NEW BASIC HIGH SCHOOL

Autumn Leaves Theme of Reverse

"Autumn Leaves" is the theme of the Sophomore Reverse, which will be held in the Basic high school auditorium from eight to eleven o'clock this evening.

Committees for the event were headed by David Anderson, Sharon McBeath, Frank Porter, and Anita Taylor.

Delinquency Is Topic of Study

Juvenile delinquency has been the topic under consideration in Mr. Augustus Braun's sociology class during the present six weeks' term. First-hand information was gained through a lecture given by Mr. Hugh Moran; and by visiting the Clark County Juvenile Home in Las Vegas.

On October 30, Mr. Moran, deputy sheriff of Clark County and truant officer for Basic high school, presented an outline of the problem as it applies to Clark County, and to Henderson, in particular. He stressed the bad effects of narcotics. He warned the class against "would-be" friends who might try to introduce the members to the "joys" of taking dope. He pointed out the horrible results for those who are too weak-willed to withstand temptation. According to Mr. Moran, juvenile delinquency in Clark County is comparatively low in relation to the total population, as it amounted to only one per cent in statistics for 1952.

Mr. George Grist, Clark County Juvenile Officer, conducted the class on a tour through the Clark County Juvenile Home on November 12. Mr. Grist talked to the class concerning the causes of delinquency. One of the causes mentioned by the officer was that of alcoholism. Too much alcohol at too early an age leads to actions that brand the individual as a delinquent.

Boys and girls under eighteen years of age who break the law are taken to the Juvenile Home. Some are held over night, others

Open House Held at New School Honoring National Education Week

Open house was held at the new Basic high school on the evening of November 10 in observance of National Education Week. Faculty members were present in their respective classrooms to meet the parent and other guests. Refreshments were served in the multipurpose room by a P.T.A. committee.

Plans for additional facilities at the school have been announced by Lyal Burkholder, superintendent of the Henderson Schools. By September, 1954, the physical education, music, home economics, and shop departments will be housed in new buildings. In addition to these, four rooms will be added to the present library wing. A football field and bleachers will be completed by September, 1955. Working drawings and specifications for the above building program are now being completed. A contract for the construction of the gymnasium and music department building will be awarded, approximately, December 1, 1953. A contract for the construction of the home economics and shop structures will be awarded, approximately, February 1, 1954.

The shop building will consist of five rooms or departments. These include auto mechanics, wood shop, machine shop, arts and crafts, and a recitation and mechanical drawing classroom.

With the addition of the four rooms to the library wing, Mr. Burkholder says that the necessity of using the library as a study hall will be eliminated, as ample study hall space will be available in the proposed floor plans.

Permanent concrete bleachers will be built on one side of the football field, which is to be constructed on the site of the new school. The portable bleachers, which were purchased recently, will be placed on the opposite side of the field. The concrete bleachers will serve a two-fold purpose, as they will provide storage space, as well as seating facilities. This portion of the building program will probably not be ready for use before the beginning of the football season of 1955, according to the superintendent of schools.

FINDERS CREEPERS, a three-act mystery-comedy will be presented by the senior class December 4 in the Basic high school auditorium. Tickets will be on sale next week.

Wilbur Maxwell (Bruce Kressler) and his pal, Hercules (Donald Reck) are drawn into a web of intrigue and romance when they decide to visit Uncle Bob (Ray Newman) and Aunt Mary (Shirley Sandin). Here they meet Nina (Marlene Blakely); her friend, Celeste (Glenda Clepper); Claude (Jerald Yates); Daphane (Sharon Williams); Mr. Quigley (Steve Lottridge); Granny (Suzanne Schwartz); Dr. Brown (Jack Norris); Mr. Schuster (Larry Clark); Madeline (Sue Leming); and Frankie (Mary Church).

The keynote of the play may be found in its setting, a mortuary. A "dead" man comes to life on his slab; detectives Wilbur and Hercules search for clues; Harry Schuster, a sinister lawyer, and Dr. Brown, a quiet, unassuming doctor, complicate the search; while Claude, the caretaker, and Daphane, the maid provide the romantic touch.

Frankie, little sister of Celeste, dotes on reading hair-raising horror stories. (She even reads them in the shower.) Her sister despairs of making a good impression on Wilbur with this little monster always in the background.

Madeline, granddaughter of the "corpse", Mr. Quigley, is an old maid who is greatly influenced by her lawyer, Mr. Schuster. Her share in her grandfather's will is challenged by Nina, his great granddaughter.

