

$804,000 Suit Filed Against Police Officers Here

A $804,000 suit against several police officers and the City of Henderson was filed this week by Joseph Paquette of 319 E. Van Wagenen Street. The 23-year-old Paquette has charged in a federal suit, that Henderson police officers illegally bugged his mail truck using an electronic bugging device to eavesdrop on him beginning

Feb. 2, 1975.

Paquette said Henderson Police Chief Floyd Osborn, Sgt. Walter Zawrotny, Sgt. Howard Avery and Officer Edward Echols were responsible for the invasion.

The complaint asserted Paquette was threatened and illegally detained at the police station against his will Feb. 7, 1975 and again on May 9 officers entered his home, arrested him without a warrant and placed him in jail.

Avery was convicted of a gross misdemeanor in District court and given a two-year suspended jail sentence for conspiracy to commit trespass in connection with the incidents.

The device reported was placed in Paquette's truck in connection with a drug investigation.

MAYOR TO START WAR ON CRIME

By Lorna Kesterson

Morry Story

By Morry Zenoff

Boulder City--The home folks out here are chuckling, sort of kidding on the square at what's happening to Vegas' big gaming industry. The folks are saying -- we told you so -- and are pointing back to 1950 when they gathered in the local theater at a rousing pre-incorporation meeting and stood right there until a "no-gaming ever" clause was inserted in the home rule charter.

They say now that they saw then there would come a day like now when a big hotel and the state gaming authorities would bring disgrace to the whole area by allowing cheating to go on knowingly while they were "investigating" the who-done-its for several months before closing in on the cheaters.

The people here are wishing County Commissioner Bob Broadbent still had his drug store where everyone used to gather to give Bob their curealls and their troubles. Bob was their man who carried the big stick on the Vegas strip.

Bob got to be known as "Straight-arrow" as he fought crimp, crap and corruption.

Now the folks out here wonder if their man Bob will straighten out the mess which the fabulous MGM Grand Hotel got into when their owners allowed perhaps thousands of customers to be fleeced out of their gamblings while they were "investigating" with the state's gaming authority's permission and assistance.

Folks wonder if Bob will carry the big stick, as he did before, in criticizing the gaming commission for knowingly allowing cheating to go on --. They are wondering if Bob can get to Governor Mike on this one. Bob and Mike have always been friendly sort of, because Mike was a school teacher in Henderson while Bob was putting prescriptions together in Boulder. They are in opposite parties but they stand for law and order, they've always said.

Folks here have figured out how if you walk from the public park to the city hall and back over to Pete Tasio's Central Market, then you will be walking the same distance as from the MGM's front door past all its gaming machines to the last crap table and into the poker room --.

They say here that you won't find cheating along that walk in Boulder. In the days way back they figured if they'd want to keep Boulder clean and green it would be better to stay away from businesses the law finds it too tough or too touchy to handle.

Council Approves Pump For Greenway Reservoir

With residents of Mission Hills and the southern end of the city complaining about the lack of water over the week-end the city council Monday night approved an emergency expenditure of over $1,000 for the installation of a booster pump for the Greenway Reservoir.

City Manager Don Dawson said the money could come from the land fund.

Dawson said the golf course, the part which is fed from the Greenway reservoir, will be watered during the hours between 11 p.m. and 3 a.m. in an effort to conserve water for residents. Some residents said they could not get water to their coolers on Saturday. Dawson said, "The increased development in sections 19, 27, 29 and 30 and Mission Hills subdivision has placed an unusual demand on the Greenway Reservoir. Installation drawings have been completed by the city engineering department.

Installation will be made with the city forces as quickly as the booster pump arrives." Dawson said it is possible the city may be able to borrow a pump until a new one can arrive.

He said the health, welfare and safety of families presently served is directly affected.

If You Have A Water Problem, Call

Our utility service personnel, the administrative staff and your City Council are doing everything possible to maintain water service at a normal level. Rapid growth in the southern areas of our city has placed a heavy demand on our distribution system, particularly in that area.

Your City Council has authorized emergency expenditures to purchase necessary pumping equipment to relieve our present problems and, hopefully, will meet our peak demands during the extreme hot months ahead.

Should you have a complete outage, please call the Public Works Department during the hours of 8 a.m., and 5 p.m., or the Police Department on weekends, holidays or evenings, and night hours.

Animal Ordinance Causes Stir Here

An ordinance governing domestic animals has caused a stir among Henderson residents who appeared at the city council meeting Monday night to protest its enforcement.

A.R. Hurd, who said he has lived in Henderson since 1946, presented a petition containing 300 signatures, protesting the ordinance. He said they worked on the petition for only one day and could have obtained many more signatures had they had a longer time.

The ordinance was printed in the Henderson Home News with the admonition that the city would be inspecting yards to determine the number of pets or fowl.

City Manager Don Dawson suggested that there are probably about 3,000 chickens within the city, and said there should be no citations issued until a committee of the council meets with local residents at 7 p.m. on Saturday night at city hall.

Councilman Carlton Lawrence asked when the ordinance was enacted and was told it was enacted in 1969.

The city said that many people in section 27 are installing domestic animals such as cows, goats and pigs at their homes.

Official action by the council will be taken following the Saturday night meeting.

Robison Will File For Assembly District 22

ASAEL "ACE" ROBISON

Asael I "Ace" Robison, 32, of Moapa Valley announced the plans this week to file as the Republican candidate for Assembly District 22.

Active in community, civic and church affairs, Robison said he believes in local autonomy to give people a more effective voice in government.

"I feel that strong, understanding leadership at the local and state levels is essential in order to influence events and direct the course of our society," Robison said.

"This cannot be done by representatives who serve special interests and whose actions, though honest, must be scrutinized in terms of those special interests and their influences," Robison said.

Robison is a third generation Nevadan, and graduated from the Moapa Valley Public Schools, and the University of Nevada, Las Vegas. He attended McGeorge School of Law in Sacramento, Ca.

Robison is the son of Dell H. Robison, who served for 25 years as a member of the Clark County School Board.

He is married to the former Anna Marie Hoyt, who taught Home Economics for two years at Boulder City High School. The couple have four children.

Robison is a sales representative for Xerox Corporation in Las Vegas.

They lived in Boulder City while Mrs. Robison was teaching school. Ace's father moved to Moapa in 1909 and his family has lived there since.

One of the issues of the day, Robison believes, is the location of the Community College.

"I think the outlying areas should be served by Community Colleges and this is a logical outlying area. The populations of Boulder City and Henderson amounts to about 25,000 people, all of which are a greater distance from higher education than where the college is proposed in the area of Las Vegas."

Chief Osborn Invites You To Join The Fight Against Burglaries

"Every citizen of Henderson can help in the Burglary Prevention Month campaign to reduce losses due to burglary," Police Chief Osborn said today. Your cooperation is needed to help reduce the surge in burglaries which result each summer when families leave their homes for vacation trips and weekend outings. By learning and practicing a few simple home protection hints, residents can keep their homes from falling victim to a vicious intruder.

unkept lawn; an empty garage with the door open; or a bulging mailbox. All of these are tip-offs that'll broadcast "no one's home" to anyone canvassing the neighborhood.

In the evening, most empty homes can be spotted too - just for the dark houses. It's a known fact light is one of the best deterrents to crime, yet most homeowners go out for an evening and leave their homes completely dark. Or, they'll go off for a weekend or vacation and leave the same light burning day and night. No light at all, or a light burning continuously is a good giveaway "no one is home."

A simple, but effective means of having light in your home every evening, is by connecting a Time-All automatic timing device to one or two lamps. Such a timer will turn a lamp "on" early in the evening, then turn it "off" several hours later. With lights turning on and off during the evening hours it'll give the appearance someone is home and may avert a possible burglary attempt!

CHIEF FLOYD OSBORN LISTS PRECAUTIONS FOR HOMEOWNERS

Chief Floyd Osborn went on to say that most burglars pick the easiest targets they can find. They want to get in, get the loot and get away as quickly as possible. Therefore, if you put several obstacles in his way, he is less likely to try to break into your home, but will seek "easy pickin's" elsewhere. By observing these few simple precautionary steps, you can reduce the possibility of a burglar selecting YOUR dwelling as his target next time you're away.

1. Close and lock all doors, including porch, basement and garage. Use pin-tumbler cylinder locks on outside entrances and safety latches on the windows.
2. Connect a lamp to a Time-All automatic timer to turn lights in the home on and off each evening. Since noise is a deterrent connect radio or TV to a timer.
3. Protect all doors and windows with an inexpensive, portable burglary alarm which sounds whenever someone attempts to break in.
4. Light up your porch and yard with outdoor lights to increase the likelihood that an attempted burglary would be seen. These lights can also be timer - controlled, if desired.
5. Be sure all screens are fastened from the inside.
6. Never leave all valuables lying around; keep them in a safety deposit box, and if you're leaving for a weekend or longer, Chief Osborn also suggests:
7. Notify your police department when you'll be leaving and how long you expect to be away.
8. Cancel all deliveries, such as the milk, laundry, cleaning, etc. Also, be sure to discontinue the newspaper or arrange to have it sent to your vacation address.

9. Have a neighbor, or your post office, hold all mail until your return.
10. Arrange with a friend to mow the lawn and sweep your sidewalk once a week. Also ask him if he'll pick up any circulars or handbills that may be left on your porch.
11. Leave your shades and blinds as you normally do; closed blinds keep the sun out, but also make an effective screen for the burglar.
12. Never advertise your departure with an item in the local paper. Give the story about your vacation to the newspapers after you've returned.

There is no such thing as a "burglar proof" home, said Chief Osborn. But, he went on to say, following the suggestions listed above will help to protect your home whenever you're away.

Boulder people ask--

Who, for instance would dare question a place like MGM where 100 million cash bucks is the annual take? Now you might tell Jackie Gaughan a thing or two with his smaller El Cortez or Ike Houssels with his Showboat.

The latter two fellows and their hotels have never been operated like allowing the public to be cheated knowingly because there was an "investigation" going on by the owners.

Folks here figure Bob Broadbent will call for immediate investigation of MGM's owners, even patrol the joint if information shows there's possible bilking going on in other departments.

They figure Bob remembers how well his drug store did because he learned how fair you must be while dealing with the annual two million visitors to Hoover Dam.

Folks here say they are fearful people back east may not want to come and see Hoover Dam anymore for fear they'll stop off and get cheated in one of the Vegas gaming spots.

Afterall, they point out, the MGM story made big space in every paper in the nation, and heaven only knows how much damage has been done.

It's not often, Boulder's old timers tell you, not often that a business house knowingly allows customers to be bilked

Unsigned Letter Suggests Succession of Section 27

An unsigned letter from someone residing in section 27, which is located near the Las Vegas Downs Race Track, was dropped off at City Hall yesterday.

The letter suggested the recall of Henderson officials, succeeding from the city, and the organization of a taxpayer's group.

It apparently suggested there will be a large number of people at a committee meeting of the city council Saturday night at 7 p.m.

The city has recently started a crack-down on harboring of animals in yards in that area and it is speculation that this might have sparked the unsigned complaint.

Dog Pound Report

A total of 122 cats and dogs had to be destroyed by the Henderson Dog Pound during the month of April, according to a monthly police report from Floyd Osborn, Chief of Police.

There were 177 dogs impounded, 80 of these were destroyed, and of the 54 cats picked up 42 were destroyed. The Pound issued 12 citations, and reported 28 violations. Citations totaled $110 for the month.

Primary Ballot

I know it's just a primary election with a very simple ballot but do get out and vote. Election day is May 25 and polls are open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Somewhere in that 12 hours, find 15 minutes to do your part, you'll feel better for it.

On May 17 at 12:30 there will be a Tri - Chem Painting Class at St. Peter's Recreation Center. This is a free class and all Seniors are welcome ... Arleen Morris is instructor.

