

Building Permits Easier To Understand, Obtain

By Lois J. Cherry
and Darla Pierce

Just one year ago, Henderson's Building Inspector department was embroiled in controversy with contractors and builders locally who were complaining that the rules of the game were being changed without advance warning and after contractors had fulfilled what they thought were the requirements on their projects, they were often changed by city inspectors.

J. E. Hildreth was then appointed Building Superintendent and stepped into a hot spot. Hildreth had been on both sides of the fence during his career and by using his knowledge and organizational abilities, he has since eliminated the confusion and extra time spent by contractors as well as his department when it comes to electrical, plumbing and building inspections.

First he met with the contractors, and the Chamber of Commerce. During those meetings, each side outlined its problems and he began setting up a system that would not be confusing.

Prior to his arrival, a contractor would contact the building inspector's department seeking a building permit and would be faced with a sliding scale of fees.

"It was a straight out of the book type of evaluation to determine permits. By doing this, if you wanted to do something around your home, you would call in wanting basic information such as how much your permit would cost, would work on a sliding chart to determine your evaluation. It would be based on how many electrical outlets or how many plumbing fixtures in other words count everything and go to the scale to determine what your fees would be and half the time I couldn't give an answer on the phone," Hildreth explained.

He then revised the entire system and went to a simple single fee scale. Basically, for a homeowner, it meant that if the homeowner builds a fence he would be charged a flat fee of $25 "no matter if it is ten feet or 10,000 feet." If it is a retaining wall, because of the additional inspections, the cost is $50 regardless of the size.

He said there is no point in charging the builder for a longer fence or wall when it didn't cost any more to inspect the structure.

First City-Wide Blood Drive Tomorrow

One Man's VIEW

By MIKE O'CALLAGHAN

Editor's Note: It's almost school time and today our guest columnist is Superintendent of Schools Robert E. Wentz.

As school districts across the nation are experiencing declining enrollment, we face the challenge of being the nation's fastest growing major school district.

For the past two years, enrollment has increased by an average of 1.2 percent per year throughout the Clark County School District. Yet during that same time, Henderson school enrollment has increased 6 percent and Boulder City has shown a yearly gain of 3 percent.

History has consistently shown a significant growth in both these areas. Anticipating and planning for future enrollment increases in Henderson, Green Valley, and Boulder City is a high district priority. As a direct result, Henderson's B. Mahlon Brown Junior High School is scheduled to open in late November of this year.

The opening of this new junior high school offers a great opportunity to blend the sixth, seventh, and eighth grade curriculums and develop a sound new program for Henderson's youth. The strong academic program will implement an exploration approach to learning.

Brown's administrators and teachers are making special arrangements to ensure sixth grade students experience a smooth, gradual adjustment into junior high school.

Sixth graders at Brown will spend half of the school day in a self-contained classroom similar to the elementary setting. During this time, students will do coursework in reading, English, spelling, social studies, and penmanship.

For the rest of the school day, sixth graders will rotate to classes for mathematics, science, physical education, music, art, band, or strings, depending on their schedules. This junior high setting allows sixth graders to expand their horizons while maintaining the social development of the sixth grade child.

Opening a new school may be compared to beginning a new school year. New resolves are made, new ideas are implemented, and everyone

Public Service Commission Okays CP Rate Increase

CP National was granted a 15 percent rate increase Monday by the State Public Service Commission.

The increase followed the public hearing held last month at the convention center in Henderson and was slightly less than four percent lower than the increase requested by the gas utility.

The new rates will take effect as soon as official approval arrives from Carson, City and the utility files a tariff sheet.

The latest rates will result in $377,000 additional for CP National Gas locally.

The utility asked for $500,000 but the commission toned down the request. This latest order permits CP to earn a 16 percent profit on its common equity.

In addition, the new monthly service charge per meter is $3.40 compared to the old rate of $2.23. Hookup fees will be increased from the present $10 to $21 and the reconnection charge will also be increased to $21 from $10 during working hours. If the reconnection is made after working hours the rates will go from the present $15 to $30.

According to John Hollman, manager of the local office, CP National does not plan any additional requests for rate increases in the near future.

He said the only reason for a hearing would be if Southwest Gas is increased by El Paso Natural Gas and passes on the new rate to its contractors.

IPP Gets Public Service Commission Approval

The Intermountain Power Project received approval from the state Public Service Commission for the transmission line corridor across Southern Nevada for two giant power lines to provide electricity to Los Angeles in the years ahead.

The lines are intended to run through the corridor now in question in Henderson. A portion of the corridor passes through the eastern portion of the city and there is an application for a use permit for the corridor from Intermountain Power Project and Nevada Power jointly.

In recent action, the City Council rejected the use variance and asked the city staff to enter talks with the power companies to seek another route from the Bureau of Land Management.

LITTLE MISS -- Misty Reynolds, 6, was named "Little Miss Alice in Wonderland" for the 6-11 age group Aug. 7 at the Meadows Mall. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Reynolds and will start first grade at the Fay Galloway School.

Officials are hoping for a large turnout of Henderson residents to contribute blood for the city's first community-wide blood drive tomorrow at St. Rose de Lima hospital from noon to 7 p.m.

The drive will be held in the hospital annex, according to Linda Kirk, Mobile chairman for Henderson's first city-wide drive, who is working with Bill Coutta, donor resource specialist for United Blood Services of Southern Nevada.

United Blood Services of Southern Nevada serves 15 hospitals in Southern Nevada, including St. Rose de Lima, and Arizona and Southern California. Blood drives are held in the many communities served by these hospitals to assure that an adequate supply of blood is always available. Henderson is trying to identify as an independent city and not a suburb of Las Vegas so it is having its first community blood drive.

United Blood Services does not charge hospitals for the blood itself but charges only a processing fee to recover the expense of collecting, testing, and delivering the blood. Since blood is donated by volunteers, blood services says it would not be right to charge for the blood itself.

Generally anyone in good health between the ages of 17 and 66 may donate blood. You may weigh a minimum of 110 pounds and in most cases, cannot be taking prescription medications. Before you donate blood your temperature, pulse, and blood pressure will be taken

Gibson's Prominence Scares Away Opponents

Incumbent Unopposed in State Senate Race

Editor's Note: This article begins a series of weekly stories in Thursday's NEWS editions on the upcoming election this fall.

By John Dailey

Henderson's state senator Jim Gibson is breathing a lot easier nowadays.

Upcoming elections, usually upsetting and troublesome for Gibson, will not give him a minute of lost sleep this fall.

For in 1982 the state senate majority leader has been given a bye, a free ride to his position of leadership in the 1983 Nevada State Legislature.

Gibson was the only candidate who filed in the State Senate District 1 race, and his unopposed candidacy stands as evidence to his prominence and power in State Senate District 1.

The 16-year veteran of Nevada's upper house serves a district with varied interests that include industrial Henderson, suburban Boulder City and rural and agricultural Moapa Valley.

Perhaps a greater testament to Gibson's unopposed election is that he is the only Clark County legislator to receive such a distinction and one of two locally elected public officials running in unopposed races. The other, also a Democrat, is Clark County District Attorney Bob Miller.

"I'm so happy about it, I really haven't sought to look behind it ... I hope it's because they (the voters) felt I have served the people well in my position," Gibson said. "I really have no way of knowing, all I know is that I'm greatly relieved."

Gibson went on to say that he thought there was a great deal of political interest in the district, citing higher than average turnout in local precincts.

In the 1983 Legislature Gibson will be serving a seldom experienced fifth term for a Nevada legislator. Add to his 16-year experience in the state senate four two-year terms in the assembly and Gibson becomes one of the most experienced legislators in Nevada history, a total of 24 going on 28 years in the state legislative branch.

Returning as senate majority floor leader in the 1983 session Gibson anticipates seeing a lot of new faces in both upper and lower houses.

"The senate will probably have seven to eight new members," Gibson said, "however, six of those could be people who are now in the assembly ... I don't see a lot of change in the senate, philosophically I think it will be about the same."

"In the assembly, that's more difficult to anticipate ... it looks like there will be at least 20 new members in the assembly," Gibson said. "Of course, almost all of those (legislators) will be new to the Legislature."

Henderson's sole senate representative said that with so many new faces running for assembly seats, Republicans could have an outside chance to gain control of the lower house, refuting, he said, the idea that a younger legislature makes for a more liberal one.

Many legislators have given up public office recently for private life, citing other more pressing obligations, and the fact that low compensation for legislators makes it impossible for them to take six months out of their schedules for a biennial legislative session. "I fly home every weekend to catch up on my work," feels a renewed surge of enthusiasm. At this time, input from the community must be a part of the overall planning if a school or a school district is truly to meet public expectation.

Whether the issues involve scheduling, curriculum, overcrowded classrooms, or extracurricular activities, parent involvement is our goal.

We can never stress enough the importance of parent involvement at all levels, including the secondary schools.

Our purpose for seeking parent involvement is for no reason other than the simple fact it affects how students perform in school. Research and experience reveal that the more involved parents are, the better children achieve.

Parent involvement is an important aspect in all the developmental stages of a child's learning.

Before people become in-involved, they should first be well informed. Here our responsibility to work hand in hand with all the news media is of prime importance. An earnest and ongoing effort to keep community members accurately informed will be a primary concern of our District during the coming school year.

As enrollment continues to rise in the District, the input of community members into solutions for overcrowded classrooms will play a vital role.

All of the educational concerns of our community eventually tie in to the legislative process. Although carried out locally, education under the Constitution is a state function. One of the only two mandates given the state legislature by our Nevada Constitution is to provide for the education of our school children.

The amount of funding available for education is controlled by the state legislature. Rising costs and the need for increased expenditures are two of the major concerns our District faces. During this coming legislative year, it is our urgent responsibility to present an accurate accounting of these needs to individual legislators.

But we cannot accomplish our purpose alone. Legislators respond to the community and to individual attitudes and feelings. We need the help of every concerned citizen to let their legislators know the value they place on education. We must never lose sight of the fact that the quality of our educational process determines the quality of our society.

When it comes to schools, keeping informed, staying involved, and investing in the future is the only hand to be played by parents and concerned citizens. Education is the surest game in town.

Local Leading Ladies Brief Rotary on Growth

Selma Bartlett, Betty Scott and Sister Maureen Comer briefed local Henderson Rotarians Tuesday concerning the growth and outlook for Henderson in the present and the future.

The trio of Henderson's leading banker, educator and health care official presented the program "Growing Toward Tomorrow" that included slide presentations and informative talks from each of the ladies' area of expertise.

Scott opened the program presenting a personally compiled fact sheet on the community that included past to future projections of population growth, housing growth, construction permit growth, school-age population growth and a brief synopsis of local industry.

Bartlett continued the business brief by pointing out the city's four major industrial centers included the B.M.I. complex, Horizon Industrial Park (south Boulder Highway), and manufacturing and distribution centers located in Pittman and Green Valley.

The Henderson branch manager for First Interstate Bank said the city's downturn in the housing market was symptomatic of the nation's building woes, but added that though homes were moving slower few were being left vacant, and the local market was "not stagnant."

One other positive note, Bartlett said that although citizens read of the layoffs at the plants, Henderson's industrial core, the B.M.I. complex still employs many workers. "We have valleys and peaks but employment is still good and PEPCON (Pacific Engineering and Production Company of Nevada) and TIMET (Titanium Metals Corporation of America) have expansion projects underway," Bartlett cited.

Sister Comer told Rotarians about St. Rose de Lima's 3.1 million dollar expansion of emergency care facilities and showed how the hospital has experienced rapid growth in patients during the past five years.

Sister Comer also informed Rotarians of the hospital's efforts to set up a foundation and of the expansion of the professional staff that now includes 129 specialists available at the local hospital.

Next week at Henderson Rotary's weekly Tuesday luncheon, new Clark County School District superintendent Robert Wentz will be the featured speaker.

Also reduced, were the number of permits required. At one time, a permit was needed for electrical, plumbing and building and HVAC (heating, ventilation and air conditioning). When the builder applied, all fees are paid in one permit. Thus instead of computing by the number of outlets and fixtures, the fee is determined by the square footage.

The new system simplified office procedures. Office help no longer must keep track of four different forms and four different fee schedules.

"We were no longer losing money through the cracks because people, through no fault of their own, would hire contractors who never bothered to buy permits. We have a number of buildings in this city which never had HVAC and never had a permit paid for. Others never had a plumbing permit bought. All of this was costly to the city and in turn it cost people living in the city," Hildreth explained. "Now, all fees are paid up front."

"There is now one form printed instead of four and we have come up with a simple validation form which is issued to the sub contractors who have it validated when needed."

Hildreth is gradually updating and simplifying other ordinances. A new sign ordinance was recently adopted.

One of the major differences between Henderson's old sign ordinance and the sign ordinance adopted by the City Council in June is about eight pages, according to the city's building superintendent.

Hildreth, said that the city had wanted to change the sign ordinance adopted in 1967 (the first sign ordinance enacted in Henderson), but were creating an ordinance following the restrictive terms the first was based upon. Hildreth came up with an idea to make the ordinance much shorter and easier to understand.

"This is the first can-do ordinance in the whole valley," Hildreth explained, noting that it points out exactly what type of sign can be put up instead of what is illegal. "If we enforced the old ordinance no one could have put a sign up," Hildreth said.

Because the ordinance was so restrictive, "it created a number of illegal signs," Hildreth noted, adding "the building department just looked the other way."

When composing the current ordinance, Hildreth said he met with the Chamber of Commerce, local businessmen and sign contractors in order to get their opinion on what would be in the best interest of everyone. After about three months, ordinance number 806 was approved by the City Council.

"You don't have to have an attorney to figure it out," Hildreth said of the city's current sign ordinance. "The whole key is the chart."

Within the ordinance is a chart listing the acceptable types of permanent and temporary signs, where a contractor or individual may install a sign (single family residential, civic, casino, etc.) and how large the sign may be.

"If it's not in there (the chart) you just can't have it," Hildreth pointed out. "The ordinance is easier to enforce because it's simplified."

Included in the ordinance are definitions of types of signs. For example, it explains what the city defines as a billboard sign, grand opening sign, pole sign, etc. "The terminology has been simplified, also," Hildreth added.

A sign that was deemed legal under the old ordinance is still considered legal under the current ordinance, Hildreth said, as long as it is maintained properly. If a sign is found in "dilapidated" condition, it can be removed by the city and not allowed to be installed again.

In the days of the old sign ordinance, a sign permit fee was based on such items as the square footage of the sign, if the sign was electrical or not, if it had ballasts, if electrical components were inside the sign, etc. Now the building department charges a flat rate of $25 for every sign permit, except for painted wall signs.

Hildreth said painted wall signs are very difficult to remove, so before an individual can erect this type of sign, the design has to be approved by architectural review through Henderson's planning department. A sign permit, only in this instance, costs $50, Hildreth noted.

Since he worked closely with local businesses and sign contractors, Hildreth said he has heard few complaints about the city's current ordinance. He mentioned that a few sign companies contracting in Henderson as well as other cities in the area have expressed a desire to give a copy of Henderson's sign ordinance to their commissioners in hopes of revising those particular sign ordinances to one like Henderson's.

"The sign contractors liked the ordinance so well because it was easy," Hildreth explained.

Although Henderson does not have any local sign contractors, some companies from other cities are licensed to do business in the city. Hildreth said sign contractors must be licensed through the state as well as in each city they practice.

Bob Shaw of Shaw Signs, which has been in business in Las Vegas for over 30 years, said Henderson's sign ordinance "seems to be pretty good."

Although Shaw said he would like to have sign inspections completed the same day he installs signs (eliminating the need for two trips, which raises his prices), he said "it's starting to work better."

As one of the licensed contractors in Henderson, Shaw noted that "it's good that they're policing it (the ordinance)."

Hildreth said one of the most important reasons a city needs a uniform sign ordinance is because visitors driving through the community sometimes judge it by the signs they read.

Neat, uniform signs project a positive image, while a rundown, old-looking sign gives the impression of neglect.

Presently being studied is a new ordinance covering swimming pools. The original pool ordinance had 63 pages and it has been rewritten into approximately six pages.

The new ordinance will follow standards adopted by the National Pool Institute which constantly upgrades all swimming pool specifications.

In addition to his regular duties Hildreth also conducts occasional classes for the do-it-yourself home builder.

There are three field inspectors covering the construction in the city and Hildreth said they overlap into each other's department. "They keep learning about other fields and in time all three will be equally qualified to inspect plumbing, electric and building."

A growing city with its unique growing problems and through a common sense approach, the building superintendent is making it easier to build using proper and safe standards.

Delwin Potter Files for JP

Delwin C. Potter filed for the office of Justice of the Peace for the Henderson Township, an office he previously held from November 1964 to February 1975. When elected in 1964, he was the youngest J.P. in the nation.

Potter was born in Boulder City and has lived in Southern Nevada all his life. The Potter family took up residence in Henderson, Nevada, in 1952 and 5 of Delwin's 6 brothers and sisters also make Henderson their home.

Potter serves on the Board of Directors of the Henderson Service Club. In 1967 he served as President of the Henderson Kiwanis Club and was District Chairman of the Lake Mead District of

Driver Injured in Rollover

A Henderson resident was involved in an accident on Monday evening when her car overturned after striking a large boulder on the shoulder of Mountain Vista near Sunset Road.

Darlene Louise Taylor was slightly injured after her 1980 Chevrolet spun out of control after running over some gravel on Mountain Vista.

According to police reports, Taylor's car left the east side of the roadway and ran over several trees and bushes before striking the boulder and flipping over.

Police said that there were no warning signs posted along Mountain Vista concerning the gravel.

Early yesterday morning, a storage closet and a box of clothes caught on fire at 411 Ilmenite due to an electrical short.

According to Bob Blankenship, training officer for the Henderson Fire Department, the fire was caused by the improper use of lightweight extension cords.

Apparently, the wires shorted out and caught the clothes on fire. The blaze then spread to the walls of the closet, but fire officials said that the damage was not extensive.

A Monday evening accident resulted in the citation of Carl Vonree, of 367 Nebraska in Henderson.

Police charged Vonree with driving under the influence, leaving the scene of an accident, and for not having proper insurance.

Police reported that Vonree ran into a combination cement block and wood fence in the alley behind Nebraska. After damaging approximately 12 feet of the fence upon impact, Vonree left the scene of the accident.

The owner of the home where the fence was damaged, Cody Wilkins, was able to identify Vonree as the person who had damaged his property.

Basic High Expects 1929 Students

Basic high school expects to start the school year with more students than ever before, Principal Lanny Lund said. Around 1928 students registered for the Henderson school last spring and he expects more by the time school starts.

