

INQUIRING PHOTOGRAPHER

The inquiring photographer traveled through Section 19 last Saturday asking the following question.

Question...

A developer is talking about constructing condominiums and duplexes in Section 19, what are your feelings on those plans?

By Lois J. Cherry

Richard Baldwin -- "Why not? They're cheaper than single family homes. People have to live somewhere."

John Christensen--"I don't think it's a good idea. Our area will go downhill fast enough with the freeway coming through."

Ray Hayden--"It would depend on the type of construction and how well planned the homes are. It wouldn't bother me as much as it would those with custom homes."

Leon Moore--"I wouldn't have any objections at all."

Eric Mulligan--"No. I'd like to see the area stay the way it is."

MX To Contribute

Expect 80,000 People Here By 1994

THE BOTTOM LINE

By Loma Kesterson

The bid opening on the Moser Street water and street project proved to have a wide range between the low bid and the high bid.

Moser Street is located in the Pittman area of the City. The low bid was $26,757; the next lowest bid was $68,117.44, and the highest bid was $94,477.69.

"We're getting a lot of that these days," City Manager Bob Campbell said. "When work is slow there seems to be a big disparity between the bids."

For those who read not long ago that the Rainbow Club in Henderson was for sale...

Not so, says Art Liebert, owner. Art said he decided to keep his property here.

City Manager and Mrs. Bob Campbell returned home Sunday from Puerto Vallarta, Mexico, where they spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Morry Zenoff.

Campbell said they enjoyed the trip, the area was beautiful, but he had to get back to work.

Arnell Miller, son of Dr. and Mrs. Harold Miller, will leave in March for Ecuador for a two year mission for the LDS Church.

Ida Belle Riggins, Henderson's first lady councilman, has moved back to Henderson with her husband, Elmer.

They moved to Wickenburg, Ariz. when they left here several years ago. About a year ago they moved to Boulder City, and now they are home where they belong. We welcome them back.

If you are a golf player, the annual Mardi Gras golf tournament will be held at the Black Mountain golf course on Feb. 22 at noon with a shotgun start.

Bottom Line

The impact of the MX missile system on Henderson would be impossible to predict at this time, according to two local experts, but it almost assures the city will reach its predicted population of 80,000 by 1994.

Ken Knight, city community development director, and Gary Johnson, director of the Chamber of Commerce and the city's representative on the MX project, each said this week that the city must be prepared for whatever impact there may be.

Knight said that the impact statement released by the Air Force is "too general and leaves one very much in the dark. We need much more specifics."

However, Knight said whatever impact the system has over and above what the city contemplates in the future on its own, must be prepared for.

"Assuming the MX does not affect us we still have to have a framework of policies with a comprehensive plan and land use planning," Knight said.

Knight and Johnson attended hearings of the MX oversight committee Monday and said that money has been earmarked for an impact study on the Las Vegas Valley. The study is expected to cost from $150,000 to $200,000.

The study will analyze the economic, environmental, social and physical effects the MX will have on the Las Vegas valley area including Henderson. The study is expected to be completed by next September.

Impact Two-Fold Johnson said he feels the impact of the MX will be two-fold. First, many of the people will decide to live in Henderson, and there should be some industrial fall-out to Henderson for industries not associated with the MX but supportive of them.

"We must plan our services accordingly," Johnson said. "We need to plan the mechanism needed to bring our services up to meet the challenge."

City master planning will be "terribly, terribly important," Johnson said. "Especially for capital improvements." He said the master planning will be like "crystal balling" the growth expected. Johnson said present predictions are that the impact of the MX system on Henderson would be .02 percent. However, he said studies show that Mercury has an impact of 3.02 percent on Henderson, indicating that the impact of the MX system could be much greater than anticipated.

He said Henderson is in an ideal situation for the MX growth since houses are being constructed here. "We're building out here and people could make the move." He also said Henderson has a limited skill labor market, which would be advantageous.

At any rate, the city hopes to be prepared for any impact on the city made by the MX system.

Over $2 Million In Building In January

Building for January in Henderson surged ahead over that of December to start the new year, according to Claude Lewis, superintendent of building and safety.

The total for January was $2,421,295, as compared to $1,195,300 for December of last year.

The total included 29 new homes valued at $1,520,446. There were 14 new apartments and duplexes valued at $405,954; 770 residential alterations and additions valued at $100,000; and 68 permits issued for fences and walls valued at $230,000.

There were 1,064 inspections made on buildings only with a total of 2,016 inspections made. There were inspections made in the amount of 314 electrical; 300 plumbing and 42 swimming pools.

Lewis said despite national conditions, Henderson has done well in the building department.

County Commissioner Bob Broadbent's Appointment--Still Not Official

Clark County Commissioner Bob Broadbent, who has been chosen Commissioner of Water and Power Resources Services in the Reagan Administration, said this week he still has not received official confirmation of the appointment.

Broadbent, who is in town this week said he will go to Washington next week.

Broadbent, 54, will earn about $53,000 directing the prominent Department of the Interior agency that was known as the Bureau of Reclamation until it was renamed during the Carter Administration.

"I have mixed feelings about the appointment," Broadbent said. "Sue and I have never lived any place but Boulder City."

Broadbent was elected to a fourth term on the County Commission in November and has been involved in Southern Nevada politics for more than 20 years. He represents District A, which includes Henderson, Boulder City and outlying communities.

He served three terms on the Boulder City Council and was elected Mayor of that city two times.

It will be up to Governor Robert List to name a successor to fill Broadbent's seat on the County Commission.

Lillian Collins, Outstanding Civic Leader, Dies

Lillian Marie Collins, a long-time realtor in Boulder City and an outstanding civic leader, died February 8 in Henderson following a lengthy illness.

A resident of the area since 1942, Mrs. Collins was born in Newark, New Jersey and was the owner of Collins Realty in Boulder City until 1974. She had most recently lived in Henderson.

Mrs. Collins was a charter member and past president of the Boulder City Business and Professional Women, a past president of Clark County Insurance Women, a member of Soroptimist International, Altrusa, Boulder City Women's Club, past president of the Does, secretary and manager of the Boulder City Chamber of Commerce from 1950 to 1952, advisor to women's activities for the Nevada March of Dimes, and was a delegate to the Republican National Convention in 1956.

Mrs. Collins is survived by her husband, A. Ray Collins of Henderson; a daughter, Diana Adams of Boulder City; one son, Kenneth H. Taylor of Ridgecrest, California; granddaughters, Leslie Adams of Boulder City, Anne Laughran of Tustin, Ca., and Maureen Colvin of Riverside, Ca., a grandson, Kenneth V. Taylor of San Clemente, Ca.; and one great-granddaughter, Vanessa Colvin of Riverside, California.

