Super Run 2001 to benefit charities

On Oct. 4-7, vintage autos and classic hot rods will once again cruise downtown Water Street for the benefit of local charities as part of Henderson's Super Run 2001.

This year the event will also aid in the World-Wide Relief Fund efforts to benefit the police, firefighters, and emergency workers in New York, Washington, D.C., and Pennsylvania; the United States military and the National Guard; and the national and local chapters of the American Red Cross and The Salvation Army.

A special Super Run Motorcycle Live Auction for the Relief Effort will be held from 6 to 9 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 6, at Staz's American Motorcycles, Lake Mead Drive and Water Street.

Staz's American Motorcycles, the Henderson Redevelopment Agency and Clear Channel radio are among the sponsors.

Joe Laiberte

Joe Laiberte has seen Henderson grow since moving here in 1977.

Take his youngest daughter, 14-year old Jasa, for instance.

She is a freshman at Coronado High School, the fifth public high school to serve Henderson residents. When Laiberte moved here in 1977, Basic was the only area high school.

Joe moved here from Connecticut. His hobbies are rock-climbing, biking, and hiking. "I like to keep myself busy and stay active," Laiberte said.

He also has a son Jonathon, 18, who attends Silverado High School.

Laiberte was in the casino/hotel industry after graduating from UNLV. But he wanted to try something different and went into real estate at Prudential.

"I was just tired of the hotel thing and could not advance in terms of position or title and just felt like I needed a change," he said.

For now, Laiberte is content and happy at his new career and is reaping the rewards financially with the change.

Council to review rural districts

By Lisa Stiller
News Staff Writer

Henderson City Council members tonight will again take a look at a plan to set aside 2,980 acres of land as a rural preservation area. Last month the item was tabled as Council members wanted more time to look at some of the details of the proposal.

The neighborhoods that would be affected are Serene Country Estates, the Foothills neighborhood, Mission/Paradise Hills, and Sections 4, 9 and 16.

A rural neighborhood preservation designation would give more protection to neighborhoods so they could maintain a rural-like atmosphere. Zoning would be limited to a maximum of two homes per acre, with specific guidelines for such things as curbs, lighting and buffering.

Developers and landowners raised concerns about two specific areas last month. Developer Bob Campbell said 70 acres at the southeast corner of College and Mission Hills drives should be excluded because it would better serve as a transition area. He has been planning a development on the site that he said would consist of three homes per acre.

A strip of Serene Avenue between Eastern Avenue and Pecos Road was challenged by some landowners, because of the intensity of nearby commercial development and the resulting traffic congestion.

Sides meet to iron out differences

Building a parking garage behind Henderson City Hall has not been easy, but it is almost done.

Much of what has hampered the project has bubbled beneath the surface as almost all of the entities involved have claimed difficulty in communicating with one another.

Frustrations reached a boiling point when a platform collapsed on Sept. 21 as a group of workers were pouring concrete into an ornamental edifice of the building. About 70 yards of an 80-yard pour had been finished.

Four workers were hurt; two men were taken to University Medical Center, including one man who broke his leg.

"That happened on a Friday and by Monday all but one of the workers was back," said Chad Stewart, president of Precision Concrete, a subcontractor on the project said.

After the accident, Korte-Bellew Association Construction, which is the general contractor, agreed

Family flies WWII-era flag in remembrance

Betty Rovacchi remembers when her daddy died.

He was a U.S. Navy Sea Bee for four years before dying for his country in World War II. Following the military tradition, Thomas Sampson was laid to rest with the United States flag draped over his coffin.

His wife, Evelyn Eads, carefully folded the flag and kept it safe in a cedar chest along with other photos and keepsakes she wanted to pass down to her daughter, Rovacchi.

"Years later, when my mom died, she gave the flag and cedar chest to me," Rovacchi said. Since then, the cedar chest containing the flag has made its way down to the family's next generation, Gina Harvey, Rovacchi's daughter.

As Harvey watched the events of Sept. 11 unfold before her eyes, she knew something else needed to be unfolded as well.

"That was the biggest tragedy I've ever seen in my lifetime ... I thought it'd be appropriate to hang my grandpa's flag," she said.

So, for the first time in 57 years, the family's coveted flag was unfurled and hung to remember the victims and heroes of the recent terrorist attacks and America's past victims and heroes.

"I think [hanging a United States flag] shows that we as a country are unified and support each other," Harvey said. "And I think the display of a flag from World War II is most appropriate because it will remind the people who did [the terrorist attacks] of what happened [in past wars]."

Harvey's two daughters, Cara and Rayne, have been prompting drivers to honk if they love the flag and America almost every day since the flag first went up, she said.

"The kids are scared a little bit but they are also learning about what's going on and know they are safe," Harvey said.

Harvey had planned on keeping the flag up for another couple of weeks but decided this past weekend to take it down.

"I guess there's been a lot of flags being stolen and I just don't want to take that chance," she said.

The family flag was returned to the cedar chest where it will remain until Harvey passes it down to her eldest daughter, Cara.

Suspect in storage fires arrested

By Lisa Stiller
News Staff Writer

Fire officials have suspected arson in a series of fires that have occurred at a storage unit building at the Montego Bay Apartment Complex, 1050 Whitney Ranch, since June.

Jared Fernandez, 23, was arrested last week and charged with one count of first-degree arson and three counts of second-degree arson.

"In an interview conducted with him, he admitted to starting the fires," senior fire investigator Don Spellman said.

The investigation of the fires has been a high priority of Henderson fire officials.

The most recent fire occurred on Sept. 20, with an estimated loss of $25,000.

Carol Lee, manager of the Montego Bay Apartments, said that since the arrest, everyone has "breathed a lot easier."

Fernandez is being at the Henderson Detention Center on $50,000 bail. A hearing is set for 9 a.m. Thursday in Henderson Justice Court.

