by Lorna Kesterson

I always follow instructions.

From time to time I have been instructed to "not write about yourself or your family." That's why you only find us in the news about once a week.

However, since Henderson's oldest paper carrier girl is about to retire, I have to mention it.

About 14 years ago our oldest two boys started delivering the Home News and Bob and I shared the honors of taking them around on their two routes.

We have carried on with the tradition through four boys with the same routes and now the youngest is 16 and feels he can find something more fitting to his position in life. So this week, he retired with me. Since Bob's heart attack about six years ago, Jim and I have shared the honors at 5 a.m.

We turn our route over to John Thayer and his Mom, and we thank all the nice customers we've served through the years on Major, Minor, Water, Blackmore, etc. We also thank the Phil Hubels for remembering the paper boy every Christmas. The kids could always count on them for a little remembrance and they appreciated it. It started with our son who now teaches at Vo-Tech and they carried it on all these years. They're super people.

So if you live on routes A-1 and A-2, you'll have a new paper boy next week and we know he'll be a good one.

Moone officials met in Henderson this week with Bob Anselmo, public safety director, and City Manager, Bob Campbell. The president of the Church in America was to meet with the local officials but he didn't make it so the lower officers in the church were here.

The church secured a solicitor's license in Henderson and have been seeking contributions in various places around.

While glancing through another newspaper an ad caught my eye, mainly because of the subject and also because the phone number was a Henderson phone number.

It was for "swinging couples." Too bad, I'm not going to reveal the number although we did look it up in the cross directory.

Have you noted the new signs at the Eldorado Club addition? Very attractive and adds frosting to the cake.

Get well greetings go from us to Dolores Espinoza who is recuperating at home after surgery at St. Rose de Lima.

We understand she's doing well and will soon be around again. A recent visitor at her home was her son Orlando III

EASTER TIME'S FOR FAMILIES -- State Senator James I. Gibson, who this week announced he will seek re-election, is shown enjoying the holiday with some of his grandsons. From left they are Brinley Gibson, Joseph Daniel Hales, Matthew Spencer Gibson, and Michael Ruff Hales. The Gibson brothers are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Gibson and the Hales children are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Marv Hales.

Museum Adopted By Clark County

By Mary Stafford

Clark County Commissioners voted unanimously Tuesday to take the Southern Nevada Museum under its wing as a part of their Parks and Recreation Department.

The museum will now be known as the Clark County Southern Nevada Museum and Cultural Center, according to a museum spokesman.

Buzz Noland, museum development officer will be the official liaison between the County Parks and Recreation Department and the museum. No changes in personnel employed by the museum are expected to be made at the present time.

"The museum can now look forward to a much greater acceptance by the public," said Jess Bachman, who has volunteered his services to the museum for a number of years.

Bachman continued saying the Museum Guild will continue as a chartered group for the benefit of the museum and expect to become even stronger now with the association of the county.

(Landy), who is with the Marines in Hawaii.

"It will be about 30 days to have the agreement ratified by the Museum membership," Bachman explained.

The museum has been governed by a Board of Trustees up to this point. Now there will be an Advisory Commission made up of some of the present Board members and other interested people of the community as the county may approve.

County Commissioner Jack Petitti has been serving as Chairman of the Museum's Board of Trustees for the past year.

The museum has derived most of their financial support from the county for some time, receiving $15,000 a year for salaries and maintenance since early in the 1970's.

Other monies have been raised through memberships in the museum, gift shop sales, Museum Guild functions, donations from other organizations and various fund raising activities.

The Southern Nevada Museum opened its doors in late 1968 in the old gymnasium which at that time was on the grounds of the junior high school.

After the school moved, the museum remained in the same location in the area known as the Civic Center.

They also have 33 acres of prime property on Boulder Highway where the old Boulder City Union Pacific Railroad Depot now reposes. The depot was rehabilitated during 1975-76 by the Henderson Bicentennial Committee as their Horizon project. This highway location is where the new museum and cultural center will eventually be built.

It has struggled for a number of years to gain County and State recognition and the move to join with the County is hoped to be a step in this direction.

Gibson to Run For Reelection

State Senator James I. Gibson said this week that he will file for re-election in his senate District No. 1, despite rumors to the contrary.

Gibson, who has been in the state legislature since 1959 when he was elected to serve in the Assembly, said he plans to file within the next few weeks.

Majority Leader for the 1977 session of the legislature, Gibson has gained distinction in the senate and in the assembly has always having done his homework. He has been known as the most knowledgeable legislator in the State.

Gibson, a graduate of Las Vegas high school, studied in the navy at the University of Kansas and graduate in 1947 with distinction from the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md. He did graduate work at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, N.Y. and was awarded the American Soci-

A public hearing on the Henderson city budget and revenue sharing funds will be held Tuesday, March 28 at 7 p.m. at the city hall for comments from the public, according to City Manager Bob Campbell.

The total budget, including utility funds is $8,977,016, Campbell said, which is in compliance with state requirements.

The budget, according to Campbell, carries on with the present level of services to the community with essentially the same number of personnel. He said some of the figures may appear different because some personnel have been moved to be funded from the General fund instead of revenue sharing funds.

The budget does reflect an increase in personnel since the city will hire four new firemen. The addition of three new corrections officers will come from federal funds.

According to Campbell, the "hold the line" budget is figured on an ad valorem tax base of $1,3327, which will yield revenue of $938,992.

The budget is $330,047 over the previous year.

Greenwood Services

Harley G. Greenwood, 68, of Sandy Valley, Nevada, passed away March 20 in Las Vegas.

Mr. Greenwood was born September 27, 1909 in Lincoln, Nebraska and had resided in the small community near Good-springs for five years. He was a retired diesel mechanic for Post Transportation Company.

Survivors include his wife, Ethel; son, Richard Greenwood of Henderson; daughter, Betty Nielson of Henderson; eight grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Services will be held at Palm Chapel this afternoon at 2 p.m. with interment to follow at Palm Memorial Park.

Home News To Feature Industrial Days

The Henderson Home News will again feature a special section in honor of Industrial Days, 1978, and it will be published a little earlier this year, on April 13.

The Henderson event is being held earlier this year and the final event, the parade, will be held on Saturday, April 15.

The theme of Industrial Days this year is Henderson's Silver Jubilee and that will be the theme of the parade. Watch for the special I-Days section of the Henderson Home News.

SIGN CONTRACT FOR TEAMSTERS -- City officials and negotiators for the Teamsters Union met this week to sign the new contract. Seated are Jerry Webster, finance director for the city, Janice Wiese, personnel director, Jim Wilkerson, and City Manager Bob Campbell. Standing are Wayne Sillitoe, Greta Pagan and Terry Smith.

Teamsters Sign Contract

The City of Henderson and the International Brotherhood of Teamsters Local 14 have reached tentative agreement on a two-year contract for the period July 1 through June 30, 1979.

The agreement covers working conditions, salaries, etc., for three separate bargaining groups represented by the Teamsters, involving Blue Collar, Supervisory, and Clerical and Technical personnel. The employee groups ratified the proposal, and action by the Henderson City Council has also been taken.

The two-year agreement calls for two five percent salary increases as awarded by the Factfinder, and two and one half percent salary increases for the second year of the contract, on July 1, 1978, and January 1, 1979.

Health and Welfare Benefits for the groups represented will go from the previous $49 per month amount to $54 per month and to $70 per month on July 1, 1978.

Also considered a major portion of the agreement, the City and Union will cooperate through a joint committee in a review of work schedules, considering such possibilities as a 4-10 work week, better shift definitions, etc.

Jim Wilkerson, Coordinator Vice President for the Teamsters, and Bob Campbell, Henderson City Manager, have both termed the agreement as one that is fair to the employees as well as within the financial capabilities of the City.

Green Valley Commercial Center Announced -- First Lease Signed

A sprawling, Spanish styled one-story commercial center, featuring retail shops and offices, is being planned for Green Valley.

Located at the intersection of Sunset Road and Lamb Blvd., construction of the 4,800 - square - foot building complex is scheduled to begin in early April.

"This commercial center is the first of several business projects planned to serve the residents of Green Valley," commented Mark Fine, president of American - Nevada Corporation, developers of the 8,400 - acre master - planned community.

"With residential housing construction in our area continuing to grow at increased rates, it is essential the business and commercial portions of the plan keep pace," Fine added. "We expect Green Valley to have a population of 100,000 in 20 years and those people will need a place to shop."

The first lease signed in the business complex is for a 2,400 square - foot convenience store. The leasees are Rick and Deane Crawford of Las Vegas.

The Green Valley master plan calls for a combination of residential, commercial and industrial development. Currently, four major home builders are active on the property. Pardee Construction Co., Collins Bros., U.S. Homes and Metropolitan Development Co. are all developing residential neighborhoods.

Green Valley is located in the Paradise Valley section of the Las Vegas - Henderson metropolitan area.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Warning to Senior Citizens - Correction for a coverup.

I see in the Police Blotter where I had a brown leather purse stolen containing $150. I reported the entire story to Sargent McNeil. Well the brown purse was maroon leather containing $150 possibly more. No men were involved, just two high school seniors who will graduate this year, one known to me as she has worked for me several years. The other girl was a stranger to me of another race.

And the couch was on the patio and the one girl (whose mother is engaged in upholstering old furniture) asked me of the couch and I gave it to her.

The girls came and loaded the couch and then asked permission to come in and wash their hands which I granted - as I was eating my lunch at the time. When they left I discovered my purse missing

Council Passes Outdoor Assemblies Ordinance

An ordinance providing for the licensing and regulation of outdoor assemblies was questioned by Judith Hamblin before the Council voted Monday night to approve it.

Hamblin wanted to know what the purpose of the ordinance was and City Attorney Kent Dawson explained that it is "specifically designed to catch gatherings out in the desert where there are no facilities.

"This does not pertain to places such as the city parks which have been constructed to accommodate a number of persons," he said.

"The State has mandated that we adopt something and the County's ordinance does not cover Henderson."

Zone Change For Convenience Store Denied

After listening to arguments for and against a zone change, the City Council voted unanimously to deny the request of Lewis Homes of Nevada for the change of a piece of property located on the Southeast corner of Horizon Drive and Pacific Avenue.

The builders wanted the land rezoned from R - 1, single family residence, to C - 1, Neighborhood business, for the proposed site of a Circle K Store, a Phoenix, Arizona based corporation.

This particular piece of land had been zoned C - 1 by resolution of intent in 1972 with a time limit of three years. At that time the City Council thought that a neighborhood business zone was needed in that area and the land around the site was then vacant.

Several residents of the area attended the council meeting Monday and expressed opposition to the zone change.

Adrienne Pease, who lives half a block from the proposed location, warned that from a previous experience when living near a similar type of store, "broken glass was a constant problem. Kids buy bottled drinks and when they are finished, throw the bottles down. We had to constantly clean up broken glass."

Pornographic material on display racks, a hangout of kids, increased chances of theft in the neighborhood, an attractive nuisance for children where they won't learn to be thrifty and make wise purchases were other reasons cited in opposing the rezoning.

Bill Adams, a spokesman for the store, said Circle K "likes nice neighborhoods with gentle people and controllable children."

He explained the Circle K had 1200 neighborhood food stores and the Pacific Avenue Horizon Drive location was ideally suited for their operation.

"They provide 24 hour block home safety," he concluded.

Nevertheless, the council followed the recommendation of the Planning Commission and denied the request.

ety of Military Engineers award for being top student in the graduate group.

He served in the U.S. Navy from 1943 to 1953 in World War II and the Korean conflict. He and his wife, Audrey, are the parents of six children.

He has been instrumental in organizing and a member of nearly every important board in Henderson and Clark County. A professional engineer, he is vice president of the Pacific Engineering and Production Co. in Henderson.

He is a member of the executive board of the national conference of state legislatures, and in Nevada, has sponsored legislation important to not only the state, but to Henderson and Boulder City.

He sponsored the bill expanding the number of county commissioners in Clark County to allow smaller communities to be represented, worked out the last major increase in gaming taxes to raise money for state support schools, and as a key member of the finance committees of the legislature, assisted in obtaining funding for the development of UNLV to full fledged degree granting institution, both in buildings and in operating capital. He sponsored legislation which brought the National Guard Armory to Henderson, the Children's Home to Boulder City, The Solar energy laboratory to Boulder City, the fish hatchery to Lake Mead, and increased funding for state parks and recreation facilities all over the state.

He was awarded the first "meritorious service award in education" presented by the professional education associations of Clark County; the Silver Beaver Award from the Boy Scouts of America; the Distinguished Nevadan award, University of Nevada, Las Vegas, 1973.

Gibson said he will continue to see that the state "holds the line" in expenditures so that taxes do not have to be increased.

"After reading in the papers what happened at Ontario, there is definitely a need," commented Mayor Lorin Williams.

The ordinance specifies that assemblies where 1,000 or more individuals gather in the outdoors must be licensed. An application must be made in writing to the city license clerk at least 60 days prior to the time indicated for the activity and must be accompanied by a non refundable application fee in the amount of $150.

TRENCHING STARTED - A trench is being dug along Greenway Road for an 18 inch Water line which will provide water for the lower part of the Paradise Hills subdivision, Mission Hills and the industrial area which includes Levi Strauss. Joe Bachman and Ross Howes of the Paradise Hills sales office observe as work progresses on the much needed line.

FROM MERRY OLDE ENGLAND

Tall, tall Ron Phillips returned to Nevada country on Saturday, March 11th via that big silver bird that conquers the spans of thousands of miles and even time it seems. Ron spent the past two years in old England. Ron is the son of Harriet Phillips. He says that he really enjoyed the country of England and its Old World charm and especially the people. His family is very happy to have him home again though.

PENNSYLVANIA TRANSPLANT

Visiting our town is Scott Shaffer (originally from the great state of Pennsylvania) Scott is attending business college in Salt Lake City, Utah and is here during spring break. He and Coral Smith, daughter of Loris and Gloria Westover plan an early August wedding.

DEATH VALLEY VACATION

Geneva Killebrew who works on the staff at our hospital, Rose de Lima, enjoyed a few days vacation at Death Valley. She reported that it was really beautiful and warm in the famous valley. Son Mike Killebrew is in town from the Edwards Airforce Base. A great family Bar-B-Q was enjoyed by the entire family. Unbeatable combo...family, love and good food.

BACK HOME FROM SAN DIEGO

That lady with the splendid voice and wife of our Senator, Audrey Gibson recently spent some time with son David and family in San Diego, Calif. Little grandson is gaining strength and getting better all the time. That is always good news for us proud grandmas.

HOSPITAL STAY

Young Roy Eckman may be small in size but he's man-sized when it comes to bravery. He is in the hospital where he underwent some surgery on his arm. His mom and dad, Joyce and Blaine say he is doing pretty well. Has a colorful sling to hold arm.

WEARING NATION'S UNIFORM

On leave from the United States Armed Forces at Ft. Hood, in Texas was Gary Westover and his bride, Marcella. Gary is the son of Loris and Gloria Westover. Marcella enjoyed a visit with her sister, Mrs. John Williams, Jr. of our town. Know that they enjoyed their visit with family and friends before returning to Texas.

BIRTHDAY-BIRTHDAY GREETINGS

There's nothing like doing things up in a big way! Robin and Robert Porter celebrated their birthday on March 10th and everything was doubled. They are the son and daughter of Nadine and Jared Porter.

"Good resolutions are simply checks that men draw on a bank where they have no account" (Oscar Wilde)

UTAH VISITORS

Spending a couple of days at their second home in Southern Utah were Ivins and Thurza Jones. Ivins is with the local Titanium plant and has been for quite a few years.

HOSPITAL VISITORS

Grace Van Muyden was scheduled to check into Rose de Lima for some tests this past week. Hope that all is well and she is at home now.

The staff of the emergency room of Rose de Lima took care of Jack Vause after he accidentally shut his hand in a car door. He left the hospital with a cast on his hand and some stitches, too. Get better quickly, Jack. Edie Cartwright has been in the hospital and we wish to extend get well wishes. Edie is one of Henderson's nicest people. Used to see her often when both of us were bowling.

WYOMING BOUND

Martha Titmus who lives in Boulder City and is the nurse in Dr. Harold Miller's Office was out of town for a few days due to a death in her husband's family in Wyoming. Happened while Dr. Miller was also out of town...but able Shirley Gifford "held down the fort" here at home.

EASTERN VISITOR

Saw a familiar and pretty face in a crowd the other evening. It was Pauline Lowman (Mrs. Bud) daughter of Ted and Wanda Mann. Bud and Pauline now live on the East Coast but once lived in our town.

How would you like to struggle and climb the ladder to success only to find that the ladder is against the wrong wall?"

MEET IN CALIFORNIA

Three former Basic grads, Tia (Bennett) Green and Janet (Benevedez) and Jeff Burr met in Sacramento recently where they visited and had a good time talking over old times at Basic High School and college.

