City Plans 5-Year, $42 Million In Improvements

By Lorna Kesterson

A five-year capital improvements program for Henderson amounting to $42,063,190, was presented to the city council Monday night by the city administration.

The $42 million outline was turned over by the city council to the city planning commission for review and comment. It will then be brought back to the city council for an in-depth discussion, including some added information that will be provided by the Finance Director as to alternatives available in financing the initial segment of the plan.

Population projections for the City of Henderson show the population by the year 2000 at a total of 63,000 people, according to the city's planning department.

City Manager Bob Campbell said the five-year plan was outlined to supply service to an expanding population; to reduce maintenance and operating costs as better equipment is available to the city and to supply more efficient plant facilities. Also to keep physical facilities in good repair and usable over a long period of time and to supply new services to match changing living styles.

The plan also gives advance notice of probable needs so that revenues can be obtained on a balanced basis from year to year without problem demands on the budget.

It also allows for coordination of functional needs of the city and supplies a basis for bond issues needed to obtain facilities promptly. The projects have outlined where municipal borrowing is necessary.

There are a total of 91 projects and 19 with no projected year.

Projects listed for 1978-79 include $1,674,000 for water; $11,330,000 for sewer projects; $100,000 (already bonded) for storm drains; $205,930 for public buildings and facilities; $105,000 for heavy equipment.

The fire department has $180,000 ($120,000 already funded); $50,000 for the police department and $133,450 for the parks department, or a total of $13,788,380 for the current year.

The Clark County planning commission approved a zone change to allow the construction of an out-patient clinic by the Veterans' administration on Tropicana Ave., about 700 feet east of Spencer St.

A quick check with the VA clinic in Henderson brought the information that it was one of the contractors who will be bidding on the construction that asked for the zone change. There have been other bids presented to the government so the location is not known yet where the clinic will be.

Plans call for the construction of a 44,000 square foot building and the details of the project are expected to be announced within the next 30 days.

Contrary to local belief, I do not like to take pot - shots at our publisher too often.

For one thing, I know that I am very dispensable.

However, when Morry decides to tag along with the U.S. President again, we will plan to send a photographer with him.

Out of 300 pictures he took on the trip - two turned out. The two pictures that turned out ok were of Morry, and were taken by someone else!

So if you had visions of seeing Morry's pictures of all the great places in the world, with all the great people of the world - forget it. On the other hand if you have use for old developed film....

Ellen Marie Spencer of Henderson, a graduate of Basic high school where she also got good grades, kept up her ways when it was announced this week that she was on the fall semester honor roll at the University of Nevada - Reno. To make the honor roll, a student must complete 15 credits in regularly graded courses with a grade - point average of 3.5 or higher.

Standards for walls and fences along major streets in commercial and industrial areas of the City will be the topic of discussion of the Henderson Planning Commission tomorrow night at 7 p.m.

Neil Twitchell, who has been planning commission chairman for the past several years, stepped down at the last meeting of the commission for Mary Roberts, who will serve as chairman for the coming year.

Gilbert Valdez was nominated vice chairman and elected unanimously by the commissioners.

Council Approves Zone Change For K-Mart Store

A request by Basic Management, Inc. to rezone approximately 19 acres of land on Boulder Highway to provide for a site for a K-Mart store, was approved by the city council Monday night.

The request was previously approved by the city planning commission on Jan. 18.

The land on which Victory Village was previously located was zoned R-4 (apartment residence) and will be changed to C-2 (general commercial.)

There was no one to speak in opposition to the proposed zone change at the public hearing held by the planning commission. The site is located approximately 1550 feet south of Lake Mead Drive on the east side of the Boulder Highway.

Teen-Age Girl Shot In Head Still Critical And In Coma

Cynthia Ulrich, 17, of 140 Kola Street, Henderson, was still clinging to life yesterday at Sunrise hospital, still in a coma and still critical, after being shot Thursday afternoon at her home.

Police are holding her 15-year-old brother, Michael Wade Ulrich on a charge of attempted murder. Justice of the Peace Reginald Tabony has set bail at $50,000. The youth is scheduled for arraignment at 9 a.m. tomorrow in Henderson justice court.