Mr. Quigley comes to life when he meets Granny, a nimble-footed "hep cat", who simply will not behave with the decorum fitting her years. Her son, Bob Nelson, the mortician and his wife, Mary Nelson have difficulty in keeping the lovers apart.

Nina Quigley and Celeste Nelson are the objects of teen-aged Wilbur's and Hercules' affections; not to the point, however, that it interferes with their detecting.

Who killed Mr. J. T. Quigley? Why doesn't he stay dead? Will Claude get Daphane? Is Mr.

Ad Salesmen Invade Las Vegas and Boulder

By KAYE DAVIS

Have you ever noticed on certain Mondays the conglomeration of people congregating in front of room 15?

These people are ad-salesmen for the annual, and every year they go to torment the businessmen of nearby cities.

First of all, some wise person warns the business people of these cities that THEY are coming. So by the time the salesmen arrive all managers are in Phoenix, Arizona.

As they come to town they notice all prosperous looking businesses and jot them down in little tablets.

Next they gather all their courage together and rush into an office. "Is the manager in?" they gasp. And the poker-faced secretary answers, "No, he just left for Phoenix." So with downcast spirits they go to the office next door. After a few more places like the last one; they finally arrive at one where the manager is in his office. After waiting for 15 minutes while he talks on the telephone, he appears. All ad-salesmen speak at once making it impossible for the manager to hear or understand anything at all; so just to get rid of them he buys a $10 ad.

The next manager asks if $10 ads are the cheapest they have.

McDONIEL SERVES IN NEW CAPACITY

Mr. Estes McDoniel, vice-principal at Basic, is not new to us. He came to Henderson in 1943 to coach the first football team in Basic's history. He was called into the Navy in 1944, where he served two years. He returned to Basic in 1946 as basketball, baseball and football coach.

In 1947 he married Alice Jeffery, a former graduate of Basic. In 1948, his last year as basketball coach, his team won the state championship.

Since that time he has taught academic subjects, physical education, and woodshop, but since he has taken his new job as vice-principal he has little time for anything else.

Various Hues Of Permit Slips Confuse Students

Have you been absent lately? What color was the admit or permission blank that you were given? Pink slips! Blue Slips! Yellow Slips! White Slips! Do you know what they mean? If you were present at the beginning of school, you will recall that the student's handbook explained these. If you have enrolled since that time, or if you have forgotten, each teacher has a copy of the manual that you may borrow, or the office will make one available for your use.

In brief, the make-up blank is white, and is issued for excused absences, allowing the work missed to be made up in a specified length of time. If this is not done, the absence becomes unexcused, with a three per cent reduction of the daily grade for each day's absence.

The "pass" slip is white and used by the teacher to permit a student to leave the classroom during the time a class is in session.

If the student has been absent, and neglected to bring a written excuse from home, a blue "temporary admit" slip is issued to him, with the understanding that

THANKSGIVING IS MORE THAN A HOLIDAY

By MART MEREDITH

What does Thanksgiving mean to the average American? Is it merely another holiday—a day for feasting and relaxation; or does it have a deeper meaning?

Freedom of religion, freedom of the press, freedom of speech, and the right of public assemblage are taken for granted by the average citizen.

It is only by realizing the debt of gratitude that we owe to the Pilgrims, patriots and other heroes of the struggles which have maintained our country as a democracy, that we can truly be thankful on this day that serves as a reminder of the sacrifices that have made an American Thanksgiving possible.

YOU HAVE A DEADLINE TO MEET!

By SUE LEMING

Each school year there are many deadlines that must be met by the individual if he wishes to be regarded as a good citizen.

One of the most important of these, is the deadline that must be met by the seniors in order to graduate. A minimum of fifteen academic credits plus one non-academic credit is necessary to complete graduation requirements.

Seniors, however, do not have a monopoly on deadlines. The juniors as well as the lower classmen also have deadlines to meet, for example: getting their class dues in on time, being prompt in having their class pictures taken for the annual, bringing their report cards in on time, and being prompt in getting to class before the last bell.

As upper classmen, it is up to the seniors and juniors to set a good example for the lower classmen in meeting these deadlines.

Have you met all of your deadlines on time?

ARE WE READY FOR STUDENT BODY CARDS?