BELATED BIRTHDAY

Happy Birthday to a fine little boy who turned five years old on Thursday, March 16th. The birthday boy is Abraham Sprinkle. He's looking forward to school next year.

HOME ILL

Susie Sullivan's station at Isabelle's Beauty Salon was vacant for a couple of days last week when she was ill and at home. Easter's on it's way, Susie, so get all well quickly.

VOTING CENTERS

There are so many things that we do as a matter of fact--like voting in the local elections. We always have friendly citizens working at the voting centers to help.

It wouldn't be the same to vote at C.T. Sewell without seeing Fawn Jolley or Jackie Dillard who have been on the job many an election day. Our thanks to them and many who work with them.

CONGRATULATIONS

Today, March 24th, is a doubly nice day for a special lady -- Rhea Haning. Rhea will be celebrating her birthday and a wedding anniversary, too.

Congratulations to Rhea and husband Hyrum Haning.

Presbyterian Church News

Today is Maunday Thursday and the observance of the Lord's Supper will be held tonight at 7:30 p.m. Easter Sunrise services will be held at Morrell city park on Sunday morning March 26th at 5:30 a.m. with St. Peter's and Community church participating. This is an annual event and we hope to see everyone come and rejoice in this service. The youth groups of the Presbyterian Church will hold their annual pancake breakfast after the sunrise service at 7 a.m. at the church. Regular morning worship will be at 11 a.m. and Sunday School and Adult Bible Study are at 9:30 a.m.

The church is located at 525 Westminster Way just behind Morrell city park. Church office hours are 7:30 a.m. to 12 noon and 1-4 p.m. Monday thru Friday. Rev. Bill Kirkman is the Pastor and he cordially invites you to come and worship with us.

World Sampler To Be Theme Of Tasting Spree

The Henderson Service Club met March 14 to discuss plans for the Annual "Tasting Spree" which will be held on Saturday, April 22 at the Masonic Temple.

This year's motif will be "World Sampler" with recipes from many countries and appropriate costumes will be worn by those serving.

Area AFS students will supply recipes from their respective countries and will also be present at the spree.

Tickets are $2 each and may be purchased ahead of time from Service Club members or at the door the day of the event.

The Henderson Service Club each year gives a $200 scholarship to a deserving senior girl from Basic High School. The "Tasting Spree" is one of the Club's fund raising activities to help make this scholarship possible.

Senior Citizens Social Club

The Senior Citizens Social Club, which usually meets each Friday, will not have a meeting this week due to the fact that

March 24 is Good Friday. They will be getting together again next week, however, according to publicity chairman Lois Rinker.

'Action People'

BEN STEPMAN - Takes a few minutes from a busy work schedule for the Action People interview. Although Ben and his lovely wife, Billie, had previously visited Henderson and the Las Vegas area in years gone by, Ben is a relatively new inhabitant of the Valley. "March 22nd will mark my 33rd Anniversary in the New Car Dealer business," Ben cheerfully admitted, "and it clearly has utilized the major part of my life!"

Ben had dreams of retirement back in St. Louis where he maintained a Dealership and an RV Dealership in the suburb of Bourbon. "Billie and I decided on our favorite spot - the Las Vegas area - and left St. Louis in 1976 with a motorhome and two cars. After we arrived we found that we didn't enjoy the treatment and service we received on our motorhome and decided that retirement wasn't for us. Here we are back in business again!" It was January, 1977 that Ben Stepman Dodge, Inc. was opened at 460 No. Boulder Highway in Henderson.

"Billie is one hundred percent active in the business and serves as Vice President of the Dealership," Ben stressed. So sold on the area are the St. Louis husband - wife team that Billie's brother, Jim Coon of Chicago, took to the West to escape the bristling winters joining the Dealership as General Manager. Jim formerly owned a Ford Dealership in the Windy City. Bruce Hampton, Ben's Business Manager from St. Louis, joined the Stepman Business Family and will soon join the family as son-in-law with an August wedding date set to take Jill Stepman for his bride. The Stepman's keep in touch with their other happily married daughters, Lynne-attending the University of Washington - and Pam who resides in Washington D.C. - the wife of a homebuilder.

When the Stepmans find time, Billie enjoys bowling, and the couple looks forward to exploring the area with their motorhome. Boating on Lake Mead will hold the Stepman's fascination for future weekend trips.

Aside from the new care Dodge Dealership, Ben maintains a service department for cars and road vehicles. He looks forward to expansion and is in the process of adding a leasing company to the Dealership. Within thirty days, the Stepman Dodge Dealership will add a daily car rental department.

Ben and Billie Stepman love Henderson and the Las Vegas area. Ben is a member of the Henderson Chamber of Commerce and serves as Publicity Chairman on the Henderson Industrial Trades Commission.

Only One Week Till Talent Show Entry Deadline

The deadline for entering the Henderson Industrial Days Amateur Talent Show is rapidly approaching. Talented local youngsters have until the close of business, March 28, to sign up for this annual show at the Chamber of Commerce office located in St. Peter's Center on Boulder Highway.

The Talent Contest is designed to give the young people of Henderson an opportunity to showcase their talents before a large, appreciative audience and compete with their peers for recognition.

Judging will be in six categories so that younger children will not have to compete with older, more experienced, performers, singers against dancers or variety acts with others. However, one act in the show will receive a trophy as the best of all. Last year's winner was talented young dancer Michele Fincher.

Tryouts will be held April 3 at 7 p.m. at the Civic Center Auditorium with the show being held two days later, April 5, same time, same place.

The public is welcome to attend both shows.

If you are 18 or younger, live in Henderson or attend a Henderson school, you are eligible to enter. If you sing, dance or entertain, stop by the Chamber of Commerce and sign up immediately. Entry forms are also available at the schools.

Open House

-Girl Scout Camp Night

Are you aware you don't have to be a Girl Scout to be able to attend Girl Scout camp?

Do you know how many fun and exciting things go on at Camp Foxtail every summer?

Would you like to meet new friends and just have fun?

The answers to these and many more questions will be answered Wednesday night, April 5 in the Multi-purpose room of Gordon McCaw Elementary School.

The Henderson Neighborhood Girl Scouts are presenting a program with slides, posters and lots of information on Girl Scout Camp. Everyone is invited to come and bring along

Stephen Phillips Selected For Concert Tour

Stephen Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Phillips of Henderson, has been accepted for membership in the United States Collegiate Wind Band, a highly selective musical organization which will make a concert tour of seven European countries in July and August.

The group will travel for three weeks, July 13 to August 5, in England, France, Germany, Austria, Italy, Holland and Switzerland. Concerts will be performed in the cities of London, Paris, Lucerne, Atdorf, Salzburg, Lugano, Munich, Amsterdam, Montreaux, Strasbourg and Heidelberg.

The group will assemble in New York City for rehearsals prior to the departure on July 13. While in New York City will play invitational concerts at the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts and in the Plaza of the Americas at Rockefeller Center.

Acceptance for membership in this highly talented group of college and high school musicians is considered a musical honor of national importance. A maximum of one hundred musicians are chosen from the entire United States once each year. Students from 41 of the 50 states participated in the 1977 USCWB Tour.

The previous seven concert tours made by the USCWB in Europe, England and Russia were received with great critical acclaim. Standing ovations were the rule rather than the exception whenever they played. The groups annually receive more requests for concerts from the European city officials than can possibly be accepted.

In addition to performing concerts the Wind Band group will visit musical shrines, museums and places of musical interest such as Richard Wagner's house in Lucerne, Mozarts house in Salzburg and Beethoven's house in Bonn, Germany. The group will also attend selected concerts and performances in various European concert halls and opera houses.

"DOUBLE CELEBRATION" - Ezzie and Agnes Lytle will be celebrating their 38th wedding anniversary March 27, 1978. They also will be celebrating their first month of retirement! Ezzie is retired from 24 years of self-employment at Lehman & Lytle Chevron Service Station. Agnes is retired from 15 years of employment at the Bank of Nevada, Henderson branch. During their first month of retirement they have spent a week of camping and fishing at Cottonwood Cove with their closest, and also "retired" friends, Cleo and Kathy Weese. Ezzie and Agnes are anticipating many more fun filled years of marriage and retirement.

Meet Your Boys' Club Staff

PHIL TRAIL - MAINTENANCE SUPERVISOR

Phil Trail plays a very large role in the life of the Henderson Boys' Club for it is he who maintains the upkeep of the large facility.

"This includes the gymnasium and the ball field," he explained. "Anything that needs repair, whether it be electrical, plumbing, carpentry or whatever."

Trail went on to relate that his job also includes setting up for the various activities which are constantly going on at the club.

"When the club's athletic department decided to instigate the biddy basketball leagues, a new court complete with special baskets had to be constructed. And yet another had to be made for the 3 man basketball games so that all three types of basketball could be played in the gymnasium.

"I've been employed at the Boys' Club for nearly four years now," Trail said "and really enjoy being associated with such a fine organization."

He and his wife have lived in Henderson for nine years. They are the parents of six children, five boys and one daughter.

"And three of my boys are active members of the club. If I didn't think it was a good place for them to be, I wouldn't allow them to come here."

Helen Bickerstaff Honored As Musician For Royal Neighbors

Helen Bickerstaff, who has served as organist for the Royal Neighbors of America for about 20 years, was honored at a social meeting of the group held Tuesday, March 21 at Gilbert Hall.

Mrs. Bickerstaff also plays for the senior citizens center when time permits. She has always served as the musician except for a short while recently when her husband passed away.

She was presented with a sweater from the Lodge and other gifts from members of the group.

White elephant bingo was played and delicious refreshments were served by Juanita Hamblin and Cleo McDonald. It was announced that the next meeting of the Royal Neighbors will be held April 4 at Gilbert Hall.

Those present at the meeting included Dorothy Wittern, Juanita Hamblin, Cleo

McDonald, Mabel Newton, Thelma Pullen, Evelyn Mazrimas, Lela Buescher, Olive Melton, Zelma Choate, Mamie Vincent, Winnie Fisher, Margaret Montoya, Maycel Morris, Mabel Heenan, Helen Bickerstaff, Bel Sanner, Smiles Cunningham, and a guest, Rhea Johnson.

The RNA members signed get well cards for ill members of the group.

TRIBUTE TO DAN FURSE - This painting of Dan Furse, former Manager and Pro for Black Mountain Golf and Country Club for a number of years, now hangs in the front room of the club house. The painting was done by Jim Miller and his father, Jack Miller, as a tribute to the man who came to the club 13 years ago and remained in those two capacities until his death.

MARCH 18 FOOSBALL TOURNAMENT WINNERS

Foosball winners for the March 18 weekly tournament were announced by Pat Hartley, owner of Games Unlimited. Due to the large turnouts of young folks who have been participating, it has been decided to award fourth place winners ribbons in the weekly games, she said.

Coming in first were Bob Wilson and Colton Bochart; second place went to Mark Pinonnault and Steve Green; third place was won by Benny Smith and Brooke Green. Trophies were presented to these happy winners.

Coming in fourth were Lori Marchese and Ed Hartley.

First Paradise Hills Home Under Construction

The inconvenience of having to haul your own water and rough it in a trailer for awhile doesn't seem to bother Elois and Bill Barton the least little bit.

being installed as the trench for the 18 inch line has just been dug in front of the Barton's property.

"Hopefully that will be completed around April 15," Barton reported "and then we won't have to haul in water any longer."

The couples new home is coming along quickly, and weather permitting, they look forward to a late June, early July completion.

"The pad was graded

NO ONE COULD BE PROUDER - Elois and William "Bill" Barton, left, stand happily in front of their new home which is now under construction in Paradise Hills. With them are Ross Howes, Fidelity Realty Co. Sales Counselor, Jess Bachman, Project Manager for Paradise Hills and his grandson.

2,485 SQUARE FEET OF LIVING SPACE - The Bartons new home will have four bedrooms, 2½ baths, a family room, living room, kitchen, dinette area and dining room plus a marvelous view.

in January and the cement foundation laid early in February. The structure was started in March and is moving along fast," Barton said.

"We will have 2,485 square feet of living space and almost 500 square feet of garage area. Four bedrooms, two and a half baths, a family room, living room, kitchen, dinette area and diningroom plus a utility room," he said proudly.

The Bartons had lived in Las Vegas for 17 years, Bill working at the Desert Inn Hotel as a chef until it closed. Their children are grown and gone from home but the new house will offer plenty of space, both indoors and out, for visits from children, grandchildren, other relatives and friends.

The Bartons are in the process of building a new home, the first in Fidelity Realty Company's 1600 acre Paradise Hills subdivision.

"It was just too crowded in Las Vegas," Barton said, "so we decided it was time to find an area that would offer us more space. My wife raises rabbits and dogs and this is ideal."

They are also both extremely pleased with the view.

The Bartons moved to their property around the 7th of January and it was several days later before they had power and a telephone, which they had to pay to have brought in to their thus far isolated location on Greenway Road.

The water line is currently in the process of

The Community Church Celebrates Easter

At 5:30 a.m. Easter morning, The Community Church of Henderson will join with St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church and The First Presbyterian Church in a Easter Sunrise Service at Morrell Park. The message will be given by Father Caviglia of St. Peter's. Rev. Bill Kirkman of the First Presbyterian and Rev.

Bob Richards of the Community Church will assist with the service.

At 6:30 a.m. an Easter Sunrise Breakfast will be held in Gilbert Hall, sponsored by the Youth Group. The menu is as follows: Fruit cup, Ham and Cheese Souffle, muffins, and coffee. Donation: $1.75 for adults and $1 for children under twelve. For reservations, call Dee Erickson at 565-0407 or the Community Church office, 565-8563.

Then at 10:30 a.m., the Easter Celebration Worship Service will be held in the Sanctuary. The title of Rev. Richards sermon is RESURRECTION NOW, with the scripture reading from Acts 10: 34-43 and Colossians 3: 1-11. A nursery will be provided for the worship service.

Because of the busy schedule, there will be no Sunday School on Easter. The children are invited to attend the services with their parents or to attend the nursery.

The Community Church of Henderson, U.C.C. is located at Texas and Army Streets.

Baseball Team Still Winning

by Frank S. Ward

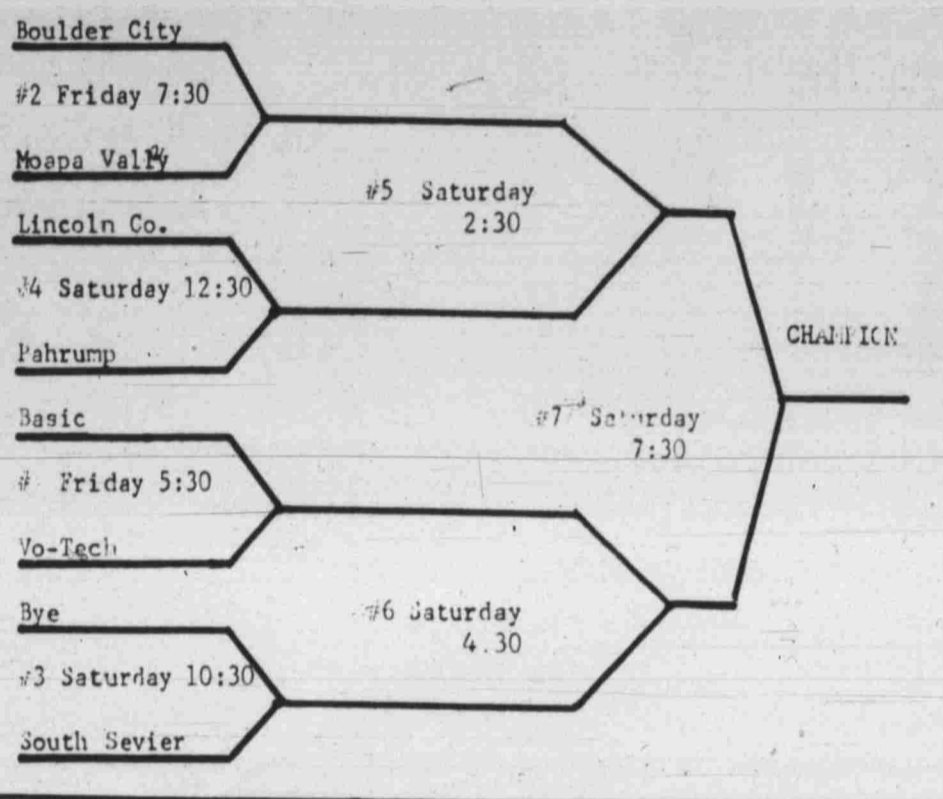

The Basic baseball team won its third game of the season by defeating Reed High School of Reno, 3-2, last Tuesday. The Wolves are now 3-0 for the season.

Greg Gammon, new to the Wolves this year, has been showing good talent. Basic trailed 0-2 in the bottom of the fifth inning when Gammon singled, scoring pitcher Bob Groesbeck. Then Brett Goodnow hit a single and Basic went on to win 3-2.

Bob Groesbeck was the winning pitcher.

