Fast Action Saves Girl, Prevents Total Loss

Local Youth Pulls Three-Year-Old From Home Fire

By John Dailey

Friendship can have many rewards and Lynwood and Patricia Bowland know that fact better than anyone.

If it wasn't for a friendship between Lynwood Bowland and Ron Gatlin that began when Bowland's son brought Ron home to fix the then 11-year-old youngster's bicycle the Bowland family would be much sadder today.

The now 16-year-old Gatlin pulled Lynwood's step-daughter and Patricia's daughter, three-year-old Desiree Wickstrom, from a smoky Thursday afternoon home fire at 624 Federal, no doubt saving the young child's life.

Then, along with his cousin Tyrone Bynum and next door neighbor and Nevada Test Site fireman Craig Bradshaw, Gatlin prevented the fire from spreading from the front living room and kitchen to the rest of the house.

Their quick action with three garden hoses spraying through the home's front windows prevented significant structural damage to the house. By the time Henderson firefighters arrived 80 percent of the blaze was out according to Bradshaw.

During the past five years Gatlin and Bowland have developed the across the generations friendship and if it wasn't for that relationship this might have been a very tragic story.

Bowland's work periodically calls him outside of town and during those times Ron checks in on the family to see if everything is fine and if anything is needed.

That is what happened Thursday when Gatlin made his regular check and decided that Bowland's front yard needed a trimming. He had talked to Mrs. Bowland, who told him she would be next door for a few minutes before she and the children went shopping.

Not more than five to ten minutes later, as Ron and cousin Tyrone began to unload the lawn mower from their van and prepared to cut the grass, they noticed smoke pouring out the front living room and kitchen windows.

Gatlin, knowing three-year-old Desiree was still in the house and her mother was next door, quickly reacted and bolted for the front door.

"I jumped over the fence and touched the doorknob and it was hot," Ron said. "I turned it just enough and

Rasco Store Robbed

The Rasco Store located at 524 S. Boulder Highway was robbed last Wednesday of $2060 in cash and checks by unknown suspects.

According to police reports, Rasco's bookkeeper was ringing out the night's receipts and went to lock the freight door. The office door did not close entirely and was left ajar. Apparently suspects went inside and took the money, which was enclosed in a bank bag, then remained in the store as if shopping. After a time the suspects left the store.

Barbara K. Fitzgerald of Henderson reported to police Saturday that her house had been burglarized and $10,128 in currency, jewelry, radio, television and camera equipment, firearms and miscellaneous items were missing.

Planners To Decide Gravel Pit Zoning Thursday

By Mike Zapolski

A final decision is expected Thursday night from the Henderson Planning Commission concerning a request by Richard C. MacDonald to erect a temporary plant to extract material for graveling at a location just east of Sky Harbor Airport.

MacDonald's request to construct a gravel pit adjacent to a residential area south of Lake Mead Dr. near the airport was greeted with stiff opposition from would be neighbors during the commission's April 22 meeting.

Debate on the matter was extensive, so the issue was tabled in order to give staff members a chance to study possible problems and make recommendations.

MacDonald serves as the President of the Tauri Investment Corporation, and he is specifically asking the city to rezone 50 acres of his property from a Rural Residence District to an Industrial District.

In areas of new business, the commission will be deciding another possible

Locals Did Well In Senior Olympics

Betty Williams, who headed the Henderson Steering Committee for the Senior Olympics held at UNLV recently also headed the fund raising drives for the event and through the sale of raffle tickets and aluminum cans as well as a walk-a-thon, raised enough money to support the event. Williams, who also entered a number of the athletic contests, took home eight medals.

She was second in free style swimming, second in racquet ball; third in 25 yard free style swimming and third in 25 yard breast stroke; third in croquet; third in broad jump; third in 100 yard dash and third in the 50 yard dash.

Marie Arey took first place in the fast walk; second in standing broadjump and third in the softball throw.

Bernard Klann was first in basketball throw and shuffleboard. Betty Ross took home medals in pool and bowling and Richard Leavitt also took home a medal in pool shooting.

Clarke Lampard of Boulder City took second place in the softball throw and in the basketball free throw. He was also second in standing broadjump and also second in eight ball pool.

Virginia Little took a medal in the walking races.

One of the highlights of the entertainment was a bus trip to the Famous 96 Ranch in historic Paradise Valley where guests were treated to a western barbecue followed by a demonstration of cowboy life as the ranch buckaroos cut new calves out of the herd and branded them. There is one little ranch dog at the 96 Ranch who will undoubtedly have fond memories of the crowd of newspaper people who visited that day -- that's if he doesn't have a stronger memory of a tummy ache because he made his tour of each table and many hands reached under the table with goodies.

then I kicked the door open."
"There was a lot of black smoke and the La-Z-Bôy and part of the couch were on fire," Gatlin continued calmly. "Desiree was lying on the part of the couch nearest the front door, the part that wasn't on fire. I grabbed just enough of her and got out ... it wasn't more than 10 seconds. She was very frightened and crying."
With the three-year-old Wickstrom safely carried to a neighbor's home Gatlin came back to the house to valiently fight the blaze with one of three garden hoses being employed.

"When I first tried to fight it," Bradshaw said Sunday. "I thought I might have singed my eyebrows off because the fire was so hot, but fortunately they're still there."
Henderson paramedics were at the scene long before the firetrucks pull up, according to Gatlin, and Bradshaw said one of the firemen told him after the blaze was out that the fire was 80 percent contained by their informal "garden hose brigade."