By DENNIS HAVENS

With the steadily increasing student population at Basic high school, and with our pending move into the new building; it is only natural that customs should change. In regard to the many financial responsibilities thrust upon the pupil, such as yearbooks, subscriptions to the paper, admission to athletic contests, music concerts, and class plays, the solution would be simple if the administration could be persuaded to consider the idea of student activity cards.

For the benefit of those unfamiliar with these, they are cards purchased by the students, which entitle them to a yearbook, a subscription to the school paper, and admission to all regularly scheduled athletic, musical and dramatic events. They save the student a great deal of money, and when used in a school with a large enough enrollment, give still profitable to the school and to the organizations which sponsor its activities.

Perhaps with the new school, this system could be instituted at Basic high with a profit to both students and organizations alike.

"DRIVE CAREFULLY"—IS COMMON SENSE

By ANDY HANSEN

Do you realize the responsibility that you are placing upon your family as well as yourself when you drive the family car?

From the time that you take the wheel until the trip is over, you must watch the other drivers as well as being responsible for your own actions.

A few days ago, two Basic high school students accompanied by another couple were riding in a car belonging to one of their families. They were observing the traffic regulations and traveling at a moderate rate of speed. By the law of averages, they should have had a peaceful evening. But, no, a car came up from the rear and attempted to pass on the wrong side. The resulting crash caused the mangle of the two cars. Fortunately, no one was injured.

You say, "S, what was so terrible about that?" If the student's car had been hit at a more direct angle, the impact could have caused the death of the passengers in both cars. Parents would be left to suffer the consequences.

Remember, drive safely!

Speech Class News

Some tentative efforts toward the mystery of parliamentary procedure have been advanced by the speech class.

In order to increase their lung capacity, they may frequently be heard screaming, "Impeach her!" At the present time, only two members of the class have reached the total capacity of which their lungs are capable—Ramona Church, with a chest expansion of 13 inches; and John Korthius, whose chest measurement is 43½ inches.

Elections are held every three weeks, with parliamentary procedure being strictly observed. Officers now serving are: Anita Taylor, Dennis Shearin, Ray Newman, and Suzanne Schwartz.

Order is maintained during the class period through a system of fines. They must pay for unnecessary talking, tardiness to class, and failure to prepare homework. Their treasury now contains 79c.

Masquers Present Ozark Drama

EL LOBO ASSEMBLY

At the assembly held on November 12, the El Lobo staff presented a skit to advertise the annual, and to urge the students to get their deposits in for their yearbooks. It was announced that Friday, November 13, would be "Tag Day" for those subscribing to the annual.

Musical numbers, both vocal and instrumental, acrobatics, and impersonations have been presented at the pep assemblies this year. Twenty-four students have participated to date. They include David Butt, Eddie Blankenship, Eva Swanson, Barbara Shepherd, Penny Crane, David Kuhn, Juana Williams, Leah Cottam, Bettye Davis, Shirly Cannon, Robert Gilbert, Dennis Havens, Philip Hicks, Tony Bastanchury, Ray Newman, Bonnie Roberts, Wanda Henderson, Darla Havenburg, Alice Francois, Dana Mae Schmutz, Anita Taylor, Pat Llyod, RaMona Church, and Glenda Clepper.

"Comin' Round the Mountain", a hill-billy drama straight from the Ozarks, comes to Basic high school on December 11, as the first presentation of the Masquers club. It is an assembly program, and Mr. John Dooley refuses to allow Mr. John Beatty, director, to charge admission.

Hill-billies to be seen in the play are: Penny Crane, Jane Boyce, Phillip Hicks, Alice Francois, John Staley, Arlene Coleman, and Sharon Green.

As their second play to be presented in January, the Masquers have chosen "Fireman, Save My Child."

SPANISH CLUB

Films on "The Incas" and "The Arts and Crafts of Mexico" were shown to the members of the Spanish Club in their November 10 meeting.

Soon all three salesmen are talking and telling him how much cheaper their ads are than Vegas.

At five minutes to twelve all salesmen take off for designated meeting places to go to lunch. After a great big hamburger they are ready to go again.

Latin Club News

Officers for 1953-'54 were elected by the Latin Club on November 2. Alta Newall was chosen for president; Bud Charlesworth, vice-president; Evelyn Royster secretary; and Joleen Bernsten, treasurer.

Monthly, or semi-monthly meetings will be held by the group.

PTA Views Safety Film

The regular PTA meeting was held Thursday, November 5, at 8:00 PM in the Basic high school auditorium.