When school ended last year there were 1700 students at the high school. Lund said the school will not have any trouble handling the large number of students, in fact they will use two classrooms for testing centers.

The school is completely staffed. There are 72 classroom teachers, two deans; five counselors, a librarian, five special education teachers. Other support staff includes custodial and cafeteria people, 21 secretarial and security people.

Registration packets will go out to students beginning tomorrow. New students should make contact with the high school as soon as they move to the community. A registration schedule will be printed in the Henderson Home News.

"We look forward to an exciting and successful year," Lund said. "The buildings are in shape and we've already expanded some additional programs." Lund said they have a new program in Zoology. They also have creative writing sections having gone from one to three classes.

Don Taylor, assistant principal, said they should have a good year from all indications.

Teachers will report for school Aug. 24, Lund said, and classes will begin August 30.

University Chancellor to Speak at Chamber Installation

Dr. Robert Bersi, chancellor of the University of Nevada Systems will be the guest speaker at the Henderson Chamber of Commerce installation banquet to be held Friday, Aug. 20 at the new Henderson Convention Center.

The evening will begin with cocktails at 7 p.m. and dinner will be served at 8 p.m. Father Caesar Caviglia, acting as master of ceremonies, will install both the new 1982-83 officers and directors of the Henderson Chamber of Commerce, and the officers and trustees of the Chamber's Henderson Industrial Trades Division. The Chamber's new officers who will be installed are Ben Stepman, president; Betty Scott, first vice president; Jess Bachman, second vice president; and John Holman, treasurer.

The Henderson Industrial Trades officers are Lou LaPorta, president and Bob Campbell, vice president.

TWA's John Sweeney Retires

After 36 years service with Trans World Airlines, John Sweeney, Las Vegas manager for passenger sales, retired from the company, effective August 1.

Leaving the Air Corps after World War II, Sweeney joined TWA as an International Agent at Chicago's Municipal Airport for Trans World's flights to Europe. Since that time he has held management positions in Chicago, San Francisco and Las Vegas.

Active in many travel industry activities in this area, Sweeney is a member of SKAL International, ASTA, Sons of Erin, Foreign Travel Club of San Francisco, a past president of the Chinese Travel Club, Pacific Area Travel Association, Hualapai Club and the San Francisco and Las Vegas Press Club.

Sweeney elected to take early retirement rather than relocate in Dallas, Texas, as manager-passenger sales for TWA, so that he can remain in Las Vegas, as a consultant in a travel related organization. He resides with his wife Marjorie in the Green Valley area.

New Program Being Introduced Burkholder Welcomes 1000

Lyle Burkholder Junior High School will open its doors to approximately 1,000 students this fall, according to Frank Lamping, plus 300 who were scheduled to attend the not yet completed Mahlon Brown Junior High School.

The seventh graders will be accompanied by the teachers also scheduled for Mahlon Brown and Lamping said Burkholder has set aside an entire wing for the three month period the students are expected to attend.

As of this writing, Burkholder students were being advised they will register by mail and all information was being mailed to the homes. Registration begins on August 16 and ends on August 29. The teaching staff at Burkholder consists of 55 including counselors and librarian with Steve Williams coming in this year as a new librarian.

Juleen Angola and Curtiss St. John will be welcomed as the new special education teachers; Linda Gardner, Spanish; Barbara Homes, Language Arts; Skip Walsh, reading; Janet Gabriel in typing; James Nordgren, band and Becky Harkins, speech.

Lamping said a new program will be initiated this year for students. A club program, such as Spanish, Music, etc. will be offered to the youngsters. Lamping said he hopes a number of parents will join the Parent's Advisory Board in order to help with the program.

The students will have a Student Government which gives them an opportunity to get involved in student affairs and an interesting and educational series of assemblies are scheduled.

Burkholder Junior High School is also unique in its sixth and seventh grade mini-course Exploratory program in which students are given the opportunity to explore a variety of subjects and interests which are available in the school.

Subjects include: Home Economics, Arts & Crafts, Wood Shop, Communications Skills, Typing, Music Appreciation, Library

Skills and Foreign Language. The mini-courses last six weeks.

The regular Junior High sports program has been eliminated by the school board, but Burkholder is substituting by involving the entire student body in competition between the home rooms.

The dress and grooming code, adopted by the school board will be in effect. 1. Mini skirts-dresses above mid-thigh length are considered to be brief attire and are therefore prohibited. 2. "Skorts" are defined as shorts. Shorts are any split-legged attire above the knee, and are prohibited. 3. Leotards worn underneath "skorts" are also prohibited.

Recent information that a teacher at Burkholder had tuberculosis has resulted in a testing program for some of those students who have possibly been exposed. Those parents have been informed by a personal letter from Dr. Otto Ravenholt of the program. Since the illness was identified, 26 family members and contacts have been tested and none of them have shown any sign of being infected.

Mail registration will begin on August 16 and end on August 27. Reading and math testing programs for all new students will be held at 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. in the library on August 17. First day of school is August 30 with the new school hours from 8:10 a.m. until 2:10 p.m.

Pittman Has Grown Up Beautiful

The Pittman area of Henderson has undergone a metamorphosis in the past few years and now it can take its place of importance in our community. It has grown up beautiful.

The settlement of Pittman dates back to the days of the Boulder Dam construction when it was known as Midway City. In those days, Pittman was the scene of many tents and temporary buildings. After the dam was complete in February of 1935, the construction workers moved away, leaving Pittman in a declining state. It was not until the event of World War II, when the Basic magnesium plant was built and Pittman again was flooded with residents that the town was granted a post office and its name was changed from Midway City to Pittman in honor of the late U.S. Senator Key Pittman. Later on the community was annexed to Henderson, but it has retained its identity as Pittman.

HUD Grants Help

The metamorphosis of Pittman began when property owners in the area built some nice homes and resided in them. A few years ago the city applied for a federal block grant to upgrade the Pittman area with new streets, sidewalks, lights and flood control. To date a total of $1,828,255 has been spent in the upgrading of the area. The city constructed a fire station there and a park adjacent to it. The city began utilizing the Women's Club building for a community center and the offices of the community development department's housing rehabilitation office. A number of loans and grants were made to home owners who wished to upgrade their homes. The program provided specifications, drawings, inspections, and the contractor supervision necessary to complete rehabilitation in the Midway city target area.

Several new industries located in the area and an assessment district to improve Sunset Road into the industrial area will dress up the entrance.

U.S. Homes Builds

Another motivating factor in the improvement of the Pittman area has been U.S. Homes.

With affordable attractive homes on nice streets and off-site improvements, many people have found it possible to purchase a home in the Pittman area. Townhouses are now under construction that are attractive and affordable in price, and U.S. Homes is planning another housing section in their over-all plan.

Pittman (Henderson) is no longer a place to joke about, it is one of the finer areas of the city and is proving to be a low crime area. The city and the people of the Pittman area should be congratulated for the work they have done in the past few years to make it a nice place to live.

Story of the Old Men

JERUSALEM -- He is a paratrooper, a reservist now, but once a volunteer and he was called up with the others for the invasion of Lebanon. His unit took the refugee camp at Ein Hilwe, a virtual PLO fortress, and when he told the story about it, slowly and in good English, he nearly cried when he got to the part about the old men.

The old men were two Palestinians. For days their camp had been bombarded by the Israelis and in a lull in the fighting they came out and tried to surrender. One of them raised his arms over his head and the other held a case of Pepsi Cola. "We have brought you Pepsi," he yelled. The soldiers shooed them away.

The paratrooper's name is Yehoshua Yashuv. He is short, with red hair and a red beard. He is 27 years old, a student going for his master's in German History. In 1973, he fought the Egyptians along the Suez Canal and last month he chased the PLO all over southern Lebanon. This time, though, his heart was not in it.

His unit was told not to kill civilians, he said, but it was hard to tell the civilians from the fighters. They were not supposed to kill women and children, but they saw the artillery do just that -- and their air force and the tanks. Only the troops on the ground could tell a civilian from a fighter. Only the troops on the ground had to make such a choice. Only the troops on the ground, he said, saw the PLO kill civilians who tried to flee.

Yashuv and soldiers who share his beliefs were against the war from the start. To them, the survival of Israel was not at stake. This was not like the other wars where the Arabs struck first or Israel was otherwise clearly provoked. "When we fought the Egyptians, we knew that if we lost they would be in Tel Aviv in two days," he said. The war in Lebanon is a different story.

It would be too much to say that Yashuv is a typical Israeli. He is not. He and the 2,000 or so other soldiers who have formed an organization called Soldiers Against Silence are a distinct minority. They are against Menachem Begin politically and in some sense morally, and what pains them most of all is their feeling that they are fighting for an Israel that may no longer share their values.

It is an Israel that launches a war on pretext. It is an Israel that invades Lebanon not only to make the northern Galilee safe, but to rearrange the Middle East -- clean it up, make it tidy. It is an Israel that said it will go 25 miles into Lebanon and then keeps on going, that in the name of the Galilee bombs Beirut, that declares cease - fires and then, according to Yashuv, breaks them. And it is an Israel that took its fight into an area where the civilian population was indistinguishable from the fighters and sometimes it was an Israel that had to kill them both.

To Yashuv, the old men are symbols of what Israel did in Lebanon. The troops were told not to kill civilians, and he swears they did not -- "not a one." But that is because they were on the ground, close to them. They could tell who was who and what makes the old men bring tears to his eyes is his realization that if they had been farther away, he would have killed

"You ask yourself a question," he said. "At 500 yards, they were targets. At 100 yards, they are human beings. Stupid, maybe, naive maybe -- but they are human beings."

No wars are without their moral ambiguities. In America, the Vietnam War effort was crippled by them. In Israel, though, the wars have been neat, the enemy almost always another army. What brings tears to Yashuv's eyes is not only the old men, but the trap he is in. He can fight in a war he abhors, or he can, as one officer did recently, simply refuse to be a soldier any more. The latter is repugnant to him. He fights, he says, not for the Israeli government, but for the Israeli people.

In this sense, he is just another young man being used by politicians. His life is a card that can be played -- maybe in Tyre, maybe in Sidon, maybe in Beirut. This war not in self-defense, but war for political and strategic objectives. And in Israel and elsewhere it is being judged not on its morality, but on its success or failure. If it works, it was right. This is not the morality that for years made Israel a nation to admire.

Recently Yashuv and about 35 other soldiers sent Begin a letter, saying how they felt about the war. He responded by telling him that he knows they did not vote for him anyway and as soldiers he expects them to follow orders. As soldiers they will, and if they ever return to the war, they will be fighting on two fronts. Of the two, the front in Lebanon is the least important. He put it this way:

"This not a fight against the war, but a fight for the kind of country we will have."

PSC's 'Robin Hood' Policy Bears Bitter Fruit

Yesterday's announcement that Southwest Gas Corporation is seeking a rate increase of almost 50 percent for residential customers calls to mind some of the errant policies of the Nevada Public Service Commission.

The error of PSC ways is pointed up in historical perspective. Southwest built a big, expensive pipeline to bring natural gas into Nevada at a time, several years ago, when the primary justification for the investment was to supply fuel for the generation of electricity in the Reno area. Sierra Pacific Power Company was targeted as the dominant customer, with the natural gas to be used as fuel for power plants at Tracy and Fort Churchill. The gas was introduced as an energy source cheaper than the fuel oil then being used to generate electricity.

When the pipeline was in operation Southwest Gas picked up some other large - volume customers, including Nevada Cement and Basic Industries.

In those days the gas company, along with most other companies, sold its product at lower rates to large - volume customers as compared with higher rates to smaller accounts. This volume discount was a reasoned pricing policy because the product could be delivered to the big customer at a substantially lower unit cost.

But then the PSC intervened to put the kibosh to volume discounts in the utility field. Those were the times when "consumer advocates" were coming into sway, and these manipulators convinced commission members that there was merit in the socialistic cliché about taking from the rich to give to the poor. The rich were identified as the large - volume customers of the utility companies and the poor were identified as the residential customers.

A PSC fiat was issued declaring that utility companies henceforth would be required to charge lower rates to residential customers and higher rates to large - volume customers. This was a topsy - turvy ruling, because residential customers were high-cost accounts for the utilities and big users were the low-cost accounts. But the PSC rules supreme, and the reason that had existed under the former pricing system was thrown out the window to the accompaniment of cheers from the "consumer advocates" and from dupes of the "something - for - nothing" school of socialistic chicanery.

It didn't take long for the ramifications of this change in pricing policy to exert influence. In the case of Southwest, the price of gas delivered to those power plants and to the company's other large - volume customers escalated dramatically. Before long, the power company and others abused under the new price structure started shopping around for "alternative energy sources." Sierra Pacific built its new power generation station at Valmy and designed the facility to burn not natural gas but coal. Reports received here indicate this cheaper fuel source being utilized at Valmy has resulted in drastic curtailment of the gas - fired generation plants at Tracy and Fort Churchill, and Sierra Pacific isn't buying much gas from Southwest these days. Nevada Cement and other big gas customers also switched to coal - and by the summer of 1982, the pricing policy forced upon Southwest Gas by the Nevada Public Service Commission has left Southwest virtually without any large - volume customers.

This is a key point, because the pricing policy adopted under PSC fiat created a circumstance under which the cost of natural gas service to residential customers was being subsidized by the big - volume users. Now that these big - volume users have been driven away by the "Robin Hood" pricing policy - Guess what? - the source of the subsidy has evaporated.

And because the PSC has upset a balance between large and small customers that served to allow the gas company to structure a pricing schedule that was attractive to both, residential rates can be expected to rise to even higher levels than would have been the case if Southwest had been able to hold at least some of its big - volume customers.

Residents of Nevada will be paying for this PSC folly for many years to come. —M.

The Military Retirement System—What Is Fact and What is Fiction?

There are many aspects of a military career that have an air of mystery about them. But there is one body of law and regulation even less well understood by all concerned, even by the military careerist - the military retirement system.

The tendency is to forget that what a service careerist ultimately receives in retirement benefits has been accruing to him or to her as "deferred compensation" over the years of service. We forget, too, that relatively few military families have the opportunity to put down roots in a community and acquire an investment in the form of a home. Once they receive those final separation orders, they must begin to do what their civilian counterparts started 20 or 30 years earlier.

Few people realize that no service member accrues any vested interest in his or her eventual retirement until reaching the 20 - year point and that if they are forced out of uniform before that point, officers are entitled to severance pay, but enlisted people leave with empty pockets. These same people wonder why so many people are permitted to retire after just 20 years.

Twenty - year retirement was intended to be a discretionary management tool to keep the ranks young and vigorous. It has been taken advantage of by service members seeking early second careers and mismanaged by the service leadership letting too many people retire too early. The system emphasizes short, not long, careers.

In this brief space it would be impossible to trace all the considerations that have been worked into the system as it exists today. Needless to say, it needs to be changed; and there are ways to do so which both satisfy the need to keep people longer and recognize the fact that not everyone need be kept in uniform for a full 30 - year (or longer) career. In the last analysis, it is

Congress, with advice from DoD and the services, which has the responsibility to remove the ambiguities and create a military retirement system that is fair to those whom it serves, understood by its critics and supportive of enlightened manpower management.

1952 - 30 Years Ago

--Large firm head of lettuce were two for 9 cents.
--Bessie Segler, who resigned her job at Timet, was set to sail from home to Japan where she was to meet her husband in the service. Sons Melvin and Ronald also went.
--Members of the eight and forty club met at the home of Mrs. O.R. Lindesmith.
--Those seeking the Democratic nomination for Assemblyman for the newly created Henderson district were William Byrne, S.R. DuBravac, and Allen B. Hillis.

1962 - 20 Years Ago

--A settlement of a three-weeks old strike at Timet was seen as Van Englestead, representing the Steelworkers, met with plant officials.
--Mrs. Alan Bible and her son Paul were scheduled to meet with the Henderson Democratic club. Alan Bible was U.S.

Senator at the time.

--Lou LaPorta was chairman of the Clark County Commission and had been appointed to the air pollution control board and he reported on what progress had been made concerning the plant pollution

--Congressman Walter Baring, along with Senators Alan Bible and Howard Cannon, presented a bill to congress for the City of Henderson to be able to purchase 6200 acres of federal land.

1972 - Ten Years Ago

--Lt. Walter Zawrotny took over supervision of the detective division at the local police station and Lt. James Goff took over Zawrotny's job as head of the 29-man patrol division.

--Two local police officers were assigned full time to combat drunk driving. They were Patrolman James Avery and Cpl. Joseph Vitek.

--Ray Armstrong passed away in the Boulder City Hospital. He was a truck driver for the Clark County road department.

To Whom It May Concern On Housing

It seems to be fashionable to protest any proposal of any sort at this point in time. At the recent County Commissioner's meeting regarding the proposed zoning change for a new Housing project in East Las Vegas a group of Seniors and other residents of Clark County Housing projects were present but were afraid to speak out because there were so many angry people present wanting to speak against locating the low cost housing project in their area.

One of the speakers told of the hardships of East Las Vegas. They feel that East Las Vegas carries the burden for all of the Valley such as the sewage plant, unfortunately East Las Vegas is the low spot in the valley and hence the sewer system drains to the lowest point; the power plant is a bit unsightly but it is not a hazard; the Silver Bowl creates a great deal of traffic however two roads have been developed to eliminate a portion of this traffic.

No one mentioned the proposed freeway will by-pass East Las Vegas. The businesses on Boulder Highway require a certain amount of road traffic and without that the area will become a ghost town. They should ask some of the business people in Boulder City about stopping the growth of a City. The people of East Las Vegas mention poor schools, fire and police protection but with the growth of the housing project these services would cause those facilities to be enlarged.

We, as tenants of Clark County Housing, resent being considered second class citizens because we live in low-cost housing. We have the best maintained housing in the County. Every housing project in Clark County is kept in first class condition which is more than can be said of other Housing developers.

Somewhere along the line nobody seemed to be concerned with their fellow man, only what effect there would be on themselves. Nobody is privileged to foresee the future and therefore do not know but that they or some member of their family may someday be in a situation where they might have to use the low-cost housing themselves. As evidenced by the long waiting lists there is a definite need for additional units.

Oh well, East Las Vegas can secede from the Union and become an independent nation. One of the Florida Keys did it.

To the citizens of East Las Vegas you had better reconsider, Clark County Housing could be an asset to your community.

Clark Co. Housing Tenants

A Heck Of A Way To Run A Railroad

Reference the recent story regarding abandonment of a portion of the U.P. Boulder City railroad line.

The line in question originates at Boulder Junction. Known as the Boulder City branch UP-186, this spur line runs to MP 9.8 which is the Henderson BMI complex. Almost all shippage occurs between these points. The tracks continue into Boulder City where they end at MP 22.4. This section of track is little used.

