Reid ends announcement week with local political reception

Southern Nevada congressman Harry Reid will end a state-wide tour for announcement of his candidacy to the U.S. Senate in Henderson Friday with a reception and party scheduled at the Henderson Convention Center.

Reid announced his Senate candidacy Monday for the seat vacated by the retirement of Republican Paul Laxalt.

Making the announcement in historic Carson City, Reid flanked himself with state Democratic Party leaders and said he would take his campaign to every part of the state.

During this week that's what Reid has been doing, taking the campaign to all citizens of Nevada.

Monday's announcement was followed by announcement of a reception and party at the Hacienda Hotel in Las Vegas. Tuesday Reid delivered a luncheon speech in Ely and then went on to another evening reception in Tonopah.

Wednesday the U.S. Representative toured the Hawthorne Military Depot and delivered a luncheon speech in Hawthorne before traveling to an evening reception in Yerington.

Today the Basic High School alumnus is scheduled to testify before U.S. Senate wilderness hearings in Reno, attend a science and music demonstration at a Reno elementary school, address educators at Reed High School at 12:30 p.m. and attend a fourth announcement party and reception at the MGM Grand Hotel in Reno.

Reid's 6 p.m. Henderson party is preceded by only one other public appearance Friday, a luncheon speech to the Las Vegas Board of Realtors.

According to Reid staff persons planning the Henderson reception, it was designed as a political homecoming for the candidate long associated with the local area.

Reid graduated from Basic High School in 1957 where he served as student body president and later served as the city's attorney from 1964 to 1966.

One Man's VIEW

By Mike O'Callaghan

Jack McKeon, vice president and general manager of the San Diego Padres, was in town last week. Trader Jack has high hopes that the Padres will return to championship form this year.

The list of players he thinks might be playing here for the Las Vegas Stars is very impressive. Many of them I have watched work their way up from the rookie leagues through A and AA professional baseball.

Watch Mark Wasinger, a fine second baseman who hit .318 and .331 in Reno and .302 last year for Beaumont in the AA Texas League. If he stays healthy, Mark should do well here next year.

Candy Sierra, soon to be 19 years old, can be an exciting addition to the Stars Pitching staff. When Candy is on he is double tough. He's just a kid but he is learning fast.

Looks to me like both the San Diego Padres and Las Vegas Stars will be back in their respective league races this year.

Green Valley's Richard Smith won an important first round battle with the town of Brian Head, Utah when he and his partners won a $3.2 million lawsuit in District Court. This is the largest civil award made in southern Utah history.

It all started almost four years ago when the local planning commission wrongfully prevented Richard and his brother from going ahead with their condo-

The Henderson City Council approve a three-year labor contract with Henderson fire fighters during the recessed regular city council meeting held Tuesday in Green Valley.

The agreement, ratified by local members of the fire fighters' union, includes salary increases but does not allow for any increases in benefits, according to conversation during the meeting.

Much discussion centered on an eight percent increase for fire captains the third year of the contract. Henderson Fire Department Captain Joe Hill explained that would put the fire supervisors into a range closer to other area fire departments.

Hill also mentioned this was "one of the fairest and one of the simplest contracts" worked out in many years, and that was done without the bickering that has taken place previously.

Council ratified the contract unanimously. It calls for an overall 6.7 percent increase in salary the first year, although city finance director Steven Hanson later explained some will get more, others less, in order to bring them all within the guidelines of the city's comprehensive study.

The second year gives a 5.5 percent raise across the board, while the last year gives all but captains a five percent raise. Captains will receive eight percent.

Hanson said firefighters will receive $75,763 more the first year, $66,360 the second, and $75,300 the third.

Budget cuts threaten East Leg Freeway

by Scott Dickensheets

Proposed federal slashes in highway funding may threaten the future of the East Leg Freeway, and city officials are concerned.

"There is an absolute critical need for this," said city manager Gary Bloomquist of the freeway that would link Tropicana Avenue to Lake Mead Drive, taking some of the traffic load off Boulder Highway.

"It's been needed for at least 10 years," he said.

In an attempt to lobby for the freeway's completion, Bloomquist said that during a week-long meeting of the National League of Cities in Washington D.C., he and city councilmen Ron Hubel and Mike Harris would discuss the issue with government officials.

"We'll certainly talk to some of the key people about this," he said, adding that although the meeting deals with the general concerns of cities, this issue will take a priority.

Bloomquist said that Henderson's eight to 12 percent annual growth rate, coupled with the current 44,000 vehicles that daily travel

Broadbent reportedly given McCarren aviation post

Department of Interior assistant secretary for water and science Robert Broadbent will be recommended for the top job at McCarren Airport, according to county manager Pat Shalmy.

Shalmy said he would seek ratification of the recommendation at the next regular meeting of the Clark County Commission.

The appointment of Broadbent came as a surprise because county officials had said they would conduct a nation-wide search for a replacement for resigned aviation director John Sullivan.

Reportedly, county manager Shalmy, and commissioners Thailia Dondero, Karen Hayes and Jay Bingham had all left Southern Nevada and were en route to a meeting in Phoenix. Additional comments were not available.

In his release Wednesday Shalmy said that Broadbent had expressed interest in the post during a number of recent phone conversations.

"I've know and worked with Bob Broadbent for a number of years," Shalmy said, "and his integrity and administrative ability are unquestionable, as is his commitment to Southern Nevada."

Shalmy noted that during his years on the county commission, Broadbent was a key figure in McCarren Airport expansions.

Broadbent, a long-time Clark County Republican, served as county commissioner for the Henderson-Boulder City area before being appointed to posts in the Bureau of Reclamation and Department of Interior by the Reagan Administration.

minium project named Mountain Shadows Village. Nevertheless, they gave building permission for similar projects for some local folks.

Not only was the town ordered to pay damages, so were individual former council and planning board members required to personally pay from $15,000 to $75,000 each in punitive damages.

The interesting part of the judgement is that the $32 million award will draw interest of about $1,000 a day. So if the case is appealed and remains in the courts for a couple of years, the eventual cost for the defendants could be almost $4 million.

Pay now or pay more later. This was the position Henderson was in when losing a courtroom decision to Preferred Equities. The judge awarded the company damages for being denied a building permit. The award was collecting interest every day so rather than appealing and very likely losing even more money, Henderson bought the land and is now looking for a buyer.

Henderson may have made a very wise move in making the land purchase to settle the lost lawsuit. It will be wise if the eventual land sale makes a profit or at least doesn't cost the taxpayers any additional dollars.

Wonder what the boys and girls in Brian Head are going to do.

Larry C. Bolden wants all of you 1956 Basic HS graduates to rally 'round for a 30th reunion this June.

William de la Garza wrote a dynamic letter about wilderness areas to a local monthly business newspaper. The letter was triggered by an earlier article in publication. Here are some interesting excerpts:

"The proposed areas are roadless. There are no mining or logging roads, no industry, no tourism, a harsh climate, many bare ridges, land above the timberline, a few small streams. Nobody can develop this land; it is too far from the cities. In order to enjoy the scenery you must give up some of the luxuries that make your bottom go so soft. If it is de facto wilderness why not go the extra step and make it de jure wilderness.

"Again and again we hear the grand plans to open up the high country of Nevada for the wheel-chair set. What are these plans; why keep them in hiding only to express the need for handicapped access when the wilderness proposals are brought forth? Are we to believe that the state of Nevada is going to build roads into the Ruby Mountains at a cost of millions of dollars, for the handicapped.

"Ask your handicapped friends if they would prefer access to the wilderness or if access to the restaurant, market, church, bus and toilet will do.

"You are implying that the Forest Service can, or should, create a wilderness area without a public hearing and that is the reason for not creating the wilderness by law. If we have such blood-letting with the public hearing can you imagine what would occur if the Forest Service were to 'take out lands' without hearings."

Henderson's Al Hill

worked his way up from private to major before retiring from the US Marine Corps. Guess what he is doing for a living today. Believe it or not, he now owns Shear Fantasy beauty salon in Camelot Center.

Al should be the speaker today at the Las Vegas Career Day breakfast for high school students. His message could be that changing professions is the spice of life.

Security Bank of Nevada got a winner when Reno Fruzza joined it as administrative vice president for business development. Reno has been in the banking business for 45 years and is highly respected by his clients and colleagues.

The Single A California League now has ten teams and includes Reno, Modesto, Salinas, San Jose, Stockton, Bakersfield, Fresno, Palm Springs, Ventura and Visalia.

Boy, that's going to be some bus ride from Reno to Palm Springs. A and AA professional baseball teams travel by bus and most of them aren't in very good condition. The busses carrying players into Palm Springs better have good air conditioning systems.

Elected to the House of Representatives in 1982, he currently sits on the House Science and Technology Committee. His subcommittee assignments for that committee include National Resources and Environment, Investigations and Oversight, and Transportation, Aviation and Materials.

His other congressional assignments include the Select Committee on Aging, the Caucus for Women's Issues, the Military Reform Caucus, the Copper Caucus and the steering committee for the U.S. Congressional Travel and Tourism Caucus.

He is a member of the California Democratic Congressional Delegation and is the delegation's secretary-treasurer. He has been the Rocky Mountain Regional Whip since his first term in Congress.

He married the former Landra Gould in 1959 and has five children: Lana, Rory, Leif, Josh and Key.

Boulder Highway, make the East Leg project vital.

Chamber of Commerce director Gary Johnson agreed, saying that the highway is "the chamber's number one project."

"There's basically one way into Henderson now, and that's Boulder Highway," he said.

Al Stone, director of the Nevada Department of Transportation, said Monday that budget cuts proposed by President Reagan could threaten a number of Nevada highway projects.

He told the media he would recommend completion of northern Nevada's Highway 395 project, but he later said over the phone from his Carson City office that funds used for 395 were different than those used for the East Leg.

"395 uses rehabilitation funds," Stone said, "and the East Leg involves new construction funds." He added that the East Leg is still NDOT's top priority.

Stone explained that federal highway funding is usually accomplished through four-year highway acts. The current act expires Sept. 30, and unless Congress passes a new act Stone said there would be no national highway programs.

There are at least four bills now being scrutinized by legislators, he said, and it is impossible to know what sort of bill will finally be passed, and what projects it will affect.

"The house will pass one bill, the Senate will pass another," he said, "and then they will compromise. It's a wait and see situation."

Last fall, the State Transportation Board voted to release $90 million to fund several Nevada highway projects, $54 million of which was earmarked for the East Leg Freeway.

City officials and Chamber of Commerce representatives have made trips to Carson City over the last year to 18 months to insure that a large amount of the state's federal highway allotment is funneled to the project.

Although Stone said it's a long time until any decisions are made concerning the funding, Bloomquist is still concerned.

"It's incomprehensible to me how the government can use highway trust funds to balance the budget," he said. "To me, a trust fund implies something, and I don't think they should touch trust funds. I think that's how a government can get in trouble."

Lamplighter Book Store to open next week

A new book store will open on Water Street next week, where Henderson residents can buy or trade used paperbooks, or purchase paperback versions of best sellers.

Lamplighter Book Store opens Wednesday at 7 Water Street, Suite E. It's entrance is around the corner of the building from other suites.

Store owner Eugene Esposito Jr. mentioned, "There's also going to be a small comic book section for collectors, and items will be available on consignment for shoppers to buy.

Although Eugene has lived in Las Vegas with his mother, Gloria some 10 years, he recalls going to the old movie theatre that used to be located in Henderson.

His mother will help at the shop, but he expects to be there when customers arrive.

He said he has been thinking about opening a book store some three years, and said he reads a lot too and also collects comic books.

Esposito, who attended the Biltmore Extension School in Las Vegas, recently graduated from Nevada Gaming School Technology. He noted he can fix slot and video machines.

The store carries a variety of books, including romances and westerns. "We'll have (numbers) one to seven best sellers," he said, adding, "Hopefully we'll extend to 10."

Kidd Company announces west coast facility plans

President of Kidd & Company, Inc., Charles W. Kidd, recently announced plans to locate a marshmallow manufacturing plant near Henderson.

Kidd and Company is the second largest marshmallow manufacturing company in the world and produces a variety of marshmallow products.

Included in Kidd's product line are several generic and in-house brands such as Skaggs-Alpha Beta marshmallows and the popular Smurf Mallows.

The company will be the first to locate in the new Gibson Industrial Park on Lake Mead and Gibson Road, unincorporated county land in the area commonly known as the 'donut hole.'

Groundbreaking for the 36,500 square foot manufacturing plant is scheduled for February with production to begin in late summer to early fall.

The Henderson plant will be the second marshmallow manufacturing plant owned and operated by Kidd & Company, Inc.. The sister plant is located in Ligonier, Ind., and employs approximately 200. The new facility is expected to initially employ 25 local residents.

"Our decision to locate in the Las Vegas valley was based, in a large part, on its geographic location to the major western markets," stated Kidd.

"Other deciding factors include the favorable business climate and the warm reception from the local political and business leaders.

"Nevada Development Authority has been extremely helpful in providing us with information and assisting in our site selection process," Kidd commented.

In addition to manufacturing marshmallows, Kidd & Co., Inc., operates a fleet of 40 trucks to insure the immediate delivery and freshness of the marshmallows.

Eight to ten trucks will initially operate out of the Henderson plant.

The special design of the Henderson plant will facilitate tours of the operation.

"We will have an open-door policy for the community via the tours," stated Kidd. "We have designed the structure to allow safe viewing of the entire operation."

Albert Kidd (great grandfather of Charles W. Kidd) founded Kidd & Co., Inc., in 1895 in Chicago. Since that time, the company has always been family owned and operated.

"I would like to be among the first to welcome Kidd & Co., Inc. to our community," stated Bob Culp, president of Nevada Development Authority.

"The clean operation poses no environmental or emission problems and will be a definite asset to our community," Culp added.

Library group mulls funding requests

by Scott Dickensheets
 Although $10 million is a lot of money, it probably won't stretch too far Feb. 28 when the Nevada Council on Libraries meets in Las Vegas to consider applications for library funds. The state has $10 million available to distribute among statewide requests. The city of Henderson will have its hand out at the meeting, requesting $2.4 million for construction of a new library. The Las Vegas-Clark County Library District is seeking another $7.7 million to fund various projects, and already the demand is exceeding the supply. And on top of that are possible requests by Elko and Washoe counties for some of the funds. The Las Vegas district had considered asking for $9.6 million of the bond money, but Tuesday they decided to seek the reduced amount. Following the Feb. 28 meeting, the requests and the council's recommendations will be forwarded to the state legislature's Interim Finance Committee for final action, perhaps as soon as March.

Paper Moon celebrates first anniversary

Tomorrow, Valentine's Day, will mark the first anniversary of Green Valley's Paper Moon card and gift shop. Originally called the Paper Products Shop, the store, opened by dancer-choreographer Sal Angelica and his partner Max Brown, has grown into the largest retailer of recycled paper product in the area. The shop carries a full line of cards, gifts, dolls and plush animals, balloons bouquets and also handles the printing of special order announcements and business cards. Angelica first came to the area more than 20 years ago, as a dancer, and has since appeared in such legendary stage shows as, Fiddler on the Roof, Guys and Dolls (which he also choreographed), The Follies Bergere and Lido de Paris. He has also worked the nightclub circuit with Juliet Prowse and Connie Stevens among others.

Brown moved to the area from Salt Lake City five years ago, becoming the valley's first male kindergarten teacher. In his spare time he runs in marathons. The Paper Moon shop features a blinking red, amber and green stoplight in the window, and they have received numerous offers for it, but it's not for sale. Angelica said he chose the Green Valley location because of the area's beauty and the absence of card stores there.

Council from page one

In other business during the recessed regular meeting, held at the Showboat Country Club, council awarded a contract for an interceptor sewer and authorized short term financing to purchase some 100 acres of land within the city.

Joe's Excavating received a $125,232 contract for the Lower East Side Interceptor Sewer, which will serve the area of the Gold Bond Ice Cream Company, which plans to locate on East Lake Mead Drive.

The authorization to finance the purchase of land is a result of a recent lawsuit settlement in which the city agreed to buy some 100 acres near Camarillo Park from Preferred Equities. He explained the nine percent interest estimate may be high, as he thinks actual financing will be about 7 1/2 percent.

City manager Gary Bloomquist added there are actually two more acres of land than previously thought, which gives the city a total of 102 acres there.

Several Green Valley residents spoke to council under the 'citizens' concerns' item on the agenda. Among discussion was the planned five-acre Fox Ridge Park. The first public park planned for the Green Valley neighborhood, Fox Ridge Park should be completed by fall, residents were told.

Facilities will include a restroom, picnic tables, playground equipment for children, an amphitheater and an "all-sports" field.

Also during the meeting, council adopted with two minor changes the formation of a public facilities improvement district requested by Melvin Bagley.

In action during the council's committee meeting, which was held immediately following the recessed regular meeting, council refused a request from American Nevada Corporation to reduce the required street widths in a Fox Ridge subdivision.

Brad Nelson of American Nevada denied their reasoning was financial. He said their research shows families prefer the narrower streets, and "a lot of the world thinks this is the way to do subdivisions."

Henderson Fire Chief Dale Starr discussed the turning radius of the fire trucks and the accessibility of the narrow streets. When it was pointed out the subdivision leaves no room for storage of recreational vehicles such as boats or campers, Nelson said enforcement would be up to the homeowners themselves to enforce. However, council felt the city would still be involved and cited numerous complaints of similar problems in other areas of the city. Henderson police lieutenant D.E. "Kip" Botkin pointed out that while police have the authority to ticket such RVs, to have one towed out of the room to make room for emergency vehicles takes too much time. He pointed out that fire units frequently have backups, plus an officer often comes to the scene, which brings three vehicles down the streets. In addition, he remarked, "The more you narrow the streets the more you increase the chances of sideswipe collisions."

from interested parties. "We would be involved approximately to the tune of 10 percent of the cost, Bloomquist said. He added he could not find funds for the project within the city budget. Council voted to tell CRC they were very interested, but will not finance a part of the project. Also during the committee meeting council unanimously passed two bills, one revising the city's plumbing code and the other rezoning a parcel of land from civic district to ranch estates district. Before council adjourned, Bloomquist discussed plans hoped to help bring a new industry to Henderson. Buffalo

Press has been interested in building in the area of GTE and Levi's but needs to use the railroad track. Bloomquist said he received a call from Carson City indicating neither Union Pacific, which recently turned the track over to the state, nor the new business want to operate the track. Council agreed with Bloomquist's suggestion the city and Boulder City should have somebody attend discussions to see if the municipalities would want to operate the track. Items discussed in committee will be on the agenda for council's regular meeting Tuesday night at City Hall.

Incorporate 'donut hole' before it's too late

It lies in the geographic center of Henderson as a huge piece of unincorporated land reserved primarily both by Henderson and Clark County planners as property for industrial uses.

Whether called the county island or 'donut hole,' the property where the Basic Management Inc. industries and the Gibson Business Park reside is not in Henderson, despite what many think and say.

Both industrial developments lie in county land though primarily associated with the Henderson community. And Henderson has welcomed the association with the production industries, and also has weathered the storms that sometimes come with industrial facilities.

It was never the county cloud or the donut-hole haze; it was the Henderson cloud, though generated by factories on unincorporated county land.

Henderson residents were willing to bear the brunt of other Southern Nevadans' jokes because we knew that the plants were a tremendous contributor to local payrolls and provided quality jobs away from the mecca of gaming.

Now that economic diversification is the buzz word of this decade, the Henderson area is sitting pretty.

With old industries in the county island as a base, the city has attracted new distributors and manufacturers to locate within Henderson and enhance and diversify the city's tax base.

But notice we had to say the Henderson area. That's because still the great majority of industrial production that is currently associated with our city is not in our city.

The reluctance of industrial managers in the county island to discuss incorporation is puzzling to us; hopefully it's because they haven't had the idea put to them.

If that's the case, we would encourage them to seek incorporation within the city of Henderson. Expensive duplication may be necessary soon on Gibson Road where county utilities will eventually have to service the expanding industries in the unincorporated island.

Do local industrial managers prefer dealing with the county? Have they ever voiced or made public their reasons for avoiding incorporation?

At the rapid pace of Henderson's growth, these questions should be addressed now, and either answered with positive actions toward incorporation or laid to rest with definite reasons why incorporation is not beneficial to all concerned.

Henderson has always maintained a good relationship with its next-door factory neighbors, yet there has been a consistent and enduring reluctance by the neighbor to consider becoming part of the family.

If there are concrete financial interests that make incorporation undesirable, fine. The friendship can still continue.

But let's not be bound by a historical reticence. Let's see if what some may call stumbling blocks or brick walls cannot be sidestepped, hurdled or jumped.

The county island production facilities have much to offer the city. The city has much to offer those industries. Let's explore the problems of incorporation now to see if they can't be ameliorated or mitigated so that agreement may be reached.

It's the least we can do for the Henderson community.

Reagan's 'rising America'

President Reagan has given the nation a decidedly eloquent and optimistic view of the State of the Union and the future of the Republic.

Reagan treated a joint session of Congress to some of the most soaring rhetoric of a presidential career marked by his ability to communicate with the people. Sample: "Tonight we look out on a Rising America—firm of heart, united in spirit, powerful in pride and patriotism. America is on the move!"

He added that "we cannot stop at the foothills when Everest beckons. . . America believes. America is ready. America can win the race to the future, and we shall."

