Sendlein To Start In Cotton Bowl

Robin Sendlein, 19, son of Ruppert Sendlein of 106 Ash Street, an All - American high school football and baseball player, will be in the starting line - up when the University of Texas plays in the Cotton Bowl Monday

Sendlein, a six foot five inch Wildlife Management major, weights 220 pounds and is attending the University of Texas on a football scholarship.

He played offensive and defensive tackle for Western high school while he was growing up, according to his father, but when he suits up Monday, he will be a starting linebacker. He had to leave early from his Christmas vacation in Henderson to get back to his training for the game.

He is the grandson of Elsie Sendlein of 106 Ash, where he and his father live. He likes to hunt and fish, which goes along with the profession he hopes to follow.

Sendlein was recruited by Nebraska, Washington, Colorado, UCLA and Wyoming.

Sendlein said he likes the friendly people at Texas, the coaches, their philosophy, the attitude at Texas, but especially the people.

The son of a welder - artist - pipe - fitter - stagehand, Sendlein could possibly be attending Arizona State on a baseball scholarship. He compiled a 6-0 pitching record and .406 batting average his senior year at Western, and his coach, Bob Reed, who played for the Sun Devils, told Sendlein he could get him a scholarship there. He didn't go.

"I never did look into any of the offers I got," he said. "I was going to play football. I might like to try baseball here but I'd better get my act straight playing football first."

The rangy, blond - haired Nevadan seems to have everything in perspective. His freshman year in high school, however, wasn't so smooth.

He had applied for an antelope tag - Nevada awards hunting licenses in a draw - and won one just before his freshman football season.

"I asked my coach if I could miss practice and he said no. He said I was either a hunter of a football player," Sendlein said. "I went hunting." Consequently, he missed the football season -- and every antelope he shot at. He did bag the record deer at the state for 1976, one with a 31-inch spread and 11 points. He's also hunted elk, Bighorn sheep and deer and has been on hunting trips for javelina, quail and dove in Texas.

The way he figures it, he'll be hunting just as big game Jan. 2 in the Cotton Bowl against Notre Dame.

"I'm getting ready to line up against some really big dudes," he said. "We hadn't seen a lick of film on 'em yet though. The more I play linebacker, the more comfortable I feel. I've always wanted to play linebacker. In fact, some of my heroes are Tommy Nobis and Jack Lambert."

"I've been catching a lot of razzing about being a freshman starter," he said, "but I'm one that doesn't like to count his chickens til they're hatched. I don't consider myself a starter till I'm out on that field."

A lot of people in Henderson will have a more than average interest in the University of Texas in the Cotton Bowl Monday because of Robin.

Building—New Industry, Big Stories For 1977

By Lorna Kesterson

The building boom in Henderson and new industry shared the spotlight for news in Henderson during the 1977, according to a survery of the year's news by this newspaper.

Building more than doubled any previous year with just under $24 million. The best year in the past, according to Pat Doherty, superintendent of building and safety, was $12 million.

Sharing the honors of the most important story of the year with the building figures were the announcements that Levi Strauss and Buster Brown organizations would locate here.

The Levi building got under construction in September. The building, located on Boulder Highway will contain 215,000 square feet with 75,000 square feet in the mezzanine and 26,000 in the office and administration building. The Buster Brown building which is expected to start after the first of the year, is located in Green Valley.

Another industry which would employ close to 500 persons is also taking a look at Henderson.

Some of the major stories for Henderson are listed below.

Brent Mathewson, chairman of the Triple R program for the Henderson Jaycees, carried the power controversy to Washington, D.C. in February of this year. The Henderson residents were paying the highest rates in the county because the Federal Power Commission had failed to act on rate increase requests by Nevada Power Co. Local residents are still awaiting refunds on one of the large rate increases.

Later in the year, in April, Mathewson was arrested on charges of selling and possessing drugs. He was finally cited by the Clark County Grand Jury.

News in April said that Green Valley would bring 100,000 persons to Henderson and estimates were made in September that Henderson will grow to 137,760 people by the year 2,000.

Early in the year, Donald M. Dawson, city manager for Henderson, resigned and a search started to find a new city manager. Robert Campbell of Excelsior Springs, Mo., was selected to fill the spot out of 200 candidates for the job. He reported for work April 15.

Chris Stanfill resigned his position as football coach for Basic high school and accepted a job as recreation director for the county. Emilio Camillone was called on to fill the job vacated by Stanfill. Basic entered the AAA football league again.

Morry Story By Morry Zenoff

As you read this this morning I am on an airplane headed for Warsaw, Poland. I am on a plane with about 100 other people all in the role of followers ... followers of the President of the United States.

The President ... his name is Jimmy Carter -- is making a six country hurried visit, touching bases of far off places on an agenda listed below.

I'm here to chronicle my observations, reactions, reportings to you and while I won't be sending them via expensive cablegrams ... some how they'll reach our weekly issues.

