

MERRY CHRISTMAS

A Christmas Story As Our Publisher Enters 50th Year In Journalism

Editor's Note - In 1978 Morry Zenoff, publisher of the Henderson Home News and the Boulder City News, will be celebrating his 50th year in the field of journalism. We will honor him all of that year and we have received letters from many of his friends from the past who recall their association with him. Many are humorous, which is to be expected, and many are serious. We will publish the letters next year.

But this letter from Jack Melvin, advertising consultant, couldn't wait because we thought it made a good Christmas story. We publish the letter here in full. --- Lorna Kesterson

Dear Morry:

Anyone who reaches fifty years in any profession much less journalism certainly deserves an accolade. I hope the following expresses my feeling.

Morry Zenoff goes so far back in journalism that it would not be surprising to learn he reported the Israelites crossing of the Red Sea.

I go back with Morry to 1948 when I was at the El Rancho Vegas. As the advertising man at the El Rancho, Morry talked me into advertising in his Henderson - Boulder City newspaper. He claimed it would bring us a lot of business. He was right. At that time of the year (November - December - January) two people coming from Searchlight looked like a convention.

So we became friends.

Christmas Brings Families, Friends, Together

NEWS DESK

by Lorna Kesterson

Merry Christmas and a ho, ho, ho from Nevada Power Co. to the residents of Henderson.

We have just been spread-eagled Indian style, and the ants are beginning to gnaw at us, with the latest power play used by our incoming power source.

Instead of trying to use some public relations on us to get in our good graces, the city has been put in a position of impossibility by Nevada Power Co.

The City Council had a choice.....either see the situation as NP sees it or----?

Here's the situation as it was presented to the City Council Monday night.

The City Council had requested that Henderson's hydro-power allotment, which provides ten per cent of the power used in Henderson, be retained by the city and assigned to Nevada Power when it takes over the service here.

The Colorado River Resources division supported the Henderson position.

Nevada Power Co. gave the city the alternative - either assign the power to them or it would nix the whole deal with Cal-Pac. With Henderson already paying ten percent higher rates than elsewhere in the county, the rates would probably be boosted to 30 to 50 per cent higher.

At the recommendation of the city attorney, the Council took a middle stand, letting the assignment of rights to Nevada Power with the stipulation that if Hender-

NEVADA POWER TAKES OVER DECEMBER 31

Nevada Power Co. will take over California - Pacific Utilities electric Henderson division on Dec. 31, it was learned from officials of Nevada Power Co., and Ron Langford, manager of the local office for Cal-Pac.

The transfer of the facility to Nevada Power cleared its last hurdle when the Federal Power Commission approved it Tuesday. This office was notified of the transfer by the office of Congressman James Santini who said it should be good news for Henderson residents.

Officials of Nevada Power said that Henderson residents will be receiving a letter next week telling how the transfer will take place. The news will be printed in this newspaper next Thursday.

It is expected that Nevada Power Co. will have all electric meters in the city read on Dec. 31 and a closing bill will be sent by Cal-Pac to its customers. The next bill will be from Nevada Power Co.

On Tuesday also, the Division of Colorado River Resources approved the position the City of Henderson took on the assignment of electric power to Nevada Power instead of directly to the city, to be reassigned to Nevada Power.

City Attorney Kent Dawson said in a letter to Donald L. Paff, administrator of the DCRR--

"As you are aware, the City of Henderson has during the past few days been induced to reconsider lier posture with respect to the assignment of hydroelectric rights now held by California - Pacific Utilities Co.

THAT GRAND OLD GENT IS HERE AGAIN — Santa Claus has been quite lonely this year in Henderson as he holds forth in the Civic Center, but our cameraman caught him with two little youngsters who told him what they wanted for Christmas. At left is Alex Perry, 2 and at right is Andrea Perry, 5. Santa will make his rounds to the homes in Henderson on Christmas Eve, Dec. 24.

As Christmas approaches, families and friends are making arrangements to be together during the holiday season once again.

Many college students and servicemen have arrived in town to spend the holidays with their families, and local school students have been out of school since last Friday, not to return until Jan. 3.

No snow has been predicted for this area for Christmas, but Santa Claus is expected to make his usual visit even if he must use the fire truck for his transportation. For those who prefer snow, it can be gotten to with only a minimum of travel.

Police Chief Floyd Osborn warns that the holidays can only be happy if there are no accidents to mar the days. He warns that if you are drinking get someone else to drive. There will be an abundance of officers patrolling to try to keep accidents to a minimum.

Assistant Fire Chief Dale Starr warned everyone that they should make sure their Christmas tree lighting is U.L. approved. He said to keep Christmas presents and trees away from heaters to keep from danger of fire.

Starr said that in Henderson's history there has only been one Christmas tree fire and that occurred when a tree was placed too close to a wall heater. He warned not to choose a tree that is too dry.

Most city, county and federal workers will get an extra day off for Christmas when they get Monday off. Most businesses will be open, however.

The publisher and staff of the Henderson Home News wishes a Merry Christmas and happy holiday to everyone.

"While the city still agrees with the Division of Colorado River Resources that the procedure outlined by its advisory commission on Nov. 3, 1977, is the one which would result in the greatest overall benefit to the City of Henderson and the State of Nevada, we also feel that some reassessment is appropriate at this time in light of the threat of Nevada Power Co. to withdraw from its exchange agreement with Cal-Pac unless alternative arrangements are made."

Dawson said that in consideration of the extreme and immediate hardship which would result to the residents of this city should Nevada Power determine to withdraw from the exchange agreement, the city council voted to assign to the City of Henderson if the city chose to go into business itself.

Dawson said he felt the position represented a compromise which was initially offered by Nevada Power Co., "but it does preserve to a large degree the advantages associated with the latter."

Langford, who has been with Cal-Pac for over 20 years, is expected to transfer to Nevada Power in the interim to the office on Atlantic Street. Cal-Pac will continue to operate the gas facility in Henderson and will exchange its Henderson electric utility for a similar one in Elko.

Council Refers Country Club Contract To Committee

"We can notify Black Mountain Country Club we're not going to renew our lease at this time and rewrite another one later," City Attorney Kent Dawson advised the City Council at their Monday night meeting.

The Council decided to refer the annual $10,000 water credit to committee for further study after several of the councilmen expressed concern that it sounded as though the city was subsidizing the country club.

"I don't believe in subsidizing a private or any kind of business," one councilman said. "I want to be informed about it," he concluded.

The current lease calls for $10,000 which would automatically be renewed unless the city gives notice 30 days prior to February 12.

City Manager Bob Campbell has recommended that the annual credit to Black Mountain Country Club be reduced to $5,000 with the idea of phasing out the arrangement.

A definite date for the committee meeting was not set but it was requested by the council so that they can meet with Black Mountain representatives to "hash out" some questions.

The committee meeting is expected to draw quite a bit of comment since Dundee Jones, Director of the parks and recreation department, said he could no longer see any valid reason in the city's involvement with the golf course. A recent news story revealed the club had a $21,000 profit this year.

And I started reading his newspaper. I've never stopped.

That's because Morry has always called it as he felt, no matter what the consequences to his advertising revenue. That's being a good publisher and a good newspaperman. So much for the accolades.

There is one story that I have to tell. It was the day before Xmas - 1954, 2:15 p.m. Not a creature was stirring not even a mouse. I was crying.

I had 50 cents in my pocket ... my two young boys and my wonderful wife Marge without any presents from Santa Claus ... my rent was overdue ... and there really wasn't much food in the house.

What had happened is that I had invested all my money into a casino that was called the Desert Spa and I had just learned that the Gaming Commission (then it was the tax commission) had not approved two of my so-called partners. I was crying into a cup of coffee at the Silver Slipper which was just across the street from the "Desert Spa" where the Fashion Square is now located.

Morry came in and sat down besides me and asked what the trouble was. I told him. He looked at his watch and said it was just 2:20 in the afternoon and for me to finish my cup of coffee and go with him. I refused.

He wouldn't take no for an answer. He put down a dime (coffee was 10 cents in those days) and took me by the arm and into his car.

We drove downtown to the Bank of Nevada at 1st and Fremont. We got there as it was closing. He told Art Smith (now the President of 1st National Bank of Nevada) to loan me $500 and he would stand good for the money.

I got the money!

My kids and Marge had a visit from St. Nick, there was food in my house and my rent got paid, and I opened my own ad agency with the remainder.

On Christmas morning, there was a knock on the door and a package divulged house shoes for each member of my family. I'll never forget that Xmas.

That's when I learned Morry was not only a good newspaperman, he also was a Santa Claus.

Sincerely,
(s) Jack Melvin

son begins its own power company the power allotment would come back to Henderson.

As Councilman Carlton Lawrence said, "I'd rather kiss an alligator than vote on this issue."

What are you buying for Christmas presents?

I've always had a hard time with what to buy someone else, and usually just throw up my hands and forget it.

The year, however, I'm trying to do better.

For Bob, I thought an automatic garage door opener would be dandy.

You say we don't have a garage? That's true, but it's a nice thought, isn't it?

For the kids -- more floor space where their clothes, towels and other essentials can land.

For my associates at the news office, more titles in lieu of money.

For the citizens of Henderson, another Nevada Power Co.

Morry has been very proud of the fact that the Henderson Home News and its great influence, has been responsible for getting light poles installed at the corner of Sunset and Boulder Highway where cars come out from the stadium and where there have already been several deaths.

The light poles almost killed Morry--

Here's the story.....

As I was taking Morry and Eva to the airport to make their annual expedition to Mexico, a car coming down the other side of the highway -- allegedly at 110 miles an hour, swerved to miss a truck coming from Sunset Road, crossed over the median and hit the pole, knocking it down in front of us.

Not through any heroic act of mine, I got the van stopped in time to avoid hitting it. It is the second pole that has been knocked down since they were installed a few months ago.

The police remarked that it is lucky the poles are the break-off kind because the pole wasn't hurt, it merely broke off at the base as it is designed to do. However, had we been a little closer, it would have been the death of us.

We were impressed that seconds after the wreck in which the driver was not hurt, we heard a siren. It just happened that the highway patrol was chasing the car in the first place.

Well, it may not be a White Christmas here, and if our power rates are going to climb we can thank our lucky stars, but MERRY CHRISTMAS TO EVERYONE!

CHRISTMAS DONATION - The Henderson Bar Owners Association donated money this week to the Salvation Army to help with Christmas baskets for the needy. Ray Lightman, right, president of the Association, presented the check to Lt. Bobby Wingate of the Salvation Army.

Blue Curbs For Christmas

A crew from the city's Public Works department started painting curb areas blue yesterday, according to a department spokesman.

The blue areas designate parking for disabled persons and there will be twelve such spaces available throughout the business district of the city.

It was also announced that the taxi zone on Water Street next to the Eldorado Casino will be moved around the corner to Atomic Street on the Eldorado side.

Though this move will cut down on valuable parking spaces, in the downtown area, it is also anticipated that it will cut down on the "fender bender" type accidents which occur much too frequently on Atomic.

Police To Patrol In Smaller Cars

Henderson police officers soon will be driving a smaller, more economical patrol car, the Dodge Aspen, according to action by the city council Monday night in accepting a bid for five new cars.

Only one bid was received for the police units and that was from Las Vegas Dodge.

Dodge bid $5,137.55 per unit for the Aspen cars and $5,409.97 for a Monaco. The administration recommended the Aspen for its better mileage. It was estimated the Aspen will get 11 miles to the gallon where the present cars get seven.

Councilmen Phil Stout and why the City Council questioned why the law only received one bid for the new cars and suggested going back to bid to see if more bids would be submitted.

However, it was decided that the price was a good one and servicing for the Dodges can be obtained at the local Dodge agency.

B&E Salvage Gets Approval

Following a lengthy discussion, the City Council approved a use permit for B and E Salvage Pool to operate a salvage yard at Boulder Highway and King Street with the stipulation that no signs, including the owners, be placed under the block wall.

The request came to the council from the Planning Commission without a recommendation.

Edwin Pomeranz, attorney representing B&E Salvage Pool who also own SNAP TOW, explained that his clients would be erecting a six foot block wall on the three sides of the property visible from the state highway with screen plantings on the Boulder Highway side in front of the wall.

A salvage pool is just a temporary facility to house damaged or wrecked vehicles where no dismantling would take place, "fast in - fast out," explained Pomeranz. The six foot wall would conceal most vehicles other than perhaps a boat or recreational vehicle. He assured the council the property would look nice.

Planning Director Bob Gordon said that the zoning in that area, "M" Industrial, is compatible to the use allowed under the city ordinance.

The owners had applied for and received a permit from the State Highway Department.

Councilwoman Lorna Kesterson said she had been told the city might have problems getting federal funding if such an operation existed on a major state highway.

City Attorney Kent Dawson said he had checked on this possibility and there would be no problem.

Paulette Prior, manager of the Triple K Trailer Court, expressed concern at what this would do to the value of their property.

"I hope you consider what you're talking about," she warned.

Bill Day of Tri - City Motors, who said he was not a competitor, expressed strong opposition to the request.

Councilman Gary Price suggested that the council might consider changing the zoning of highway frontage property from industrial to commercial in the future.

In other actions the council: -Approved an architectural review for a block wall for B&E Salvage.

-Approved tentative and final maps for Greenway Gardens, Unit 4.

-Approved a revised tentative map for Green Valley to concur with the recommendations of the Planning Commission.

-Approved an architectural review for a pole sign for Casa Verde Nursery at 402 Water St.

-Approved an architectural review for a sign for Henderson Builders Supply.

ON THE NIGHT BEFORE CHRISTMAS

On the night before Christmas this 1977 the Neil Twitchell family will be listening for a clatter but it will surely sound more like the roar of a jet motor bringing their son, Lynn Twitchell, home from far off Bolivia, So. America where he has been for the past two years. Feliz Navidad at the Twitchell home.

We talked with Mrs. Archie Forrester the other day. She is busy with Christmas preparations and getting ready for son Jim who will be home from the Marshall Islands for Christmas. It should be an especial holiday in the Forrester household.

ANSWER:
The lady is Harriet Phillips. Hope the foot is mending and all is okay, Harriet.

CHRISTMAS SENTIMENT

This is a sentimental time of year and we all start thinking of yesterday's Christmas' and of friends in far away places or even next door. There are many we'd like to wish a good holiday season and a prosperous, happy coming year -- some whose names are unknown but not their services. They are the crosswalk guards, doctors and dentists, valiant policemen and firemen, paper boys, clerks at the City Hall. Also the busy bank tellers and beauticians and barbers. Oh, the list is about limitless. And each of these special people are important in each of our lives. This is the time of year to express love and appreciation. Merry Christmas and a Happy, Prosperous New Year.

BIRTHDAY WISHES
Want to extend some very special birthday wishes. A belated but heartfelt happy birthday goes out to that beautiful lady Luella Lewis. And on the 21st of December, Muriel Benjamin who lives in the Pittman area. Hope it was a nice day for you, Muriel. Young Phyllis Blum had a December birthday as did Dee LaFon and Mildred Bowers. Tomorrow will be that special day for personable Gary McFarland. Birthday Greetings.

Wasn't that a great, fabulous open house the community held for Pat Doherty, Floyd Osborne and Don Richard? They have often gone that "extra mile" to serve this town and its many residents. Don and his family have been neighbors for many years (more than I'll admit) and they are the best ever. We surely wish them all the very best in every future endeavor.

TREE CUTTERS
Saw a bowling pal the other day -- Sandy Bayard. She and her family, with some friends had just gotten home after a great trip to the Panaca area for the family Christmas tree.

They really enjoyed it, outing (even the flat tire) Joyce McInnarney will be having a very special Christmas with family and friends in far off New Zealand -- that beautiful land. Know she'll have the happiest of holidays.

TV GAME SHOW
Some of the TV game shows are fun to watch, but to really appreciate it you should watch someone you know participate! DeeDee and Wayne Wilcox of Southern California who were in Dental college with Jan and Jan Bennett were on the "Family Feud" program MC'd by Richard Dawson a couple weeks ago. It was exciting to watch. Belated birthday wishes to Harriet Crooms. Harriet is one of those pretty, smiling girls who help you at our McDonald's on Boulder Highway.

BOY SCOUT OUTING
Those Boy Scouts are hardy little souls (just ask a Scout Master!) Troop 44 was on an over-night campout at Key-Hole Canyon last weekend. The Scoutmasters were Dr. Jan Bennett and Ron Huffington. The boys were: Roy Huffington, David Atkinson, Rick Bennett, John Frost, Joe Benoit, Tim Davis and Russell Ward. They had to cut the stay a little short when young David A. tumbled down one of the rugged hillsides doing some injury to his arms.

BIRTHDAY PARTY
Pretty Kassidi Hoesch was the star at her birthday party on December 18, 1977. And she was one year old that day. Ken and Virginia Hoesch are her mom and dad. She has two big brothers and one big sister who helped her celebrate and eat birthday cake. Happy Birthday Kassidi. Sherry Fry had her dad here for a short visit last weekend. He stayed long enough to have breakfast and leave her a snappy LTD (almost pink) to drive around.

If we should heed the following words from the Bible perhaps we could better understand and help one another:
"Let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath." (James 1:19)
"Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ." (Galatians 6:2)

Have a beautiful Christmas Holiday, each and every one!!!

Making Macrame Marvelous

Making macrame marvelous and original at the same time is not one easy assignment. Yet there lives one girl in the City of Henderson who does a "rise and shine" job of it and that is a pretty inhabitant by the name of Sharon McCulley.

Sharon enjoys making macrame hangings, jewelry, tableclothes, bed spreads, valances and shades, purses and just about any type of wall hanging imaginable. "I never go by pattern unless it is an order," states Sharon, "for I feel a pattern takes away from creativity." Designing her own macrame creations since ten years ago when she learned her first macrame knot, Sharon finds the so-called hobby to be slowly developing into a profession. Original designed macrame creations are a rarity but the young mother finds that working by pattern is neither fun or interesting. Sharon has experimented with macrame and like Thomas Edison, has found a few of her own special knots through trial and error!

"I dye my own jute," Sharon added, "and I make my own beads to decorate some of my work out of paper and shelac. The natural jute is a favorite of mine, also. I love the natural look in interior decor."

Sharon makes her creations for herself and orders which she supplies according to the customer's desires.

Sharon hopes to pursue interior decoration bringing her originality into the decor of the future. "I work for simplicity, design and warmth," Sharon concluded.