Legion of The Moose

Last Saturday night the Henderson Moose Lodge hosted a Legion Steak Fry. It was held at Mr. and Mrs. Glovers ranch house in Henderson (thank you). Steak dinner with salad, baked potato and garlic bread was prepared by members of the Legion and assisted by the Women of the Moose. Two cold drink bars were enjoyed by all. Some of the people that attended were, the Eighmys, the Buschs, the Carrs, the Closes, the Nays, the Campbells, and Sun-dbergs .. WOW! What a steak fry.

Heard that Bobby Simmons has just retired from the Perry Men's Shop after being employed there for many years ... Bobby will be busy preparing for her coming marriage to Roy White. Big day will be June 19 ... Congratulations and best wishes to Bobby Simmons and Roy White from friends.

Vacation

We just returned from a wonderful eight - day vacation in California. We visited with friends in Fontana, went to Lion Country, Knox Berry Farm, Universal Studios and saw an Angles ball game. Ate some delicious food, stayed at some beautiful places. Funny, but after eight days, we just couldn't wait to get home.

Happy birthday greetings to Mike Shemin, day for celebrating will be May 24th. Little Mike will be four years old and there will be a party with ice cream and cake. Bill and Jacque Robison not only enjoyed the Eagles Convention in Reno recently but got to see their daughter Robin, Son - in - law Allen and granddaughter Holly. Allen is a full - time student at the University there.

Flowers for all occasions & for no occasion, too.

God forgot to put any beauty in it. But spend a little time with a local Henderson man, and you begin to get the yearning to grab a big lunch, fill your gas tank and head for the mountains.

And once you've met Dale Bracken, it's unlikely you'll forget him, the desert, or the beautiful jewelry he and his brothers make in their spare time. And jewelry isn't the only interest they have in the production of unusual items.

Dale himself strikes one as just a big country-western man with a big friendly smile and a beard that lets your imagination think of an old prospector of years gone by. His huge hands, one of them usually holding a can of his favorite beer, don't appear to be the hands needed to do small delicate work required in the making of jewelry. But as one looks at the collection of items he has, you'll readily notice large hands hinder him non at all.

I forgot to ask him, but as you sit looking at the collection of beautiful polished stones, and as he names off the type of rock it's made from, you get the general idea he is really a geologist. I don't think he is but he might be, because his knowledge of rocks and where they can be found is tremendous.

And me, the names of many of those stones are lost to my memory except for a couple most of us would recognize. Agate and turquoise. But don't ask me to list the rest of them.

There's a lot of work, skill and just plain know how in being able to take a dirty, irregular stone that most of us would think worthless.

First, there's the select of the stone. Then comes the splitting, general shaping and the polishing. Thankfully, the polishing, in most cases can be done in a small tumbler, using a fine, powdery grit and after perhaps hours in the tumbler out pops a beautiful stone.

And sometimes, after all this work, there can be disappointment, a stone may not have the beauty it needs to make an attractive piece of jewelry.

Then comes more work, the filing or grinding of one side to make a pendant, for necklaces, earrings or rings. Many times the stone can be used just as it comes out of the tumbler to make many varied types of jewelry.

Half the battle is won after the polishing but now comes the selection of the proper type of setting, the right kind of chain, the selection of just the right size of braided nylon cord and in the case of earrings, whether to make them for pierced ears or to make to clip on type.

In some cases, some silver items must be hand shaped or cast. But in most cases, the mounting is bought and ready to receive the stone, but still there are times a mounting must be changed or re-shaped to accept a particular stone.

Then comes the task of putting the small clasp or pin on the back to hold it to your tie or a woman's blouse. This requires a delicate task known as silver-soldering.

When I think of all the work required to make these works of art, I really wonder how he can sell them at such reasonable prices. But sometimes a man's pride in his skill is worth more to him than money.

Another admirable quality about this whole situation, is Dale's brother was injured in an accident sometime ago and is partially unable to use his left arm and leg. He has almost completely mastered the art of making jewelry and finds there are still only a few things he is unable to do. But lots of faith in himself indicates he'll soon master those few objections.

Dale's brother has a collection of old antique bottles, one of the best collections I've ever seen. Unique in this collection, and probably only old-time residents of Henderson can remember, is six perfect, old Pepsi-Cola bottles, with the Henderson, Nevada stamp on them. Who remembers when Henderson had a Pepsi-Cola plant?

This brings us to another of Dale's and brothers qualities.

They look for old and sometimes, antique bottles that have a broken top or neck, use a cutting technique, clean and polish the old bottle add a stem or setting to the bottom and Presto, you've just bought a glass you can use for drinking purposes or with its history, a beautiful conversation piece for your what-not shelf or mantle.

Dale also holds a full time job at TIMET, so one wonders how he can muster the time for extra work at home.

So here's this week's salute to brothers who contribute a lot to the prosperity of Henderson.

JOE SADOVICH
Most Inspirational

Senior Dave Anderson was named the most valuable player for the varsity baseball team at the Basic High School spring sports program held Tuesday night at the high school.

Sharing honors with Anderson on the varsity team were Joe Sadovich as the most inspirational player and Danny Farano as best defensive player.

Kathy Owens was named the most valuable player for the girls' softball team and Laura Delaney the most inspirational. Cindy Mangrum was named the most improved.

High point swimmer was Jon Satterfield; most outstanding swimmer, Carrie Pettey and most improved swimmer, Kevin Paff.

In golf, Daryl Potter was named the most improved and Mike Schollian the most valuable.

For girls' track, Gail Wilcox was the outstanding track athlete for 1976; Roxanne Herwick, most valuable, and Donna Rander, most promising.

John Tull was named most valuable for Boys' track; Mike Pickard, most inspirational and Keith Jones most improved.

The program was sponsored by the Basic High School Boosters under the direction of President Preston Causey. Master of ceremonies was Phil DeLillo.

Awards were presented by the various coaches. Also recognized were the bat girls for the junior varsity, Carolyn Keele, Liz McGlothlin, Terri Varick, Sherrie Jacobson, and Tracy Burr. For the varsity the bat girl was Joanne Farano.

The trackettes were Laura Boscarino, Dawn Campbell, Cynthia Gibbon, Terri Goodale, Lisa Harrison, Nancy Jones, Carrie Matzke, Betsy Patterson, Debbie Potter, Carmen Regatz, Barbara Robinson, Lynette Slakey, Lorri Smith, and Wendy Wilkins.

Coaches of the various sports are Bruce Laughlin with Manager Kelley Morris for the girls' track team; Dennis Smuskiwicz for golf; John Williams, junior varsity; Gary Chaires and assistant coach Denny Clarkson for varsity baseball with Phil DeLillo and Scott Castleberry as managers; Coach Dan Cahill for swimming; Coach Matti Smith for girls' softball with manager Sara Torres; Coaches Frank Hester and Doug Balderson for boys' track, and managers John Ranier and Tony Willoughby.

Girls End Fourth In Softball

The Basic girls' softball team finished the season with a 12-2 loss to Eldorado, which left them in fourth place in the Sunrise Division, three games behind zone qualifier, Western.

"We had a very young team and we'll be back strong next year," said Coach Matti Smith, who saw her team lose seven of nine games because of inexperience. "Everyone in the valley is big, fast, experienced, or has a good pitcher. We must rely on a combination of speed and good defense, but our defense let us down for most of the season because of mental errors. We got better at the end when we won three out of the last five and beat Rancho who had the best pitcher in Las Vegas," Miss Smith said.

"With the girls we have coming back, the outlook is good for next year."

Final Standings

Sunrise Division
Eldorado	12-2
Rancho	10-4
Western	8-6
Basic	5-9
Las Vegas	3-11
Sunset Division

John Tull Forth In Track

John Tull, Basic's track most valuable player, finished fourth in the state 440-yard dash to give Basic a one-point in the scoring in the state meet held Saturday at Eldorado.

It was the only point for Basic.

There are only eight of the Triple A schools in the state that finished with points.

Tull's time of 50.7 was only .4 seconds behind the third place finisher Pat Alberti of Reno and one 1.1 second behind the winner Ivan Coleman of Clark 49.6.

"The monument is for the purpose of honoring our servicemen and women in this area," Mrs. Stokes said. "If deceased veterans have lived in Henderson at least one year prior to their death, they are eligible to have their name on the plaque whether they died as a result of being in the service or not."

The brass plates on which the names have been engraved were removed recently to add new names, but Mrs. Stokes said they can only add names as they collect money. To have a name engraved costs 75 cents per letter. Those asking for names to be engraved should donate for that name.

Black Mountain Ladies

by Stella Kemp

Join us in congratulating Black Mountain's new Champion, Mary Meyers, whose gross 178 for 36 holes won her the crown in the annual Ladies' Championship tournament May 12 & 13. Mary has been in the winner's circle so often this year, it is an anticipated pleasure to applaud her rise to the top.

Weather conditions conspired to make this year's championship race unusually challenging. shifting strong winds frustrated Weds. play and contrasted with still hot air for a sultry second round Thurs. Scores in the other three flights were also close.

In First Flight, Carmen Peterson earned 1st Low Net (140) and Faye Scott won 2nd (135). Jean Wurzer nabbed 1st Low Net (147) in Third Flight, while Inman Steele chased down 2nd (149). Our Champion, Mary Meyers, shared Low-putt honors on Weds. with putting wizard, Dot Wade; each tallied 29 putts. Jean Wurzer popped in two no-putts and Martha Chase holed one.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

Dear Editor: I am a resident of Henderson and have been for approximately 10 years.

I have worked for the City of Henderson off and on for at least 6 years & I have seen a lot of stuff pulled that if the public knew about they'd pull their hair out.

The reason I am writing this letter is that I would like to show the public what kind of people work for the City. Wednesday 5-19-76 a person from the water dept. came to my house to shut off my water due to the fact I was $35.47 delinquent.

My wife asked this person if we could pay him $35.47 to keep from paying the $10 reconnect fee. He told her no. My wife then asked him if he would wait 5 min. while she called the water dept to make arrangements to pay the bill again. He said no. He then turned off the water.

I went up and paid the water bill and the $10 reconnect fee.

What I would like to know is how the city can give the golf course a couple of thousand dollars just to keep them out of debt and then turn around and let them get right back into debt.

But when it comes to a home owner who has just forgotten to pay a $35 water bill they want to take another $10 out of their pocket to make up for their mistake.

RECREATION

Summer Leagues, Blue Chip Stamp & Cashbond Stamp bowling will keep the pins flying at Henderson Bowl, this summer.

National Guard Has Distinguished History

163d ARMORED CAVALRY

By Sean McVey

Troops L and K, 163D, Armored Cavalry of Henderson has been in its new location since 1971. Its history goes back to 1928 when it helped provide coastal artillery defense for the nation. Between 1948 and 1967, including a call to duty during World War II, it provided air defense. In 1967, it switched to Massachusetts militia, making a proud tradition of 340 years. It is a state-organized Army unit, composed of citizens who undergo a minimum of forty-eight hours of drill and two weeks of active training a year in addition to the initial training of 4-6 months. Regular Army officers serve as instructors and inspectors.

Training includes drills once a month with the unit and fifteen days training every two years at Gowen Field in Idaho, with every third year spent at Fort Bliss in Texas. There are 626 personnel in Southern Nevada, with Henderson's Armory having at least forty per cent Henderson and Boulder City armory. The National Guard is older than the United States. It dates back to 1636 with the Massachusetts militia, making a proud tradition of 340 years. United States. It has a two fold mission of providing trained and ready forces to augment the Army in case of emergencies, thus making up to forty per cent of the Army's manpower and to provide trained manpower for use by the governor in case of emergencies.

Locally, the Guard has helped the Civil Defense with flash flood emergencies. During the Nelson Landing tragedy, the Guard had fifty personnel on duty providing security. Last fall, the Guard was called out to combat the forest fires that raged around Mt. Charleston.

The Guard also works with the Environmental Protection Agency to check local water pollution. Sargeant Nettlebeck has gone out and "checked quite a few samples" of Lake Mead, the Colorado and Virgin Rivers.