According to events reconstructed by police, Cynthia and her younger brother got into an argument about 1:45 p.m. Thursday. The boy got "awful mad," police said, went to a bedroom closet and got a loaded .22 - caliber pistol. He returned to the kitchen where his sister was cooking bacon and eggs, raised the gun and fired from about six feet away. Police said the shot struck her above the ear, lodging in her brain.

The police said, the youth called police and told them what had happened.

According to information received, when the gun was first fired, the hammer of the weapon apparently fell against an empty chamber, officers added. Hearing the trigger click, the girl reportedly turned to face her brother.

Again the boy allegedly pulled the trigger and this time the gun went off in his sister's face.

No surgery has yet been performed on the girl because of the numerous fragments.

Firecracker Blows Fingers Off Local Man

Rick Lucero, 23, of 31 Church Street, was rushed to Southern Nevada Memorial hospital for emergency surgery late Wednesday night when a large "Mexican Firecracker" blew up in his hand, police said.

According to police the exploding firecracker, equivalent to a quarter - stick of dynamite, blew three of his fingers off.

Also injured in the blast was Joe Jaramillo, 27, of 330 Sonoma Henderson.

Police said the men were driving around the desert throwing the firecrackers out a car window when one failed to go out.

As Lucero picked the explosive up it went off, injuring both men, and breaking the windshield of the vehicle, police added.

The injured men drove to St. Rose de Lima Hospital where they were initially treated for their injuries, police said.

Investigating officers managed to find various parts of Lucero's hand, and while Jaramillo was treated and then released from St. Rose de Lima, Lucero was transferred to SNMH

TODAY'S QUESTION: What would you like to see now for Henderson in 1978? Explain!

DEBBIE CAMERON - HOMEMAKER - A new Mall for convenience, Henderson's economy would go up. I would find absolutely no reason to go into Las Vegas should we get a Mall. I'm not interested in the Casinos and there would be a savings on time taken out to do Las Vegas shopping.

CANDY KRUGER - SCHOOL TEACHER - Better shopping facilities! We need shops especially for clothes. I don't know how the stores would do economically due to the lack of population should a Center be installed! I would like to see better recreation for the children such as a skateboard park and a motorcycle track.

GERTRUDE KLANDERUD - RETIRED SCHOOL TEACHER & HOMEMAKER - More activities for the young people! We need more cultural programs and activities geared to the young and the teenagers! Variety in informative programs coupled together with pleasure should be incorporated into the Project of needful recreation for the young!

MARI DILLOW - NIFTY NICKEL EMPLOYEE AND HOMEMAKER - A shopping center! Everything we buy in clothes, furniture and other items, we have to go into Las Vegas. I would also like to see a local bus going to Las Vegas. We are in dire need of that!

KATHRYN SEELEY - HOMEMAKER - We need a fully supervised park and playground for the very young children up to age eleven! We need safety equipment with, of course, a first-aid office. I would keep it for the very young since the older children have a tendency to pick on the younger.

PAULINE CEDRONE - ST. ROSE DE LIMA EMPLOYEE - STORES! We need a Shopping Center with stores such as: K-Mart; Penneys; Zody and the usual good shopping stores for sundries, clothes and household appliances. We could stand some more good restaurants; also entertainment for children, teenagers and adults.

Brown Leads Gaels Over Wolves, 79-50

Bishop Gorman's Mike Brown, a 6-6 center, scored 29 points and pulled down 17 rebounds to lead the Gaels to a 79-50 Southern AAA Conference trouncing of Basic Friday night at the Wolves gym.

The victory moved the third place Sunset Gaels to a 4-2 mark in conference play and 14-3 overall, while the Wolves dropped their 10th straight and fell to 0-5 in Southern AAA Conference play and 1-13 overall. The Wolves lost 6-9 center Kenny Lyles for most of the second quarter with an eye injury. Lyles, who didn't play for six minutes of the period, was going for a loose ball and was poked in the eye accidentally by Brown.

With Lyles out, Gorman, who had been playing man-to-man defense, went into a zone. With the zone, the Gaels and Brown were able to limit the Wolves to just one shot. Gorman out clawed the Wolves, 23-9 in the second quarter.