A memorial service will be conducted February 11 at 11 a.m. at Palm Chapel with the Rev. Herbert Ward of St. Christopher's Episcopal Church in Boulder City officiating.

In lieu of flowers, the family has requested that donations may be made to St. Jude's Ranch for Children in Boulder City.

YOUR VIEW Band Needs Help

Dear Editor,
As a parent of one of the students in the Basic High Silver Wolf Band, I have discussed with my son the band's need to raise donations for the concert tour to Hawaii. They have several concerts and performances planned. The Silver Wolf Band was number one in Nevada last year. They went to Calif. to compete in the regional which included Calif. and other western states. I feel that the people in Henderson would want to help if they knew the band needed it. Please publish this letter and if any one can help in any way, I'm sure there will be a happy group of young people in whom we all should be very proud. For further information contact Mr. Brent Cecil at Basic High School.

Robber Gets $

The Pizza Hut on U.S. 93 was the victim of an armed robbery Sunday and police say the same method was used in holding up other Pizza Huts in the Clark County area.

According to the report, three employees were leaving the premises via the rear door when they were confronted by a white male wearing a green ski mask, black leather coat and dark blue jeans.

He ordered the trio to lie face down on the storeroom floor and then pulled the phone from the wall.

He demanded to know where the money drop was located and the employees denied there was a money drop but pointed to a bank bag which was laying on the counter. He took $350 in cash from the bag, leaving the checks, then he fled the scene.

Girl Injured In Highway Accident

A 16-year-old girl was taken to St. Rose de Lima Hospital following a two-car accident Friday on U.S. 93 near Barrett.

Police say Kay Lewey of Las Vegas was standing in front of a car which was stalled in the outer travel lane on Hwy 93.

She was accompanied by the driver, Paula Jean Collins-worth of Las Vegas.

The vehicle was struck by one driven by David Gray Terrace, 29, of 27 Brown Street.

Police issued a citation to Terrace for failure to pay full time and attention to driving.

There were no injuries reported in a two car accident on U.S. 93 and Sunset.

The driver of one vehicle was identified as Christie Dunkel, 22, of 1571 Bride and the second driver was identified as Scott Raymond Rap, 22, of Tucson, Arizona.

Both cars were northbound on the highway when the accident occurred.

Not being a golfer, if I was involved I would get there on time - a shotgun start?

I talked to Sue Broadbent about moving and you can imagine her dilemma. "I've saved everything from the childrens' kindergarten on up. It will be hard to sort it out," she said. Washington, D.C. is quite a ways away to haul the papers from kindergarten.

Silly question - Teacher: "George you missed school yesterday didn't you?" George: "Not a bit."

Sawyer to head 1981 Dinner Campaign

Grant Sawyer, former governor and senior partner in the law firm of Lionel Sawyer & Collins, was chosen to be state dinner chairman for the 1980-1981 Testimonial Dinner - Dances in Reno and Las Vegas, benefiting the American Lung Association of Nevada. The dinner in Las Vegas is set for Friday, March 6, 1981, at Caesars Palace.

This year's dinner will honor Senator Howard and Dorothy Cannon for their outstanding efforts and contributions to civic and humanitarian causes in Nevada and the entire nation. Proceeds from this $175 per plate gala affair will aid the American Lung Association of Nevada's 1980-1981 fund raising campaign.

The American Lung Association of Nevada, is proud to have a 76 year tradition of fighting such lung diseases as asthma, bronchitis, tuberculosis, and emphysema. This fight has been carried out through public health and professional education programs with an emphasis on community services and research.

Sawyer said, "I expect an overwhelming turnout of community leaders to attend this event honoring Senator and Mrs. Cannon." He added, "We are fortunate in Nevada that business and civic leaders are willing to extend themselves to the community at large."

Mr. Sawyer was born in Twin Falls, Idaho. He attended college at the University of Nevada, George Washington University, and received his law degree from Georgetown University in 1948. Sawyer was married to Bette Norene in 1946. They have one daughter, Gail Louise. He started his law practice in Elko, Nevada in 1948.

next March. Can I get Medicare based on my husband's work under social security even though he will not be 65 for three years?

Xi Sigma members take Grand Tour with Hal Smiths

Members of Xi Sigma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held their January meeting at the home of member Christy Winlow's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Smith. The women enjoyed a grand tour with the Smiths as tour guides. The tour started with the boarding of a bus on a Club Universe tour which included Amsterdam, Denmark, Berlin, Venice, Rome, France, Switzerland, Sweden, Iceland and Austria. Amsterdam was the first stop on the tour, a city full of canals on which boat rides are given. A visit to the Wright Museum which houses many famous paintings by Rembrandt was included on the itinerary and many windmills were seen while traveling through the countryside.

The night lights of Copenhagen, Denmark were fantastic and the visit through the city in which Hans Christian Anderson grew up was most interesting. A visit to the museum included a viewing of the crown jewels. There are walking malls in which no cars are allowed and several beautiful fountains.

While touring Berlin, the visitor noticed many odd-shaped buildings. One church was left which had been bombed during World War II - a reminder to the people of war. Several cathedrals were carved of granite and created in mosaics.

The site of the Olympics held in Munich was viewed. A point of interest while in Austria was the gazebo on the grounds of the home of the Von Trapp family.

The Belvedere Palace in Vienna was beautiful as are the grounds which surround it and the tourists especially enjoyed their stop in Switzerland, Paris and London.

Following the tour, refreshments were served by hostesses Sue Cahill and Barbara Harris.

The January 22 meeting was held at the home of Mari Ann Blockovich. Chapter members were saddened to learn that Wanda Johnson would be moving to New Mexico in February but wished her and her family lots of success and happiness in their new venture.

Patti Hester will be Xi Sigma's Valentine Queen at the upcoming Valentine Ball.

Leonard Allen Hamner

Leonard Allen Hamner, 74, died February 6 in Henderson.

A winter resident of Boulder City, he was born August 13, 1906 in Gas, Kansas. His usual residence is Newberg, Oregon. He was a pharmacist.

Mr. Hamner is survived by his wife, Emma D. Hamner of Newberg; a daughter, Lois Holmes of Richland, Washington; one son, Allen Hamner of Condon, Oregon; a brother, Jordan Hamner of Boulder City; and two grandchildren.

Interment will be at Valley View Memorial Park in Newberg. Attrell's Funeral Chapel in Newberg is in charge of out-of-town arrangements. Local arrangements were handled by Palm Mortuary.

WIN 'SUNDEVIL' CONTEST -- Andrea Gibbins and Michelle Wallen are shown with Principal Wendell Bond, after winning a contest recently held at the C.T. Sewell elementary school to design a new school emblem. The school mascot is the Sundevil. This is also the name of the "Student of the Week" award, which is given to two students each week, who best exemplify the spirit of good citizenship at the school.