The story mentioned that the Union Pacific had sought to abandon the track between MP 9.8 and MP 22.4. This is true. The 1978 Nevada State Rail Plan shows this section as being under proposed abandonment.

The City of Boulder City requested continuance of service. It is evident that the Union Pacific concurred with this request.

Close to the termination of the track, a new abandonment arises, not from the railroad but from Boulder City and the Nevada Department of Transportation.

Regretfully, it may look hardnosed on the part of the Union Pacific to refuse this request for abandonment. However, it is just as hardnosed for someone to comment, "The letter appears to have been written by someone not cognizant of the facts here."

D. M. Wheeler of the operating department of the U.P. acknowledges that the tracks in question are essential for operating rail service to Boulder City. He points out that a locomotive would have to back up the incline from Henderson should the abandonment be made because the turnaround is located in that end section of track.

My thoughts are that this will make rail shippage costly and dangerous. The backing of a train would require the front car to be manned for observation and switching. Being pushed up a grade by a locomotive makes the front car tend to derail.

Trackage to a city that is growing is wise. However, safe transportation is wiser. Increased rail shipments to Boulder City could be possible but please let it be safe.

Save Our Investments

To the Editor:

It is time we Americans face the real world, our banks and savings institutions are loaning our money outside America without our permission. Both banks and savings and loans are investing our deposits to finance other countries thru Eurodollars purchases, who has given these trusted institutions permission to place our money and banking system in jeopardy?

440 Billion dollars have been loaned to foreign governments which the banks now admit could be bad loans. These governments are so bad off economically that they can not pay the interest due, now or in the foreseeable future. Some of these loans are not guaranteed by the U.S. Government and are large enough to cause failure of the banks participating in the loans. Where does this leave the trusting public, the FDIC, the U.S. budget?

This practice by greedy lenders should be stopped, regulated, limited, or modified to protect the American public and the federal government from the financial loss they are involuntarily exposed to.

Sincerely,
Lock J. Piatt

Kids - Seat Belts = Death

Automobile seat belts are designed for adults and are of no use in protecting children who are too small to fit into the straps properly.

The tragic consequence is that road accidents are the leading preventable cause of death among youngsters in this country. In an average year, 1,500 children under age 5 are killed in accidents and 6,000 are injured. This state alone accounts for 10 percent of the casualties.

Yet, despite evidence that child-restraint systems can prevent up to 90 percent of the deaths and injuries, California has been reluctant in past years to follow the example of 12 states that require such systems.

But the grim statistics have finally had their effect, and the state Senate has given its approval to a measure mandating seat restraints for children up to age 4 or weighing under 40 pounds. The Assembly will debate the proposal early next month. The bill is a reasonable one. Although it calls for a fine of $50 if parents have a toddler in a car without restraint, the penalty is waived if they acquire such a device.

Convertible seat restraints that will protect a child from infancy until the age of 4 or 5 can be bought for as little as $30, and are available at low rental cost.

Too many parents think that the safest way to transport a child in a car is in an adult's arms, but the opposite is true. In an accident that throws both adult and child into the dashboard or a seat, a person weighing only 100 pounds could crush the child with an impact of up to 3,000 pounds.

Similar restraint laws in other states have been effective in reducing child casualties. There is no good reason why California should not follow suit.

Good News Report

By Thomas V. Pauken
Director of ACTION

To retire means to withdraw, or go away to a place of seclusion. Our society has geared us to look forward to that day, but there're a great many people around who either don't get the message or ignore it. One is Frances Larson of Lantern Park Manor, a nursing home in Colby, Kansas. Frances is 89, and when she arrived at Lantern Park Manor seven years ago she wasn't in the best of health. She had undergone major cancer surgery, had diabetes and arthritis, and was confined to a wheelchair, her eyesight failing badly. One might conclude that her life was pretty much behind her. Certainly she could look back on a long and productive one as a wife and mother of three daughters, a school teacher of 7th and 8th graders in Assaria, Kansas, and as a poetess.

But instead of fading away, Frances Larson began a new career. She joined ACTION's Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) and became a member of Lantern Park's resident council. She continued to write poetry, committing her poems to memory against the time she might be blind. When she could no longer see, she said, her poems would be her eyes because her verses dealt with all that was going on around her. One of her poems which begins: "I met a volunteer today..." is a tribute to RSVP. It's also a tribute to its author, for Frances Larson is not only the most popular lady on the block at Lantern Park, she's also the informally adopted grandmother of many students at nearby Colby High School.

Every nine weeks a new group of students spends two class days at the Manor getting to know the residents. The age gap is not always easily bridged, but they all know Frances who prepares for their visits like a teacher preparing a lesson. She draws the young people out, regales them with stories of the "good old days" of the one room school house, of the old songs and, of course, her poetry. They tell her about themselves, their dreams and aspirations. She calls them her "kids" and when the class is over many choose to continue the relationship right on up through college and marriage. You don't forget Frances Larson. She plays in the Manor's rhythm band and is "in the groove." Confined as she is, she helps those around her who are not as mentally sharp and who need special attention and understanding.

Recently, at the annual RSVP Award Banquet, she received an accolade for her outstanding contributions and was presented with a charm inscribed, "1,000 hours of volunteer service." "She gives us all her time-- she helps when help is needed -- and many call her friend." That's from one of her poems. That's Frances Larson who never learned

Merry Christmas

Dear Dad:

This Christmas season I am writing you a thank you letter that it has taken me 27 years to compose.

I was thinking today of what I could give you as a gift this Christmas. I wanted it to be something you would really appreciate and in doing so I have tried to remember back over the years, the gifts you have given me, that I have remembered and cherished for so long. I have remembered many things that I am sure you did not consider gifts.

Do you remember, many years ago, the time you built the small car for me out of the aircraft gas tank? I am hazy about what it was like, but what remains clear to this day, is the numerous hours you spent in a labor of love for your son.

Today I carry within me a great and strong love of nature and the great outdoors, God's country, you called it. This feeling for nature I credit to the many times you spent your all too few vacation or weekend hours with me, teaching me woodcraft, fishing, animal lore. I remember the time long ago, you and I packed up the old model A, and drove through the evening to Big Bear Lake, what an adventure, we laid our sleeping bags on the ground amidst the snow and slept until daybreak, when we arose and went fishing, a father and his son, I can still feel the thrill. I don't know if we caught anything or how the lake was but these things are unimportant now. I know that you were imparting to your son much greater lessons than how to cast or bait a hook. I learned this love of nature and over many more such excursions I acquired a self-reliance that has helped me greatly in my adult years.

You would compliment me when I did well, in whatever I might attempt, and help me whenever I failed, this gave me confidence, another of your gifts.

I know now, through reflection, that I have not always been the image of what most men want their sons to be, but you, with all your understanding, never let me know that I was anything but perfect. Through this unselfishness I received the gifts of patience and compassion. These are gifts that money can never buy. They are the keys that have opened, for me, the doors to a beautiful and rewarding life.

I can only say that, if I ever have a son, I pray to God that I can be to him what you have been to me, a true father, and pass on to him all those wonderful gifts I have received from you...

I am writing this to you to try to give you, in some small measure, this Christmas, what you have given me all my life, love, and with it goes my everlasting gratitude.

Merry Christmas,
Brian

Editor's Note: Christmas is still more than 4 months away, but this letter sent to Ev Carroll of Boulder City in 1965 and is reprinted today as a reminder of the importance of parents.

VACATIONS

Frederick M. Winship said, "Ever notice that post cards bearing the message "Wish you were here" are really saying "Look where I am?"

NEW BABY

Paul and Glenda Houglund are proud grandparents - their very first grandbaby, too. He was born on July 27, 1982 at St. Rose de Lima Hospital here in Henderson to Gene and Denise (Houglund) Raugust. He is their first-born and has besides Henderson grandparents Paul and Glenda, Elmer and Maria Raugust of Las Vegas. Congratulations to all on this happy occasion.

WATER POLO WINNERS

The final Water Polo Tournament was held last Thursday at the Dula Center pool in Las Vegas and at the end of the day the winners were the "Winning" Basic Team from Henderson. The team beat Hadlin Pool 6 to 0 and then went on to defeat Baker Pool 3 to 2. The final and exciting match was against Cragin Pool and the Henderson team won 3 to 1. The victorious swimmers were Gary Thompson, Rick Bennett, Roland Sparling, J.P. Grogan, Bobby Leonard, Darryl Gutierrez, Eric Coones, Mark Bowers. Randal Parry missed tournament play, but swam during competition.

So at the end of summer - the 1982 Nevada Swimming Champions are still Champs - this time the Water Polo Champs of Clark County. Congratulations.

SCOUT JAMBOREE

A Scout Jamboree is being held at an encampment high in the Arizona mountains for about 6,500 young men and leaders all during this week. The encampment is being held at the 8,000 foot level and can you just imagine how nice and cool that would be for the many Henderson Scouts participating.

The Scouting Program is an important part of the LDS Youth Program and the "High On a Mountain Top" Jamboree is sponsored by the LDS Church and the Boy Scouts of America. There will be at least six of the General Authorities of the LDS Church in attendance and perhaps more. They are: Robert L. Backman, Vaughn J. Featherstone, Rex O. Pinegar, Hartman Rector Jr., George P. Lee and H. Burke Peterson.

The Jamboree program is getting set up so that every Scout in attendance will get to do these three things: (1) meet a General Authority; (2) take the conservation trail; and (3) participate in the Handicap Awareness program. The conservation hike is a 2 1/2 mile self-guided hike through all kinds of forest areas and to the bank of a mountain top lake formed by an ancient volcano. The trail is expected to take each patrol about two hours to hike. Among the fun options available to Scouts are (1) rifle and archery; (2) a slingshot shooting range; and (3) a ride on the ski lift to the top of the Snow Bowl.

The boys will be able to choose from about 60 merit badges and earn as many as possible while enjoying all the other activities such as a Patrol Flag contest, the Eagle Ganquet and a laser display. There will be no fireworks display but something better - a laser show that will light up the clear Arizona sky.

Some of Troop 44 of Henderson and their leaders are: Drs. Jan T. Bennett and Bob Taylor, David R. Walker and Kip Botkin. Scouts Scott Bennett, Vance Kennedy, Rod Taylor, Mark Hall, Stephen Tharp, Kenny Whitehead, David and Darrin Danise, David Hall, David Tharp and Ron Taylor. Older scouts also in attendance were Rich Walker and Robert Taylor.

MORE CHAMPION SWIMMING

In keeping with Basic High School's winning ways in the water, congrats to Henderson's Recreation Dept. swimmers who brought honors to their team and the city. The team led by one of Basic High's Champion swimmers Mark Bower and his sister Beth were third in the city teams of the L.V. area. Brothers Marty and Brian Downer who are swimming in their first competition meet and Shelley Koenen, David Ballard, Jerry Hagen, Matt Hall, along with Lance Grey, Amber Owens, Joe Sillitoe, Shirley Gutierrez, Julie Brain, Cobi Owens, Leslie Richey, Michelle Gill and any and all others I might have missed... congratulations on your great swimming. Henderson is proud of you.

HOSPITALIZED

LeGrand Hall, a local school teacher and a long-time resident of Henderson has been in the ICU unit with a heart condition. LeGrand is recuperating and expected home soon. Get well wishes from many friends and family and neighbors go out to LeGrand.

FIRST BABY

It is especially exciting to welcome a baby to the family and special is number one. Joan and Loyd Pike of Henderson had little girl they named Michelle JoAnn Pike born on Monday, August 2, 1982. All 5 pounds and 11 ounces of the future Miss Industrial Days was dressed in a little yellow shirt saying she was "Made in Heaven and delivered at St. Rose de Lima." Michelle was important to the hospital because her mom was the 100,000 patient at the hospital and she was the 100,001.

VACATIONS

Seems like nearly everyone waited for August to take vacations. And with 1st day of school looming on the horizon we see that Mary and Rick Knappenberger have returned after visiting their son Neil in the Reno area and on over to that beautiful green Yreka in northern California to visit with their daughter Mary. That sort of spoils a person for our 110 degree weather.

Also home after a two week vacation is Alan and Lola Irons who went into central Utah-Provo, Manti and all sorts of points to enjoy those mountains up there. Nice, but kind of good to be home, too.

ACCIDENT VICTIM

Ralph Danise, who is an electrician, received some electrical burns last week and was in a Las Vegas hospital for treatment. His face and hands received most of the 2nd degree burns he sustained. Ralph is home under care of wife Kathy right now. Hope he feels lots better soon.

IN HOSPITAL

Arlene (Blizzard) Whitney is doing a lot of driving between Henderson and Las Vegas to visit with husband, John Whitney, who spent a few days at Southern Nevada Hospital after being burned over face and upper body by hot radiator water last Monday. He is home now and feeling better, though it takes a while to feel comfortable after being burned. Be well soon, John.

LIFE

"Life's a pretty precious and wonderful thing. You can't sit down and let it lap around you... you have to plunge into it; you have to dive through it! And you can't save it, you can't store it up; you can't horde it in a vault. You've got to taste it; you've got to use it. The more you use the more you have... that's the miracle of it!" (Kyle Samuel Crichton)

You Can Own Your Own Home

By Rosa Herwick, Henderson Realty

Has your vision of ever owning a home become clouded? Or as a seller are you being kept from making an important move because there are no qualified buyers for your home?

Today's real estate market leaves a lot to be desired, but there is some encouraging news - there are solutions to the above problems.

For the buyer (especially first time) new mortgage instruments are now available. The most promising are the FHA shared equity, VA graduated, and Nevada state money programs. These allow buyers to qualify for affordable payments and in some cases require little or no downpayment. These programs open up the real estate market to buyers who couldn't qualify for anything six months ago.

For the seller, these financing programs are a godsend - now there are qualified buyers back in the market and the seller now has a good chance of selling using a new loan and receiving his equity all at once without carrying paper.

To learn how you can take advantage of these programs, call your real estate agent or lender for the details on these programs.

'Royal Neighbor Fraternalism'

Camp, 10756, Royal Neighbors of America, met Tuesday evening at Gilbert Hall with fifteen Neighbors in attendance.

Kathy Thomas, Vice Oracle, is to be commended in the manner of conducting her first meeting in the absence of Oracle, Maycel Morris. Maycel was elected Oracle at the July meeting to fill the vacancy, created by the sudden passing of Oracle Dorothy Wittern, June 10. Dorothy had honorably served in that capacity for some six years.

Camp, 10756 Henderson are hosting the Royal Neighbors District Convention, at our New Convention Center, corner of Water St. and Atlantic Sat., Oct. 30. District officers elected to serve from our local Camp, 10756, are Dist. Oracle, Maycel Morris; Dist. Chancellor, Lela Buescher; Dist. Recorder Receiver, Thelma Pullen.

Royal Neighbors are a Fraternal Organization--originating from a group of women meeting as a "Sewing Circle," gathered around a campfire in Council Bluffs, Iowa in 1888, which explains the organization to be referred to as a "Camp." The Camp was organized Nov. 1888, Council Bluffs, Iowa and chartered as a Fraternal Benefit Society, March 21, 1895 -- servicing its members with dependable Lifelns. Policies. From the beginning of the first Camp Circle of forty members, Royal Neighbors have now grown to near 3000 Camps, membership of 41,659.

A Beautiful Home for older Fraternal members was built in Davenport, Iowa -- dedicated July 18, 1931. It is a beautiful Georgian colonial home and stands on spacious, landscaped grounds on a bluff, overlooking the Mississippi River. Royal Neighbors publish a monthly magazine and are known for their "aid to the hard of hearing," in any capacity. Henderson Camp, 10756 also award an "Annual Scholarship" to a local student.

The principal of the organization in Fraternalism, speaks for itself. "ROYAL" -- exemplifies pressing forward toward the kindnesses and caring for ones outside ourselves -- by being neighbors to ones in need. No one can say it more meaningful than Wilfred A. Peterson -- in "The Art of Living."

The Art of Living is the Art of giving. We Love when we give of ourselves, When we give gifts of the Heart: Love, Kindness, Joy, Understanding, Sympathy, Tolerance, Forgiveness, Politeness, Consideration, Thoughtfulness, Tenderness.

We give of ourselves when we give gifts of the Mind: Ideas, Dreams, Purposes, Ideals, Principles, Plans, Inventions, Projects, Poetry.

We give of ourselves when we give gifts of the Spirit: Prayer, Vision, Beauty, Aspiration, Peace, Faith, Hope, Courage, Encouragement, Trust, Gentleness, Humility.

We give of ourselves when we give the gift of Words: Inspiration, Guidance, Counsel.

Emerson said it well: "Rings and Jewels are not

Gifts, but Apologies for Gifts. The only True Gift is a portion of "THYSELF."

Giving of ourselves is FRATERNALISM at its very best -- Giving ones ALL to Camp Projects, other than those which are strictly entertaining Social functions.

A "POT-LUCK" dinner has been scheduled for Tuesday, August, 17, 7:30 p.m. at Gilbert Hall, followed by a bingo fun evening. Bring your family and friends and treat yourselves to a festive dinner of "Thee Best Home Cooked Foods in the West."

Members present at the Aug. 3 meeting were, Kathy Thomas, Frances Kisan, Bel Sanner, Thelma Pullen, Helen Larkin, Helen Richards, Lela Buescher, Bebe Linn, Mary Correll, Rachael Wood, Lois Hancock, Angie Hayward, Mamie Vincent, Cleo McDonald and Rose Prado, Sister of Mamie and Angie, a member of Camp 10756, visiting from San Bernardino, Calif.

This is "White Rose" Membership year and the Simplicity in getting a New Member is by your "ENTHUSIASM" in letting your "Light SHINE" -- and "ASKING!"

Lets have candidates in Waiting for the Convention, Oct. 30.

The Travel Prize was won by Helen Larkin. Delicious refreshments were served by Bel Sanner and Rachael Wood.

"DO YOU JUST BELONG?" From the February, 1950 Issue of the Royal Neighbor Magazine.

Are you an Active Neighbor,
The kind that would be missed,
Or are you just contented that
Your name is on the list?
Do you attend the meetings,
And mingle with the "flock,"
Or do you only stay at home
But Criticize and Knock?
Do you take an active part
To help the Camp along?
Or are you satisfied to be
The kind to "just belong?"
Do you ever go to visit
A Neighbor who is sick
Or leave such tasks to just a few
Then talk about the Clique?
There's much to be accomplished
That will bring success, if done,
But it cannot be accomplished
Without help from everyone.
So be constant in attendance
Give your help with hand and heart.
Don't be just a "Sit-home" member
But take an active part.
Now, think this over, Neighbor,
Are you right or are you wrong?
ARE YOU AN ACTIVE MEMBER OR-DO YOU JUST BELONG?