Having to spend New Year's in Tehran, Iran ... where there probably won't be TV reception of the bowl games isn't going to be exactly to my liking ... but I am hoping that from our take - off this morning at Andrews Air Force field at 8 a.m. to the time we get back the night of Jan. 6 -- it will all be worth it.

Here is the itinerary:

1,000 persons on a waiting list for housing in its various projects and under the section 8 program in Henderson and Clark County areas, Bill Cottrell, Clark County Housing Director said yesterday.

Cottrell said all of the applicants for housing are screened each month and the older applications thrown away or updated.

In Henderson there are 60 section 8 apartments or houses, ten in Boulder City and 210 throughout the country, Cottrell said.

Cottrell believes the Housing Authority will go out to bid in January for approximately $600,000 worth of improvements in Hampton Court, (formerly Henderson Heights.)

Interior items to be improved will be the replacement of kitchen sinks with stainless steel, wall coverings in the showers, tile on the upstairs wooden floors, reworking parking lots and exterior lighting, basketball courts, stucco will be put on the lower apartments and swamp coolers and roofs will be replaced. The funding will be through the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Cottrell said that work on the apartments would have begun sooner except because of the status of the power company.

Nevada Power Takes Over Power Co. Jan. 1

Nevada Power Co. will take over the operation of the electric power in Henderson beginning Jan. 1, and a letter has been sent to all residents not previously served by NPC, to inform them of important data.

Ron Langford, manager of California - Pacific Utilities Co., which has operated the electric company in Henderson, will manage the local NPC office during the transition

The letter from the power company is printed in full for information to local residents. Residents of the Pittman area and Green Valley are already provided electric service by NPC.

In March, Rev. Robert Richards celebrated having been in Henderson for ten years at the Community Church, and also in March, four persons filed for city offices including incumbent Mayor Lorin Williams and Councilmen Lorna Kesterson and Carlton Lawrence.

Williams was re-elected Mayor and Kesterson councilman by a majority of the vote in the primary. No general election was held.

In May, 272 seniors graduated from Basic high school and Carl Blacke, former plant manager for TIMET, was appointed corporate manager of facilities planning for TIMET.

Also in May, ground was broken on the Big Top' tent at Sky Harbor airport. The facility has not been completed. Ground was also broken on "Old Las Vegas," a recreation facility which will be a tourist attraction.

Miss Lori Nield was crowned "Miss Industrial Days 1977," and Miss Denise Lowe was named Homecoming gueen for Basic high school.

Controversial issues faced by the city council during the year included a request by the Eldorado Club to vacate a portion of Market Street and a request from Hershel Trumbo for rezoning for Townhouses in section 19. Both requests were denied.

The city received a federal grant of $572,000 for work on water lines and a reservoir and curbs and gutters from O'Callaghan Park.

It's time for those good resolutions again.

The ones like we made last year and the year before, etc.

That's the nice thing about starting a new year, you can decide all over again to be the good kid you thought you were going to be last year.

The thing I like best is that there are so many times a year that you can start a new year.

You can start in January that's the traditional beginning of the year.

If you foul up on your resolutions before June, take heart, the city starts its fiscal year in July.

Now, if things get really bad and you don't make the grade in the second try, then how about Sept. when the Feds start their fiscal year?

There's three chances, and if you ruin your resolutions that many times, just wait again until Jan. and start all over again.

A nice Christmas present for the Twitchell family was the Christmas eve arrival of their son, Lynn, who has been serving a two-year mission in So. America for the LDS Church.

Lynn is a graduate of Basic high school and was attending Brigham Young University before he left. His sister, Eileen was home from college.

His father, Neil, a Clark County elementary school principal, is chairman of the Henderson planning commission.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Honey, 108 Fir Street, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary Tuesday night.

The Honeys were married during the time Paul was in the service. They have four sons, Brent, Curtis, Craig and Doug.

Have you ever noticed the credits on the Bob Newhart show?

If you have, you'll notice that the producers are Glen and Les Charles, two local men, and Basic high school graduates.

They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Charles of 13 Laswell and they are making their way in televi-

They have written shows for MASH, the Betty White Show, Phyllis, and others.

We're still hoping to have a more complete story on these two young men who both started in different careers and ended up at the present time, working for the MTM studios, writing their way to fame.

Police Chief Floyd Osborn, Fire Chief Don Richard, and Building Chief Pat Doherty, have entered the count down stage as they have about six more days to work.

All three are retiring in Jan. and all three are long time city employees. Things will not seem the same without them.

The new Public Safety Director, Bob Anselmo, plans to be in Henderson by Jan. 15 or Feb. 1.

John Quinn, long - time employee of the city, will be appointed Acting Superintendent of building and safety when Doherty retires next week.

There are bound to be many changes during 1978 as there were in 1977.