There was one casualty. Desiree's cat apparently tried to run through a rear-door sliding glass window and was found dead near the same location.
According to the city's fire inspector, Bob Blankenship, the fire apparently started when a lamp cord arc set the living room drapes on fire and quickly spread through the front portion of the house. The fire spread quickly because most of the home's windows were open.

Fitzgerald and her husband, who were staying at a motel while the house was undergoing renovation, last visited their house a day before the burglary occurred.
Eileen Mosler reported $3240 in jewelry missing last week. Police said Mosler's residence had not been broken into, but she has shown her house to several prospective homebuyers the past three months.

US Home, Inc. had $1,080 worth of electrical and copper wiring stolen from five street lights sometime during April, according to police. The wiring was taken from the construction site on Bastanchury Ave.
Police charged John F. Greene, 18, of Henderson, with larceny from a person and resisting - obstructing a public officer Saturday after he took $285 in jewelry from a juvenile's neck. Police reports said that the incident occurred at the 7-11 Store on Center St., and after running, Greene was apprehended near Rainbow St.

Brigitte K. Kieft, 48, of Henderson, was charged by Henderson police last week with assault with a deadly weapon. According to reports, Kieft was wielding a knife during a neighborhood dispute.

zone change.
Ken Kennedy of Sunset Marine and Tackle, located at 1305 E. Lake Mead Dr., will petition the commission to approve a rezoning of two parcels of land totaling 5.17 acres.
Presently, the two parcels are Rural Residence, but Kennedy is asking them to be rezoned as General Commercial Districts.
Kennedy is asking for the zone change for the purpose of expanding the existing bait, tackle, and boat business.

In other action, a representative of Phillip H. Taylor of Development Consultants Inc., of Las Vegas will appear before the commission asking for an architectural review.
Taylor is interested in building a hotel-apartment complex at the southwest corner of Post Road and Mountain Vista in the Green Valley neighborhood near Vo-Tech High School.

The commission will also be acting on a request for a vacation of land made by Robert Glassburn of 770 Lawrence Dr. in Henderson. The land is generally located near E. Lake Mead Dr. in the Valley View neighborhood.

Accident Results in Injuries, Citation

An accident Saturday resulted in a citation from the police and three injuries.
According to police reports, a vehicle driven by Daniel E. Phelps, 57, of Las Vegas, proceeded through a traffic signal while east-bound on Lake Mead Dr. A car driven by Martin R. Aguirre, who had the right of way on Boulder Highway, was struck by Phelps' vehicle. The impact of the collision forced Aguirre's car into a third car, driven by Lieselotte Ciardo, which was stopped at a left turn signal on Lake Mead Dr.
Three occupants of the vehicles were transported to Rose de Lima Hospital. Phelps was cited for driving under the influence with an accident and his bail was set at $500.

In a separate incident, Michael D. Crooks, 31, of Las Vegas, was cited for driving under the influence, leaving the scene of an accident, duty to report an accident to police and no motor vehicle insurance.
Police said Crooks was driving east in a parking lot adjacent to the Skyline Casino and turned south on Boulder Highway, oversteering, and sideswiped a legally parked car.

Kathleen A. Hayden of Washington was also cited for driving under the influence last week after colliding with a vehicle driven by Gregg Lisner of Henderson.
Police reported that Hayden rolled through the stop sign at Sunset Way into the path of Lisner, who was northbound on Sunset Rd. Lisner could not avoid the collision and broadsided Hayden.
Both drivers received moderate injuries and were transported to Rose de Lima Hospital. Lisner was cited for no proof of insurance.

New Location of Marian Residence Dedicated

by Darla Pierce

The dedication of Marian Residence's newest location at 241 Palo Verde was held April 26 to a standing room only crowd.

The home for pregnant, unmarried teenagers actually moved to the new building in August of last year after operating out of the building behind St. Peter's Church, which originally was the Convent of St. Peter's School, then Regina Hall.

When Regina Hall was moved to a new building in 1976, Marian Residence was begun to aide pregnant teenagers in need of food and shelter and who were considering adoption for their children, according to Thomas Miller, executive director for Catholic Community Services of Nevada, which operates the home.

Miller said to continue operating MARIAN House, a license similar to that of a convalescent home was needed, and Marian Residence would need to bring building standards up to date.

This included widening the halls and installing fire safety equipment in the building behind St. Peter's. A search then began for funds to construct an entirely new building for Marian Residence, which culminated in last week's dedication.

At the dedication ceremony Sister Marilyn Ingram, counselor for Marian Residence, gave the history of the home. She said a need was seen to help pregnant young girls, no matter what race or religion, after many such girls were observed lacking in "such physical needs as food, clothes and housing." Ingram added that "Marian Residence is our way of saying we believe in life."

