O'Callaghan Park Officially Opened

by Mary Stafford

"Twenty-six years ago a firing range was named for me in Korea ... this brings thoughts of death and destruction ... it gives me great pleasure to have a park named after me, something with a much happier meaning," former Nevada governor and Henderson teacher Mike O'Callaghan told the small gathering of persons who attended the dedication ceremonies of O'Callaghan Park.

The ceremonies marked the official opening of the 17.56 acre park located on Horizon Drive and Skyline Road. Officials who turned out on the hot Saturday afternoon included Nevada Attorney General Richard Bryan, Mayor Lorin Williams, councilmen Phil Stout and Lorna Kesterson, City manager Bob Campbell, Parks and Recreation dept. supervisor Dundee Jones plus other city staff members along with members of the Parks and Recreation Dept. Advisory Board.

O'Callaghan said in his brief speech that he was amazed at the development that was taking place in Henderson and concluded "For your thoughtfulness (naming the park after him) I say thank you very much."

Mayor Williams explained that O'Callaghan's name was chosen back in 1972 as a fitting tribute to the then newly elected Governor, "who was already making decisions that would ultimately brand him one of the very best governors in the state of Nevada."

Following the ribbon cutting ceremony in which O'Callaghan was assisted by his wife, Carolyn, the group dispersed to the corner of Horizon and Skyline where the official sign was unveiled.

Although a full schedule of events was planned for the afternoon, not many of those attending the ceremonies stayed on. Kicking off the festivities was a concert by the Burkholder Junior High School band. Games were conducted during the afternoon by personnel from the recreation dept. and also scheduled was a handball demonstration, a jazz ensemble and several junior league baseball games.

Total cost of the park to date has been $608,887. Henderson's share of matching funds has been $221,500 with the balance of the costs, $387,387 coming from Nevada State Park Bond Funds, Public Works Economic Development Authority Grant funds, the U.S. Dept. of the Interior, Heritage Conservation and Recreation services, Land and Water conservation funds.

The park features lighted tennis courts, a lighted baseball field, play areas, outdoor handball courts, a basketball court and a gazebo. Still to be constructed is a 2-acre lake and a recirculating stream.

Westworld Approved

The Nevada Gaming Commission, approved by unanimous vote the application for an unrestricted slot machine license for Burt Sugarman, chairman of the board of Old West Corporation, a subsidiary of Westworld, Inc.

Old West Corporation is the developer of Westworld, a western theme park and movie location in Henderson. It contains stores, two restaurants, a gaming casino and recently purchased the rights from Priscilla Presley to show her home movies that she made with Elvis.

Sugarman, a well-known West Coast television producer became involved with the company in March of this year. "We hope to open the Westworld Park within the next four weeks," he announced.

Westworld, Inc. (WEST) is traded over the NASDAQ system.

City Clerk Dorothy Vondenbrink announced that absentee ballots are now available for those who will be out-of-town on the date of the general election, June 12. Just stop by the city clerk's office between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. to cast your votes up until a May 29 deadline.

Anytime after that date an affidavit would be required stating the voter would be gone on election date due to an emergency.

The voter registration for the general election is 5,703 which is only an increase of 85 over the primary registration.

The general election features only two council seats, ward 1 and ward 2.

Incumbent Phil Stout will run against Kent Anderson, a dean of students at Burkholder junior high, for ward 1. In the Ward 2 race, Incumbent Gary Price will run against Businessman Ray Crunk.

Also on the ballot will be a question of removing the sales tax from food.

When Frank Sinatra comes to the Aladdin theater for the performing arts on Wed., May 30, the benefit for the UNLV athletics program will also be a help to some local athletes who are attending the university in Las Vegas.

Basic high athletes who attend UNLV include Keith Harward Daryl Potter and Anthony Salazar. From Boulder City is Bill Metcalfe.

Tickets for the 8:30 p.m. show are available at the Gold Mine Lounge in Henderson, and the Nevada Drug Store in Boulder City.

Tickets are $15 and $25. There are 7,500 seats.

We like conservation stories and we have one of our own to tell.

One of our subscribers came in with a paper bag full of rubber bands. She had collected them over the months as the boys delivered her newspaper.

"Could we use them?" she asked. Of course we'll use them and we think it was a lovely thought on her part.

We attended the dedication of the O'Callaghan park Sat. and if you haven't had time to spend there, you should do it.