We wish everyone a Happy New Year with lots of prosperity and friends.

The biggest change you will notice in this transition is a new form of monthly power bill. Compared to your previous electric bill, you will find Nevada Power's more itemized. On the inside cover of the enclosed conservation booklet, you will find a detailed explanation of a Nevada Power Company bill. If, after reading it, you have any questions, please call 385-5811.

This first bill you receive from Nevada Power will cover service for the period between January 1, 1978 and the date that will be your new regular billing date. This means that during the month of transition you may receive two power bills, since Cal- Pac will be sending you a closing bill for their services through December 31.

SPECIAL METER READING ON DECEMBER 31

Your electric meter will be read on the morning of December 31 so that the necessary billing procedure described above can be carried out accurately.

We would appreciate it very much if dog owners would leash their pets on this day until our employees have read the meters. We anticipate all meters will be read by 3 p.m.

RATES

Nevada Power Company rate schedules are available for your review at any of our business offices. If you have any questions on this subject, please call 385 - 5811.

DEPOSITS

If Cal-Pac is currently holding a deposit for electric service, it will be returned to you at the time of your closing bill from that Company. As an established residential customer. Nevada Power will not require a service deposit from you. Should a deposit be required at a later date - due to delinquencies - it will be requested in conformance with established rules and regulations.

The enclosed booklet outlines specific steps you can take to save money on your power bill by conserving energy. I urge you to take the time to read it.

Sincerely. (s)D. Dale Harmer

As Christians, we are challenged as we begin another New Year! Truly the opportunities will be great! We must be ever vigilant, ever committed to the tremendous task before us ... a world lost in sin ... souls searching and seeking for that something ... that satisfaction ... that assurance that Jesus Christ, the Son of God, is the answer to all of man's needs!

And, so, we dedicate our hearts and lives, yes, living sacrifices, consecrated to the cause of Christ!

Home of the Week..... Sea Voyage - A Wonderful Christmas Present

STARRING: THE HOME OF La Mar and Pearl Briggs

When La Mar and Pearl Briggs arrived in the city of Henderson about twenty-three years ago, little did they know how much they would grow to love the City and their own particular home. "Home, Sweet Home" could very well be one of their theme songs for the little house, as it was, on Burton Street turned from an almost "Ugly Duckling" into a "Beautiful Swan!"

"We moved to Henderson Utah about in the year 1954," Pearl related. "We found this house on Burton Street. You wouldn't have recognized it if you saw it then. We've made additions, repairs, changes and improvements since then to where we are quite proud of it now." La Mar. holding a deft hand with carpentry tools, put many hours and days into beautification. Pearl loves interior decor and is quite adept at keeping the home lovely with crafts, adding artistic touches here and there. La Mar added an expansive living room, doing all the work himself except the large and bountiful fireplace. He installed decorator poles in the entrance way and to the breakfast bar separating the dining area. Mr. Briggs also added a patio style flooring throughout the kitchen, dining and hall area into a Spanish style "swerve." A patio adorns the backyard and the family is in the process of adding an extra patio and giant barbeque pit for outdoor family fun. "La Mar does the brick work and cement work, also,' Pearl added, "and it really has turned into a heavenly place for the family and children to come home to." The lovely lady stressed she loved the people in Henderson, her neighbors, her family and home.

CRAFT DISPLAY - Pearl is proud of hubby's decorator poles and her crafts of owl and fruit bowl.

Not to be outdone by her talented husband, Pearl makes beautiful crafts with wall plaques, fruit bowl arrangements of plastic gaily colored

fruit, and other knick-

knacks. For Christmas

Pearl displayed her Mr.

Santa Claus made out of tin cans and cotton for her parents. Yuletide Spirit was burning warm and bright in the home the day of the interview. Seated in a s'aty-seven year old wooden rocker was eleven year old Kevin, quietly anticipating the opening of the multi-colored presents set under the tree waiting to gladden someone's heart. The wood-burning fireplace cast out a multitude of sparks and crackles making the extreme quiet almost melodious. "Grandma and Grandpa Briggs received that chair 6" years ago for their wedding and passed it on to us. They are still happy and healthy living in Cedar City, Utah, doing their own work at the ages of 91 and 87." Pearl related.

The home includes a living room, dining room. kitchen, hallway entrance. two patios, two storerooms and bath with four bedrooms (one being used as a den).

Rodney lives at home with his parents and brother, attending Basic High School. The oldest son. Craig, lives with his wife in Las Vegas while still another son, Gaylen, is serving a two year mission for the Mormon LDS Church in Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

The family is happy and productive and the home reflects the beauty and warmth of the people who live in it!

Maxine DuMain Retires After 23 Years With The State

High school wrestling the coaches a chance to Maxine DuMain, who take a break from worryhas been with the Nevada State Employing about team efforts ment Security Department since 1954, will be retiring tomorrow.