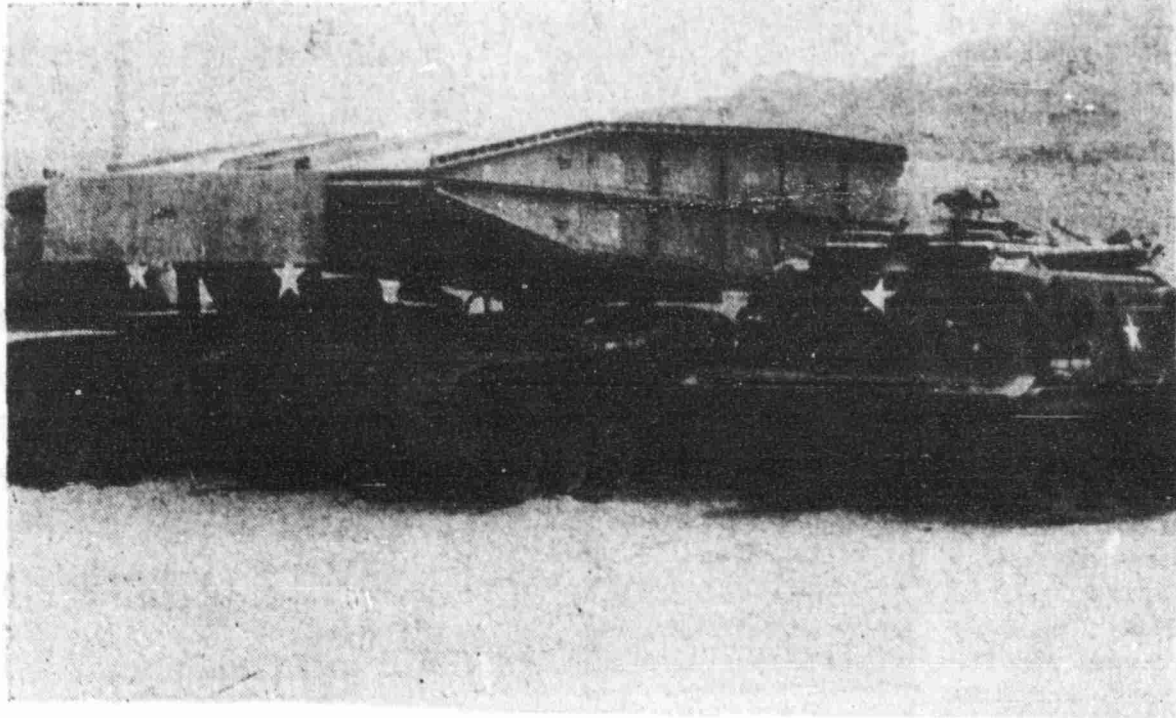

Until a 1903 act of Congress, each state formed, maintained and controlled its own militia, with the federal government having control only in time of emergency. After 1903, the federal government set up standards and controls.

One of the standards is the role of the female in the National Guard. It has spots for females only as medics. At this point in time, it can't assign them to Class One (combat) units under orders of the Pentagon.

Community relations include cooperation with its members primary employers "as much as possible," community service projects like the clean up of Vegas Wash, which according to Nettlebeck, "was a real dump before we cleaned it up."

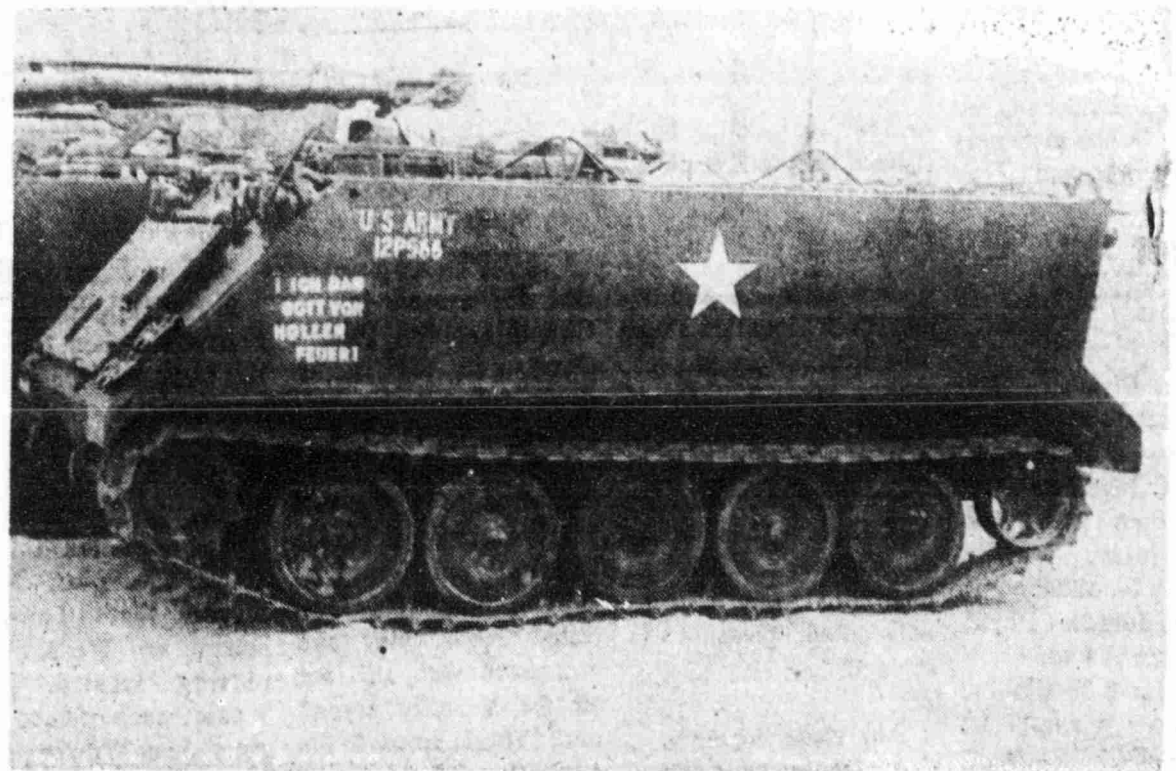

The National Guard is at the community's assistance. Nettlebeck extended the invitation: "if anybody is interested, give us a call here."

THE NATIONAL GUARD'S HEAVIEST piece of equipment is this 63 foot hydraulic portable bridge that weighs 62 tons. it is worth over $250,000.

NEVADA IS ONE OF SIX STATES that offer special license plates for its members.

MORTAR CARRIER IS WORTH $42,000 and carried a five man crew, a 700 pound mortar and weighs 13 tons.

FOOD PERSONNEL HONORED--In conjunction with the observance of National Hospital week, key food service personnel were honored at St. Rose de Lima hospital last Wed. Back row are Wanda Homby, Pat Moon, Pat Sansevero, Arvella Cobb, Ruth Ingram, Sister Robert Joseph, and Bernice Lankersley. Seated are Jean Dart, RD; Carolyn Blue, RD, and Sharon Terrill RD.

Surplus Material To Be Sold By City June 9

A sale of surplus property will be sold by the city council Monday night. The bids will be opened publicly at that time and bids will be awarded to the highest bidders. The surplus equipment includes such things as 50 old auto batteries located at the city yards; one lot of scrap iron and steel, located near the sewer plant in Pittman. There is a 1955 Ford cab and chassis, no engine and it is in poor condition; there is a roller with no engine and in poor condition; a bug sprayer, scrap copper, a cash register and other materials.

Man Arrested For DUI After Hitting Three Cars

A Henderson man was arrested last Thursday night and charged with driving while intoxicated and leaving the scene of an accident, after sideswiping three parked cars.

Mark Nielson, 20, of 263 Kansas St. and passenger Dave Landis, 20, of 391 Nebraska St. were driving a white Dodge pickup truck, turned right off of Fir Street onto Constitution Street and allegedly sideswiped three parked cars at 9:45 pm.

A 1970 Dodge belonging to Frank Gerstner of 111 Constitution, a 1971 Buick belonging to Terry Heard of 113 Constitution, and a 1973 Camaro belonging to Richard Treat of 115 Constitution Street all sustained moderate damage.

Nielson's vehicle then proceeded left onto Dogwood Street. Witnesses Steve Anderson, 111 Copper Street and Kathy Foster, 1451 Fir Street pursued Nielson after seeing the accident and took down his license plate number, then returned to the scene of the accident to wait for police.

Nielson was picked up by police at 9:50. The parked vehicles that were hit showed traces of paint that matched Nielson's truck.

FLEISCHMAN SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS--Winners of Fleischman scholarships at Basic high school for the coming commencement exercises are Craig Hinton (Valedictorian); Michael Hernandez, Debbie Potter, Jon Wardlow, Kathy Moore and Mark Kemp, (Valedictorian). They will be awarded their scholarships on June 1.

105 Arrests Made During Month Of April

There were 105 arrests in Henderson during April on 124 charges according to Chief of Police Floyd Osborn in a monthly report.

The bulk of the arrests were bench warrants numbering 41, with 32 arrests for driving under the influence of alcohol being the second largest group.

Felony arrests included six for narcotics, two assault with a deadly weapon, two forgery, and one embezzlement. There were four arrests for murder in the Downer murder case from January in which the juveniles have been reclassified as adults.

Other arrests included six for disorderly conduct and four battery arrests.

There were 42 traffic accidents including five injuries and zero fatalities. Two hundred and forty-two traffic citations were issued, 191 of them adults citations, 25 juvenile, and 26 parking citations.

Juveniles apprehended numbered 37, 17 booked at the Juvenile Department, and 17 citations issued. There were nine runaways four curfew violation. 3 larceny, four narcotics, three battery, three receiving stolen property, two assault with a deadly weapon, two cases of vandalism, four others, and three warned and released to their parents.

There were 310 meals served to prisoners in the jail costing a total of $186.41 at 21 cents per meal. Court revenue came to a total of $13,918, $7,398 collected in citations, $6,385 from arrests, and $135 from parking tickets.

Twenty-five burglaries were reported with a total loss of $5,686. 20 cases of Grand larceny totaling $5,168, 32 cases of Petit larceny coming to $991, and Grand theft auto with $340. There were no robberies reported for the month of April.

Scout Troop 37 News

One of the boys of Troop 37 recently earned the highest rank in Scouting. In order to receive this award the boy must follow the Scout advancement step by step from Second and First Class, thru Star Life and finally Eagle. To receive the Eagle Award the Scout must have a total of 24 Merit Badges, he must also have a service project for either a religious institution, school or town. He must also show the Scout spirit and serve in leadership. The Eagle Award is a tribute to not only the Scout but his family as well. The Scout and his parents are honored in a special Court of Honor. The fine young man who was recently so honored was Billy Kephart, our Jr. Scout Master. We in Troop 37 are very proud of this outstanding Scout and wish him all the success he so richly deserves.

The next outing being planned is a 4 day campout at Willow Creek. It will be held May 28th thru the 31st. This is the first campout, longer than a weekend, to prepare the boys for their summer camp. In June the camp-out will be at Camp Potasi the 19th and 20th. Then in July there will be a campout the 9th, 10th and 11th. The summer camp will be Aug. 14th thru the 22nd at Baker. It sounds like the boys will be quite active again this summer.

On the 25th of May at the First Presbyterian Church, we will hold a Chili supper. The purpose of this will be to raise money for new tents for the Troop. It will begin at 6 p.m. The donation will be $1 for adults, 50 cents for children under 12 and 25 cents for "seconds". We know you will enjoy not having to cook in this heat so come and join us for Chili.

Council Approves Use Of Pittman Center

Rental for the Pittman Community Center building for the period June 7 through Aug. 13, was approved by the city council Monday night.

The cost of the rental is $450 which was recommended by Parks and Recreation Director Dundee Jones. Jones said the Pittman Center is used as one of the playground sites.

Eagle Scout Paints Patriotic Rest Stop

Recently, under the leadership of a prospective Eagle Scout, a group of young L.D.S. people from the Henderson Third Ward painted this City's only rest stop red, white and blue for the bicentennial celebration.