The Real Meaning of Christmas

He grew up as a tender plant,
 Even as a root out of dry ground.
 He was despised, rejected of men
 Yes, a man of sorrows!
 Well acquainted with grief,
 We turned our faces from him!
 Smitten of God, we did not appreciate him!
 With his suffering, we are healed,
 Our peace ... because of him!
 All we like sheep have gone astray,
 Each one turned to his own way!
 Yes, the Lord laid on him ... Jesus
 The iniquity of us all!
 He was oppressed and he was afflicted
 Yet, never did he complain!
 Brought as a lamb, to be slaughtered,
 But he opened not his mouth!
 Cut off from the land of the living
 Giving his life for you and for me!
 He made his grave with the wicked...
 Because he had done no violence,
 Yet is pleased god to bruise him
 Numbered him with the transgressors!
 He poured out his soul unto death
 Bearing the sins of all men!
 Ever making intercession for sinners!
 So, do we celebrate Christmas!
 Yes, Mary brought forth her firstborn son,
 Wrapped him in swaddling clothes
 And in a manger gently laid him...
 Because there was no room at the inn!
 And then the shepherds came...
 After the angel spoke to them...
 "Fear not; for, behold,
 I bring you good tidings of great joy,
 Which shall be to all people.
 For unto you is born this day,
 In the City of David, a Saviour,
 Which is Christ the Lord!"
 Christmas! God sent his love to earth!
 He revealed himself to us all!
 A time to rejoice! A time to love!
 Empowering the victorious life!
 God's real desire, his burning fire!
 The real significance of Christmas!
 The spirit of Christ! The spirit of love!
 Forgiveness of sin ... God gave his son!
 Power to live the rich, abundant life!
 And, forever, our voices will lift ...
 "Praise God for his unspeakable gift!"

Rev. Lou Sorabella

OTTA RAE MORRISON — Black Mountain Country Club Employee — No! Not really. I'm used to it and feel there are less air accidents than on the free-ways. It is strange that I feel safe in planes but seem to have a fear of height. If standing on a mountain ledge, or looking down from a tall building, I feel insecure but during air travel I feel safe and enjoy it!

FLORENCE ROWDEN — Homemaker — No, I'm not! We just had a gorgeous trip to Virginia for Thanksgiving. It was so smooth and relaxing. We travel quite a bit by air using TWA and United Airlines and are pleased with both of them. We've had fun and some exciting experiences. At one time, a plane dropped an engine over the Pacific Ocean, my husband and I were the only ones that knew about it but we didn't panic and everything came out well. We arrived at our destination and you would never know that it was just on one engine! I love air travel!

Valdez Wins Drawing

The Community Church of Henderson held a raffle on Sunday, December 18. The item raffled was an Afghan and pillow. The winner was Bea Valdez, 104 Ash Street, Henderson.

BABY BOY JOINS MACE FAMILY

Mr. and Mrs. Luther D. Mace are happy to announce the birth of their son, Christopher Michael on December 12.

The baby arrived at 4:07 a.m. and weighed in at eight pounds 10 ounces. He was welcomed by his brother and two sisters as well as Mom and Dad.

Michael's maternal grandparents are Ray and Marie Dressler, formerly of Henderson. His paternal grandparents reside in Henderson.

Inquiring Camera Girl

TODAY'S QUESTION: Are you uncomfortable about air travel? Explain why, or why not?

BOB MARRIOTT — Park Ranger — No, not at all!

I've traveled quite extensively by airplane and am familiar with the complete security measures practiced by the airlines in mechanical safety, protection and well-trained mechanics and pilots.

I feel that the USA does a great job, if not the best, in air travel security. I thoroughly enjoy the trips and am completely worry-free about accidents.

LISA WOOD — Sales -- Freelance -- Yes! I definitely fear air travel!

I might add, so much so that I haven't been in an airplane yet. I may be one fast way of transportation but I would prefer any type of travel but the air. I feel just that way -- you are up in the "air" and can't stop off at any "gas station" for repair. There are no "safety" signals up there! I also feel that the air lanes are overly crowded causing too many collisions. With an air accident, there is almost always complete fatality while in land or sea accidents, there is always a chance.

GRACE NEWELL — Change Girl and Homemaker -- Yes, very! I feel so helpless up there.

It may be very comfortable, swift and less tiring but I must admit I'm uneasy until we "get where we are going!" I'm most worried about the "take off"; after that goes well, I relax a bit more but still am subconsciously on the alert!

TERI LYNCH — Restaurateur -- Yes! It frightens me! I don't care for any sort of travel, cars, boats and least of all, planes. The only thing desirable about air travel is the shorter element of time. It is just too insecure "up in the sky" for me!

Some say pearls are unlucky.

The Valley Bank Retirement Account.

It starts working when you stop.

Under new Federal guidelines, Valley Bank can now arrange a tax-sheltered Individual Retirement Account for qualified applicants. IRS approved, this account lets you save money during your peak earning years and defer taxes until a time when your income is substantially lower (and your tax bracket, too).

Talk about "activeInterest." At Valley Bank we pay 7 1/2% on our Retirement Accounts* so you're actually making money on your money while you're saving money on your taxes.

If you're not covered by a retirement plan where you work, you'll probably qualify. We may even be able to open a separate Retirement Account for your spouse. Just stop at the New Account Desk. It only takes a few minutes.

And while you're here, be sure to ask about the full range of plans and services we call "activeInterest" banking.

*The Federal Government requires substantial interest penalties for early withdrawal, provided you are not disabled.

Pet Peekin'

By Flo Raymond

Featuring: English Springer Spaniel Show Dog

Pet Peekin' recently featured an article on the Springer Spaniel - Field Dog. We should like to present at this time the Show Dog, which in the Springer Spaniel breed is a "horse of a different color!" More than in any other breed of dogs, the difference between the Show and Field variety is prevalent in the Springer.

Willie Long, of Henderson, owns one of each type of Spaniel, and is indeed familiar with the growing difference through showing and training her dogs for obedience. The AKC has been urged by the Springer Spaniel Society to divide the two into individual classifications. The Show Springer exhibits more feathering and is trained and bred for show. Some Springers are excellent in both Field and Show but it is a growing rarity. Long's "Thunder N Lightnin'" provides the detailed beauty of the Springer show breed. Born in February of 1976, "Lightnin'" started showing in March, 1977 with the "fun matches" as many beginning show dogs start out with. To date she has obtained three obedience ribbons, eight first-place ribbons in breed-conformation and several second, third and fourth place ribbons. "She is a beauty with black and white coloring," Willie mentioned, "and we are proud of her." She added that they are preparing Lightnin' for licensed shows. Robert and Willie Long prefer the Springer breed and find that Lightnin' shows up well in hunting, also. Their nine-year-old, Robbie, owns and shows Lightnin', having obtained the honor of becoming a Junior Handler. "Robbie helped in the whelping of Lightnin' and he was delighted with the experience," Mrs. Long stated. Sired by Rowley Ellsworth's champion "Wingshot's Thunder Hawk" and mothered by "Baum's Bonnie Lass," a beautiful liver-white dam, Lightnin' should have a pretty "rosy" future in the show ring. Mr. Ellsworth serves as President of the area's English Springer Spaniel Club while Willie acts as Treasurer.

The Springer's origin cannot be fully traced but the authorities are sure they descended from the original Spaniel with a tracing as far back as thousands of years. A figure of a dog stands in the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York which dates back to 3000 B.C. exhibiting all of the Spaniel features. In 1387 a French nobleman, Gaston De Foix, wrote about the Spaniel as we know them in the famous hunting book, "Deduits de la Chasse."

The Springer Spaniel is versatile. Originally trained as a duck retriever, the Springer has adapted himself to home-life. He makes an excellent watchdog, loves people and endures roughhousing with children. He is affectionate and loves the entire family. He may be "cool" with strangers, barking fiercely at their approach. He is a good watchdog, a fine car traveler, adapts well to apartment life and may stand all degrees of cold weather. The hot weather bothers the Springer due to his long, rugged coat. His coloring is beautiful with black or liver with white markings; liver-and-white or black-and-white with tan markings; blue or liver roan.

The English Springer Spaniel as a Show Dog is beautifully feathered with a distinguished and bright appearance. He seems to exist to please his master with an ingratiating quality which the breed's enthusiasts will swear that only the English Springer Spaniel exhibits!

PET TIPS: The American dog tick or brown dog tick is visible by the naked eye. It is a hardy, enduring parasite becoming fastened on a person or animal, swelling up with blood appearing an ugly dark red. Serious infestation may cause anemia for your dog. The parasite is flat seeking out the dog's stomach area, pads of feet or folds between legs and body. A drop of kerosene on tick may aid in removal. If infestation is serious with more than one, notify vet.

For possible write-up on unusual, champion, or interesting pets; phone 734-2390.

TRAINER WILLIE LONG - shows "Lightnin'" also. Willie, Treasurer of the English Springer Spaniel Club, loves the breed both for Field and Show.

ROBBIE AND HIS SHOW DOG - are great pals. Robbie Long, Junior Dog Handler, shows his pride and joy, "Thunder N Lightnin'," who he helped deliver in the whelping.

Henderson Gets Refund And Boost

California - Pacific Utilities Co., was authorized Monday to make a $166,382 refund to its electric customers in Henderson, but to raise rates to its users in Winnemucca by $132,462 during the next six months.

The state Public Service Commission also allowed the utility to impose a surcharge on natural gas users in Henderson to collect an additional $35,500 between January and June next year.

The order is the result of the company adopting a deferred accounting system in which past fuel costs in Henderson for generating electricity were lower than anticipated but higher than predicted for Winnemucca. The application is to either refund or collect the revenue and does not affect the profit picture.

The electric rate for Henderson customers will be reduced by $0.003056 per kilowatt hour and will be increased by $0.003056 per kilowatt hour to Winnemucca users during the first six months of 1978.

The commission also suspended the application of California - Pacific to impose a $104,733 rate increase to its 300 customers in Henderson. A spokesman for the commission said the hefty boost was the result of California - Pacific losing its power allotment from Hoover Dam and forcing to buy its energy from Nevada Power Company.

The suspension will mean the rates will not go into effect for about six months until the commission has a chance to hold a hearing and hear protests.

NOSE HELD HIGH - This female English Springer Spaniel has a right to appear "stuck-up!" The black and white beauty, "Long's Thunder N Lightnin'" shows great show potential!

FHA Members Cheer Hospital Patients

Members of Basic High School's Future Homemakers of America Club arrived at St. Rose de Lima Hospital recently with special gifts for some of the patients.

The presentations were the result of their service project for this year. Money was raised by the members from a raffle of a teddy bear which was donated by Mr. Meredith, Manager of Woolco Department Store on West Charleston. The bear was won by Anna Cosse.

Among those distributing the gifts were Denice Smith, president; Vera Newell, vice-president; Kelly White, treasurer; Micheal Johnson, secretary and Cindy Carducci, historian. Mrs. Teri DePaulis is the sponsor of the club.

A decorated Christmas tree was also placed in the hospital by the group. The gifts and tree helped to bring happiness to many people in the hospital.

Senior Citizens Discuss Transportation, Housing, Restrooms

Everything from transportation to housing, to dead bolts, to public restrooms were discussed by the Senior Citizen's Advisory Commission at its regular meeting held recently.

Virgil McKinney, chairman, and Mabel Heenan, Edith Wills, Paul Grogan, Walter Morrissey, Verl Neilsen, Phil Stout and Jerre Greenhalgh, were present at the meeting.

The housing situation was reported as status quo by Mabel Heenan and McKinney said that the Steelworker's dead bolt lock program had been extended indefinitely. He said the program has had a good response from seniors.

Mrs. Heenan reported that the seniors in Henderson have great difficulty getting transportation services through the Economic Opportunity Board which is supposed to be providing services to Henderson. She has asked that someone representing the program discuss the problems here. Grogan said that the transportation program for seniors is working well in other areas and cannot understand why it is not working here.

Councilman Stout said he would like to see Henderson have its own program in operation before 1979.

The problem of restrooms was discussed as a problem for seniors. The seniors requested the City Council take steps to provide by ordinance, restrooms in public establishments which are yet to be built, including shopping centers. The vandalism of restrooms was also discussed and an ordinance and stiff penalties were discussed.

"Right on! With Christ!" will be the eleven o'clock sermon by Pastor Lou Sorabella, East Las Vegas Baptist Church, 5757 English Avenue.

So many Christians do not appreciate or appropriate the real power of Jesus Christ! Imagine the power that is available for every day living! We need to relate the life and power of Jesus to our every day, moment by moment living! Life can be exciting...and real...and rich...and full! Praise God! That's what the Word of God is all about! This is what we teach and preach at East Las Vegas Baptist! I don't care what your need is...Jesus Christ is the answer! "Right on! With Christ!"

Royal Neighbors Celebrate Christmas

The Annual Royal Neighbor Christmas Dinner Party was held Dec. 16 at the Community Church Gilbert Hall. Tables were decorated in the Christmas motive with candles and the red pyracantha -- all festive with the flurry of snow!

Olive Melton and Lela Buescher were in charge of the Guest Book, registering one hundred sixteen. It was difficult halting families as they entered -- so trust we didn't miss anyone.

An abundance of festive foods graced long serving tables.

Margaret Quinn, graciously answered our request by beautiful singing of Christmas selections, accompanied by Helen Bickerstaff at the piano.

cause of illness, rejoiced in learning she had won the lovely "Jewelled Christmas Tree Picture", made and donated by R.N. Agie Hayward, presently of Fontana, Calif.

May JOY, PEACE, & LOVE reign in every heart and home each new day, in honor of our Blessed Saviour's Birth on Christmas Day, "OUR KING OF KINGS."

Royal Neighbors meetings are held the first and third Wednesdays of each month, 7:30 p.m. at Gilbert Hall. Next meeting date is Jan. 4 - '78. Mark your Calendar and STRIVE for REGULAR and PUNCTUAL attendance in '78.

Henderson—Its Economic History

HENDERSON PART 35

Maryellen Vallier Sadovich, a noted Nevada historian, and a Henderson resident since 1954, treated our readers with a most unique bicentennial series during 1976. This year, she has researched the local newspaper files and the archives of Henderson's City Hall, the Chamber of Commerce, and BMI, to produce an economic history of Henderson from the first day of incorporation to the present.

As Franklin Morrell, P.T. Stevens, and Pete Mendive joined Kesterson and Pagan on the City Council in June 1959, new regulations were introduced governing the sale of the 7000 acres that was during that time being appraised. Shortly after election, the Council resolved that the original application to purchase land would be filed on a prepared form which would be submitted to the Council, and the highway frontage land would be sold with stipulation that the City would supply adequate domestic water to such frontage. The rest of the land would be sold "as is where is." Then in August, the Council unanimously voted to create a 1920 acre industrial park - Secs. 2-3-4 in Pittman. This land would be set aside and if not developed by the end of 1962 it would be returned to sale of small parcels.

On August 28, when Mayor Byrne was away on business, the Council adopted a land pricing scale for the new lands that promised to bring a profit to the city. But on September 2, Mayor Byrne returned to the city, and issued a sweeping statement vetoing the land prices set by the City Council. In a Memorandum to the City Clerk, that was printed in the local newspaper, and dated September 2, 1959, Byrne said:

"...The City Council ... in establishing "asking" prices of $55 per front foot and $400 and $500 per acre for land which can be acquired by our City at prices of $10 per front foot and $150 or less per acre, and which has been appraised by our own appointed appraisers at $20 or less per front foot and $175 or less per acre, has in my opinion abandoned or violated the very purposes of development and growth which made these land purchases from our Federal Government possible."

The council answered Mayor Byrne's veto with a lengthy declaration that appeared in the local newspaper on September 10. Declaring their determination to retain the price scale developed on August 28, they explained:

"There are many inherent problems attached to this land when transferred to private ownership. Roads and utilities will be required, additional police and fire protection must be furnished, and additional school facilities may be required. All of these facilities cost money that we do not have in today's city budget. Therefore it must be a well planned disposal, one that provides these necessary facilities, at a minimum cost to the city. Profits on the sale of the land may provide a major portion of this additional cost, thereby alleviating the necessity of taxing other sections of the city which receives no direct benefit from this additional land."

Many more arguments were recorded before prices were agreed upon, with the Council usually retaining their original price scale. On Oct. 12, the first applications for purchase of the new lands were considered. As predicted by the Mayor, more than half the applicants were no longer interested at the prices asked.

However, approximately 31 acres at between $300 and $400 per acre were sold. In addition the developer Mark Leff made arrangements to purchase 1600 acres of rocky desert lands near Railroad Pass for a total of $48,000. All of the sales were made with approximately 40 per cent down with the balance on time payments. By the end of November so many sales had been made that the city officials considered asking the Federal Government for another 3000 acres.

Henderson now had one new and extensive avenue of revenue. Before the sales began, the Council had established a "City of Henderson, Land Sale Fund," to be expended only by direction of the Mayor and Council. Soon this fund too would be tapped for the city government. On December 28, at a special meeting, the Mayor read a resolution declaring the existence of an emergency and making application to the State Board of Finance for permission to make an emergency loan with a financial institution within the State of Nevada in the amount of $20,000; said loan and interest thereon to be repaid within a period of six months from the City of Henderson "Land Fund."

Art Exhibit At Library

Some very lovely art works by Louise Bigelow now adorn the walls of the Henderson Public Library where they will be on display for an indefinite period, according to Tom Hollie, Library Director.

Mrs. Bigelow is from Casper, Wyoming and the mother of local resident, Natalie Wilke. Dr. and Mrs. Bigelow are here visiting for a month with their daughter, son-in-law Ray and grandchildren, Adam and Dana Wilke, during the holiday season.

Retirement for many makes the beginning of new interests and this has certainly been true in the case of Mrs. Bigelow. She started painting about three years ago, taking classes in drawing and oil painting at Casper College as well as attending various workshops offered in her community.

Her talents range from birds and animals to still life and landscapes.

All of the paintings shown at the library are for sale.

Following the holidays, the Bigelows will be traveling to Guaymas, Mexico where they will stay until April. Mrs. Bigelow has been taking advantage of our desert landscapes since arriving in Nevada by doing some painting locally and is looking forward to more painting in Mexico.

The only thing necessary for the "TRIUMPH OF EVIL" is that good men "DO NOTHING!"

THE PANAMA CANAL IS AN AMERICAN AFFAIR

Even before the ships of many nations began their joyous transit through the Panama Canal, saving many thousands of miles on their journeys between ports in the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, the problems began.

1. England complain that international commercial vessels paying toll at Panama could not compete fairly with the non-toll paying U.S. vessels. Settlement came with the U.S. agreeing to charge a toll on U.S. commercial vessels.

2. Panama merchants complained that U.S. stores in the Canal Zone competed unfairly with licensed Panama firms. Settlement came with the U.S. agreeing to restrict sales from the Zone commissaries.

3. Panama laborers resented being paid on the Panama wage scale for work done in the Zone when U.S. employees received wages based on the U.S. scale. Settlement came only after many years when all employees in the Zone were paid on the U.S. scale. However this created a problem, because Panama merchants just a few feet from the Zone boundary could not possibly compete in the labor market with the Zone wage scale.

4. Canal Zone sanitation control officers said spraying for insects etc., could not stop at the border of the ten mile boundary, so they just sprayed and sanitized right into Panama territory. Panama officials said this was an invasion of national privacy. Settlement came with the U.S. restricting sanitation control activities to the Zone.

5. Panama found itself engaged in U.S. wars which were of little consequence to Panama, and in a proposed treaty in the 1920's, the U.S. required Panama to declare war upon any nation with which the U.S. might be at war. Settlement came when Panama refused to sign the treaty, and later, both nations decided to act jointly upon protective measures if the Canal was threatened.

6. Panama instinctively shuddered, when U.S. racial mores were extended to the Isthmus. When the Brooklyn National League baseball team appeared in the Zone during a Spring training tour, the Negro star Jackie Robinson was not permitted to eat with his teammates. Settlement of racial problems was never effected.