Emblem Club Luau Saturday

Henderson Emblem Club No. 272 is sponsoring its annual Luau on Saturday, August 14 at 7:30 p.m. at the Henderson Elks Lodge on Lake Mead Drive.

A polynesian dinner will be served along with entertainment, dancing and prizes all for a donation of $7.50 per person.

Proceeds from this affair go toward charities supported by the Emblem Club such as children with hearing defects and lazy eyes, the Henderson Boys Club, Heart Fund, Cancer Association and others.

to attend and join us for an evening of fun.

The Greek word for second-year college students, sophomores, is actually a combination of two Greek words meaning foolish and wise.

Henderson Christian Church

What do YOU do??? When something you perceive as bad or unfair happens to YOU??? Too often we hunch our backs, stiffen our lips and clench our fists ready to battle and defend ourselves. We of the Henderson Christian Church would remind you of an alternative response that is recorded in Acts 16: 22-25.

When Paul and Silas had been unjustly attacked by a mob, jailed, beaten with rods and fastened in stocks in a dungeon it is said that "about midnight they were praying and singing hymns of praise to God. Truly that is a response only the grace of God produces. Verse 25 concludes that "the other prisoners were listening to them." Non believers observe a Christian's reactions to the trials of life and it is a mature believer's trust and faith in Jesus' love and provision who will exhibit a response that glorifies God. As we are all in the process of becoming what we will be, Pastor Duane Riggbach "encourages and strengthens us to stand firm in the faith through the tribulations we endure as we enter the kingdom of God." (Acts 14:22)

Sunday song service begins at 9:15 a.m.; Sunday School 9:30 a.m.; Communion Service 10:30 a.m. We are a young fellowship temporarily meeting at Mt. Moriah Lodge, 101 Temple Drive. Evening Bible Study and youth groups usually meet at 6:30 p.m. Sunday evening. This Sunday however is our monthly family night service and pot luck supper beginning at 5:30 p.m. Why not bake a cassarole and come and meet and eat with us. More information 564-7899.

Local Visits U.S. Jaycees Headquarters

Local resident Alan Tillery was in Tulsa, Oklahoma recently to participate in the United States Jaycees' states program managers training college at the University of Tulsa, July 29 through August 1.

Tillery, a member of the Henderson Jaycees, attended the college to learn the latest management methods and techniques to aid him in effectively promoting the Shooters Education program. Alan is the state program manager for the Nevada Jaycees.

Since 1960, the U.S. Jaycees and the Daisy Manufacturing Company have been involved in the Shooter Education program that educates both boys and girls ages eight to fourteen in the proper use of guns. During past years, the program has educated millions of youngsters.

Alan has been a member of the Jaycees since 1978 and has served many local offices and currently is a state regional director as well as a state program manager. He and his wife, Donna have two children.

The United States Jaycees is a leadership training organization with more than 275,000 members in some 7,000 local chapters in all 50 States and District of Columbia. The organization is headquartered in Tulsa.

Susan Beason Wed To Curtis Prime

In Community Church rites held recently, Susan Beason, daughter of Gary and Betty Beason, was married to Curtis E. Prime, daughter of Ben and Alene Prime, all of Henderson.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert W. Richards, pastor of the Community Church. The double ring ceremony was attended by 150 guests. The organist was Nancy Howery who accompanied the bridegroom who sang "The Wedding Prayer" to the bride.

Matron of honor was Paulette Royal, a friend of the bride, and bridesmaids were Judy Beason and Denise Beason, sister-in-law of the bride. Katie Prime was flower girl and Kep Prime was ring bearer.

Attending the groom as Best Man was Barry Prime, brother of the groom, and Kevin Prime was usher.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the patio of the church. Members of the Joy Fellowship of the Community Church presided at the serving table, and Trina Royal was in charge of the guest book. The wedding cake was made and decorated by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. IdaBelle Riggins.

The bride's gown was made by her mother. Her bouquet was made on a lace fan with roses and baby breath. She chose a tiara of pearls which were worn by her mother at her wedding. The gown was silk crepe with lace on the train. Her attendants chose rainbow colors with the matron of honor in pink and her attendants in mint green and yellow. Bouquets were made on fans with roses matching the dresses.

Both young people are graduates of Basic high school, and following a honeymoon to Panguich, Utah, they will reside in Germany.

Out-of-town guests included Harry and Faye Thomas, Joe, Clara, Barbara and Debbie Jura, grandmother of the bride, Hazel Beason, all of California; Helen and Jim Close from Pocatello, Idaho, and bride's aunt and uncle; the groom's grandmother, Vesta Lettrel of Kenwich, Wa.

Showers were given for the bride before the wedding by V. Erickson and Ilene Royal and Paulette Royal and Rhonda Bryant.

Church of God Prophecy

The Church of God of Prophecy, at 416 Perlite Way, Henderson will hold a revival starting on August 15 and ending August 21. Bishop Hyatt, State overseer of Nevada and Arizona will be the evangelist. Starting time nightly is 7 p.m. "The time you invest in the yord of God will bring great results in your life. Come visit us."

Sparrow is the name of many small, common birds. The name comes from an Anglo-Saxon word "spearwa" which, it is believed, was a general term for all small birds.

Woman of the Month

WOMAN OF THE MONTH - Lucille Kubic, court administrator for the City of Henderson, was named woman of the month for the American Business Women's Association. She is a past president and long-time member of the Desert Dawn chapter. She has worked in the city court system for every judge the city has had, starting in 1954.

Henderson Community Church United Church of Christ

Reverend Robert W. Richards, Minister (A Nationwide Brotherhood)

LAY PEOPLE PULLING TOGETHER

Again, we enjoyed and appreciated the services of people such as the Reverends Gilbert, Weeden, and Harris, Chaplain Bone from Nellis, and Dr. Heinz Rettig to fill our pulpit each Sunday.

As had happened so often in the past, the congregation seemed to thrive on the challenge of holding things together and carrying on admirably while searching for a new minister. The year, 1963 was no exception.

The sanctuary roof received needed repairs, and letters "COMMUNITY CHURCH" (that still grace the front of the church, were put into place.

Three services were still conducted on Easter Sunday and the annual breakfast was served, but Palm Sunday (April 7) was very special that year.

The congregation silently retired to the Educational Building for the dedication of the Terrill Memorial Alter, honoring the late Mrs. Louise Terrill. The following people were also acknowledged for outstanding contributions to the project. Betty Beason, Betty Wilson, Laura Nichols, Bill Kling, Cleo Weese, Larry Gove, Al Swift and John Ryan.

Civic Center Activities

Exercise Classes

Henderson Parks and Recreation Department's Civic Center will be having several "mini sessions" of their exercise programs to get you warmed up for fall.

The Women's Exercise class will run a two week session from August 23 to September 3, Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at either 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. or 7:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Cost is only $4 per person.

Our dance class will also run morning and evening class with the following schedule.

A.M. class will be Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, 9 - 10 a.m., August 27 to September 17, $7.50.

P.M. class will be Tuesday and Thursday, 7 - 8 p.m., August 24 to September 16, $6.50.

There is babysitting available for both morning classes at a minimal fee.

Come register today at the Civic Center. (Our fall registration begins on September 11)

Satisfy Your Sweet Tooth - Sanely

Henderson Parks and Recreation Department's Civic Center is having a one night lecture on "Satisfying the Sweet Tooth Sanely."

The program is presented by the Cooperative Extension Service and will occur Tuesday evening, August 17, at 6:30 p.m. in room No. 2 at the Civic Center.

The class is free but we ask that you call the Civic Center at 565-2121 and reserve a place.

Civic Center Fall Programs

Henderson Parks and Recreation Department's Civic Center is preparing an active fall program for your families enjoyment!

Our fall brochure will be available the first of September. It will be given out through the grade schools and all recreation outlets.

The fall program at the Civic Center will be full of classes and workshops.

We will have a wide variety of exercise classes, plus art classes for children and adults.

Other classes we offer are gymnastics, karate, and folk dance.

We will have some new classes like pre - post natal exercise, creative stitchery for children, rhythmic gymnastics, sewing, home decorating and more.

Our registration for the first fall session will begin Saturday, September 11 at the Civic Center gym with classes beginning the week of September 20.

Our instructors for the class are Judy Caldwell and Anne Huggins. They have taught with the Civic Center for three years and have a very coordinated exercise routine to get you into shape.

They also include aerobics in their program so come ready to work.

Sign up any time at the Civic Center office (565-2121).

Shriner's Circus Trip

The Henderson Parks and Recreation Department's Youth Center is going to the Shriner's Circus Friday, August 13.

The cost is $3 for youth ages 12 and under and $5 for those 13 and over.

We will meet at the Youth Center at 12 noon and return at 5:30 p.m.

Everyone interested should get their reservation in by calling 565-2124.

Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Newell Kizzia

Mr. and Mrs. Newell Kizzia recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with a buffet dinner held at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Lee and Olene Holley.

Also hosting the event was their son, Terry of Boulder City, and daughter Pat Kizzia Rush of Las Vegas. There were 45 friends and relatives attending. The Kizzias were married in Warner, Oklahoma on July 3, 1932. They came to Las Vegas in 1942 and then to Henderson in 1947. He is retired from Stauffer Chemical Co., where he worked for more than thirty years.

In addition to the three children, the Kizzias had a son, Jerry, who is now deceased. There are seven grandchildren, all in Las Vegas, Henderson area and one grandson, who is deceased.

Vi Curtis Services to be held Friday at 9 a.m.

Vi Curtis passed away on Aug. 10, 1982, in her home after a lingering illness of over a year. At her bedside were her husband, Henry, and their children Starr Curtis and Gail Gatterberg. She was 71 years old.

The services will be at Grace Community Church in Boulder City tomorrow at 9 a.m. The minister will be Rev. Willcom Kirtsman.

MOST IMPORTANT: In lieu of flowers please donate to the Nathan Adelson Hospice Program. The address is 3201 S. Maryland Parkway, Las Vegas, Nevada.

Vi Curtis was one of the outstanding volunteers in our town. Always with Henry, her husband, at her side, the two just gave to our community until it became a habit to "ask Vi" and she seldom said "no." Her smiling face was a legend at the B.C. Hospital for she was active in all phases of the Women's Auxiliary.

Her story will be told in full with the help of her beloved family. The files that were collected by Esther Shipp have many great moments in this life of a wonderful community volunteer.

The Hospice Program allowed our dear friend to die at home for the tender care she received was absolutely a miracle.

If you prefer give your donations directly to Henry Curtis, 523 Ave. M, BOULDER CITY 89005.

New Street Names on Planning Agenda

A long list of 27 proposed street name changes will be discussed at a public hearing when Henderson's Planning Commission meets next Thursday evening at 7 p.m. in the City Council Chambers.

According to Henderson Planning Director, Richard Heckendorf, the main reason for the proposed street name changes is to eliminate conflicts which currently exist in the city's Master Streets and Highways Plan which was first adopted in 1976.

"Basically, the main purpose for the proposed changes is to remove conflicts," explained Hecken-dorf. He said that there were conflicts with road names within the city itself and also with county roads which run into the city from the Las Vegas Valley.

"We need to make these changes with the names as soon as possible," Heckendorf said. "The City needs to avoid future problems of this nature."

Heckendorf noted that problems with the street names have cropped up over the years, and his staff has compiled a list as the problems have cropped up.

"It is very expensive to conduct a public hearing on one or two street name changes," Heckendorf said, "so that is why we have a long list of proposed changes."

Streets which may be affected are scattered throughout the city, and in some cases, the change may simply be the correction of improper spelling.

"I don't expect too many problems with the proposed changes at next week's public hearing," said Heckendorf, "but if there are complaints, we will surely listen to them and we would appreciate comments from the public."

Some of the proposed new names are humorous, such as Critter Street and Ramrod Avenue, but Heckendorf said that there is a serious reason for changing the street names.

"We have to be careful when we name streets to avoid conflicts," said Heckendorf, "and that can be difficult." The changes are important, however, as they will assist people in public safety, maintenance, and the postal office."

If you are unable to attend the Planning Commission meeting next Thursday, you may submit written objections or acceptance letters to the Henderson Planning Department.

Rallies to Win First Game 6-2

Centel Disconnects J&K for Men's Tourney Title

By John Dailey

Centel got their offense underway with two big hits in the bottom of the fifth to score three runs and tallied three more in the sixth to beat J&K Deli 6-2 Tuesday and claim the city's Men's Slow Pitch Softball Tournament championship with an undefeated record.

The telephone men won the winner's bracket last Thursday night with a 10-8 victory over Sanders and Tuesday's first game win eliminated the need for a final playoff for the tournament title, J&K being knocked out with two losses.

It was a fast game, ending before complete darkness had set in, and both teams made the game fast by only scoring in two of their seven opportunities at bat.

The kosher kings took the early lead with a run apiece in the second and third. Chuck Bainbridge led off the second with a single to left and moved to third on brother Brian's single to center. Brian wasn't as fortunate though, he was tagged out at second trying to stretch his single to a double. Chuck went to the plate when Centel's second baseman bobbled a Cecil Ford grounder.

In the third another key error gave J&K Deli another run. Dan Hurd and Bruce Bainbridge led off with singles to left and center, respectively. Steve Angell's routine fly to left was dropped and Hurd scored on the miscue. But Centel, as in the second inning, didn't get rattled and left a runner on third while making the last two outs.

Things settled down until the bottom of the fifth when two big hits gave Centel the spark they had been looking for to win the game.

Centel's Rick Gray lifted a shot just over a deep-playing J&K Deli rightfielder to score a ground rule triple on the bounce. If that wasn't enough Mike Ulibarri burn the sandwich makers with a deep bash to left for a two-run homer. Joe Sandoval scored the last run of the big hitting inning after he doubled, moved to first on Anthony Salazar's sacrifice fly to center and came home on Leo Hernandez's RBI one bagger.

The operators were loaded for bear again the bottom of the sixth, bringing in three more runs on five singles. Bob Montoya and Mike Maestas pulled the ball to their respective fields, Montoya going to left and Maestas hitting to right, to lead off the stanza with singles. Ken Fellows knocked in the first run with a single to center and Mike Ulibarri's one bagger to left brought in another run.

With runners on first and second Rick Doolin's single to left might have just loaded the bases, but speedster Fellows turned the hit into an RBI racing all the way in from second to close scoring in the inning.

That's the way the game ended as a double play in the top of the seventh all but dashed any hopes of comeback that J&K Deli might have had.

Offensively for Centel, Mike Ulibarri had to be the hero of the game, going 2-for-3 with a home run and a single and three RBIs. Rick Gray's triple was the second biggest hit for the line men and Mike Maestas went 2-for-3 with two singles and a run scored.

The Men's Slow Pitch Softball Tournament officially ends all summer softball and baseball in Henderson. Fall programs should begin sometime in mid-September according to the Henderson Parks and Recreation Department, organizer of the city's softball program.

Monday night J&K Deli beat Sanders Construction 4-2 to advance to the tournament final Tuesday evening. The sandwich makers scored a pair of runs in the third and fifth innings while holding Sanders scoreless six out of seven innings for the victory.

J&K Deli took the lead with two runs in the third off five singles. Rick Christensen began the inning with a hit and Dan Hurd followed with another single. Bruce Bainbridge's single to left center knocked in a run but when Bruce tried to stretch the hit he was tagged out at second. Steve Angell's single brought in Hurd to end scoring in the inning.

Sanders retaliated immediately in the top of the fourth but got a little more help from their opponents. Steve Kirk walked to start the two-run stanza. Wolfe singled and Darrell Clark's sacrifice fly to right moved runners to scoring position. Kirk came to the plate when Doug Gilles sent a ball to shortstop that the J&K Deli fielder couldn't handle. Adrian Clark's RBI sacrifice fly to left scored the dynamite men's last run of the game.

The kosher kings two runs in the bottom of the fifth proved to be the winning margin and only a nifty double play turned by Sanders prevented J&K Deli from chalking up more runs in the fifth frame.

Bruce Bainbridge and Dave Drake led off the inning with singles for J&K. Steve Angell's single to left and subsequent fielder's error scored one run and moved runners into scoring position on third and second. Greg Bainbridge kept the drive going with his RBI single.

But the Sanders defense would pull them out of this situation before it worsened. J&K's Chuck Bainbridge sent a grounder to Sanders third baseman Adrian Clark. Clark threw to second for the force and when the runner on third broke for home Rick Sinclair gunned him down from second for a nifty third to second to home plate double play. J&K Deli had a potential blow-out cut short, but their two runs were enough to beat a punchless Sanders offense.

Neither Sanders nor J&K scored in the remaining innings as both teams had troubles keeping the ball out of the air.

THIRD PLACE -- Henderson Parks and Recreation Department superintendent of recreation Keith Elder presents team sponsor Margaret Sanders and coach Steve Christensen with their third place tournament trophy Monday night. Sanders earned the third place spot by beating Womack 14-10 to advance to the winner's bracket finals against Centel. During the regular season Sanders finished tied for fourth place with a 12-10 record.

Thanks, Ron

Everyone connected with men's softball play in both the Industrial and City leagues including players, fans, coaches and the occasional sports writer would like to thank men's softball co-ordinator Ron Cordes for his excellent job this past season.

Cordes maintains both Titanium and Wells Park fields for the softball program and irons out all the thorny problems that naturally occur between players, coaches and umpires.

Wolves Finish Even, Face Tough Tourney Slate

Henderson's American Legion Baseball Wolves finished last week's season-ending play much the same way they played all season, going two-for-two last week to end the Legion schedule at 16-16.

The Wolves wound up tied for fifth place in the standings with the Southern Nevada Printers and drew the worst seed of the tournament, going up against 50-4 Carson in the tournament opener scheduled for Wednesday late afternoon.

The Wolves began last week winning their first two, then dropped two close contests with the league's top clubs last Wednesday and Thursday.

Last Monday night the Wolves drubbed the Bakery Shoppe (Boulder City) 14-7. A four-run third and a six-run sixth highlighted Basic's offense with Brent Cline leading the way. Cline went 4-for-4 with a single, double and triple progression through the night's play for five RBIs. Chuck Roberts also helped out, hitting 3-for-4 with three one baggers.

Tuesday night key errors from Paulson Dice (El-dorado) allowed the Wolves two in the first and three in the second and a lead Basic never relinquished. The Legion Wolves held on to edge Paulson Dice 5-4.