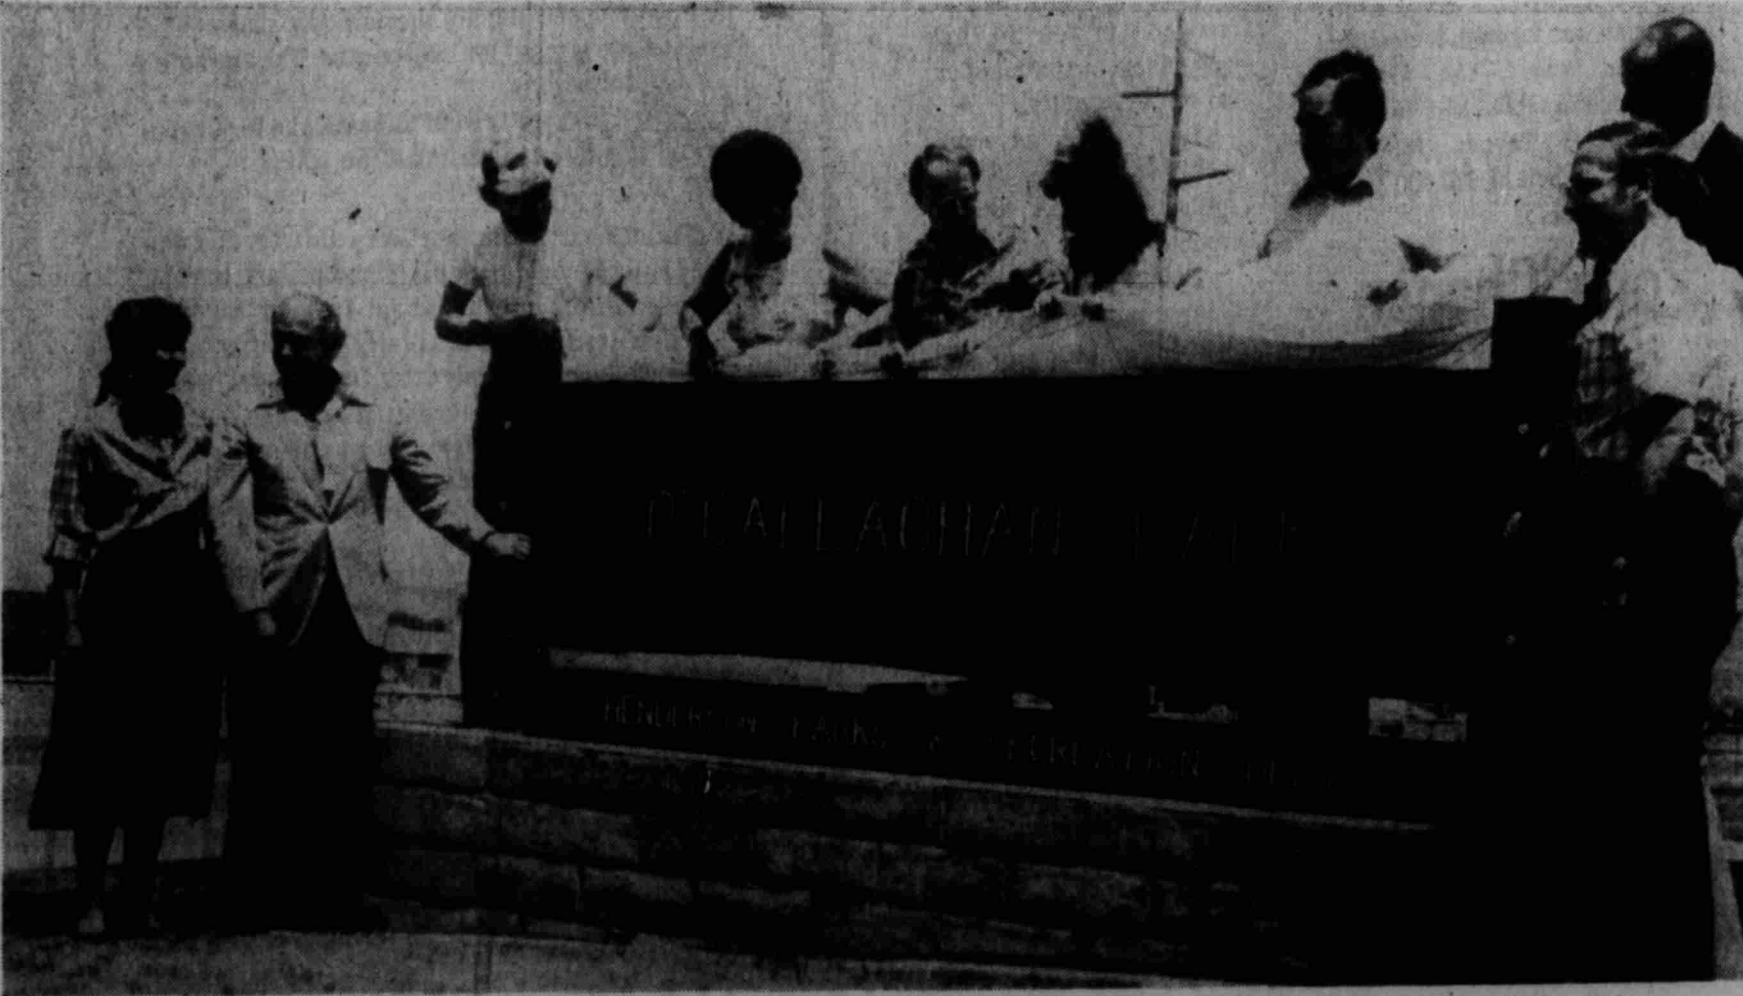

By the time the park is completed, it will compare with any in the state. I'm sure former Governor Mike is pleased with it. He and his wife attended the festivities. The park is not too far from where the O'Callaghans once owned a home.

The ceremonies at O'Callaghan Park were made more attractive with the presentation of colors by the Basic high school color guard from the Jr. ROTC marine corps. They are shown here as they presented the colors.

Jeffrey Optimistic About Community College

Assemblyman Jack Jeffrey fighting to get it back. Gov. Robert List had called for a community college in Henderson and finally $1.9 million was approved.

The college is just one of 10 money items the committee hasn't yet agreed upon and Jeffrey said it will be one of the last items to be decided before the budget will be adopted.

Assemblyman Jack Jeffrey said yesterday, when contacted in Carson City, that he was confident the Clark County Community College proposed for Henderson will go back into the budget.

The Assembly Capitol Improvements committee asked to have it removed from the budget but there are several of us, Jeffrey said, who are

Tourist Industry Will Survive The Gas Crisis

UNLV economics professor Thomas White told members and guests of the Association of Henderson Industrial Trades that he hoped the state legislature recess before they do anything about the gas shortage because "we'd have to live with it for two years."

On a more serious note, White predicted that the shortage would not destroy our tourist industry. "It's so bad we've got to find a solution," he said, "but we'll see this problem solved. If not by current leaders, then we'll have to get rid of them."

"Yes, it is a real shortage," White said, "and yes, it is a contrived shortage." He said the fault lay partly with the Carter Administration, the Dept. of Commerce, the oil companies, "and yes, there is gas hidden away."

"There is no possibility of getting the government out of the industry, and there are people in the industry who do not want to be nationalized."

White showed, through a series of charts he has compiled, that Nevada has a well-established growth trend. "We went through the 1974-75 recession as if it didn't exist and it was the worst in history. An upward trend that strong is not going to turn around." The growth was shown through gaming and room tax revenue and hotel occupancy statistics.

The former director of commerce under Gov.

O'Callaghan also advocated coordinated planning in Clark County or "we may blow it."

"We've all got sewer, water and power problems," he said, "but there's a base for a well established growth base." He said he did not advocate consolidation of the various entities but should have "more comprehensive valley planning than we've got."

"I don't recommend mandatory planning... but a voluntary cooperation and it all depends on good information and communication. Of all God's creatures, man is the communicating animal with the gift of tongues and he should tell the truth."

Council Considers Odd-Even Gas Purchases Here

The Henderson city council last night was expected to discuss a proposal by the county to approve an emergency ordinance which would call for the sale of odd-even license plate gasoline sales.

The ordinance, which was to have been acted on by the county commissioners May 15, was postponed when one of the members was not present.

An emergency ordinance calls for action by unanimous vote of the elected body.

The way the system would work would be that motor vehicles bearing license plates, Nevada or out-of-state, whose last number or letter, reading left to right, is 1, 3, 5, 7, 9, or A-M can obtain gasoline on each odd-numbered day of the month.