Police arrest man firing shots from car

By Lisa Stiller
News Staff Writer

On Thursday afternoon, police were called to the 'Save-On' parking lot, 1551 W. Sunset Road, after receiving a report of gunshots in the vicinity.

Upon investigating the incident, officers discovered that a verbal argument between men in two vehicles had escalated into a physical altercation, resulting in gunshots being fired by one of the participants.

Police apprehended a suspect when they reached the scene. They recovered a 9 mm semi-automatic pistol from a blue Toyota mini-truck, and arrested Lyle Conradsen, 27, who was booked into the Henderson Detention Center. He was charged with discharging a weapon into an occupied vehicle. Another man was also in the vehicle.

Police were unable to locate the other vehicle, a dark blue four-door car, possibly a 1980s Buick, with California plates, with the occupants described as two Hispanic males. It is not known if they were injured by the gunshots.

Anyone with information about this incident is asked to call the Henderson Police Department, 565-2000, or Secret Witness, 385-5555.

Residents of the neighborhoods told Council members last month that they supported the plan.

Also on the agenda is an update on the 5,528 acres annexed by the city last year. Staff will present an update on development activities on the site, located west of Anthem, east of Las Vegas Boulevard S. and south of St. Rose Parkway.

About 1,500 acres on the east side of the annexed area has been identified for sale by the Bureau of Land Management at an auction in May 2002.

Ralph Anderson and Associates will present an organizational and management study of the City Attorney's office, the City Clerk's office, the Human Resources Department, the Public Works Department and the executive management structure of the city.

The City Council will meet at 7 p.m. in Council Chambers at City Hall, 240 Water St.

to meet with the city and its third-party consultants to iron out the issues over which they had been bickering.

There have been at least two arguments going on during the construction of the garage.

First, KBA Construction and the city seem to have had difficulty communicating with one another, pointing the finger at one another for the broken lines of communication.

John Simmons, construction manager for the city, said the talks at last week's six-hour meeting were beneficial.

"We were able to get our issues out and resolve our differences," Simmons said. "We were able to talk about quality control issues and timeliness issues."

The most important issue was the completion of the garage. Simmons says KBA has until Oct. 31 to finish the project.

"There were things we needed to fix on our end and those have been fixed," Simmons said.

The city has agreed to release part of the contractor's 10% retention budget, about $144,000, to help the project stay on track.

Among the things Simmons said KBA agreed to was to increase manpower on the project and to reimburse the direct costs of the city's main consultants, Harris and Associates.

Greg Korte, president of KBA, said the meeting was very productive and he was happy with the results.

"We are very pleased that everyone is willing to come together to help this project to a successful completion despite any prior challenges," Korte said.

The second area of controversy has been brought up by the Southern Nevada Carpenters Union regarding the subcontractor, Precision Concrete.

The union says that Precision, based in North Las Vegas, has had a number of safety violations throughout its history and that safety was a major issue during this project. The union claims Precision has done shoddy work, did not provide mandatory 10-minute breaks and has underpaid dozens of workers by misclassifying them.

"We've been the object of their organizing for five years," Stewart said. "They've been trying to do this for several years and they haven't succeeded."

"It's easy for them [the carpenters union] to throw out challenges and if they're legitimate they'll be proven true, but if they're not legitimate, they'll go away," Stewart said.

Stewart added that the accident shouldn't have happened, but it wasn't serious and that it won't happen again.

Simmons agrees with Stewart about the accident and overall safety of the project.

"I'm not saying this job has been perfect," Simmons said. "The accident was the only one we've had on that job, in fact I can't think of any other injuries on any other job while I've been construction manager."

At this point, Simmons and James Sala of the carpenter's union say there is no quarrel between the city and the union.

"I have respect for those guys," Simmons said of the carpenter's union.

Sala and the union have protested the use of Precision on the parking garage since the subcontractor was first given the job last fall.

"Our problem is not with KBA or with the city," Sala said. "They're not cheating their employees. This is an issue with the subcontractor."

"Once you get stuck with these [bad subcontractors], you're stuck with these guys," Sala said.

The city investigated the wage issues during the summer and found some discrepancies, but not to the extent the union was claiming. The State Labor Commission requested a clarification of the investigation, which Simmons said he submitted Sept. 4, but he has not heard back from the commission.

EVERY 15 MINUTES
 — Students of Green Valley High School watch as the Henderson Police Department presents its Every 15 Minutes program, which explores the consequences of drinking and driving.

Simulated car accident takes students lives, teaches awareness of drinking and driving

By Carla Riddle
 News Staff Writer

Henderson police officers hope students at Green Valley High School will think twice about drinking and driving after watching a simulated car accident take the lives of two fellow students and ruin the future of another.

The car accident kicked off a two-day awareness program known as Every 15 Minutes last Thursday. Throughout the program, students were shown the consequences of making the decision to drink and drive.

"I can't even imagine a parent having to actually go through this," parent Joyce Chowdhury said.

Her son, 18-year-old Jewel Chowdhury, participated in the Every 15 Minutes demonstration as the victim was pronounced dead at the scene. Joyce Chowdhury was asked to write her son's obituary, which opened her eyes to how someone feels when they lose someone in a DUI accident. "My son told me he knows it isn't real but it still affected him, too," she said.

The concept behind the program is to let the students know that every 15 minutes someone is killed or seriously injured in a DUI accident.

To demonstrate that concept Thursday, every 15 minutes a fellow student was taken out of class for the remainder of the day and participated in an overnight retreat with HPD. During the retreat, students voiced their opinions about the day's events and how they would feel if it were real.

The program was wrapped up Friday morning at a special assembly where Green Valley High's juniors and seniors were shown a short video of the simulated car accident and what happened at the hospital, morgue and detention center afterward.