Tomorrow the Wolves travel to Boulder City to play Vo-Tech at 5:30 p.m. in the Eagle Classic baseball tournament. Below is a schedule for the tournament.

1978 Eagle Baseball Classic March 24th-25th

Wednesdays from 3-5 p.m. for children 8 years old and up. Maximum for class: 20 persons. Class will run from April 18 to May 31 and will be taught by Kathy Bunning. Fee will be $10.

Circular Weaving: Wednesdays from 7-9 p.m. Being taught by Jerry Lomprey. Maximum for Class: 12 persons. Fee is $20 per person. For additional information, please call the Henderson Parks and Recreation Dept. at 565-8921 ext. 32.

Junior League Baseball Team Tryouts

Thirteen and fourteen year old boys interested in trying out for a Clark County Junior League baseball team call 565-8932 before Saturday, March 25, for more information.

SWIMMING LESSONS

Lessons will be on Monday, Wednesday and Friday beginning April 3 thru April 28, 1978 from 8:30 - 7:30 p.m. for $3 per session. Classes are: Pee Wee and Beginners. Fees must cover cost of instructor.

SWIMNASTICS

Lessons will be held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday beginning April 3 thru April 28, 1978 from 7:30 - 8:30 p.m. for $1.50 per week. Fees must cover cost of instructor.

DISCOUNT SWIM PASSES

Passes are available at the H.P.R.D. office for $7 30 swims, $20-90 swims or $75 - 365 swims. Passes are good for one year from the date of purchase or until the swims are used (whichever comes first).

Swimmers Upset Powerful Fallbrook

Basic High School's AquaWolves defeated California powerhouse Fallbrook High from San Diego, last Friday night by a tight score of 87-83. The win was the first for the Wolves over Fallbrook. Two years ago Fallbrook handed the Basic mermen their only defeat and last year's team was soundly beaten at Fallbrook.

The meet was close throughout. The Wolves jumped out to a 2 point lead when the medley relay team of Larry Hague, Dave Deacon, Arnell Miller, and John Rocha won with a time of 1:53.0. Senior, Arnell Miller came right back to win the 200 freestyle with a 1:57.9 but Fallbrook swimmers placed 2nd, 3rd, and 4th to tie the meet at 15-15. Larry Hague remained undefeated by winning the 200 Individual Medley with teammates Ron Miller placing 3rd and Cindy Bower 4th. This gave the Wolves a 26-20 lead which they never relinquished although Fallbrook pulled close.

A 1-2-3 sweep in the diving for Basic by Mark Jimenez, Mike Abrams, and Pledger Solomon gave the Wolves their largest lead, 15 points. After that Fallbrook came roaring back and only some clutch wins by Basic's Ron Miller, in the 500 freestyle, and breaststrokers Dave Deacon, Cindy Bower and Mark Hillstead's 1-2-4 finish in the breaststroke allowed the Wolves to pull it out.

There are two meets this week with Basic's girls team facing Las Vegas Aquatic Club on Wednesday, (results were not available at press time) then on Saturday at 11 a.m. the Wolves will meet a tough Vista High School team from Vista, California.

C.T. Sewell Students Present Talent Show Here

LONELY PETUNIA---Alyson and Susan Keele are shown during the talent show at the Sewell School Tuesday as they performed, "Little Petunia."

Almost 30 young people participated in the annual talent show held at the Chester T. Sewell elementary school Tuesday.

Wendell Bond, principal, awarded ribbons to the children who were selected to participate in the 19 acts.

The opening attraction was a skit by Paul and Robert Elizondo on "Star Wars." Songs were sung by Joseph Farrington, Alyson and Susan Kelle, Bobbie Keplinger, Monique Bush, Elise Lopez, Tina Davis, Barbara Lee, Kathy Gray, Janet and Kevin Albiston and Shane Adams.

Anthony Abeyta played the accordion and dances were done by LaDeana Cameron and Julie Corona, "My Boyfriend Back," Barbara Kay Call, "Little Grass Shack," Marianne Lucero, "Bellydancing," Diane Nauenburg, Tapdance, "Buttons and Bows." Tina Finchem did a Hula Hoop routine, Many Ullibarri and Sabrina Sledge did "Soul System," and Ann Elizondo did "Staying Alive."

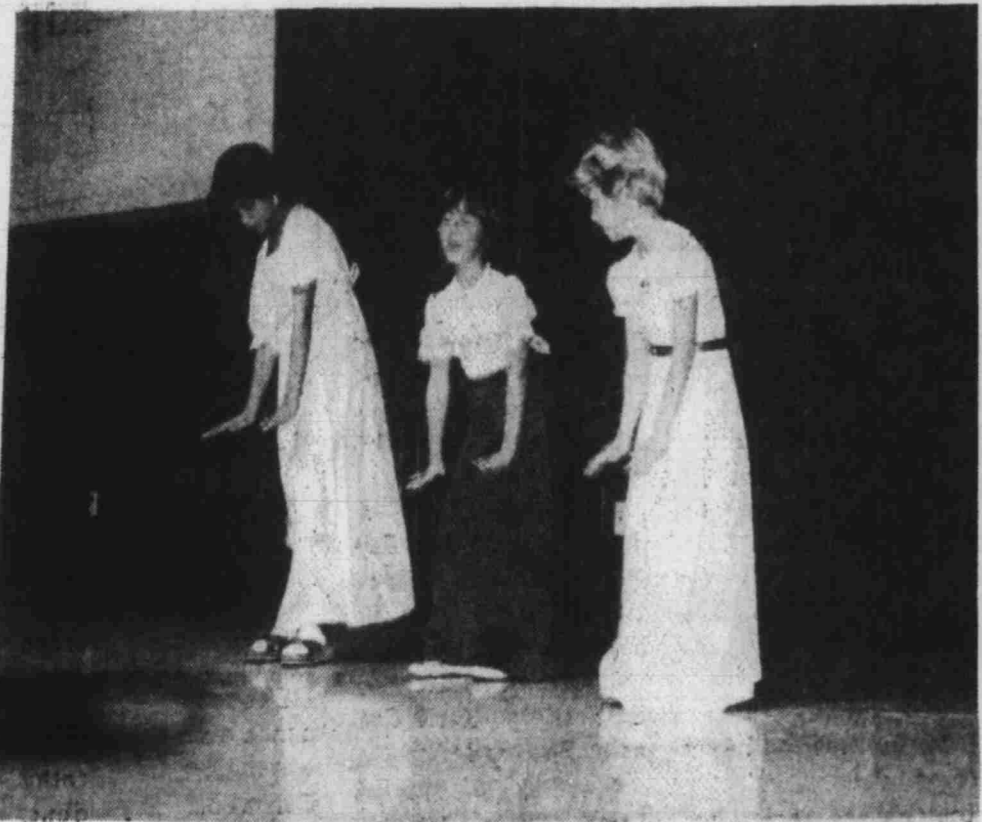

LuAnn Simerl performed a trumpet solo. Mrs. Hague's sixth grade class entertained the audience at the finale with a song and tumbling act.

Joseph Farrington sang a patriotic song.

Anthony Abeyta played the accordion in the talent show.

"SHORT PEOPLE"---Bobbie Keplinger, Monique Rush, and Elise Lopez sang and danced to "Short People."

BARBARA CALL---Barbara Kay Call is shown at the talent show at the Sewell school Tuesday as she danced to "little grass shack."

Unique 'Touch For Health' Class Offered At UNLV

A class called "Touch for Health", a new approach to restoring our natural energies, will be taught by LeeAnn Washburn-Huffman at UNLV beginning next month.

Mrs. Huffman explained that through this course, students learn to relieve tension, become more immune to communicable disease, to be more energetic. "It puts the responsibility for health in our own hands," she said.

She explained that the course will teach anyone how to recognize bilateral muscle strength imbalances (one arm to another, for example) which are indicators of tension.

Touching or rubbing certain sensitive body points will correct the imbalances.

Muscle balance is a basic key to the health of the whole person. Using an amazingly simple series of muscle tests Touch for Health can give very precise information about muscle weakness, nutritional deficiencies, injuries, allergies, mental blocks, acupuncture meridian flow and so on.

"Holistic or (w)holistic health is whole person health - mind, body and spirit. It generates trust between two people and helps get away from the feeling that we're independent, that we're an island unto ourselves," Huffman said.

The TFH is being spread by Dr. John Thel, a California chiropractor who authored a book on the subject four years ago and has been practicing the method for the past ten years.

"Six colleges in California are teaching TFH in adult education and physical education classes and it's been introduced in nurses recertification requirements in California."

Three tools will be taught in balancing muscle weaknesses, Huffman explained. "Before pain starts the body sends out subtle messages which may be a change in posture or weakened muscles. I'll teach students how to test bilateral muscles starting from the neck and shoulders down to the legs."

When a weakness is found, indicating one muscle is overloaded, the appropriate pressure points are pressed for several seconds, tension is released and muscle balance is retained. Students will learn 36 muscle tests.

"Just improving posture is a simple example of releasing energy," she pointed out. "When a person does not have good posture, the energy is blocked because the muscles are not performing correctly."

It is not a kinky fad," she said. "It is a method of self-improvement which is gaining recognition and acceptance."

The method offers a second advantage for families. "We need more touch in our society. People need to learn not to be afraid to touch someone."

LeeAnn Washburn-Huffman has taught in public and private schools for four years. A former resident of Henderson she is currently a free lance consultant in wholistic health and is a member of the Association for Advancement of Wholistic Health. Certified by the state of California to teach TFH, she has taught the program locally at Community College, at hospitals and therapy clinics.

The class will be held on Mondays, beginning April 3 and continuing until May 22 from 7 to 9 p.m. in Room 214 of the Teacher Education Building on the UNLV campus.

Easter Brunch

The Henderson Emblem Club #272 will host an Easter brunch on March 26 at the Elk's Lodge on Lake Mead Drive.

The brunch will be served between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. The public is invited and the charge is $2.50 per person.

Jaycees, BMI Easter Egg Hunt Planned

The Henderson Jaycees and Basic management Inc. are having the biggest Easter Egg Hunt Ever.

This year the group plans to boil and dye approximately 8,000 eggs to be hidden along with 13,000 candy eggs for Henderson kids to find.

The hunt will begin at 12 noon, Saturday March 25 at the Civic Center in the middle of town. There will be three age groups: 1 thru 4, 5 thru 8 and 9 thru 12. Prize eggs will be hidden and prizes given to the lucky ones who find them. There will also be free pepsi after the hunt for all the kids.

Parents are urged to keep their children away from the center until 15 min. before the hunt. No cars will be allowed inside the Civic Center grounds because hundreds of children will be walking and running in the area. The Jaycees will have as many of their members to supervise as possible.

Parents will not be allowed to help their children hunt, however the tiny tots will be well supervised. Everyone is asked to be on time as the hunt will not last long.

The Jaycees will have their boiling and dyeing party at the Jaycees club house on Van Wagenen Street, Friday, March 24 at 6:30 p.m. This year's chairman Terry Kizzia invites any young man between the ages of 21 and 35 to bring his family and see what the Jaycees are all about.

This promises to be the best Easter Egg Hunt of all and the Henderson Jaycees have many more fine projects planned.

"Son of Hello" Set

The Henderson Repertory Theatre has set May 12 and 13 for performances of their second original comedy revue, "Son of Hello." Featuring a cast of local performers, the show will be a mixture of musical production numbers and zany comedy. The first revue in the series, "Hello," played to a near-capacity audience at the Civic Center Auditorium last July.

The theatrical group, under the direction of Judaline Havens, is presenting "Son of Hello" in cooperation with the Henderson Parks and Recreation Department.

Eagles Western Dance

The Eagles annual Western Dance will be held at the Eagles Hall, 310 W. Pacific, on Saturday, March 25.

Festivities will get underway at 9 p.m. with the bar opening at 7:30 p.m. Donations will be $2 per person. We are very pleased to have music for dancing by Sonny Rhodes from California. So for a great night of fun, come on out and join us.

We would also like to remind you that Sunday morning we will be serving breakfast. We do this the second and fourth Sunday of each month. Bring your friends and come have a home cooked breakfast, served from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

"SOONER, OR LATER" is a perky, smart, and darling Miniature Schnauzer belonging to Leslie and Jim Miller of Henderson. "I told my mother a few years back that when I got married I wanted to have a yard or a farm full of animals," Leslie confided, "and she replied to me that I had better marry a man who shares the love for our furry and feathered friends." In any event Leslie did get married but her husband was not overly fond of "man's best friend" or his fellow creatures. Leslie had enjoyed the family owned Dachshund and was quite bereaved when the fifteen-year-old friend of her childhood days died. Imploping on her husband's sympathy Leslie succeeded in swaying Jim to at least look at some Miniature Schnauzer puppies she knew of in Las Vegas. "One look and Jim was sold," Leslie said. "and he loved the little female pup so much that he let her sit on his lap all the way home!"

"Sooner" poses with Easter Basket - of Violets.

Why did Leslie pick a Schnauzer? "Because they're cute and smart," she pointed out, "and they happen to resemble a favorite professor I had while attending Oklahoma University. He had a salt-and-pepper beard and bushy eyebrows. He was smart and witty - displaying all of the qualities of a good Schnauzer I thought. I knew then that my next dog had to be a Schnauzer and I preferred the miniature line of the breed!" Why did Leslie name her dog "Sooner, or Later?" "It was because Jim always answered - Sooner, or Later - when I asked for a Schnauzer," she added, "and we call her Sooner for short. Also, the Oklahoma University football team is called the Soon-active and alert. Sturdily built, he shows a square like appearance with good bone structure. Their eyes are small, keen, dark-brown and deep-set. Top-skull is fairly long and flat. Neck is strong and arched. Feet are cat-like - short, round with black and thick pads. Recognized colors for show are salt and pepper, black and silver, and solid black. Ears may be cropped, or left alone depending on owner's choice. Miniature size is from 12 to 14 inches with ideal size showing at 13-1/2 inches.

FEATURING: "SOONER, OR LATER" - THE "SNOOPY" MINIATURE SCHNAUZER -

The future of the Miller's female "Sooner?" Well, the Millers will mate her some fine day and prefer to purchase the male. What will Leslie name the male Miniature Schnauzer? "Oh, his name will be - Boomer - which just happens to be the Oklahoma University Fight Song," Leslie emphasized. "Sooner" then snooped in the camera, the writings, and the hair-do of the interviewer. What do you expect of a highly "collegiate" Schnauzer anyway?

The Boat Barn Expands - Now It Has Two Car Wash Bays

When two brothers, Bob and Eric Swadell, and Bob's wife, Mary, opened the Boat Barn, Inc., at 151 Steiner Drive, they had little idea that it would expand so rapidly until now they not only have storage areas, but also one of the only car washes in Henderson.

The boat barn was first conceived as storage for trailers and boats, and in 1974 when the Swadells started building, they found that such storage areas were in demand. As they were built, they were filled up.

Now, just four years later, the Swadells have expended their one-bay car wash into two bays.

They boast hot soft water, high pressure, a degreaser for engine cleaning, two new vacuums in a clean-up area which has a towel vending machine and is lit at night. It is also covered for the comfort of patrons.

Betty and Frank Hartnett have been managers of the car wash and boat barn for almost one year and they are on the premises at all times to serve their patrons.

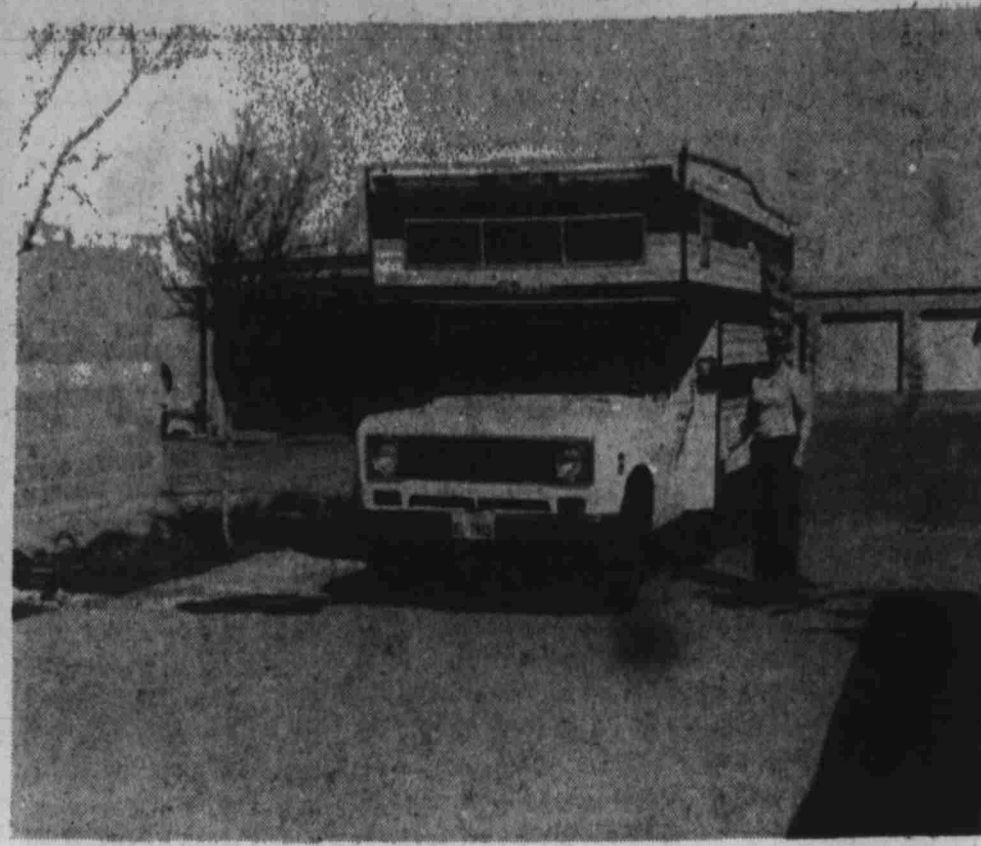

"Any coin operated machine is bound to have problems at one time or another," Swadell said, "but where we have a manager on the premises at all times, if it goes up she can either have it fixed or reimburse the loss."

