Henderson Hearsay

By Bert Havens

As the result of our reporting Bill Byrne's visit to the County Commission last week, an article that we thought was just straight reporting of what transpired at the meeting, with no bias one way or the other, we were accused by several people of being definitely in favor of liquor and gambling in the Townsite. This is not necessarily so! At no time have we advocated either, merely giving our opinion that the people of Henderson have the right to engage in these pleasures locally as long as the majority want to do so. There was supposed to have been an informal poll taken on this subject a year or so ago, with the result in favor of those against liquor and gambling here (although no one ever approached us), but we have recently learned that there is no such thing as "local option" in Nevada.

We have steadfastly maintained that the people in this or any other community should have the right to decide, by vote, whether or not liquor and gambling establishments should be operated in their town. There are "dry" localities all over the United States, despite the repeal of national prohibition, so even though we, as a state, enjoy certain freedoms, we believe that Henderson's citizens should be able to refuse to allow them here, IF THE MAJORITY SO DECIDES, not through an undercover "understanding" as at present. If we can have such a poll, with every adult voting, then the result should be made binding upon the licensing authorities as a mandate from the people. If the wishes of the Colorado River Commission are respected by the Board, an impartial poll should carry equal weight, giving us local option in effect.

This is the last we shall say regarding this very controversial subject, but we shall be very happy to print any and all letters or statements from those on both sides of the fence. Regardless of personal beliefs, we all must, as Americans, respect the other fellow's opinions and emulate Voltaire, who said, "I disagree violently with everything you say, but will defend to the death your RIGHT to say it." So go ahead and sound off... that's what we're here for!

Got a little chuckle out of a news item submitted in our "School Daze" column last week. This had to do with a valuable crocodile named Cleopatra that had to undergo an operation. The item went on to say that the zoo veterinarian practiced the operation on a "cheap elephant". Heavenly days, McGeel! We thought all elephants were expensive! However, a little research into the matter unearthed the fact that the school reporter actually meant a cheap crocodile, but got mixed up a bit over the contents of the crocodile's stomach that included a china elephant. Oh well, haven't we all had mental transpositions like this at one time or another?

Some time ago we printed a California-bred report that Lake Meade was unfit for bathing because sewage emptied into that beautiful and scenic body of water. The rumor was promptly denied by authorities, so the matter died a natural death, or so we thought. A few days ago, however, we received a phone call from a Henderson resident who stated emphatically that a stream of water supposedly starting from the sewage disposal plant beyond Carver Park empties into the very end of Vegas wash which, of course, is a part of the lake itself. We can hardly believe that polluted water would be so disposed of, preferring to think that if it does come from the sewage plant it is so chemically treated as to be harmless to human or marine life, but the report does explain how the original rumor might have started. Anybody want to comment on this?

At long last, Henderson has grown so important that it warranted a visit by creatures from interstellar space. Last Friday afternoon, again via Mr. Bell's invention, we received an urgent call from the plant, telling us all about the flying saucer and giving us the names of those who had seen it. Our informant was so excited that we couldn't help but wish we were a daily, so we could headline the important news immediately instead of having to wait almost a week, long after the news was no longer new. A lot of people yell "fake" and "imagination" whenever they hear of such reports, but so many sane and sober citizens have seen something that cannot be otherwise explained that we prefer to believe they do exist. The magazine "True" has printed several authenticated articles on the subject of flying saucers that cannot help but make you think, even though you may not agree that they come from another world. They have been viewed with such clarity by some observers that the magazine prints detailed drawings of their external construction, together with estimates of speed and flight characteristics. What next?

Emil, well-known proprietor of the Cactus Bar in Pittman, is said to have bet "Stub" DuBravac a case of champagne that nothing was going to happen at the BMI plant, despite all the talk of new companies going to move in this year. This looked like a "sucker" bet, as DuBravac should be in a position to know. So no one was surprised when "Stub" dropped in last week and told Emil he'd better be prepared to pay up. (P. S. the case is now on hand).

