"PRESERVING FOR POSTERITY"

from the PRESIDENT'S PEN

Having spent so much time the last few months in re-modeling our home, I look forward to our January workshop as a point at which to get "back into harness", and really spend some time on my elusive ancestors.

Starting with this issue, "The Prospector" will be running a series of 5-generation pedigree charts for C.C.N.G.S. members. Anyone wishing to contact the person whose chart is being published may do so by directing a letter to our P.O. Box 1929, Las Vegas, NV 89125.

I am very gratified to have been involved in our first group effort to record a cemetery, the results of which appear in this issue. 1985 shall, I hope, see other such efforts in print.

In closing, I wish each and every one a very happy New Year, filled with the hope that everyone will find their genealogical "pot of gold" at the foot of the rainbow.

EARTHQUAKE OF 1906 NEWS

SAN FRANCISCO EARTHQUAKE (18 April 1906) - Mrs. Gladys Hansen, San Francisco Archivist has made a thorough search of all available records regarding the San Francisco earthquake, and her records show 826 known dead, much higher than the 478 given by the 1907 Board of Supervisors. She believes this figure is still much too low. If you have any knowledge of any person killed in the 1906 disaster, please write to her with what information you have. The names of the dead will be entered in the official roster in the Public Library, available to researchers of history and genealogy.

If you are looking for information of someone killed in the 1906 earthquake and fire, you may write to:

Mrs. Gladys Hansen

Please enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope for your reply.

BEATRICE BAYLEY, HALBERT'S INC., and SHARON TAYLOR have now all changed their advertising policy so that they are completely within the law to sell their merchandise. They will not represent that a specific book has been written unless it in fact has been written. They do not advertise that their products pertain to the purchasers own family ancestry or lineage, and that any research in this regard must be done by the purchaser. The books are now described as a "GUIDE (emphasis added) to the discovery and documentation of your own personal and family heritage." Also, the companies have agreed not to misrepresent the title of genealogical books or the extent to which the books are personalized, and not to represent that money or time has already been expended in researching a prospective purchaser's family name, unless this is the case. This action was for settlement purposes only and did not constitute any admission by these companies that it had violated the law.

So, just remember that - there are people out there who will do anything to part you from your money. If you have any questions regarding such advertisements in the mail, write and ask those questions, and remember to send a S.A.S.E. when asking for any help or information.

This information was in the fall '84 quarterly of the Genealogical Association of Sacramento in a longer form and had been written by their President, Lorraine Linear.

AMATEUR GENEALOGISTS, don't despair - there are several excellent and reliable mail order resources to help you with your genealogy.

The National Archives and Records Service (7th and Pennsylvania Ave. N.W.; Washington, D.C. 20408) offers a free "genealogical package" with pamphlets and forms for the beginners.

The National Genealogical Society (1921 Sunderland Place N.W.; Washington, D.C. 20036) is a nonprofit organization, and has a loan-by-mail reference library and offers a home study course. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for more information.

ODE TO A SAILOR

(Dedicated to the veterans buried in an abandoned weed-filled cemetery in Las Vegas.)

I came again today
to stand beside your grave and read again your name
and when you went away.

Yesterday, thirteen came to list the dates and names of the sixty-two, with you,
sleeping on this lonely hill.
In the shadow of the tree where all is soft and still.

But a path leads to your resting place
and I wonder who comes so often.
Do you know when they are here?
Do you know they still care?
Do you know you're not forgotten?

Sailor boy, you died so young
I pause to weep in the shade
You could be any mother's son
God chose it to be this way.

A Las Vegas Cemetary

This cemetary is located between Main Street and Las Vegas Blvd., North (5th St.), west of Foremaster Lane. It was catalogued on October 13, 1984 by members of the Clark County Nevada Genealogical Society.

In spite of it's fairly recent use (late 1960's), there is much information lacking about this cemetary. It does not seem to have been planned - the graves aren't in any particular order. The funeral home who maintained it - Sunset Funeral Chapel - abandoned it and "left the country". No one cares for it - occasionally it is cleaned up as a service project by some local group.

During the cataloguing process, different persons covered different areas of the cemetary, copying the information from the stones or plaques onto index cards. The catalog number refers simply to one of the grave plots in a small area catalogued by a person. Comments and information from the cataloguer and/or typist are included in parentheses.

CCNGS is currently attempting to obtain more statistical information about the persons who are buried here. If and when it is obtained, we will associate it with the following information and publish it in a later edition of The Prospector.

NOTE: Since there is no particular order to the placement of graves, names have been listed in alphabetical order.

DID YOU KNOW?

SOCIAL SECURITY INFORMATION - If you would like to obtain a copy of the application file for someone who applied for Social Security, you must submit a photocopy of the death certificate of the individual concerned. Address your inquiry to your local Social Security Office; they will forward your request to the main office. Include the name and social security number (SSN) of the person. State that you make the request under the F.O.I./P.A. (Freedom of Information/Privacy Act) which permits release of the data once an individual is deceased. Ask for a photocopy of the original application for the SSN. Original applications are being computerized by the Social Security Administration. You will receive either a photocopy of the original application or a photocopy of the computerized version. Included will be the name, names of parents, date and exact place of birth, residence, place of employment, and the original has your relative's signature. There is no cost for this service. Usually exact places of birth are given even for foreign births.

Missouri News

Anyone wishing to join a genealogical society in the state of Missouri, should be wary of joining MoSGA [Missouri State Gene. Association].