However, turn about is fair play and the Legionnaires (Chaparral) did it to the Wolves Wednesday night, slipping by the Henderson club 6-5. Anson Jones two-run triple led a comeback attempt after Basic was shut out for the first four innings of the game. Loren Wolfe went 2-for-4 with an RBI single in the seventh and Mike Groves batted 2-for-3 in the close loss.

Basic lost another close game to end the regular season Thursday in a make-up game with the Valley Legion Vikings. A seven-run second inning paced Valley to their 8-6 win as the Wolves late inning rallies again fell short. Basic scored two in the fourth and four in the fifth but couldn't manage any more runs off the first place Vikings.

Whether they win or lose Wednesday night the Wolves will be playing at Sunset Park tonight. If they win they face the winner of the Legionnaires -- Southern Nevada Printers game at 8:30 p.m. If they lose they will have to endure the heat and play earlier at 5:30 p.m. the loser of the Legionnaires -- Southern Nevada Printers game.

FROM
CURTIS'S CORNER
BY JOEY CURTIS

Things were pretty simple when guys like Nevadan Freddie Little and Las Vegas favorite Denny Moyer held the world junior middleweight title.

But it's not now! No way.

Between Roberto Duran and Tony Ayala and Davey Moore and Wilfred Benitez and Thomas Hearns and Don King and Bob Arum and even someone called Gary Guiden the 154-pound division is topsy-turvey. And that's putting it mildly!

Let's see if I've got it all straight now. Duran, we all know who he is, is supposed to fight Tony Ayala, the undefeated hotshot from Texas, for promoter Don King on November 19. It doesn't matter where; they'll figure that out later.

But, wait, promoter Bob Arum said Duran is supposed to fight Davey Moore, the WBA junior middleweight champion, on November 19. It doesn't matter where; they'll figure that out later.

King's ace public relations man, venerable Murray Goodman, says it'll end up in court. Stand in line, Don.

First Dan Duva, another promoter who just happens to handle Ayala among others, is suing Arum for other various alleged sins.

And so is the very respected Jimmy Jacobs, who just happens to handle Benitez, the WBC junior middleweight champ. He's suing Arum for tampering with Benitez and setting up a fight between the Puerto Rican king and Guiden on September 4.

That also happens to be the day Duran is fighting against one Kirkland Laing, who doesn't really figure too prominently in any of this.

However, Benitez is supposed to fight Hearns in October or November or sometime late this year, at least that's what the Detroit slugger's manager, Emanuel Steward, has been saying.

Of course, Manny Steward says a lot of things, some of which should not be taken for the gospel, especially when it comes to money. Steward says (there he goes again!) Hearns and Benitez will each get $3,000,000 for the fight. He also said Hearns would receive $2,500,000 to fight Marvin Hagler for their bout in June which never came off. Nonsense on both counts!

The possibility of a Benitez - Hearns fight is very, very real now that promoter Irving Ungerman, another gent who doesn't really count in all of this, has cancelled the Guiden fight because of all the looming litigation.

But money remains a possible stumbling block. Bucks, not any "injury" to Hearns' hand, was the real reason Hagler - Hearns bit the dust. Arum admitted as much when he said the bout was cancelled because of trouble selling it.

Now when I fought, boxing was a sport! Well, at least you could tell the players without a scorecard!

Before I forget, Caesars Palace has a fight this Sunday the 15th when undefeated middleweight Bobby Czyz takes on tough Ernie Singletary.

Czyz is the hot stuff kid from New Jersey, but, in my opinion, the jury's still out on him. Sure, he's tough, he takes a good shot and he gets right in there and bangs with the other guy, but a potential world champ? I don't know. Not yet I don't.

As for Singletary, he's another tough guy. He's the one who went 10 rounds with Hearns and cut him last December on the Muhammad Ali - Trevor Berbick undercard.

The undercard is solid, paced by a heavyweight battle between Jeff Shelberg and Pinklon Thomas. The fight is in the afternoon in the Sports Pavilion and will be nationally-televised by NBC. Ticket prices range from $10 to $50.

And four days later on Thursday night the 19th the Showboat is back in action with its monthly ESPN card. The fights have been especially exciting and action - packed the last couple of months thanks to the efforts of veteran matchmaker Mel "Red" Greb.

The main event this Thursday is "Schoolboy" Jerry Cheatham against up - and - coming middleweight Felipe Canela. Cheatham has fought the best, including Tony Ayala and Charlie Weir, who just recently fought Davey Moore for the WBA junior middleweight championship. Canela is a banger with a 15-1-1 record and a ton of KO's.

The card begins at 6 p.m. although Greb assures me the main event will not start before 7 p.m. That's good, Mel, the later the better because 6 p.m. is just a little too early to start a card.

I know the Showboat is forced into taking that earlier time because of the ESPN network and the time difference in the East, but that doesn't stop me from hoping -- for the hotel's sake -- that it could be pushed back to 8 p.m. or even 7 p.m.

But regardless of the time, the action has been fast and furious at the 'Boat lately and worth your while. The fight is in the 'Boat's Sports Pavilion and tickets are priced right at $15 and $10.

Getting back to legal hassles for a moment Don King just reportedly gave Don Manuel WBA heavyweight champ Mike Weaver's real manager, and his fighter $100,000 to fight Michael Dokes first before "Tex" Cobb.

But Bob Arum says the WBA says "No" and that it gave Cobb a 90 - day injury extension and that Weaver - Cobb must take place first. Let's all just wait and see who gets in the ring with Weaver.

Finally, one King title fight that may come off without a hitch is on the 18th when Wilfredo Gomez defends his WBC super bantamweight crown against Roberto Rubaldino.

What do I know about Rubaldino? What do I need to know about Rubaldino?

What I do know is that Gomez is perfect in 37 fights at 122 pounds with every win coming by KO.

Any more questions?

None from me until next week. See you then!

By the time you read this, I will be on my way to Iowa (The state where the tall corn grows) for the Baptism of my new grandson. I am especially proud because he has his grandfathers name and is the only boy to carry on the name of Deardoff. I am anxious to see the baby and his sisters but will miss all of the Senior Citizens and Henderson. The weather in Iowa will be hot and the humidity will match the temperature and I won't be able to breathe. The other redeeming feature of the trip besides the grandchildren will be the good Iowa tomatoes and sweet corn.

Boxing Dunes Undercard Recap

Dennis Fikes has been crying he doesn't get any fights in Las Vegas. The 23-year old native of Akron probably changed that for some time to come Wednesday night on Best Fight Promotions' undercard at the Dunes Hotel and Country Club.

Fikes, 172, making his first start since December, impressively shattered a growing myth about the potential of undefeated Lamont Kirkland, 174, with a third round TKO in a scheduled eight-round lightweight bout.

The 6-4 Fikes, raising his record to 6-2-1, let the former national Golden Gloves champion from Omaha know he was in for a long evening, dropping him in the second round with a solid right to the jaw.

Kirkland, riding high with 14 straight knockout wins, really never recovered and Fikes wasn't about to let him off the hook. Early in the third, Dennis scored with a right-left which drove Kirkland into a neutral corner.

Lamont spun on the ropes with his back to Fikes and just as he turned around, the latter was accurate with a looping right hand which exploded on Kirkland's jaw.

Kirkland was clearly out on his feet, literally hanging on the ropes. Referee Davey Pearl, moving in to stop the bout at 1:03 of the third, had his hands full restraining an excited Fikes who didn't want to let his rival get away.

Fikes had lost a close decision to former all-service champion Calvin Jackson in his last outing Dec. 9 at the Silver Slipper but the four-year Vegas resident was a different fighter this trip.

"Johnny Tocco had me ready. When I fought Jackson, I was still getting over the flu and took the bout on three days notice," Fikes said. "I hadn't trained for nearly two months and hadn't fought since August when I lost to Abalardo Ramos at Caesars. I also have a draw with Ramos and would like to fight him again."

Making an impressive Vegas debut in a junior welterweight matchup was Los Angeles' Adan Felix Estrada.

Estrada ran his undefeated string to 12 (there have been two draws) when he stopped tough Joe Terrell of Las Vegas on a TKO at 1:08 of the fourth round. Terrell, 137, saw his record dip to 7-2.

Terrell was down twice officially in the first round (and another which wasn't counted) and then dropped Estrada once before the bell. Terrell appeared to win the second but the Californian came back to hurt Joe in the third and then finished him in the fourth with a series of left hooks.

Referee Richard Steele halted the fight with Terrell reeling defenseless on the ropes and bleeding from the nose.

Dana Ralston, 128½, a former Kentucky Golden Gloves champion now locally-based, won his third straight as a pro, TKOing Juan Hernandez, 130, Los Angeles at 1:08 of the sixth and final round.

Arm Wrestlers To Compete At State Fair

For the second year, the Nevada State Amateur Arm Wrestling Championships will be conducted in conjunction with the Nevada State Fair. The double elimination tournament will take place between noon and 3 p.m. on September 11 in Reno.

Sanctioned by Pro Am Sports, this year's competition will be divided into five men's classes: featherweight, 130 pounds and under; lightweight, 131-150 pounds; middleweight, 151-170 pounds; light-heavyweight, 171-190 pounds and heavyweight, 190 pounds and over.

There will also be two ladies' classes, 130 pounds and under as well as 131 pounds and over.

Among the referees will be the ladies' heavyweight champion arm wrestler of the world, Pam Carter.

First and second place winners in each of the seven weight classes will receive engraved trophies, according to Bob Howell, chairman of the event. Howell is a former professional world arm wrestling champion.

An added attraction at this year's championships will be a drawing for an arm wrestling table which has been donated in memory of the courage, dedication and sportsmanship of the late David Landa, a world-rated lightweight arm wrestler.

Contestants must be at the fairgrounds to weigh in between 11 a.m. and noon on the day of the competition. Advance registration is not required.

Bike Tricksters At Meadows Mall

The BMX Trick Bicycle Team will perform in the Red Parking Lot at The Meadows Mall on Saturday, August 14, at 11 a.m., 1 and 3 p.m.

The ten-member team, who appeared at the 1982 Jaycee State Fair, is made up of nationally rated bicycle Motocross riders from Las Vegas and Huntington Beach, Calif., and will perform jumps and tricks on two-wheelers.

The show is free and open to the public. The Meadows Mall is located between Valley View and Decatur Blvds., just south of the Las Vegas Expressway.

Governor Robert List Means Business...

And 32,000 New Jobs Prove It.

When it comes to expanding Nevada's economy, Governor Robert List means business... and business means more jobs for Nevadans.

Governor List has always been at the forefront to bring new industry to Nevada. His aggressive efforts to broaden our economic base are reflected in his one-on-one contact with business leaders.

The Commission on Economic Diversification, our state Industrial Revenue Bonds and the Nevada Futures Commission are other key areas in which the Governor has been working to attract more industry.

That hard work has paid off... to the tune of more than 30 new industries coming to Nevada since Robert List was elected Governor.

New industry means new jobs. Governor List's plans and the efforts of all Nevadans have reaped more than 30,000 new jobs.

When it comes to jobs, Governor List means business.

Bryan Rips List's Forum

McKay Opens Headquarters

LAS VEGAS—Governor Robert List used the wrong forum last week to make inaccurate predictions that Attorney General Richard Bryan would raise gaming taxes in Nevada if elected governor in November.

The gaming and tourism industry in Nevada will be harmed as a result of the governor's incorrect comments, Bryan said today.

"Not only was the governor wrong in his predictions, but he also made those predictions known to 800 members of the Hotel Sales Management Association's international convention being held here in Las Vegas. Those 800 individuals are the ones who actually select and schedule convention sites for the years ahead. As a result, they scattered to the four corners of the world with the impression that perhaps Nevada is not the best place to hold their conventions if gaming taxes are going to be raised," Bryan said.

"The governor, in his eagerness to upstage the release of my Economic Agenda for the Eighties the following day, made some very rash predictions that may cost Nevada in the future," Bryan added.

Bryan's economic package makes no mention of increasing any taxes in Nevada. Instead, Bryan plans to direct an aggressive tourism and economic development effort from the state level to attract additional visitors who stay longer in Nevada as well as securing new industry and jobs.

"A governor with vision and leadership would have used the meeting of 800 hotel sales and convention planners as an opportunity to promote Nevada as a convention site," Bryan said. "Instead, our incumbent governor decided to use it for his political reasons."

Bryan plans to make sweeping changes in state government and revitalize the state's economic development effort if elected governor.

He has proposed a beefed up Tourism and Economic Development Department; consolidation of the existing Tourism Advisory Board and Industrial Development Advisory Board; creation of an Interdepartmental Coordinating Council he would personally chair to organize all state agency efforts to attract new jobs and industry to Nevada; and continued meetings with business and industry representatives statewide.

In addition, small businesses, which comprise 84 percent of all businesses in Nevada, would receive technical, financial and information assistance; staff sensitive to minority problems would be named; and a statewide data and marketing base would be established.

Bryan says most of the changes can be accomplished with existing staff.

"The Bryan Plan is designed to build a stable and diversified economy, create new job opportunities and develop a broader tax base," the attorney general said. "To accomplish this goal, the state must become a partner with private enterprise and the leader of a coordinated statewide promotion effort."

Brian McKay, Republican candidate for Attorney General has announced the opening of his headquarters at 1370 East Flamingo, Suite "J" in the Mission Shopping Center. The office will be the central headquarters for his statewide campaign and its office hours will be from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays. The phone number is 731-3310.

McKay, who is the only candidate for Attorney General who has actual working experience in the office, having served as Deputy Attorney General from 1975 through 1979, said that he is "very pleased with the progress of my campaign. I've been in virtually every county in the state and the reception has been very enthusiastic. It is obvious that the people of Nevada are looking for a full-time practicing Attorney General, and one who has both the experience and the capability to start to work immediately on the issues that confront our state."

McKay, who has stressed in his campaign that many of the most important problems confronting Nevada today are legal in nature has urged the people of Nevada "to put aside political considerations and select their next Attorney General as if they were hiring their own personal attorney." McKay said that "the problems that confront Nevada today require a full-time and long-term dedication to the job, with the need to put political aspirations aside until these problems are properly dealt with."

McKay, 37 years old, is a partner in the law firm of Sully, McKay, and Lenhard with offices in the Valley Bank Building in Las Vegas.

Senator Cannon Charges Debate Nonsense

WASHINGTON — Senator Howard Cannon today charged that one of his opponents, Representative Jim Santini, is turning their proposed series of debates into a political circus.

"I agreed to these debates and I will be there to debate him," Cannon said. "But the Congressman seems to be stepping back from our first meeting at Clark County Community College next Saturday with a whole string of second-thought tactics to delay or block the debates or make them even less than the series of glorified press conferences they now promise to be. "Ever since I accepted the invitation of the Nevada Democratic Party to the Las Vegas debate, Santini roadblocks have sprung up like mushrooms in a cellar. The latest of these is that Santini won't show in Las Vegas if the room temperature is over 85 degrees.

"That sounds like he's really trying to put a chill on the debates but it's typical of the negative and destructive tactics the Congressman has used throughout his campaign and throughout the planning for this first debate. First, the Congressman who no longer calls himself a Democrat, didn't want the state Democratic Party to sponsor the debate. Then he wanted the other two Democratic candidates for the Senate shut out. One of those candidates," Cannon said, "has already protested in writing to me and to him and I have referred that protest of his unfair exclusion from the debate to Democratic State Chairman Brent Adams in Reno.

"But that," Cannon continued, "was only the beginning. Even after Santini agreed to meet with me, in effect, any time, any place, anywhere, he refused to debate in Las Vegas at all unless I agreed to a second debate in Reno which excluded my other opponents, and to a third debate in Elko. I was more than anxious to debate in Reno and Elko and still am. Then he insisted I not be identified as the incumbent Senator. I don't know what he'll come up with next," Cannon said. "But I'm sure he'll keep threatening to withdraw right up to Saturday afternoon and maybe the Congressman won't show up at all. But I will be there.

"As I recall, President Reagan insisted on taking on all his primary opponents back in 1980. And to go back a little further, Senator Douglas didn't complain about the temperature when he challenged Lincoln back in the Summer of 1858. It was pretty hot in Illinois that Summer. Douglas took off his coat and went to work; and, as I recall, he lost."

Santor Begins State-Wide Campaign

Ken Santor, a Republican primary candidate for the office of State Treasurer, is on a three-day automobile tour designed to cover much of rural Nevada, as he begins his drive to achieve the GOP nomination.

Santor, 51, is a Reno resident who has over 20 years experience as a successful general contractor and commercial real estate developer. Now retired, he seeks to put his financial knowledge to work for the State of Nevada.

Santor has two grown children, a son, Ken Junior, and 23-year-old college student in California, majoring in business, and a daughter, Suzanne, 20, who is a member of his campaign team. His wife, Anne, long active in Reno civic affairs, died last year. Santor served for years with the Marines, saw combat in Korea and came home with the rank of sergeant and two Purple Hearts. His unit received a presidential citation.

KEN SANTOR

In commenting on his reasons for running for State Treasurer, Santor noted, "These are hard and difficult times in Nevada. When the treasurer invests available funds, Nevada-oriented projects which help provide jobs and improve the state's economic basemust be strongly considered. In this job, I could contribute to Nevada's overall financial growth."

Santor said he sees advantages to being an enthusiastic newcomer to an elective office: "I will go in with new ideas and plans to continue the improvements made over the past three and a half years by Stan Colton. I will contact financial institutions, business leaders and civic leaders for additional proposals.

"With my lifelong involvement in business, and the tough times of meeting a payroll, I believe I will bring a hardworking perspective to the job of State Treasurer that will benefit all Nevadans."

Bingham Files For County Treasurer

Forty-one year old Certified Public Accountant, Clark Bingham has filed in a primary field of four Democrats for the office of Clark County Recorder.

Bingham is a thirty-eight year resident of Clark County, and is a former partner of a major accounting firm which at one time did the outside audits for the County of Clark. Having played an integral role in these audits, Bingham feels, this gives him a particular advantage in understanding not only the office he seeks, but all of County Government.

Even though the office has been run well since the death of long time recorder Paul Horn, Bingham holds the strongest academic and professional credentials of anyone to seek the office in many years, and has many plans to stream line the office.

The primary theme of Bingham's campaign is, "To bring Clark County Government closer to the people," he contends that the County Assessor's Office has, for many years, successfully maintained satellite offices to serve the people in outlying areas of Clark County. He contends the time is long overdue for offices such as treasurers and recorder to establish mini satellite offices to serve southern Nevada's suburbs.

Bingham's main target areas for such offices are North Las Vegas, the Boulder City-Henderson area, the Spring Valley - West Charleston area, the Paradise Valley area.

CLARK BINGHAM

by Governor Mike O'Callaghan to study and make recommendations on no fault insurance.