"I think [the presentation] is realistic ... it's sad it actually happens because no matter how many demonstrations they do or how many times they tell us, some kid still makes the wrong choice," senior Louie Bansin said.

Because the Every 15 Minutes program was a prelude to the school's Homecoming weekend, principal Betty Sabo shared a personal story about a high school friend, also her Homecoming date, who killed himself by crashing his car while driving drunk. He had been on his way to pick her up for the dance.

According to the Clark County School District 1999-2000 accountability report, Green Valley reported seven incidents of possession/use of alcohol, the second highest district-wide.

"We [adults] are accused of demanding too much of you students but it's because we're afraid you won't live to see our age," Sabo said. "Don't ever forget you do matter. You matter to someone."

Henderson police plan on repeating the Every 15 Minutes program in the spring at another high school before the prom.

Local Boys and Girls Club gets grant to improve facilities, conserve energy

By Carla Riddle
 News Staff Writer

The Henderson Boys and Girls Club, one of the eight recipients of an energy efficiency and conservation grant distributed by Nevada Power Co., will begin seeing lower power bills by making improvements to its facility.

The $5,000 grant that the Boys and Girls Club received Wednesday will go toward upgrading and replacing lights inside the building's gymnasium, game room and office area as well as the installation of a programmable thermostat, which will help save on energy when no one is using the facility.

"This money will help improve the facilities so they are spending less on energy and putting more money toward their mission," said Bob Balzar, director of energy efficiency and conservation.

"If operating expenses [continue to] go up, they get to do less good stuff," he said. "Over the next five years, we hope to have saved the children that attend this club more than $9,000."

Nevada Power is also extending the advice and services of the company's Energy Efficient Team, a group of specialists that survey how employees' and patrons' behaviors can be more energy-efficient.

"[Saving power] is a behavioral thing, like remembering to turn the lights off when leaving a room," Balzar said. "These experts can help instill that discipline."

Other non-profit agencies that received grants are the Nevada Children's Center, H.E.L.P. of Southern Nevada, Catholic Charities of Southern Nevada, United Way of Southern Nevada, Classroom on Wheels, Center for Independent Living and the Nevada Association for the Handicapped.

Circus set at Roadhouse

Sterling & Reid Bros.' Three-Ring Circus will be at the Roadhouse Casino on Bolder Highway in Henderson Wednesday night.

The circus will be at 4:30 and 7:30 p.m.

A new center ring will feature the Moscow Circus Dancing Bears that ride on horseback. Other animal features include three rings of White Horses. Trampoline artists, jugglers, tumblers, clowns, Romanian acrobats and the Double Swing of Death are featured.

Free kids tickets and two-for-one adult tickets are available at most area stores and fast food restaurants.

Borders to help reading program

Borders on W. Sunset Road will host a Benefit Day in support of the Green Valley High School Reading Incentive Program on Saturday, Oct. 6.

Participants can get Benefit Day vouchers from Green Valley High School or mention at the register that they wish to support the reading incentive program and 15% of the purchase will be donated to GVHS Reading Incentive Program.

Travis said. "Through the years, this love remained his zest for life.

"Many will tell you in addition to having appliances fixed they also received their scriptural. He came to your door with his tools in his hands and his Bible in his back pocket."

He is survived by his wife Irma L. Travis of Henderson; two daughters, Susan M. Yancey of Las Vegas, Patricia Travis Garcia of Las Vegas; four sisters, Florence Burrs of Brooklyn, Beatrice Hudson of Brooklyn, Esther Travis of Brooklyn, Mariam Travis of California; brother Benjamin Travis of Oakland; daughter-in-law Mary Lynn Travis of Salem, Mo.; six grandchildren; and three great grandchildren.

Individual rights, security in balance

In the wake of the horrific terrorist attacks on the United States on Sept. 11, it was hard for many Americans to do business as usual. Lost in the aftermath was a proclamation by Gov. Kenny Guinn making Sept. 17 Constitution Day and Sept. 16-22 Constitution Week.

In the proclamation, Guinn urges Nevada citizens to participate in their government by registering to vote, attending public meetings, educating young people about the rights and responsibilities of living in a democracy and working with public officials at all levels of government to improve the quality and extent of participatory democracy in the state.

Indeed, those aims should be business as usual - before the attacks, during the attacks and after the attacks.

The Department of Cultural Affairs, in its report to the 2001 Legislature, "Participatory Democracy in Nevada," gave Nevada an overall grade of C in its participation in government processes. The Legislature passed ACR 38 in response to the report, encouraging residents to develop new ideas and programs to help achieve greater citizen participation in the governing process.

Constitution Week and Constitution Day are traditionally observed in Nevada to commemorate the significance of the U.S. Constitution in preserving individual freedoms, liberties and common welfare of the people who live in this country.

As all levels of government consider changes to increase the security of our citizens in the wake of terrorist activities, it's up to the citizens to remind themselves and public officials of the rights guaranteed them in the Constitution.

Reconciling those rights with the needs of increased security poses a serious challenge that will require a lot of participation, vigilance, discipline and perseverance. The Constitution has served as an able guide to the toughest challenges this country has faced and this will be no exception.

Book drive continues

If you ever wanted to help a student or a school build a library, here's your chance. New and near-new books are needed for at-risk children in pre-school through fourth grade.

A program called "Kids to Kids," sponsored by Spread the Word Nevada, started the project in February and has received about 16,000 books through partnerships with public and private schools. Book companies have also contributed about 10,000 books.

State Sen. Jon Porter, R-Henderson and Boulder City, and his wife Lauri developed the project.

The goal of the program is to help children build libraries so they can practice reading after school. Having books at home is fundamental to help improve children's reading skills.

Books can be dropped off at all fire stations in Henderson, Barnes & Noble, B. Dalton, the customer service desk at the Galleria at Sunset mall and the Henderson Home News, 2300 Corporate Circle.

