

Firemen File Grievance For Flag Hanging

by Mary Stafford

Was yesterday, Nevada Admission Day, the last Flag Holiday members of the Fire Fighters will be hanging American flags on the streets of our city?

According to a letter from Fire Chief Don Richards written to City Manager Bob Campbell dated October 3, the Fire Fighters, at a union meeting, made and passed a motion to stop hanging the flags unless ordered by the chief to do so.

Richard issued the order Sunday.

Now the union will file a grievance against Richard for ordering them to do something outside the field of fire fighting.

No reason for this action was detailed in the letter, but according to Gary Johnson, Chamber of Commerce Director, it is aimed personally at him because he spoke in favor of a Public Safety Director during a public hearing before the City Council when the PSD position was under consideration.

Don Griffie, president of local 1883, confirmed this is the reason in a telephone call several weeks ago when word of such action first came to the paper's attention. At that time he requested the HOME NEWS not to publish the story until after the next Flag Holiday.

The flag hanging has always been a joint operation between the city and the Chamber of Commerce. The chamber agreed to buy the flags, hangers, etc. and replace lost, damaged or stolen ones while the city agreed to take care of the hanging, removing, storage and inventory.

Exactly when this agreement between the chamber and city was made is unknown. Originally the program was started with volunteer help from service clubs, then became the duty of the Maintenance Department.

This became a matter of considerable expense to the city because of overtime and also caused a problem to members of the maintenance department as they could not make holiday plans with their families.

It finally was turned over to the Fire Department since certain members had to work, holiday or not. They were offered one additional shift off each year, all members except chief officers, and they accepted.

The on-coming shift comes in about an hour early relieving the shift about to go off-duty to hang the flags. The on-duty shift then removes them around 4 p.m.

There is a memorandum dated June 14, 1966 from then City Manager Ralph Pfiffner to Chief Richard assigning the responsibility for installing and removing flags throughout the city to the Fire Department "since, in your particular department, adequate manpower is available and also since you have constant radio contact with the base station."

Campbell's comment to Richard via memo was "I sincerely regret this attitude on the part of the fire personnel, for I believe it will be to their detriment in the long run."

In a letter to the Fire

CAL-PAC, Nevada Power Deal Here Ok'd By PSC

Levi to Finance Own Project

by Lorna Kesterson

The exchange of two properties, including the Henderson California-Pacific electric utility, has been approved by the Nevada Public Service Commission, according to Ron Langford, manager of the Henderson office.

Nevada Power Company has been negotiating the exchange of a similar facility in Elko to Cal-Pac for the Henderson operation and the final exchange is expected to take place around December 1.

The exchange still must be approved by the Federal Power Commission, and if that approval is forthcoming, the transfer of the two facilities could take place some time in November.

One point of dispute still to be settled includes a power allotment from the Division of Colorado River Resources. The City of Henderson has requested that the allotment, which provides ten per cent of the city's power, to be turned over to Henderson, which in turn would allot it to Nevada Power Company.

Nevada Power Company maintains that the power, which was previously held by Cal-Pac, should be transferred with the transfer of the Company, and is part of the agreement.

A hearing will be held on the matter at 2 p.m. Thursday at the DCRR offices on Maryland Parkway and both Nevada Power and the City are ex-

Council Meeting Tonight

A discussion of the City Council to establish a policy for water extensions will be one of the few items on the city council committee meeting agenda tonight beginning at 7 p.m.

Also on the agenda will be an energy report and discussion on what the city has done to conserve energy.

Mayor Lorin Williams is not expected to attend the session. He was hospitalized Sunday for further testing of his heart.

Morry Story

The Los Angeles Times puts in a ban on all porno advertising ... which is about time ... and it falls in line with what we've been trying to talk the R-J into doing in this area. It would be one of the ways to cut down on sex crimes, we feel ... Our papers will not accept them. By saying no we have cut off thousands of dollars of possible income. The R-J, claiming to be the leading daily, should be the leader in cutting out all their porno ads, which total in money close to a hundred thousand dollars a year to the paper.

The Henderson and Boulder city councils could do their share in stopping this clutter of rubbish in our cities by passing ordinances to stamp out this form of graffiti.

One of Ben Stepman's cars got wrapped around a pole in Vegas and Ben was fit to be tied when we ran into him. He had loaned the car out and the insurance coverage may not take care of the money loss.