As expected, the address was a relatively short and thematic assessment by Reagan of where the nation is and where it is going. And, of course, a highly political President—as Reagan is in his own personal way—can be expected to put as rosy a light on conditions as possible.

Reagan is to be commended for calling for an end to the dependency of welfare and for universal insurance to safeguard Americans against the devastation of catastrophic illness. But even here he was vague, proposing only that there be more study.

He seemed to forget history again when he said, in an earlier meeting with reporters, that his own workfare program in California had "worked like gangbusters." It did nothing of the kind.

So one must stop and ask, "Just what is it the President said?"

In fact, he said basically what he has been saying for years. He said that federal programs to help people have been discredited; that government must be forced to sacrifice more, even after the domestic budget has been squeezed and taxes have been cut; that America can be great and find jobs for its unemployed if only the free-enterprise economic machine is further freed from regulation and taxation, and that there must be no halt to the defense buildup and the quest for a risky and possibly reckless "Star Wars" defense.

He continued to act as if the budget deficit and trade imbalance was someone else's problem that could be simply solved if all his proposals were accepted without debate.

Congress received the President warmly, of course. He enjoys immense personal popularity. But both Democrats and Republicans in the House and Senate are aware of the serious problems facing the nation, and they—and the President—must now come to grips with them.

Who is the real George Bush?

by Richard Cohen

'Twas a cold and windy night and George Bush awoke with a start. Standing before him, icicles hanging from lean fingers, was an apparition that looked very much like himself. The wind blew into the room and Bush, scared, pulled the covers over his face. "Who are you?" he asked, peeking out. "The former George Bush," the apparition thundered. Bush pulled the covers over his head.

The former George Bush stepped closer to the bed. "I understand that you are going to be the keynote speaker for Jerry Falwell," the apparition said in a cold voice. "I read that you will soon speak before his newly renamed Liberty Federation. Is that true, George?" There was no answer. "Is that true?" the apparition insisted. A weak "yes" came from under the cover.

"George, this Falwell is the man who called Bishop Desmond Tutu a 'phony.' George, this is the man who insulted a Nobel Peace Prize winner, a leader of black moderates in South Africa, a man with wide following in his country and throughout all of black Africa and, need I add, an Anglican. How could you, the Vice President of the United States, endorse a man such as Falwell?"

"I want his support for 1988," Bush whimpered. "George!" the voice boomed out. "Listen to me. You're not even being a smart politician. Look at Falwell's negatives. In the recent Virginia gubernatorial race, all the candidates steered clear of the man. He's the most unpopular figure in the state. What kind of trade is this, George? You get his negatives and he gets your respectability. George, George, think this over."

The apparition raised his voice. "George, what has happened to you? Has ambition blinded you so that you never see moral principles? This Falwell is the man who has urged members of Congress to overlook an occasional human-rights abuse and get behind Philippine president Ferdinand Marcos 'with unswerving support.'"

"This is the man who is a demagogue on the issue of homosexuality, using words in his mailings like 'pervert' and terms like 'gay conspiracy.' Do you think there's a gay conspiracy, George?"

Bush cringed and pulled the covers even higher. At the bottom of the bed, his feet stuck out. The room seemed colder and he wondered where the Secret Service was. Gosh and golly, he said to himself. He was scared.

"Go away," Bush pleaded. "Damn you," he cursed, "Go away, please."

"I will not!" the apparition shot back. "I'm just warming up. How about that testimonial for William Loeb, the late editor of the Manchester Union Leader? You spoke at it to show conservatives you were one of them. But you honored a man who was without honor in his own profession and who said terrible things about you when you ran against Ronald Reagan in the New Hampshire primary. Oh, George, you licked the boot that kicked you."

At that, Bush shot upright in bed and his nightcap fell off. "Why me?" he yelled. "Why are you picking on me? Jesse Helms switched his position on Israel. Go pick on him. And Teddy Kennedy, that great liberal, voted for Gramm-Rudman. You can find him in McLean, Va. And, golly gee, how about Mayor Tom Bradley of Los Angeles? Because he's running for governor, he's reversed himself on gun control and finally taken a position on capital punishment. It's wildly popular, so he's for it. Take a trip to the coast, 'ghost.'"

"Look at that," said the apparition, smiling, "a display of temper just like the old days. Just like when you did the math for Reagan on his economic program and pronounced it 'voodoo economics.' Oh, that was wonderful—and, as the deficit proves, true to boot. Back then, you said you believed, but later you denied saying it. Now you don't even have your own position on abortion. You changed your mind on the Equal Rights Amendment. The principle here, George, is that you no longer have any."

The blood rushed to Bush's face. Rage colored his eyes. "Why of all the unmitigated gall," he hissed at the apparition. "I'm just doing what Ronald Reagan did. He hasn't repudiated Falwell, He accepted William Loeb's endorsement. . . ."

"Yes," said the apparition with sadness. "But Ronald Reagan has always been Ronald Reagan. You, on the other hand, used to be George Bush." With that, the former George Bush stepped out of the window into the Washington night. No one has seen him since.

Fence riders paving way for nuke waste in Nevada

by Bob Fulkerson

The excuses many Nevada politicians are using to justify their ambivalent positions on the high level nukewaste issue are paving the way for the nuclear waste to come to Nevada.

"I'm going to wait until all the facts are in," says one fence-sitter, as if all the facts would be in before the final site is chosen in 1990. "We must be assured of absolute safety and security," says another. The simple fact is that the Department of Energy (DOE) does not have the knowledge or credibility to make such assurances.

Congress, in passing the Nuclear Waste Policy Act of 1982, was not convinced it had identified the best mechanism for managing the high-level waste program, and directed the Secretary of Energy to conduct a study on "Alternate Methods of Financing and Management."

The Energy Secretary appointed his own blue-ribbon panel to make recommendations on the program. Last April, the panel concluded that DOE management lacks the stability and continuity to effectively implement the program outlined in NWPA. The panel recommended removing DOE from the siting and management of the program.

The Utility Nuclear Waste Management Group, an association of 46 nuclear utilities, commissioned the Creighton and Creighton consulting firm to assess DOE's nuclear waste management performance. The August 1985 report stated ". . . There continue to be basic research questions that are unanswered, and like all basic research, the possibility remains that fresh discoveries may occur which will fundamentally alter the definition of the problem."

Ironically, the DOE policy is not to find the technically best site to bury nuclear waste. At a November legislative hearing in Pahrump, officials from DOE headquarters repeatedly refused to state that a final selection would be based on the "best" site.

Ed Kay, deputy director of DOE's Office of Civilian Radioactive Waste Management, admitted under questioning from Sen. Tom Hickey that comparable costs and veto sustainability (the ability of Congress to override state veto) would be major selection factors.

Clearly, the cheapest and most politically expedient site is the best site, according to DOE.

Water wars?

The potential for water wars in Southern Nevada will be exacerbated by the siting of a waste dump at Yucca Mountain. In the Yucca Mountain Draft Environmental Assessment, DOE significantly downplayed major water issues.

"Groundwater withdrawn during construction, operation, retrievability and decommissioning may cause regional drawdown. . . residual impacts: none."

"Immigration of workers would result in increased demand on the water systems of Beatty and Pahrump. . . residual impacts: potentially significant if water supply systems are not upgraded or expanded."

"Radionuclide release during operation and decommissioning phases. . . may cause contamination of groundwater. . . residual impacts: none."

These estimates of increased water demand are based on increased population, and ignore water demand for construction (concrete). Moreover, no reference is made to a United States Geological Survey report which found that water levels declined as much as 27 feet in two areas of Amargosa Valley between 1962 and 1967.

The Environmental Protection Agency is being sued by the state of Texas because EPA standards for storage of high level nuclear waste are not designed to protect groundwater supplies in sparsely populated areas. This may be why DOE has indicated that a controlled area within which groundwater exploitation would be prohibited may be necessary.

According to the Nuclear Regulatory Commission, additional controls outside of the controlled area could also prohibit any future granting of water rights, if for example, future groundwater withdrawals could lead to migration of radionuclides to the accessible environment. Perhaps this is why the Yucca Mountain Draft Environmental Assessment stated a 50,000 acre land withdrawal would be required for Yucca Mountain.

Considering the historical record of earthquake activity in Southern Nevada, potential for water wars, and the hazards of around-the-clock nuclear waste shipments, the proposed nukewaste dump spells disaster. Several Nevada leaders, local governments and civic organizations have openly resisted the attempt by DOE to make Nevada the pay-toilet for the nation.

They deserve recognition in the following "Honor Roll of Opposition:" Gov. Richard Bryan, Congressman Harry Reid, Gov. Grant Sawyer, Frank Fahrenkopf, Nevada PTA, the cities of Reno, Las Vegas, Lovelock and Boulder City, Legislative Committee on Public Lands, Western Shoshone National Council and the Nevada Tourism Commission.

As more join the list, DOE will be forced to recognize that the path of least resistance does not lead to Yucca Mountain. Citizen Alert welcomes the opportunity to speak to organizations, classrooms and other interested groups.

We also need your dollars to continue our 11-year battle to keep Nevada free from dirty federal projects, from MX to nuclear dumps. Write us at P.O. Box 5391, Reno, NV 89513.

Reclamation commissioner responds to columnist

Editor's note: Bureau of Reclamation Commissioner C. Dale Duvall's response will appear in two consecutive Thursday editions due to its length. This is the second installment.

Dear Editor:

Below is a copy of the letter which I sent to Robert Gottlieb and Peter Wiley in response to an article which they wrote entitled "Is BuRec finished?"

The article appeared in the Henderson Home News on Jan. 9.

Because of the importance of the issues involved to the Bureau of Reclamation and to the many people who depend on the water and power that we provide, I would appreciate it if you would print my response to Mr. Gottlieb and Mr. Wiley in its entirety.

As for my appointment as Commissioner of Reclamation, the President nominated me and the U.S. Senate, after evaluating my qualifications, confirmed my nomination.

My experience is in construction-related financial management, an area that is receiving a great deal of attention in Washington these days. With financing being such an important part of project development, the fact that I have considerable experience in the financial aspects of construction gives me a good understanding of the challenges that we are confronting in the water resources development area.

Moreover, I will couple my experience with the extensive knowledge and expertise of the bureau's engineers, planners, and other technical specialists in responding to the challenges that lie ahead.

So, the future of the Bureau of Reclamation will be different, but not less important. And I assure you that I took this position to further the reclamation program, not to oversee its demise.

I would now like to comment on two other items mentioned in your article. The first regards the statement that there was no BuRec speaker present at the National Water Resources Association's annual meeting in Hawaii last fall.

Frankly, I am puzzled by this. Clifford I. Barrett, the Acting Commissioner of Reclamation at the time, made a major address at the conference on Tuesday, Nov. 5.

In his speech, Mr. Barrett said, among other things, that Congress, for the first time in six years, has provided funds for four new construction starts. These were identified as the Animas-La-Plata Project in Colorado and New Mexico, Headgate Rock Powerplant in Arizona, modifications to Buffalo Bill Dam in Wyoming, and improvements to facilities at Hoover Dam.

In closing, Mr. Barrett then touched upon the subject of change. He said, "It is not realistic to assume or expect Congress to take the same position on Reclamation issues that it has taken for the past 83 years. . . . It is becoming increasingly evident that the needs and priorities for development of the nation's water resources have changed. Inevitably, our program must change also."

Let me just add that although the bureau was under the direction of Acting Commissioners for some time, the Bureau's programs were in capable, progressive, and caring hands.

The second item concerns the speech given by Under-Secretary of the Interior Ann McLaughlin at the same NWRA conference. Nowhere in this speech did she imply a reduced role for the Bureau of Reclamation.

What Mrs. McLaughlin did say is that a year ago she initiated a Departmental Water Working Group composed of assistant secretaries with management responsibilities over bureaus with water interests.

The purpose of this working group, she said, is "to serve as the senior forum for developing the department's policies on a wide range of water management and development issues."

Representation on the working group includes assistant Secretary for Water and Science Robert Broadbent, who has management responsibility for the Bureau of Reclamation. As a former Commissioner of Reclamation, Mr. Broadbent has first-hand knowledge of the bureau and the value of its programs. Without exception, the bureau is well represented and involved in the discussions and decisions regarding water policy in the Department of the Interior.

My apologies for a lengthy response, but as I mentioned at the outset of this letter, I am most interested in people's concerns and opinions regarding the bureau and its programs.

I rely on the media, including articles such as yours, to keep me informed of perceived successes and failures in the bureau's policies and programs. I appreciate your observations, and I hope that I have clarified some of the issues mentioned in your article.

C. Dale Duvall
Commissioner, Bureau of Reclamation

Clearing up the wilderness issue

Dear Editor:

Father Caesar J. Caviglia's letter to the editor misses the point about the need to designate wilderness lands in the State of Nevada. He is mistaken if he believes that "the designation by Washington may not be necessary."

The 1964 Wilderness Act established a National Wilderness Reservation System to be composed of federally owned areas designated by Congress as "wilderness areas."

Areas that are pristine in character, roadless, and larger than 5,000 acres can qualify for wilderness. The Jarbidge Area is Nevada's only wilderness area, designated by the 1964 Wilderness Act.

Nevada has more than 100 roadless areas totalling 3.6 million acres, or 70 percent of the National Forest System in the state. Because of a 1982 court decision, all 3.6 million acres of land are tied up as "de facto" wilderness.

Congressman Reid's bill would free up to nearly 3 million acres of land for multiple use. Only Congress can act to designate wilderness areas and resolve the uncertainty that affects every development activity on these National Forest roadless lands.

Father Caviglia incorrectly argues that wilderness designation will close these areas to the elderly and handicapped. The truth is, these rugged, mountainous areas already are roadless and difficult to reach.

Wilderness does not change these conditions. It simply preserves these areas in their current natural state. Grazing and hunting will also continue in the wilderness.

I am not a backpacker, but I would like to have some of these lands protected for future generations.

Rather than being a "very expensive gift to the bureaucracies in Washington, D.C.," wilderness protects some of our remaining wild areas from indiscriminate development and encroachment.

On the contrary, we can remove what Father Caviglia deems to be "another layer of bureaucracy" by designating wilderness and end the uncertainty that currently surrounds the use of this land.

Hospital boss thankful for opportunity

Dear Editor:

I have been at St. Rose de Lima Hospital for almost six months and find my job challenging and rewarding.

This is a fine organization and I am thankful for the opportunity to take the hospital into the 80's and beyond.

The health care environment throughout the United States is encountering turbulent times and our state is no exception.

Southern Nevada is extremely competitive in the delivery of health care services.

However, our commitment to fulfilling the mission and ministry of the congregation is foremost in our minds.

We have an outstanding reputation for providing compassionate patient care and this will continue with enthusiasm.

My biggest surprise and learning experience was the complexity of the hospital's operation and political nature of the community.

Although small in size, St. Rose is highly regarded and strategically positioned in the area.

These factors make the challenges even greater and the opportunities for accomplishment more meaningful.

There is an abundance of work ahead with internal operations, medical staff and the community and these tasks will require diligent work and dedication to be accomplished in the future.

The affiliation with the Western Catholic Health Collaborative will be an asset for both St. Rose and Dominican Santa Cruz Hospital to achieve our goals.

The leadership skills and talents of the entire organization will be tested every day so that the hospital can continue to grow, adapt and fulfill all of its commitments.

A positive spirit has embraced the organization which is very exciting and inspiring.

Our momentum has begun and has united everybody with a common cause and bond and this will ensure the organization's future and destiny.

Chief's Corner

by James E. Goff

Did you ever wonder why it costs more each year to have your son play baseball or to sponsor a team in the city league? It is because the city has to almost rebuild the ballpark and replace all the lights due to vandalism during the off season.

Just the money spent on repairing the sprinkler systems or replacing stolen sprinkler heads costs the city thousands of dollars.

Recently the city replaced approximately 35 lights at Morrell Park, at $45 to $60 each, not to mention the man hours it cost to replace same. The majority of the light fixtures had the lenses and the bulbs shot out by BB guns or pellet guns.

Throughout the city street lights cost $45 to $60 each to replace lenses and bulbs, plus man hours. Approximately a month ago one city electrician worked for a solid week doing nothing but replacing street lights shot out by BB guns or broken by thrown rocks.

Vandalism costs every citizen, due to increased taxes and higher insurance rates. Help your Police Department, stop this crime! Call if you see vandals destroying or trying to destroy city property.

Thanks for response Section 19

Dear Editor:

On behalf of CP National, I would like to extend my thanks to the property owners of Section 19 for their enthusiastic response to our questionnaire regarding the installation of natural gas service in advance of paving.

We mailed 565 letters and to date have received 102 requests for our facilities from residents as well as absentee property owners.

During two meetings which I have personally attended, I have been impressed by the number of people who were present.

In particular, I am impressed with the demonstrated leadership and dedication of those who were responsible for the development of the agenda, the coordination of the meeting place and the conduct of the programs.

The willingness of the citizens at large to participate in meetings of importance to a town, district or community expresses a depth of concern that can only be measured in positive results.

Thanks again.

The King holiday

Thirty years ago, there was a story on the front page of The Post from Richmond that said Virginia's governor had signed a bill calling a constitutional convention to enable the state to subsidize private, all-white schools.

Far back in the paper, another report from Richmond said state senator Harry F. Byrd Jr. was applauded when he rose to commend a state appellate court for backing Virginia's annulment of a marriage between a white woman and a Chinese man. And in the classifieds there was an ad in the houses-for-sale section that began: "COLORED . . . Brand new brick ramblers . . ."

All pretty routine for those days. No wonder some young children, learning for the first time recently about Martin Luther King Jr. and the American civil rights revolution, returned home from school to ask their parents, "Was it really like that?"

We can all use a little reminding that it was. There were segregated schools in the suburbs of this national capital, separate water fountains and restrooms, and lunch counters where a black construction worker had to stand and order his food to take out.

School children were bused across a large suburban county to the nearest black school and, in the winter months, returned home after dark.

Thirty years ago the revolution in consciousness that Dr. King helped bring about had barely begun. Since then, it has been, if not completed in the hearts and minds of every citizen, at least institutionalized, and so widely accepted as to make the customs spawned by slavery and segregation seem like curiosities from another age.

But it was a revolution that did more than bring an end to the legal segregation of black Americans. It opened up the South to economic development, and thus probably benefited southern whites more than blacks. Moreover, throughout the nation it fostered a state of mind that was conducive to change and to agitation.

Other racial minorities, organizations of women, the elderly and the poor—to name a few—took their cue from the civil rights movement, adopting its methods and its spirit (which is not to say that all the causes they espoused were always equally noble).

Fortunately the man who had set the tone and established that spirit was one who was steadfast in his devotion to non-violent protest and had faith that it could transform a free society.

This country will be a long time working out the changes set in motion by the civil rights movement and deciding what the next steps are to be. But this holiday signifies that at least one basic principle—equality before the law—is now accepted unquestioningly by all but a tiny few, and we can move on from there.

Methodists begin Lenten season

The Lenten season started on Ash Wednesday, Feb. 12 and this is a special time for all Christians. Feb. 16 is the first Sunday in Lent, so plan to worship at 10:30 a.m. at the Henderson United Methodist Church.

Election was held among the youth fellowship and Todd Wellman was elected president, Wendy Erickson vice president and Danny Knapp secretary-treasurer.

The group meets each Sunday 5 p.m. at the Dewbre home at 134 Ivy. Call 564-7747 for information about the youth activities.

Sunday Feb. 23 the young people will be involved in the morning worship service and the smaller children are planning to sing a special song.

Sunday School meets at 9:15 a.m.

The Women's Unit will meet Wednesday, Feb. 19 at the church at 7:30 p.m. All women of the church are invited to attend this meeting.

Prayer circle is each Thursday at 1 p.m. at the church and choir practice is on Friday at 7:30 p.m.

New members are always welcome, church members say.

The church is located in the Highland Hills area on Truffles Street at Horizon Drive. Call Pastor George Bondley at 293-4700 or 565-9304 for information about the church activities.

'A tempting offer' presented at Community Church

Community Church of Henderson, United Church of Christ invites everyone to worship on Sunday mornings. Services start at 10:30 a.m. in Haynes Chapel.

The church is located at 27 East Texas Avenue, just off Army Street from Water Street.

There is Sunday school for children from pre-school through high school at 9:15 a.m. in the educational building.

Minister Dr. Ed Swain will be delivering the sermon entitled, "A tempting offer," with the scriptures being responsive readings from the New Testament gospel of Matthew 4.

Special music will be sung by the choir under the direction of choir director and master of song Ben Prime. The choral song is entitled, "Mary, Mary" by George Colbeck and based on "Pax Tecum."

There is also a special junior sermon for the children in the early part of the service, after which they

Presbyterians hear about 'the power to resist'

Dr. R. Dixon Jennings, pastor of the Henderson Presbyterian Church, will preach a sermon Sunday entitled "The power to resist" based on Luke:1-13 in which Jesus withstands the temptations of the devil.

Sunday church school for all ages is at 9:30 a.m. and worship service is at 11 a.m.

Family prayer breakfast is 6 a.m. Wednesday at the Eldorado; craft group meets Wednesday at 3:30 p.m.; choir rehearsal is Thursday at 6:30 p.m.

A Lenten Bible study on Paul's letter to the Galatians will be held Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m. A duplicate study will be conducted Thursday morning at 10 by Dr. Jennings.

