JUNIORS PRESENT "RADIO CITY" ASSEMBLY

DeMolay Convention Attracts Three Basic Students

Through the efforts of the St. Omar Priory, Order of DeMolay, three Basic high school students, Gary Vanhorne, Rayfield Cureton and Harold Holberg, attended the National DeMolay Convention which was held in Tucson, Arizona, April third, fourth, fifth and sixth.

On Easter Sunday, the boys attended church, and later put on the Knighthood degree for the assembled DeMolays.

Saturday night the delegates attended a "blind-date" dance at the Student Union Ballroom.

Thursday and Friday were uneventful as they were spent in traveling and resting.

In order to finance this trip, the Priory boys gave a father-son banquet. Masons and their sons from Las Vegas, Henderson and Boulder City were in attendance.

The entertainment was furnished by DeMolays from each of the chapters present. David Kuhn, with his impersonation of Phil Harris was the star performer.

Van Wagenen Recommended By School Board

Six men, A. G. Klinger, Benjamin Cameron, Preston Austin, Frank Heher, Edwin Hickman and E. M. Joyce, have helped to shape the policies which have governed Basic high school since 1942. The phrase, "That will have to be approved by the school board," is a familiar one. Many hours have been devoted to school affairs by the individuals.

N. D. Van Wagenen has been recommended to the state director of Public Instruction by the local school board to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of E. M. Joyce.

TWO CONTESTS CHALLENGE BASICITES ABILITY

Chi Delta Phi, English Honorary Society at the University of Nevada, has announced its annual poetry contest.

"The contest is open to any high school students, and all types of poetry will be accepted. It is hoped that we will be able to offer cash prizes this year to the winners. As usual, if a senior girl wins first or second place she will receive in addition to the cash prize, a year's honorary membership in our society when she comes to the university. The contest closes May 5. All entries should be sent to:

Miss Romaine Roth
Box 9004
University Station
Reno, Nevada"

According to a letter received by the English department of Basic high school.

Sandra Smith (senior), Suzanne Schwartz and Bette Hostetler won first, second and third place, respectively, in the district essay contest sponsored by the VFW Ladies' Auxiliary, Mrs. Herb Crosby, district chairman, announced on April 8. "Democracy Is What We Make It", was the topic of the essay.

Judges of the contest were: Rev. Ford Gilbert, Mr. W. C. Coleman and Mrs. S. R. Dubravac.

Cash prizes will be given at the award assembly on May 15.

Sandra will represent Southern Nevada in the state contest, some time this spring. The state winner will go on to the national contest, where the winner's award will be $1,000.

McCarran Field Scene of Senior Field Trip

McCarran Field and Bonanza Air Lines were the objects of a tour taken by the senior class of Basic high, Monday, March 30. They boarded a "caravan" of automobiles at 9:00 A.M. — destination: Las Vegas.

Arriving at the air field with only one mishap—a broken window caused by a flying rock — they proceeded on their way.

The first stop was the control tower where a discussion was held on the different types of machinery needed to bring an airplane safely to the ground.

Next, twenty-eight lucky seniors boarded an airliner for a scenic flight over the Lake Mead Recreational Area.

After their return from the airplane trip the fifty-three seniors returned to school in time for their afternoon classes.

The program for the evening was a playlet, "The Bennetts Talk It Over", by the seniors of the home economics department, a movie entitled, "Farewell to Childhood."

HAS SPRING FEVER HIT YOU YET??

By Joan Donnelly

Oh hum, I'm tired!! I guess everyone is about this time of year. No one wants to go to school, or do their work, of course me! "I'm just plain lazy." I never do my work but I always go to school!!

Too bad there's not some sort of tonic you could take to get rid of it (spring fever), but this is the time of year when you are restless but don't know what to do about it.

I wonder how long this fever will last—a couple of weeks or months—with some people its all year around (winter fever), or just lazy (me), maybe we'll be over it soon and will settle down and do our work—we hope!!