Plates whose last number or letter, reading left to right, is 0, 2, 4, 6, 8, or N-Z can obtain gasoline on each even-numbered day of the month.

On the 31st day of the month, vehicles can obtain gasoline regardless of license plate numbers or letters.

No more than 20 gallons of gasoline can be sold at any one time.

The ordinance also requires every service station to display a flag indicating the availability of gasoline.

Two Young Women Attacked

Two young Henderson women thwarted possible sexual attacks on them in two separate incidents last week, according to Henderson police. At approximately 11:35 p.m. on May 18, a 12-year-old girl was attacked between the Gordon McCaw school and Van Wagenen street. She and her two little friends were returning home from the 7-11 store where they had purchased a bottle of pop.

The suspect chased the kids and caught the 12-year-old. The suspect struck her several times in the chest. She then hit the suspect with the open bottle of pop and got away to call police. The suspect is described as a white male from 18-20 years old between five feet eight and 6 feet with light brown hair and blue jeans and a blue sport shirt wrapped around his head. The suspect used the shirt to cover the girl's face when he caught her. Police have no suspects at this time.

On May 19 at 3 a.m., a 19-year-old woman was attacked in the area of Valley View access Road and Cholla Street.

The girl, who had been at the 7-11 store was out jogging and she fought off her attacker with a sap. The woman was taken to the police department where she looked through photographs and identified Timothy Payne, 18, of Henderson. A bail of $10,000 was placed on Payne.

Zone Change Before Planners

A public hearing will be held Wed. by the city planning commission at 8 p.m. in the planning commission chambers, for a zone change from industrial to limited multiple residential district for nine acres off Sunset Road.

The request was made by Lewis Hildreth and Donald A. Tripole, both Las Vegas, for the change in section 5.

Public hearings will also be held for variances in minimum setbacks and requirements for Loren Grace Construction Co., Charles Nash, and Wayne Sillitoe.

In other actions the planning commission will consider a request from Brent Woolsey, for review of a minor subdivision for Whitmore Subdivision consisting of ten lots on five acres in section 24 off Eastern.

Local Girl Wins Journalism Scholarship

Two graduating seniors have been named co-recipients of the Las Vegas Press Club's annual Journalism Scholarship when the competition ended in a dead heat between applicants from Basic and Chaparral High Schools.

"This is the first time this has ever happened," Ms. Joy Hamann, chair of the LVPC scholarship committee, said. "Rather than slight either of these talented and deserving young women, the judges voted to divide the scholarship between them."

Receiving awards of $500 each, renewable for four years at the college or university of their choice, are Bronica Yolanda Clay, 18, of Chaparral, and Rhea Gifford, 17, of Basic.

"This year's applicants, representing nearly every high school in Clark County, were absolutely outstanding," Hamann said, "and the two recipients can take great pride in having been selected."

Clay plans to attend San Diego State University and Gifford will attend the University of Nevada, Las Vegas. Both plan to pursue careers in journalism, with Clay concentrating on broadcast and Gifford on photo journalism.

"They will be fine additions to our profession," Hamann said.

Claim Filed Against City

A claim against the city by Vivian Erickson of $85 was expected to be turned over to the city's insurance carrier by the city council at its regular meeting last night.

Mrs. Erickson, who lives at 521 Karen, said the damages occurred at 281 Basic Road.

She stated that the city sewer backed up into the bathroom causing sewer to flow into the bedroom, hallway, three closets, dining room and kitchen.

The backup soaked the carpets leaving them with a terrible odor, the claim stated.

Two years ago when I ran for the city council, I ran with one of my platforms being to get restrooms constructed for the Pittman park.

It has caused me some embarrassment during the years when someone asks what my platform was, to inform them that it was to get restrooms in Pittman.

However, blush as I will, I think the Pittman restrooms are going to get on. Last night the city council opened bids on the Pittman Johns. All is not lost.

My Favorite Picture

by Rae Von Dornum

The snowman, shown under construction, was six feet tall when completed. Terry measured the height by his own.

The snow came during the holiday season and stayed on the ground for two months. The snowman also lasted that long.

Terry and his family went to Salt Lake for Christmas and it snowed on them all the way.

We found it surprising that Terry didn't prefer one of the photos taken during his trip to Ireland in 1973. "There's nothing unusual about Ireland" he said, "snow in Henderson, that's really something." Terry was born in County Cork, Ireland and in 1973 he spent six weeks there visiting his relatives. He visited his brother and sister, four nephews and two nieces who still live there.

He says he is not much of a camera buff and didn't take any pictures.

We asked about the beauty of the country and he answered that it is full of flowers during June and July and during the spring and summer appears to be all full of green growing things when viewed from an airplane.

The climate is just about the same as Henderson, even including occasional snow in the winter. It gets a lot of rain which keeps everything green through September.

Mrs. Mary Larkin has traced Terry's ancestry to the 8th century and learned she would have been a queen had she been his wife in some earlier time as his ancestry includes some of the great kings of Ireland. The name Larkin has remained the same through the centuries, she said.

Mr. and Mrs. Larkin are both active in Senior Citizen affairs. Terry drives the senior citizens' bus and both enjoy local activities at the Senior Center.

Taylor School Sandbox -- The Most Popular Place In Town

Kindergarten students were delighted two weeks ago when they received a load of new sand for their sandbox. The students watched excitedly as the big yellow bulldozer dumped two scoops of new sand in the sandbox.

The next day almost every child spent some time in the sandbox, and many of the children spent all of their recess time digging in the new sand.

Mrs. Barnes and Mrs. Hinton stood at the classroom doors armed with brooms in an effort to keep sand out of the classrooms.

The new sand prompted discussion about where sand comes from, its uses, and the different sizes and kinds of sand.

The children also experienced writing their ABC's in the sand -- and as a culminating activity will make mud pies.

Public Invited To Library Building Presentation

Line your vegetable bin with paper towels to keep vegetables fresher longer.

A slide presentation of libraries in California and Arizona will be presented to the Board of Trustees of the Henderson Public Library, Friends of the Library, the library building committee and any interested people on Thursday, May 24 at 7 p.m. at the library.

Library director Tom Hollis, accompanied by Bob Anderl, assistant director of the UNLV library, recently returned from a seven day trip to these states visiting libraries of a comparable size to the one planned for Henderson. They took a number of pictures at the various libraries pointing out what should and what should not, in their opinions, be built into the new library.