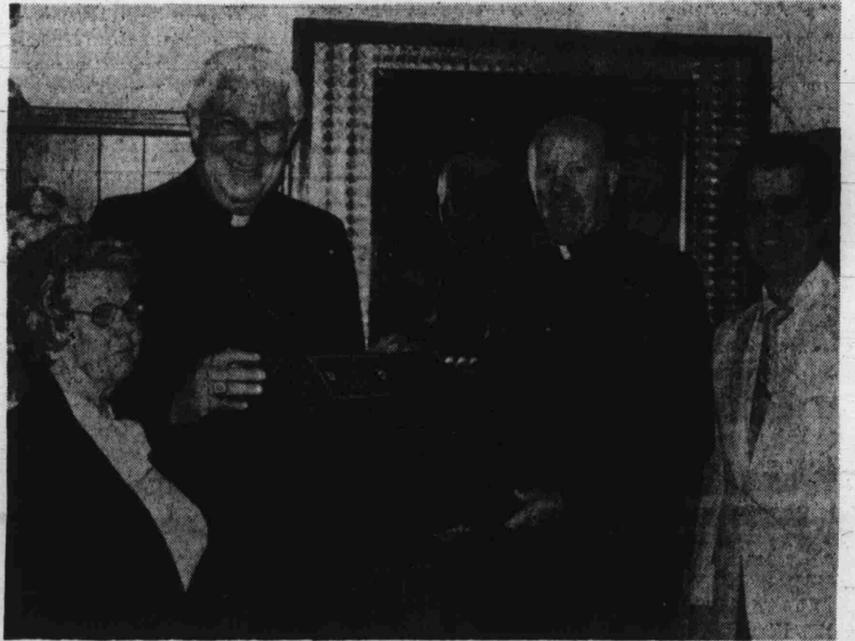

The dedication of Marian Residence was performed by Bishop Norman F. McFarland, who said "Marian Residence is an act of love for those in need and a respect and reverence for life itself."

Father Caesar J. Caviglia, president of the State Board of Trustees for the home, presided as Master of Ceremonies.

Caviglia acknowledged everyone who took part in helping construct the $300,000 Marian Residence building, including the Max C. Fleischmann Foundation, who donated the basic grant of $100,000, the Catholic Services Appeal, City of Henderson, Knights of Columbus, Catholic Daughters of America, Dr. Joel F. Bower, who handles most Marian Residence cases at Rose de Lima Hospital, United Way of Southern Nevada, St. Vincent Thrift Store and Staff and all the friends and donors giving of themselves.

The newly constructed Marian Residence provides a room with a study for each girl and includes a large kitchen and recreation area. Basic High School is located very close to Marian Residence, also, so girls may continue their education.

MARIAN RESIDENCE DEDICATION -- Shown with a plaque honoring the people who donated $100 or more to the newly constructed Marian Residence are Sister Marilyn Ingram, a counselor at the home, Bishop Norman F. McFarland, Father Caesar J. Caviglia, president of the State Board of Trustees and Thomas Miller, Executive Director of Catholic Community Services.

Taylor Tigers, Galloway Panthers Perform for National Dance Week

Swing Your Partner!

Students at Robert Taylor and Fay Galloway Elementary Schools celebrated National Dance Week last week by performing for other students and interested parents.

At Robert Taylor students performed a variety of folk dances that included "Tinikling" from the Phillipines, "Kinderpolka" from Germany, America's "Oh Susana" and "Oklahoma Skip," "La Raspa" from Mexico and "Mayium Mayium" from Israel.

In the physical education part of the program the Taylor Tigers performed the ABC Rock, Loop 'D' Loo, jumped jacks and hula hoops and tumbling stunts.

At Fay Galloway students danced to the new wave band the GoGos "We've Got the Beat" and performed other folk dances.

Orientation for New Junior High Students

Learning the ropes at Burkholder on Orientation Day

Students from the area's elementary schools have been visiting Lyal W. Burkholder Junior High School during the last week in an introduction to junior high school.

The youngsters, from Gordon McCaw, Fay Galloway, Harmon and Whitney are given complete tours of the school including gym and office. They eat lunch in the cafeteria and are introduced to the teaching staff and sports program.

Frank Lamping, principal said the orientation program gives the incoming junior high school students an opportunity to see what they will be doing next year and usually eliminates the feelings of strangeness and apprehension.

Salvation Army Presents Award To Cunningham

The Henderson Salvation Army Advisory Board presented a special award to one of the original founding members Friday on her retirement from the board.

Cunningham and Don Richards are the only original founding members on the Advisory still active in the organization. Cunningham said she and Richards and about eight others began the Henderson Salvation Army Advisory Board in 1974, shortly after the Salvation Army was organized in Henderson.

The Henderson Salvation Army has grown since it first began in Henderson, Cunningham said. "A lot has been accomplished by the army since it began," she added, including the Salvation Army's "beautiful" thriftstore.

O'Haley concluded the presentation to Cunningham by adding "we'll miss her."

Pearl McKey Wins 12 Medals At Senior Olympics

By Maryellen Vallier Sadovich

On Sunday, April 11, Pearl McKey finished her usual ten mile practice run through the canyons of Lincoln County. Then she celebrated her 58th birthday with a dinner party at the Branding Iron restaurant in Caliente. Her husband, Richard McKey, a pioneer Henderson retired businessman and many friends gathered around to ask questions about her health, her exercises, her speed, and her chances for success in the coming competition.

Five days later, McKey slipped into her little townsite house on Nickel Street in Henderson to make last minute preparations for her first entry in the Senior Olympics that began in Las Vegas on April 16. Before the day ended, she had won a silver medal in the Women's Open Basketball free throw competition. On Saturday, April 17, she won four more silver medals in the half mile bike race, the two mile bike race, the half mile walk race, and the five mile bike race.