MR. SCHROEDER HAS WITNESSED
MANY CHANGES AT BASIC HIGH

By Dennis Havens

After eight years of teaching at Basic High, Mr. Carl Schroeder, history teacher, says that he still thinks that it is a good place to work. He was first impressed by the high scholastic standards, as well as the democratic principles which have always guided the school's affairs. In order to learn history and government, students must participate in shaping the rules by which they live. This procedure has always been observed at Basic.

Looking back over his years at Basic, Mr. Schroeder said that Basic had changed greatly since his arrival here. The student body was made up of two hundred students, and faculty, smaller by fifty per cent than that of today. Of those first teachers, only Mrs. May Carpenter now remains with the school.

Instead of six periods of fifty-five minutes each, there were seven periods of forty-five minutes—with a "free" period for the teachers. In other words, they taught for six periods, as they now do, but had a rest period in which to grade papers or keep up with the affairs of the world in general. School was in session from nine to four—no change there. Study hall was held in the library.

Mr. Roy Petrie was our first superintendent. After four years he left to continue his studies. He is now a Doctor of Education at Occidental College in Los Angeles. He was succeeded by Mr. Ben Church, who remained in this position until his death two years ago. Mr. Lyal Burkholder then assumed the office, and has served in this capacity for two of the busiest years in the school's history.

Our first principal was Mr. Lyal Burkholder, who held that position until 1951 when he assumed the post of superintendent. Mr. Burkholder was away for a short period during World War II. During this time he was serving as a field director in the Red Cross. Mr. Gordon McCaw added this duty to that of elementary principal for the period of Mr. Burkholder's absence. In June of 1951, our present principal, John A. Dooley took over the reins of this office.

Mr. Schroeder lives in Las Vegas with his wife, Florence, and their family. He has been heard to mention "Butch", Freddie and Teddy on several occasions. He likes to teach history, believe it or not, and his favorite student is Dennis, otherwise known as the "mennis"....(Not to be confused with the author of this story.)

MUSIC REVIEW

By Joe Stevens

Wonderful, exquisite, enchanting — all are appropriate adjectives for describing Columbia's recently issued album "Music of Jerome Kern", featuring the distinguished orchestra of Andre Kostelanetz.

The Album's title seems to recall the pleasantest of musical memories, for, over a period of more than thirty years, Kern's pen produced a steady flow of melodies whose popularity has not been diminished by time. They are in demand as much today as when first written, and are as welcome in the homes of popular music fans as they are in the homes of grand opera lovers.

Opening with "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes", the album is a musical treasure containing twenty of the most beloved Kern melodies. Picking at random, I shall attempt to describe a few of them.

Kern's Show Boat melodies are played with the artistic touch found only in the music of Andre Kostelanetz and his orchestra. Soft and dreamy, the selections from this great musical include: "Why Do I Love You?", "Make Believe", "Ole Man River", "Bill" and "You Are Love". The romantic inspirations were at their peak as the orchestra slowly wound its way through the ever-popular "The Song Is You", from Music In The Air.

Selections from the operetta Madam Roberta include the favorites, "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes" and "Yesterdays".

All twenty tunes are represented on four, twelve-inch records.

Basic Also Has
'Red Invader'
Troubles!

By Gail Scott

Basic has been invaded by those little red "monsters" called the measles.

It seems the fad was started by Alyce Helmbolt who was soon joined by Gayle Scott. Pat Taylor and Ruth Knudson joined also; so together they formed what is called the "Measles Incorporated".

Other members of the "clan" are Janet Highfill, Shirley Hobson, Virgil Weese, Rodney Blue and Gerald Yates.

Notice:

To all those who want to join, we would like to inform you that the only qualification is — to break out with little red spots. Everyone is welcome!

Baseball Round-up

By Ray Newman

In the past year the student's turnout and spirit of football and basketball games has been meritorious. Now that baseball season is under way, the pep assemblies have stopped. There is no cheering section at the games, and the morale of the baseball squad has dropped.

