vegetables.	Time to plant bulbs! Plant your favorites: daffodils, tulips, hyacinths, and other spring-blooming flowers now. Before frost arrives, be sure you feed your lawn thoroughly, for pleasing results next year. This is also the time to clear away dead stems, debris.	This is a good time to catch up on your garden reading, and bring your notebook up to date. Make cold frames snug for the coming winter. After ground has frozen, a light covering of salt, hay or leaves over perennials and biennials give added protection.	Clip sprigs of pine, holly, and other evergreens, store them in plastic bag in the refrigerator, have them ready for decorating Christmas packages! Check your cold frames; when sash are not covered with snow, provide needed protection with coverings at night.

INSURACHAT

Carrying two cars, or more? You'll save on insurance if all the cars are on the same policy. And as the cars get older, it may pay you to drop collision coverage.

Paying premiums annually, instead of quarterly or monthly, will usually earn a better rate. Household insurance is usually paid triennially.

If you don't smoke, some insurance companies offer a lower premium rate. We'll help you find it.

Your under-20 driver will earn you a discount if he's taken a driver-education course, and/or if his grades are B or better, in some states.

Healthy CASHBONDS For Helpful CHAP

In a simple ceremony on the strip Monday afternoon, Washington's birthday, local CASHBONDS executives presented to representatives of the Combined Health Agency Program a $25. United States Savings Bond and a savings booklet full of CASHBONDS. This was to initiate a state wide charity drive for the agency. This quiet event could have far reaching effects for Nevadans. The Combined Health Agency Program, CHAP, is the state wide organization that raises and distributes money among seven major charities, which use the raised funds in the State of Nevada. CHAP represents the American Cancer Society, the Nevada Lung Association, Muscular Dystrophy, Multiple Sclerosis, March of Dimes, Easter Seals and the American Heart Association. CHAP is headed up by Governor Mike O'Callaghan, campaign chairman and Phil Carlino, the President of CHAP. On the Board of Directors are Herb Kaufman, Bill Berry, Ed Young and Mike Cherry.

CASHBONDS is the latest thing in the coupon stamp industry. They are a consumer rebate program that was recently started here in Las Vegas and is also going nation wide. The rebate program calls for consumers seeking out merchants that carry CASHBONDS, to fill the books with the coupons and redeem them for $18.75 cash or for a U.S. Savings Bond.

CASHBONDS Corporation of Los Angeles is headed by former chief executive to Howard Hughes, Noah Dietrich. The Director of the company is famed astronaut Wally Schirra.

President at Monday's ceremony were Phil Carlino and Bill Berry, representing CHAP and CASHBONDS Las Vegas executives Curtis Bain and Ben Schmoutey, who were making the presentation.

To get the charity drive on, CHAP will place in stores that carry CASHBONDS a CHAP canister for the purpose of collecting the CASHBONDS from the consumers, which CHAP will redeem for U.S. Savings Bonds or the equivalent in cash, to distribute amongst the charities they represent locally.

"This is a wonderful program," said Berry, "The CASHBONDS are like money and the shopper can give freely to a good cause without being hurt financially or embarrassed by solicitations."

Ben Schmoutey who is also President of the Local Culinary Union, which represents a work force of 25000 employees encouraged all union members to participate in this CHAP program. "CASHBONDS is one of the most fantastic ideas to hit this country in a long time," he said. "The CHAP charity drive is only the beginning," he continued, "There will be similar drives and community efforts sweeping across America to help the American people out of their financial difficulties."

Bain, Chief Exec. of CASHBONDS Marketing Limited of Nevada, stated that CASHBONDS is happy to be a part of this CHAP drive. He was pleased to announce that all the merchants who carry CASHBONDS are fully co-operating in having the CHAP canisters placed prominently in their store.

He said that it was significant that the kickoff for the charity drive for CHAP be on Washington's birthday since the whole concept of CASHBONDS is primarily to promote the sale of the U.S. Savings Bonds. He stated that CASHBONDS is now developing many similar youth and community programs, like the CHAP drive, to promote the CASHBONDS concept.