The church is located at 525 Westminster just beyond Morrell City Park at Major Avenue.

For more information concerning the Bible study classes or other questions regarding church activities, please call the church office at 565-9684.

New Christian college offers informational meeting

"Las Vegas, Meet ICI," a public information meeting on International Christian Institute, Nevada's first evangelical, two-year college, will be at 7:30 p.m., Feb. 24 at 800 N. Rancho Drive.

ICI opened its doors last fall, offering associate degrees in general and biblical studies to 193 full and part-time students.

"We want Southern Nevadans to know what we're all about," said ICI director Ross Truesdale.

"This meeting will allow folks to get to know us and have any questions answered."

ICI, an outreach of Calvary Chapel of Las Vegas, is licensed by the state of Nevada and is pursuing accreditation.

Spring semester registration will be March 9-16 with classes beginning March 17.

Thirty-four classes will be offered at $32 per semester hour. For more information please call 646-3793.

Guest duet at Southside Christian

Clarenda Busch and Deb Turner will be singing for the Southside Christian Church this Sunday as they travel here from Phoenix, Ariz.

They lead the choirs of adults and children in Sunnyslope Christian Church and are currently rehearsing for an Easter play.

Minister, Joel Rivers, will be speaking on the topic "Fear God and give him Glory" at the 9:30 a.m. worship services as he continues the study of the book of Revelation. He just recorded new messages for Inspirit on TV 3. Bible study is now on Tuesday at 7 p.m., signing class is now at 8 p.m. on Wednesday and the hand bell choir practices on Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

The Southside Christian Church is currently meeting in the Davis' Paradise Valley Chapel at 6200 S. Eastern Ave. between Sunset and Russell Roads at the doorway to Green Valley.

Fred Autenrieth will be leading the Lord's supper this week with help from Dr. Hiram Hunt, Ron Gordon, Bobby Tynes, and "DJ" Autenrieth.

Hispanics begin revival meetings Monday

Pedro Manuel Lopez, pastor of a large Baptist church in Managua, Nicaragua and Pastor Gutierrez, now an evangelist living in Visalia, Calif., arrived in Henderson last week to make preparations for a great revival in the Spanish-speaking population of the valley.

Both preachers have also talents in the music field and therefore will alternate during the meeting as they both will share the pulpit.

Lopez's daughter, who accompanies him, plays the flute and leads happy singing.

The revival will be initiated Monday, Feb. 7 and will continue until Mar. 2, nightly at 6:30 p.m. with a good list of special guests in the music field.

Cholla St., (building No. 2) in Henderson.

It has a van available for those

by L. Jessie Bennett

Here it is another Thursday and it is Feb. 13, 1986. It is day 44 with 320 days left in this year of 1986.

Thought for Today: "He that governs well, leads the blind; but he that teaches, gives them eyes!" (David O. McKay)

Of This & That: Tomorrow is the age old day of sweethearts and so thoughts are turned to love and the Valentine. Sure turns my memory tape on and I remember some fun times we had. There were the beautiful and original Valentine Boxes at school. Sometimes the teachers made one large one or each student made their own. At night we had parties as we grew older. But the most fun was delivering the cards to each doorstep, knocking and running to hide and watch the excitement of receiving another valentine. (Smarties tied a card on a string to pull the card away just before it could be picked up)

The legend of St. Valentine is one of a Christian martyr in the time of the Roman Emperor Claudius II. Valentinius was a Christian and imprisoned for practicing his religion. He was also a learned man and dedicated teacher so that his talent was sought after even while in prison. He taught history, math and about nature, but mostly he taught of God. His most apt student was a young blind girl named Julia, who it was said, received her sight by her faith when she accepted Christianity. Claudius executed Valentinius on Feb. 14, 270 A.D. Julia planted a pink blossomed Almond tree near his grave. The Almond tree is still a symbol of abiding love and friendship. Thus it is that on each Feb. 14th St. Valentine's Day, messages of affection, love, and devotion are exchanged all around the world.

Flashbacks in History:

- February 13
  - 1542 Catherine Howard, fifth wife of England's Henry VIII was executed after being accused of adultery
  - 1945 Allied bombing raids began against the German city of Dresden in WW II
  - 1960 France exploded its first atomic bomb in the Sahara Desert
  - February 14
  - 270 The Christian Valentinius, later St. Valentine, executed by Claudius in Rome in 270 A.D.
  - 1859 Oregon admitted to the Union
  - 1876 Alexander G. Bell granted telephone patent
  - 1912 Arizona became the 48th state
  - 1929 The St. Valentine massacre of seven rivals of Al Capone's gang took place in Chicago
  - 1942 Singapore, China fell to Japanese in WW II
  - February 15
  - 1842 A private mail service in New York City introduced the first adhesive postage stamp
  - 1898 The USS Maine, American battleship, sunk in Havana, Cuba—War followed.
  - February 16
  - 1868 The Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks organized in New York City
  - 1959 Fidel Castro became premier of Cuba
  - February 17
  - 1781 Rene Theophile Laennec inventor of the stethoscope, was born
  - 1867 First ship passed through the Suez Canal
  - February 18

  - February 19
  - 1878 Thomas Edison, inventor, received patent for his phonograph
  - 1945 U.S. Marines landed on Iwo Jima in WW II
- DUP Meeting: Captain Maxine Buckles of Camp Desert Sunrise of the Daughters of Utah Pioneers will meet at 541 National on Monday, Feb. 17. The meeting will start at 1 p.m. with the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag led by Ruth Moore after which Chaplain Flora Kellar leads with an inspirational thought and prayer. Evelyn Charles is scheduled to present a personal history of a pioneer ancestor. The hostesses in charge of a light refreshment are Ruth Moore and Jaunita Kossen.

Marriage: East is east and West is west and never the twain shall meet, or so they say. But pretty Christina Price and Kevin Sisson proved that statement wrong when they married last Friday. Their marriage was solemnized in the LDS Temple in Manti, Utah, Friday, Feb. 7. A reception in their honor was held in Henderson on Saturday.

Christine is the daughter of Richard and Helen Price of Henderson. She was a graduate of Basic High School and active in the Deseretaires Drill Team. Kevin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Sisson of Cobelskills, New York.

The young couple will live in Rexburg, Idaho where Kevin will attend Ricks college. They plan on making a home in New York after school. Congratulations to them.

Condolences: We wish to offer sincere sympathy and condolences to John and Tresa Meyers. Sometimes a happy time in our lives can also be the saddest. So it has been for former Henderson girl Tresa Brubaker Meyers and husband John Meyers. John and Tresa became the parents of twin babies born on Jan. 22, 1986 in Las Vegas. The little boys were named David Christopher and Bryan Michael Meyers. David Christopher did not survive and graveside services were held at Palm Mortuary on Tuesday, Feb. 4. Besides his parents and twin he is survived by an older brother John Daniel. Henderson grandparents are Gene and Ramona Brubaker. Fraternal grandparents are John Meyers in Las Vegas and Mary Mayer of Southern Calif.

Pageant: One of the 1982 graduates of Basic High was Kathy Kline. Kathy was a talented baton twirler and dancer and aerobics. She is busy teaching others these days. She is directing the coming Cinderella Girl Scholarship Pageant being held at the Henderson Civic Center on Feb. 22 at 7 p.m. This beautiful pageant features four age groups—3-6, 7-9, 10-12 and 13-17 years. Kathy will be glad to answer any questions. Call 435-0672.

Boy Scouts: Last Sunday, Feb. 9 was Scout Sunday and all the cub scouts were in their blue and gold uniforms and the scouts in the traditional khaki uniform with their leaders at church. Since 1910 when the American Boy Scouts were incorporated the scouting program has been important in forming fine young men. The principles of scouting cover the physical, intellectual, esthetic, social, vocational and spiritual. February is Scout Month and we are proud of the Boy Scouts and their leaders.

Eagle Award Given: And speaking of Scouts— Carl Huntsman, son of Frank and Zina Huntsman, an eighth grader in B. Mahlon Brown Jr. High School, received the coveted Eagle Scout award at a special Court of Honor held in January. Carl is a member of the Scout Troop 366. Congratulations to Carl on this special achievement.

Miller Wedding: Rennie Miller and Lohra Lee Flynn will be married on Saturday, Feb. 15, in a special ceremony at the LDS Temple in St. George, Utah. Their announcement read:

This day
I will marry
my friend;
the one I laugh with,
live for,
dream with, Love

The bride, Lohra Lee, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. David S. Flynn of Huntsville, Alabama. The groom, Lorenzo (Rennie) Miller is the son of Dr. Harold and Laura Jean Miller of Henderson. An open house celebration will be held in their honor at the home of the groom's parents and a reception will be held on Feb. 21 in Huntsville, Ala., to honor the young couple. Congratulations to them.

Condolences: Condolences to Pat Hartzel and her family. Pat's mother, Irma (Jones) Stewart died on Monday, Feb. 10. Mrs. Stewart, 80 years old, was a well known teacher in Nevada and lived in the Las Vegas area where she raised her family. Her funeral services will be held in Las Vegas tomorrow. She will be missed by her family and many, many friends whose lives she enriched in so many ways over the years.

Illness: Young son of the Mike Rossitters has been in a Las Vegas Hospital for asthma and pneumonia. Many friends, neighbors and family send special "Get Well" wishes out to him.

New Building: The recently completed LDS Chapel on Palo Verde Street was used for Sunday Services for the first time on Feb. 9. The LDS Fourth and Ninth Wards meet in the new chapel building. There will be special dedication services soon.

Couple Things to Think on: "I wondered why somebody didn't do something! Then I realized that I am somebody." (Anon)

"Keep in step with yourself and you need not worry about the rest of the parade." (Thought calendar)

Sister Noreen is the coordinator of volunteer services at St. Rose de Lima Hospital.

Woman charged with Saturday drunk driving

A Las Vegas woman was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol after a Saturday night accident in Green Valley.

According to Henderson police, Susan Ann Schulz turned her 1977 brown Ford pickup westbound on Sunset Road from Parkson when she struck a brown 1979 Oldsmobile driven by George Stanley Edwards of Henderson.

Police reports note Schulz failed to yield the right of way and struck the other vehicle on the driver's side. Schulz was not injured.

Edwards, 22, and his passenger Kathleen M. Shearin, 25, were transported to St. Rose de Lima Hospital by the Henderson Fire Department. Edwards was noted to have a severe injury to his head, while Shearin suffered incapacitating injuries to her trunk area.

In an unrelated accident Feb. 2, a 14-year-old Henderson girl was cited for carrying a passenger on a vehicle designed for the operator only.

Crystal Marie Kofol received moderate injuries when the black moped she was riding threw her and a friend to the ground on Thoroughbred about 18 feet south of Arabian.

According to police, the front fender of the moped came loose and wedged under the front tire, locking up the wheel.

"Both passengers of the moped were thrown over the handlebars and onto the paved road surface," a police report states.

Passenger Viola L. Morales, 13, suffered incapacitating injuries to her extremities, according to police. Both girls were transported to St. Rose de Lima Hospital by the Henderson Fire Department.

One man was hurt on the same day in a bicycle accident on Boulder Highway.

Charles Paul Gibson, 17, of Henderson was riding his black 10-speed on Boulder Highway when a vehicle entered the emergency lane in which he was riding.

Gibson went off the road and

Grandson completes basic training

Airman Winfried E. Rumpel, son of Army Sgt. Ronald W. Dennis of Fort Riley, Kan., has graduated from Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

During the six weeks of training the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

His grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Dennis, reside in Henderson, according to the Air Force Hometown News Service.

He is a 1984 graduate of Karlsruhe American High School, West Germany.

Fulbright returns from Indian Ocean tour

Navy Petty Officer 3rd Class Vincent T. Fulbright, son of Sherman L. Fulbright of Henderson, recently returned from a five and one-half month deployment to the Western Pacific and Indian Ocean.

While deployed, Fulbright participated in several training exercises and visited the ports of Bahrain, Hong Kong, Singapore and Subic Bay, Republic of the Philippines.

Fulbright is currently stationed aboard the guided missile destroyer USS Lynde McCormick, homeported in San Diego, according to a Jan. 23 release from the Fleet Hometown News Center.

A 1981 graduate of Basic High School, he joined the Navy in May 1983.

Reid relates campaign concerns

Editor's note: The following are remarks of Rep. Harry Reid at his Carson City news conference, Feb. 10 announcing his candidacy for the U.S. Senate.

I am honored to be here in this room where, as a state assemblyman nearly two decades ago, I was present when the Nevada Legislature adjourned for its last time in this historic building.

I am honored because I am in the presence of the state's greatest leaders, men and women whose contributions have made Nevada the proud and prosperous state that it is today.

Because of our independent way of thinking in Nevada, partisan labels historically have had little significance in our state. In recent years, some have asserted that only one party—because of a popular president—has successfully provided leadership to Nevada.

This presence in this room today of these men and women amply testifies to the fallacy of that argument.

Nevada's Democratic Party has led our state and led it well. This party has provided leadership and vision that throughout the years has been supported by voters of diverse political persuasions because Nevadans value hard work and consistency over partisanship.

In the small mining town of Searchlight where I was born and grew up, I learned the value of independence of thought and of hard work. I came to be fiercely loyal to Nevada.

Since the days of the Comstock Lode, Nevada has been a place of opportunity for those who are willing to take a risk. We can vividly see that opportunity today.

I attended school in a one-room building. Now, our state has a flourishing university system with schools of medicine, engineering, hotel administration and more.

Years ago, few would have envisioned the rapid growth we are now seeing in Nevada.

As an assemblyman, I tried to see Nevada in the future. Because of that, I sponsored legislation—the first of its kind—to protect the quality of our air.

That legislation was greeted with derision. The naysayers said Nevada was too unpopulated a state to ever have to worry about its environment. I felt otherwise.

Today, we have laws to protect our air and water quality, and Nevada can have growth without repeating the mistakes of other, more short-sighted states.

Even before our influx of population, I believed Nevada needed an effective apparatus to regulate utilities. As a state lawmaker, I sponsored legislation to make utilities more responsible, like requiring that utilities pay interest on consumer deposits.

In Nevada today, we face even greater challenges than we have in the past. Our state has grown by 22 percent in the past five years, and we must be prepared for further growth; growth that is orderly enough not to overrun us, but steady enough to provide continued economic security.

Unlike my one-room school, we must have a modern and progressive educational system, one that will not export our sons and daughters to other states. We must provide an environment that is conducive to teaching, because a teacher's working condition is a student's learning condition.

And, as a nation, we must overcome the educational imbalance that puts us behind countries like Japan and the Soviet Union in training scientists, engineers and mathematicians.

For our future, we cannot allow our educational system to wither under fiscal priorities that ignore our youth, who now graduate from institutions of higher learning at a lower rate than 15 years ago.

Nor should we turn our backs on our seniors, who must be allowed to retire in dignity and to have necessary health care in their golden years.

For both old and young, the problem of skyrocketing medical costs has become a national scandal, and Nevada is among those states where the problem is the worst.

The federal government, as the largest purchaser of health care services in the country with 40 percent of the industry total, must work with the private sector in containing health costs.

Such an effort could include tax incentives and public and private sector insurance initiatives.

There is yet another danger that hangs like an albatross on working Americans and businesses: that of unrestrained prices for insurance.

In our country today, the demand for insurance pervades nearly every part of our lives, yet little has been done to scrutinize these exorbitant profits gained from gambling on life, death and injury. I will devote a major part of my campaign and legislative energies to reforming the insurance industry.

Finally, we must avoid placing a heavy burden of taxation on those in their peak earning years—the young mothers and fathers who worry about rearing their children in today's world, who worry about the education and future of their children, as well as their own retirement. This group of Americans—the sons and daughters of our middle class—can no longer be ignored.

I believe Nevada can meet these challenges. As a legislator, lieutenant governor, chairman of the Gaming Commission and as a member of Congress, I have traveled throughout the state; from its urban centers to the rural communities that, like Searchlight, are the heart of Nevada.

I, along with Governor O'Callaghan, served during some of the most prosperous years in Nevada history, years that laid the groundwork for where we are today. I am proud to have been a part of policies that furthered economic prosperity.

Our gaming establishment is strong and healthy, to the point where today, other states look with envy at the source of our economic base, some wanting to copy its success.

As chairman of the Gaming Commission, I participated in the growth of Nevada Gaming and I, with Governor O'Callaghan, spearheaded laws to protect the integrity of our gaming institutions, such as a cooling-off period for gaming regulators before their re-entry into the private sector.

I am sorry that we have yet to see that become a reality, but other measures I supported are now law, such as providing for the orderly removal from casino ownership of inappropriate licensees.

Four four years in Congress, I have fought to protect Nevada from the insensitivity of the federal bureaucracy in Washington. I have fought against the illegal seizures of our land and air space by the federal government. I have vigorously opposed our state's designation as a nuclear garbage dump and, I might add, without the need of a poll to tell me that Nevadans overwhelmingly opposed the notion.

I have been personally involved in efforts to diversify our economy, working on a congressional level to help attract new industries and jobs to Nevada, such as Citicorp, Aerojet and the Federal Emergency Management Agency here in Carson City.

As a member of the House Science and Technology Committee, I brought committee Chairman Don Fuqua of Florida to our state to witness and support our effort to get a new engineering school.

I have worked to ensure that the lifestyle and freedom that characterize Nevada will continue for our children and their children.

Yes, we face great challenges, but I am optimistic enough to believe we can meet them with hard work, common sense, with faith in the future and the opportunity that is in Nevada.

But Nevada must be for Nevadans, It must not be for the nuclear trash of other states. It must not be for the selfish profit of out-of-state corporations. It must not be for the federal government to abuse.

And it definitely should not be available to purchase by political chieftans in Washington, D.C., whose concern is more with the attainment of power than with Nevada's security.

The 1986 contest for the United States Senate is about our state, our families and our way of life. The question for Nevada voters is one of personal commitment, not whether a candidate has an 'R' or a 'D' after his name. The question in this race is who cares most about Nevada and puts the interest of the state ahead of his own ambition. The question is one of who can provide the consistent leadership to which Nevadans have become accustomed.

I believe in this state. I have raised my five children here with my wife and partner of nearly 30 years, Landra.

I want to run for the United States Senate because I care about Nevada. In my time in state government and in Congress I have always put Nevada first and I always will. I believe I have a vision for our future. I believe in tomorrows, not yesterdays.

Boys' Club to hold auction

The Henderson Boys and Girls Club will conduct their annual awards banquet Saturday, Mar. 1 at the Henderson Convention Center.

Set to be honored for outstanding service and contributions to the club during 1985 are Henderson city manager Gary Bloomquist, grants administrator for the city Ann Barron, Nevada gaming figure Sam Boyd and the United Way of Southern Nevada.

Also to be honored during the evening will be the club's board member of the year, boy of the year and girl of the year, to be named by the club's executive director Clyde Caldwell.

This year's awards banquet will once again double as the official kick-off for the annual Henderson Boys and Girls Club's auction fund raiser scheduled for Mar. 22, at the Henderson Convention Center.

Henderson Mayor Lorna Kesterson will act as master of ceremonies.

Lady Wolves edged by Rancho in Sunrise showdown

by Ken Whyte
Sports Editor

It was a showdown for second place in the Sunrise Division, and it delivered the expected excitement.

Unfortunately for the Basic Lady Wolves, they walked away the loser to Rancho, 65-61, on Tuesday afternoon at Rancho High.

The loss drops Basic to 7-4 in the division and 13-6 overall, but more importantly it didn't do the Lady Wolves much good with the Zone playoffs looming.

Coach Diane Hernandez' club wanted second place for a better draw in the tournament and, while there are two games left, it looks as if Basic will have to play a tougher team in the opening round of its bid for the Southern Conference title.

It was obvious from the start that Basic wanted the game badly. Lorraine Hunter came out gunning and carried the Lady Wolves to a 9-0 lead early in the first period. She was so hot that she accounted for 13 of Basic's 15 points in that period.

However, Rancho came storming back to tie it at 15 apiece. The game then became a seesaw battle with one team taking the lead and losing it, and until the fourth quarter Basic was in prime position for a win.

The Lady Wolves got 19 points from Hunter, but she went cold in the second quarter, scoring only two points.

They got a big lift, however, from Cindy Eddy and Connie Sandoval. Eddy scored six straight points early in the second quarter to give Basic a 25-23 lead with 4:52 left.

Then Sandoval took over. The 5-4 senior guard scored eight points down the stretch to help Basic to a 38-33 lead at halftime.

Up by three points, 42-39, with 5:47 to go in the third, the Lady Wolves quickly pulled out to their biggest lead of the game, 10 points, on Jane Marshall's five points and Laraine Muniz' basket at 4: 21.

The lead collapsed, mainly on the shooting of Rancho's Jackie Joiner. She hit 10 of the Lady Rams' next 12 points and tied the game again at 51—all with 1:14 left in the period.

Hunter gave Basic a 53-51 lead at the close of the third and that seemed to lift the Lady Wolves going into the fourth.

Basic held its tenuous lead until the 3:37 mark when Billie Jean Butler put Rancho on top for good, 58-57. The Lady Rams scored seven unanswered points after that to grab the win.

Muniz followed Hunter with 16 points and Eddy and Sandoval each scored 10.

Joiner paced Rancho with 22, Alisha Williams contributed 12 and Butler added 10.

Rancho is now 8-3 and 13-6. Basic hosts unbeaten Las Vegas on Friday at 6 p.m.