Small world department ... Doug Haag, a metal engineer at Titanium, told me at lunch the other day he was on the way to Denver and his plane companion happened to be a fellow named Red Fishelson. When Doug told him he lived in the Henderson-Boulder area Red asked to be remembered to me. Red and I went to school together at Wisconsin U. in the 30's. He's a relative of Greer Garson in some way, I remember. Doug says Red now has a plant in Ohio that manufactures metal parts.

City Attorney Kent Dawson has received notification from officials at the Levi Strauss Company that they are having extreme difficulty in keeping the costs of their new Henderson distribution center under the $5 million limitation, which they must stay beneath if they are to finance the facility with economic development revenue bonds.

Therefore, the company has decided it would be better to finance the project with funds already on hand in the company.

This will in no way slow down or stop the progress that has been taking place on the Levi Strauss site since their groundbreaking several weeks ago.

The City Council approved the bonds August 1 at their meeting. The bonds, which were not to exceed $5 million, are tax free, for the purpose of defraying costs of acquiring land, a building and equipment and would have been repaid by Levi Strauss. There was no obligation by the city.

Ice Rink To Open In Henderson

Soon the shiny, silver blades of skates will slash across ice as the Paragon building on Sunset Road, empty and deserted for several years now, becomes transformed into an ice rink.

Opening date has been set for December 15 and the facility will be primarily youth oriented, according to Russell Janssen, who heads the corporation called Iceland, Incorporated. Janssen will also manage the facility.

It will feature an ITT rink system which is supposed to be less expensive to operate than the one at the International Ice Palace in Commercial Center was.

Building Reaches All-Time High Of $22,053,279

Building valuations for the year to date as of October 31 were $22,053,279, the highest in Henderson's history, according to Pat Doherty, superintendent of building and safety.

Doherty said last year's figures, which to the end of October were $7,899,342, were the highest in history.

The October building totalled $3,339,050 for this year, as compared to $1,751,048 for the previous year.

The bulk of valuations for October were for 63 new homes for a total valuation of $2,446,000.

There were four plex apartments for 40 units valued at $680,000. Commercial alterations and additions totalled $100,000. Other valuations were for one new commercial building, fences and walls, two new swimming pools, concrete, patios, carports, garages and utility buildings.

There were 26 clean-up violations reported and 18 compliances. There were 1023 total inspections and no court cases during October.

Former J.P. Regains State Civil Rights

Delwin Potter, former Henderson Justice of the Peace, regained his state civil rights last week from the Nevada Board of Pardons. He was convicted several years ago on a federal tax charge.

Potter lost his elective office when he was convicted and placed on probation.

He has been working for a Las Vegas attorney as a law clerk and plans to go on to law school.

He says he has completed 36 hours of credits of college courses in the past two years.

Today's Question: Do you watch Soap Operas? What do you think of them?

KATHY FANSHER - Homemaker - Yes. Enjoy them very much during my housework chores. The only trouble is, I do get involved watching them and it slows down my output. Please understand, I am not a "soap" fanatic, but enjoy "Days of Our Lives," "The Doctors" and "Another World." Favorite actors are Bill and Susan Hayes who are clean-cut and a good husband-wife team on and off TV. Their TV marriage shows excellent marital communication and I find them refreshing.

FRANCES YOST - Homemaker - Yes. If I am not too busy, I do watch my dailies, such as "The Doctors," "Days of Our Lives," and "Another World!" I am not a "soap addict," however, and do not suffer as some people do if I miss a few days worth of episodes. I just re-trace and figure it all out. I find them very interesting because I feel they are so true-to-life. My favorite actress is Carol Lee. I find the general acting to be very good.

MARY WAKEFIELD - Homemaker - Yes. I have my favorites which are "The Young and the Restless" and "Ryan's Hope." I enjoy these because they are up-to-date, pull no punches and tell it as it is with the "young set." The rest you can have! I find them too old-fashioned and boring. I don't miss my special "soaps" but if I'm busy, they come second. I also prefer the ones I chose because they seem more natural.

JEANNETTE BERRY - 7-11 Salesclerk - Who needs "Soap Operas?" My life is one in itself. I work "Graveyard" hours and sleep when they are on but I wouldn't watch them anyway. I've enough problems as it is! Would you believe that last year my son was hit by a car, I broke out with flu, lost my job, car was stolen, a broken romance, my children and pets were sick and I was nursing my injured boy back to health? Real life is unbelievable enough and I should add a soap opera on top of all that? "Mary Hartman," you've got it easy!