Is the team so good that it can go through a season without the backing of the students, or the support of a cheering section? In Chicago the pep section of the bleachers is full to overflowing with students from the high schools engaged in the contest. It is the same in Texas, Minnesota, New York, California and many other states. Is the interest in this sport, the national game of the United States, looked upon with such a lack of enthusiasm because the students of Basic high school deem it a sport unworthy of even the semblance of a cheering section?

If there is no student support behind a team, it loses its will

If there is no student support behind a team, it loses its will to win and takes on a, "If the students don't care if we win, why should we?", outlook.

How about it?

A BASIC MELODRAMA

CHAPTER 3

By DENNIS HAVENS

Poor Mr. McDowell. After explaining his way out of trouble with Mr. Dooley, he has lost all hope. His prize ants have escaped their cage and are running rampage on the campus. As we enter, Mr. McDowell is standing on a chair in the Biology room, one end of a necktie around his neck, the other fastened securely to a rafter overhead. Mr. Dooley is standing nearby.

Mr. Dooley: "Very well, McDowell, jump. Get it over with, for I'm a busy man."

Mr. McDowell: "Yes, mmm-hmm."

Mr. Dooley: "All right, Jump! Jump before I kick that chair out from under you."

(Enter Barton McMillan)

Mr. Dooley: "Well, what do you want?"

Barton M: "How would you like to get rid of the ants?"

Mr. Dooley: "Hah! Are you kidding?"

Barton: "Look. Just lead a trail of honey down the corridor. They'll all follow it. If you have a box at the end, you can catch them. . . . and send them to Las Vegas High."

Mr. Dooley: "Certainly not very courteous, but . . ."

Barton: "Think! Their baseball players would get a nervous breakdown."

Mr. Dooley: "A capital idea! I think Mr. Millard will recommend a Congressional Medal of Honor, at least."

Barton: "I'll settle for an 'A' in Biology from Mr. McDowell."

Mr. Dooley: "You'll get it, WON'T HE, McDowell?"

(We hear the experiment hasn't worked out at Vegas. No only have seven teachers quit, but the most recent exchange issue of their "Desert Breeze" came wrapped in an ant-trap label).

VEGAS BAND PLANS BASIC APPEARANCE

By S. P. D.

The Las Vegas high school band, under the baton of Mr. Loren Cross, is planning a concert trip to Basic some time in April. The trip will be unscheduled, as Vegas did not draw Basic in the regular exchange tours for 1953.

Mr. Cross stated that he wished to return to Basic this year because of the fine reception given him and his band last year.

This would be the second Las Vegas assembly this year, the first being the Choralettes, who performed on March 17th.

"I Just Went Along for the Ride" — Mrs. Carpenter and Mr. Braun on senior ditch day

"I Wouldn't Hurt You for the World" — Mr. Walker giving "flying lessons" to bad students.

. . . . A dark, mysterious hand stealing the uniform contract; broken windows in the band room; four attempts on Mr. Wooten's life . . . A match lit to the sample uniform; forty dollars in new music torn neatly in half; glue poured between the keys of the piano; the Sousaphone turned inside out; muffers put on the cymbals . . . After these coincidental mishaps, Mr. Wooten declared at a meeting of the Band Officers, "Someone is displeased with our band."

New Band Members

New members have been admitted to the band recently, Mr. W. C. Wooten announced. Better instrumental balance and a bigger "sound" have been accomplished by this.

The new musicians are:
Jerry Booth, 1st Trombone — Jerry returns to the band after a six months absence. Unable to fit into band because of schedule trouble, Jerry finally squeezed in that fourth period. He's a senior and will be with us until graduation.

Dianne Robinson, 2nd Flute — Increasing the flute section to four, the largest ever, Dianne is our second new musician. She is a freshman, and has been working hard to get into the band. She will accompany the band on the Spring Tour — if she survives "B" Day.

Paul Hicks, 3rd Trombone — Paul is the new trombonist from the 8th grade. This makes three in the trombone section and adds "oomph" to the brass section.