Brian Anderson planned and engineered the project to fulfill an Eagle Scout requirement. Working with the Henderson Bicentennial Committee and the State Highway Department, who furnished the paint, approximately seventeen young people and their leaders worked on Saturdays and after school to give our rest stop a patriotic facelift.

Those who participated in this project were: Jimmy Wilson, Harold Lefler, Wayne Wooten, Andy Twitchell, Courtney Hoesch, Barbara Robinson, Julie Keele, Bonnie Albiston, Jolene Albiston, Lorri Albiston, Stacy Davis, Holly Gibson, Linda Robinson, Lorraine Jones, Lisa Spencer, Janet Peeples and Brian Anderson. Leaders who helped on this project included Kenneth Hoesch, Kent Anderson, Tharol Lefler, Stan Albiston, JaNeen Anderson and Virginia Hoesch.

The Henderson Bicentennial Committee wishes to express appreciation to these young people for this fine contribution to our community and to the bicentennial program of Henderson. This rest stop is located at the corner of Basic Road and Boulder Highway.

RED, WHITE, BLUE - Even the garbage cans get the red, white and blue treatment as these young men join in the decoration of Henderson's rest stop.

The Library Space-Out

Auditions for the play "Really Rosie," by Maurice Sendak-music by Carole King, will be held today at 3:30 p.m. at the Henderson Public Library. Rani Bush, a student at Burkholder Junior High, will be directing this musical. The performance will be in early July at the library.

Also at the library, and under the chairmanship of Tom Striegel, there will be an organizational meeting for a program similar to "Almost Anything Goes." The meeting will be today at 2:30 p.m. at the library.

New paperbacks have just been purchased, including the Jimmy Connors Story, Why Me? The story of a teenage rape victim, and more. Also, for the comic book enthusiast, 50 new comic book titles, Archie, Josie and the Pussycats, Batman (ZAP), and Flash, have been purchased. And to decorate your room, 100 posters are available to be checked out for 6 weeks. Come in and browse through the selection.

Coming up soon--new ROCK & ROLL records. Also, a photography workshop focusing on photo composition and better travel pictures, will be held on June 12, at 2:00

Thanks for the suggestions!

MONEY FOR MUSEUM -- The officers of the Henderson Service Club are shown presenting a check to the Henderson Museum. The money was raised at the recent tasting spree sponsored by the service club.

Henderson Police Search For Twin Engine Plane

Police are investigating the disappearance of a twin engine airplane from Sky Harbor Airport.

The plane is owned by the Diecasting Improvement and Development Corp. of Burbank, Calif., and a pilot for the firm said he discovered the plane missing Wed., police said.

J.L. Shinn also of Burbank, said he landed and tied the plane two months ago, and gave an airport mechanic instructions to build engine covers for it at that time.

And the mechanic said the plane was gone from the airport five days later, but was returned to its storage area sometime later.

Airport owner Arby Alper said the craft was on the field April 1 when he made the monthly storage billing check, but Shinn found no plane when he checked this week.

The Cessna twin-boom plane carried the wing identification N1731M, and was valued at $75,000.

Police are urging anyone who has seen a plane with that marking to contact Henderson Police Department.

Because they believed them to be a charm against lightning people once grew leeks on their houses' thatched roofs.

ADD TOUCHES -- Kent Anderson and Kenneth Hoesch add their efforts to the facelift of Henderson's rest stop.

Trust Fund Set Up For Youngster

A trust fund has been set up for two Las Vegas girls involved in an auto accident which took the life of their mother and badly damaged the face of one of the girls.

The accident occurred on May 8, 1976, near Sunset Park, and involved Karen, aged 11 and her sister Angela, aged 12. Angela will require years of plastic surgery to restore her face.

People wishing to contribute to the Gutwald Children's Trust Fund may send their contributions to Pioneer Citizens Bank, 115 South Third Street, Las Vegas 89101. For questions regarding the Fund, call Mrs. Ralph Bryan, at 876-4310.

Buddy Poppies Go On Sale May 24

Buddy Poppies will go on sale in the Henderson area on May 24 through the 30th, 1976. Buy one and wear it. Through the nation, veterans in need are counting on you to bring them timely assistance through your purchase of the Buddy Poppy. Your donation will help those who helped you during our country's darkest hours.

deceased veterans, and WHEREAS: The basic purpose of the annual sale of Buddy Poppies by the Veterans of Foreign Wars is eloquently reflected in the desire to "Honor the Dead by Helping the Living"; therefore

I, Lorin Williams, Mayor of the city of Henderson, Nevada do hereby urge the citizens of this community to recognize the merits of this cause by contributing generously to its support through the purchase of Buddy Poppies on the day set aside for the distribution of these symbols of appreciation for the sacrifices of our honored dead.

I urge all patriotic citizens to wear a Buddy Poppy as mute evidence of our gratitude to the men of this country who have risked their lives in defense of the freedoms which we continue to enjoy as American citizens.

Signed Lorin Williams Mayor

Poppies On Sale

"In Flanders Fields the Poppies blow..." so went the immortal words of Col. John McCrae's poem. Little did he realize when he penned those lines that some day the very poppies of which he wrote would be the true symbol of all those who gave their lives in our Nation's wars. But that is the case today. Annually, the Veterans of Foreign Wars sponsors the Buddy Poppy sale in the Henderson area to raise money for needy and disabled veterans. This is their way of "Honoring the dead by helping the Living". You, too, can pay your respects on May 24-30 when the Buddy Poppies will be on sale in this community. Do Your part-- buy a Buddy Poppy and wear it proudly.

Eagles To Sponsor July 4th Fireworks

The Henderson Eagles Lodge will be sponsoring the Sixth Annual Independence Day Fireworks event started several years ago by the Girl Scouts of Henderson. The celebration was so well received that we feel it should be continued.

The event will be held at the Morrell City park (Henderson City Park) on Major Street.

Our old friends, Rick Richardson, Russ Neiger and John Freeles, have agreed to be the co-ordinators for a group of Henderson Firemen to set up the displays and to do the actual firing of the fireworks. This is the same group who have done such an excellent job in the past Fourth of July celebrations.

We earnestly solicit your support of this community event. This is a continuing fund for future fireworks. Since this is the Bicentennial year, let's make this years Fourth the biggest and best ever. Our contributions may be mailed to Henderson Eagles Fireworks Fund, P.O. Box 1001, Henderson, Nevada 89015.

We sincerely thank you for your donation to this very worthwhile community project.

Dollar Moves You In To 'New Horizons'

ENVIRONMENTAL APPEAL - New Horizons, community of single-family homes, enjoys scenic countryside setting in hills above Henderson. It is reached from Boulder Highway by turning west on Horizon Drive and following that scenic thoroughfare to the site just beyond Black Mountain golf course. Builder is Lewis Homes.

Learning Center Dedication Set

The New Horizons Center for Learning announced plans for the dedication of the building which officially opened as Nevada's first full time facility for children with learning disabilities in January of this year. Ceremonies will begin Friday, May 21st. at 11 a.m.

Officiating will be master of ceremonies, Kenneth Gragson with special guests to include Mrs. James Santini who will make a special presentation in behalf of husband, Congressman James Santini, Monsignor Carmody, and Lt. Governor Robert S. Rose. Representing the city of Las Vegas will be Mayor Pro Tem Ron Lurie. Rabbi Phillip Shnairson will be the main speaker.

The Center, which is a non-profit non-sectarian school, has a current enrollment of 10 full time students at the Junior High level. In addition to the day school it services an average of 35 youngsters in supportive after-school programs to remediate their learning disability handicaps. Additional services include diagnostic prescriptive work and parent education programs.

During the past year the organization has been active in the community in a number of projects to bring to the attention of the public the plight of the learning disabled child. Included have been exhibits at the various fairs and the Boulevard Mall, seminars and the recent visit of noted pediatrician, Dr. Sidney J. Adler of California. In addition to public education programs, the organization has been involved in a series of fund raising activities to enable the opening and financing of the center. Parents and teachers and members of the business community have actively supported Circus Circus carousel rides, sale of fund raising tickets, giant coloring books and subscriptions to Nevada Magazine. Of particular note was the Celebrity Softball game held last October. The students at New Horizons have organized their own bake sale and car wash to aid in supporting the Center. The project has attracted wide support in the community with the Uptown Kiwanis taking learning disabilities as their project.

More recently, New Horizons was the beneficiary of the Jr. Mesquite Club's annual fund raising event which was highly successful in that over $5,000 was realized. Individual contributions and those of organizations such as the Animal Hospital Association of Las Vegas, have all gone to make the survival of the Center possible.

The evening of the dedication will be an Awards Banquet beginning with cocktails at 6:30 P.M. at the Las Vegas Jockey Club. Dr. Mark G. Beals, professor in department of special education at UNLV will deliver the Newell C.

Kephart Memorial Address as the keynote message. The recipient of the Outstanding Nevada Award is Sister M. Jean Clare Little well known for her service to youth in public and parochial schools and dedication to the founding of the Center. Serving as honorary chairmen of the evening Awards Banquet are Governor Mike O'Callaghan who will be represented by Special Assistant Harriet Trudell, Bishop MacFarland of the Diocese of Reno, Mayor William Briare and Oran K. Gragson a long time friend of Sr. Jean Clare Little.

If you're a vet, a "one dollar moves you in" offer waits you at New Horizons, picturesque community of single-family homes in the hills above Henderson.

"But you may have to hurry a bit to take advantage of this opportunity," notes Lewis Homes regional sales manager, Richard Plaster, "for the offer holds good for a limited time only." It applies to all but one of the New Horizons models.

FHA and conventional financing terms are also available, with interest rates offered as low as 8 per cent. Buyers choose from one and two-story stylings priced from $35,950 to $49,700.

Plaster said that New Horizons' environmental appeal can best be summed up by the comment of one home buyer who spends his work days in Las Vegas.

"In less than 15 minutes via the freeway I can be home with my family in a peaceful countryside."

It's a feeling echoed by many New Horizons homeowners, Plaster observed. He pointed out that the homes are an equally short drive to Lake Mead.

"For golfers in the family, New Horizons is an even greater pleasure, for the Black Mountain golf course is just a walk away," he added.

Floor plans are designed with three or four bedrooms, family room, garden kitchen and two baths. One plan features an extra half-bath as powder room.

The Lewis Homes community is reached by driving south on Boulder Highway to Horizon Drive (just beyond Henderson), then turning west (right) past the Black Mountain golf course.

Santini Calls For Hearing On Utility Rates

The dramatic utility rate increases hitting consumers throughout Nevada have prompted Rep. Jim Santini to request Congressional field hearings to investigate the reasons and impact.

In a letter to Rep. John Moss, D - Calif., chairman of the House Subcommittee on Oversight and Investigations, Santini said, "I'd like to get first-hand information concerning the price squeeze situation and determine if positive steps can be taken on the federal level to improve the regulatory process."

"The consumer is often caught in the middle, having little or no input into the regulatory decisions, and suffering the consequences."

Santini said the hearings could provide a setting for the power companies -- including Nevada Power in Las Vegas and Sierra Pacific Power in Reno -- to explain the economics behind the rate increases and the provisions of rate structures. "The hearing would also allow the consumers a chance to voice their opinion on a matter that so directly affects their lives on a daily basis," Santini, a member of the Subcommittee added.

The Subcommittee, part of the Commerce Committee, has been active this session in energy matters. Moss said he is reviewing the Santini request.