"I hate to leave all my many friends I have made over the years," she said "but am looking forward to a rest and to spend more time with my mother."

For the past several Maxine has headed up the Henderson Employment Security office, since they made their move from the Civic Center into their office on Water Street two and a half years ago

Prior to that, she opened up the North Las Vegas office and also has been associated with the Eighth Street office in Las Vegas.

"When I first started working for the state, I was a seasonal claims examiner for the unemployment insurance division. It has been fun to start at the bottom and work up," she said.

The Henderson office has grown considerably under Maxine's able guidance, with 22 seasonal and permanent employees. She has had a supervisor for both the job placement and unemployment insurance divisions of the office.

"Our employment depends upon how slow or busy other employment is at the moment," she explained.

Maxine is going to be honored at a state wide banquet at the Showboat Hotel next month, to which personnel from all over the state as well as former employees now retired, are planning to attend.

She said she didn't want to get a lot of fanfare upon leaving but when someone is as highly respected and well thought of as Maxine by fellow employees and friends, a special farewell is very much in order.

A native of Sioux City, Iowa, Maxine has lived in Las Vegas since 1948. Her parents would often come to visit Las Vegas and one year, while on their annual visit, they called her and said "We've bought a home and are going to live

She left soon after to join them and has lived here ever since.

Maxine's father passed away in October after a long battle with leukemia. Many pints of blood were donated by fellow employees and local residents in helping keep him alive during his long struggle, for which Maxine expressed great thanks.

She now lives with her mother, who is a very young 84 and still quite active, and the two plan on just relaxing and perhaps do a bit of traveling after Maxine, who is an avid bowler, has completed a few bowling tournaments.

Home Health Care Program?

A. Perhaps a Home Health Care Program is best described as "a bridge to total health care," by extending the services, supplies and skills of the hospital to the patient's home

What does it do?

A. In most cases it allows a patient who is hospitalized to be released at an early date, thereby reducing the cost of health care.

. Is it only for people who have been in the

A. Not necessarily. The patient's physician may have him or her admitted to the program from any facility, such as a nursing home, convalescent center, etc., or even if the patient is home-bound.

Once my doctor admits me to the program what happens?

A. A highly skilled team of health care professionals follow your physician's instructions during the entire period you are in the program. They include:

- REGISTERED NURSES
- LICENSED PRACTICAL NURSES
- NURSING ASSISTANTS NUTRITION CONSULTANTS
- MEDICAL SOCIAL WORKERS PHYSICAL THERAPISTS
- PULMONARY CONSULTANTS PHARMACUTICAL CONSULTANTS

■ How often will I be visited at home?

A. As often as your physician prescribes. And regular progress reports are made to him. Your doctor is always in charge, just as if you were hos-

Q • I'm on Medicare. Am I covered for a Home Health Care Program?

Absolutely. And so are most other people, including Nevada Industrial Commission (NIC). State Aid to Medically Indigent (SAMI), and most other types of insured patients.

• What kinds of patients does a Home Health Care Program take care of?

Just about every type, from premature babies on. Any patient whose physician thinks will benefit from the program is accepted.

. Is there a Home Health Care Program here in Clark County?

A. Yes. About a year ago, working in close cooperation with the Federal Government and its goals of reducing the cost of health care services, the Sunrise Hospital Home Health Care Program was started as another community service.

It is designed to serve all the physicians of Clark County and all the people, as the area's only hospital-based Home Health Care Program.

Jan. 1 At The Boulder Theatre

Paramount Pictures' "Bugsy Malone" is a gangster musical set in 1929 New York City. It is a world of would-be hoodlums, show girls and dreamers. But it is a world where you never see an adult. The entire film is played by children, average age around 12. This totally unique screen experience opens

Jan 1 at the Boulder Theatre. Jodie Foster, who at 13 is already the acclaimed veteran of ten motion pictures and countless television appearances, heads the talented cast. It took a year to complete the casting and the assembled actors came from such far-off places as downtown Los Angeles, through uptown Harlem, to Lakenheath U.S.A.F. airbase in Suffolk, England Scott Baio, Florrie Dugger and John Cassisi play major roles.

Multi-talented pop composer Paul Williams wrote the words and music for "Bugsy Malone," and the songs are among the best he's ever written, many of them performed in the film's lavish set, Fat Sam's Grand Slam Speakeasy.

"Bugsy Malone" is a Robert Stigwood presentation. It is a Goodtimes Enterprises production of Alan Parker's film, written and directed by Parker, and produced by Alan Marshall, David Puttnam is executive producer.

The musical was made at Pine ood Studios in England where all the children involved in the musical numbers were rehearsed by choreographer Gillian Gregory for six weeks before filming commenced. Alan Parker rehearsed all the speaking parts for a month before filming began. The "Speakeasy Band" was made up of members of he British National Youth Jazz Orchestra.