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Nellis, of 138 Magnesium Street, parents of 1st Lieutenant William H. Nellis, after whom the present Las Vegas Air Force Base will be named, are proud of the fact that their son, a P-47 pilot who was killed in action over Belgium on December 27, 1944, has been so highly honored by the Air Force. According to the elder Nellis, his son was born at Santa Rita, N. M., and moved to Searchlight at the age of 9 to live with his grandmother, later living in Las Vegas, he attended high school. Mr. Nellis said that his son had a promise of death (Continued on back page)

Opinion Seems Divided on Liquor, Gaming

Sound Arguments Against Them Are Offered

In an effort to determine the sentiment in the Townsite on the subject of licenses being granted for the sale of liquor and for the establishment of slot machines, etc. here, the NEWS contacted a large number of people and asked their opinions. The sentiments expressed seemed to run about 50-50, with those taking the negative side apparently offering sounder arguments in support of their contention that the status quo be maintained. The feelings of this group are well represented by the following letter, received from Mrs. J. J. Ivary, of 318 Water Street:

Dear Sir: "There is an old saying a lot of you probably know, "A time and a place for everything". I would like first to discuss the "place" part in regard to liquor and gambling in Henderson.

"The present location of the businessman seeking liquor and gaming licenses in Henderson is in the heart of the business district. It is on the street of our one theatre and candy store, which our children patronize. I believe if a gaming house such as are on the strip or in Las Vegas made its appearance in the center of our town, the town would have to move away.

"Reason No. 2: As a mother and interested party in all children's environment, there isn't a section in town a gaming establishment could be erected that our youth and school children wouldn't have to pass. We have had some juvenile problems from time to time with beer drinking. Why make it easier for more daring drinking by putting the liquor right under their noses?

"Nevada is a wonderful state. Las Vegas does a commendable job of entertainment at the better resort spots. But if it's only 15 miles to obtain the best, why subject the citizens to a mediocre place which the person seeking licenses would provide... and call it a business. We need stable businesses, such as we have a good start on, not the liquor-serving kind to make the pocketbook and the person imbibing, unstable.

"The time element: Why not let the plant industry of the future have a vote in the beginning of "open house" in Henderson, instead of trying to put the wedge in the door before they have a chance?"

This paper is absolutely non-partisan in this matter and will be happy to print all signed letters in an effort to clear the air. Writers' names will be withheld upon request.

Need a Job?

As a public service and to assist any man or woman in the Henderson area who is in need of work and cannot at present afford to pay for want ads, the NEWS will accept "Situations Wanted" advertisements without immediate charge, but with the understanding that payment will be made after employment is obtained. Ads can be mailed to Box 785 or phoned in to 934-W.

One Contract Ready to Sign

According to reliable information, one of the three companies interested in acquiring facilities at the B.M.I. plant has completed its contract, with formal signing scheduled for the next meeting of the Colorado River Commission March 13. Difficulties over the much-discussed power clause, cause of the delay up until now, seem to have been finally ironed out and the settlement of the first contract is expected to set a pattern to be followed by the other prospective lessees. In order to protect the interests of new tenants against unforeseen change in their business fields during the required 37 year period, it is understood that the

Episcopal Church Has Permanent Pastor; Set Parish Plans in Motion

Father Albert Stephens, who recently was appointed to the pulpit at St. Timothy's Episcopal Church here in Henderson, is a native of Denver, Colorado. He is a graduate of Denver University and the General Theological Seminary of the Episcopal Church in New York City. Upon returning from New York, Father Stephens was ordained in Denver and took up his Church work there. Henderson had been without a permanent pastor for so long that news of Father Stephens' appointment to St. Timothy's Church was of special interest. Father Stephens has outlined a long term program of improvements which he plans for St. Timothy's. At present the parish is busy painting the inside of the Church and outside work will come at a later date. New organizations within the Church are in the process of planning, and St. Vincent's Acolyte Guild is already formed and under way. Father Stephens will soon also inaugurate classes for both adults and children. Prior to entering the priesthood, Father Stephens appeared on the stage and in radio. He is interested in forming a dramatic group within the Church, and will go ahead with this plan as soon as is feasible. Father Stephens feels that he has a mission here in Henderson, and states that he will work unceasingly for the benefit of the Church and the community. Regular Church services will be conducted on Sundays at 8 a.m. for communion and short service, 9:30 a.m. for Church School, and 11 a.m. for regular service.