The program on "Safety" was given by Don B. Taylor, boys physical education teacher of the elementary schools. A short talk was given by Mr. Taylor on the qualifications of patrol boys and Captain Jerry Kirk, of the junior Traffic Patrol, gave a talk on the duties of patrol boys. A safety film was shown.

Refreshments were served by the seventh grade and the high school junior room mothers.

Basic Enrollment Steadily Increases

Eighteen new students have enrolled at Basic high school during the second six weeks' term.

Three seniors—Norman Walker, Elsa Albrechsten, and Mary O'Brien; six sophomores — Stacy Schaier, Frank Dell, Richard Beers, Boyd Nedown, Jean Donoho, and Katherine Walsh; nine freshmen — Jolene Bernsten, Majorie Smith, Gail Reil, Nancy McEwen, Erma Allison, Catherine Christman, John Barbetem, Ryan Walsh, and Alfred Gonzales make up this group.

Engagements Abound

By Ruth Tippetts

Engagement rings have appeared on the left hand, proper finger, of twelve members of the junior and senior classes since the beginning of school. Basic high seems to have a matrimonial center as well as an institution of higher book learning.

Couples who plan to say "I do" include: Jone Alley and Don McCullough; Bettye Davis and Andy Hansen; June Edmondson and Gill Silva; Shirley Gilpin and Marvin Smith; Shirlee Hobson and Paul Czaja; Gaya Le Fevre and Jack Greenhalgh; Sue Leming and Neil Pickham; Leta Gay Bracken and Gary Prisbery; Lou Anna Brock and Kenneth McGlouthlin; Joan Lopeman and Robert Wiedman; Carole Rivero and Ray Crunk; Sherron Thorne and Kenneth Guinn.

SHORTHAND CONTEST

Second year shorthand students are having a contest on the spelling of longhand and shorthand. The class is divided into "odds" and "evens". The "evens" are now ahead. The losers will give the winners a party.

Eighty words a minute is the present speed of the class.

BAPTIST CONVENTION

Seven Basic high students will attend a Baptist Youth Convention to be held in Reno, November 28 and 29. They will leave Las Vegas by bus at 4:30 Saturday morning, and will return Sunday night.

Rosine Lindsey, Martha McIntyre, Kenneth Harris, Sandra Mathewson, Wanda Henderson, Mary Ann Purdy, and Sheila Brancfield will be part of the fifteen member delegation from the local church.

Four meetings will be held by the delegates to the convention. State officers will be elected at one of the sessions. All of the Baptist Churches in Nevada will be represented at the convention.

BAND NEWS

Basic high school's growing band now has seven in the clarinet section.

The clarinet has the same importance in a band as the violins do in an orchestra.

Clarinet parts and the solo particularly, have many high notes and runs that require skill in rapid fingering combined with intonation.

Three 'desks' in the clarinet section are: Solo and first clarinet, second, and third.

Dedrich Annual Advisor

Miss Gertrude Dedrich's teaching assignment includes English I, speech, and American Government. In addition to her classroom activities, she acts as the advisor of the EL LOBO staff.

Miss Dedrich was graduated from St. Scholastic College, Duluth, Minnesota; and has done graduate work at the Universities of Wisconsin and California. Her teaching career has included positions in the states of Washington and Minnesota.

Having taught in the state of Washington for six years, the West is not new to her; but she says that this desert area presents a very vivid contrast to the scenery to which she has become accustomed. Far from finding fault, however, she is especially appreciative of the long, warm fall season. Our climate is to be preferred to that of her native Minnesota or Washington, according to Miss Dedrich.

The first part usually plays the melody and runs, and the other two blend in harmony to make the section complete.

Jerald Yates is solo clarinetist, and plays at first clarinet desk along with Jerry Kopels and Dolores Yates.

Rosemary Connely, Richard Corn, Calleen Leavitt, and Doris Garcia make up the other clarinet parts.

Those students learning to play clarinet and who plan to join the high school band are: Sandra Smith, Dana Schmutz, Pat Lloyd, and a new bass clarinet player, Eva Swanson.

he must bring one the following day, or the absence becomes a truancy. This means a loss of nine per cent from the daily grade. If, within two days following the issuance of a truancy, an excuse from home is presented to the office, the absence will be changed to unexcused with a loss of only three per cent of grade points for each day absent.