The car wash is especially valuable for trucks and travel trailers, and for RV owners there is a free dumb station.

New eight by six feet storage rooms have been added to the existing garages and sunshades and there is an open storage area.

NEW CAR WASH --- Betty Hartnett, manager of the Boat Barn in Henderson, is shown with the newly installed car wash bay. There are two now to serve the people and they are becoming more popular every day.

FOR RV VEHICLES -- The boat barn, which has two car wash bays good for RV vehicles and trucks, along with cars, also has a dumping station for trailers and RV vehicles. This lady is just leaving the area.

Art Show Industrial Days Feature

The Industrial Days Art Festival will be held in the Civic Center Pavilion on April 15 and 16. It is going to be an open air art show with artists of all ages showing and selling their work.

There is no admission charge to the public. Works entered will be judged and awards given in the following categories: oils, acrylics, pen and ink, pencil, pastel, charcoal, sculpture, pottery, photography and water-colors.

There will be an adult division, a junior division ages 11-17, and a children's division ages four to ten. All divisions will receive awards. Participants are permitted eight paintings or art objects. All work will be judged on April 13 and 14.

Noted artist Steve Lesnick and photographer Surg McCabe will be judging each work. All art is to be submitted to Room 7 of the Civic Center Annex, 201 Lead Street on April 8 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., April 10 from 5-9 p.m. and April 12 from 3-7 p.m. This annual Art Show is being presented by the Nevada Association of the Arts and sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. If you are an artist and interested in entering the show, further information and entry forms may be obtained from the Chamber of Commerce office on Boulder Highway in St. Peter's Center.

Council To Study Wall Policy

The Henderson City Council will study, at a committee meeting, standards for walls and fences in the commercial and industrial districts along major streets.

The meeting will be held Tuesday, March 28 at 7 p.m. in the city council chambers.

The standards were previously studied by a committee of Gloria Castleberry, Mary Roberts of the city planning commission, and Planning Director Bob Gordon.

The committee recommended that the real problem regarding walls and fences was one of enforcement of the present ordinances rather than a need for a new ordinance. It was suggested that the present wording in the ordinance be changed from requiring a "Block wall" to an architecturally acceptable masonry wall. It was decided there should be better communications between the city departments for locating violations and following up until the required improvements are made and that a time limit of three years could be given to bring property up to standard.

The committee felt that chain link fencing with plantings, or redwood slatting is satisfactory and even more attractive than block walls where block walls are not required by ordinance.

Industrial Days Parade April 15

This year's 27th annual Industrial Days Parade promises to be the best ever as Henderson celebrates their 25th year of incorporation with the theme, "Henderson's Silver Jubilee."

April 5 will be the closing date for parade entries.

Judging will be done in several categories including Autos - antique and decorated cars, horses, marching groups, drill teams and bands and other such as unique entry, youth group, depicting business and motorized group.

If your group or an individual is interested in participating in this Silver Anniversary parade, entry forms are available at the Chamber of Commerce office located in St. Peter's Center on Boulder Highway.

The parade will be held Saturday, April 15 at 2 p.m. Help make this year the best ever.

Industrial Days Bowling

Don't forget to sign up at Henderson Bowl for team events and doubles for Industrial Days.

Team events will be held on Friday night, April 7 at 6:30 p.m., Saturday, April 8 at 9:30 a.m. and 7 p.m. First place roll off will be Sunday, April 9 at 12:30.

Trophies donated by Henderson Bowl, prize money awarded according to number of entries. Sponsor revolving trophy presented to this year's winners by 1977 winners.

Doubles will be held Saturday, April 8 at 3-5 and 9:30 p.m. and Sunday, April 9 at 10:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m.

Cost for 5 men team is $30, including everything. Cost of doubles is $8 per couple, including trophies for first place couple and prize money according to number of entries.

Sign up now before you forget, entry blanks at Henderson Bowl front desk. Entries close Saturday, April 1st.

NOTICE OF TARIFF RUMING (00028)

Continental Telephone Company of California, also Continental Telephone Company of Nevada, has filed with the Public Service Commission changes in its Schedule

Team Policing Concept Approved By Council

Team policing, which administrators of the police department is responsible for lowering the crime rate in the city, will be continued, it was decided by the city council Monday night.

The team policing concept has been in operation for the past six months and statistics show that the technique is working both in providing better coverage for the city, reducing over-time hours by police officers, and giving officers incentive in solving crimes by continuing investigations on events that happen on their shifts.

According to the concept, the city is divided into five areas and police officers patrol those areas. It has been felt that this increased coverage has been responsible for reducing burglaries in the residential areas.

In other actions the council

Postponed action on the selection of an independent auditor until a recessed meeting to be held Tuesday, March 28.

Approved an ordinance amending a child care ordinance limiting the number of children in child care facilities and the right of inspections.

Approved an ordinance rezoning a portion of BMI property where the former Victory Village was located for a shopping center complex.

Approved a use permit for Allan Rothstein for an automobile dismantling yard, 755 Sunset Road.

Approved a tentative map for Sunrise Subdivision No. 11 in Trailer estates.

Approved a final map for Vista North Unit 4 subdivision.

Approved a name change from Fairway Lane and Fairway Court to Regency Hill Lane and Regency Court.

Approved special events beer and liquor licenses for Henderson Industrial Days.

(a) Eagles Lodge, to sell liquor at Morrell Park April 1 and 2.

(b) Rotary Club, special events beer, to sell at Morrell Park April 1 and 2.

(c) Henderson Bar Owner's Association, special events liquor permit to sell liquor in room 4A of Civic Center during pool tournament April 10 through April 14.

(d) Kiwanis Club to sell beer on Civic Center grounds during carnival April 12 through 16.

Xi Sigma Happenings

Transferees, elections, rush party, these are all familiar terms to a Beta Sigma Phi and Xi Sigma chapter has been involved with these activities recently.

Annie Harmon was welcomed into the chapter as a transferee from Yerington, Nevada and was given the transferee ritual at the home of Nancy Hampton.

Election of officers was held the same evening with Mari Ann Blockovich being chosen as the new president for the sorority year 1978-79.

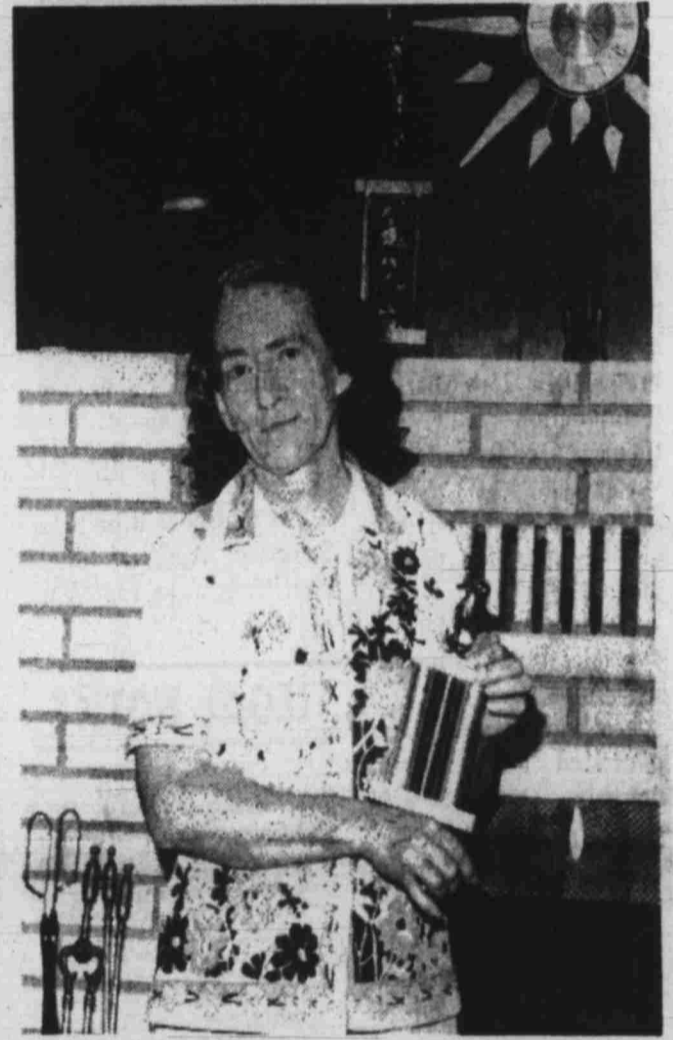

Other officers are: Darlene Trueworthy - vice president, Gina Shroyer - recording secretary, Anne Huggins - treasurer, Patti Hester - corresponding secretary, and Annie Harmon - extension officer. Elected to represent the chapter at the Beta Sigma Phi City Council meetings were Kathy Fuson and Sandi Sager with Kathy Cardwell and Barbara Leming serving as alternates.

The home of Pat Warren was the gracious setting for the Mad Hatters' Rush Party. All members and guests wore very unusual hats they created especially for the occasion. Prize winning entries were "The Purse Hat" worn by Kathy Fuson, "The Italian Easter Outfit" worn by Linda Foster and "A Giant Pincushion" worn by Terry Land.

A delicious luncheon of fresh fruits and vegetables and sandwich loaves was enjoyed by everyone.

Rushes attending were Pat Rawson, Bobbie Bailey, Terry Land, Torrie Anderson and Lee England.

Also attending were chapter members Darlene Trueworthy, Ann Towery, Colleen McGinty, Kathy Cardwell, Anne Huggins, Colleen Hunley, Annie Harmon, Sharon Pyatt, Gina Shroyer and Sandi Sager.

DOROTHY WITTERN - Pictured with one of her Bowling Awards. Dorothy Wittern is in the process of serving her second term as Oracle of Henderson's Royal Neighbors. The National organization is famous for its many charitable activities. The Fraternal organization is open to all ages by invite. "The Henderson Chapter aids the hard of hearing, and we annually provide a scholarship for some Basic High School student," Dorothy stated. The organization is "co-ed" with active men and women members. "We offer a superb Insurance Program for all members among the benefits of belonging," Dorothy mentioned. Bake and candy sales as well as programs and bazaar sales help toward the club's philanthropic schedule.

Dorothy and her husband, Bob, originated from Sioux City, Iowa. "We spent all of our previous life in Sioux City," Dorothy stated, "except when Bob served three years with the US Navy during WWII. Those years were spent in New Jersey. When Bob's parents moved to Henderson in 1945, Bob and I would take summer vacations visiting them. It was so very hot and that is all I knew or wanted to know about the area. When Bob suggested we move to Henderson in 1957 - I told him that I would never live in a place like that. Well, here I am - and after we spent the first winter here and I found out the beauty of the area in scenery and weather - I now stress - I would never live anywhere else!"

Dorothy was an expert bowler until twelve years ago when she suffered a heart attack brought on by rheumatic fever. She had served as President of the Henderson Women's Bowling Association, and was a Lady Eagle but was forced to curtail her activities. Through her lifetime the petite lady stacked up many bowling trophies to her collection. When first arriving in Henderson, Dorothy helped in the St. Peter's Catholic Church CCD Program with her teaching assistance to the children when it first originated in Henderson. Hobbies include rug making, reading mysteries and non-fiction, developing house plants, and Utah fishing and camping trips with Bob.

The Witterns are proud of their three sons: Daniel Age 34 - serving as Navy Accountant stationed in San Jose, California, Richard - Age 29 - Gourmet Chef at the Marina, and Robert - Age 21 - serving with the Marine Corps in San Diego, California. All sons are married blessing Dorothy and Bob with six grandchildren.

Dorothy Wittern is congenial and well-met. She added this tip for getting along with people - "To meet each person with an open mind and heart - looking for the good, avoiding criticism, sharing your love with humanity!"

Henderson - Its Economic History-

By Maryellen Vallier Sadovich

Maryellen Vallier Sadovich, a noted Nevada historian, and a Henderson resident since 1954, treated our readers with a most unique bicentennial series during 1976. This year, she has researched the local newspaper files and the archives of Henderson's City Hall, the Chamber of Commerce, and BMI, to produce an economic history of Henderson from the first day of incorporation to the present.

Smog control would be one of the most serious problems for Henderson during 1963. A serious attempt to solve this problem had been made in July 1961, after a Las Vegas Newspaper issued a series of Smog stories suggesting that emissions from the industrial complex were responsible for the "intolerable" condition of the air in Las Vegas Valley.

The Henderson Home News editor immediately issued a lengthy editorial advising Las Vegas to clean up its own air and leave Henderson alone, but the problem would not go away. After many months of complaints, and BMI's constant contention that the plants had spent millions of dollars on emission control, the chairman of the County Commission, Lou LaPorta, finally announced his support of a County Air Pollution Control Board.

Two Henderson men were appointed to the 10-member smog control committee that was organized in February 1962.

Still the problem continues, and in December 1962, the Council adopted a resolution calling for action to control air contamination to be sent to the Air Pollution Control Board. The resolution stated that air pollution was on the increase in the area, and called for emergency action from the committee to study the problem and initiate action towards legislation to control it. It further offered any help from the City of Henderson in attacking the problem.

The matter gained state-wide attention on January 9, 1963, when Henderson officials hosted a tour of the industrial plants and the environs of their city, by members of the State Legislature who were touring southern Nevada. At a luncheon in Las Vegas, county officials outlined the needs of southern Nevada--a four year University, extensive utilization of Colorado River water, and social programs designed to aid juveniles, senior citizens, and disabled residents. The program continued, the visitors were charmed with the new developments in the south, and Senator James Gibson received welcome applause when he explained the importance of the Henderson's contribution to the economy of the entire area.

Escaping Gases

But when the 30 members of the visiting legislative body representing 16 Nevada counties visited Henderson as a part of their tour, the town was unfortunately treated to one of the worst instances of escaping gases from the industrial plants that had been experienced by the city in several months.

"Everything was working full blast," wrote the editor of the local newspaper. "Down Pittman way the gravel plant was sending out its usual cloud of dust and the hot mix plant was putting out an enormous column of smoke which streaked across the sky toward the BMI plants, where it mingled with a huge cloud of lime dust which puffed up to meet it.

The resultant dull gray mass so beclouded the plants that the feathers of yellow, gray and white smoke from the various smoke stacks at BMI were completely blotted out.

The acid-water ditch that crosses Boulder Highway near the Swanky Club was sending up ghostly white fingers of gas which might lead one to believe that the water was boiling hot and steaming. The town-site looked for all the world like a California citrus grove with the smudge pots burning."

The legislators had visited Henderson eager to see the largest industrial complex in Nevada, and they had also witnessed the result of uncontrolled industrial pollution on the sunny desert air. The result was dramatic.

duct business. She mentioned that she had no qualms about the new prison since it is well fortified. "It is modern and does not present a challenging appearance," she concluded.

"GET OUR KICKS ON ROUTE 66" - states Pearl Abbs of Henderson. "We did enjoy our trip to my husband's hometown of Eldorado, Wisconsin," Pearl mentioned, "in that we took the old Route 66. It was pleasant riding along the old highway and the visit with Ward's brother, Howard, was an added joy."

PROFESSIONAL SHOPPERS NEEDED - With the growth of small towns over the country, Henderson is no exception. While in the Safeway conducting interviews, a little senior-citizen lady passed by and stated, "Dear, I feel so sick - It is too hard for me to shop. All of the people living in my neighborhood are old-timers and senior citizens. Many do not feel well enough to shop and there are no younger people around to help them."

Mature high-school students, college students, or people of any age who feel well enough and drive cars could form little organizations for professional shoppers without charging too much for the service. It would help the shopper as well as the people needing them. There would be a demand for the services by the handicapped, the seniors, the ill and the busy people who find little time for shopping. There are people also who would

Diabetes Seminar added at Sunrise Hospital

Sunrise Hospital Medical Center announces the addition of diabetes seminars to its education department. The courses are headed by Janis Vance, diabetes coordinator, and Susan Laman, registered dietician, both of Sunrise Hospital. The course is designed to teach participants more about the disease and its treatment. Classes will be held Monday through Friday in classroom three of the education department at Sunrise Hospital. The seminars are open to all diabetics, family, friends and interested persons. Classes start at 10 a.m. and may be attended at the participants convenience.