Warn Fishermen To Follow Basic Rules of Safety

The tragic accident which occurred on Davis Reservoir on Sunday, February 5, in which Raymond B. and Milo E. Webb of Davis lost their lives when their boat overturned, focuses attention upon the potential dangers of the new lake now being formed behind Davis Dam. Since January, the reservoir has been filling rapidly, and will not reach its permanent high water elevation for several months to come. During this time boating on the lake can be hazardous, and all persons wishing to boat or fish on the reservoir are urged to use the utmost caution.

George F. Bagley, Superintendent of the Lake Mead National Recreational Area which includes the Davis Reservoir, warns that "when a lake is rising, the shoreline in many places will often soften and cave in, creating dangerous situations. Trees, floating debris, rocks, submerged points, and other navigation hazards are much greater now than they will be at any future period after the lake is formed and the shoreline stabilized. At present, the lake is accessible at only a few points, and all persons planning to visit the area should be especially cautious and warn others of the possible dangers involved."

Fishermen and boatmen are urged to follow these basic rules of safety:

Clifford Jones Candidate for Re-election

Lieutenant Governor Clifford A. Jones of Las Vegas has announced his candidacy for re-election on the democratic ticket in the 1950 election campaign. He made his announcement thru a letter to John Bonner of Las Vegas, chairman of the democratic central committee. He was elected in the 1946 campaign and has served in his capacity as president of the state senate during the past two sessions of the Nevada legislature. Lieutenant Governor Jones is an attorney, having established his practice in Las Vegas in 1938 immediately following his graduation from the University of Missouri, where he received his LL.B. degree. He holds membership in the Phi Delta Phi law fraternity and the Kappa Sigma national social fraternity.

During the depression years, he left college for an interval to work on the construction of Boulder dam, where he was an operator of one of the big cranes carrying materials deep into the canyon for the pouring of the concrete sections forming the dam.

Immediately following the Pearl Harbor attack at the start of World War II, he was called into service under his reserve commission as first lieutenant which he had earned while a student at the University of Nevada and in attending summer (Continued on back page)

Sports in and Around Basic

By CHARLIE GALLOWAY

Basketball season is almost over now. Basic played their last game at Panaca, which they lost 47-27. Franklin Hamiter was high with 7 counters for the home club. The zone tournament started on Tuesday, with the Wolves going down to defeat before a powerful Las Vegas team by the score of 67-18. So now that is over, this reporter has decided to talk a little on Basic High School's baseball and track teams.

Old Basic High usually comes up with a fairly good baseball team and, compared to our size, a darned good little track team. Allan Cureton and "Red" Hunter are working out every night after school and have been for the past few weeks. Allan and "Red" are the first around the track this season and I know from both their past records they will go places this year.

Allan has won several first places last year and I'm sure he will repeat this season. "Red" Hunter was the only boy from B.H.S. to compete in the state track meet last year. He came in fourth in the mile, which is plenty good. Good luck to the track team! Here's hoping you get off to a good start this year. Don Babst will be track coach this year, while Coach McDoniel will again have the baseball team.

As for baseball at our school, Basic has a tri-state championship under their belts and are out to win it again this year. This is Basic's third year for the sport and they already have won a championship. Coach McDoniel, I'm sure, is expecting a good turnout and will get it, as he always has. Coach McDoniel (a very great athlete in his day) likes baseball very much and again this year will turn out a winning team. Good luck to the coach and the team!

Baseball and track get underway Monday. Anyone in High School is eligible to participate if his age is what it should be. I know there are plenty of boys in our school who are interested in these two sports, so let's all go out, gang. We all can't make the team, but we can all try, can't we? Let's try!

Readers Offered Chance to 'Speak Your Mind'

We have approached by various townspeople on the subject of what to print in a newspaper. We try to impress on them that a newspaper is a blank on which is recorded the opinions and impressions of its readers. It hasn't, nor cannot, have, any opinions of its own if it is to conscientiously serve its public.

A newspaper prints the news; it is a mirror of the actions and reactions of the people. A good newspaper prints both sides of any controversial question without bias.

The NEWS welcomes any and all opinions from the people of Henderson. We want to know how you really feel on matter pertaining to the town's welfare. You agree with something that appears in the paper—tell us—if you don't, tell us why. We'll print that too.