Rural Areas Report

by Nevada Seantor
Howard Cannon

Nevada ranchers have received nothing but lip service from the federal government in regard to the serious problem facing them. The Congress intended that the local ranchers and stockmen be both considered and involved in the decisions which affect grazing on public lands and the livestock industry, but the overwhelming amount of evidence shows they get much talk and little action from the powers in Washington.

again, but to a point where all benefit. The ranchers and the livestock industry, the environmentalists, the miners and sportsmen, and the citizens of Nevada and our country. This three-pronged plan of action include: Step One -- Introduction of a bill requiring that all fees generated from public lands be turned back for range improvement, except fees specifically designated for return to states and Indian tribes. A portion now goes into the federal general funds.

bill to create a statutory formula on grazing fees that would take into account the cost of production, price of beef and other market conditions. Step Three -- Introduction of an amendment that would require the BLM to enter into a 5-year agreement with individual permittees of grazing lands. This measure has just passed the Senate and is awaiting House action. Under Step One, a moratorium would be placed on grazing fees at the current level and lands could not be closed until the economic impact statements were concluded and taken into consideration as part of the overall picture. Grazing fees estimated to be collected in fiscal year 1976 total $16.6 million. Estimated fees for fiscal year 1977 total $20.5 million. Under law, a revenue sharing plan for use at home, and the ranchers and their families receive direct benefits from those funds. A percentage of the fees are but the remaining monies go into the federal general fund. It seems to me that all would profit better if that portion which goes into the general fund were put back into the land.

Step Two was introduced because a new statutory formula is the most equitable way of handling a risk-involved situation. Under the bill, the BLM annually would determine the amount of usage on grazing lands. The 5 year agreement plan was introduced because ranchers have spend millions of dollars of their own money since the passage of the Taylor Grazing Act in 1934 on improving public lands. But under current rules, the investments could be considered risky. The B.L.M. can pull grazing permits. Under my amendment, the BLM would determine the amount of AUMs available during a given year on a section of grazing land, depending on the quality of the land at the time. In addition, if for any reason the grazing rights were terminated, the ranchers would be reimbursed for their personal expenditures, less any amount already amortized. I firmly believe such a guarantee will spur more ranchers to invest their own money to improve grazing lands, and in the long run everyone will reap the harvest. I have also suggested to the Presidents of both the American and the Nevada Cattlemen's Associations the possibility of a court suite to help bring the entire problem of the environmentalist - rancher disputes into perspective.

The B.L.M. currently is acting under a court order to perform environmental impact statements. The court decision was not appealed. Such a suit brought by ranchers might force the issue into a higher court where all sides in this issue would be taken into consideration. The world and national food demands dictate that food production on the public lands be increased and that grazing be recognized as one of the highest and best uses of the public lands

A Baha'i song is one which praises God and His Messengers; Abraham, Moses, Jesus, Muhammad and the latest two the Bab and Baha'u'llah. The songs might also tell of the oneness of the human race, the oneness of God and the oneness of all religions. The Americans pictured here are Baha'i pioneers. If You Buy Used Car, You Must Have Inspection

Planning to buy a used car from a private party? Then, you'd better count on paying for an air pollution certificate from a licensed inspector stating that the car meets air quality standards.

All that is involved in obtaining this certificate is driving to an inspection station and having your engine analyzed. If it is needed, then you have to have the engine repaired to meet air quality standards.

A survey of 3,900 cars made by the Nevada Department of Motor Vehicles in Clark County showed that only 112 needed some type of repair. Repair costs totaled $1,209.62 for all of the autos; the costs running from $1.95 to $101.31 This reflected repaired ranging from minor carburetor adjustments to major engine work. Inspection costs for the 3900 autos totaled $46,250.50, or an average of $9.98 per unit.

WORMS CAN KILL YOUR PET.

Large roundworms (Ascariids) can kill your cat or dog. And he can pick them up any time—even be born with them. What can be done about the "wormy worms"? "OFF TO WASHINGTON" - Even though its an election year, this antelope ground squirrel from Boulder City, Nevada, had no interest in getting to the nation's capitol. The rodent is one of four ground squirrels captured by Mike Worthington, a student assistant for the Desert Research Institute's Applied Ecology and Physiology Center in Southern Nevada. The animals were donated by DRI for a new exhibit program at the Smithsonian Institution's National Zoological Park featuring small animal species. The Smithsonian requested the antelope ground squirrels because the rodents are active in the daytime and visitors will be able to observe them in a specially designed above - ground, below - ground habitat.

Dr. Mark G. Beals To Keynote Testimonial

Dr. Mark G. Beals, Professor at UNLV Department of Special Education, will deliver the keynote address at the upcoming New Horizons first annual Awards Banquet at the Las Vegas Jockey Club, Friday, May 21st. The event will benefit children with learning disabilities.

A graduate of Lycoming College in 1956 Dr. Beals received his Masters Degree at the University of Hawaii in 1958 and Doctorate at University of Arizona. In addition to his classroom responsibilities at UNLV he is in charge of the Generalist Program and Student Teaching at the University. He has also served as consultant to a number of school districts and is currently consultant to the Bullhead, Arizona School District and the Diocesan Schools of Southern Nevada.

Beals is well known in the field of Special Education having an extensive background in the areas of mental retardation and exceptional children. Much in demand as a speaker, Dr. Beals has presented a wide range of papers before professional societies throughout the United States since 1966. In 1973 he presented "The Mojave Project; a Model LD Program" at the International Association for Children with Learning Disabilities conference in Detroit, Michigan.

Eight years ago, while serving as professor at Northern Arizona University, Dr. Beals met Dr. Newell C. Kephart, one of the world's ten leading experts in the field of learning disabilities. This meeting sparked his interest in the field of children with learning disabilities which had up to then been concentrated in the areas of mental retardation and child psychology. He was instrumental in obtaining the services of Dr. Kephart as an Adjunct Professor at UNLV.

Upon initiation of the learning disabilities program at the University, Dr. John VanVactor, who had worked with Kephart at Purdue University, was added to the UNLV staff. VanVactor is currently serving as consultant to the Clark County School District.

It is largely through Beals' cooperation and expertise that the New Horizons Center for Learning was founded. The organization has been active in Clark County for the past four years. Much of its philosophy is based on Dr. Beals' implementation of Kephart's theories of the "total Child" concepts into practice at the Mohave Valley Project in Arizona in the late sixties. In tribute to Dr. Kephart, Dr. Beals has titled the keynote message for the New Horizons Awards Banquet the "Newell C. Kephart Memorial Address." Mr. Martha Kephart, widow of the educator who died in 1973, will be the honored guest at the banquet.

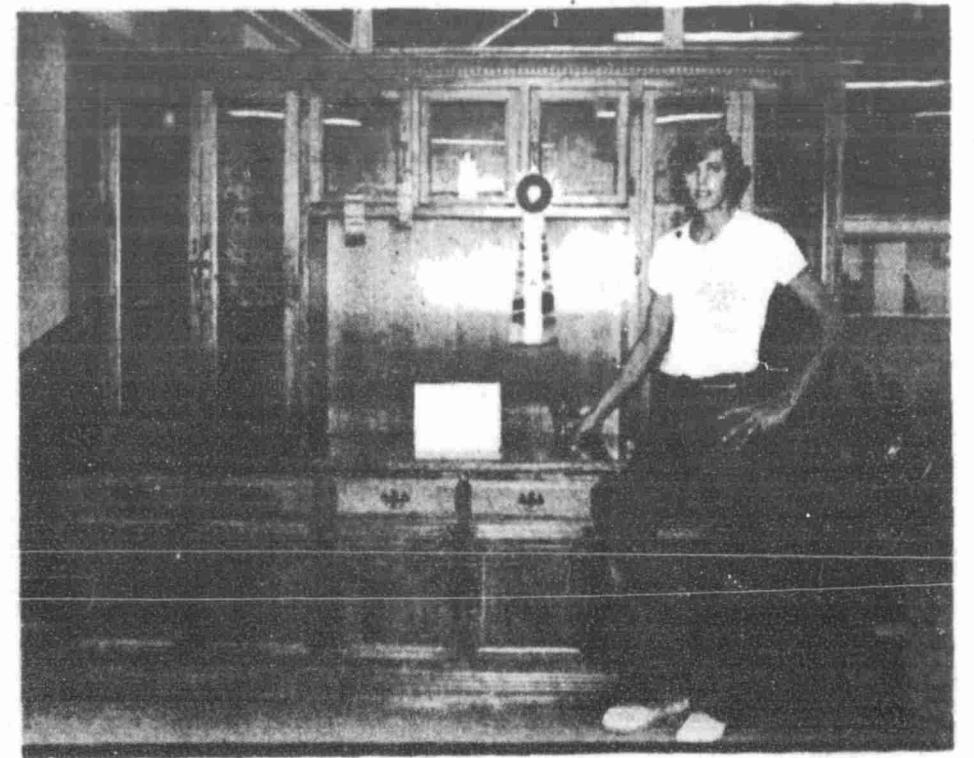

Special presentations of the evening will include the Outstanding Nevada Award to Sister M. Jean Clare Little for her services to youth and efforts in establishing the Center, Nevada's first full time facility for children with learning disabilities. Other awards will include the Newell C. Kephart Award, Educator of the Year and recognitions in the fields of entertainment, Press, Radio, Television, Organizations and Institutions.

Serving as Honorary Chairmen of the event are Governor Mike O'Callaghan, Bishop MacFarland of the Diocese of Reno, Las Vegas Mayor William Briare and former Mayor Oran K. Gragson who is a long time friend of Sister Jean Clare. Others attending will include Lt. Governor Robert S. Rose, Mayor Pro Tem Ron Lurie, the Very Reverend Elwood PRECISE WORK -- Henry Corella, a deaf student at Vo-Tech, has received much praise for his work on this dining room hutch. He plans to follow cabinet work as a career.

BEAUTIFUL CREATION --- Mike Thompson is shown with his beautiful creation which he says will be his mothers. He was offered $3,000 for it.

LaVoy, Vicar General, and Sister Elizabeth Sullivan, O.P. Superintendent of Diocesan Schools in Nevada.

A special dedication ceremony will be held at the Center at 3036 Alta Drive the morning of the banquet at 11 a.m. Presentations will be made by Mrs. James Santini and Rabbi Phillip Shnairson.

For information concerning the Dedication or the Awards Banquet contact St. Annes at 735-2586.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Morry:

Thanks very much for contributing the good column for our 100th anniversary edition of the Reno Evening Gazette.

Your participation in the edition adds significant perspective to things Nevada, and I appreciate it.

I'm enclosing a copy of the special edition, which is combined with our annual Nevada Looks Ahead.

Vo-Tech Offers Outstanding Carpentry Class

by Lee Breitenbach

Southern Nevada Vocational - Technical Center has many worthwhile programs open to high school students and adults. Among these, one of the finest is the school's Carpentry class, taught by LaRel Stephensen and Mr. Robert Graf.

The program was initiated at Vo - Tech in 1967, the school's second year. The class is taught in 3 phases: Exploratory - which gives the student an overall view of the vocation; Basic Carpentry, and Advanced housebuilding; in which students actually construct full - size homes.

After completion of the curriculum the boys are administered the Apprenticeship Entrance Examination for the Carpentry Union. One senior student this year, Mike Thompson, scored 100 per cent on the test.

Mike, along with others in the Capentry Department, is a member of the Vocational - Industrial Clubs of America (VICA). Members of the club recently attended the Nevada State Carpentry Convention, the Southern Nevada Youth Fair and the Tri - State Vocational - Education Day.

At the State Convention held April 29 - 30, four students took awards; Mike Thompson, first place in Framing; Rick Beauchamp, first place in Millwork; Henry Corella, third place in Millwork; and Dean Blazek third place in House Wiring.

The trip to Hawthorne, Nevada, where the conference was held, was financed entirely by the club through the sale of hardwood cutting boards. The boards were sold at school to teachers and students, and at the Southern Nevada Youth Fair.

Mike Thompson and Rick Beauchamp will now represent Nevada at the U.S. Skill Olympics in Miami, Florida. They will compete in skill contests against other first place winners from all 50 states. The tests consist of two parts - written and performance skills.

At the Tri - State Competition held in Cedar City Utah, VICA members entered their personal projects against students from Arizona, Utah and Nevada. The Sweepstakes Award in Advanced Woodwork was won by Mike Thompson with a walnut hutch he built for his mother.

Mike, who is Vo - Tech's Valedictorian this year with a 3.70 average, also won the Grand Champion Prize at the Southern Nevada Youth Fair.

