SENIORS PRESENT NOVEL ASSEMBLY

The Senior Class finding themselves faced with the problem of presenting an assembly, gathered some of the talent from the class and managed to produce the following:

In somewhat of an imaginative form a floor show appeared as the plot of the skit. It took place in the radio station of Gymino Hotel.

Gary Ramburg acting as master of ceremonies opened the show with Mimi Pickard and Fe Fe Barilleaux giving their interpretation of a dance. (No certain kind, just a dance.) And believe me, their interperatation should have been explained.

PARKING TROUBLES SOLVED !!!!!

There has been a rumor circulating around among the students at Basic High, that there has been parking difficulties on, the most likely short cut home, Zombie Road.

After thinking about this problem for three days I have at last found the answer. Please notice--

For the unfortunate pairs that cannot find a place to park on Zombie Road, there is another short cut named "Willie Wog" which is a road less populated, also has less traffic, is a bit darker, and has more curves.

This road may not please all the local parkers but I think the biggest majority of the kids will be over-joyed to know there is more than one short cut home after dances, games, etc.

That is all the information I have at the present time but until someone comes up with a better idea, I hope you have an enjoyable parking on "Willie Wog" and Zombie Roads.

LETTERMEN'S INITIATION!!

A much dreaded Lettermen's Club initiation was held last November 20th. Being chaperoned by Coach McDoniel the affair was held in somewhat of an orderly manner.

The initiation has been calmed down considerably in the past few years, mostly because it was getting out of hand and instead of an initiation, it was becoming just a brutal fete of barbarism.

Paddling was limited to only necessity, for example when one of the new members refused to be cooperative.

No serious injuries were inflicted but a few of the newly lettered preferred to stand, rather than sit in their followin day classes. And, as agreed by other members of their classes, the odor was quite strong among them.

CAN YOU IMAGINE

- Louetta S.-----Talking to Barbara Davis.
- Betty R.-----Without her brace.
- Janet V.V.-----Without Marvin in the background.
- Jerry K.-----About 5 feet tall.
- Sue L.-----Without a pack of boys around.
- Penny M.-----With her hair cut.
- Jeanene A.-----With long hair.
- CreamPuff-----Weighing 98 pounds.
- Patsy R.-----Not dreaming of her trumpet player.
- Jean D.-----Without a henna on her hair.
- Herb W.-----Without his hair hanging down in his face.
- Lola F.-----Not making A's.
- Shirley H.-----With a smile.
- Virginia G.-----Without Red.
- Tommy B.-----Not having to push his car to Family Relations.
- Charolette V.-----Without a smile.
- JoAnne S.-----Not being friendly.
- Mr. Athis-----Chewing gum.
- Gary R.-----About 6 feet tall.
- Connie H.-----Without her gum.
- Judy M.-----Not giving Mr. Athis grey hair.
- Janette A.-----Without Aaron's letter sweater.
- Sherwood C.-----Recovering from the shock of ditch day.
- Jack M.-----Not winking at Janet.
- Sidney P.-----Without a song.

SENIOR ASSEMBLY CONT. FROM PAGE ONE

Next in the spotlight appeared a lovely trio consisting of Phyllis Wilkinson, JoAnne Schwartz and Lois Walker---impersonating the Andrew Sister's version of "Roses" also "Now is the Hour."

Then fighting their way back on stage Mimi and Fe Fe, dressed as two high school boys, did an impersonation of Frankie Laine. That little act also went over like a lead balloon.

Finally in another desperate attempt, "Mimi and Fe Fe teamed up with one of the Andrew Sisters posing as Phyllis Wilkinson, and sang "Bonaparte's Retreat."

Lois Walker, closed the show with her rendition of "You can't Break the Chains of Love."

This editorial should have been printed in the first issue of the El Lobo this year, and it should be printed in the first issue next year and the following years. The paper costs you a dime, unless you're reading your neighbor's in study-hall, or in some other class. You probably don't realize it, but it costs $42 to have this paper printed every three weeks, pictures cost extra, but we want you to have a paper you can be proud of. Of course, the fact that some weeks, after spending $45 or so having the paper printed we only sell five dollars worth of El Lobos to the students, gives the journalism class gray hairs and helps put Mr. Athis's foot a little more into the grave.