Yellow slips are issued for any one of three reasons—first, unexcused tardiness; second, unexcused absence; third, truancy. One per cent is deducted from the daily grade for each unexcused tardiness — three making one unexcused absence. These must be presented for the signature of teachers responsible for periods missed or those whose classes the student has entered after the last bell has rung.

Pink slips are issued upon advance notice of a student's proposed absence from the campus. These are issued by the office at the request of a parent or teacher. They provide a means of identification for the student while he is off campus. This does not permit the student to be admitted to class without an excuse. With the parent's or teacher's signature, it permits the issuance of a make-up blank.

He likes all sports, but is especially fond of baseball.

Green slips are obtained by those students who intend to be absent because of some school function — ad selling for the annual, field trips, music tours, conventions, etc. The student obtains the signature of each teacher whose class he will miss. He makes arrangements to make up the work for the given day BEFORE his absence. These absences are not counted against him.

Call slips are issued by the office for the purpose of calling a student to the office during class time. These are white in color.

Nineteen Basicites Are Reserve Members

Naval Reserve and National Guard units have been organized by the armed forces to keep trained men in reserve in case of an emergency in our country's defense. They also serve as a preliminary to the compulsory military training which each boy is required to take on reaching a suitable age. One of the greatest lessons taught is that of getting along with other people.

Henderson has a total of nineteen members in these two organizations.

Eight boys belong to the Naval Reserves — Jerald Yates, Bruce Kressler, Dave Caulkins, Eddie Blankenship, Ray Crunk, Bill Gandrud, Steve Lottridge, and Don Reck.

Eleven members of the National Guard are as follows: Kenneth Guinn, George Guthrie, Andy Hansen, Dick Bordwell, Joe Hornyak, Robert Weideman, Frank Gorin, Arthur Martinez, Robert McNeil, Ray Chastain, and Monte Ford.

Many Alumni Present At Dance

Many alumni were seen at the dance following the Basic-Boulder game, November 13. Don Fields, Tommy Barrileau, Bob Herman, Cliff Hunter, Ray Chastain, La Mar Culley, Mary Sanchez, and Ramona Pipes were among those present.

News from the University of Nevada informs us that Carol Davidson and Barbara Jones are members of the freshman class.

Don Fields says that he is experiencing more trouble with "gerunds" than any other part of his course at Arizona State at Flagstaff.

Tommy Barrileau reports that English is his favorite subject at San Bernardino Junior College. Don Warren is a freshman, here, while Jody Galloway is a sophomore.

La Mar Culley has taken to the air, literally, as he flew his plane to Alamo, during the November 14 weekend. His passenger was Virgil Weese, member of the present senior class.

JAYVEES RAP NEEDLES, 19-7

Basic's junior varsity was victorious in the game played with Needles' J. V. on the local field, November 7—score 19-7.

Needles received the initial kickoff, and after a series of plays, scored a touchdown and made good on their conversion.

Basic scored on a combination pass in the second quarter—Gilbertson to Porter to Ludwig. The conversion failed.

Needles, again, received the kickoff, completed a long pass to their own left end, who drove to the 8.

Basic stopped the Mustangs at the one-yard line, with the combination of Kopels, Cannon, and Caulkins.

Basic trailed at the half — 7-6.

Jim Miller received the half-time kick for Basic on the 20, and rambled to the 50 before being stopped.

Bob Barker finally carried over for a touchdown, after a series of runs by Jim Miller, Porter, and Barker.

Gilbertson passed to Ludwig for the extra point.

Williams passed to Barker for Basic's final tally.

The conversion was nullified.

Basic Ends Season With 13-13 Deadlock

During the 1953 football season, the team, coached by Gus Braun and Don Smith, has scored five victories, three losses, and one tie. Las Vegas handed out the first defeat, with a score of 52-7. White Pine was next, downing the Wolves with a score of 27-13. Kingman was game number three, and Basic scored its first win—23-13. Lincoln County played the Wolves at Basic, and the home team won—24-0. A second game with Kingman resulted in a score of 33-7, in favor of Basic. Needles' Mustangs proved no match for the Basic Wolves, who chalked up their third win. The Hawthorne Serpents, a new double AA contender, failed to score in their encounter with Basic—final score—19-0. Blythe, California was victorious over the home team, score—40-7.

As a final game, the Wolves encounter the Boulder Eagles on Friday, November 13. The final score was 13-13. (Who's superior?)