"I want everyone who is interested in our new facility to come to the slide presentation, see what I liked and what I didn't like, and add any thoughts they might have," Hollis said.

Some of the libraries visited include ones in Glendale, Torrence, Huntington Beach, Alhambra, Chula Vista and Los Angeles County libraries in California. In Arizona they visited the Yuma, Scottsdale, Tempe Public Library and the Columbus branch in Tucson.

WATER AT THE PASS - For the second time, water reached the Railroad Pass. This time it flowed through a two inch plastic line laid from Yucca Street across the flats and around the bend to the casino property. Elmer Marshall (r) installed the line using a unique cable plow that dug, buried and covered the pipe in one swoop. Bob Verchota, owner of Railroad Pass Casino, was all smiles as the precious liquid gushed forth from the completed installation. All that remains is to extend the line to the twin tanks atop the adjacent hill.

Since its construction in 1931, water was trucked from Boulder City to the landmark funspot. In 1973, a successful well was drilled and for the first time 42 years, the Pass had water not hauled in. Unfortunately, the pump at the bottom of the 1,000 foot well shaft broke late last year and all efforts to pull it out of the casing proved futile. Water was again trucked to the Pass. Rather than face the prospect of additional wells to serve the expanding facility, Verchota requested and received an agreement from Boulder City to purchase water providing he bore the cost of installing the line.

It was done. On May 8, 1979, water again flowed. It was a happy day.

CANCER STICKS

Smoking is a filthy habit,
Killing thousands every day;
Cancer sticks we must admit,
Will definitely, surely, put you away!

If it is power that you need,
From cancer sticks to flee;
Just turn to Jesus, yes, indeed!
And from this habit, set you free!

Danger Signals: Sleeping Pills and Other Rx Drugs

Millions of people in the United States use mood-altering drugs under a doctor's care with beneficial effects, but these drugs—tranquilizers, stimulants, sleeping pills, and pain relievers—can be abused.

If you think you or someone you know has a problem with drugs, ask yourself these questions:

1. Are you defensive if anyone mentions your drug use?
2. Are you ever embarrassed or frightened by your behavior under the influence of drugs?
3. Have you gone to a new doctor because your old one would not prescribe the drug you wanted?
4. When under pressure or feeling anxious, do you automatically take a tranquilizer?
5. Do you take drugs more often or for reasons other than those indicated by your doctor?
6. Do you mix drugs and alcohol?
7. Do you regularly take drugs to help you sleep?
8. Do you have to take pills to wake up?

If you answered yes to any of these questions, you may have a drug problem. To avoid problems before they start, the National Institute on Drug Abuse says you should always be able to answer the following questions:

1. Do you know what drug you're taking and what it's supposed to do for you?
2. Do you know when to stop taking it?
3. Do you know what side effects or problems to watch for?
4. If you have questions about the drug you've been prescribed, have you talked with your doctor or considered a second opinion?

The Institute points out that a recent study shows sleeping pills only reduce the time needed to fall asleep by 10 to 20 minutes, only increase a night's sleep by 30 to 40 minutes, and continuous use of some sleeping pills actually worsens insomnia. The study also showed that flurazepam (Dalmane), the most prescribed sleeping drug, can affect driving performance the day after use.

Seven Gas-Saving Ideas.

1. Car Pool

Join with your fellow workers in driving to and from work. It saves gas and helps you meet new friends.

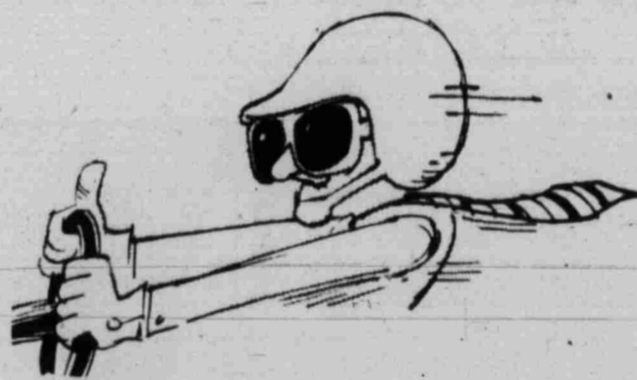

2. Take the Bus

Why drive a $5,000 car when you can get to the same place in a $50,000 bus?

3. Walk-don't ride

In planning short trips to the store or to the kids school, why not walk? It's good exercise.

4. Don't be a pedal pusher

Going fast and stopping fast is great for the Indianapolis 500, but it is no good for conserving gas.

5. Think of the Tourist's tank

It helps our weekend tourists if local residents buy gas during weekdays.

6. Stay in tune

If your car engine is tuned up and operating efficiently, it gets better mileage.

7. Keep Smiling Las Vegas

Regardless of who is responsible for the gas problem, Las Vegas can help solve it by cheerfully working together as a community to save gas.

During this gas shortage there are a few simple rules for Las Vegas residents which can help maintain our growing economy and keep our life-style up at the level we have all worked so hard to attain. It is as simple as this — if we all use less gas, Las Vegas will have more gas.

Loss Evens Levi Cubs Record

Saturday, May 19, on the evening of the O'Callaghan Park official opening, the Levi Strauss Cubs junior baseball team dropped a close contest to the Teamster Tigers, 4 to 2. This evens the Levi Cubs' record at 1 and 1 after they had defeated the Clark County Dodgers 7 to 1 in their season opener Tuesday at Sunset Park.

Some highlights of the O'Callaghan Park opening game were fine hitting by outfielder Nicky Sanchez who had two singles and one RBI for the evening. Cub catcher Jim Aylward of Boulder City had a long double and one RBI, as center fielder, Joe Moyes also contributed a double in the losing cause. Shortstop Anson Jones hammered a triple over the right fielder's head to start the sixth inning rally and scored on Aylward's double. Aylward then scored easily on Sanchez's second single of the evening. The Levi Cubs' hitting attack was rounded out by Jeff Barber's third inning single.

Coaches indicated that the big right hander Kurt Wolven pitched a good ball game for his first outing of the season. Wolven only walked two batters, gave up three singles, and struck out four Tigers while pitching the full seven innings in the losing cause. Fine fielding performances were turned in by infielders Randy Marquez and Scott Haney, while Richard Shaw and Joe Moyes added defensive performances from the outfield.

The Levi Strauss Cubs play their next game against the Las Vegas Cubs contingent at Sunset Park, Tuesday, May 22 at 8:30 p.m. They then play again against the Apollos, Thursday, May 24 on the same field at the same time.