7. Panama found itself forced to obtain U.S. permission to grant concessions for railroad and highway construction in their own country. Settlement came with the U.S. allowing and even paying for Panama highways and public works in exchange for defense sites in Panama.

8. When Panama issued a mining concession to a British organization, for development of Isthmian natural resources, U.S. senators denounced the action. Settlement came with Panama ignoring the U.S. objection, and now Panama Corporation, Ltd., is reported to own a mining concession extending over one-sixth of Panama.

9. When the U.S. went off the gold standard in 1933, Panama refused to accept the depreciated dollars in payment which by treaty was supposed to be $250,000 annually in gold. Settlement came with the U.S. increasing the annual payment at various times until it became approximately $2.3 million in 1975.

10. With the advent of the atom bomb, Panama felt threatened because U.S. military installations around the Zone made Panama a prime target for atomic retribution. Settlement came with the U.S. returning numerous defense sites to Panama.

On and on the problems between the U.S. and Panama continued. Each problem and its settlement only pointed out more clearly the incongruity of one nation owning a ten mile strip of land through the heart of another nation, whether the strip contained an interoceanic canal or not.

FEATURING: The Amazing Arabians (Part II) And Champion

It isn't often that you come across the horse of horses but when you do, one knows it! So it is with the stalwart, proud, intelligent, beautifully bred and sensitive, Champion Naborr's Fanci.

Fanci could well afford to flaunt his pride for he comes from top-grade stock. Known throughout the Horse Kingdom, Naborr of Poland, a beautiful alabaster white Arabian horse who was awarded the honor of the over-all Horse of the Polish Nation, was the sire of Fanci. His mother "Shar Ebony" couldn't take a back seat either for she is listed among the top ten of Western Pleasure horses and top ten of Halter Mares.

Hendersonites Jim and Doris Campbell is the enthusiastic and charming young couple who happen to own Naborr's Fanci. "We had been interested in horses for a time," Jim stated, "but when we first saw Naborr's Fanci as a colt at Wayne Newton's ranch, it was love at first sight!" The couple purchased the colt from the singing star and have been elated with the purchase ever since.

"It is a wonder how beautifully this Arabian has come through," Jim added, "in that she has taken ribbon after ribbon and the trophies are stacking up!" The Campbell's living room is adorned with ribbons, all shapes, sizes and colors with shelves of trophies and plaques received on Champion Naborr's Fanci and other Arabian housed in their stables.

Fanci glows in the sun. He is a very light grey, almost white, with a creamy white mane and tail. His nose is black, eyes well placed, large and dark and his stance is superb.

Purchased in April of 1974, the Campbell's took Fanci to Don Triolo for training and showing. Doris and Jim are breeders, exhibitors and both show their own horses. Fanci performs the various gaits expected of the Arabs with a knowledge of basic dressage. The young stallion is but a few points short of his Legion of Merit (highest award given the Arabians). Both Doris and Jim are expert riders sharing a mutual love for their prize horses and the outdoors. "An afternoon's ride toward the mountains is our form of relaxation," mentioned Doris "and there is nothing more soul satisfying than a cool early evening ride!"

Champion Naborr's Fanci held high point of his career when he was recognized as Arabian Horse of the Year of the State of Nevada. In 1976 and 1977 he stood in the top five as Western Pleasure Horse of the Western USA Region.

Following in the tradition of his famous father "Naborr," Fanci is a terrific stallion, reproducing fine offspring. The Arabian horses are born a tone of brown, dark gray or near black. Some lighten up to near white as they mature and others may remain the darker grays or shades of rich browns. In any event it is easy to recognize the Arabian with the dish-shaped face, large wide set eyes and erect tail flaunting in the breeze. There is a certain beauty that an Arabian shows while in a gallop that no other horse seems to have. They are a bit streamlined with a cross between an ancient Egyptian look to that of modern art, but once you study the "Arab," you remember him.

CHAMPION NABORR'S FANCI - shows all of the desired qualities his famous father, Naborr of Poland, exhibited.

Champion Naborr's Fanci is young yet and will more than likely bring much more "cheer" to the hearts of Doris and Jim Campbell. We can also look forward to some of Fanci's foals coming up champions. One of the Campbell's line which looks mighty promising is Fanci's daughter born October 1977, "My Fanci Love." "Love" will probably follow in her father's footsteps and bring much added "Love" to the Campbell family.

Jim and Doris describe Champion Naborr's Fanci as a first rate "gentleman," good-natured with a tremendous "personality!" It is no secret around the Campbell stables that the "mares" do find Fanci - shall we say, "fanciful?"

Pets, if you are different, champions, interesting or unusual, tell your master to phone the writer at 734-2390, for a possible write-up!

Little Boys Never Forget A Christmas Cookie Promise

Little boys of age four never forget when you make a promise to them.

Mrs. Penny Love found that out between Halloween cookie time and Christmas.

At Halloween time she made some cookies in the shape of a pumpkin, with the appropriate frosting on top. She gave some to neighbor boy.

In a little while she had a visit from another four-year-old who stays with his grandmother in the neighborhood. He wanted a 'pumpkin pie.' She finally arrived at the fact that he wanted a cookie with a pumpkin face. She gave him one and in a little while he was back.

This time he wanted another cookie because he said his friend ate the top and that was the part he wanted. By this time she was out of cookies so she told him to come back at Christmas time.

Little boys are true to their word and he arrived at the Love home and asked Mr. Love if his wife had made the 'pumpkin pies yet.'

Mrs. Love had forgotten but she promised to have some Christmas trees ready in a couple of days.

"Whether I was going to make cookies or not, I am now," Mrs. Love said.

There were 19 other teams entered from all over southern California to provide excellent competition. The Wolves performed very well in racking up a 3 win and one loss tournament record. Basic saved their best performance for the consolation championship game where they totally dominated Buckley High School of Los Angeles in a 4-0 win.

The Wolves were led throughout the tournament by the scoring of senior forward Larry Bennett, a good ball-control offense and outstanding defense by fullbacks Russ Crew, Craig Mackelprang, Scott Stewart, Dennis Dix and the goalkeeping of senior Tim Balderson and junior Chuck Quadlin.

The Wolves opened fired up Wolves team. Basic ended that win streak with a convincing 3-0 win. The Wolves were led by senior Adrian Clark, who scored two goals and Captain Larry Bennett who scored one. The Wolves defense was very effective in shutting down the Murphy offense and giving substitute goalie Chuck Quadlin the teams first shut-out victory of the season.

In round three Basic met St. John Bosco and fell to the Californians 3-1 in a game that was played in a downpour. The Wolves scored first on a shot from 30 yards out by Larry Bennett and Basic led 1-0 after 12:52 of the first half. Bosco came back and knotted the score on a head shot from corner kick and at halftime it was 1-1. The score remained the same until, late in the second half, with neither team able to move the ball effectively in the mud. The go-ahead goal was scored by Bosco when they fired the ball past the Basic defense on an indirect kick. Bosco's final goal was scored from a penalty kick with only 2 minutes remaining. The loss moved the Wolves into the consolation bracket.

On Monday at 4:30 Basic met Buckley High School (the same team the Wolves defeated for the consolation title last year) and gave them a lesson in ball control soccer in recording a 4-0 victory and capturing the consolation championship for the second year in a row. The Wolves dominated the game even more than the score indicated and only a super effort by the Buckley goalie kept the game from becoming a rout. Basic again used a tough defense and balanced scoring to record their fifth win of the season.

Midfield Dave Williams opened scoring for the Wolves when he took a pass from Dennis Dix and put it past a diving Buckley goalie from 12 yards out at 11:38 of the first half. The Wolves second score came from Larry Bennett with an assist from Mark Jimenez. Sophomore Mark Gutierrez scored Basic's third goal when he took a pass from Larry Bennett and pushed it past the goalie from point blank range and senior David Lammers added icing to the cake when he dribbled into the penalty area and chipped the ball past the Buckley goalie.

The tournament games bring Basic's overall record to 5-4. The highlight of the tournament, according to Basic Coach Dan Cahill, was the Wolves consistent good play. "All year long we have played well on occasions but we have not been able to maintain any consistency. In California we played well in all phases of the game throughout the tournament," stated the happy coach.

The Wolves continue their holiday schedule next week when they participate in the Eldorado Hall of Fame tournament to be played Dec. 28, 29, and 30th.

Girl Scout Troop 111 Entertain

The Girl Scouts of Troop No. 111 from McCaw Elementary School in Henderson expressed their Christmas spirit this year in song. Customers at Denny's Restaurant, across from Sunrise Hospital in Las Vegas were treated to this entertainment at the invitation of assistant manager Sue Kirk.

The girls sang a wide selection of traditional Holiday songs for almost an hour in the early evening and were then treated to cookies and cocoa by their host, Manager Mr. Hanley.

Leader Peggy Marracola said that this was one of the many projects that the girls have done throughout the community to learn more about the world around them. Visits to the police department and the airport ranked high on the list of things the girls enjoyed most.

All nine troops, totaling 116 girls in Henderson alone, have been active in many projects throughout the area and will continue after the Holidays with their annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale which helps to support the program throughout Southern Nevada.

Withrow - Schutz Exchange Vows

Miss Cherri Lynn Withrow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jack Withrow of Holbrook, Arizona, became the bride of Ted Franklin Schutz on November 19. The ceremony took place at the First Baptist Church in Show Low, Arizona. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. & Mrs. Charles E. Williams of Henderson and the late Ted J. Schutz.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white chiffon, satin and lace. Her bouquet was of white daisies and baby's breath.

Sandy Burgess of Show Low attended her sister as matron of honor. Best man was Wayne Kennedy of Henderson, a long time friend of the groom.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Elks Lodge. Flowers for the occasion were yellow, rust and white chrysanthemums. The wedding cake was topped with yellow bells and had roses flowing down the sides.

The new Mrs. Schutz is a 1977 graduate of Holbrook High. She was at one time employed with the Holbrook Tribune.

Mr. Schutz graduated from Basic High in 1968 and then served six years in the Navy. He is currently employed with Bechtel Power Company in Joseph City, Arizona.

After a few days honeymoon in the White Mountains, the couple are making their home in Snowflake, Arizona.

Chamber Hopes So

TV Problems Resolved?

Certain areas in Henderson have had a dark shadow hanging over them for a number of years but this situation has, hopefully, now been rectified.

This dark shadow, Black Mountain, has caused television owners who reside in the Hillcrest area, on lower Basic Road and Atlantic Avenue, Tungsten, Victory Road, some parts of the triangle area and at St. Rose de Lima Hospital, to receive no or very poor reception from Channel 8.

No, the mountain is not being torn down but a translator has been set up on Red Mountain (that's the mountain on the left side of Boulder Highway, past Railroad Pass going to Boulder City) that will relay the signal back into the blocked out area.

This went into effect yesterday and blacked out viewers will now be able to watch KLAS-TV on UHF Channel 80.

"This is the third time they've tried it," reports Phil Hubel of Phillips Radio and TV "and let's hope it works this time."

Hubel is one, along with Chamber of Commerce Director Gary Johnson, who has worked hard at getting this translator.

"I've called Channel 8 so many times they'll hardly speak to me any more," laughed Hubel.

Johnson has a file of correspondence about an inch thick that he has accumulated since 1973 when the Chamber first began their efforts to get total CBS coverage for Henderson after KLAS changed the location of its transmitter two years earlier.

The relocation caused the aforementioned areas to be left without CBS reception. The matter was brought to the attention of Channel 8 and they in turn established a UHF translator station.

However many problems resulted over the short period of time this translator was operating, some of which were vandalism, mechanical breakdowns, interference problems with a government installation also there.

KLAS then attempted to get licensing approval from the Federal Communication Commission to operate the UHF translator station but the FCC was slow in granting any type of permission, temporary or permanent.

The Chamber contacted Senators Paul Laxalt, and Howard Cannon as well as Congressman Jim Santini to help expedite the FCC's permission.

In a letter to Santini, dated September 22, 1977, Johnson wrote, "I hope that your staff can help to expedite this matter as we know too well that the wheels in Washington turn slowly unless someone is standing by with a sufficient amount of lubrication. I hope you can spare some."

In the meantime it was learned that Summit Corporation's construction permit applying for a 100 watt translator station had expired and they had to file an application with the FCC for a construction permit to replace the expired construction permit.

Senator Laxalt Makes Christmas Observations

By Senator Paul Laxalt

Since your newspaper began running this column, I have tried to use the opportunity to keep you posted on legislative developments in Congress or discuss some of the hotter issues affecting our state and nation. With the holiday season upon us, I'd like to depart just a bit from that practice and focus on some thoughts I have concerning this time of year.

I suppose the first thing that comes to my mind about the Christmas Season is that for me it has always been a family time. All the religious and festive events were ever attended or planned when I was growing up were family-oriented. This is just the way things were and I never thought about Christmas in any other context for many years. In fact, until recently I never really thought about the holidays in other ways because there wasn't anything different that I knew to compare with past experiences.

In Nevada we're fortunate enough to have communities that remain distinctively family-oriented. This is distinctive because unfortunately too many American towns, cities, and states have now grown so large and taken on different life-styles that the stability and guiding force of family life have been muted if not shattered.

Living and growing up in Nevada insulated me from such an existence. Sure, I knew there were problems other areas of the country had to wrestle with -- urban decay, population explosion, etc. -- but they never really hit me with full impact. I was made more aware of the difficulties when, as Governor, I met with fellow state Chief Executives and discussed regional interests. But, a governor's role is so parochial that his concern must focus almost exclusively on the homestate to the exclusion of any extended interest in other areas.

When, however, I came to Washington and started dealing with problems of a wider scope on the national legislative level, my perspective changed. Then through educating myself on the background of various federal aid bills, for instance; their purpose; intended effect; and also engaging in long conversations with sponsoring Senators to better understand their reasoning, I started to get a "feel" for what some areas were up against. The problems many of our urban centers face are staggering. And the fall-out on those living in the densely populated cities and states is very sad.

I'm not going to run through a sociological study here, but it's something that sure hit me when I considered the unbelievable consequences of these problems. We Nevadans have much to be thankful for and Christmas has a way of crystallizing these considerations.

The Holiday Season remains a family time for most of us. In our communities we don't have the severe complications brought on by excessive population and growth that have proven so destructive unless carefully watched. And when these difficulties do get out-of-hand, Washington enters the picture and the impersonalization of living in a problem area, in my opinion, is then institutionalized and usually compounded. Nevadans have so far escaped the tragedy of this existence.

So, enjoy your Christmas fellow Nevadans and be thankful you're celebrating it in a homestate like ours!

MIXING OF LOVE, LEPRECHAUNS PROVES STRONG STORY POINT IN "DARBY O'GILL"

"DARBY O'GILL"

Opens Dec. 25th at the Rainbow Theatre

One of the strongest story points in Walt Disney's live-action feature motion picture, "Darby O'Gill and the Little People," is the getting together of love and Leprechauns, which, according to legend, do not readily mix.

Leprechauns, constituting an all-male tribe with no distaff side to it all, go mainly for tricks or treats and a little mayhem in the dead of night. The tricks are for those who fail to leave a little food out for them in Ireland, and the mayhem, too. Love is left for humans.

Things start out innocently enough in the picture when Darby sits himself down in the local pub to tell tall tales about the Little People, who have no particular objection to being talked about so long as the word is a flattering one.

But Darby, played by Albert Sharpe of Belfast, gets carried away with some boasting about besting the king of the Leprechauns, and things begin to happen to the former. For instance, Darby loses his job as caretaker of a nearby lordly estate to a young man from Dublin. It is only when the Leprechauns get into the act that things right themselves. They accomplish this by the employment of love, causing the young man from Dublin to fall for Darby's darling daughter.

Charming Katie O'Gill (JANET MUNRO) and handsome Michael McBride (SEAN CONNERY) sing of love in a tune called "Pretty Irish Girl" from Walt Disney's live-action feature motion picture about love, laughter and Leprechauns in Ireland, "Darby O'Gill and the Little People." In color by Technicolor, the picture stars Albert Sharpe, Miss Munro, Connery and Jimmy O'Dea. Directed by Robert Stevenson, re-release is by Buena Vista.

In color by Technicolor, "Darby O'Gill and the Little People" stars Sharpe, Janet Munro, Sean Connery and Jimmy O'Dea, with Kieron Moore, Estelle Winwood and Walter Fitzgerald. Directed by Robert Stevenson, re-release is by Buena Vista.

Herbs and spices have a mystique about them which I think stems partly from their antiquity, partly from their innumerable, curious uses, and partly from their origins and mysterious reappearances elsewhere. Cardamon is one of those exotic spices that made its debut in India and Ceylon, but, thanks to the Vikings, was gloriously hightailed away to Scandinavia, the land of sweets.

Cardamon is a bushy, hairy-leaved herb that apparently never had a thyroid problem: its average height is between six and twelve feet. The plant produces pods which contain the round, peppercornish seeds that are used in cooking.

There are four varieties of cardamon: whole white, found in the Middle East; whole green, which is grown in Guatemala; ground cardamon; and whole black cardamon which is used primarily in Indian dishes.

The flavor, as with most spices, is difficult to describe. In foods and beverages cardamon comes across as being warm, slightly pungent and very aromatic. It is one of the spices used in making the various curries. Although it is most frequently used in sweet concoctions -- puddings, pastries, custards, and fruit dishes -- cardamon has also found its place in vegetable dishes, ground beef and marinades. The Scandinavians add whole cardamon to their traditional steaming hot glogg while Arabians make gahwa, a cardamon-flavored coffee drink offered to guests as a symbol of hospitality.

Ground cardamon can be used in the same types of foods that cinnamon and nutmeg are used in, especially in pumpkin pie. For a delightfully refreshing snack, whip up a pumpkin shake for yourself. Combine ½ cup chilled canned pumpkin, 1½ cups cold milk, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, and ¼ teaspoon cardamon in a blender container. Blend at high speed for 45 seconds and pour into two tall glasses. Serve immediately.

The Tree That Keeps Christmas Alive For Years To Come

One kind of holiday decoration has been increasing in popularity over the past several years, and the trend promises to continue this season. It's the use by America's homes of one of nature's most enjoyable gifts—a living, growing Christmas tree.

Perhaps this is due, in part, to our deepening appreciation for more that is "natural" in our surroundings. It is certain that the beauty and fragrance of a live tree indoors for the holidays cannot be equaled by an artificial tree, or even by a cut tree.

There is an economy factor, too, even though the living tree may cost more than a cut evergreen at the outset. When the yuletide has ended, the Christmas tree continues outdoors through years to come as an investment that grows, increasing the value of its property, adding beauty, screening out unwanted sights and sounds.

Some suggestions from the American Association of Nurserymen can help assure your pleasure from this year's living Christmas tree.

The first tip is something you can do right now. Decide where you will want the tree to take up residence after Santa's visit and prepare the hole ahead of time. The hole should be sufficiently deep and wide to accommodate the root ball with a bit of room to spare. Put some organic material, like peat moss, at the bottom, and mix some of the same material with the soil you have removed. Leave that soil right beside the hole, which you should cover with boards so nobody will stumble into it before the tree is installed.