Donations are tax-deductible. For more information, call 564-7809.

The joy of reading can be made all the more rewarding by sharing a gift of books to those who need them the most. Support the efforts of the organizers of this worthwhile project.

Producers of pop culture face challenges

Those who produce entertainment in the United States have a difficult, but not unprecedented, challenge in the next couple of months as we continue to respond to the terrorist attacks on the East Coast Sept. 11.

They must strike a balance that reflects a more serious tone in the country. The celebrity culture that we have and share with the rest of the world will have to be toned down.

Who gets voted off an island suddenly seems even less important than it was. Game shows that feature trivia questions don't seem to be the stuff of water cooler conversations any more.

Some television shows planned for the new season have toned down images of terrorism as entertainment. The intense, high-energy promotions of these shows seem more sedate.

Producers of NBC's "The West Wing" felt compelled to shoot a special episode to air tomorrow that conveys what staff members in the show's fictional White House feel after an unspecified attack.

Jay Leno and David Letterman have resumed their late-night shows with a new, more muted tone. They have displayed exceptional common sense and sensitivity but they understand the nature of their profession: satire and sarcasm are tools they will not be able to put away for long.

"Can we be funny?" long-time "Saturday Night Live" executive producer Lorne Michaels asked New York Mayor Rudy Giuliani during Saturday's telecast.

"Why start now?" Giuliani joked.

Giuliani and other prominent officials in politics and business have reiterated that life must return to something that resembles a normal routine, and a big part of that is our television, our movies, our music, our plays, our athletics. To alter them drastically is to give in to the terrorists.

But the market for some forms of the inane or excessively violent entertainment for which this country is known has been changed. What we see on television or on movie screens is frequently a mirror of what our culture is about.

This culture is "about" something else now. Finding that voice, striking that balance is a challenge we all face.

Indeed we will see celebrities on the covers of Time and Newsweek again, we will talk about "Friends," we will anticipate the newest comedy on the movie screens. But it will be a while and that's OK. There's more serious business to attend to at the moment.

GEORGE WILL

Three things to be done

WASHINGTON — A military communiqué during the Spanish Civil War proclaimed, "the advance was continued all day without any ground being lost."

For a while, such may seem to be the most that can be said for the visible progress of the current war. However, Americans are impatient problem-solvers, so here are three things that should be done, the doing of which will assuage any sense the nation is having trouble gaining traction in the tasks at hand.

First, buy more B-2 bombers. President Bush has declared war against terrorist groups "with global reach." The B-2 is the pre-eminent technology (as distinct from ground combat units) for reaching across the globe to such groups. Ordering more B-2s would reaffirm America's determination to project power.

The B-2 is stealthy, so it can arrive over a target without the enemy having even radar forewarnings. It can fly from the United States, so there are no foreign basing complications. It can operate in all types of weather. And new munitions make it highly likely that any identified target will be destroyed. New technologies for seeing targets are significantly better than those in use during Desert Storm a decade ago.

The B-2 can attack 16 targets simultaneously with 2,000-pound bombs or, with planned improvements, up to 260 targets with smaller munitions. It is a weapon indispensable for a nation that has enemies in distant places and accepts Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld's axiom that the best defense is a good offense.

Second, cut corporate income taxes.

About the economy, some perspective. Even at the end of the first week of trading after the attacks - the worst week in 68 years - the stock market had plunged only to where it had been in October 1998, when America was fabulously prosperous. Even before that week, which drained $1.4 trillion in value from the stock market, the market had, fortunately, shed about $5 trillion in value, largely because of the popping of the tech-sector bubble.

Yes, fortunately. Imagine the psychological effects of cascading losses of perhaps $6 trillion in one week if the bubble had burst simultaneously with the attacks.

The economy's recent anemia has been largely the result not of the normal cause of a downturn - slow consumer spending - but rather of negative investment decisions by businesses. Their profits have shrunk partly because of something that has kept consumer spending remarkably strong: This is a "progressive" slump. Labor is getting an increased share of the nation's economic product.

Now consumers do need to be encouraged, but there is no certain way of doing that. However, cutting corporate taxes would certainly increase after-tax profits and, hence, companies' ability to invest.

Third, build high-speed rail service.

Two months ago this columnist wrote: "A government study concludes that for trips of 500 miles or less - a majority of flights; 40% are of 300 miles or less - automotive travel is as fast or faster than air travel, door to door. Columnist Robert Kuttner sensibly said that fact strengthens the case for high-speed trains. If such trains replaced air shuttles in the Boston-New York-Washington corridor, Kuttner said that would free about 60 takeoff and landing slots per hour." Thinning air traffic in the Boston-New York-Washington air corridor has acquired new urgency. Read Malcolm Gladwell's New Yorker essay on the deadly dialectic between the technological advances in making air travel safer and the adaptations to these advances by terrorists.

"Airport-security measures," writes Gladwell, "have simply chased out the amateurs and left the clever and the audacious." This is why although the number of terrorist attacks has been falling for many years, fatalities from hijackings and bombings have increased. As an Israeli terrorism expert said, "the history of attacks on commercial aviation reveals that new terrorist methods of attack have virtually never been foreseen by security authorities."

The lesson to be learned is not defeatism. Security improvements can steadily complicate terrorists' tasks and increase the likelihood of defeating them on the ground. However, shifting more travelers away from the busiest airports to trains would reduce the number of flights that have to be protected and the number of sensitive judgments that have to be made, on the spot, quickly, about individual travelers. Congress should not adjourn without funding the nine-state Midwest Regional Rail Initiative.

Each of these three proposals was sensible before Sept. 11. And it is hardly unpatriotic to seize this moment of unusual seriousness to get serious about agendas that languished when, until three weeks ago, the nation had a seriousness deficit.