Elda Stone Cleared of Possessing Stolen Gun

Justice of the Peace Larry Tabony Friday dismissed charges of possessing stolen property which had been filed against Elda Martin Stone, 50.

The charges were filed against Stone after his wife, Billie Rae Stone, 50, was arrested at their home in Ballerina Trailer Park and she had a stolen shotgun in her possession.

She is charged with murder in the December 20 shooting of Joan Whitney, 49. Mrs. Whitney died of her wounds on January 4.

The shooting took place in Todd's Bar on Lake Mead following an argument between the two women.

Judge Tabony dismissed the charges against Elda Stone following a motion by Stone's attorney.

Third Graders Enjoy Active Outing at Lake Mead Resort

It was time for adventure on the high seas ... or in this case, on high Lake Mead ... last Thursday for the kids in Mrs. Luttrell's third grade class at the Andrew Mitchell Elementary School.

Thanks to a drawing of Santa Claus by student Angel Garcia which was chosen as the winner in the annual contest sponsored by the Lake Mead Resort, Angel and his 28 classmates (and four adult helpers) were treated to a royal morning at the resort. It began in the traditional way; bags of popcorn and hundreds of hungry carp and ducks. Not all the popcorn went into the wanter ... there were a few hungry kids, too.

Then it was time for the exciting boat trip aboard the Echo from the resort to Hoover Dam and back. Provided through the courtesy of Lake Mead Yacht Tours, the crew consisted of genial Captain Dave Bywater and skipper Dan Kuhl. The voyage provided an unexpected bonus when the boat was entering Black Canyon. Bywater spotted several mountain sheep, including two lambs less than a week old, tagging along behind their mommas high on the craggy cliffs. The Echo circled slowly so that all aboard could share the rare treat.

As the Echo neared the back of Hoover Dam, young Garcia was summoned forward and handed the wheel. In spite of the ribbing from classmates, he handled the responsibility without batting an eye ... a lollipop securely clamped between his set jaws.

At the conclusion of the voyage, the now famished passengers bolted for the resort's special activities dining room where further delights awaited them in the form of hot grilled cheese sandwiches and French fries as well as soft drinks ... all provided by Lake Mead Resort.

Tour guide and coordinator for the activity was Pam Ham who handles the public relations for all three Play-Mate Resorts on the lake.

All too soon it was over and the kids boarded their transportation for the trip up the hill and back to school for the remainder of the day.

Angel Garcia had an added thrill when Captain Dave Bywater turned over the wheel of the Echo to the young skipper.

DAM DEAD AHEAD! Angel Garcia, third grade student at Andrew Mitchell Elementary School, took his classmates on a boat trip to Hoover Dam last week aboard the Echo. Aware of the awesome responsibility (and too young to have a cigar in his mouth) he clamped down on a lollipop and executed the necessary maneuvers in grand style.

ible for three hours of college credit in Physical Education and Hygiene.

Dear Debbie

Letters to DEBORAH WHITE

DEAR DEBBIE:
I cannot talk to my parents about this, so I am writing you. Last night my brother came into my room and asked to borrow $40. I told him I did not have it, as I had spent all my savings for Christmas. He got very angry and took my new portable radio. My parents were not home. A couple of hours later he came back without the radio, but he seemed much more relaxed. He told me not to tell my parents he took it or he would beat me up. If I tell my parents that I lost the radio they'll beat me up. What scares me is I think my brother needed the money because he's on drugs. If I tell my parents, they'll call the police or send my brother away. He is 17 and I really love him. What should I do?

DEAR SIS:
If you don't tell your parents, you'll be carrying far too heavy a burden on your young shoulders. It's safe to assume they love your brother as much as you do. Their first thought will be to help him, not hurt him, so speak up.

DEAR DEBBIE:
Can you think of any reason a wife would give her husband a sex manual for Christmas? I treated it as a gag but I was very hurt. I always thought our sex life was perfect.

DEAR SHOCKED:
Think again.

DEAR DEBBIE:
I really like this boy of 15. He came over my house Christmas. I gave him a present but he didn't give me anything. He is in my class at school and he lives on my block. He is also friends with my brother. He really came to see my brother at Christmas but I gave him the present anyway. It was a book. Don't you think he should have given me something, too?

If he didn't have anything for me when he came over he could have gone out and bought something and given it to me the next day. Also, how can I find out if he likes me? Most of the time he pretends not to notice me.

LOVESTRUCK DEAR LOVESTRUCK:
Maybe he's not pretending. At your age attachments can be very one-sided. As for the gift, you should not have given it with the expectation of getting one in return. Next time, let the giving be its own reward.

DEAR DEBBIE:
My daughter is 13. She bought me a very beautiful designer scarf for Christmas. We don't have much money, as I am divorced and get very little child support (when I get it, that is). Her allowance is small. When I chided her about buying me something so expensive, she confessed that she had shoplifted it. I have not been able to sleep since. I will not rest until I can repay the store, but I can't very

HEART SKIPS
Dear Dr. Esse: Lately, at least two or three times a week, I think I'm about to die. I want you to know that I'm not a hypochondriac. I'm a normal 17-year-old student and a tackle on our football team.

Therefore, you can understand I'm big and strong. But for the past month I've had skips in my heart. They never come on during a game — only when I'm relaxing, having a smoke or a beer. My folks have taken me to our family doctor who has found nothing wrong with my heart. He says the skips will go away. Can a normal heart act up this way? — Mr. O.

Dear Mr. O.: Yes, a normal heart can act this way. But it's important to determine whether or not it's normal.

If you've had no history of rheumatic fever or congenital heart disease it's unlikely that your heart is abnormal — except for these harmless skips.

They're called premature contractions. What brings them on we're not certain. Sometimes smoking and drinking will.

Just to make certain, why not ask your doctor to recommend a heart specialist? It will be worth it for reassurance if for nothing else.

He may make some recommendations and prescribe medicines that will lessen or stop these premature beats (skips). Often they stop by themselves. On the other hand, I've known patients who, in their 70s, say they've had the skips since childhood.

The rapid heart actions are sometimes a part of it. They are tachycardias which more than double the heart rate.

CAMPING ALL YEAR ROUND

BY BOB NESOFF

Help Save Our Endangered Species

Rare plants and animals are being added to the list of endangered species every day and the blame is being focused in the wrong direction.

We in the United States all too often sit back and wait until there is a problem before we first start seeking solutions. By the time the solutions are reached, the problem has climbed to such immense proportions that it is even still further out of hand.

One of the few countries in the world that has successfully dealt with this is South Africa, one of the true garden spots of the world. A land rich in natural resources that go far beyond its immense mineral wealth, South Africa long ago realized that plants and animals needed protection.