There are fifteen Henderson 13 and 14 year olds and one Boulder City player on the 16 player team in the Clark County Junior Baseball League, Sponsored by the Levi Strauss and Company Community Involvement Team.

Youth Baseball Arrives

The stage is set, the players ready - uniforms displaying this year's names freshly affixed, new hats for everyone, brand new baseballs to be rubbed up - and we're off and running into a new season of youth baseball both here and in Boulder.

As in the junior high football program in the fall the teams from Henderson and Boulder are able to replay that long standing tradition which always seems to add extra flavor and competition to contests.

Three games during last week's season opening action saw Boulder edge by Henderson to take two one run decisions and a two run advantage.

In a low scoring affair between the hometown Cubs and Boulders Elks sponsored team the Cubs out hit the Boulder team six to three - singles going to Billy McKee, James Kistler, Mike Sandoval, Frank Baca, and Kelly Roundy who also had the Cubs only extra base hit with a double - but Boulder made their hits count adding runs in the sixth and seventh innings to tie the Cubs 2-2 at the end of six and then take it by one 3-2 in the last stanza. Clark and Sandoval combined for eleven strikeouts for the Cubs in the game.

The Wolves did, however, score well placing in four events, being led by Gail Dricoll Basic's premier distancer who finished first in both the 880 and mile run in last week's Zone finals.

Gail took dual third places in these two events at the state competition, trimming seven seconds off her Zone time in the mile to clock a 5:25.7 while taking her third in the 880 at 2:26.4.

In boy's competition Lennie Green scored the only Basic points with his twenty - two foot two and one quarter inch long jump which took third place. This was a little over three inches better than his Southern Zone first place jump of twenty - one eleven, but short of the twenty - three five mark set by Henry Thorns of Clark who took first place in this event.

The balance of Basic's scoring came from their girl's medley relay which moved a notch back from their Zone finish in third to take fourth at State in a time of 1:54.8 though they displaced a second from their Zone time.

pitching to put together the 8-7 win.

In the confrontation Thursday night between the Yankees and Boulder Auto Parts the Boulder nine took a 2-0 first inning lead which they never relinquished, adding three more runs in the second - enough to fend off the Yankees' one run in the second and two in the sixth.

Henderson was actually quite lucky in collecting two runs, the one in the second and one of the two in the sixth off barks by Boulder's pitcher Bruce Clarke as on both occasions runners were at third when the infraction occurred - Ray Crunk in second reaching first on a single and then being batted over by Wilson and in the sixth Haylor who walked on and then stole two successive bases. Clark took care of much of the rest of Yankees firepower though as he registered ten strikeouts before giving over to his relief Pat Gustafson who struck out the side in the seventh to put down Henderson's hopes.

The Yankees went through three pitchers before settling on Crunk in the third. Ray held Boulder scoreless the rest of the game registering seven strikeouts, only one walk, and no hits while helping his own cause in driving in the Yankees third run as he singled in Joe Benoit of second base with a long hit to right field. This was all the scoring the team could muster though as Boulder went on to take the decision 5-3.

Swimming Pools Open

Memorial Day Weekend

The Henderson Parks and Recreation Department will be opening the BMI swimming pool over Memorial Day Weekend for your swimming pleasure. The pool will be open Saturday, May 26; Sunday, May 27; and Monday, May 28 from 12:00 noon to 6:00 p.m. The indoor pool at Basic High will also be open at these times. The pools will remain open on the weekends until school's out then our summer hours will begin.

The department is now in the process of making up summer swim lesson schedules and planning other special swim events. The summer schedules will be available June 1 at any of the recreation facilities. If you have any questions call the Recreation Department at 565-8921 ext. 32 or the Lorin Williams Swimming Pool at 565-0319.

Lunch Time Jazz this Friday

Come and bring your lunch and listen to good music provided by the Las Vegas Jazz Society, Friday afternoon, May 25th. The Henderson Parks and Recreation Department is hosting a special noon jazz performance on the lawn of the Civic Center Plaza.

Picnic tables and chairs will be available or if you prefer bring a blanket and stretch out on the grass under the old shade trees.

The exciting sounds of Garvin Bushell and his six member ensemble will fill the air with Dixieland jazz. They will be playing tunes which originated from the roots of jazz through and including today's sound.

This performance is free to the public and all are welcome. Contact the Henderson Parks and Recreation Department for further information concerning this and other special programs upcoming.

This program will be highlighted by Bushell's fascinating career during which he has performed with such notables as Maxine Smith in 1920, the first female blues singer; the great Ethel Waters & Ms. Besie Smith.

Bushell and his members just recently returned from a world tour with Mr. Sam Wooding. For a gentleman who is 79 years young and has a career that has expanded nearly 65 years, a great amount of vitality and excitement is expressed. Perhaps this is the cause for his young appearance. Be sure you hear this tremendous entertainer in person for your soul will be richer for it.

Remember May 25, 12:00 noon at the Civic Center Plaza in Henderson. Phone 565-8921 ext. 34 for more information.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mrs. Kesterson,

Thank you so much for printing the stories written by the students prior to Mothers' Day. You have no idea how much your effort improved the quality of essays written since. The children realize how important writing skills truly are. I was also delighted to see articles written by other schools.

Teachers can offer praise and parents can say well done, but when children actually see their work in print they know a feeling of pride far beyond what parents or teachers can offer. Again thank you. I'll drop by early next week and get the stories if you kept them, and if not we always have the Home News copy for posterity.

Sincerely,
Elizabeth Muzingo

Water Release From Lake Mead Increased

The water level in Lake Mead is slowly dropping as larger amounts of water are released through the generating system at Hoover Dam.

The increased volume of water in the daily release schedule began last week following the Interior Department's approval for the request.

Water in the lake had reached a near record high due to the heavy rainfalls and spring runoff over the past few years. The decreased demand for water downstream from Hoover Dam due to the rainfall regulated the decision to hold the water for future use. Thus the electrical generating output from the dam was also reduced as less water flowed through the turbines.

With the latest Interior Department approval, an additional 1,100 cubic feet per second of flow is being added to regular demand releases. This week, daily releases of 18,200 cfs are scheduled.

Eugene Hinds, Acting Regional Director for Reclamation's Lower Colorado Region, has stated that about 700,000 acre feet of Lake Mead water will be released by September 30, 1979. This is expected to restore river water elevations to their normal seasonal levels.