Secretary of State Heller warns of investment scams

In the wake of terrorist attacks on New York and the Pentagon, Secretary of State Dean Heller recently warned investors to be on the look-out for opportunistic investment scams similar to those associated with the Y2K computer bug.

According to the Secretary of State's Securities Division, cold-calling telephone salespeople, advertisements, or Internet postings, touting commodities, exotic financial products, or supposed anti-terrorist technologies should be viewed with extreme caution. Investors should also be wary of enticements to send money offshore to so-called "safe havens."

"In times of tragedy, confusion, fear, or uncertainty, there are always those who will attempt to prey on the investing public," Heller said. "In the wake of last week's tragedies, investors should resist the temptation to make hasty decisions about their investments. Our economy is the most diverse and productive in the world, and the United States is and will remain the world's financial capital."

Recalling that con artists nationwide exploited fears associated with the year 2000 computer bug to tout investments in precious metals, emergency preparedness scams, and non-existent technology companies, the Nevada Securities Division urges investors to:

- Hang up on aggressive cold callers promoting "safe" investments, such as precious metals, oil, or gas and ignore unsolicited e-mail or Internet chat room talk about small companies with new anti-terrorist technologies or products;
- Request written information.
- Use common sense.
- Contact the Nevada Securities Division at 1-800-758-6440 to verify that an investment and its seller are registered and licensed. If they are not, they may be operating illegally.

Green Valley recaptures Henderson Bowl over Basic

By Ray Brewer
News Sports Editor

Tears uncontrollable rolled down the face of Green Valley linebacker Carl Zmaila as his teammates handed him the Henderson Bowl trophy.

Zmaila, a 5-foot-9, 190-pound junior, broke his left leg in the first quarter of Henderson Bowl XI Friday, but returned to Green Valley High School just in time for the celebration.

You see, Zmaila's role in the Gators' 28-20 victory was minor.

However, on a team with no dominant superstar, it's the performance of players like Zmaila that make a difference.

Take the Gators' secondary for instance. Despite being dissected by Basic quarterback Chris Montano most of the evening, the unit responded late in holding Basic out of the end zone with under a minute to play from their own 11-yard line. Also, Montano failed to complete a pass in his final seven attempts.

Defensive backs Anthony Scott and Jesse McCulloch each made game saving deflections as the Gators improved to 8-3 in Henderson Bowl games, erasing the bad memories of last year's defeat.

"I saw the ball at the last second and just jumped, it was all vertical," McCulloch said of a Montano pass headed for the arms of Anthony Mascitelli in the corner of the end zone on second down of the final defensive stance.

"That is why we work on vertical jump. I just barely tipped it."

But if you are looking for a hero from Green Valley, look no further than its spark plug - 5-8, 165-pound tailback Anthony Guadagna.

Guadagna stole the spotlight with two touchdowns, including a 14-yard dash with 5:13 left to seal the game, and 229 yards rushing on 21 carries.

"This feels great," Guadagna said. "The hard work all week

Basic beats GV for first time ever in girls tennis

By Paul Howard
News Staff Writer

Things just got a little closer in the Southeast Division as the Basic's girls tennis team defeated Green Valley 14-8 1/2 on Wednesday at Basic High School.

With the win, Basic improves to 4-3 in the conference, while Green Valley falls to 5-2.

Both teams are looking up at defending state champ Silverado, who sits atop the standings with a 7-0 conference record.

Basic used strong doubles play to gain the victory as the team of Amanda Murphy and Lori Nedescu went 3-0.

Amanda Spielberg and Brittany Parcell went 2-1, and in singles Courtney Murphy went 3-0.

"It is a very big win for us because it's the first time we have beaten Green Valley," Basic coach Bart Black said. "If we win out and Green Valley gets beat, we should be able to capture second place. Things look good because that's the best we've played all year."

Basic plays Foothill on Monday.

Silverado vs. Coronado

The Skyhawks continue to be the cream of the crop in girls tennis as they won again Wednesday with a 16 1/2-6 win over the Cougars.

Christina and Sabrina Capannolo went 3-0 in No. 1 doubles as did Jamie Marshall and G.G. Toutounji.

Rachel Cohen and Loren Martines also went 3-0.

"It was one of the closer matches we've had in awhile," coach Adam Taylor said. "The lineup we played is the one we plan on using if we go to state and that experience could pay off."

For Coronado, Lani Cohen went 3-0 and Kate Stuhr went 2-0 in singles.

"Lani played well, but the inexperience was a factor," Cougars coach Bob Clements said. "We are improving every week and it's something to build on which makes you proud as a coach."

UNLV's Smeltzer gives new meaning to special teams

RISING STAR - Toby Smeltzer simply wants to contribute to UNLV's football team.

He did that and then some Saturday in the Rebels' 35-31 loss to BYU.

On the opening kickoff, Smeltzer caused a fumble that was returned by teammate Derek Olsen for a touchdown.

"We wanted to come out and set the tempo on the opening kickoff," said Smeltzer, whose father Ron is the head football coach at Coronado.

"I can't think of a better way to do that."

Smeltzer, a junior, sees a majority of his playing time on special teams. His main responsibility is holding for the kicker on extra points and field goals.

"The way I look at it is, the more I can do for the team the better," he said. "I'd love to get in at wide receiver and contribute to the offense. But right now the rotation doesn't include me."

Smeltzer, a 1998 Cimarron-Memorial graduate, usually doesn't get many opportunities to make tackles.

"It's my job to make sure nothing gets outside of me," Smeltzer said. "Most teams run down the middle."

As for the winless Rebels, Smeltzer says watch out.

"We know we have a good team, we are just missing certain aspects of our team which cause us to lose," he said.

CAN YOU BELIEVE YOUR

EYES? - After 11 long years, the drought is over for Basic's girls tennis team.