As a result, today a visitor can drive for hundreds of miles through unspoiled wilderness observing both plants and animals that have never been spoiled by the hand of man. They have even been able to remove several species of animals from the endangered list (such as the white rhino) while they remain in trouble in other countries.

It wouldn't hurt for our government to send our so-called "experts" to South Africa for a comprehensive training course in looking to the future.

The prime problem in the United States is not the hunter who takes a carefully controlled number of birds and animals, or the camper trekking through woodland trails, but rather the avarice of the land developer who lays down huge ribbons of concrete and asphalt on previously wild lands.

This unchecked development not only ruins the immediate area but causes problems in the entire surrounding area. Water runoff from the concrete aprons, with no place to absorb, now becomes a flood risk. The flood then ruins additional acreage. It's a vicious cycle.

Urban sprawl can be seen encroaching on areas untouched for thousands of years. One of the most delicate areas in the country, the New Jersey Pine Barrens, an area of indescribable beauty, is now facing the bulldozer and efforts to maintain it are slowly giving way to the onslaught. The huge swamps of Florida and Georgia teeter on the brink of disaster because of development and there's more to come.

'Dynamite' Fight Card Tonight

A 12-round title fight featuring Willie "Birdie" Jensen, the No. 1 super flyweight contender in the world; a round title-elimination bout, and a round brawl with sagger Jorge "Kid Dynamite" Morales highlight the "Show-bout Fight Night" professional boxing card Tuesday night at the Showboat Hotel.

And the popular "Kid Dynamite" takes on Raul Aguirre in a 10-round lightweight battle.

at the Showboat he has been promised, according to WBC president Jose Sulaiman, a second shot at the WBC super flyweight title. That bout would be in April against Chul-Ho Kim of Korea, who last month dethroned Orono.

hind Jensen, is from Honolulu and has a 17-2 record.

Promoter Tony Trudnick also has scheduled an eight-round stand-by bout between cruiserweights Rahim Muhammad and Anthony Davis.

Jenson, who has a 25-1-2 record, battled to a 15-round draw with Orono of Venezuela in South America last July.

Gonzales, from Long Beach Calif., also has a 17-2 record, but with one of those losses coming against Roberto Duran last year at Caesars Palace. He's ranked No. 8 by the USBA.

of the vacant United States Boxing Association (USBA) flyweight title.

The card starts at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Showboat Sports Pavilion, located in the northeast corner of the hotel on the second floor above the Trophy Star Lounge.

Jenson is, perhaps, the most complete super flyweight in the world today. The WBC's No. 1 contender has always been a tremendous boxer with amazing hand speed, but with maturity he has developed a punch, too. He has 10 knockouts to his credit, but four of them have come in his last seven fights.

Finch, now fighting out of Las Vegas, is rated No. 9 by the USBA and has a 29-3-1 record with 23 knockouts.

ferino Gonzales and Bruce Finch battle in the 12-round title-elimination bout with the winner to meet Eds McCarthy for the WBA welterweight championship.

The winner takes on McCarthy, who captured the vacant USBA welterweight title on Trudnick's Showboat card last month by upsetting world-ranking Greg Stephens.

Willie Jensen

Another world-ranked fighter on Tuesday's card is "Kid Dynamite," rated No. 9 among lightweights by the WBC. "Kid Dynamite," originally from Ponce, P.R., but now fighting out of Pomona, Calif., has a 31-6-4 record with 25 knockouts. He has won 18 of his past 19 fights, 16 by KO.

This will be the crowd-pleasing puncher's third appearance at the Showboat; in August he stopped Frankie "Preacherman" Moultrie for the North American Boxing Federation (NABF) championship and in September he beat Jose Cirillas.

"Kid Dynamite" is managed by Don Manuel, who also manages Mike Weaver, World Boxing Association (WBA) heavyweight champion. Aguirre fights out of San Antonio.

The stand-by bout features Muhammad, a slugger with a 7-3 record out of Los Angeles, and Davis, a Las Vegas with a 6-1 mark.

Tuesday's card will be nationally televised by the SPORTSCHANNEL network of New York with veteran announcer Don Dunphy doing the blow-by-blow. The telecast will be blacked out in Southern Nevada.

NO POINTS -- Scott Elliott bats down the ball as a Chaparral player tries to score during last Friday's game. Joe O'Neal stands ready to offer assistance.

SOCCER SQUAD IN FOURTH PLACE

Wolves Shutout Wildcats

With a rookie goalie holding the goal safe and well protected by four powerful full-backs, the Wolves Friday shutout Las Vegas 1-0 and are now in fourth place in the Sunrise division.

The score stood at 1-1 until midway through the second quarter, when Karlsson leaped to block the ball and dropped with a pulled muscle in his back.

Warrior Mike Maurice simply had to hit the empty net. That's when Nick Evans came into the varsity squad. The third goal came on the penalty kick in the third quarter. The Wolves close out regular season play this week by taking on Valley 5-5-2 the Division II Tournament begins at Basic High School Saturday at 9 a.m.

Lady Wolves Start Tourney In Fourth Spot

Basic's volleyball team wound up the regular season in a three way tie with Rancho and Western which was settled Friday by a toss of a coin and the Lady Wolves will start the Division Tournament in fourth place tonight by playing Clark.

Goalie Nick Evans, brought up from the junior varsity squad because of injuries to Lars Karlsson and Rod Little, has allowed one point through two games and that came on a penalty kick. The defending linemen are Sean Rynearson, Tim Lomprey, Clint Clark and Kirk Bolles.

Jackie Holliday, the Wolves came from behind in the first game to best the Rams 15-12 and led all the way to take the second game 15-8.

her first game of the season. Chilson changed strategy in the game against the Rams. "We ran a different offense and kept putting in substitutes. I think I got six girls that are playing well as a team and I think we've got the psychological advantage."

In the Las Vegas game Friday, the Wildcat goalie was drawn off by Jose Mendoza as the ball lay six inches from the line and Mendoza moved it over to his brother Adolpho Mendoza who had a clear kick and booted it in. The score came midway through the third quarter.

Clark finished in first place in the Sunset Division and according to the schedule, starts by playing the fourth place team in the Sunrise Division.

Setter Audry Mangrum was all over the front court during the Wednesday game "She did a fine job of setting," said Chilson of Mangrum who was playing that position in

GOOD GOLF

Tips On A Low Score At A High Age

By Jay Hebert

Jay Hebert, touring pro and tournament winner for 30 years, has been commissioned by Standard Brands Incorporated to assist senior golfers by preparing these tips.