Her many friends thought winning a silver medal, or even entering the competition at age 58 was truly a wonderful accomplishment, but she was disappointed. Hundreds of hours she had practiced. In the rain, snow, and cold of a Lincoln County winter, she had maintained her normal practice routine: a seven mile run every other day, and a ten mile run once a week, together with daily hours of exercise, 20 mile bicycle runs and six mile walks for endurance. Without a personal coach, without professional guidance, always alone because no one she knew could endure such interminable hours of practice, she had spent the past six months.

Her resting pulse rate had dropped from over 60 to 50, and fifteen pounds had been worn off her normally slender frame. From 115 pounds in October, she had weighed into the Senior Olympics at 100 pounds. The prospect of winning a gold medal had helped her to endure that rigorous training schedule.

On Sunday, April 18, success followed McKey like a shadow. She finished the one and a-half mile walk race in 18:40.05 minutes to win her first gold medal. A few hours later, she won two more silver medals in the 100 yard dash and the 220 yard dash. Proudly she finished that special day with two more gold medals for a 5'-4" and 3/4" place in the standing broad jump and a 7'-11" place in the running broad jump, a full 13 inches ahead of the closest contender.

But trouble was ahead. A tiny blood blister was already forming on the left big toe, rubbing against her shoe, causing her pain with each step. For a few hours she rested, coaxing her tired body back into shape, medicating the blister on her foot. On Saturday, April 24, she was back on the track, winning another silver medal in the 440 yard dash. On Sunday, April 25, she won the three and a-half mile fun run that brought a prize of running equipment from the Niki shoe company.

Her weight had dropped to 95 pounds, but the competition was over. Safely in her possession were three gold medals and nine silver medals. Fifty-eight year old senior citizen Pearl McKey of Caliente and Henderson had won at least a gold or silver medal in every event she entered in the 1982 Senior Olympics.

Henderson To Host Jazz Ambassadors Thursday

The Jazz Ambassadors of the United States Army Field Band of Washington, D.C., has astounded critics and audiences across the country.

Its versatility in blending the sounds of jazz, rock, pop and patriotic music has created a new concept in military organization.

The Jazz Ambassadors, directed by Chief Warrant Officer Paul Chiaravalle, will be appearing in Basic

High School, on Thursday, May 6, at 8 p.m.

The style of music performed by the Jazz Ambassadors has been experienced at stage band clinics, national music conferences and on countless college and university campuses with a proficiency found only in the recording studios of Los Angeles, Nashville and New York City.

The Jazz Ambassadors is presented in Henderson, by the Home News and Boulder City News.

Overall Winners of Industrial Days Talent Contest

JUMP, SHOUT, BOOGIE - The overall winners of the Henderson Industrial Days Amateur Talent Contest were Michele Fincher, Tracey Lopeman, Gail Scow and Chris DeLillo, who danced to the music of Jump, Shout, Boogie. It was mistakenly reported in the Henderson Home News Thursday, April 29, that Ronna Richards was shown speaking to Master of Ceremonies Mike Bradley. Ronna Richards did win the pre-school dance division, but Jennifer McMahon was shown with Bradley.

Enameling on Metal Workshop at Henderson CCCC Campus

On Saturday, May 8 a workshop on the techniques of Limoges, Cloisonne, Champleve, and Plique-a-jour will be given at the Clark County Community College - Henderson Campus, 700 S. College Drive, in the Science Lab.

If interested in attending the one-day workshop, please register at the Clark County Community College - Henderson Campus between the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. The registration fee of $3 will be paid at the time of registration prior to May 8 and registration will be limited to 15 participants.

Each participant will complete one enameled piece to be taken home at the end of the workshop.

THE "IN" DRINK
The newest "in" drink that's sweeping America comes in a bottle. It has no taste of its own but wins rave for its capability for refreshing. It's available in a variety of types. This popular beverage is bottled water. Recent surveys report that sales of bottled water in the U.S. have skyrocketed in recent years. The trend is predicted to continue in the coming decade, perhaps showing a growth rate of 15 percent annually.

Joanne Cooper, metalsmith, was awarded a grant from the Nevada State Council on the Arts to explore the techniques of enameling on metal.

Two workshops and an exhibit of the work produced by Joanne will be shared with the residents of Henderson to fulfill the requirements necessary to obtain the grant.

One workshop was given at the Art Espinoza Center in January, 1982 with nine seniors attending. An exhibit will be at the Henderson Public Library in September 1982.

This workshop has been made possible, in part, through a grant from the Nevada State Council on the Arts and the National Endowment for the Arts, a federal agency.

Munro and Arthur

Mr. & Mrs. Ross Munro

Miss Susan Joy Authur and Mr. Alick Ross Munro were married at 11:00 AM January 16, 1982 at the Donner Trail Dinner House in Verdi, Nevada.

Rev. David Wendleton, United Methodist Pastor and Chaplain of the Washoe Medical Center performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James S. Arthur of Concord, Massachusetts. Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Munro, of Henderson, Nevada are the parents of the groom.

Miss Mary Beth Meyer of Grand Island Nebraska, a nurse and co-worker of the bride at the Washoe Medical Center, was maid of honor.

Mr. Stephen Munro of Sacramento, Calif. was best man for his brother. Mr. Donald L. Arthur, of Concord, Mass. and Mr. James J. Arthur of Wellisley, Mass. were ushers.

The bride wore a Victorian gown of delicate ivory peau a chine and Brussels embroidery. Styled with a high wedding-band collar, of Brussels lace, the bodice and illusion neckline were accented with vertical bands of val lace and seed pearls on English tulle. A full sleeve of tulle and pearls fell over a fitted sleeve of peau de chine to a tight high lace cuff, fastened with tiny satin buttons. The full circular a-line skirt of soft peau de snine swept to a graceful chapel train and was bordered by beautiful Brussels embroidery.