The columns of the "News" are open to each and every one of you. Speak freely — that is your constitutional right, and the "NEWS" will see to it that your rights are protected.

Each individual opinion is important. When they are grouped together they tell the story of the public's wishes. Don't be timid about expressing yourself. Your newspaper is your public servant, but can only be that if you make it so.

With this in mind, the "NEWS" is inaugurating a new column which will be called "THE SOAP BOX." In it you can exercise your privilege of speaking your mind. We invite you to write us and tell us what you think, and through THE SOAP BOX your neighbors will get to know how YOU feel.

"WE SHOULD BE PROUD"

By LeROY HAMILTON
"Most of us are very glad that we can go to a school without paying. We have been very fortunate in having free books, paper and many other accessories that we need. We are all glad to have a democratic government instead of some other kind that would make us do what it says and only what it says. The government has homes for every one here, free water, and electricity. We should be very proud that we have a government that will give us such things without charge. I believe the children in Henderson are some of the most fortunate, and have a better chance to get an education without charge. The reason we are this fortunate is because we have good, clean, Democratic country and government."

7-2 NEWS IN BRIEF

Monday morning some of the girls were busy washing the windows, floors, walls, desks, and blackboards. Monday morning when we arrived at school Mr. McCaw and Miss Morris were cleaning up what they could of the mess that had been made. Someone had broken into the room and much damage was done. This has been the third room which has been broken into. Anyone knowing anything about this, please report it to the office.

QUIET PLEASE

"Sue, Sherrin, Alice, Barbara, Penny, Verie, and Gail, please try to walk a little more quietly when you walk across the floor," is the sentence that is repeated by most of the teachers in the 7-2 class. The girls are very noisy. Someone should take pity on the teachers and take the taps off.

TOURNAMENT AT KINGMAN

A basketball tournament was held at Kingman, Arizona, the 24th and 25th of February. Henderson Elementary School took part, but were defeated by Prescott, Arizona, and Packer Public School, Arizona. Our cheer leaders attended. After the game, even though there were a few low spirits, the cheer leaders, the team, and a few boys from Fifth Street School in Las Vegas, crammed into a few booths and celebrated. Some fun huh?

FADS

The eighth grade girls have thought of many different ways of dressing and of wearing different kinds of trinkets on sleeves and cuffs. One of these "fads" is wearing safety pins on jeans. The bigger the pin, the better they are liked. Also wearing the brightest colors and the loudest plaids is a favorite idea among many students. Many of the children wear bright red or blue hats, writing names, familiar sayings, and pinning funny little pins on the hats is practiced all the time. These "fads" are familiar among all 8-1 girls.

FUTURE LEADERS

Florence Prince of 8-1 is nominated as this week's future leader. Florence is well known for her wonderful sense of humor. She could cheer a person up who has been in mourning a long time. Florence is very studious and will go far in future life.

Another famous future leader is Donald Reck of 8-1. Don is very smart, and he is one person who is usually always quiet (except when he and Bruce Kressler get together). Donald is envied by a lot of people because he makes A's all the time.

TICKET SELLING CONTEST

There is a contest being held throughout the high school and eighth grade. Two teams have been chosen in the eighth grade, with ten girls on one team and ten boys on the other team. The teams compete by seeing which team can sell the most tickets. The tickets are for a dance held by the PTA. All the proceeds taken in will be used to buy curtains for the high school gym. Tickets are priced at 50c for adults and 30c for children. No children under the eighth grade are allowed to attend, so get your tickets from any one of these people: Betty Hosteler, ph. 1148-W-2 or 7 Arkansas; Ramona Church, 1151-3-2 or 87 E. ## State Health Department Offers Free Films to Schools and Organizations

Use of movie shorts in the field of health has been increasing by leaps and bounds in recent years, and Nevada is sharing in the expansion.

Some of the leading theaters in the state are currently including in their regular programs two health shorts, "Be Your Age," and "So Much For So Little", both of which are proving entertaining as well as educational.

The state health department maintains a small library of 16-millimeter films which can be drawn upon by schools and organizations at any time.

Loaned without charge save for return postage, these films have gained wide use throughout the state. Some of them are shown by state workers in special fields as restaurant sanitation and venereal disease control, while others of more general nature are loaned out by mail.