The Wolves beat Green Valley for the first time ever Thursday, notching a 14-8 1/2 victory over the Gators at home.

"They were actually pretty excited," Basic coach Bart Black said.

The season full of firsts should continue this week for the Wolves. If they beat Foothill and Coronado - almost a sure thing - this week, Basic will host a playoff match Saturday.

Adding icing to the cake is the fact the Wolves have a great shot at earning a berth into the state tournament from the Sunrise Region.

"I think beating Green Valley is a combination of a few factors," Black said. "All of the new schools have diluted the talent and spread out the numbers. Also, when I first started coaching at Basic, we were lucky to scrap nine people to play girls tennis."

THAT HURTS - UNLV middle linebacker James Sunia's career is most likely over after the senior broke his leg in the second half against BYU Saturday.

Sunia, who was on pace to be UNLV's all-time leader in tackles, had played in just two games this year after bouncing back from two separate knee injuries.

He can petition the NCAA for hardship medical redshirt status, but would still have to recover from the injury.

"I try not to think about getting injured," said Brandon Bair, a senior lineman for UNLV and 1996 Basic High School graduate.

"Seeing that makes you appreciate this a little more."

- Flash back to 1989 ... In the first week of October, Basic beat Chaparral 17-10 in overtime - the Wolves' second straight overtime win. The Wolves fell one game short of state in 1989.

Trombone player leads Gators to JV football win

By Ray Brewer

His coaches call him the best trombone player in the state.

Lance Patonai would simply like to be referred to as the best quarterback in the state by the time he's a senior.

The left-handed throwing Patonai tossed two touchdowns and ran for another two Thursday in leading the Gators 27-19 win over Basic in junior varsity action at Green Valley.

"We played pretty good," Patonai said. "It gets a little easier after you throw the first one."

Patonai got the scoring started with 1:15 left in the first quarter, finding the end zone on a 1-yard touchdown run.

Basic responded on the ensuing drive when Brian Bradford hit tight end Donnie Eredia for an 82-yard touchdown reception.

Adrian Roca booted the extra point and Basic led 7-6.

That was the Wolves' last lead of the game.

Patonai threw a 22-yard touchdown pass to Steve Naparty and added another 1-yard run second before halftime in helping the Gators (4-1) lead 21-13 at intermission.

In the fourth quarter, Patonai iced the game with a 41-yard touchdown pass to Josh Soriano.

"They took away our run, so our passing game stepped up," Green Valley coach Howard Johnson said. "Lance Patonai stepped up and showed he is going to be a good quarterback."

Bradford connected with Daniel Brisendine on 18-yard touchdown pass late to make things interesting with 2:14 to play.

With the loss, Basic fell to 2-3 on the year.

THE FUTURE - Green Valley junior varsity quarterback Lance Patonai throws a pass Thursday in Green Valley's 27-19 win over Basic.

"It was really an exciting game," Basic coach Alex Kazel said. "They came up with more plays than we did."

As for Patonai, things couldn't be better.

He occupies the first chair in the trombone section at Green Valley and has coaches smiling about how his arrival on the varsity next season could open up the offense.

Basic freshmen defeat GV for third straight year

By Paul Howard
News Staff Writer

Grant Gillespy has seen a lot of football in his 22 years at Basic High School, but rarely does he have the opportunity to talk about or witness three straight victories by his team over rival Green Valley.

That's exactly what happened as the Wolves held on to win 14-12 Thursday at Basic.

"This is a great win for the kids, I am very proud of them," Gillespy said. "We worked hard and it was total defensive effort, hopefully we can get on a roll."

Basic got on the board first as defensive back Calvin Kronmeyer picked off Arthur Mayville's pass on the first play of the game and returned it for a touchdown to give the Wolves the early lead.

After the teams exchanged turnovers, the Gators got the ball back inside their own 5-yard line and once again the Wolves returned an interception for a score as quarterback/defensive back A.J. Montano did the honors with a 22 yard score, putting Basic up 14-0 midway through the first quarter.

The second quarter was void of any kind of offense as the game was played solely inside both 40-yard lines as first downs were few and far between.

Basic had negative yards in the quarter and the Gators also could not muster any offense.

The Wolves took the 14-0 lead into the third quarter when the Gators finally made a play when Montano was intercepted inside his own 20-yard line.

Green Valley quickly capitalized as running back Sam

King had two carries down to the 2-yard line and Mayville scored on a keeper to make it 14-6. The 2-point conversion attempt failed.

Basic played the rest of the game tight to the vest as they ran the ball with a steady dose of Antonio Hartwell and Mike Griffin, but the Gators bottled them up.

Green Valley broke out midway through the fourth as King took a pitch to the left and dashed virtually untouched for a 72 yard score to make it 14-12, but again the two point try was unsuccessful.

Mayville rolled out to his right and his pass fell incomplete as Basic recovered the onside kick to stop Green Valley yet again.

"It's nice for the kids to get that first win against Green Valley when you play them four times," Gillespy said. "We just have to take them one at a time from now on."

paid off. Look how good we played. If we play like this every game, there is no team that can beat us."

It appeared that way early on against the Wolves (0-5, 0-1).

Guadagna gave his team an early lead with 51-yard touchdown run with 10:41 left in the first quarter.

Later on in the first, Phil Britt - who was named Homecoming King at halftime - scored from 10-yards out and it appeared like the route was on.

Plain and simple, Guadagna was too much for Basic's inexperienced defense to handle.

"You can't say enough about Anthony Guadagna," Green Valley coach Lanny Littlefield said. "How many yards did he have tonight?"

Basic refused to fold its tent.

With 2:05 left in the first quarter, the passing game heated up and Montano found Brandon Hawkins for a 16-yard touchdown reception. The point after failed, but Basic only trailed 14-6.