Following a reception at the Donner house, the newlyweds departed on their honeymoon to Vancouver, British Columbia.

Mrs. Munro graduated from Concord-Carlisle High School, Concord, Massachusetts in 1973 and subsequently from the New England Baptist Hospital School of Nursing and Boston College. She is presently on the staff of the Washoe Center.

Mr. Munro attended the University of Nevada, and is owner of Western Plastics in Reno, Nevada.

Girls Show for Third

Basic Boys Cruise to State Swim Championship

At the beginning of the 1982 season Basic swim coach Teresa Sheppard said Basic might have its best chance in many years to win state from the perennial champion Reno.

And, as predicted, the Aqua Wolves boys team did just that, beating Reno and all others with 193 points, almost 70 points greater than second place Reno, to claim their first boys team state swim championship since 1977.

The Basic girls swim squad swam for third place behind champions Reno and second place Wooster of Reno at the UNLV pool.

Despite a throat infection, pharyngitis, that he suffered from all week and the forced one day's practice loss, senior team captain Roland Sparling again led the Aqua Wolves boys' team to the state title. Sparling repeated his zone performance winning both the 50 and 100 meter freestyle with times of 22.78 and 49.66, respectively.

Gary Thompson was Basic's other top swimmer winning the 100 meter breaststroke in 1:02.85 and overcoming a last-leg deficit in the 200 meter medley relay to beat the Reno team with a 1:45.70 time for first place. Thompson also placed fifth in the 100 meter butterfly with a time of 1:06.69.

Rick Bennett contributed to the team title with two third-place finishes in the 200 and 500 meter freestyle events. Randall Parry also helped with a fourth place finish in the 100 meter backstroke and a sixth place showing in the 200 meter individual medley. Basic boys'

400 meter freestyle relay team earned fourth place and divers Eric Coons and Larry Jones placed ninth and 11th, respectively.

For the Basic girls, Camille Nix's second in the 100 meter freestyle was the top performance for the distant third place finishers. Nix also placed third in the shorter 50 meter freestyle sprint.

Dana Sheehan was the only other Basic girl to place in the individual events with a fourth in the 200 freestyle and a fifth in the 100 meter backstroke.

The girls 200 medley relay team took third.

Both Basic's girls and boys teams finished the regular season undefeated in zone dual meet competition and both won zone championships.

Little Leagues Begin With Opening Day Festivities

By John Dailey

Henderson city councilmen along with Parks and Recreation Advisory Board members and department officials conducted opening day ceremonies for the city's youth baseball and softball programs Saturday morning at the Morrell Park baseball fields.

Mayor LeRoy Zike introduced Pee Wee League teams and threw in the first ball for the Pee Wee League's Basic Ready Mix Hawks vs. Titans game.

Councilman Kent Anderson introduced Midget League teams and threw in the ball in the league's first contest between the H.P.C. Angels and the J & K II Bruins.

Councilman Gary Price introduced the Ponytail Softball Minor League teams and threw out the first softball in the Nifty Nickel Slammers and Shakeys Roadrunners game.

Chairman of the Parks and Recreation advisory board Arthur Harszy introduced the Ponytail Softball Major League teams and heaved in the first softball in the Blue Jays - Vegas Valley Roofettes.

Director of Parks and Recreation Dundee Jones introduced guests while recreation superintendent Keith Elder coordinated the

Ponytail Softball

In minor league action the Slammers hammered the Roadrunners 19-6 and the Bad News Bears beat the Trooperettes 9-4.

In major league games the Blue Jays edged the Roofettes 11-7 and the Dodgerettes bested the Rosebuds 14-7.

Junior League Baseball

In the only games reported from the Junior League the Levi Cubs ran past the Orioles 10-3 and the Elks beat the Red Sox.

Potter Loses Sudden Death Playoff for Zone Golf Title

If Casey Potter of Basic High School had it his way, his tee shot on the first hole of sudden-death in the Southern AAA Zone golf championships Saturday afternoon at Calvada Country Club would have gone into the lake - just like Gorman's John Dawson's did.

Potter, however, wasn't so fortunate. While Dawson dumped his tee shot into the water, Potter found himself with an unpredictable downhill lie near the hazard and after barely clearing the marsh reeds, the senior wound up with a double bogey.

Dawson meanwhile, hit a career 2-iron straight to the flag and two-putted from 25 feet to capture his second straight Zone championship.

On a day when the winds made the 7,045-yard, par-71 course play longer, Dawson and Potter fired five-over 76s and made their way to the 441-yard, par-4 first hole.

Dawson, who was the early clubhouse leader before Potter parred 18 to force the playoff, hit his tee shot into the water and was forced to take a stroke penalty.

Potter, meanwhile, had the ball below his feet, tried to clear the marsh and somehow managed. His wedge shot flew on him and left him in the short rough, right of the green. Potter chipped down to within five feet and after Dawson two-putted for bogey, missed the putt.

"I would have preferred to have been in the water," Potter said. "I went back to the first tee afterwards, teed it up and hit it into the lake."

Both players toured the course with identical nines of 37-39. Potter saw a 15-foot birdie attempt at 18 hang on the left lip which would have given him the title outright.