"At a time of a shaky economy and soaring prices people legitimately need assistance for things like medical bills, food, clothing, college education and even recreation," Bain said. "When shopping at stores that carry CASHBONDS," Bain said, "the prices remain the same. Nothing changes for the consumer. CASHBONDS will help the consumer, the merchant, the community and the country."

"We are hoping to set an example with the CHAP drive," Bain added. "Pretty soon we should see community projects and charity drives similar to CHAP starting all over the nation. As soon as people begin to understand the CASHBONDS concept, everyone will be rushing out for CASHBONDS and redeeming them for U.S. Savings Bonds or money."

Phil Carlino mused that he hoped so, since it was the aim of CHAP to eventually go out of business. He said that as a cure for each disease was found, that branch of the CHAP organization would be dissolved. He hoped for an eventual cure for all diseases and urges ALL Nevadans to help support CHAP with their CASHBONDS.

Nevada's Public Wildlife Areas Near 285,368 Acres

When the present Nevada Fish and Game Commission was created by legislative law in 1974, there was not one acre of wildlife management area or public hunting area in public trust. Today there are 285,368 acres either leased on a long term basis or owned outright by the state, which will insure public access and provide hunter - angler and other public recreational opportunities for years to come. The first wildlife management area placed in public trust in Nevada was the Stillwater Marshes in 1949. This area located near Fallon consists of 143,866 acres of which approximately 22,000 acres, hopefully, can be maintained as high quality waterfowl habitat. The area is leased jointly by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the Nevada Fish and Game Commission from the Truckee - Carson Irrigation District with approval of the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation.

In 1949, the Commission obtained certain areas of Railroad Valley in Nye County under a BLM withdrawal consisting of 14,720 acres, of which 900 acres are prime waterfowl habitat.

The Fernley Wildlife Management Area of western Nevada was acquired in 1951 and '52 by the Commission through a lease from TCID and an outright purchase of some property. Total acreage of the area amounts to 13,655 acres, of which 5,339 are owned by the state and the balance is leased.

The Overton Wildlife Management Area in southern Nevada was leased by the Commission from the Bureau of Reclamation and the U.S. Park Service in 1953. It is situated in Clark County some 55 miles north of Las Vegas. The area includes 12,887 acres of which 9,805 are leased and 3,082 are owned.

In 1953 and '54, the Commission entered into a lease with the Southern Pacific Land Company for a number of alternate sections of land in the Humboldt - Toulon Sink area of Pershing County. Later the remaining sections were leased from the Bureau of Reclamation. Total acres involved is 36,235 with up to nearly 18,000 acres of high quality waterfowl habitat in good water years.

The Mason Valley Wildlife Management Area near Yerington was purchased outright by the Commission in 1954. It consists of 8,766 acres. The adjoining Bolster Ranch properties, 3,264 acres, were acquired in 1970.

Acquisition of the Scripps Wildlife Management Area or Little Washoe Lake in Washoe County came in 1957. This was an outright purchase by the state through donated monies and Federal Aid funds. There are 2,672 acres in the area most of which is waterfowl habitat.

The Wayne E. Kirch Wildlife Management Area in eastern Nye County was purchased by the Commission in 1959. It consists of 9,261 acres owned by the DFG, 5,594 withdrawn BLM land and 640 acres leased from BLM.

In 1962, the Fish and Game Commission purchased the Nesbitt property in Pahranaagat Valley of Lincoln County. The area, called the Key Pittman Wildlife Management Area, in honor of Nevada's late U.S. Senator Key Pittman, includes 1,332 acres.

The Alkali Lake WMA located in Smith Valley, consisting of 3,447 acres of withdrawn lands through BLM, was acquired in 1965.

Total amount of land in wildlife management areas is 285,369 acres, of which 29,841 acres are owned outright by the state, with the remainder leased, at a cost to the Commission of $1,185,710. State funds or license monies supplied roughly one - fourth and Federal Aid funds under the Pittman - Robertson Aid to Wildlife Restoration Act supplying the remainder. Donations or grants were also made to the Commission for the purchase of the Scripps Area near Washoe Lake and the Bolster properties in Mason Valley.