Lalonde is one of the wrestlers coach Jim Duschon will be looking to in the Wolves' quest for the title.

No. 1-ranked Rams whip Wolves, 85-61

by Ken Whyte
Sports Editor

They're ranked No. 1 in the state, and it was easy to see why Tuesday night.

The Rancho Rams took an eight point lead into the locker room at halftime but romped to an 85-61 win over Basic in the Wolves' gym.

Basic played its usual tight first half, trailing 19-15 after one quarter and losing the second by a 20-16 margin.

Then things fell apart. It's been a mystery all season, but the second half has continued to plague the Wolves.

Basic looked sharp in the early going, but lost some steam when forward Darron Carson had to leave the game with a banged-up knee at 5:55 of the first period. He came back briefly in the quarter, but his effectiveness was diminished and so was the Wolves' rebounding.

Carson's knee was iced but swelled up by the end of the game. Coach John William speculated that it might be only a bruise. Whatever the case, with Carson out the Wolves are not at full strength.

"That (the injury) took rebounding height from us," Williams said. "Rancho took over the boards in the second half."

Casey O'Neal was unstoppable in the first half, scoring 16 points of his game-high 24 points.

Leroy Davis took over the scoring for Basic in the second half, hitting 14 of his 20 points.

Rancho, now 11-0 in the Sunrise and 20-3 overall, got balanced scoring, with Dwan Brandon shooting in 20 points; Greg Anthony 15, Darren Brown 14 and Vernon Warren 12.

Basic fell to 2-9 in division play and 5-18 overall.

Rancho coach Jim Allen said he's had little trouble getting the Rams ready to play, no matter what the opponent's record.

"We've been talking about consistency and playing hard against anyone," he said. "The team is pretty well self-motivated."

Rancho forced a lot of Basic turnovers and Allen had that in the game plan from the start.

"Our game against them is to get them going up and down the floor," he said. "We think our quickness can cause a lot of turnovers."

The out-quickened Wolves have a good shot at another victory on Friday when they travel to Las Vegas for a 3 p.m. meeting with the Wildcats, now 3-7 in the Sunrise and 9-11 overall. Basic always plays Vegas close and lost 52-49 in their earlier contest.

FROM CURTIS' CORNER

by Joey Curtis

Reno as the "Boxing Capital of the World?" No, not yet, but our northern city sure has been busy so far and in terms of really "big" fights has it all over Las Vegas for the first and second months of this new year.

Last week it was Alexis Arguello versus Billy Costello and this Sunday, Oct. 16 it's Livingstone Bramble defending his WBA lightweight championship against Tyrone Crawley. This fight's going to be held at the MGM Grand itself and is the first world championship fight to be held at a Reno hotel instead of the city or university's sports arenas.

This fight has a lot of question marks around it. First, it was postponed from November. Second, can Crawley's great boxing ability and good speed make up for less than awesome power? Third, is Bramble going to prove too awkward for Crawley? He had too much for Ray "Boom Boom" Mancini not once but two times.

All in all, it does promise to be an interesting match-up. Talking about "big" fights coming here, March is the month. It starts with ex-WBC junior lightweight champion Cornelius Boza-Edwards, a very nice young man now from Las Vegas and a fine fighter as well as evidenced by his championship, taking on Terrance Ali on Sunday, March 2 at the Sahara.

By the way, the Sahara has another card coming up before that one and that's on Tuesday, Feb. 25. This monthly ESPN card features Cubanito Perez against Martin Quiroz in the main event and also Roman George up against Javier Suazo in the semi main.

Add to this another monthly ESPN card on March 12 and with three fights in 16 days and it looks like the Sahara is getting into boxing in a big, big way.

It's just my opinion, but I was a little surprised to see how easily Meldrick Taylor handled Robin Blake in their recently televised fight from Louisiana, Sure, Taylor won a gold medal at the 1984 L.A. Olympic Games and he's fast of both hand and foot, but Blake is a very dangerous puncher and not too long ago challenged for the IBF Lightweight Championship.

Taylor's speed was too much for Blake. Blake never came close to hurting Taylor, who not only showed speed but a lot of smarts too. He didn't just go for the head with jabs and combinations, he worked the body too, something most young fighters don't learn to do until later in their career. Keep your eye on this Taylor, he's only 19 and should be a ranked contender fairly soon.

The latest word on the Azumah Nelson-Marcos Villasana WBC featherweight championship fight is that it'll happen on Feb. 25 in Los Angeles.

What probably won't happen is for Hector "Macho" Camacho defending his WBC lightweight championship against Sergio Zambrano on that same card. That was the plan originally but now it looks like promoter Don King will have to find another date and place for Camacho's title tiff.

Finally, I hear that ace veteran publicist Murray Goodman of New York is getting into the promotion business back east. He promoted back there over 10 years ago, but recently has been sticking strictly with publicity, mainly with Don King.

HPRD mini baseball registration begins

Mini baseball registration will continue through Feb. 26 at the Civic Center, 201 Lead Street, Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Mini baseball is open to all boys and girls in first and second grades. Rules will be modified to provide an enjoyable learning experience for all players.

League standing and official game score will not be kept for this age group. Practice will begin on Monday, March 24 with the first game scheduled for Saturday, April 5. The season will end Saturday, May 17.

Practice and game sites will be determined after registration. Volunteer coaches are needed for this activity. Please indicate on the registration sheet if you would be willing to coach or assist.

There will be a registration fee of $3 per player.

For further information call the Civic Center Office at 565-2121.

Lines from the lanes

by Ruth Soehle

Cashman Field Warmup Event: A big "thank you" to those of you who participated in the warmup tournament at the new lanes at Cashman Field. The lanes are beautiful and the telescopes all teletronic in large enough numbers to be read from a distance.

There were a few mechanical kinks to be worked out of the new equipment, which was the purpose of us being there. Hopefully the men will have to shoot for a lot less splits than some of us women. Good luck to all of our local ABC bowlers who have entered this very large tournament which runs until June on the temporary lanes at Cashman Field.

500 Club Trio Saturday: The 500 Club of HWBA will have a mixed trio tournament this Saturday at 5:30 p.m. Two 500 Club members and one male bowler constitute a team with an entry fee of $30 per team. Entries are due today or call Audry Bondurant at 564-1994.

Adult Jr. Sweetheart Moonlight Feb. 15: Entries are at the desk for the Adult Jr. Sweetheart Moonlight tournament this Saturday, Feb. 15. Each team consists of one female and one male, one a junior and one an adult, with an entry fee of $10 per team. Competition starts rolling at 2 p.m.

Nevada WBA Tournament Entries Due: If you are planning to enter the women's state tournament to be held at Henderson Bowl in April and May complete your entry forms and mail them by Feb. 19.

Each event is $8.50 per person plus a $2 optional All Events. Be sure to have averages verified by our HWBA secretary, Sandy Coe, if they are not in the 1984-85 winter book of averages. Let's all support the HWBA and enter, remember it won't be this close again for several years.

Nevada State Bowling ABC Tournament: The Nevada State Bowling Association is holding its 37th annual tournament at the MGM Grand Lanes in Reno May 3, 4, 10 and 11. Entries are at the desk and you have until April 6 to complete and send in with entry fee of $9 per event plus a $3 all events fee.

Tick's Tips
By Randy Tickner
P.G.A. Golf Pro

Slow play on the course has been the subject of many debates in recent years. If you have not played before, the best thing to do is practice on the driving range. Do not get on the course and hold up people trying to enjoy the game.

If you have no place to practice and want to play, play in the afternoons or at slow periods in the day. For those who do play, be ready when it is your turn.

Pay attention to where your ball goes. Do not walk to your ball without a club or clubs. As you walk to your ball, think about the shot you have to hit. Once on the green hit your putt and if at all possible putt out. Do the scoring on the next tee. If you lose a ball, let the group behind you go through. The game can be played quickly and enjoyed.

Tournament results

Following are results of the Best Ball-Scramble tournament played on Saturday at Black Mountain Golf and Country Club:

First flight winners: First place—Sam Savalli, Ed Kelemen (59.75); second place—Wes MacRae, Dan Cooney (62.25); third place—Don Creighton, Don Griffin (63.25); fourth place—Gary Ashworth and Keith Lopeman (64.25)

Second flight winners: First place—Jacque Brewer, Martha Anderson (58.50); second place—Ernie Tice, Levi Pitts (60); third place—Bill Harwood, Gwen Harwood, Dit Whatley and Claude Davison (62.75).

Members Valentine Tourney

Black Mountain will hold a Valentine's Day tournament for members on Friday with a 2 p.m. shotgun start. Ladies can pick their own sweetheart to compete. Both will alternate their shots. There is a $5 entry fee. Sign us in the shop or call 565-7933. A pot luck dinner will follow the event.

Rules: Movable Obstruction

A player may obtain relief from a movable obstruction as follows:

a. If the ball does not lie in or on the obstruction, the obstruction may be removed; if the ball moves, no penalty is incurred and the ball shall be replaced.

b. If the ball lies in or on the obstruction, the ball may be lifted, without penalty, and the obstruction removed. The ball shall through the green or in a hazard be dropped, or on the putting green be placed, as near as possible to the spot directly under the place where the ball lay in or on the obstruction, but not nearer the hole.

The ball may be cleaned when lifted for relief under Rule 24-1b.

When a ball is in motion, an obstruction on the player's line of play other than an attended flagstick and equipment of the player shall not be removed.

Note that if the ball lies on the ground and there is interference by a nearby movable obstruction, the relief procedure is different than if the ball lies in or on the obstruction. Rule 24-1a governs when the ball lies on the ground, and Rule 24-1b governs if the ball is in or on the obstruction.

Suppose a rake has been left in a bunker and a player's ball come to rest against the rake. Since the rake is movable, the player may remove it under Rule 24-1a. If the ball moves in the process, it must be replaced.

Black Mountain ladies social golf news related

by Barbara Grogan
Club publicist

A shotgun start on the morning of Feb. 5 was the beginning of an enjoyable round of golf for the ladies of the Black Mt. Golf and Country Club.

The round was played in flights, with three low nets determining the winning score.

After play, we retired to the club house for our luncheon meeting. The tables were decorated with white place mats and pink napkins, and each table was centered with a dainty bud vase containing pale pink and lilac flowers and baby's breath.

Luncheon consisted of grilled cheese sandwiches and Waldorf salad. Tina Smith spoiled us by fixing Valentine cakes and three different kinds of Valentine cookies for dessert.

Plans are being made for a card party on Thursday, Feb. 27.

Games to be played will be bridge, gin rummy, or whatever each table group desires.

The party starts at noon and the cost is $3 per person. Hors'doevres will be served. Each lady is asked to wear an unusual hat creation, as there will be a crazy-hat contest.

Introductions included Barbara Christensen, a new member, and guests, Jean Wurzer's mother and Lil Rzewnicki's sister-in-law.

Mary Jo Sheehan was presented with a plaque for making a hole-in-one on number 12.

A hole-in-one club is being started. Each member who wishes to take part will contribute $1. The first one to get a hole-in-one on Ladies' Day gets the whole pot as prize. Then it starts all over again.

Golf pro, Randy Tickner will be having golf clinics again this spring. This time there will be both morning and afternoon classes.

Our bus trip this year will be held on either March 26 or April 9. After much discussion, it was decided to go to the Southgate Golf Course in St. George, Utah. More information will be forthcoming.

It was voted to have shotgun starts at 8:30 a.m. for the entire month of February. The Challenge Tournament will continue until March 26.

Upcoming tournaments include the Desert Inn Invitational today.

The Black Mountain Ladies Invitational will be played Mar. 12 with tournament fees due Mar. 10. There will be a shotgun start at 8:30 a.m. with a continental breakfast offered before action begins. Play will consist of low gross and low net in flights.

Fee includes carts, green fees, luncheon and prizes.

The Nellis Invitational is set for Mar. 20 while the Southern Nevada Tournament at the Showboat Country Club is set for April 21-22.

The tournament chairman distributed the awards for the month of January.

On Jan. 5 there was an ABCD Tournament. The team of Anderson, Barquist, Fryman, and Yost claimed first-place honors and were awarded three balls each.

Faye Crunk got the longest drive on number 9.

Jan. 12 and 22 was our Eclectic Tournament. Gross winners were Faye Crunk (83), Mary Meyers (84), and Raili Knock (86). Net winners were Betty Rineer (61), Marie Yost (64), Elaine Raney and Gwen Harwood (65).

First and second place winners received travel clocks and third place winners were presented with putter trainers.

In our Medal of Golf Tournament on Jan. 29, Annette Brereton walked away with another prize with a score of 71.

Feeding program available

The Economic Opportunity Board of Clark County's Women, Infants and Children program has openings for eligible clients in the Henderson area.

To be eligible for the WIC program, women must be pregnant or breastfeeding infants up to one year of age or caring for children to their fifth birthday.

Clients must be within the income guide lines, be at nutritional risk, and reside in Clark County.

WIC is a nutritional supplement program that provides clients with a pre-packed selection of foods: eggs, milk, cheese, cereal, juice, legumes, peanut butter, formula, soy-based formula, infant cereal and infant juice.

Nutrition education is provided by the program's nutritionist in group classes and on an individual basis.

Potential clients must call the clinic at 750 Major Street in Henderson at 565-8443 between 4-4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday for information and appointment.

The WIC Program also serves the military and their dependents.

Voucher checks can also be cashed at the Nellis Air Force Base Commissary.

Youth baseball, ponytail softball coaches needed

One of the most rewarding experiences that an individual can have is to be a part of a recreational program in a fine community such as ours. Ponytail softball (8-15 years), pee wee baseball (8-10 years), midget baseball (11-12 years), and junior baseball (13-16 years) will be getting underway and we will need volunteer coaches (male and female).

If you would like an active role as a coach, contact the Henderson Parks and Recreation Department, Civic Center office, at

T-Ball coaches wanted

Anyone interested in coaching T-ball for the 1986 season is asked to contact Abie at the Henderson Boys and Girls Club. Men or women may coach.

Please call 565-6568 from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.

The final note to the Christmas tree program. It couldn't have been done without the generosity and cooperation of Silver State Disposal, WMK Products and the Tri Delta Company. They came through with products, equipment and labor, and we thank them very deeply.

Last Monday night at the dinner for the Christmas tree program, U.S. Bass turned over a check for over $17,000 to the NDOW. The NDOW promptly announced that a portion of the money will be used for studies on Lake Mead.

I'll wait awhile before making any comment on further studies at Lake Mead. Something about rational thoughts and a cool mind.

It may not seem like it with the weather still a little cool but look for the water temperature to start crawling up. Fish seem to sense the slightest change and if it's in a warmer direction the activity increases.

At present there is a lot of 58-degree water and if you look in some of the southern exposure areas you might find even warmer water.

The reason to make note of this is that these areas will attract the early spawning largemouth bass. Now for the important part, the early spawners are usually the larger fish. It's one of the best times all year to really have a chance at that wallhanger.

A lot of people look for that big fish on the nest but in reality the big females are only up there a day or two. For me the magic point is the 10-foot depth, if I find nests then I work the area at the 10-foot depth.

The big fish seem to hold at those depths especially if there is heavy brush or logs. Glen Lau once said if you can find submerged logs near nesting areas then the big fish will be rubbing on those logs. Nobody knows why they do this but if they are there then why not pursue them?

Striper fishing is still somewhat slow with the best results being turned in by Shorty Romana. He isn't doing any trick things just drifting anchovies in the back of Vegas Wash.

Ask anybody that knows and they will tell you that Shorty is the most consistent striper angler around.

April 12 has been set as the date of our next seminar. This is the one where we will bring Lowrance Electronics up for an outstanding program on graphs, flashers, and LCDs.

The seminar begins at 10 a.m. at Calville Bay in the new restaurant area. There will also be some on the water demos with the new equipment. We will keep you posted on this event. Good fishing everybody.

Hall thrives on Mint 400's rocky road

Rocky road might prove to be Rod Hall's favorite flavor after all.

With the 19th annual Mint 400 Desert Race moving to a new location south of Las Vegas this year, Hall admits to feeling a little sadness at saying goodbye to the traditional course run for 10 years.

"For myself, I have always enjoyed the old mystique of the Mint being a hard, dirty race," said Hall, who after winning a record seventh Mint 400 crown last year joked, "I'm ready for the 31 flavors, but don't make mine rocky road."

Hall, from Reno, Nev., is afraid that what has been become known as the largest, roughest and richest off-road race of them all might lose some of its image as the ultimate endurance test of man and machine.

Not so, says Walt Lott, whose High Desert Racing Association is staging the event May 7-11 for the host and sponsor, Del Webb's Mint Casino-Hotel in Las Vegas. "The new course will have all of the same rough terrain of the old Mint course except it won't be as silty," says the pioneer off-road racing organizer. "There is a large amount of terrain we have not used in the past for racing."

Lott, who as first chief steward and then race advisor for the Mint 400 since 1970, has been instrumental in locating and then laying out many of the past Mint 400 routes through the unforgiving mountain and desert terrain near Las Vegas.

The race, first run on a 200-mile loop west of Las Vegas in 1968, drawing 92 entries, had grown to more than 500 race cars and trucks in 1981. The course was first moved to an area northwest of Las Vegas at the Mint Gun Club, a trapshooting facility owned by the Mint Hotel. The growing population of the area forced another move in 1975 farther north of town.

"I ran all of the Gun Club races," said Hall. "That was as silty and dirty a race as you'll ever find. You had silt as deep as your axle housing," he remembered, smiling. "To me that's the Mint 400."

But getting rid of the deep silt, a headache for most entries, was a prime consideration in looking for a new layout. Hall admits his four-wheel drive class does not have the difficulty with the deep fine powder other classes have.

"I personally don't have a problem with the silt," he said slyly.

Hall's BF Goodrich-backed four-wheel drive Dodge pickup truck, also sponsored by Del Webb's High Sierra Hotel at Lake Tahoe, had little trouble with anything in 1985, winning 13 of all 13 races he entered. Those included the Mint 400, all eight races on the combined HDRA/SCORE International points series, the SCORE Off-Road World Championships at Riverside (Calif.) International Raceway and three events in Australia.

It was one of his busiest years but it appears Hall may not be running as many races this season. He said he will not go to Australia but he does plan to run the Alaskan Rally, from Seattle through Alaska to the Arctic Circle and back.

The Mint 400, which for the first time will not be an independent event staged by the hotel, joins the HDRA/SCORE series and one HDRA event has been dropped to make room for it.

"I'd like to be the only eight-time winner of the Mint 400," said Hall, who is currently tied with a pair of stablemates, of sorts.

Manny Esquerro, whose Ford Ranger is prepared by pioneer race car builder Bill Stroppe, who owns and preps Hall's Dodge, has won all but one Mint 400 he has entered, while Walker Evans, another Dodge performer, is the other lucky 7 driver.

Although Hall ran away with another Class 4 (long wheelbase four-wheel drive) series title last year with victories in such grueling events as the Frontier 500, Baja Internacional and Baja 1000, he missed by just one point of successfully defending his overall heavy metal championship in the series. That went to Class 8, two-wheel drive, performer Steven Kelley.

"As my co-driver Jim Fricker and chief mechanic Jim Doyle said, we feel like we won all the battles but lost the war," Hall said.

The 1986 war began Feb. 1 with the SCORE Parker 400 at Parker, Ariz., and then would continue with SCORE's Great Mojave 250 at Lucerne Valley, Calif., April 4-6.

HDRA's Mint 400 will be the third event of the eight-race championship schedule, which also includes SCORE's Baja Internacional (500) June 6-8, HDRA's Fireworks 250 July 4-6, HDRA's Frontier 500 Sept. 5-7, SCORE's Baja 1000 Nov. 7-9 and the HDRA 250 Dec. 5-7.

The Mint 400 was almost history this year. Hotel management last fall announced cancellation of the event, citing rising costs, but it was reinstated after a re-evaluation was directed by new Del Webb Hotel Group President Tony Atchley.

"We're really pleased to see the Mint 400 continue," said Hall. "It's a happening. Losing the Mint 400 would be like CART racing losing Indy."

"If we lost that tradition, we'd lose a vital part of the desert racing heritage. Our thanks to Del Webb Corp. and Tony Atchley."

All of the excitement surrounding past Mint events will continue, including the closing of famed Fremont Street in Downtown Las Vegas for tech inspection and manufacturers row.

The start-finish line for the four-lap race will be at Sloan, 17 miles south of Las Vegas.

HDRA takes over Mint 400, drops Laughlin

The High Desert Racing Association's half of the combined HDRA/SCORE off-road championship season opens May 10 with the 19th annual Mint 400.

HDRA, the Las Vegas-based organization directed by pioneer off-road promoter Walt Lott, takes over operation of the Mint 400, which had been run as a completely independent event organized by Del Webb's Mint Casino-Hotel since 1968.

While the Mint 400 joins the HDRA schedule, Lott announced the cancellation of the Laughlin desert Challenge, run in 1984 and 1985 as the opener of the HDRA season.

Scheduling conflicts and limited space, combined with the addition of the Mint 400, forced the cancellation of the Laughlin event, originally planned for March 7-9.

"I'm sorry we're not going to have a race down there (in Laughlin) because it's an excellent place to have an event," Lott said. "But the way the community is expanding it's forcing us away from an adequate area to accommodate us."