Basic senior Chris Baker tied for seventh with a round of 81 to qualify for state. Classmate Adam Wilke, the only other Basic golfer competing in zone, tied with four other golfers for 20th place with an 89 and did not qualify for next weekend's state golf tournament, also at Pahrump.

Angels Edge Yankees in Pee Wee Highlights

Lloyd Peugh's fourth inning two-run double won a see-saw battle for the Angels Saturday in opening day action against the Yankees 14-13. Peugh's double scored Dan Doering and Raymond Morris who had walked earlier in the inning.

Todd Carducci's two-run homer in the first topped the Yankee hitting in the game.

The Bears held off a late-game rally by the Blue Angels winning 10-8. The Blue Angels scored five runs in the bottom of the fifth but fell short of the win.

In another close game the Pac-Out-Gibbers team slipped by Skip's Giants 13-12. Pac-Out scored a run in the fourth and four in the fifth while holding the Giants scoreless in those innings to claim the come-back win.

The Astros tallied five runs in the top of the fourth to secure a 9-5 win over the Gamblers, and in a cakewalk Basic Ready Mix pounded the Titans 20-3.

Pitching Performances Top Midget League Action

Eighteen strikeouts from Blue Jays pitcher Steve Lopez and a shutout hurled by the Cards Mike Pence highlighted opening day Midget League baseball action.

Lopez earned every out in the Blue Jays 9-4 win over the Astros by whiffing for all the outs. In six innings he allowed seven hits and four runs with one walk.

Pence led the Cards to their 11-0 shutout of the Phillies. Steve Johnson got the Cards started in the three-run first inning. Defensively, Doug Doering's unassisted double play preserved the shutout and rightfielder Bobby Elliot and third baseman Tim Strahl also made outstanding grabs for the Cards.

In other games the J & K II Bruins and the H.P.C. team battled to a seven-inning 4-4 tie and the Bad News Bears held off a late-game Royal rally to win 8-6.

HENDERSON KARATE - Henderson Karate fighters display trophies recently won in Bob Chaney's Karate Tournament April 10 and the Doolittle Open Karate Tournament April 15. From left to right, bottom row are Stephanie McNeal with four trophies for a first place sweep in both fighting and kata at both tournaments; Glenn Travis with a third place fight trophy; James A. Bell with a first place fight trophy; Alvin Smith with a first and second along with his grand champion's trophy; and Darrell Hayes with a first place kata, two seconds in fighting and kata and one third trophy in weapon kata; top row, black belt J.P. Pollins, Ken Proctor, Scott Lehman, brown belt Dominick Rodriguez and James Roushkolb. Karate instructor Stanford McNeal and Henderson's Shudo-Kan Karate will host their own karate tournament at the Henderson Boys' Club May 15 beginning at 10 a.m. The regional tournament will draw teams from Nevada, California and Arizona and those wishing more information may contact McNeal through the Boys Club.

Basic Baseball Loses Two Before Zone Playoffs

TOO LATE - Wolves catcher Loren Wolfe is too late with the tag and the Boulder City runner scores. Basic was slow to start in their last two games and rallies came too late as the Wolves drop their last games.

By John Dailey

Everyone hopes it is the darkness before the dawn. After the Basic varsity baseball team clinched the Sunrise division title last Tuesday they must have decided to take a vacation. In two regular season ending games the Wolves got behind and stayed there, losing to Western 10-6 Thursday and to much-despised Boulder City 5-4 Friday.

Basic begins post-season zone playoffs Wednesday against Bonanza at Valley High School at 3:15 p.m.

However, if the Wolves plan on playing like they have been, they might do better not to show at all.

In Thursday's debacle to Western the Warriors simply pounded the ball to break a 3-3 tie in the fifth. Basic helped Western in the three-run inning with an error and gave further assistance in Western's four-run sixth inning with one miscue.

Basic's biggest inning against the Warriors came in the top of the seventh when the Wolves made a feeble swipe to erase a seven-run deficit. Bryce Carr, Bob Scucci and Kurt Wolven scored in the inning.

Hopefully, senior right-hander Brent Cline's performance against Western will not be indicative of things to come. In five and 2-3 innings of pitching Cline allowed nine runs on 10 hits with five walks and four strikeouts to his credit.

Against the Eagles Friday Basic didn't make any costly errors but didn't decide to hit until the sixth inning and by that time it was too late.

Boulder City scored two runs in the fifth to lead 5-0. Basic scored in the bottom of the inning after Jeff McComb got onboard via the shortstop's error. Junior classmate Loren Wolfe tripled him home.

Wolfe's triple signalled other Basic batters and Scott Haney hit a three bagger to begin the seventh.

Carr got on by the shortstop's error and Bob Scucci brought them home with a towering three-run homer to left.

Down 5-4 with bases empty and two outs Anson Jones slammed another Boulder pitch for a triple. Jeff McComb ended the rally one run short with his final out pop-up to second.

Again, Basic pitching was not as impressive as it has been in the past. Junior lefthander Jay Ortolano pitched five innings, allowing three solid runs on six hits.

Tomorrow the Wolves face their stiffest challenge of the season in an opening round playoff game against Bonanza. The Bengals are the only team to beat Valley, and Basic split the two games the clubs played this season, losing badly the first time and winning the second game by centerfielder Ray Crunk's home run saving stab in the bottom of the seventh.

Newton Leads Basic Track In Bonanza ABC Meet

By John Dailey

Senior Jeff Newton won both the 110 high and 300 meter intermediate hurdles to lead Basic to their fourth place finish in Saturday's nine-team Bonanza ABC meet.