He was one of the original incorporators of Laughlin, Nevada township, serving as Laughlin Township Chairman and on the Laughlin Volunteer Fire Department for three years.

Alliance president, Paul Powell, said "Santor's record as a tough prosecutor, a District Court Judge and 4-term Congressman demonstrates he understands and is committed to solving the critical crime problem in America and Nevada, especially as it affects the elderly."

Constables Endorse Santini

Calling Jim Santini "A man who is tough on crime and has the record to prove it," the President of the Western Alliance of Constables and law men today announced the groups endorsement of Rep. Jim Santini in the Democratic primary race for United States Senate.

Wildlife Group Criticizes Watt's Implementation of Superfund Law

The National Wildlife Federation has criticized Interior Secretary Watt's failure to develop regulations implementing the 1980 "Superfund" law, the Congressionally-mandated program for cleaning up chemical spills and abandoned hazardous waste dump sites.

In a letter to Watt, NWF's chief executive said Interior had done little to meet a December, 1982, deadline to promulgate Superfund regulations for assessing natural resource damages. "We are alarmed and disappointed to discover that, with the statutory deadline barely half a year away, there is no evidence that the rule-making task has even begun," wrote Dr. Jay D. Hair, executive vice president of the NWF. Hair said that the "shocking lack of action by the Interior Department" will let injury to natural resources resulting from releases of hazardous wastes and oil go largely unaddressed and uncorrected as hazardous waste sites are cleaned up.

"The inevitable consequences will be inadequate protection of the nation's natural resources — contrary to the will of Congress and the American people as expressed in Superfund — and the inefficient and counterproductive allocation of funds and manpower by natural resource trustees at the Federal and State levels," wrote Hair.

According to Hair, the Interior Department has a legal mandate to expeditiously develop regulations that assess natural resource damage caused by hazardous waste sites. "The NWF cannot stand mute while Interior Department allows Superfund's natural resource protection provisions to atrophy from disuse," he said.

The letter also asked Watt to provide the NWF with Interior's assessment of the status of the regulations, the best estimate of when the rules will be promulgated, estimates of the costs and manpower needed to develop the rules, and documentation of Interior's efforts, if any, to obtain the necessary money and personnel to complete the rulemaking. Hair asked Watt to respond at his earliest convenience.

Las Vegas Navy Ball to be Best Ever

The 207th U.S. Navy Birthday Ball will be celebrated in Las Vegas on Friday, October 15, at the Sands Hotel, sponsored by the local Naval Reserve Center.

This will be the second year in which the commemoration of the founding of the U.S. Navy (actual date October 13th) has been held at a major Las Vegas strip hotel. Last year's celebration was hosted at Caesar's Palace with over 600 military and civilian guests in attendance. It is anticipated that this year's Ball will be even bigger and better, smashing last year's attendance record.

Margaret Usnick, State President of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will head a large delegation from throughout the State of Nevada to the 69th national auxiliary convention to be held in Los Angeles, CA, August 13 through August 19.

Mrs. Usnick will represent the state organization at the convention business sessions to be held in the Los Angeles Hilton Hotel, national ladies headquarters, at which time awards are made to individual auxiliary members, auxiliaries, districts and states on programs in which they participated during the preceding year.

National program directors will conduct workshops daily on the programs sponsored by the ladies auxiliary to further National President Marion Watson's theme "United We Stand For America". Virginia Giannotti, a member of Silver State Auxiliary No. 3396, Sparks and Deputy Director of VAWS and Hospital, will conduct a workshop jointly with National Certifying Officer, VAWS and Hospital, Barbara Bishop of Allen Park, Michigan. Special guest during the convention will be Elizabeth Dole, Assistant to President Ronald Reagan for Public Liaison.

Election and installation of all national officers will be held on Thursday, August 19. Social activities the delegation will attend will include the joint Memorial Services, Distinguished Guests Banquet, VFW awards Luncheon, Western States Conference meeting and banquet, participation in the annual parade and viewing the Million Dollar Pageant of Drums. Members from throughout the state will be attending.

County Commissioners Seek Local Employment For Nevada Power

Commissioner Bruce Woodbury announced after the Clark County Board of Commissioners meeting Tuesday, August 3rd, that he shared the concerns expressed by the Building Trades Union and Building Contractors over the issue of Nevada Power Company using Southern Nevada contractors and workers to construct the pipeline and new generating facility known as the Allen Warner Plant. The Board of County Commissioners adopted a resolution urging Nevada Power to use these local contractors and workers in the construction of the Allen Warner Plant at their Tuesday meeting.

The Nevada Power Company will begin construction on a pipeline and generating plant early in 1983.

This plant will be located 25 miles northeast of the City of Las Vegas in the Dry Lake Valley. The first of the plant's units will be in service in 1988, providing power to California, Southern Nevada and Southern Utah. One additional unit is expected to be in service each succeeding year until there are a total of four units.

1982 Dove And Band-Tailed Pigeon Hunting Seasons Set

By David K. Rice

Nevada's statewide mourning and white-winged dove hunting season will run 45 days this year with an increase of 50 percent in the daily bag and possession limit according to recent action taken by the Board of Wildlife Commissioners.

The season will extend Sept. 1 - Oct. 15, 1982, five days less than in the past; however, "the daily limit of 15 and the possession limit of 30 birds represents a 50 percent increase, the highest limits allowed during the past 30 years," according to Terry Retterer, NDOW game staff specialist.

"The Secretary of the Interior annually establishes season lengths, limits and shooting hours with which states may select hunting parameters for mourning doves, white-winged doves and band-tailed pigeons. For dove, we had two basic options: a 70-day season with a daily bag and possession limit of 12 and 24; or a 45-day season with a 15 and 30 limit.

"Because the majority of dove, at least in the northern portion of the state, leave by the second or third week of the season, the Department recommended the 45-day season and the larger limits which go with it and this was adopted by the Commission."

Retterer explained that cooler late August and early September weather, combined with cold rains, and heavy hunting pressure during the first week of the season move the birds south. "Historically, we have found that for the most part, hunters quit pursuing dove after the first weekend of the opening, even if we experience considerable migrations in the state during the second and third week."

The dove limit in Nevada has been 10 daily, 20 in possession since 1968 and Retterer said the large increase the past five years in the number of breeding pairs throughout much of the West has led to a significant increase in the number of available birds.

In Nevada's southern counties of Nye and Clark, the white-winged dove, a close relative of the more common mourning dove, is allowed to be taken, however, the aggregate limit of both species may not exceed 15 daily and 30 in possession of which no more than 10/20 can be white-wings.

The Wildlife Commission also approved a limited band-tailed pigeon season in Nevada, the second of a three year experimental season. Retterer explained, "During last year's season, 26 participating hunters harvested a total of 18 birds. The fire closure throughout the Carson Range last year, where this season was open, was the main reason the harvest was so low. We expect better success this year if a fire danger closure isn't necessary."

This season will run Sept. 25 - Oct. 24 and will be open in Carson City, Douglas and Lyon counties only. The limit will be five daily and five in possession.

Six Months Required For Resident Hunting-Fishing Privileges

By Charles Crunden

Nevada Department of Wildlife officials are reminding hunters and fishermen that there is a mandatory six-month continuous residency requirement before anyone can apply for and obtain a resident hunting, fishing or trapping license.

Nevada game wardens are commonly finding persons with vehicle license plates and driver's licenses issued in another state but who are in possession of either a resident Nevada fishing or hunting license. "Since Nevada law requires persons who move to this state to register their vehicles and obtain a Nevada driver's license within 45 days after arrival, it is reasonable to assume these people are either in violation of vehicle or registration laws or have fraudulently obtained resident fishing or hunting privileges," explained Darrel Harold, wildlife law enforcement specialist.

According to Nevada law, aliens are considered nonresidents for fishing, hunting or trapping license privilege, regardless of the length of time they have lived in the state, and may purchase a resident license only after they have become citizens of the United States.

Harold said, "When a person applies for a resident license in Nevada, he or she must complete and sign that portion that states 'I certify continuous Nevada residence since: (month and year),' as proof of eligibility for a resident license. If a person supplies false information on this or any other portion of a license, he or she is subject to a citation and resulting penalty."

The only exception to the six-month residency requirement applies to members of the armed forces permanently stationed in Nevada. They and their spouses and all dependents under the age of 21 may purchase resident licenses after presentation of proof of permanent assignment.

Nonresidents enjoy most of the privileges that residents do, except their licenses cost more. They are entitled to participate in the fishing seasons and limits as residents, however, they are excluded from hunting for antelope, elk, mountain goat, sage grouse, blue and ruffed grouse, Himalayan snow partridge and pheasant as well as trapping for bobcat and gray fox. Nonresident participation in deer and bighorn sheep hunting seasons is limited by quota.

Wildlife Federation Opposes Air Force Withdrawal Of Lands

The Nevada Wildlife Federation has joined with the Western Association of Fish and Wildlife Agencies in opposition to federal legislation which would withdraw 826,000 acres of Desert National Wildlife Range for use by the United States Air Force.

At its recent meeting in Las Vegas, the Western Association of Fish and Wildlife Agencies, composed of 13 western state wildlife departments, unanimously adopted a resolution which called for continued exclusive management of these lands by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service in cooperation with the Nevada Department of Wildlife.

"We fully support the Western Association's action," according to Dr. John 'Andy' Leitch, president of the Nevada Wildlife Federation, "and are calling upon our members and all other concerned sportsmen and conservationists to urge Nevada's congressional delegation to exclude these 826,000 acres of the Desert Wildlife Range from the proposed legislation.

"We see no need for the Air Force to acquire these lands as they now have authority to use them under terms of a Memorandum of Understanding with the Fish and Wildlife Service. This relationship has worked well for the Air Force as well as the Fish and Wildlife Service, although there have been difficulties with access," he said.

"Access by the public to that part of the Wildlife Range currently being used by the Air Force is extremely limited but there is an annual bighorn hunt permitted in the Pintwater and Desert Mountain Ranges during the Christmas holiday period when training is ceased.

Southern Nevada Off Road Enthusiasts Explain History

SNORE (Southern Nevada Off-Road Enthusiasts) is a local off-road racing club that was started in 1969, when a local motorcycle shop (B & B Performance Engineering) sponsored an off-road race at Jean on the Dry Lake.

Jon Block was the first president of SNORE. As president his message was "We hope to see SNORE become bigger and bigger," which it has in the last 13 years.

The membership has increased to 530 members.

Jon and the boys would agree SNORE has been a wonderful club and well worth all their efforts.

Some of these guys who worked so hard have been able to see their sons take over and become top drivers.

Others like Jon Block just never quit, but continue to race and enjoy what they started.

SNORE is not just another off-road club but is very family oriented and civic minded.

During 1981 SNORE sponsored a bike drive for bicycles and parts for St. Jude's Ranch for children. Also at Christmas time members of SNORE donated new and used toys to the Desert Development Center on West Charleston, and $600 cash to St. Jude's.

A barbeque is included before or after several of the races during the year, a family outing for Mother's Day involves the whole family. For the SNORE 250 in September there is a barbeque and a dance in the evening, also a dinner and dance at Christmas time.

Each year SNORE presents an award to the driver of the year with the highest points plus pays for all his races for the following year and a cash bonus.

SNORE's first Driver of the Year was Richard Holland in 1970 sponsored by Fletcher Jones Tire Town followed by Roger Welch in 1971.

Roger is one of the people responsible for what SNORE is today. Luther Kitcher won in 1972 and 1974.

James Mahan won in 1973 and 1978. James has lived in Henderson for 23 years, attended Basic High and is a house painter by trade.

Other winners were Roy Fairbanks 1975, Pat Millis 1976, Larry Job in 1977, Kenny Freman Jr. in 1979 and his dad Ken Freeman in 1980 from Henderson.

Ron Ellenburg, 1981 winner, also has high points so far for this year.

Denny Seleck is the current President of SNORE and has been since 1981.

The next major race is the SNORE 250 in September.

This race started as a local race but has mushroomed into a major event with drivers competing from all over the U.S.

The general public is not aware of the restrictions placed by the BLM on a race.

One of them is that the race course is to be cleaned up of all debris from the spectators and races before another race can be run. This clean-up is performed by SNORE members as soon as a race is over.

Reclamation Awards Contract For Yuma Desalting Plant System

A $25,325,000 Bureau of Reclamation contract has been awarded for construction of the second stage of the pre-treatment system of the Yuma Desalting Plant being built about 4 miles west of Yuma, Arizona, Secretary of the Interior James Watt announced today. Commissioner of Reclamation Robert N. Broadbent said the contract was awarded to the Brinderson Corporation of Irvine, California. The firm was the lowest of 14 bidders for the project. Facilities that will be constructed under the contract awarded today will pretreat the water that is to be desalted by the plant. This process will condition the water before it reaches the plant's reverse-osmosis membranes, lessening the possibility of their becoming clogged and extending their useful life. Among the features to be constructed are settling, filtering, and chemical treatment facilities. Associated mechanical and electrical equipment for each feature also will be installed, as will a test train. The test train will serve as a miniature plant, and will be used initially to obtain data for startup of the main plant. Once the desalting plant is operational, the test train will be used to test processes and equipment that could increase the plant's efficiency.

A Title I feature of the Colorado River Basin Salinity Control Project, the desalting plant will remove enough dissolved salts from irrigation return flows to make the water acceptable for blending with Colorado River water for delivery to Mexico under terms of a 1973 agreement. Although designed to produce 96 million gallons of water per day, the plant will initially produce 73 million gallons per day and can be expanded to 96 million gallons of water per day in the future if necessary. First stage pretreatment works for the plant, consisting of site preparation and an intake system, were constructed under a $7 million contract awarded in February 1980. A $2.4 million contract was awarded for construction of a switchyard at the plant site in July 1981, and a 3.9-mile-long transmission line has also been constructed for the desalting complex.

A contract for the desalting plant is planned for award in 1983. The plant is scheduled to be in operation by January 1987.

Labor Department Adds $5.3-Million For Summer Youth Jobs

An additional $5.3-million to fund youth summer jobs programs has been given to local governments in four western states, the U.S. Department of Labor announced. California received $4.6-million; Arizona, $444,872; Nevada, $126,593; and Hawaii, $169,076.

allocated to local governments that operate CETA (Comprehensive Employment and Training Act) programs and were authorized under a supplemental appropriations bill signed by President Reagan July 18.

Don A. Balcer, regional administrator here for the Employment and Training Administration, said he has asked prime sponsors to start using the funds immediately.

He said prime sponsors have the option to use the funds to either extend the length of their current youth summer jobs programs, increase the number of hours participants work, or to create additional job opportunities.

The funds were

Finalists Chosen in 1982 Miss Nevada State Fair Competition

During the 400 years of the Han Dynasty, China became as large and powerful as the Roman Empire. Arts and sciences thrived in this period which began about 200 B.C.

Ten finalists have been chosen in the 1982 Miss Nevada State Fair competition. The winner will be crowned at the fair's opening night ceremonies on September 8 at 8 p.m.

Finalist Michelle Colbert is a student at the University of Nevada-Reno. Her scholastic goals lie in medicine. The graphy, art and skiing. Twenty one year old Suzanne Bowman of Sparks was Miss Nevada 1981 and represented the state in the Miss America pageant. Recipient of several scholarships, Suzanne is a nursing student at UNR. Her hobbies are tennis, gymnastics, dancing, skiing, reading and collecting glass animal figurines.

Venetia Sardelli of Las Vegas was a member of a puppet theater group in high school and theater arts are her primary interest. The 21 year old finalist works as a model.

Cynthia Pederson is a student at University of Nevada-Reno. Second runner-up in the 1981 and 1982 Miss Douglas County pageants and first runner-up in the 1982 Miss Truckee Meadows pageant, she is also a member of the Wolf Pack flag team. Eighteen year old Cindy's hobbies are skiing, river rafting, pen pals and collecting stuffed animals.

Nineteen year old Jean Mui of Sparks attends the University of Southern California. The Sparks resident has received numerous scholastic honors and was a delegate to the national junior achievement conference. Her hobbies include hiking, cooking, sports, reading and photography.

Henderson resident Linda Hansen was chosen Miss Industrial Days for 1981-82. The 18 year old finalist attends secretarial school. Her hobbies are horseback riding and water skiing. Krisanne Malloy graduated from Western High School in 1981, where she was Homecoming Queen. Also first runner-up in both the Miss North Las Vegas and Miss Clark County competitions, 18 year old Krisanne's primary interests are ballet and jazz dancing, water safety, swimming and sewing.

Marlene Gilmore of Carson City holds a nursing certificate from the Western Nevada Community College and currently works as a teller. The 22 year old's hobbies and interests include snow and water skiing, racquetball, softball and modeling.

Candy Galubinsky of Henderson is a graduate of Basic High School and works as a secretary. The 18 year old finalist's prime interests and hobbies are fashion designing, dance, water and snow skiing.

University of Nevada Reno student Annaliese Cherry is twenty years old. A member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority, her hobbies are water skiing, snow skiing and sewing.

NURSES ARE GREAT!—Valley Hospital Medical Center Assistant Administrator Catherine Mahan, standing, explains the many benefits of nursing to recent UNLV nursing school graduates Susan Bakos, left and Joy Dale. Valley Hospital treated the graduates to a Graduation Pizza Party where Valley Hospital's Nurse Recruiter spoke to the new registered nurses about the two-month New RN Graduate orientation program at the hospital. This program is designed to make the transition from student nurse to staff nurse less traumatic. It allows the new nursing graduate to work with an experienced hospital staff nurse and gain confidence, practical knowledge and a realistic view of health care and hospital nursing prior to the graduate becoming a staff nurse at a hospital. For more information on this and other continuing nursing education programs offered through Valley Hospital's Staff Development Department, contact Nurse Recruiter Jill Rybar at 385-3011.

Census Bureau To Take Employment Survey Here

Local representatives of the Bureau of the Census will conduct a survey of employment in this area during the work week of August 16-21, 1982, Dwight P. Dean, Acting Director of the Bureau's Regional Office in Los Angeles, announced today.

The survey is conducted for the U.S. Department of Labor in a scientifically designed sample of approximately 71,000 households throughout the United States. Employment and unemployment statistics based on results of this survey are used to provide a continuing measure of the economic health of the nation.

For example, in June the survey indicated that of the 110.2 million men and women in the civilian labor force, 99.8 million were employed. The nation's unemployment rate was 9.5 percent, the same as in May.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is kept strictly confidential by law and the results are used only to compile statistical totals.

Quail Ridge Estates Housing Construction Doubles

The leaves of autumn will begin to turn their rich colors in the next few months in Quail Ridge Estates, the elegant custom homesite development in Green Valley. This fall, though, Quail Ridge Estates will have twice as much beautiful scenery to gaze upon as housing construction in the development has doubled during the year.