At the Youth Fair, Mike, in jest, put a $3000 price tag on his hutch. To his surprise, two people were ready to pay that price. He declined the offer however, because the work he put into it and the final result meant more to him than money ever could.

Another student, Henry Corella, received the Grand Champion Award at the Youth Fair. His hutch, like Mike's was designed by him from scratch.

Henry is a deaf student at Vo - Tech and works in the Carpentry Department in association with Mrs. Martha Wright, the deaf student instructor. Henry will enroll in Carpentry an extra year so that he may enter the Apprenticeship Program with his brother.

The Carpentry Program at SNVTC usually places about 75 per cent of the students in jobs. The department is proud in the fact that these prospective employees are very well prepared to work in their field.

Have A Ball (Point) In Boulder City

MOMENT OF TRUTH - Fisher Pen's Chuck Woodworth inspects the test writings of a group of newly manufactured points at the Fisher Pen Company operation in Boulder

City. In this particular test, each point and cartridge must consistently produce almost four miles of crisp, clean design to be accepted.

IT BEGINS HERE - The ribbon of brass at right is automatically fed into the machine at left where it is chopped and shaped into blanks which will hold the ball point of a Fisher pen refill.

by bill harbour

Good grief! Did you know that right here in good old Boulder City, the Fisher Pen Company is right now turning out in excess of 150,000 ball point assemblies each day?

You'd think we'd all be up to our ears in ball points ... but of course it isn't so. As a matter of fact, the production facility is now on a two shift operation trying to catch up to the nationwide needs for their quality product.

During our early visits to Boulder City's newest industry, we became entranced by all the intricate machining, etc., that goes into the manufacturing of ball point pens. With the cooperation of President Paul Fisher and Vice President Chuck Woodworth, we were given a grand tour of the operation and the many operations that go into the manufacture of the seemingly simple item were explained to us.

It boggled our minds ... and we'd like to share some of the clean, quiet operation with you.

Get The Point?

Our first trip was through the point assembly building. It is here that raw materials are almost miraculously converted into highly precisioned point assemblies.

The operation begins with two types of "raw stock" used to make the machine blanks that will hold the point. Brass and stainless steel blanks are produced here, each in a separate machine fed by a long ribbon of the appropriate metal.

The brass machine was chugging away at the faster clip and Chuck explained that the brass is easier to work with and that the machine stamps .. or cold heads .. the tiny pieces of brass into their desired shape after they are automatically chopped from the brass ribbon entering the machine.

The stainless steel operation is slower as the tiny steel slug must be machined to its desired shape.

The Merry - Go - Round

The blanks are fed into one of five Swiss automated point assembly machines. Three of the machines assemble the brass points; the other two are geared for stainless steel operation.

The blanks and ball points (manufactured elsewhere) are fed into hoppers which in turn feed them onto a rotating turntable for assembly operations. What a sight to see as the stations on the turntable lower themselves in unison to perform one operation, then lift while the turntable is rotated by one station ... moving the parts along to the next station. There's precious little time lost as the merry-go-round works without rest. The brass machines turn out about 70 completed ball points each minute; the steel points produced per minute number about 54.

The theory and basic design of the intricate ball point machinery was invented by Paul Fisher, although a Swiss firm later filed patents on their modified designs.

Torture Tests

As each batch of 1,000 points rolls out of the point assembly machine, they are grouped and taken to a special testing machine where sample points undergo a variety of torture tests. Hooked into a cartridge, they are first scribbled (to remove excess oil) followed by a handwriting test in which specific words and designs are written. Each is chosen to point up a specific weakness in the point assembly.

But they're not done yet. Each cartridge is weighed and then placed on an automatic writing machine that writes for exactly 100 feet. The cartridge is again weighed to determine how much ink was used. Each point (fine, medium or bold) and each color and type of cartridge has its own criteria for acceptance as a Fisher point.

Still more to come. Selected points and cartridges are subjected to a four mile test where they write for 20,000 feet. Their writings are analyzed for continuity, clarity, etc., and of course the fact that they survive at all to complete the grueling test. Only then are the point assemblies certified as being O.K.

This is but one part of the entire operation ... but as Chuck Woodworth describes it ... It's the very heart of the whole thing.

In a later article, we'll look at the cartridge assembly and the design section of Boulder City's newest industry ... Fisher Pen Co.

Exchange Students Visit Boulder City

For the past 11 days, two Boulder City High School students, Jan Miller - senior and Kevin Maxon - sophomore, have been housing exchange students in their homes.

16 exchange students from different countries are based in Mesa, Ariz., and then circulated throughout the country. Nadine Cousen from LeMon - dore, a town in central France, has been residing with Jan Miller. Nadine is 18 years old and since she speaks fluent English, French, Latin, and German, she wants to be an interpreter.

17 year old Rally Wicipulo has been staying with Kevin Maxon and then circulated throughout the country. Nadine Cousen from LeMon - dore, a town in high school and college that educates some 9,000 students. Five days of the week he lives in a boarding house, and on the weekends, he stays with his brother. One of Rally's favorite things to do is watch television.

On May 7, Rally and Nadine will return to Ariz. and in July they will each return to their own countries.

The students at B.C.H.S. want to wish them good luck and a pleasant stay while visiting America.

Ed Harvey, NEWS Circulation Manager, interviewed Rally on his reactions to the United States. His interview is run below:

Q. When did you come to America?

A. I came in America last July, 1975.

Q. Where all have you been in America?

A. I've been in Grand Canyon in Arizona, at the Hopi-Navajo Reservation, Canyon de Chelly, Petrified Forest, Painted Desert, and so many other places in Arizona.

Q. When will you return to the Philippines?

A. I'll be going back to the Philippines on the fifteenth of July. I'll be leaving Arizona on the fifth of July for the bus trip to Washington D.C. and from there back to the Philippines.

Q. What do you like most about America?

A. I like most everything in America, most especially my host family in Morenci, Arizona, and of course all the people who are living here in this country.

Q. What do you like least about America?

A. What I don't like is the weather here, sometimes it got so hot and sometimes it got so cold you couldn't grow anything because of it.

Q. What have you most enjoyed doing while you have been here?

A. I enjoy talking to people about my home country and of course about myself and I think almost everything I do.

Q. Would you recommend America as a place to live to your friends?

A. I surely would recommend America as the number one place to live where in almost everything is here compared to where I live, what I mean is that the civilization is more advanced and America has more facilities.

Q. Would you like to live in America?

A. I sure like to live in America, right now I don't like to go back to where I live, but I'm obliged to go back and can't come back here after two years.

Q. What will you do when you return to the Philippines?

A. I don't know yet what I'll be doing when I go back home. I don't know yet if this year will count for my education or not so I really couldn't tell. If this year will count I might go to college, but if not I think I'll be helping my brother in the field as well.

Q. Are the people here the same or different compared to the people in your country?

A. The people here are the same compared to the people in the Philippines, I mean the same in customs and everything except the people there are a brown race and only few could speak accurate English because we're not English speaking people anyway, we have our own language and there are around 85-90 different dialects there.

Q. What is the government like in the Philippines?

A. The government in the Philippines is the same as what you have here which is democratic form before, but now it is

RENATE SHILES

Normally we try to take our outdoor pictures with the sun lighting the subject. Often the bright light makes our subject squint and grimace but at least we have plenty of light. There are times when a very unusual or really striking picture can be made by shooting obliquely toward the morning or afternoon sun. Such backlighting can create a lacy effect by outlining leaves and foliage with light. A girl's hair can be extra beautiful when backlight from a setting sun creates a halo of gold. To get the details in the shadows, you'll have to use about four times the exposure shown by a meter. Check this by taking a reading the other way, of the cast shadow. For exposure meters, or any photographic need, come to us. We're experts in things photographic.

Henderson Woman Assaulted

A businesswoman was kidnaped from her downtown Henderson establishment by two men, taken to Lake Mead and sexually molested late last week, the Henderson Police Department reported.

The woman was treated at St. Rose de Lima Hospital and released. Police said the woman left her business early Friday night to join some friends at the Rainbow Club. They said two men were waiting for her when she returned to her business about 10 p.m. to continue working.

There were no signs of forced entry, and it was not immediately known how the men got inside the business, police said. The woman said the men, one white and one black, were armed with gun and the pair ordered her into a van parked near the business.

Police said the woman informed them that she was driven to the Lake Mead area, sexually molested, then driven back to Las Vegas and dropped off at the intersection of Fremont Street and Charleston Boulevard.

The victim said she contacted police and was taken immediately to the hospital for treatment.

going like a dictatorship form because of Martial law, wherein there is no election at all.

Q. What do we have here that you don't have in the Philippines?

A. I think you have everything here in America that people have to have compared to where I live.

Q. What do you have there that we don't have?

A. In the Philippines we have a good climate and really good farming land and things like that.

Q. What are your hobbies?

A. I think I don't have one because I'm just lazy of doing things so!

Q. What would you like as a vacationer?

A. As a vacationer I would like to go to any places that are exciting and I have never seen before.

Bicentennial Patriotic & Pop Program

BICENTENNIAL PROGRAM—A patriotic program will be presented by the Bicentennial committee on election night May 25. Madelaine Garrett is seated at the piano, and left to right are Mike Holbrook, Mrs. Russell Grater, Russell Grater, and Bob Hunter.

The Boulder, City Bicentennial Committee is proud and pleased to present a special event on the evening of Election Day in the Memorial Auditorium at the Boulder. On Tuesday, May 25, at 7:30 P. M., the choral department of Boulder City High School under the direction of Madelaine Garrett will present a Patriotic and Pop Program for the people of Boulder City. The Girls' Glee Club and the popular Ubiquitous Group will perform some of their numbers and then give their Bicentennial gift to the audience, which is a special program called, "Where's America". The talents of Mr. & Mrs. Russel Grater with their slides, Mr. Andrew Mitchell and his daughter Jill as narrators, and the music of the Ubiquitous Singers accompanied by Wanda McCorkle will be displayed. The script is by Mrs. Chuck Haraway. The public is invited to hear this outstanding patriotic program at no admission. The Boulder City Bicentennial Committee urges everyone to go to the polls and vote and then come enjoy this very special treat of what makes America great.

Nevada's Judicial Structure Under Discussion

Chief Judge Herbert M. Schwab of the Oregon Court of Appeals addressed the Nevada Legislature's joint committee on the judiciary Saturday morning. The committee, chaired by Assemblyman Robert Barengo (D-Reno), is currently completing hearings concerning the possible reorganization of Nevada's judicial structure.

Speakers this weekend included Nevada's Chief Justice E. M. "Al" Gunderson and Dean Ernst John Watts of the National College of the State Judiciary. Regarded as a leading national expert on intermediate courts of appeals, Chief Judge Schwab was invited to testify at the recommendation of Chief Justice Gunderson, to present a comparative analysis of the various forms of such courts throughout the United States.

Chief Judge Schwab's remarks detailed the problems presented by a rapidly growing population and a burgeoning of public laws. Such pressures, he said, cause people to rely more on the advice of lawyers, who in turn must find their answers in the opinions of the courts. The Oregon jurist urged the Nevada Legislature to consider an intermediate court of appeals as an alternative preferable to expansion of the state supreme court. He explained how enlarging the supreme court above its present five justices would produce difficulties in communication, as it has elsewhere, thus failing to produce corresponding increase in output of decisions.

The legislative committee also questioned Chief Justice Gunderson and Dean Watts regarding Chief Judge Schwab's recommendations. Both concurred in the views of Oregon's authority, and made specific recommendations concerning possible forms for an appeals court in Nevada, if the Legislature implements Judge Schwab's suggestions.

Boat Storage Facility Opens

Boulder City welcomes a new service this week as Boulder City resident Lido Paglia unveils his new boat storage facility on Industrial Road in the industrial park.

The yellow cinder block structure visible from Nevada Highway is but the first of several such units planned for construction on the property.

For right now, boaters are offered 27 storage stalls, each measuring a large 11 by 31 feet, in which to store their boats and trailers between outings on Lake Mead. Lido says the stalls are the largest in the Las Vegas area. In addition, the first building contains six small mini-storage cubicles, each ten by ten feet.