Brown's 17 takedowns, seven offensive boards and 10 defensive, helped Gorman dominate the boards, 45-23 for the game.

Lyles not only had trouble with an eye injury, but he was whistled with his fifth foul in the foul quarter and left the contest with 14 points.

Gorman's Danny Tarkanian was able to pile up numerous assists by hitting Brown underneath. He also contributed seven points with his court leadership.

Brown also got support from Jamie Holcombe, who meshed 12 points, and Frank Beckwith with 10 points.

Jeff Hunt swished 15 points to lead the Wolves, while Mike Holiday had 11 points.

FROM THE CRIME PREVENTION UNIT HENDERSON POLICE DEPARTMENT

'THE COMMUNITY, THE CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEM, AND COMMUNITY CRIME PREVENTION'

OFFICER ROBERT LINDSEY

Traditionally the term community has denoted territoriality. The community was the place where the householder lived and worked, raised children, and attended church. Today the meaning of community has changed.

As the population has increased and more people have moved to the cities, the old sense of community has been lost. Today places of living and working often are separated. In large cities the sense of being part of a neighborhood community has disappeared.

Community has come to mean not a neighborhood, but shared values or a common interest, which may or may not have to do with where one lives. Community then refers to two distinct concepts: In the older sense it is a geographical area, while today it often implies support of common goals.

Everyone in America is concerned with the problem of crime. Crime rates have risen steadily during the last decade. From 1960 to 1977, U.S. total crime tripled, but local units of government, from small towns to major cities, are as involved with crime as a national problem as they are with local crime rates.

Community crime prevention programs, although implemented locally, must become a matter for national action. Anti-crime strategies must be developed for every setting where citizen action against crime can be mobilized - whether the setting is a neighborhood, village, suburb, metropolitan area, state, or the nation. In the fight against crime, every locality must become a center of action. All the resources of the nation must be tapped.

While the criminal justice system is a part of American society, anti-crime efforts operating in the community and in the criminal justice system rarely are coordinated. Despite the physical closeness of law enforcement agencies and the community, the people and the system often do not work together. In many communities they operate in a climate of mutual hostility. Citizens are not trained to make use of the criminal justice system. When they are the victims of crime, they may not know how to use police assistance or seek legal redress. Law enforcement officials often operate independently of communities they serve and thus fail to tap community resources in anti-crime efforts.

Americans tend to divide their communities into two parts: The official or governmental sector and the private sector. The community is viewed as part of the private sector, while the criminal justice system is considered to be wholly within the official area. The ordinary citizen delegates the responsibility for crime prevention to the official sector - or more specifically, to the criminal justice system.

The criminal justice system must continue to play a vital role in crime prevention, as well as in apprehension and rehabilitation, but the criminal justice system at all levels is a partner to the community and at each of its levels of jurisdiction it must work with community residents for the common goals of crime prevention and reduction.

Crime flourishes more readily when these two units do not work together. Thus, it is impossible to delegate crime prevention responsibilities exclusively to the official sector. Crime cannot be reduced unless the public accepts an equal share of responsibility for its reduction. The public must acknowledge that this responsibility cannot be abdicated to govern-

The community and the criminal justice system are separate units within the broader system of society. Because they are both parts of one society, they share many values, attitudes, and codes or rules of behavior. At the same time, they operate under many different codes or rules.

The criminal justice system was established to enforce and protect the laws written to regulate behavior in society. Ideally, these laws should express community values. However, this is not always the case.

American society is made up of many subcultures, each with its own values and beliefs about what constitutes proper behavior. The differences between these values often are great. The individuals who make up these various American subcultures are shaped by these values.

Cultural differences, while they provide many benefits for our society, also make the tasks of law enforcement and law enforcement complex. Where group attitudes and enacted laws coincide, crime prevention is easier. But where differences exist, individuals and the law enforcement system oppose each other.

Community crime prevention is based on the premise that the principal and direct responsibility for crime prevention rests with the total community the private as well as the official sectors. Government and society must join in this effort. It can take many forms, from providing alternatives to criminal behavior, eliminating corrupt practices in both the private and official sectors, to designing the environmental to reduce the opportunities to commit crime.