You know our school is small and were competing against larger schools in everything we do. At football games we have two terrific majorettes to perform during the half time, and the other schools always manage to have 5 or 6 terrific majorettes to perform. We have a wonderful seventeen piece band, and the other schools have wonderful 50 piece bands. When we are able to put something out that is better than anything any other school in the state can put out, you'd think the students at BES would be proud enough of it to want to help support it.

That's how it is with our paper, it's the best one in the state. And we should feel that it is a privilege to help support it. The ads that local businessmen place in the paper pay about half of the $42 that it costs to have it printed. This means in order to keep in the clear, we should sell 200 papers to the 245 students at BES.

DON'T BE A JOURNALIST

Hmmm, here it is Monday morning again and our Journalism assignments are due 5th period so I suppose I'd better get started on my Inquiring Reporter Question. Lets see, I only need about 25 different answers and figuring with 5 minutes between classes minus 3 minutes between each class period to go to my locker and get my books and one minute to get to class, that leaves exactly three minutes spare time to ask 25 kids the Inquiring Reporter Question and get their answers. Now if I rush with my lunch, I might be able to get back during noon hour about two minutes early, and then I can always go to Journalism class late and save at least three minutes there. Of course, I'll lose about a minute of that time thinking up a "good one" to tell Mr. Atis about why I'm late. Well, that solves my time problem and it comes out pretty good this week--seven minutes. Lets see now, pencil sharpened, "JOURNALISM NOTEBOOK" tucked under my arm, I guess I'm all set to go--wait!!!!--I guess I'd better think up a question first. How about something original like "What do you suggest to improve parking facilities on Zombie?", or maybe a question that would be of interest to everyone like "Do you think the Swallows will return to Capastrano again this year?"

DITCH DAY

At 8:00 Friday morning December 1 the Senior Class was seen huddling behind the Community Church ready to take off for the annual ditch day.

Everyone was prompt and on time to leave, especially after the little talk Coach gave about being late. At 8:30 when Coach finally arrived everyone seemed ready to leave and after waiting for Sid Pickard to beat up the passengers in his car in order to pay for the gas, the happy group departed at last for Mt. Charleston.

After arriving the outdoor type promptly hiked up to a nearby mountain peak that went five miles straight up. (or at least seemed to). The less athletic were found down at the Mt. Charleston Lodge driving the Proprietors mad by playing Frankie Laine records.

Around noon everyone gathered down at the lodge where they carved their initials into the old rustic wood railing. Some of the boys not only put their initials but carved their full names including middle names into the wood in letters 5 inches high.

The only mishap of the day was when Cliff Hunter fell down a mountain side and sprained his ankle.

Near war occurred when George Rostine threw stones at Troy Craft. This does not sound too serious but Troy happened to be standing in a foot of water holding Billie Geither on his shoulders, Rostine being no fool was no where to be found after Troy waded out of the gold fish pond--after the 2 quarts of water were shaken out of Troys boots, fifteen adventuring seniors climbed into Jack McGinty's pick-up to explore the great unknown but this excursion into the great unknown was halted when the truck ran out of roads to run on.

Finally at 2:30 making sure every bit of food had been eaten, the mighty seniors descended Mt. Charleston in time to get back to school and thrill the less fortunate with their talks about ditch day.

PERSONALITIES

Well kids here we are once more with our personality column. I know you are all interested in knowing who they are, but you'll have to guess first and I'll tell you later in this column. We have chosen two personalities, who are from the senior class.

Here's a few hints about our first personality who is a boy. He was born in Minneapolis, Minnesota, on March the 30th, in the year 1932. He has reddish brown hair and blue eyes, he's 5 feet 8 1/2 in. tall and weighs 175 pounds. He's been in Henderson for 2 years. His favorite pastime is to go out with the gang. His favorite food is chicken. He's in such organizations as the Letterman's Club, Teenage, and mixed Chorus. Well there's the hints on our first personality. Do you know who it is? Of course you do! He's real popular and nice. His name is--Bill Hesse.