Plan to keep the tree in the house no more than about ten days. That is about as long as it will be happy in the dry indoor environment. Place it in some kind of container that will let you keep the root ball quite moist during those days. The nursery people say about a quart of water every couple of days may be sufficient.

Miniature lights are best for a living tree. The large ones tend to overheat, even scorch the green growth around them. The sturdy branches of a living tree permit you great freedom and imagination in your use of hanging ornaments, though.

One final recommendation. Plant the tree as soon as you take it outdoors. That's when you'll be glad you prepared its new home ahead of time.

PERSONALIZED PACKAGES

Personalize your Christmas packages this year—with handmade salt sculpture "nametags."

To make the dough, combine one cup Morton® Salt and two cups flour. Mix them well. (Be sure NOT to use self-rising flour.) Next, add one cup water, a little at a time, mixing as you pour, to form the dough into a ball. Knead the dough for about ten minutes until it is smooth and firm. Place dough that won't be used right away into a plastic bag to keep it from drying.

Then—you're ready to sculpt!

For nametags, roll out long piece of dough until it is about the thickness of a breadstick. Shape letters of name from one continuous piece on the cookie sheet for the handwritten effect. Or, make each letter individually, as in printing, joining letters by moistening both edges with water and pressing them together.

MINI-MINCE PIES

About 18-24 tart shells
1 jar (28 oz.) prepared mincemeat

1/3 cup gold Puerto Rican rum

Make and bake tart shells using packaged pie crust mix; or, buy ready-to-fill tart shells. Arrange the shells on a cookie tin. Mix mincemeat and rum and fill shells. Cover with foil (so filling won't get too dry) and bake in a moderate oven, 350°, for about 20 minutes. Serve warm with a generous dollop of hard sauce. Makes 1-1/2 or 2 dozen depending on size of tart shells.

Spirited COOKING

SEASON'S EATINGS

It can be easy as pie to prepare marvelous meals that get guests set for the holiday spirit. For some examples, gaze at these recipes for great glazes, exciting eggnog and party pastries.

RUM EGGNOG

12 egg yolks
1/2 pound sugar
1 quart milk
1 fifth gold Puerto Rican rum

Beat egg yolks until very light. Beat in sugar till thick. Stir in milk and rum. Chill 3 hours. Pour into punch bowl. Or, simply combine 12-oz. gold Puerto Rican rum with a quart of prepared eggnog mix. Top with nutmeg. Serves about 12 this way. Fills about 24 small mugs.

GLAZE FOR ROAST TURKEY

1 small can jellied cranberry sauce
3 tablespoons light corn syrup
1/4 cup dry white wine

Combine ingredients. Cook and stir over low heat until sauce melts and mixture is smooth. Spoon over turkey during last hour of roasting.

Best Wishes for a wonderful Holiday Season to all of our fine Friends and Patrons. We enjoyed doing business with you and we look forward to seeing you again soon. We hope that you will be happy and contented during this jolly season.

The Wizard of Words

by Gerhardts

This newspaper is for your perusal, which means it's yours to read through, examine carefully. Perusal is now almost always used to refer to the act of reading, or examining, with a slight connotation of careful, thorough study.

Several hundred years ago, however, perusal meant the act of using something up, or finishing it off.

"Here," great great great grandma might have said, handing her kid a bowl of porridge. "This is for your perusal." Perusal comes from the old French word Paruser, which means "use wholly, finish." This French word, in turn, came from the Latin words per, which means "through" and user, which means (coincidentally) "use."

thus, when the wine, the water or the cake was given to be used up, it was given for perusal, to be used until it was through.

Perusal's transition from Latin and French to its current English usage occurred because in the act of "using something up," a person has to go through it one step at a time (or one bite, or one swallow or one article at a time).

A prisoner might have in his cell only a single magazine available for his perusal. After reading all the articles, the ads, and the small legal print, he asks his jailer for a different magazine. "I've used this one up," he asserts. "My perusal's complete."

I used to believe that life itself was here for my perusal. I thought I could read it, examine it carefully, inside and out, until I had used it all up. I thought I could study until I'd finished, figured it all out.

So far, however, life keeps coming out in new editions. My perusal is always just beginning. The composition which I read, or examined, yesterday is changed by today.

It makes sense, then, that the old meaning of perusal -- "to use something up" -- is no longer with us. Our examination, our reading, our perusal, continues.

MEMORY MAKING

Yuletide traditions... that's what the holidays are all about!

Keeping the old--like reading the family's favorite story 'round a crackling fire on Christmas Eve. Or waking up to familiar holiday music.

Creating the new--like an annual salt sculpture party to make original, personalized ornaments for the Christmas tree!

It's fun for all ages. Everyone from Grandpa to the toddler can participate. And, even better, you're guaranteed maximum merriment with minimal mess.

Just a few steps--and you'll have a selection of family-fashioned Christmas ornaments that will last as long as your memories from making them.

First, plan your work areas like a progressive dinner. Use one spot for making the dough and another for molding or cutting out the pieces. A third area should be set aside for decorating the finished creations. Second, plan in advance for all ages.

In the first area, be sure enough flour, salt and water are available. Each batch of dough will make about two dozen cookie cutter shapes or one holiday wreath. Use a bread board for kneading the dough. Place dough that won't be used immediately into a plastic bag to keep it from drying.

Children can have one table filled with cookie cutters, a few foil-covered cookie sheets and the dough. Adults may want to join the kids in making simple designs--or set aside a separate space to work on more intricate free-form sculptures. Make sure a selection of forks, butter knives or other utensils are available for cutting, shaping and making imprints; nail heads make good holes for string loops.

Cover the decorating table--or floor, for the children--with newspapers for easy clean-up. Water color paints work fine, and runaway splashes are easy to remove from children's clothes, faces and hair.

When everyone's through, use spray varnish to protect finished pieces from moisture.

SALT SCULPTURE DOUGH

2 cups flour (not self-rising)
1 cup Morton Salt
1 cup water

Combine flour and salt in a large flat-bottomed bowl, and mix well with spoon. Next add water (a little at a time) mixing as you pour to form the dough into a ball. Additional water may be needed, depending on the humidity. Take care not to add too much so dough becomes sticky. Knead 7 to 10 minutes until dough has a smooth, yet firm, consistency. Place dough that will not be used immediately in a plastic bag to keep it from drying.

Place finished pieces on foil-covered cookie sheet and place in 325-350 degree oven. Allow to bake one-half hour for each 1/4-inch of thickness or until golden brown. If sculptures puff up, reduce oven temperature by 50 to 75 degrees and poke piece with pin or toothpick to release air.

Brush the piece with egg or milk during baking for a natural brown finish. Or, paint it after it is cooled. Apply a coat of lacquer, varnish or shellac to both sides of each piece to protect it from moisture or humidity.

BABY'S FIRST CHRISTMAS

Your baby's first Christmas with you should be filled with magical moments—ones that will be cherished for a lifetime. Drawing on nearly 50 years of experience with babies, Gerber experts know that holiday festivities can sometimes be hectic and complicated as well as exciting. They offer the following tips to first-time parents.

Simplify holiday plans. Shop early for gifts and start package wrapping ahead of time. Why not send fewer cards, and decorate less elaborately this year? Use Christmas catalogs to save time and energy, or order by phone.

It's important to keep your baby's schedule flexible, too. Baby's heightened excitement may call for more rest than usual.

Your parental responsibilities can be eased by relying on the extensive line of Gerber baby need products in your neighborhood supermarket. Remember to keep an extra supply of baby foods on hand to avoid unnecessary shopping trips.

Let Dad (and grandparents if they live nearby) take over when you need some time to yourself. Relax with a book, enjoy a shopping trip alone, or whatever you like to do. One of the most important things you can give your family is to be cheerful.

On that long-awaited day, invite the family or friends for the package opening when your child is liveliest. Then allow time out as a family to relax before gathering later for a holiday dinner.

Holiday times should be filled with love and warmth, and happy memories. These guidelines can point you on your way to a merry Christmas...with baby.

Desert plants have adapted to this harsh environment by developing spines instead of leaves. These spines help the plant conserve water and protect it. They also can inflict great pain to the unwary traveler...watch where you step. We hope you get our point before you get stuck on theirs.

DOUBLY DELICIOUS DESSERT

There are pecan pie fanciers and there are custard pie fanciers. Pecan Custard Pie, made with Jell-O Americana golden egg custard mix, will delight each group of fanciers in one fell swoop. Smooth, creamy custard filling is old-fashioned taste from an up-to-date package and crunchy pecans add just the right texture to this doubly delicious dessert.

PECAN CUSTARD PIE

- 1/2 cup coarsely chopped pecans
- 1 baked 8-inch pie shell, cooled
- 1 package (3 oz.) golden egg custard mix
- 2 cups milk
- 1 egg yolk (optional)

Sprinkle pecans in bottom of pie shell. Blend custard mix with milk in saucepan; add egg yolk. Bring quickly to a boil; stirring constantly. (Mixture will be thin.) Remove from heat. Cool 15 minutes, stirring often. Pour into pie shell and chill until set, about 3 hours. Refrigerate any leftover pie.

Nevada's Student Loan Program

More than 9,000 Nevada students are now attending or have completed work at colleges, universities, and other high education institutions across the United States, with the help of student loans from the First National Bank of Nevada. First National is the sole bank in Nevada that participates in this loan program. This program is known as the Higher Education Student Loan Program and was authorized by the Nevada Legislature in 1969, to be administered by the Nevada Department of Education, and $25,000 was appropriated as a reserve to guarantee loans. Since that time, First National has loaned over $13,000,000 to more than 9,000 students. Loans are guaranteed by the state and, in turn, are re-insured by the federal government.

First National has exerted special efforts through its loan officers to be sure that loan applicants understand the terms, responsibilities, and obligations that the borrower incurs. In most cases, students are incurring their first formal indebtedness and it is a learning process for them. The counseling by the Bank also helps keep the default rate low, which in turn creates a return so that future needy students will have access to such loans. Loans are low interest, long term, and are paid back after the student completes his or her education.

Like its ancestor of homesteading days, the Bureau of Land Management's Las Vegas District Office is "doing a land office business" ... in Yule trees.

From Nov. 14, when the tree cutting permits went on sale, to Nov. 30, the office sold 4,216 tags. "That's a record - setting pace," said Patricia Hall, one of the BLM staff selling the tags. "Last year from Nov. 15 to Christmas Eve we sold 6,725 tags. We'll probably beat that before mid-December."

BLM sells the tree cutting permits for $1 each. One person can buy one permit for himself and up to four more for other families or friends. Only pinyon pine and juniper trees may be cut. Trees may not be cut in Clark County; they can be taken only from Lincoln or Esmeralda Counties.

As the holiday approaches, sales are becoming brisk.

"Friday afternoons are really hectic," said Donna Hughes, also a Christmas tree seller. "On Dec. 2 there was a line at the counter all afternoon. We must have sold more than 1,000 tags that day alone."

"In just October and November of this year, we've already sold 2,161 cords, almost equal the previous amount in one-sixth the time."

Carl Hruska, a wildlife biologist on the BLM staff, said the district is accomplishing two objectives with the Christmas tree program.

"The tree sales give families a chance to get their tree the old fashioned way," he said. "A sizeable number of southern Nevadans obviously like doing that."

"The program also aids wildlife," he continued. "By thinning stands of pinyon and juniper, it encourages growth of smaller bushes and plants that are sources of food and shelter for animals. Since the habitat is enhanced, so are a variety of birds, small mammals, and large game species like deer."

Sales of Christmas tree tags will continue each weekday until Dec. 23 from 7:30 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. at the BLM's Las Vegas Office, 4765 W. Vegas Dr. Firewood is sold there year - round.

New Fishing Licenses Needed Soon

Nevada Department of Fish and Game is reminding anglers that half-year fishing licenses purchased on or after July 1, 1977 will expire on December 31, 1977.

A six-month license for the second half of 1977 was made necessary after the recent session of Nevada's Legislature changed the fishing license period from a fiscal (July 1 - June 30) to a calendar year basis.

Department officials advise that 1978 fishing licenses will soon be available at license agents throughout the state but the licensed will not be valid for use until Jan. 1, 1978. Cost of the license will remain at $10 for residents (16 years and older) and $20 for non-residents.

Anglers who possess a current Arizona Special use stamp attached to their one-half year license are reminded that this stamp is valid through June 30, 1978 and should be retained and used along with the new fishing license required on Jan. 1, 1978.

Hunting licenses will continue to be issued on a fiscal year basis as the July 1 - June 30 period better fits hunting seasons which for some species run from one year into the next.

Taxes Follow Boat, Not Owner

Purchasers of used motorboats from either a private party or a dealer are responsible for all previously assessed unpaid personal property taxes which must be satisfied before Nevada Department of Fish and Game can issue a registration certificate.

According to the State's Attorney General, Nevada Law mandates that taxes levied against the personal property assessed until such taxes and any penalty charges and interest are paid.

The law also provides that taxes on any personal property previously assessed which is no longer in the possession of the assessed owner, may be collected from the subsequent owner of that property in whose hands it may be found at the time of the attempted collection.

Nevada Department of Fish and Game advises all prospective boat purchasers to demand proof from the seller that all previously assessed taxes have been paid before the purchase is completed. If the seller is unable or unwilling to provide this information, it may be obtained by calling the County Assessor and identifying the boat by the NV number.

"It's a BUYER BEWARE situation", according to Cliff Jett, DFG Boating Officer, "and by law, the Department cannot issue or renew registration certificates on motorboats for which taxes are due."

Purchasers of new motorboats from a dealer have 10 days in which to pay personal property taxes which must be satisfied before either a title or registration can be issued.

Owners of motorboats registered in Nevada in 1977 and current in their personal property tax payments will soon be receiving registration renewal forms in the mail. Those persons delinquent in their personal property assessments will receive a tax due statement.

Poinsettia Selection

The colorful poinsettia is the traditional Christmas plant. The beauty comes from the leaves that appear at the top of the stems.

Allen D. Boettcher, Horticulture Agent with the Cooperative Extension Service, suggests that when selecting a poinsettia, look for foliage that is dark green and well formed and the way down to the soil.

Once the plant is brought home, it should be placed adjacent to a window where it can receive bright indirect sunlight. Also, the plant should be placed in an area free of drafts and away from heat sources such as heat registers, fireplaces or television sets.

An ideal daytime temperature for poinsettias is 70 degrees and the lower sixties at night. Higher temperatures shorten plant life in the home. If the soil surface is dry, the best way to water the plant is to apply enough that excess water runs from the hole in the bottom of the pot. But do not apply so much that it runs all over the furniture.

Letter to the Editor:

Letter to Editor:

Recently President Carter made the following statement, "We are going to have a lot of failures and frustration, and I think the American people have got to realize that the government can't provide magic answers for difficult questions and problems." Hell man, who is he trying to confuse? In the last forty years or so, politicians, as a group, are utter failures in the solution of even one single fundamental problem. Their bag of tricks only produces promises on top of more promises amounting to nothing but "failures and frustration."

Unemployment in 1932 was 25 percent; in 1938 it still was 20 percent and this small change at the expense of raising our taxes and putting us into debt. In 1941, conveniently, World War II materialized! The overall view of the last forty years or so reveals how politicians have moved us in and out of wars, and that this period of time is nothing short of "failures and frustration."

Yes, "failures and frustration" are our destiny if we fail to realize that we must discard the "price" system and introduce a system that is in tune with our technological age. Technocracy Inc., an educational, research organization has developed the Technological Social Design. This design is a social operation which banishes insecurity of income, taxes and all debt. It will stop the waste of resources, solve the pollution problem, and eliminates almost all crime!

Politicians fail to see our problem by virtue of the fact that they are politicians trying to solve a technological problem. Our technological problem calls for a technological approach; this is the method of Technocracy. Responsible, concerned citizens are urged to investigate Technocracy's Technological Social Design.

(Sincerely,
s) John Taube

That's The Way To Do It

The vigorous, colorful, and fun film stars a "comedy" dominated by the B. Dandies, Sgt. Sandy, Dandies, and Newman, is glowing testimony to the fact that black actors don't have to make pictures for black audiences.

The B. Dandies film is, in the words of the trade, "a comedy hit" that is, this appeal to audiences of all colors, class and hand account. This was demonstrated conclusively with "Upstairs Saturday Night" and "Let's Do It Again." These were not black exploitation films aimed at Amsterdams Avenue and Watts. The subject matter had nothing to do with color or social level.

As the director, Sidney Poitier's, viewpoint is the reasonable viewpoint of any man who wants to make a film that is funny, pertinent and, in some respects, wise. His approach varies in nothing except the world's entertainment tastes, "He, and Cosby, to be sure, have done it again in "A Piece of the Action," the new Warner Bros. film comedy in which they play a couple of crooks who justify their dishonesty by robbing the warehouses of the poor. Opens on December 21 at the Rainbow Theatre.

Poitier and Cosby have become famous as heroes through talent, intelligence and determination, looking neither to the left nor right. They have gone straight down the middle and have this won the respect of the bankers, the agents, fellow stars and world audiences, both black and white.

There have been very few so-called crossover films as successful as those directed by Poitier and co-starring him and Bill Cosby, and there have been very few minorities who have conquered worlds as effectively and conclusively as they have.

"A Piece of the Action" is a Verdon East Artists production, also starring Debrah Nicholas, James Earl Jones, Hope Clarke, Tracy Reed and Tito Vandu. It was produced by Mel Tucker and written by Charles Blackwell and Timothy March.

Desert Research Institute Tells Of Rights

Improvements at Desert Research Institute during 1977 will aid President Lloyd P. Smith in his program of bringing DRI into closer relationship with Nevada and its future. The year's developments at DRI began with opening of a new Solar Energy Research Facility at Boulder City in January and continued with reorganization of the research institute in mid-year.

In October the Institute's new facility north of Reno was dedicated and the 469-acre area where it is located was designated as the Alessandro Dandini Research Park.

President Smith sees a strong potential for energy development in Nevada. He believes that Nevada could become an energy exporting state. He considers it vital for the state to expand its economic base.

Desert Research Institute is well prepared now to help government and industry in Nevada to pursue these objectives and to be of service to industry nationally in ways that may attract investment in Nevada, Smith said. He believes the new Dandini Park in Reno with all its acreage surrounding the research center offers an attractive site for many industries to do research and to develop their technologies.

"Desert Research Institute is dedicated to working with Nevada and with industry in general," Smith said. "Our efforts is directed to working with the state and its problems."

"We want to encourage high-quality, high-technology industry. We would like industrial research to become a part of Dandini Park where the Desert Research Institute could provide a wide variety of research service to supplement the developmental programs of surrounding industry."

DRI's Solar Energy Research facility in Boulder City is dedicated to the development of practical and economical solar-powered heating and cooling together with energy storage components for homes and buildings. The building is solar heated and cooled and contains an instrument laboratory, offices and accommodations for experimentation. The site includes solar test pads where scientists can easily change and modify collector designs. This solar facility, the first of its kind in the western United States, is placed in an ideal location because of southern Nevada's high sunlight potential. The facility is open for public inspection and visitors are welcome.