Newest film in our small but growing library is a Disney short entitled "How Disease Travels", which is proving highly popular among school groups.

Some have contended that this form of instruction is too much of a spoon-fed method to do the pupil lasting good, but this opinion is strongly refuted on the grounds that education should be a pleasant enterprise and that the screen affords the clearest and most easily-remembered instruction that can be given.

Another advantage of health movie shorts is that they remove the barrier between school days and adult days so that all ages can keep up with public health progress through an attractive medium.

Joyce to Run for School Trustee

Edward M. Joyce, 314 Kansas, Henderson, who is running against Robert Dietrich for the short term office of school trustee, has been a resident of Nevada since 1931 and of the Townsite since 1942, and at present is employed as operator at the water treatment plant here. He is Finance Chairman of the Henderson District, Boy Scouts of America, and holds a similar position with the Building Fund of St. Peter's Parochial School. The Joyce family moved to Henderson in 1944 and their son, Bill, attended Basic High until he joined the Navy in 1945.

Variety Show Tomorrow Night Is Sponsored By Women's Bowling

The Variety Show which is being put on by The Henderson Women's Bowling Association at the High School Auditorium tomorrow promises to be a hit.

In addition to twelve acts of vaudeville, a skit entitled "Mrs. Apple and Her Corps" will be offered. This skit, from all reports, is a hilarious bit of whimsy, and features local talent. In the lead are Sylvia Barka as Mrs. Apple, and Elsa Lee, who will portray Nellie Nibblebit. The cast of characters include: Gladys Bouska, Betty Lorentz, Vera Mainor, Glennis Hughes, Mae Staley, Mary Rogers, Jackie Walkenshaw, Mary Jo Parker, and Juanita Williams.

The musical comedy numbers will feature Bobbie Combs, who does a specialty, J. Van Valey as Hula Hattie, Pratt Prince in the role of Madame Butterfly, Ray Shutt as Scherazade and Reg Crumley, who will be Miss Henderson of 1950.

The Sullivan Sisters will offer songs and music, and other specialties will be given by Linda Stapleton, Marcia Kay Weese, Elaine Williams, DeeDee Turner, Kay Mawson Combs, and Faye Mann.

Marden J. Turner will act as the Master of Ceremonies.

Songs will be rendered by Charlie Bontrager, Claud Pullen, Floyd McDonald, and John Staley. Roy Delaney and Ruth Ball will be the accompanists, and Glennis Hughes and Juana Williams will play the guitar.

This is a benefit performance to raise funds for travelling expenses to the State Bowling Tournament which is being held in Reno from March 24th through the 26th, and in addition a portion of the proceeds will be set aside for the purpose of making more teen age activities available in Henderson.

Admission will be 50c for adults—35c for teen-agers and 25c for children. The committee feels that Henderson will get its money's worth by attending this show, and hopes that a large turnout will make it possible for them to accomplish their aims.

The show has been timed for two hours and 15 minutes, with the curtain rising promptly at 8 p.m.

CANDIDATES

Robert Dietrich of the Stauffer Chemical Company, filed last Saturday for the short term post in the Henderson District School Board. He will run in opposition to Ed. Joyce, who works at the Water Plant.

The final day for registration of voters was Monday, February 27th.

Preston Austin of the Townsite Housing Authority, who previously filed for the long term, will be unopposed.

The election will take place on March 4th in Room 10, at the Basic High School for townsite residents, and at the Carver Park School for Victory Village and Carver Park voters. Pittman residents will cast their ballots at the old Magnesium Casting Building at Pittman. The Polls will remain open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

CUB PHOTOGRAPHERS

Mr. Thomas C. Haley, Secretary of the Executive Council, announced on Tuesday, that the March of Theme for the Cub Scouts will be Photography. A Pack meeting, under the direction of Darrell Pitts, is planned for early March to get the Photography project under way.

Theatre tickets were awarded as prizes to Mrs. Frank Schreck's den of Cub Scouts at the Blue and Gold Party last Friday night at the High School Auditorium, for having the best birthday cake.