HELEN PRICE - Sales Clerk, Skaggs - Definitely not! When I want entertainment, I want to escape the everyday happenings of real life. I find them to be "fake" entertainment. Give me the good old musicals like they used to make, the comedies such as "Abbott and Costello," and the fantasy world of "horror" films. "Frankenstein" had more appeal than the soaps, anytime. I might add, "Anyone who would watch soaps, would drink their own bath water!" Just joking, of course, but it adequately describes my thoughts about "soaps."

SYLVIA MARTINES - Homemaker - No. I dislike them. The format is usually the same. I do not want to get started watching them for they are mostly a waste of time. For TV entertainment, give me a good movie and more educational shows such as "National Geographic" specials. We need better programming on TV.

Conservation facts: -- Every 8 ounce glass of water served requires another 16 ounces to rinse and wash it. That's a total of 3 glassfuls of water for every glass served.

Every 100 racks of glasses a restaurant runs thru its dishwasher equals 13 kilowatt hours of energy. To raise every 1000 gallons of water 100 degrees in temperature requires 13.2 therms of gas or 326 kilowatt hours of electricity.

Maynard Sloate has produced a great state show for the Union Plaza called Last of the Red Hot Lovers. It was written by Neil Simon and with Marilyn Chambers played a starring role along with Marty Brill and Jane Kean -- you'll find it to the right taste, fast moving and worth it. Congrats to Frank Scott, Ike Houssels and staff for bringing such kind of entertainment to those of us who are sick of everything else.

When the city manager, Bob Campbell, comes rolling back into town from way across country this week, it will be behind a wheel of a 1939 Mercedes he acquired while city manager of Excelsior Springs, Missouri. It's value as an antique should be interesting to determine.

What did I say about the Yankees? What did I say about Stanford? Hmmm! I would think this week's Stanford - U.S.C. game will decide who goes to the Rose Bowl.

Fighter Union members Richard wrote "If you really want to be relieved of this duty it should be a negotiated item in your next union contract."

He continued "I would certainly suggest that you strongly consider the public relations value of the program weighed against the nuisance value, bearing in mind that we do have some few people in town who could make a big deal publicity wise out of something like this. They might even claim that we do not believe in motherhood, apple pie, hot dogs and Chevrolets."

Zenoff Denies Influence On Grand Jury Over Drug Arrest

Morry Zenoff, editor and publisher of the Henderson Home News and the Boulder City News, testified in District Court Thursday, denying he did anything improper in connection with the grand jury indictment of a Henderson businessman on narcotics charges.

Zenoff was called to appear before Judge Carl Christensen by defense attorney Randall Mainor, who is attempting to show Zenoff, by his knowledge of the case, prejudiced the Grand Jury's decision to indict his client.

Mainor is representing Brent Mathewson, a Henderson businessman arrested in April and indicted on several counts of possessing and selling narcotics. When police raided his house, they seized more than $90,000 worth of narcotics, including cocaine, marijuana and mescaline.

Mainor contends the grand jury deliberations were tainted because of Zenoff's participation, since he had knowledge of the case other than evidence given the grand jury.

Lorna Kesterson was called to the stand by Deputy District Attorney Joel Cooper. She testified she was managing editor and general manager of the Henderson Home News at the time the Mathewson story was published, and had written that and succeeding stories about the case.

When the case came before the grand jury, Zenoff said he went to Joel Cooper, the jury's legal adviser and told him he knew Mathewson. Cooper told him to use his best judgement. Zenoff said he felt he could sit without bias.

Christensen said he would set a trial date for Mathewson Nov. 7. In the meantime, Mainor requested a transcript of the testimony to prepare a writ asking for a dismissal of the charges against his client. The writ must be submitted to the court within 21 days; then Christensen will make a ruling.

Lowell Reed Passes Away

Lowell A. Reed, 59, a retired air pollution technician, died Thursday in Las Vegas.

Mr. Reed, born December 24, 1917 in Warsaw, Indiana, had lived in the area about 15 years. He was a veteran of World War II and the Korean conflict and was a member of the Aircraft Owners and Pilot Assoc., Black Mountain Golf Assoc.,

Nevada Senior Men's Assoc., National Water Well Assoc., and the Community Church.