According to the information brochure which I wrote for, membership was to include the following:

1. The JOURNAL, published quarterly. [My first issue was not delivered until 9 June 1984 -- the second issue arrived the same day.]
2. The NEWSLETTER, published quarterly. [I have only rec'd two for the entire year.]
3. Inter-library loan of MoSGA books. [A letter needed to be sent to the library for a list of available titles -- I sent the letter, but have never received the list.]

I have, to date, sent four letters complaining of the service, or perhaps I ought to say, the lack of it. My third letter invoked a response from the President, Stuart Purvines, dated 5 July 1984, stating that he wished to straighten out the problem. My letter to him has yet to be acted upon.

I was very pleased with the JOURNAL and the NEWSLETTER, and wished to continue with my membership in this society. But I consider it a waste of time to belong to an organization which is unresponsive to it's membership. [I will also add that I sent a stamped, self-addressed envelope with each letter, except for the last one.]

G.T.T. - If you have an ancestor that lived in the south during the Civil War, and then suddenly they disappeared when their crops and homes were destroyed, chances are they left a sign "G.T.T." somewhere on their property so that any loved ones coming along later would know that they had "GONE TO TEXAS". In some of the southern records, you will find these letters used when someone has been taken off of the tax rolls.

GRETCHEN CHRISTINE SCHROEDER BORCHERS

July 4, 1984 was the first day of the rest of my life. I was visiting my mother in Stockton, Mo. for the annual family reunion with my sister and brothers, when my mother showed me a book published in 1915 about my mother's family tree dating back to the first Hoffman that arrived in the USA in 1750. I was astonished! I had no idea that ordinary people like me had a book written about their ancestors. Our family had never been close. I'd only seen my uncles a few times when I was young. Then I moved 1500 miles from home and just lost contact with everyone. Now all of a sudden I was part of a long continuing line of family. I was intranced! Mother told me my first cousin whom I hadn't seen since I was 18 and he was 12 was interested in genealogy. She didn't even have his address or phone number, but did know the town he lived in. I called him one Sunday and he told me he had some information that he would send me and that he was happy to hear of my interest in genealogy. He also had the name of a very distant cousin that lived right here in Las Vegas.

Two weeks later I received a large envelope in the mail. Excerpts of a different book published in 1955 about another of my mother's family, the Saye family, plus the name and phone number of the cousin. This new book traced the Saye family back to 1750 also, and MY NAME WAS THERE! MY NAME! Published in a book! A book that had been in existence since 1955 and I didn't even know that it existed! I was amazed! Elated! My heart stopped! Then it pounded! I felt like jumping to the roof of the house and shouting: Look at me! I'm a Real People! a VIP! I'm some one, I'm in a book!

And there was the name of the cousin so close, just a phone away. I called immediately. She was as excited as I was when I told her who I was. She had lived here in Las Vegas since 1963 and I had lived here since 1958 and we never knew the other one existed. She had been studying her family tree since 1975 and had no idea a member of the family lived so close. We got together the next day. She talked of her goal of creating a family association to try to bring the family closer together. She said that there were only 200-250 related families in the USA. We talked of the book and I told her I felt we should try to get it reprinted to enable more people to be aware of their roots. We agreed to start together to create a family association with that goal in mind; to republish the E.H.Saye book with the hope of gathering enough interested people to perhaps make a new book, bring the material up to date.

We started working on our first inquiry. In 1975, Pat had been contacted by Beatrice Bayley, who had sent her a book with information on how to start tracing her family tree and also names and addresses of Sayes all over the USA. Pat had sent out a letter in 1981 to all the names and had gotten responses from 30-40 people. These were the people we now contacted. We told them of our plan to gather people together in an association to promote the republishing of the E.H.Saye book.

People started responding. It was wonderful! We had letters from people who were also studying genealogy and had a lot of information. One: Don Paul Saye of Foster City, Ca. had been studying the relation to the Saye family in England. It seems that William the Conqueror had awarded the title of Lord to a William De Saye from Normandy, who had provided him with arms and serfs to fight the battles in England in 1066. The title Lord Saye was passed down from father to son till 1399 at which time there was no male heir so the title went to an aunt who was married to a Fiennes and so the title of Lord Saye passed out of the family Saye to the family Fiennes. However Don Paul Saye feels if we researched enough we would be able to trace the family Saye here in the USA back to a second son, somewhere between 1066-1399.

Another: Fielding Henry Saye of Santa Rosa, Ca. has been studying a Col Richard Saye 1801-1887 who was a very colorful figure. Born in Bolivar, Mo where he helped survey a new county, Greene County, Mo., he then followed the adventurers that went to California for the gold rush of 1849 and ran cattle from Utah to Calif. till he died there in Calif. His grave site had been lost to memory of the Saye family till Fielding happened to find it earlier this year through careful deduction and painstaking research.

Pat found some information on starting a family association in a genealogy book and we drew up a charter and by-laws to send to the Secretary of State of Nevada to have a non-profit corporation so we can receive money for the purpose of contacting Sayes all over the USA, to receive and record the information they send and compile it all so we can publish a book using the E.H.Saye book for a base and bring it up date and correct some errors that have been found in it. We also hope to use more pictures, maps, copies of official documents, anything to make the book more informative and alive.

I feel in this time of separated families and the constant fear of the bomb, it is a good way to give people a feeling of closeness and continuity in their lives, a feeling of hope for the future from finding a link with the past.