Basic earned 67 team points for fourth behind meet winners Bonanza, second place Valley and third place Rancho.

Newton's time in the 110 was 15.74 and in the 300, where he holds the zone's best mark of 40 seconds flat, the Basic senior eased into first with a 40.68 time.

Classmate Robert Hines was the Wolves only other first place winner with a 50.65 time in the 400 meter run. Hines also sprinted for fourth in the 100 meter dash with a time of 11.3.

Richie Newton, Jeff's

junior brother, placed in the most events of any Basic participant. He hurdled for third in the 300 meter intermediates, placed sixth in the 110 highs and ran for fourth in the 3200 meter distance run.

Wolves weightman Worner Heath, absent for the shotput, placed second in the discus with a 144'4" hurl. Sophomore Scott Derrick placed third in the pole vault with 10'6" jump.

Basic's 400 meter sprint relay team placed second with a time of 44.3 and the 800 meter relay team ran for with a 1:36.2 time. The Southern Zone AAA meet begins tomorrow with preliminary qualifying rounds at Clark beginning at 3 p.m. Zone finals will be run Saturday with the meet beginning at 6 p.m.

NOT QUITE - Senior Jeff Newton doesn't clear the last hurdle in the 300 meter intermediate event but that didn't stop him from taking an easy first place with a time of 40.68. Newton also won the 110 meter high hurdles with a 15.74 time.

'Boom Boom' Mancini Battles at Boat

Confidence is something young Ray "Boom Boom" Mancini isn't lacking. Ability is very high up on his list of attributes, too, but confidence? Well, Mancini sums it up quite aptly.

"I will be the world champion. I know I'm going to be champ. There's not a doubt in my mind."

Next question. But wait, Arturo Frias has a hand in all this; two of them actually. Whether or not Mancini really will reign will be determined Saturday, May 8, when the 21-year-old slugger from Youngstown, Ohio, meets Frias, the current World Boxing Association lightweight champion, in a 15-round, nationally televised title bout at the Aladdin Hotel.

The hard-hitting Mancini is one of -- if not the most -- impressive and popular youngsters in the sport today. His record of 22-1 with 17 knockouts speaks for itself. His popularity was secured when he gave a gutsy performance against World Boxing Council lightweight champion Alexis Arguello on Oct. 3, 1981, eventually losing by technical knockout in the 14th round. However, Mancini never stopped coming at the legendary Arguello, gave him trouble the first six rounds and was leading on points through 10.

"What I got out of that fight with Arguello was confidence," says Mancini, ranked No. 5 by the WBC and No. 10 by the WBA. "I learned a lot about myself in that fight. I got dropped in the 12th and got up. I took the man's best shots and came back."

Frias is a different type of fighter than Arguello, but Mancini respects him too. "I think he's an excellent fighter. He's very aggressive. He's physically strong. He's a proud champion.

"But I feel I'm the better fighter. I'm a harder puncher. I put my shots together. I think I'm better all-around than he is."

Mancini certainly is a busy fighter in the ring. He's always advancing, applying relentless pressure on his opponent, throwing swarms of combinations. This was never more evident than when he mauled Jorge "Kid Dynamite" Morales, a Las Vegas favorite and an aggressive fighter and strong puncher himself.

That impressive nationally televised showing came in May of 1981, just 19 months after he turned pro. Five months later he was up against Arguello, trying to win the crown for his father, a lightweight contender himself during the 1940s but whose title ambitions were thwarted by World War II.

Mancini scored two more knockout wins in outings after the Arguello experience, the most recent outing on January 23 when he halted Julio Valdez in the 10th.

Now it's a second chance at all the marbles -- at least the ones the WBA play with.

"I'm going to get Frias. It's my title."

The card, co promoted by Aladdin vice president Ash Resnick and Bob Arum, begins at noon in the Aladdin Theatre for the Performing Arts. Doors to the Aladdin Theatre open at 11:30 a.m.

Tickets are available 24 hours daily at the Aladdin casino cage priced at $100 for ringside, $50, $30 and just $15 for general admission.

Basic Softball Ends Season with Shutout Loss

Rancho's Rene Faiss pitched a three-hit 15-0 shutout over the Basic varsity softball team to end the season for the Lady Wolves.

Rancho moves on to post-season zone playoff Thursday.

Basic's only chance to score came in the third when the Lady Wolves loaded the bases with no outs. But the ruination of the shutout was not to be as a strikeout, a force at the plate and an outstanding grab by the Rancho leftfielder stopped the threat.

"Last time they pitched a no-hitter against us but we scored three runs," Basic coach Barbara Gillaspay said. "This time we get three hits; I don't know which is better."

The Basic varsity softball team finished the 1982 season 9-11 overall and 3-5 in division.

LITTLE KNOWN STORIES OF FREE ENTERPRISE

THERE REALLY IS A MAMA CELESTE

For those who lost faith when they learned that there was no Santa Claus, Mama Celeste brings a ray of hope.

Mama Celeste, an irrepresible woman who has made "Abbondanza" (meaning abundance) a household word, is an example of a very real person who continues to take an active interest in the product that carries her name today.

At 72, Mama Celeste Lizio is alive and well in Wheaton, Illinois. She's still the heart and soul of a big Italian family for whom food is life and livelihood. At home, as in many places, she is known for her incomparably good Italian cooking, her ready smile and her legendary generosity.