The task is monumental. It can be accomplished, however, if the national ethic with respect to crime is recreated. If the total community is involved in providing the models for public trust and ethical concern, and if it develops a common set of plans and strategy for change, the nation can begin to eradicate criminal behavior at every level of society.

Taylor Students See Puppet Show

Robert Taylor students were treated to a puppet show, "Snow White and the Dwarfs," Thursday, January 19, in the multipurpose room. All grades attended the Thompson Brothers Marionette Show, which was given twice, once for the primary children and once for the intermediate students.

The story was the familiar one from old German folklore, written over 140 years ago, by the Grimm Brothers. A background of classical music, including Brahms' Lullaby and excerpts from Wagner's opera, "The Valkyrie," added to its charm.

The background, puppets and props were entirely the work of the Thompson Brothers. The scenery was detailed - gold poured out from a mine car in a glittering stream and clouds actually moved across the painted sky.

At the conclusion of the performance, students were allowed behind the scenes to see the mechanics of a puppet show and to learn how one is presented.

Many reasons for their enjoyment of the fairy tale were given by the students. They noted the skill used in managing the puppet strings, the clearness of the dialogue, the talking mirror and the story itself. Asked if they thought the program appealed to the audience, older students replied, "Yes, because we clapped a great deal and everyone was very quiet during the performance." Younger students answered with shining eyes and enthusiasm.

Basic Whips Clark To Win Meet

Basic High School's wrestling team swept easily through four opponents in the final rounds of action in the Rancho Classic Saturday and won the team championship for the second straight year.

The Wolves, led by individual titlists Mark Dominguez, 115, and Kevin Burrows, 141, finished with a total of 322 team points, well ahead of second-place Clark with 297.

The host Rams came on strong to take third place with 259 and Bonanza placed fourth with 236.

Basic, which has thus far had a so-so Southern AAA Conference season, led the Chargers by just 11 points as the two teams met in the tournament's final round of dual meets.

After Clark's Gary Villani pinned Ken Palmer at 148, the Chargers took a 22-18 lead in the match. But Basic won the next five matches for a 38-24 victory and the bronze trophy that goes with the championship.

Basic had earlier demolished a Chaparral team made up of junior varsity wrestlers, 51-19, and crushed Vo-Tech 58-12 and Bonanza 52-18. The Wolves trailed Clark by 23 points at the end of Friday's first day of action.

There were a few surprises in the battles for individual titles.

Las Vegas' Kelly Snyder won six of seven matches for the 123-pound championship. Snyder pinned four of his opponents and drew with the eventual second place finisher in the class, Clark's Randy Grinnell.

At 193, Chaparral's Kahlan O'Hare, second-string for the league-leading Cowboys, defeated Bonanza's Bob Haugh for the championship.

Vo-Tech's Ron Worthen, who more and more looks like the favorite among local wrestlers for the state championship at 178 pounds, zipped through seven straight opponents for the title. Worthen totaled six pins and a crucial 3-1 decision over second place Jerry Gardner of Eldorado.

In perhaps the biggest upset of the tournament, Las Vegas' Keith Sayegh pinned Clark's John Gardner in 5:15 to grab the runner-up spot at 168.

Maurice Feaster, Rancho, won at 168 easily, winning three matches by fall and four by major or superior decisions.

Because of the tournament, there were no Southern AAA meets on either Friday or Saturday this week. In a non-conference battle, Boulder City traveled to Mojave, Ariz., and lost, 32-28.

PEO Prepares For Their 109TH Anniversary

HENDERSON PARKS AND RECREATION

WHAT IS PEO?

The following is a reprint of an article which appeared in the Houston Chronicle and was brought back to Southern Nevada by Boulder City resident Lillian Honeycutt of K Chapter, PEO. For those who have heard or read about the organization and wondered just what PEO is, this article should help answer your questions.

Everybody knows about old boys' networks. But not infrequently in these days of intense focus on the forces that determine the destinies of women, the complaint can be heard that there is no female counterpart to these groups of men who sharing some common background of school or war - help one another through life.