Lott said plans call for Laughlin's first elementary school to be built on the site of the race's start-finish area. Other new construction in the booming Colorado River community 90 miles south of Las Vegas forced considerable alteration of the race course last year.

However, having the prestigious Mint 400 in his stable should help make up for Lott's loss of the popular Laughlin race.

"We're excited about doing it," said Lott of the Mint 400, for which he was chief steward or race advisor since 1970, acting independently of his own race organizing.

Three other HDRA events are scheduled this year: the Fireworks 250 July 4-6 at Barstow, Calif.; the fifth annual Frontier 500 Sept. 5-7 at Las Vegas; and the HDRA 250 Dec. 5-7 at Las Vegas.

The Frontier 500 will take on a completely new look this year, four laps over a desert course of more than 100 miles in length south of Las Vegas.

The event was created in 1982 as a point-to-point race from Las Vegas to Reno, Nev., more than 500 miles without benefit of paved roads. Although finishing ceremonies were held in Reno two years, it never quite reached the state's second largest city due to the heavy rural population outside of Reno.

The four HDRA events join four SCORE, International races to make up one championship series. SCORE, based in Westlake Village, Calif., stages the Parker 400 at Parker, Ariz., Feb. 1; the Great Mojave 250 at Lucerne Valley, Calif., April 4-6; the Baja International at Ensenada, Mexico, June 6-8 and the Baja 100 at Ensenada, Nov. 7-9.

Pets and vets

Food allergies in dogs briefed

by Mary Ellen Gorham
College of Veterinary Medicine

I have a friend who can't eat shrimp, a friend who can't eat chocolate and a friend who can't eat mustard.

They are allergic to these foods and become quite ill if they indulge.

Dogs can also be allergic to foods and react in various ways.

Their skin can become dry, scaly and itchy or they may have digestive upsets or respiratory signs.

Dr. Edward Baker of the Animal Skin and Allergy Clinic in New Jersey has written several papers about food allergies in dogs.

Q. Dr. Baker, what foods are most apt to cause allergic reactions in dogs?

A. Commercial dog foods are mostly responsible if the dog is prone to allergies.

Because these contain mixtures of various animal, vegetable and mineral ingredients plus artificial colors, flavors and preservatives, it is virtually impossible to determine which portion of a prepared food is the offender without feeding each ingredient separately.

Some dogs also are sensitive to beef, pork, eggs and dairy products.

Q. When should an owner suspect a food allergy?

A. If the dog has a dry skin with a light to heavy dander, itchiness and small oozing lesions that crust over, there could be several causes.

The possibility of fleas, mange and other skin conditions as well as a seasonal allergy caused by pollen must be eliminated.

Food allergy should be strongly suspected in cases where the problem starts in young animals under one year old and has no seasonal predilection.

Food allergies can cause gastrointestinal signs such as vomiting, flatulence and changes in the stools. Respiratory problems, although rare, are occasionally seen.

Q. How common is food allergy in dogs?

A. True figures are not available because the condition is often misdiagnosed or overlooked.

In a study I made of 82 allergic dogs and cats, I found that in 62 percent of the cases, food was responsible for some or all of the signs shown.

Twenty-three percent of the cases completely cleared up after changing the diet.

Q. Can a dog be tested to see if it is allergic to food?

A. The best test is the total elimination diet.

If a food is responsible for the allergic condition, the elimination of it should stop all clinical signs.

Before such a test, a dog should have a thorough physical examination to be sure that nothing else is responsible for the symptoms it shows.

The dog should drink only bottled spring water during the test. At the end of this period, the dog will either have improved or remained the same.

If improvement occurs, begin trial feeding with foods that are ordinarily not part of the dog's diet.

An excellent initial food is cottage cheese.

If no reaction occurs after five days, add corn oil or peanut oil to the diet for the next five days.

Bud soccer tourney draws best North American teams

Nevada State Soccer Association is gearing up for their eighth annual soccer tournament, the Budweiser Silver Mug, Feb. 15-17 at Sunset Park.

Sponsored by Budweiser and Nevada Beverage, the proceeds go to support the NSSA, the Budweiser Silver Mug tournament is one of the finest, attracting 48 of the best men's and women's teams in the U.S. and Canada.

Last year's men's champion, F.C. Mitre Eagles, of Seattle, Wash., will be defending their title against the likes of International, from St. Louis, Missouri, the Hollywood Stars from Hollywood Calif., not to mention past national champions, the Denver Kickers.

The defending women's champion, the Cozars from Seattle, who also took second in the national championships last year, will also face some stiff competition.

A couple of women's teams gunning for victory in this year's tournament will be Royal Midtown of St. Louis, who took third in the nationals last year and Ajax from Manhattan Beach, Calif., who recently returned from an international tournament in Brazil, in which they took second place.

Audubon meeting discusses peregrines, offer field trip

outpatient cardiac catheterization

Humana Hospital Sunrise announces outpatient cardiac catheterization. Now you and your doctor can have this sophisticated, technically advanced diagnostic procedure performed on an outpatient basis, rather than undergoing the traditional two-day hospital stay. Additionally, you will have the complete safety and backup of Nevada's largest hospital, Humana Hospital Sunrise.

- CONVENIENCE Be admitted in the morning, have your catheterization before noon and be home by early evening.
- COST EFFECTIVE The average patient should realize a significant cost reduction over standard inpatient costs.
- SAFETY The newest and most sophisticated equipment is used, along with a proven, highly professional medical and technical staff. This makes the likelihood of complication and hospitalization remote. However, if complications arise, the full services of Humana Hospital Sunrise are immediately available.

If your doctor has recommended cardiac catheterization on an elective basis, you should consider the new, innovative outpatient program now offered by Humana Hospital Sunrise. Our research and experience has shown us that this procedure is highly effective in a select group of patients. Ask your doctor for information or call Humana Hospital Sunrise.

Next week's horoscope

Editor's note: Next week's horoscope covers the week of Feb. 16 to 22 and is distributed by the McNaught Syndicate, Inc.

by Salome

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) Your natural tendency to lead puts you into a position of responsibility. Though you'll encounter some opposition, you soon take full command of the situation.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) Weigh your needs carefully. Not everything that's sensible suits the practical Bovine. You also need to satisfy your sense of adventure. Reach out to a new experience.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) You may be running into problems because you're running out of steam. Slow down. Pace yourself. Cruising is less bruising on your energy supply.

Cancer (June 21-Jul. 22) Major Lunar influences dominate this period. Slow starts lead to steady progress. Look for past misunderstandings to give way to renewed friendships.

Leo (Jul. 23-Aug. 22) Keep a sharp cat's eye on your kitty. From now and through the next several weeks, it'll make good sense to watch your dollars and cents. Be wise; economize.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Expect to make adjustments in your plans because of changes you can't avoid. It's a good idea to make at least two plans to fall back on if necessary.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Spend less time trying to balance all the elements in your life and put more time into having the fun you deserve. Things work out. You'll see.

Scorpio (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Sports and competition dominate much of this period. Do your best. Efforts are noted regardless of the final outcome. Important news is coming.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Aspects indicate it would be a wise move to recheck financial matters. You may be in for a surprise when all the right figures are refigured.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) A slightly uncertain period begins. The best way to minimize confusion is to plan major moves well. Leave nothing to chance. Confirm decisions with all parties.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) All that glitters may not be gold. To avoid being caught in a "gilt-complex" situation, be wary of silver-tongued charmers whose promises tarnish all too quickly.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) Pisceans are favored by strong artistic influences. Whether you create or enjoy the creations of others, you derive much spiritual and emotional satisfaction.

Money

Make the most of it

By Sandra Satterfield and Becky Buckley

Alternative investment vehicles

Much media attention has been focused on the stock market recently because of the steadily increasing highs coupled with occasional violent corrections. Even the most seasoned investor would become apprehensive about which way to turn with their hard earned investment dollars.

The alternative to venturing into these new areas of the financial world, though, is just as disconcerting. "CD shock" is a term commonly used to describe the effect of rolling over a previously high-paying certificate of deposit (CD) to one which yields seven to eight percent.

The purpose of this column and future columns will be to offer and illustrate the choices which one can make to insure that investment money is well and rightly spent.

Just as there is no one perfect house, perfect job or perfect vacation for all people, there is no one perfect investment. Differences in age, temperament, business goals and spending needs all enter into one's investment decisions.

How then, does an individual choose out of the hundreds of alternatives, the one, or several, which will most help him to reach his investment goals?

First, let's decide what type of an investor you are.

1. For what will you eventually use the money? A person saving for retirement on a child's education will look for long term appreciation and will reinvest all dividends, while a couple saving for a new home will avoid investments which would impose an early withdrawal penalty, or an already person would invest for safe, steady current income.

2. What is your temperament? Are you one who wants to just place your money and not bother any more with it or would you want to be more personally active and monitor your investments frequently?

3. What is your risk level? Some investors are very conservative, some will take moderate risks in quest of a moderately better return, and some love the thrill and potential returns of being speculative.

After you decide where you fit into all of this, then it becomes easier to sort out the maze of financial vehicles and start on the road to reach your goals. Let us hear from you. Direct your questions or comments to Sandra or Becky and either drop them by the Henderson Home News office at 22 Water St. or the Boulder City News office at 1227 Arizona or mail them to P.O. Box 815, Henderson, NV 89015.

Calorie countdown

by Susan Duff
Diet Guideline

Once you've found the diet that's right for you, all you have to do to lose weight is follow that diet. Sounds simple, but sticking to a diet plan may not give you enough extra guidelines to help you stay on the diet. Here are some pointers to help you remain on the diet of your choice.

Take your diet one day at a time. If you think ahead to all the weight you want to lose, it can be discouraging and overwhelming. It's more beneficial to just think about how you plan to follow your diet for today.

At the end of the day, when you've been successful, pat yourself on the back and look forward to another dieting day tomorrow.

Try not to become obsessive about what you're not eating. If you need a focus for your obsession, concentrate on your exercise program and put all your mental energy into that. Constantly thinking about food can sometimes backfire and lead to breaking your diet.

Don't keep extra foods that aren't on your diet in your home "for company," or "for the kids." If other family members want extra snack foods, ask them to eat them outside the house for the duration of your diet, and invite company for a simple cup of tea rather than for cake or dessert, so you don't have to be tempted.

Since a diet limits the quantity of food you can eat and restricts exactly what kinds of food you are allowed, you'll want to enjoy every bite. Set aside quiet mealtimes when your food gets your full concentration—no television, no reading, no phone calls.

And, tell your family that the supper table cannot be a time for arguing out disagreements, but rather a relaxed and pleasant gathering.

Senior service line

by Matilda Charles

Next month is springtime and many seniors are planning trips. Check out Eastern Airlines' popular "Get Up and Go Passport" program. Designed for people 62 years and older, it offers a full year of travel for one fixed price for the passport holder and a traveling companion who may, or may not, be a senior citizen. Discounts may also be had at participating hotels. A travel agent or Eastern Airlines representative can provide full information on prices, etc.

The eyes of Texas were focused on a growing national problem and the Texas Health Department moved quickly to prevent private hospitals from sending away seriously ill patients, whom they considered poor financial risks, to public hospitals.

This should go a long way to helping older folks on pensions who are sometimes taken to private hospitals under emergency conditions and are then sent away, losing valuable treatment time.

When transfers must take place, all medical records must be sent along. Patients must also be given full disclosure on fees at other institutions before agreeing to transfer there.

This move by Texas is a welcome one which other states may well follow.

Once over lightly

by Carolyn Drennan Bishop

This is a do-it-yourself society. Everyone worth his or her salt these days can beat the high cost of living with ingenuity and a few tools.

A recent article claims beautiful furniture including chairs, lounges, tables and even a bird house is at your fingertips if you own a hacksaw and a tape measure.

I couldn't resist. I sent away for instructions. In the return mail I received a list of PVC pipe wholesale manufacturers and pictures of a family perched on pipe furniture.

In the caption the father was saying to his obviously amazed family, "Just think, the unique sofa will not rot or rust!"

If you think that's sensational, read on!

I've recently learned that a company has opened a do-it-yourself coffin store. For a mere pittance the lumber and instructions for constructing a simple wood coffin are yours. But that's not all! Until the time the casket is needed, it doesn't have to sit around the house as a grim reminder. With a little imagination it can be turned into a work bench, dining table or spice chest. Think of it!

A brochure further advises it's a good idea to discuss construction plans with your spouse.

I confided my plans for new furnishings to my husband the other evening.

It may be I'll depart this world with a bundle of PVC pipe in a low-cost but beautiful coffin sooner

DAV warns balanced-budget law cuts will punish VA for its past efficiency

"The VA's ability to continue providing minimally acceptable levels of health care and services for disabled veterans are in jeopardy as a result of budget cuts mandated by the Gramm-Rudman-Holling balanced budget law," warned Albert H. Linden, national commander of the Disabled American Veterans (DAV).

As a result of the sequestering provisions of that law, recently implemented by President Reagan, the Veterans Administration (VA), will lose more than $234 million in budget authority funding and over $196 million in budget outlays during fiscal year 1986.

Opportunity at hand to roll back Soviet empire?

Are the Soviets in retreat around the globe? A leading U.S. authority on guerrilla warfare says it may well be the case.

Writing in the Heritage Foundation's National Security Record, an influential newsletter for Washington insiders, Dr. Jack Wheeler, director of the Freedom Research Foundation in La Jolla, Calif., said the wars of national liberation currently taking place in eight Soviet colonies around the world could mark a turning-point of immense historical significance.

According to Wheeler, the current peasant revolts in Afghanistan, Ethiopia, Nicaragua, Angola, Mozambique, Cambodia, Laos and Vietnam, are on the cutting edge of a geopolitical development of extraordinary significance, "armed popular resistance against Soviet colonialism."

"Just as the Third World rejected Western colonialism in the 1950s and 1960s," he said, "so it is now rejecting Soviet colonialism in the 1980s. And it is using the Soviet's own strategy of armed guerrilla resistance, wars of liberation, to do so."

Wheeler said the evidence indicates that "the pendulum of history has swung away from Soviet Marxism as a model for countries in Asia, Africa, and Latin America, and towards the concepts of democracy and a free market economy."

In Latin America, for example, Argentina, Brazil, Uruguay, Venezuela, Ecuador, Peru, Colombia, Panama, Costa Rica, El Salvador, Honduras, and Guatemala are all functioning democracies, he noted.

In fact, he said, in eight of these countries, democracy has been restored in just the past six years.

While the Soviet Union acquired 14 new "client-states" between 1969 and 1979, Wheeler pointed out, in the decade of the 1980s the Soviets have not acquired a single new colony.

In addition, he said, Soviet influence throughout Africa has seriously

Vice President Bush featured in fund-raising reception, luncheon

Vice President George Bush is scheduled to visit Las Vegas Thursday, Feb. 20 to attend a Nevada State Republican Party fundraiser at the Desert Inn Hotel and Spa.

He will be accompanied by his wife, Barbara, and will be joined by the United States Senate, as the nation's 43rd Vice President of the United States, since Jan. 20, 1981.

Fundraising festivities will include a $500 per person cocktail reception with the Vice President to be followed by a $1,500 per plate private luncheon with Vice President Bush.

William Laub, Sr., Southwest Gas chairman and chief executive, is serving as fundraiser chairman with co-chairmen Ann Mayers and Kyle Stephens overseeing information requests and RSVP at 876-4627 or 870-7642.

Proceeds from the fundraiser will assist Republican candidates in Nevada.

"Nevada is approaching one of its most critical elections in history. We are delighted that Vice President Bush has placed Nevada on his priority list to ensure that Republican candidates in all offices receive effective campaign assistance," said Nevada Republican Party chairman Marilyn Gubler.

Vice President Bush is a two-decade elected public servant to this nation.

Commencing with his election to the United States Congress in 1966 from Texas, Bush served as United States ambassador to the United Nations and was chief of the U.S. Liaison Office in the People's Republic of China.

In 1976 Bush was appointed as director of Central Intelligence and was selected by President Ronald Reagan as a running mate in July 1981. Vice President Bush has pre-

Major cuts in such areas as hospital construction and readjustment benefits for veterans jeopardize programs that have already been pared to the bare bones. And, in the case of the VA's construction program, the cuts mean badly deteriorating facilities, that have already gone too long without replacement or modernization, will have to wait that much longer."

Linden, who leads the organization of more than one-million wartime disabled veterans, said the cuts fly in the face of Congressional promises to maintain quality health care for America's disabled veterans.

"Almost $40 million in budget cuts for readjustment benefits will mean men and women who served during our nation's wars, primarily Vietnam vets, may not get all the assistance they need to return to society as working, productive members.

"Certain educational benefits may be in jeopardy as well, and the DAV questions how severely hurt may be young veterans who've counted on continuing their education after service.

"In addition, the VA's administrative systems, the processing of disability claims, program applications and services, are all threatened by cuts such as a $32 million reduction in general operating expenses, a $2.3 million cut in medical administration costs and a $5.8 million cut in burial benefits and miscellaneous operating expenses."

Linden, who is a single-leg amputee veteran of the Vietnam War, said the DAV "is particularly concerned about the plan to cut more than $8.1 million in medical and prosthetic research funds.

"Veterans today wear prosthetic devices that restrict their mobility because of research's failure to come up with something better.

"Congress is now telling them they'll wait that much longer before they can lead lives of full mobility and accommodation because cuts in research are mandatory."

The cuts average 4.3 percent across-the-board for the VA, except for direct medical care, which was limited by law to a one-percent reduction.

"That's almost $85 million taken from a system that is already turning away more than 25,000 veterans a month from their doors, veterans who need help and can't get it elsewhere," Linden said.

The former Army helicopter pilot emphasized that disabled veterans, in particular, are committed to making whatever sacrifices are necessary to fairly and equitably reduce the nation's growing federal deficit.

"But it's not a fair and equitable solution when you jeopardize programs that are badly needed by men and women who've already paid a far greater price for all of us in America."

Food and the overland immigrant trek

by Phillip I. Earl

Although food has played a crucial role in shaping the course of America's history, too many historians have ignored its importance in deference to more stirring topics.

Every child knows that Columbus was going to the Indies in connection with the spice trade. Likewise, tea and molasses were important ingredients in the American Revolution and many of our ancestors arrived in this country fleeing the potato famines of Ireland.

Food is also a neglected facet of the westward movement of the 1840 and 1850's. Those Americans contemplating a move west could consult various immigrant guidebooks for help in planning.

Lanceford W. Hastings' 1845 guide advised each traveler to take along 200 pounds of flour per person, 150 pounds of bacon, 10 pounds of coffee, 20 pounds of sugar and 10 pounds of salt.

Lest some should consider this recommendation excessive, Hastings cautioned that both children and adults would need about twice the quantity of provisions they would require at home for the same length of time.

Other guides recommended an addition of 25 pounds of rice, a gallon of pickles, a quantity of lemon acid to make the water from brackish springs more palatable, salted fish, a few pounds of sago and salep and a cask of the best proof brandy.

Lists of provisions found in immigrant diaries indicate that various groups of overland migrants also took along pepper, dried apples, cheese, tartaric acid, soda, ginger, allspice and mustard.

Some immigrant parties drove cows down the trail, providing the members with a constant supply of fresh milk and butter. Churning butter was a simple matter of pouring the morning's milk into a large jar, storing it in the wagon and allowing the churning action of the journey to do the work. When alkali country was reached, however, pasture got scarce and the cows dried up.

As indicated by the list of supplies, meals were plain. Breakfast and the evening meal usually consisted of bread, fried bacon or buffalo meat and tea or coffee.

Beans cooked in a hole in the ground filled with hot coals were sometimes offered—often mixed with pickles. Since camp was seldom made at midday, sandwiches usually constituted the noon meal. The luxury of hot food and drink was sometimes denied the overlanders, however.

Envision the plight of one woman who confided the following to her diary in 1849: "For two days we have traveled through rain and hail, mud and water, sometimes knee deep. No dry wood to be had to get supper, the buffalo chips are wet, and will not burn. Nothing to eat but crackers and raw bacon."

In the course of the journey, food was traded and sold, so those who had not made sufficient preparations seldom went hungry. The land itself also provided sustenance: buffalo, elk, deer and antelope.

Fish from streams and rivers added variety to the diet, as did waterfowl. The menu was also enlivened by gooseberries, chokeberries and serviceberries found near the trail, herbs and other plants.

The Indians were willing to trade fresh meat for clothing, beads, trinkets, mirrors, guns, liquor or anything else which struck their fancy, but severe trials awaited those travelers who expected to survive the trail across Nevada by dealing with the natives.

Living on the verge of starvation themselves, Nevada's Paiutes had little to offer. Neither did the lands along the Humboldt River, the main trail. "There is not a fish nor any other living thing to be found in its waters," one writer noted, "and there is not timber enough in the three hundred miles of its desolate valley to make a snuff box, or sufficient vegetation along its banks to shade a rabbit."

Those immigrants who made the trek before the Gold Rush of 1849 were generally better prepared than California-bound argonauts afterward.

Impatient to reach the gold fields, many struck out alone or in small groups insufficiently supplied. Indeed, they came in such numbers that even the surplus carried by many travelers could not meet their needs. Some men started out with almost nothing, hoping to "sponge" their way across. Some succeeded; many did not, and their bleached bones soon graced the trail along with all the excess material goods discarded from overloaded wagons.

By 1850, a number of way stations had been established to sell provisions, but prices were high and many immigrants had to trade off the last of their livestock and whatever remained of their furniture, tools and household goods to provide themselves with enough food to make the final push into California or Oregon.