Now for our second personality who of course is a girl. She was born in Tucson Arizona in the year of 1933 on October 21st. She has brown hair and green eyes. She's 5 feet, 3 inches tall and she weighs 106 pounds. She has lived here in Henderson for five years. Her favorite past time is "Boys." Her favorite food is marshmallow sundaes. She's the president of Commercial Club.

Of course you know who it is now, don't you? Sure you do, she is real cute and sweet and by her name she's known as Marian Autry.

A NEW WORLD SITUATION IS UPON US

A new world situation is upon us. What will it mean to us, this new conflict across the sea?

For many senior boys, it means that this will be the last year of schooling for awhile. Many of the boys who would have been seniors are already in the basic training camps in one or another of the armed services. This war will affect not only the immediate graduating class, but the classes for several years to come.

The time has come to learn discipline and to grow adult. The times demand an adult outlook and attitude from all of us. We have a year, or two, or three at most. Make the most of them. We should avail ourselves of the reserve officers' training course, Physics aeronautics and other subjects valuable to our coming "master production."

We were born to freedom: we must now realize that each generation must safeguard and maintain that which is our heritage. This conflict concerns us as individuals. Where as World War II concerned our fathers and brothers. This time we are the active participants.

So there is one year. Perhaps the last normal year in our lives for a period. It's a time of hard work, hard play, and stark reality. We must gain knowledge, friends, and widen our whole scope of interests. For this may be the last chance before we ourselves are in the conflict.

This is the important year—what will it mean to us?

A WORD TO THE WISE

People who live in glass houses shouldn't throw stones—and people who have classes in the journalism room shouldn't leave their notes laying around, someone on the El Lobo staff might find them and then, thats all brother! For instance here's a little gem that found its way into the hands of one of our reporters.

Nancy,

I got a letter today from Scot. He won't be able to come. His brother wrecked his new Buick and his paw won't let him use the Chevrolet. Unless his brother buys him a car in Dec. sometime he won't be able to get down here till March—March mind you! I'm getting so I could choke him. Excuses, excuses, excuses is all I get and I'm fed up with him. I'm through with boys, I tell you I'M THROUGH.

as ever,
Ramona

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

Every year at about this time it seems as if the boys come in earlier. They're so helpful with the dishes. Jump, when asked to go to the store. What brings this about. Surely they have not under gone a reformation. Could it be they're keeping their eyes ahead to the 25th? Could our young gentlemen have ulterior motives, such as that rifle down in Vegas or maybe that sweet little 34 on the lot for only $75.

Strange as it seems every year they pull the same stunt and every year it works. Perhaps the powers that be, are duped or more likely they get as big a kick out of the reformation as we have trouble putting it on.

ALUMNI HOME FOR CHRISTMAS

Many of Basic's old alumni will be seen around Henderson more and more, as the majority of Universities, Junior Colleges, and other schools will dismiss for a two week vacation.

Returning from the University of Nevada are:

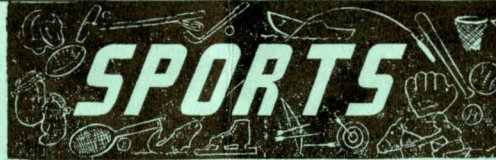

Marcia and Connie Malcolm, Joan and Loel Miller, Patti Zahm, Bobbie Jean Cummings, Jean Paulson, Duane Leubach, Max Gobles, Chad Conbs, Alex and Bob Mackie, and Barbara Hendrickson.

Returning from San Bernadino Valley Junior College will be: June Davis and Chuck Galloway, and returning from the University of New Mexico, Lucille Haynes.

SIX RETURNING LETTERMEN HELP BOLSTER CAGE SQUAD

November 20th, thirty young basketball aspirants turned out to try for the Varsity and Junior Varsity teams. So there will be twenty out of the thirty or more playing this year.