Thousands Killed on Colorado River

If the headlines screamed "Thousands Killed on Colorado River" we would all be shocked, but last Friday we witnessed just this and only a comparative few knew anything about it. Of course the victims were only small fish but, if someone hadn't slipped up somewhere, they might have grown up and furnished both sport and food for the table for many an angler. It happened at the fish hatchery about a quarter of a mile upstream from the Nelson boat landing, where an electric motor keeps fresh water circulating through the tank where the fingerlings are kept until large enough to be put into the river. Somehow, the power was shut off and no one was on hand to turn on the auxiliary gasoline generator, so thousands upon thousands of pounds of potential edibles gasped their last and went on to a finny hereafter.

Water Investigation to Determine How Much to Go to Arid Areas

The first objective of the Bureau of Reclamation's United Western Investigation is to determine what surplus water, if any may be available for export from the Northwest to water-deficient areas throughout the entire West, S. P. McCasland, Engineer in charge of the investigation, announced today.

The investigation is now estimating the water which may be available in the Columbia River and other streams of the Northwest, including those of northern California, after a supply for all possible future demands of the Northwest has been reserved, McCasland said. In short, he explained, the study constitutes a preliminary reconnaissance to ascertain the justification for a more detailed investigation in connection with the diversion and multiple exchange of surplus and waste waters from the Northwest to areas with a deficient supply.

The reconnaissance was initiated because of the badly unbalanced distribution of supply and demand throughout the West. McCasland points out, for example, that the entire supply afforded by the Colorado River is estimated at less than 5 per cent of the water which now flows to the ocean in north coastal streams.

The reconnaissance, initiated last year through a special Project Planning Office established in Salt Lake City, is to be completed in 1952. In keeping with Congressional policy governing investigations of land and water resources, all States affected by the study will be invited to review the Bureau's reconnaissance report on the United Western Investigation and make comments on it, which comments, together with those of other Federal agencies, will be transmitted to the Congress.

In determining future water needs, a summary is being made of all the lands which might ever be irrigated under future conditions, McCasland explained. A similar estimate is being made for industrial, municipal, and all other foreseeable water uses which might arise under conditions of ultimate development. Being considered as available for export are only the waters which would remain after a supply had been reserved for these present and potential local demands.

The study also will include making cost estimates of the various ways in which any surplus water in the Northwest might be transported to the areas where it would be used, and such costs will be compared with the benefits which would accrue as a result of the new water made available in the areas of deficiency. If these comparisons are favorable, it is expected that detailed investigations and plans will follow.

Investigation will be made of the means by which the plan could compensate for any disadvantage to existing or future power production which might result from the export of water otherwise utilizable for power. Exploration will be made of the possibility of using steam power for such means.

McCasland said that municipal, industrial, and agricultural use for water in large areas, particularly in the southwestern United States, is growing at a rate which will in the near future exceed the supply. As local surface supplies are fully exploited and ground water reserves exhausted, expansion or even maintenance of the accomplished development will depend upon imported water supply. The problem is to work out a long-range plan for progressively satisfying these needs as they arise, from the best possible sources of water supply.

Census Enumerators Receive $8 a Day, Francis Heher Explains

Persons employed as enumerators for the 17th Decennial Census in the Henderson District will earn about $8 or $9 per day it is announced by Francis R. Heher, Census District Supervisor, whose office is located at the Carver Park Administration Building in Henderson, Nevada. The enumerator's pay scale is based on the payment of piece prices, so much per name, per form, or per dwelling unit enumerated in the Census.

Applications for enumerator jobs now are being received by the District Supervisor's Office. Approximately 100 positions are to be filled. Most of the enumerators will be employed for a period of from two to four weeks. They will be expected to complete their work within a limited period of time without regard to the customary number of hours worked each day or week. Evening work will be necessary in order to reach occupants of dwellings who are away during daytime calls, but no overtime will be paid.

Enumerators must have a high school education or equivalent experience, be in good health and of good character, between the ages of 21 and 65. Veterans will be given preference over non-veterans provided they are otherwise qualified. Rural enumerators must furnish their own cars. The method of payment and the rate of pay will provide for the expense of operating cars on official Census business.

Persons received Federal retirement pay, state and local government employees, law enforcement officers, officers of political organizations or persons engaged in political activity are ineligible for employment.