FIGHT THE BATTLE

Insecurity in the world we find,
Self-doubts make us fail;
Green and jealousy of every kind,
And fears and despair assail.
Pain and heartache do frustrate,
Battles tough we must fight,
Frantic pursuits; soul-leprosy wait
Confusion and desperation delight;
Emptiness and loneliness to drugs lead,
And no one seems to care...
But fight the battle to succeed,
And Jesus will meet you there.
Yes, only the power of God can win,
For everyone needs redemption;
He can deliver from every sin,
"Forgiveness", if his name you mention!

Tom Riggs Retires

Thomas A. Riggs, Truck Driver at Hoover Dam, retired from Government service April 9, 1979, after completing 18 years of service. Two and a half years of service were with the U. S. Navy and the rest with the Bureau of Reclamation at Hoover Dam.

Tom was born and reared in Cushing, Oklahoma. He has one brother who still lives there. During World War II, Tom joined the U.S. Navy. He served on a mine sweeper in the Amphibian Corps in the South Pacific. After his discharge he went to Topeka, Kansas where he was manager of a drive-in restaurant. His were married in 1952. After an unusually cold winter in Topeka, Tom and Pat decided to look for a warmer climate. They thought they would try San Diego, California. On their way west, they stopped in Boulder City to visit Pat's sister, Mrs. Vern Oliver. Pat fell in love with Boulder, but not Tom; this climate was too hot for him, so the Riggs moved on to San Diego. After a short stay, Tom and Pat come back to Boulder City where they made their home.

Tom found work at Hoover Dam helping with the last of the construction on the units in the powerhouse. In 1956 he joined the guard force at the Dam. He left in 1960 and returned in 1969. In 1971 he was promoted to truck driver, which is the position he held when he retired.

Tom's wife, Pat, works in Boulder City at Harry's Cafe. Two of their three children, Pat and Tony, are still in school in Boulder. Tom, the eldest son, graduated from Boulder City High School and is now a car salesman in Las Vegas.

Area Reaction Differs

The City

The current gasoline shortage continues to be felt in Boulder City but to a much lesser degree than in surrounding cities.

Lines are still in evidence at stations but they are much shorter than lives encountered in the Las Vegas area. During the week local lines have dwindled to almost "no wait" during the middle of the day.

Some local stations are opening early for a few hours and then closing for the remainder of the day. Their objective is to serve the Boulder City commuter. Others open later in the day to serve both locals and tourists.

Several stations are limiting purchases in an effort to stretch supplies through the end of the month.

As a municipality, Boulder City is not yet affected by the current gasoline shortage.

Public Works Director John Names told the NEWS that the city purchases its gasoline and diesel fuel through the state, as do the other entities.

"We are taking measures to conserve where possible," Names stated...noting that many of the city's rolling stock is made up of emergency vehicles on which restrictions are difficult to impose.

The city's current allocation is 52,200 gallons of gasoline. To date, the city has never come close to exceeding this amount. The "average" purchases in 1978 ran between 3,300 and 4,000 gallons a month...with months (not included in this average) where no fuel was purchased.

Although some of the neighboring cities have received word that their allocations are being reduced, Boulder City has received no such word to date.

The Marinas

Gasoline is available at the Lake Mead Resort Marina, according to Resort Manager Richard Ham.

"We've had no problem since the beginning of the month," he said. "Through a tremendous amount of legwork, we've managed to keep sources of supply. We are limiting gas to one gallon per foot of boat...20 gallons for a 20 footer, etc...to insure that every boater can obtain fuel. We fully expect to have gas through the end of the month."

The other two Playmate Resorts at Temple Bar and Echo Bay are also in good shape concerning their gas supplies.

The Las Vegas Boat Harbor reports they have gas and that there is no limiting of purchases at the present time.

Hoover Dam, Lake Mead

Thus far, the gas crisis has had limited impact on visitors to Hoover Dam and the Lake Mead National-Recreation Area, according to officials of both facilities.

Visitor attendance at Hoover Dam has dropped slightly from May of 1978. Current figures indicate volume is down by around 2,000 persons in the first 14 days of May.

National Park Service reports that it is still too early to clearly see any impact because of the fuel situation. Visitors to the campgrounds seem to be staying a bit longer, according to N.P.S. officials. Instead of the two day Saturday and Sunday outing, more and more visitors are now arriving on Friday and leaving on Monday.

Attendance at Boulder Beach is up. The significant increase in the number of people using this facility may indicate that its popularity is due to its proximity to main tourist routes. More persons may be electing to use this facility rather than journeying into the back country as done previously.

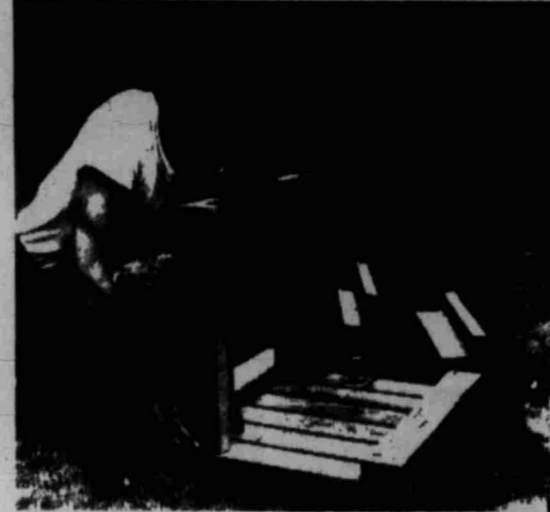

In 1659 the Massachusetts Puritans fined anyone caught feasting or loafing on Christmas Day five shillings.

OUTDOOR WOOD

Hints For Homeowners On Planning And Building

DRESS UP YOUR PATIO

You can build a sturdy outdoor table for two that will weather the elements without putting your budget under a cloud if you do the job yourself and start with a simple frame.

Only 19-1/2" high and two feet square, this little table provides a convenient surface for reading, eating or just propping up your feet without being too heavy or cumbersome if your build is of 2 x 4 sections. It can withstand years of hard usage and exposure to the elements, becoming what you might think of as a long-term home improvement rather than mere patio furniture.

You should construct it of Wolmanized® pressure-treated lumber or Outdoor® wood. They're produced by Koppers Company and its licensees and are available through most leading building material outlets. The finished table will require no paint, stain, or varnish. Wolmanized lumber is pressure-treated with Wolman® CCA wood preservative chemicals to provide resistance against wood-destroying insects and decay-producing fungi. You can leave the table in the backyard year-round without worrying about its deteriorating.

mer and sandpaper are needed for construction, but an electric power saw and drill will simplify your job.