They thus arrived at their new homes with little but the courage and determination they started with. Such was life for those of our ancestors who opened up his country.

UNR's president to lead Russian tour

In response to recent summit meeting statements made by both President Reagan and General Secretary Gorbachev calling for a greater understanding between the American and Russian peoples and encouraging more travel and people-to-people contact, the University of Nevada-Reno invites Nevadans to join "A three-city tour of the Soviet Union" this summer to learn more about Russia, its cities and countryside, and the history, government and culture of this great nation.

The 14-day tour to Moscow, Kiev and Leningrad and their environs, will be led by UNR's President Joe Crowley and Vice President Dick Dankworth.

A special feature of the tour is an in-depth look at the Soviet's higher education system through exchanges with Soviet educators and university campus tours.

Dr. Crowley, formerly chairman of UNR's political science department, will provide commentary on Russian political, educational and social life.

As coordinator of the tour, Dr. Dankworth will draw on his experiences as an international study and tour leader.

The tour will leave Los Angeles Aug. 4 and return Aug. 17.

Two nights will be spent in Copenhagen, Denmark, on the return journey.

The tour price is $2,395 from Reno or $2,295 from Los Angeles.

For further information, write to the Division of Continuing Education at the University of Nevada-Reno, Reno, NV 89557, or call 1-784-4046.

Mardi Gras Grand Ball promises 'a real treat'

Those attending the 29th annual Mardi Gras Grand Ball for St. Rose de Lima Hospital at Caesars Palace Feb. 15 are in for a real treat.

This year's door prizes are rather outstanding in their scope, sponsors say.

A full-length ranch mink coat from Julia's Fur Collections and designed by Jack Kobren will be given away as will a three days and two nights for two at the La Costa Hotel and Spa along with several other outstanding gifts donated by various firms in Las Vegas.

The evening will feature the music of the Si Zentner Orchestra and the crowning of the king and queen by Governor Richard Bryan will take place just after dinner.

The names of this year's royal couple is being closely guarded for announcement that evening. The hospital auxiliary plan a Southern Plantation setting to the room at Caesars this year with gardens surrounding it.

The royal couple will be brought into the room in a horse-drawn carriage.

In a silent auction, the attendees will have an opportunity for a fully operational jukebox donated by Sky Top Vending.

This year will also have the honor of the presence of the Most Rev. Norman F. McFarland, D.D., Bishop of Reno-Las Vegas. The evening will begin with a cocktail party at 7 p.m. and continue with dancing and dinner.

A special salute will be given to all the volunteers who helped work to make the evening a success, conducted by hospital administrator Melvin Walton.

KING AND QUEEN—Action movie star Chuck Norris and Las Vegas Barbara Greenspun were the 1985 King and Queen of the St. Rose de Lima Hospital Auxiliary's Mardi Gras Grand Ball last year. This year's royalty is being kept top secret by the benefit's organizers.

DIGNITARIES—Some of the dignitaries that attended the 1985 St. Rose de Lima Hospital Auxiliary's Mardi Gras Grand Ball are photographed here. Joining in the festivities were Circus Circus executive Mel Larsen and wife Marilyn, HBC Publications publishers Mike and Carolyn O'Callaghan and Auxiliary president Elizabeth Castle.

University offers Caribbean trip to view Halley's comet

Halley's Comet will make its closest approach to the earth in mid-April 1986. In Nevada it will be seen low on the southern horizon, dimmed by the thickness of the earth's atmosphere.

For those wishing to have a clear view of this once-in-76-years phenomenon, the University of Nevada-Reno has arranged a special trip to the Caribbean island of Curacao near the time of the comet's closest approach to earth.

In addition to the comet-viewing, an optional side-trip to Venezuela's Orinoco River and Angel Falls is also available.

Tour members will depart for Curacao on Tuesday, April 1, from San Francisco.

District celebrates vocational week

National Vocational Education Week, Feb. 9-15 will be observed in the Clark County School District in cooperation with the American Vocational Association, the Nevada Vocational Association and the Clark County Vocational Association.

This year's theme, "Vocational education: a choice with a future," will be the focus of special activities to provide awareness of the occupational skill building programs available in CCSD schools.

For specific information, please contact Gene Grimm at 451-1088.

Those not continuing on to Venezuela will return to San Francisco on Friday, April 4.

Tour members taking the side-trip to Venezuela will leave Curacao on Friday, April 4, and will return to San Francisco on Wednesday, April 9.

Days in Curacao will be free for shopping (Curacao is one of the finest free ports in the Caribbean), local sightseeing and swimming. Golf and tennis are also available.

Each evening the group will take a charter bus away from the city lights to a cove where the comet-viewing will be unsurpassed.

Dr. Thomas Frazier, UNR professor emeritus of physics and astronomy, will lead the excursions and direct viewing activities, as well as give a lecture each morning after breakfast.

A six-hour excursion on the mighty Orinoco River and a two-day trip to Angel Falls are highlights of the Venezuela side-trip.

Led by UNR professor emeritus of geology, Dr. Joseph Lintz, Jr., who has previously visited all of the Venezuelan locations, the group will also spend a day in Caracas.

Attendance at a performance of the Ballet Folklorico (or another group if the ballet is not performing that night) is planned.

The cost of the Halley's Comet expedition only is $850. The cost of the Halley's Comet expedition and the Venezuela trip is $1,350.

For further information, or to register for the trip, please call UNR's Division of Continuing Education at 1-784-4046.

Group warns of increased diabetes in young during flu season

Each year type I, insulin-dependent diabetes strikes between 7,000-8,000 young people throughout the United States, warns the American Diabetes Association Nevada Affiliate.

"Most new cases of this life-threatening disease develop in children from five to 16 years of age, and occur during the flu season," said affiliate president Jerald D. Malone M.D.

"It is especially important to note that during this time of year, the symptoms may be confused with those of flu or gastroenteritis by physicians or hospital emergency personnel," he added.

According to the American Diabetes Association, an estimated 4,000 or more children and young adults can be expected to develop diabetes this winter.

Insulin-dependent diabetes is the most prevalent chronic childhood disease in the United States. Unusual thirst, frequent urination, nausea and rapid weight loss are the major symptoms of this form of the disease, which afflicts some one million American children and adults.

"The American Diabetes Association urges that people exhibiting these symptoms should be checked by a qualified physician," emphasized Dr. Malone. If insulin-dependent diabetes is not detected and treated early, it can result in diabetic coma and death.

Dr. Malone noted that by alerting the public about warning signs of diabetes and the need for prompt medical treatment when these symptoms occur, the lives of thousands of children and young adults who develop diabetes each winter and spring can be saved.

The American Diabetes Association also warns that people who have diabetes are at greater risk of complications resulting from influenza or pneumonia and urges these individuals to be vaccinated against these diseases. Vaccination against pneumonia and influenza can now be given with one shot.

For more information on diabetes and its treatment, contact the American Diabetes Association listed in the the white pages of your local telephone directory, or contact the Association's National Service Center at 1680 Duke Street, Alexandria, VA. 22314.

The American Diabetes Association is the only non-profit voluntary health organization serving the entire diabetes community through research and education programs in more than 700 local offices nationwide.

Stress classes offered by health district

If you can't think clearly, find that your relationships are suffering, or feel that you've lost your sense of purpose in life, you may be suffering from stress.

Everyone experiences stress at one time or another but when our problems appear overwhelming and emotional stability appears uncertain, it's time to look for help.

Since stress has been linked with coronary heart disease and February is National Heart Month, health educators from the Clark County Health District are scheduling a two-and-one-half-hour class on "How to Manage Stress," Feb. 20 at 7 p.m., in the Clemons Room of the District Health Center, 625 Shadow Lane, Las Vegas.

The class is free and open to the public but registration is necessary.

To register, phone the Clark County Health District education office at 383-1217 by Feb. 14.

Participants will learn how to recognize the signs of stress, identify what causes stress, determine lifestyle changes to reduce stress and learn relaxation techniques.

Because of the practical nature of the class and the personal assistance given to those who attend, class size will be limited to 30 persons.

Interested persons should call early to guarantee a place in class.

Instructor Cheri Foster says that most people suffer from affects of stress occasionally but about 20 million Americans experience a very serious problem— anxiety attacks.

"An anxiety attack is a distressing feeling or sensation in the body," Foster explains.

"People tend to interpret this as a symptom of fatal disease. They actually believe they're going to die.

"The real cause of these feelings is an excess of adrenalin, which our endocrine system releases at the nerve terminals when we are confronted by stressful situations."

Foster says that when adrenalin isn't used to help the body fight or flee, it attacks the body by affecting the stomach, making the heart race and the hands sweat.

For more information about the class or stress and its consequences, contact the Clark County Health District education office.

Clarinet, saxophone quartets concert tonight

The UNR Clarinet and Saxophone Quartets will present a free concert at UNLV Feb. 13 at 8 p.m. in the Alta Ham Fine Art Building, Room 132.

The quartets are comprised of UNR music students and led by UNR woodwinds professor David Ehrke, who performs with both groups.

The concert program will include works by Felix Medelsohn, Claude Debussy, and Scott Joplin to be performed by the UNR Clarinet Quartet, and works by J.S. Bach, Ludwig van Beethoven, and Eugene Bozza to be performed by the UNR saxophone Quartet.

The concert is being sponsored by the UNLV music department and the Sierra Wind Quintet. For additional information, call 739-3738.

Stars make surprises for Opportunity Village benefit

FEATURED—Tony Orlando will be a featured guest artist at the "Glenn Smith Concert of Love" which is being presented on Sunday, Feb. 16 at 2 p.m. in the Circus Maximus Showroom at Caesars Palace.

An exciting afternoon with the stars is in store for those who attend the tenth annual "Glenn Smith Concert of Love" for Opportunity Village on Sunday, Feb. 16 at Caesars Palace.

Multi-talented Glenn Smith who headlines the show has called on his other entertainer friends to join him in presenting this benefit show which will be at 2 p.m. in the Circus Maximus Showroom at Caesars.

Featured will be Tony Orlando and the members of the cast of the show "Splash," as well as the UNLV Jazz Ensemble under the direction of Frank Gagliardi.

Surprise guest appearances of stars performing on the Strip are expected.

Stars who have participated in the "Concert of Love" throughout the past years have included Wayne Newton, Joan Rivers, Ann-Margret, Dionne Warwick, Rich Little, Gilda Radner, and the Solid Gold Dancers, as well as the cast of "Godspell."

Proceed raised from this concert will go to purchase needed teaching materials, supplies, equipment and to added programs enabling intellectually handicapped individuals to acquire the social and survival skills necessary to live and work in our community.

Tickets for this year's "Concert of Love" start at $10 per person. Call Opportunity Village at 384-8170 for ticket information.

Dentistry observes February as national Children's Dental Health Month

In February dental professionals, dental hygienists, dentists and dental assistants, throughout the United States will be working to save one of this country's more precious commodities, the smiles of its children.

February is National Children's Dental Health Month, a month-long effort by the dental community to educate both children and parents about proper dental care. In recognition of National Children's Dental Health Month, the Southern Nevada Dental Hygienists' Association offers these tips for helping your children develop good dental care habits.

When your child begins to teethe, clean the gums and teeth with a washcloth or gauze pad to remove plaque (a sticky, colorless film of bacteria that forms on everyone's teeth).

When your baby's first teeth have erupted, try cleaning them with a small, soft toothbrush. If your child resists the brush, continue with the cloth. Go back to the brush when molars appear.

Ask your dental hygienist to show you how to properly brush and floss your child's teeth.

At age four or five, your child may be able to brush alone, under your supervision.

Begin taking your child to the dental office at an early age (before age four).

Provide your child with a well-balanced diet, cut down on sugary foods and avoid sweet snacks.

Make sure that your child receives fluoride if your community water is not fluoridated.

Ask your dentist or dental hygienist about dental sealants, a plastic coating that they can apply to your child's teeth to prevent tooth decay.

Black history program Friday

The Doolittle Community Center will be presenting its fifth annual Black History Month program, "Black Achievements," on Friday, Feb. 14 at 7 p.m.

The Reverend Sam Roberson will emcee the program.

Yvonne Atkinson will be the keynote speaker and Sarann Knight will be honored as the Black Business Award recipient.

The program will also feature "Love All People."

Engineers Week celebrated locally

The National Society of Professional Engineers is celebrating its 52nd anniversary the week of February 16-22, which is designated as "Engineers' Week."

The local Southern Nevada Chapter has several events planned which include displaying engineering exhibits at the Boulevard Mall and a math contest for junior high students.

The 1986 Engineers' Week theme is "Engineers: turning ideas into reality" and is designed to increase the public's awareness of engineering contributions to society which are made by consulting engineering firms, local and federal government agencies, professional organizations, and high technical industries.

Other engineering societies, the American Institute of Architecture, UNLV Engineering Department, and many other firms employing engineers are involved in the programs.

A "Math Counts" contest for junior high students will be conducted at UNLV on Feb. 22 from 8 a.m. to noon with an awards luncheon to honor those who participate.

Local and state winners will

Electrical safety seminar set

An electrical safety seminar designed for users of electrical equipment and those persons responsible for the safety of the users will be held on Feb. 24 at the Showboat Hotel from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Pre-registration is required.

This seminar is sponsored by the Nevada Safety Council.

Call 438-SAFE for further information and to pre-register.

About 64 students from 16 schools are currently anticipated to participate.

This program is the math counterpart of the spelling bee contests which have been in existence for many years.

Approximately two dozen engineering exhibits will be displayed in the Boulevard Mall throughout the week.

The exhibits are planned by consulting engineering, architectural, and geotechnical firms, local and federal government agencies, utilities, contractors, professional organizations and high-tech firms.

A dinner dance and awards program is scheduled at the conclusion of the week to recognize engineering achievements and present exhibitor awards.

Laxalt opposes royalty fee on blank tapes

Nevada Sen. Paul Laxalt said Feb. 3 that he will oppose a bill designed to impose a royalty fee on blank tapes and certain recording equipment.

Laxalt said, "after an extensive review of the issue, I decided that any potential harm to copyright owners was not sufficient to warrant the broad-based fee that would have been imposed on consumers of blank tapes and recording equipment."

The legislation, known as the Home Audio Royalty Act, would impose a royalty on certain audio recording equipment and blank tapes.

The proceeds would be distribed to copyright owners through the Copyright Royalty Tribunal.

Opponents of the legislation argue that imposing a broad-based fee is unwarranted and represents needless government intervention in the marketplace.

Concern was voiced over the distribution of the royalties, whether the money would go to the songwriters or to the record companies.

Finally, the potentially harmful impact on consumers was also cited.

"I simply could not support this bill. If, however, the legislation is redrafted to limit the bill's scope and sufficiently protect the consumers, I may reconsider my position," Laxalt said.

Copyright owners, on the other hand, argued that the legislation is needed to compensate them for sales they lose through home taping.

According to the proponents of the bill, many struggling songwriters and performers depend on royalties from record and tape sales for their livelihoods and, consequently, home taping hurts these performers economically and discourages creativity.

GED test scheduled at Henderson campus

Henderson-Boulder City residents who have not completed high school may sign up for the GED examination to be given at the Henderson campus of Clark County Community College.

The high school equivalency test will be Feb. 21 at 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

It will be in room 113 of the Henderson campus, 700 South College Drive, off Horizon Drive.

An application form must be filled out, a $10 fee paid, and identification shown prior to taking the exam.

Identification may be a valid Nevada driver's license or identification card, a current military identification, or a notarized birth certificate.

Applications will be taken Feb. 19 and 20 from 12:30 to 4 p.m. For information call 564-7484.

The GED test is designed for persons who were unable to complete high school because of illness, family, financial or personal circumstances.

The exam includes math, writing skills, social studies, science and reading skills.

Those who pass the five-part exam are awarded a high school equivalency certificate which is accepted by employers, colleges and the military.

Practice tests and GED classes are also available.

For information, contact Charlotte Claassen at the Henderson campus.

Groups join for 'Quick Start Plus' program

During the month of February, Weight Watchers of Southern Nevada will be supporting the American Heart Association with their Quick Start Plus program.

Members of the nationally-known Weight Watchers organization have contributed to the Heart Association annually in Southern Nevada for several years.

This year, members will be soliciting pledges for total pounds lost individually by following the Weight Watchers program.

Both of these organizations have joined forces at the national and local level to fight heart disease through a low sodium, low cholesterol diet.

For information on how you can lose weight and help the Heart Association, call 367-1366.

Beckett's Footfalls makes Saturday a double bill

Samuel Beckett's "Footfalls," directed by Jerry Crawford, will be presented by the West Coast Experimental Theatre following Clark County Community College Theatre's production of "night, Mother" on Saturday, Feb. 22 at the CCCC Theatre.

Program analyzes new strategies for women

In a free lecture titled "Success over Stress: Perspectives and Strategies for Women," State Senator Sue Wagner and a team of mental health professionals will offer women positive approaches for coping successfully in their personal and professional lives.

Sponsored by the Montevista Centre, the program will address the physical and emotional problems and new social pressures women are confronting as society changes.

The lecture is Wednesday, Feb. 19 at 7 p.m. at the Montevista Centre.

Seating is limited, please call 364-1111 to pre-register.

This production is being presented as part of a year-long festival celebrating the work of Nobel laureate Samuel Beckett.

Charleston Heights Center and is supported in part from a grant from the Nevada State Council of the Arts.

Boulder City residents only. February 18-28, 1986.

Dimension Cable has news for Boulder City residents. On March 1, 1986, Community Bulletin Board, formerly seen on Channel 14, will move to Channel 40. In order to receive transmission of Channel 40, you will need to exchange your woodgrain dial converter for a silver digital converter. Make the switch between February 18th and 28th and you'll qualify for our FREE PRIZE DRAWINGS and FREE SERVICE UPGRADES.

Exchange your converter at Dimension's Boulder City office, 544 Nevada Highway. Bring your woodgrain dial converter to Dimension's Boulder City office, Monday through Friday, 8:30AM to 5:30PM, or Saturday, February 22 from 10AM to 2PM, and we'll exchange it for a state-of-the-art, silver digital converter.

With Dimension's silver digital converter, you'll receive Channel 40 and you'll have the option of remote control convenience. For just $4.95 a month, or FREE with our four Premium Channels (or more) package, you'll receive a special remote control unit that works only with Dimension's silver digital converters.

Sign up for FREE prize drawings. From February 18th through 28th, we'll have three daily drawings (during regular office hours at 10, 2 and 4 o'clock) for Dimension Premium Channel prizes, including The Disney Channel's Mickey Mouse plush toys. No purchase is necessary. You need not be present to win. Simply sign up when you come in to exchange your converter. Winners will be notified.

$$$$

Add to your current service and the connection is FREE.

During our Boulder City switch-out days, you can add Expanded Cable or any combination of Premium Channels to your current service and we'll waive the regular $10 change of service charge. The connection is FREE — for Boulder City residents only.

Enjoy local origination programming on Channel 40. The addition of Channel 40 to Dimension's line-up means you'll now have your very own channel, and Channel 14, formerly shared by Boulder City, will now be available to bring you even more pay-per-view and special event programming.

Revolutionary propulsion concepts could put Mars only weeks away

In his February "In Focus" column, Air Force Magazine senior editor Edgar Ulsamer highlights intriguing technological possibilities as outlined in the Air Force's Project Forecast II that could revolutionize defense concepts in the next century. [Project Forecast II] has locked on antiprotons, a form of antimatter, as a highly promising means to advance space propulsion even beyond the energy levels of nuclear fission or fusion," Ulsamer writes. Two types of hydrogen particles, one positively charged, and hence identified as a proton, and the other negatively charged, and therefore called an antiproton have identical atomic weights and equivalent opposite charges.

"The initial notion is to use the energy released by the mutual annihilation of matter and antimatter to heat and expel at high velocity some substance to generate propulsive thrust.

"Translated into specifics, the initial findings from Forecast II suggest that if it is possible to take about one milligram of hydrogen protons and antiprotons into space and to use this superenergetic propellant in a reasonably efficient propulsion system, then manned Mars missions become a distinct possibility," the senior editor explains.

"A spacecraft using this kind of propellant could probably accelerate all the way to and from Mars and thereby cut the transit time from about two years to several weeks, perhaps less than one month."

College play begins Friday

"Night, Mother," Marsha Norman's Pulitzer Prize-winning drama, directed by Brian Strom, opens Feb. 14 at Clark County Community College Theatre.

Evening performances are Feb. 14, 15, 20, 21 and 22 at 8 p.m., and there will be a Saturday matinee Feb. 22 at 2 p.m.

Following the Feb. 20 performance, a unique experience is offered to theatregoers.

After the show, the audience will have an opportunity to meet with the director and cast, and participate in an informal discussion.

"Night, Mother" focuses on a single night in the home of Jessie Cates and her mother, Thelma, played by Karen McKenney and Kathryn Sandy O'Brien.

Jessie has decided that the only positive thing she can do with her life is to end it.

Karen McKenney and Kathryn Sandy O'Brien are both familiar faces in the theatre community. They are accomplished actresses and directors, producers say.

McKenney directed the Rainbow Company's productions of The Wiz, Charlotte's Web, and co-directed Oliver! She also played Anna McKenzie in their production of Odd Man Out.

Even though McKenney has never appeared in any CCCC production, she choreographed Company and is the mime in the CCCC commercial.