It was in 1907, at the height of the Rhyolite excitement, that the

The Beatty family pose in front of their irrigated homestead.

Reno Evening Gazette printed an account of the origins of the town of Beatty. The community became the terminus of several railroads and seemingly sprang from the deserts during the wild mining booms of Southern Nevada in the early 20th century. Rather than being formed from one of the usual townsite companies which often started many Nevada camps, Beatty was built on land claimed twenty years earlier by a prospector who married into the local Indian band. The story sheds new light on what had been obscure details.

"It was a little more than two years ago and the discoveries of the Midas, Banner, Aurora Bullfrog, and other mines in the vicinity of Beatty made it possible to lay out a townsite and begin the hatching of a desert metropolis. Beatty gets its' name from M.B. Beatty, the squaw man who was the original owner, with his Indian wife, of the townsite. And there is a romance in connection with the marriage of Beatty to the Indian woman that seems worth telling.

One hot day something like twenty years ago - and hot in this desert means hot, so hot that only those who knew the country really know what a hot day is like - Beatty came wandering along with a prospecting outfit loaded on the backs of two burrows. In those days the land was given over to the Indians, Piutes, who along the Amargosa River had found water enough to enable them to till the soil in a small way, a way so small that it afforded them a bare existence.

Among the Indians came Beatty, worn and weary from his trip across the Amargosa desert. He was not regarded with favor by the Piutes. They gave him grudging permission to abide with them for a few days while he rested and refreshed himself in preparation for the continuance of his journey. Day followed day and Beatty showed no inclination to depart. The Piutes liked not Beatty's tarrying. One day the chief plainly told him that he must be on his way. There was not more than enough for the tribe. The pale face must go back to his own kind. By this time Beatty had rested and fed. The strength that was given to those early rangers of the desert had returned to him and there really was no excuse for his staying on, no excuse save one.

Among the Indian maidens who had ministered to Beatty in the first days of his exhaustion had been Mahanagos, the daughter of the chief. Mahanagos, Spring of the Desert, as Indian girls go, and she found favor in the eyes of the white prospector. It was for her sake that he tarried, for she had given him to understand that he had found favor in her eyes.

Then came the test of her true love.

One night after Beatty had wrapped himself in his blankets and gone to sleep under the stars the Piutes held a conference. It was decided that, as the white man showed no inclination to go on, he must be killed. Mahanagos learned quickly of the council's decision, and as quickly as she learned she threw herself into the breach. Her plea for the white man was effective, but it was so only on condition that she marry Beatty.

Beatty was willing and so a few days later, with all the Indian Ceremony that could be mustered, the prospector and the Indian girl were made husband and wife. Of the dogs that were sacrificed for the wedding feast no record has been kept, but Beatty settled down with his bride, gave up his ambition to become a miner and became, to all intents and purposes, an Indian. He and his wife and their numerous progeny are living in the camp of Beatty today healthy and happy.

But Beatty had not become so much of an Indian that he was not glad to welcome other white men when they were lured by dreams of gold across the desert. He held out inducements to them to settle on his land and so the town of Beatty became possible.

The first mining discoveries of importance in the immediate vicinity of Beatty were on the ground now owned by Midas, the Banner, the Aurora Bullfrog and other companies on Bonanza Mountain. Strike after strike was made and a rush to the camp followed. Later other and equally important discoveries were made to the southwest. There resulted in the foundation of Rhyolite.

The pioneers of Rhyolite must have been greater hustlers or better business men than the pioneers of Beatty. At any rate, by offering liberal inducements to settlers they quickly outstripped Beatty in the race for population.

TODAY'S QUESTION: Explain which personality trait you most admire, and why!

NOTE: Interviews were conducted at the Safeway Store - Boulder Highway - Henderson, Nevada

Inquiring Camera Girl

By Flo Raymond

SUMMARY: Honesty and truthfulness headed the list with enthusiastic traits, cheer, friendliness and natrualness as close runners up for the personality qualities we admire!

MARY JACOBS - SECRETARY - PLUMBERS APPRENTICESHIP - POSITIVE ORIENTED AND ENTHUSIASM - A person who moves forward looking at the bright side; letting nothing deter them and giving the Lord the Credit.

VERLENE WILLIAMS - HOMEMAKER - NATURALNESS! I admire someone who is completely herself and possess the quality of being natural without any pretense. Someone I can believe in!

IRENE MAESTAS - EMPLOYED - SPARKLE AND FRIENDLINESS! A sparkling personality includes friendliness, cheerfulness, and interest in your fellowman. I prefer individuality and a sense of humor without offending.

DORA LOFTIS - POP'S OASIS - FRIENDLINESS! When you visit a friend, acquaintance, place, establishment, or city and if the people are congenial and friendly with sincerity, I always have the desire to return!

MERCEDES CALI - STATE INSURITIES EMPLOYEE AND HOMEMAKER - CHEERFULNESS, ENTHUSIASM AND PERSISTENCE - All of these qualities are related and I love to see people with these positive traits. I feel that these qualities make for better lives for all, and therefore a better World!

JANEY MAESTAS - HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT - HONESTY I appreciate honesty and truthfulness because there is no answer for a lie. Being false with another is not being honest with yourself. I would rather know the truth whatever it may be than be hurt by lies!

Mae Vinson Had an 80th Birthday

Judy Moore Visits Mae Vinson

Judy Moore, who with her late husband Jack, once lived in Boulder City, left Saturday for Colorado Springs, Col. after a visit of two weeks. While here Judy purchased a piece of land in Henderson and plans to return in September, bringing with her the mobil home she owns in Colorado.

Judy worked for the Bureau of Mines and Jack worked for USBR until they both retired. In Colorado Springs they lived close to their daughter, Francis and her family. Francis and her husband own a bookstore in Colorado Springs.

Mae Vinson is known and loved by everyone. Do you remember when a phone call would fetch her to your house to babysit? She also cleaned houses for our appreciative business women including Corinne Atkinson and Mrs. Wade Taylor. She enjoyed her work and was sorry when her health prevented her from "visiting" but getting paid for the pleasure...the many employers who remember her with gratitude. Mae said it is lonely without Judy Moore and she wished the two week visit had stretched to a longer time.

A Sr. Citizen salute was written for the NEWS to Mae by her friend, Carol Hall. Mae said there was no one she knew who was kinder to the older citizens than Carol Hall is.

Velma Holland

A month ago we wrote a profile about Velma Holland. It was a salute to a true pioneer. Not only did she reveal with brilliant clarity the conditions of the different locations she had lived in with her husband, Fred Sr. and their children, she told of the hardship of having the family tent burn to the ground during the tenure of living in what was then McKeeverville, (now Lakeview) The family were in no time ensconced in another small home in McKeeverville complete with furnishings, all because of the kindnesses of the Community church and the many gifts given from the heart. Where our story got into trouble and caused Velma Holland considerable embarrassment was that thru a typographical error the number 10 was changed to 10,000. Let us correct for all time the fact that the wonderful Eliza Carter, in that era of pain and loss for the Holland family, walked all the way to McKeeverville, with a cash gift from the Community church members of $10 (ten dollars) and handed it directly to Velma Holland. In those hard pressed days, con-

By now many among us are wearing an exclusive "Sportique" shirt by the originators of so many exclusive designs that are "airbrushed" onto a shirt of our choice. This week Sheri and David Perry surprised the Narrator of the Boulder Time Capsule with an exclusive design that has appeared in the NEWS ever since it was commissioned by former city-editor, Bob Gottlieb and created by none other than our own advertising manager, Marilyn Pearson, daughter of our own former A.M. the multi-talented M.J. Cattoir. Marilyn Pearson also painted the posters for the recent B.C. hospital blood drive. Thank you to all concerned.

The Late Helen Grant Loss Felt In Boulder City

Archie Grant was very much a part of early Boulder City. His name appears on the board of director's of the early Business Men Association (later the Chamber of Commerce.) Archie built the original Boulder City Motors that now contains the exclusive shopping mall and art gallery owned by Vern and Darlene Burk. It was ahead of its time and an appreciative community bought many a Ford there. Helen Grant, killed in a purse snatching crime in Las Vegas was Archie's sister.

In later years Russ Farnsworth and Richard Swartz purchased Boulder City Motors. At one time Johnny Fielding, Glenn Ainsworth and Skogie Lenon worked for Russ. They are among our 31'er pioneers, those early mechanics. Hope they join president of the 31'er club, Russ Farnsworth, at the April 8 reunion at the Elks Club.

FIX IT YOURSELF
Fix It Yourself For Safety & Economy

BE YOUR OWN ELECTRICIAN

It's important to know how the electricity in your home is distributed before you can make a decision about calling in an electrician. In most cases, power from the local utility is supplied to your house through an entrance panel (either a fuse box or circuit breaker panel). From there it is distributed around the house in branch circuits.

BRANCH CIRCUITS - When an appliance does not operate, check for power at the wall outlet.

Most homes have 120/240 volt service. This means that branch circuits at either voltage can be provided. But electricity in your home may not be exactly 120 and 240 volts because outlets at the far end of a branch circuit have lower voltages than those near the entrance panel. It's important to note, however, that if the difference in your home is more than four volts, your home wiring may be defective.

A good do-it-yourself manual, such as the one compiled by the editors at Reader's Digest, will give you diagrams of electrical wiring in a typical house. This "Fix-It-Yourself Manual," also shows you how to fix 1,001 things that can go wrong around the house in clear, easy-to-follow language. You'll have the personal satisfaction of doing a job well yourself, and save a repair charge as well.

Winter Puerto Vallarta Visitor, Earl Willhite, Describes Zenoff's Casa Del Cielo (House Of The Sky).

"Mi Casa es su Casa" Meaning "My house is your house."

Casa del Cielo is the name of Eva and Morry Zenoff's home in Puerto Vallarta.

That's down on the Pacific Coast of Mexico between Mazatlan and Acapulco.

Puerto Vallarta is a typical quaint sleepy Mexican town that has been discovered by pleasure-seeking people from all over the world, however, I must be truthful in stating that most of them are Americans. The climate there is almost ideal, hence the influx of tourists and retirees.

Now how did Morry ever discover this tropical Eden. Well it seems he was one of the thousands of American tourists to invade the city about seven years ago and he was fortunate enough to meet a lovely senorita by the name of Eva Mantecon. Well, to make a long story short, they were married and though they make their home in Boulder City, they spend as much time as possible at Casa del Cielo during the December through May season. But Casa del Cielo is more than a vacation home. It's a meeting place for their hundreds of friends from the United States and Mexico. I would venture to say the guest bedroom will not be unoccupied during their entire stay. Eva and Morry love people and people love them. Casa del Cielo exudes the warmth of the people who occupy it. Casa del Cielo (pronounced kah-sa del chello) translates from Mexican to English as "home in the sky", and that's exactly what it is.

The house is situated about two hundred feet above the city, on one of the many hills that surround the area. But the two hundred foot altitude is accomplished in four short city blocks. The cobblestone street goes straight up the hill and it takes a car that has a mighty powerful engine and a very low gear to make the ascent. To prove this point, the sidewalks are actually concrete stairs.

Well, the hill is so steep that every one of the thousands of bricks and roofing tiles, steel reinforcing, the sand, the gravel, the cement and every other material needed to build a modern day house had to be transported up the hill on the backs of burros. The hills of Puerta Vallarta are so steep that a Mexican owning several burros can be compared to a trucking tycoon here at home.

The stone street levels off for a minute at the entrance to the Casa. There are two large wrought iron gates connected to the eight foot high stone wall that surrounds the property. One gate leads into a large auto parking area, the other opens to a ten foot wide cobblestone walkway that proceeds about fifty feet back to the entrance of the house. The tops of the gates are hidden by a dense growth of red bougainvillia. The walkway to the house is like an arbor with a mammoth llamarado vine shading the cobbles from the warm rays of the sun. Festoons of brilliant orange bugle-like blossoms hang down and a tall person has to lower their head to walk underneath them. The sides of the walk are lined with hibiscus, both red and yellow. There are roses, and a vine that produces a delicate geranium type flower. There is more bougainvillia adding red, pink and purple blooms to the profusion of color. Exotic tropical ferns and plants grow large, strong and healthy and the only care they require is a little watering.

At the entrance to the house is a large hand-built mahogany door, solid on the lower half with heavy mahogany bars on the top. The architect designed and situated Casa del Cielo, so that Eva and Morry would have an unobstructed view of the city below them, the azure sea beyond and the surrounding jungle covered mountains. The house itself is constructed of white painted bricks and is built on two levels.

It has but three walls, the wall facing the street and the two sides. The entire width of the house facing the sea is completely open, no windows, no screens, with barely visible mahogany, accordion type doors that can be closed during the August through November rainy season. There are no insects but an occasional butterfly will wing its way through the house.

The working part of the house is on the upper level and is reached by a flying stairway, protected by a large overhanging tile roof. The living and dining room area is approximately forty feet by twenty. There is a wood burning fireplace with mahogany casement windows on either side. There are only two other windows in the entire house and these are in the bedrooms. All of the floors are of a beige glazed locally manufactured tile, while over head are high beamed cathedral ceilings. There are no rugs in the house. A compact efficient balustrade is covered with red and purple bougainvillea, overlooking a tropical garden below of exotic ferns and ornamental trees, plus papaya, guava, banana, orange, lime and almond. The lower level features the entrance loggia where a rubber plant has been trained to grow around the cornices of the room. On this level is the guest bedroom and bath plus the utility - laundry room.

At night a cool breeze wafts down from the mountain to be met shortly after daybreak by the warm tropical flow coming in from the ocean. The town is separated by the Cuales

River below and in the daylight hours you can see the local housewives doing their laundry standing in the cool shallow waters. On the weekends and holidays you can hear the faint sounds of dozens of mariachi bands from the city below. After the town is stilled by the lateness of night you can hear the braying of burros, and the crowing of the roosters and the bark of an anxious dog.

Life is easy here. The carefree days are spent seeing the local points of interest, shopping, having lunch or dinner in

3 MAN BASKETBALL STANDINGS

HENDERSON

On Tuesday, March 14 the Celtics beat the Warriors 153 to 97. Clarence Wade's 69 points and big Ken Wesson's 63 markers led the first place Celtics to a victory over the Warriors. The 153 points scored was a league record. Jimmy Lozano's 45 points and Freddie Albert's 33 led the losers.

On March 16 Mike Holliday for the Falcons was a one man show as he poured in 126 points for his team to lead them to their first win of the season with 142 to 104 over a good Warrior team. For the third place Warriors Jeff Yancy had 56 points and Freddie Albert had 32 before fouling out.

Henry James scored 75 points to lead the Knicks to a 168-99 victory over the Warriors. Teammate Tony Willoughby had 45 points. For the losing Warriors Jeff Yancy had 50 points and Freddie Albert 29.

The standings at this time read Knicks with seven wins and three losses; Celtics five wins, three losses; Warriors five wins, five losses and the Falcons two wins and eight losses.

one of the town's many fine restaurants visiting friends or going to the beach. The siesta is inevitable and the euphoric drowsiness that precedes it is delightfully contagious. There is no American television. Some American radio can be picked up on a short-wave set but the crackling in the airwaves and the drifting in and out of the volume hardly makes it worthwhile, but who cares, anyway. Though you know you're in this world, for all intent and purpose you're out of it at Casa del Cielo and that's just the way it should be when you have such gracious hosts.

Eva is an extremely beautiful, even-tempered and intelligent lady. Morry is the worldly, fun-loving precocious American. What a fine pair they make, relishing every single moment of their existence together. They made our short holiday with them, the most memorable of our lives, as I'm sure they do for everyone else who is fortunate enough to be invited. Down Mexico way, the Zenoff Casa del Cielo way, is certainly the only way to go.

Tooth Is Stranger Than Fiction In Making of "Pete's Dragon"

It was like finding a tooth in a haystack. In the filming of any $10 million musical fantasy such as Walt Disney Productions' "Pete's Dragon," there are bound to be problems. But when they arise on this film, Disney creative personnel just began to grit their teeth and find solutions.

Toothsome Sean Marshall, 12-year-old actor who plays Pete, inadvertently caused a few problems by losing two teeth. A boy losing baby teeth causes no big panic in most cases, but it was close-up time and Bob Schiffer, Disney makeup wizard, whipped up a replacement in a hurry.

It worked fine. Sean smiled and laughed as the runaway orphan rolling with his friend, sometimes visible Elliott the dragon.