Playing the irons shouldn't be difficult for the senior golfer as long as he's willing to settle for shorter distances. But instead of using a five-iron he should switch to a four-iron. There's a tendency among older golfers to practice a No. 10 or No. 9 iron. No matter how long you've been playing, or how skilled you've been in the past, practice still makes - if not perfect - a better golfer. The short game can always use a little tuning-up. As important as practice is, don't overdo it. A half hour on the practice tee is long enough. Before playing a round, it's a good idea to warm up by hitting 20 or so balls. This loosens the muscles and revs up the thinking process.

Off-highway motorcycling is a popular, competitive and recreational sport in the U.S. Yet, in spite of the fact there are some 12 million enthusiasts, gas consumption by this group is remarkably low. HOCKEY HINTS

By Bobby Orr

Mr. Orr has been commissioned by Standard Brands Incorporated, to write a series of articles designed to help youngsters improve their hockey game.

Everyone loves to shoot the puck, and shooting is a very important part of the game.

The most important shot in hockey is the wrist shot. More goals are scored with this shot than any other.

Here are a few tips on a proper wrist shot.

1. Use a firm grip on the stick.
2. The bottom hand is not to high or low on the shaft but comfortable for you.
3. Bring the puck forward in a sweeping motion.
4. As the puck comes forward, your weight should

SUPER STARS SPORTS TALK

Magic Johnson

More than one college All-American has angered teammates with a refusal to share the basketball. The reputations of some are so bad, teammates say, that you can't even count on them to pass you the salt at dinner.

The ability to put the ball in the bucket, of course, is what the game of basketball is all about on any level, professional, college, high school or schoolyard. Beauty and finesse and grace on the court are fine, but you don't receive points in basketball for artistic merit. Yet, all things being equal, the ingredient that separates winning from losing very often is teamwork.

Take a look at some of the National Basketball Association's greatest teams. No one could ever accuse clubs like the Boston Celtics of the 1960s, the New York Knicks of the early-70s, or the 1980 edition of the Los Angeles Lakers of playing undisciplined basketball. Each club had a nucleus of team players with the patience to work the ball to the open man and the discipline to keep from taking too many low percentage shots.

Each team was also blessed with a great leader, that single catalyst who singlehandedly, it seemed, could transform a good team into a great one. For the Celtics, it was Bob Cousy. Whether it was behind his back, through his legs or in a more orthodox manner, Cousy had the ability to hit the Heinsohns, Russells and Sharmans for easy baskets. In a similar manner, the Knicks counted on Walt "Clyde" Frazier to find the open man, whether it be Willis Reed, Dave DeBusschere or Bill Bradley.

Last summer the Lakers, a team with a history of finishing second best, were introduced to a 20-year-old rookie with a reputation for teamwork that was surpassed only by the brilliance of his smile. They became believers very quickly. That rookie, of course, was 7UP Super Star Earvin "Magic" Johnson, who has also had a reputation for turning a team into a scoring machine ever since he was a schoolboy star in East Lansing, Michigan. No one is a better example of how teamwork can be translated into winning basketball.

In high school, Magic led his team to the state-basketball crown. Basketball fans from coast to coast caught up with the Magic Show during the two seasons he spent at Michigan State. That ended with the Spartans' NCAA championship victory over Indiana State, a team with a scoring machine of its own named Larry Bird. Then in 1980, the rookie brought the Lakers their first NBA title in nearly a decade.

"For me, throwing a pass that results in a basket is more satisfying than hitting a 20-foot jumper," said Johnson, who has not only spun his magic on three different levels of play, but at three different positions: guard, forward and center. "I don't know of any greater feeling in basketball than running down the court at fullspeed, looking one way, then firing a pass in the other direction to a teammate for an easy layup."

Watching Magic dish the ball off to a teammate looks easy as well, passing the salt. Yet, passing the ball off the dribble is one of the most difficult maneuvers in the game. A player needs to have full control of both the ball and his body, the ability to read a defense and the sense of mind to know where his teammates are and where they are heading.

Both in college and during his rookie year in the NBA, Magic seemed to have a built-in sonar system. At Michigan State, he and teammate Greg Kelser were as potent a passing combination as Terry Bradshaw and Lynn Swann. Everytime Kelser moved toward the basket, Magic would have a little something waiting for him, gift wrapped, and ready to stuff.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Jamaal Wilkes and the rest of the Lakers are the present recipients of Johnson's magic. There are few things a professional basketball player likes better than a short, wide-open shot. Magic's split second timing often provides them with the ball in just such a situation.

"Learning to pass well takes hours of work," said Johnson. "Being able to dribble in traffic has to become second nature. Your head has to be off the floor, sizing up the defense and the whereabouts of your teammates. Creating a certain rhythm with your teammates also takes time. But it's worth it. Not only does it make your team more effective, but it helps unify the guys."

Magic can also shoot. In the final game of the NBA playoffs against the Philadelphia 76ers, he more than made up for the loss of Jabbar by scoring 42 points.

Of course, Magic's talents as a passer and a team leader are only partly learned. Hours of practice have taught him to thread the needle with a hard chest pass, finesse a bounce pass through a maze of defenders, and loop a pass to a leaping teammate. Yet, the ability to see teammates through the corners of his eyes, race downcourt to create confusion for the defense and pass off while keeping his body in midair, makes Magic Johnson the superbly gifted athlete he is. Combine that with his unselfish qualities and his enthusiasm for the game, and you have a great team leader, someone who will keep his opponents mumbling and his teammates from talking about him.

February 14th is St. Valentine's Day again this year. And again this year, people happily in love, and those who hope to be, will send valentines to the objects of their affection. But few lovers realize that the history of this happiest of holidays dates back more than 1,700 years—and that its origin was anything but happy.

St. Valentine's Day stems, inconspicuously, from the death of a Roman bishop named Valentine, who was beheaded on February 14, 273 A.D. by Emperor

St. Valentine's Day: A 1,700 Year Tradition

Claudius II. According to one account, Claudius had outlawed marriages because they kept men at home rather than fighting for Rome. Valentine, so the story goes, paid with his life when he continued to marry young lovers. Another version had Valentine thrown into prison, where he befriended the jailkeeper's daughter. When his ornate love letters to the young lady were discovered, he was executed on February 14. His last note was signed "your Valentine."

In America, the Pilgrims continued the St. Valentine's Day tradition and it steadily grew in popularity. Among the earliest U.S. valentines were Pennsylvania Dutch cards fashioned with painstaking workmanship and calligraphy. Some resembled lace, an effect achieved by thousands of pin pricks arranged in elaborate patterns.

Nineteenth century valentines took many forms—including colorful designs of hearts and flowers and cleverly folded cards with cut-outs of rose petals, angels, and cupids that moved when unfolded. There were also comic valentines that poked gentle fun at recipients.

Like so many things that have historical and aesthetic value, old valentines are now collectors' items. Particularly prized are lacy British valentines with pastel paper underlays, early handmade and engraved cards, and Civil War, World War I, and World War II valentines.