In July the Desert Research Institute in Reno occupied its new 32,000 square-foot building, leaving the Water Resources Building on the University of Nevada-Reno campus. The new facility is the second major building to occupy the Alessandro Dandini Research Park, the Western Nevada Community College north campus being the first. The new DRI building provides laboratories and office space for the Water Resources Center, Bioresearch Center, Social Sciences Center, the radiation and chemical analyses laboratories of the Atmospheric Sciences Center and the administrative offices.

The new facility has enabled the DRI to greatly expand its capabilities in analytical work, not only in radiation, water and chemical analyses but on fishes, macroinvertebrates and materials synthesis.

The reorganization that took place within DRI was the formation of a new center and the re-naming of three others. The new center, Energy Systems Center, is headquartered in the new solar facility in Boulder City and will focus on development of environmental sources of energy -- primarily sun and wind -- and further, advance of energy conversion and conservation technologies through development of new systems, processes or practices.

The other name changes involved are the Human Systems Center becoming the Social Sciences Center, the Energy and Atmospheric Environment Center is now the Atmospheric Sciences Center and the Applied Ecology Center has been incorporated with the aquatic biology staff of the Water Resources Center and designated the new Bioresearch Center.

The Bioresearch Center conducts studies of terrestrial and aquatic biota both as components of natural ecosystems and as indicators of environmental quality through bioassays.

"I am absolutely convinced that Nevada has to broaden its economic base," Dr. Smith said. "Our research can help to accomplish this. We want to alert high-technology industry to the advantages and development opportunities in Nevada."

PROTECTING YOURSELF AGAINST LOSS

TIPS TO HELP YOU
This information has been supplied by experts at The Society of Chartered Property & Casualty Underwriters, the national professional society whose members have earned the CPCU designation by meeting high educational, ethical and experience requirements.

Q. I guess my nephew isn't as crazy as I thought he was. My sister tells me his comic book collection is now worth over $3,000. I was wondering, is something like that covered under her homeowners insurance policy?

A. Yes, but only for loss by those perils named in the policy. Also, there could be some question in establishing the actual value after a loss and whether or not the comic books have actually been destroyed. These comic books should be insured under a "personal articles floater" endorsement which may be added to the homeowners policy. This not only provides broader coverage but establishes the value before a loss occurs.

Anyone wishing to find out how they may earn the CPCU designation can write for information to: The Society of Chartered Property & Casualty Underwriters, Kahler Hall, Providence Rd., CB #9, Malvern, Pa. 19355.

Income Tax Tips

from First Western Savings

You may be throwing away up to $7,500 per year in deductions!

Tax laws, enacted in 1974, now make it possible for professionals, self-employed businessmen, even individuals to save, with tax-deferred dollars, towards a more comfortable standard of living in retirement.

Let us tell you the more important details of each plan.

INDIVIDUAL RETIREMENT ACCOUNTS (I.R.A.)

1. Contribute up to $1500, or 15% of your compensation, whichever is less. Your contribution is fully tax-deductible.
2. Your earnings from this plan are fully FREE from Current Taxes during your employed years ... and during those years, our daily compounded interest rates will be working for you.
3. If your Wife is employed, she too can contribute to her I.R.A. Plan. Thus it is possible for the two of you to save as much as $3000 each year, tax-deductible.
4. If a non working spouse is included the maximum for the couple is 15% of earned income or $1,750 per year, set up in separate accounts for each, with a maximum of $875 in each account.

THE KEOGH PLAN (HR-10)

To qualify for a Keogh plan you must be self-employed in an unincorporated business, sole proprietorship or partnership. You are not required to have all or a major part of your income derived from self-employment. However, if your company has qualified employees, they must be included in your plan.

Under the Keogh plan, you can save a maximum of $7,500 per year or 15% of your earned income from self-employment, whichever is less.

NOTICE: In order to qualify for a tax break in 1977, you must set up your plan by December 31, 1977. However, you may deduct contributions you make in the early months of 1978 from your 1977 income tax return.

VA Questions & Answers

Q - I was wounded in Korea in 1952 but never filed a claim with the VA. I am now having problems with my leg. Is it too late to file a claim now?

A - You may file a claim for service - connection any time. If the medical records of the branch of the armed forces you were in show evidence of this disability, you may be entitled to compensation. The date of the application is the earliest date you may be paid compensation for this disability under the conditions cited.

Q - I am the 18 - year - old son of a veteran who has a 60 percent service-connected disability. Am I eligible for Veterans Administration education benefits?

A - Only children of veterans who suffered permanent, total disabilities or who died from service - connected causes, or children of military service personnel missing in action or prisoners of war for more than 90 days are eligible for education benefits.

Q - I am drawing a pension for nonservice - connected disability. My brother says he will pay me $10 a week to sweep his store. Will this keep me from drawing my pension?

A - This is considered marginal employment which is defined as less than half the usual hours of work or less than half the usual pay. You will continue to draw your pension. However, it may be necessary to reduce your monthly payments because of the additional income.

Q - I was released from active military service in 1956. Do I still have G.I. Bill entitlement for education?

A - No; veterans with service between Jan. 31, 1955 and June 1, 1966 had eligibility until May 31, 1976. The completion date for farm cooperative, apprentice or on - the - job training, or flight training was Aug. 30, 1977. Veterans with later service must use their education benefits within ten years of their release from active duty.

Q - Are VA burial benefits available to dependents of veterans?

A - No, but in some instances dependents of veterans can be buried in national cemeteries. Check with your nearest VA office for details.

Q - I was disabled in World War II and the Veterans Administration gave me $1,600 toward the purchase of an automobile in 1949. Now that this allowance has been increased to $3,000, am I entitled to the difference on another car?

A - No, but VA may assist in providing or maintaining adaptive equipment on your present or future cars. See your nearest VA office.

Light Up But Don't Burn Your Christmas Tree

Holiday festivities are once again the order of the day with Christmas and New Year right around the corner. Ironically, the very objects which brighten the season can cause disaster if used unwisely, says the Insurance Information Institute.

Christmas trees, decorative lighting and fireplaces add to the enjoyment of the season, but also add an additional hazard to your home.

I.I.I. offers the following safety tips to keep in mind when purchasing decorative lighting, materials and trees:

--Purchase only Underwriters Laboratories (UL) listed lighting strings and extension cords are suitable for indoor and outdoor use.

--Check all new and used lighting strings carefully. Each should be checked for frayed or bare wires, cracked sockets and plugs, and loose connections. Be on the safe side and discard all unsafe equipment.

--Do not overload the electrical circuits. Electrical wiring that is forced to carry more than it is intended to handle may overheat and result in a fire. Check the wire capacity listing and follow the manufacturer's recommendation.

--Never place electrical lighting close to flammable materials.

--String lights should never be used on a metal tree. A short circuit in the insulation could make the tree electrically "live," resulting in severe electrical shock. Use spot lights to illuminate a metal tree.

--Remember ... always turn off lighting when leaving home or retiring for the evening.

The Institute reminds that the selection of a Christmas tree, whether natural or artificial is an important matter. Artificial trees should carry a flame resistant label. A natural tree should be checked for freshness. Remember fresh trees dry out rapidly in heated rooms. Make sure you keep the base holder full of water by checking daily.

When trimming the tree and fireplace mantel, use only noncombustible and flame-retardant materials. Never place trimmings near open flames, heat or electrical connections. On Christmas day remove all wrapping paper immediately after presents are opened. Place paper in covered metal trash containers or burn them in an incinerator. Do not burn them in the fireplace. A flash fire may result, as wrapping paper can ignite suddenly and get out of control.

IN CASE OF FIRE BE PREPARED

The Institute recommends sitting down with your family and drawing an emergency escape plan, selecting a common meeting place outside.

--Keep a fully-charged fire extinguisher handy. Every member of the family should be familiar with its location and how to operate it properly. Don't place it next to the tree; you may not be able to get it if needed.

--Keep fire department, police, ambulance and emergency phone numbers posted on or near your telephone.

The holiday season is a time for enjoying yourself. Look for and eliminate potential danger spots and plan for safety. There is no substitute for common sense. Have a happy holiday!

WIZARD OF WORDS By Gebhardto Conspirator

(con (as in run) spear uh tore)

If I agree with my brother to hold up a liquor store, I'm a conspirator. Conspirators are people who agree (most often, though not always, in secret) to carry out some act (most often, though not always, an illegal, or immoral act.)

When they talk, conspirators will often (though not always) cup their hands around their mouths, like paratheses, (), so they can tell their secrets.

Conspirator is based on the Latin words spirare, which means 'breathe,' and con, which means 'with,' to simply breathe with someone qualifies you as a conspirator in some countries, depending on who that person is you're breathing with.

"Aha," the Gestapo shouts, breaking into the room where you're sitting. "Breathe - withers!"

Until recently in the U.S., if you were seen breathing with a member of organized crime you could be classified as a conspirator, liable to be removed from public office, or have your license revoked, or denied various appointments. Just breathing with people can be complicated.

We breathe consciousness in much the same way we breathe air. Each of us creates our own inner atmosphere, according to the quality of consciousness we breathe.

I can be a conspirator with a 17th Century French poet, or a 9th century Chinese monk, or a 1st century pilgrim, as easily as with my current-day brother, by breathing a particular type of consciousness with them.

It may occur that my closest conspirator will not be born until years after I die. Still, we breathe together. We're conspirators.

We're all conspirators, for good or ill. We use consciousness to plot our lives, in secret and together. As we breathe in the atmosphere of pure consciousness -- Love, Creative -- we are aligned with a full history of unstoppable conspirators.

Elko Contest Intriguing to State

TOPICS FOR TAXPAYERS
BY ERNEST L. NEWTON

A contest to find the most shocking boondoggle in northeastern Nevada has been announced by Mel Steninger of the Elko Free Press. The contest had to be limited to northeastern Nevada in order to keep the number of entries to a manageable size. If the whole state had been included the Free Press would have been swamped with entries.

Some sample boondoggles have been noted, almost all of them either sponsored or funded by the federal taxpayers. Another interesting compilation could be made of boondoggles operated by state, county or city personnel but that presents a problem because most of the more shocking examples are the result of federal "carrots" held out to Nevada. Those carrots are designed to play upon the avarice of Nevada legislators and bureaucrats. The attitude is rampant "we've got to take the money or it will go to someone else."

If such a contest were announced for statewide participation, there would surely be an entry noting the activities of the state real estate department and their efforts to control land sales activities in Nevada.

Or, perhaps, someone would finger the state parks department which has acquired so much land that there isn't money enough to develop and administer it for use.

Or maybe there should be a look at the state's energy conservation activities which has work programmed $356,322 in state and federal funds (although $211,314 in federal funds is yet to be released). That money has not and will not produce a single gallon of gasoline or kilowatt of electricity.

It might be well to look at the substantial expenditure of highway funds for purposes other than the construction and maintenance of highways. The issuance of drivers' licenses entails a net expense to the highway fund over and above the prices paid by the licensees.

The waste of public money is unacceptable. And that waste cannot be sloughed off by the facetious remark, "don't complain about the cost of government. You ought to be glad you don't get all the government you pay for."

A Christmas Project for the Youngsters

Children love making decorations and Christmas-time is an especially good time to put that creative energy of theirs to work!

Here's a holiday project that they will enjoy, because it is so easy and afterwards, they will have a charming decoration for their room:

Start with two 9 x 12 felt squares, (these are obtainable already cut, if you like) one red, one green.

Construct a triangle for youngsters to use as a pattern, by drawing a 6" line on cardboard, then drawing another line in the middle of straight line at a right angle, to 6" height; connect the 3 points to form a triangle and cut out.

Have youngsters cut green felt to this pattern, also cutting a small square (about 1 x 1") to serve as tree stand. Using double-faced tape or glue, have them affix "tree" and "stand" to red felt. Now have them tape or glue the whole thing onto 9 x 12 cardboard. With a single-hole punch, let them punch holes around border of red felt (4 on top and bottom, 5 on each side will do) and then give them green yarn to draw through holes, with yarn tied into bow at the bottom. They can then tie a shorter piece of yarn to end holes on top, for hanging.

This simple little project will keep children amused for quite awhile and give them a feeling of accomplishment as they view their work of art.

The Legend of The Christmas Angel

There is a beautiful legend about how Mary, the mother of Jesus, chooses children each Christmas to sing carols for the Holy Babe.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

For you, we wish a Christmas warmed with the spirit of a glowing hearth, bright with the joys of gleaming trees and glad surprises . . . and most of all, rich in the blessings of home and family. It is our privilege to send you this fond greeting and with it our deep gratitude for your patronage.

News of Christ's Birth First Told to Shepherds

"And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night".

So begins the scriptural account of the most thrilling announcement ever made to mankind: the birth of Jesus. It was not made, interestingly enough, to the rich and powerful or even to one of the many prophets that the tiny country of Israel seemed to produce in such abundance during Biblical times.

The "good news" that the Messiah had at last come to a waiting world was first announced to a group of shepherds tending their flock through the night, St. Luke tells us. Even though Christ was probably not born during the winter, when we traditionally celebrate His birth (scientists believe that it actually occurred in the springtime) the shepherds were probably doing their best to keep warm in the chill night air; one can imagine them huddled around a fire, perhaps making the lonely hours pass with occasional conversation.

Suddenly, there is a dazzling sight; so dazzling that, St. Luke tells us, "they were sore afraid". The angel that appeared in the midst of them sought to reassure them, saying "Fear not; for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people".

The angel describes the Christ Child to the awestruck shepherds and soon they see an even more dazzling sight . . . a multitude of the heavenly host praising God.

With the words of the angels echoing in their ears - "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men" - the amazed shepherds decide that they will go into Bethlehem and see this wonderful event for themselves. And so they went to Bethlehem "with haste", the scriptures say, to find Mary and Joseph with the Christ Child lying in a manger.

No further mention is made of those shepherds in the scriptures . . . they appear on the horizon at a momentous time in history, only to disappear.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

O Come, Let us Adore Him!

Christmas Tree Is a Tradition In Many Lands

What would the holiday season be without a Christmas tree? Part of the enchantment of childhood memories is the recollection of the family tree, gaily bedecked and surrounded by temptingly mysterious packages.

It is thought that the Christmas tree originated with the Alsations. We know for a fact that Prince Albert introduced it to Victorian England but interestingly enough, America had it before then - thanks to her German settlers and the Hessian soldiers who fought in the Revolution.

Today it is one of the most popular Christmas symbols.

Here in the United States, popcorn and tinsel, ornaments and electric lights, artificial snow and icicles decorate trees in homes and offices.

In Italy, the Christmas tree is not really a tree; rather, it is a pyramid of shelves, called a ceppo. At the base of this wooden frame, there is often a manger scene, a presepio. Other tiers in the pyramid hold candy, fruit, small gifts and gilded pine cones. Lighted candles are placed at the corners of these shelves.

In Denmark, lighted candles are placed on the tree, along with Danish cookies, confections of marzipan, and heart-shaped baskets of colored paper, with pieces of candy tucked inside. Celebrants dance around the lighted tree, singing "First we'll look at the tree, later we'll eat it," a traditional Danish song.

Although the Christmas tree may vary from country to country, wherever it is used, it is a symbol of joy and expectation.

And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts: gold, and frankincense, and myrrh.

Matthew 2:11

Christmas Customs of Far Away, Long Ago

Every nation has its share of delightful Christmas customs, and although today many of those traditions are no longer strictly observed, some of these quaint customs are still remembered.

In Czechoslovakia, for instance, the Christmas season signaled the time to end quarrels, so that the new year could begin in a spirit of love and friendship. Thus, there was a great deal of visiting back and forth as everyone sought to patch up any misunderstandings. Caroling was also a popular custom in Czechoslovakia and as the carolers went about singing, they carried miniature Nativity scenes with them.

In France, the holiday season was the occasion for a comic scene. A huge wicker figure known as Melchior, carrying a basket and wearing colorful attire, would be strapped to a donkey and taken door to door, collecting food. All the poor of the parish would then be invited to come to the local church, where these food donations would be given to them.

Wreaths and chains made of brilliant tropical flowers offer a great contrast at Christmastime in the Philippines. There children parade and sing after mass, led by a band. Instead of a Christmas tree, there are flags, palms, and flowers in the home and a candle is kept burning in the window all night long.

In Sicily, a procession follows Christmas Eve services. With a waxen image of the Christ Child at the head of the procession, the celebrants wind their way through the town, while church bells ring and rockets flare.

A beautiful Polish custom would be observed when the first star of the evening appeared on Christmas Eve. Straw would be placed under the supper table, along with dishes and a tablecloth. One chair would be left vacant for the Christ Child, as the head of the family broke and shared a "peace wafer", a symbol of peace on earth.

Another lovely custom comes from Ireland. There, on Christmas evening, candles are lighted and placed in each window and doors are left ajar. This is to symbolize the offering of hospitality to Joseph and Mary and the Holy Babe. The candles are left aglow all night long and are finally snuffed out by those answering to the name of Mary.

In Switzerland, children wait for the arrival of "Samichlaus" on December 5th. Wearing a jolly mask, he boasts a white flowing beard, a fur-trimmed robe and carries a gray sack and staff.

Yuletide Tree

Has Origins in Primitive Beliefs

How about decorating your tree with apples and round wafers this year? They may not be as colorful as the glittering balls and ornaments you normally use, but they're more in keeping with the early methods of tree-trimming.

The tree is a symbol of immortality, the apples stand for sin, and the round wafers mean redemption. That, at least, is the way Christians after the 15th century saw it.

They took the Paradise Tree (symbol of the fall of man in the miracle plays of the Middle Ages), brought it into their homes, and used it as a lesson in morality for their children.

Over the years, the religious aspects of the tree gave way to pure decoration. The apples were replaced by ornaments, the wafers, by stars, moons, men and animals.

The tree itself is steeped in traditions that date back to even earlier times.

In the cold North, primitive men watched the approach of winter with fear. They saw the sunlight dwindle, the days grow short and the fields freeze up. There seemed no hope of another harvest.

Evergreens alone attested to the return of light and life and the revival of the sun god. The primitives brought them inside in tubs, to protect the spirits of the woods and to bolster family courage through the dark winter days.

FIREPLACE GIFT MAKES HOLIDAYS WARMER, SAFER

A gift for the house is a Christmas tradition in many homes. With the fireplace being used often these days for auxiliary heat and fuel conservation, accessories for the fireplace are more welcome than ever, according to the Fireplace Institute.

Many are useful as well as decorative. The popular fire-screens with tempered glass doors are energy savers. For safety's sake, a fireplace damper should not be closed for several hours after a fire dies out. The glass doors of the screen can be closed while the damper is left open and warm air is not drawn up the chimney.

This and other types of firescreens provide protection from sparks and hot coals popping out into the room. Some firescreens are free-standing, others attach to the fireplace opening. Custom-made screens are available for the odd-size fireplace.

To safely shift logs or place new ones in the hot fire chamber, a sturdy pair of tongs and a poker are needed. A brush and shovel for cleaning the fire chamber and hearth are often included in sets of tools designed to match your room decor. A wood-holder or basket keep logs handy and neatly stacked by the hearth.