Begin by cutting two eight-foot-long 2 x 4s into eight sections 23-3/4" long. Place four of these on a level surface to make a square frame of two horizontal sections overlapping two vertical segments at 90° angles.

Legs can be made by cutting a 12-foot 2 x 4 board into sections 17-3/4" long. Place one board on its side and lay a second flush along its top edge to form an "L" shape. Fasten it with four evenly spaced nails.

For more detailed information on these and other projects using Wolmanized lumber, call, toll free, 800-245-2708. In Pennsylvania, call collect 412-227-2441. In Canada call 416-826-9648.

NO GAS IN MOTEL ROOMS

A note of caution to visitors. Do not bring storage cans of gasoline into your motel rooms during your stay here.

State and local laws prohibit the storage of more than one gallon of gasoline inside any place of human habitation.

A spark from a defective light switch may be enough to explode escaping fumes. Gasoline should be stored only in approved metal containers and should not be stored in any closed area.

H. Stuart Knight, Director, United States Secret Service was the principal speaker.

The 248 officers receiving diplomas were represented by the elected class spokesman, Inspector Mervyn G. Markell, Liaison Officer of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

The graduation ceremony concluded 11 weeks of executive-level training for the officers who represented 49 states, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam, and six foreign countries. In addition, the United States Army, Air Force, Marine Corps, and six federal law enforcement agencies were represented by officers in the graduating class.

A total of 12,649 officers have been graduated from the FBI National Academy since it was begun on July 7, 1934. Of this number, 8,274 are still active in law enforcement work. Many have gone on to assume executive-level positions within their departments. One out of every six FBI National Academy graduates occupies the top executive position in his or her agency.

Sgt. Robert T. Lowrie

The FBI National Academy curriculum is designed to meet the needs of contemporary law enforcement in such areas as police management, recent court decisions, urban police problems, and behavioral sciences.

The FBI, through its modern facilities that opened in June, 1972, invites approximately 1,000 law enforcement officers each year to participate in the FBI National Academy. New FBI Agents and Veteran Agents, as well as specialized law enforcement groups, also utilize the training complex.

The Boulder City Police Department now contains three Academy graduates. In addition to Sergeant Lowrie, Police Chief Wayne Bennett and Captain Howard Tindall have successfully passed the rigid requirements of the Academy and graduated in earlier classes.

NEWSWORTHY TRENDS

CARPETING: THE TIME IS RIGHT

The prices of food, housing, energy—and almost everything else—have just about hit the ceiling in the past ten years. But the good news is that one major home expense—carpet—has only modestly increased.

As a result of significant changes in the carpet industry in the past 20 years, many experts point out that the cost of carpet is lower, and its quality higher, than ever before. This is due to a number of factors.

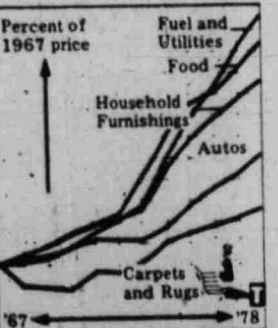

First, because of the industry's change from weaving to tufting, efficiencies of up to 40 percent have been achieved, and the savings have been passed on to the consumer.

There have also been some important improvements in fibers and manufacturing. The new saxony type of carpeting, for instance, has a tighter twist, and its yarn has more integrity. Its fibers have been developed with either a bright luster that results in clearer colors or a dull luster that resembles the finest wool.

These new carpets are a good buy for the consumer for another reason as well.

The finer yarns and greater twist levels mean there's less chance for dirt to get embedded in the fiber. All carpets made by Bigelow-Sanford have been classified for performance, and many use a type of yarn that appreciably reduces static.

Roll out the carpet: the best buys for a long time may be now!

If you are planning to purchase carpeting eventually, it might be wise to buy now. Experts in the fiber industries anticipate that the increasing cost—and perhaps scarcity—of oil will have an important effect on the price of fiber. Thus, they suspect, the current low prices may be subject to some very rugged increases!

The Grapevine

by Albert B. Cribari

FACTS ABOUT WINES

Making White Wines

Did you know that nearly all red grapes have white juice? So, the primary difference between making white dinner wines and red dinner wines is that most white wines are fermented from the juice alone. You see, the color is all in the coating under the skin, so to make white wine, the juice is drawn off the grapes as soon as they have been crushed.

This is why winemakers can make white wine out of red (known in the industry as black) grapes. But, we have to be very careful not to break or bruise the skin too much, to make sure that the color does not escape.

Americans have come to prefer a very light white wine, rather than the golden-amber colored wines of a generation ago. Not only does the color lay in the coating under the skin, but there are also many of the heavier flavors of the grape in the skin. At Cribari, we blend the light white wines you have come to enjoy, like our VINO Bianco and Mountain Chablis.

Because many of these heavy flavors are removed with the skins, light white wines are not only light in color but in flavor and body, too.

Of all the wine grapes in common usage today, only the Alicante Bouchet has a colored juice and cannot be used in making white wines.

A most interesting fact is that the French make their great white Champagne from the noble, but VERY red grape - the Pinot Noir.

If you have any questions about white wine, please write me at B. Cribari & sons, Suite 613, 500 Sansome Street, San Francisco, California 94111.

Some Early American settlers lived on a diet of mostly lobster and fish. Many lobsters weighed 25 pounds and were so abundant the smallest child could catch them.

SAFETY SENSE

Heading Off Collisions

Many of the traffic accidents that cause more than 1,800,000 disabling injuries each year result from a lack of awareness between drivers of large and small vehicles.

CARS TEND TO CROWD- even run right over - the smaller vehicle on today's busy streets and highways.

For example, drivers often don't even know a motorcycle is on the road. Why? Because drivers are not trained to be on the look-out for motorcycles. They also do not know how to mix with motorcycles in traffic.

Motorcycle registrations in the United States have increased 150 percent since 1968; over five million are now registered. Statistics compiled by the Motorcycle Safety Foundation show that for every 10,000 registered motorcycles, 333 are likely to be involved in an accident.

What can the motorist do to help reduce this tragic toll? He can heed these hints from the Motorcycle Safety Foundation:

1. Be especially cautious at intersections - even on quiet streets - where 40 percent of motorcycle accidents involving another vehicle occur. Motorists, not cyclists, are at fault almost 70 percent of the time.
2. Yield the right-of-way to motorcyclists. The left turn poses the most substantial risk.
3. Respect the vehicle space of a motorcycle and its position in traffic: avoid crowding or passing a motorcycle in the same lane, and when you do pass, allow as much space for a motorcycle as for another car.