Surviving are his wife, Ruby of the family home at 243 Navajo Drive and a sister, Eleanor Jarret of South Bend, Indiana.

Services were held yesterday at Palm Chapel with Rev. Bob Richards officiating. Interment followed at Palm Memorial Park.

SUMMARY: The "Soaps" brought an even draw of viewer and non-viewer response. Viewers were not "fanatics" on the day-time dramas but found them "pleasing." Non-viewers were very definitely "Turned-off" on the "soaps." The fellows shunned answering this one. We know they secretly watch them, don't we gals!

NOTE: Most interviews took place at Safeway Store, Boulder Highway, Henderson.

Long Time Resident Ray Brown Dies

Ray Brown, 76, passed away October 30 at St. Rose de Lima Hospital. He had been a resident of Henderson since 1954 and was a retired crane operator from Titanium Metals Corporation.

Until recently, Mr. Brown was well known and loved by many school children when he worked as a school crossing guard at the Lake Mead and Water Street intersection.

Mr. Brown was born November 13, 1900 in Nebraska. He was a member of the First Baptist Church on Atlantic Street and a very active member of RSVP.

Survivors include his wife, Mildred Grace of the family home at 53 Richardson Drive, daughters, LaVona Fairclough of Henderson, Bonnie May Armstrong of Howells, Nebraska and Betty Auzenne of Las Vegas, ten grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

Services are pending with Bunker Brothers Mortuary.

The "Dandy" Dalmatian

Dalmatians are the "dandy" of the dog kingdom. They had the aristocratic pleasure of accompanying the royalty of several countries while traveling along side the mighty gold-decked coaches in the time period when "pomp" prevailed. Known to-date as the popular "coach dog," no other breed can quite match this versatile, original type of dog. The "dal" served in yesteryear as a work dog. After the coaches came his run along side the horse-drawn firewagons. Used in hunting (resembling the pointer), the dal can hold his own and when prizes are given out for the typical "all-around" companion dog, he can often take first prize over all breeds in the loyalty department.

Past President of the Silver State Kennel Club and the Vegas Valley Dog Obedience Club, Maxine Yeoman of Henderson owns two "top-dogs" of the breed. Crystal had her prime (eight years old now) but earned her companion dog rating and did her mistress credit with turning in many ribbons and awards during her younger years. Member of the Dalmatian Club of Las Vegas, Maxine has high hopes for Crystal's daughter, Shannon Shapely Sheba, a beautiful two-year-old, who has gained nine points toward her championship.

Dalmatians for show are expected not to exceed 26 inches in height or be less than 21 inches. They should have a square muzzle, black or brown nose, good back and stance. Main color should be white with black markings, or white with liver markings, but only two colors per dog. Pups are usually about eight to ten per litter. Born pure white, they proceed to receive their markings in about ten days. Show quality markings should be no smaller than a dime and not larger than one-half dollar. "Patches are not acceptable," Maxine stated, "and I have to laugh when I frequently see the dalmatians that gift card artists or commercial artists create. They invariably have large patches which are not recognized or desirable in show-dog material!" She added that although the breed may have blue eyes, that dark-brown eyes (giving a black effect) are preferred. There should be complete black or brown around the eyes, which ever matches your dog's second color. Mrs. Yeoman's dalmatians both sport the famous dark "tear-drop" marking extending from the eyes.

Known in England as the "plum-pudding" dog, the Dal has the circus-dog ability and has appeared in the ring often out-doing the poodle, fox terrier or chihuahua. Their endurance for long-distance runs averages between twenty to fifty miles and is one of the added obedience requirements set upon them by the Dalmatian Club of America. Excellent with horses, the Coach-Dog finds hoofing it with their pals top-billing on their recreation calendar. Maxine Yeoman could go on talking about the dog that the Budweiser Company brought "back-to-life" but the conversation was interrupted with the wild urge on Crystal's part to jump into his mistress's lap, put her paws about her neck and give her one big hug. "As I say, they are affectionate," laughed Maxine, "and generous, too. Look, she brought her bone to me!"

PET TIP: Mrs. Yeoman recommends that Dalmatian owners be alerted to the fact that the Dals are sometimes prone to deafness due to the white pigment and to watch for this rare imperfection in puppies.

Urinary problems are frequently found in the breed due to a tendency toward kidney stones.