At present, the state's waterfowl hunters are in as good a position as the other flyway states. What's more, Fish and Game acquisition has guaranteed that the position will not soon be lost.

The State Board of Fish and Game Commissioners will continue to acquire such suitable lands as finances permit and thus further project the heritage of the waterfowl hunter. Sightseers bird - watchers, photographers and other non - consumptive users also derive benefits from the areas without payment of fees or other financial contributions. On several areas the nonhunter use exceeds the hunter use days.

While these areas were acquired, developed and maintained for waterfowl, they also provide habitat for numerous species of marsh and shore birds. These lands and waters, too, are important havens for several species of raptors. Nevada's wetlands are truly multiple function in meeting habitat requirement for wildlife.

Suspicious Of Computers

Latest employee benefit offered by businesses: electronic transfer of employees' pay directly to their personal bank accounts, eliminating check cashing and waiting for the check to clear. Only trouble is, many workers would rather get a paycheck. The most frequently offered reason is that they don't trust computers.

FOCUS on FOTOS

WITH RENATE SHILES

Some photo fans limit the appeal of their pictures by imposing their own ideas and posing subjects to project an image which the photographer thinks is appropriate. Your pictures of people will have more character if you use greater sensitivity in trying to capture the real nature of your subject.

Children, for example, are often photographed with their arms about one another, or kissing... which kids don't normally do. Better to wait and catch them at some unposed but typical activity such as investigating a bug. Grampaw working on his stamp collection is a more interesting and informative photo than any contrived pose could be.

We'll be happy to check your camera to make sure it is in perfect operating condition. Just bring it in.

Hunter Safety Courses Offered

Nevada Department of Fish and Game officials announced that hunter safety training courses are now available throughout the state for young hunters and others who must satisfy the requirements in order to obtain hunting licenses.

Volunteer instructors are located in most Nevada communities and will be conducting training classes on a continuing basis throughout the year.

Representatives of civic, service and fraternal organizations also offer hunter safety instruction as a club project and conduct sessions as often as sufficient numbers of students can be enrolled to make up a class. Hunter Safety Coordinator Bill

Rollins urges enrollment in hunter safety classes during the period when hunting seasons are closed and before summer vacations, little league and other such activities begin.

Many persons wait until late summer or just prior to the opening of fall hunting seasons to complete the requirement. During this period instructors are booked solid and entering a class must be delayed until new classes are organized.

Hunter safety instructors are constantly being certified by DFG representatives in order to accommodate all persons who are seeking certification as safe hunters. Currently there are 138 active volunteer instructors on the state's roster who give generously of their own time, knowledge and interest to train young hunters in the safe and proper handling of firearms.

State law requires that all persons age 12 to 16 must satisfactorily complete the hunter safety course in order to obtain their first hunting license. All persons ages 17 through 21 must show proof of possessing a license in a prior year or a safe hunter certificate before obtaining a Nevada hunting license.

Persons interested in enrollment in a hunter safety class may call DFG offices in Reno, Las Vegas, Fallon, Elko or Ely for class schedules.

Tackle Tips and Fishing Information

Why is it the Park Service allows the excursion boats, operating from the Boulder Marina to the dam to run full speed? They throw a wake that is huge and dangerous to smaller craft. Monday I was fishing the cliffs along Promontory Point using my electric trolling motor and concentrating on catching Bass, when a wake from the Echo IV hit me broadside, breaking over the side of the boat and nearly throwing my boat against the rocks; not only did I get wet, but it took me several minutes to pump the water from the boat and it filled by large tackle box with water. This identical situation has happened on numerous occasions, back when the Trout were running good near the Dam. I have heard many complaints from other boaters and fishermen regarding this. Are the authorities going to wait until a boat is sunk or a severe injury occurs before stepping in?