Costume designer Monica Howe and her army of helpers had to supply nearly 500 cut-down but absolutely authentic 1920's costumes. The main set, a giant 1929 New York street complex, was built by production designer Geoffrey Kirkand inside the studios. The cars in "Bugsy Malone" were custom-built

Elardi Joins Board Of Directors

Don Ashworth, chairman of the board of directors, and Colvin S. Smith, president of Nevada State Bank, jointly announced that local businesswoman, Margaret Elardi, has been elected to the bank's board of directors.

Mrs. Elardi, owner of the Pioneer Club, was born in Los Angeles and attended schools in southern Calfornia, culminating her formal education at Woodbury College.

During her professional career in California, she held an authoritative pos-ition in the building industry and was in charge of Construction Control for a savings and loan firm where she managed disbursement of funds to general contractors.

Later, as an independent building contractor, she supervised the development of single family dwellings, apartment complexes and commercial buildings in the southern California area.

Nevada's minimum wage goes to $2.50 per hour next Sunday (January 1) and for employees in interstate commerce the new minimum is $2.65. Governor O'Callaghan, a majority of the 1977 legislature, State Labor Commissioner Stan Jones, President Carter and George Meany, believe that what they have done is a good thing. Readers of this column must of course know by now that we believe that what they have done is not a good thing.

Supporters of a higher minimum wage rationalize their stand along two lines: One is that an increase in the minimum wage will be good for the economy. The other is that it will not be bad for the

On the first point it is said that the increase will pump $9 billion into the economy, by adding income to workers. What economist told them this? Pumped from where? Where does the $9 billion come from? To pay $9 billion more to minimum wage workers, employers must take $9 billion away from customers, from workers, from job-creating investment or from some combination of all. The $9 billion is pumped out of the economy before it is pumped into it.

The minimum wage increase is, simply, a tax increase of $9 billion a year. As such, if one looks at only the "big picture" it's not all that significant. That increase will have a trivial effect on the total of inflation, or on a trilliondollar GNP, or on a $500 billion budget.

The fact that is most distressing is that all the cost of this increase will be borne by the weakest and most fragile elements of society -- the 100,000 youths who will be unemployed instead of employed because of the minimum-wage prohibition. To Labor Secretary Marshall, and others who see only the "big picture" and who are used to thinking in billions of dollars and millions of unemployed, the prospect of another 100,000 teenagers, black and white, walking the streets is of little moment. Another billion or so for job-training programs will fix them, he suggests.

But of course, it won't. At the very beginning of their working lives. enough kids to fill the Los Angeles Coliseum will be cut down. They may recover eventually, but at the initial stage of development they will be delayed, distorted and misdirected, and always the weakest and least competitive are those hurt the controls the finances of the country has not submitted a financial statement with his request for many millions of dollars from the U.S. by terms of the proposed treaty. Some have suggested that the $70 million could come from canal tolls, but in 1973 and 1974, even under U.S. supervision, the canal company operated at a deficit. Even with elevated tolls, it is doubtful a $70 million annual profit over operational expenses could be achieved in any year.

And the dictator who

As an optional move, the U.S. has held in abevance a canal treaty with Nicaragua since 1916 (Bryan-Chamorro Treaty). That treaty gave the U.S. a perpetual option for a canal, and 99-year leases for naval bases in Nicaragua. For these concessions. Nicaragua received $3 million. But since Nicaragua was bankrupt, at least 3/3 of the money was diverted to satisfy the claims the U.S. banks and other foreign creditors.

Central American countries protested the Nicaraguan treaty and brought suit against that country before the Central American Court of Justice. Nicaragua, reinforced by the U.S., denied the competence of the tribunal and refused to appear. Nevertheless, the court decided against Nicaragua. But the court had no power to enforce its awards, and went out of business. The treaty is therefore still valid, and the U.S. could build a canal through Nicaragua, if it does not sign away

Panama Treaty. Since no financial statement has been submitted by Panama with the request for a $70 million annual stipend, it is suspected that a large portion of that money will also be diverted to satisfy the claims of New York banks and other foreign creditors. This action would put the U.S. in the position of acting as a collection agent for loan companies. Today many other loan companies would probably call this action an example of commercial favoritism and a violation of collection statutes. And today, many citizens and organizations of the U.S. might find it justifiable to request bonified, accurate, and comprehensive financial statements from Panama's creditors before allowing their government to merely divert the funds

It is said that if the U.S. does not leave the Zone quietly, and pay the stipulated funds, another foreign country will eagerly do so. But the Monroe Doctrine was promulgated for the very purpose of preventing such foreign invasion of the American Continent. Perhaps the U.S.-Panama controversy may yet be settled in relation to the old question of whether or not the Monroe Doctrine can be enforced in a modern world.