O'Brien, on the other hand, has appeared in several CCCC productions, including Beyond Therapy, Company and A Coupla White Chicks Sitting around Talking. She also was in the Las Vegas Little Theatre's productions of Talking With and Chapter Two. O'Brien's directing credits include LVL's Crimes of the Heart and Play On.

"The thing that is exciting about the show is that it offers good roles for two actresses," says Strom.

"The characters are revealed to us in very intimate terms, requiring that the actors be completely honest.

"For the play to succeed, we have to believe the two characters love one another and we have to feel for both of them in this tragic situation," he said.

Strom received his master's from Arizona State University and is project coordinator for the City of Las Vegas' Rainbow Company.

He is a published playwright and the author of 12 produced plays.

Among the shows he has directed are To Kill a Mockingbird, Oliver!, Odd Man Out, The Wind in the Willows and Plaza Suite.

Strom was also the 1984 Governor's Arts Award recipient for literature in Nevada.

Light design and set design for "Night, Mother" are by Backlund-Talley. Yvette Zien is assistant director.

General admission is $6 and students and seniors are $4 for Friday and Saturday night performances.

Thursday night and Saturday matinee performances are $5 for general admission and $3 for students and seniors.

Clark County Community College Theatre is located at 3200 East Cheyenne Avenue.

For further information or reservations, please call 643-9118.

REHEARSAL—Kathy Sandy O'Brien and Karen McKenney rehearse "Night, mother."

College sets arts benefit

"An evening of the arts at Clark County Community College," sponsored by the Communications and Fine Arts Division of CCCC as a benefit for the Allied Arts Council, will take place Sunday, Feb. 16.

The evening will begin at 6 p.m. with a performance of Marsha Norman's powerful drama, "Night, Mother," directed by Brian Strom.

The play will be followed at 8 p.m. by an art opening and reception.

The art show, "Invitational: women artists of Nevada," will feature the works of women artists from both Northern and Southern Nevada.

Artists participating in the Invitational are Rita Deanin Abbey, Sylvana Abrams, Trish Andrew, Donna Beam, Claudia Cormier, Minnie Dobbins, Ingrid Evans, Michele Fricke, Charlene Gagliardi, Chelsea Miller, Patricia Moratti, Rita Schoonmaker, Sharon Thatcher and Lynda Yuroff.

Admission for this special benefit performance will be $15. For further information or reservations, please call 731-5419.

"Night, Mother" is recommended for mature audiences.

Congratulations Reno!

Yes, congratulations to Reno Fruzza who's just been appointed administrative vice president of Security Bank in Las Vegas.

A native Nevadan, Reno's business development responsibilities for Security come with the comfort of a friendly, open attitude and 46 years of banking experience. It's Reno's style of banking which complements Security's philosophy of Personal Banking. "Over the span of my career I've seen new regulations and new banking methods come along — each contributing toward more efficient, convenient service. Necessities? Indeed. But more rewarding is the aspect of meeting those needs in an environment that knows the value of personal service. It makes my job that much more pleasant!"

We couldn't agree more. Stop by and see Reno at the Tropicana-Eastern Office. His style of banking is going to give you a good feeling. It's going to give you a sense of security.

THE LEGEND OF ST. VALENTINE

The story of Valentine's Day begins in the third century with an oppressive Roman emperor and a humble Christian martyr. The emperor was Claudius II. The Christian was Valentinus. Claudius had ordered all Romans to worship twelve gods, and he had made it a crime punishable by death to associate with Christians. But Valentinus was dedicated to the ideals of Christ, and not even the threat of death could keep him from practicing his beliefs. He was arrested and imprisoned.

During the last weeks of Valentinus's life a remarkable thing happened. Seeing that he was a man of learning, the jailer asked whether his daughter, Julia, might be brought to Valentinus for lessons. She had been blind since birth. Julia was a pretty young girl with a quick mind. Valentinus read stories of Rome's history to her. He described the world of nature to her. He taught her arithmetic and told her about God. She saw the world through his eyes, trusted in his wisdom, and found comfort in his quiet strength.

"Valentinus, does God really hear our prayers?" Julia said one day.

"Yes, my child, He hears each one," he replied.

"Do you know what I pray for every morning and every night? I pray that I might see. I want so much to see everything you've told me about!"

"God does what is best for us if we will only believe in Him," Valentinus said.

"Oh, Valentinus, I do believe," Julia said intensely. "I do." She knelt and grasped his hand.

They sat quietly together, each praying. Suddenly there was a brilliant light in the prison cell. Radiant, Julia screamed, "Valentinus, I can see! I can see!"

"Praise be to God!" Valentinus exclaimed, and he knelt in prayer.

On the eve of his death Valentinus wrote a last note to Julia, urging her to stay close to God, and he signed it "From Your Valentine."

His sentence was carried out the next day, February 14, 270 A.D., near a gate that was later named Porta Valentini in his memory. He was buried at what is now the Church of Praxedes in Rome. It is said that Julia herself planted a pink-blossomed almond tree near his grave. Today, the almond tree remains a symbol of abiding love and friendship. On each February 14, St. Valentine's Day, messages of affection, love and devotion are exchanged around the world.

Joan Rivers, Doc Severinsen, Jim Stafford now at Caesars Palace

Although from diverse backgrounds and birthplaces, Joan Rivers, Doc Severinsen and Jim Stafford all share two things, a talent for keeping audiences entertained, and current engagement at Caesars Palace's Circus Maximus Showroom, Feb. 12-20. Joan Rivers, originally from Larchmont, New York, is a woman of many talents.

She has established successful careers as comedienne, author, actress, playwright, television writer, motion picture director, nightclub headliner and television talk show hostess. But, it hasn't been easy. "Nothing has ever come easily for me," Rivers once said, "My whole career has been just hard, hurting, little steps." Now she has a contract with "The

Tonight Show" as its sole permanent guest hostess for the season, and another contract with London's BBC-TV for a series of six one-hour television specials to air in February. She has written the best-selling books, "Having a Baby Can Be a Scream," and "The Life and Hard Times of Heidi Abromowitz." A new autobiography, "Enter Talking," is to be released in May. This latest effort takes a straight approach to her life prior to her debut on "The Tonight Show." Doc Severinsen, a native of Arlington, Oregon has also adopted a straight approach, at least where fashion is concerned. Once known for his zany clothes, Doc has transformed his wardrobe into the latest that come from Rodeo Drive. A musician from age seven, Doc has been playing and directing for NBC since 1949. But it was his position in 1967 as the trumpet-playing musical director of "The Tonight Show" that first made audiences aware of him as a personality. Now much in demand as a nightclub star, Doc spends several weeks each year entertaining audiences in Las Vegas and Atlantic City with his singing, comedy and trumpet playing. Jim Stafford comes to Caesars Palace from a third corner of the country, Eloise, Florida. Multi-talented Stafford is a one-man band, storyteller, a versatile musician, a comedian, composer and singer. His talent as a humorist-story-teller tradition was developed out of necessity, as he found he needed to do more than just play the guitar, and he was afraid to sing. After 10 years of playing clubs, his recording career was launched with the record "Swamp Witch." In addition, Jim has appeared on major television talk and variety shows, "Love Boat," "Fantasy Island," "B.J. and the Bear," "Hee Haw," "Those Amazing Animals" and his own series, "The Jim Stafford Show." Joan Rivers, Doc Severinsen and Jim Stafford will perform cocktail shows nightly at 8:30 and 11:30 p.m., through Feb. 20. For reservation please phone 731-7333.

Buddy Rich band concert Saturday

Drum virtuoso Buddy Rich and his band will perform in concert Feb. 15 at 8 p.m. in UNLV's Artemus Ham Hall.

Perhaps the best-known jazz drummer in America today, Rich will display his vigorous, riveting style during the UNLV engagement, which will mark one of the first performances with his new band, according to Frank Gagliardi, director of UNLV's Jazz Ensemble, the sponsor of the campus concert.

Rich, who began his show business career in his parents' vaudeville act in 1917 at only 18 months of age, has performed with a variety of bands throughout the years and has been a frequent guest on "The Tonight Show" with Johnny Carson.

His jazz career began in 1938 at the Hickory House in New York City, where he performed with the bands of such jazz-era greats as Artie Shaw, Tommy Dorsey, Bunny Berigan and Benny Carter.

He formed his first jazz band in 1946 with the backing of former roommate Frank Sinatra. Rich disbanded his group two years later as the Big Band Era was nearing its end. He then joined the Jazz at The Philharmonic troupe.

During tours in Europe with the JATP, Rich was a regular on 52nd Street, where he helped spearhead the movement for a new brand of music called "Bebop," later shortened to "Bop." During that period, Rich played with jazz greats, including Dizzy Gillespie, Charlie "Bird" Parker, Thelonius Monk and Buddy de Franco.

In the following years, he alternately played with the bands of his former boss, Tommy Dorsey and Harry James. In 1961, he joined the Harry James Band, where he became the band's driving force with his inimitable style and extroverted personality.

He formed his own band again in 1966, this time achieving fame with big jazz names like Pepper Adams, Gene Quill, Don Menza and Art Pepper. The band's popularity skyrocketed in 1967 when Jackie Gleason turned the group to perform regularly on his summer replacement television series.

Rich has since re-formed his band several times.

Tickets for the upcoming UNLV concert will be on sale in the UNLV Performing Arts Box office and in the UNLV music department office. Tickets will be sold at the door. General admission is $8. Admission for students and seniors is $6.

For more information on the UNLV concert, call 739-3739.

University offers study tour

The University of Nevada-Reno presents "A Cultural Tour of Britain," a guided tour through England, Scotland and northern Wales, with stops in London, Salisbury, Plymouth, Bath, Chester, Inverness, Edinburgh, York, Stratford-upon-Avon, and other places of cultural and historical interest.

The tour will leave Reno on May 17 and will return on June 4. The tour cost of $2,190 includes round-trip airfare, hotel accommodations, some meals, motorcoach transportation in Britain, and tuition for three undergraduate or graduate credits at UNR.

Jim Bernardi, UNR associate professor of speech and theatre, and Jim McCormick, UNR professor of art, will conduct the tour.

Both are veteran travelers who have led numerous overseas travel programs during the past ten years. The first payment is due March 5. The last day to register is April 21.

Those registering after April 1 will be charged a $50 late-registration fee in addition to the tour cost.

To register, or for further information, contact UNR's Division of Continuing Education at 1-784-4046.

Most Common Injury In Auto Accidents—

WHIPLASH

Have you ever been the victim of a rear-end auto collision? Do you recall how your head lurched backward at the moment of impact and then whipped forward violently?

Whether or not you've had this experience, I'm sure you recognize the whiplash neck injury. And if you're involved in an accident you'll be playing with fire if you don't seek an immediate and thorough examination.

The symptoms of a whiplash are frequently varied. They can be immediately evident: the stiff neck, headache, possibly nausea... or delayed for as much as a week.

But left untreated, a whiplash can be only the first of many problems. Chronic migraine headaches, extreme nervousness, arthritis all have been traced to untreated whiplash injuries.

In short, to ignore a whiplash is sheer stupidity. If you're involved in an accident arrange for a complete and thorough examination. It may save you a lifetime of misery.

John Pilgrim presents George Poppa, his band and a vocalist Please join us at the Center on Sunday, Feb. 16 from 3-5 p.m. There is no charge to hear George Poppa and a young woman who sounds just like Judy Garland. This promises to be a lovely afternoon. This program is being presented courtesy of John Pilgrim and the Musician's Trust Fund.

Special Luncheon Guest: Mary Murchie, R.N. Nursing Supervisor and Manager of the Boulder City Home Health Care branch at 525 Ave. B here in Boulder City will be at the Center on Wednesday, Feb. 19. She will be speaking during the lunch hour so please join us for lunch on that day. Reservations can be made by calling 293-5510. Ms. Murchie will be explaining the home health services and how it can benefit our seniors and their friends and relatives. Please join us so that any and all questions can be answered about this valuable service.

Seniors: Do you know that there is a free weatherization service in Boulder City? This program is under the supervision of R.S.V.P. and the Southwest Gas Corporation.

Trained teams of senior volunteers will install energy conservation materials which include water heater blankets and insulation for hot water pipes. If needed, windows are weatherstripped and caulked and door sweeps attached. There is no charge to the homeowner or renter for this service. So far a team of eight dedicated R.S.V.P. volunteers, under the direction of Fred Conte, have been working for two weeks in Boulder City. To be eligible your yearly income must be no more than $22,000. Please call 382-4412.

Senior Peer Counselor Training Program: Ramona Finocchiaro, Vista volunteer through sponsoring agency Bridge Counseling Associates in Las Vegas is beginning a peer counseling training program—seniors helping seniors—to begin Tuesday, Feb. 18 at Boulder City Senior Center, 1001 Arizona Street.

The program will teach basic counseling skills, will cover facts about aging and information about community service resources. The goal of the program is to reach the lonely or isolated senior in need of friendly listening and problem clarification.

The program will consist of 10 three hour-long sessions, two per week for 5 weeks. There is no charge for this training but those taking the course must commit the time to finish it. The schedule is as follows:

All sessions from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 18, Wednesday, Feb. 19, Tuesday, Feb. 25, Wednesday, Feb. 26, Tuesday, March 4, Friday, March 7, Tuesday, March 11, Wednesday, March 12, Tuesday, March 18, and Wednesday, March 19.

For further information or to register call Ramona at 734-6070 or the Senior Center at 293-3320.

HIGHER INTEREST

FEWER RESTRICTIONS

Introducing the new Market Interest Account, only from First Interstate Bank of Nevada.

Open a new Market Interest Account and earn high money-market interest rates. Plus have instant access to your money, day or night. Unlike a savings account, you can even write a check.

What's more, our new Market Interest Account comes with four different balance levels—so the higher your balance, the more money you earn. Plus, interest that's earned daily; the option of adding to your account at any time; and helpful monthly statements. All for a minimum of $1000.

You'll also be backed by Nevada's largest financial institution and the added security of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

So what are you waiting for? Open your Market Interest Account at one of our 65 offices with more than 100 Banking Services Representatives to serve you. Only at First Interstate Bank of Nevada.

'Get home before dark' is Howard topic

Vernon Howard lectures this week on "How to get home before dark," with special attention to Proverbs 29:18, at New Life Foundation, 700 Wyoming, corner of Utah Street, in Boulder City.

Bible classes, a public speaking seminar and discussion of energy conservation are among the activities featured this week at New Life.

Participation is voluntary, sponsors emphasize.

Classes are conducted Wednesday and Friday at 7 p.m., Saturday and Sunday at 9 a.m.

Parents and kids united

PKU will meet in the multi-purpose building today at 11:30 for salad luncheon and our Valentine's Day party. We will also have the kids make a Valentine card for their special Mom or Dad.

Any mother with children is welcome to join us. For more information call Rene at 293-6089.

Geary named project construction engineer for hydroelectric project

Lewey W. Geary, Jr., has been named Project Construction Engineer for the Headgate Rock Dam Hydroelectric Project, located on the lower Colorado River. The announcement was made by Ed Hallenbeck, acting Regional Director of the Bureau of Reclamation's Lower Colorado Region.

Hallenbeck said Geary will be responsible for the construction of the project, which includes building a powerplant in the existing Headgate Rock Dam, a switchyard on the Arizona side of the river, and a 0.6-mile transmission line to the existing Headgate Rock Substation.

Geary, who has 23 years of service with the Federal Government, began his Reclamation career in Los Banos, California. Subsequent assignments were in Chama, New Mexico, Basalt, Colorado, and Altus and Farris Oklahoma. He is a graduate of the University of Iowa with a bachelor of science degree in civil engineering and is a registered professional engineer in New Mexico and Oklahoma. Geary will assume his duties at Headgate Rock on Jan. 26.

The Headgate Rock Dam Hydroelectric Project will be built for the Bureau of Indian Affairs to benefit the members of the Colorado River Indian Reservation. It is scheduled for completion in early 1990.

Boulder Bridgers

The results of our Feb. 5 game are as follows:

North-South
 First—Anita Leighton/Larry Van Sickle.
 Second—Miriam Giles/John Milburn.
 Third—Gloria Balfour/Tom McBride.

East-West
 First—Cathy Cowling/Don Erick.
 Second—Janet Hurst/Belle Anderson.
 Third—Bob and Mariem Blank.

We were very pleased with our turnout for this session and urge all interested bridge players to join us each Wednesday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the Boulder City Senior Citizen's Center.

Chris Ellis receives degree

Christopher D. Ellis of Boulder City was among the students at the University of Delaware who received degrees at the winter commencement exercises held Jan. 5 on the Newark campus.

Ellis was presented with a bachelor of science degree in business administration.

Commencement speaker was Dr. Lodewijk van den Berg, University alumnus and a crew member of NASA's Spacelab three earlier this year.

Baha'i classes on comparative religion continue

In order to dispell the myths and misunderstandings about some of the religions of the world the Baha'i Local Assembly of Boulder City has arranged classes that will explore the fundamental and essential truths of some of them.

Currently the course material deals with Islam. It provides a basic knowledge of the history and tenets of the Faith.

Other courses available deal with Zoroastrianism, Hinduism, Buddhism, Judaism, the Bab'i Faith and the Baha'i Faith.

There is no charge for these classes but advance registration is requested. The classes are very small and informal and are held in Boulder City, conducted by Marion West.

Call 294-1050 if interested.

Gold Strike patrons win $1,700 during anniversary celebration

The Vaughans

The Vaughan family is very happy! Way back in 1961, George had cataract surgery on one eye. He was kept quiet with sand bags, and had to stay away from work for 11 weeks. In 1962, the doctor performed surgery on the other eye, and George was off for 8 weeks.

Oh course, he couldn't see without glasses. His daughter, Lila Gaye Macey, also had eye surgery seven years ago, and has been wearing glasses. But, Virginia says that it is just like a miracle has taken place, because both her husband and daughter have now had lens implants!

Lila Gaye had the first one in September, and the second in November—and can see without glasses!

Dr. Shearling operated on George, last Wednesday—and already George has vision! He came home immediately, and has few limitations in activity. This was a surprise to me, because the doctor told me that there was a two year time limit on deciding on a second operation, when the first implant attempt was not completed. The medical field certainly is making progress!

Baby Dieleman

A mutual friend phoned that Marcella and Bobby Dieleman of Las Vegas now have a second child.

Jacob Aaron was born Jan. 19 in Las Vegas. He has a sister, Crystal. Grandparents are Ruth and Jake Dieleman, long time Boulderites now living in Utah.

Lucille MacKay

When the obituary of Lucille MacKay was in the paper, a few days ago, it told nothing of her colorfulness.

Remember when she worked in the office of Dr. Roberts? Her hair might be a different color every time a patient visited—pink, lavender, blue, etc. She told me that she did it with food color!

She was a marvelous model at fashion shows, and continued doing the modeling into her "advanced" years! She and her mother, the late Hattie Peterson, always had high fashion clothing and looked wonderful in them. I used to buy Lucille's fancy shoes when she gave them to Country Store!

Park Commission

Gene and Cliff Segerblom were pleased at the comments of Elsie Chesley, last week, about the Hemenway Valley Park. Cliff is chairman of the Nevada State Park Commission, from which the funds were obtained. The Nevada State Parks collect funds from the Federal Government. Cities apply for a share.

The Commission will meet in Boulder City, Mar. 26, at city hall. The members would like to have the public attend.

Riley Stice

Alma Stice is enjoying an extended visit from son Riley, who comes to Southern Nevada in the winter to get away from the cold in New Hampshire. Riley has a pottery studio in Meredith, N.H., and has started branching out into metal. He does his own designing. After Christmas, business slows down, so that he can take a vacation.

Lundgaard family

There has been an increase in the family of councilman Eric Lundgaard. He and Sara became parents of a baby boy, Wednesday, Feb. 5.

Bret Eric weighed eight-pounds and seven ounces, when he was born at Women's Hospital, and was 21½ inches long.

He has a big sister, Kara Lynne. Paternal grandparents are Gail (Mrs. Frank) Barreca of Tucson, and Lin Lundgaard of Edina, Minn. Maternal grandparents are Ted Cocks of Manila, and Maxine Cocks of Shawnee Mission, Kans.

Eric's mother came over from Arizona, for a few days, on Thursday. This is the first grandson in the family. Sara plans to return to her teaching job at the elementary school in Henderson.

Evelyn Grater

Evelyn Grater fell in the kitchen of her home. She broke her elbow and two ribs. She was fortunate not to have to stay in the hospital.

Rolling Boulders

There were only 11 couples at the February outing of the Rolling Boulders. Dick and Fran Grosskopf, Ed and Nita Andrews were hosts and hostesses, at Cottonwood Cove.

The temperature went up and down, which curtailed activities. Only eating utensils had to be taken to the delicious Friday brunch. Former members Lori and Fred Blum drove over early, on Wednesday, to get away from the snow in Sedona and Flagstaff, Ariz.

Guests were Fred's brother, Ed Blum and his wife Marian, of Whittier, Calif., who rented a room at the motel. The sun came out and the wind stilled long enough for the potluck dinner, Saturday afternoon. Vice President Nita conducted a 21 second meeting! Game prize winners were Dick G., Marian B., Lori B. and Wink Crews. On the way home, Sunday morning, seven couples stopped for breakfast at the Searchlight Nugget.