Luscious Dinner For Two

As every bride quickly learns, chops make a just-right meal for two, with no left-over problems. Try this recipe from The Lipton Kitchens for pork chops topped with a stuffing made with bread crumbs, celery, apple and cranberry sauce, all deliciously seasoned with instant onion soup mix. The gravy, also perfectly seasoned with instant onion soup mix, is quick and easy. This dish is sure to be a favorite with both of you.

APPLE'N ONION PORK CHOPS

- 1 apple, cored
- 1 tablespoon cooking oil
- 2 pork chops, 3/4-inch thick
- 1/3 cup chopped celery
- 3/4 cup soft bread crumbs
- 2 envelopes Lipton Onion Cup-a-Soup
- 1/2 cup jellied cranberry sauce
- 1 teaspoon flour
- 3/4 cup boiling water

Preheat oven to 350°.
Cut 2 rings (1/2-inch thick) from apple; finely chop remainder.

In medium skillet, heat oil and brown chops; remove. Add celery and chopped apple and cook until celery is tender; stir in bread crumbs, 1 envelope Lipton Onion Cup-a-Soup, and 1/4 cup cranberry sauce. Place chops in 8-inch baking dish; top each chop with half stuffing mixture and apple ring.

In small bowl, combine remaining envelope Lipton Onion Cup-a-Soup and cranberry sauce, flour, and water; pour over chops. Bake 1 hour or until chops are done, basting occasionally. Makes 2 servings.

The first American-made item to be exported to Europe was a glass bottle manufactured at a glassworks near Jamestown in 1608.

Seven Complexion Tips For Summertime Beauty

Treat yourself to beautiful skin this summer! Here are seven simple, no fuss complexion tips to keep your skin soft, smooth and looking "younger-than-springtime."

1. Eat healthy fresh fruits and vegetables. Many of the season's fruits and vegetables are abundant in vitamin "A," the skin vitamin. Cantaloupes, carrots, lettuce and a wide array of low-calorie green and yellow fruits and vegetables will benefit your waistline as well as your complexion.
2. Cleanse your face twice a day. Clean skin is more important than usual during warmer weather. Skin oils can combine with dirt and perspiration to clog pores and lead to flare-ups. Avoid soaps. Regular soaps can "strip" your skin of its built-in moisture protection system and can leave your complexion tight and dry.
3. Instead, wash with a mild, effective cleanser like Dove Beauty Bar that protects the skin's natural moisture barrier. Extensive research studies have proven that washing with soap makes skin lose up to twice as much moisture as washing with Dove. Dove's mild cleansing formula with one-quarter moisturizing cream will leave your skin moist and smooth all summer long!
4. Exercise in the fresh air. Staying in shape increases circulation to your skin and leaves your complexion with a healthy glow. A brisk walk in the warm air will help keep your body fit and your complexion radiant.
5. Follow all exercise with a gentle facial cleansing. Use a mild cleanser, such as Dove, to remove dirt and perspiration. Rinse thoroughly with plenty of tepid water.
6. Get plenty of sleep. Don't underestimate the importance of sleep in your beauty routine. It gives your body and skin time to re-energize. Lack of adequate sleep will deplete your skin of its natural radiance and encourage dark circles under eyes.
7. Don't rush a summer suntan with a reflector. It can intensify the sun's rays and burn delicate, complexions. Be sensible about time spent in the sun. A tan can add healthy color to your complexion but too much sun can dry and age your skin prematurely.

"Sunday is the golden clasp that binds together the volume of the weeks." Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

NEWS OF HEALTH

Danger Signals: Sleeping Pills and Other Rx Drugs

Millions of people in the United States use mood-altering drugs under a doctor's care with beneficial effects, but these drugs - tranquilizers, stimulants, sleeping pills, and pain relievers - can be abused.

If you think you or someone you know has a problem with drugs, ask yourself these questions:

1. Are you defensive if anyone mentions your drug use?
2. Are you ever embarrassed or frightened by your behavior under the influence of drugs?
3. Have you gone to a new doctor because your old one would not prescribe the drug you wanted?
4. When under pressure or feeling anxious, do you automatically take a tranquilizer?
5. Do you take drugs more often or for reasons other than those indicated by your doctor?
6. Do you mix drugs and alcohol?
7. Do you regularly take drugs to help you sleep?
8. Do you have to take pills to wake up?

If you answered yes to any of these questions, you may have a drug problem. To avoid problems before they start, the National Institute on Drug Abuse says

you should always be able to answer the following questions:

1. Do you know what drug you're taking and what it's supposed to do for you?
2. Do you know when to stop taking it?
3. Do you know what side effects or problems to watch for?
4. If you have questions about the drug you've been prescribed, have you talked with your doctor or considered a second opinion?

The Institute points out that a recent study shows sleeping pills only reduce the time needed to fall asleep by 10 to 20 minutes, only increase a night's sleep by 30 to 40 minutes, and continuous use of some sleeping pills actually worsens insomnia. The study also showed that flurazepam (Dalmane), the most prescribed sleeping drug, can affect driving performance the day after use.

Potholes Take A Shocking Toll

An estimated 93 million pot holes will spot the nation's highways this year making them look more like mine fields than roads, and costing state and local government hundreds of millions of dollars to repair them.

Shocking? That's nothing compared to the experience of driving into a few of these earth-craters which lurk around corners or lie concealed in puddles. When you feel that crushing jolt, think what it's doing to your car or truck, particularly tires, shock absorbers, and steering linkage.

While road crews around the U.S. are checking and filling pot holes this spring, you should have your car's underside inspected for wear and tear. Monroe shock absorber engineers point out that pot holes can damage shock absorbers and tires, knock front wheels out of alignment, and even bend wheel rims.

If shocks are damaged or have broken mountings, they can't do the job they were designed to do - provide a controlled, comfortable ride. Misaligned wheels mean excessive tire wear, and tires damaged as a result of pot holes often can't be repaired. If you hit a pot hole hard enough to bend a wheel, you'll not only need a new wheel, you probably also need a new tire.

As you can see, the pro-liferation of spring pot holes can be expensive to you not only as a taxpayer, but as a car owner. So be alert to avoid them and have your service station or mechanic put your car up on a hoist and give it a thorough inspection. It could save you money in the long run.