The entire structure incorporates first class design and construction throughout. The walls are all of cinder block construction. They project through the roof to provide extra fire-stop protection. The floors of the units are concrete. Each stall has individually controlled lighting; each offers a huge ten by ten foot door opening to allow campers to easily back boat and trailer into the stall. All units have an easily raised, torsion spring, roll up doors.

Lido had the idea for construction over a year ago. He was finally able to purchase the property a short time ago and translate his dream to reality.

A well known builder for 23 years in the Las Vegas area, he himself moved to Boulder City about a year ago. He saw the need for a well constructed, covered boat storage facility and made plans to offer that service here.

Completion of this first unit is but the beginning. He has plans to construct additional storage facilities as the need arises. Each will offer solid, safe and maintenance free storage. All will be separated by wide driveways to allow convenient access to the stalls.

Full outdoor lighting will add safety and confidence for users of the facility which is "open" 24 hours a day all year long. A permanent office and watchman's facility is planned soon as are restroom facilities, showers and other conveniences.

Offering the closest covered boat storage facility to Lake Mead, Lido and associate Bill Daley are ready and eager to serve both area and out of state boaters. Further information on the facility may be obtained by visiting the premises or by writing Lido Paglia at Box 43, Boulder City.

INSURACHAT

It was wise old King Solomon, in Proverbs 31:10, who asked: "Who can find a virtuous woman, for her price is far above rubies?" Rubies and sentiment aside, a wife's services bring a pretty price today.

Consider the wife's value to her family as maid, cook, governess, tutor, chauffeur, nurse, etc. One bank study set the figure at $8,300 a year.

All these services would have to be replaced at great cost if she were to die. Trial juries have awarded hundreds of thousands of dollars to husbands of wives killed in accidents.

There might be other economic loss, too: the husband's income tax would be higher, since he would lose a dependent and could not file jointly; social security benefits would drop; and his estate tax would be increased by the loss of the marital deduction.

The wife who works outside the home makes a dollar-and-cents contribution to the family income. That income should be protected, too.

A "good woman" herself is irreplaceable; but life insurance helps. Talk it over with LaPorta Insurance Agency, 129 Water Street, Henderson, Nevada 89015, 565-6411, for all your insurance needs.

Birth Of A Nation

PART 21 What Is Independence?

By Maryellen Vailier Sadovich

During those weeks of May 1776 when the American army was retreating from Canada, the Continental Congress was debating the important issue of independence.

On May 6, John Adams introduced a resolution recommending that the colonies form new governments to take the place of the former British dominated governments. Meanwhile, on the same day, twenty-five year old James Madison took his place in a convention of delegates in Virginia. This marked the entry of James Madison into national politics, and his participation in the most important colonial assembly in American history. Many years later, after the fighting had long been stopped, Madison would end his political career as president of the nation

he helped to create

From this Virginia convention came two epochal acts of statesmanship: A resolution ordering the Virginia congressional delegates to move that the United Colonies be declared free and independent states. And a Declaration of Rights whose provisions furnished material for the Declaration of Independence and the Bill of Rights of the United States Constitution which had not yet been written.

Throughout the colonies independence was being discussed, but many important officials bewailed the unrational aspects of that theory. On May 9, one unhappy man wrote to Washington suggesting that independence was expected to be a form of government that, "by being independent of the rich men, every man would then be able to do as he pleased."

Even Patrick Henry privately opposed an immediate move for independence in a speech on May 7. After the Virginia independence resolution was adopted, he wrote letters opposing action on it in the Continental Congress.

His fear that England would fight the independence movement by offering France half of America was ridiculed by some, but to others it seemed a real possibility. However, on May 2, unknown to Patrick Henry, the French court had agreed to grant the Americans a subvention of a million livres to aid their revolutionary effort.

After that brief period of uncertainty, Henry decided to lead the independence forces. "He became a pillar of fire... He inflamed, and was followed, by the convention," wrote one contemporary.

In a resolution Henry cited at length the tyrannies of king and parliament, declared the people of Virginia absolved of allegiance to the crown, and requested that the Virginia delegates in Congress exert their ability in procuring an immediate, clear, and full Declaration of Independence.

On May 15, 1776, Henry's resolution for independence was adopted by the Virginia convention. The congressional delegate galloped off to Philadelphia, while a new continental union flag waved above the capital at Williamsburg. Before the Virginia delegate arrived in Philadelphia, the Congress had already approved the Adams resolution which also called for independence.

In humility, Congress ordered a day of fasting, humiliation and prayer for Friday, May 17, 1776. That day was also named a Virginia feast day. A collection was made for treating the soldiers, continental forces were paraded, and Patrick Henry's independence resolution was read aloud to the army while the Union Flag of the American states waved in the breeze.

Readers also found that the publisher of the Virginia Gazette had removed the British seal of Virginia from the top of page one, replacing it with a type box bearing the words: Thirteen United Colonies--United We Stand--Divided We Fall.

This was the answer to the rumor which had just swept the colonies that the

Unit Award Presented

Seventy-nine National Park Service employees have received a Unit Award for Excellence of Service from the Department of the Interior. The Award was for "efforts performed beyond the line of duty in the search and recovery of flash flood victims and property during September and October, 1974." The Award was signed by Secretary of the Interior Thomas S. Kleppe.

On September 14, 1974, a flash flood swept through the Eldorado Canyon on Lake Mead National Recreation Area, killing nine persons and causing $500,000 in property damage. Park employees and volunteers worked long hours for more than four weeks following what has been described as "one of the worst natural disasters in a National Park area." According to Gary E. Bunney, Acting Superintendent of Lake Mead National Recreation Area, "We are very proud of those individuals who worked so hard under extremely hazardous conditions in the search and recovery operations."

Bunney advised that as another summer season ministry was sending an army of forty-five thousand Hessians and British soldiers against America.

approaches, persons traveling in the desert must be alert to flash flood hazards. Heavy rainfall, even for short periods, may be followed by flash flooding.

When traveling in remote areas: Stay away from natural streambeds, washes, and other drainage channels during and after rainstorms. Water runs off the higher elevations very rapidly.

Never camp on low ground. A flash flood can catch you while you sleep. Know where the high ground is and how to get there. Stay out of flooded areas. Keep alert to signs of wet weather, either rain where you are or signs of rain--thunder and lightning--nearby. BE PREPARED TO MOVE TO SAFETY.

Proclamation

WHEREAS, municipal government, in order to best serve the needs of the citizenry, must be operated with efficiency and in an orderly manner; and

WHEREAS, the efficiency and order with which government carries out its public functions is strongly reliant on procedures and records; and

WHEREAS, the Municipal Clerks administer the procedures and keep the records; and

WHEREAS, an organized source of knowledge about a community and its government activities is vital to the smooth governing of that municipality; and

WHEREAS, the Municipal Clerks provide and maintain such a body of knowledge; and

WHEREAS, the strength of local government depends upon the citizens' opinion of it, and such opinion is formed largely by the image set forth by the municipal government employees; and

WHEREAS, the Municipal Clerk is the municipal official most closely in daily contact with the citizenry, and therefore is a key position to mold sound public opinion; and

WHEREAS, during our Bicentennial Observance, it is most appropriate that we recognize an historic municipal office which grew out of the traditions of our democratic heritage.

NOW, THEREFORE, do hereby proclaim the week of May 10 through May 14, 1976, as MUNICIPAL CLERK'S WEEK in recognition of the vital services they perform and their outstanding dedication to the communities they represent.

EOB Offers Free Sack Lunches Here

This summer, the Economic Opportunity Board of Clark County is again offering a free sack lunch program to benefit children from lower-income families who are involved in countywide summer recreational programs. The program will begin June 7.

EOB's Deputy Director, James Tyree, in announcing the program, stated that it will be administered through the Nevada State Department of Education and that EOB will be responsible for preparing and distributing the lunches.

Tyree noted that "EOB is the only agency in Federal Region IX where youth from the community actually do the preparation and distribution themselves. The sack lunch program therefore provides jobs and training for youth as well as providing a needed public service."

Eligibility is based on the requirement that one-third of the children receiving sack lunches are eligible for free or reduced-price school meals. The income standard is for a family of four making $6,260 per year or less. Incomes eligible vary depending on family size.

Avoid storing canned food near steam pipes, radiators, furnace and kitchen ranges. A dry, moderately cool place is best.

English As Second Language To Be Taught

Evelyn Tingley, director of the Las Vegas Literacy Council, invites Henderson residents to attend a tutor training workshop in English as a second language. It is planned for May 21, 7-10 p.m. and May 22, 9 a.m.-5 p.m. at 1701 E. Oakesy Blvd., Las Vegas, Nevada.

Marcelle Wilcox Promoted In Army

Army Private Marcelle R. Wilcox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wilcox, 507 Federal, Henderson, was assigned as a correctional specialist in the 54th Military Police Company at Ft. Ord, Calif., on April 20.

She completed basic training at Ft. McClellan, Ala.

Pvt. Wilcox is a 1974 graduate of Basic High School.

Need Volunteer Drivers

If you could spend an hour a week as a volunteer to drive cancer patients from Henderson to Las Vegas hospitals for treatment, you are asked to call the Cancer Society at 733-7222.

One cancer patient from Henderson must have therapy every day at Sunrise hospital and needs a ride for the next three weeks.

There are other needs of Henderson people so if you can spend some time as a volunteer, please call the cancer society.

"FAT ISN'T FUNNY"

By Madeleine Johnsen
Creator of Weight
Control Centers

We are living in an age where everything is streamlined. We have sleek cars and modern, shiny Televisions, glamorous pots and pans, fast moving airplanes, compact Radaranges, but where do you fit in?

You cannot bluff pounds away, but they can be eaten away on a nutritionally sound program of Weight Control. Those pounds will disappear while eating pancakes, waffles, creamed tuna, ice cream, cheese and all the things that were No, Nos years ago.

If you have ever been on a semi-starvation diet you soon began suffering from the following:
Protruding stomach
Tired looking skin
Upright nerves
Lack of pep
Constant tiredness
Loose hanging skin
No sparkle in your eyes

As soon as you went back to your normal eating pattern you soon discovered those pounds going back twice as quickly as they came off. Stop daydreaming about thinness and start acting today upon a plan for positive results. Stop babying yourself and admit it is your own fault you are the way you are and remember that "empty calories are a faty's enemy."

Thought for Today: "A little faith along with work" ... or Positive mental attitude and a good program will turn you into the person you have been desiring to be.

Weight Control Spinach-Onion Salad Bowl

- 8 oz. thinly sliced onion, in rings
- 4 medium oranges
- 3 crisp bacon slices
- 1 lb. cleaned young spinach
- 2 tbs. cider vinegar
- 1 tbs. Sugar Twin
- 1 tsp. salt
- ¼ tsp. dry mustard
- 5 tbs. salad oil.

After separating onion into rings, peel oranges and cut slices in half. Remove stems from washed and patted dry spinach. Place spinach in large bowl. Add onion rings, orange and crumbled bacon. In bowl mix vinegar, salt, mustard and oil, beat well. Pour over salad and toss to mix. For variety you could add ¼ drained unsweetened crushed pineapple. Serves 8.

Equals 1 portion: 1 tbs. fat; ½ fruit; 2 oz. controlled vegetable.

Weight Control Lemony Glazed Carrots

- 1 lb. small, young carrots
- 1 tbs. butter or margarine
- 2 tbs. brown Sugar Twin
- 4 slices thinly sliced lemon

Wash and pare carrots, cut in thin strips. Cook in medium pan with ½ cup salted water til tender. Drain. In skillet melt butter and add sugar twin and lemon slices and carrots. Toss till covered with melted butter mixture and serve with pork chops or ham. mmmm good.

It is not too soon to do your Christmas Shaping. Call 382-6957 or 876-3186 for information. Learn to eat as though your life depended on it (the slimmer you are the longeryouwillbe around to enjoy it). Madeleine Johnsen cares do you?