Yet there is such an organization - an organization created not in response to the resurgent feminism of the 1960's but in response to the ideals of seven young women of the 1860's.

Today, nearly 109 years after it started, this old girls' network spreads across international boundaries and numbers 231,207 women in every state, in the six provinces of Canada and abroad.

Its assistance to women is measured monetarily in the millions of dollars. Its impact on lives is immeasurable.

The organization is the little publicized PEO Sisterhood. Its initials stand for Philanthropic Educational Organization. Members range in age from more than 100 years old to 18, the minimum for joining.

And although some people might regard PEO as a feminist organization, its members prefer to regard themselves as pioneers in women's education.

Since its founding by seven young women students at Wesleyan College on January 29, 1869, PEO has been dedicated to giving women in the United States, and eventually around the world, the financial and moral support needed to pursue a higher education.

"It's our basic value that attracts us to each other," said Irene Snell, the organization's president.

"Things like integrity, dignity, the moral uprightness of our members and personal standards. But the real purpose of PEO is to educate women to develop responsibility to act and make a better world. We create the opportunity for people to grow. We're building better people."

The organization pursues its goal through four programs. The PEO educational fund - the organizations only revolving fund - provides loans of up to $1,800 at 4 percent interest for college or other higher education for women.

The International Peace Scholarship Fund channels money to foreign women, who must commit themselves to graduate study in the United States and a return to their native countries to apply their knowledge.

The program for continuing education makes grants to women whose education has been interrupted or whose circumstances in life dictate a return to school.

All these grants and scholarships are given on the basis of need and seriousness of purpose.

PEO members believe their fourth program is unique. They maintain they are the only women's organization to own and operate a women's college - Cotney College, a two year college in Nevada, Missouri, given to PEO 50 years ago by one of its members, Virginia Alice Cotney Stockard, and maintained through annual dues of $4 paid by PEO members.

Although there are no racial or religious barriers to participating in or benefitting from the organization's four programs, membership in PEO is by invitation only.

Membership is not a prerequisite to receiving a grant or scholarship, but recipients must be sponsored by a local PEO chapter. In the U.S. alone, there are 47 state chapters and 4,700 local chapters.

This widespread organization traces its origins to the friendship among seven Wesleyan students bound together by their then uncommon experiences as women in higher education: Mary Allen, Alice Bird, Hattie Briggs, Alice Coffin, Suela Pearson, Franc Roads and Ella Stewart.

When a campus sorority asked some, but not all of the seven to join, the women declined and decided to start a secret society of their own. Huddling in a college music room, they pledged their secrecy, named their organization PEO and also formulated a still unaltered moral code emphasizing faith, love, purity, justice and truth.

In all, the PEO has provided more than 21,600 women with some $15 million in educational opportunities through its three educational fund programs, which are maintained by gifts from PEO members and friends.

The educational loan fund, started in 1907, has lent about $12.3 million to some 19,200 women.

The address of the PEO Sisterhood is 3700 Grand Avenue, Des Moines, Iowa 50312.

What is a Home Health Care Program?

A. Perhaps a Home Health Care Program is best described as "a bridge to total health care," by extending the services, supplies and skills of the hospital to the patient's home.

Q. What does it do?

A. In most cases it allows a patient who is hospitalized to be released at an early date, thereby reducing the cost of health care.

Q. Is it only for people who have been in the hospital?

A. Not necessarily. The patient's physician may have him or her admitted to the program from any facility, such as a nursing home, convalescent center, etc., or even if the patient is home-bound.

Q. Once my doctor admits me to the program what happens?

A. A highly skilled team of health care professionals follow your physician's instructions during the entire period you are in the program. They include:

- REGISTERED NURSES
- LICENSED PRACTICAL NURSES
- NURSING ASSISTANTS
- NUTRITION CONSULTANTS
- MEDICAL SOCIAL WORKERS
- PHYSICAL THERAPISTS
- PULMONARY CONSULTANTS
- PHARMACEUTICAL CONSULTANTS

Q. How often will I be visited at home?

A. As often as your physician prescribes. And regular progress reports are made to him. Your doctor is always in charge, just as if you were hospitalized.