Dr. Potter Faces Alleged Drug Offenses

Dr. James Potter was arrested Friday on a federal grand jury indictment charging drug offenses, state narcotics agents said.

The seven-count indictment issued Thursday charges Potter, 44, with "illegal distribution of various controlled substances," agents said.

The arrest stems from several complaints the drug investigation unit (DIU) of the Nevada Division of Investigation and Narcotics has received, agents added.

The complaints claim numerous persons have overdosed on prescriptions written by Potter, agents said. The primary drug involved in the indictment is methaqualone, a muscle relaxant disbursed under the brand name of Quaalude.

The arrest by DIU agents ended an undercover investigation into the practices of Potter, agents said.

Though the indictment is the result of a federal grand jury, Potter's arrest was made by both state and federal narcotics agents.

The main function of the special unit is to investigate various narcotics complaints involving both doctors and pharmacies in Nevada.

The DIU has only been in operation for two months, yet this is the second doctor-drug arrest this month.

We had 222 people to sign up for the Great American Smokeout on Nov. 17. This is a national effort to point up to the fact that close to 100,000 Americans will soon die from lung cancer. The Great American Smokeout is a method of stimulating action against this death dealing habit.

Also, 27 people signed up for the "I Quit Smoking Clinic", Nov. 13 thru Nov. 17. For more information, call The American Cancer Society, 733-7222.

The winner of the free drawing for the T-Shirt, "Kiss Me, I Don't Smoke", was Michelle Fincher of Henderson.

A special thanks to the following ladies for their help with the booth: Sherle Averett, Sherrie Lamb, Linda Brown, Any Klinger, Helen Meeks, Kay Chandler, Jeanne Williams, Pattie Redfern and Benay Stout.

McKnight Completes Basic Course

Nurse (First Lieutenant) Richard S. McKnight, Jr., recently completed an Army Nurse and Medical Specialist Corps officer basic course at the Academy of Health Sciences of the U.S. Army, Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

The course provides basic branch training and orientation for newly commissioned officers. Instructions are given in medical records and reports, field medicine and surgery, field medical service, preventive medicine, neuropsychiatry, supply procedures and military law. Lt. McKnight entered the Army in May 1971.

He received a B.S.N. degree in 1977 from the University of Maryland, Baltimore.

The lieutenant's father, Richard S. McKnight, lives in Henderson.

Alpha Beta News

The "model meeting" for the Beta Sigma Phi pledges was held at Terry Smith's home where Jacque Dillard MC'd the all new "Ding Dong Show".

The lovely Miss Bona Karat and the illustrious

Ms. Charmin judged the performances of Miss Swinging Socialite (the Social Chairman), Miss Fort Knox (the Ways and Means Chairman), Miss Susan Sender (Courtesy Chairman), Miss Talk - A - Lot (the Program Chairman) and Miss Polly Proper, who recited the true meaning of Beta Sigma Phi. Of course, the unknown comedian made an appearance for the show.

Slides of last years convention were shown and from the tourist costumes worn by the girls, it looked like a repeat performance of the "Ding Dong Show". Everyone who was able to attend the convention had a great time and we are all looking forward to this years convention that will be held in Scottsdale, Arizona.

Alpha Beta's Antique and Collectables Show and Sale has been held since our last meeting and we would like to thank all of the dealers and the public for making the show such a success.

We would also like to thank the husbands who took the time and energy to help us with the work. Your really appreciated, guys!

Our next fund-raising event will be the Christmas Bazaar which will be held at the Civic Center Gym on November 19, beginning at 9 a.m. We will hope to be seeing you again at our Bazaar.

Basic Players of the Week For Rancho Game

Nevada Day Celebration

Nevada Day was celebrated in Mrs. Carol Leggett's fourth grade classroom at Robert L. Taylor Elementary School with a birthday party for Nevada's 113th birthday since becoming a state on October 31, 1864.

The party was a typical birthday party with cake and ice cream. Since it was also the culmination of a teaching unit on Nevada, the cakes were baked in the geographical shape of Nevada. The children wore western costumes - neckerchiefs with western shirts and levis for the boys and long dresses for the girls.

The students were also responsible for the decoration of the room. It seems evident that Nevada History is a pleasant subject for this class.

Basic Players In Last Game Friday with Eldorado

Football Coach Emilio Camillone ends a disappointing first season at Basic on Friday night at 8 o'clock when Eldorado High School meets Basic on the local field.