CONSUMER CORNER
LET THE BUYER BEWARE
Many accidents in and around the home are no accident. Some are caused by products and some by carelessness. Here's some sound advice that may prevent you or your children from becoming just another statistic.

Always make sure construction toys for children too young to use hand tools fasten or fit together. This eliminates the possibility of mashing a finger with a hammer.

Always make sure that suggestions by well-intentioned legislators for government cut-backs won't result in unsafe conditions. For example, a recent suggestion to speed up mail delivery by providing curbside boxes would result in elderly social security recipients being obliged to walk 100 or 200 yards in all kinds of weather to pick up their mail.

Always make sure that a baby's or young child's toys are washable and too large to fit in a mouth, ear or nose.

Driving tip: Never pass a car if the road surface is bumpy. It can throw your car out of control.

VFW, Auxiliary, To Hold Installation

Henderson

The joint installation of Post 3848 Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U.S., and Auxiliary officers will be held on Saturday, May 22, 1976, at 7 p.m. at St. Peter's Church Schoolroom No. 12 on Boulder Highway. All members of the Post and Auxiliary and the public are invited to attend.

The new Post Commander is Marty Martinez, a long time member of the Post. The new President of the Auxiliary is Doris L. Elkie. This will be her second term as President of the Auxiliary.

The Installing Officers

Jess Clark. Elected officers to serve with the President of the Auxiliary are: Senior Vice President, Bernice Tippetts; Junior Vice President, Darcie Ann Elkie; Chaplain, Else Spencer; Treasurer, Julie Elkie; Conductress, Thirza Jones; Guard, Delores Darrah; Trustees, Gerry Paul, Lydia Martinez, and Carol Englestead; Secretary, Phyllis Zander. The appointed officers will be announced later.

Pets Must Be Moved From Cemetery By July 19

An illegal pet cemetery on federal lands near Las Vegas slated to be transferred to the State of Nevada must be removed, according to a Bureau of Land Management (BLM) spokesman.

John Boyles, BLM Las Vegas District Manager, said the Division of Colorado River Resources, on behalf of the State of Nevada, has requested the BLM to take action to eliminate the pet cemetery since it is unauthorized and could interfere with the development of the land following State acquisition.

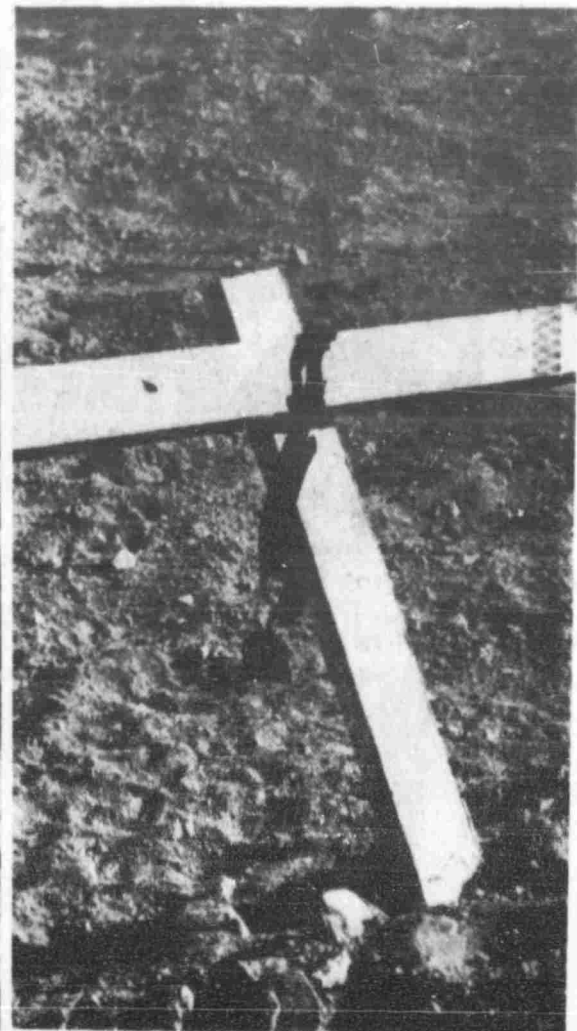

In 60 days, all surface structures at the site, about 4 miles south of Railroad Pass in Eldorado Valley, will be removed. Boyles emphasized animal remains will not be disturbed, and pet owners can remove personal property and transfer their animals anytime before July 19th.

"The entire matter is unfortunate," he said. "I realize the pet owners involved might not have known the cemetery was illegal and probably had their animals buried there in good faith. However, the land has been identified for transfer to Nevada. By law, the BLM cannot sell, lease or transfer the land to anyone but the State. Since the State has requested us to act, we must clear the property. We have no choice."

Everett's Supper Club Offers New Changes Here

Something new has been added to the already popular Everett's Supper Club, located near Palm Mortuary on Boulder Highway.

Don Highsmith, new manger, has introduced "The Cellar Door," which features live entertainment on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights, and a special on food. The Cellar Door is located in the basement of Everett's and has been decorated specially for the occasion.

Everett's lounge still features its outstanding food, both for lunch and dinner, and the specialties are Steak and lobster and prime rib.

Highsmith has a long distinguished career in the food business. He has lived in the Las Vegas area for three years and prior to moving here he worked with the World Wildlife Safari in Roseburg, Oregon. While in Roseburg he belonged to the Elks Club, Kiwanis Club, Rotary Club, Jaycees and the Chamber of Commerce and he missed being elected as Mayor by only a few votes.

He is part owner of the Larite bar and grill in Oregon and worked for controlled food services all around the state of Oregon.

Prior to that time he was in charge of inventory at Control Durr Brothers, Inc., Los Alamitos race track and the Riverside race track.

He and his wife, Diane have three children, Donny 7, Nina 5, and Mario 2. They are presently living in Las Vegas but are seriously eyeing some property in Henderson on which to build a home.

The public is invited to see the changes and try the food at Everett's Supper Club.

LDS Stake Conference Scheduled This Weekend

Reed Whipple, president of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints Temple in St. George, Utah, will be the keynote speaker for the quarterly conference to be held by the Henderson, Nevada Stake on May 22 and 23.

A session of the conference, open to the public, will be held Sunday beginning at 9 a.m., according to Stake President Leonard Stubbs of Boulder City, who will be conducting. An evening session will be held on Saturday for all adults at 7 p.m. at the Cholla Street Church.

There was a time, some seventy-odd years ago, when one of the most visible pieces of Americana was the town band concert. In that vanished era before television (or even radio) one of the few sources of live entertainment was the gathering, in suitable weather, of townsfolk to listen to the stirring music of John Philip Sousa, played by a community band in gilded uniforms and seated in their splendor on an ornate gazebo in the town square.

Well, the years and changing tastes have pretty well done in that quaint institution. But on the evening of Monday, May 10, the Basic High School music department did its best to recapture the mood and the music in a final appearance for the 1975-1976 season.

For Diana Tomlinson, eight years the director of vocal music at the school, it was a true farewell; she moves to a new position at Bonanza High School in Las Vegas this fall. The occasion was duly noted in a short speech by band director Brent Cecil, and acknowledged by Mrs. Tomlinson.

The weather cooperated beautifully with the effort, which was the school's contribution to the U.S. Bicentennial. Virtually every musical group affiliated with the school was represented, and in a 90-minute concert, each had its turn.

Contrast was one of the program's highlights. The age of the music stretched from the 1830's to contemporary pop. The band opened the show with the National Anthem, appropriately enough. They followed this with Sousa's march "El Captain." Next came a medley of old American tunes, entitled "1836: New Land, New Nation." Sitting in the audience out-doors in the school's quadrangle area, under a near-full moon, I could almost believe I had been transported back to the world of 1910; at least until the sound of motorcycles along Palo Verde Street brought me back to 1976.

It's too bad Channel 5, after their splendid job covering so many facets of our recent Industrial Days celebration, couldn't have had their TV camera present to bring the musical and visual delights of the program into homes throughout the valley. Well, maybe next year.

Mrs. Tomlinson's Girls' Glee Club were next on the bill, singing "Married To A Soldier."

Also speaking for the conference will be Mrs. Bell from the Aaronic Priesthood Young Women's Committee from Salt Lake City, Utah, headquarters of the Church.

The music for the Sunday morning session of the conference will be provided by the Primary children.

They sang it very well. But suffered (as did all the vocal groups) from the echo-chamber effect created by the enclosing concrete walls of the school buildings. I know very well how precise the diction of all Mrs. Tomlinson's choruses is; under the acoustical conditions afforded by the quadrangle, it was hard to understand a single word.

The band returned with "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and Sousa's "Washington Post" march. Sousa wrote it in 1889 and dedicated it to the Washington newspaper that was a major part of the Capital's scene fifty years and more before Bernstein and Woodward, the discoverers of the Watergate scandal, were born. Interestingly, "Washington Post" was, in its early days, danced to as well as marched to. The International Dancing Masters picked it to introduce their two-step in 1890, and for years after the two-step was popularly called a "Washington Post."

Brent Cecil and the band then rested as Diana Tomlinson returned with the Bel Canto mixed chorus, to sing two spirituals: "Deep River" and "Angels Rolled The Stone Away." It was at this point that Cecil announced that it was Mrs. Tomlinson's last concert at Basic High, commenting with accuracy that she will be missed. The quality of her choruses has been uniformly high over the years. Surely this accounts for her promotion to an administrative post at Bonanza High, and just as surely it will make her successor's job a difficult one. He or she will have a very high standard to match.

The band and combined choruses joined forces in the extremely stirring Carmen Dragon arrangement of "America the Beautiful," bringing to a close the first (and traditional) part of the Bicentennial concert.

The school stage band opened the second half, dedicated to contemporary music of the jazz and pop variety. Of all the groups heard, the stage band, which to the uninitiated is another word for dance or jazz band, suffered the most by the acoustical shortcomings of the quadrangle. They set up at a far-back corner, which further muddled their sound in echo and reverberation. At times, only the rhythm section could be heard, with brass and saxes lost in the murk of bouncing sound. If they were received with somewhat less enthusiasm by the large crowd, their unfortunate placement was not doubt in part responsible. Occasionally the trumpets cut through the mud, but very seldom. All jazz solos were impossible to hear from the audience.

Coming on to close the show was Totality, the large pop singing group, stunningly costumed and definitely the visual treat of the evening. They sang and danced, and presented a string of soloists that included Vonnie Kelly, Betty Barton, Bryan Lamb, Eileen Twitchell, and Randy Trujillo. One could see the generation gap at work during their rock-flavored performance, with the older members of the audience wincing slightly at the volume they projected, while the younger listeners (and the members of the other choruses) applauded and cheered wildly. My own opinion was that their ensemble work was excellent, as was most of the accompaniment provided by the stage band, but most of the soloists were undistinguished or singing in a style they had not mastered.

Perhaps the hardest part of being an entertainer (and this is what Totality strives to be) is that confidence and sureness that comes from years of working face-to-face with critical contemporary audiences. And here, most notably, the soloists of Totality brought home the realization that this was, after all, only a high school singing group. Time will solve these problems for the soloists if they wish to pursue this type of music: time and exposure to the realities of singing for audiences that are not prejudiced in one's behalf before a note has been sung. But then, professional entertainers do not have to cope with a heavy schedule of academic studies and other activities every day of their lives, as students do. As it was, Totality was wildly appreciated by its contemporaries, so they have nothing to be ashamed of.

I have now heard a complete season's concerts by the vocal and instrumental groups of the Basic High School music department. Improvement was obvious in all areas, both musically and in the staging. Some of the clumsy technical problems of earlier concerts had been solved, which shows that time and proper supervision work wonders. All in all, it was a year that proved again and again how much talent there is in Basic High, and how anxious that talent is to be heard in the best possible light. There is every indication that 1976-1977 will be even better. For one thing, the school has finally agreed to put band in the regular school schedule, instead of making it a class held before school officially begins. This should bring in students who, because of bus schedules, could not participate in band this year.