Based on traditional heart and cupid motifs, this colorful 14-penny stamp issued by the British Post Office to mark St. Valentine's Day is adding an extra touch to millions of valentines being exchanged this year in England and the U.S.

One valentine sold last year for an extraordinary $2,250. The popularity of valentines has also led to the growth of nationwide collectors clubs, whose members regularly trade and exhibit rare specimens.

Valentine's Day has become so well established that in England this year millions of lovers will exchange valentines sent with a special postage stamp, issued for the occasion by the British Post Office. This beautiful stamp, an allegorical rendering of two cupids by artist Fritz Wegner, is also available in America (from StanGib Ltd., 1325 Franklin Avenue, Garden City, New York 11530) to both collectors and the romantically inclined who want to add an unusual touch to their missives of love. Of course, these British stamps must be accompanied by regular U.S. postage on valentines mailed in the United States.

Despite its unfortunate origin, St. Valentine's Day has become one of our happiest and most enduring traditions. And as long as people enjoy sending and receiving messages of love, this colorful annual ritual will continue forever.

Norcross-Rust Craft Collection This sentimental 19th century valentine (ca. 1835) was colored by hand. Its four lines of verse read: "Thou darling of my life, my soul's delight, By day my vision, and my dream by night; Thy service shall my only pleasure be, And all my heart's delight in pleasing thee."

Historical Museum Plans Unveiled

Boulder City

Rendering of Boulder City's future museum by well-known local artist Cliff Segerblom.

This beautiful rendering by Cliff Segerblom of our future museum was recently unveiled by Chamber of Commerce President Darlene Burk who is also owner of Burk's Gallery which regularly exhibits Cliff's works. The museum is shown sitting in the Frank T. Crowe Memorial Park which will be dedicated this March at Boulder City's 50th Birthday celebration.

The initial phase of the museum is estimated to cost 1.5 million dollars and will focus on history in the 1931 to 1935 time frame. The museum will house artifacts dealing with the creation of Boulder City and the construction of Hoover Dam. Local and area collections will be exhibited on a rotating basis.

Fund raising is currently on-going for the museum and major exhibits. Permanent exhibits currently planned are the working model of the dam made by George and Jack Albright, lithographs by William Woollett, the only known artist in residence during the construction of the dam, and settings of the period to show how families lived in early Boulder City.

Other features of the planned museum complex are a research center containing a community resource file of city residents and historical structures from 1931 to 1935, staff offices and work areas, and a gift shop. The initial phase of the museum is targeted for completion by September 30, 1985 which is the 50th Anniversary of President Franklin Delano Roosevelt's dedication of Hoover Dam. Later phases are to include a combination auditorium and meeting room as well as exhibits of later Boulder City and area history.

Nominations for the museum's Hall of Fame will get underway shortly. Awards are to be announced by Governor Robert List at Boulder City's 50th Birthday banquet on March 14, 1981. Many tributes are planned for Hall of Fame selectees including a book of their lives and accomplishments, hopefully a street named in their honor and plaques to permanently reside in a Hall of

Take Time for a Home Firearms Safety Check

By Charles Crunden

With hunting seasons drawing to a close, most outdoorsmen's thoughts are turning to warmer weather in anticipation of a season of fishing pleasure but it's also a time to spend an evening on a home firearms safety check.

There is nothing complicated about gun safety in the home, the rules are few in number and easy to follow. Beyond the basic precautions, however, is the equally as important attitude of respect and seriousness which should always be encouraged and maintained when dealing with guns. For beginners it may require a conscious effort, but as time passes it becomes automatic and safety becomes instinctive.

Double checking to make absolutely sure that all your guns are unloaded is an obvious and most important first step. More than one veteran shooter has experienced a disturbing sensation of discovering a shell in the chamber of a gun he thought was unloaded.

Even if you are sure that a gun is unloaded, it should not be handled or shown to a friend without first opening the action and checking again. Among experienced gun handlers this is a kind of ritual that is repeated whenever a firearm is examined.

The next step should be to review your firearm storage facilities. Rifles and shotguns should be stored securely in racks or cabinets, preferably locked. Handguns should be stored in a locked cabinet or drawer. Locked storage is particularly important if there are children in the home.

Standing a shotgun in a closet or keeping a pistol in a desk drawer does not do the job. If secure storage is not available, trigger locks should be purchased, breech locks for rifles are also available. Again, if there are children in the home, such locking devices are highly recommended.

Your last basic safety check should involve your ammunition storage. For complete safety, all ammunition should be kept under lock and key and in a location separate from your firearms. An extra measure of safety, particularly with children in the home, can be had by storing ammunition in another room or on a different floor level. The objective is to create a situation in which a conscious effort is required to bring firearms and ammunition together. Keys to all storage areas should be kept away from children.

There is no excuse for careless gun storage or handling. If you have not already done so, make sure you are following all basic precautions involving firearms safety in the home.

FACTS & FIGURES

You can deposit money in a financial plan that will save your estate some taxes.

You can save yourself some tax money now and your estate some tax money later in three different ways. One way is with a Missions Agreement Savings Plan. You deposit money with World Vision, Inc., a Christian humanitarian and service agency. Like a bank, the plan pays you interest and you are free to withdraw your money whenever you wish. When you die the amount you have on deposit will go toward Christian work so none of it is subject to estate tax.

Another way is to set up a trust that will pay you and a survivor a regular income for the rest of your lives. Part of that income will be tax-free. Afterwards, the trust fund will be used to help the poor and tell them about Christ. It, too, will require no estate tax.

The third way is to donate your home, farm or other property, yet retain the right to use it for as long as you live. This is called a Life Estate. When you die your gift will be used to God's glory—and because you are making a charitable gift, you will also save a large amount in taxes now. Visitor Use Decreases at Lake Mead Fish Hatchery

"The number of visitors at Department of Wildlife's Lake Mead Fish Hatchery decreased almost 13 percent during 1980," according to Dave Buck, hatchery complex manager for southern Nevada.

"The Lake Mead Hatchery was dedicated in November 1973 and, during the first six years of operation, annually entertained an increasing number of visitors that reached a high 58,600 in 1979. The 51,080 persons that toured the facility last year represented a decline of 13 percent that we attribute to higher fuel cost and scarcity of gasoline supplies," Buck explained.

"Practically every state in the Union has been represented by entries in our guest register Buck said, with occasional foreign visitors from as far away as Japan, Taiwan, and Germany."

"The hatchery has played host to schools, youth and daycamp groups, service clubs, foreign and domestic dignitaries and large numbers of resident and non-resident visitors; more than 350,000 in all. Organized non-profit groups and organizations are welcome at the facility and will be provided tours if arrangements are made at least two weeks in advance."