Q. I'm on Medicare. Am I covered for a Home Health Care Program?

A. Absolutely. And so are most other people, including Nevada Industrial Commission (NIC), State Aid to Medically Indigent (SAMI), and most other types of insured patients.

Q. What kinds of patients does a Home Health Care Program take care of?

A. Just about every type, from premature babies on. Any patient whose physician thinks will benefit from the program is accepted.

Q. Is there a Home Health Care Program here in Clark County?

A. Yes. About a year ago, working in close cooperation with the Federal Government and its goals of reducing the cost of health care services, the Sunrise Hospital Home Health Care Program was started as another community service.

It is designed to serve all the physicians of Clark County and all the people, as the area's only hospital-based Home Health Care Program.

ART WORK - This is one of the projects in art, contributed by world history students in Bob Brown's freshman class at Basic high school. They are on display at the library there.

Freshman World History Students Display Work

Freshmen world history students of Teacher Bob Brown, turned creative this semester and have done semester projects which required either art work or other creative work done at home or in other classes at the high school.

The results of the work of the students are on display in the high school library.

"Out of 135 students involved in the classes there were none that did not participate," Brown said. He said the project provided 20 per cent of the semester grade.

Brown, who is new to Basic high this year, said he did the same type of project at Valley high school where he was last year. The students may take any historical era or area of the world and create something in any material.

The guidelines, he said were very general and only required creativity and originality.

Prior to the time the students created their projects, they were approved in general by the teacher.

Some people used to believe that they could become invulnerable by holding a crab claw in their mouths.

SPRINGER SPANIEL ON CANVAS - paintings are enjoyed by Jack and Karen Hedger, Springer Spaniel enthusiasts and trainers. The Hedgers enjoy their three oil portraits of this beautiful breed painted with warmth and flair by Henderson artists - Jim Heller and Morris Johnson - Karen advises us that the Springer Spaniel Club of Las Vegas employs a Rescue Service performed by Members who pick the Springers out of their fates in the Pounds and seek homes for them. The Hedger Springers are prize-field dogs and Jack is a popular all-breed trainer. Springer Club Meetings are held at Roy Pryor's Den on King Street every third Tuesday monthly at 8 p.m. All owners or interested in the breed may attend!

HENDERSON NEWCOMERS - Karen and Phillip Taylor just moved into town from Las Vegas. Phillip is no stranger to the town, having spent his earlier years here. Karen mentioned that it was a welcome relief in its quietude. An added new resident is their six month old baby - Tam-syn.

THE ANNUAL CITY BOWLING TOURNA-

MENT - will be held at the Henderson Bowl on March 10th, 11th, and 12th - states pretty and petite Betty Wages, Secretary for the Henderson Women's Bowling Association. Betty is mighty busy with activities geared toward tee on - coming tournament.

A THANK YOU - from Janice Clow (formerly of Henderson) of Las Vegas on behalf of her mother, Deannie Davis, who has been ill for quite a few months goes to all of Mrs. Davis' friends and neighbors. Cards, visits, letters, phone calls and well - wishes have enabled Mrs. Davis to keep busy and avoid the loneliness that accompanies illness.

THE FAITH OF A CHILD - is a beautiful thing! Recently beautiful little auburn-haired Susan Seegmiller - Age 4 Daughter of Marie and Foy Seegmiller - recently had this to reply to the question - "Where did you get that beautiful red hair?" A - "Why-Jesus gave it to me!" replied the large round eyed little girl - adding, "In fact Jesus put all of me here!" "But Aaron hits me!" Q - "How old is Aaron?" A - "He's three!" Q - "Why don't you tell Aaron that Jesus doesn't want him to do that!" A - "That I will - I'll tell Aaron that next time he comes over!"

AND MOMMA SEEGMILLER has this basic old - fashioned recipe to share with her neighbors!