Eight houses have been constructed in Quail Ridge Estates thus far, with 45 of the 105 luxurious homesites already purchased. According to Leslie Bausher, marketing director for American Nevada Corporation, developers of Quail Ridge Estates and overall developers of Green Valley, each of the 23 lots in phase one of the development have been sold, with only seven lots still available out of a total of 25 in phase two.

Although final grading is still in process on phase three of Quail Ridge Estates, four of the 30 lots available have been purchased. Bausher added that phase four of the picturesque development, which has yet to be graded, contains 27 homesite lots.

With the number of lots sold in Quail Ridge Estates, many more homes should be taking shape in the near future due to the provision for the lot purchasers to begin building within three years.

The advantage of the home building time frame, Bausher pointed out, is that a lot owner and eventual home dweller is assured that the total project will be fully developed within a short period of time.

After all Quail Ridge Estates homesites have been purchased, the lots will be developed with beautiful homes within three years, leaving no vacant lots to detract from the overall development.

Situated in the southwest corner of Green Valley, Nevada's largest master-planned community, Quail Ridge Estates offers a breathtaking view of the Las Vegas valley. More and more residents will be able to enjoy the same sight as building continues.

Although Quail Ridge Estates offers the finest in custom homesites as well as scenic surroundings, American Nevada provides even more for the development's residents -- their own tennis club.

Bausher explained that as part of American Nevada's plan for Quail Ridge Estates, construction on the development's tennis club would have begun when the tenth house received a notice of completion by building inspectors.

Construction in Quail Ridge Estates was moving so well, though, American Nevada reacted quickly and began building the tennis club after the sixth residence received its notice of completion.

The Southwestern designed tennis club will feature two sunken, night-lighted tennis courts, overlooking amphitheater and deck seating, a lounge facility, a kitchen for individual use and a "tot lot" play area for children. Membership in the tennis club is limited to Quail Ridge Estates residents.

When complete, Quail Ridge Estates will be fully walled and gate guarded with a computerized security system located in the guardhouse providing available connection to each lot. Electronic gates were recently installed at the entrance to Quail Ridge Estates and are operated on a card key system.

The elegance and master planning of Quail Ridge Estates has established it as one of the most acclaimed developments of its kind in the nation. As building continues, more and more visitors to Quail Ridge Estates are becoming permanent residents.

To visit Quail Ridge Estates, take Eastern Avenue to Warm Springs Road and turn left. Continue on Warm Springs to La Mesa and turn left at the gated entry, or phone the community office for information at 456-4961.

QUAIL RIDGE ESTATES CONSTRUCTION—Shown above are some of the elegant homes being built in Quail Ridge Estates in Green Valley, a luxury custom homesite development featuring 105 half acre or larger luxurious lots. During the past year housing construction has doubled in the development, with sales reaching the 43 percent mark.

The Greek word for second-year college students, sophomores, is actually a combination of two Greek words meaning foolish and wise.

Reclamation Awards $837,000 Contract for Pump Units at Salinity Control Project Well Field

Bureau of Reclamation Lower Colorado Region Director Bill Plummer today announced the award of an $837,124 contract for installing pumps, motors and other equipment on seven previously drilled wells in the agency's Protective and Regulatory Pumping Unit southeast of Yuma, Arizona.

Plummer said the contract was awarded to Gilbert Pump and Equipment Company of Phoenix, Arizona. The firm will have 300 calendar days in which to complete the contract.

Principal work called for by the contract includes constructing embankments and erecting chain link fences at the wellsites; placing reinforced concrete bases for the pumps and for the floors of concrete masonry control shelters that will be erected at each well site; installing pumping units complete with electric motors, transformers, motor controls and control cables at each of the seven wells; and installing a discharge pipeline at each site.

The Protective and Regulatory Pumping Unit is located just north of the United States-Mexico boundary east of San Luis, Arizona. Constructed under Title I of the Colorado River Basin Salinity Control Act, the unit pumps water from an underground aquifer along the border that is recharged by the Colorado River system. Water pumped by the well field is delivered to Mexico as part of the

1.5 million acre-feet of Colorado River water obligated to that Nation under a 1944 treaty. Initial operation of the well field began in 1981. There are currently 21 wells in the unit, 14 of which are equipped with pumps and motors. The remaining seven wells, numbered 242-8 through 242-14, will be operable upon completion of the contract awarded today.

Dunes Main Event Highlights

The punching power Tyrone Moore has seemingly kept under wraps in previous outings finally exploded the other night at the Dunes Hotel.

The 24-year old junior welterweight from Louisville produced his most explosive victory in five Las Vegas appearances Wednesday when he sent Jimmy Blevins into dreamland without hardly breaking a sweat.

Moore, 138, practically did it with one shot - a mean left hook to Blevins' jaw which finished the transplanted Chicagoan at 3:06 of the first round in a scheduled 10-round main event.

It was the second "all-action" show for Promoter Tommy Fischer's Best Fight Promotions in the Dunes' Crown Jewel Room. A goodly number of the near - 1,000 spectators had hardly returned from the concession recess when Moore dropped his bomb.

Blevins, 138, trying to shake off the spectre of losses to Roger Mayweather and Ricardo Jimenez, never got untracked. It was also the first time in his five-year career that Jimmy wasn't around for the final bell.

The victory was Moore's 15th against two losses and the 11th inside the distance. It was also Tyrone's fourth one-round stoppage as a pro.

For the disconsolate Blevins, the record dipped to 19-8-1. And the outcome must have assuredly left him with some misgivings on what boxing holds for him in the future. Though the losses to Mayweather and Jimenez were over the route, Blevins was on the canvas twice in each bout.

Moore, who lost a 10-round verdict to Vegas' Eddie Nuno in his last local showing Oct. 22 at the Hacienda, kept Blevins at bay with a snapping jab early in the round.

The taller Moore broke free and scored with crunching left hook which caught Blevins full force. Blevins pitched forward on his face and was scrambling on pure instinct to beat referee Davey Pearl's count.

Blevins, 29, was still in left field mentally as he arose at "eight". The punished fighter lurched back against the ropes and just as he put his right glove to his temple, Pearl correctly waved Moore away.

Moore was happy but calm in dressing room well-wishers included Greg Page, a former Golden Gloves teammate and now ranking heavyweight contender.

"I know I'd win but I didn't pan that much on a kayo," Moore advised. "Blevins was trying to work in close but he never landed a shot. I was watching his jab. It was slow."

"I was trying to set up Blevins with my left hook. I just caught him early but you can't take anything away from Blevins. On another night, it might have been a different story."

Perhaps the most significant plus in the victory was no recurrence of sore tendons he suffered after beating Jaime Nava last October at the Silver Slipper.

"My hands were killing me that night and it affected my bout with Nuno," Moore said. "Now my hands are 100 percent better. I think I proved that tonight. I'd trained for this fight since June and since it was so short, I'd like to fight again in five or six weeks, probably in September."

The 10-round semi-windup came to an abrupt halt at 2:55 of the fifth round when Los Angeles' Kelvin Lampkin accidentally butted Gino Perez of Rico Rivera, Calif.

The official verdict was a technical draw when Perez, 132, suffered a deep gash on the right side of his forehead, later requiring 18 stitches to close.

After four rounds, judge Duane Ford and Dave Moretti both called it 38-38 for a draw while Larry Clark tabbed it Perez, 39-7.

Lampkin, 132½, had no trouble scoring with his left jab but Perez, 132, now 12-3-1, continued to press and was scoring well with his chopping right when the mishap occurred.

Hunter Take Of Upland Game In 1981 Down From Previous Year

By Charles Crunden

Hunter harvest of the major upland game and waterfowl species during the 1981 season was down from the previous year according to results of Nevada Department of Wildlife's annual hunter questionnaire mailed to approximately ten percent of the state's hunting license buyers.

The greatest decline was noted for chukar partridge with hunters reporting a statewide take of 84,498 birds compared to an all time record of 218,965 in 1980. San Stiver, department upland game specialist, suggested, "This very significant drop in harvest was due to greatly lowered bird population levels. Production was extremely poor during 1981 due to extensive drought conditions and very little greenup of grasses and other vegetation during the critical winter and spring months."

"The sage grouse harvest, of 15, 522 birds, was up slightly over the previous year but was below the last peak of 28,228 established in 1979," Stiver said. "I think we may be in a low to medium period at the present time, because when you look back over the years to 1951, the earliest accurate record of the sage grouse kill, the information suggests a cycle, or fairly regular fluctuation in numbers, that lasts from 10 to 12 years. Although population peaks could vary a few years one way or the other, it appears that high populations have occurred on or about years ending in zero and lows on or about years ending in five."

"Another group of birds down in harvest from the previous year were quail," according to Stiver. "with the Gambel's quail of southern Nevada contributing most to the decline. In Clark, Lincoln and Nye Counties, quail are almost wholly dependent on winter and fall moisture and the good range conditions promotes. In the northern part of the state, however, valley quail production is fairly stable from one year to the next but the number of breeding adults can vary greatly depending on the severity of the winter."

The harvest of other upland and waterfowl species during 1981 as reported in the annual hunter questionnaire survey were: Hungarian partridge-8,761, up 77 percent from 1980; pheasant-5,424, down 20 percent; blue grouse-2,916, up 54 percent; rabbits-62,831, down 41 percent; mourning and white-winged doves-120,424, down 16 percent; ducks-90,396, down 12 percent; dark geese-8,897, up 97 percent; white geese-1,961, up 249 percent.

Biologists throughout the state have completed their summer field surveys and are in the process of formulating recommendations for 1982 upland game, rabbit migratory bird and furbearing animal seasons and bag limits. These proposals will be presented to Game Management Boards at public hearings in all 17 counties of the state during the next few weeks, with the final decision on 1982 seasons scheduled to be made by the state board of Wildlife Commissioners at its August 21 meeting in Reno.

Recording Setting Entry Into WIBC Bowling Tournament

Within 40 working days after entries became available into the 1983 national bowling tournament, WIBC has announced a new record breaking 10,001 teams have entered.

This event will begin at the Showboat Lanes next April and was originally scheduled to finish May 29, 1983.

Now however, because of the overwhelming nationwide enthusiasm for "bowling Las Vegas," WIBC officials have been forced to extend the tournament at least until June 10.

"Our real problem at this time," says Ann Adams, local tournament coordinator, "is reaching our local bowlers to impress upon them the urgency in getting their entries in."

"Some Las Vegas and Southern Nevada bowlers have the idea that 400 team spots have been reserved for local teams." "This is a false impression; local bowlers do not receive special scheduling consideration."

Adams goes on to remind local bowlers that in 1973 WIBC suddenly gave the Las Vegas Women's Association exactly one week to get its team entries in before cutoff date.

"The association was able to add almost 100 more teams. But remember," she continues, "the membership was much smaller then and now we may not have time to contact our 10,000 members at a moments notice."

"Without the help of

The U.S. nickel is really 75 percent copper and just 25 percent nickel.

the media, print and electronic, we haven't much hope. The biggest percent of our members only bowl regularly during the winter season and few winter leagues begin play before the end of August or first of September."

It is expected that WIBC will be forced to declare the tournament filled and close entries long before the January closing date originally scheduled.

"I'm not too sure the local media understands the importance of this for the average bowler. Most of them cannot afford to travel over the United States to participate in a national tournament. This was our purpose in bidding for it; to afford as many of the Southern Nevada ladies to bowl as possible."

Tournament entries are available at all Las Vegas, Henderson,

Boulder City, Nellis Bowling centers as well as at the three association offices in the southern Nevada area.

"IF WE'RE RIGHT...TIME IS RUNNING OUT ON ONE OF THE BEST OPPORTUNITIES OF OUR TIME."

Economic history does repeat itself. Our economy suffers a classic recession/inflation cycle with each recession being worse than the one before it - and each inflationary cycle rising higher than the one before. It is near the bottom of the recessionary cycle that it is wise to buy into any property in preparation for the next higher cycle that's on the horizon.

This may not be the exact bottom, but it's close enough. That's why we recommend that you buy land now. We are in an historic buying range and you should act quickly so as not to miss out. If we are right, and the bottom is near, time is running out.

Taking Advantage of Accredited Trade School

It's true, getting a job in today's marketplace is getting difficult. But while thousands of individuals are finding jobs hard to come by, trained workers, like those graduating from trade and technical schools are discovering the doors to many occupational opportunities open for those persons qualified and ready to work.

Last year more students than ever before entered private career schools across the country seeking an advantage to tomorrow's jobs today. At a time when many schools are seeing smaller lines in the admission's office, the National Association of Trade and Technical Schools, which represents 500 accredited trade and technical schools throughout the United States, saw a 15 percent jump in enrollment during the 1981-82 school year. According to Henry Herzing, president of NATTS, there's no secret to the success of the trade and technical school industry.

"We have made it our business for years to train people in the shortest amount of time for the best possible job," said Herzing. "The big difference now is that more and more students are discovering we do what we resent the largest percentage of recruits each year for NATTS schools, but over the last five years these schools are accepting more college graduates, college dropouts, and displaced workers who are unable to find suitable employment.

"They're coming to us to learn a marketable skill," said Herzing. "They're smart enough to know that without proper training there's almost no hope of finding a good job."

NATTS schools offer students hands-on training for nearly 100 careers. As most of the career training programs were established to meet the needs of American industry, students usually have little difficulty finding employment upon graduation.

"That's the key," said Herzing. "We have emphasized our relationship to the world-of-work and our sensitivity and responsiveness to changes in the job market. Plus we try to meet the needs and desires of our students," he said.

According to Herzing most of the students attending trade and technical schools are excited by the shorter courses, the emphasis on specialized training with less training unrelated to the occupational goal, and the chance to finish quicker.

"Our programs usually enable students to complete their training in two years or less," said Herzing. "This way, they can start earning a salary sooner and begin a promising career."

Most NATTS schools are small in size enrolling 250 to 300 students on an average. Teachers usually come directly from industry with years of career experience to teach students. In addition to many of the well-known trades such as automotive mechanics, carpentry, electronics, office machine repair and welding, NAATS schools offer students many other careers to choose from as well.

"Students are always pleasantly surprised to discover our schools offer training opportunities for jobs as a data processor, illustrator, jewelry designer, legal assistant, medical lab technician, legal assistant, real estate agent, tailor, and X-ray technician," Herzing said.

Although NATTS schools are located in almost every state in the nation and enrollments are escalating, Herzing contends there are still thousands of individuals who never get an opportunity to discover these career schools.

"We're trying to give more individuals an advantage in the job market, but unfortunately we are not able to reach many people who could use specialized training to get a good job," said Herzing.

Each year NATTS distributes thousands of publications free. Last year requests for publications ran just over two million. Since last September, nearly 360,000 people who wrote to NATTS at 2021 K Street, Room 315, Washington, D.C. 20006-1077 received a free Handbook of Trade and Technical Careers and Training. The Handbook lists every accredited trade and technical school in the nation. For convenience, schools are listed by state and by the careers they offer.

Although contact with high school counselors and the distribution of material and information is helping more people to discover accredited trade and technical schools, Herzing believes there's still a long way to go.

"Too many people are out of work, too many people are disenchanted with traditional institutions and too many people are looking for better jobs," said Herzing.

Sunland Motors Celebrate 25th Anniversary

The odds in 1957 of a car dealer making a go of it selling a funny-looking SMALL car in a BIG car town would have been long indeed. But the combination of the Allred family and the tough little Volkswagen beat those odds with a very simple formula -- good people with a good product.

And now, as Sunland Motors celebrates its 25th anniversary in Las Vegas, the winning team is still together. Jerry Allred, who now runs Sunland Motors, remembers when his uncle Earl opened their first "little store, as we call a dealership" at 2030 East Fremont. "We'd been one of the first VW dealers in California and decided to open here. My cousin Wade, who runs Sunland RV Center down the road started working here when it opened, but I didn't come until 1963. That was just about the time the Allreds had outgrown their facilities and moved to their present location at the corner of Boulder Highway and Mojave. "We actually moved in 1964 and by then we had added Porsche to our line. In 1969 with the addition of Audi, we were able to offer a full range of cars that could fit anyone's pocket-book, from the cost-conscious Rabbit to the person who appreciates the perfection of the Porsche." Our faith in the VW had paid off. It had the reputation of a tough, dependable, economical car at a good price and that still holds true. "But the key is in having good people and making sure they're happy."

opened 19 years ago in May of 1973.

This formula seems to work for the Allreds, not only at Sunland Motors, but at Sunland RV Center which they

KC and Friends Back at Skyline Casino

The Silhouette Room of the Skyline Casino on Boulder Highway will again resound with the music of the KC and Friends band which is headed by the talented Pete Frye. The group has a large, loyal following of fans that continue to ask more of the Country and Western sounds as well as the 50s Rock and Roll. The group's vocalist is Kevin Casey who entertains with a nice blend of the Country-Western - 50s music. KC and Friends include bass player, Donna Kiepper; lead guitar Peter Frye; Charlie Brown on Steel Guitar and percussionist, Geno Trevino. The group will be performing through the month of August on Friday and Saturday starting at 8 p.m. and with five performances each evening. Complimenting the KC group is Randy Anderson playing from 4 p.m. until 8 p.m. including Sunday.

New Horizon Home overlooks Las Vegas valley.

Home Of The Week Featured At New Horizons

Lewis Homes is now featuring a home each week at its prestigious view community of New Horizons in Henderson. This week the home to see is the three-bedroom, two-bath Plan 419 on home-site number 76.

"It's a luxury home. It's affordable. It'll be ready for occupancy in late August, prior to the start of the new school year."

That trio of facts about Plan 419 was stated by Robert E. Lewis, president of Lewis Homes. He noted that New Horizons' first featured home comes with rear line block wall fencing, plus complete front and rear yard seeding. The backyard is especially nice and its corner location commands a panoramic view of the entire Las Vegas valley.

Priced at $75,950, this single-story home has a generously-sized family room and a formal dining room. Amenities of the master suite include large wardrobe, bath and dressing area, plus a built-in vanity table. The master suite is rivalled in number of luxury appointments by the kitchen, which features furniture-quality cabinets, luminous ceiling, generous counter space, breakfast bar, pantry, dishwasher, and instant hot water tap.

Home shoppers viewing Plan 419 will be delighted with New Horizons' tranquil hilltop setting and its walking-distance proximity to Black Mountain Golf Course, a public park, and a fine elementary school Lewis noted.

The liveable area encompasses 1,519 square feet of outstanding design, and the oversized two-car garage adds convenient storage or workshop area.

Wall-to-wall carpeting beautifies living room, dining area, bedrooms, closets and hallways.