Green Valley (3-2, 0-1) upped its margin by another touchdown on the ensuing possession when quarterback Robin Spradling scored from 1-yard out with 10:59 left in the second quarter.

But Montano and Hawkins hooked up again for a 6-yard touchdown pass and the duo combined for the 2-point conversion to make it 21-14.

Then, with 8:17 left in the third quarter Montano and Hawkins struck once more, this time for a 1-yard touchdown reception. Even though the Wolves missed the point after, they only trailed 21-20.

"We did some things well," Basic coach Cliff Frazier said. "I can see our kids starting to play together as a team."

That's when the defenses took over for both sides, especially Green Valley.

The Gators got more pressure on Montano late in the game, leading to an improved effort in the secondary.

"We had a game plan going in to stop the pass," McCulloch said. "We knew they had good receivers and a good quarterback. We just had to get used to their style."

Montano finished 12-of-23 for 154 yards and three scores for the Wolves, who also got over 100 yards rushing from Arizona Hurt.

Green Valley dominates as boys, girls win in cross country

By Paul Howard
News Staff Writer

It was an impressive day for both teams of Green Valley as the boys won convincingly over Boulder City and Indian Springs at Hemenway Park in the 2.5-mile run.

Green Valley had a score of 20 followed by Boulder City with 43 and Indian Springs with 97. For the Gators, Korre Heggern came in second with a time of 11:41 and his teammates weren't far behind.

Kyle Foss finished in third place (11:46), Jim Thorne took fourth (11:51), and David Winkler and Robert Ragan came in fifth and sixth with times of 11:59 and 12:04.

For the girls, Emily Eskin took first place with a time of 13:35 as the Gators captured first through fourth place at the meet.

Green Valley finished with a score of 16, while Boulder City had 46. Indian Springs had no score.

Finishing second was Holly Walker at 13:49 and in third Jackie Favreau had a time of 13:53.

Lindsay Harris and Staci DeGagne finished at 13:59 and 14:32 respectively.

"The kids ran in a good pack, all in all they did a good job," coach Jeff Doyle said. "We're trying to shift the pack up and run smarter."

Foothill

The Falcons also had a nice showing as they won the four team field at Mission Hills Park in the 2.5-mile race.

Foothill had a score of 38 followed by Basic (44), Coronado (55), and Rancho (87).

Ron Stoker ran a course record of 14:02 for Foothill in taking first.

The Falcons also captured places 7-9 as Geoff Pierce (15:00), Chris Ruth (15:04), and Jason Owen (15:12) ran well.

Bill Ashman also had a solid effort for the Falcons.

The girls also took first as Deann Bradshaw finished first with a time of 16:42.

Colleen O'Brien was second at 17:10, followed by Megan Bellingheri in third with 17:54.

Sandee Weedman and Randee Worthen also ran well for Foothill.

"We need to tighten up as a pack," coach John Dixon said. "We need to run closer to Ron to do well in the regional. It was also important for the seniors to do well because it was the last time on their home course."

Basic

The Wolves took second place at both girls and boys races on Wednesday as Kole Krahenbuhl continued his strong season with a time of 14:19 which was good for second place.

Also running well for the Wolves on the boys side were Josh Sillitoe who finished sixth at 14:51, while Kayden Campbell, Bryan Stiles, and Paul Hafen also had a nice showing.

The girls were also solid in second place as Samantha Cerrano and Sophia Espinoza finished fourth and fifth respectively at 18:36 and 18:52.

Brienna Krahenbuhl was seventh at 19:16 and Britany Randall and Renee Caseman also ran well.

"The girls ran pretty good, they're getting closer, but are still young with no seniors on the team," coach Larry Burgess said. "We're still finding ourselves and we competed fairly well."

For Coronado, in the girls race, Jessie Trumbo and Katrina Brooke were top runners for the Cougars.

On the boys side, Garron Combs took third with a time of 14:33 and Sean Stafford was right behind him at 14:39.

Silverado

Silverado took first on the boys side at Desert Breeze in the 2.2 mile race. The Skyhawks finished with 19 points, followed by Durango at 36 and Eldorado had no score.

Mike Ceperano was first for Silverado at 12:14 and Corey Thompson (12:57), David Lieberman (13:00), David Contreras (13:05), and Brad Royal (13:05), finished third through sixth.

On the girls side, Durango topped Silverado by the score of 33-35. Eldorado reported no score.

Karen LaHodny finished fifth with a time of 15:44, and Katie Relph (15:56), Rachel Combs (15:57), Debbie LaHodny (16:02), and Lauren Wright (16:20), finished sixth through ninth for the Skyhawks.

"It's been a real improvement from last week," boys coach Brian Whitaker said. "We are running in a solid pack and seem to be going in the right direction."

Silverado beats Basic 3-0 in soccer; Green Valley blanks Coronado 8-0

By Ray Brewer
News Sports Editor

Silverado's soccer team can be patient while its offense finds a groove.

First, the Skyhawk defense has been great this year, allowing just three goals in eight games.

Then, you have to consider the Southeast Division they compete in is the worst in Southern Nevada.

Either way, Silverado showed offensive improvements Thursday in beating Basic 3-0.

"They are getting more offensive opportunities, but we are struggling to get more offensive opportunities," Silverado coach John Cwik said.

Silverado only had a 1-0 lead at the half as Basic's defense played its best game of the year.

"We're learning, that's the best way you can put it," Basic coach Joe Stellavato said. "We're learning how to become a better team, but we are still young."

Silverado slotted twice in the second half, including a penalty kick from Steve Gonzales in the final minute of the game.

Lucas Montano and Damien Wong also found the back of the net for the victors.

Silverado's defense, anchored by goalie Mike Lawrence and defenders Jared Bailey and Daniel Carrera, has led the way thus far.

"Hopefully by the end of the year, the offense will come around and match what the defense has done all year," Cwik said.