BASS FISHING: Large mouth Bass fishing is good to excellent from Vegas Wash to Overton Landing. Many 4 to 6 pounders were checked in this week from Lake Mead. In a Bass Tournament held at Lake Mohave Saturday, three Bass were weighed in at over 7 pounds each. Calville Bay reports good stringers coming in, many of them caught on the weedy shore lines using crank baits and bushwacker type lures. Gary Wright and Marty Ham landed 16 Bass Monday, 5 of them in the 4 pound class, caught on purple and black Boogie Tail Worms in Boulder Canyon off ledges and cliffs, 5 to 30 feet deep. Richard Weideman boated 10 Bass on Black Boogie Tails at Vegas Wash 1 1/2 to 3 pounds in shallow water. Marty Reed landed 6 Bass on yellow Bushwackers in 2 feet of water where the creek comes in at Vegas Wash. Duane and Margie Neff landed 9 Bass on a Rainbow colored Big "O". Sarge Morgan of Mac's Bait and Tackle at Overton, reports good catches of Crappie and Bass, with about 80 percent of the fishermen boating at least a few fish.

CRAPPIE FISHING: Is also picking up in other areas of the lake especially the Vegas Wash area.

STRIPED BASS: Calville Bay reports at least 6 Strippers checked in this week ranging from 7 pounds to over 20 pounds. Sailor Robinson landed a 7 pound 10 ounce Stripper in Vegas Wash on a Cordell Spot Tuesday afternoon. I managed to catch a 13 pound, 12 ounce Stripper on a Rainbow colored Redfin, also in Vegas Wash. The oxygen content averaged 9.2 p.p.m. from the sargaceto 120 feet. The temperature was 54 degrees from the surface to 20 feet then dropping to 53.6 degrees down to 120 feet. Fishing is good and getting better as the water warms and spawning season nears.

When a snowstorm is forecast, park your car downhill to assure yourself an easy downhill start!

Local Family Leaders Named

Students named 1976 Betty Crocker Family of Tomorrow at high schools here have been announced. They won the honor by scoring highest at their schools in a written knowledge and attitude examination administered to seniors throughout the country last December 2.

Each will receive a certificate from General Mills, sponsor of the annual Betty Crocker Search for Leadership in Family Living, and becomes eligible for state and national honors.

From the ranks of all school winners in the state a State Family Leader of Tomorrow is selected through judging centered on test performance and receive a $1,500 scholarship. The second-ranking student in the state will receive a $500 scholarship. Encyclopaedia Britannica Educational Corporation will present "The Annals of America," a 20-volume reference work to the state winner's school.

Representing every state and District of Columbia, the 51 Betty Crocker Family Leaders of Tomorrow, together with their faculty advisors, will gather in Washington, D.C., in April, for an expense-paid educational tour of the capital city. During the tour, personal observation and interviews are conducted to select the All-American Family Leader of Tomorrow, who receives a $5,000 college scholarship. Second, third and fourth place national winners receive scholarships increased to $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000, respectively.

The test, personal observations and interviews are all prepared and conducted by Science Research Associates of Chicago.

SOME DEALERS ARE BABIES

Las Vegas is growing up fast. Today we have 34,000 hotel and motel rooms, and by 1980 we will have almost 50,000. This rapid growth means we all have to grow up too and assume individual responsibility, helping make our tourists feel welcome. When tourists come back again it means more business and a healthy economy. Now and then you see a dealer, however, who acts like a baby. He is temperamental and sour, wanting to have his own way about everything, he ignores even the most polite questions from confused tourists playing at his table. Even Baby Face Nelson smiled once.

Keeping the Las Vegas economy growing isn't kid stuff.

Nevada's Pine Nut: Fruit Of The Desert

Pinon or pine nuts, which come from the tree with a dozen or more names, are becoming an increasingly important crop in many areas of Nevada, according to studies by the Agricultural Extension Service of the University of Nevada. Once believed to be near extinct, they are growing in abundance as the groves are protected and nurtured by federal and state agencies.

Singleleaf pine, nut pine, gray pine, singleleaf pinon, Nevada nut pine and Fremont's nut pine are but a few of the many names given to the familiar nut-bearing tree. The last name was derived from John C. Fremont, who explored the state in the 1840's. The more proper name Pinon was given to the nut pine of the southwest by Cabeza De Vaca during his travels in the rugged Rio Grande Valley and northern Mexico during the 1530's.