Former Boulderites

Helen Holmes is sharing letters from former residents Lillian Whalen and Pauline Baldwin, both of whom now live in Reno, with news of others. All of them were neighbors of the Holmes family on California Avenue! Elda Rhoades is in Reno, too.

Pauline move to Reno in September, and was helped by daughters Pat and Marjorie, and Pat's two sons. She has found a new church home, and attends Circle. She has met interesting people at the senior center. She planned to work with RSVP, helping at the library, and volunteering at one of the hospitals.

Lillian wrote, "Two weeks ago I was invited to Pauline Baldwin's for dinner. John and Betty Miller came over and took me there. Margie cooked the meal—she is now living in Reno, and her husband will be moving as soon as the company building is finished. John brought movies taken when they lived in Boulder.

Brian (son) and family have a busy life. . . Yesterday, he stopped after work. . . I had the Boulder City News for him to read. I enjoyed the nice article about the Rebekahs. I find more names that I know in Esther's column than the rest of the paper put together. . . Luke (son) enjoys life in Hailey, Idaho. He was named "Dentist of the Year" for their county, this year. . . Karen (daughter) and another teacher are coming to Reno in March for a teacher's meeting to be held at MGM Hotel."

St. Jude's phone-a-thon Saturday

KRRI radio will conduct its third annual St. Jude's Ranch for Children phone-a-thon on Sat., Feb. 15, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The theme of this year's fundraiser is "Have a heart for St. Jude's Ranch."

All proceeds will be used by the facility to remodel and expand the kitchen at the ranch—a top priority item.

Those pledging will be eligible for many prizes donated by local area merchants and businesses.

The Boy Scouts of Clark County will be helping with this year's event. The scouts will be setting up booths in six locations in Clark County including the Green Valley shopping mall, Safeway and Albertson's in Henderson and at Safeway in Boulder City to accept donations of canned foods, staples, clothing and pledges. The booths will be in operation from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

All gifts are tax deductible. The KRRI phone is 293-5774. Every caller pledging $5 or more will receive a gift certificate for $5 for use at any area Pizza Hut.

St. Jude's will be celebrating its 20th anniversary in 1986. Its highly successful program of rescuing children from lives of abuse and neglect is made possible by donations from concerned citizens and businesses from all over the country.

Ansel Adams lecture Saturday

Mary Alinder, noted editor, writer, broadcaster, curator, and gallery manager who currently directs Ansel Adams' staff on behalf of the Ansel Adams Publishing Rights Trust and lectures on Adams' life and work, has agreed to present an illustrated lecture "Ansel Adams: the development of a man and his vision" to a Southern Nevada audience on Feb. 15.

Mary Alinder assisted Adams with his last and most personal project, the writing of his autobiography. Published this fall after five years of collaboration the autography is the product of a warm and close friendship where Adams often joked that Mary Alinder remembered more about his life than he did. As Adams had selected illustrations for only one chapter at his death in April 1985, Alinder reviewed 40,000 proofs from Adams' negatives and chose more than 250 photographs to illustrate the book.

The book has made the New York Times Bestseller List for four consecutive weeks, the only collection of photographs to have done so.

Alinder's lecture opens in the 1980s, the years she worked with Adams, including his encounter with President Reagan and his campaign to oust the then Secretary of the Interior James Watt.

She then returns to the beginning, creating a lecture that reveals the many facets of Adams' life of achievement.

She shares with her audience a number of the never-before seen images she chose to illustrate the book.

Adams was a figure in American art who enlarged the medium of creative photography. His photographs reflect his commitment to environmental protection, which was also evident in his years of activism in the Sierra Club and the Wilderness Society.

Alinder has agreed to waive her usual lecture fee to benefit the cause of Nevada wilderness designation.

Adams' widow will donate an Ansel Adams print for the same purpose.

The event is co-sponsored by FNW and Soroptimist International of Greater Las Vegas, a coalition member.

Director of the Southern Nevada Zoological Park Pat Dingle (an FNW member), is event chairman, and a Southern District Steering committee member Liz Warren is vice chairman.

Alinder will present her lecture at 3 p.m. and at 7 p.m. on Saturday, Feb. 15 at the Clark County Library auditorium at 1401 East Flamingo Road.

Soroptimists will treat evening patrons to a reception for Alinder in the library lobby following the lecture.

A drawing will be held and prizes include an original Ansel Adams photograph, donated by Mrs. Adams.

Roy and Charlene Purcell are donating their two volume set "A Wilderness Journey" plus a signed print by Roy Purcell.

B. Dalton Bookseller is donating several books by Ansel Adams and the Red Rock Audubon Society is donating a print "The Red-Shafted Flicker," by Guy Coeleach.

Drawing tickets are six for $5 and are tax deductible.

Mail your check to Soroptimist International of Greater Las Vegas, 4427 Springdale Ave., Las Vegas, NV 89121, or buy them at the Southern Nevada Zoological Park, or at Nancy Austin's Fashions.

Winners need not be present.

For further information call 648-5955.

ANSEL ADAMS DRAWING—Friends of Nevada Wilderness and Soroptimist International of Greater Las Vegas are co-sponsoring a drawing that no lover of art, environment, wilderness or photography will want to miss. The drawing will be held Feb. 15 at the Flamingo Library. The above photograph, "Merced River, Cliffs, Autumn, Yosemite National Park," an original by Ansel Adams, was donated by Mrs. Adams and is first prize. Roy and Charlene Purcell are donating their two volume set "A Wilderness Journey" plus a signed print by Roy Purcell. B. Dalton Bookseller is donating several books by Ansel Adams and the Red Rock Audubon Society is donating a print "The Red-Shafted Flicker" by Guy Coeleach. Drawing tickets are six for $5 and a limited number of lecture tickets are still available at $10 each. Both can be obtained by mailing your check to Soroptimist International of Greater Las Vegas, 4427 Springdale Ave., Las Vegas, NV 89121, or buy them at the Southern Nevada Zoological Park, at Nancy Austin's Fashions or at Carroll's Cameras, 805 S. Rancho Road or 2305 E. Sahara in Las Vegas.

'Art in the Park '86' plans major promotion

Dick Farmer, chairman for the yearly Boulder City Hospital Auxiliary "Art in the Park Festival" has announced a major new promotional project in connection with Festival '86.

This October's Art Fair will feature a slick, high quality program/magazine with articles on the history of the festival and featured artists, photos, four-color pages and more. Proceeds from the program will benefit the BCHA.

The program will be distributed before and during the fair to artists, visitors and travel agencies in many cities.

Widespread distribution of the '86 Program will insure even greater interest in the '87 Festival, which will mark the 25th anniversary of "Art in the Park". Farmer says, "We want the whole country to know about the Boulder City Art in the Park Festival. So far it's grown steadily every year. This new program/magazine should attract more attention than ever."

Advertising sales, which will cover publication costs for the Program, will be handled by Ellen Dickstein, agent for the publisher, Action Ads Advertising Agency. Dickstein says that anyone interested in placing an ad in the program should contact her as soon as possible at 293-6276.

"This is an excellent opportunity for the advertiser to receive widespread distribution of his message, and to benefit the Boulder City Hospital Auxiliary as well." She anticipates brisk sales of ad spaces and advises those interested to act quickly.

Dickstein also explains that anyone can make a contribution to the BCHA. All gifts are tax deductible, and the names of contributors will be printed in the program.

Checks should be made payable to the BCHA, and mailed to: Art in the Park, 525 Hotel Plaza, Boulder City, NV 89005.

Nevadan named to GOP convention siting group

Republican National Committee (RNC) chairman Frank J. Fahrenkopf, Jr., announced Jan. 24 that Eileen C. Schouweiler, national committeewoman from Nevada, has been elected to serve on the RNC's Site Selection Committee, the committee organized to review and recommend potential sites for the 1988 Republican National Nominating Convention.

Schouweiler will serve as one of eight members of the committee, which will meet with representatives of all cities submitting proposals as sites for the 1988 convention and will, ultimately, recommend to the entire Republican National Committee which city it believes should be chosen.

Las Vegas is one of the sites being considered.

WELCOME, FRANK - It was a time of all smiles Saturday as members of the BC Chamber of Commerce and others gathered to officially welcome Frank Pine as the new owner-operator of Frank Pine's Arrow Laundry and Dry Cleaners to the community. Pine has gone through his business and replaced just about everything from floor to ceiling with brand new equipment and decor to make his facility still more efficient and pleasant for his growing number of clientele.

Rena Ott, Dilya Peterson and Tracy Peterson demonstrate their tent to Soroptimist Barbara Knox.

"Women Helping Women" is the purpose of Soroptimist International and the Boulder City Chapter of Soroptimist International has demonstrated this for the second year in a row by supporting the Boulder City Girl Scouts.

The Boulder City Chapter has recently donated five three-man hexagon dome tents to the Boulder City Girl Scouts.

These tents will be used by Brownie Girl Scouts for short one night campouts, by Junior Girl Scouts for Weekend camping trips to Mt. Charleston, Lake Mead or Valley of Fire, and by Cadette Girl Scouts for even longer campouts such as a week long canoe trip, a hike into the Grand Canyon or a Girl Scout Wider Opportunity.

The Boulder City Girl Scouts would like to thank the Boulder City Chapter of Soroptimist International for the five tents and for the support they have given to the Girl Scouts.

President's Scholarship of American Legion Auxiliary

All eligible Boulder City High School girls and boys are urged to apply for the American Legion Auxiliary "National President's Scholarship."

Five scholarships of $2,000 each and five of $1,500 each are awarded annually by the national organization of the American Legion Auxiliary: One scholarship of each numerical value in each of the five divisions of the United States. These are gift scholarships, not loans. (Nevada is in Area E which is composed of 13 western states plus the Philippines).

The Department of Nevada, which includes all the Units of the State of Nevada, gives two scholarships; one for $200 and one for $100. The Boulder City Unit number 31 gives a scholarship of $100.

Candidates for this award shall be daughters or sons of veterans who served in the armed forces during eligibility dates for membership in the American Legion.

April 6, 1917 through Nov. 11, 1918 (WW I).

Dec. 7, 1941 through Dec. 31, 1946 (WW II).

June 25, 1950 through Jan 31, 1955 (Korea).

Dec. 22, 1961 through May 7, 1975 (Vietnam)

Application forms for the American Legion Auxiliary President's scholarship have been sent to the Boulder City High School. Forms can be obtained from the High School counselor.

All applications must be in to the scholarship chairman, Rosa Wagner, not later than Mar. 15.

Bill No. 864

Introduced by: Lundgaard

ORDINANCE NO. 783

AN ORDINANCE TO REPEAL CHAPTER 1, PUBLIC NUISANCES OF TITLE 8, CITY CODE; TO REPLACE IT WITH A NEW CHAPTER 1; DEFINING AND ENUMERATING NUISANCES; PROVIDING PROCEDURES FOR NOTIFICATION AND ABATEMENT; PROCEDURES FOR NOTICE OF LIEN AND TAX ASSESSMENT; PENALTIES FOR VIOLATION; AND OTHER MATTERS PROPERLY PERTAINING THERETO.

The City Council of Boulder City do ordain: SECTION 1. Chapter 1, Public Nuisances, adopted by Ordinance 260, is hereby repealed in its entirety and to be replaced with a new Chapter 1 to read as follows: "CHAPTER 1 "PUBLIC NUISANCES

SECTION:

- 8-1-1: Public Nuisances Prohibited
  - 8-1-2: Deviations; Nuisances Enumerated
  - 8-1-3: Declaration of Public Nuisances
  - 8-1-4: Notification of Nuisance
  - 8-1-5: City Abatement; Action by City Council
  - 8-1-6: Penalties for Violations
  - 8-1-1: PUBLIC NUISANCES PROHIBITED: It shall be unlawful to erect, contrive, cause, continue, maintain or permit to exist, any public nuisance within the City.
  - 8-1-2: DEFINITIONS; NUISANCES ENUMERATED:
    - (A) The terms "owner" and "property owner", as used in this Chapter, and unless otherwise required by the context, shall be deemed to include any person owning, leasing, occupying, or having charge or possession of any property in the City.
    - (B) A public nuisance is any thing, act, condition or use of property which is:
      - 1. Declared by statute to be a public nuisance.
      - 2. In the absence of a statute, the act would constitute a common law nuisance.
      - 3. Because of the time, place, or circumstances involved, the act may cause irreparable injury to the public health, morals, safety and welfare.
    - (C) The following are hereby specifically declared to be public nuisances, but shall not be construed to exclude other public nuisances coming within the definitions of subsection (B) of this Section:
      - 1. Insecure or unsafe buildings, walls, chimneys, stacks or other structures; and partially burned structures, declared substandard or dangerous by the Building Official.
      - 2. Unpainted buildings and those having dry rot, warping, or termite infestation.
      - 3. Broken windows constituting hazardous conditions and inviting trespassers and malicious mischief.
      - 4. Building exteriors, walls, fences, driveways, walkways which are maintained in such condition as to become so defective, unsightly, or in such condition of deterioration or disrepair that the same is materially detrimental to safety, health or public welfare.
      - 5. Abandoned, discarded or unused furniture, stoves, sinks, toilets, cabinets, or other household fixtures or equipment stores so as to be visible at ground level from a public street, or from adjoining properties.
      - 6. Lumber, junk, trash, debris or salvage materials visible from a public street, or adjoining property.
      - 7. Attractive nuisances dangerous to children, including abandoned, broken or neglected equipment and machinery, refrigerators and freezers, hazardous pools, ponds and excavations.
      - 8. Neglected or improperly maintained landscaping constituting a fire hazard, danger to public safety or welfare. This shall include dead, debris laden, weed infested and/or overgrown vegetation or vegetation which is dying or required landscaping which has been removed without City approval.
      - 9. All noxious, inflammable and unhealthful matter, including accumulations of decayed animal or vegetable matter, filth, garbage, offal, shavings, weeds, grass, leaves, manure, papers, boards and debris resulting from fires.
  - 8-1-3: DECLARATION OF PUBLIC NUISANCES: All property found to be maintained in violation of the foregoing section is hereby declared to be a public nuisance and shall be abated by rehabilitation, demolition, removal or repair pursuant to the procedures set forth herein. The procedures for abatement set forth herein shall not be exclusive and shall not in any manner limit or restrict the City from enforcing other City ordinances or abating public nuisances in any other manner provided by law.
  - 8-1-4: NOTIFICATION OF NUISANCE: Whenever the Director of Community Development or other City official as may be designated by the City Manager determines that any property within the City is being maintained contrary to one or more of the provisions of Section 8-1-2, he shall give written notice to the owner of said property stating the sections of this Chapter being violated.
    - 1. Such notice shall set forth a reasonable time limit for correcting the violation(s) and may set forth suggested methods of correcting the same.
    - 2. Such notice shall state that unless such nuisance is corrected, the City will provide for the abatement of such nuisance and will charge the cost thereof to the owner, occupant or person causing or maintaining such nuisance, or commence civil proceedings as a misdemeanor under Section 8-1-6 of this Chapter.
  - 8-1-5: CITY ABATEMENT; ACTION BY CITY COUNCIL:
    - (A) If such nuisance is not completely abated as directed by the City within said abatement period, the matter shall be referred to the City Council for hearing. The City Council by resolution may:
      - 1. Declare the property as a public nuisance.
      - 2. Provide that such expense incurred by the City to abate the nuisance shall constitute a special assessment against the respective lot or parcel of land to which it relates, and upon recordation in the office of the County Recorder of a Notice of Lien, as so made and confirmed, shall constitute a lien on said property for the amount of such abatement.
    - (B) After conformation and recordation of the Notice of Lien, a copy may be turned over to the Assessor to levy the amount of such work as a tax against such property and the same shall be included in the next assessment roll thereafter made, and be enforced and collected in the same manner and at the same time as other taxes.
    - (C) Nothing in this Chapter shall be deemed to prevent the City Council or City Manager from ordering the commencement of a civil proceeding to abate a public nuisance or from pursuing any other means available to it under provisions of the City Code or state law to correct hazards or deficiencies in real property.
  - 8-1-6: PENALTIES FOR VIOLATIONS:
    - (A) The owner or other person have charge or control of any such buildings or property who maintains any public nuisance defined in this Chapter or who violates any order to abate a nuisance pursuant to this Chapter is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500.00) or by imprisonment for not more than six (6) months or by both such fine and imprisonment. Such person shall be deemed guilty of a separate offense for each and every day during which any such violation or failure to comply with this Chapter is committed, continued, or permitted.
    - (B) No person shall obstruct, impede, interfere with any representative of the City or designee engaged in abatement procedures set forth in this Chapter or performing any necessary act preliminary to or incidental to such work as authorized or directed pursuant hereto. Any such act of obstruction, impediment, or interference shall be deemed a misdemeanor punishable under the provisions of this Section."
- SECTION 2. VALIDITY. Each section and each provision or requirement of any section of this Ordinance shall be considered separable and the invalidity of any portion shall not affect the validity or enforceability of any other portion.
- SECTION 3. EFFECTIVE DATE. The provisions of this Ordinance shall be effective on the 5th day of March, 1986.
- SECTION 4. PUBLICATION. The City Clerk shall cause this Ordinance to be published in full on Thursday, the 13th day of February 1986.
- Robert S. Ferraro, Mayor

Arbitration Association now in operation

The Nevada Arbitration Association, created by Assembly Bill 539 during the 1985 session of the Nevada Legislature, is now operational with 30 certified arbitrators on call.

Dr. Albert C. Johns of Las Vegas, who has served as arbitrator or fact finder in numerous local management-labor disputes has been selected as the association's executive director.

"Arbitration has been called by Chief Justice Warren Burger 'the most realistic method for reducing crowded work calendars in the courts across the nation,'" Johns stated. "Consequently, the Nevada Arbitration Association was created to resolve many of the numerous disputes in various sectors of the economic and social life of Nevada."

Johns pointed out that property settlements in divorce cases, disputes between buyers and sellers of products, issues involving arguments between doctors and health maintenance organizations, home-builders and sub-contractors and/or home buyers, are among the many areas to be handled by the arbitrators, in addition to the disputes between labor and management.

The 30 certified arbitrators include attorneys, accountants, contractors, engineers, real estate brokers, economists, sociologists and specialists from other spheres of economic life. These people are located in both the Las Vegas and Reno-Sparks metropolitan areas.

"The Nevada Arbitration Association will be governed by rules and practices comparable to those of the American Arbitration Association," Johns stated.

"But there will be two major exceptions. One will reduce the costs of arbitration substantially, and the other will speed up the time in which a decision is rendered."

He said the reduction in costs will exist because these arbitrators will require minimal expenses in that they are here. Furthermore, they understand Nevada, its people, and the issues germane to this area.

"From the standpoint of decision making, disputants do not like to wait excessive periods of time, and that is what has been happening in far too many cases arbitrated under other jurisdictions."

Johns said that it is the objective of the Nevada arbitrators to provide decisions within seven to ten working days after a hearing is closed, with an absolute time limit of 30 days.

"Other jurisdictions have delayed decisions for months on end in far too many cases, thus defeating the values of arbitration."

The Nevada Arbitration Association is located in Suite 10 at 2324 South Highland Drive, and the telephone number is 385-4900.

1986 Nevada State Fair will be held in August

The 1986 Nevada State Fair will be held Aug. 12-17, and will run six days instead of five, following a unanimous vote by the board of directors at the Dec. 11 meeting.

Historically, the State Fair has been held in September, opening the first Wednesday following Labor Day.

"The Board moved the Fair to August for two reasons," said Kim Petersen, executive director. "Of course everyone knows our attendance has been hurt in the past by the cold, wet weather. But we also wanted to find dates that would allow more school age children to enter competitions without missing school."

"We think these new dates will give us a better chance for warm weather, plus adding the extra day will give us a chance to bring in some new entertainment and competitions," Petersen said.

The Board attempted to change the 1985 dates to July, but kept the September dates to avoid conflicting schedules with Nevada's county fairs.

Nevada innovators recognized during the National Inventor's Day

The Nevada Innovation and Technology Council and the High Technology Entrepreneur's Council of Las Vegas, together with its co-sponsoring organizations, has made arrangements to recognize Nevada's inventors and product developers in coordination with the National Inventor's Day proclaimed by President Ronald Reagan.

Inventors and product creators are invited to display their products and developments and attend seminars for startup businesses. The business seminar will be held on Saturday morning, Feb. 15, starting at 9 a.m., at the Holiday Inn (Center Strip), second floor, in the Nevada Ballroom. Registration with coffee and danish will begin at 8 a.m. At the conclusion of the seminar, Nevada's outstanding inventor will be recognized and inducted into Nevada Inventor's Hall of Fame at the University of Nevada-Reno.

Inventor's exhibits will be viewed by the financial community and the general public in the afternoon from 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Arrangements for up to 50 exhibits have been made and all inventors are encouraged to display products, product concepts, or business plans as they feel appropriate to reveal to the Las Vegas community.

High tech, low tech and no tech products and services generated by Nevada entrepreneurs are desired displays. Nevada's own innovators are helping diversify the area and they will be recognized.

Reservations for inventor exhibit space may be made by calling Bernard Merritt, 367-1503. Detailed exhibit instructions will then be mailed to the exhibitor. A charge of $10 will be made for inventors exhibit space and it will include the business seminar in the morning. All other seminar attendees will be charged $10, which will include viewing the exhibits. Inventors pre-reservation for space will be accepted upon receipt of payment.