A grate and andirons hold logs correctly and provide air circulation for a good fire. In addition to conventional grates, many fireplace dealers offer grates constructed to direct more of the heated air into the room.

Increased use of fireplaces for heat has made log lighters a popular accessory item. Gas lighters provide a steady flame until logs ignite. A tray that contains fuel and which slides under the logs can also be used as a substitute for kindling. The traditional Cape Cod fire lighter, a pot which holds fuel and a wand, is also popular both for decoration and lighting the fire. Commercially made fire-starting cubes are a safe substitute for kindling. Super long fireplace matches come in decorative containers.

For dedicated recyclers, manufactured logs are available in many fireplace accessory shops as well as a handy gadget that rolls old newspapers into tight "logs."

Old-fashioned bellows beside the hearth add a traditional decorative touch, but are also handy when the blaze needs some encouragement.

People are re-discovering the fascination of hearthside cooking. Long-handled popcorn poppers are fast moving items, say fireplace dealers. Grills for sizzling steaks and cast-iron pots for simmering beans or stew also are much in demand.

Since the energy crisis began, fireplaces aren't just for hanging Christmas stockings. It's the place where the family gathers for warmth, carols and good home cooking.

His birth illuminates the land with the glow of happiness and love. A blessed Christmas to you and yours.

I Heard the Bells on Christmas Day

Silver bells, jingle bells, sleigh bells... it's hard to imagine Christmas without some sort of chiming or ringing. But bells were not initially part of the holiday celebration.

The first large bell for a Christian church was installed in Italy, about the 5th century A.D., and the custom of Christmas bell-ringing really didn't become firmly established until the Middle Ages, in England.

In that era, Christmas chimes began at vespers on the first Sunday of Advent and were repeated on successive Sundays. Then, on each of the last three mornings before Christmas, the bells announced the approach of the big day.

From sunset on December 24 to sunset on December 25, bells could be heard every hour. Occasional peals rang out in between hours for no particular reason.

But the most important part of the tolling occurred during the hour before midnight on Christmas Eve, when the bells were rung as if someone were dying. At midnight the death knell changed to a joyous peal, announcing the death of Satan and the birth of the Christ Child.

To the people of the Middle Ages, the sound of the Christmas bells recalled the song of the angels on that first holy night.

The Yule Log

The Persians gave the Yule log its name. It was the custom in Persia to cut down a tree and cut a section from its trunk. The section was round, and marked off into four segments representing the four seasons of the year.

This "calendar" was turned like a wheel and was called a Yole. The log from which it was cut was known as the Yole log.

With every season, the wheel was turned and a great fire kindled. The Yole log was placed in this fire, as the people prayed for good fortune during the coming season.

Chanukah: A Time for Festivities

Not only is December a time of festivities for Christians, it also ushers in a very special season for those of the Jewish faith.

On December 5th, Chanukah, also known as the Feast of Lights, begins. This festival lasts 8 days and commemorates the victory of the Maccabees over the Syrians in 165 B.C., after a three-year struggle. The victorious Jews held festivities in the Temple of Jerusalem after overthrowing the Syrians, rededicating their temple to God.

Each year the Jewish people celebrate the feast of Chanukah by exchanging gifts, giving to the poor, enjoying special dishes and lighting the 8-branched Chanukah menorah, a candelabrum used especially for the occasion.

On the first evening of the Chanukah season, one candle is lit and a traditional prayer is said. On each following evening an additional candle is lit, until all eight candles gleam on the last evening.

Chanukah is an especially joyful time for children; in addition to receiving gifts, there are traditional games to be played. Not to mention all the delicious food that is served during this season, including pastries and candies.

Chanukah (sometimes spelled Hanukkah) lasts for eight days, in honor of the temple lights that remained miraculously lit for eight days and nights after the victorious celebration of the Maccabees.

You can be sure that Jewish children are delighted their festival lasts so long!

Merry Christmas to All!
Be happy and full of good cheer now and throughout the holiday season.

The Legend of The Very First Poinsettia

Have you ever seen a poinsettia? It's a beautiful, red flower with a yellow center, that people like to decorate with at Christmas-time.

There is a lovely legend about how the poinsettia came to be and it begins in Mexico, a country that is just south of the United States.

There was a young boy who was very sad one Christmas Eve. You see, in his little town it was the custom to offer gifts to the Christ Child. People would come to the church on Christmas Eve and place their gifts upon the altar.

But Manuelito, as we shall call him, was very poor. He had no gift to bring before the Infant Jesus.

Too shy to go inside the church without a gift, he knelt outside a window and began to pray. We don't know what Manuelito said, but perhaps he was telling the Holy Infant how sorry he was that he did not have a gift to offer. For that is what prayer is, you know: talking to God.

As he rose to his feet, he noticed a beautiful red flower growing in the very spot where he had knelt. Amazed, he bent down to examine the flower. He had never seen one like it before.

Suddenly he realized that this lovely flower was a gift from heaven, an answer to his prayer!

Joyfully, Manuelito plucked the flower and carried it inside, to lay before the altar.

And that is why the poinsettia is known as "The Flower of the Holy Night" in Mexico.

BETHLEHEM'S STAR INSPIRES SPECULATION

"And lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was".

This description by Matthew of the Wise Men's visit to the Christ Child has caused speculation for centuries about the nature of that star.

While some believe that there is no natural explanation for this star seen "in the east" by the Wise Men, others have attempted to find an astronomical explanation for the phenomenon.

It is important to realize how much the people of Christ's time depended on astrology, scientists have pointed out.

A configuration of Jupiter, Saturn and Mars that occurred in February of 6 B.C. is considered as a possibility in searching for the star of Bethlehem. It is believed that such a massing of planets must have been quite spectacular, and of sufficient import to have caused the Magi to travel great distances. Since the exact year of Christ's birth is not known, (the year A.D. 1 was selected by Dionysius in the mistaken idea that Jesus was born in the 28th year of the reign of Emperor Augustus) this date is a distinct possibility.

Another explanation is that the "star" was in fact the glow caused by Jupiter passing Saturn in the year 6 B.C.

Whatever the explanation for the star of Bethlehem—natural or supernatural—the faithful will continue to follow its guiding light to find the Infant Jesus, even as the Wise Men did two thousand years ago.

Away in a manger,
no crib for his bed,
The little Lord Jesus
laid down His sweet head:
The stars in the heavens
look'd down where He lay,
The little Lord Jesus
asleep in the hay.

MEMORY MAKING

Yuletide traditions...that's what the holidays are all about!

Keeping the old—like reading the family's favorite story 'round a crackling fire on Christmas Eve. Or waking up to familiar holiday music.

Creating the new—like an annual salt sculpture party to make original, personalized ornaments for the Christmas tree!

It's fun for all ages. Everyone from Grandpa to the toddler can participate. And, even better, you're guaranteed maximum merriment with minimal mess.

Just a few steps—and you'll have a selection of family-fashioned Christmas ornaments that will last as long as your memories from making them.

First, plan your work areas like a progressive dinner. Use one spot for making the dough and another for molding or cutting out the pieces. A third area should be set aside for decorating the finished creations. Second, plan in advance for all ages.

In the first area, be sure enough flour, salt and water are available. Each batch of dough will make about two dozen cookie cutter shapes or one holiday wreath. Use a bread board for kneading the dough. Place dough that won't be used immediately into a plastic bag to keep it from drying.

Children can have one table filled with cookie cutters, a few foil-covered cookie sheets and the dough. Adults may want to join the kids in making simple designs—or set aside a separate space to work on more intricate free-form sculptures. Make sure a selection of forks, butter knives or other utensils are available for cutting, shaping and making imprints; nail heads make good holes for string loops.

When everyone's through, use spray varnish to protect finished pieces from moisture.

Other salt sculpture party tips? Have each family member sign their name and date on the back of their creations—memories for the years ahead. Then let everyone hang their finished pieces on the holiday tree.

For more salt sculpture ideas from the 32-page, full-color "Dough-It-Yourself Handbook," send $1.00, check or money order, to: Dough-It-Yourself Handbook," Box 9067, Kankakee, Illinois 60901. (Allow four weeks for delivery.)

SALT SCULPTURE DOUGH

2 cups flour (not self-rising)
1 cup Morton Salt
1 cup water

Combine flour and salt in a large flat-bottomed bowl, and mix well with spoon. Next add water (a little at a time) mixing as you pour to form the dough into a ball. Additional water may be needed, depending on the humidity. Take care not to add too much so dough becomes sticky. Knead 7 to 10 minutes until dough has a smooth, yet firm, consistency. Place dough that will not be used immediately in a plastic bag to keep it from drying.

Place finished pieces on foil-covered cookie sheet and place in 325-350 degree oven. Allow to bake one-half hour for each 1/4-inch of thickness or until golden brown. If sculptures puff up, reduce oven temperature by 50 to 75 degrees and poke piece with pin or toothpick to release air.

Brush the piece with egg or milk during baking for a natural brown finish. Or, paint it after it is cooled. Apply a coat of lacquer, varnish or shellac to both sides of each piece to protect it from moisture or humidity.

Sing out the carols!

Delight in merry Christmas tunes... lots of lighthearted fun. For valued patronage, thanks to everyone.

Among the many delights of Christmastime are those wondrous bits of crystal we call snowflakes. Is there any pastime more pleasant than watching the first snowfall of the season?

While scientists may describe snowflakes as water vapor in the air that has crystallized into geometrical forms, most snowflake fanciers prefer a term such as "snow blossoms". Although two snowflakes are rarely alike, they do fall into two distinct categories, columnar and tabular. Most of them are transparent, with brilliant facets that reflect light, giving them a white appearance when massed.

Included in the columnar form of snowflakes are hexagonal columns and long, slender, needle-like columns.

Tabular forms are the most varied and beautiful snow crystals, assuming delicate, starry, branching forms. It is these crystals that have drawn the awe and admiration of scientists and lay persons alike for centuries.

Naturalists have attempted to draw these fragile patterns in earlier times and more recently have made photo-micro-graphs of the crystals. Perhaps part of the fascination of snowflakes is their fleeting nature, enhancing the ethereal quality of their beauty.

Although we understand the process through which snowflakes are formed, thanks to science, we can never lose that sense of wonder and admiration at the first snowfall.

1752 Calendar Set Christmas Date on Dec. 25

We know that our calendar today is a relatively modern institution. But do we realize that in earliest times, Christmas was celebrated on January 18? It is still so celebrated by the Armenian church. Later on, the date became January 6 — and it was only in 1752, with the final change to the Gregorian calendar, that the rearrangement of dates placed Christmas Day on December 25.

Some church people in England were very indignant when this change took place — feeling that somehow they had been robbed of 11 days and the corresponding wages. Some of them tried to find out if the new date were correct by noting whether or not the tree called the Glastonbury Thorn (supposedly planted by Joseph of Arimathea) would flower on the new date or the old. Sometimes the tree bloomed on one day and sometimes on the other, however, depending on the weather — so that supporters of both dates managed to keep up the quarrel for some time.

The Story of St. Joseph

Against the humble drama of that first Christmas in Bethlehem, the figure of Joseph and his experience of anguish, hardship and heroic devotion are often overlooked. But Joseph played an integral role in the Christmas story; he led Mary to Bethlehem, named the Child "Jesus" as the angel had told him and protected the mother and her Child from danger.

Scriptural accounts are scant on detail about Joseph, but he is referred to as a "just man" in Matthew's writings, and it is implied that he adhered scrupulously to Judaic and civil laws.

You can imagine his horror, then, when, after a 3-month visit with her cousin Elizabeth, Mary returned to him, pregnant with a Child he had not sired.

Then, in the height of his desperation, an angel appeared to him in a dream with good news: "Fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife: for that which is conceived in her is of the Holy Spirit. And she shall bring forth a Son, and thou shalt call His name Jesus: for He shall save His people from their sins".

At that moment, Joseph must have felt a little bewildered... but immensely relieved. From then on, it seems that he trusted Mary wholeheartedly. Even when it was time for him to travel to Bethlehem for the census, he would not leave her. He brought Mary with him, despite the fact that it was a long journey—about eighty miles—and the time for her to give birth was drawing near.

Upon their arrival in Bethlehem, there was nothing but trouble. Think how disappointed Joseph must have been when he could not find a room for Mary to deliver her first Child. After hours and hours of searching, he managed to locate a stable, where she could at least have some privacy.

There, Mary gave birth to Jesus... and both she and Joseph must have been overjoyed. Imagine Joseph's pride when he showed the Child to the shepherds, and his awe at the visit of the Magi, with their expensive gifts.

According to nonbiblical accounts, Mary and Joseph remained happily in Bethlehem for about a year. But they were troubled by reports that the jealous King Herod was inquiring about their Son's identity and whereabouts.

An angel came to him in a dream again, saying: "Arise and take the young Child and His mother, and flee into Egypt and be thou there until I bring thee word: for Herod will seek the young Child to destroy Him".

Trusting the dream, Joseph obeyed unquestioningly and led Mary and the Child to Egypt.

In light of all these early events, it seems that Joseph must have been an extraordinary man — one who was not afraid of responsibility, who confronted problems head on, who was unflinchingly devoted to his family, and obedient to the will of God.

Wassail Bowl

As you raise your cup of kindness on Christmas or New Year's Day, keep in mind that you are continuing a tradition that dates back hundreds of years.

According to legend, the wassail bowl and the Christmas toast started with the same gesture. At the reception for an early Germanic chieftain in Britain, the daughter of the chieftain offered a gold cup filled with wine to the host and said, "Waes hael hlaford Cyning" or "Be of health, Lord King."

The practice of drinking a wassail quickly became popular. The common people of the Middle Ages, who could not afford the fine wines of the nobility, used a mixture of hot ale, sugar, nutmeg and ginger. Later on, Spanish sherry fortified with brandy became a popular base for the wassail.

Early wassail bowls frequently had toast and fruit floating on the top, and so the custom of drinking to one's health gradually came to be known as a "toast".

Exultant holiday music fills the air as we sing the praises of our good patrons.

CHRISTMAS BIRD FEEDER

Those of you who are kind to our fine, feathered friends all year 'round will want to add some extra holiday fare to your bird feeder. Cranberries and popcorn make a special treat as do small boxes of suet and seed.

Decorating a small tree near your house will provide color for you, and nourishment for the birds. Here are a few suggestions for decorating your bird tree:

HOLIDAY DOUGHNUTS — Loop colored ribbon through the hole of a doughnut, and add a sprig of holly berry. Hang on tree with wire.

POPCORN STRINGS — String popcorn onto 20 to 24 inch lengths of heavy duty thread. Hang, looped, onto bird tree.

CRANBERRIES — Using wire, string cranberries and shape into a circle, leaving a length of wire at the end, to attach to the tree.

ORANGE HALVES — Cut oranges in half. Make three holes, equidistant, around the edge of each half, about 1/2" down from edge. Push ends of pipe cleaners through each hole, securing firmly at lower end. At top of pipe cleaners, twist all three ends together tightly. Using another pipe cleaner as a loop, attach to tree.

BACH'S MUSIC ADDS TO JOY OF CHRISTMAS

Of all the inspiring music that is heard at Christmastime, none can excel the glorious sounds of Johann Sebastian Bach.

A deeply religious man, Bach through his music conveys to us all the rich heritage of his German background and the fruits of his genius are never more inspiring than during the holiday season.

Bach's "Christmas Oratorio" consists of six cantatas that feature a narrative of New Testament readings, interspersed with arias and chorales. This work was originally performed on six separate days: on three days at Christmastime, New Year's Day, the following Sunday and on the feast of the Epiphany.

The "Christmas Oratorio" is still performed by choirs here in the United States at Christmastime, although not in its entirety.

Another Bach favorite at Christmastime is his "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" from Cantata No. 147. The rich choral measures and melodic background of this beautiful work, together with the worshipful text, cannot but inspire devotion in the hearer:

"Jesu, joy of man's desiring, holy wisdom siring love most bright, through the way where hope is guiding, hark, what peaceful music rings!"

Bach died in comparative obscurity in 1750 and for many years his works were forgotten. But today his genius is recognized, and shines forth brightly before all men during the holy season.

A Visit from St. Nicholas

'Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse;

The stockings were hung by the chimney with care, In hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there.

The children were nestled all snug in their beds, While visions of sugar-plums danced in their heads;

And Mamma in her kerchief, and I in my cap, Had just settled our brains for a long winter's nap.

When out on the lawn there arose such a clatter,

I sprang from my bed to see what was the matter. Away to the window I flew like a flash,

Tore open the shutters and threw up the sash. The moon on the breast of the new-fallen snow Gave a lustre of mid-day to objects below,

When, what to my wondering eyes did appear, But a miniature sleigh, and eight tiny reindeer.

With a little old driver, so lively and quick, I knew in a moment it must be St. Nick. More rapid than eagles his coursers they came, And he whistled, and shouted, and called them by name.

"Now, Dasher! now, Dancer! now, Prancer and Vixen! On Comet! on, Cupid! on, Dunder and Blitzen! To the top of the porch! to the top of the wall! Now dash away! dash away! dash away all!"

His droll little mouth was drawn up like a bow, And the beard on his chin was as white as the snow.

He spoke not a word, but went straight to his work, And filled all the stockings; then turned with a jerk, And laying his finger aside of his nose,

And giving a nod, up the chimney he rose. He sprang to his sleigh, to his team gave a whistle, And away they all flew like the down of a thistle.

But I heard him exclaim ere he drove out of sight, "Happy Christmas to all... and to all a goodnight!"

Festive Fillings

SIMPLY DELICIOUS stuffing suggestions start with a packaged mix and end up mouth watering.

Many tasty ways to stuff the holiday turkey have been developed by Pepperidge Farm. Water chestnuts are used to add a delightful crunch to familiar herb-seasoned stuffing, and sauteed chicken livers heighten the flavor of corn bread stuffing.

STUFFING ORIENTALE

- 1 (16 ounce) package Pepperidge Farm herb-seasoned stuffing
- 1/3 cup butter or margarine
- 3/4 cup chopped onion
- 1 cup chopped celery
- 2 (6 ounce) cans water chestnuts, drained and sliced
- 2 cups water or chicken broth

Saute onion and celery in butter until tender. Add water, stuffing and water chestnuts. Toss lightly. Stuff turkey. Fills a 12- to 16-pound turkey.

CORN BREAD AND CHICKEN LIVER STUFFING

- 1 (8 ounce) package Pepperidge Farm corn bread stuffing
- 1/2 cup chicken livers
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup chopped celery
- 1/2 cup finely chopped green pepper
- 1/4 cup finely chopped onion
- 1 bay leaf, crushed
- 3/4 cup chicken broth or water

Saute chicken livers in butter until just done, about 4 minutes. Remove from pan and chop. Saute celery, green pepper, onion and bay leaf until tender. Add broth, bring to a boil, remove from heat and toss with stuffing and chopped chicken livers. Makes 6 servings. Double recipe for 16-pound turkey. Use as stuffing for roast chicken, Cornish hen, summer squash or eggplant.

Christmas in the United States Today

Although people may bemoan the passage of such charming Christmas customs as chopping down the Christmas tree and bringing it home on a sled, nonetheless there are still many delightful other rituals being observed today throughout the United States.