The singleleaf pine, common to Nevada, is the most widely distributed of all nut pines, being spread over the West. A two-leaved variety growing in northeast Nevada, New Mexico, Colorado and southern Wyoming, while another variety with four leaves exists in central Arizona, western New Mexico and extends deep into Mexico. Another, the Torrey pine, is the most limited in area, inhabiting a small region north of San Diego and growing on Santa Rosa Island off the coast from Santa Barbara. All of these trees bear large cones with the plump, oily seed which are called pine or pinon nuts.

From Nevada's standpoint, the center of the pine nut crop is the lone sector of southern Lander County and northern Nye County, which is part of the Toiyabe National Forest.

Another important section is the Humboldt National Forest of White Pine and Nye counties, from which over 200 tons of nuts have been harvested. One nut pine can produce from one to eight bushels of cones and some stands yield as much as 300 pounds of seeds to the acre. Some years, the nut pine yield amounts to 8,000,000 pounds and is worth more than 2,000,000. Pine nuts have been a staple item in the fall and winter diet of Indian peoples of the West and Mexico for centuries, and recently modern westerners have been enjoying the delicacy roasted or fried. The rich, oily nuts rank high in food value, having a high percentage of protein.

The nuts are gathered in traditional fashion.

Among the Washo Indians, the old practice called for men and boys to shake the resin-covered cones from the trees. Then the women gathered the cones and places them in a fire which had burnt down to embers. After a long, slow baking, which guarded against spoiling and enriched the flavor, the nuts could be easily removed from the cones and were roasted, ready for eating. Occasionally, the Indians would look for wood rat caches of nuts, which could be substantial in good years.

The trees serve other purposes, too. Although their wood is soft and impractical for many purposes, it is used locally for fuel, fence and corral posts, mine timbering, and charcoal. In fact, the destruction of pine nut trees during the frontier period for uses other than food production threatened the species with extinction. The small scraggy pine nut tree is not easily injured by fire, but close grazing will harm seedlings.

The U.S. Forest Service has conducted research projects on pine nut groves, hoping to induce maximum sustained nut production. Foresters are trying out methods of thinning, pruning, cultivating, ditching, irrigating and fertilizing the trees. They have also tried to develop superior var-

Lake Mead Bass To Get Boost

An economic study of fishing and a computer evaluation of lake level fluctuations were approved at a meeting last week of Bureau of Reclamation and the Nevada and Arizona Fish and Game Department as the first step in restoring the Lake Mead bass fishery.

Lake Mead water level fluctuations have been identified as the most significant cause of largemouth bass population increases and decreases in recent years. Rising water levels during the spring months encourages bass production and survival of young by inundating vegetative cover.

The Bureau of Reclamation's computer will be used to evaluate several combinations of lake level fluctuation patterns known to be favorable to bass production to determine if they can be incorporated into the annual schedule without infringing upon any other established power, irrigation or flood control schedules.

According to Cal Allan, Nevada Department of Fish and Game Fishery Biologist: "We have no intention of substituting bass for power production, we just want to determine if some other water management schedule more favorable to bass production could be substituted without disturbing the other values."

Also scheduled for investigation is the value of the Lake Mead fishery and its economic contribution to the the Southern Nevada area. "Every kilowatt of power produced has a monetary value," Allan said, "but we do not know just how much a bass is worth. And we must have these figures in hand before we can intelligently discuss the relative values of Lake Mead to Southern Nevada and the Southwestern United States."

According to Manuel Lopez, Regional Director of the Bureau of Reclamation's Lower Colorado Region, "Funding for the economic study is expected to be approved shortly and will be provided on a cost share basis by Bureau of Reclamation's Upper and Lower Colorado Regions."

A committee consisting of representatives from each of the three agencies will guide the economic and computer studies and look into additional ways of increasing the recreational potential of the Lake Mead bass fishery.

Blood Pressure Education Program.

The Southern Area Kiwanis Clubs have undertaken an education and blood pressure alert project in conjunction with the American Heart Association. Twenty-three million Americans have some form of high blood pressure (hypertension) and, of that number, only one-eighth are receiving adequate medical control. The Kiwanis goal is to make available free blood pressure measurements to the general public. In cooperation with the University of Nevada, Las Vegas, nursing program and the American Association of Critical Care Nurses, professional people will be available on February 14 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the following locations: the main library on Flamingo Road and the West Side Library on D Street at Jackson. Governor O'Callaghan has declared February not only Heart Month, but also "Save a Life" month.