The Basic Wolves will have one of the tallest teams around here. Leading the timber toppers is Ronald Hamblin who is 6' 4", forward and is pretty good at tip-ins and rebounds. Next is Troy Craft 6' 3", center, who is a returning letterman. Bill Stitt, a rebound snagger hits at 6' 2" who is also a returning letterman. Gerry Kizzia is also 6' 2" tall. Quite a team, huh!!!

George Rostine a returning two year letterman has shown to be a pretty hot at putting in from far out. Stanley Hickman a reserve from last year is a long shot artist and is pretty good at bringing in and dunking them in. Next is Herb Jones, a flashy and fakey returning letterman, rounds out the choice for the first six any way. The rest is undecided.

The Wolves first game is at home Jan. 5, 1951 with the Blythe Yellowjackets and Jan. 6 we play Boulder City at Boulder.

So with a team like this and some good team work we may go up state.

Good luck fellas!!

SEASONS GREETINGS

RENO HUSKIES TAKE STATE TITLE IN CLOSE RACE

The Reno Huskies, after defeating the Las Vegas Wildcats 13-6, looms as Nevada State football champs—but Ely would have shared that crown if they had beaten the Wildcats, the second game.

It all started when White Pine Bobcats played the Wildcats last November 11. They played for the southern zone crown. If either team had won they could have played Reno for the state crown, but the game finished in a tie, Las Vegas played Reno and lost. The most Vegas could have gotten out of it was the southern zone crown, and the most Ely could have gotten, if they had beaten Vegas, the second game was to be co-champs with Reno. But on Thanksgiving Day, Vegas rolled over Ely 20-7, that gave Vegas the southern zone championship and knocked Ely out of everything and gave Reno the State Crown.

BOWL TEAMS CHOSEN; ROSE BOWL HEADS LIST

With the first of the year coming around there is the excitement of the Bowl games coming up. The principal one is, naturally, the Rose Bowl, with California and Michigan. Then comes the Sugar, Cotton and Orange Bowl's. The Sugar Bowl has the Nation's number one team Oklahoma and Kentucky which was listed as the fifth in the Nation.

In the Cotton Bowl they have Texas and Tennessee. In the Orange Bowl there is Miami and Clemson.

MILLER SELECTED ON ALL-STATE SECOND TEAM

The All-State mythical team has been selected by the Nevada State Journal. The all state team members were selected by coaches and sports writers, and was compiled by Ty Cobb.

Bob Miller represented Basic, making all state second team full back. We had three players making all-state honorable mention: Troy Craft, end; George Rostine, back; and Jones at guard.

Boulder City placed two on the first team and one on the second team. Las Vegas also put two on the first team and one on the second team.

Here is the first team line up:

End----Bill Gadda-----Reno
 End----Chuck Greenwood----Boulder
 Tackle--Hoyt-----Ely
 Tackle--Wally Rusk-----Reno
 Guard---Belding-----Las Vegas
 Guard---Jerry Lazzeri-----Reno
 Center--Bob Hage-----Sparks
 Back---Baxter-----Hawthorne
 Back---Joe Kine-----Boulder
 Back---Ron Engle-----Reno
 Back---Don James-----Las Vegas

BOULDER DROPS HEARTBREAKER TO PASO ROBLES

The Bear Cats from Paso Robles defeated the Boulder City Eagles 20-6 in a hard fought game.

All the scoring was done in the first half of the game. Greenwood went 51 yds for the Eagles only score. Paul Burt turned in a brilliant defense game but the Bear Cats showed superiority.

The Bear Cats now go into the finals against Carpentaria.

HEY GIRLS!!!!!! YOUR BIG CHANCE

Don't look now but we have another new student at Basic, although he isn't really new, but he does have a few friends around here.

He attends classes on time and regularly. First he wanders around to find a suitable place and makes himself comfortable. Then later he listens intently but when things get a little boring or dull he goes to sleep. about half way in his daily lessons he wakes up after his siesta and quietly leaves the room without a word being said to him.

After the third period (English III) and it is lunch time you may see some of his friends eat him on the back and even share their lunch with him.