..... ROYALTY OF THE DOG WORLD! FEATURING: THE GREAT DANE

The Great Dane may well be classified as the 'Royalty" of the Dog World! He is regal; he is highly intelligent; he is quick and alert, and he is very large! Being one of the largest dogs in "Dogdom" doesn't bother the Dane for he walks with the grace of a ballet dancer. His lines are svelte, his head is huge and jaws large and Boxer-like. He has a quiet sort of walk for a large dog, and if living in small quarters manages not to knock things down; always avoiding near collisions. He must be extremely careful of his tail for they are thick. long and strong; but are subject to break accidents. "It is not unusual to see a Great Dane trotting along with a short tail," states Nikki Hartzell of Boulder City, "in that an accident to the tail is so painful that the dogs must have it amputated if damage is serious." Nikki trains all breed dogs in obedience at the Vegas Valley Dog Obedience Club and the Boulder City Recreational Department. She is well acquainted with the Great Dane, having owned a trophy winner, "Marmee Duchess" who lived up to fifteen years (old for a Great Dane), and now working with a beautiful blue Great Dane, "Hartobe's Blue Trouble," who promises to own up to the good reputation set by her late relative, "Duchess!" "Marmee Duchess," incidentally, was the first blue Great Dane to be recognized as Utility Dog in the State of Nevada She was the daughter of the renowned "Champion Nick" of California, known throughout the Great Dane enthusiast's circles.

"So far we are proud of "Trouble," Nikki related, "in that she was shown twice and passed twice with only one more "leg" to go. It isn't easy for a dog to pass with at least 170 points out of a possible 200 points by three different judges. She (Blue Trouble) has come a long way in her one - year of life." Nikki is happy in that her husband, Howard, and sons, Russell and Robert, share her interest and love for dogs.

The Great Dane is believed to be a combination of old - Mastiff type dogs used mainly in boar hunting and guarding homes and estates. Some authorities state they are a descendant of the Molossian dog of the Greco · Roman period while some date him as far back as 2200 B.C., relating him to the ancient "tiger "og" of Egypt. Paintings, coins, and sculptures on display at museums support the theory. The dog was introduced to England by the Saxons for boar hunts - which called for a dog of size, weight, and endurance. The Great Dane became the beautiful creature he now is through careful and thoughtful breeding. People interested in owning a Great Dane should be able to provide a place for him to run. He is huge and needs the exercise. He has high spirits and should be trained. He is fast, intelligent with a sense of smell which ranks that of the Bloodhound. Once met, the Dane will remember you on second meeting. He has an enormous appetite, and is suggested not for the city, although some city dwellers found a well - trained Dane to be less trouble than a Poodle. Usually affectionate, the Dane is sensitive and may be subject to moods upon the way he feels. Males average from 31-34 inches in height while female measure from 28-31 inches. Show standards for females should be 28 inches or over. The solid blue coloring is rare and may be higher priced. Acceptable colorings for show is brindle, fawn, blue, black, or harlequin (black and white patches must be big, not small like that of the Dalmatian). Eyes should be rich amber and weight

many where a keen interest was established in the breed.

Great Danes love the family and serves as a high - standard guard dog. An intruder would think twice before approaching a well trained almost lion-sized Dane where with one word from the master. the intruder would meet himself coming as he is going! Although the breed loves children, he is unintentionally a risky playmate in that he may knock a child over. He is sturdy, swift and lives his action - packed life with "gusto" in his short estimated ten year life expectancy.

FEATURING:

TERVUREN

Like the Gorenendael, or Belgian Sheepdog, the Belgian Tervuren shares the same ancestors. Both originating and bred in Belgian, the Tervuren adopts his name from the Town of Tervuren as the Belgian Sheepdog inherits his name from the Town of Gorenendael. The dogs were bred to herd sheep and round up cattle. Like the famous Collie (a kissin' cousin), the breeds stand beautiful and aristocratic as a proud shepherd should!

Tervurens differ from the Groenendael only in color, The Tervuren is colored light fawn with black overlay up until eighteen months when he turns a rich mahongany with black overlay upon maturity. The Groenendael is a rich black coloring. Both dogs are excellent shepherds, guardians, watchdogs and companions displaying a temper upon maturity not to be trifled with. He can be a savage fighter but around the family is gentle as a "pussycat!" The pups must be carefully trained by an experienced owner. They adapt well to various climates; are tough and powerful, considerate and obedient and above all, lives to please his master.

The Belgian Tervuren was first registered in France and Belgium as the Chien de Berger Belge. His coat is strong, straight, dense but not silky or wiry. Males stand from 24 - 26 inches while females reach 22 -24 inches. Weight is usually between 50 to 60 pounds. His muzzle and face are usually very black; his eyes are sharp; nose pointed and Collie - like; ears straight up and alert. This full - chested dog can only gain popularity with time in that he has not been "popularized" but is nonetheless a beautiful and top - quality work dog. Time will tell with the Tervuren. Vehicle Registration Due For New Residents

The Nevada Department of Motor Vehicles reminds all new residents of Nevada whose out-ofstate vehicle license plates expire in December to act now in obtaining 1978 Nevada registration 'and license plates.