Camillone is still smarting from a 36-12 defeat by the hands of Western last Saturday in which he says his team played the "flattest game of the season."

He said the Basic boys were outweighed by 32 pounds a man, but he said the game was all over in the first quarter.

"I was really disappointed and let down big," Camillone said. Basic scored two touchdowns in the second quarter. The first score was set up by a Leon Doss fumble after a 12-yard punt return came on the Wolves excellent field position at the Warrior 30. Three plays later Randy Roche went in from three yards out to put Basic on the scoreboard.

The second and final touchdown for Basic was set up after Adrian Clark returned an intercepted pass to the 15-yard line. Six plays later Ray Baca Hit pay dirt.

Looking forward to the Friday game, Camillone said that Eldorado has a great team, in fact he said Coach Erickson's team has "arrived."

Some of the key players for Eldorado that Basic will be looking for will be Andy Leavitt, who can bench press 320 pounds; Jeff Foutz, quarterback; Danny Riley, a fullback and Billy Paddock, a tight end.

Camillone said Eldorado also has an excellent JV team.

Joan Swift

County Recorder Joan Swift recently returned from the American Business Woman's Association's 28th Annual National Convention. Mrs. Swift was chosen Woman of the Year by the Mojave Rose Chapter of ABWA and represented the chapter as delegate to the convention.

Participation in several workshops and election of national officers highlighted the 4-day convention. Mrs. Swift was also honored at the Woman of the Year Luncheon attended by women chosen by chapters across the country. The convention, held in Salt Lake City, attracted 4,000 members of the organization.

THE PANAMA CANAL IS AN AMERICAN AFFAIR

By Maryellen Vallier Sadovich

Part 14 of a Series

Even after the Panama Railroad served to link the great oceans of the world, interest in a canal to provide a second link did not decline. The United States government continued to seek permission from Colombia for construction of a canal to parallel the Panama Railroad across the Isthmus.

But political problems were certain to arise when the control of such an important asset as the Isthmus of Panama was at stake, and some officials in Panama thought the area could better control its own destiny. In 1859, Panama forcefully seceded from the Republic of New Granada (Colombia). For two years, the tiny nation continued as an independent government. But during this time no nation succeeded in gaining from Panama a concession for construction of a canal, and Colombia once again extended its government over the Isthmus.

Still the interest in a canal continued. While the United States was embroiled in the Civil War and too busy to bother with an Isthmian canal, France made overtures to Nicaragua for a canal through that area, but no formal treaty was made. When the war was over, the U.S. interest was re-kindled, and in 1867 the Secretary of State wrote to the American minister in Bogota advising him of President Andrew Johnson's interest in negotiations for a canal. "The President regards the canal as an American enterprise, which he desires to be carried out under American auspices," he wrote, "to the benefit of which the whole commercial world should be fully admitted."

On 14 January 1869, Johnson's diplomats did sign a convention with Colombia providing for a canal across the neck of the Chagres river inside a zone twenty miles wide. This land would be subdivided into lots fronting on the canal and according to the treaty, "equally distributed between the two governments," so as to alterne in sovereignty. The concession was for 100 years and then would revert to Colombia without compensation. But the Colombian senate rejected the treaty before the U.S. Senate could bring it to a vote.

Recreation Board Meets Tonight

A meeting of the Henderson Parks and Recreation Department to be held tonight at 7:30 will review the Master Plan of the Civic Center complex.

A dedication committee for the dedication of O'Callaghan Park is also expected to be named at the meeting which will be held in the Planning Commission Chambers at 201 Lead Street.

Basic High Open House Monday

Basic High School will host an Open House for parents and other interested adults on Monday, November 7, 1977 at 7 p.m.

Parents will then be provided an opportunity to follow their child's schedule in order to visit each class. Teachers will be describing their instructional program during each 15 minute "class".

A swim meet, co-sponsored by the Southern Nevada Sandpipers and the city recreation department will be discussed. A report and recommendations for baseball and softball programs for the coming year will be made.

Registrations are now being accepted for the fall semester by calling 293-3677 daily except Sunday.

We are pleased to announce the introduction of a video tape system along with our regular curriculum. Students will tape their dance routines in class and view them instantaneously over our television monitors. Visual ideas such as this add immeasurably to a student's progress. This plus our outstanding record to date, makes Dance Theatre West tops in its field.