He made quite a hit with the girls because if it is a little cool they share their coat with him.

By this time it is about time for school to let out and when the bell rings he is among the first to leave the room.

If you have not guessed his name by now, you may be interested to know he is Benny the black and white dog that takes such an interest in our studies. Now do you wonder why he pulls such stunts and gets away with them?

Extending Greetings

The district attorney was questioning the defendant. The man was co-operative, but he addressed all of his answers directly to the attorney.

"Speak to the jury," directed the district attorney. The witness looked the jury over, nodded pleasantly, and said, "Hello, relatives."

DON'T BE A JOURNALIST

This seems to be getting me no where fast---now hold everything a second---why should I be a slave to the Journalism class!---why should I waste seven minutes of my precious time on the Inquiring Reporter column when I could be talking to some of the girls about the dance Saturday instead! What do I get for it anyway----a measly old A or B on my report card!---no sir, I've done all the backbreaking labor for that column I'm going to---carrying around that heavy old "notebook"--I've reformed!!!! Now of course just because I've thrown off the shackles of tyranny, there is no reason for Mr. Athis to know about this. I'll just trot up to the attic, dig into my Aunt's trunk and rescue from the dark depths of dust its been lying in since that last time I needed it for Journalism, my Aunts faithful old Journalism book. I just happened to remember seeing an Inquiring Reporter Column in it that might come in handy for me today.

WOLF HOWLS

I'll bet Van won't let Lois drive his car anymore after that flat tire-----How about it Van??

What's this we hear about Judy and Cassandra and those Boulder Boys Hmmm?????

Hey Manuel! How does it feel to have your old flame back at Basic again Huh??

It was overheard in a 6th period study hall that Shirley H. was going to place her name, address, and telephone number on the bulletin board. I wonder why, huh Shirley?

Ah-ha who is it that we see going steady with Van M. Could it be that cute freshman, Lenna H.

Hey boys! What do you think about the new junior girl, Pat V.H.? Pretty cute, huh??

What's the quarrel between Barbara D. and Louetta S. about?? Could it be a male??

It seems Caryn Y. can't make up her mind between Jerry C. and Herb W.

Who has Mary O. been making eyes at? Can you tell us Bill D.?

Robert McNeil, who was that cute little girl from Boulder City you were with last Sunday?

Well now here's one for the books! Shirley Humphry with her eye on John Mallory--John with his eye on Elnora Owens--Elnora with her eye on Creampuff--and Creampuff mad about Shirley Humphry!!!

Did you notice the look of frustration on Marvin Hudson's face at the Senior Assembly dance as he was torn between Miss Hand-schin and Gail Chase?

Say now, that must be a very romantic band class, another cute couple have been hit by Cupid's arrow during 4th period band. They are Jean Slavin and George Hargrave.

Gosh, that floorshow at the Flamingo must really be something

A couple of the Girls at P.H.S. have been running around with stars in their eyes lately and who do you think is responsible--none other than Frankie Laine's personal drummer and the trumpet player in Garwood Vans orchestra. How about it Patsy and Phyllis???

Wow, Penny how do you rate? An air-mail letter every week from that boy in Indiana!!!

Say Troy where do you find a girl that furnishes the car and the keys both, or should we ask J. D. Huh-h-h-!

SOPHMORE REVERSE BIG SUCCESS

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Wooten and Mrs. Carpenter, Sophomore class sponsors, the annual "Sophomore Reverse" was held December 8th, between 8:30 and 11:30, in the High School Auditorium.

The theme, "Winter Wonder Land", provided a very decorative surrounding. The colors were green red and white. Upon the walls were large murals, portraying different types of winter scenes. The tables were decorated with little snow men and candy.

Cookies, punch, sandwiches and candy provided ample refreshments.

For intertainment, during the intermission, George Hargraves sang and impersonated Digbie O'dell. Gerry Booth aided the entertainment by singing his version of "Three Little Words." Helen Riggins and Clara Kortheur teamed-up with Hargraves and Booth forming a quartet and sang the theme song.

Clay Sims and his orchestra furnished the music.