In color by Technicolor, "Pete's Dragon" also stars Helen Reddy, Jim Dale, Mickey Rooney and Red Buttons. Don Chaffey directed for producers Ron Miller and Jerome Courtland. Malcolm Marmorstein wrote the screenplay from a story by Seton I. Miller and S.S. Field. Buena Vista releases. Showing Easter Week, Mar. 22 thru Mar. 28 at the Rainbow.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Criticizes School District

Dear Editor:
 Not to criticize the Clark County School District, but I do have a couple of complaints.

For one thing, some of the teachers cannot spell - how do they expect our youngsters to learn if they write it wrong on the papers they bring home?

It also upsets me when my youngster brings his work home to do and the dittos are so bad he can't read them. The math problems do not come through where he can read them so he has to ask me what the numbers are and sometimes I can't read them either.

With the thousands in tax dollars spent for the schools, I would think they could afford a machine that will produce work the children can interpret.

Sincerely,
 Name Withheld

Leaking Gate Valve Gets TV Treatment

A SPECIAL MASK worn by the diver at right allowed voice communication with those on the surface.

WATCHING THE ACTION for a dry location was made possible by a special TV monitor which recorded the picture as well.

ENTRANCE to the underground reservoir was through this vertical concrete shaft (with ladder inside).

LOTS OF GEAR made it a tight squeeze for this diver as he entered the reservoir. Man at rear holds special waterproof TV camera used in the investigation.

RUSS COGGINS cleans debris away from the end of the drain pipe as water rushes forth. The increased flow is due to the gate being raised for scraping.

The problem of a leaking valve in the bottom of one of the "twin five million gallon" reservoirs in Boulder City was solved in a rather unique way last week.

Scuba divers from the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation were enlisted to inspect the faulty valve and to repair it.

The problem centered around a sliding gate covering a drainage pipe outlet in one of the two reservoirs. For the past several years, water ... at the rate of about seven gallons a minute ... has been coming out of the outside end of the pipe, indicating that the gate valve inside the reservoir was not properly seated.

Public Works Director

noticed the leakage which he estimates amounts to almost four million gallons of water a year. The sliding gate had to be inspected and repaired.

But how to get at it ... that was the problem. Located in a small sump at the very bottom of the reservoir, there was no way to inspect the problem without draining the reservoir itself.

Then Names learned that U.S.B.R. had a scuba diving team. Their cooperation was sought ... and obtained.

Last Friday morning, three divers suited up and entered the watery darkness of the reservoir. They carried with them a small, waterproof TV camera which sent pictures back to a receiving monitor and recorder on the surface. They also had an audio communication link with the monitor.

Results of the initial dive indicated that the gate seemed to be warped. A second dive resulted in only partial success as divers scraped away the buildup on the gate itself.

It was decided to caulk the gate seat in an attempt to stop the leak. This was done on a subsequent dive.

As of Monday morning, the leak had all but stopped. It is hoped that sediment in the bottom of the tank will complete the job.

Rainbow Club Featured In National Magazine

Henderson's Rainbow Club was featured in the current (April, 1978) edition of "Gambling Times," which is published in Hollywood, Ca.

The article, written by Ira David Sternberg, features the Rainbow as catering to the "home folks."

The well-written article tells about how Owners, Art Liebert and Dick Thurmond got into the business.

He says, "One day we were in Henderson looking at some ground, and it was lunch time. We knew there had to be a casino some place. Where there's a casino, there's a restaurant, and usually the food in a casino is reputed to be better than any other place. We went to the Eldorado, which is our neighbor across the street and the place looked like it was having a fire sale. This was during the slow season in Las Vegas. We asked someone what was going on, what they were giving away, and he said, 'Nothing, it's a normal day.'"

The story goes on about how they acquired land and built the building.

Liebert says how he made the casino survive during the early days until now. A breakdown of patrons he says is 60 per cent from Henderson and Boulder City; 30 per cent from Las Vegas; 7 per cent from California and Arizona and the remaining three per cent are new faces.

Liebert said he eventually would like to build a small hotel for customers. At the present time they have a theater with first-run pictures and feature a mix and match dinner, (prime rib or New York Steak) for two people for five dollars.

The article tells about Henderson and its growth and is complimentary both to the city and to the Rainbow Club.

Tim Carlson Named NDA Director

Tim Carlson, associate director of the Nevada Development Authority for the past year, has been named executive director of the organization effective immediately, it was announced today by Sherman Miller, president, and Ed Fike, president-elect.

"We are pleased that Tim had the opportunity to be with us for a year to get first-hand knowledge of the operation," Miller said. "It is only natural that he be selected to take over this important and demanding job in Southern Nevada."

The Nevada Development Authority is composed of a group of Las Vegas businessmen who devote time and money in seeking to bring industry and jobs into the area to bolster the economy.

Carlson will work under the direction of the president and organize the support of the executive committee and board of trustees in carrying out the goals of NDA.

In addition to being associate director of the Authority, Carlson was deputy administrator for the state of Nevada, Division of Colorado River Resources and was a management analyst for the Clark County administrator's office.

He has a Bachelor's degree in public administration from Utah State University and is a member of the National Political Science Honor Society.

He has a Bachelor's Degree in public administration from Utah State University, and is a member of the Blue Key and the National Political Science Honor Society.

Carlson designed, researched and developed the book "State Goals" for the State Planning Coordinator" office in Carson City while acting as a management consultant. It is up-dated yearly and is widely read by legislators to review their goals and functions.

He moved to Las Vegas from Utah 10 years ago, and lives in Las Vegas with his wife and three children.

Bill O'Mara Files For Congress

William M. "Bill" O'Mara formally announced his candidacy today for the United States House of Representatives by filing with the Nevada Secretary of State. In the ceremony that took place in Carson City, Mr. O'Mara was joined by his wife Maureen and his 87-year-old Irish Patriarch Ollie O'Mara. In a true Irish family tradition, the O'Mara clan confirmed Bill's earlier announcement to the people of Nevada by declaring the official start of his "people to people" campaign on Saint Patrick's Day. Bill said, "I have spent the last year going from town to town, from county to county, meeting with the people, the business communities and their political representatives, and have found my candidacy energetically received. Nevadans are concerned that we are all being overrun by the bureaucratic over-regulation of our state. It is time that a man of the people brings the representation back to the people. This is what our forefathers fought for and why they established the House of Representatives in the Constitution.

"I have found, in my personal contact with people and through an extensive state-wide survey of issues, that the citizens of Nevada are becoming more concerned with the suppression of their rights by governmental over-regulation in all areas of our daily life and conduct of business. Other major concerns of the people of Nevada are the lack of planning for the rapid population growth, the ever-increasing problems of law enforcement and violent crime, the concerns of both labor and management in areas of unemployment, the lack of concern for the elderly, and the growing social and economic issues facing our state.

"I feel that Nevadans are entitled to honest and forceful representation by their sole representative in the U.S. House. It is time to stop the political rhetoric and waffling that are destroying our small businesses, our economic base and our independent way of life. I intend to run a very personal campaign, facing all of the people and all of the issues with a straightforward and honest intent to represent them, whether their concerns are large or small. I will continue to tour the state of Nevada gathering information and, with the help of the people, I will be successful in my efforts on November 7, 1978.

"One of my prime objectives is to return the government to the people. Nevadans require less expensive energy and greater access to our natural resources. We need fewer federal mandates that impose a burden on our incomes, and more self-rule in the areas of education, welfare and land use. Nevada needs a representative who will strive to limit, curtail, and stop unwise government intervention into the marketplace. Today this intervention is imposing heavy financial burdens on our cattle industry, our agricultural industry, our mining industry, and on the efforts to expand oil exploration and other work in energy related fields.

"As I said last year when I filed with the Federal Election Commission, 'Nevadans, above all else, want less not more federal regulation and interference. We see the average businessman and employer being overwhelmed by government mandated red tape, our employees taxed to death and harassed daily.' O'Mara feels the need for a balanced approach which considered the requirements of a growing economy, provides jobs for Nevadans, protects our businesses and reduces the burden of federal paperwork. "My campaign is an issues of the people campaign, and I intend to represent ALL the people of the Great State of Nevada."

Few dancers are able to capture the excitement and romance of the Spanish Flamenco as well as Luisa Triana. The celebrated performer will appear as a guest artist at the Pan American Day Music Festival on April 9.

The salute to Hispanic America begins at 2 p.m. in Judy Bayley Theater at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas.

A variety of other outstanding Hispanic acts will brighten the Las Vegas celebration, including performances by harpist Alfredo Rolando Ortiz, the MGM Grand's Argentinian Gauchos and the Aladdin Hotel's singing Los Hermanos Marquez.

Tickets for the Hispanic Festival are $3 and $5 at 736-3381.

Las Vegas will remember Miss Triana's concerts of 1975 and 1976 with the Spanish Dance Company, also in UNLV's Bayley Theater. She has performed in the world's major showcases -- Carnegie Hall, the Music Center in Los Angeles, on the Las Vegas Strip and throughout Europe.

The prodigious Triana began her career very young. Sol Hurok featured her at age eight in a New York Flamenco Concert. At 12, she appeared in the San Francisco Opera House, and at 16, Triana became the youngest dancer to interpret the dramatic role of "El Amor Brujo" in Mexico City's Palace of Fine Arts.

Ortiz, internationally acclaimed harpist, will also be familiar to many Bayley audiences, having performed on campus last May.

Since beginning his music studies at age 12, he has recorded 22 record albums of folk and popular Hispanic music, as well as earning a doctorate in medicine. Ortiz was featured soloist at the National Conference of the American Harp Society in 1976.

The ingenious act of the Argentinian

Gauchos is well-known to many local residents. The dancing trio has worked in several strip showrooms, most recently in the MGM's "Hallelujah Hollywood!" They won the Best Act Award of the city in 1973. The festival is presented by Sociedad Cultural Hispana in cooperation with the UNLV foreign languages department.

Linda Baker's painting, Mantis, can be seen in a solo exhibition which will open March 31 and continue through April 19 at the Green Apple Gallery, 4800 South Maryland Parkway.

Boulder City Artist To Have Exhibition

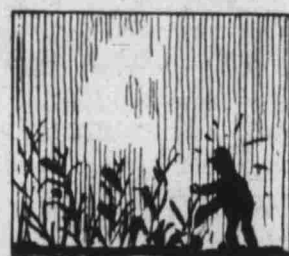

Linda Baker, Boulder City Artist, will present a one-woman show from March 31 to April 19 at the Green Apple Gallery, 4800 South Maryland Parkway in the College Town Center. On Friday, April 19 from 7-9 p.m., the Green Apple will hold an opening reception for the artist.

Nevada. Her artwork has been included in numerous judged, juried and invitational shows throughout the west. Locally, the Las Vegas Art Museum, Clark County Library and Green Apple Gallery have exhibited Baker's work.

Baker has also taught art for children in Boulder City and judged children's art competitions sponsored by the Boulder City Recreation Department. She is the Jr. Art Show Chairman for the Boulder City Hospital Auxiliary Art Festival.

The prints and paintings featured in the Green Apple show reflect Baker's Northwest heritage and desert wanderings and are a celebration of nature. The imaginative fantasy feeling of her paintings is achieved through careful manipulation of color and design. Utilizing a spontaneous and painterly approach, Baker has developed a very personal style of creating collagraph and monotype prints.

On Sunday afternoon, April 2, from 1-4 p.m., a demonstration of contemporary printmaking will be presented by Peg Bolen and Linda Baker at the Green Apple Gallery. This special program will be presented as a part of the Clark County Library's art tour. Call 736-6604 for further information.

ROOTS

HERBAL BATHS

If ever there was an elixir for tired, aching bodies and depressed, anxiety-ridden minds, surely the herbal bath was it. Although herbal baths have been replaced in modern times with synthetic bath additives, most of the newer bath mixtures don't hold a candle to the soothing, rejuvenating, astringent, and romantic qualities of an herb-infused bath. Today's researchers must recognize the benefits derived from herbs, for more and more cosmetic industries are capitalizing on the back-to-basics theme by adding herbs and their essences to shampoos, bath oils, hair conditioners, hand lotions, toilet waters and the like.

Any combination of pleasantly fragrant herbs can be tossed in the bath. There are, however, several ways to make an herbal bath without clogging your drain with stems, flowers and leaves. Take one half cup or a large handful of herbs and place them in a square of cheesecloth; wrap and tie the self-styled herb pouch and steep it in a quart of boiling water for at least 20 minutes. Add the liquid to your bath water and tie the herb residue in a washcloth to use for scrubbing your body. Since one object of an herb bath is to cleanse, hydrate and invigorate the skin, scrubbing with a herb cloth increases the efficacy of the bath.

Some delicious combinations can be had by mixing together equal parts of the following ingredients: (1) pennyroyal, sage, rosemary, angelica; (2) thyme, elder flowers, camomile, flowertops; (3) lavender, rosemary, pennyroyal; (4) lemon balm, peppermint.

For a useful and attractive homemade gift, prepare a boxful of various herbal pouches and include a brief description of the user of which baths are good for what. A felt-lined, decoupage cigar box, a wicker basket, or a compartmented wooden shadowbox make excellent containers and may be used afterwards for other purposes.

Old Memories Of Old Friends As Morry Zenoff Enjoys 50th Year in Journalism

EDITOR'S NOTE: One of Morry's friends for 50 years, Herman J. Scholl, of Milwaukee, tells of events they shared during their early friendship for this week's 50th anniversary letter. LJK

My friendship with Morry goes back at least 50 years when he was a reporter in the Sports Dept ... of the old Hearst controlled Wisconsin News and I was a student at Marquette University in Milwaukee ... Later we were both students at Wisconsin University where I was at Law School.

In the early 40's, we were social as well as business friends... Naturally we were always looking to turn an honest Buck ... One of the things of interest that we did was form a Fight Club called the Victory Sports Club. I don't recall making any money with this venture but every time we had a card, I would enter the ring before the first fight and lead the crowd in singing of the Stars Spangled Banner.

By this time I was active in the practice of Law. I don't recall what Morry was doing. About this time, we heard of a mutual friend who had done well as a Musical Entrepreneur. He had brought PAUL ROBESON to Milwaukee for a Concert. And since this was before Robeson's alleged Communist leanings, he attracted a large audience.

Morry and I decided to gamble on a similar venture. In those days about Ten Thousand School teachers would descend on Milwaukee from all over the State of Wisconsin for their annual Convention which usually took place in early November. We decided to offer them something cultural. At that time ALEC TEMPLETON, the blind piano player was very popular all over the Country. We engaged his services and picked a date in early November, believing that the Teachers would flock to our Attraction. This turned out to be a grievous error. It seems as though the Teachers were more interested in letting their hair down and crawling the local Pubs of which there were myriad. At any rate they didn't come to our Concert in any great numbers and Morry and I lost about $500 each after paying Mr. Templeton and the rental of the Hall and advertising.

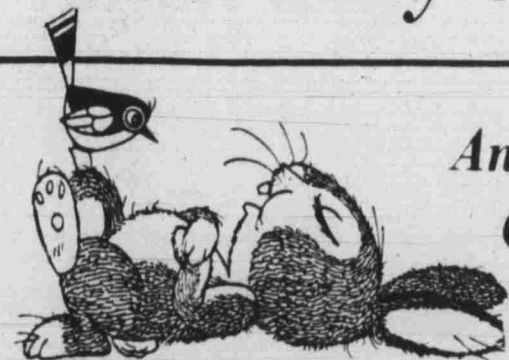

That was our first and last experience as Musical Entrepreneurs.

An Easter Challenge

BY DOROTHY VONDENBRINK

A Time Of Struggle

There are times,
When life becomes cluttered with cares,
When you search for an answer,
Or just someone who cares,
Your heart is aching,
And there is no place to turn
There are tears in your eyes
And your stomach churns.

It is times such as this
That God always seems near;
There is that soft gentle voice,
Whispering, "I'll quiet your fears;
Just trust in me,
Here, take my hand,
I'm the friend you need,
The one who will understand.
I'll lead you safely,
Your pain I'll bear,
I am your Father,
And I truly care.

Remember, I've been with you before
For I've stood with you
At sorrows door,
Giving comfort and courage so bountifully
So why do you wait -- just come to me." By Dorothy Vondenbrink

C'Mon, Kid, Live!

C'mon, Kid, Live!
You have everything going for you!
Great challenges
And excitement, too!
You can win, Kid,
If you try...
Your limit, Kid, is the sky!
Yes, the future is up to you,
Put your mind on Christ
He'll make your dreams come true!
C'mon, Kid, Live!
Just reach out
Work hard and never doubt.
You're a winner, Kid,
Yes, that's right!
Jesus is your strength and your might!
So to be a winner
You must fight!
Moral integrity...
Always right!
So, c'mon, Kid, give it your best!
Go with Jesus,
Win the test!
C'mon, Kid, Live!
You can do all things...
Through power Christ will give!

The Trial Goes On

Golgotha! The crosses now are gone
And yet the trial goes on and on.
Was not one Trial enough back then
To prove Christ is God's Son, to men.

The rabble mock and scorn,
Deride the Christ we love
And try through all their devious ways
To defame His life and love.