The Lake Mead Fish Hatchery not only serves the trout planting requirements of southern Nevada, but also distributes fish to other parts of the state as needed. The local hatchery is currently stocking Lake Mohave and by the end of March will have released 120,000 cutthroat trout and 180,000 rainbow trout into that water.

"The great majority of these fish are being distributed by planting barge into the areas north and south of Cottonwood Cove. On windy days, however, trout plants are being made from accessible points along the shoreline. Distribution this spring also includes 120,000 cutthroat trout for Walker Lake in western Nevada," Buck said.

"After all of the trout on hand have been planted in April, the entire hatchery will be disinfected to eliminate several types of persistent bacteria responsible for disease problems."

IRS Offers Tax Advice to Senior Citizens

Senior Citizens should be aware of important tax benefits available to them, the Internal Revenue Service advises.

One of the first things older taxpayers need to look at is whether or not they have to file a tax return at all. Older taxpayers can earn more than the general population before they have to file returns.

When filing their tax return, taxpayers 65 or older are entitled to an extra personal exemption of $1,000 over and above the individual exemption of $1,000 taxpayers under 65 may claim. So, a husband and wife, both of whom are 65 or older, and who file a joint tax return, may claim up to four $1,000 exemptions two age exemptions and two individual exemptions, which results in a $4,000 reduction in taxable income.

Because of this extra personal exemption, taxpayers 65 or older, and single need not file if their income for 1980 was less than $4,300. For married couples, if one spouse is 65, the couple can have up to $6,400 gross income and not have to file. If both married persons are 65 or older, the filing level is increased to $7,400. Gross income includes such things as rent, royalties, and taxable pensions in addition to wages, but does not include social security or railroad retirement benefits.

There is also a tax

"Credit for the Elderly", for older taxpayers who have some taxable income and a tax liability. Schedules R & RP of Form 1040 specify who is eligible for this credit, which could reduce the taxes an individual owes by as much as $375, if he or she is single, or $562 for a married couple filing jointly.

Another important benefit that may be claimed as early as age 55, involves the sale of a residence. Taxpayers 55 or older can take advantage of a once-in-a-lifetime $100,000 exclusion on the gain of sale of their personal residence, ($50,000 if they are married filing separate returns). Publication 523, "Tax Information on Selling Your Home", available through IRS, contains more information pertaining to this exclusion.

Taxpayers age 60 or more who earned less than $15,000 in 1980, are eligible for special IRS coordinated Tax Counseling for the Elderly (TCE) programs. Through TCE, specially trained volunteers provide tax assistance relating to the elderly, including the reporting requirements and taxation of pension income. The TCE volunteers also help fill out tax returns. In Nevada, TCE sites are located in Reno, Gardnerville, Fallon, Las Vegas, North Las Vegas, Lincoln County, Pahrump, Ely, and Carson City.

For more information on the location of TCE sites and hours of operation, as well as IRS publications on subjects of special interest to the elderly, call IRS at: 784-5521 (from Reno); 385-6291 (from Las Vegas); or (800) 462-6552 toll free from other areas of Nevada.

OUR CLEVER CHEMISTS

Americans have a lot for which to thank our good fortune and our good researchers. Some American scientists discovered a collection of chemicals that can keep our food safer, our roads safer, our hospitals safer, and our public buildings safer.

The chemicals are chlorofluorocarbons, also known as CFCs. They are the refrigerants that keep food from spoiling in our homes and in the refrigerated trucks and trains that take farm products to market.

They are the refrigerants found in air-conditioned cars, and studies show that such air conditioning helps keep drivers alert.

Hospitals mix CFCs with the chemicals they use to sterilize medical equipment. Without chlorofluorocarbons, the sterilizing chemicals would be too combustible to handle.

Public buildings are protected from fire by a fire extinguishing gas which is a CFC. The gas is nontoxic, so it can be used where there are still people present. It is particularly useful in libraries, museums, telephone exchanges and government facilities where valuable property would be as damaged by water as by fire.

Researches in the 1920s developed some chemical compounds that can greatly benefit us today—and tomorrow.

In addition, the chemicals also protect our energy supply, point out the experts at the Alliance for Responsible CFC Policy, a national coalition of CFC users and producers. If we didn't have CFCs, we would consume the equivalent of up to 50 billion more gallons of fuel in a decade—an amount roughly equal to the gasoline required to drive 7 million cars for 10 years—and more thereafter.

It would appear we should be very thankful for our chemists and their CFCs.

Airport Site In Eldorado Valley Moves Ahead

Boulder City News

The topic of the future location of the B.C. Airport in Eldorado Valley came up at City Council again this week and Councilwoman Gene Segerblom again voiced her desire to have the subject placed on the ballot for voter approval.

Segerblom has expressed opposition to relocating the facility outside city limits since the Eldorado Site was first recommended. She prefers the airport be moved to some other location within the city.

This week, at a council work session, she reiterated her concerns. "I feel the Eldorado Valley is much safer in federal hands than in state hands," she said...referring to a concern as to whether the city's request for land there will trigger other development in the area.

"I've had many calls from residents expressing concern and voicing opposition to this site," she stated...adding that she had not received one call supporting the location.

City Manager Terry Zerkle noted that it was a "risk decision" either way. Other members of the council noted that the issue of state acquisition has been in the mill for some time and that sooner or later the state will move ahead on plans to take over the 105,000 acres for development.

In response to Segerblom's query regarding a ballot question, City Attorney Steve Parsons stated that the General Election Laws of Nevada allow advisory questions on issues to be placed on the ballot for voter opinions. However, the results of such votes are not binding on the council.

He went on to explain the initiative and referendum process, explaining that the council may not defer their legislative powers to the population.

During discussion, a letter to Boulder City's representatives in the state legislature... Assemblyman Jack Jeffrey and Senator Jim Gibson...was shown to council.

The letter recaps the structuring of the agreement between the federal government and the state regarding purchase of the land and explains Clark County's participation in assisting Boulder City to acquire up to 1,200 acres in fee simple from the county...with the remaining acreage in the 11,875 acres being leased and the entire 18 sections to be annexed to Boulder City.

The letter notes that the city plans to relocate the airport to this area and to retain an area adjacent for airport related light industry. The remainder of land will be retained as open space and used as an airport buffer zone.

"The balance of the acreage in the Eldorado Valley transfer area is viewed by Boulder City as one of southern Nevada's natural assets which should be preserved for present and future generations," the letter states.