The company clerk had a hangover to end all hangovers. He asked the first sergeant for advice. "Hey, Sarge, I really got butterflies in my stomach." "Take an aspirin and they'll go away." "I did. Now they're playing ping-pong with it."

The feasibility of exchanges which might permit greater upstream utilization of the water resources of the Colorado and other rivers is an important phase of the study. An example is a possible multiple exchange of water whereby imported water would replace or expand present uses in southern California, thereby releasing some of the Colorado River water now used in that area and making it available for possible use in other Colorado River Basin States.

Assisting the Project Planning Office in Salt Lake City with the study are the Regional Offices of the Bureau in Boise, Idaho, Sacramento, California; Boulder City, Nevada; and Salt Lake City, Utah.

Reveal More Need For Federal Road Aid

Senator Pat McCarran, D. Nev., said today a report of the Joint Committee on Economic Report of the Congress reveals a pressing need for more federal assistance to Nevada for highway construction.

McCarran pointed out that the report on highways and the nation's economy released this week by the committee estimates it will cost $36,264,000 to modernize the federal aid highway system in Nevada.

The report states that out of the total, $54,290,000 would be used to improve 1,626 miles on the rural federal aid system. Another $5,324,000 would be needed for 35 miles of improvements on the urban federal-aid system.

Another $23,660,000 would go into needed work on the 1,375 miles of the secondary Federal-aid system, according to the report. The remaining $2,990,000 would pay for the construction and reconstruction of structure.

The report broke the construction down:

	Miles	Amount
Widening	817	$16,754,000
Improvement on new alignment	1,196	$36,577,000
Resurfacing and reconstruction on new	1,023	$28,536,000
Right-of-way		1,407,000
Bridges (143)		2,990,000
Total	3,036	$86,264,000

The statistics were compiled by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads. The report estimated that if the program were spread over a 10-year period it would cost another $6,662,000 for stopgap improvements; $1,665,000 for replacement of new work and 17,514,000 for replacements of presently nondeficient sections which would fail during the time.

The total amount of money needed to bring Nevada Federal aid systems to acceptable standards within 10 years is therefore, $112,105,000.

The state now has under construction highway work valued at $4,463,389. The state is building 69.5 miles of new construction on the secondary system at an estimated cost of $732,240 and has under way 111.3 miles of construction on new alignment or reconstruction on the primary system at a probable cost of $3,731,149.

FISHING GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Highfill of 247 Atlantic, welcomed Mr. Fred Nelson of Los Angeles, California, and Mrs. Janet Stucker, Glendale, Calif., last Friday night. The guests came complete with fishing equipment, so that they might try their luck with rod and reel at Lake Mead. Mrs. Highfill reports that fishing was so good they remained over Monday to do a bit more casting at Vegas Wash. Both Mr. Nelson and Mrs. Stucker were in agreement on the excellence of fishing in Southern Nevada waters.

SAD JOURNEY

Father Albert Stephens, Vicar of St. Timothy's, Episcopal Church, left Monday, February 27th, for San Bernardino, Calif., to accompany the body of Mr. C. W. Davis to that city for cremation.

Father Stephens then continued on to Los Angeles, to take care of Church matters. He expected to return to Henderson by Thursday.

HIGH SCHOOL PTA MEETS

The High School PTA will hold its regular monthly board meeting on March 6th at 7 p.m. in Room No. 10, the language room, at the Basic High School. Immediately following the board meeting there will be a Senior Mothers meeting.

This meeting is important because of a special discussion which is planned relative to nominations. All members are urged to attend.

These estimates include only the work necessary on the presently constituted federal-aid system. The only report said it is also essential to improve those

Well, we see where our own "Dead End" kids have been going to night school again, this time breaking into Room No. 5 in the elementary school building over last weekend and messing it up in a very efficient manner. Inkwells were dumped into desks, ink splattered over the walls and school papers torn up and tossed about the room. Perhaps a learned psychologist could fathom the reason for this type of vandalism, probably stemming from a deep seated hatred of school authority in general, but Mr. McCaw, school principal is getting a bit "fed up" with their actions. Threat of expulsion or a stretch in the reform school at Ely do not seem to have a deterring effect on this gang of hoodlums, so perhaps the application of a strap where it would do the most good, after they are caught, would be more efficient punishment.