Motorists are subject to late penalties if their registration is not completed by December 31 according to John Ciardella, the Department's registration chief. "There is no grace period in Nevada, nor does Nevada law recognize the grace period of another state," he added.

State offices will be closed December 26 and January 2.

Ciardella noted that motorists who have out-ofstate license plates on their vehicles expiring this month and are registering their vehicles in Nevada for the first time must have the vehicle identification number of their vehicle verified before registering the vehicle. Trucks and trailers weighing over 1,000 pounds must have a certified weight certificate accompanying their inspection and registration certificate in order to register their vehicles in the State of Nevada for the first time.

Solar Grants Available To Counties

The Department of Energy has advised Rep. Jim Santini that financing for solar demonstration projects will be available again this year through the agency's federal grant program.

Santini said the grants are awarded to counties to defray the cost of installing solar systems in commercial projects. The applicant must pay 100 percent of all other building, real estate acquisition and retrofit costs.

The purpose of the solar demonstration grant program is to test the effectiveness of different types of solar technologies across the nation.

Accordingly, grants are awarded on the basis of technological innovations, geographical data and certain other contributing factors.

Santini said $600,000 is the maximum amount for any one grant, and he noted that cost proposals should be included in initial applications.

He said application forms and other program information can be obtained from Mr. Jim Ajello, U.s. Department of Energy, Procurement Operations Office, 400 First Street, N.W. Washington, D.C. 20545. The closing date for applications is January 31.

WORKING IT OUT

by Mel Thompson

Dear Mr. Thompson: Do you have any ideas about what lies ahead for the field of health care? Right now I am an assistant marketing director for a shoe manufacturer and I have been thinking of changing fields. With all the attention being given to health care that might be a good choice. Would you agree? Mr. D.T.

Dear Mr. T: I sure do, particularly in the marketing areas of health care and related services and products. And even if, God forbid, we should end up with socialized medicine, the growth will be enormous -- at the consumers expense.

Dear Mr. Thompson: Along with some other investors I am starting a new marketing-sales company. If we grow at the rate we anticipate the sales people we hire now will soon be called on to take leadership positions in our company and manage their own sales. We are well aware of the qualifications and experience requirements that we will look for but what are some of the personality traits that indicate leadership potential? Mr. E.A.J.

Dear Mr. J: Working and living practices of job candidates will give you a good idea of what they will later want their own subordinates to copy. There are many other factors to consider, of course, but here are a few of the most important. The best leaders are:

- 1. Committed. They believe in what they're doing.
- 2. Positive. They preach and practice a healthy attitude.
- 3. Fair. They respect all views and don't criticize those who don't agree with them.
- 4. Flexible. They are always willing to try the new and the unorthodox.
- 5. Secure. They aren't distrustful of their associates or their competition. 6. Tolerant. They over-
- look pettiness and the weaknesses of others. 7. Mature. They act on
- reason and logic, not on emotion and heresay.

8. Open minded. They harbor no racial, social, or economic prejudices.

After you gather all of the information you can, and before you decide to hire, ask yourself if this person would be able to lead, manage, and motivate you. Regardless of all other factors, if the job applicant doesn't pass this final scrutiny you don't have the right person for the job.

Mel Thompson's book WHY SHOULD I HIRE YOU? is now available in paperback at bookstores. Send your job related questions to Mel Thompson, 525 B St., Suite 2250, San Diego, California

Guidelines For Proper Jump Starting

Haphazard use of booster cables to jump start a disabled car can cause personal injury, or damage the car's electrical system, according to the California State vehicles to touch. Automobile Association.

Jump starting permits a dead or weakened battery to borrow starting power from a fully charged one. When used correctly, booster cables -- a set of two cables with metal clamps on the end of each -- can prove invaluable for an emergency start.

CSAA suggests the following guidelines:

-Follow the directions on jump starting given in the owner's manual for the disabled vehicle. Do not borrow a manual for a different make, model or year car; the connections may be different.

-Batteries of the two vehicles must be of the same voltage. Never attempt to jump start a 12-volt battery from a six-volt or vice versa. It can cause additional damage and possible injury. Voltages are usually found on battery cases. When in doubt, count the cells. A 12-volt battery will have six cells; a six-volt will have three.

Vehicle

-Park the boosting vehicle close to the stranded vehicle so the two batteries can easily be reached with the cables, but do not allow the

-Remove jewelry such as rings and metal watchbands. Make sure all electrical accessories are off and engines are not running. Put both vehicles in park or neutral and apply the parking brakes. Keep sparks and flames away from batteries. Discharged and fully charged batteries give off hydrogen gas, which is highly flammable.