Mary Childs, tenor saxophone — Another eighth grader is this new saxophone player. The sax section has been undermanned this year with only one alto sax. This addition has rounded out the reeds.

This year the band has grown considerably since the beginning. The present members are:

1st Flutes: George Hargrave, Martha McIntyre.

2nd Flutes: Maureen Jackson, Dianne Robinson.

1st Clarinets: Jerald Yates, Helen Riggins.

2nd Clarinets: Jerry Kopels, Doris Garcia, Rosemary Connelly.

3rd Clarinets: Richard Corn, Otta Rae McEwen, Alice Cogswell.

Alto Saxophone: Gayle Scott.
Tenor Saxophone: Mary Childs.
1st French Horn: Glenda Clepper.

2nd French Horn: Romona Church.

1st Cornets: Tony Bastanchury, Phillip Hicks, Harry Holberg.

2nd Cornets: Gordon Weese, Robert DuKett.

1st Trombone: Jerry Booth.
2nd Trombone: Arthur Kester.
3rd Trombone: Paul Hicks.
Baritone: Dennis Havens.

Drums: Richard McGough, Eddie Blankenship, Mary Sanchez.
Tympani: Leon Potter.

Bell Lyre: Sharry McBeath.
This increases band membership to 31.

Dig This Kkkrazy Story!!

One of the latest fads around B.H.S. is the L.A. slang language. Overheard on the Basic campus was Shirlee Banks saying to Margie Mainor, "Where did Clair dig that kkkrazy hair cut."

Some other slang used around B.H.S. is "kkkrazy Dad," "That's cool," "real kkkrazy gone and back," and "cut."

Another fad is the girls bleaching their bangs and the sides of their hair. A few such "real gone gals" are Clair Korthuis, Bette Peisker, Gayle Scott, Nancy Dill, Otta Rae McEwen, Shirlee Hobson and Ramona Church.

The latest but not least is that a few of our "High School" students are bringing "Bunny Rabbits" to school. A few such cool cats are Joan Donnelly, Hazel Flack, Sue Manion, Bette Peisker and Jan Pipes.

The fashions for the girls are their "cool" crinolon slips with "real gone" gathered skirts. Worn with these skirts are sleeveless and nylon blouses.

A few "real George outfits" were seen on Bette Hostetler, Norma Killebrew, Bev Porto and Alyce Helmbolt

Boys' fashion — censored!
"Hey Dad, dig this kkkrazy story!!!"

SENIORS COP TRACK MEET, JUNIORS SECOND

Seniors starred in the recent interclass track meet held at Basic high school. They scored a total of fifty-six and a half points in comparison with the twenty-four, twenty-two, and twenty and one-half points made by the juniors, sophomores and freshmen, respectively.

Eight of the possible eleven "firsts" were won by the seniors. Gerald Clements led his class by capturing first place in the 100 and 200 yard dash, as well as the broad-jump. Another senior, La Mar Culley, took first in the 880, second in the pole-vault, and fourth in the high jump.

The Basic Wolves have garnered only one win in six starts the past three weeks; but are looking forward to the six remaining games with enthusiasm and a will to win.

In a quick rundown of the past games:

The Wolves opened their season with an 18-4 loss at the hands of the Needles Mustangs.

In their second contest, the Wolves, with Virgil Weese pitching exceptional ball, held the Blythe Yellowjackets to one hit but still lost the game 4-3 on seven infield errors.

The Kingman Bulldogs fell victim to the Wolves in a stirring 12-11 slugfest. Ray Crunk blasted Basic's first home run into right field in the game to help put the Wolves on tap.

March 27, the Wolves journeyed to Needles in the second and last game of the season between the two teams, and although Basic came out on the short end of a 7-3 count, it was a better game than the previous one.

The Wolves and the Wildcats squared off on Cashman Field, April 1, with the Wildcats swamping the Wolves, 17-1.

The Wolves met the Wildcats again April 8, with the 'Cats going hitless but nosing the Wolves