GREEN VALLEY

Chris Ancell and Steve DiMino combined for the shutout in leading Green Valley to an 8-0 win over Coronado Thursday.

CJ Hillstead, Richard Bindrup, Cameron LaFleur, Eric Henderson, Ricky Barraza, Drew Chesser and Sean McKusick all scored for Green Valley.

"We did a hockey line," Green Valley coach Bill Naftaly said. "Six players came in and six players came out. It was a great opportunity to get everyone some playing time."

Green Valley, Silverado stay on top in boys tennis

By Paul Howard
News staff writer

The battle for supremacy continues to be tight as both Green Valley and Silverado were victorious in boys tennis Wednesday.

The Gators rolled over Basic 20 1/2-2 to improve to 6-0 in the boys Southeast Division of the Sunrise Region.

For the Gators, Jason Harper and Ryan Lorenz went 3-0 in doubles.

Jon Faggy went 2-0 in singles before coach Luther Bohanan rested the majority of his players in the win.

"We had the opportunity to play a lot of freshman after going up 15 1/2-0 after two rounds, so we did that," Bohanan said.

Freshman Alex Scott played well in his first match, as did Nick Strobel who went 2-0.

The Gators travel to Coronado to play on Monday.

Silverado vs. Coronado

knocked off the Cougars 18-4 1/2 on Wednesday.

Mike Uriarte went 3-0 in singles, but it was the doubles teams that carried Silverado as the teams of Bobby Jelone and Ryan Garner, along with Joe Lopez and Chris Painter both went 2-0.

Jason Schiech and Ryan Field also went 2-0 in doubles for the Skyhawks, who are now off for a week and get a chance to rest.

"I would rather be playing because we are doing well, but that's how things worked out," Mundt said. "I'm proud of the guys and we had a lot of subs play. Jacob Bobrowski won his first match which felt good."

Foothill vs. Boulder City

The Falcons made easy work of Boulder City with an 18 1/2-4 win with the help of solid play from Jenna Schaffer who went 3-0 in singles.

"The girls played real well and we hope to catch Coronado for fourth place and improve our position in the standings," coach Lisa Cano said.

Chaparral rallies to defeat Foothill and stay unbeaten

By Paul Howard
News Staff Writer

An incredible length of the field drive combined with a key injury gave Chaparral 21-14 a come from behind victory Friday against Foothill.

Foothill was clinging to a 14-7 lead midway through the fourth quarter at home, when Cowboy quarterback Justin Arnold found a wide open Marcus Johnson for a 42-yard touchdown that tied the game at 14-14.

Late in the fourth, the Cowboys got the ball back and marched 76 yards to win it as Arnold rolled out to the right and found Derek Niggemeir for a 25-yard touchdown with nine seconds left and another Chaparral victory.

The Cowboys improved to 5-0 in the league opener for both teams.

It was a tough loss for the Falcons who led most of the game, but lost momentum and the ability to move the football when star running back John Ford was forced to leave the game with a back injury with nine minutes still left on the clock.

"We have no idea how long he will be out, we will know more on Sunday," Foothill coach Ray Fenton said. "We played poorly and had every expectation of winning this game. We have to get ready for next week."

Ford had two touchdown runs — of 33 and 3 yards — to give the Falcons the early lead.

He finished the game with 133 yards rushing on 22 carries.

It appeared the game would head to overtime as Foothill was forced to punt with only 52 seconds remaining.

The punt gave Chaparral the ball on its own 34 with 49 seconds left.

On the last drive Arnold found Niggemeir for a 19-yard gain and ran the ball twice to the Falcon 43.

Arnold finished the night an impressive 10-of-13 through the air for 156 yards.

His numbers could have been better, but the Cowboys had two scores called back by penalties.

TOP PERFORMANCE - Coronado quarterback Joey Longo threw for 140 yards Friday against Virgin Valley.

Cougars dominated by Virgin Valley.

By Ray Brewer
News Sports Editor

Even though Coronado lost to Virgin Valley Friday, the Cougars' passing game looked the best it has all year.

Quarterback Joey Longo completed nearly half of his passes in throwing for 140 yards, but it wasn't enough as 3A Virgin Valley was victorious 35-13.

"(Success in the passing game) backs everyone off us," Coronado coach Ron Smeltzer said. "Teams were playing us with an 8-man front and bringing their linebackers."

Virgin Valley led 21-0 before Chase Billington got the Cougars on the board with a 6-yard scoring run.

Ali Amin scored the Cougars' other touchdown on a 27-yard pass from Longo late in the game. Amin had seven receptions for 92 yards.

"We didn't play very well at all," Smeltzer said. "The kids just didn't play with a lot of emotion."

Silverado ends losing streak

By the News Staff

It seems as Larry Patterson goes, so go the Skyhawks of Silverado.

Case in point Friday night, Patterson runs for 199 yards and three touchdowns at Valley, as Silverado snaps a three-game losing streak and gets the win 23-15, their first since the season opener.

Patterson got his first touchdown with a 41-yard run in the first quarter staking the Skyhawks to an early 7-0 lead.

Valley would answer through the air as Jimmy Crooks hooked up with Keith Dingee for a 57-yard touchdown to even things at 7-7.

It was Dingee's only reception of the game, but a big one.

Patterson and the Skyhawks would retake the lead, this time a shorter run from four yards out as they retook the lead 15-7.

Coach John DeNardin elected to go for two and Marvin Reddick made the call look good as he scored to make it 15-7.

Again, Crooks would answer, this time to Buddy Cravin for a 62-yard touchdown pass.

The Vikings elected to go for two and they were successful tying the game at 15-15 at the half.

Cravin finished the game with four catches good for 117 yards.

The only score of the second half would come in the third quarter as Patterson scored for the third time from six yards out and again Reddick added the two point conversion as Silverado held on to win 23-15.