But we who bear His name
Must cherish it with pride
Hold fast to all the promises
For which he lived and died.

Salvation he has bought,
Death lost when He arose,
And those who mock Him
seal their fate
For God conquers all His foes.

BY DOROTHY VONDENBRINK

With Spring comes Easter
The Christian's Spring,
For this is a time
Of a most wonderful thing;
Mankind, who has struggled
under guilt and sin,
Was invited by Christ
to leave all sin with Him.

He bore them well,
Our sovereign Lord
And was rebuked and shamed,
But uttered not a word.
His ultimate gift
was to die on the cross
Which would have been the world's greatest loss:
But wonder of wonders,
He rose from the tomb
And now lives in God's mansion,
Preparing our rooms.

He changed the world,
Of that there's no doubt,
But there is still a portion of mankind left out.
They will not accept His way or the lessons he taught,
Nor will they accept the salvation he bought.

Oh Golgotha is bare,
the three crosses are gone;
And yet for some people the trial still goes on.
They still try to prove
Christ was mortal like they,
That he had all the weaknesses of mankind today.

In movies and songs,
they mock and derided;
Trying to show that Christ

had a weak human side.
Some Christians are angered,
Others tremble with fear
At some of the defaming
Remarks that they hear.

But as Christians,
We should bear His name with Pride,
And hold fast to those promises
for which He died.
In death and pain,
He wrought a new birth,
He arose and brought hope
And joy to the earth.

So this Easter,
Let us pledge our loyalty anew,
Christ triumphed before,
And He will this time too.
Just remember;
Death lost its hold,
when Jesus rose,
Some may mock Him and jeer,
But he conquers His foes.

To those who mock, defame and deride,
Who reject His love,
And insist He died;
They have sealed their fate,
And at such a cost,
I grieve for them,
And the prize they've lost.

But to Christians -- Rejoice --
Christ arose from the grave,
He has called His own to Him --
To find love and be saved.
So breathe deep,
Smell the earth,
Feel the awakening of life;
Accept Christ in Triumph --
He can overcome strife.

St. Patrick's Day

Sure, and it's a great day ...
St. Patrick's celebration!
A day to put all cares away
For fun in all the Nation.

St. Patrick is the patron Saint,
Of that Bonnie Old Ireland;
Inspired, and never dare to faint,
A people who fight to stand.

Rev. Lou Sorabella

Defensive Driving Course

A defensive driving course, designed to alert drivers to those situations where accidents can be avoided, will be conducted at the Convention Center March 27 and 28, from 6 until 10 p.m.

The two day, eight hour course will be given by the Nevada Safety Council as part of its 1978 program to reduce highway accidents.

The course will be conducted by Thelma Smid, executive director of the Nevada Safety Council who is also a certified instructor.

The defensive driver training program was spearheaded by the National Safety Council and has been given to thousands of motorists throughout the nation.

Classes will be conducted in building G - 1 (one) at the Convention Center annex and pre-registration is not necessary.

For additional information contact the Nevada Safety Council at 870-9901.

"INSURACHAT"

Flood damage losses rise every year, as surely as flood waters themselves. To meet this problem, Congress enacted the National Flood Insurance Program ten years ago.

This is a two-part program: to minimize future flood damage, and to offer less expensive insurance against the damage that does occur.

To cut flood losses, the law creates land-use measures for "flood-prone" areas. New buildings, for instance, must be properly anchored and constructed, with adequate drainage and sewage systems.

Only in participating communities can property owners get the inexpensive subsidized flood insurance. The Federal Insurance Administration sets the terms of the policies and the premium rates.

The subsidized insurance is limited in dollar amount; for additional coverage the owner must pay full, actuarial rates. New buildings are insured at full rates, too.

For flood insurance questions -- for ALL kinds of insurance -- see the people who know the answers. Come to LaPorta Insurance Agency, 129 Water Street, Henderson, Nevada 89015 565-6411.

Hamann States Council Member

Las Vegas advertising executive Joy Hamann has been appointed Nevada's lone member of the National Advisory Council of the Small Business Administration.

Her appointment to the 85-member council was announced by SBA Administrator A. Vernon Weaver.

A 26-year resident of Las Vegas, Ms. Hamann is vice president of Joyce & Martin Advertising, Inc. and is a former prize-winning newspaper reporter and editor.

"I am honored by this appointment," Hamann said, "and during my term I'll do everything I can to help the small business owners of Nevada get their message across to the administrator and to President Carter."

During a recent two-day meeting of the council in Washington, D.C., Hamann was elected chairman of the Women in Business Committee. In May she is slated to participate in a five-day meeting of the council in the nation's capital.

Long active in community affairs, Hamann is past president of the Las Vegas Press Club and for nearly a dozen years has served as chairman of that group's Journalism Scholarship Committee.

JOY HAMANN

She is president of the advertising agencies Association of Southern Nevada, a director of the Clark County chapter of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, treasurer of the American Association of Political Consultants, and a past director of the International Association of Political Consultants.

On March 29 Hamann will participate in an SBA-sponsored seminar for prospective business owners and also with Rep. James Santini in his Small Business Forum, both in Reno.

"The small business owner has a lot of needs that can be met by participation in any one of a number of the SBA programs," Hamann said, "just as there are a lot of unmet needs because they have not been identified and pointed out to Washington and to our Nevada governmental agencies and elected officials."

"I take this appointment very seriously, and hope I can be of genuine service to Nevada and our people."

Her two-year appointment to the non-paying post is the first time a woman has been named to represent Nevada.

Varsity Basketball Players Move On

Dave enjoyed playing basketball with the Eagles his senior year. "I really like to travel," he added. "The team traveled a lot this year since it's an independent team. I enjoyed that."

Dave said that two things hurt his basketball career. First, he received poor coaching in Australia, during junior high school when he was developing as an athlete. And second, Dave played under the basket most of his career and needed to adjust to guard. But his year with the Eagles helped him, and he hopes to get a basketball scholarship, possibly to Cedar City college in Utah.

The big man for the Eagles, Paul Manuell, stood 6'8". Paul was born and raised in Australia and moved to Boulder City last summer.

"I dreamed of playing American high school basketball," Paul said. "I was determined to make my dream come true, and I did."

Paul played basketball in Australia for five years. During his last two years in Australia, he played basketball on the all-state team consisting of the best players from the city leagues.

(cont. on page 32)

by Wallace Ward

The Boulder City High School basketball team finished with an 18-7 record this year and was second in the AA state tournament two weeks ago. Nine of the ten Eagles will graduate this year. Their days as high school basketball players are over, forever.

Talented Kirk Hafen was high scorer for the Eagles this year with 533 points. And as the star quarterback on the Eagles football team last fall, he recently received a four-year football scholarship to Colorado State University. But Kirk said that he'll probably also try out for CSU's basketball team. That decision should please the CSU athletic department, for over the past four years Kirk has played exceptional high school basketball.

As a freshman, Kirk played in every varsity basketball game. During his four years at Boulder City High School, he played in 102 varsity basketball games, more varsity games than anyone in Boulder City High School's history. Since 1965 when Eagles basketball statistics were kept, Kirk scored 1463 total points, more points than anyone else, besides his cousin, Russ Hafen, who scored 1752. This year Kirk averaged 21.3 points a game.

Kirk started playing basketball when he was very young. In junior high school, he started playing basketball seriously and made the junior high team. During the summer, he played basketball for the Las Vegas all-star teams consisting of Southern Nevada's best school basketball players. As a freshman, Kirk made the varsity team.

"The best part of my game is outside shooting," he said. "I liked playing wing this year because I could take the shots I am best at."

Kirk said that the Eagles were a good team this year with good coaching. The team was more relaxed than in the past, he pointed out.

In track, Kirk is a letterman and runs the 100 yard and 220 yard dashes. He also enjoys water skiing. In addition, Kirk excels academically, belonging to the National Honor Society and the Quill and Scroll writing club.

Kirk will major in business at CSU, but he hopes that some day he will get drafted into professional football. And many fans who have seen Kirk Hafen play believe that he could develop into a professional quarterback.

The other starting wing-guard for the Eagles was Dave Greenberg. He was second highest Eagles scorer this year with 375 points.

Dave lived in California until he was 13 years old when his family moved to Australia. Then three years later, in 1976, Dave moved to Hawaii on his own. There he played varsity basketball for Kalahel High School before coming to Boulder City for his senior year.

"In Hawaii I was one of the best high school players," Dave said. "When I came to Boulder City, the competition got better and I learned a lot from my teammates."

Dave passed the ball well and led the Eagles in assists this year. He also jumped well.

"Jumping has always come naturally to me," he said.

Teresa Sue Ostrom and Michael Ray Hadlock were united in holy matrimony in church ceremonies at Christmas. Teresa is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Ostrom of Henderson. Michael is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Hadlock of Pringle, South Dakota.

Rev. Terry Starkey performed the double-ring ceremony in a candlelit evening ceremony at Faith Baptist Church in Henderson. Ron Guthrie, choir director of First Church of the Nazarene, Las Vegas, was pianist. Diane Boyd, a friend since college days, sang "You Light Up My Life".

The sisters of both the bride and groom lit the candles. Misses Melody Hadlock and Shirely Ostrom, dressed in lavender and blue respectively, lit the candles in front of the sanctuary. At the same time, Misses Susanne and Tamara Ostrom, wearing peach and green dresses respectively, lit the aisle candles. These girls' floor-length, long-sleeved dresses were made by the bride's mother. Tami was also in charge of the guest book.

Miss Grace Conrad, a friend of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a floor-length blue princess-line gown of silverish-blue chiffon over light blue bridal satin edged in white lace which was made by the bride. She carried a bouquet of blue carnations and baby breath surrounding a single white rose.

Miss Michelle Diane Morrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy D. Morrison of Chillicothe, Texas, was flower girl for her cousin. Her gown, matching the bridesmaid's, was also made by the bride. She carried a white basket of carnation pedals.

Bradley D. Morrison, cousin of the Bride, was ring bearer carrying a blue and white heart-shaped pillow designed and made by the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Ray Hadlock

The best man was Jim Wheeler of Las Vegas. The best man and the ring bearer wore white tuxedos. Sam Cox and David Mannard served as ushers. The groom and the ushers wore their dress U.S. Air Force uniforms.

The bride's white gown was a white chiffon over satin with applique over the bodice forming a high neckline in the back and scooping in front. Appliques were also placed on the puffy sleeves and the A-line skirt. The empire-waist skirt formed the train in the back. The veil, styled and made by the bride's mother, was three layers of white net attached to a stand-up crown of white applique.

For something old and borrowed, the bride wore a single strand of white pearls belonging to Dale Cardinal. For something blue she wore the traditional blue garter put into place by her father. She carried a bouquet of white roses and blue carnations in baby breathe tied with white ribbon while her father escorted her down the aisle.

The bride's mother wore a full-length yellow chiffon dress. The groom's mother chose a green knit full-length dress. Both mothers' corsages were of white carnations and silver ribbons.

The reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Belton Cowen. Arrangements were made for the reception by Mrs. Randy Cardinal. The three-tier orange cake was decorated in blue on white frosting. Between tiers was a small kissing bride and groom figure. At the top of the cake were two white doves and a silver cross. The cake and punch were served by the bride and groom's sisters -- Misses Shirley and Susie Ostrom and Miss Melody Hadlock. The bridal bouquet was caught by Miss Grace Conrad.

The majority of the approximately 100 persons in attendance were friends of the couple from Las Vegas. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hadlock and Melody of Pringle, South Dakota, and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy D. Morrison and Michelle and Bradley of Chillicothe, Texas. The Hadlocks and Morrisons spent the Christmas holidays with the Ostrom family also.

The newlyweds spent the holidays with their parents and their honeymoon arranging their apartment in Henderson. The bride continues her employment with Bill Sheehan, CPA. The groom is stationed at Nellis Air Force Base as a small arms instructor.

New, Free State Highway Map Available

The all-new 1978-'79 Nevada state highway map has been distributed to hundreds of outlets across the nation and within the State and is available to the public free of charge, according to Highway Department cartographer Jack Slansky. The colorful map, besides showing all major highways and roads in the State, has enlarged area maps of the Reno-Sparks communities, the Lake Tahoe region, and of the Las Vegas-Lake Mead area, plus a historical map detailing pioneer trails and locating the better-known ghost towns. All the State emblems are shown in color as are a number of typical scenes of Nevada.

Special sections of the map include a chart detailing all Interstate ramps and interchanges and distances between them, a mileage scale indicating distances between them, a mileage scale indicating distances between all major communities in the State, listing of the frequencies and call letters of all State AM and FM radio stations, 56 special points of interest, museums, and 84 campgrounds and recreational areas.

New features of the popular publication include a metric conversion scale, emergency and road condition telephone numbers old and new routing numbers reflecting the Highway Department's new highway numbering system, and medical emergency information.

One million copies of the official highway map will be produced for the 1978-'79 years, with half that number offered to the public this year.

Remember when Boulder City ended on the East at Avenue M? Remember the donkey ball games at the ball park on Wyoming and Avenue B? Remember the 5 cent hamburgers and root beer at Bert Smith's stand where Central Market is now located and Central Market was on Wyoming Street?

Remember when Earl Brother's Boulder City

Theater was the only air conditioned building in town, and one could get an icecream soda for two dollars worth of cash register receipts at the old Boulder City Drug Store?

Remember the pleasant evenings when the Reclamation Park was full of people trying to get a break from the heat of the house?

Remember the Big Bethas loading up to take the workers to the Dam, and the bustle in the Anderson Dining Hall where six meals were served around the clock?

It is time again for the old timers who do remember the excitement of the construction days to get together and rehash the events of those times. The 31'ers will meet April 8th at the Boulder City Elks Club for the annual dinner. Tickets are $5 for the dinner, and can be purchased in Boulder City at Ann Gleason's Stationery and Gift Shop at 567 Avenue C, or in Henderson at the Henderson Home News Office at 22 Water Street. No tickets will be sold after April 1st.

The dining room will open at 5:30 p.m. for those who want to come early and visit. No host cocktail bar will open at 6 p.m. and dinner will be served promptly at 7.

The Angel's Message!, Pastor's Topic.

Pastor Joel Rivers, of the Vegas Valley Christian Church, 5515 Mountain Vista, in South-East Las Vegas, will be speaking at the 8 a.m. and 10 a.m. Morning Worship services on the topic of "The Angel's Message: 'He Isn't Here! He Has Come Back To Life!'". The Adult and Youth Choirs are combining to sing for both worship services. A breakfast is being served on the grounds at 7 a.m., prepared by the chefs of the church, under the sponsorship of Deacon LeRoy Jenkins, for a nominal cost.

Bible School will be held at the usual time of 9 a.m. Baby sitting will only be utilized during the Bible School and 2nd Morning Worship Service at 7 p.m.

Beginning the first Sunday in April, Pastor Rivers, will be basing his messages on the Book of Romans. "We'll be going through the entire book," stated Pastor-Teacher Rivers.

Foresters Ladies Organize

Court Bonanza of the Independent Order of Foresters (IOF) recently formed a ladies group.

The charter officers are Dorothy Pintacura, President; Stephanie Francis, Secretary; and Wanda Lowe, Treasurer.

A contest was held to name the group: Elsie Bees (Ladies of Court Bonanza) was chosen. Its primary purpose will be to raise monies for the Court's Benevolent Fund.

Las Vegas Post Office Opens Job Register For Distribution Clerk, Machine Exams

Postmaster James W. Bradford has announced that Distribution Clerk, Machine exams will be given in the near future and urged that all those interested apply to take the job-related tests that can lead to Postal Service employment.

Salaries, not including fringe benefits, for distribution clerk, machine begin at $6.75 an hour and increase to $8.04 an hour over an eight-year period. Annually, this represents a $13,604 starting salary for a full-time employee that increases to $16,189 in eight years.

"I do not want to give the impression we will be hiring great numbers of people in the coming months," the postmaster said. "I anticipate approximately 200 vacancies will occur in the next two years that will be filled by hiring people from our job register. We need qualified people who will be willing to accept employment, and we want to offer people in the local community the chance to compete for these openings by signing up for and taking the exams."

The Postmaster said the Postal Service established the policy two years ago of extending eligibility indefinitely for those on the job register because little hiring was being done. "On October 8, 1978 those who have been on the job register for more than two years will lose their eligibility. They will have to reapply to compete for a standing on the new register," he said.

Postmaster Bradford explained that those wishing to take the exam could apply to:

Everybody Wants To Reduce Tax Burden

by Ernest L. Newton

Taxpayers voices are finally being heard in their demands that the crushing burden of taxation be reduced. Almost every candidate for public office is busily fashioning a "tax reduction" program that will appeal to the voters. At least eight different plans have been advanced within the past sixty days. The public response has been almost unanimous approval of the basic idea: "tax reduction".