-Do not remove filler caps. Instead, place a damp cloth over the covered vents of both batteries.

-Determine polarity. On jumper cables, cable clamps, battery terminals or battery cases, POSI-TIVE connections are frequently identified by a RED color, the symbol 'h', the letter "P" or "POS". NEGATIVE connections are designated by a BLACK color, the symbol "-". the letter "N" or "NEG".

One battery terminal is grounded -- connected by wire to the car's body or engine block. The other terminal wire will lead to the solenoid or starter. The grounded wire, in most cases, is negative (-). Some English and older

U.S. cars are grounded positive (4). Check the owner's manual to be

-Connect the remaining end to the engine block of the stranded vehicle as far from the battery as possible. By grounding the negative (+) connection away from the battery, the chances of an explosion caused by a spark are reduced.

-Start the enging of the boosting vehicle -- a fast idle is best -- and then attempt to start the disabled vehicle. If it fails to start, check all connections and try again. Don't operate the starter for more than 20 seconds. allowing it to rest and cool off between tries. If it still won't start, chances are that something else is wrong or the dead battery is complicated by an accompanying malfunc-

Jump starting is only an emergency measure and the battery and the electrical system should be checked professionally as soon as possible to avoid a repeat failure.

Registration Renewals Due

If your Nevada vehicle license expires this month, you are urged by the Department of Motor Vehicles to apply for your 1978 registration renewal sticker now and to make your application by mail.

Harold Harmon, assistant registration chief, noted the deadline for December registration renewals is the 31st and there is no grace period in Nevada.

State offices will be closed January 2nd.

"The renewal process should be handled by mail and a check or money order for the proper fees should be included with your renewal forms," Harmon explained. "You may apply for renewal to a Department Branch Office in Reno, Las Vegas or North Las Vegas or in the County Assessor's office where you reside."

He emphasized that because motorists with Nevada license plates expiring this month have only until midnight December 31 to mail in their renewals and fees, many will not receive their 1978 Nevada validation sticker until after the first of the year. All renewals must be postmarked no later than December 31 to avoid penalty fees. Thus, the Department will request all Nevada law enforcement agencies to wait until after midnight January 6, 1978 to cite motorists whose Nevada license plates expire December 31, but do not display a 1978 Nevada validation sticker.

My Christmas Wish

I looked in at the window Of sheer enchanting joy-For Christmas reigned once again Over every gift and toy. There were cuddley little dogs and dolls And atop the Christmas tree, The shining star of Bethlehem For everyone to see. Dear old Santa Claus was there Bringing the Love of Christ-Just waiting until Christmas Eve and his chimney tryst. I heard the Christmas carolers Singing from above-"Come all ye faithful" The hymn that I most love Entrancing, so entrancing This happy wonderland created for Love of others in the Universal plane. Would that we could all be drawn By the spirit of the Christmas tree Into a friendly trusting world The way God meant it to be.

Nuclear Here Now

Just 20 years ago, in December, 1957, a small nuclear power plant began producing electricity in Pennsylvania, thereby launching the age of commercial nuclear energy, "Since then, nuclear energy has made big contributions in medicine and naval programs, but it is in electricity generation where it contributes most to our daily lives,

"The United States already receiving about 12 percent of its electricity from nuclear energy, which is more than we're getting from hydro-electric plants. We have 67 nuclear stations in operation, 94 others being built, and 56 more on order. Fortyone other countries also have nuclear energy commitments: 140 operating stations, 120 being built, 50 on order, 175 more planned." Nuclear energy is clean, economic, safe, Walske says: "A kilowatt hour from a nuclear plant cost a total 1.5 cents last year, compared with 1.8 cents from coal and 3.5 cents fom oil. As for safety, nuclear plants have an oustanding record." The comprehensive safety study (conducted by Dr. Norman

Rasmussen of MIT an endorsed by leading engineering and scientific organizations) estimates that for the average American, the risk per year of injury, with 100 reactors operating, is only one chance in eight million. "Cars, dams, cigarettes, and many other things pose much greater risks," Walske points out. "Our growing use of nuclear energy for electricity makes sense," he says. The world is running low on oil; problems with coal are being worked out, but we have to use it efficiently; solar power's role, according to solar experts, will grow, but mainly in sup-

Impeccable, Precision, and Accuracy

Don Juan, the Yaqui Sorcerer, says, that a warrior, or a man of knowledge, must be impeccable. Easier said than done.

The dictionary defines impeccable as "not liable to sin; exempt from the possibility of doing wrong:....faultless, or irreproachable." Such behavior undoubtedly requires deep training, from

It is impossible for me to know by simply reading books whether Don Juan is impeccable, precise and accurate in his rendering of the Sorcerer's Reality. Such knowledge is available only through personal experience of Sorcerer's dimensions. Such experience, they say. comes about by being impeccable, with great precision and accuracy in every detail of our lives. "That's so impossible I