In many a town and city, youngsters will be donning robes and cardboard wings to enact the Nativity story before friends and family in the annual Christmas pageant.

Many churches today hold candlelight services as a highlight of the holiday season, with sacred music and Christmas carols performed by their choirs.

Churches and organizations alike have made baskets of food for the less fortunate a Christmas tradition, and many make a practice of collecting toys for under-privileged youngsters.

And although Americans may not be able to trek into the woods to chop down their own trees nowadays, what many are doing is much more conservation-minded: displaying live Christmas trees in their homes for the holidays, then donating them to parks for replanting!

Speaking of displays, today's electric lights enable us to create dazzling outdoor decorations during the holiday season. Neighborhoods now vie with one another to put on the most colorful, imaginative displays that often attract sightseers from miles around.

And while we may complain about the increasing commercialization of Christmas, more and more Americans are taking the time and effort to make their holiday gifts.

St. Nick's Village

By Dorothy Vondenbrink

One enchanted winters night
Around the fifth of December
I walked by bright starlight
Or at least so I remember.

The sagebrush whispered softly
As I dreamily passed by
And the moonlight cast a path
Which irresistibly caught my eye.

As I walked along the moon made path
For what seemed a long long while,
I came upon a strange little man
Who charmed me with his smile.

He said he had been waiting for me
How long he would not tell
But how he knew I would take that path
Was a secret he guarded well.

He took my hand so gently
And in the twinkling of an eye
We were in a charming village
Beneath a candy colored sky.

The village was so peaceful
And it glistened in the light
For the gaily colored houses nestled
In a snowy field of white.

Then the strange man turned to me and said,
I see you are confused;
Well this is St. Nick's special place
Seen by only those whom he'll choose.

He took me to the Toy Factory
Where elves gaily worked away
And said, our schedule is very close
For these toys must be done today.

As I watched I saw each part
Put gently into place
And I knew the work would soon be done
If they continued at that pace.

As we walked out of the factory
We saw elves loading the Sleigh
It wouldn't be long before St. Nick
Would be merrily on his way.

I thought of all the children
Their stockings hung with care
Trusting that St. Nicholas
Would place their presents there.

I thought of little children
In countries far and near
Who do not celebrate Christmas
And of St. Nicholas they never hear.

A sadness fell upon me
For the joy they would not share
Because without a childlike faith and trust
St. Nicholas can't come there.

I wondered how I could reach
The parents everywhere
And tell them of St. Nicholas
So this tradition they could share.

Then when St. Nick mounts his sleigh
For his preChristmas call
He would visit every child on earth
Bringing love and joy to all.

Then the boys and girls who have been good
Would know they were doing fine,
And the bad boys and girls could mend their ways
And their parents they would mind

I was so deeply lost in thought
That I almost failed to see
St. Nick on his sleigh, with a Jolly Laugh
Wave good by to his elves and me.

I turned to speak to the strange little man
And was surprised as I could be
For I wasn't in a village at all
I was standing by a Joshua tree.

May Peace be with you this Joyous Holiday season as we celebrate the Birth of Christ, the Prince of Peace. The best of the season to everyone.

Door-to-door caroling may not be the practice today, but there are many church groups and clubs that make it a point to go caroling at hospitals and convalescent homes, bringing holiday cheer.

Gift-Giving Tips

People who have the gift of giving presents that are appreciated are often the ones who don't give people gifts—instead they give gifts to people. Here are the secrets of their expertise:

- They consider the needs and personality of the recipient, as well as the qualities of the gifts, and they don't make the mistake of buying something just because they would like it themselves.

A GOOD GIFT is usually something unusual yet useful.

- They know that quality is more important than quantity. A gift that's the finest of its kind usually gives more satisfaction than several gifts of lesser quality. Quality endures, a bargain often doesn't.

- They make a gift exciting, exotic—but not useless; something out of the ordinary, but not outrageous.

- They understand that practical purchases are often most appreciated, especially when they are also fun. Many people, for example, would consider it a cool idea to give (and get) an ice cream maker. There's one—the Ice Cream Parlor—from Waring that makes virtually any ice cream you can dream up—plus frozen yogurt, ice milk, fruit ices and spumoni. It prepares these desserts faster than similar machines, and instead of rock salt and crushed ice, it uses regular table salt and ice cubes straight from the refrigerator. What's more, it even has a see-through top so you can watch it work. It automatically turns itself off when ready—usually in about half an hour from the moment you turn it on.

- Finally, they give the gift they've selected a good wrapping. A present should appeal to the eye and attractive paper gives a feeling of promise and excitement.

If you keep these tips in mind, and keep a presence of mind when choosing presents, you could receive a reputation as a great giver.

THE ORIGIN OF CHRISTMAS GREETINGS IN AMERICA

Would you believe that about four billion Christmas cards are sent every Christmas? No wonder the post office hires extra help each year! It does sound like an insurmountable job! But what a lovely way to wish friends and family well and to renew old friendships. But do you know that exchanging Christmas cards is a comparatively recent custom?

Although there are several claims as to who originated the sending of Christmas cards, there is evidence this lovely custom began in England in the early 1800's. It is generally acknowledged that Louis Prang, a native German who settled in Boston, introduced them in America in about 1875.

His early cards, produced by a process of color lithography, were models of expert craftsmanship. They featured flower designs such as daisies and roses, and were quite unlike Christmas cards of today. By 1881, Prang was turning out about 5 million cards a year, and as time went by he offered more typical Christmas scenes, including the visit of Santa Claus, Madonna and Child, and blazing fires.

In 1880 or 1881 Prang sponsored an open competition for Christmas card designs, offering prizes that came to about $3,000. More than 600 entries were received and were exhibited in galleries. Noted personalities of that time acted as judges.

The superior quality and workmanship of the Prang cards added to their popularity. However, with an increasing demand for cards, inferior, inartistic, cheaper cards came flooding in from Europe, and Prang found it hard to compete. He stopped producing his beautiful cards, but they are still highly valued and sought after by collectors.

Now we have cards available to fit our every mood, and one would be hard pressed to imagine the number of artists and verse writers who make up the creative forces of this vast industry. Sending and receiving Christmas cards is one of the delights of the holiday.

There is no doubt that this heartwarming custom will continue and so we say "thanks" to Mr. Prang, wherever he may be, for adding great spirit to Christmas in America!

The Legend of St. Winfred

A legend about St. Winfred, who was a missionary to the Scandinavians in the 8th century, explains the origin of the Christmas tree.

It seems that St. Winfred was cutting down a large oak tree, when suddenly a young fir tree sprang up in its place. The missionary declared this miraculous tree to be holy and gave it to the Scandinavians to commemorate the birth of the Savior.

Advent Prepares Faithful for Coming Christmas Season

Advent is that period before Christmas, and in many churches it is observed as a time of preparation for the coming holiday.

In some homes, an Advent wreath is prominently displayed as a reminder of the coming event. It can be just a circular frame, entwined with fir branches or other greenery, but it always has four candles placed upon it. During the Advent season, three of these candles are violet and one is rose. The violet color symbolizes repentance and the rose symbolizes joy. Often matching ribbons are tied around each candle.

On the second Sunday of Advent, two violet candles are lit. On the third Sunday, two violet candles and the rose candle are lit. This Third Sunday is known in church calendars as Gaudete Sunday, a day of rejoicing because Christ is approaching.

On the fourth Sunday of Advent, all four candles are lit. There is much symbolism involved in the custom of the Advent wreath, which serves as a reminder to the faithful that Christ, the light of the world, dispels the darkness of sin, ignorance, and hate.

The circle, since it has no beginning nor end, symbolizes eternity and God.

The wreath is traditionally made of evergreen. Green is the color of hope, life, and growth. A white candle may be placed in the center of the Advent wreath, to symbolize Christ.

On Christmas Eve this Christ candle is lighted, signifying that He who is the light, has been born.

Although the Advent wreath is not widely known here in the United States, it is an old Christian custom that is still observed in many homes and churches today.

SEASON'S EATINGS

It can be easy as pie to prepare marvelous meals that get guests set for the holiday spirit. For some examples, gaze at these recipes for great glazes, exciting eggnog and party pastries.

RUM EGGNOG

- 12 egg yolks
- 1/2 pound sugar
- 1 quart milk
- 1 fifth gold Puerto Rican rum

Beat egg yolks until very light. Beat in sugar till thick. Stir in milk and rum. Chill 3 hours. Pour into punch bowl. Or, simply combine rum with a quart of prepared eggnog mix. Top with nutmeg. Serves about 12 this way. Fills about 24 small mugs.

GLAZE FOR ROAST TURKEY

- 1 small can jellied cranberry sauce
- 3 tablespoons light corn syrup
- 1/4 cup dry white wine

GLAZE FOR ROAST HAM

- 1 cup orange juice

1/2 cup white Puerto Rican rum
 1/2 cup brown sugar
 1 tablespoon ginger
 Few whole cloves
 Combine ingredients and bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer about 30 minutes, or until syrupy. Strain. Brush over ham several times during last hour of baking.

MINI-MINCE PIES

About 18-24 tart shells
 1 jar (28 oz.) prepared mincemeat
 1/3 cup gold Puerto Rican rum
 Make and bake tart shells using packaged pie crust mix; or, buy ready-to-fill tart shells. Arrange the shells on a cookie tin. Mix mincemeat and rum and fill shells. Cover with foil (so filling won't get too dry) and bake in a moderate oven, 350°, for about 20 minutes. Serve warm with a generous dollop of hard sauce. Makes 1-1/2 or 2 dozen depending on size of tart shells.

This is Christmas
 Sleigh bells. Carols.
 Holly wreaths. Snowflakes.
 And goodwill to men.

THE PRAYER OF ST. FRANCIS

Lord, make me an instrument of your peace
 Where there is hatred,
 Let me sow love
 Where there is injury, pardon
 Where there is doubt, faith
 hope
 Where there is darkness, light
 And where there is sadness, joy
 O Divine Master, grant that I may not so much seek to be consoled as to console; to be understood as to understand; to be loved as to love; for it is in giving that we receive, it is in pardoning that we are pardoned, and it is in dying that we are born to eternal life.

A New Look For The New Year

Just as small packages at Yuletide often are the most prized, so too is an almost invisible gift...soft contact lenses. Although you cannot give the actual lenses on a special day, you can wrap up a gift certificate or an eye doctor's appointment card to make the day a very special one.

Prospects for this gift, according to experts at Bausch & Lomb are women and teenage girls who want to enhance their appearance and men who are active in sports.

Many prefer soft contact lenses, because they usually are comfortable from the start, they rarely pop out accidentally, and because they fit so close to the cornea there are few problems with dust, even on windy days.

Only an eye doctor can help you decide whether contact lenses would be an appropriate present for a friend or a member of your family, and he can give you a certificate or card to wrap as a gift.

Caught up in the magic of the holiday, young and old dream dreams of fun and laughter and joy ever after! All these we wish for you... and more. It's our way of saying thank you for brightening our lives with your friendship.

First Graders Prepare For Christmas

The Christmas season is reflected in many ways in the classrooms at Robert Taylor Elementary School. Art, music as well as language arts and math are a part of the whole procedure - witness the class taught by Mrs. Jeannine Brown, first grade teacher.

The children have been busy with art projects, one of which is the making of Christmas chains. There is a great deal of competition as the children measure the length of one chain as compared with another or with the height of the maker of the chain.

Another activity involves the expression of individual ideas concerning what is good about Christmas. Each child talks to Mrs. Brown, telling her what he thinks is nice about the holiday. Since he talks alone to his teacher no child knows what his friends have said. Therefore he must use his own words and thoughts. Mrs. Brown writes the opinions down just as they are told to her.

When the project is completed the results are to be made into a booklet, copies of which will be taken home as Christmas gifts to parents.

Here are some of the children's thoughts.

Heather: It's December and Christmas is Jesus' birthday. I like giving to others and I like to make Santa Claus and Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer.

Bourke: I like the toys and at my house they let me open the presents and all that stuff, and last year I was bad but they didn't make me go to bed and that's what's nice and I got a bow and arrow. I like Christmas.

Tomila: I like to give Christmas presents and open them and I like the decorations on the Christmas tree.

Jim: I like the Christmas tree. We put up decorations on the door. I like Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer and Frosty the Snowman and Christmas bells and I like giving and getting presents.

Brian: I like building snowmen, putting designs on the Christmas tree and wrapping other people's presents up and putting Christmas stuff on the windows and waking up in the morning and unwrapping the presents and going to the fireplace and seeing what I got in my stocking.

Tammy: I like our bells and reindeer. We bake reindeer and Santa Claus cookies and decorate our house up. It makes me happy!

Roy: Christmas is nice you open presents and stuff, we make cookies and stuff. I feel happy. It's nice and all that stuff. When you wake up you see what you got in your stocking.

Charlene: I like toys, Santa Claus and his Reindeer and the Christmas tree with presents on it, making presents for mama and giving them to her.

Robert: I like toys and a bike. I like Christmas.

Leslie: I like Santa Claus and the toys and the fun and showing the presents. Giving presents to each other and that's all.

Danny: I like getting toys. It makes me feel happy!

Mike: I like Santa Claus, presents, and toys. You get to open some presents. Santa brings you wagons and stuff like that. He puts candy in your stockings, and you get new pants, new shoes and new shirts!

Richard: I like cartoons, Santa Claus, reindeer and toys. We put the things on the tree and I like Christmas!

Louis: I like presents, the Christmas tree, the snow - it makes me feel fine!

Laura: I like Santa Claus and the Christmas tree, too. Wrapping presents and opening presents.

Dan: I like the presents I get. We get a Christmas tree and give presents and open presents. It makes me feel good!

Charlene D.: I like the Christmas tree with the lights and the presents under it. I like Santa Claus and the reindeer.

Jimmy: I'm happy and I like Christmas, and joy! I get to play with my toys. I still got my grandpa to come down for Christmas with me. That makes me happy!

Amy: I like the Christmas tree and getting and giving presents.

St. Nicholas Precursor of Santa

Legend has it that the figure of our present-day Santa Claus is rooted in the personality of St. Nicholas, fourth-century bishop of Myra, Turkey.

According to reports, Nicholas was just a boy when he became bishop. He loved to give the poor gifts, but hated to be thanked for them. Many miracles are attributed to him, but during his lifetime he was noted primarily for his kindness.

Often he delivered gifts to the needy at night. One story tells of how he presented a bag of gold to each of three girls as a dowry. The girls' father was impoverished, and was about to give them up to a life of shame. Nicholas rescued them, and his good deed later formed the basis for the giving of gifts in secret on the Eve of St. Nicholas. The custom was eventually transferred to Christmas.

It was the Dutch colonists who brought the custom of Saint Nicholas and gift-giving to the United States. The tradition spread rapidly, but English-speaking children couldn't pronounce the words "Sant Niklaas", and they corrupted the name to "Santa Claus".

Ruth: I like Santa Claus and a Christmas tree. I want Baby Alive for Christmas.

Howard: I like bikes, toys, skates, motorcycles. I like getting presents.

Geri: I like Christmas trees, reindeer, giving presents and the stars on the Christmas tree.

Christina: There's me and my mama and daddy. Mama calls me and I see what's in my stocking. I like hanging up my stocking and putting up the Christmas tree.

Timothy: I like snow, trees covered with snow, opening presents, decorating the tree. I like to suck candy canes and I feel good and happy and I like to play outside, too.

THE EGG AND THE GRAPE

During the holiday season, there is no happier marriage than eggs and brandy. Both traditional and non-traditional holiday recipes can highlight festive entertaining.

Brandy, if you don't know, is the spirit distilled from wine. Whereas most spirits are made from grain, grapes give brandy a rich, delicious taste that makes it perfect for cocktails and elegant recipes. Eggs, on the other hand, offer the highest quality protein you can buy, and at about 60¢ a pound, represent an outstanding value in a world of rising prices.

Today's brandy drinker prefers lighter, more flavorful drinks, so California Brandy out-sells imported brandy by a margin of 4 to 1. California Brandy starts in the outstanding wine growing area of the San Joaquin Valley where the sun ripens grapes beautifully. The grapes are fermented into wine; then the wine is distilled. From the still, brandy goes through an oak-aging process of at least 2 years.

Not all California Brandy is created equal. The same care that goes into making fine wine goes into making fine brandy. E & J Brandy represents California Brandy at its finest. It has a fruity bouquet and velvety smooth taste. When E & J is mixed with eggs, the result is bound to meet with the approval of friends and family.

This holiday season, instead of buying prepared eggnog, start with fresh eggs. Then serve hot eggnog, perfect for those cold winter nights, and frothy cold eggnog, a winter classic. Frozen or molded eggnog makes a spectacular dessert. Come Sunday morning, serve a milk and brandy punch with your omelet for brunch. Or try a Flip or Fizz made with brandy, and discover for yourself how compatible the egg and the grape are! Here are some great recipes:

TRADITIONAL BRANDY FLIP

- 2 oz. E & J Brandy
- 1 egg
- 1 tsp. sugar
- Grated nutmeg

Shake first three ingredients well with ice. Strain into chilled glass. Sprinkle with nutmeg.

E & J FIZZ

- 2 oz. E & J Brandy
- 1/2 oz. Rose's lime juice
- 1 egg white
- 1 tsp. sugar
- 2 oz. cream
- iced club soda

Using blender, mix first five ingredients with cracked ice. Strain into chilled glass, add soda to taste.

E & J MILK PUNCH

- 8 oz. E & J Brandy
 - 1 qt. (4 cups) milk
 - 2 tbsp. sugar or honey
 - 1 tray ice cubes
 - Ground nutmeg
- Have brandy and milk well-chilled, combine both with sugar (or honey) and ice cubes. Stir together vigorously until beverage is very cold; discard ice. Pour into chilled glasses and sprinkle with nutmeg. (Delicious with omelets!) Makes 6-8 servings.

HOT E & J FLIP

- 2 oz. E & J Brandy
 - 4 oz. Gallo Port
 - 2 tsp. sugar
 - 1 egg
 - 2 tbsp. heavy cream
 - Ground nutmeg
- Heat brandy, port and sugar together (do not boil). Beat egg and stir in cream. Slowly pour hot liquid into egg mixture, stirring constantly. Pour into warmed mugs or glasses. Sprinkle lightly with nutmeg.

HOT BRANDY EGGNOG

- 2 egg yolks

- 2 tbsp. powdered sugar
- 2 oz. E & J Brandy
- Milk

Beat egg yolks, sugar and the brandy. Pour into two warmed glasses or punch cups. Fill with hot milk, stir, and sprinkle with grated nutmeg.

E & J TOM AND JERRY

- 2 oz. E & J Brandy
- 1/2 oz. rum
- 1 tsp. granulated sugar
- 1 egg (yolk and white separated)
- Hot milk or boiling water

Mix white and yolk of egg (beaten separately). Mix in mug or large coffee cup and add sugar slowly, then brandy and rum, stirring constantly. Fill with hot water or milk, grate nutmeg over top.