But there is some resistance to any plan for tax reduction. That resistance comes from the special interest group that is the primary beneficiary of high taxes and high government income. That special interest group is made up of employees of government who do everything possible to maintain the burdensome load of taxation so that their income and automatic income increases will not be prejudiced.

Fortunately the special interests in favor of high taxation are not a majority of the eligible voters. But there are enough of them so they can, in some instances, be a majority of the people who actually vote. And therein lies the danger and the opportunity. Every voter who wants lower taxes must cast his vote; and cast it in favor of candidates and propositions that will reduce the tax burden of Nevada's people.

The demand of tax reduction has surfaced only recently. It was incipient in 1975 and in 1977. It will be a major political banner in 1978 elections and in the 1979 legislature. It is safe to predict that every candidate will announce his devotion to the cause of lower taxes. Some will call it tax reform. Some will urge that some segment of society (other than themselves) bear a larger portion of the burden. Some will urge the abandonment of special interest programs so long as their own "special interest" is left fully funded.

But the bottom line of every program is that taxes have reached the limit of tolerability and they must be reduced, either for some or for everyone.

Nevada's constitution requires that Nevada shall have "a uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation." With that mandate there is little room for special interest assessment and taxation. There is ample room for a reduction of the tax load for everyone; and that in proportion to the taxes paid.

In consideration of the various proposals (and several will be examined more closely in future writings for this column) it must be borne in mind that "people pay taxes." Lands do not pay taxes; nor do houses, nor furniture, nor business inventories. Taxes are paid by the people in accordance with the properties they own or the properties they buy. And one further thing, taxes on business enterprises are invariably added to the prices that people must pay when they buy goods and services from a business organization. There is no other way.

Summary Of Watershed Conditions Affecting Water Supply Of The Lower Colorado River For The April - July 1978 Period

October 1977 through February 1978 precipitation in the watersheds comprising the Colorado River Basin above Lake Powell varied from 130 percent of normal for the San Juan River watershed above Bluff, Utah, to 103 percent of normal for the Green River watershed above Green River, Utah, and 114 percent of normal for the Colorado River watershed above Cisco, Utah.

The forecast as of March 1, 1978, under conditions of no other Colorado River Storage Project reservoirs, for flow in the Colorado River into Lake Powell during the period April through July 1978 is as follows:

Maximum - 12,700,000 acre - feet, Mean - 9,500,000 acre - feet, Minimum - 6,300 acre - feet.

The forecast equation indicates the probability is 9 chances in 10 that the actual inflow to Lake Powell will fall between the above maximum and minimum values.

The forecast for inflow to Lake Powell is derived from a summation of three tributary forecasts: the Green River at Green River, Utah; the Colorado River near Cisco, Utah; and the San Juan River near Bluff, Utah. Each of the tributary forecasts is derived by a correlation analysis involving records of the October - February precipitation and March 1 water - equivalent of snow, with April - July runoff (adjusted for major diversions and storage changes). Data from 34 precipitation stations and 55 snow courses located throughout the Basin are used. The mean of the forecast, 9.5 million acre feet, is the adjusted forecast after accounting for an estimated 0.6 million acre - feet of depletions during the April - July 1978 period by transmountain diversions and upstream reservoirs exclusive of Colorado River Storage Project reservoirs. The 72 - year (1906 - 1977) average inflow has been about 8.3 million acre - feet.

The historical April - July inflow between Lake Powell and Grand Canyon from the Paria and Little Colorado Rivers has averaged only about 50,000 acre - feet. Therefore, the forecast has April - July inflow to Lake Powell can be considered as essentially equivalent to the forecast for flow of the Colorado River near Grand Canyon assuming no Colorado River Storage Project reservoirs.

Dear Editor:

Most of our recreational time is spent camping and boating. Lately we have been encountering the type who leave a mess for someone else to clean up.

We have a particularly lovely little beach on Lake Mojave where we often take our boat, a picnic lunch, and sometimes stay overnight. Yesterday we were confronted with one of the biggest messes we have ever seen on a public beach. Many times we have cleaned up soft drink and beer cans, but this mess could be seen from the middle of the lake. It covered fully a quarter of the small beach. Since the rains washed away all the other foot-prints, we were able to learn a great deal about the persons responsible. There were three of them including a small child.

They had to come by boat. For lunch they had bar-b-que'd hamburgers. The remainder of the charcoal sack, the grill, a burger bun and the matches from the Rainbow Club in Henderson were mute evidence. They had large quantities of tomatoes, lettuce and onions for their burgers as well as individually wrapped slices of cheese. The vegetables were scattered far and wide as were the cheese wrappers.

In addition to these goodies, they had boiled eggs and baked beans. All of this was liberally topped by huge red ants. Needless to say, it took a while to clean all this up before we could have our lunch. We wonder if they drop their garbage in their inside dining rooms as well as our outdoor dining areas. Whatever happened to the sportsmen's code to leave only foot-prints. How about leaving a clean beach for the next guy!

There may be a bit of poetic justice in this situation tho. Scattered along the beach were the wilted remains of a bunch of illegally picked wild flowers. It is just possible one of the family has a painful rash, because all but one of the flowers were the very toxic purple phacelia!

Why No Rules On Kids?

Dear Editor,

It bugs me that teenagers have too much freedom, and the worst part is that no one does anything about curtailing them.

For 14 and 15 - year - olds I think the curfew of 10 p.m. should be in force all week long and not just during the week. Another problem is the kids "dragging Fremont." Why do officials in Las Vegas just turn their heads? Many of our Henderson young people are there too.

My husband and I, although we have no children of that age, hate to see youngsters coming out of local pinball places with cigarettes in their hands. Some of the kids look younger than 12 years old.

I for one would like to see the law changed to where youngsters have a curfew all week, and have it enforced.

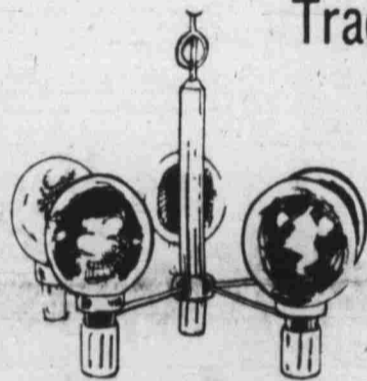

Sincerely,
Name Withheld

But Paul wanted to play basketball in America. He met Eagles coach Dave Shay, last year when Shay's Eagles toured Australia while playing Australian teams. Paul worked to save enough money to fly to America and came to Boulder City to play his senior year with the Eagles.

"I've learned from American basketball," Paul said. "The game is played differently here."

Paul is trying to get a basketball scholarship, possibly to the University of Hawaii. If not, he will go back to Australia to continue his education.

Paul captured many rebounds this year along with 6'4" Bob McWhorter. Bob added good strength under the backboards for the Eagles, but his main interest is football. Like Kirk Hafen, Bob received a four-year football scholarship to Colorado State University as offensive tackle. He indicated that he may try out for CSU's junior varsity basketball team.

In 1975, Bob came to Boulder City and played on the junior varsity basketball team. He played basketball to keep in shape for football. But Bob is an all-around athlete. He also runs the 88 yard dash and throws the shot put for the track team. He also enjoys water skiing and fishing.

"I've had a super year," Bob said. "I did well in football and got a scholarship. It was fun playing football and basketball with my friends. The coaching was excellent."

Bob hopes that some day a scout will see him play and be impressed enough to draft him into professional football.

Boulder City native Lee Swindlehurst played as a center for the Eagles this year.

Lee started playing serious basketball in junior high school and developed into an all-around basketball player. "I'd have preferred playing wing-guard this year instead of center," he said. "I'm too light to fight for rebounds against the heavier men."

Lee was the student body president this year. He belonged to the Future Business Leaders of America and the Nevada Students Active for Education. He made the highest honor roll this year and was a member of the National Honor Society.

His last year in high school has been tough. "I've been so busy," he said "but I enjoyed it, and now I'm looking forward to college." Lee is through with competitive basketball. "I want to pursue either astronomy or engineering full time in college," he said.

The shortest starter on the team, guard Jay Booth, came to Boulder City in 1971. He started playing basketball seriously as a junior-high Eagles player. Defense was Jay's strong point. He would, game after game make exceptional steals and create turnovers.

Jay is also a letterman in football and baseball. He plays all sports but school rules allow him to compete in only three sports in one school year.

Jay enjoys water skiing, hunting, and fishing. In academics, Jay belonged to the National Honor Society and National Students for Education. He kept a perfect 4.0 grade point average last semester.

Next school year, Jay plans to go the Dixie College in Utah. He could possible win an academic scholarship. When at Dixie, he may try out for football.

Although a quick high school basketball player who really knew how to bring the ball down the court, he said that he is through with basketball and will not play college ball.

The second-string guard, Larry Chase, indicated that he, too, is through with competitive basketball.

Larry was too small to play basketball until he started growing as a junior. He then, for the first time, started playing a little basketball with friends. His friends told Larry that he was good, and after some coaxing, he tried out for the high school basketball team.

The first year Larry tried out for basketball, in his senior year, he made the varsity team.

Similarly in baseball, Larry was not allowed to pitch because "he was too small," according to last year's Eagles baseball coaches. But one day the baseball team got in a pressure situation against Moapa and needed another pitcher. Larry pitched and Boulder City easily defeated Moapa. He went on to pitch the most strikeouts and maintained the lowest earned run average of 0.97 last year of AA-division schools in Nevada.

Larry said that being a varsity basketball player was satisfying. "I learned quite a bit about basketball from my teammates and I made some good friends" he added. Several things are happening to me in my senior year that I'll remember for a long time. I'll remember all about state for many years."

The day after graduation Larry leaves for an air force base in San Antonio, Texas. He wants to become a patrolman. Larry plans to someday further develop his karate skills and open a karate school, possibly in Boulder City.

Senior Bill Strachan who played second-string for the Eagles this year was born in Boulder City and started playing serious basketball in junior high school. He was a strong inside shooter.

"Playing basketball was fun," Bill said. "But I won't continue basketball in college. My main interest is baseball."

Bill plays first base in baseball and is a good player. After this year Bill hopes to get a job coaching baseball.

This year Bill also won a letter in tennis. He played doubles and finished second in the AA-division state tennis tournament.

With the highest four-year GPA, Bill will graduate this year as first in his class. He belongs to the National Honor Society. Next school year Bill will attend UNLV.

"I enjoyed my last year in school," he said. "Basketball was fun, and baseball is going to be exciting this year."

Second-string Stan Solomon also enjoyed the basketball season. Next year Stan will attend College in Utah, he might try out for their basketball team.

Stan also earned a letter and three medals in cross country this year. In addition he won the Eagles Most Improved trophy for cross country. In track, Stan is a fourth-year letterman and does the pole vault, triple jump and long jump.

Since he was four, Stan has played basketball. He played basketball on the junior high, freshman, and junior varsity teams and then became a varsity player. His strong points are quickness and outside shooting.

Other interests of Stan include water skiing, motor cycling, softball and mechanic work.

Next year Stan will attend Cedar City College for one year, and then he plans to go on a two-year mission for the Mormon Church.

Only one varsity basketball player, Don Boone, will return to next year's team. Don has played junior high, freshman, junior varsity, and varsity basketball for the Eagles. He should be a good athlete to begin building next year's team around.

A GUEST EDITORIAL
Saving Our Transportation

America's inter-city bus industry is in a precarious financial condition and this situation makes it difficult to adequately and properly serve its 340 million passengers in 15,000 cities across the nation.

These people, including many older Americans and youngsters, depend on buses as the most affordable and often the only means of public transportation. Over 31 percent of bus passengers are under 18 years of age and 30 percent are over 55 years. Yet buses receive no federal subsidies. Amtrak receives $500 million annually. The airlines receive approximately $73 million in direct subsidies plus substantial assistance to build and operate terminals. In the meantime, the bus industry's net operating revenue dropped 42 percent from 1968-76, measured in current dollars. When inflation is taken into account, this figure rises to 64 percent, according to Trailways.

The industry is in a serious financial bind, and if it is to remain a viable form of public transportation, it must be in a position to earn a reasonable rate of return on its investments.

While the bus industry's profits plummet, demands on those limited funds increase. Bus replacement costs have nearly doubled in the last decade, and other costs have also risen. Assistance is needed—and needed in the near future.

News from Boulder City Easter Notes About Folks

Kathy and Shane Milone Visit Boulder City

When they taped the Boulder City Special for channel 3's "3's Company," producer's Kathy and Shane Milone vowed to return to Boulder City to look for more special people and places. They toured the area from Lake Mead to Railroad Pass!

A visit at Don and Ruthie Belding's "Gold Strike Town" ended the tour for it was lunch time at Lake Mead. Acting as guides and sharing the repast was Bill Harbour and Teddy Fenton. Kathy and Shane live at Celesta's Lowe's ranch in Las Vegas.

Goldie Begley Helps Edit School Newspaper

Sometimes there isn't enough space in the Boulder City News to carry all school announcements from the elementary school so Goldie Begley and some of the children's mothers took a smart pill and send out a weekly newsletter. Prior to our St. Patrick's issue the letter contained a plea to have children who were March 17 babies step forward to have a picture taken with Mr. Fred Traeger, 97. Last week our reader's enjoyed the pleasure of seeing Wendy Harness and Joey McClaren sharing birthday honors with Mr. Traeger and it all came about from the school newsletter. Advertising pays!

Easter Notes About Folks

There is a romantic happening at the R.R. Pass Casino. Where once a "saddle" between two hills occurred because of nature's gyrations there now appears a water tank to store water for the casino. The equipment parked beside the tank was arranged for by Dr. Don Davies, owner of the Chemtek Corporation of Henderson. Where is the romance? During the hey-day of mining in the R.R. Pass area and until 1973, all water had to be hauled to the mines and to the bars that stood beside the highway. Then in 1973 a shaft was sunk at R.R. Pass 100 ft and Lo! the golden stream called water and not only that the best water health-wise. A complicated treatment process cost a prohibitive sum but having an ample supply of water is priceless. The tank will be a beacon for all to admire for a little bird told the NEWS that Glenn Ainsworth will place a painting there.

Shirley and Wayne Putz Break Bill's Camera

There is this standard joke about people saying they will break a photographer's camera! It happened to Bill Harbour last Sunday when he went to Wayne and Shirley Putz home, 1453 Rawhide. The NEWS had been informed that the parents of 8 children had Easter Bunny outfits. With visions of two fluffy furry critters emerging from under a bush, Harbour set up his equipment. Around the bend came two people sized rabbits. A girl and a boy rabbit at that. Wayne was a playgirl bunny. His legs encased in black siren stockings and his eyes shaded with false eyelashed one inch long. Shirley was Mr. Rabbit. Not only that they were dancing rabbits. While resting they would paint an Easter egg. It was when they sprang unexpectedly in a Bunny Hop that Fearless Bill aimed his camera to grab the action and pop went the gear. See today's NEWS for the results!

Barney and Lorraine's Pups Found Homes

Soon now the yard at 521 Ave. "I" will be almost silent of the yip-yaps of the puppies born to Barney and Lorraine's pedigree police mama doggie for employees at the R.R. Pass Casino have claimed all but one of them. Up the street the so-called nice black "father" at the second house from the corner turned out to be a spayed female! We understand and with understanding the pioneer family who live there have been teasing their pet a lot about being a female-father!

Mary and Roscoe Granger Miss Boulder City

When Mary and Roscoe Granger, 1931 - 35 pioneers from Hoover Dam days, and recent visitors to the Red Wixson home on La Mancho, arrived to Grand Coulee there was a layer of snow on the ground. Mary said she wanted to come right back. We wish they could and then they could take their rightful place among the builders of the dam, who with their families are having a glorious reunion at the Elk's Club on the evening of April 8.

Murl Emory Expected At The 31'er Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. Murl Emory of Nelson, Nevada are one of the star attractions to come to the annual 31'er party. Once a pioneer can get past the crowd that always surrounds the popular couple it is a pleasure to shake the hand of the man who first met Frank Crowe, superintendent of the Black Canyon Project when Mr. Crowe showed up and hired Murl and his famous boat to take him to the damsite. He introduced himself as the engineer who was going to build Hoover Dam. In his secret thoughts Murl had doubts about the man's claim. But not by the time they had returned to shore! They remained, the boat pilot and the engineer, close friends until Crowe died.

An Easter Special At Gleason's Stationery

Not only cards, gifts, candles, books and bells can be found at Ann Gleason's Stationery Store on C St. It is there that the pioneers buy their tickets for the April eight 31'er reunion dinner. It is much easier on Russ Farnsworth, president, when people make reservations early. At best the chore of acting as chairman of the dinner is a real challenge, it is made double and triple difficult when people do not indicate their presence by making early reservations.

Do it today. The date for closing off ticket sales is April 1.

Railroad Pass Casino Will Host Historical Society

Another reservation that should be sent in now is to the Nevada Historical Society annual meeting, Friday, April 21 at the R.R. Pass Casino banquet room. The speaker will be C.J. Hadley, editor, Nevada Magazine. The public is invited.