To see this featured home at New Horizons, take Boulder Highway to Horizon Drive (just south of Henderson) and turn west (right) to the site. Sales office is open daily from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Looking Back To The Railroad Pass Schoolhouse

By Teddy Bob Branch, well known Boulder City contractor, dropped off a pamphlet* at the NEWS telling the world the story of what is bound to be one of the beauty spots of the entire area. Historically the development, named "Indian Hills" is located in Alunite, Nevada.

Alunite was the big news from 1904 until 1911. Professor Hill, a prominent mining engineer was sure it would become another Goldfield and several million dollars was supplied by investors before the mining claims passed into history.

We mention the R.R. Pass school house. In the Indian Hills pamphlet there is no room to give "all history" although Sarah Klinger, widow of the Mayor of R.R. Pass Art Klinger, did a wonderful job. R.R. Pass became a tent city for hundreds of people. Little families filled places named Dee's Camp (Original home for Pat and Van Jensen) and there was also Showwalter's Camp, and within the community of one tent city a street was named after Art Klinger.

So it became evident that a school was needed. The citizens raised a portion of the money. The state supplied its share. The first teacher was Mr. Lacey. Later a well known young teacher took over and later moved to Boulder City and taught while Elton Garrett served as principal. She was Laura M. Ckey. Do you remember?

Out where the Indian Hills townhouse development is rising from the ground was a wild and wooly roadhouse. To this day all historians are reminded of the Texas Acres, more respectfully referred to as "Boulder Inn". Many a worker on Hoover Dam remembers the good times there. However, it is not on record that a killing ever took place in the bar owned by Pete Pansey, who with the help of his two sons advertised and attracted trade from throughout the area. At the end of four years it was forced to leave by law.

R.R. Pass Casino Reaches Its 51st Birthday And Its 7th Birthday

By Teddy Fenton
Bob Verchota, you and that staff of close to 250 workers deserve a birthday cake with 1000 candles on it. You have supplied work for people that was not available during the sad years the R.R. Pass remained closed. Happy Birthday, August 1, 1982.

Somehow that gorgeous and historical building has survived over 51 years. It was on Aug. 1, 1931, that it opened its doors and had no rival in being the glamorous place to go. The ceilings have been lowered now so that the stars painted on the original ceiling is no longer visible. Nor is the wagon wheel that the artist painted in the center of that vaulted ceiling. No money was spared to make the original Railroad Pass a truly magnificent edifice. It was something for the workers at Hoover Dam to look forward to after an 8 hour stint in weather so hot it broke a 26 year record in this area. Even then the place was noted for the all night entertainment. Incredibly, there was never a killing. There was, it is true, a robbery and someone was hit by gunfire. But the patient survived.

Today, all the month of August, the free giveaways have drawn the LARGEST CROWD in months. Business is as good as one could expect and better than most casinos by comparison. The Secret is Mr. Bob Verchota's Past Experience.

No one spent more hours in the R.R. Pass Casino than the team of Bill and Teddy during the months when Country Western music was featured. It seemed like the good times would never stop.

But stop they did. Suddenly the R.R. Pass was so down in business that it literally became a ghost town. Even the dance floor, so popular throughout Clark County was nearly empty of fun lovers.

Then came the miracle. Seven years ago along came Bob Verchota and Company. You have heard of love at first sight? Yes! It was exactly love for he spoke to the owner, heard the price, went home to think it over and back the next morning to say he would take it.

Bob Verchota has told the story of owning a supper club in Chicago prior to coming to Nevada. It too had been a small place, doing practically no business. Whatever makes a man know what brings in the crowds, that is the secret of Mr. Bob Verchota. His former supper club became famous for miles around. It grew and prospered and was sold to reinvest at another location. Lucky for us that location turned out to be a mere four miles from Boulder City.

There is absolutely no doubt that not only does the R.R. Pass casino attract people to our motels, and even to our shops, it is a sure guess that money is brought to Boulder City via the location of the oldest and most historical casino in the state of Nevada. Even in the renovation the spark of what has always made it great has not been changed. The personality of the genius behind the scenes is evident everywhere.

This article should contain the names of all the managers, all the gang that have stayed with Bob throughout his ownership of the great, the only Railroad Pass Casino. That story is upcoming. The length of time some of them have remained aboard dates to former positions held within the Verchota base of operations. It will take another interview to learn if other valuable employees (besides loyal Bill Kadero) also worked for Verchota in Chicago.

Study the menu, read the ads in the NEWS. Can you understand how such good food, prime ribs and the works, can cost no more than the menu listed a year ago? Yes! Instead of the patrons giving gifts to R.R. Pass for its birthday, the casino is giving away everything, with a lot of heart thrown in.

We saw the casino for the first time on April 21, 1936. Big Steve Fenton had just fetched me from the railroad station in Las Vegas. With him was Allie Fenton Kilpatrick (his sister) Waiting at home was Irving and Stephanie Fenton (his parents). They lived in a tent house in McKeeverville. Its solar hot water tank was a 50 gallon oil drum.

We pulled up to R.R. Pass. Steve went in to get a bottle! I marveled at that beautiful building. The little train across the top. Chic Fletcher owned it then. I had not seen anything like the pass in all my life in Williston, North Dakota.

How I would have marveled had it looked as it does now! It is truly the jewel of the desert. When the final plans are completed here is a hint of coming events. A place where children will pan real gold. It has always been more than a rumor that there will be a goldstrike at R.R. Pass. Hasn't it already happened. We have all struck gold at the R.R. Pass Casino. Just having fun.

THANKS AGAIN FOR ALL THE SUPPORT YOU HAVE GIVEN THE NEWS.

Huggins Appointed Sales Representative For Quail Ridge Estates

American Nevada Corporation, developers of Quail Ridge Estates and overall developers of Green Valley, Nevada's largest master-planned community, recently announced the appointment of Earl Huggins as sales representative for Quail Ridge Estates, a luxury custom homesite development located in the community.

Huggins retired from the air force before beginning his real estate career four years ago. Since his retirement Huggins has also worked in tax accounting.

Prior to his present position Huggins worked with the Merrill Lynch-Jack Matthews company.

According to Huggins working in Quail Ridge Estates, which contains 105 half acre or large elegant custom homesites, is a unique experience. "The fact that Green Valley and Quail Ridge Estates are master planned makes working in real estate in the community much easier," Huggins explained. "People know what type of neighborhood they will be living in during the coming years."

Huggins has lived in Las Vegas the past nine years with his wife and three children.

BILL NO. 790
Introduced by: Ferraro
ORDINANCE NO. 790

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND TITLE 11, ZONING AND SUBDIVISIONS, OF THE CITY CODE, TO ADD OR CHANGE CERTAIN DEFINITIONS; TO CHANGE REGULATIONS PERTAINING TO THE HEIGHT AND NUMBER OF STORIES IN A BUILDING; TO ESTABLISH A MAXIMUM LOT COVERAGE BY BUILDINGS ON A LOT; AND TO REPEAL ANY PROVISIONS IN CONFLICT THEREWITH. (AM-82-104)

The City of Boulder City do ordain:
SECTION 1. Section 11-1-3(B) is hereby amended by adding the following specific definitions:
BASEMENT: Any floor level below the first story in a building, except that a floor level in a building having only one floor level shall be classified as a basement unless such floor qualifies as a first story as defined herein.

LOT COVERAGE: The percentage of the area of a lot which is occupied by the main building.
STORY, FIRST: The lowest story in a building which qualifies as a story, as defined herein, except that a floor level in a building having only one floor level shall be classified as a first story, provided such floor level is not more than four (4) feet below grade, as defined herein, for more than fifty (50) percent of the total perimeter, or more than eight (8) feet below grade, as defined herein, for more than forty (40) percent of the total perimeter.

SECTION 2. Specific definitions of Section 11-1-3(B) are hereby repealed and replaced with the following:
BUILDING HEIGHT: The vertical distance above a reference datum measured to the highest point of the coping of a flat roof or to the deck line of a mansard roof or to the average height of the highest gable of a pitched or hipped roof. The reference datum shall be selected by either of the following, whichever yields a greater height of building.
(a) The elevation of the highest adjoining sidewalk or ground surface within a five (5) foot horizontal distance of the exterior wall of the building or when such sidewalk or ground surface is not more than ten (10) feet above lowest grade.

(b) An elevation ten (10) feet higher than the lowest grade when the sidewalk or ground surface described in subparagraph (a) above is more than ten (10) feet above lowest grade.
GRADE: The lowest point of elevation of the finished surface of the ground, paving or sidewalk within the area between the building and the property line or, when the property line is more than five (5) feet from the building, between the building and a line five (5) feet from the building.

STORY: That portion of a building included between the upper surface of any floor and the upper surface of the floor next above, except that the topmost story shall be that portion of a building included between the upper surface of the topmost floor and the ceiling or roof above. If the finished floor level directly above a basement or unused floor space is more than six (6) feet above grade as defined herein for more than twelve (12) feet above grade as defined herein at any point, such basement or unused floor space shall be considered as a story.

SECTION 3. Section 11-3-3(A) is hereby repealed and is replaced with the following:
(A)

Table with columns: DISTRICT, Lot Area Sq. Ft., Lot Width, Lot Corner, Lot Dwelling Unit, Size 1, Maximum Lot Coverage. Rows include R1-7, R1-8, R1-10, R1-15, R1-20, R1-40, R1-90.

1. Exclusive of garages, porches, eaves or similar features.

SECTION 4. Section 11-3-3(F) is hereby repealed and is replaced with the following:
(F) BUILDING HEIGHT: The height of a building shall not exceed twenty-five (25) feet.

SECTION 5. Section 11-3-5 is hereby amended by adding the following subsection:
(G) NUMBER OF STORIES: The number of stories in a building shall not exceed two (2) stories.

SECTION 6. Section 11-4-9 is hereby repealed in its entirety and replaced with the following:
11-4-9. BUILDING HEIGHT AND BULK REQUIREMENTS:

(A) BUILDING HEIGHT: The height of a building shall not exceed twenty-five (25) feet.

(B) NUMBER OF STORIES: The number of stories in a building shall not exceed two (2) stories.

(C) LOT COVERAGE: The maximum lot coverage shall be fifty (50) percent of the lot area.

SECTION 7. Section 11-5-4 is hereby repealed in its entirety and replaced with the following:
11-5-4. MINIMUM LOT AREA PER DWELLING UNIT: The minimum lot area per dwelling unit shall be two thousand five hundred (2,500) square feet.

SECTION 8. Section 11-5-9 is hereby repealed in its entirety and replaced with the following:
11-5-9. BUILDING HEIGHT AND BULK REQUIREMENTS:

(A) BUILDING HEIGHT: The height of a building shall not exceed twenty-five (25) feet.

(B) NUMBER OF STORIES: The number of stories in a building shall not exceed two (2) stories.

(C) LOT COVERAGE: The maximum lot coverage shall be fifty (50) percent of the lot area.

(D) DISTANCE BETWEEN BUILDINGS: The minimum distance between buildings on the same lot shall be ten (10) feet.

SECTION 9. Section 11-7-5 is hereby amended by adding the following subsection:
(K) LOT COVERAGE: The maximum lot coverage shall be fifty (50) percent of the lot area.

SECTION 10. Section 11-9-7 is hereby repealed in its entirety and replaced with the following:
11-9-7. BUILDING HEIGHT AND NUMBER OF STORIES:

(A) BUILDING HEIGHT: The height of a building shall not exceed twenty-five (25) feet.

(B) NUMBER OF STORIES: The number of stories in a building shall not exceed two (2) stories.

SECTION 11. Section 11-10-7 is hereby repealed in its entirety and replaced with the following:
11-10-7. BUILDING HEIGHT AND NUMBER OF STORIES:

(A) BUILDING HEIGHT: The height of a building shall not exceed thirty-five (35) feet.

(B) NUMBER OF STORIES: The number of stories in a building shall not exceed three (3) stories.

SECTION 12. Section 11-11-8(A) is hereby repealed in its entirety and replaced with the following:
(A) BUILDING HEIGHT AND NUMBER OF STORIES:

1. Building Height: The height of a building shall not exceed twenty-five (25) feet.

2. Number of Stories: The number of stories in a building shall not exceed two (2) stories.

SECTION 13. Section 11-12-6(A) is hereby repealed in its entirety and replaced with the following:
(A) BUILDING HEIGHT AND NUMBER OF STORIES:

1. Building Height: The height of a building shall not exceed thirty-five (35) feet.

2. Number of Stories: The number of stories in a building shall not exceed three (3) stories.

SECTION 14. Section 11-13-4 is hereby repealed in its entirety and replaced with the following:
11-13-4. MINIMUM LOT SIZES, SETBACKS AND BUILDING CONTROLS: No building shall be located on any lot (or combined lots) nearer to the front lot line or to the side lot line than the minimum setback as indicated below. The building size, height and fronts shall also comply with the following regulations:

Table with columns: Minimum lot size, Minimum front setback, Minimum side and rear yard setbacks, Building size, Maximum building height, Maximum number of stories, Building fronts.

SECTION 15. Section 11-18-6(A) is hereby repealed in its entirety and replaced with the following:
(A) BUILDING HEIGHT AND NUMBER OF STORIES:

1. Building Height: The height of a building shall not exceed thirty-five (35) feet.

TRANSPORTATION PROJECT APPROVAL

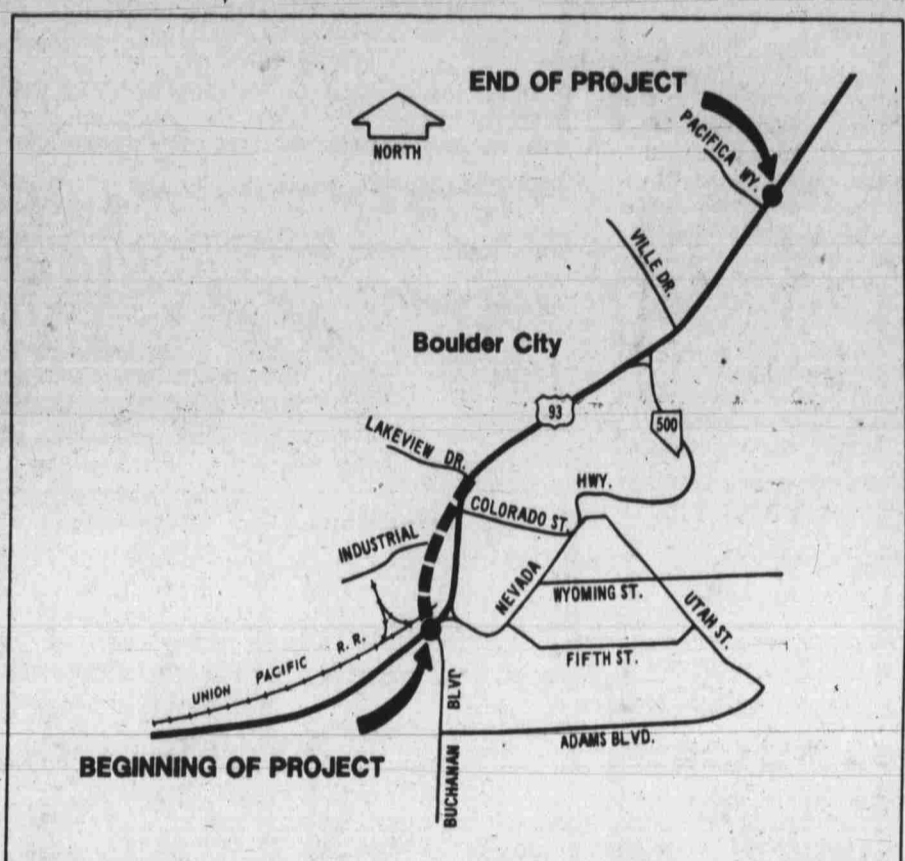

All interested persons are hereby advised that the Director, Nevada Department of Transportation (NDOT), Carson City, Nevada has approved a Corridor Design Recommendation for improvements to U.S. 93 from SR 501 in Boulder City northeast to Pacifica. Also the Nevada Division Administrator, Federal Highway Administration, Carson City, Nevada on July 20, 1982 approved a Finding of No Significant Impact (FONSI) with respect to the Environmental Assessment (EA) of the project's impacts.

The alignment and grade for the proposed project will follow existing U.S. 93 between Pacifica and approximately Colorado Street. Between Colorado and the project's terminus, the alignment would move southwestwardly away from the present roadway to intersect present U.S. 93 at Buchanan Boulevard.

The present two lane roadway (24 feet in width) would be widened to 66 feet. This expansion would include one twelve foot travel lane in the direction of Hoover Dam, two twelve foot travel lanes in the direction of Las Vegas (one to serve as a truck climbing lane), a twelve foot double left turn median and two ten foot shoulders.

An informational meeting was conducted on Tuesday, May 19, 1981 in the Boulder City Council Chambers and a Location-Design Hearing was held at the same location on June 9, 1982. Both the informational meeting and the formal hearing were preceded by open house displays with NDOT personnel available to answer questions and discuss issues.

Information on the proposed project and copies of the EA and FONSI are available for inspection and copying at the NDOT District Office at 1200 N. Main Street, Las Vegas, Nevada and NDOT headquarters in Carson City. A sketch of the project is shown below.

F-16 Painting

Hal McCormick, a Las Vegas artist, recently presented a four-by-six feet painting depicting two F-16 aircraft on patrol over the Nellis Air Force Base.

Major General Jack I. Gregory, Tactical Fighter Weapons Center commander hosted a small unveiling ceremony at the TFWC headquarters building where the painting is on permanent display.

Mr. McCormick has contributed several paintings to the U.S. Air Force historical art program, two examples of which may be seen hanging prominently in the briefing room of the U.S. Air Force Aerial Demonstration Squadron 'Thunderbirds'.

CAR CARE

All-Weather Visibility
 More and more of America's 140 million drivers are getting a clear idea of how to protect themselves from frost or mist forming inside their windows.

The answer? Frost and mist shields that help give you safe, all-weather visibility. Here's how it works.

Just peel off the protective backing and place the shield on window.

When they are installed on the inside of the vehicle, air is trapped between the shield and window forming a dead air insulation gap. This prevents frost buildup on the inside.

The shields, manufactured by Phillips Temro, a Budd Company subsidiary, a major manufacturer of automotive aftermarket products, are easy to install. Just peel off the protective backing and it is ready to place on window. Each shield has its own adhesive and the practically invisible space-age plastic resists discoloration.

Ideal for small cars that fog up faster than large cars, the shields provide clarity in winter and are flexible for use on curved glass.

All in all, a visibly better way to put you and your car on the road to safety.