Pet Peekin'

FEATURING: THE CHIHUAHUA - THE "DEER" DOG - SHORT AND LONG COAT

The Chihuahua (pronounced Chih-wah-wah) is classified as the World's Smallest Dog, with some adults weighing as little as one pound. There have also been a variety of the breed born small enough for a teacup. Chihuahuas come into the world as small as a mouse. Their babylike whimper is a little more than a puppy squeak. The breed is super sensitive, alert, brisk, quick, and very intelligent. One wonders upon observation of this diminutive breed at the high amount of intelligence and understanding the dog exhibits. He along with the Fox Terrier and Poodle shares the Circus and Show spotlight, with tricks and pranks performed for the viewer's delight. "The Chihuahua talks ... Mine does; and he sings also!" Many Chihuahua owners have proudly emphasized their remark about their favorite pet. Others may answer, "Oh, all dogs do ... you just think that yours is the only one!" Well, perhaps all dogs do try to talk to a certain degree; but authorities on this particular breed have observed the Chihuahua actually saying words (usually one or two) to pinpoint perfection. Their well-rounded dome shaped skull with lean cheeks and jaws; large erect ears with side angles of 45 degrees and slightly pointed short nose and clear cut features with the large eyes (set well apart) gives the Chihuahua a "deer-like" look - thus gaining his nickname of "deer-dog!"

Originating from the Techichi, a long-haired, small mute dog of early Mexico; and a cross with a small hairless dog brought from Asia to Alaska across the Bering Strait; the earliest form of the Chihuahua emerged. The early Aztecs used the dog as a spiritual guide for its deceased master's soul to the ultimate higher ground. The dog consequently was put to death when the master died. His remains have been found in human graves in Mexico and the USA.

The United States and the modern Chihuahua are a "team" in that American breeders have produced the breed in its finest form. The breed stands aside from all other breeds in Dogdom. They are the most clannish, especially the smooth-coated, preferring only their own kind and refusing to mingle with other dogs. Many larger dogs have killed Chihuahuas for this small dog does not realize he is so tiny. He will rush after the mightiest German Shepherd, barking and snarling with all of his might-like ability until the larger dogs says, "What am I running from anyway?" He'll turn on the nippy Chihuahua, and the alert smaller dog will then scramble for the nearest cover.

Elmer and Grace Shiles of Henderson own one of the long-haired variety of Chihuahua. Given the dog by her son, Jerry, some years ago, Grace acquired the dog when it was a six-year-old. "She had a nasty habit of nibbling," Grace stated, "and when Elmer sat by her, she would be so sweet; then all of a sudden she would get a whim and bite my husband. Of course, it didn't hurt, but it was annoying. We broke her of it with time, patience and love! She probably lived previously with children that may have caused her to become ill-tempered. Chihuahuas and very young children do not mix!"

Named Tinker Bell, the Shiles dog has reached a ripe old age of 15 years and is still in good health. Contrary to the "clannish" stigma put on the Chihuahua, Tinker Bell refused to mate with any other dog except a Poodle down the street. Producing many litters of three - either 2 females and a male; or visa-versa - Tinker Bell still takes occasional jaunts down the street to visit her old Poodle friend - reminiscing about bygone days. One daughter from the second to last litter remains, a cute Chi-Poo named "Baba!"

Slim legs, small feet, delicate, lovable, smart, affectionate, loyal and cute, the Chihuahua has hunting ability - used at one time in Mexico as a hunter of small game. He is an excellent apartment dog - has to odor-needs no exercise outdoors and eats the minimum. An excellent watch dog, his hearing is acute! He should be kept warm and his teeth should be watched for pyorrhea. Fawn coloring in the USA is popular while in Mexico he is preferred in black with tan markings. All colors - solid, splashed or marked are acceptable in show quality. His tail should be on the long side carried in sickle form or in a loop over back with tip just touching.

The Chihuahua sleeps frequently, enjoys the sun spots in your home, but plays hard and walks in a prance-like fashion. He is temperamental and tends to dominate his owner - if he can. But then the Chihuahua is so cute that the family ends up letting him think he is King or Queen of the House!

PET TIP: Grace Shiles believes that prayer is a great factor in the life of your pets. Feeling they respond like small children to your love and faith, Grace advises saying prayers for and to your animals. Should the man who acquired two of Tinker Bell's previous female pups - reads this article - would he please contact Mrs. Shiles at 565-7627?

NOTE: For a possible article on your pet - phone the writer at 734-2390!