For further information call the Cooperative Extension Service office, 385-6411.

The Birth Of A Nation

Maryellen Vallier
Sadovich

The news of Lord Cornwallis's impending arrival with the Irish troops brought a new moment of hope to the many Scotsmen who populated the colony of North Carolina. In the past, in Scotland, their ancestors had battled the English kings for many years. But in February 1776, by some peculiar logic, they ignored the pleas of the revolutionaries and united under the Royal standard, hoping to make contact with the King's troops who were expected to land on the North Carolina coast. From several villages, some 1500 confident Scotsmen marched in triumph. Only hours later they were met by armed rebels at Moore's Creek. When the battle ended, 850 kilted Scotsmen had been killed or taken prisoner. The Americans had made contact with the King's troops and the disaster at Moore's Creek inhibited further loyalist activity in the South for some time. While the loyal Scotsmen died to serve the British cause on an obscure battlefield in North Carolina, members of Parliament in London were discussing matters far removed from the conflict. Crime in England had increased alarmingly, and according to contemporary editorials the problem of lodging criminals in England had become all but impossible. The jails were already overcrowded, and Englishmen hesitated to use the precious land on their tiny island to establish more penal institutions. On February 17, one member of parliament wrote to a friend of a very popular proposal to send prisoners to America where a plan was being formulated to turn Florida into a penal colony. The Royal Society in the meantime was considering even a more interesting proposal. Supported by King George, members of the Society continued to address the Admiralty, urging a search for the Northwest Passage by sailing from the Pacific to the Atlantic Ocean. Little concerned with the desperate need for ships in the war effort, they suggested that an exploration fleet could be organized in China and then sail across the Pacific to the northern latitudes of North America. At a dinner party with Lord Sandwich, first lord of the Admiralty, on February 9, 1776, Captain James Cook, already renowned for his previous explorations, offered to command such a dangerous undertaking. The next day, February 10, Captain Cook received his formal commission to make his now famous search for the Northwest Passage. Under the ardent sponsorship of Lord Sandwich, and accompanied by George Vancouver as navigator, Cook began his voyage on July 12. His instructions were explicit: Cook's search was to begin on the coast of "New Abion" at forty-five degrees north latitude, and he was not to touch upon any part of the Spanish dominions on the western continent. In addition he was to be careful not to give any offense to any of the inhabitants or subjects of His Catholic Majesty, the King of Spain. Before the colonial revolution ended, Cook had discovered the islands he named the "Sandwich Islands." More than 150 years would pass before the descendants of the rebellious colonists would make these Hawaiian Islands a part of the United States. George Vancouver's name would be left on numerous land marks in north-western America, long after the legend of a Northwest Passage through the United States had been discarded.

Because he was just as interested in science as he was in political matters, Benjamin Franklin gave substantial assistance to Cook's controversial voyage by instructing American privateers not to molest the famous explorer if they should meet him on his voyage of discovery. King George was appreciative. He authorized his American naval commander, General Howe, to send copies of Cook's reports to Franklin as a token of gratitude, while the Royal Society struck off a gold medal to honor Franklin.

Rehab Division Seeks Needs Of Handicapped

CARSON CITY, Feb. 10 -- The Nevada Rehabilitation Division today asked the help of the state's residents in determining the legislative needs of the handicapped. Del E. Frost, administrator of the Rehabilitation Division, said that questionnaires concerning the problems of the handicapped, including medical services and facilities, transportation, employment, education, recreation, architectural barriers, etc., are being widely distributed throughout the state.

A copy of the questionnaire appears below. Frost urged readers to return the completed questionnaires by Feb. 23 to the local Rehabilitation offices in Las Vegas, Henderson, Reno, Carson City, Fallon, Winnemucca, Elko, or Ely, or to the Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation, Room 500, 505 East King St., Carson City.

Frost said that results of the survey will be used to represent Nevadans who are handicapped in developing the proposals for the 1977 legislative session.