In the family circle, she is known for her lavish Sunday dinners, Italian feasts seasoned with the basil, sage, thyme, garlic, leeks and peppers that she grows in her own garden.

On the west side of Chicago, she is still celebrated as the cook and proprietress of the Kedzie Beer Garden (later called Celeste's Restaurant) on Kedzie Avenue, a thriving establishment from 1937 to 1962. Crowds of well-wishers from the old community gather to see her each year as she rides on a float in the Chicago Columbus Day Parade. There are shouts of "Mama Celeste! Mama Celeste!" and, of course, "Abbondanza!"

in her native tongue than she is conversing in English.

How, then, were her recipes duplicated in frozen food formulas? As she worked with food technologists at the research laboratories of The Quaker Oats Company, which has manufactured Celeste Frozen Pizzas since 1969, she picked up the amount of each ingredient that "felt just right" to her. Then, just before it was sprinkled on the pizza, it was taken from her hand for weighing. Mama's pizzas have been so popular that three new flavors have been added to the line: Suprema, Suprema without Meat and Canadian Bacon.

"My cooking is my life," says Mama. It has also been her life story.

At seven, little Celeste was at her mother's side cooking in the family restaurant in the Italian village of San Angelo, near Naples. At 21, she married Anthony Lizio and came to the United States.

Never did she leave food behind. They settled in Chicago and operated a grocery store on the West Side of Chicago for seven years. Then, in 1937, they opened the Kedzie Beer Garden in the same neighborhood. Together she and Anthony (who died in 1968) did all the cooking and established a reputation for the generosity of their servings. They did not skimp on human kindness either.

"I gave food to the poor neighbors," Mama says. It was during the restaurant years that Celeste Lizio became a mama. The Lizio children - Willie, Tony, Patrick and Clara - did much of the work of running a restaurant: helping with the cooking, washing dishes, waiting tables and greeting the patrons and friends who stepped inside to have a taste of Old Italy.

"We grew up there,"

she says Clara. "The customers became our family."

Their list of memories is long from the days when Celeste's on Kedzie was the place to go. They remember the singing waiters that crooned to the crowds; the venison and bear feasts; the spaghetti, manicotti and ravioli that they gave away; the seven-day work weeks; and the sweet satisfying aroma of Italian tomato sauce simmering in a pot on the back of Mama's stove.

In 1962, the Lizio's sold Celeste's restaurant. They had begun to freeze Mama's recipes in big portions to sell to other Italian restaurants. The Italian specialties proved to be so popular that the Lizio's soon had a thriving frozen foods business. When Quaker acquired their Celeste Italian Foods divisions in 1969, Mama agreed to be recipe consultant and spokesperson.

Times have changed, but the family still remembers the days of the family restaurant. The copper pans, once used in the restaurant, are still used by Mama today to prepare her generous Italian meals. "I still can't cook little," she says.

When Celeste was a little girl her mother had said to her, "Your hands will feed the world." When one considers the amount of food that Mama Celeste has prepared over the years, it appears that her mother's prophecy has indeed been fulfilled.

Our Fabulous Future

COMMUNICATIONS WORKERS IN SPACE

The day is coming when people in communications will be part of an inter-planetary group, with members in space, on the moon and beyond.

That's the view of Glenn Watts, president of the Communications Workers of America (CWA). The union, which represents 650,000 men and women, is not standing still, waiting for it to happen, Watts points out.

CWA has established a Committee on the Future to take a hard look at the changes ahead and plan to prepare for them.

At the same time, the union has embarked on a long-range Quality of Work-life (QWL) program, in conjunction with the Bell System.

Watts disputes those who say that labor is not keeping up with the times.

"Frankly," says he, "we think we're ahead of them. With a majority of our members in high technology industries, we're on the cutting edge of change. We know the world of tomorrow is coming because we're working there now."

The world is wired for the revolution in telecommunications.

Watts strongly believes in unions' role in shaping the future... as a full partner in shaping the American dream.

CWA officials are also enthusiastic about QWL. Along with the benefits of technology are increases in stress and alienation. QWL, they say, is a chance to get at problems of job stress, job satisfaction, work conditions, and human worth and dignity.

"QWL," according to Watts, "is one answer to critics who say unions are becoming less relevant. The QWL process goes beyond the concerns about pay, work conditions and job security. We look forward to the day when work meets human needs on a much broader and fulfilling scale."

As for the future of communications, Watts reports that the union has established pilot apprenticeship training programs. They'll provide high-level technical training needed for today and tomorrow.

"We're pioneering new areas of cooperation that will benefit our nation and its industries... and at the same time, we're increasing our concern for worker rights and benefits."

All this could spell a very exciting future for the people of America.

CONSTANT COMMENTS By DAVID & EUNICE BIGELOW

Summertime when living is easy, we're often asked, "What's the best way to make iced tea?"

If you follow these four easy steps, you'll get what we think is outstanding iced tea:

1. Bring 2 quarts of water to a boil in a large pot.
 2. Remove from heat and add 6 of your favorite Bigelow teabags. Try Constant Comment, the original orange-and-spice tea, Plantation Mint or Lemon Lift.
 3. Cover and let steep 15 minutes. Cool at room temperature before refrigerating.
 4. Serve with lemon and sugar in ice-filled glasses. Garnish with an orange slice or a sprig of mint.
- Cloudy iced tea? Just add some boiling water to clear.