TRADITIONAL EGGNOG

- 10 eggs, separated
- 3/4 cup granulated sugar
- 4 cups whole milk, scalded
- Giant pinch of salt
- 1 cup whipped cream
- 3/4 cup E & J Brandy
- Grated nutmeg to taste

In the top of a double boiler, beat the 10 egg yolks. Blend in 1/2 cup of sugar and stir in the scalded milk. Cook over hot water until the mixture is thick. Now add salt to 10 egg whites and beat until they peak and are stiff. Mix the remaining 1/4 cup of sugar into the egg whites and fold the whites into the egg yolk mixture. When mixed fold in the whipped cream, add the brandy and chill for three hours. When you are ready to serve, pour the eggnog into a chilled punch bowl. Top with freshly grated nutmeg. This recipe will make 20 punch-cup servings.

FROZEN EGGNOG

- 1 tsp. gelatin
- 1 cup milk
- 3 eggs, separated
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 1/2 tsp. nutmeg
- 1/8 tsp. salt
- 1/2 cup E & J Brandy
- 1/2 pint (1 cup) whipping cream

1) Sprinkle plain gelatin over milk. Heat, stirring frequently, until gelatin dissolves; cool.

- 2) Beat egg yolks with 1/2 cup sugar, vanilla, nutmeg and salt until thick and light yellow. Slowly beat in E & J Brandy.

3) Stir in cooled gelatin mixture.

4) Turn into a 9x5x3-inch loaf pan. Freeze until firm, several hours or overnight.

5) Beat egg whites to soft peaks. Gradually beat in 1/4 cup sugar to make stiff meringue.

6) Beat 1 cup whipping cream to soft peaks.

7) Turn frozen mixture into a chilled bowl and break into small chunks. Beat smooth. Fold in meringue and cream.

8) Return to pan and freeze firm, about 2 hours longer. Turn out and beat again. Return to freezer until serving time.

9) Scoop into sherbet glasses. Delicious served with fruitcake. Makes about 1 quart.

MOLDED EGGNOG

Using the same ingredients as Frozen Eggnog, follow directions until Step #4: 1) Chill until mixture begins to thicken and jell. 2) Beat 3 eggs whites to soft peaks. Gradually beat in 1/4 cup sugar. 3) Beat 1 cup whipping cream to soft peaks. 4) Fold meringue into cream, then fold into thickened brandy mixture. 5) Spoon into 6 (8-oz.) oiled molds, and chill until firm. Makes 6 (8-oz.) servings.

Christmas

What Christmas Is
by Kim Shepherd

Christmas is a wonderful time of year. Many things happen at Christmastime. Christmas isn't just presents and songs. It is the time Christ was born. We celebrate every year, sure! Christmas is fun when people get toys, but sometimes that's all people think about. Christmas is a time of year to be thankful for everything you have. I believe that every Christmas a beautiful star shines in the sky telling us to have a wonderful Christmas.

by Eden Kofol

Christmas is a happy time of year
When Santa rides his reindeer
He delivers toys to good girls and boys
And gives treats to fill their joys

by John Maestas

When Christmas comes I get a kick
Of things I hear about St. Nick
I must go out and get a tree
Maybe one or maybe three
It is time for love and time for cheer
Oh my gosh, it's almost here.

GREETINGS

Getting ready to roll around and wish you the best this Christmas Season. Stop in and see us sometime. We're here to serve you.

Everyone's happy in Jamestown
All except for Holly Brown
Holly's family was poor
Fun she had no more
They didn't have money for a tree
But Holly's heart was the happiest you see.
Because her family gave the best gift of all—

The carolers are singing
On this Christmas night
Which is always a delight
Santa is coming with a sack full of joy
For every little girl and boy
Be sure to listen for bells that ring
Because you know what they will bring

by Uvette Gonzaque

Children's cheeks all rosey and red
All tucked away in their little beds Hoping St. Nick will soon be near
To fill their hearts with great cheer
And by morning light
St. Nick was out of sight

Letters to Santa

In Mrs. Virginia Smith's second grade classroom at Robert Taylor School, the Christmas spirit was found in many forms. It even invaded the classroom assignments such as a lesson in language arts concerning the proper letter writing rules. The young letter writers are given these rules as guidelines: a letter has four parts. They are: the heading, the greeting, the body and the closing.

After a discussion of each part, individual letters were written, such as the ones following:

Taylor Elementary
Henderson, Nevada
December 14, 1977

Dear Santa,
I have tried to be good. I helped Mother and Father. Please bring me some clothes for my super star barbie, bike, and one of your elf's.

Yours truly,
Leslie

At Christmas time every year
The children dance and sing and cheer
For Santa Claus soon will come Bringing toys to everyone
Music playing all day long Everyone singing a happy song

by Bonnie Trawick

Oh look at that tree
That beautiful tree
All red and green and free
What a beautiful sight to see
Oh I wish I had that tree!

by Bonnie Trawick

Christmas day is near
Those jolly bells I hear
With a ring-a-ling- here
And a ring-a-ling there
Christmas day is near.

Pinata

The tradition of "breaking" the pinata was unique, educational, timely and besides ... it was fun.

Although customary to have papier mache replicas of animals, a hollow sphere sufficed, especially when stuffed with candy, gum, marbles, and other assorted goodies.

At exactly 1:40 p.m. it was "look out for falling goodies" as Mr. Major's fourth grade class at Robert Taylor School re-enacted the breaking of the pinata.

No one heard what comments Santa had, but the students seemed delighted with the gifts from such an unusual sphere. Mrs. Joyce Gollie, who constructed the pinata, wished everyone a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, as did the recipients of the presents from the pinata.

Sixth Graders Winter Poetry CHRISTMAS SECTION

The difficulties of disciplining words into strictly defined forms of poetry has been discovered in a recent project by the students of the sixth grade class in levels 14 and 15 at

Robert Taylor Elementary School. Assignments were the writing of a cinquain and an example of haiku.

The cinquain requires five lines, written according to a pattern of one word for the first line, two for the second, three for the third, four for the fourth, and for the last line, one. Haiku must have three lines. The first line must have five syllables, the second line must have seven, and the last line five. There should be some word in the poem which refers to a season of the year.

Some examples of the students' efforts follow.

by Scotty Derrick The green Christmas tree Has big prickly branches filled With cold winter snow.	by John Maestas The fluffy winter Trees rustle gently each day And all through the night	by Jeannie Benoit Santa is coming He will soon be here giving Things to everyone by Cindy Wichael Bells ringing brightly Clearly, and with sounds of joy All Christmas season	by Debra Turner Winter snow falling swiftly, Ending autumn till next year, Bringing Christmas near.	by Michelle Loehr The beautiful snow Is falling in the winter And waiting for spring.
by Dennis Rogers Nice, green, tall, soft, grass Will turn yellow sometime this year Then turn green later	by Donnie Rodgers The soft fluffy snow Is falling on the ground fast Then builds up slowly.	by Taffy Tozier The beautiful snow Is falling so pretty now But later it melts.
by Mike Pullen The swiftly falling Beautiful sleet soars downward Smashing in the road.	by Keith Case Snowmen are built on Christmas Day for having fun Then the poor thing melts	by Trent Morse The beautiful snow Is falling to the ground and Is melting slowly
by Eden Kofol Christmas time is near It's that special time of year Winter time is here	by Ernie Brayford The big red flower Beautifully bloomed in spring Filling the garden	by Robert Traffanstedt Christmas trees shining In the cool winter season Makes people happy

ANIMAL FEASTS

Ancient tradition has it that animals helped spread the joyous tidings of the Birth of Christ. Because of this, barnyard animals in many countries are served a special supper on Christmas eve.

Cattle kneel in their stalls at midnight, on Christmas eve, and for a moment have the power of speech. This belief, an old German legend, has been broadened to include all animals.

Festive Cocktails For Teetotalers

MOD-FASHIONED: Chilled cola and lemon and lime soda, mixed half-and-half. Pour over ice cubes and add orange slices, pineapple spears and maraschino cherries.

NEW TWIST: Chilled orange juice and quinine water mixed half-and-half. Serve as is or over ice cubes.

Holly-Day Hum

Sprigs of holly should be placed in beehives at Christmas. So says an old English Christmas tradition. This custom stems from the legend that, at the Manger, bees gathered to hum a hymn of joy.

Christmas Eve Legend

In Iceland, Christmas Eve is the holiest night of the entire holiday season. Legend has it that on the night before Christmas, many years ago, dwarfs, elves and other "little folk" danced in the streets.

SCARLET SLING

Season chilled tomato juice with dashes of Worcestershire, Tabasco, lemon juice and celery salt. Insert a celery stick stirrer.

RUSSIAN SOUR

Mix equal parts of chilled strong tea and cranberry juice. Add frozen, concentrated, undiluted lemonade to taste. Add an egg white for every 4 cups and shake until frothy. Serve with orange slices and maraschino cherries.

Christmas Trees Recycled To Balance Our Ecology

Each year whole forests of young spruce trees are chopped down in their prime and displayed with decorations as Christmas trees in millions of American homes. After the two-week holiday season, they are discarded.

But Christmas trees can now be recycled. They can be given a second life in which their organic components can be put to work nurturing other life. A machine known as a wood chipper instantly reduces them to valuable garden mulch.

This mulch retains soil moisture and can be applied on top of snow to protect bulbs and stems of young trees and shrubs. Also, this coarse sawdust-like stuff is as good as salt or sand for improving traction on icy driveways.

Discarded Christmas Trees Help Prevent Beach Erosion

Each year, hundreds of volunteers from several Long Island communities gather discarded Christmas trees in order to plant them in the fragile dunes of Fire Island across the bay, which helps to prevent the sand from being blown off and washed away.

The Legend of Christmas Tinsel

According to an old legend, a poor peasant woman, with many children, decorated a Christmas tree with such humble trimmings as she was able to gather, mostly berries and nuts and such odds and ends as she had managed to save up during the year. She labored far into the night trying to make her tree as beautiful as she could.

While she was asleep, spiders came and crawled from branch to branch trailing their lacy webs behind them. To reward the woman for her devotion, the Christ Child blessed the tree and all the spider webs were turned into gleaming silver.

Joyful Wishes

May holiday blessings brighten your tree.

Many thanks for being able to serve you.

THE RIGHTS OF FREE PEOPLE INCLUDE THE CHOICE OF FAITH

The citizens of a free country never take their freedoms granted, but have wisely provided a specific list of them in the set of rules by which they are governed. These freedoms include among other things the right of peaceable assembly, to speak and write whatever they see fit, and one of the most basic rights of all: to worship God in any manner they choose; a privilege consistent with the theory that freedom itself is man's God-given birthright. Be ever prepared to defend your your freedom against anyone who would take it away from you, and avail yourself of one of its principal blessings by attending the Church of your choice every week on the Sabbath. And thank God for your right to do so, wherever you are.

"Whoso looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein...this man shall be blessed in his deed."
 —James 1:25

We owe it to our ancestors to preserve entire those rights, which they have delivered to our care. We owe it to posterity, not to suffer their dearest inheritance to be destroyed.

GREETINGS

As the Christmas spirit abounds through our community, we send our warmest greetings to all for a happy holiday. Sincere thanks for your generous consideration.

JONES CHEMICAL CO., INC.

For young and old, Christmas represents the climax of the year and the glittering jewel of the winter season; yet amid all the excitement of presents and parties we should never for one moment lose sight of its origin and purpose. Let us remember that what we are celebrating is the most important birthday in all the history of mankind: of Someone who, from an obscure corner of the world, was destined to teach us all how to live in peace, brotherhood and love. Most of our good character traits and whatever spiritual happiness we may have achieved we owe in some measure to Him, through the Bible and the many Church denominations which expound His teachings. Attend yours this Christmas, and learn how the true spirit of it came about.

EOB Board Members Elected

Four new representatives and one incumbent will be seated as members of the Economic Opportunity Board, it was announced by David Hoggard, the Agency's Executive Director.

Elections were held Tuesday in five areas of Clark County, considered to contain high concentrations of poverty. In North Las Vegas, Lee Walker, a car salesman, received 100 of the 154 votes cast to win over 10 other candidates. Mr. Walker actively campaigned on the basis that the community had helped him become established and he wished to serve others in return.

In West Las Vegas, Bill Murphy, a Coordinator for an On - the - Job

Training Program of the State of Nevada, received a plurality of the 139 votes cast, to represent that area.

The only incumbent to be re-elected was Manuel Hernandez who will serve a second term representing the Sunrise E. Bonanza area of Clark County. Mr. Hernandez is a Computer Programmer Analyst with Nevada Power Company. Unopposed candidates were Carole B. DePue to represent Henderson and Clyde E. Lowe to represent Moapa Valley. Mrs. DePue is a 3-year resident of Henderson who expressed a desire to be helpful to those in her community through service on the EOB. Mr.

Lowe of Overton is the only senior member of the newly - elected EOB representatives. He is also currently a retired Senior Volunteer and a member of the Clark County Senior Legal Services Advisory Council.

"Both the Economic Opportunity Board of 1964 and its successor, the Community Services Act of 1974, place strong emphasis on democratic selection of representatives of the poor," noted Hoggard. "The local EOB is fully committed to this process and the election just completed will assure full opportunity for the poor and residents of the areas concerned to influence the character of programs affecting their interests."

BLM, NDSP Seek Hiker Information For Safety

You wouldn't think anyone would voluntarily spend a cold and hungry night on a rocky, wind - whipped ledge in Red Rock Canyon.

But some do. "A hiker or climber who goes into Red Rock Canyon without telling someone the details of his trip is just asking to get hung up without aid in an emergency," said Joe Williams, chief ranger in the Bureau of Land Management's (BLM) Las Vegas District.

A major part of Williams' territory is Red Rock Canyon Recreation Land, an exceptionally scenic area west of Las Vegas that attracts thousands of visitors each year. Many, according to Williams, are unskilled in wilderness ways and fail to sense the danger just off the road.

To better handle emergencies in the canyon, BLM and the Nevada Division of State Parks have jointly instituted a "Climbing and Backcountry Use Register."

"The register tells us who is going where, when, and by what route," Williams said.

According to the BLM ranger, the first notice of an emergency is usually when someone fails to return home on time.

"In that case," he said, "the register should tell us where we can most likely find the person."

He recounted a 1976 incident in which three boys spent a winter's night on a Red Rock Ledge. Searchers dispatched late in the evening of the day the boys started their trip were thwarted by darkness.

"We didn't know where to start looking, so we wasted a lot of time in a general search," Williams recalled. "If there had been a register then and the boys had used it, we could have zeroed in on them in no time."

Persons wanting to make use of the register can do so at the BLM or NDSP offices near the intersection of Decatur Blvd. and Vegas Drive. Forms will also be available at the Spring Mountain Ranch.

The information will be taken over the phone as well, Williams said. The BLM number is 385 - 6403 which the NDSP numbers are 385 - 0264 and 875 - 4141.

Family Abuse Center Provides Help

The newly formed Las Vegas Family Abuse Center recently elected president of its board of directors. This newly formed community service is concerned with all forms of family abuse with special attention given to child abuse and that occurring between husband and wife.

Immediate program priorities include establishment of a shelter for abused women and their children, installation of a crisis hotline to allow initial contact and counseling, and legislative action in support of the program.

Additional support services needed in the immediate future are one-to-one counseling so that the abused woman can make a rational decision about her course of action, transportation to help those requiring it, to leave the scene of the assault, food and medical assistance, legal aid, public relief such as food stamps and housing rental stipends, mental health counseling and eventually training and employment to become self supporting.

At the present time the center needs the communities support in a variety of ways. Volunteers are being recruited to help man the crisis hotline, funds are needed to finance the hotline, donations of furniture to furnish the shelter once the home is located can be given at anytime as space has been found to store them and community citizens interested in becoming members of the center's board of directors are invited to call Dr. Robert Foster at 735-9158.

Immediate activities of the center include a two-week training program for crisis hotline volunteers to be held at the Helen J. Stewart School January 9-10-11 and 16-17-18 from 7 to 10 p.m. An all day workshop is also planned for Saturday, February 14 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. The registration fee of $5 will be used to help support the center's program. Christmas 1977

by Dorothy A. Vondenbrink

There is great excitement all around Urgency fills the air,
As crowds of people rush along
With a push and a shove here and there.

The streets are decorated;
Colored lights give a Holiday glow;
Santa, Gnomes and Reindeer, Remind us
To give a gift to someone special we know.

Then come the special interest groups
Through the mail or with stands everywhere,
To remind us that Christmas is a time of love
And of those about whom we should care.

We get home from our shopping,
Collapse in a chair
And wonder -- is Christmas worth it?
Or does Christ really care?

But then, we think, it's Christ's Birthday
And we're so glad He came;
But, Dear God, Until Christmas
One seldom mentions His name.

Oh! we say, "We're so callous,
Christmas! what do we know;
If only we could have been there
At His birth long ago.
With a silent night; A star shining bright;
Shepherds in the field, What a pastorale sight.
A stable and cattle;
A mother so mild;
A Manger; The wisemen,
And the Holy Christ Child."

But wait! I remember,
That's not the whole scene
It was Tax time in Bethlehem
With people packed like sardines:
They were noisy and pushy,
Unkind to a fault;
Why to walk down the street
Was to ask for assault.
Remember, there was no room at the Inn,
They were so busy and crowded
There was no place for HIM.

While the comparison's there,
Though I'm sorry to say,
It looks like in 2000 years
We've come a very short way.
Their excuse was: They didn't know he would come.
I'm afraid our excuse
Is a very poor one.

But take heart, that's what Christmas is all about,
It's a love when accepted
Was'ies all past errors out.
For a Joyous Christmas,
As it truly should be:
I must put CHRIST back in,
And take out only me.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

The 80 hour training course has been tailored to address the special training needs of persons involved in providing services and treatment to youth in the community.

Mr. James Barrett, Director of the Nevada Crime Commission, will be the keynote speaker at the graduation luncheon. The luncheon at Two Guys From Italy will conclude the two weeks training with Mr. Barrett presenting P.O.S.T. and Department of Law Enforcement Assistance certificates.

The Demonstration Training Project is the result of a grant written by the Clark County Juvenile Court Services. It is the first organized program in the State of Nevada that is comprised of 40 hours of legal training coupled with 40 hours of in-depth training in Juvenile Law.

Set Search For 'Nevada State Mother'

The annual search for Nevada State Mother of the Year was announced today by Meryl Jones, President of the Nevada Chapter of American Mothers Committee. The organization has conducted this contest since 1943 in each State and territory of the United States. A national Mother of the Year is selected from the State winners.

Mamie Doud Eisenhower is Honorary President of the American Mothers Committee and many outstanding woman of America serve as officers and leaders.

To strengthen the morale and religious foundation of the American home is the objective of the ten thousand members of this group and mothers are selected who have best exemplified this purpose. Judging is based on guidelines involving civic, educational, religious, and community activities, and the character and achievements of the nominee and her children.

The Nevada winner is selected by a jury composed of community leaders. She will be given special honors and will be presented to Governor Mike O'Callaghan for a Nevada award. The national conference will be held in Des Moines, Iowa in May, 1978 and at that time the national mother will be selected.

The State contest will conclude with judging in February. Candidate applications are attainable from Mrs. Jones, 962 Tam O'Shanter Drive, Las Vegas. They must be submitted no later than January 31, 1978.