Weight Control News

BEING HONEST WITH YOURSELF

There are ways to help control your eating at home. Just take a good look at your present eating habits. You may be practicing some bad eating habits that are causing you to overeat. Here are some suggestions to change your approach to everyday eating. First, keep a record of everything you eat and when you eat. This will help you zero in on your particular problem areas. If between-meal nibbling is a hazard, find an activity you enjoy as an alternative. It should be something you can start and stop at any time. Reading or working on a craft is a good substitute. Your grocery list should not include snack foods. If these foods are not around, they can't tempt you. Keep non-calorie beverages and raw vegetables on hand for those difficult times. You can also help control your urge to overeat by taking a diet aid like Dietac. It's safe and effective when used with a healthy diet and exercise program to help you lose weight. When preparing meals, don't sample. The end result will be that you have eaten twice. Use a salad plate instead of a dinner plate. This will make portions seem larger. Serve foods from the kitchen counter or stove rather than from the table. This will make second helpings a more conscious decision. Concentrate while eating. Always eat sitting down. Chew your food slowly and thoroughly. You'll be surprised how much more you will enjoy your food. The actual process of eating will be more satisfying. Make it a rule to never eat on the run or standing up.

There's a free low-calorie recipe booklet available to help you get started. You will be tempted by dishes like Zucchini Flan at only 90 calories per serving, Chicken in Cider Sauce at 234 calories per serving. There are even desserts like Gold Lemon Souffle at 50 calories per serving. It's free by writing: DIETAC, P.O. Box 8120, Philadelphia, Pa. 19101.

AN AFFIRMATIVE ACTION - EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER

COOK - 3 days a week, approx. 25 hrs. Call Pat, St. Jude's Ranch. 293-3131.

I read somewhere that over 90 million Americans are overweight. Those are round figures, of course. Some of these are in my church. Floyd Fatski, for example, weighs 275 pounds in his birthday suit. The other night at a church chicken supper Floyd was telling me about hard times. "We're in very hard times," said Floyd as he downed his tenth piece of chicken. He said that if things got any worse, he wouldn't even be able to buy gas to attend his weekly weight-watcher meetings.

I remember when I was a kid. We had beans and potatoes at some meals, and potatoes and beans at other meals. On Sunday we usually had a chicken and some bread pudding made from the old leftover bread, which was easily washed down by the drink of the day - water! Mama used the leftover potatoes, if there were any, to make potato pancakes and she made bean sandwiches from the leftover pintos.

We got fruit in the summer by climbing trees, and ice cream in the winter by mixing milk with snow. For sheer pleasure we chewed one piece of gum all week. Every night we would stick it on the bed post and go after it right after breakfast the next day. To have enough money for this "high living," we skimmed on other things.

We bought our own overalls, and put patches on 'em when they developed a hole. (That way we didn't have to buy pre-patched jeans.) When we got a hole in our shoe soles, we just stuck a piece of cardboard on the inside 'cause cardboard was plentiful. We walked and ran everywhere so we didn't have to take physical education or join a health club; and we didn't go to weight-watcher. Boy! Were we lucky!

Great Cuisines Of The World

JAPANESE TEMPURA

The most distinguishing quality of Japanese cuisine is its reverence for the natural beauty and natural flavor of food. The Japanese do not mix several foods together in the same dish as the Chinese do, nor do they like to add rich sauces to their food as some of the French do; they prefer to serve foods separately and simply, in order to relish each type of food individually.

The Tempura featured here is an example of a classic Japanese dish. Fresh vegetables and shrimp are coated in a batter which is so light it is translucent after it is cooked. The vegetables and shrimp are then deep fried in peanut oil, which is light enough to enhance the natural flavors of food.

Peanut oil is recommended by culinary experts who say it is closest to oils used in the orient. Its light flavor makes it ideal for preparing delicate Japanese dishes. Furthermore, it is completely natural and unrefined with nothing artificial added.

The Tempura featured
here is one example of recipes which may be entered in Planters Oil's "Great Cuisines of the World" Recipe Contest. Original recipes which use Planters 100% Pure Peanut Oil may be entered in one of six categories—French, Greek, Indonesian, Italian, Oriental and Spanish. For contest rules, look in your favorite store or write to: Planters Oil Contest Rules, Drawer "A", Madison Square Station,
New York, N.Y. 10010.

Finalists' recipes will be considered for use in future Planters Oil recipe books.

Everyone entering the contest will receive a free copy of Planters Oil's new booklet, "Frying Coast to Coast," which contains more than 50 inspiring recipe ideas for sauteing, stir-frying, pan-frying and deep-frying regional and international favorites. It also contains helpful cooking advice for perfect meals and a 50¢ coupon toward the purchase of Planters 100% Pure Peanut Oil. The Tempura pictured here is one of several international favorites featured in the "Frying Coast to Coast" booklet.

Tips On Toys

Helpful Hints for Fun,
Safety and Economy

FUN AND GAMES

An increasing number of Americans are enjoying family life more by rediscovering the pleasures of games that the whole family can play together.
According to the Toy Manufacturers of America, these family games are not only educational and developmental for youngsters, but they give adults an outlet for their skills too. Some of the electronic games are quite sophisticated. One television baseball game, for example, depicts plays and the game player must decide who fields the ball and where to throw it.

One of the major reasons
for this rediscovery of home
entertainment is the high cost of outside entertainment.

RURAL PHONES REAP A HARVEST OF NEW SERVICES

Maybe the swallows leaving San Juan Capistrano in California don't mind the 10,000-mile flight of their annual migration. But for some people in the rural community of Rancho Carillo, just outside Capistrano, a mere six miles may result in a few ruffled feathers.
For twelve years, members of the 43 resident families in that town had to travel six miles up a road that climbs 2500 feet—just to place a call on the town's only available telephone, in a coin booth on the highway!
Costs have been further trimmed by making telephone cables less tasty to the past. A combination of several advances by the Bell System has yielded some of the most technologically
sophisticated phone services
ever for rural residents.
Now, even small towns and villages can enjoy the same services commonly available only to big city customers, such as call waiting, 3-way calling, customer's pocketbook, TOUCH-TONE dialing, call transfer, waiting, speed calling, and faster handling of operational problems.

The technology that makes this all possible is the new Remote Switching System
(RSS) which allows customers who live up to 175 miles from a major existing switching center—usually in a population center—to utilize the sophisticated telephone west of the Mississippi.

But that's now a thing of the past. A combination of several advances by the Bell System has yielded some of the most technologically
sophisticated phone services
ever for rural residents.
Now, even small towns
and villages can enjoy the same services commonly
available only to big city
customers, such as call
waiting, 3-way calling, customer's pocketbook, TOUCH-
TONE dialing, call transfer,
waiting, speed calling, and
faster handling of operational problems.

150-million feet of this special protected cable in areas west of the Mississippi.

One of the major reasons
for this rediscovery of home
entertainment is the high cost of outside entertainment.

The commonest sound in language is the "a", as pronounced in our word
"father." No language is known that does not contain this sound.
